TRAGEDIES OF MISSING SHIPS INVESTIGATED

Four Departments of U. S. Government Inquire Into Mystery

BLAME BOLSHIEVIK? Modern Captain Kidd or Rum-Running? Are Advanced as Theories

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Four departments of the Federal Government work up the search for five missing American ships today.

"Missing, fate unknown," reads the record of the ships. "Crews whereabouts never reported."

The mystery of the disappearance of the vessels was the more tantalizing because it all happened a short distance from Washington—off Cape Hatteras. On the calm sea and in clear weather the ships disappeared, their crews going with them.

A fourth ship, a schooner, ran ashore in the vicinity of the capes, all sails set, was lost in the same vicinity.

Parrot Aboard. A lone squalling parrot and a bottle containing a hastily scrawled note were the sole relics of the schooner—the Deering—which filled up on the coast on January 31.

The note said the Deering had been captured by an "oil-burning chaser" and her crew and captain made prisoners.

William B. Wormell, Portland, Maine, was captain of the sailing vessel and his daughter has been instrumental in arousing officials to an investigation of the accident. She has made an independent search of the country over, for her father.

Another young woman was instrumental with Miss Wormell in causing an investigation. She was Miss Barbara Bauer of Big Spring, Texas, who wrote the coastguard here that there might be a connection between the wrecking of the Deering and the disappearance of the Hewitt, a steam vessel, which left Sabine, Texas, January 20, with a load of sulphur.

A mysterious message found in a floating bottle near Cape Hatteras, which is now believed to have been written by a member of the missing crew, is the only clue which the investigators have received. The message read:

"Mysterious Message. "Deering captured by oil-burning boat something like chaser. Taking off everything. Handcuffing crew. Crew hiding all over ship. No chance to make escape. Finder please notify headquarters of the Deering."

The authenticity of this message was doubted until it was compared by handwriting experts with the signatures of all the men who had signed articles on the Deering's last voyage.

Miss Wormell has had the handwriting on the note, brought in from the Deering, identified as that of Chief Engineer H. Bates.

The others vessels which sailed out into oblivion were not identified, but the Commerce Department was investigating today.

The Coast of Cape Hatteras and several other capes cannot be approached by land. It would not be impossible for a twentieth century Captain Kidd to hide there with his marauding band. It has been suggested that such a pirate might be using a submarine in his raids.

Another theory—advanced by a Cabinet Minister, who was only partly serious—was that Bolshieviki have captured the ships, and made prisoners of the crews and taken the cargoes to Russia.

Rum Runners? Again there was the theory that rum-runners might have wanted the vessels to carry on their illegal trade from Cuban ports.

Coastguards were called upon for reports of occurrences along their patrols during January. It was recalled that late in January several mysterious explosions were heard further north along the coast.

The vessels missing are the Hewitt, carrying a cargo of sulphur from

TURN SOD FOR NEW ALBERT MONDAY AFTERNOON NEXT

The first sod for the new and greater Albert College will be turned on Monday, June 27th at three o'clock in the afternoon with due ceremony.

The turning will take place not far from the Trent Road at a convenient place.

the aldermen of the city and others are expected to be present.

The foundations which are about to be begun by the Carwell Co., Toronto, will be for the administration building, the dormitories, swimming pool, gymnasium, dining hall and kitchen.

Albert's outlook is bright. The new college will be coincident with the new era which is dawning throughout civilization.

Fishing For Shad Caught Airplane

FOUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y. June 22.—Caught by one end of a shad net three miles north of here in the Hudson River is what fishermen believe may be a lost airplane. The object has not been raised to the surface as yet, but attempts to do this will be made to-morrow.

Residents of this section think the object may be the airplane of Capt. Mansell R. James, Canadian aviator, who was lost in 1919, and for whom a search was made in this section.

POLITICIANS INDICTED. ATLANTIC, Ga. June 22.—A total of fifty-two indictments, ranging from misdemeanour to bribery, larceny after trust and forgery were returned against local politicians and other well-known men by last grand jury. It was shown when sealed presentments in the "bunco" case were opened shortly after noon.

PREPARING SCHEDULES. MONTREAL, June 22.—Office staffs in railway headquarters are busy this week completing the reclassification of wage schedules which will be presented to Canadian railway employes, probably this week, for acceptance as of July first.

Must Protect Apples in Cold Storage From Onions

Supporting the demand for improved facilities for storing and shipping of apples, a number of fruit growers from various parts of Ontario waited on the fruit committee of the legislature Tuesday afternoon to discuss different methods.

R. J. Graham, of Belleville, with more than thirty years' experience in the storing of fruit, warned the committee that apples must be put into storage before they were allowed to sweat, as the sweating resulted in loss of bloom and a depreciation in value. He also warned against the storing of celery, onions or other vegetables in the same room with the fruit, declaring that apples would absorb any scents to which they were exposed.

Sir William Mulock, Mr. W. T. R. Preston of Port Hope, Messrs. Wade and Scripture of Brighton and other growers were also present.

Mr. Graham favored barrelling. He admitted the advantages of boxing and grading as to size and color in marketing apples, but maintained that conditions in Ontario did not lend themselves to it in a large way. Ontario apples were made up of so many varieties that grading was an

CLOSE FISH HATCHERY

Because of the contamination of the waters of the Motra river, the fisheries department at Ottawa announces that it is unlikely that the fish hatchery in Thurlow will be reopened. "The loss of the eggs was developing at such a rate that definite action was necessary in order to save any of the valuable salmon trout and whitefish in incubation there," announces the department.

It is expected that many British miners will resume work this week.

ACCEPTS CALL TO MELROSE CONGREGATION

Mr. John Mackay will Serve Three Congregations—Induction June 23rd

PRESBYTERY MEETING. Kingston Presbytery Will Call Adjustment Committee Together

At the quarterly meeting of the Presbytery of Kingston held in Napanee on Tuesday, Rev. Dr. R. J. Wilson was nominated for the position of Publicity Secretary—a new post created at the recent meeting of the General Assembly. The nominee is well qualified for the position.

The General Assembly having granted leave to the Presbytery to license Mr. John Mackay, the moderator, Rev. A. J. Wilson, Napanee, conducted the ceremony in due form. Mr. Mackay was given a cordial reception, and immediately thereafter the moderator presented him with a call from the congregations of Melrose, Lonsdale and Shannerville.

The call was sustained and accepted and arrangements were made for the induction on June 24th at Melrose. Rev. Taylor Dale presented a call from Wolfe Island to Rev. D. T. Lancaster. This also was sustained and accepted. The induction will take place on July 1st.

General regret was expressed that the Rev. W. J. Parsons who has labored at Glenvale and Wilton for the past five years is about to leave the hospital. His place was taken by an "Washington" Presbyter, Rev. Mr. Burgess, Kingston, its interim moderator of the Glenvale and Wilton sessions.

Owing to difficulties in some of the fields which were placed under the co-operation scheme, it was decided to call the committee on operation together to review the situation, and to make adjustments. In the meanwhile the Presbyterial fields will carry on as formerly.

The first report from the recently-appointed committee on General Interests was submitted by Rev. Dr. Wilson. It was agreed to give special attention to Home Missions and Social Service at the March meeting; the benevolent funds at the June meeting; Y. P. Societies and S. S. at the September meeting; and Foreign Missions and the Budget at the December meeting. It was also decided to invite Rev. J. D. Brynes to spend one month as soon as convenient in the presbytery. It is expected that Mr. Brynes will endeavor to induce the augmented charges to attain to the new minimum of stipend and adjust difficulties wherever they have arisen in fields under co-operation.

Rev. C. E. Kidd reported on plans of work to be carried on among the young people by the Presbytery and the Religious Educational Council.

Rev. Dr. MacTavish reported that he had declared the pulpits vacant in the Eldorado field and he was instructed to procure supply for that charge until the plan of co-operation becomes effective.

The Presbytery enjoyed a sumptuous repast provided by the ladies of Napanee, and on motion of Mrs. Gracey and MacTavish, and supported by Messrs. Cumberland and Wilkins the ladies were heartily thanked for their hospitality.

The next meeting will be held in John Street Church, Belleville, on September 13th.

GRADUATE OF R.M.C. Mr. T. Y. Willis, son of Judge J. F. Willis and Mrs. Willis, has graduated from the Royal Military College, Kingston.

U. S. MINISTER TO CANADA?

WASHINGTON, June 22.—It was intimated that administration officials would welcome a revival of the suggestion that more formal diplomatic relations be established between Canada and the United States by appointment of a Canadian diplomatic representative to Washington. Reciprocal action by the United States in appointing a Minister or Ambassador would require legislation. It was explained, but pending such authorization a diplomatic commissioner could be sent to Canada.

Word was received at Little Current that the tug Wahnapitca, owned by the Beck Mfg. Co., ran on Elm Island and sank in a few minutes.

Coal Oil Stove Explodes; Children Burn to Death

BROCKVILLE, June 22.—Dorothy aged fourteen and Phyllis Marion, aged four, daughters of James F. Elliott, were burned to death in a fire which early this morning destroyed their home, a frame building at the corner of Amy and Ormond Streets. Mrs. Elliott prepared breakfast by means of a coal oil stove and returned upstairs to resume her dressing. Going down stairs again she found the kitchen in flames. The flames quickly enveloped the house and Mr. Elliott managed to get three children to safety. As he reached Phyllis he was overcome by smoke. Two children perished, their badly charred bodies being indistinguishable when the fire was extinguished. Mr. Elliott is expected to recover. Coronar Harding opened an inquest this morning.

STRUCK MAN WITH SHOVEL IS ALLEGED

Patrick Kennedy Accused of Assault With Doing Bodily Harm

TROUBLE AT POINT ANNE. Robert Harris Brought to Belleville General Hospital for Treatment

Patrick Kennedy, recently out from Ireland, landed in the town on Tuesday at Point Anne on a charge of assault occasioning harm. Kennedy and a man named Robert Harris, both workmen at the Cement Works, were engaged near another about noon, when some difficulty arose. It is alleged that as Harris was walking away, Kennedy struck him with his shovel on the head inflicting a very serious gash.

Harris was rushed to the hospital where he was given attention. He was not able to be out today.

Kennedy was arrested by Constable Cornell and brought to the jail here last night. This morning he appeared in police court before Magistrate Masson.

The case was enlarged by the Magistrate pending recovery of the injured man.

SHIP LIQUORS HERE FROM QUEBEC CITY

OTTAWA, June 22.—A story of some human interest to Ontario developed at the Railway Commission when, by consent, an order was issued permitting the importation of liquor from the City of Quebec into Ontario or, for that matter, into any province not yet dry under the Canada Temperance Act. So far as Ontario is concerned the ban will be applied on July 19.

The situation in Quebec is anomalous. It is being cleared up but this is not possible for a few weeks yet. The province has taken over the liquor business and since May 1 exports have been prohibited. Imports, says by the Commission, were sought to be similarly barred.

It happens, however, that the old Scott Act has not been repealed in Quebec and until it is, the Justice Department has ruled that people there could import as they pleased.

After some discussion between R. A. Pringle, K.C., counsel for Letellier, a liquor merchant of Quebec, and Aime Geoffroy, K.C., for the Quebec Liquor Commission, a consent order was given whereby shipments may be handled from Quebec City to "wet" provinces, so long as the latter flourish. Meanwhile an order-in-council has been passed for taking a vote to repeal the Scott Act in Quebec City, but this is not planned until October.

FULLER PUBLICITY ASKED BY PREMIERS

LONDON, June 21.—One of the first questions to be determined is the amount of publicity to be given the Premier's Conference. Premier Meighen and most of the Dominion Premiers favor the fullest publicity, and, as a matter of fact, the majority of them already have given public utterance to the opinions which they will support at the Conference.

Generally speaking, the British view is that at the present stage, where discussions must necessarily be in the nature of exchanges of views, rather than of a definite determination of policy, unrestricted publicity may be detrimental rather than useful. It is thought that an agreement on this point may be reached tomorrow.

The Canadian Prime Minister addressed a gathering of the most famous jurists of Great Britain at Gray's Inn, Lord Birkenhead presiding.

KING PREDICTS BRIGHTER DAY FOR OLD ERIN

DOG KNOWS FORMER HOME.

INGERSOLL, Ont., June 22.—The fact that a fox terrier, formerly owned by Dr. C. D. Ferguson, which had been missing for nearly two years, today recognized its old home when it struggled to get out of a farmer's rig, subsequently led to its being returned to Dr. Ferguson.

The animal was traced to a farm in West Oxford, and positively identified by certain marks. Although the claim was advanced that the animal had been purchased from another party, it was eventually surrendered.

First Time in Twenty Years Royalty Visits Ireland—His Majesty Looks Forward to Day When He will Open the Southern Parliament—No Untoward Incidents.

ROYAL PARTY DEPARTS. BELFAST, June 22.—King George and Queen Mary departed from Belfast for London in perfect safety at four o'clock this afternoon.

BELFAST, June 22.—King George and Queen Mary, journeying from England for the occasion of the Tenth Anniversary of their Coronation, presided at the state opening of the Ulster Parliament here today. It was the first time in nearly twenty years that Ulster had had an opportunity of receiving the sovereigns of the British Empire, and its welcome helped make the occasion a memorable one.

The ceremony of the opening was similar to that attending the inauguration of the British parliament, and was a brilliant spectacle. It was regarded as marking an important epoch in Irish history.

"I speak from full heart," said His Majesty in his opening speech. "When I pray that my coming to Ireland today may prove to be the first step towards an end of the strife among her people, whatever their race or creed."

BELFAST, June 22.—In hope that I appeal to all Irishmen to pause, to stretch out the hand of forbearance and conciliation to forgive and forget and to join in making for the land, which they love, a new era of peace, contentment and good will.

"It is my earnest desire that in southern Ireland, too, there may ere long take place a parallel to what is now passing in this hall. That there a similar occasion may present itself and a similar ceremony be performed."

Their Majesties were given a right royal welcome on their arrival today. From the moment their yacht dropped anchor at the entrance to Belfast Lough, the King and Queen were objects of enthusiastic demonstrations by the loyalists of Ulster. As the yacht steamed past the shipyards cheers of thousands of workmen mingled with the shrieks of siren and whistle.

A squadron of police headed the procession through the streets, and the carriages of the royal pair were followed by those of officers and dignitaries. The escort of honor was chosen by the Tenth Hussars. Lord Lieutenant Fitzalan and Lord Pierrie who represented the city, received their majesties at the dock.

On each side of the streets were stationed nearly six thousand regular troops, standing shoulder to shoulder and separated from the crowds by a heavy railing. Following the ceremonies the King and Queen were driven again through flag decorated streets to Ulster Hall where they received addresses of loyalty.

Sask. Doubled Dairy Produce. REGINA, Sask., June 22.—Saskatchewan has doubled her dairy produce during the past year, according to figures reported Saturday. Total output to May 1, 1921, is $71,174 pounds, in comparison with 320,368 pounds for the same period in 1920. Comparative figures for May, 1921 and May 1920, are $25,104 pounds and 187,625 respectively.

"BOXING'S GREATEST SHOWMAN," HERE'S DOPE ON TEX RICKARD
NW YORK, June 21.—"Boxing's greatest showman." That is the title which George Lewis ("Tex")
Rickard, promoter of the coming Dempsey-Carpentier bout, has earned time when the mining craze engulfed ed that section.

But Goldfield was not satisfied with the local activity which the miners brought to that place. The town
"boosters" wanted national note and Rickard suggested a championship boxing match.
The promotion of big enterprises with the aid of virtually no capital has been characteristic of this prospector who has tapped the gold mines of Broadway as well as of the Klondike and Nevada. From his friends he secured enough money to offer Jimmy Britt and Terry Mc-Govern a $30,000 guarantee for a championship bout in Goldfield.
Coming from an unknown, at that time, the offer was hailed by the boxers and their managers as a joke.
Rickard kept right on however and the managers of Joe Gans and Batting Nelson were more susceptible to the gift of $30,000 in gold pieces laid before them. The light-weights fought a memorable battle at Goldfield. The town was advertised nationally and "Tex" Rickard became a successful fight promoter.
Since that time, Rickard has promoted from a financial point of view, the greatest ring contests ever staged. They have been successes only because of the extraordinary

Peterboro, June 21.—The great Trent Waterway is again open for traffic and there is every indication that the present summer will witness a wonderful increase in the number of tourists who will take a cruise through the beautiful lakes and rivers of the route over two hundred miles. Many of the tourists who decide to visit Georgian Bay from Amer-waterway. For some weeks past this route has been extensively advertised in three magazines published in the States: "Motor Boat," "Power Boating" and "Motor Boating," so that this cruise is becoming widely spoken of. Here are a few of the facts set forth in the advertising, and calculated to surprise those contemplating the journey:

1. No lockage charges—good service.
2. No customs restricted.
3. Draft: 3 feet, Ontario to Peter-

Washago.

by eleven each. The visitors enjoy-

"showmanship" of the man. Always his slogan has been "take a chance."
He astounded the country with his guarantees for the Johnson-Jeffries battle at Reno by $100,000. Receipts for the Willard-Dempsey bout at Toledo, July 4, 1919, amounted to $450,000, a new high mark.
Bouts staged by him in Madison Square Garden during the six months previous to last March brought in more than $1,300,000. Approximately $1,000,000 will flow into the box office before Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier square off at Jersey City July 1, easily covering the tremendous outlay necessary to stage the bout. Rickard is one of the few who have coaxed substantial returns out of promotion in the boxing game.
"Take a chance" and "be square" are Rickard's watchwords which seem to summarize reasons for the success which has come to him in business as well as boxing. For boxing is only a sideline with him. Tex is a partner in huge cattle enterprises in South America. His herds roam over a range of more than 4,- 000,000 acres. He is general manager of a firm backed by American financiers in a project which produces beef for American consumption.
But despite the "take a chance" motto, mere good luck has had little part in the success of this man who now sits in a suite of offices in Madison Square Garden and directs in the Jersey bout, July 2, a "million dollar proposition." Starting

Sometime after he defeated Jeffries, Jack Johnson was in-the Mann Act but he evaded arrest and finally journeyed to Paris.

When exchequer shrivelled
a bit, he accepted a challenge from Frank Moran, of Pittsburg, and they faced one another in France on June 27, 1914. The negro warrior scored a victory on points in 20 rounds.

Moran was game and stubbornly stood up to Johnson's assaults, which had not the steam of the champion's earlier attacks. Johnson possessed all of his old-time skill however.
There was not a single knock-down nor anything that smacked of a finishing blow. Johnson's superior skill and his incessant upercutting kept Moran in subjection. Moran's attack lacked the power to dispose of his adversary.
The crowd was as cosmopolitan as Paris itself. There were barons and dukes at the ringside, and earls and duchesses, too. Sporting men of many nations, clad in the formal evening garb with which Europe honors its boxers, were part of the throng.
Johnson was proud of his victory, for it was the first time that a champion as old as he had ever defended his title and won. He was then 36 years old.

FEWER STUDENTS OF DIVINITY

ALONG with the evidence of pressing need for co-operation among the Christian churches comes the announcement, in a report to the Presbyterian General Assembly, that the number of divinity students attending Presbyterian colleges is less than it was forty years ago.

What has been the cause of the decline? Perhaps there have been several causes. Perhaps one reason is that there are so many more openings for young men of ability and education now than there were forty years ago.

And then there is the question of worldly reward. It is not to be assumed that young men are attracted to the ministry by consideration of salary but even in the ministry men must live, and men with families must have decent salaries to live decently.

EXIT JAZZ

JAZZ has lost its popularity, and its sway will soon be at an end. This is the good news that comes from the convention of the Sheet Music Dealers' Association in Chicago. The old melodies, stirring military marches and a few new sentimental lyrics are the best sellers today, the dealers report.

It was a foregone conclusion that jazz would not last. It lacked the foundation necessary for stability. To call it music was a misnomer. It could be described only as rhythmic noise, comparable in some respects to the sounds produced by savages at their dances and religious ceremonies, but lacking the dignity which may be found even in the beating of tom toms.

The craze which suddenly developed for dancing and singing to the noise of cow bells, sandpaper, police whistles, automobile horns and the other instruments which played so prominent a part in the jazz orchestra, is one of those mysteries of modern civilization which must ever remain inexplicable to the music lover, although psychologists may be able to offer an explanation.

SUNFLOWERS AND SILAGE

MUCH interest is being taken both in Canada and the United States in the value of sunflowers as a silage crop, particularly in districts where corn is not a reliable crop. The claim is made that sunflowers are a harder crop than corn, withstanding both drought and frost to a greater degree.

In the central residential sections of the city the housewife answers the door bell several times a day to peddlers, beggars, agents or organ grinders. The annoyance is less noticeable in the sorting streets, for people of this sort by nature are too lazy to negotiate considerable distances. Atrociously perfumed packages, pencils, shoe laces and such articles serve as an excuse for an appeal to the sympathies of people who, often enough, are having a Dickens of a time clothing children, feeding a family, paying rent and taxes, and otherwise carrying on.

PUBLIC LIBRARIES

A REMARKABLE testimony to the value of public libraries was given recently at the convention of the National Education Association of

OTHER EDITORS' OPINIONS

Excerpts from the press of Canada, Great Britain and from the leading papers elsewhere for "Ontario" Readers.

VETERANS AND DISARMAMENT

It is to be hoped that the report is true of a proposal to link up all veteran organizations in an effort in every part of the world to ensure world-wide disarmament which will be brought before the Dominion Government by the Great War Veterans' Association at its convention in July.

In length the fish measures 48 inches. The next largest of its kind caught in Buck Lake, as far as is known, was a 24-pounder. The ordinary run is from five to eight pounds.

LAUGH!

Build for yourself a strong box, Fashion each part with care; Fit it with hump and padlock, Put all your troubles there.

THE PRICE OF MEAT

Hon. F. B. Carvell's remark that the public would be interested to know how it is that when the farmers are only getting from six to eight cents a pound for beef, the consumer has to pay from 35 to 40 cents a pound for steak, is a repetition of what people everywhere are saying.

ANSWERING THE FRONT DOOR BELL

In the central residential sections of the city the housewife answers the door bell several times a day to peddlers, beggars, agents or organ grinders. The annoyance is less noticeable in the sorting streets, for people of this sort by nature are too lazy to negotiate considerable distances.

"once over." Some of it may be entitled to pity and support. We suspect that others constitute an imposition and should be taken in hand. The other day we watched a rugged looking old clogger grinding an organ and the noise it made was an annoyance to an entire neighborhood. With him was a fine, big specimen of manhood who chewed tobacco earnestly and spat vigorously while he took up the collection. A thousand people have expressed the opinion that he ought to be earning his living like many people more grievously afflicted. At all events he is a sample of robust mendicants that need investigation.—Ottawa Journal.

EASTERN EUROPE "DYING AT THE TOP"

Newspapers in Finland print an appeal from Maxim Gorki for relief for the intellectual leaders of Europe, of whom 5,000 at least are on the verge of starvation. This points to the great danger in which European civilization now finds itself involved.

Gorki is not pleading for the so-called intelligentsia, the leisure-class radicals who got bargained for, but for the scientists, historians, artists, and educators who represent all that is constructive and forward-looking in civilization.

WORM POWDERS

Miller's Worm Powders do not need the after-help of castor oil or any purgative to complete their thoroughness, because they are thorough in themselves. One dose of them, and they will be found palatable by all children, will end the worm trouble by making the stomach and bowels untenable to the parasites. And not only this, but the powders will be certain to exert most beneficial influences in the digestive organs.

London, June 22.—Lord Justice Scutcheon, speaking at University College, said one of the threads, and a very odd one which held the different units of the empire together was the judicial committee of the privy council. "If you go into a slummy little street off Whitehall," he proceeded, "you will find an extremely obscure door. You will then go upstairs into not a very clean-looking room, where you will find a horse shoe table, and four or five sometimes rather sleepy old gentlemen sitting round it, being addressed by counsel. (Laughter.) But if you sit and listen you will be amazed at the pageant that passes through that room. Indian communities come to ask the court to decide whether a certain god has a right to pass through the street of a certain Indian town with elephants or not. (Laughter.)"

FREEDOM OF EDINBURGH FOR DOMINION PREMIERS

EDINBURGH, June 22.—At a meeting of Edinburgh Town Council, the Lord Provost referred to the fact that the Prime Ministers of the Dominion were in this country to attend the Imperial Conference.

On the occasion of previous conferences of this kind the Town Council had invited the Premiers to visit Edinburgh for the purpose of receiving the freedom of the city. Of the Premiers who were coming this year only two had not received the freedom of Edinburgh, the Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, the Premier of Canada, and Hon. Richard Squires, Premier of Newfoundland.

It was decided, on the motion of the Lord Provost, seconded by Bailie Barrie, to invite these two Premiers to visit Edinburgh for the purpose of receiving the freedom of the city, and also to invite the other Premiers to come to Edinburgh during their stay in this country.

WORLD COURT OF JUSTICE

United States Included in Countries to Nominate Possible Judges

LONDON, June 22.—The Council of the League of Nations had decided upon the method of selecting the personnel of the new international court of justice. It has invited Elihu Root, John Bassett Moore, George Gray and Oscar Straus, American judges of The Hague Tribunal, to nominate four judges, two of the nominees to be Americans, and two of other nations. This list will be added to lists submitted by each of the member nations, and from the entire group the Council and Assembly will select a president, a vice-president and nine associate justices of the court, for which Elihu Root originally drew the plans, and which will be constituted at The Hague next fall.

Although the United States is not a member of the League she is entitled to participate in the court, as are all the nations mentioned in the annex of the Versailles Treaty, whether members or not. Thirty-six nations have formally accepted the court project.

Even if the United States should decline to be officially represented in the court, the Council will have the right to name an American justice if it is considered desirable to do so. It is considered quite probable, therefore, that there will be at least one American member, as the League was most desirous of having a disinterested American viewpoint on international questions.

Similar invitations have been sent to Bolivia, Peru, Chili and Argentine, requesting each to name four candidates for the bench before August 15.

IS THERE A BABY IN YOUR HOME?

Is there a baby or young children in your home? If there is you should not be without a box of Baby's Own Tablets. Childhood ailments come quickly and means should always be at hand to promptly fight them. Baby's Own Tablets are the ideal home remedy. They regulate the bowels; sweeten the stomach; banish constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fevers—in fact, they rid the system of all the minor ills of little ones. Concerning them Mrs. Mollie Cadotte, Makamik, Que., writes: "Baby's Own Tablets are the best remedy in the world for little ones. My baby suffered terribly from indigestion and vomiting, but the Tablets soon set her right and now she is in perfect health. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont."

TWO RESHENTS OF GARDEN HILL COME TO BLOWS

Port Hope—Two residents of that peaceful village of Garden Hill furnished the program at the Police Court here and the plaintiff had a large bump on his head and a beautifully discolored optic and neither injury was caused by "Gardenering." The defendant and plaintiff had been partners in a threshing machine and after the dissolution of the partnership were not on the most friendly terms. Meeting the other day they exchanged compliments and the "threshing" partnership was renewed but this time it was a fistie affair. The defendant did not display any marks of the battle but it was evident from the appearance of the plaintiff that the contest continued until the sound of the "Bell." The defendant was fined ten dollars and nine dollars costs.

Gasoline sold at 40 cents in Belleville, although a two cent drop has taken place in other cities this week. A local garage owner stated today that the Belleville dealers would likely take the next drop which would be a big one, perhaps to 35c.

THREE MILLION FOR CHILDREN

American Friends' Effort is Praised by President Harding

PHILADELPHIA, June 22.—The American Friends' Service Committee, which is undertaking a campaign to raise $2,000,000 within the next year to feed German children, has received a letter from President Harding commending the humanitarian efforts of the committee. The letter is directed to Ferdinand Thun, of Reading, Pa., vice-chairman of the committee organized to conduct the campaign. It reads: "My sympathy has been aroused in the effort your organization is making to raise funds for suffering and unfortunate children of Central Europe. I am impressed that the time has come when the old asperities of the war period may properly be forgotten in the face of such humanitarian efforts. The real ideal of human brotherhood will best and soonest be realized through the encouragement of such works as this."

What Shall I Do?

Boho and Belle—it is not customary in good society, nor among girls anywhere who are dressed, to invite their escorts in for a visit when they return home after midnight. The good-byes should be said at the foot, and quickly. And it is not proper, in the city or in the country, to kiss these escorts goodnight, as you will have noted ere this if you read our column.

"N.H.L."—If your boyfriend has told you right out that he doesn't care to correspond with you, there is nothing left for you to do but say "good-bye" to him, and be sure that if you make lots of other friends you will find someone you like just as well as you have him.

"Trying to be a True Friend"—You are probably right that your returned soldier friend is sensitive about his financial position, but of course that does not excuse him for having been rude about your invitations. However, accept his sister's invitation by all means, treat him just as you have always done, try to make him feel comfortable about his circumstances, but don't appear too anxious—that will only embarrass him. "Jealous"—I cannot understand why your landlady should object to your going out with boys of whom your mother approves to places your mother approves. Couldn't your mother talk it over with her, and convince her that you need a good time now and then in the right way? If not, I hope you will not complicate your mother's problem—which must be hard enough at best—by making any trouble. It will pay you to give up a few good times now for your mother's sake, Jewel. But I hope you won't have to.

"Fricas M."—It is no sign that your girl friend doesn't want you to catch up with her just because she doesn't wait for you—she probably would feel very much "peevish" if you didn't try. She doesn't wait because she doesn't want you to think she is too anxious for your company.

"V. E."—Perhaps the young man has too good manners to be phoning you all the time. You can't start phoning him if he doesn't want to phone and hasn't anything to say. Don't take liberties over the telephone, my dear, that you wouldn't take otherwise; telephones are for convenience only; not for flirtation.

"Very Anxious"—It is not proper for your boyfriend to kiss you after you have been going with him steady for five months—or five years. No until you have promised to marry him is he entitled to that privilege. After 12 o'clock is at least one hour, and probably more, too late for your boyfriend to go home. I am surprised that your parents do not care—are you sure they know how late it is?

Petes Expect A Hard Battle The Peterboro Examiner says of their best Saturday when the Belleville team play a Central Ontario League game at Riverside Park if they hope to stop the Easterners. The Petes are not disheartened by the bad breaks they got last week and are out to stop their slump on Saturday at the expense of Belleville. It should be the choicest battle of the year, for a Belleville-Peterboro clash always means fireworks as good as ever, and that means the Petes will have to be at o'clock.

THUMBNAIL SKETCHES OF PRIZE AND RING. No. 7.

Some people think Jess Willard defeated Jack Johnson because he was the better fighter. Others feel sure that Johnson was beaten by his own method of living and by the irresistible slowing-up process that time imposes on every man after he passes the crest of physical perfection. And there are those who believe Lell Artha was not so anxious to beat Willard, anyhow.

Whatever the cause, the star of Jack Johnson's ring career flicked out at Havana on April 5, 1915. That day, for the second time in his life, Johnson was knocked out. The first enforced nap had mattered not. It was taken at Galveston in 1901 at the hands of Joe Choynski and Johnson was almost unknown beyond the island where he lived. But when the big negro arose from this second slumber, he was a has been.

Willard was 27 years old, ten years the junior of the champion and both his height and reach exceeded those of Johnson. The dusky title holder apparently put forth his best effort in the early rounds but he could not topple the giant to the canvas. Willard was slow in his movement, fighting on the defense and with great care, manfully hiding his time.

His time kept him waiting quite a while. Johnson was a little fatter, a little blower and some of the old wallops were gone from his arms but his ring generalship, his mastery of tactics had not forsaken him. He was still the most clever boxer of them all.

The early rounds showed him to be the same teasing scrapper he had always been. "Why don't you come ahead and fight?" he frequently blurted at the cautious Willard.

Later, the signs of leg weariness were apparent in the champion's movements. In the 18th round he suddenly seemed to become exhausted, while the Kansas was still fresh and glowing.

Plainly tired and worn out, Johnson kept up the fight for seven more rounds. Leaving his corner at the going for the 25th round, he glanced at his wife with a look of distress and despair that warned those near the ring of his impending fall.

As soon as he met Willard, almost, the cowboy's right arm shot out and struck Johnson flush on the chin. He sank down and a new champion was proclaimed.

G. McGregor, of Blind river, was appointed supervising principal of the Sudbury public schools.

BRITISH OPEN CHAMPIONSHIP ATTRACTS GOLF STARS OF WORLD

ST. ANDREWS, June 21.—(By Canadian Press)—Leading golfers of the British Isles, both amateur and professional are assembling here to start in the British Open Championship tournament which will begin today on the famous St. Andrews course. In addition to the Old Country stars, there are more than a dozen "pros" from the United States who will attempt to wrest honors from the British players, a thing which the U.S. amateurs found a trifle too difficult at Hoylake and Turnberry tournaments. Several of the members of the U.S. contingent are well known in Canada and have played in tournaments in the Dominion. These include Walter Hagen, Wilfred Reid, James Barnes and Jack Hutchison.

The United States was unable to send a national open champion at the head of its delegation for Ted Ray, at Oxhey, England, which opens tomorrow, and interest very largely centres on his prospects for capturing the British title. George Dun-

LOOK FOR BIG CROP

OTTAWA, June 21.—As July, the critical crop month, draws near, reports from the West are being watched here very closely by the Agricultural Department. So far as acreage is concerned, this year is away in excess of any other. The total acreage under wheat is eighteen million acres, an increase of 400,000 over last year, and of 2,300,000 over the period between 1915 and 1919, which was exceptionally high, owing to the greater production campaign. If there are no unfavorable conditions a crop of 300,000,000 bushels is anticipated, which even at an average of $1.25 would bring in $425,000,000.

Texas; the Albany, which sailed from Norfolk last October and disappeared, and the Yute, a barque, which was last heard from by wireless last November 14. The names of two other missing vessels are in possession of the Commerce Department, but officials are reluctant to give them out. Another development in the sea mystery is that the British Admiralty and the French Ministry of Marine are co-operating with this Government in its investigation.

Information reached officials here that at least one foreign ship was reported attacked by men in a launch while lying in the harbor at Newport News, Va.

Secretary Hoover refused today to express his opinion of the reports coming into his office. His subordinates, however, said they believed that representatives of the Bolshevik Government had waylaid the merchantmen on the high seas and, except in the case of the Carroll A. Deering, seized the vessels and carried them off to Russia.

The Carroll A. Deering was sighted last January by the tug Rescue, of the Merritt and Chapman Wrecking Company. The ship, a five-masted schooner, of 3,500 tons, had all sails set and apparently was in distress. The tug was unable to get men on board the Carroll A. Deering, but reported that it had no one on board.

A few days later the Carroll A. Deering—unnamed as the tug had found her—swooped in and piled up on Diamond Shoals. No trace of the crew has been found.

Camp Community

Monday morning saw the opening of camp community on Moira Lake. Three cars left the Y.M.C.A. at about 9 o'clock and arrived in camp at 10.30 sharp. Twelve hungry boys sat down to their first meal in camp at noon which was prepared by a super-excellent cook, "Dabble" Duesberry. The afternoon was spent in exploring the ground and letting the campers know things were there. In the evening the lads went down the lake after the camp war canoe which had been repaired. After much labour and several wettings, they succeeded in beaching it near camp. Tired and wet they prepared for bed. The dropping of the mosquito and black fly, the hoarse croaking of the bull-frog, the musical call of the whip-poor-will and the shrill laugh of the loon, filled the night with a host of newfound wonders, much to the discomfort of the tenderfoots.

In the morning the fatigue squads of kitchen police were picked by head chief Angus Buchanan. The newly organized baseball teams, "Skeeters," and "Chipmunks" were scheduled to play their first game on Tuesday night. Work in the camp is proceeding satisfactorily, the post-holes for the dining pavilion being dug and the building lumber ready.

WEDDINGS

DEMILL—VANWART. A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Tuesday, June 14, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Vanwart when their second daughter, Lena May, was united in holy wedlock to Clarence Clayton Demill of Wellington, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Demill of Rose Hall.

The bride entered the room on the arm of her father and was charmingly gowned in blue satin, carrying a bouquet of pink and white carnations. She was assisted by her sister, Miss Edna Vanwart, of Mountain View, who wore a gown of blue silk and carried a bouquet of pink and white peonies. Mr. Russell Dickson acted as best man.

The groom's gift to the bride was a gold bracelet, to the bridesmaid a brooch set with pearls and ruby, and to the groomsmen a tie pin set with brilliants.

The estimation and popularity of the young couple was expressed in no mean way by the beautiful presents she received. After the wedding ceremony a sumptuous wedding repast was partaken of at the bride's home, Mountain View, the dining room being prettily decorated with pink and white peonies for the occasion.

The happy couple motored to Nanapanee and other western points. The bride's going away attire was her wedding dress with fawn coat and hat to match.

The groom served overseas in the 21st Battalion and won the medal for bravery on the field. Best wishes of hosts of friends accompany the young couple through life.

JONES—CALDWELL. An event of pleasing interest took place at eleven-thirty this morning at Bridge Street Methodist Church, Rev. Dr. Cleaver officiating, when Miss Imogene Caldwell, only daughter of Dr. J. Caldwell, 166 Bridge Street, East, was united in marriage to Mr. Hubert M. Jones, of the staff of the local Federation Taxation branch, son of Dr. and Mrs. H. M. Jones, of Marmora, Ont.

The bride looked very charming in a travelling suit of navy blue, wearing a corsage of sunburst roses. She was attended by Miss Phyllis Bogart, of this city, who looked very attractive in a gown of orchid or gardenia with hat to match and carried pink roses.

The groom was assisted by Dr. Harry F. Alford of this city, as best man, and Mr. J. Whalen of the Standard Bank and Mr. D. Watson of the Dominion Bank acted as ushers.

The altar of the church was beautifully banked with ferns and daisies. The wedding march was rendered by Prof. V. P. Hunt.

After the ceremony the bridal party and guests repaired to the residence of Dr. Caldwell where a reception was held and the guests were entertained at luncheon.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful gifts from her many well-wishers both here and in other places. The groom's gift to the bride was a silver mesh bag.

Amongst the guests who assembled to witness the pleasant affair were Mrs. L. Howard and Mrs. Doherty, both of Toronto; Mrs. Jones, mother of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. H. R. and Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Pierce, of Marmora; Mrs. O. M. Jones, of Toronto, Dr. and Mrs. Walton-Ball of Toronto, Mrs. Meyers, of Okhawa, Dr. and Mrs. Potts, of Stirling, Mrs. Seymour, of Madoc.

BALLARD SAYS CANADA LAGS

Major F. M. Ballard, of the Royal Flying Corps who is in Toronto on his way to Dallas, Texas, is the officer who opened up Camp Mohawk at Deseronto during the war. He also operated during the war and organized the aerial gunnery and air fighting work in Texas, where many Canadian flying men were trained. He organized the flying camp at Beamsville and remained in command there until he applied to be sent overseas.

"I was rather surprised that you haven't taken up commercial aviation in Canada. You have the pick of the world's pilots," he said, when interviewed last night. In this he thought that Canada was lagging far behind most of the other countries, and that this was peculiarly strange when the number of superbly trained pilots in the Dominion was considered.

While stating that his visit was unofficial, and that he came from England to rest up, Major Ballard will confer with some of the foremost airmen of the country, and will also inspect the work done since demobilization in the effort to build up an air force in connection with the Canadian forces. He will very probably visit Camp Borden within the next day or so.

"It may stay here two or three weeks before going to Texas," said Major Ballard. "Of course, I will see the flying men both here and in Texas, but I am not here in an official capacity."

Major Ballard passed through more than 2,000 Canadian pilots and cadets, and also the first 300 American flying men to go overseas. He served in France for more than two years.

CORSO NOW MODERNIZED

Commerce Demolishes Glorious Palaces of Medieval Rome—Romance Vanished

ROME, June 22.—Slowly the god of commerce is grinding away a little at a time the romance and antiquity of this cradle of civilization.

The Corso, from the time of Roman emperors the busiest thoroughfare of the city, is losing its ancient character. The four huge triumphal arches which once spanned the street, were destroyed centuries ago. Palaces and churches were left but the palaces are falling before the irresistible demands of commerce.

Two huge old palaces occupying a site half-way up the Corso have already gone down before the commercial onslaught. In their places have been reared two big, gaudy structures to be occupied by banks, which stand out in bold contrast to the quiet coloring of the ancient gems of architecture.

When the palaces are not torn down, they are modified in such a way that the interior decoration, some of which has stood the test of centuries, is effaced and sometimes plastered. Numerous alterations are made to suit the necessities of business.

In the quarter where the church of St. John Lateran is located, a new amusement company has taken possession of a large square of vacant ground and has erected carousels, roller-coasters, ferris-wheels and side shows. The romance and beauty of the spot has vanished.

TO INSPECT G.T.R. SYSTEM. BROKVILLE, Ont., June 22.—Sir Joseph Flavell and Howard G. Kelley, of the Canadian National Grand Trunk Board of Management, will shortly make an inspection of the Grand Trunk System, according to word which has been received here.

FAREWELL TO LT.-COL. BETTRIDGE. Tangle Presentation and Dedication of Child at S. A. Citadel.

Lt.-Col. Bettridge was given a farewell at the Salvation Army Citadel last evening by the local corps. The colonel delivered a stirring address. Among other features of the programme were the presentation of a badge to the Boy Scouts, and the dedication or baptism of an infant. Adjutant Cavender spoke a few words. There were officers and comrades present from Picton, Trenton and Tweed. Col. Bettridge leaves for England shortly on a visit.

New Political Name for U.F.O. is Reported. MILTON, Ont., June 22.—It is said the farmers of Halton county, which riding Premier Drury represents in the Legislature, intend to organize a political party for the next political fight under the name of the People's Political Party, and the U.F.O. name will be dropped as a political factor.

This is regarded here as a step toward the "broadening out" policy suggested some time ago by Premier Drury, and objected to by some prominent U.F.O. officials.

Belleville Hospital gets a grant of $1,000 from Hastings County Council. The special committee who inspected the institution brought back a very favorable report...

MEDICINE HAT, Alta., June 18.—In the huge federal constituency of Medicine Hat, which measures 192 miles by 77 miles, an important bye-election is being contested by Col. Nelson Spencer, candidate of the National Liberal and Conservative party, and Robt. Gardiner, candidate of the United Farmers of Alberta. Polling is on June 27. It is estimated that there are about 15,000 voters in the constituency...

There is a good deal of speculation concerning the outcome, and both candidates are confident of success. The Liberal and Labor parties are not putting representatives in the field. The candidates are carrying on energetic campaigns, addressing public meetings and building up organizations as complete as is possible under the circumstances.

FIRE DESTROYS FARM HOME AND WITH IT CENSUS RETURNS

Bad luck waited until Enumerator George McGie, of Stirling had almost completed his compilation of statistics for the 1921 census and then sent him a fire which destroyed his home and with it his furnishings, besides all his farm enumeration lists except the last day's work. Mr. McGie has had a rather heavy section of territory to cover and had wound up all but ten farms. When he returned home yesterday he found the place in ruins. The origin of the fire is unknown. The loss on house and contents is partially covered by insurance. Mr. McGie intends going over the enumeration again.

GUNNER UNITS LEAVE CAMP TO TRAIN HERE

Ninth Artillery Brigade Completes Training at Barrifield Camp. HUSSARS STAY ON Major Mooney, 3rd Battery, Kicked by Horse—Men Were Keen, Busy. KINGSTON, June 18.—The Barrifield camp has almost completed its first week and today sees the artillery brigade leave to disband for another year. The men of both the 4th Hussars who came in on Tuesday and the gunner units have all seen hard work. They were up at 5.30 a.m. and kept going until evening, all displaying intense interest in the work. The duties of the artillery were driving in battery drill, and gun laying. There was no physical training, as the work was about all that any of them required and when it was finished they were ready to seek a well-earned rest. Sports were provided for through the energy of George Young, secretary of the Y.M.C.A. Mr. Young furnished complete equipment for both baseball and football, and he opened a recreation room on the grounds. Lt.-Col. H. Van Luven was camp commandant. Lt.-Col. Rierdon officer commanding the 9th brigade C.F.A., Major Garnet Greer, R.A.M.C., camp medical officer. Rev. A. E. Runnells, camp chaplain. Major Mooney Recovering. Major Mooney of the 3rd (Gananogue) Battery, who was kicked by a horse is again in charge of the battery at camp, and it is expected no serious results will ensue from the accident. He was kicked on the right hand and at first it was thought that some of the bones had been broken, but such proved to be not the case.

QUEBEC MAN GIVES HIGH PRAISE TO DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS Absalom Duchesneau Gives Three Reasons Why He Advises Everyone to Use Dodd's Kidney Pills for Kidney Ills. St. George, Beauce Co., Que., June 20.—(Special.)—Just how much good Dodd's Kidney Pills have done in one family is told by Mr. Absalom Duchesneau, a well-known and highly respected resident here. "My health is very much better since taking Dodd's Kidney Pills," Mr. Duchesneau states. "For two years I was in pain, but since taking Dodd's Kidney Pills the pain is gone. "I also induced my mother to use Dodd's Kidney Pills for sleeplessness and the results were very satisfactory. "My sister, too, took Dodd's Kidney Pills for backache, and she is better. "Do you wonder that I advise everyone to use Dodd's Kidney Pills?" The reason Dodd's Kidney Pills have come to occupy such a prominent place in the family medicine chest is that so many of the ordinary day-to-day ills come from sick kidneys. Rheumatism, urinary troubles, backache, diabetes and heart disease can all be traced directly or indirectly to sick kidneys. Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills are not the best remedy for sick kidneys.

BAY OF QUINTE COMMUNITY FAVOR ONE BREED OF CATTLE

South Hastings and Prince Edward Section Offer Excellent Example of Community Breeding—Stalk With Dairying.—Cheese Output Increasing—A Prosperous Part of Ontario.

HON. SYDNEY FISHER, who was a consistent and persistent preacher of the doctrine of community breeding, could visit Prince Edward county and the front of Hastings, in the flesh, he would be delighted with the completeness with which his preaching has been carried into practice. In a trip covering a large part of the two counties last week, I saw herds of cattle rearing in luscious pasture everywhere, and these cattle were practically all of one kind of breeding. Perhaps half a dozen Jerseys and as many cows with some Ayrshire markings were seen all told in the two counties in the course of a journey occupying the greater part of two days; the rest were all black and white, and excellent specimens they were, too. There was hardly a considerable herd out of which one could not pick half a dozen head that could be taken into the show-ring with credit to the exhibitor. Further evidence of the extent to which there has been concentration along one line was afforded by a statement of Agricultural Representative MacVannell of Prince Edward, concerning his calf club operations. Within the past week Mr. MacVannell has distributed 48 pure-bred heifers among the members of this club and in 46 cases Holstein heifers were, by choice of the recipients, so distributed.

Where Dairying Flourishes. Dairying has for several years past been one of the principal branches of agriculture in the counties of Prince Edward and Hastings. In these counties, at all events, despite the recent slump in prices, dairying has not gone back. "Indeed," Mr. MacVannell of Prince Edward said, "I believe the volume of production this year will be greater than ever before," a statement Agricultural Representative McIntosh of Hastings endorsed so far as his county is concerned as well.

Such statistical information as is available bears out the opinions expressed. There are three or four fewer cheese factories in Prince Edward than there were a year or two ago, but the loss of one of these is directly traceable to diversion due to the demand for whole milk in Belleville. The closing of the others is considerably more than offset by the opening of two condensers in the county.

Cheese Output Increasing. Over in the front of Hastings county the number of cheese factories has not been reduced at all, and the output of practically all of these shows an increase over last year. A typical illustration is afforded in the case of Evergreen factory, that is making 15 cheese per day now as compared with 12 at the corresponding date last season. Mr. John Sagar, Secretary of Stirling Cheese Board, a board on which the make of seven factories is boarded, says that all these factories show an increase in make as compared with 1920.

That this increase is not a mere spurt, either, but due to settled policy, is shown by the fact that more dairy heifer calves are being raised in the two counties this year than in any previous season. Perhaps it is only fair to add, however, that part of the increase in calves is due to the reduction in the price of yearlings last spring. What is most satisfactory is that the class of calves being raised in the two counties promises to keep up the standard in breeding already attained.

A Wise Decision. And after all, are not eastern Ontario dairymen wise in staying with the dairy cow? While cheese is only about half the price realized when prices were at the peak, concentrates have fallen to something like a corresponding degree, and pastures were never in better condition than they are right now. Besides, in comparison with beef producers, the lot of dairymen is a fortunate one. Beef producers who bought feeders' last fall paid war prices for these; they also paid war prices for winter feed; then when they sold the finished bullock last spring pre-war prices ruled. The result was that many feeders of beef cattle lost the entire cost of the concentrates used in winter feeding. Dairymen, on the other hand, did not have to gamble, at least to the same extent, on returns six months ahead. They, or at least those in winter dairying, had a product to sell week in and week out, and while the cost of making that product remained high the selling price of the product remained high as well. When the market for the product dropped the cost of making that product, so far as feed is concerned, dropped in somewhat like proportions as well. Of course, a considerable percentage of the dairymen of Hastings and Prince Edward do not carry on dairying the year round. Most of their product in the cheese-factory season. But, and this is an important point, their feed cost is comparatively light in the season of limited milk production, while the feeding cost of those making beef last winter was at the peak at the same time. It may be further remarked that dairymen find their permanent stock—their milch cows—would not sell today for a price within 40 per cent of what they would have sold for a year ago, but their net returns from this stock, aside from the cost of utensils, implements, building repairs and labor, are not much different from what they were a year ago. The man whose returns are coming in all the time, or nearly all the time, is always in a much safer line than the man who has to meet the expense of creating something to be marketed six months ahead, and this is exactly the conditions that exist as between dairy and beef production.

Prosperity Founded on Dairying. But the best proof of all of the value of dairying as the basis of permanent agricultural industry is seen in the class of farm buildings on every concession-line along the front of Hastings county. Hastings is a rather rough county, farmers living in some of the western counties would call it decidedly so. Lieut.-Col. P. J. Montague, C.M.G., D.S.O., M.C., is colonel of the reorganized regiment and Hon. Robert Rogers, who has taken a deep interest in the success and welfare of the unit, retains his post of honorary colonel of the regiment. General organization for camp is being carried out now, and camp will be held at Sturgeon Creek, a short distance from this city, early in July. When complete the regiment will consist of three squadrons of 100 men each.

of them run up to nearly three times that figure. Besides this there are the returns obtained from hogs, surplus calves or cows and other farm products. It may be added, in conclusion, that while the surface of Hastings is much broken, this county is peculiarly well adapted to dairying. There is abundance of water and shelter everywhere, clover grows luxuriantly on a limestone base, and a soil naturally warm and yielding readily to fertilization produces a rapid and vigorous growth in all sorts of fodder. FORT GARRY HORSE BEING RE-ORGANIZED Cavalry Unit With Noted War Career Has One V. C. Among Officers. WINNIPEG, Man., June 18.—The Fort Garry Horse, Winnipeg's crack cavalry regiment, and one of the three permanent militia cavalry regiments of Canada, is in process of re-organization. In the re-organization of this regiment Canada perpetuates a regimental name which became synonymous for gallantry and dash during the war, and also affords an opportunity of training younger men in the best form of discipline and active sports. The regiment served with distinction in France as part of the Canadian Cavalry Brigade. At the battle of Cambrai, 1917, when the Canadian Cavalry Brigade was chosen to lead the attack of the whole British cavalry, the Fort Garry Horse was chosen to lead the Canadian brigade. It was at this time that Major Marcus Strachan, V.C., won the Victoria Cross in his gallant dash on Meuzers. Lieut.-Col. P. J. Montague, C.M.G., D.S.O., M.C., is colonel of the reorganized regiment and Hon. Robert Rogers, who has taken a deep interest in the success and welfare of the unit, retains his post of honorary colonel of the regiment. ### FALL WHEAT HEADED OUT

Condition of this Grain is Rather Better Than Was Expected at One Time.

RED CLOVER IS POOR
Summary of Reports from All Over Ontario Show Conditions Just Fair

The following is a summary of reports made by the Agricultural Representatives to the Ontario Department of Agriculture:

Fall wheat is heading out rather better than was expected, but there are some complaints of loose smut. Kent says that all grains are likely to be short in straw.

Red clover is not doing so well, being rather short in length, with the fields looking patchy in places.

On the other hand alsike as a rule is looking fine, and is now being cut for hay.

Since reports that sweet clover is cut, and that silo filling from this crop will be general this week.

Peterboro and Lennox and Addington say that owing to the expected failure of the hay crop there will likely be a larger area of millet sown than for years.

Hadlimand reports that summer following is being more practised this year than for several seasons. Potatoes are coming along very satisfactorily, but the beetles are said to be unusually plentiful. The root crops are not so promising, as some rewording had to be done.

Lincoln reports a heavy drop of fruit from peach trees during the past week.

Norfolk says: "Insects seem to be very bad this year. Grasshoppers are a real menace in some districts. Potato bugs are reported extra troublesome. _____ made its appearance in very large numbers. Truck crops and small fruits have their annual visitors in larger numbers than usual."

Peel also reports regarding insect pests. "String canker worms have stripped shade trees in the south part of the county. Cutworms have been troublesome in gardens. Colorado potato beetles are extremely numerous this season."

Leeds complains that mustard seems to be more plentiful this year, and is showing up considerably in new seedling as well as in the spring grain crops.

Cattle on pasture are generally in good form, and the flow of milk is generous.

Tork reports cheese as selling on the basis of 25 cents a pound of butterfat.

Cheese sold on the boards in Peterboro and Hastings last Friday at 14% and 14% c. per lb. respectively.

Leeds reports that at the present time pure-bred Ayshire and Holsteins may be had at most reasonable prices owing to general conditions.

Prescott and Russell says: "At the first consignment sale of Holsteins at Navan under the auspices of the Russell county Holstein Breeders' Clubs, mature cows sold for $250, and the young stock from $35 to $65. Welland states: "At a recent short-horn sale forty-three head averaged $180. Young stuff sold for considerably more than matured. Good individuals with good pedigrees sold well, demonstrating that there is always a good market for well bred individuals with the right conformation."

Hogs are selling at a comparatively low figure, $8 to $8.50 per cwt. on foot being the prices quoted. The supply of bacon hogs on hand is much smaller than for years. Welland states that many farmers in that county have gone out of hog raising entirely. Young pigs are hard to procure, and are relatively high in price.

Regarding farm labor, Norfolk reports a number of men looking for work, and remarks that there is difficulty in finding places for them. Welland also says that most farmers seem to be well supplied with farm help.

Anglo-American Unity Greatest Factor Most Important Result of the World-War

Dr. John Ferguson Gives Authoritative Address on World Relations—Anglo-Saxon Domination is Certain in the U.S. Despite German Attempts at Triumph—Is Against the League of Nations and for Church Union.

Belleville paid a graceful tribute to one of her most distinguished sons today when Dr. John Ferguson, born here, but more recently of Boston and for the past few years of China, was the luncheon guest of the Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary Club and the Lion's Club.

Mr. Jamieson Bone, president of the Chamber of Commerce was in the chair with Dr. Ferguson at his right. Other distinguished people including a number of ladies, some of them relatives and close friends of Dr. Ferguson, were present. About seventy-five sat down to luncheon.

Mr. J. O. Herity, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, made a few graceful introductory remarks. He said that it was through Dr. Ferguson's influence largely that China came into the war, so early and did so well in the Allied cause.

"This is a great privilege for me today to come back and see you and to exchange thoughts with you. The kindness of those who knew me as a boy in inviting me here is something that I value and consider as a great honor."

He thanked Mr. Herity for references of a complimentary kind to his father who had given a fortune to help students and to help found Albert College.

He was, he said, an American citizen now in Canada; his mother was American. This kind of thing was something which instead of being a division was rather a bond, a connection, which brought the two peoples together.

He was greatly interested in the new Albert College. He brought a message of new impulses which were now felt the world over.

"Things are greatly different from those which obtained in 1914," he said. "It is a new world. Some people, depressed, say it is not so good a world. Taxes are higher; life is more strenuous. Old ties have been shattered; new ones made; but they say there is no improvement. I am not so sure. There are bound to be pessimists everywhere, and I have no use for them." (Applause.)

"I believe the world is becoming better. The rising generation has less of the bitterness of life, less of the narrow outlook than ever before.

"It's a good thing Canadian boys rubbed shoulders with the world in France. They have broadened out. They were all Canadians in France. Not from Belleville or Halifax or Vancouver, but from Canada. All countries now have a national rather than a provincial outlook. That is an achievement of note."

"It is a new world and a better world. It's no credit to people of any nationality to look down on any other; it's a step in advance when this is not the case."

"I do not discover since the war any lessening of loyalty to localities. The internationalists hoped for it. I do not see it. I do not see any breaking down of national boundaries; the war has not been at the expense of patriotism or loyalty to one's home. I know of no time when patriotism was not great."

"One thing the war upset and I was sorry about it—and that was the observance of the 100 years of peace between the U.S. and Canada cancelled. It would have been a celebration of world interest. The fact of no fortifications in any part of the boundary line is of tremendous importance."

"Crossing the border at Portal, (Sask.) or in coming in from Vermont only the customs people are there to remind you of the passing of the frontier."

Huns Couldn't Win.
"Germany was all right when she kept on with her 'penetral penetration' in trade and she was beating most of us. But she wasn't content and she tried to injure her competitors. Where did she land? Where will any such nation land? "Right always will prevail. It at

DR. FERGUSON'S CAREER IN WORLD OF POLITICS

Dr. John Ferguson, Belleville's distinguished son and a guest of today, may be United States minister to China. He has the backing of several strong Republican politicians for the post and he recently was called in to advise President Harding regarding Chinese and Oriental matters of policy. This information is taken from an article in a Boston newspaper, Boston, now being Dr. Ferguson's American home, some of his family living in that part of the country.

No man is more fully informed on Chinese questions than Dr. Ferguson.

He went to China in 1887, immediately after his graduation from Boston University. He was then 21 years old. Because of his work in educational and political lines in China, Dr. Ferguson is one of the best known Americans in the Orient.

He has served the Chinese Nation in many ways, coming back to this country four or five years ago as the personal representative of the head of the new Republic. He plans to return to China late this summer.

Kept China With Allies.
In June Dr. Ferguson will be the commencement speaker at Boston University, of which he is one of the trustees. He has always maintained his interest in the doings and progress of his alma mater and he has kept up his acquaintance with its faculty and student bodies. The latter has, in turn, shown a lively and practical interest in Nanking University, founded by Dr. Ferguson, by the establishment of a professorship of business administration.

China's attitude during the World War was due, in no small part, to Dr. Ferguson's influence. He was a stout champion of the cause of the Allies.

Dr. Ferguson does not believe that the United States should go into a League of Nations. He takes the ground that America's influence and potentiality in world events can be best preserved by remaining free from foreign entanglements.

He was deeply disappointed when President Wilson consented to the handing over of Shantung to the Japanese and was summoned by the Committee on Foreign Relations of the Senate to testify regarding the Shantung question, which he condemned as an unjust act to an ally and friendly Power during the war.

In the agitation against the League of Nations, Dr. Ferguson took a prominent and active part, making speeches in a number of the leading cities of the country. He supported President Harding in the campaign, speaking for him in the East and the West.

Talks and Writes Chinese.
Soon after his graduation from Boston University Dr. Ferguson married and took his bride to China. Four sons and a daughter were born to them, all of whom finished their education in this country and now reside in and around Boston.

Those people and their artistic temperament.

Success in Diplomacy.
Dr. Ferguson's success in diplomacy is proven by the many treaties he helped negotiate with foreign Powers for China. A scholar man, viewing things from a world standpoint and understanding the Chinese character, he has been able to accomplish much for that country.

Those who have felt that his long official connection with the Chinese Government might act as a barrier to his appointment by his own Government as its diplomatic representative are reminded that there are many precedents for his appointment. More than once America and England have made their subjects holding official positions under the Chinese Government their diplomatic representatives.

One such case was that of John W. Foster, father-in-law of Ex-Sec. Lansing, who was appointed Minister to China, although he officially represented that Government in diplomatic negotiations.

It is understood that the new Administration at Washington is anxious to name representatives at Peking and Tokio who will work together, and to inaugurate a policy which will have in mind the future welfare of the Philippine Islands and the latter's relations to Far East questions, with which they are inseparably linked.

In order to best carry out such a policy, it is believed that President Harding will insist on team work on the part of the American representatives in China and Japan and the Governor General of the Philippines, who, it is hoped, will co-ordinate in their administrations for the protection of American interests.

Many Irons in the Fire.
Dr. Ferguson, so his friends believe, would make an ideal selection for Minister to China. In addition to the many qualifications already pointed out, he represents the democratic idea of diplomacy—the open door, truth and frankness—put the cards on the table face up and demand the same of the other negotiators.

There will be no campaign made for him, his friends assert, in the sense that he will camp on the trail of the President, beseeching him for the place.

The President knows Dr. Ferguson and has talked with him about affairs in China. The members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee know him, Senator Lodge is friendly to him. If President Harding wants Dr. Ferguson to represent the United States at Peking, Dr. Ferguson will be very glad to do so and will regard it as a great honor, he states.

Should somebody else be chosen, Dr. Ferguson will be among the first to congratulate him and offer to aid him in getting the facts in every question that arises.

Dr. Ferguson has many irons in the fire—a great many more than he had intended a few years ago, when he planned to devote himself to art and literature; but when the World War came on that plan had to be abandoned. There were other things more vital and pressing that needed his attention.

He has a great admiration for the Chinese people and their country and he longs to get back to Peking, where he has many friends and many interests.

Should somebody else be chosen, Dr. Ferguson will be among the first to congratulate him and offer to aid him in getting the facts in every question that arises.

DR. FERGUSON'S CAREER IN WORLD OF POLITICS

Dr. Ferguson was born in Belleville, the son of the late Rev. John Ferguson, who was a well-known Methodist minister, of the Bay of Quinte conference. Dr. Ferguson was educated first at Albert College and then at Boston University.

He has known all of the big men in China, native, English, French and American, during the past 30 years. He talks and writes the Chinese language and makes his reports to the Chinese Government in that language.

No other American has more friends among the Chinese. Government officials have often turned to him for advice on political questions and governmental problems.

Ran Railways and Post-office.
Dr. Ferguson owns a daily newspaper, the Shanghai Times, published in English.

As an organizer and executive, Dr. Ferguson is highly regarded by the Chinese officials, as evidenced by the things they have commissioned him to do in their behalf.

His first achievement in the educational line was the establishment of the Nanking University. For 10 years he directed the institution, raising most of the money for it among generous American friends in New England. Then he transferred his activities to the upbuilding of Nanyang College, Shanghai, serving that institution from 1897 to 1902. In the latter year he was made secretary to the Chinese Ministry of Commerce.

The next big commercial job which he undertook to do for the Chinese was running the railroads, serving as chief secretary for the Imperial railway administration. In this capacity he served for four years, from 1907 to 1912.

He was the foreign adviser of the viceroys of Nanking and of Wu-chang for a number of years. For a year or more he directed the Post-office Department. In 1911 he resigned this post to devote himself to art and literature.

When the republic was set up Dr. Ferguson became adviser to the President, and much of the success of the new Government is due to the wise counsel of the Newton man.

When the famine began in China Dr. Ferguson was made chairman of the relief committee, raising nearly $1,000,000. He is the vice president of the Red Cross of China and counselor of the same.

Back in 1902 Dr. Ferguson was named as a member of a commission by the Chinese Government to revise some of its treaties with Japan. On different occasions he was sent to this country as the special representative of the Chinese Government.

He has been decorated by the Chinese Government, as well as by the Japanese, Russian and French Governments, for his public service.

One of his books, "Outlines of Chinese Art," is a standard authority on that wide knowledge and reveals an intimate and wide knowledge of those people and their artistic temperament.

Success in Diplomacy.
Dr. Ferguson's success in diplomacy is proven by the many treaties he helped negotiate with foreign Powers for China. A scholar man, viewing things from a world standpoint and understanding the Chinese character, he has been able to accomplish much for that country.

Lake Louise was Good but Canadian Tourists Think Banff is Supreme BANFF, Alta., June 16.—After leaving the glories of the Lake in the Clouds and Lake Louise, the C. F. R. special, carrying the Canadian Weekly Editors soon reached the wonders of Banff yesterday and remained until today, leaving for Calgary at 5.

After enjoying dinner on the train they wended their way through the village to the delightful Banff Springs Hotel where the general manager placed everything at their disposal. Many immediately enjoyed the swimming pool, others loitered around and at nine o'clock dancing was provided in the ball room and thoroughly enjoyed. Some of the editors opined Lake Louise was glorious but Banff magnificent. Today a special drive was provided by the C.P.R. to Lake Minnewanka, thence to the caves and the golf links and luncheon at the hotel.

In the afternoon pony riding was indulged in and the swimming pool proved one of the greatest attractions.

Mr. A. R. Brennan, proprietor and editor of the Journal, Summerisle, and the newly elected vice-president in an interview said:

"The Canadian Weekly Press Association convention trip through Western Canada should prove of inestimable value to the Dominion as a whole. While the vastness of the prairies, the grandeur of the mountains, the powerful rivers and boundless forests impress themselves into the mind to the greatest extent that yet has been, it also compels us to develop a good national spirit that will do this on firm foundations for the future. The prairie provinces, as yet hardly touched in their agricultural possibilities, are a revelation to those seeing them for the first time and the fine towns and cities that have sprung up as by magic out of these vast stretches, planned for the future and built in most modern style, are a striking symbol of the Canadian spirit of doing things. The sight of the tremendous mountain ranges of British Columbia and Alberta fill one with awe at the titanic power they displayed and unfold themselves in an ever varying panorama to the beholder. The railroads traversing this country have chosen some of nature's most wonderful beauty spots and have established their luxurious accommodations for those who desire either beauty of scenery or health resorts."

"Banff, where we are today staying, seems impossible to improve upon, from either of these viewpoints. Nature has been most lavish in its magnificent scenery and healing properties of its sulphur springs and health restoring atmosphere which through the efforts of the C.P.R. these have been made available to those who would obtain health with their pleasure. This magnificent place could be made the Riviera in summer and St. Moritz in winter of this continent."

Dr. Ferguson has many irons in the fire—a great many more than he had intended a few years ago, when he planned to devote himself to art and literature; but when the World War came on that plan had to be abandoned. There were other things more vital and pressing that needed his attention.

LLOYD GEORGE WARNS CHURCH; IGNORE POLITICS

Little Welshman Comes Out With Oral Broadside Against Meddling

MISCHIEF TO STATE SEEN Church Will Divide Once it Launches into Debates on Capital and Labor

LONDON, June 15.—"What should be the attitude of the churches toward politics at the present time?" was the theme of Lloyd George's address to the General Assembly of the Calvinistic Methodist of Wales, held at Port Madoe.

Speaking in Welsh, the Premier said the great controversies of the future would range around the relations of Capital and Labor and how to create and how to distribute wealth. Once they introduced the debate upon those into the churches they would inevitably divide and destroy the churches for the greater purposes for which they ought to exist.

His Dangerous Illustration Dealing with the discussion on the coal strike at the Upper House of the Convocation, Lloyd George said that was an example of interference by religious organization in the task of the Government which, if followed, would be replete with mischief to both the Church and State. He could give, perhaps, a more dangerous illustration. He alluded to the Irish question. A party in Ireland, representing two thirds of the population, demanded complete severance from the United Kingdom and the setting up of an independent Republic on that island. Whether it ought to be conceded or not may be a very proper subject for debate in Senates and in political gatherings, but it certainly is not a matter for discussion at a religious conference.

It is Easy to Criticize "War in itself is horror," proceeded the Premier, "and it is inevitable that terrible things should happen. It is possible things may have been done, even by our own forces under the impulse of passion and wrath and fear, which one would rather not have happened, but it is very easy for men in the tranquility, and may I also say, the security of the sanctuary to criticize men who are going in hourly peril of their lives; if they are to be blamed for the mistakes they commit, if they are charged with crimes they have not committed, they ought, at least, to be heard."

"A religious conference is the last body to condemn such men unheard. Most of them are men who went through the great war without a stain on their honor. They are entitled to be heard. If they are heard religious conferences will have their time taken up with debates on questions of fact which are with great difficulty elucidated, the work of the churches will be neglected, and for the decent transaction of spiritual affairs of the churches will be substituted a series of prolonged and heated political controversies."

Tolmie Apologizes For the Dominion LONDON, June 18.—(By Gratton O'Leary, Staff Correspondent of Canadian Press)—Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Minister of Agriculture, last night made an important statement of the position of the Dominion Government with respect to the embargo in Great Britain against Canadian cattle.

In an address before Empire Parliamentary Development Committee, presided over by Right Hon. Winston Churchill, Dr. Tolmie made it known that while the Canadian Govt. had for many years aggressively pressed its protests against the embargo in proper and constitutional manner, it was in no way responsible for the propaganda along this line in England, nor for interference or attempted interference with elections or politics in England.

The bill has been issued in honor of the visit to Canada of His Royal Highness. The likeness is considered an excellent one of the Prince and the entire bill is most attractive. The first bill received from the press has been forwarded to the Prince. The entire issue will be put out very shortly.

HERO OF GREAT WAR ENDS LIFE TO ESCAPE ARREST BY POLICE

TORONTO, June 18.—Major E. O. Reid, chief accountant of the Office of Public Trustee for Ontario, a veteran of the late war who had a splendid military record to his credit, killed himself near Lewiston yesterday afternoon by drinking poison. In taking his life, Major Reid put himself beyond the reach of police officers, who, armed with a warrant, sworn out by the provincial authorities, were searching for him. Lying beside the body, which was found on the point at the brow of Lewiston Mountain, just opposite the Niagara Falls Country Club, was a bottle that had contained poison, while in a notebook in his pocket was the following pitiful note:—"The sun has set on this dreadful day. Dearest of women, four sweetest of children, forget quickly I had daddy. It has been dreadful of me to run away, but I know that I am much better off of your life. Perhaps the good Lord will send someone who will be worthy of your affection and kindness. Kiss yourself for daddy and think kindly of me. Good-by and God bless you, Daddy."

The tragedy that has brought sorrow to the Reid home in Bain Avenue had its beginnings a little over a week ago, so far as the knowledge of the authorities goes, when what Hon. Mr. Raney last night termed "irregularities" were discovered in Major Reid's accounts. It is stated that the amounts that he appeared to be short were not large and that they would not in any event be more than one or two thousand dollars. Pending a full investigation, the accountant was suspended from office, but no action was taken by the Attorney-General or the Board administering the Office of Public Trustee, looking to his arrest.

The late Major Reid lost a foot during the war and was a member of the Amputation Association of the Great War, as well as of other soldier organizations. He was also a member of the Ontario Civil Service Association.

Dog Saves Babe From Under Train; Carries Him Home

WINNIPEG, June 16.—Snatched from the danger of death beneath a railway train by a big St. Bernard dog and restored to his parents' arms by its owner was the thrilling event of wee two-year-old Leo Savoy's ramble through the woods near his home in St. Boniface recently. The little lad was found fast asleep on one of the Union Stockyards tracks by the St. Bernard, and with all the instincts of a true dog rescuer, the St. Bernard picked the child up and carried it out of harm's way to his master. Leo wandered away from his home at ten o'clock in the morning and was not found until 4:30 p.m. The child was saved from death by a narrow margin as the regular train would pass over the track about 5 o'clock. An extension is being built to the T. & N. O. station at Porquus Junction. On the authority of high officials of railway companies, the statement was made that railway wages will be reduced 12 per cent. on July 1.

WHAT NATIONAL COUNCIL IS DOING AT CALGARY

CALGARY, Alta., June 16.—All roads seemed to lead to Lady Aberdeen at the opening day of the National Council of Women's 28th annual meeting. Following a cable of greeting from its founder, various members of the old guard paid warm tribute. Mrs. Sanford quoted the Australian woman who declared that Lady Aberdeen had presided at the quinquennial in a way that gained and kept the confidence and affection of all. Mrs. Parsons laid strong emphasis on the need to think and act internationally, and said that the mountain peak for the year had been the international meeting in Christiania.

The day's allusions to Lady Aberdeen came with the report of the International Council meeting, read by Miss Carmichael, Nova Scotia's president, who had been one of Canada's representatives thereat. Among her travelling companions Miss Carmichael included Miss Chrystal Macmillan. Other high lights of the Christiania meeting was the Chinese lady who had captivated all hearts by exclaiming: "We are all brothers and sisters; why should we fight?" Miss Picton Turberville had impressed the delegates with denunciations of history as taught to-day. Children were not shown the development of the people so much as the rise and fall of kings and the waging of war. Sorrowfully Miss Carmichael told of how German women had not come as delegates, but had sent the message: "We cannot send delegates until Germany is admitted into the League of Nations. The equality of our women is not established because Germany is not admitted."

After such a message, British delegates sent regrets, seconded by the French. Dr. Alice Salomon, of Berlin, Lady Aberdeen's former international secretary, has resigned from the candidates, but was elected and then refused to act. Miss Carmichael dwelt on the honors paid Canada's delegates and wished the National Council to show its gratitude by its help for the international. This year's meeting has a decreased number of delegates, and the new proxy vote system, which allows them to carry only one extra proxy, is now in force, but notwithstanding this, Winnipeg's former Council of Women, which opposed the old scheme, still refuse to return Ontario's report, read by Dr. Stowe-Gullen, showed a marked advance in better laws for women and children. A prolonged discussion followed a resolution to change the system of recording minutes, but as the proposal was killed, Mrs. Sanford ejaculated, seemingly with much relief: "We are as we were."

Gratification was also expressed at the goodly profit of over $3,200 on the new Year Book. Valuable statistics of Alberta's municipal hospital system were given by the Provincial Minister of Health, Hon. Chas. Mitchell. Nine such hospitals were now in operation and this year would see ten more. No increase in tax rate had been incurred and but two cents an acre covered things. Cardston, where three were imposed, had had a substantial balance. Out of 668 maternity cases not one mother was lost, and only one baby, which was a twin. Of fifteen thousand school children examined last year, 61 per cent. were found with physical defects. The province had paid half of the school inspection.

In picturing "Peace-time activities of the Red Cross," Mrs. Waagen emphasized the yearly loss of many millions of dollars in Canada from preventable diseases. She called upon women to rival their war-time efforts and told of how there women on the Prairies had walked six to ten miles to work for overseas loads. Still more impressive figures in the Public Health Committee report. HOW STRAWBERRY SHORT-CAKE WENT WRONG! VANCOUVER, June 16.—Such a strawberry shortcake as small boys dream of was to have graced the banquet table of the Merritt Board of Trade recently. And what befell the confection was like a small boy's nightmare. Six feet in diameter and two feet high, the cake contained bushels of strawberries covered with whipped cream a foot thick. As they bore it from the tray to the banquetting hall, a big colic dog leaped from the side, walk into the lake of whipped cream and fruit.

COST OF LIVING IN NEW DECLINE

Average Cost of List of Staple Foods Less in May Than in April

NO CUT IN RENTS Average Higher in Ontario and Quebec—Dairy Prices are Down

OTTAWA, June 16.—A slight decrease in the cost of living is recorded in a statement issued by the Department of Labor. The average cost of a list of twenty-nine staple foods in sixty cities on May 1, was $12.25, as compared with $12.68 in April, $16.65, for May 1920, and $17.42 for May 1914. The total for foods, fuel and rent in the sixty cities averaged $22.84 in May, as compared with $23.31 in April; $26.44 in May 1920, $21.92 in May 1919 and $14.19 in May 1914. The chief changes for the month were decreases in eggs, milk, butter and potatoes with slight decreases in nearly all the other items. Coal, wood and coal oil averaged slightly lower. Rents averaged higher in Ontario and Quebec.

Wholesale Prices The departmental index number of wholesale prices stood at 247.3 for May, as compared with 253.7 for April; 356.6 for May 1920; 284.1 for May 1919; 275.8 for May 1918; 243.8 for May 1917; 183.3 for May 1916 and 136.3 for May 1914. The chief changes for the month were decreases in dairy products, animals and meats, grains and fodder, textiles and in building materials. There was a general slight recovery in the prices of lead, zinc, quick silver, antimony and tin. Iron products continue to ease off gradually. All the groups were lower than a year ago and nearly all were lower than two years ago.

BIG INFUX OF NEW SETTLERS

Thirty Thousand Immigrants Arrived in the Last Two Months MANY ARE REJECTED Newcomers are Being Closely Handpicked to Protect Dominion

OTTAWA, June 16.—Thirty thousand immigrants have come into Canada in the first two months of the fiscal year. While many figures are not complete they are running about the same as those of April. In that month, 15,052 arrived, an increase of 13 per cent over the corresponding month of 1920. There were 8,476 from the British Isles, 5,035 from the United States, and 1,541 from other countries. Figures just completed for the fiscal year ended March 31, show a total influx of 148,477 of which 100,418 came in by ocean ports and 45,059 from the United States. In the previous year immigration totalled 117,336 but only 67,680 came in that period from Europe. A feature about the immigration in the recently closed fiscal year has been the few rejections. They numbered 953 or less than one per cent. Deportations of those who have failed to make good in the country totalled 655. The situation at the border is not so favorable. Many came, but not all are allowed in. Of 68,190 who presented themselves for admission to Canada 20,131 were rejected or at the ratio of one in four. Why so few are turned back at ocean ports and so many on the border is explained by the fact that people from the States are more inclined to take a chance and rejection does not impose the same inconvenience. The main reasons for the extension rejection are lack of money qualification and for having come by indirect passage through the States from Europe.

CHEAPER MEAT IS LOOKED FOR

When Embargo on Canadian Cattle is Removed British Isles Benefit

"DAILY NEWS" COMMENT
London Paper Says Reason for High Prices is Dearth of Home-Killed Meat

LONDON, June 23.—(By Canadian Press)—Proceedings before the Royal Commission enquiring into the embargo on Canadian store cattle are being watched with much interest, not only by home beef producers and the trade generally but by the consumer. The Daily News in a recent article displayed on the front page attributes the cause of high prices to the limited supply of home-killed meat and the control of killings by the trade. It said in part as follows: "When the British Government removes the embargo against the landing of Canadian store cattle and re-opens the Deptford Cattle Market for the reception and slaughter of cattle and sheep from all exporting countries the home consumer will get cheaper meat."

"This is the reply of several trade authorities to the outcry against dear meat prices. Each of them also emphasized the fact that the country could not hope to get cheaper meat until the Government took that course. "Inquiries by a Daily News" representative show that the country is in the grip of economic forces—the inevitable aftermath of war—which automatically work to keep up prices against the consumer. "Subsidary causes may be to blame to some extent, but the main cause is the dearth of home-killed meat, a problem that could be remedied to a great extent by importation of live cattle.

"Our herds and flocks have suffered a heavy depletion especially since the war, and we are now dependent on imports for about 70 per cent. of our meat supplies. "Coincident with the decline in home herds and flocks—the due partly to the excessive slaughter of calves—there has been an increasing demand for fresh killed meat and chilled meat of good quality. "Supplies of chilled beef—the next best in quality to home-killed—are of necessity limited to immediate market requirements, because the meat must be put into retail sale within a few days of unloading from the ships. "Home-killed meats, for which there is the greatest competition, are retailed on the average at almost double the pre-war prices. "As supplies are limited senders are able to maintain their prices by reduced killings whenever there is a fall in the market rates. "The price of home-killed meat therefore dominates the meat trade prices. "But, given greater supplies by the removal of the embargo on Canadian store cattle—in other words, Free Trade in live cattle for fattening in this country—prices of both home killed and imported meats would automatically slump to a lower level.

FARMER ENTERS GRANARY AND COMMITS SUICIDE
Kingston—Allan Hoopie, a well-to-do farmer, who resides just east of the village of Finch, took his own life by shooting himself through the head. It appears that he went into the granary, laid down behind the fanning mill and attached a string to the trigger of the gun. He held the muzzle to his temple with one hand and pulled the string with the other, blowing his brains out. Mr. Hoopie was about 60 years of age, and no reason can be advanced for his rash act. Dr. J. G. Gormley E. Watson, killing of Kingstons, investigated the circumstances, but deemed an inquest unnecessary. Mr. Hoopie leaves a widow and a son and daughter.

"Virginia Page Says"

What Shall I Do?

WHOSE FAULT WAS IT?
Q.—Dear Miss Page: While at a dance the young man I go with was in the further part of the hall and he remained there. As I didn't have a chance to speak to him, he thought I was angry. Shall I say anything to him now or not?—Dimples.

A.—Well, go and be angry. Fool him! Don't go out of your way to say anything to him, but if you say anything, say "Well, why didn't you come across the room and speak to me?" and make him do the explaining. He owed you that courtesy, you know.
So many of you girls are so anxious for the friendship of boys, or a boy, that you keep asking me if you shouldn't apologize to them, or him, for something he has done. If you are at fault, be quick to admit it and say you're sorry; but don't think you have to do the apologizing for both of you.

"DO UNTO OTHERS—"
Q.—Dear Miss Page: Is it proper for a girl who is engaged to go out to lunch or a show with some of her old boy friends, provided she does not allow them to take her home? When I do such things my 'intended' seems rather jealous, so I want your honest opinion whether he or I am in the wrong?—Marie.

A.—The best way to decide that, Marie, is to remember the Golden Rule. Would you like him to take his old girl friends out to lunch and show? I think not. I imagine you would soon be more than "rather jealous." Of course, it doesn't make one bit of difference that they don't take you home, except that they ought to as a matter of manners. Listen! You are soon going to take this man for better or for worse, and the end of time—well, why not begin now? If you can't manage with just his company now, you'll not be any more willing after you're married, you know.

YOUTH CAN BE INFORMAL.
Q.—Dear Miss Page: Will you please tell me how to introduce girls about 14 to other girls the same age? It sounds rather stiff to say "This is Miss Brown."—Dimples.

A.—It surely does, and since informal is the blessed privilege of youth, I'd say "Girls, I want you to meet my friend, Mary—Mary Black," or "I want you girls to know one another—Mary, this is Agnes White."

WHY, EVERYBODY LOVES A REDHEAD!
Q.—Dear Miss Page: I am just 21 and very young looking for my age. My mother objects to my keeping company with a perfectly lovely red-headed young man because she says I look too young. She also objects to him because his hair is so red and he is so much taller than I. Shall I heed my mother or what shall I do?—Tiny.

A.—Heed your mother, by all means—but ask her in all seriousness please to tell you the truth. For I am quite sure she has some more logical and sensible, and just and reasonable reasons for disapproving of the young man than just his hair and his height, neither one of which he can help or needs to be ashamed of. Indeed, most women like men tall, the taller the better. And red hair, while it does sometimes indicate a fiery temper so they say, is usually a sign of a jolly, nice disposition. Besides, he might dye in such a good cause, don't you think? As for your age, confront mother with the family Bible, and then get her to talk it over with you once more. Good luck!

ONE POTATO 30C ONE BAG ONLY 35

Hon. John Oliver, Premier of British Columbia Has "Complaint."

STORY WITH MORAL Sees Year of Difficulty and Low Prices for the Farming Folk.

VANCOUVER, B.C., June 18.—They charged me 30 cents for one potato on this train at dinner last night, and here I see where some fellow in Vancouver is selling them at 25 cents a sack, complained Hon. John Oliver, premier of British Columbia, as he sat at breakfast in the dining car of a Canadian National trans-continent train approaching Vancouver the other day.

"Of course there's service included," suggested a reporter.

"Yes, that reminds me," added the premier, "of the story they used to tell in the old Cariboo days about the man who had to pay a dollar to a Hebrew peddler for a needle."

"What was the point?" inquired the reporter.

"Well, when the miner protested at the price, the peddler said: 'Holy Moses, man, I'm giving you the needle as a present; the dollar merely pays the freight,' and the miner laughed."

"Then he took to talking seriously about farming problems. 'This is going to be one of the best and one of the worst years for the farmer,' he observed. 'I never saw Canada give such a promise of good crops as this year. The prairies never looked better to my eye, while in Ontario the early spring and mild weather with light rains has given a wonderful start to young crops. There'll be splendid crops, but accidents. But prices! Well, I don't know what the farmer is going to do this year.'

"I stayed with a farmer in Ontario who told me that six weeks before he had been shipping cream to Toronto at $22 a can. Then it dropped to $19, then to $17, then to $15, and so on until the day I stayed there he was getting only $7 a can for his cream. It dropped from $22 to $7 in six weeks."

"It looks as if this is going to be a year of difficulty for the farmer in spite of potatoes at 30c apiece on the trains."

These Two Pastors Exchanging Pulpits

Rev. J. S. McMullen of Cannifton to Oshawa—Rev. W. H. Truscott to Cannifton

At the end of the Conference year, having been officially sanctioned by the Bay of Quinte Conference which is in session this week at Whitby, Rev. W. H. Truscott will sever his connection with the South Oshawa Methodist Mission and remove to a new field of labor at Cannifton. The Rev. J. S. McMullen, pastor of the Cannifton Methodist Church will succeed Mr. Truscott at the Mission at Oshawa.

Mr. Truscott went to Oshawa some eight years ago, to take charge of the Mission work that had been organized about three years prior to that time. Those connected with the work previous to that had been meeting in a room in one of the terraces under the leadership of Rev. H. E. Manning, who before leaving Oshawa, donated the land on which the present church now stands, thus making it possible for the workers to erect the church.

The Oshawa Reformer says of Rev. Mr. Truscott: "When Mr. Truscott had been in Oshawa a few months, his enterprising spirit and organizing ability was responsible for the church being erected. He gathered a number of men together to do the work, who generously did it free of charge and with the cooperation of this nature, most successful results were obtained. From that time up to the present, the congregation and Sunday School have been gradually increasing in numbers and this year it was found necessary to build an extension to the church for Class Eirra; the new addition being called Eirra Hall."

Every department of the work at the Mission is being carried on with splendid results and reports show that the work is becoming steadily greater as time advances. Rev. Mr. Truscott will not be leaving Oshawa until the end of June but his friends and the members of his congregation will regret his departure very much."

The stain of illegitimacy was removed from the name of 6-year-old Eugene Sorini, of San Francisco, through a blood test performed by Dr. Albert Abramson, noted scientist.

Transition Years For Albert College Look Forward Keenly to New Building

In the hall where a generation and a half ago, convocations were held, Albert College last evening celebrated the passage of another year. These are transition years for that institution of learning. Since the fire, which destroyed Massey Hall, convocations have for several years been at the City Hall but this year the return was made to the rooms now used as the commercial department. Three years from now under new conditions there will be assemblies in Albert College, but it will be in the new Albert, the old one but a memory.

"We shall have the girls with us for three years yet," Dr. Baker stated, referring to the fact that the new college is to function as a boys' institution, co-education being abandoned on the almost unanimous decision of the college board. An endeavor will be made to make it the best boys' school on the continent.

But Dr. Baker voiced a hope that there will still be an educational centre for girls. Having seen Albert College started on its way, he will turn his attention to getting a school for girls. Everywhere it has been realized that the college has been doing noble work in the education of girls and young women. The deputy Minister of Education had asked Dr. Baker—"What about the girls?" That question had started him thinking about a girls' college.

"I want every girl to have a good grounding in education," he said. "Plans are that the new school will be ready for occupancy in three years. 'We hope next summer,' said the principal, 'to put up as many buildings as we can, and in the following summer complete it so that we may be in the new college in three years.'"

Convocation was of a quiet nature, students not giving way to the old time rollicking songs, owing to the fact that examinations have stood in the way of any preparations. Quite a number of citizens were present for the graduation.

The past year has been successful from every point of college life. Mayor Hanna, who was introduced as the most popular man in Belleville, who maintained his popularity, made a few remarks relative to the college's progress.

Rev. A. S. Kerr of St. Andrew's church referred to the success of the college in the past and to the vision of the new college.

Words of a congratulatory nature were spoken by Mr. John Elliott in reference to Dr. Baker, Miss Gardner and the staff. The city's obligation to the college he felt keenly. Addressing the students he said:

"Character is the best asset you can take to any institution, if you wish to get financial assistance."

Concerning the future, the principal said the outlook was very bright for the new year.

Prof. Staples as registrar read the names of the students to whom had been awarded degrees and diplomas in music and commercial science certificates in the collegiate course and awarded by the Department of Education.

The names of the successful students in music were read by Prof. V. P. Hunt, and those in expression by Miss Tuttle, and those in art by Miss Crawford.

For the first time in the history of the W. P. Dyer bursary, it has been won this year by a girl—Miss Irene Rumbell.

A feature of the program was the reading of the prize essay—"The Irish Question," by Mr. D. Ralph Argue.

The distribution of prizes, medals and scholarships was made by Miss Tuttle (expression), Miss Jean Ramsay (commercial), Prof. Blatchford, Miss Shaw and Prof. Staples (collegiate course), Prof. Anglin Hanna, Miss Potter, Prof. Anglin (music), Dr. Baker (theory), Miss Gardner (prize essay), Prof. Staples (efficiency and manliness), Miss Crawford (art).

Prof. Anglin sang "The Land of the Sky 'Bove Water," and Prof. Staples also sang.

At the close of convocation, the students and their friends enjoyed an hour of social intercourse by promenading.

The names of the successful students and the nature of their awards follow:

Rye is ripe in the vicinity of Foxboro on the farm of Mr. George Wickett. This is unprecedentedly early indeed it is rarely, if ever, that the grain is matured before July. The rye is well headed out.

"I never saw the like of it at this time of year," said an agriculturist today.

All the crops are premature. Timothy hay has come along wonderfully since the last rain.

Ice Bergs Worst Since Titanic Sank

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Icebergs are ranging along a line furthest south in the Atlantic Ocean ever known since 1912, when the Titanic disaster occurred, according to information in the hands of the hydrographic office of the navy. The bergs are now floating sixty miles south of the regular line of ocean travel between Newfoundland and European points.

No only are the bergs drifting along a line of ocean travel, but there are more than the navy remembers having encountered in North Atlantic waters for many years. A mild winter in the Arctic region, resulting in an early breaking up of the ice, is regarded as accountable for the unusual invasion.

KOOTENAY HIS TERRITORY PIONEERS OF FAMOUS DISTRICT IN B. C. EMPLOY IMPRESSIVE RITES AT FUNERAL

NELSON, B.C., June 18.—Laid to rest in the city he selected for the honor by the hands of those who like himself were pioneers of the Kootenay, the body of Robert T. Lowery, late proprietor and editor of the Greenwood Ledger, famed throughout the Continent for its able and humorous editorial comment, now lies on the hill above Nelson. A beautiful rite, employed by this Kootenay Pioneers' Association for the first time was exemplified at this funeral when 25 old associates of the early days each dropped into the open grave his tribute of British Columbia fir, with the parting injunction "Rest in Peace." This was founded on the custom of an Indian tribe in the Kootenay-Columbia valley many years ago of never passing a certain spot in the narrow trail at the head of the Columbia lakes, where once the men of the tribe died to a man in making a stand against an invasion, without depositing a fir bough, the pile of boughs being always green by this perpetual renewal.

"Colonel" Lowery's newspaper enterprises in British Columbia must have been a dozen in number. In the 1903-04 volume of his "Float" which he periodically collected in book form, he stated that he had up to that time "been the father of eight Kootenay papers," adding whimsically that his reward was "still coming up the pike." Since then he is known to have had three, and has probably had more.

Born in eastern Ontario, young Lowery moved to the Erie district with his family at an early age, and his first business venture was a partnership with his elder brother, John, at Petrolia, in a stationery and newspaper business. On May 26, 1891, thirty years later, he arrived in this district. When the townsite of New Denver was annexed by the government in 1892 he attended the sale, bought some lots and founded a newspaper. Almost immediately he moved to Kaslo, which then had a population of thousands, and started publication of The Claim, staying until the high water of 1894 coincided with the decline of the boom. One of the last issues was printed in blue ink to indicate the bleakness of the prospect and gave great offense to the people of that community.

Old-timers recall many incidents, amusing and otherwise, of the editor's life, some of which were due to his trenchant comments on current affairs. He had numerous differences with the churches and once or twice with the bench. He was everywhere with the heyday of mining in the Kootenay-Boundary territory and left lasting word pictures of those early times. Of late years the "colonel's" column of "Float" was the principal avenue through which he was known to the general public.

NEWASSESSMENT
FOR THE COUNTY IS VOTED UPON

Ballotting Stood Eighteen to Six for Adoption of Revised Report

STANDS AT $18,000,000

Carried After a Strong Fight Against It by Vermilyea and Sills

By a vote of eighteen to six, Hastings County Council at 12.38 o'clock this afternoon adopted a revised report of the special committee on equalisation of the assessment for the year 1921, setting the total at $18,000,000. The adoption was carried in committee of the whole on equalisation after a strong fight had been put up by Reeve Vermilyea, Deputy Reeve Sills and others. The report was presented by Reeve Thompson of Rawdon.

Deputy Reeve Sills moved an amendment which was defeated that 1921 equalisation be the same as that of the year 1920. "During the night," said Reeve Vermilyea, of Thurlow, "the Reeve of Rawdon has added $500,000 to Thurlow." The north township has suffered in the revision.

Dr. Kindred, of Tweed, said the revised report was fair as far as the villages were concerned.

The Village Representatives.

"That does not say we are in a position to vote intelligently on the equalisation as its effects the rural municipalities."

Those who supported the amendment warned council that every step possible would be taken to nullify the action.

"Will you see the old crusher?" asked Mr. C. W. Thompson. It is now in Rawdon and Rawdon township would buy it if the price is not too high.

The matter was referred to the chairman of gravel roads and the superintendent with full power to act.

Council decided to request the Department of Highways to deseguate the boundary road between Hastings and Lennox and Addington as an approved county road, on motion of Mr. J. V. Walsh, seconded by Mr. Osborne.

The objection was raised that the rates said the warden shall vote the chair at noon and that the vote was therefore illegal.

The warden said that to advocate any technical objection the vote would be again recorded this afternoon. The equalised assessments now stand:

GRAND JURY PRESENTS ITS REPORT FAVORING CENTRALIZED EXECUTIONS; SAY HANGING TOO BRUTAL A METHOD

Recommend Magistrate use More Care in Commitments to House of Refuge Draws to House of Refuge Draws Criticism of Sanitary Conditions Though Staff is Not Blamed.

That a central place in which to impose the death penalty should be furnished for convicted murderers and that hanging by the neck is too brutal a method of execution, was the opinion of the grand jurors of the General Sessions of Hastings County who have reported to County Judge Deroche. Their presentation which is signed by Foreman F. R. Mallory says:

"We do resolve that it would be a progressive step to pass such legislation as would provide a central place to detain prisoners awaiting capital punishment and that a system of punishment be adapted less brutal than that of hanging by the neck.

Exercise More Care. "At this session we have dealt with one criminal case where there was not a scrap of evidence to convict the accused. We would recommend that magistrates be more careful in their commitments to the general sessions of the county.

"We visited the Children's Shelter and were very pleased to find every department in excellent condition. The fifteen children seemed very happy and contented, reflecting great credit on the matron in charge. Several cases of children between five and eight years of age, who are mentally defective have been brought to our notice. We would recommend that the entrance age in our provincial institutions for children of this class be reduced from eight to five years."

Fifteen Men in Jail. At the County Goal the jury found fifteen males and no females present. The condition of every part of the premises reflected credit on Mr. Ketcheson, Gaoler, Mrs. Ketcheson, Matron and Mr. Colling, Turnkey, they stated.

"The House of Refuge was visited and we desire to congratulate the county on this well conducted home as everything was in good condition, the inmates well contented and cared for. The sanitary conditions of the floors in the lavatories and laundry deserves our commendation and we would strongly recommend new floors in this part of the premises.

The laundry stove also seems to be in an unsafe condition and should be replaced by a new one. Mr. and Mrs. Leigh were very kind and considerate to show us through every department of the institution and deserve credit for the good conditions prevailing under their supervision.

Hospital Conditions. We visited the Belleville Hospital and found everything in a very neat and sanitary condition. Miss Tait, Superintendent, and the

We should become a power and an organization not second to any combination of men, capable of dealing with our cousins and brothers in the United States on terms of even amity and equal friendship."

BELLEVILLE TO CHAPMAN'S A NEW HIGHWAY?

County Council Asks Department So to Designate Part of Tweed Road

TRAFFIC VERY HEAVY Bancroft Bridge Assumed as a County Bridge—Roads Taken Over

That the Department of Highways should designate the road from Belleville to Chapman's Corners as a Provincial County Highway was moved by Reeve Clark, seconded by Deputy-Reeve Sills and unanimously carried by Hastings County Council on Saturday.

The road in question is very badly in need of repairs. The traffic on the highway is very heavy.

The assistant county road superintendent was instructed to expend $1,000 on the road from the second concession of Hungerford to Richmond boundary on the Napanee Road this season with the understanding that the same be assumed by the County at the December session and this amount be taken out of Hungerford's appropriation.

Reeve Walsh of Tyendinaga introduced a by-law to assume a road in Hungerford known as the Napanee Road.

A bylaw was passed to surrender certain roads in Madoc and Hungerford townships.

A bylaw was passed regulating peddler's fees.

A bylaw was carried to assume a bridge in the village of Bancroft as a county bridge.

No Idleness Among the Czecho Slavs Says Wm. Ward

"There is not an unemployed man or woman in the whole country." This statement was made by the Chancellor of the Exchequer of Czecho-Slovakia to Mr. William Ward, of London, England, president of the Brotherhood Federation Movement, who has just returned from that new country and spoke last evening at Bridge Street Methodist Church. The people have secured that for which they have striven—religious and civil liberty.

"We have been the means of circulating thousands of copies of the Scriptures," said Mr. Ward. "There is a famine of gospels in that land as it was an offence to have a gospel under the Austrian regime.

"I've been in most religious movements in the past fifty years but I have never witnessed anything like that which is taking place in Czecho-Slovakia." Since January of this year there have been four thousand converts to one congregation and it is practically impossible to gain admission to the places of worship so great are the crowds of worshippers.

Mr. Ward also spoke of the work in Egypt in reclaiming boys.

That there are 40 communities within the bounds of the Bay of Quinte conference which are destitute of religious education of any kind by the Church, was the statement made in a report presented by the Committee of Religious Education at the Conference on Saturday. The committee expressed its alarm at this neglect, and urged that a special effort be made to provide Sunday Schools in these areas and that special assistance be secured for the work. The report stated that there were 390 Methodist Sunday Schools and 27 Union Schools in the Bay of Quinte Conference, with a total membership of 47,264, being a net increase of 1,787 on last year.

DUFFERIN SPEAKER OF IRISH SENATE

Son of Former Canadian Governor-General Heads Northern Irish Senate

BELFAST, June 20.—The senate of the northern Irish parliament, comprising twenty-two Unionists who were elected without opposition on June 11, held its initial meeting today. Its first action was to elect the Marquis of Dufferin and Ava, son of a former Canadian viceroy, as speaker. Three of the senators are Unionist laborites.

When the elections were held, the Nationalists and Sinn Feiners ignored them, although the Unionists had left seats open for those organizations. Accordingly, Unionist nominees won for all the seats.

RECORD SEASON UP THE LAKES

Peterboro Skipper Says Prospects Are the Best He Has Known

HOTELS BOOKED UP Scarcity of Cottages is Greater Than Ever Although New Ones Go up

PETERBORO, June 18.—Capt F. G. Young manager of the Stoney Lake Navigation Company today stated that "the prospects for a record season up the Lakes are the best he has ever known." It was also stated that there were "a larger number of summer residents up and around the Lakes at the present time than has ever been known before so early in the season."

The scarcity of cottages to rent is greater than for years, notwithstanding the number of new ones erected lately. Applicants from a distance are having difficulty in securing rooms and board. From as far as Washington, D.C., Seattle, Bloomington, Buffalo, Pittsburg, Cleveland, Detroit, Montreal, Toronto, Hamilton, Kitchener, and other large centres, accommodation has been found difficult, and the numbers are increasing every week.

Letters are being received daily by Captain Young, asking for passages ahead, for which it has been found hard to receive attention at present. Quite a number of visitors have decided to come to Stoney Lake and camp out. One party of twelve, headed by the professor of the University in Bloomington, has decided to tent out and enjoy canoe excursions over the lakes.

The Stoney Lake Navigation Company have been putting on one boat daily up to the present, but next week two boats are promised, to be followed in July by three boat services.

The summer hotels are now open, and bookings are lively. South Beach, Viamede, Mount Julian, Crowe's, Burleigh, McCracken's, and other boarding-houses are all busy, and preparing ahead for the larger influx of visitors from July to September.

It is rumoured that the Grand Trunk Railway are being asked to put on a Sunday afternoon train during the season for the convenience of business men desirous of reaching their homes in Toronto and other points.

It is astonishing what a brightening turn a man's religious experience will take when he surprises his liver with a trip up Stoney Lake on one of the Stoney Lake Navigation Company's fleet of boats. What most people need about this time, who are what the boys call "grouchy" is a good holiday up the Lakes. Better than tonic is exercise. Get after that old liver, "laugh and grow fat," for "a merry heart is good medicine," or, as the revised translation puts it, "causeth good healing."
