RUSSIA REGARDS NEW ALLIANCE

Integrity of China and Independence of Corea in Line with Her Policy.

Foreign Office Professor Pleasure in Learning that England and Japan Have Joined.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 14.—The censor pigeon-holed for a time the text of the Anglo-Japanese treaty, and the newspapers yesterday evening were only permitted to publish it without comment. From the few editorials on the subject in the morning papers it might be gathered that Russia was a party to both the preliminary negotiations and the treaty itself.

The Russian official view of the Anglo-Japanese treaty was communicated to the correspondent of the Associated Press as follows: "We accept the news of the treaty with the greatest equanimity, and are very happy to ascertain that England and Japan are pledged to maintain the integrity of China and the independence of Corea—two principles which Russia was the first to establish, as the basis of her foreign policy in the Orient. Russia would willingly have subscribed to the agreement in the preamble. The English-Japanese treaty convention has only essentially pacific aims. This makes it all the more astonishing when they speak of war and coalitions. What power they have in view we cannot say. But in any case, if peace in Manchuria in the extreme Orient, Russia, for her part, will not fail to take all the measures necessary to safeguard her interests. All Russia's conventions with Japan have aimed at the preservation of the integrity of China and the independence of Corea, and it is true that Minister Kurupov is immediately to communicate the text of the agreement and give the most amicable assurances. We have reason to believe it is not true that America, with which we remain in perfect accord, is a silent partner in the affair. We have given America positive assurances that Russia will do nothing which will disturb the interests of America in China. We do not believe America is anxious about the situation. Furthermore, we have received satisfactory assurance that America is not taking any steps against us in China."

RUSSIA CHARGED WITH WANT OF FORESIGHT.
Paris, Feb. 14.—Liberte bitterly accuses Russia of want of foresight in allowing any British-Japanese agreement to be made. It charges Russian statesmen, and particularly Dr. Witte, the minister of finance, with having in every way recently discouraged Japanese good will, instancing Japan's recent attempt to float a loan in Russia. When this failed the Japanese naturally turned to the London market. The paper adds: "The new agreement is directed against Russia, and virtually involves us, too. We have already noted during Constantinople incidents that we were far from obtaining from Russia all the assistance due us. We remain firm in our opinion of the Franco-Russian alliance, but it is important that its solidity shall not be compromised."

JAPS PLEASED.
London, Feb. 14.—A despatch to the Times from Tokyo, reviewing the expression of satisfaction with which the new treaty has been received in Japan, says: "The Japanese fully recognize the responsibilities incurred and the public voice is unanimous to discharge them worthily by increasing the national armament."

STRONG SPEECH BY ROSEBERY

He Says British Liberals Must Now Drop the Irish Agitators.

Permitting An Irish Parliament Would be Folly—Gladstone's Views Not For To-day.

Liverpool, Feb. 14.—Lord Rosebery received a tremendous ovation at the great Liberal demonstration here this evening. His lengthy speech, the principal one of the evening, was attentively received and heartily applauded. He failed to throw any fresh light on the war situation, but strongly emphasized his hostility to the Irish party and his desire to utterly alienate it from the Liberal camp.

During his remarks Lord Rosebery said that the greatest change in heart and head undergone during his five years' absence from public life was in regard to the Irish problem. Mr. Gladstone's bills were dead and buried, though that statement cast no reflection on the great statesman who originated them. The Irish party had now indignantly repudiated any connection with the Liberal party and he believed they had acted wisely. It was both to their interests and to those of the Liberal party. The Irish leaders had played their full hand. They had demanded an imperial parliament in Dublin and thereupon he had cried "halt." This remark was greeted with applause. Continuing Lord Rosebery said: "I am not prepared at any time or under any circumstances to grant them an independent parliament. No sane person would ever consent to handing over the destinies of Ireland, situated in the very heart of the empire, to a parliament controlled by those who have expressed the earnest wish that we might be overthrown in battle."

IRISH QUESTION A BIG ONE.
The Irish question is too large for any one party. It will need the energy and patriotism of both great parties to deal therewith. These are my personal sentiments, but I wish to make them perfectly clear on returning to public life.

Regarding the war Lord Rosebery said he had been ignorantly ridiculed for the suggestion of "casual peace negotiations in some wayside inn," but that he thought the recent mission of Dr. Kuyper, the Dutch premier, bore a fairly close analogy to such a course. The speaker said he thought the reply of Lord Lansdowne, the under secretary for foreign affairs, to Dr. Kuyper was fitting and dignified, but he thought the government had acted wrongly in declining to reckon with the Boer delegates in Europe, and allow them to send a deputation to South Africa.

"The trouble with the government," said Lord Rosebery, "is that they are always thinking of the present. I try to think of the future when Lord and Bilton will have to live together in South Africa."
The speaker appealed for a searching inquiry into the recent scandal and commented generally upon the government's seeming want of a definite policy in Malta and Wei Hai Wei. In conclusion he begged that his hearers would not be too ready to allow their hands to be tied by the Anglo-Japanese alliance.

HE STANDS ALONE.
London, Feb. 15.—Lord Rosebery's speech at Liverpool yesterday evening, which is likely to excite quite as keen discussion as did his Chesterfield address, is an even stronger bid for the formation of an entirely new party out of the ruins of the old Liberal party and the widespread public discontent with the many misfortunes and blunders of the present administration. Hence the newspapers of either extreme politics have nothing good to say of the speech.

In a short address delivered later, in which Lord Rosebery said that nobody but himself was responsible for the views he enunciated, the speaker admitted that he had no hope that they would, in the near future, lead to peace and power.
"But," said he, "I tell you it is better to wait 10 or 20 years, or even a generation, to obtain real power unalloyed by sullying compromise, than by coalition, compromise or conflicting ideas to obtain power to-morrow."
The Daily News says the speech establishes a definite and fixed divorce between Lord Rosebery and the Liberal party.

A HOIST
Six Months' Postponement May be Moved to Ross' Prohibition Bill.

Toronto, February 14.—The Evening News says: "A story that does not seem to be entirely without foundation was current at the Parliament buildings to-day. It credits the Opposition with the intention of moving a six months' hoist to the Premier's Liquor Act. Such a step would give the disaffected ones of the government side an opportunity of shaking off their allegiance to the administration on the question of prohibition."
"A feeling exists that the election is bound to come off either on the 10th or 10th of June. It will likely be in the first two weeks of the next month, and the dates suggested are the most probable ones."

DEBATE UPON THE ADDRESS

Proceedings at the House of Commons at Ottawa Yesterday.

Mr. Borden's Splendid Speech—Important Omissions from Address from Throne.

Ottawa, Feb. 14.—That masterpiece of parliamentary formalism, the address in reply to the speech to the throne, was the subject of to-day's debate in the Commons. It was moved by Mr. Campbell, of West York, seconded by Dr. Bland, of Beauce. No doubt the mover of the address intended to make a serious speech, and to be taken seriously by the House. But members on both sides could not forbear to smile when the representative of West York craved "the indulgence always granted to new members," nor was it to be wondered at that the House should laugh when he "tied up the whole Northwest in the flag of prosperity." The crowning humor of the speech, however, was when Mr. Campbell, after declaring that at the jubilee, in 1897, Sir Wilfrid Laurier stood on the very pedestal of glory and honor, wound up by describing him as "one of the grandest and noblest and brightest statesmen the world has ever seen."

Dr. Bland, of Beauce, made two eloquent speeches in succeeding addresses. He spoke in French and in English. Referring to the visit to Canada of the Prince and Princess of Wales, he said their experiences in Quebec must have convinced their Royal Highnesses that the French-Canadians would not prove disloyal. They had been loyal to the mother country not only in her days of rejoicing, but in her day of trial, as was proved by the graves of many French-Canadians in South Africa. "The incense of their gratitude," said he, "will continue to ascend until the last drop of the great St. Lawrence River shall have rolled by their deserted homes on its way to the sea."

Mr. R. L. Borden, the Opposition leader, in tendering his usual congratulations to the mover and seconder of the address, observed that Mr. Campbell might be assured that West York, like the apologetic offender, "would never do it again." Mr. Borden spoke eloquently of the royal visit and of the sympathy evoked in Canada by the death of President McKinley. The Opposition, he said, could not help being struck on the opening day at the long list of gentlemen who had left the ranks of the party opposite, to strengthen the judiciary and peerage of the country. He was sure it was only Mr. Mulock's modesty that prevented him from offering an explanation of a course which he doubtless still condemned. It had been laid down as doctrine that the prosperity which came to Canada and incidentally to the world in 1896 was due entirely to the Liberal Government. He would suggest the theory to Mr. Mulock that in turn he blame these political translations to Providence. When since Liberal members were so restive when reminded of their probable preferment, they could not possibly object to the remark that the eye of Providence was upon such and such a member. Mr. Borden regretted the neglect of the Government in the matter of a fast Atlantic service, and regretted also that Canada's adoption of a preference to Great Britain should have no better result than to subject her to restrictions in Continued on Eighth Page.

EPWORTH LEAGUE

Very Enjoyable Social in Victoria Avenue Methodist Church Last Night.

The Epworth League of the Victoria Ave. Methodist church held a splendid meeting last evening. The attendance was very large and the meeting was very interesting.

Nine essays were read on What Chatham would be twenty years from now. A very lively contest has been going on during the last few weeks and prizes were awarded for the best prose and poetry essays. John Cartier won the prize for the prose and Miss Ruby Maggs for the poetry.

The prizes were given by the League president. The essays were well written and very humorous, and kept the audience in a state of laughter. The judges were Dr. A. W. Thornton and I. E. Brock. Dr. Thornton read out and awarded the prize for the poetry and Mr. Brock the prose.

Besides the essay contest an excellent program was given. Misses Maud and Ella Groves gave a vocal duet, and a double quartette composed of Misses M. and E. Groves, Lettie Fife and Ida Simpson, and Messrs. R. Fife, H. Anguette, R. Clements, and H. Side rendered a couple of selections. The following were appointed delegates to the Temperance Convention—Misses Ward, Ella Groves, A. Smith, V. Coatsworth, and B. Coatsworth, and J. W. Humphrey.

DAY'S DESPATCHES

UNDER MOB RULE.

Trieste, Austria-Hungary, Feb. 14.—This city is practically in the hands of riotous strikers. All the factories are closed, and the few stores which opened for business were compelled to close, owing to the mobs which paraded the streets. Traffic on the street railroads was suspended. The headquarters of the Austrian Lloyd Steamship Company, whose firemen were the first to strike, were protected by a strong force of police, who continually charged the crowd in order to drive back the surging demonstrators. The military have occupied the public squares and other points of vantage. The mobs frequently stoned the police, and several shots were fired.

WIDOW FOUND MURDERED.

New York, Feb. 14.—Mrs. Kate Voopel, a widow, was murdered in her apartments on Christopher street early to-day. She was found dead by her young son at 10 o'clock. There were 18 knife thrusts in her body, and a disordered, blood-marked room, told of a desperate struggle before the woman gave up. The police detained the son, but have little reason to suspect him. Robbery was evidently not the motive, for a large diamond ring was left untouched on the body.

DEADLY STREET FIGHT.

Richmond, Ky., Feb. —A sensational battle occurred on the streets here yesterday between Jim Estill, Leslie Estill and Shelton Chambers, as the result of which Leslie Estill and Chambers will probably die. Chambers was twice wounded in the body. Leslie Estill received three of the balls from Chambers' revolver, and Jim Estill came out of the fight without a scratch. The men were drinking and quarrelled about a trivial matter. Revolvers were drawn and fifteen shots were fired in the fusillade.

ROBBED THE DEAD.

Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 14.—Coroner William C. Boller was to-day held for the grand jury on the charge of robbing the body of a man in the morgue. He gave bail in the sum of $2,000. A request for a warrant for the arrest of former morgue keeper William McShane, a witness against Boller, was held in abeyance pending the action of the grand jury. The evidence against Boller was conflicting, and the judge said that was matter for the jury to decide.

SATURDAY, FEB. 15.

JUDGE'S SALARIES.

It has often been said that the salary which is paid the judges of Canada is altogether out of keeping with the importance of a judgeship and with the ability which is required to fill the position satisfactorily, comments the London News.

There is much truth in the contention. Men who are competent to be entrusted with a judgeship, should be offered a salary in connection with the position which would constitute an incentive for them to accept instead of a deterrent.

On the other side of the line the judges in some of the states receive double and almost triple the salaries of the Canadian High Court judges. For instance, in New York city (Manhattan borough) there are twenty-four Supreme Court Justices, each of whom receives $17,500 a year. The Justices of the Supreme Court get $12,000, and the Surrogate, $15,000.

The way to get the best available men on the bench is to pay such a salary as will make it an object for the ablest and purest lawyers to give up the practice of law. It is unreasonable to suppose that men earning say $10,000 to $12,000 a year will throw up this income to accept $5,000 per year and a judgeship.

CONTINENTAL HATRED.

Count Sternberg, an Austrian who fought on behalf of the Boers, came back from that campaign with an admiring respect for the British, points out the St. Thomas Times. He seems himself to understand the word "straight," which he declares to be at the bottom of British institutions, though not even comprehended by any government in continental Europe. Being straightforward, he proclaims against all odds and against a good deal of rough handling at the hands of the British press, the conclusion he reached through his African experience, namely, that the British are noble in war. He goes further and declares the individual Briton to be amiable. This is, so far as the Count's opinion is worth, very relieving. Matthew Arnold, after studying the question of the dislike for Britain in surrounding countries, concluded that the Anglo-Saxon, though just and even beneficent to all men, was not amiable, and could therefore not hope to be liked. We have been strongly under the impression that a Teutonic lack of sensitiveness to the sentiments of others, combined in the Anglo-Saxon with an unconscious assumption of superiority, and especially of moral superiority, was a very leading cause of the marked phenomenon that England is everywhere hated. We are pleased, therefore, to find an unbiased foreigner who assures us that the Englishman personally is respected and loved.

Saying this, Count Sternberg finds himself still in need of an excuse for having gone out to bear arms against Great Britain, and this he finds in the fact that Britain is rightly to be hated because her policy is at all times directed to promoting Continental complications. This indictment might have been accepted by persons outside of diplomacy as the voice of a sage who knew, had it become public at any other time than the present, when one country after another is openly bewailing the absence, on account of the Boer war, of Britain's calming and balancing influence over the jealousies of the Continental nations. We have no doubt that when the Count recognizes this he will be equally "straight" in declaring it. In fact, in the somewhat contradictory statement of his utterances which has been telegraphed he goes on to do this by saying that since travelling in the United States he has come to believe that the Continental hatred for Britain is ungrateful, and that the Continent ought to awake and recognize its true enemy in the United States. Count Sternberg seems determined to have something to hate. Those who do so will generally fool themselves, as well as to injure those they dislike.

It cannot be denied, however, that as far as the commercial policies of Great Britain and the United States are concerned this critic's language is warranted. Two policies could not be more contrasted, the one the extreme of open and welcoming generosity, the other the extreme of antagonistic selfishness. But it is a great mistake to suppose that this narrowing policy of the United States is as mischievous to other countries as by those who are responsible for it it is assumed to be. The country chiefly injured by it is the United States itself. The real peril to the continent lies in the fact that the United States may discover her unwisdom and open her markets to the world. The growth of her commerce will then be such as has not yet been known. When that time comes the nations of the continent will realize the confining nature of their boundary lines and find themselves left entirely behind in the race. But even that will only be a comparative, and not a positive harm. On the contrary, the more anyone people flourishes the more all other people must flourish. The real spectre that overhangs the continent of Europe is Anglo-Saxon solidarity. It is this at which Count Sternberg seems to be aiming a puny arrow by writing as he does to the London Times. To the other peoples, indeed, it must necessarily look like a threatening cloud; but to the philosopher who can look at it apart from race aspirations it must be evident that it can only bring blessing, that is, that without bringing with it a superior order of things it cannot come about at all.

MR. SMIFF IS PERPLEXED.

Bobbygon Independent.

Walter Gordon, alias Trooper Gray, was arrested at Halifax as he was about to embark for Africa with the contingent that has just sailed. He is charged with the murder of two men on a farm near Boiesvain, Manitoba, two years ago. If Gray is Gordon, and Gordon is guilty of the charge against him, is there not a sad want of common sense in arresting him. Assuming that murder is his particular forte, was he not exactly the man for the work he had engaged to do in Africa? As a killer of Manitoba farmers he was specially qualified for the work of killing African ranchers. And yet the authorities have so little sense that they will put Manitoba to immense expense, in an endeavor to establish a charge that may prove fruitless. Would it not have been more sensible to have informed the commanding officer of the suspicion, and had him used for every dangerous commission available. The one man of those hired to kill farmers is to be put on trial, and will be hanged if he proves his efficiency. The ways of the army are inscrutable.

Every Exertion

There is failure of the strength to do and the power to endure; a feeling of weakness all over the body.

The vital functions are impaired, food does not nourish, and the whole system is run down. A medicine that strengthens the stomach, perfects digestion, invigorates and tones is needed.

What Hood's Sarsaparilla did for John J. Patterson, Whitby, Ont., it will do for you. It took it as a tonic and general builder of the system, and writes: "I have found no other remedy to compare with it as a restorer of vitality. It drives away that tired feeling, quiets the nerves, and brings sweet refreshing sleep."

In his book, "With the Ophir Around the Empire," describing the royal tour, Mr. Maxwell, special correspondent of The London Standard, describes the arrival at Bathos as follows: "Our Lady of the Snows was mantled in darkness, and finally saw not her white and beautiful face, but her cold breath, sweet with the scent of pines, fanned your cheek and sent the blood coursing through its veins. Once more I knew the wisdom that comes from experience, and returned for my overcoat." The Times thinks this rather descends to bathos.

HINTS FOR GIRLS

HOW TO PRESERVE HEALTH AND GOOD COLOR.

Pale, Sallow, or Anemic Girls Restored to the Bright Freshness of Youth by Natural Means—Good Health Within the Reach of All.

From The Sun, Orangeville, Ont.

Miss Maggie Brownlee, of Orangeville, is a young lady well known to the residents of the town and greatly esteemed by all her acquaintances. Like thousands of other young girls throughout Canada, Miss Brownlee fell a victim to anemia or watery blood, and for a time, as she says herself, feared she would never again enjoy robust health. Experiences like Miss Brownlee's cannot fail to be of benefit to other pale and anemic girls, and for this reason she kindly consented to give a statement to the Sun for publication. "My illness," said Miss Brownlee, "came on very gradually, and at first it merely seemed as though it was a feeling of depression and tiredness. I kept getting worse, however, and finally had to give up a number of my duties. At times I was troubled with a throbbing, racking headache, my appetite gave out; the least exertion tired me, and my heart would beat painfully. My limbs seemed to feel like weights, and at other times there was a sinking sensation which I can scarcely describe. I was treated by a good doctor, and took a number of remedies, but without any improvement in my condition, and I began to fear that I was doomed to be an invalid. One day a friend who called to see me spoke very highly of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and what she had gained by taking them. I bought a few boxes. I began taking them, and in the course of a few weeks there was no room to doubt that they were helping me. I continued taking the pills for a couple of months or more, when I felt as well and strong as ever I had been. It is about a year since I gave up taking the pills, and I have not since felt the need of any medicine. I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a grand medicine, and should be taken by all pale and feeble girls."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make rich red blood with every dose taken, and the brightness and freshness of youth to pale and sallow cheeks. Through their action on the blood they cure such diseases as anemia, nervousness, headache, rheumatism, dyspepsia, St. Vitus' dance, heart troubles, diseases of the kidneys, etc. These pills also cure the ailments that make the lives of so many women a constant misery. Sold in boxes, the wrapper around which bears the full name—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. The Way to Do Business.

"Is there any one living here under twenty-one years of age?" inquired a man who rang the doorbell at a genteel residence the other day.

"No, there is not," rather sharply replied a spinster of eight and thirty summers who answered.

"Why, is it possible?" was the reply of the apparently astonished man. "Don't you live here?"

It was a neat bit, and after a little whispering and a brief chat about the weather the maiden purchased two copies of a work entitled "Hints For the Young."—London Tit-Bits.

Diet and Voice.

A musical writer states that fine vocalists are rare in countries where fish and meat diets prevail and that the voice depreciates as families grow rich and increase the amount of meat consumed.

The carnivorous birds croak; grain-eating birds sing.

The Maid Blushed.

When Mr. David Dear, winner of the queen's prize at Blaisy, was a law student, he once attended an "at home."

On the servant asking his name, he replied, "David Dear."

The girl blushed and said, "Yes, yes; but what is your other name, sir?"

He assured her he had no other name, but it was of no use. The servant knew better and announced him as "Mr. David."

Witty Answers.

A leading actress, who is notably well "billed" all over town and country, observed to the interviewer: "Of course I can't get on without 'billed,' and," she added slyly, "a little 'coining.' Do I use powder? Why, of course. What do you think? And, my dear sir, I shall now depend on you—for the powder—oh, dear, no—for the puff!"

The Best of Reasons.

"Why do you bring this to me?" thundered the weary editor, thrusting the manuscript back into the hands of the poet.

"Because," replied the bard timidly, "I have no stanza."

There is only one way to cure failure—give up seeking excuses and seek work.

An interesting event occurred at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Thornton, 8th con., of Tilbury West, on Wednesday evening, Feb. 5th, when their daughter, Edna Muriel, was united in marriage to Nelson A. Ford, by the Rev. W. H. Butt.

Ed. Seguin, of Tilbury, has bought the Commercial Hotel, Belle River, from L. N. Castaner, of Windsor, for $2,500. Possession is to be given the first of May, at which time the place will be vacated by Mr. Seguin and taken over by Mr. Seguin.

Edward Porter, acting for Hiram Walker & Sons, Walkerville, was in St. Thomas on Wednesday, and inspected the whiskey in their bottles which are supposed to contain case goods. It is said that Mr. Porter's test resulted in the fact that he found that in one case the whiskey had been poured in the bottles. Prosecution will follow, says the Times.

An old resident of Howard, in the person of Mr. W. C. T. U. president at a concert held in the town hall at Comber under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. In the course of the evening Mrs. Maxwell delivered an address, which scintillated with prohibition points. A parlor meeting was also addressed during the afternoon. Appreciative audiences assembled at both meetings and a decided impetus was given the work.

A Leamington young man married recently, purchased a box of cigars, some of which were loaded with powder. Meeting a friend a cigar was given him. He lit it and it exploded, striking him in the eye. He will likely lose the eye, and as the man who gave the cigar is in poor circumstances, the unfortunate young man has entered an action against the manufacturer. The case will be watched with much interest.

Mr. W. E. C. Workman, who for the past year has been organist and choir master of the Presbyterian church, since coming to town, has made many warm friends who will be indeed sorry to see him leave. His musical ability has become so well known in the west that the Chatham church was anxious to secure his services and so made him a very tempting offer.—Ridgetown Standard.

At five o'clock in the afternoon on Monday last, Walter Guyett, one of Ontario's best known citizens, passed to the silent beyond. His sudden death was unexpected, as it was thought he was improving. Mr. Guyett was always a strong, healthy, rugged man, whose industry and good management had surrounded him and his family with all the comforts that farm life possesses. He leaves a large family to mourn his loss. The funeral, which took place yesterday at Duart cemetery, was largely attended.

For Singers and Speakers.

The New Remedy for Catarrh is Very Valuable.

A Grand Rapids gentleman who represents a prominent manufacturing concern and travels through central and southern Michigan relates the following regarding the new catarrh cure, he says:

"After suffering from catarrh of the head, throat and stomach for several years, I heard of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets quite accidentally, and, like everything else, I immediately bought a package and was decidedly surprised at the immediate relief afforded me and still more to find a complete cure after several weeks' use."

"I have a little son who sings in a boys' choir in one of our prominent churches, and he is greatly troubled with hoarseness and throat weakness, and on my return home from a trip I gave him a few of the tablets one Sunday morning when he had complained of hoarseness. He was delighted with their effect, removing all his troubles in a few minutes, and making the voice clear and strong."

"As the tablets are very pleasant to the taste, I had no difficulty in persuading him to use them regularly. Our family physician told us they were an antiseptic preparation of undoubted merit, and that he himself had no hesitation in using and recommending Stuart's Catarrh Tablets for any form of catarrh."

"I have since met many public speakers and professional singers who used them constantly. A prominent Detroit lawyer told me that Stuart's Catarrh Tablets kept his throat in fine shape during the most trying weather, and that he had long since discarded the use of cheap lozenges and lozenges on the advice of his physician that they contained so much turpentine and opium as to render their use a danger to health."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are large, pleasant tasting lozenges composed of cathartical antiseptics, like red gum, blood roots, etc., and sold by druggists everywhere at 50c. for full treatment. They act upon the blood and mucous membrane and their composition and remarkable success has won the approval of physicians, as well as of thousands of sufferers from nasal catarrh, throat troubles and catarrh of stomach.

The Household

Sauce for Baked Fish.—This is a cold sauce which is in high favor with some families. Mix thoroughly the yolks of two hard boiled eggs, a small wineglassful of salad oil, a large tablespoonful of sharp vinegar, a little dry mustard and a tablespoonful of chopped pickles or capers.

Savory Eggs.—Boil four eggs ten minutes, and when cold remove the shells. Cut each in half crosswise and remove the yolks, place them in a basin and mix them with an equal quantity of finely minced ham. Season with pepper and salt and moisten with cream, fill the halves of the eggs with the mixture, dip into batter and cook in deep fat until light brown in color.

Sauce for rice or macaroni.—Put one-fourth of a cupful of butter over the fire in a saucepan, add a small onion, chopped fine, and half a clove of garlic. Cook until all are browned, then add a scant fourth of a cupful of water or a teaspoonful of salt and water, or use well reduced stock and water. Add three or four mushrooms, simmer five minutes, strain and serve.

Fish Salad.—Use eggs and a half pint of cold, cooked fish, broken into flakes, one head of lettuce, three lemons and a mayonnaise dressing. Sprinkle the juice of the lemons over the fish, mix carefully, sprinkle with one-fourth teaspoonful of salt and let it stand while the lettuce crisps. Then arrange the lettuce leaves in a dish, put in the fish, dress with mayonnaise and garnish with thin slices of lemon.

Fowl and Bacon.—Clean a fowl, fill with bread stuffing and truss for roasting. Cover the outside with slices of bacon, tied to keep them in place, and broil for two hours or until the bird is tender. Remove the string and bacon and place the fowl on the rack in the baking pan with the bacon underneath. Broil the fowl with salt, pepper, and flour with a nice brown, basting often with some of the broth to which butter may be added, if necessary.

Jellied Chicken.—Singe and draw a good sized chicken, put it into a ket of boiling water and cook for five minutes. Then push the kettle to the back of the stove and simmer until the chicken is tender. Strain and add a layer of gelatin in which it was boiled and remove the meat, rejecting the skin and bones. Crack the bones into small pieces, and place them with the skin, a small chopped onion, two bay leaves, a blade of onion and half a teaspoonful of celery seed in a saucepan. Add the chicken liquor and simmer until reduced to one pint, then put in a leaping tablespoonful of gelatin, previously soaked in cold water. Strain and salt to taste. Moisten a square mould or pan with cold water and arrange a layer of chicken neatly in the bottom. Then pour the whole chicken stock. Set aside to cool and harden and serve with mayonnaise dressing.

Stuffing for Pork.—Parboil three small, mild-flavored onions in two waters, then boil until tender. Scald eight or ten sage leaves in hot water and let them stand five minutes. Dry thoroughly and chop with the onions until the mixture is very fine and add one and one-fourth cupfuls of very fine bread crumbs and one-fourth teaspoonful each of salt and pepper. When well mixed add two tablespoonfuls of butter and bind the whole with two well-beaten eggs.

Kentish Pudding Pies.—Boil a bay leaf and a small piece of lemon rind in one and a half pints of milk, and nicely flavored strain the milk and put it with three ounces of ground rice and a little salt, stirring while it boils for fifteen minutes. Remove the onion and bay leaves, and stir in two ounces of butter, four and one-half ounces of sugar, and four well-beaten eggs. When nearly cold pour this into patty-pans lined with paste, strew the top with currants and bake in a steady oven for about twenty minutes. Sprinkle the top with powdered sugar after the pies become cold.

The Largest Coins in Circulation.

The largest gold coin now in circulation is the gold ingot, or "loot," of Anam, a French colony in eastern Africa. It is a flat, round goldpiece, and on it is written in India ink its value, which is about $65. The next sized coin to this valuable but extremely awkward one is the obang of Japan, which is worth $10, and next comes the bendu of Ashanti, which represents a value of about $9. The California fifty dollar goldpiece is worth about the same as the bendu. The heaviest silver coin in the world also belongs to Anam, where the silver ingot is worth about $3. Then comes the Chinese tael, equal to about 7 shillings, and then the Austrian double thaler.

Dogs and Humor.

Mr. Cecil Aldin, an authority, gives it as his opinion that dogs as a rule are devoid of conscious humor. "The clown dog in a troupe of performing dogs, for instance, is not really funny when he burlesques the performances of other dogs, but he seems to be funny to the spectators. I am afraid that the people who credit dogs with being intentionally funny are deceiving themselves."

A dog likes fun—a good romp and game with children—but his sense of humor has not been developed, and it is not subtle. A dog's best sense of humor, Mr. Aldin thinks, is when he is being tickled. "He opens his mouth, then screws his face into what people are pleased to call a laugh."

SUGAR BEETS

Meeting in the Interest of Their Growth in Kent This Afternoon in Auditorium.

A very large number of the farmers of the community attended the meeting held in the I. O. O. F. Auditorium this afternoon, at which C. W. Pekowski, of Bay City, explained the process of growing sugar beets. Mr.
Pewoski represents the Dresden factory and is trying to induce the farmers of this vicinity to grow sugar beets for the Dresden factory.

The meeting was opened by Mr.
Piggott, who made a short address, in which he said that he thought the people should take an interest in this industry, as it was without doubt more profitable than any other crop.
Mr. Pekowski was then introduced to the audience. He is a man who has made a study of the growing of sugar beets and is employed by the Bay City mill to look after the average of the factories and was sent to Chatham by the capitalists, who are interested in the Dresden factory. He made a very instructive address, showing the progress of the beets from the time they were planted till they were taken to the factory. He also showed the cheapest way of raising the beets.

The meeting is still in progress.

Baking Powder Truth

No better Baking Powder can be devised than that made from pure cream of tartar and bicarbonate of soda. Desire for big profit has led to the use of inferior ingredients, and very few powders are now made from the articles named. For this reason we decided to make an absolutely pure cream of tartar and soda powder. Nothing better can possibly be produced, yet we sell it at 25c a pound. No one could improve on it if they charged $1.00 a pound. On Saturday, every lady coming to our store may obtain a trial 1/4 pound package free.

LAMENT OF THE COUNTRY.

By W. W. Whitelock.

Give back O'city from thy clutch
My children to my breast,
That, ravished, aches to feel their touch.

And hush their pain to rest;
My dugs are full, while hark! they cry

For food, but're in vain—
O vampire of the glittering lie,
Give back mine own again!

My fields are golden seas of grain
I bore for them to reap;
My bounty swells some gambler's gain

Who heeds not while they weep.
My children render to my arms,
Thou wanderer, draped in red,
That lurst the quick with deadly charms,

And send'st me but the dead.

Give back the children whom I nursed
And brought to man's estate,
Until they heard thy voice accurst,
Thou cursed one of fate!

Mine age is lonely, and my breast
Years for my faithless sons,
That I may lull their pain to rest,
My poor deluded ones.

While grief is fresh, every attempt to divert only irritates. You must wait till grief be digested, and then amusement will dissipate the remains of it.

BOTH PARTIES DISSATISFIED

"Prohibitionists will be handicapped so as to make their success almost impossible. The vote of a liquor-favoring minority will prevail. The bill practically declares unselfishness, sobriety, and philanthropy are political disqualifications. Against this grave injustice the alliance desires to enter a strong protest."—Prohibition Alliance Circular.

"I think it would be better for the prohibitionists to urge the Government to withdraw the measure. The referendum, under the conditions proposed, is sure to fail, which would result in postponing the completion of this reform for many years to come."

—Rev. Dr. Chown.

"The question of compensation should have been dealt with in Mr. Ross' bill. I do not mean the details should have been given, but in justice to all parties it should be definitely settled what provision, if any, in this respect is to be made. The principle of the referendum, if it is to be acted upon, should be settled now as well as later on."—James Haverson, Solicitor Licensed Victuallers.

MARKS A NEW ERA.

Paris, Feb. 13.—The Temps declares that the alliance between England and Japan marks a new era. Mr. Chamberlain had tried all other powers as an alternative to abusing them. The alliance, it considers, is a defiance to Russia, but must also have an important effect in Germany, which is displaced by England in Japan's favor, for the control of China. An indirect but clear invitation is held out to the United States to join in the alliance.

Narcolepsy

Narcolepsy is a curious and somewhat rare disease, whose most prominent symptom is irresistible attacks of sleep. These may come on suddenly at any time and place, and the patient is absolutely unable to stay awake. The sleep, however, is usually of short duration, from ten to thirty minutes. The disease was described and named by Gelineau, a French physician, in 1880. It is thought by some specialists to be closely allied to epilepsy. But as the attacks resemble healthy sleep—the muscles are relaxed, the heart and respiration are slowed down, the patient on awakening is refreshed as after an ordinary nap, and there is none of the lassitude and sense of exhaustion which follows the epileptic fit—it is certainly very different in origin from the latter. Robin and Paul Salin have recorded cases which show a close association between obesity and the tendency to narcolepsy.

It seems probable, however, as Dutilh thinks, that its closest ally is simple hysteria.

Cat Versus Trout.

A member of the Sullivan County club caught half a dozen trout one day last summer and carried them alive to his cottage, intending to take them to the city. He turned the water into his bathtub, and the trout seemed to thrive as well there as they had done in the streams.

That afternoon one of the fish disappeared. The man, thinking it had jumped out, looked all around the room, but no trout was to be seen. Next morning two more were gone, and the servant was closely questioned. Then two more disappeared, and the fisherman was so much concerned that he took a place outside the bathroom window and proceeded to watch. Pretty soon the family cat entered, perched on the edge of the tub and, waiting its chance, struck viciously into the water with one paw and brought up the remaining trout.

BEAMS OF SUNSHINE

Chatham Branch of the International Sunshine Society.

Motto—Good cheer.

Have you had a kindness shown?

Pass it on.

'Twas not given for you alone—

Pass it on.

Let it travel down the years.

Let it wipe another's tears.

Till in heaven the deed appears—

Pass it on.

The last week has been taken up with preparation for the "At Home" held in the L. O. O. F. Auditorium last evening. As is usual with entertainments given by this Society, a good time was provided, and those who attended no doubt experienced a double pleasure in the thought that many lives would be made brighter through their effort to encourage the Sunshine. The club colors, yellow and white, were used in the decoration of the Auditorium, which presented a very attractive appearance. Several young men of the city paid Sunshine dues by providing the most cheerful and pleasant music last evening. Many donations were sent in by those not able to attend, and these will be distributed among the poor of the city during the month of the winter. The proceeds of last evening's entertainment will be known later.

"This past week one poor family was supplied with warm clothing—Sunshine members paying their dues by taking it. Already, then, Sunshine is known and blessed in several homes in Chatham. But Sunshine is not for Chatham alone. We hope that soon all Kent will feel its rays, and in time, other branches will organize to take up the work. The idea of 'passing on' the kindness shown to us, as well as in town. A supply of good books or magazines would often be appreciated in a country home, there is surely a child some place who would enjoy those toys that are only taking up room in your house. Some invalid would spend several pleasant hours over a piece of fancy work 'passed on.' Some of the proceeds from the 'At Home' will be used in forwarding such 'good cheer,' if the giver does not care to do so. There is the one central idea running throughout Sunshine work—to make others happy—and even in the effort your own life will be the happier. Try it.

Enquiries addressed to 'Sunshine' Box 258, Chatham, will be answered in this column, or an individual answer given if a stamp is enclosed for reply. Any suggestions or reports from Sunshine will be recorded each week.

SAY IT NOW.

Break now the alabaster box.

Of sympathy and love.

Amid the cherished friends on earth.

Ere they are called above.

How many burdened hearts are here

That long for present help and cheer.

The kindly words you mean to say

When others are dead and gone,

Speak now—and fill their souls with joy.

Before the morning's dawn.

'Tis better far when friends are near.

Their saddened hearts to soothe and cheer.

Sailors' Rations.

A recent writer has said to say of sailors' rations: "A sailor has dishes, and loves them, that are little appreciated ashore. He likes 'Fanny Adams' and has a great fancy for 'plum duff,' which consists of suet pudding with raisins in it. Vegetables, though they are in the official harbor menu, are not served out to the messes every day, but on certain days some groups of men get all and the others none, on a system of which Jack quite approves.

"The messes whose turn it is to have vegetables indulge in a 'pot mess,' as it is styled, perhaps not inappropriately. The messes in their turn receive the shins, scrag ends, neck pieces and other odds and ends of the meat ration—some sailors aver that every animal has at least six shins—and this miscellaneous assortment of remnants is thrown into a pot with any vegetables that can be got. The result is a 'pot mess.'"

"Any landlubber who desires to try a real naval dish will have no difficulty in getting the dish prepared, and if he eats it on a table with uneven legs which lunge up and down he can imagine he is at sea."

The saddest ignorance in this world is not to know the pleasure that comes from self-sacrifice.

OSHAWA MIRACLE INVESTIGATED.

A Sworn Statement of Facts Almost Beyond Belief.

The Toronto Mail and Empire Sends a Reporter to Oshawa—His Inquiries Result in Complete Verification of Original Story.

Very many startling stories of wonderful cures by Dodd's Kidney Pills have been published in these columns, and in other newspapers all over the country from time to time.

Every case has been well authenticated as to leave little room for doubt, and yet the statements made and the cures reported, have, in many cases, been so nearly miraculous as to be almost beyond belief.

Recently, The Mail and Empire of Toronto, and other papers, published a despatch from Oshawa, in which it was said that a mechanic in the Oshawa Malleable Iron Works, had been cured of paralysis by Dodd's Kidney Pills, and that, after he had been absolutely helpless for four months, and had been given up by the physicians at the Hospital in Toronto.

This was too much for many people to believe, and numerous demands were made on the paper in question for a verification or correction.

One correspondent signing himself "Medicus" in a letter to the Mail and Empire openly disputed the possibility of such a cure.

To get at the real facts a reporter was sent to Oshawa, and the result was a complete, and very satisfactory confirmation of the original despatch. To put the matter absolutely beyond question the following sworn statement was secured:

THE STATEMENT OF MR. BROWN.

In the fall of 1897 I was taken ill with what most of the doctors called paralysis, and other nervous prostration. It commenced with a stiffness and soreness in the calves of my legs, and gradually increased till I could not move either my arms or legs, having lost all power in them. I could not have raised my arms to my head to save my eyes from the sun, which was shining brightly. I could not walk alone a single step. I doctored with all the local doctors, and then with a Bowmanville doctor. Each one gave me some different medicine, but the more I took the worse I got. At last the Bowmanville doctor told me that nothing could be done for me unless I went to the hospital in Toronto where they might perhaps have some later treatment for paralysis which would fit my case. I went there toward the end of January, 1898, and remained under treatment in that institution for a little over four weeks. All was in vain. I got worse. Twelve doctors told me I could not recover, and that nothing could be done for me, so as I was getting weaker every day, and there was no hope of their being able to help me in the least, I was removed to my home here. I was like a baby, unable to move.

At this extremity someone advised me to use Dodd's Kidney Pills, for my wife bought a box. We had not the slightest idea that they would help me, but like a drowning man I grasped at every straw. After I had used the first box my numbness began to leave my fingers tips, and I felt a little better, and kept on using the pills. By two months' time I could walk a little, and shortly afterward was able to go short distances without assistance.

The first time I went down town, one of the doctors who had given me up saw me across the street, and not being able to believe my recovery, he came to my brother, Robert, and asked: "Is that your brother Joe?" Robert told him that it was I, and he said in astonishment: "Well, I never expected to see him again."

I used, altogether, twelve boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and by the first of May I was able to start to work again in the shop here, and I have never been sick or off work a day since and that is over three and a half years ago.

I am glad of the opportunity to make this statement, for I can now say my life, health and strength to work to that great remedy, Dodd's Kidney Pills.

SWORN CONFIRMATION.

This, therefore, is the true story in detail of this most remarkable case. No room is left for doubt or dispute and the original Oshawa despatch is confirmed in all its particulars.

If this possible—could no one can now doubt it—then one can easily understand how any of the many wonderful cures reported have been accomplished by the same means, Dodd's Kidney Pills.

SUNDAY SERVICES

International Bible Lesson for Tomorrow—The Second Persecution.—Acts v. 33-42.

Golden Text—"Blessed are they who are persecuted for righteousness' sake, for theirs is the Kingdom of Heaven."

The Holy Spirit, who fills the apostles with holy boldness, would make us too, courageous God's word at Pentecost and in this council reached hearts, to one a saviour of life, but here of death. One man, with God, a majority, though all his judges condemn him. Death must silence these men. Paul's tutor, Gamaliel, gives good advice—the work of man comes to naught, the work of God abides; every plant the Father hath not planted shall be pulled up. After being scourged and commanded not to speak in Jesus' name they are released. Such are the arguments of this religious council without the Holy Spirit, while with the Spirit-filled Church there is joy in their sufferings and persecutions, counting it a great honor, while they continue daily in the Temple and every home to preach and teach Jesus Christ.

These were too much for many people to believe, and numerous demands were made on the paper in question for a verification or correction.

One correspondent signing himself "Medicus" in a letter to the Mail and Empire openly disputed the possibility of such a cure.
