$20,000 In Diamonds Sold During Last Three Months By John A. Nash London Is Once More Becoming The Diamond Center of Canada

The statement by John A. Nash, "My Jeweler," and "where you will eventually buy," that he has sold no less than $20,000 in diamonds during the last three months, including bracelets, necklets and large rings up to a value of $1,800 for each

"These are the things that make me optimistic, said Mr. Nash. "London is becoming the great highway center. We are going to have our new notel, and that means that next year diamonds are going to be more popular here than ever before.'

In this connection, one must take into consideration that 85 per cent, of the diamonds in the world are produced in British territory. That means that these "perfect blue-white" gems such as Mr. Nash sells, enter Canada duty free, making a saving of 30 per cent. to those visitors from the United States who buy diamonds here in London

Rev. S. J. Reid. D.D., Tabernacle Baptist church, Chicago, preached to capacity congregations in Wortley road Baptist church three times yesterday in marking the reopening of the church after extensive improvements and the 37th anniversary of the founding of the congregation.

All of the Baptist churches of the city were represented at the afternoon gathering, at which Dr. Reid spoke on "The Resurrection," indicating, as Rev. R. J. Murphy, B.D., pastor of the church, remarked, that unity exists in church, remarked, that unity exists in the Baptist denomination in the city.

Referring to the fact that the resurrection is mentioned 104 times in the New Testament, Dr. Reid declared the resurrection to be the cornerstone of the Christian faith.

"The resurrection," stated Dr. Reid, has been the Waterloo of infidelity, it has been the Gibraltar of the Christian faith. If we accept belief in God we must believe in an Almighty God, the creator of the universe, and one inter-

Paddy Beaver Starts His Dam

He means that one who is planning to make anything, no matter what, must in in his mind see it all completed; see it just as it will look in every little detail. Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, Nov. 28.—Boston Bruins lass night had no respect for the beforethis city when they stepped into the to keep London's colors flying in the this city when they stepped into the Irish, and, after a thrilling game, emerged victorious on the long end of a 3 to 2 score. A capacity crowd saw the locals go down to defeat.
Shay, Hitchman and Carson Cooper proved the stars for the Bruin aggregation. Hitchman in particular was at times the best man on the ice, although ne served four separate penalties for various offences. Cooper scored two of the three goals, while Shay tailled the last and winning goal when he left the whole Irish team flat-footed following their offensive and went down to score with no opposition in front of him other than Roach.

Happy Day and Babe Dye were the shining lights of the locals. Dye entered the scoring column again, with both his team's goals credited to him. The St. Patricks' showing, following their two games with Victoria Cougars, whom they twice defeated, was very disappointing. While they more than held their own in the first period and had about an even break in the second the Bruins left them far behind in the fatal third. At times the Irish seemed very slow.

SENATORS WIN.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Ottawa, Nov. 29.—The local National hockey league schodule was opened there last night, when the Senators defeated Montreal Maroons in a hectic struggle by a score of 3 to 2. Two periods of scoreless hockey, fiva goals in a single period and 25 penalties were all high lights in a contest that was an even bet from the opening whistle to the final bell.

The Maroons appeared with a stronger team than that width wore the metropolitan colors last season, and their showing warrants that they be given consideration in figuring out the final standing of the schedule which was opened in Boston on Thursday night.

Unable to get away from the persistent worrying and back-checking of the visitors, the Senators failed to hit the stride they showed against Victoria except in flashes. These harrying tactics, however, took a good deal out of Gerard's men, and they were visibily tiring under the pace in the closing session. Among surprises handed out was the spiendid showing of the revamped Montreal team. Selbert, Kitchen Stewart are three men who should develop into first-class hockey players. Stewart in particular, looked good, and turned in a very effective game. Dunc Munro is a very effective game. Tounc Munro is guson; center, Pullen (6); right guard, Spry; left guard, Clark (3); subs, Pullen, Donaldson.

Montreal, Nov. 29.—Pittsburg continues to wage a surprising war in the National hockey league. Tex White, substitute forward, provided the climax to the game when he ended a raid by McCurry, Drury and himself by deftly scooping the pucking the Canadien goal to end the dead-lock which had existed up to halfway through this final period.

The high spot of the evening for the Canadien supporters came at the beginning of the second period, when Lacroix, former United States Olympic goalkeeper, went into the Canadian net in place of Georges Vezina, the veterant goalkeeper, went into the Canadian net in place of Georges Vezina, the veterant goalkeeper, who started the game with a high temperature.

It was Lacroix who was in the net when Pittsburg scored their winning goal. But he could not be blamed for the tally. The shot by White was made from a tangle of players right in front of the posts, and Lacroix did not have a chance to see it speeding by. Hoy Worters, diminutive Pittsburg goalkeeper, brought Pittsburg the victory. Many smart goalkeepers have been seen in action on local tee in the last few years, but it is doubtful if any have surpassed bombardment of terrific drives he was subjected to during the hour he was on the ice. The most watched player on the ice was Lionel Conacher.

Advance in Renewal Rates on Call Loans, Checks Advance, However.

Associated Press Despatch.

New York, Nov. 30.—Increased liquidation in specialties and an advance in the renewal rate for call loans to five per cent checked the upward tendency of railroad shares on the New York exchange this morning after wheeling and Lake Erie, common and preferred, had been elevated into new high territory for the year. Pressure was quite severe against some of the high-priced shares, General Electric converting an early gain of six points to a loss of 3½. Mack Truck lost four points.

BOND PRICES MARK TIME IN QUIET NEW YORK TRADE

New York, Nov. 28. — Bond prices marked time in a typically quiet bond market today. A recovery in foreign obligations preceded under the leadership of the French loans. Liberty and treasury issues were steady to firm. Although the day's trading was confined largely to normal investment buying the demand for railroad and industrial bonds was well diversified. American Ice sevens were a feature of the trading, running up almost four points to a new high record above 130. The buying movement also embraced Ann Arbor 4's, Kentucky Central 4's, Mobile and Birmingham 4's, Rio Grande Western 4's, Skelly Oil 6½'s and Sinclair and Company 7's, the last named selling at the highest price of the year. Weekly Trade Report

New York, Nov. 28.—The reactionary movement of stock prices, which had been under way for three consecutive weeks, was halted this week when it pecame apparent that most of the weeks, was halted this week when it became apparent that most of the weakened marginal accounts had been eliminated, and many issues had been oversold by overzealous bear traders.

Railroad shares began to play a more important part in the market on the publication of unusually favorable October earnings statements by the principal railways of the continent and reports of progress on pending mergers.

Steels made impressive recovery on reports that unfilled orders were steadily increasing in the face of expanding mill operations. Plants of the United States Steel Corporation were said to be working at 83 per cent of capacity, as against 81 per cent of capacity, as against 81 per cent a fortnight ago.

Oils displayed a firm undertone. The trade situation showed marked improvement as reflected in decreasing crude production stiffening gasoline and crude prices and the raising of the Phillips Petroleum dividend.

Tobaccos began to reflect the increased holiday business, practically all issues in that group breaking through to new high levels for the year. Mercantile, mail order and chain-store issues moved up in response to reports of increased earnings. Motors appear to have corrected the top-heavy specuviolent advances indulged in a few weeks ago, recoveries being made by lative condition resulting from the many issues in that group.

Rev. C. S. Miller of Beecher United Preaches Inspiring Sermon on Atonement.

Continuing the series of sermons on Miller, M.A., B.D., in Beecher United church, yesterday, gave a most impreslive and powerful address on "The Atonement," the fourth in the series.

"Pick up the Saturday papers, for ome time past," said Mr. Miller, "and you will see every other topic or subect announced by the ministers, except The Atonement.'

"Why is this? Have we not the courage to speak on this subject? My conviction is that these age-long theories and doctrines were couched in a form that sufficed the people before us but he language and symbols have not the me meaning or power today. Conseently they do not touch the heart and ife of the people of today as they should. What we need, above all else, s to clothe the theory and doctrine of he atonement in language that we eadily understand.

"The free, unpurchased and unpur-chasable love of God is a fact of which e can still be assured. "We hear much in our creeds of satislying divine justice. Is there any satsfying of justice, earthly or divine, by offering an innocent life for the guilty? The justice of God is the jusguilty? The justice of God is the justice of love, not a Shylock justice—not clice of love, not a Shylock justice—not click in bringing to mind the doctrines of is a challenge from the living God that we give our life for sacrifice.

"We have not given the high heart of God its due when we have couche the doctrine of the atonement, the agelong suffering of God, as shown in Christ, in terms of blood sacrifice. The long suffering of God, as shown in Christ, in terms of blood sacrifice. The fact—and not a theory—runs all through the human life. We must know the great throbbing love of God, which is at the heart of the universe. The measure of his goodness is t of the prodigal that brought him home, but the constraining love of the father's heart."

Opportunities Are Many-Few Years Since Banting, Other Leaders of 'Teen Age.

In a letter written especially to the citizens of London, asking for their interest and support in the development of boy life, Charles F. Plewman, executive secretary of the Ontario boys' work board, graphically outlines the importance of this great work. In part his message is as follows:

"Boys' work is important because it is the time in life when ideals are formed, when habits are made and when character becomes more or less fixed. It is important because it is the impressionable time of life, the time when we are most susceptible to outside influence. the teachable time of life.

"Anyone who has been dealing with men and boys will tell you that a boy of 13 years can be taught to swim in about one-half the time that it takes to teach a man. Similarly it is that music and languages can be taught to boys in much less time than it takes to teach

"It is important again because it is the transition time of life, the time when one passes from boyhood into manhood with the thousand and one adjustments that have to be made, as one comes into possession of new emotions, new desires and new powers, the like of which he has never before ex-perienced. It is the time when a boy has to rediscover himself, when he has to get a new grip on life.

Decision Time. "It is again important because it is the decisive time of life, the time when the average boy has to face and answer those great questions, the answers to opened up for mankind in general was which will mean either happiness he comes to the crossroads of life and "There is another reason, and an en tirely different one, however, why boys ork is important, and that is because the hope of our civilization lies in their young lives. The world of toorrow is entirely banking on the boy of today to give it leadership in practically every walk of life. Such a case came under my personal notice on one occasion, and my friend Coram was instrumental in enlisting the services of Moris Klaw. It was, I think, one of the most mysterious affairs with which I ever came in contact, and the better to understand it you must permit me to explain how Roger Paxton, the sculptor, came to have such a valuable thing in his studio as that which we all assumed had inspired the strange business.

Where a case did not touch his peculiar interests, appeals to Moris Klaw fell upon deaf ears. However dastardly a crime, if its details were of the sordid sort, he shrank within his Wapping curio shop as closely as any tortoise within its shell.

"Of what use," he said to me on one occasion, "are my acute psychic sensibilities to detect who it is with a chopper that has brained some unhappy washerwoman? It was Sir Melville Fennel, then, who commissioned Paxton to execute a chyrselephantine statue. Sir Melville's museum of works of art, ancient and modern, is admittedly the second finest private collection of the kind in the world. The late Mr. Pierpont Morgan's alone took precedence. The commission came as something of a surprise. The art of chryselephantine sculpture, save for one attempt at revival, in Belgium, has been most uncanny semblance of fair flesh and blood.

"You see," explained Paxton, "this composite work, although it has latterly fallen into disrepute, affords magnificent scope for decorative purposes; such a richness of color prostrated themselves and then took to their heels. Sir Melville Fennel's agent sent it on to England, however, and Sir Melville conceived the idea of this statue."

It is of the averagely well-off that I speak, yet who never feel they have had a square deal. They wish for riches, looking enviously upon those who have them. They find it hard to wear cotton frocks when there is so much silk in the world! They hate to economize. They are fretful because the fairy godmother did not bestow upon them the gift of beauty. They cannot afford golf, so they won't play anything. They cannot travel to far places, so they mope by the fireside and refuse to see the garden and the sunset. They talk of what they "ought by rights to have had" and lament their "ill luck." They are sour and dour, without any real reason to be.

To these unhappy people I would say "Be willing to compromise!"

QUEEN OF RUMANIA and dour, without any real reason to be.

To these unhappy people I would say "Be willing to compromise!"

All of life is a compromise—one compromise after another. If we have one thing, we must do without something else. If we are "lucky at cards" we are usually "unlucky at love."

Certain lacks and losses are inevitable, and if we can only learn this early in life, and accept it without bitterness, we shall have a stronger armour for the battle.

One way to do it is to keep your eye on those who have less than you, rather than on those who have more. We are so prone, alas to forget the great fundamental law of averages, of compensation. A certain amount of pain and sorrow is the common lot. How well I myself know this!

But in the end life has a way of evening things up. Let's not be faultfinders. Let's be sportsmen!

ROMANCE

YOU often hear people refer to the "dear old days of romance"-to the time when knight-errants roamed the earth to do honor to a lady's blue eyes.

These folks say we are living in an age of realism!

An age of "realism" where the human voice is hurled across the world without wires; where the temperature of Mars is taken more than thirty millions of miles away; where tons of steel and people ride easily and safely through the air or under the sea!

An age of realism! Why, this is the most romantic of all ages!

The advertising columns of this paper are full of romance—of the romance of men who have devoted their lives to bringing new comforts, conveniences and pleasures for mankind.

Advertisements tell these stories, not with the romantic exaggeration of a jongleur, but with the calm, simple words of sincerity. Here is a firm that spent millions to develop a product that makes your baby comfortable. Here is a company that has labored fifty years to cut a single hour of toil from your day's work. Here is a man who has searched the Seven Seas to produce a new flavor for your dinner.

Romance—this age is full of it. Not just empty romance, but the true romance of achievement, of progress, of the betterment of mankind.

Advertisements tell you what the romance of business is doing for you. Read them.
