Paid for V.C. With His Life

DURING the strong enemy counter-attack a Lewis gun in a forward post in a communication trench leading to the enemy lines, was buried by a shell, and the crew, with the exception of one man, killed.

Sergt. Hobson, though not a gunner, grasped the great importance of the post, rushed from the trench, dug out the gun and got it into action against the enemy who were now advancing down the trench and across the open.

A jam caused the gun to stop firing. Though wounded, he left the gunner to correct the stoppage, rushed forward at the advancing enemy and, with bayonet and clubbed rifle, single-handed, held them back until he himself was killed by a rifle shot. By this time, however, the Lewis gun was again in action and reinforcements shortly afterwards arriving, the enemy were beaten off.

The valor and devotion to duty displayed by this non-commissioned officer gave the gunner the time required to again get the gun into action, and saved a most serious situation.—Official Record.

The labyrinth of trenches between Hill 70 and the city of Lens was captured by the Canadians in the attack of August 15, 1917. That piece of ground had passed between hands so often in the three years previous that No Man's Land was a maze of trenches running in all directions. In places they led directly from the Canadians to the Germans' lines, and were divided only by blocks garrisoned by machine guns. The weather, which was unsettled and sultry on the 15th, by the 18th was clear and sunny and the rains of two weeks previous were quickly drying the chalky soil.

Nabob alley was one of the old communication lines leading across No Man's Land. Up this trench on the morning of the 15th Sergt. Hobson, of the 20th Battalion, had bombed his way for about 70 yards. There he established a post and garrisoned it with Lewis guns. The conquered trench was held for three days by "A" Company.

Midnight of August 17-18 passed. It was the dark of the moon and little could be seen of what was going on out on No Man's Land. At 1.40 o'clock the silence of the night was broken by the roar of enemy artillery. Every inch of the Canadian front line was deluged with shells. For half an hour the din and devastating fire continued. Every wire to the 20th Battalion headquarters was broken.

Then a lull came. The men in Nabob alley crouched in their trench while gas shells poured over them on to the village of St. Pierre behind them. Another pause and the artillery broke out again. Every gun that the Hun could bring up was trained on Hill 70. The ground was torn up and tons of earth and stones hurled into the air. Men were killed in groups. Practically every Lewis gun was smashed or buried beside its crew. The advanced posts were ground into the earth. The Canadian lines were in confusion.

Then down the line the word was passed from lip to lip that the Hun was out in No Man's Land, coming towards Nabob alley. Sergt. Hobson peered into the darkness and saw the grey figures of the enemy coming at the double. They came down Nabob alley, where only one Lewis gun was now left. The gunner trained his fire on the wave of German grey, but while he was in the action a shell made a direct hit and buried crew and gun. Only one man was alive when Hobson ran up to the spot and started digging him out. He pulled him out of the debris, bruised and dazed.

"Pretty close call," the gunner said to his rescuer, but Hobson was already digging at the gun, while the Huns advanced down the trench.

"Let's get this out," said Hobson, and the two men began to dig with all their might. The Germans came closer in the dark. Hobson was struck by a stick bomb, but on he went with his work. The gun must be got out at all costs. At last they got it into position and the gunner opened on the enemy with telling effect. Two men were holding back the German advance. Then the gun jammed.

Grabbing a rifle, Hobson ran ahead. "I'll keep them back. You fix the gun," he said and opened on the enemy. With bayonet and clubbed rifle he fought them off till a pile of their dead lay at his feet.

"All right," shouted the gunner to Hobson, and opened on the invaders.

But at that moment a German got a direct aim and Hobson fell, killed instantly.

The gunner made the enemy pay dearly for the deed. With his Lewis gun he stemmed the advance until he was reinforced by another company and they turned the Germans back. But the hero who had saved the post in the first onrush lay dead—his rifle still tightly grasped in his hand. They found him when dawn was coming over the ridge.

Frederick Hobson was born in London, England, in 1876. Before coming to Canada he had been in the Imperial forces. He enlisted in the 20th Battalion at Toronto in October, 1914. On the morning of August 17, Hobson was acting sergeant-major, and it was in fulfillment of his responsibilities in that capacity that he made his last gallant defence of his battalion and won the Victoria Cross.—Carolyn Cornell in Toronto Star Weekly.

The Crucial Moment

The time when life's affairs begin to seem entirely wrong is when you've started butting in Where you do not belong.

"Ruby" Wheat.

A new wheat named "Ruby" is reported to have been cultivated at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. It is a selection from the result of a cross between Downing Riga and Red Fife. Ruby wheat ripens, as a rule, a week or so earlier than Marquis. The kernels are somewhat similar to those of Red Fife, being hard and of the popular reddish brown color. The straw in most localities is shorter than Marquis and of good strength.

Peace River Exploration.

A Government survey party has proceeded to the Peace River district to conduct exhaustive work on all unsurveyed country. The main purpose is to meet the requirements of the Soldier Settlement Branch, but, in addition, the party will carry out a departmental geological survey.

To Help Europe.

The Canadian Government has arranged for credits there for various European countries for commodities needed in reconstruction.

Credits Must Be Established for Sale of Surplus Products.

Success of Victory Loan 1919 Will Insure Steady Markets for Farmers.

It takes some six bushels of wheat to feed the average person in Canada annually. Roughly, therefore, the eight million people here consume about 50,000,000 bushels each year. But even in a poor year the crop is some five times that amount, and the surplus must be sold if the farmers are to get a return for their time and labor. But the sale of the crop must be financed. Great Britain, which provides our greatest market, has not the ready cash, and so Canada must find means of raising the money. Hence the Victory Loan 1919. In view of the fact that the prosperity of the Dominion is dependent to a considerable extent upon the sale of her surplus grain the necessity of the money being forthcoming is patent.

Your dollar may be the last straw that sweeps the Victory Loan over the top—would you take the chance of making it a failure?

Lend your money that your pay envelope may be always filled, as will follow the success of the Victory Loan.

Victory Bonds are the fodder that keeps the machinery of Canada's industrial world running at full speed.

Dry Dock In St. John, N.B.

Work is being pushed on the Courtenay Bay dry dock and breakwater by the St. John Dry Dock & Shipbuilding Co. An appropriation of $700,000 for the contract has just been made by Parliament. It is anticipated that a British shipbuilding firm will establish a mammoth plant in the vicinity of the dry dock.

Bears Kill Trees.

Hundreds of trees in the Northwest, including Douglas fir, white fir and western white pine—the wood of all of which is used more or less in airplane construction—have been seriously damaged by bears peeling the bark. About 100 trees to the square mile have been peeled.

If you appreciate a good investment you will buy a Victory Bond.

You deceive no one but yourself when you say you can't afford a Victory Bond.

Victory Loan 1919 Is Bridge Between War and Peace.

Agricultural and Industrial Prosperity of Canada Depends on Success of the Loan.

Why is it necessary to have another Victory Loan? Have you heard this query? Or have you asked it?

The Victory Loan of this year stands out as the bridge between war and peace. The war is over. Our boys won that. The reconstruction period is dawning and we at home must win that.

Much of the money that Canada is asking for will be needed to clean up the war debt. The expenses of demobilization were heavy, and there is still much of it unpaid. Now that our men are back, let it not be said that we repudiated the debt for bringing them back.

The sick and wounded soldiers still in hospitals are expecting that Canada will care for them and their dependents until they have been returned to health and strength. The hospital services must be maintained at full strength as long as there are returned men needing attention.

Many men through disability are unable to return to their pre-war occupations. The Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment is doing a fine work in training returned soldiers in trades and professions that they can earn a living at, and is following up the training and seeing that they obtain remunerative employment. The maintaining of this branch of reconstructive service calls for much funds, and the Victory Loan will be used to pay for it as well as the other purposes.

Under the Soldiers' Land Settlement Act, enough money is lent to returned soldiers to enable them to buy and stock a farm. This money will be repaid at a low rate of interest. The soldier is thus given a chance to re-instate himself in civil life, and production is given a boost. Of the total amount of the forthcoming loan, $24,000,000 has been apportioned to finance these soldier-farmers.

Pensions to the disabled and dependents of our glorious dead, as well as the authorized gratuities will be other items on the expense sheet. These are some of the obligations owing to the returned soldier who is now in health.

The maintaining of Canada's prosperity is an important reason why the Victory Loan should be a smashing success. The money is needed to finance the credits to overseas countries so that they may continue their trade relations with us. If Canada cannot give these credits other countries will, and then Canada will lose all that great overseas trade that has been the mainstay of our agricultural and industrial life for so long.

As an investment Victory Bonds are excellent. Paying 5 1/2 per cent., selling above par on the open market, and guaranteed by the Dominion—what further reason can you have for hesitating? The Victory Loan 1919 ought to be oversubscribed, and all right-thinking citizens will do their utmost to see that such a result is obtained.

TO CARE FOR WOUNDED

Money From Victory Loan Will Be Used to Re-establish Soldiers.

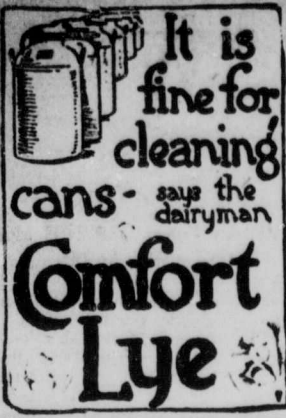

Our soldiers in France faced perils other than those of shell and gas and machine-gun fire. There was the peril of tuberculosis. Up to August last 3,909 soldiers suffering from this disease had been returned to Canada. These were placed in sanatoriums under the direction of the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment, and they are one of the departments of that branch that must be maintained, and come under the head of capital war outlay.

All of these men and some 20,000 others, disabled or ill, will be looked after with money raised through the Victory Loan 1919. It is the sacred duty of Canadians that the money is forthcoming.

If you are concerned about the future welfare of Canada, buy a Victory Bond and make it a sure thing.

Don't forget the future of your children. Lay a good foundation with a Victory Bond.

Would you lend a soldier $50 if you knew it would save his life? Buy Victory Bonds and keep the military hospitals up.

Energy Released in Combustion.

A chunk of coal releases, during combustion, enough energy to lift itself about 2,000 miles, or say from New York to Panama, vertically upward against constant sea level gravitation.

A chunk of hydrogen, our most energetic combustible, releases in combustion an amount of energy capable of lifting itself about four times as far, or to a vertical distance (against sea level gravitation) roughly equal to the distance from New York to Manila.

But a chunk of radium emanation yields without any combustion an amount of energy in the process of its evolution that would lift it against sea level gravitation not only to the sun, but to the orbit of the planet Neptune, the outside fence-post of the solar system, and which is about thirty times further from the sun than the earth is.

Russian Records.

Wealthy Russians are often buried in glass coffins.

100 per cent. This has been ascribed sometimes to prohibition, but it is doubtful whether Puerto Rico could drink much more coffee than it was drinking before prohibition went into effect; its consumption of alcohol was extremely moderate and its consumption of coffee large, as is apt to be the case in the tropics.

It is noteworthy in this country that many of the plans for a substitute for the saloon call for the provision of coffee as a substitute for alcoholic drinks. In the cafes of Europe the two go side by side, on an equal footing; at the same table one person may be drinking coffee and another beer. It might also be said that Europeans drink wine or beer with their meals and take their coffee in public, while Canadians drink coffee with their meals and take their alcohol in secret. This materially affects the position of coffee as a substitute.

If the coffee house is to be restored to the position it once had, considerable changes will need to be made in national habits and tastes. Used in moderation coffee is a relatively harmless stimulant, but it cannot be consumed so freely as beer, and most coffee drinkers take already quite as much as is good for them. To make coffee available as a social substitute for alcohol, therefore, the Canadian public would need to cut down its home drinking, so that the proposed establishment of coffee houses might not involve so great an increase in national consumption as has been predicted.

It is perhaps a more serious difficulty that the Canadian public, despite its enormous consumption of it, has not an educated taste in coffee. The market in Canada for the higher grades is relatively small, and there has been little appreciation for the excellent and full-flavored pro-

Twenty Years in One Room.

If we devote, on an average, eight hours to sleep, says Sir St. Clair Thompson, the English throat and nose specialist, a third at least of our 24-hour day is spent indoors, and each individual who reaches sixty years of life will have passed no less than twenty years of his existence in the one and only room where he is likely to be sole arbiter of the ventilation. Unless there are exceptional conditions, the windows of every sleeping room should be wide open all night and every night. The blinds should be drawn up, otherwise, from their valve-like action, they will only permit intermittent and uncertain inflow of fresh air, while the only adequate route of the chimney.

Share and Share Alike.

The Russian revolution was not without its lighter side, as the following account of what happened in Petrograd will show:

A woman communist was holding forth, asserting that all were equal and all wealth should be divided equally. On this a man in her audience produced coins amounting to about a dollar and one-half from his pocket. "I agree with you," he remarked. "You have convinced me." Turning to a bystander he asked him to change one of the pieces for him. He obtained two notes.

Facing the lady orator, he said: "This is all the money I possess. I will have it with you," and he held out the seventy-five cents. She had to take it, and was about to commence her oration again when her questioner continued: "No, no. How much have you in your purse? We must now divide that, since we are to share equally in our wealth." Reluctantly she produced her purse. It was opened and found to contain twenty dollars. The man pocketed ten dollars of this, thanked her for her interesting lecture and withdrew.

THE FALL WEATHER HARD ON LITTLE ONES

Canadian fall weather is extremely hard on little ones. One day is warm and bright and the next wet and cold. These sudden changes bring on colds, cramps and colic and unless baby's little stomach is kept right the result may be serious. There is nothing to equal Baby's Own Tablets in keeping the little ones well. They sweeten the stomach, regulate the bowels, break up colds and make baby thrive. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Beware of Compromises.

One temptation in making difficult decisions is to compromise. You aren't sure which way is the best, you seek to combine the advantages of both, and many a time merely combine all the disadvantages. To be sure, there are times when a compromise is the wisest course, but there are just as many times when it is cowardice and weakness. How can one tell which times are which? Well, that is simply another decision for you.

NATURE'S MIRROR

When a woman is well and healthy—there's a sparkle in her eyes, a rose tint in her cheeks, and she has rich red blood. There's elasticity in every movement and a spring in her step. Love comes to every woman who has bounding health—but when she is pallid, dull eyed, languid, she has no magnetism nor does she appeal to any man.

Such a change in feelings and looks!

After suffering pain, feeling nervous, dizzy, weak and dragged down by weaknesses of her sex—with eyes sunken, black circles and pale cheeks—such a woman is quickly restored to health by the Favorite Prescription of Dr. Pierce. Changed, too, in looks, for after taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the skin becomes clear, the eyes brighter, the cheeks plump. It is purely vegetable, contains no alcohol.

Druggists sell it in tablets or liquid. Send Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N.Y., 10c for trial package.

BULGAR REPLY IS MODERATE

Objects to Amount of In-Demnity Fixed.

Allies Are Expected to Stand Firm.

Paris cable: Bulgaria's answer to the terms of peace presented her by the allied and associated powers is moderate in tone, and adheres unreservedly to the causes concerning the League of Nations and labor. It accepts the principle of the protection of minorities in Bulgaria, on condition the same measures are applied to other Balkan states.

On the other hand, the reply makes reservations regarding reparations, and protests especially against the total sum demanded of Bulgaria. It asks for the suppression of interest charges, and requests an extension of the time limit for payment. Regarding the military clauses, Bulgaria objects to the voluntary enlistment system, maintaining that conscription alone can produce sufficient forces to maintain order.

The longest part of the reply concerns territorial clauses, and protests against modification of frontiers on ethnical grounds and, quoting masses of statistics, proposes notably a plebiscite in Thrace, and its formation into an autonomous state. The impression prevails in Conference circles that the Allies are not likely to consent to any extensive modification of the original terms.

Time Has Tested It.—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil has been on the market upwards of thirty years and in that time it has proved a blessing to thousands. It is in high favor throughout Canada and its excellence has carried its fame beyond the seas. It has no equal in the whole list of liniments. If it were double the price it would be a cheap liniment.

Relief for the Depressed.—Physical and mental depression usually have their origin in a disordered state of the stomach and liver, as when these organs are deranged in their action the whole system is affected. Try Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. They revivify the digestive processes, act beneficially on the nerves and restore the spirits as no other pills will. They are cheap, simple and sure, and the effects are lasting.

Many children die from the assaults of worms, and the first care of mothers should be to see that their infants are free from these pests. A vermifuge that can be depended on is Miller's Worm Powders. They will not only expel worms from the system, but act as a health-giving medicine and a remedy for many of the ailments that beset infants, enfeebling them and endangering their lives.

IN NEED OF $1,500,000,000

And Allied Business is Perfecting Plans

For Aid to France, Belgium and Italy.

Atlantic City, N.J., despatch: Work of perfecting a plan for a permanent international organization of business men, in accordance with the unanimous vote of the International Trade Conference at its closing session last night, was begun to-day by a special committee of ten members, two each from Great Britain, France, Italy, Belgium and the U. S. This committee is expected to complete the plan within a month, and then representatives of such nations as the committee may unanimously determine to invite will be asked to attend a meeting, at which the plan will be presented for adoption in its final form. Membership is limited to those countries represented in the League of Nations.

A summary of the requirements of France, Belgium and Italy during the forthcoming year shows that they will need to make nearly $1,500,000,000 in commodity purchases in other countries, if long term credits can be arranged, and the exchange rate, now adverse to them, established.

Great Britain's delegates presented no specific needs, and asked for no special credit requirements. Sir James Hope Simpson, speaking for the British, said she desires only a continual supply of raw materials in the usual way, and that American business men show the same confidence in the British business men that they have hitherto shown.

Catarra Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Catarrhal Deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing may be destroyed forever. Many cases of Deafness are caused by Catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the Mucous Surfaces.

ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE.

SAY PROFIT TAX RAISES PRICES

London cable: The high cost of living took a leading place in the discussion at a meeting of the Miners' Federation to-day. Vigorous protests were made by Robt. Stullie and Frank Hodges, who declared that since the Government's scheme of taxing excess profits had been in operation articles of consumption had increased 8 per cent, making them 128 per cent higher than the pre-war prices. They hinted that the Government encouraged excess profits in order to fill the exchequer.

The opinion was expressed by the speakers that excess profits should be devoted to a reduction in prices instead of going into the treasury. The meeting decided to make arrangements for a special labor congress to draft a policy to bring about a reduction in the high cost of living.

Carlisle

On Tuesday night last Tobey Harris left the Orange Hall with a Tin Lizzie to go for a joy ride. He was getting Lizzie just in proper tune when she took a stubborn streak and absolutely refused to go over the Suspension bridge which spans the Warner river. She bolted to the side of the road, just missing a telephone pole, and turned turtle into the river. Tobey was thrown from the seat of the bus into 25 feet of water, and his able ability to swim was all that saved him from a watery grave. Robert Gastle, who was one of the first rescuers to arrive on the scene, said the first he saw of Tobey, after being submerged, was when he was swimming to the shore dog-fashion and was shaking his dripping head like a Pomeranian as the maid picks it out of the tub after having its morning bath. The auto was upside down and completely under water, with the exception of a few inches of the tires. John A. McDonough, the Ford agent from Freelon, vouches for the truth that Lizzie was under water and running on high for ten minutes before the billows could drown and stop her snorting. He also says that as she was sinking she sent out wireless call "Send help quick", and was successful in reaching the ears of Frank C. Biggs, the U. F. O. standard bearer, who was conducting a mass meeting of pumpkin threshers in the Orange hall. About 200 rushed from the hall to the tragic scene. Lloyd Fuester, watchman of the Lighthouse tower, and Ted Blagden of the Life-Saving crew, rushed with ropes to the rescue. Willing hands courageously and unflinchingly fought the billows until Lizzie was safely brought back to the shore. Tobey says the next time he goes for a joy ride he is going to take a wheelbarrow.

CANADA NEEDS MONEY

War Expenditures Still to Be Met From Proceeds of Victory Loan.

The war is over and won; but Canada's main expenditures for war will not be complete until well on into 1920. The $510,000,000 raised last year has all been spent, $400,000,000 having been largely devoted to soldiers—to maintaining them, bringing them home, providing the necessary medical services, training them. Most of the balance of the loan was lent to Great Britain to enable her to buy our surplus products. And money is still necessary—for soldiers, for providing markets, for our surplus products, for the needs of reconstruction. And that is why another Victory Loan is necessary. Canada still needs money, and needs it badly.

A Good Investment.

Speculation is one thing. Investment is another. The majority of citizens want an investment, not a speculation. And they want a safe investment. Victory Bonds fill that requirement as does no other investment. Because behind every bond there is the national wealth of Canada—a wealth so great that it staggers the imagination.

Canadian Bank Clearings.

That Canada is well able to support the Victory Loan is clearly shown by the Canadian bank clearings for the current year. They indicate that the year's total will exceed $15,000,000,000 compared with $13,776,000,000 in 1918. And the year's total clearings should be three times those of 1909.

Must Subscribe More.

Dividing the people of Canada into three classes—the comparatively poor, the moderately wealthy, and the very wealthy—it would seem that if contributions to the Victory Loans constitute service to the nation, the moderately wealthy class is hardly doing its share. Of the money subscribed to the Victory Loan 1918, two hundred and seventy-one million dollars were in bonds of $5,000 and under, ninety-four millions in bonds of between $5,000 and $25,000, and three hundred and one millions in bonds of $25,000 and over.

A TONIC FOR THE NERVES

The Only Real Nerve Tonic is a Good Supply of Rich, Red Blood.

"If people would only attend to their blood, instead of worrying themselves ill," said an eminent nerve specialist, "we doctors would not see our consulting rooms crowded with nervous wrecks. More people suffer from worry than anything else."

The sort of thing which the specialist spoke of is the nervous run-down condition caused by overwork and the many anxieties of to-day. Sufferers find themselves tired, morose, law-spirited and unable to keep their minds on anything. Any sudden noise hurts like a blow. They are full of groundless fears, and do not sleep well at night. Headaches, neuritis and other nerve pains are part of the misery, and it all comes from starved nerves, and it all comes from starved nerves.

Doting the nerves with poisonous sedatives is a terrible mistake. The only real nerve tonic is a good supply of rich, red blood. Therefore to cure nervousness and run-down health Dr. Williams' Pink Pills should be taken. These pills actually make new, rich blood, which strengthens the nerves, improves the appetite, gives new strength and spirits, and makes hitherto despondent people bright and cheerful. If you are at all "out of sorts" you should begin curing yourself to-day by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

IT PAYS TO KEEP COWS

Cows as farm animals are useful in more ways than one. They are a necessity. They simplify farming, reduce risk, produce the best food and reduce the loss in marketing bulky farm products. Where the feed must be purchased cows are not profitable, but on the farm where the feed is raised they are a paying investment. The farmer that sells such feed as hay, corn, oats, forage, etc., must haul the products to market, take risks and pay for high cost of handling. The grower of feed, if he has a dairy cow, may feed it and thus get the advantages without paying the high cost of marketing. He secures a market at home for much of the bulky products, as hay, silage, grain, etc., and the products he markets are not rough, bulky, raw materials, but finished products such as milk, butterfat, cream, cheese, butter, etc., food products for which there is likely to be a good demand at a wider margin for profit. The farmer with cows has a regular income daily, weekly or monthly. This income is not hampered by bad weather nor drought. The increased fertility to the soil as a result in keeping down, saving and applying manure, rotating and pasturing cows may be considered. Poor soils are readily built up to yield large crops and more profitable returns. Raising calves is an added income. The skimmed milk, the grain, hay and silage that would sometimes be a surplus with poor marketing demand may be converted into cows or feed. Or pigs and lambs may be raised on the grain and skimmed milk with a small pasture.

To-day a dry cow is worth almost as much as a fresh one, and should receive as much attention as ever. When the cow is with calf and ceases to give milk in paying quantities, while she is still receiving a full share of feed, it indicates that the development of the embryo has reached such a stage that the cow must give over a part of her energy that would otherwise go toward producing milk, to supplying life-giving blood for the embryo. Some cows are practically dry three months after becoming pregnant. Others may give milk almost up to the time of calving. It depends on many things. It is however, a mistake to milk a cow when she is within a short time of calving.

During the first six months of the development of the embryo the cow usually shows little effect of the matter, except that she gets a better appetite, and she apparently puts on a little flesh while her milk-producing capacity is falling. But during the last three months of the period of gestation is the critical stage. During this time two-thirds of the development of the embryo takes place. Thus it is easy to see what the danger is in cutting off her feed at this critical time and putting her on a poor pasture. In fact, the cow needs more feed during the first six months of the period than she needed before, and she will show it by eating many things for which she showed no appetite before.

Of course, it is not necessary to give the cow at this time the same kind of feed she has been getting. High milk production concentrates may be left almost entirely out, but it is essential that she have pasture. If this is not available, it must be made up of a double quantity of good legume hay. If pasture is available, little or no silage may be fed, but silage may be made to take the place of pasture.

Plenty of good legume hay should always be fed, and some coarse hay should be given from time to time to add bulk to the feed and to keep the bowels from being too open. Silage is good to feed to fall pregnant animals that like it just before the young is brought forth, as it is laxative and keeps the bowels in trim. But too much should not be given. As for concentrates for the dry cow, wheat bran is usually best. Other grains are good and various ground grains may be fed in proportion. Laxative feeds like linseed and cottonseed meal are left out.

THE KIND OF COW IS IMPORTANT
More attention should be paid to the kind of cow kept and the way they are cared for. In these times of high and scarce feed, it is a very easy matter to lose money on poor cows.

Milk drawn at night and morning differs considerably in the percentage of fat. This is not due to any material difference between the milk being secreted by night or by day, but because of unequal difference between the periods. When cows lie still there is a larger per cent. of water and a correspondingly less percentage of solids in milk. Generally speaking, the milk is richest in butterfat that has been milked after the shortest period. This has been determined where cows are milked three, four or five times a day.

Cows vary from day to day. Usually this can be accounted for by change of feed, sudden changes in the weather indisposition of animals, etc. There is always a variation between the milk first drawn and the last drawn. The first is very low in fat, while the last or "strippings" is very rich. Sometimes this may be as much as 1 and 10 per cent., respectively. The larger globules of fat, being nearly as large as the small milk ducts, pass along rapidly than the milk fluid.

The amount and the character of food have a considerable influence upon the quantity of the milk. But the quantity is more easily affected by changes in the character of the food than the quality. Cows kept under favorable conditions, with an abundant supply of food, it is hardly possible to increase the proportion of fats to other solids by a change in the food. But while the amount of the various constituents of the milk is not easily affected by the food, the quality of the constituents themselves may be considerably influenced, especially the fat. For instance, linseed meal, gluten meal and certain other feeds make soft, oily fat, while cottonseed meal, certain legumes and wheat bran make fat.

FARM NEWS AND VIEWS.

The dairy farmer, the producer of milk and cream, controls the quality and price of butter. If he furnishes cream of good quality he makes possible the manufacture of good butter, which will command the highest price on the market. If he supplies cream of inferior quality of low-grade butter is bound to be made from it, which means small returns for the product. The dairy farmer is the controlling power which determines the destiny of the dairy industry. The care he gives the cream on the farm determines the financial returns from the butter determine the prosperity of the dairy farmer, because the price the creamery pays for butterfat is necessarily largely regulated by the price the butter brings on the market.

The application of barnyard manure has built up many poor soils and enabled farmers to prosper. More manure ought to be produced and more used. Poor soils mean poor farmers; rich soil is likely to mean prosperous farmers.

It matters very little how much land one farms, provided he farms well what he has. Winter cover crops are of much benefit to worn lands, because roots of plants hold the soil particles, utilize the readily available plant foods that might be lost and return vegetable matter when turned under. Calves are usually fed whole milk for two or three weeks, then gradually changed to skim milk. About the time of changing begin to feed a little grain, but do not think that it is necessary to use oilmeal or any other high-priced feed, high in protein or fat or both. Experiments at the Missouri experiment station show that a mixture of two parts of corn and one part of oats, by weight, gives as good results as oilmeal and ready-mixed calf meals often purchased at higher prices. Bran is not especially good for the young calf, because it is too laxative. The grain mixture should be fed immediately after the milk and neither should be fed too liberally or scoured may result.

Dirty carries bad flavors. If the barn or its surroundings and cows are dirty it will result in poor milk; poor milk results in poor cream; poor cream results in poor butter.

A TRUE PROPHET

Prince's Grandfather and American Unity.

(N. Y. Sunday Sun.)

The eldest son of England's democratic King has crossed the Atlantic and his presence on this side of the ocean will evoke, from the harp-strings of both our national history and personal memory, not a few delightful memories, not a few delectable bits of trivia. In a word, because of the initial visit of a Prince of Wales in 1860, American patriotism is to-day more of a reality. The "indissoluble union of indestructible States" resembles much more that adamant rock, which Lincoln believed it to be, and not at all the "rope of sand" which President Buchanan feared and talked about.

It was in those dark days when the fifteenth President, "the Sage of Wheatland," called for a day of fasting and of prayer—as he did well to do—while the United States Government, with an empty treasury, had to beg for money at 12 per cent. interest, when the American commonwealth and sisterhood was menaced with disruption, that the Prince of Wales, afterward King Edward VII. and peacemaker par excellence, visited us. Still, it is simple fact to recall that the great historian, Edward A. Freeman, believing that the Union was at an end, planned his great book, in four volumes, on the "History of the Federal Government, from the Amphyctonic Council to the Disruption of the United States of America." The activities of Lincoln, Grant, Sherman, Thomas and a million or more of American patriots, however, compelled a change in Mr. Freeman's views and plans. Only one volume appeared and the work remains a torso.

On the other hand, it was an even grander voice that laid emphasis on the creative and unifying forces in American history. He proved the true prophet. It was no less a personage than the Prince of Wales, England's future King, who in 1860, as Lord Renfrew, visited us almost incognito, and certainly without ostentation or a trace of snobbishness. He came unexpectedly into the State House at Philadelphia and was mightily interested in Independence Hall.

But, oh, what did he see in the hallway and underneath the grand staircase? Listen, ye Daughters of the American Revolution of 1919, to whose mothers we owe much, while some there be yet who remember and can confirm what we tell. Literally, they took up the ball, which the men had put down. What did the Prince, to his disgust, see but an eating stand and materials of quick lunch, whose steaming odors filled the place? We, with our juvenile Keystone State appetite, voted these viands as ambrosia and fit for the gods. There we took our Philadelphia peppercot, waffles, hominy, scrapple, smearcase, cheese-cakes and "dump noodles and snits"—for Manhattanners, we translate, wheat flour doughballs, dried apples and ham boiled together and served with molasses.

To crown the vision, beheld as joyfully by the Quaker City small boy, who concealed a mammoth cave under his diaphragm, as it was sorrowfully looked upon by the surprised Prince, there sat a goddess of liberty, in the form of a fat lady, who might have tipped the scales at a courier of a thousand pounds. Red faced and beaming with motherly good nature, and appetizing clouds of vapors, she presided over the steaming pots and pans, kept calorically high over live charcoal in sheet iron bases. This lady bountiful dispensed soup, beans, pretzels and pickled tripe with especial joy when candidates for her pine benches began to multiply, at 12:05 post meridian, and she soon had a waiting list. The more, the merrier, seemed to be the motto of herself and her maids. There was the Liberty Bell, which, then set on rough timbers under the stair-way, furnished on its platform a dresser for dishes.

But, oh, what a debacle from august historic memories! Was the treasury of Penn's city so poor and even as low as that of the Buchanan Government in 1861 that the city fathers must rent out the sacred edifice for the mean revenue of an eating stand? The future Edward VII. was horrified. Then and there he, the Prince, spoke out strongly, in his mother's English, which we give in paraphrase. He intimated that it was the duty of the Philadelphia municipality to end such base usage of an edifice consecrated by noble memories.

For, let it be recalled to-day, none more than Edward knew the true inwardness of the Revolution. In 1775, on American soil with blood, and on British soil without slaughter, the same struggle began. Without the bloodshed of battle the same victory was won in 1830 that he won in 1781, with French air, and in 1787 consolidated here, namely, that of true representative government. We made sure of our victory against a German King, who, with a corrupt Parliament, misrepresented British tradition and spirit, in our Constitution, our union and our stable government, in 1787. Across the water the reform of 1830 meant a Parliament representing men and not land, as in 1775.

The Prince, later King Edward VII., recommended that not only should the refreshment tables and benches be removed, but that the whole building should be restored to its original simplicity and use.

But, women, sisters, let us reveal the secret. Men balked at the cost. They pleaded the same argument, of loss of revenue, which has been so industriously and with as much fallacious reasoning and pseudo-elegance urged in favor of retaining strong beverages. One glorious male exception was seen in that gentleman of strong individuality, who wrote one of the most honest autobiographies in modern days. Samuel Whittaker Pennypacker. He turned to the essence of his unique erudition to the reinforcement of the D. A. R. With women's tenacity and an impetuosity as inviolable as that of their Biblical exemplar and precedent, the Daughters of the Revolution persisted and won. Independence Hall, restored to its chaste simplicity and pristine grandeur of style, is now an American shrine. What a tremendous agent for national unity! What an investment in nation wide loyalty to the ideal of the fathers!

Social Hygiene.

The Social Hygiene Association of Canada has endorsed the principles adopted at the New York conference, and the Dominion Government has been requested to adopt the general principles in any plan which they may have in view for Dominion control. The principles are as follows:

1. That the single standard of morals should prevail for men and women.
2. That continence is compatible with health and intellectual vigor for both sexes.
3. That men and women should serve together whenever possible on bodies whose functions concern the development and enforcement of moral standards.
4. That prostitutes be not treated as a class apart from other women, and that prostitution be not recognized as a trade.
5. That all measures, either preventive or repressive, concerned with social morality, apply impartially to men and women.
6. That a simultaneous vigorous attack on venereal disease should be made, and that the issues of public health and morals be thoroughly correlated.
7. That sound sex education be incorporated into one entire educational system in homes, school, college, and the church and press.
8. That social and economic adjustments granting to the individual decent living conditions and adequate recreation are essential to progress in social morality. These adjustments concern especially:
  - (a) Housing conditions.
  - (b) Industrial conditions, including conditions of work and wages.
  - (c) Proper and sufficient recreational opportunities.

Big Howitzer for Ontario.

To the 116th Battalion of Ontario county belongs the honor of capturing the big howitzer gun which Sir William Hearst has accepted on behalf of the Ontario Government. The war trophy, which it is expected will reach Toronto shortly, will be given a place of honor in the Queen's Park in front of the Legislative Buildings.

The big gun fell into the clutches of the heroic Canadians in the battle of Amiens last August, in which the 5th platoon of "B" Company, led by Lieut. W. A. Orr, son of Dr. R. B. Orr, curator of the Provincial Museum at the Normal School, distinguished themselves in splendid style. The gun was captured by this company after a night of heavy fighting and rounding up of several hundred Hun prisoners.

The gun will grace the Queen's Park as a memorial to the late Col. Sam Sharpe, M.P., the fighting commander of the battalion.

Old Hats Exported.

Thousands of hats discarded by English women are exported every year to Brazil, where they are eagerly bought by the Indians. The feathers and other ornaments on the hats are taken by the men, and the bare straw shapes given to their women-folk.

Getting Together.

A youth named Beer was arrested the other day for breaking into a public-house. The magistrate decided that the proper place for him was the jug.—London Punch.
