legation has received the following official telegram from the foreign office at Tokio dated today.

Gen. Kuroki reports that at daybreak of July 31 our army commenced operations against the enemy, occupying Yushulintzu, four miles west of Hsi Hoyen, and Yangtseuling, six miles west of Motienling, both places situated about 25 miles from Liao Yang. The enemy at Yushulintzy consisted of two divisions with corresponding artillery. The attacking operations were carried out as prearranged, and by sunset we defeated both wings of the enemy, but owing to their large force and strong position we were unable to dislodge them entirely. At daybreak of Aug. 1 we resumed the attack and succeeded in expelling the enemy at noon, and pursued them four miles in the westward direction. The enemy fled towards Anping. The enemy at Yangtzuling consisted of two and a half divisions, with four batteries of artillery. The attacking operations there als progressed successfully, and by sunset we carried the enemy's principal posi tion, but a portion of them offered the stoutest resistance, and we had to birouae the night in battle formation. At daybreak of Aug. 1 we resumed the attack, and at 8 a.m. all the heights fell into our hands. The enemy fled toward Tanghoyen. The casualties are under investigation. We captured some field guns, but details still unknown. In this engagem were at a disadvantage, firstly, on account of the steepness of the ground, and, secondly, on account of the lack of suitable positions for our artillery while the heat was over 100 degrees,

THOUGHTFUL CHILDREN.

Wharncliffe road, apparently, has the effect of promoting a beneficent feel-South London, and reports of kindly deeds towards the less fortunate little society's grateful officers. Recently a party of young girls held a concert at he residence of the parents of one of heir number and netted enough from the proceeds to take over to the chilfren at the shelter a generous supply of pretty toys, which delighted the hearts of the twenty children at present in the home, the event seemingly giying an equal amount of pleasure to he givers and receivers. The names the girls responsible for this houghtful act are Mirtle Rowntree Edith Lancaster, Aggie Smith, Edith Nash, Vera Blanchard, Marie Lancaster, Marjory Rowntree, and Madeline McLean. The parents who encourage their children in these kindly impulses are to be highly commended.

Yesterday the boys of All Saints' hoir had a most enjoyable time in the country at the farm of Mr. Charles A Smith, the Gore. Mr. Smith very genrously drove the boys both waysabout seven miles-and royally enterained them. The weather was ideal, 150 acres to wander over (with a conience untroubled by signboards labeled "Trespassers," etc.), plenty of apoles, berries, and milk, to eat and lrink; brush to explore, hills to climb, baseball match, swings, and most exiting races, followed by a tempting tea prepared and presided over by the Misses Smith. About 8 p.m. the boys arrived home, loud in their praises of the kindness and attention of Mr. and Mrs. Smith, the Misses Smith, Ernie and Fred, attracting everybody's attention by their lusty rendering of "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow," etc.,

While London was depopulated to a considerable extent by the picnic, St. Thomas also lost a large number of its residents for the day. The Railroad City has numerous travelers, and these with their friends joined in the outing. It is estimated that close upon 1,500 went down from St. Thomas alone. Then again, the country around Port Stanley and points along the lines of the L. E. and D. R. R. east and west, contributed to the crowd.

While the crowd expected much in the way of fun, they got more than they looked for. The Travelers announced beforehand that they would furnish a programme of games of all kinds, with a few specialties on the side, and the guests of the drummers found that everything in the way of fun-provoking amusement was given. There was not a lagging moment from the time the first train reached the Port in the morning until the last train started for home in the evening. It was one continuous round of enjoyment, with the drummers as the entertainers. The games were pulled off of

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Keene.

It was a large and pleasant gathering which assembled at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Keene, sen., yesterday, upon the occasion of the celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Keene's golden wedding. Fifty years ago, in Oxton Church, Old London, Mr. and Mrs. Keene were married, and since then fortune has favored them in many ways, because outside of accumulating a fair share of this world's goods, they have enjoyed a happiness but seldom mar-red during the half-century of their wedded life. Today the aged couple look back into the past without regret, and the golden wedding of today brings as many joys as the wedding in the church at Oxton half a century ago Yesterday, Rev. Frederick W. Keene, of New Berwick, Me., and Messrs Charles and Harry Keene, of Keene Bros., city, all sons of the aged couple, assembled at the old homestead, and joined with a large number of friends in doing honor to the bride and groom of 50 years since.

Mr. Alfred Keene (a brother), and family, Mr. Charles F. Goderich; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. McLeod, Mr. and Mrs. Mc-Lean, Rev. Mr. McGillivray, Capt. McCrimmon, Mrs. Galbraith, Mrs. Banghart (Detroit), Mr. and Mrs. Harvey (of Stanley street), Mr. and Mrs. Harvey,

(of Simcoe street), and many others. A large marquee was erected on the lawn, and there Mr. and Mrs. Keene met their friends and received the heartiest congratulations from many who have known them for over a quarter of a century in this country. Later all sat down a a splendid dinner, and speeches were made by many of the guests, to which Mr. Keene responded in a herty manner. The evening was spent pleasantly by all, and the company broke up at a late hour.
