

LOCAL NEWS

ATHENS AND VICINITY

FARMERS—Do you want to sell a horse or buy one? Do you want to buy or sell a cow? Use the bulletin service in the office of the Merchants Bank of Canada in Athens. We will help you make your purchases and sales.—Ask for the manager.

Ice Cream in Vanilla, Chocolate and Maple flavors at the Bazaar. Violin and Piano Music in Ice Cream Parlor.

ICE CREAM, Fresh Fruits and Confectionery at Maud Addison's

Custom Roll Carding for Home Spinning, or spun into yarn. We also take wool in exchange for Blankets.—Athens Woolen Mill, J. F. Gordon, Prop.

Hear the New Victor Records while you are enjoying a dish of Ice Cream at E. C. Tribute's Live Poultry bought every Tuesday and Wednesday at C. H. Williams' Meat Market.

WANTED—Qualified teacher for S.S. No. 10 Bastard. Please state salary and experience. Apply J. E. Barlow, Secretary, Delta, Ont.

Mr. J. Phillips, Inspector of the Standard Banks of Canada, gave the local branch a call this week and is much pleased with the progress the bank has made here under the management of W. A. Johnson.

Automobile Announcement

Confidence

When you are behind the wheel in a

McLaughlin

you enjoy that feeling of complete confidence that is so necessary to appreciate your car.

Get Yours Now

Empire Milking Machines

BUGGIES! BUGGIES!!

We have them to suit the most fastidious tastes, in either Top or Open and Steel or Rubber Tire.

We Sell the Famous Brunswick Phonograph

A. Taylor & Son

Athens Ontario

Rock Bottom

Prices on following articles

- 1 Grand Upright Mason and Risch Piano, in first-class condition.
- 1 490-Chevrolet Car, 1918 Model.
- 1 8-ft. Deering Tedder.
- 1 6-ft. Massey-Harris Mower.
- 1 8-H.P. Ideal Gas Engine.
- 1 2 1/2-H.P. Ideal Gas Engine.
- 1 Rubber Tired Top Surrey.
- 2 Steel Tired Buggies.
- 1 Pneumatic Tired Buggy.
- 1 Bell Ensilage Cutter, No. 50.

All the above have been thoroughly overhauled and put in A No. 1 condition.

Call and try our Grafonolas before the increase in prices are added.

Stock of Chevrolet Cars always on hand.

W. B. Percival

Athens, Ontario

Misses Arley E. and Myrtle Parvis of Junctown, were Sunday visitors of Mrs. Walton Sheffield.

Mr. Walter Nichols, Toronto is a guest of his brother Rev. R. E. Nichols.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Clayton, Toronto, are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Thompson.

Mr. W. E. Cramp has been transferred from the Elgin Branch of the Merchants Bank to the Athens Branch.

Mrs. G. D. McLean and Loyd are this week guests of Mrs. Pritchard at Lake Charleston.

Miss Mary Lyons, of Athens, has been visiting her friend Miss Leota Steacey, of Seelys Bay, at Camp "Pal's Palms" on Beverly Lake, together with Miss Bessie Steacey, Miss Gwendoline Coleman, Misses Dorothy, Lenna, and Leita Berry, Miss Mabel Simpson and Mrs. H. McElroy. "Camp Life" was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Miss Georgia Robeson has joined the staff of the local branch of the Merchants Bank of Canada.

Mrs. Roy Coon, Smith Falls, spent a few days with her parents here previous to going to Lake Charleston for a holiday.

Mr. Sidney Vickery, who had the misfortune to sever an artery in his foot while bathing recently, was able to leave the Hospital on Wednesday and was a guest of friends in Athens before going to the summer home of his parents at Charleston Lake.

Mrs. M. V. Robinson returned from Toronto on Saturday last, where she was the guest of her daughter, Mrs. D. M. Spaidal, for the past two months.

Miss Marjorie Moore left on Monday morning for Oakville, Ont., where she has been transferred by the Merchants Bank of Canada.

Dr. Beaumont S. Cornell, Toronto, was a visitor at the home of his mother, Mrs. H. E. Cornell, over the week-end.

In the report of the township council last week the amount of the account of Judge Reynolds for Court of Revision was omitted, which was $4.00.

Mrs. H. E. Cornell is a patient at the Brockville General Hospital.

Mr. Wm. McLean, Cherry Valley, N.Y., is renewing old acquaintances in town this week.

Mr. Manford Flood is a visitor in town this week.

Mr. E. J. Purcell has had the front of his store remodelled and it is a decided improvement.

Mr. Norton Scott, baker, has rearranged his place of business, and we must say it has greatly added to the general appearance.

Mrs. D. D. Davidson is spending a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mel. Hamblin.

On Monday evening last east end residents of Hard Island enjoyed the pleasure of seeing two fine deer moving leisurely about on a beaver meadow.

Mr. and Mrs. James Judson, Brockville, were guests of friends in town on Sunday.

Music Students Successful

At the recent examination of the London (Eng.) College of Music held in Brockville under the direction of Prof. A. H. Howell of Montreal, Miss Carrie N. Robinson, A.L.C.M., had six pupils examined all of which were successful. We extend hearty congratulations to the candidates as well as to Miss Robinson. Four of the students are residents of Athens and two from the village of Westport, namely: Elementary, Leonard Johnson, Athens; Intermediate, Ada Leadbeater, Athens; Iola Sargent, (First-Class) Westport; Advanced Intermediate, Muriel Wilson, Athens; Senior, Norma McGuire, Westport; Myrtle Cross (First-Class) Athens.

NOTICE TO POULTRY SHIPPERS.

The Farmers Club will buy poultry every Tuesday forenoon at their storehouse on Elgin Street. All birds must be starved 24 hours before time of sale.

NOTICE.

Any person or persons found trespassing, smoking or shooting on my premises after this date will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.
ROYAL MOORE.

WASHBURN'S SCHOOL PROMOTIONS, JUNE 1920.

Jr. IV to Sr. IV—Mabel Carl, Irene Young, Douglas Flood, Raymond Young (conditionally).

Sr. III to Jr. IV—Lila Hudson, Leona Young (conditionally), Kenneth Earl (conditionally).

Jr. III to Sr. III—Laura Moulton, Simon Judd, Willie Hudson (conditionally).

Sr. II to Jr. III—Hazel Earl, Jennie Hudson, Lawrence Flood, Robert Hamblen (conditionally).

Jr. II to Sr. II—Clarence Morris.

Sr. I to Jr. II—Alice Judd, Ross Young, Marjorie Morris, Deloss Foushee.
E. M. Hollingsworth, Teacher.

Charleston

Visitors at Foster's Hotel include the following: G. H. R. Bingham, C. S. R. Bingham, H. P. Bingham and wife, Prescott; A. E. Daniels, Prescott; E. Finsman, Pontiac, Mich.; E. E. Mills and wife, Prescott; Miss C. Smith, P. Whitney, Helena, Montana; E. G. McConkey, W. J. Moody, Toronto; Miss E. Aubin, Miss E. D. Hughes, Ottawa; Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Vanaman, Mrs. J. Vanaman, Philadelphia, Pa.; R. A. Montgomery, W. Harkins, Lambertville and New Brunswick, N.J.; Mr. and Mrs. H. Smith, W. N. Throop, Brockville.

Mrs. W. Halliday returned on Monday from Toronto.

Little Miss Beatrice Hockey, Athens, is holidaying with her aunt, Mrs. L. Halliday.

The social which was to have been held here on Wednesday evening was spoiled by the rain.

The annual meeting of the Charleston Lake Association will be held at Foster's Hotel on Wednesday evening, July 14th.

Master Maxwell Jackson and little sister, Amy, Spring Valley, are holidaying here.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. McLean, Gouverneur, N.Y., are on a visit to their daughter, Mrs. F. W. Clark, at the cottage.

B. Slack was one of a party of five who recently motored to Watertown and spent a pleasant day taking in the city and visiting relatives.

Rain is falling heavily here today, making it hard for the farmers to take care of their hay.

Those who intended attending the Orange celebrations at Prescott and Carleton today are much disappointed on account of the rain.

Mr. and Mrs. Webster and son and Mrs. J. Webster spent Sunday at Cushendall.

Philipville

George Halladay, wife and two children, of Michigan, were visitors at his sister's, Mrs. Wm. Halladay, for a week.

Mrs. James Haskin and son, Ottawa, are guests of Mrs. Putnam during the holidays.

Byron Judson, of Lyn, called on friends here on Wednesday.

Howard Williams, Seely's, was here on business on Wednesday.

The ladies of the Baptist church held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. J. Chapman, Jones Falls, on Thursday last.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Seed, Toronto, and their daughter, Mrs. R. R. Spafford, Hartford, Conn., are the guests of Mrs. Seed's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chisholm.

INQUIRY

"Truth crushed to earth shall rise again,"

The poet sang with freer breath,

Than I in asking, shall it be

Before we pass the gate of death?

Or must mine be a weary way

With long days' toil, and battle fought;

That others coming may enjoy

The things I craved, the good I sought?

But, hark! a voice most tenderly

Speaks back of One, it seems to me

Whose time was spent in doing good

To suffering ones of Galilee.

And bids my drooping spirit rise

Above the realm of self-content,

And says, the mark and heavenly prize

Mounts high above what we have spent.
—E.R.

Do You Know

Where to look for starting, lighting ignition trouble?

When carbon is forming in the engine

How to adjust your carburetor to get the most miles out of a gallon?

When to change the oil in crank case?

If your engine is missing?

If your clutch is slipping?

If the compression is right?

IT IS OUR WORK

To be familiar with motor ills and our charges are moderate when compared with less experienced service. Don't take chances on ruining a good motor by lack of attention.

It is good insurance to have us look your car over at regular intervals, and you will be well repaid by the extra service your car will give you

THE

Earl Construction Company

Genuine Ford Repair Parts
GARAGE AND AUTO SUPPLIES
Athens Ontario

Are Your Eyes Right?

If you do not have eye comfort, make an early visit to our "Optical Parlor"

We have the most Scientific Equipment for Eye Sight Testing, backed by years of successful experience.

We can assure you of a Prompt, Courteous and most Expert Service.

H. R. KNOWLTON

Main St. Athens Graduate Optician

SPECIAL

While They Last

1000 Bars Good Laundry Soap at

10c a Bar

500 Pound Cans of Queens Favorite Baking Powder at

30c Each

These goods are 25% lower than today's market prices.

Come and get your share of these bargains

Joseph Thompson

Athens Ontario

KILLING OF ELWELL IS BIG PUZZLE

Society Murder in New York One of Greatest Mysteries.

SHOT IN HIS HOME

No Weapon, No Signs of Struggle, No Unlocked Windows.

New York report: Every element of the classic detective tale has appeared in its most dramatic setting in the Elwell case which since June 11 has defied solution by the foremost sleuths of this city. Wealth, divorce, the glitter of Broadway night life, beautiful women gowned and jeweled for the ball, the race track, the gaming table and, far removed from the frenzied whirl of the "bright lights," the dotting parents in their vine-shaded home in the country—all these are woven and interwoven into what has been pronounced by detectives the deepest mystery of years.

In its most sinister guise, murder at the hands of an unknown and unsuspected assassin, death came to Joseph Bowne Elwell in middle age when his most engrossing cares amounted to anxiety over a favorite race horse, bridge whist, or an after-theatre engagement with "the woman in black" or "the lady in gray."

Still breathing, though a large calibre bullet had plowed through his brain, Elwell was discovered at 3:30 in the morning of June 11 clad in his pajamas and slumped down in a chair against the wall of the reception room on the first floor of his three-story house in West 70th street. He died several hours later without speaking a word which might betray the identity of his slayer.

He was found by Mrs. Marie Larsen, Elwell's housekeeper, arriving for her daily work of tidying up the house. On a table at his side were several letters one of which, from a racing associate, had been removed from the envelope. The letters had been delivered by the postman at 7:35.

There was no weapon, no foot-print, no evidence of a struggle, no possible clue except a 45-calibre shell, such as is ejected from an automatic pistol of the army type, and the stub of a cigarette different from those Elwell habitually smoked. Doors and windows were securely locked.

SUICIDE THEORY UNENTENABLE

Experts declared that a suicide theory was untenable, because Elwell could not have held the fatal pistol far enough from his head to avoid powder burns, even were it possible to account for the disappearing powder marks on the dying man's forehead, but no burns.

As soon as the idea of self-destruction was rejected, the man-hunt all over the country, into every circle of society, and for years back into the dead man's past. Every relative, every friend, every casual acquaintance or servant, everyone who had ever seen the dead turfman, was found and examined. Every possible motive for his killing was explored. Love affairs, long buried, were exhumed, and the principals grilled to discover a motive for the crime. Every real or suspected enemy was probed. All led to the same end—a wealth of information about the dead man's leisurely life, his reputation for suave good nature and his conquests of women's hearts. But not a ray of light on the crime itself.

The known facts of how Elwell spent the night before his death are few. During the early evening he was one of a dinner party at a large hotel. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lewiston, Miss Viola Kraus and a South American journalist who met Elwell for the first time that evening. At a nearby table sat Victor Von Schlegel, the divorced husband of Miss Kraus, and Miss Lily Hope Anderson, a singer whose home is in Minneapolis.

All who were present agreed afterward that there was no show of ill-feeling between Elwell and Von Schlegel, though they brushed shoulders on the dance floor several times with Von Schlegel's former wife darning with the sportsman.

After leaving the hotel the Lewiston party, including Elwell, went to a roof garden theatre, where they remained until 1:30, when all left and Elwell was seen to start on foot toward his home. Here ends all unassailable evidence of the murder victim's movements. At a much later hour, a neighbor claimed to have seen Elwell driven home by a man in a racing car at 2:30. A taxicab driver asserted he had driven the sportsman home directly after he left the Lewiston party.

TELEPHONE OPERATOR'S STORY

More important evidence seemed to lie in the statements of Margaret Entler, a telephone operator, who declares she tried to put through two telephone calls from Elwell's home between 2 and 2:30 o'clock on the morning of the tragedy. The number called in each case was that of William H. Elwell's, a former racing partner of Elwell's. When interrogated he said he could not imagine why Elwell should have been so anxious to communicate with him during the early morning hours. They had not been intimate for many months, he said.

After two weeks of investigation and merciless publicity the small army of investigators became definitively separated into two factions. Both praise their theories with the statement, "nothing is impossible," and each clung doggedly to its pet "solution."

The first faction, including a majority of the detectives, said, "What the dogs were locked? Some enemy, man or woman, killed Elwell."

The second, numbering many of Elwell's former friends and some of the cleverest detectives, retorted, "What if there were no powder burns? Elwell killed himself and someone who arrived before the police hid the pistol."

After the funeral, Joseph S. Elwell, father of the dead man, declared his unflinching belief that his son had been murdered.

Elwell's wife, who admitted that she was contemplating divorce proceedings when she heard of Elwell's death, adhered to the suicide theory, and expressed indignation that the racing man made no provision in his will for their son.

During the course of the investigation, Assistant District Attorney Joyce ordered the detention of Mrs. Larsen, the housekeeper, as a material witness. Many were convinced that the woman's anxiety to "avoid scandal" was concealing evidence which might lead to the apprehension of the guilty person. Her release was ordered by District Attorney Swann, who said that no evidence sufficient to hold anyone had been secured.

HER DYING ACCUSATION

New York, July 4.—The body of a well-dressed woman was found to-day in Central Park lake. A card on her person said:

"I am the wife of Daniel M. Bedell. I stuck to him in adversity, but when prosperity came, he sought others."

ALARMED BY MUTINY IN INDIA

London, July 4.—The mutiny of the Connaught Rangers in India has excited considerable alarm here. Ever since the armistice the War Office policy has been to send Irish regiments to distant stations, and there is an unusually large proportion of them at present in India, Egypt and Mesopotamia.

The public is waiting for details of the Indian trouble, as so far only an official account has been published together with a despatch from the Reuters Agency, which is virtually officially controlled. The prolonged delay about Amritsar by the Indian Government makes the public here sceptical about Indian official statements.

AGRICULTURAL CONFERENCE

O. A. C. Meeting Hears of Conditions in Wool.

And the Work of the U. S. Farm Bureaus.

Quebec report: That the price of wool has very little to do with the price of clothing was a principle enunciated by Mr. L. E. O'Neill, Secretary of the Ontario Sheep Breeders' Association, in an address on "The Wool Situation" before the conference of the Agricultural Representatives of the Province, in session at the Agricultural College. Mr. O'Neill's remark came in reply to a question as to the explanation of high-priced clothing in view of the shattered state of the raw wool market, and was the summing up of a lucid explanation of conditions from the standpoint of the co-operative marketing agency.

"During the war the demand was for the coarser grades of wool, with the result that very high prices were secured for the Ontario production," Mr. O'Neill explained. "Now the demand is for the fine grades, and all Ontario wool, from medium combing down, is left untouched. Much of last year's wool of the lower grades is still on the market, and wool houses holding it are unable to realize anything on it. Money is tight, and credit is scarce, and the result is that the big wool houses have quit buying. One of the largest wool houses in Boston is now in the hands of the receivers, while another has offered to liquidate at a loss of over five million dollars. Any buying at present is purely speculative. With us the banks have cut advances no fewer than four times from twenty-five to fifteen cents, and up to the present we have sold only 75,000 pounds of wool. We have had representatives from only two wool houses to see us, and have been able to send out only one bunch of samples."

Mr. O'Neill explained further that the state of the market necessitated close grading, with disadvantage to the seller. Whereas during war-time doubtful wool always got the benefit of the doubt and was graded up; now the same wool is graded down invariably. Illustrating this, he mentioned the fact that a lot of 10,000 pounds left unsold last July from a total output of 200,000 pounds has since been "turned down no fewer than six times on grade, although it is equally as good as the other 190,000-pound lot that sold before it."

FARM BUREAUS GROW

An extremely practical address was given by Mr. L. R. Simons, Assistant County-Agent Leader of Ithaca, N. Y., on departmental organization in the United States. Mr. Simons gave a brief review of the growth of the movement from the

TO SEEK DIVORCE?

Cabled reports indicate that Lady Hadfield (above), wife of Sir Robert Hadfield ((below), the English ironmaster, has taken up her residence in Nevada with the intention of suing for divorce. Lady Hadfield was formerly Frances Wickensham. She was married in 1914.

ANCONAS WON

In Egg-Laying Contest at Brandon, Man.

Brandon, Man., July 4.—A pen of ten Anconas owned by W. H. Howe, Winnipeg, led all Canadian pens in the Experimental Farm Egg-Laying Contest here. At the end of the 34th week these birds have laid 1,229 eggs. White Wyandottes owned by G. F. Thompson, Minnedosa, Man., and Thomas Lund, Stonewall, Man., are in third and fourth places, second being held by an Ottawa pen of Barred Rocks owned by J. E. Rhodes, Saskatchewan, Prince Edward Island and Quebec contest have no birds with over 1,000 eggs. There are 162 pens of ten hens each in the seven contests.

AGRICULTURAL CONFERENCE

O. A. C. Meeting Hears of Conditions in Wool.

And the Work of the U. S. Farm Bureaus.

Quebec report: That the price of wool has very little to do with the price of clothing was a principle enunciated by Mr. L. E. O'Neill, Secretary of the Ontario Sheep Breeders' Association, in an address on "The Wool Situation" before the conference of the Agricultural Representatives of the Province, in session at the Agricultural College. Mr. O'Neill's remark came in reply to a question as to the explanation of high-priced clothing in view of the shattered state of the raw wool market, and was the summing up of a lucid explanation of conditions from the standpoint of the co-operative marketing agency.

"During the war the demand was for the coarser grades of wool, with the result that very high prices were secured for the Ontario production," Mr. O'Neill explained. "Now the demand is for the fine grades, and all Ontario wool, from medium combing down, is left untouched. Much of last year's wool of the lower grades is still on the market, and wool houses holding it are unable to realize anything on it. Money is tight, and credit is scarce, and the result is that the big wool houses have quit buying. One of the largest wool houses in Boston is now in the hands of the receivers, while another has offered to liquidate at a loss of over five million dollars. Any buying at present is purely speculative. With us the banks have cut advances no fewer than four times from twenty-five to fifteen cents, and up to the present we have sold only 75,000 pounds of wool. We have had representatives from only two wool houses to see us, and have been able to send out only one bunch of samples."

Mr. O'Neill explained further that the state of the market necessitated close grading, with disadvantage to the seller. Whereas during war-time doubtful wool always got the benefit of the doubt and was graded up; now the same wool is graded down invariably. Illustrating this, he mentioned the fact that a lot of 10,000 pounds left unsold last July from a total output of 200,000 pounds has since been "turned down no fewer than six times on grade, although it is equally as good as the other 190,000-pound lot that sold before it."

FARM BUREAUS GROW

An extremely practical address was given by Mr. L. R. Simons, Assistant County-Agent Leader of Ithaca, N. Y., on departmental organization in the United States. Mr. Simons gave a brief review of the growth of the movement from the

TO SEEK DIVORCE?

Cabled reports indicate that Lady Hadfield (above), wife of Sir Robert Hadfield ((below), the English ironmaster, has taken up her residence in Nevada with the intention of suing for divorce. Lady Hadfield was formerly Frances Wickensham. She was married in 1914.

ANCONAS WON

In Egg-Laying Contest at Brandon, Man.

Brandon, Man., July 4.—A pen of ten Anconas owned by W. H. Howe, Winnipeg, led all Canadian pens in the Experimental Farm Egg-Laying Contest here. At the end of the 34th week these birds have laid 1,229 eggs. White Wyandottes owned by G. F. Thompson, Minnedosa, Man., and Thomas Lund, Stonewall, Man., are in third and fourth places, second being held by an Ottawa pen of Barred Rocks owned by J. E. Rhodes, Saskatchewan, Prince Edward Island and Quebec contest have no birds with over 1,000 eggs. There are 162 pens of ten hens each in the seven contests.

AGRICULTURAL CONFERENCE

O. A. C. Meeting Hears of Conditions in Wool.

And the Work of the U. S. Farm Bureaus.

Quebec report: That the price of wool has very little to do with the price of clothing was a principle enunciated by Mr. L. E. O'Neill, Secretary of the Ontario Sheep Breeders' Association, in an address on "The Wool Situation" before the conference of the Agricultural Representatives of the Province, in session at the Agricultural College. Mr. O'Neill's remark came in reply to a question as to the explanation of high-priced clothing in view of the shattered state of the raw wool market, and was the summing up of a lucid explanation of conditions from the standpoint of the co-operative marketing agency.

"During the war the demand was for the coarser grades of wool, with the result that very high prices were secured for the Ontario production," Mr. O'Neill explained. "Now the demand is for the fine grades, and all Ontario wool, from medium combing down, is left untouched. Much of last year's wool of the lower grades is still on the market, and wool houses holding it are unable to realize anything on it. Money is tight, and credit is scarce, and the result is that the big wool houses have quit buying. One of the largest wool houses in Boston is now in the hands of the receivers, while another has offered to liquidate at a loss of over five million dollars. Any buying at present is purely speculative. With us the banks have cut advances no fewer than four times from twenty-five to fifteen cents, and up to the present we have sold only 75,000 pounds of wool. We have had representatives from only two wool houses to see us, and have been able to send out only one bunch of samples."

Mr. O'Neill explained further that the state of the market necessitated close grading, with disadvantage to the seller. Whereas during war-time doubtful wool always got the benefit of the doubt and was graded up; now the same wool is graded down invariably. Illustrating this, he mentioned the fact that a lot of 10,000 pounds left unsold last July from a total output of 200,000 pounds has since been "turned down no fewer than six times on grade, although it is equally as good as the other 190,000-pound lot that sold before it."

FARM BUREAUS GROW

An extremely practical address was given by Mr. L. R. Simons, Assistant County-Agent Leader of Ithaca, N. Y., on departmental organization in the United States. Mr. Simons gave a brief review of the growth of the movement from the

TO SEEK DIVORCE?

Cabled reports indicate that Lady Hadfield (above), wife of Sir Robert Hadfield ((below), the English ironmaster, has taken up her residence in Nevada with the intention of suing for divorce. Lady Hadfield was formerly Frances Wickensham. She was married in 1914.

ANCONAS WON

In Egg-Laying Contest at Brandon, Man.

Brandon, Man., July 4.—A pen of ten Anconas owned by W. H. Howe, Winnipeg, led all Canadian pens in the Experimental Farm Egg-Laying Contest here. At the end of the 34th week these birds have laid 1,229 eggs. White Wyandottes owned by G. F. Thompson, Minnedosa, Man., and Thomas Lund, Stonewall, Man., are in third and fourth places, second being held by an Ottawa pen of Barred Rocks owned by J. E. Rhodes, Saskatchewan, Prince Edward Island and Quebec contest have no birds with over 1,000 eggs. There are 162 pens of ten hens each in the seven contests.

AGRICULTURAL CONFERENCE

O. A. C. Meeting Hears of Conditions in Wool.

And the Work of the U. S. Farm Bureaus.

Quebec report: That the price of wool has very little to do with the price of clothing was a principle enunciated by Mr. L. E. O'Neill, Secretary of the Ontario Sheep Breeders' Association, in an address on "The Wool Situation" before the conference of the Agricultural Representatives of the Province, in session at the Agricultural College. Mr. O'Neill's remark came in reply to a question as to the explanation of high-priced clothing in view of the shattered state of the raw wool market, and was the summing up of a lucid explanation of conditions from the standpoint of the co-operative marketing agency.

"During the war the demand was for the coarser grades of wool, with the result that very high prices were secured for the Ontario production," Mr. O'Neill explained. "Now the demand is for the fine grades, and all Ontario wool, from medium combing down, is left untouched. Much of last year's wool of the lower grades is still on the market, and wool houses holding it are unable to realize anything on it. Money is tight, and credit is scarce, and the result is that the big wool houses have quit buying. One of the largest wool houses in Boston is now in the hands of the receivers, while another has offered to liquidate at a loss of over five million dollars. Any buying at present is purely speculative. With us the banks have cut advances no fewer than four times from twenty-five to fifteen cents, and up to the present we have sold only 75,000 pounds of wool. We have had representatives from only two wool houses to see us, and have been able to send out only one bunch of samples."

Mr. O'Neill explained further that the state of the market necessitated close grading, with disadvantage to the seller. Whereas during war-time doubtful wool always got the benefit of the doubt and was graded up; now the same wool is graded down invariably. Illustrating this, he mentioned the fact that a lot of 10,000 pounds left unsold last July from a total output of 200,000 pounds has since been "turned down no fewer than six times on grade, although it is equally as good as the other 190,000-pound lot that sold before it."

FARM BUREAUS GROW

An extremely practical address was given by Mr. L. R. Simons, Assistant County-Agent Leader of Ithaca, N. Y., on departmental organization in the United States. Mr. Simons gave a brief review of the growth of the movement from the

Inauguration of New Transcontinental Service Marks Important Development in Canadian Railroad History

ONE of the first steps in connection with the co-ordination of the Grand Trunk and the Canadian National Railways will be to give the Dominion a new transcontinental service. Effective June 27th, 1920, through trains are to be operated from Montreal to Vancouver over the rails of the two systems, the route being by way of Ottawa, North Bay, Fort William and Port Arthur, Winnipeg, Saskatoon, and Edmonton. This will take the traveller through regions of exceptional scenic charm and general interest. The new express trains will traverse the Algonquin Park of Ontario, the Niagara Forest Reserve, Quebec Park, the Rainy River District, the richest of the Prairie Lands, Jasper National Park, the Mount Robson region where the Canadian Rockies reach their greatest height, and the lovely valleys of the Fraser and Thompson Rivers. The route will also provide a new short way to Alaska and the North Pacific Coast via Prince Rupert.

It will now be possible for the traveller landing at Halifax or St. John to travel on an all-Canadian transcontinental direct line from coast to coast, but for the convenience of those who may desire to journey to Western Canada via Toronto, the Canadian National-Grand Trunk Railways will place in effect this month a through daily service from Toronto to Vancouver, the route being through North Bay, Timagami, Cobalt, Cochrane and the Clay Belt of Ontario. In planning the new service it has been possible to select ideal routes from the large mileage owned by the two railways, and the inauguration of through traffic by these avenues marks a distinct forward step in the development of Canadian railroad facilities.

AGRICULTURAL CONFERENCE

O. A. C. Meeting Hears of Conditions in Wool.

And the Work of the U. S. Farm Bureaus.

Quebec report: That the price of wool has very little to do with the price of clothing was a principle enunciated by Mr. L. E. O'Neill, Secretary of the Ontario Sheep Breeders' Association, in an address on "The Wool Situation" before the conference of the Agricultural Representatives of the Province, in session at the Agricultural College. Mr. O'Neill's remark came in reply to a question as to the explanation of high-priced clothing in view of the shattered state of the raw wool market, and was the summing up of a lucid explanation of conditions from the standpoint of the co-operative marketing agency.

"During the war the demand was for the coarser grades of wool, with the result that very high prices were secured for the Ontario production," Mr. O'Neill explained. "Now the demand is for the fine grades, and all Ontario wool, from medium combing down, is left untouched. Much of last year's wool of the lower grades is still on the market, and wool houses holding it are unable to realize anything on it. Money is tight, and credit is scarce, and the result is that the big wool houses have quit buying. One of the largest wool houses in Boston is now in the hands of the receivers, while another has offered to liquidate at a loss of over five million dollars. Any buying at present is purely speculative. With us the banks have cut advances no fewer than four times from twenty-five to fifteen cents, and up to the present we have sold only 75,000 pounds of wool. We have had representatives from only two wool houses to see us, and have been able to send out only one bunch of samples."

Mr. O'Neill explained further that the state of the market necessitated close grading, with disadvantage to the seller. Whereas during war-time doubtful wool always got the benefit of the doubt and was graded up; now the same wool is graded down invariably. Illustrating this, he mentioned the fact that a lot of 10,000 pounds left unsold last July from a total output of 200,000 pounds has since been "turned down no fewer than six times on grade, although it is equally as good as the other 190,000-pound lot that sold before it."

FARM BUREAUS GROW

An extremely practical address was given by Mr. L. R. Simons, Assistant County-Agent Leader of Ithaca, N. Y., on departmental organization in the United States. Mr. Simons gave a brief review of the growth of the movement from the

TO SEEK DIVORCE?

Cabled reports indicate that Lady Hadfield (above), wife of Sir Robert Hadfield ((below), the English ironmaster, has taken up her residence in Nevada with the intention of suing for divorce. Lady Hadfield was formerly Frances Wickensham. She was married in 1914.

ANCONAS WON

In Egg-Laying Contest at Brandon, Man.

Brandon, Man., July 4.—A pen of ten Anconas owned by W. H. Howe, Winnipeg, led all Canadian pens in the Experimental Farm Egg-Laying Contest here. At the end of the 34th week these birds have laid 1,229 eggs. White Wyandottes owned by G. F. Thompson, Minnedosa, Man., and Thomas Lund, Stonewall, Man., are in third and fourth places, second being held by an Ottawa pen of Barred Rocks owned by J. E. Rhodes, Saskatchewan, Prince Edward Island and Quebec contest have no birds with over 1,000 eggs. There are 162 pens of ten hens each in the seven contests.

AGRICULTURAL CONFERENCE

O. A. C. Meeting Hears of Conditions in Wool.

And the Work of the U. S. Farm Bureaus.

Quebec report: That the price of wool has very little to do with the price of clothing was a principle enunciated by Mr. L. E. O'Neill, Secretary of the Ontario Sheep Breeders' Association, in an address on "The Wool Situation" before the conference of the Agricultural Representatives of the Province, in session at the Agricultural College. Mr. O'Neill's remark came in reply to a question as to the explanation of high-priced clothing in view of the shattered state of the raw wool market, and was the summing up of a lucid explanation of conditions from the standpoint of the co-operative marketing agency.

"During the war the demand was for the coarser grades of wool, with the result that very high prices were secured for the Ontario production," Mr. O'Neill explained. "Now the demand is for the fine grades, and all Ontario wool, from medium combing down, is left untouched. Much of last year's wool of the lower grades is still on the market, and wool houses holding it are unable to realize anything on it. Money is tight, and credit is scarce, and the result is that the big wool houses have quit buying. One of the largest wool houses in Boston is now in the hands of the receivers, while another has offered to liquidate at a loss of over five million dollars. Any buying at present is purely speculative. With us the banks have cut advances no fewer than four times from twenty-five to fifteen cents, and up to the present we have sold only 75,000 pounds of wool. We have had representatives from only two wool houses to see us, and have been able to send out only one bunch of samples."

Mr. O'Neill explained further that the state of the market necessitated close grading, with disadvantage to the seller. Whereas during war-time doubtful wool always got the benefit of the doubt and was graded up; now the same wool is graded down invariably. Illustrating this, he mentioned the fact that a lot of 10,000 pounds left unsold last July from a total output of 200,000 pounds has since been "turned down no fewer than six times on grade, although it is equally as good as the other 190,000-pound lot that sold before it."

FARM BUREAUS GROW

An extremely practical address was given by Mr. L. R. Simons, Assistant County-Agent Leader of Ithaca, N. Y., on departmental organization in the United States. Mr. Simons gave a brief review of the growth of the movement from the

TO SEEK DIVORCE?

Cabled reports indicate that Lady Hadfield (above), wife of Sir Robert Hadfield ((below), the English ironmaster, has taken up her residence in Nevada with the intention of suing for divorce. Lady Hadfield was formerly Frances Wickensham. She was married in 1914.

ANCONAS WON

In Egg-Laying Contest at Brandon, Man.

Brandon, Man., July 4.—A pen of ten Anconas owned by W. H. Howe, Winnipeg, led all Canadian pens in the Experimental Farm Egg-Laying Contest here. At the end of the 34th week these birds have laid 1,229 eggs. White Wyandottes owned by G. F. Thompson, Minnedosa, Man., and Thomas Lund, Stonewall, Man., are in third and fourth places, second being held by an Ottawa pen of Barred Rocks owned by J. E. Rhodes, Saskatchewan, Prince Edward Island and Quebec contest have no birds with over 1,000 eggs. There are 162 pens of ten hens each in the seven contests.

AGRICULTURAL CONFERENCE

O. A. C. Meeting Hears of Conditions in Wool.

GEMS SHOWER UPON BISHOP

Of Zululand, After Appeal in London

To Anglo-Catholics, for Mission Fund.

London, July 4.—Extraordinary scenes were witnessed at Albert Hall, where the Bishop of Zululand presided over the Anglo-Catholic Congress. At his suggestion 72 hours' effort led being made to raise $250,000 for foreign missions, and the response was almost embarrassing in its enthusiasm.

Men and women crowded round the stewards and took rings from their fingers, watches from their wrists and bracelets from their wrists and dropped them into the haversacks that were used as collection bags. Many went up to the platform with large parcels which, when unpacked, were found to contain leather cases in which were turquoise brooches and necklaces, diamonds, and pearl pendant silver salvers and personal jewelry of every description.

The mass of watches, chains, pencil cases and other articles that had been given filled two big tables on the platform at the afternoon session, and by the time the great labor mass meeting opened in the evening, the hall had grown and flowed over to a third table.

An expert valuer was sent for during the afternoon but he found it impossible at first glance to have even a guess at the total value of the collection. It may tentatively be put, however, at several thousand pounds.

RAINS DELIGHT WESTERN FARMERS

Calgary, Alta., July 4.—With 12 to 14 hours' rain in some portions of Alberta and periods extending up to six hours at others, and with every indication of a continuance of the downfall, farmers are most jubilant and a great wave of optimism is sweeping the province. The rain has come at a most opportune time for although crops in many sections were looking most promising there was a growing uneasiness as to the most immediate need of moisture.

The official report issued by the Canadian Pacific Railway is to the effect that there was heavy rain all Sunday night and Monday morning from Red Deer to St. Lucan and McLeod and as far east as Strathmore. Rains have been heavy in the south-east to the Saskatchewan border.

Local experts state that the present moisture is sufficient to carry rye through to harvest; is sufficient for three weeks so far as wheat, oats, barley and flax is concerned.

SMALL HOLDING RISKY.

In speaking of small holdings, Col. Innes claimed that the purchase of these were in most cases too risky a proposition from the standpoint of having the loans repaid. The minimum acreage was fixed at five by the board.

Ex-imperial soldiers, said the speaker, after having passed the qualification board in London, England, where they are required to have sufficient capital to maintain their family while gaining experience here, and two hundred pounds as a deposit, are allowed to buy farms under the board. They must make a 20 per cent. payment on the price of their farm, stock and equipment purchased, however, by the Canadian soldier only pays 10 per cent. down on the price of the real estate.

Keys to the warehouses of the Calgary liquor companies were formally handed to them on Tuesday morning by the Provincial Police, and they will be permitted to ship out goods.

MARKET REPORTS

TORONTO MARKETS

FARMERS MARKET
Dairy
Butter, choice dairy	$ 0.90
Do, creamery	0.85
Margarine	0.27
Eggs, new laid doz.	0.40
Cheese, lb.	0.35
Pressed Poultry
Chickens, Spring, lb.	0.60
Powls, lb.	0.35
Chickens, roasting	0.45
Ducks, Spring, lb.	0.40
Turkeys, lb.	0.25
Live Poultry
Powls, base	0.32
Chickens, lb.	0.32
Roosters, lb.	0.22
Ducks, Spring, lb.	0.45
Fruits
Apples, doz.	0.40
Strawberries, bunch	0.25
Vegetables
Asparagus, 2 bunches	0.25
Beans, new, 2 bunches	0.25
Carrots, new, 2 bunches	0.25
Cabbage, each	0.15
Cucumbers	0.15
Onions, Bermudas, m'sure	0.20
Do, green, bch.	0.05
Potatoes, each	0.10
Do, new, peck	1.00
Parasol, bunch	0.15
Radishes, bunch	0.05
Spinach, peck	0.25
Tomatoes, box	0.25

MEATS

Beef, forequarters, cwt.	19.00	22.00
Do, do, medium	16.50	18.50
Do, hindquarters	20.00	24.00
Do, do, medium	20.00	24.00
Carcasses, choice, cwt.	28.00	28.00
Do, medium	25.00	27.00
Do, common	18.00	20.00
Veal, common, cwt.	14.00	15.00
Do, medium	18.00	20.00
Do, prime	22.00	24.00
Heavy hogs, cwt.	20.00	21.00
Shop hogs, cwt.	25.00	27.00
Assorted hogs, cwt.	22.00	24.00
Mutton, cwt.	14.00	15.00
Lamb, Spring, lb.	0.34	0.36

SUGAR

A JEWEL IN THE ROUGH

"Going to do?" replied Talbot, in astonishment, and looking up from turning the coffee into the coffee-pot, according to Bill's orders. "Why, if we collect together all the stores we want, and go back to the diggings this afternoon, we shall have about enough to do."

"Oh, I meant about the girl."

"What girl?" queried Talbot, now standing still and staring Stephen in the face.

"The girl you danced with last night—the saloonkeeper's daughter, Katrine Poniatovsky—do you want any more identification?" returned Stephen, sarcastically, opening his heavy lids a little wider.

"Well, what about her?" returned Talbot, looking at him expectantly.

"Oh, well, I don't know. I thought perhaps we wouldn't go back to-day, that's all," answered Stephen, rather sheepishly.

To his sympathetic, impulsive nature, open to every new impression, easily distracted like the butterfly which may be caught by the tint of any chance flower in its path, the incident of last night was much. To Talbot, self-concentrated, determined, and absorbed, it was nothing. He looked at his friend now with something like contempt.

"She's so handsome, and dances so well," Stephen went on, hurriedly, feeling foolish and uncomfortable before the other's gaze.

"I did not come here to dance with girls," remarked Talbot, shortly, going over to the stove; and the entry of the other men at that moment stopped the conversation.

They had breakfast together at the rough wooden table in the centre of the room. The coffee was the redeeming feature of the meal—from that bright brown stream of boiling liquid the men seemed to gain new life; they watched it lovingly, expectantly, as Bill poured it out into their thick cups.

The moment the meal was over, Talbot crushed his hat on to his eyes, but before he left the cabin he glanced at Stephen, who was standing irresolutely by the stove.

"I shall get all I want," he said, "and be back here by two at the latest. If you're here then, we can start up together; if not I shall go ahead"; and he went out.

Stephen lingered by the stove, then he and Bill drifted into a discussion over some of the latest discoveries of gold in Colorado, and they both fell to wondering how much more had been found since their last news, seven months old; and they had a pipe together, and then Bill thought he'd drop down to the Pistol Shot, and Stephen crushed on his fur cap as determinedly had Talbot had done, and went out — to Katrine's number in Good Luck Row.

CHAPTER II.
Talbot made his start back to the cabin later than he intended; he had knocked at Winter's cabin before the occupants were out, and there had been no response, and already the

It was afternoon, and already the Women of Canada Who Testify

Tillsonburg, Ont.—"Ever since I can remember, Dr. Pierce's medicine was used in our family at home and they never failed to give good results. The Golden Medical Discovery was used as a tonic and blood purifier and for bronchial trouble, and it proved itself to be personally taken Golden Medical Discovery for bronchial trouble, and the 'Favorite Prescription' to build me up when I was run-down and they both were very beneficial. Mother always used Dr. Pierce's Compound Extract of Smart-Weed for pain; it also was very good. I feel safe in recommending all of Dr. Pierce's medicines knowing them to be good."—MRS. CLIFF FORD MITCHELL.

Central Butte, Sask.—"I have used Dr. Pierce's Medical Discovery for a number of years and am pleased to recommend it as a blood purifier. I know it has no equal, as I used it for my boy for tuberculosis of the knee joint. My neighbors and friends were surprised with the results; in fact, I do not think he would be alive today had it not been for the 'Medical Discovery.' I also keep it on hand for coughs as it differs from other cough medicines, instead of upsetting the stomach as most cough syrups do it is good for the stomach. I only wish I had known about Dr. Pierce's medicines sooner."—MRS. PERCY WOOD.

When you take Golden Medical Discovery, you are getting the benefit of the experience of a doctor whose reputation goes all around the earth. Still more, you get a temperance medicine that contains not a drop of alcohol or narcotic of any kind. Long ago Dr. Pierce combined certain valuable vegetable ingredients—without the use of alcohol—so that his remedies always have been strictly temperance medicines.

run-down and they both were very beneficial. Mother always used Dr. Pierce's Compound Extract of Smart-Weed for pain; it also was very good. I feel safe in recommending all of Dr. Pierce's medicines knowing them to be good."—MRS. CLIFF FORD MITCHELL.

Central Butte, Sask.—"I have used Dr. Pierce's Medical Discovery for a number of years and am pleased to recommend it as a blood purifier. I know it has no equal, as I used it for my boy for tuberculosis of the knee joint. My neighbors and friends were surprised with the results; in fact, I do not think he would be alive today had it not been for the 'Medical Discovery.' I also keep it on hand for coughs as it differs from other cough medicines, instead of upsetting the stomach as most cough syrups do it is good for the stomach. I only wish I had known about Dr. Pierce's medicines sooner."—MRS. PERCY WOOD.

When you take Golden Medical Discovery, you are getting the benefit of the experience of a doctor whose reputation goes all around the earth. Still more, you get a temperance medicine that contains not a drop of alcohol or narcotic of any kind. Long ago Dr. Pierce combined certain valuable vegetable ingredients—without the use of alcohol—so that his remedies always have been strictly temperance medicines.

run-down and they both were very beneficial. Mother always used Dr. Pierce's Compound Extract of Smart-Weed for pain; it also was very good. I feel safe in recommending all of Dr. Pierce's medicines knowing them to be good."—MRS. CLIFF FORD MITCHELL.

Central Butte, Sask.—"I have used Dr. Pierce's Medical Discovery for a number of years and am pleased to recommend it as a blood purifier. I know it has no equal, as I used it for my boy for tuberculosis of the knee joint. My neighbors and friends were surprised with the results; in fact, I do not think he would be alive today had it not been for the 'Medical Discovery.' I also keep it on hand for coughs as it differs from other cough medicines, instead of upsetting the stomach as most cough syrups do it is good for the stomach. I only wish I had known about Dr. Pierce's medicines sooner."—MRS. PERCY WOOD.

When you take Golden Medical Discovery, you are getting the benefit of the experience of a doctor whose reputation goes all around the earth. Still more, you get a temperance medicine that contains not a drop of alcohol or narcotic of any kind. Long ago Dr. Pierce combined certain valuable vegetable ingredients—without the use of alcohol—so that his remedies always have been strictly temperance medicines.

uncompromising cold of evening had entered into the air—the sky was gray everywhere, and dark, almost black, in front of him; it seemed to hang low, frowning, and ominous over the desolate snowy-white that stretched before him; there was no snow falling yet—only the threat of it written in the black and dreary sky that faced him. His cheeks and chin felt stiff and frozen already, as if a thin mask of ice was drawn over them, and his eyes were sore and tired from the continuous glare of the snow. The little pony beside him plodded along the path patiently, and his master at intervals drew a hand from a comfortable pocket to lay it comfortably on his neck, at which familiar caress the pony would throw up his head and step out faster for some paces. Talbot felt sorry for the little beast halting along under his heavy though carefully packed burden of stores, cans of oil, leaves, and every sort of miscellaneous provisions, and would have spoken cheerfully to it, but his lips felt too stiff and painful to form the words, and so man and brute toiled along in silence over the trail under the angry sky. As he walked, Talbot's thoughts went back involuntarily to the picture of Stephen sitting smoking by the stove in the snug interior of Bill Winter's cabin; he felt instinctively, as sure as if he had seen it, that he would see it through the afternoon, and by evening he would be finding his way down to the nearest saloon, and pass the hours there with Katrine; and he compared him vaguely with himself, tired with tramping through the town from store to store, half frozen while he stood to pack the pony, and now laboring up along to his cabin in the gulch.

He wondered dimly whether it would turn out that he should ever realize a reward for his toil, whether he should live to get out of this icy corner of the world, or whether he should die and rot here, caught in this great snow-trap, in this open grave, where the living were buried. He wondered a little, but his mind was not inclined to abstract thought. He spent very little time in retrospection, reflection and contemplation, very little time in thinking of any sort, and on this account possessed so great a stock of energy for acting. Each human being has only a certain amount of energy supplied him with which to do the work of his life. Thinking, speaking and acting are all portions of his energy, and whatever of his energy he consumes in anyone, so much the less has he for the others. Thinking, the formation of ideas, is hard work; and acting, the carrying out of ideas, is hard work. It is false to suppose that the first two are natural, instinctive, involuntary movements of the brain and that only the last requires effort.

And as he walked now he thought very little, except in a resigned way, of the physical discomfort he was enduring, and of the time when he should reach his cabin. Dust had already fallen before he came to the gulch, and he had to strain his eyes to find the narrow trail which descended the side of the gorge. His log cabin, carefully and solidly constructed, stood half-way down the northern slope of the gulch, on a sort of natural platform formed by the vagaries of the now narrowed stream in its younger and wilder days. Beneath the cabin stretched his claim, five hundred feet of dry soil on the slope of the hill, one hundred feet this side of the stream and fairly in the creek, and one hundred feet on the further side, a stretch of seven hundred feet in all—and of a quality that made it at that time the richest claim for fifty miles around. Shafts, reaching down to bed rock, were sunk all over it, and great mountains of frozen gravel beside them showed how untiringly they had worked. In addition to these, the man's native energy had prompted him to drive a tunnel horizontally for some distance into the side of the hill that rose steeply behind the cabin. The tunnel pierced the hill for one hundred feet, and at the end a shaft had been sunk to bed rock, and it was from here at present that the highest grade ore was coming. Moved by an instinct to protect what he intuitively felt would be his richest possession. Talbot had built his tunnel in one solid block with the cabin, and closed its outer end with a huge door, well provided with bars and bolts. So long as this door was successfully held, no claimer could penetrate into the tunnel or reach the shaft at the end. By this means, too, a double protection was afforded the living cabin, though of this he thought comparatively little, for the face of the cabin presented nothing but its one small window and this huge solid door. Upon opening this, you found yourself in the tunnel; if you kept straight on, you reached the shaft; if you entered the small door upon your left hand, you found yourself in the interior of the living cabin.

The gulch ran east and west, and at sunset at some times in the year a red light from the dying sun would fall into it, like a tongue of flame, and the whole gulch would seem on fire. At such moments Talbot would cease his work and stand looking up the gorge, with the red light falling on his face and banishing its care-worn pallor. No one knew what he was thinking of in those moments—whether he was watching the Italian or Egyptian skies that had been so fair, or whether for a moment some vanished face seemed to look at him from out those brilliant hues, or if merely the sheets of gold that spread above the gulch brought visions of that wealth he was giving his best years to attain. No one who met him knew much about him except that he was an Englishman, had travelled much, and experienced many different forms of life, and finally had come to the Klondike. But why this last? He was believed to have been rich before he came. Was it merely to increase his wealth, or was there some other reason? Was there any one awaiting his return? There were several portraits in his cabin of soft and lovely faces, but then the number was confusing, and the most curious of the men who worked under him could not come to any satisfying conclusion. All they knew was that he worked harder than any common miner, that his reserve was unbroken, and his life one continual struggle to increase his wealth, and by them all he was respected and feared rather than liked. There was a chilling reserve wrapped about him, an utter absence of ingenuousness and frankness of character, that prevented any affection growing up among the men for their master, and his attitude toward them was summed up in the answer he gave to an acquaintance who once asked him how Talbot had raised his dark, marked eyebrows and merely said, coldly, "I don't make friends of miners."

(To be continued.)

Warts Disfigure the Hands.
But can be painlessly removed in twenty-four hours by the use of Putnam's Wart and Corn Extract. Fifty years in use and still the best. Insist on getting "Putnam's" Extract, 25c, at all dealers.

Arabian Hides Gradé Well.
Arabian skins coming into the world markets through Egypt, and the Sudan originate exclusively in Hedda and places in the vicinity of Mecca. They embrace cattle hides, sheep skins, goat skins and camel hides, and are generally dry salted. Arabian hides are limited in quantity; the quality, however, is excellent.

Why Rivers Outlive Lakes.
It has recently been explained why lakes are rare in countries the surface of which have undergone no sudden changes for an immense period of time. This is because the gradual effects of atmospheric agencies and the power of water to carry solid matter from elevated places and deposit it in depressed places tend to reduce the land to a general level and to fill up the basins of the lakes.

Thus in the southern United States lakes are rare, while in the northern part of the country they abound.

Minard's Liniment Co., Limited.
Gents—I relieved a valuable hunting dog of mange with MINARD'S LINIMENT after several veterinaries had treated him without doing him any permanent good.
Yours, etc,
WILFRID GAGNE.
Prop. of Grand Central Hotel,
Drummondville, Aug. 2, '04.

time in thinking of any sort, and on this account possessed so great a stock of energy for acting. Each human being has only a certain amount of energy supplied him with which to do the work of his life. Thinking, speaking and acting are all portions of his energy, and whatever of his energy he consumes in anyone, so much the less has he for the others. Thinking, the formation of ideas, is hard work; and acting, the carrying out of ideas, is hard work. It is false to suppose that the first two are natural, instinctive, involuntary movements of the brain and that only the last requires effort.

And as he walked now he thought very little, except in a resigned way, of the physical discomfort he was enduring, and of the time when he should reach his cabin. Dust had already fallen before he came to the gulch, and he had to strain his eyes to find the narrow trail which descended the side of the gorge. His log cabin, carefully and solidly constructed, stood half-way down the northern slope of the gulch, on a sort of natural platform formed by the vagaries of the now narrowed stream in its younger and wilder days. Beneath the cabin stretched his claim, five hundred feet of dry soil on the slope of the hill, one hundred feet this side of the stream and fairly in the creek, and one hundred feet on the further side, a stretch of seven hundred feet in all—and of a quality that made it at that time the richest claim for fifty miles around. Shafts, reaching down to bed rock, were sunk all over it, and great mountains of frozen gravel beside them showed how untiringly they had worked. In addition to these, the man's native energy had prompted him to drive a tunnel horizontally for some distance into the side of the hill that rose steeply behind the cabin. The tunnel pierced the hill for one hundred feet, and at the end a shaft had been sunk to bed rock, and it was from here at present that the highest grade ore was coming. Moved by an instinct to protect what he intuitively felt would be his richest possession. Talbot had built his tunnel in one solid block with the cabin, and closed its outer end with a huge door, well provided with bars and bolts. So long as this door was successfully held, no claimer could penetrate into the tunnel or reach the shaft at the end. By this means, too, a double protection was afforded the living cabin, though of this he thought comparatively little, for the face of the cabin presented nothing but its one small window and this huge solid door. Upon opening this, you found yourself in the tunnel; if you kept straight on, you reached the shaft; if you entered the small door upon your left hand, you found yourself in the interior of the living cabin.

The gulch ran east and west, and at sunset at some times in the year a red light from the dying sun would fall into it, like a tongue of flame, and the whole gulch would seem on fire. At such moments Talbot would cease his work and stand looking up the gorge, with the red light falling on his face and banishing its care-worn pallor. No one knew what he was thinking of in those moments—whether he was watching the Italian or Egyptian skies that had been so fair, or whether for a moment some vanished face seemed to look at him from out those brilliant hues, or if merely the sheets of gold that spread above the gulch brought visions of that wealth he was giving his best years to attain. No one who met him knew much about him except that he was an Englishman, had travelled much, and experienced many different forms of life, and finally had come to the Klondike. But why this last? He was believed to have been rich before he came. Was it merely to increase his wealth, or was there some other reason? Was there any one awaiting his return? There were several portraits in his cabin of soft and lovely faces, but then the number was confusing, and the most curious of the men who worked under him could not come to any satisfying conclusion. All they knew was that he worked harder than any common miner, that his reserve was unbroken, and his life one continual struggle to increase his wealth, and by them all he was respected and feared rather than liked. There was a chilling reserve wrapped about him, an utter absence of ingenuousness and frankness of character, that prevented any affection growing up among the men for their master, and his attitude toward them was summed up in the answer he gave to an acquaintance who once asked him how Talbot had raised his dark, marked eyebrows and merely said, coldly, "I don't make friends of miners."

(To be continued.)

Warts Disfigure the Hands.
But can be painlessly removed in twenty-four hours by the use of Putnam's Wart and Corn Extract. Fifty years in use and still the best. Insist on getting "Putnam's" Extract, 25c, at all dealers.

Arabian Hides Gradé Well.
Arabian skins coming into the world markets through Egypt, and the Sudan originate exclusively in Hedda and places in the vicinity of Mecca. They embrace cattle hides, sheep skins, goat skins and camel hides, and are generally dry salted. Arabian hides are limited in quantity; the quality, however, is excellent.

Why Rivers Outlive Lakes.
It has recently been explained why lakes are rare in countries the surface of which have undergone no sudden changes for an immense period of time. This is because the gradual effects of atmospheric agencies and the power of water to carry solid matter from elevated places and deposit it in depressed places tend to reduce the land to a general level and to fill up the basins of the lakes.

Thus in the southern United States lakes are rare, while in the northern part of the country they abound.

Minard's Liniment Co., Limited.
Gents—I relieved a valuable hunting dog of mange with MINARD'S LINIMENT after several veterinaries had treated him without doing him any permanent good.
Yours, etc,
WILFRID GAGNE.
Prop. of Grand Central Hotel,
Drummondville, Aug. 2, '04.

time in thinking of any sort, and on this account possessed so great a stock of energy for acting. Each human being has only a certain amount of energy supplied him with which to do the work of his life. Thinking, speaking and acting are all portions of his energy, and whatever of his energy he consumes in anyone, so much the less has he for the others. Thinking, the formation of ideas, is hard work; and acting, the carrying out of ideas, is hard work. It is false to suppose that the first two are natural, instinctive, involuntary movements of the brain and that only the last requires effort.

And as he walked now he thought very little, except in a resigned way, of the physical discomfort he was enduring, and of the time when he should reach his cabin. Dust had already fallen before he came to the gulch, and he had to strain his eyes to find the narrow trail which descended the side of the gorge. His log cabin, carefully and solidly constructed, stood half-way down the northern slope of the gulch, on a sort of natural platform formed by the vagaries of the now narrowed stream in its younger and wilder days. Beneath the cabin stretched his claim, five hundred feet of dry soil on the slope of the hill, one hundred feet this side of the stream and fairly in the creek, and one hundred feet on the further side, a stretch of seven hundred feet in all—and of a quality that made it at that time the richest claim for fifty miles around. Shafts, reaching down to bed rock, were sunk all over it, and great mountains of frozen gravel beside them showed how untiringly they had worked. In addition to these, the man's native energy had prompted him to drive a tunnel horizontally for some distance into the side of the hill that rose steeply behind the cabin. The tunnel pierced the hill for one hundred feet, and at the end a shaft had been sunk to bed rock, and it was from here at present that the highest grade ore was coming. Moved by an instinct to protect what he intuitively felt would be his richest possession. Talbot had built his tunnel in one solid block with the cabin, and closed its outer end with a huge door, well provided with bars and bolts. So long as this door was successfully held, no claimer could penetrate into the tunnel or reach the shaft at the end. By this means, too, a double protection was afforded the living cabin, though of this he thought comparatively little, for the face of the cabin presented nothing but its one small window and this huge solid door. Upon opening this, you found yourself in the tunnel; if you kept straight on, you reached the shaft; if you entered the small door upon your left hand, you found yourself in the interior of the living cabin.

The gulch ran east and west, and at sunset at some times in the year a red light from the dying sun would fall into it, like a tongue of flame, and the whole gulch would seem on fire. At such moments Talbot would cease his work and stand looking up the gorge, with the red light falling on his face and banishing its care-worn pallor. No one knew what he was thinking of in those moments—whether he was watching the Italian or Egyptian skies that had been so fair, or whether for a moment some vanished face seemed to look at him from out those brilliant hues, or if merely the sheets of gold that spread above the gulch brought visions of that wealth he was giving his best years to attain. No one who met him knew much about him except that he was an Englishman, had travelled much, and experienced many different forms of life, and finally had come to the Klondike. But why this last? He was believed to have been rich before he came. Was it merely to increase his wealth, or was there some other reason? Was there any one awaiting his return? There were several portraits in his cabin of soft and lovely faces, but then the number was confusing, and the most curious of the men who worked under him could not come to any satisfying conclusion. All they knew was that he worked harder than any common miner, that his reserve was unbroken, and his life one continual struggle to increase his wealth, and by them all he was respected and feared rather than liked. There was a chilling reserve wrapped about him, an utter absence of ingenuousness and frankness of character, that prevented any affection growing up among the men for their master, and his attitude toward them was summed up in the answer he gave to an acquaintance who once asked him how Talbot had raised his dark, marked eyebrows and merely said, coldly, "I don't make friends of miners."

ROYAL YEAST CAKES

are now packed in square packages. Each package contains five cakes, which are equal in quantity to six round cakes. All dealers are authorized to guarantee that the quality of the round and square cakes are identical in every respect.

his richest possession. Talbot had built his tunnel in one solid block with the cabin, and closed its outer end with a huge door, well provided with bars and bolts. So long as this door was successfully held, no claimer could penetrate into the tunnel or reach the shaft at the end. By this means, too, a double protection was afforded the living cabin, though of this he thought comparatively little, for the face of the cabin presented nothing but its one small window and this huge solid door. Upon opening this, you found yourself in the tunnel; if you kept straight on, you reached the shaft; if you entered the small door upon your left hand, you found yourself in the interior of the living cabin.

The gulch ran east and west, and at sunset at some times in the year a red light from the dying sun would fall into it, like a tongue of flame, and the whole gulch would seem on fire. At such moments Talbot would cease his work and stand looking up the gorge, with the red light falling on his face and banishing its care-worn pallor. No one knew what he was thinking of in those moments—whether he was watching the Italian or Egyptian skies that had been so fair, or whether for a moment some vanished face seemed to look at him from out those brilliant hues, or if merely the sheets of gold that spread above the gulch brought visions of that wealth he was giving his best years to attain. No one who met him knew much about him except that he was an Englishman, had travelled much, and experienced many different forms of life, and finally had come to the Klondike. But why this last? He was believed to have been rich before he came. Was it merely to increase his wealth, or was there some other reason? Was there any one awaiting his return? There were several portraits in his cabin of soft and lovely faces, but then the number was confusing, and the most curious of the men who worked under him could not come to any satisfying conclusion. All they knew was that he worked harder than any common miner, that his reserve was unbroken, and his life one continual struggle to increase his wealth, and by them all he was respected and feared rather than liked. There was a chilling reserve wrapped about him, an utter absence of ingenuousness and frankness of character, that prevented any affection growing up among the men for their master, and his attitude toward them was summed up in the answer he gave to an acquaintance who once asked him how Talbot had raised his dark, marked eyebrows and merely said, coldly, "I don't make friends of miners."

(To be continued.)

Warts Disfigure the Hands.
But can be painlessly removed in twenty-four hours by the use of Putnam's Wart and Corn Extract. Fifty years in use and still the best. Insist on getting "Putnam's" Extract, 25c, at all dealers.

Arabian Hides Gradé Well.
Arabian skins coming into the world markets through Egypt, and the Sudan originate exclusively in Hedda and places in the vicinity of Mecca. They embrace cattle hides, sheep skins, goat skins and camel hides, and are generally dry salted. Arabian hides are limited in quantity; the quality, however, is excellent.

Why Rivers Outlive Lakes.
It has recently been explained why lakes are rare in countries the surface of which have undergone no sudden changes for an immense period of time. This is because the gradual effects of atmospheric agencies and the power of water to carry solid matter from elevated places and deposit it in depressed places tend to reduce the land to a general level and to fill up the basins of the lakes.

Thus in the southern United States lakes are rare, while in the northern part of the country they abound.

Minard's Liniment Co., Limited.
Gents—I relieved a valuable hunting dog of mange with MINARD'S LINIMENT after several veterinaries had treated him without doing him any permanent good.
Yours, etc,
WILFRID GAGNE.
Prop. of Grand Central Hotel,
Drummondville, Aug. 2, '04.

time in thinking of any sort, and on this account possessed so great a stock of energy for acting. Each human being has only a certain amount of energy supplied him with which to do the work of his life. Thinking, speaking and acting are all portions of his energy, and whatever of his energy he consumes in anyone, so much the less has he for the others. Thinking, the formation of ideas, is hard work; and acting, the carrying out of ideas, is hard work. It is false to suppose that the first two are natural, instinctive, involuntary movements of the brain and that only the last requires effort.

And as he walked now he thought very little, except in a resigned way, of the physical discomfort he was enduring, and of the time when he should reach his cabin. Dust had already fallen before he came to the gulch, and he had to strain his eyes to find the narrow trail which descended the side of the gorge. His log cabin, carefully and solidly constructed, stood half-way down the northern slope of the gulch, on a sort of natural platform formed by the vagaries of the now narrowed stream in its younger and wilder days. Beneath the cabin stretched his claim, five hundred feet of dry soil on the slope of the hill, one hundred feet this side of the stream and fairly in the creek, and one hundred feet on the further side, a stretch of seven hundred feet in all—and of a quality that made it at that time the richest claim for fifty miles around. Shafts, reaching down to bed rock, were sunk all over it, and great mountains of frozen gravel beside them showed how untiringly they had worked. In addition to these, the man's native energy had prompted him to drive a tunnel horizontally for some distance into the side of the hill that rose steeply behind the cabin. The tunnel pierced the hill for one hundred feet, and at the end a shaft had been sunk to bed rock, and it was from here at present that the highest grade ore was coming. Moved by an instinct to protect what he intuitively felt would be his richest possession. Talbot had built his tunnel in one solid block with the cabin, and closed its outer end with a huge door, well provided with bars and bolts. So long as this door was successfully held, no claimer could penetrate into the tunnel or reach the shaft at the end. By this means, too, a double protection was afforded the living cabin, though of this he thought comparatively little, for the face of the cabin presented nothing but its one small window and this huge solid door. Upon opening this, you found yourself in the tunnel; if you kept straight on, you reached the shaft; if you entered the small door upon your left hand, you found yourself in the interior of the living cabin.

The gulch ran east and west, and at sunset at some times in the year a red light from the dying sun would fall into it, like a tongue of flame, and the whole gulch would seem on fire. At such moments Talbot would cease his work and stand looking up the gorge, with the red light falling on his face and banishing its care-worn pallor. No one knew what he was thinking of in those moments—whether he was watching the Italian or Egyptian skies that had been so fair, or whether for a moment some vanished face seemed to look at him from out those brilliant hues, or if merely the sheets of gold that spread above the gulch brought visions of that wealth he was giving his best years to attain. No one who met him knew much about him except that he was an Englishman, had travelled much, and experienced many different forms of life, and finally had come to the Klondike. But why this last? He was believed to have been rich before he came. Was it merely to increase his wealth, or was there some other reason? Was there any one awaiting his return? There were several portraits in his cabin of soft and lovely faces, but then the number was confusing, and the most curious of the men who worked under him could not come to any satisfying conclusion. All they knew was that he worked harder than any common miner, that his reserve was unbroken, and his life one continual struggle to increase his wealth, and by them all he was respected and feared rather than liked. There was a chilling reserve wrapped about him, an utter absence of ingenuousness and frankness of character, that prevented any affection growing up among the men for their master, and his attitude toward them was summed up in the answer he gave to an acquaintance who once asked him how Talbot had raised his dark, marked eyebrows and merely said, coldly, "I don't make friends of miners."

(To be continued.)

Warts Disfigure the Hands.
But can be painlessly removed in twenty-four hours by the use of Putnam's Wart and Corn Extract. Fifty years in use and still the best. Insist on getting "Putnam's" Extract, 25c, at all dealers.

Arabian Hides Gradé Well.
Arabian skins coming into the world markets through Egypt, and the Sudan originate exclusively in Hedda and places in the vicinity of Mecca. They embrace cattle hides, sheep skins, goat skins and camel hides, and are generally dry salted. Arabian hides are limited in quantity; the quality, however, is excellent.

Why Rivers Outlive Lakes.
It has recently been explained why lakes are rare in countries the surface of which have undergone no sudden changes for an immense period of time. This is because the gradual effects of atmospheric agencies and the power of water to carry solid matter from elevated places and deposit it in depressed places tend to reduce the land to a general level and to fill up the basins of the lakes.

Thus in the southern United States lakes are rare, while in the northern part of the country they abound.

Minard's Liniment Co., Limited.
Gents—I relieved a valuable hunting dog of mange with MINARD'S LINIMENT after several veterinaries had treated him without doing him any permanent good.
Yours, etc,
WILFRID GAGNE.
Prop. of Grand Central Hotel,
Drummondville, Aug. 2, '04.

time in thinking of any sort, and on this account possessed so great a stock of energy for acting. Each human being has only a certain amount of energy supplied him with which to do the work of his life. Thinking, speaking and acting are all portions of his energy, and whatever of his energy he consumes in anyone, so much the less has he for the others. Thinking, the formation of ideas, is hard work; and acting, the carrying out of ideas, is hard work. It is false to suppose that the first two are natural, instinctive, involuntary movements of the brain and that only the last requires effort.

And as he walked now he thought very little, except in a resigned way, of the physical discomfort he was enduring, and of the time when he should reach his cabin. Dust had already fallen before he came to the gulch, and he had to strain his eyes to find the narrow trail which descended the side of the gorge. His log cabin, carefully and solidly constructed, stood half-way down the northern slope of the gulch, on a sort of natural platform formed by the vagaries of the now narrowed stream in its younger and wilder days. Beneath the cabin stretched his claim, five hundred feet of dry soil on the slope of the hill, one hundred feet this side of the stream and fairly in the creek, and one hundred feet on the further side, a stretch of seven hundred feet in all—and of a quality that made it at that time the richest claim for fifty miles around. Shafts, reaching down to bed rock, were sunk all over it, and great mountains of frozen gravel beside them showed how untiringly they had worked. In addition to these, the man's native energy had prompted him to drive a tunnel horizontally for some distance into the side of the hill that rose steeply behind the cabin. The tunnel pierced the hill for one hundred feet, and at the end a shaft had been sunk to bed rock, and it was from here at present that the highest grade ore was coming. Moved by an instinct to protect what he intuitively felt would be his richest possession. Talbot had built his tunnel in one solid block with the cabin, and closed its outer end with a huge door, well provided with bars and bolts. So long as this door was successfully held, no claimer could penetrate into the tunnel or reach the shaft at the end. By this means, too, a double protection was afforded the living cabin, though of this he thought comparatively little, for the face of the cabin presented nothing but its one small window and this huge solid door. Upon opening this, you found yourself in the tunnel; if you kept straight on, you reached the shaft; if you entered the small door upon your left hand, you found yourself in the interior of the living cabin.

The gulch ran east and west, and at sunset at some times in the year a red light from the dying sun would fall into it, like a tongue of flame, and the whole gulch would seem on fire. At such moments Talbot would cease his work and stand looking up the gorge, with the red light falling on his face and banishing its care-worn pallor. No one knew what he was thinking of in those moments—whether he was watching the Italian or Egyptian skies that had been so fair, or whether for a moment some vanished face seemed to look at him from out those brilliant hues, or if merely the sheets of gold that spread above the gulch brought visions of that wealth he was giving his best years to attain. No one who met him knew much about him except that he was an Englishman, had travelled much, and experienced many different forms of life, and finally had come to the Klondike. But why this last? He was believed to have been rich before he came. Was it merely to increase his wealth, or was there some other reason? Was there any one awaiting his return? There were several portraits in his cabin of soft and lovely faces, but then the number was confusing, and the most curious of the men who worked under him could not come to any satisfying conclusion. All they knew was that he worked harder than any common miner, that his reserve was unbroken, and his life one continual struggle to increase his wealth, and by them all he was respected and feared rather than liked. There was a chilling reserve wrapped about him, an utter absence of ingenuousness and frankness of character, that prevented any affection growing up among the men for their master, and his attitude toward them was summed up in the answer he gave to an acquaintance who once asked him how Talbot had raised his dark, marked eyebrows and merely said, coldly, "I don't make friends of miners."

(To be continued.)

Warts Disfigure the Hands.
But can be painlessly removed in twenty-four hours by the use of Putnam's Wart and Corn Extract. Fifty years in use and still the best. Insist on getting "Putnam's" Extract, 25c, at all dealers.

Arabian Hides Gradé Well.
Arabian skins coming into the world markets through Egypt, and the Sudan originate exclusively in Hedda and places in the vicinity of Mecca. They embrace cattle hides, sheep skins, goat skins and camel hides, and are generally dry salted. Arabian hides are limited in quantity; the quality, however, is excellent.

Desserts That Hold Flavor

Desserts of the English plum pudding type are general favorites. Perhaps one reason for their popularity is their good keeping quality. A plum pudding will keep for weeks and can be heated up for serving whenever desired. With a little hot pudding or two on the pantry shelf Mrs. Housewife will find herself ready for unasked and unexpected guests or strays who "happen in." Here follow recipes for two such puddings that are especially delicious.

CARROT AND SUEP PUDDING.
One cupful beet suet chopped fine, one cupful grated carrots, one-half cupful chopped citron, one cupful chopped dates, one cupful beef suet (cut very fine), one cupful milk (scalded), one-half cupful molasses, one-half cupful brown sugar, two cupfuls sifted flour, one-half cupful raisins, one-half cupful suet, one-half cupful molasses.

Place in a well-greased pan or pudding mould and steam four hours.

SUEP PUDDING.
One cupful molasses, one-quarter cupful brown sugar, one cupful raisins, one cupful currants or one-half cupful chopped citron and one-half cupful chopped dates, one cupful beef suet (cut very fine), one cupful milk (scalded), one-half cupful molasses, one-half cupful brown sugar, two cupfuls sifted flour, one-half cupful raisins, one-half cupful suet, one-half cupful molasses.

Place in a well-greased pan or pudding mould and steam four hours.

FOAMY SAUCE.
One-quarter cupful butter, one egg, one cupful powdered sugar.

Beat the butter, add sugar gradually and well-beaten eggs, mix thoroughly, water, stirring constantly. Flavor with vanilla or lemon juice and a little grated rind of lemon.

HOW TO OVERCOME NERVOUS TROUBLES

A Returned Soldier Tells How He Regained Health and Strength.

Nervous troubles of all kinds, particularly nervous debility, work a remarkable

QUEEN MARY'S OFFICIAL PHOTOGRAPH

The "official" portrait of Queen Mary of England, made recently by a court photographer and selected by Her Majesty.

Taking Stock

It is just as important to take an inventory of one's self as it is of one's business. Ask yourself this question "If during the next five years I save the same amount I already have put by, how much will I be worth in 1925?" Then let our Savings Department aid you in accomplishing the task.

THE STANDARD BANK OF CANADA
Capital, Surplus and Undivided Profits $4,349,537.00.

ATHENS BRANCH
W. A. Johnson - Manager

The Athens Reporter

ISSUED WEEKLY
SUBSCRIPTION RATES
$1.50 per year strictly in advance to any address in Canada; $2.00 when not so paid. United States subscriptions $2.00 per year in advance; $2.50 when charged.
ADVERTISING RATES
Legal and Government Notices—10 cents per nonpareil line (12 lines to the inch) for first insertion and 5 cents per line for each subsequent insertion.
Yearly Cards—Professional cards, $9.00 per year.
Local Readers—10 cents per line for first insertion and 5 cents per line subsequent.
Black Type Readers—15 cents per line for first insertion and 7 1/2 cents per line per subsequent insertion.
Small Advs.—Condensed advts such as: Lost, Found, Strayed, To Rent, For Sale, etc., 1 cent per word per insertion, with a minimum of 25 cents per insertion.
Auction Sales—40 cents per inch for first insertion and 20 cents per inch for each subsequent insertion.
Cards of Thanks and In Memoriam—50c
Obituary Poetry—10 cents per line.
Commercial Display Advertising—Rates on application at Office of publication.

William H. Morris, Editor and Proprietor

THURSDAY, JULY 15, 1920

Toledo

Among those who attended the funeral of the late Mrs. William Smith, in Athens on Saturday, were Mr. Hiram Nichol, Mr. William Hull, Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Stinson, and Mr. and Mrs. Mirza Nichol.

Mr. James Heffernan, of Brockville, spent the week-end at his home.

Mr. Fred. Gray, of Rockspring, spent a couple of days last week visiting Toledo relatives.

Mr. G. Sutherland, of Montreal, is spending the week-end visiting at Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Gray's.

Quite a few sympathizing friends from Toledo and vicinity attended the funeral in Frankville on Friday of the late Mrs. R. Kibborn, of Kingston, formerly Miss Lena Dunham, of this place, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Dunham, of Hard Island; also a large group of people met the body at place of interment in Toledo cemetery to show their last respects to the deceased.

Among the visitors to Smiths Falls from this section on Thursday were Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Phillips, Mrs. O. Mott, Mr. M. D. Marshall, Mrs. M. McClure and daughter, Miss Jean.

Mr. Patrick McNamee and daughter, Miss Mary, were Athens visitors on Thursday last.

The Kitley Rural Telephone Co. has undertaken the construction of a branch line in Elmsley for a new company there, not yet officially authorized as such. Messrs. C. A. Wood, C. Eaton, E. Challis and L. DeWolfe have the work pretty well under way, a good many miles having been already wired.

Mrs. Sam. Lewis, of Smiths Falls, spent Sunday with her brother, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Seymour.

Mrs. Sharkey is seriously ill at present.

Cards of Thanks

Mr. William Barclay wishes to thank all friends and neighbors for kindness shown during illness and death of his wife.

ATHENS Rural School Fair

On S. A. Coon's Farm
ATHENS

Wednes. Sept. 8th
1920

PUPILS' SCHOOL FAIR COMMITTEE
President.....JOHN GILROY, Glen Buell
Vice-President...KENNETH HALL, Rockspring
Secretary.....BRYCE SHEFFIELD, Athens
Treasurer.....SAM. KING, Addison
Directors—Herbert Heffernan, Sadie Hayes, Helen Morris, Walter Scott.
TRUSTEE COMMITTEE
Ed. J. Billings, Fred. Olds, R. M. Breese, J. Rowsome, T. D. Spence, Burton Hayes, Johnson Morris, C. Hudson, W. J. Scott

ADMISSION FREE
Everybody Welcome

PRIZE LIST

- Class 1—Oats (O.A.C. No. 72)
1. Sheaf Exhibit, 3 inches in diameter, selected from plot. 5 prizes—40c, 30c, 25c, ribbons.
2. Grain Exhibit from yield of plot (1 peck). 5 prizes—40c, 30c, 25c, ribbons.
Class 2—Barley (O.A.C. No. 21)
1. Sheaf Exhibit, 3 inches in diameter, selected from plot. 5 prizes—40c, 30c, 25c, ribbons.
2. One Gallon Grain grown on plot. 5 prizes—40c, 30c, 25c, ribbons.
Class 3—Wheat (Marquis)
1. Sheaf Exhibit, 3 inches in diameter, selected from plot. 5 prizes—40c, 30c, 25c, ribbons.
2. One Gallon Grain grown on plot. 5 prizes—40c, 30c, 25c, ribbons.
Class 4—Sweet Corn (Golden Bantam)
1. Group of 6 ears selected from plot. 5 prizes—50c, 40c, 30c, ribbons.
Class 5—Field Corn (Wisconsin No. 7)
1. Group of 6 ears selected from plot. 5 prizes—50c, 40c, 30c, ribbons.
Class 6—Potatoes
1. Best 12 potatoes from plot (Irish Cobbler). 5 prizes—60c, 50c, 40c, ribbons.
2. Best 12 potatoes from plot (Green Mountain). 5 prizes—60c, 50c, 40c, ribbons.
Class 7—Mangels (Yellow Intermediate)
1. Best 3 mangels. 5 prizes—50c, 40c, 30c, ribbons.
Class 8—Beets (Detroit Dark Red) Table Size
1. Best 6 beets. 5 prizes—50c, 40c, 30c, ribbons.
Class 9—Carrots (Chantenay). Table Size
1. Best 6 carrots. 5 prizes—50c, 40c, 30c, ribbons.
Class 10—Turnips (Purple Top Swede)
1. Best 6 turnips. 5 prizes—50c, 40c, 30c, ribbons.
Class 11—Onions (Yellow Danvers)
1. Best 6 onions. 5 prizes—50c, 40c, 30c, ribbons.
Class 12—Flowers (Arrangement of flowers considered by Judge)
1. Asters (Mixed Giant Comet), collection of blossoms. 5 prizes—40c, 35c, 30c, ribbons.
2. Phlox (Drummondii). Collection of blossoms. 5 prizes—40c, 35c, 30c, ribbons.
3. Best Bouquet from Home Garden. 5 prizes—40c, 35c, 30c, ribbons.
Class 13—Poultry
1. Best 3 birds from eggs distributed this year (1 male and two females). 6 prizes—$1.00, 75c, 50c, ribbons.
2. Best cockerel from eggs distributed this year. 6 prizes—75c, 50c, 25c, ribbons.
3. Best pullet from eggs distributed this year. 6 prizes—75c, 50c, 25c, ribbons.
4. Best Pen, any variety (spring chickens, 1 male and 2 females). 6 prizes—75c, 50c, 25c, ribbons.
5. Best Pen, cock and 2 hens, from eggs distributed last year. 6 prizes—75c, 50c, 25c, ribbons.
6. Best dozen white eggs. 6 prizes—30c, 20c, 10c, ribbons.
7. Best dozen brown eggs. 6 prizes—30c, 20c, 10c, ribbons.

- Class 14—Collections
1. Collection of Butterflies and Insects, properly named, (Sr. Grades). 3 prizes—40c, 30c, 20c.
2. Collection of Woods: Leaf, Fruit, Cross Section of Wood, Long Section of Wood with bark, properly named. 3 prizes—40c, 30c, 20c.
3. Collection of Leaves, properly named, (Jr. Grades). 3 prizes—40c, 30c, 20c.
Class 15—Fruit
1. Collection of Fall and Winter Apples, 5 of each variety and properly named. 3 prizes—40c, 30c, 20c.
2. Five Snows. 3 prizes—40c, 30c, 20c.
3. Four McIntoshs. 3 prizes—40c, 30c, 20c.
Class 16—Cooking
1. Best Apple Pie. 3 prizes—30c, 20c, 10c.
2. Best Layer Cake. 3 prizes—30c, 20c, 10c.
3. Best 6 Cookies (white). 3 prizes—30c, 20c, 10c.
4. Best Candy (home-made). 3 prizes—30c, 20c, 10c.
Class 17—Needlework (Grades 3 and 4)
1. Best piece of Hand Embroidery (white). 3 prizes—25c, 25c, 10c. (continued on page 5)

Ice Cream Social and Supper
Fair Grounds Delta
WEDNES. JULY 28, 8 to 10 p.m.
Under auspices of St. Paul's Church
Admission 50c Children 35c

HOT ?

If you are hot in mind and body, we bring you uews of comfort---

- Our light weight Silk Caps, Panamas and Straw Hats will be a great relief on your mind.
- Our Cool Underwear, two pieces or combination, short or long sleeves or athletic styles, will be a great comfort to your body.
- Our nice light weight Suits in two or three pieces, Outing Trousers, Neglige Shirts, Silk and Lisle Socks, Bathing Suits, Jerseys, etc., will be a great comfort to your whole body, and our popular low prices will be a great relief to your whole mind.

The GLOBE Clothing House

"The Store of Quality"
BROCKVILLE ONTARIO

Quality Brings Satisfaction

We handle Glidden paints, varnishes and specialties—and we are proud of it. We chose this high-grade line so as to enjoy the satisfaction that comes from seeing our customers satisfied. You see, Glidden quality is a product of years of experience, the skill of specialists and the use of only the highest grade materials—and it insures your satisfaction. That is one big reason why it always pays to use Glidden products wherever there is a surface that needs protection. And Glidden paints and varnishes beautify as they protect. Come to this store for helpful suggestions and color cards.

"The Nearest Glidden Dealer"
GLIDDEN
EVERYWHERE on EVERYTHING

The Churches

Methodist Church
Rev. S. F. Newton, Pastor
Sunday Services:
Morning at 10.30 Evening at 7.30
Sunday School at 2.30 p.m.
Through the week Services:
Monday: Cottage Prayer Meeting 7.30
Epworth League 8.00 p.m.
Wednesday: Mid-Week Prayer Service at 7.30 p.m.

Parish of Lansdowne Rear
Rev. V. O. Boyle, M.A., Rector.
Seventh Sunday after Trinity.
CHRIST CHURCH, Athens
8.00 a.m.—Holy Communion.
10.00 a.m.—Sunday School.
7.30 p.m.—Evening Prayer. Anthem.
TRINITY CHURCH, Oak Leaf
10.00 a.m.—Sunday School.
11.00 a.m.—Holy Communion.
ST. PAUL'S, Delta
1.30 p.m.—Sunday School.
2.30 p.m.—Evening Prayer.

Baptist Church
R. E. Nichols, Pastor.
Plan Hollow 2.30
Toledo 10.30 a.m. Athens 7.30 p.m.
Sunday School at 11 a.m.
Prayer Meeting, Thursday at 7.30 p.m.

DR. PAUL
PHYSICIAN, SURGEON AND OBSTETRICIAN
Post Graduate New York Lying-in Hospital and other New York Hospitals.
Office and Residence in the home formerly occupied by Mrs. Norman Brown, Reid St., Athens.

B. F. SCOTT, Licensed Auctioneer for Leeds and Grenville. Addison, Ont. Write or phone.

EATON—The Auctioneer
Sales conducted any place in Leeds County at reasonable rates. Farmers' Sales and Real Estate a Specialty. Write or call on A. M. EATON ATHENS, ONT.

Dr. Chas. E. McLean
Physician, Surgeon and Accoucher
Office Hours: 11 to 12 a.m., 1 to 3 p.m., 7 to 8 p.m.
Office: Henry Street, Athens
Phone Calls Day and Night

PRINTING SERVICE Department
Easily accessible by Rural Phone
THE ATHENS REPORTER

CANADIAN PACIFIC RY.

The following Summer Schedule is now in effect giving excellent train connections to Toronto, Ottawa, Montreal, and intermediate points, also Western Canada destinations.

LOCAL TIME TABLE to and from BROCKVILLE.

Departures.	Arrivals.
5.40 a.m.	7.25 a.m.
8.30 a.m.	11.55 a.m.
3.15 p.m.	2 p.m.
5.50 p.m.	10.20 p.m.

The 8.20 a.m. and 10.20 p.m. are Sunday Trains.

For rates and particulars apply to, GEO. E. McGLADE City Passenger Agent

A. J. POTVIN, City Ticket Agent
52 King St. West, Cor. Court House Ave Brockville, Ontario. Phones 14 and 530

Job Printing

We are equipped to handle all kinds of Job Printing to your order on shortest notice.

Our prices are in keeping with first class work.

About Your Subscription to The Reporter

A remittance to cover this year's subscription would be appreciated. We have to have the money in order to carry on business.

THE REPORTER

Box 127

Athens, Ontario

TOOK HER BABY TO COLLEGE AND GRADUATED WITH HONORS

Mrs. Howard Tracey, of Evanston, Ill., was one of the honor graduates at the commencement at Northwestern University this week. She was married before entering college, and her daughter Ann was born during the course. Though Mrs. Tracey attended to her household duties unassisted, she completed the regular four year college course in three years. "Married women are rare among university students," said Mrs. Tracey at her graduation, "but I believe it is the duty of every American woman to achieve the highest education within her power whether she is married or single. Education makes her a better wife and a better mother."

Negligee matinee of Nonpareil crepe met-form with mullica sleeves of georgette. The garniture of two-tone r'obon.

Athens Women's Institute

MEETINGS HELD IN THE INSTITUTE ROOMS IN THE TOWN HALL, ATHENS, ON THE LAST SATURDAY OF EVERY MONTH

Musical Numbers with each Programme EVERYONE WELCOME

OFFICERS

President: MRS. CHAS. F. YATES

1st Vice-President: MRS. C. JUDSON
2nd Vice-President: MRS. D. L. JOHNSTON

Secretary-Treasurer: MRS. J. D. JOHNSTON

Assistant Secretary: MRS. GEO. BEACH

Directors:

MRS. (Dr.) PAUL MRS. J. THOMPSON
MRS. SNOWDON MRS. F. SCOVIL
MRS. EATON MRS. (Dr.) LILLIE
MRS. H. CORNELL MRS. M. ARNOLD

Planiat: MISS MAY BERNEY

Property Director: MRS. JOS. THOMPSON

PROGRAMME

1920-1921

June

Canadian Women as Poets. Suggestions for New Work.

July

1. A Talk on Life and Customs of Women of China, by Mrs. (Rev.) N. J. Drummond, Returned Missionary.
2. Exchange of Ideas on Canning, Preserving and Pickling.

August

Old Ladies' Re-union. Pioneer Days of Leeds.

September

Physical Training, with a view to Organization. Demonstration on Blouse Making.

October

What we Should Read and Why. Laws Relating to Persons in Industry.

November

Evening Meeting for the Gentlemen. Influences of Babylonian Culture. Spelling Match.

December

Santa Claus' Reception for the Athens Kiddies. Santa of Other Lands. Games and Frolic.

January

Influence of Music in the Home. Demonstration of the Works of various Composers.

February

Our Duty to the Shut-ins. Out Duty to the Shut-ins.

March

Debate—Resolved, That the country offers better opportunities than the city, for the mental, moral and physical development of the child.

Exchange of Ideas on Laundry Work.

April

Art Talk on the Masterpieces of the World. Ontario Laws Relating to Education.

May

Appointment of Officers. Modern Dress and Its Effect on Health and Morals.

GENERAL LEJEUNE APPOINTED COMMANDANT OF MARINE CORPS.

Major General John A. Lejeune who has been appointed commandant of the U. S. Marine Corps by Secretary of the Navy Daniels. General Lejeune succeeds Major General Barnett who was commandant for six years. General Lejeune is shown wearing some of the many decorations he won during the war. He commanded the Second Division of the A.E.F., being the first and only Marine Corps officer to be placed in command of a regular army division. Two regiments of Marines were included in the Division.

Athens Rural School Fair

(continued from page 4)

2. Best Hemstitched Handkerchief (unlaundered). 3 prizes—35c, 25c, 10c.
3. Best Knitted Scarf or Sweater Pullover. 3 prizes—35c, 25c, 10c. (Grades 1 and 2)
1. Best Pieced Print Quilt Block. 3 prizes—35c, 25c, 10c.
2. Best Knitted Washcloth. 3 prizes—35c, 25c, 10c.
3. Best Holder. 3 prizes—35c, 25c, 10c.

Class 18—Miscellaneous.

1. Best Essay (Sr. Grades), "How to Keep Boys and Girls on the Farm." (Not more than 2 foolscap pages). 30c, 20c, 10c.
2. Best Essay (Jr. Grades), "The Last School Fair." (Not more than 2 foolscap pages). 30c, 20c, 10c.
3. Drawing, "Plate with 3 Apples," colored. (Grades 1 and 2). 30c, 20c, 10c.
4. Drawing, "Vase with 3 Roses," colored. (Grades 3 and 4). 30c, 20c, 10c.
5. Best poultry coop for hens and chicks, made by exhibitor. 3 prizes—30c, 20c, 10c.

Class 19—Live Stock

1. Best dairy heifer calf, born on or after March 1, 1920, shown by boy or girl. (halter broken). 4 prizes—$2.00, $1.75, $1.25, $1.00.
2. Foal (heavy draft), foaled after March 1st, 1920. 4 prizes—$2.00, $1.75, $1.25, $1.00.
3. Foal (road or carriage), foaled after March 1, 1920. 4 prizes—$2.00, $1.75, $1.25, $1.00.
4. Best lamb under 6 months of age, to be shown on halter. 4 prizes—$2.00, $1.75, $1.25, $1.00.
5. Best two bacon pigs, born on or after March 1, 1920, to be shown in crate supplied by exhibitor. 4 prizes—$2.00, $1.75, $1.25, $1.00.

SPECIALS.

1. To encourage competition in the Rural School Fair, an Association Shield, suitably engraved, will be awarded to the school scoring the highest number of points in proportion to the number of its pupils. This shield must be won three years in succession to become the permanent property of any school. The Coons School now owns the shield, a new one being given for 1920 competition.

Points towards shield are awarded on the following basis: 1st prize, 6 points; 2nd prize, 5 points; 3rd prize, 4 points; 4th prize, 3 points; 5th prize, 2 points; 6th prize, 1 point. Divide total points by number of pupils on roll for schools.

2. Driving—Best lady driver—75c, 50c, 40c. Best gentleman driver—75c, 50c, 40c.
3. Horse-back riders' contest—75c, 50c, 40c.

NOTE—In these two classes, horse must belong to parent or guardian.

SPECIAL

Canadian Bankers' Competition
Class I.
(Grade bull calves must not be shown)
DAIRY CALF, PURE-BRED OR GRADE

- Prizes—1st, $5.00; 2nd, $4.00; 3rd, $3.00; 4th, $2.00; 5th, $1.00; 6th, reserve.

Class II.
(Grade boar pigs must not be shown)
TWO PIGS, PURE-BRED OR GRADE

- Prizes—1st, $5.00; 2nd, $4.00; 3rd, $3.00; 4th, $2.00; 5th, $1.00; 6th, reserve.

For entry forms of other information, apply to Mr. Johnston, Manager Standard Bank Athens; Mr. Clark, Manager of Merchants Bank, Athens.

PROGRAM OF SPORTS

- 1—25 Yards Dash, boys 8 and under. Ribbons.
- 2—25 Yards Dash, girls 8 and under. Ribbons.
- 3—50 Yards Dash, boys 8 to 12 years. Ribbons.
- 4—50 Yards Dash, girls 8 to 12 years. Ribbons.
- 5—75 Yards Dash, boys 12 years and under 16. Ribbons.
- 6—75 Yards Dash, girls 12 years and under 16. Ribbons.
- 7—Boys' Three-legged Race. Ribbons.
- 8—Sack Race for girls (supply own bags). Ribbons.
- 9—Sack Race for boys (supply own bags). Ribbons.
- 10—Girls' Needle Race (supply own needle and thread). Ribbons.
- 11—Teachers' Race.
- 12—Trustees' Race.
- 13—Relay Race, which will be run by one team, 2 boys and 2 girls, from each School.
- 14—School Parade. All pupils in each School Section led by teacher or School Fair Chairman, will march around the grounds. The following points will be considered by the judges:
 - (a) Precision in Marching;
 - (b) Originality of Design for Identifying the School Section;
 - (c) One Drill and one Song.
 Prizes—1st, $4.00; 2nd, $3.00; 3rd, $2.00; 4th, $1.00.

NOTE—Prizes in this class count toward winning Shield.

1. NOTE—This year, points will be given for winners in the sports contest, to be counted towards the Shield. Two entries will be allowed from each school in each class with the exception of the Relay Race, which will be run by one team from each school. Teachers are advised to have a trial contest previous to the day of the Fair, and select the pupils who will enter the various contests. They then make their entry in each race in similar manner to the regular classes in the Fair. Each contestant will have an entry card, entry number on it, and name of school and class entry.

2. NOTE—Programme outside the tent will be run off as follows: Live stock judging will commence at 12.30. Next will be the School Fair Parade, and following this the programme of sports as listed on the Prize List. ALL PUPILS TAKING PART IN THE SCHOOL PARADE MUST BE READY TO LINE UP AT 1.30 SHARP. The Parade will not be kept waiting for schools not arrived at that time. Races will not be kept waiting for pupils who are not there at the time their class is called.

The Road to Independence

Trouble comes to all of us at one time or another. The man with a snug bank account, is fortified against the "slings and arrows of outrageous fortune". It is the duty of every man to lay aside something for the inevitable rainy day. Open a Savings Account today—and take your first step along the road to Independence.

THE MERCHANTS BANK

Head Office: Montreal. OF CANADA. Established 1884.
ATHENS BRANCH. F. W. CLARKE, Manager.
Branches also at Delta, Lyn, Elgin, Westport, Frankville.
Sub-Agency Addison Open—Tuesday

NEILSON'S ICE CREAM

and Chocolates, fresh supply always carried

Choice Line of Fresh Fruits

E. C. Tribute

Butter Wrappers

We can supply your Requirements
Our Price is Right

Reporter Job Dept.
Athens - - - - - Ontario

Fresh Groceries

We have a Good Fresh Stock of Groceries and Provisions in stock at all times and we solicit your patronage.

R. J. CAMPO

Athens - - - - - Ontario

Watch Repairing

Bring in your Watches, Clocks, Jewelry etc., that needs repairs. Having secured the services of Mr. J. B. McPhee, a capable Watchmaker and Jeweller, we can guarantee to give you satisfactory work at very moderate charges.

R. J. CAMPO

FRENCH HONOR MEMORY OF NURSE CAVELL

A statue erected as a tribute to Edith Cavell, the martyr nurse, was recently unveiled in Paris, France. The ceremonies were very impressive and attended by many dignitaries of France. Sister nurses from hospitals of Paris were guests of honor. In the photo are Lord Burnham of England, and General Pau of the French army.

Newboro

About thirty candidates finished writing entrance exams. here last week.

A number of people from this vicinity attended the celebrations in Smiths Falls and Brockville on July 1st.

The strawberry season has ended in this district, but the raspberries are rapidly taking their place.

Socials are to be held in Newboro and Toledo the fourteenth of July and a dance in the evening at Toledo.

Some farmers have already started haying around here.

Hard Island

Miss Dorothy Peacock has returned to Brockville after spending her holidays with Miss Lillian Dunham.

Mr. Roy Stafford spent last week visiting relatives on the Island.

Miss Vera Topping is spending the summer holidays with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Foley.

Miss Helen Percival, Syracuse, and Mr. Curson Yates, Cincinnati, Ohio, are also holidaying with relatives here this week.

The W.C.T.U. met at Mrs. Herb. Stenhouse's on Thursday this week.

Much sympathy is extended to Mr. M. L. Dunham on the death of their oldest daughter, Mrs. Roy Kilborn, Kingston. The funeral took place in Frankville, July 9.

Warburton

Mrs. George Loney has returned from visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. W. Mitchell, Toronto. Master Loney Mitchell accompanied her home to spend his holidays with his grandparents.

Mrs. W. N. Bowen, Brockville, is a guest of her daughter, Mrs. W. J. Webster.

Mr. R. J. Austin had the misfortune to have his new Gray-Dort car become short-circuited, causing a fire, which did serious injury to it.

Miss Hattie Cockrane has been engaged as teacher for the coming year.

Mrs. (Dr.) Steacy, New York, has come to spend the summer months at her cottage at the Outlet, and Rev. Richard Steacy is a guest at Rob. J. Steacy's cottage.

Mr. Vernol Cross had a raising to erect the frame for his new barn, on Tuesday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Cockrane and daughter, of Fairfax, spent Friday at Mr. Ed. Burns'.

SHEPHERD HAILED AS NEW RODIN.

M. Paul Darde, the shepherd sculptor of France, who is being hailed as a new Rodin. His exhibits in the Salon Des Artiste Francis won the highest prizes this year. He comes of peasant stock, having been a shepherd in the French mountains near Cevenne. Not long ago an art critic saw some of his sketches and interested Armand Doyot, the famous French artist, in the work of the peasant sculptor. After a short course in Paris M. Darde finished his exhibits for the Salon. They took Paris by storm and overnight the shepherd sculptor became known as a second Rodin. He has a unique style of hewing out of marble with a pick, working directly from a sketch. The photo shows M. Darde at work in his Paris studio.

Sherwood Springs

Miss Lena Empey, Toronto, spent a week-end recently at her home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart McMillan, of Riverside, were guests on Sunday last at Mr. Geo. Stewart's.

Mr. Robert Mallory, Perth, was a recent visitor at Mrs. Annie Eligh's.

Mr. John Fraser and his mother drove from Lansdowne one day last week to visit the former's brother, Mr. Geo. Fraser.

The strawberry season is drawing to a close, some growers having already discharged their pickers. The raspberry fields are now claiming attention, and promise an abundant crop.

Those in this district who contemplated attending an Orange celebration had an early disappointment. A case where the 'spirit was loyal and willing, but the flesh was too weak' to brave so much mud and water.

Eloida

Eloida is becoming quite a popular summer resort. The Baptist and Methodist Sabbath schools each held its annual picnic here last week.

We are pleased to report Mrs. Clifford Crummy quite improved in health.

The 12th of July was, as usual, quite damp. Nevertheless a good time is reported.

The L.T.L. held their monthly meeting at Mrs. Jno. Mackie's on Saturday evening, the 10th.

Mr. W. J. Scott has purchased the farm of Mr. Samuel Holmes.

Miss Maude Hollingsworth has re-engaged for the third year at Washburn's.

Mr. and Mrs. Jason Mavety were week-end visitors at Mr. D. Cowles'.

Mr. T. Horsefield has recently purchased a select bunch of registered Holsteins, thus making him the possessor of a very desirable young herd.

We are informed that a campaign is on to regulate the telephone holders who have formed the habit of listening to 'phone messages not intended for them. The Provincial Telephone Act provides a penalty of a fine and imprisonment.

Owing to the high prices prevalent, the Eloida representative has requested the religious services withdrawn from the school house here.

The Way to the West
DAILY SERVICE
Lvs. TORONTO (Union Station)
9.15 P.M.

WINNIPEG
BRANDON
REGINA
SASKATOON

CALGARY
EDMONTON
VANCOUVER
VICTORIA

STANDARD TRANS-CONTINENTAL TRAIN EQUIPMENT THROUGH-OUT, INCLUDING NEW ALL-STEEL TOURIST SLEEPING CARS.

Sun. Mon. Wed. Fri.—Canadian National all the way.
Tues. Thurs. Sat.—Via G.T., T. & N.O., Cochrane thence C. N. Rys.
Tickets and full information from nearest Canadian National Railways' Agent, A. E. WATT, Agent at Athens or General Passenger Department, Toronto.

Industrial Department Toronto and Winnipeg will furnish full particulars regarding land in Western Canada available for farming or other purposes.

Canadian National Railways

REGISTRATION FEE.

According to an amendment to the Post Office Act passed during the recent session of Parliament, the registration fee on letters and other matter mailed in Canada is fixed at ten (10) cents per each letter or article.

The above fee shall apply to all registered mail matter posted in Canada on and after the 15th day of July, 1920.

The public are advised in order that they may see that all registered matter is fully prepaid as regards both postage and registration fee.

State of Ohio, City of Toledo,
Lucas County, ss.

Frank J. Cheney makes oath that he is senior partner of the firm of F. J. Cheney & Co., doing business in the City of Toledo, County and State aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by the use of HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE. FRANK J. CHENEY.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 6th day of December, A.D. 1886.

(Seal) A. W. GLEASON,
Notary Public.

Hall's Catarrh Medicine is taken internally and acts through the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. Send for testimonials, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
Sold by all druggists, 75c.
Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

New photo of slain New York clubman, Jos. B. Elwell, wealthy clubman, who was mysteriously murdered in his home in New York on the morning of June 11th. Elwell is shown mounted on one of his race horses. Jockeys and trainers of the Beach stables which he owned are also shown in the photo. Inserts—Mrs. Helen Derby Elwell, widow of Jos. P. Elwell, Richard Elwell, their son.