

The Weekly Monitor.

BRIDGETOWN, OCTOBER 3, 1877.

This week there will be gathered at Kentville a host of people from all parts of the Province, intent upon holding that this country can produce in the way of agricultural products...

On Sabbath evening a very large congregation gathered at the Baptist Church—it having been announced from the pulpit in the morning that a concert, under the auspices of the Sunday School was to be given...

EMPEROR ALEXANDER.—A huge specimen of the apple known as the "Emperor Alexander" was placed upon a table on Monday morning, by Mr. Solomon Chute, of Clarence, it measured thirteen inches in circumference, and displayed a pair of as rosy cheeks as is seldom beheld, even upon the fair daughters of creation...

GRAND VARIETY ENTERTAINMENT.—The ladies of St. Peter's Church of this town, assisted by members of the "Dramatic Club" and other talented amateurs, purpose giving a Grand Variety Entertainment in Victoria Hall, on October 18th, for the purpose of raising funds, wherewith to purchase a library for St. James' Sunday School...

The schooner "Zambesi" arrived here on Monday to load with apples for Halifax. A few years ago from sixteen to twenty vessels of this kind were chartered for Halifax and other ports with apples and produce; but since the advent of the railway we very seldom see a vessel outside of our St. John or Boston piers...

Last week we chronicled the reading of a young child, the daughter of Mr. Elijah Sprowl, Clarence. We regret to say she has since died from the terrible injuries received. The young woman, who in the absence of the accidental discharge of a gun in the hands of another is recovering...

BOSTON AND VICINITY.

The shadow of ages rests upon the Pyramids of Egypt, as well as upon other relics that have survived the decay and desolations of forty centuries; yet there are remains of interest, which are of comparatively modern date. Only a few generations may have passed away since certain events transpired or permanent structures were reared; but what was modern in the time of our great-grandfathers, is in our estimation impressed with an air of antiquity...

It is little more than two centuries since the pilgrims, landing from the Mayflower on the Plymouth rock, under the shadow of the highest of the hills, encountered the Indian's scalping-knife while they were founding a civilized colony in this western hemisphere; and yet many of the antiquities of Boston, as the City of the Bunchberry, and the men, whose birth-place was Massachusetts have grown up, been educated, and been the life-carer have become famous in the fields of science, philology and literature...

On Sabbath evening a very large congregation gathered at the Baptist Church—it having been announced from the pulpit in the morning that a concert, under the auspices of the Sunday School was to be given. The concert was one of those feasts of fat things, which on such an occasion with the material at command we usually look forward to with great enjoyment. The singing by the young folks, under the leadership of Mr. J. B. Reed, was much appreciated. The recitations by the children were also very good. The opening address by Master Samuel Mask was a touching appeal to the parents of children to take more interest in Sabbath School work, and by so doing help to hold up the hands of the teachers. It was delivered in a manly style, indicating what the future of the youth will be with proper training. Addresses were delivered by the pastor and several visiting clergymen.

EMPEROR ALEXANDER.—A huge specimen of the apple known as the "Emperor Alexander" was placed upon a table on Monday morning, by Mr. Solomon Chute, of Clarence, it measured thirteen inches in circumference, and displayed a pair of as rosy cheeks as is seldom beheld, even upon the fair daughters of creation. All such tokens of regard in the shape of monster apples, cucumbers, cabbage, &c., we highly appreciate and gladly receive; but when our friends call and pay up their subscriptions our eyes are opened, and a lump gathers in our throat, we try to say "thank you," without appearing affected, but cannot. Oh, how we wish we could see this out-gushing of our hearts more frequently than we do, and instead of a swelling taking place in our throat, we felt our vest pocket pressing upon our ribs.

GRAND VARIETY ENTERTAINMENT.—The ladies of St. Peter's Church of this town, assisted by members of the "Dramatic Club" and other talented amateurs, purpose giving a Grand Variety Entertainment in Victoria Hall, on October 18th, for the purpose of raising funds, wherewith to purchase a library for St. James' Sunday School. The entertainment will be of a very pleasing and attractive character, consisting of tableaux vivants, character songs, readings, and the performance of two celebrated farces. During an interval between the parts, refreshments will be provided at a moderate rate. Parties wishing to enjoy a pleasant evening had better make up their minds to attend.

THE OLD STATE HOUSE.

The old State House, in which the legislation of the State was done for many years, is now being abandoned by the politicians and statesmen who have a more suitable building of stately dimensions and appearance on the commanding summit of Beacon Hill, where the best of the State are engaged, abrogated or modified. Although the old State House was never a very attractive building it has rounded with elegance through several generations...

THE STOPPAGE OF BIG BEN.

A noteworthy event has occurred in the history of the Clock Tower of the House of Parliament. "Big Ben" has stopped, and the recording of time will not be heard until after the 15th of September. Big Ben stopped his last note at nine o'clock on Tuesday, but the clock was not stopped until 12 o'clock, and the 14th minute had passed before the hands were stopped. This happened through a heavy fall of snow. This cause of the present cessation is to allow the workmen to repair the clock mechanism, and the clock will be cleaned, and the workmen to do that which is necessary to the clock mechanism...

Miscellaneous.

By the burning of a dwelling house at St. Gregoire, near St. John's P. Q., eight children named Achete lost their lives; five were burnt to death and three suffocated by the smoke.

Frederick Walter Carew Raleigh, a lad of twelve years, is now the only living male descendant of Sir Walter Raleigh in England. He is the heir to a very large estate, part of which is landed property estimated to be worth $250,000.

Twelve cattle thieves recently ran off with 7,000 head of cattle from Western Kansas and Colorado. Fifteen Rangers attacked them in Cheyenne County, shooting seven dead and hanging one. All the cattle were recovered. None of the Rangers were hurt.

The exports of Great Britain were last year $250,000,000 to Russia, $100,000,000 to the United States, and she has therefore a mere pecuniary stake at issue. Russia has a prohibitory tariff which seriously curtails the exports to that State.

The Greek sponge fisheries now employ 150 boats, of which 40 are provided with diving bells. The fishermen number about 1,000, including divers, who remain under water several hours a day. When fishing, some of these divers lose their lives and many of them become deaf in a few years. The total take last year was 240 tons of sponges, worth $400,000.

An Englishman who has made a bet of $250,000 that he will in six years walk through France, Germany, north Russia and Siberia to China, has started from Calais on his journey. His bet obliges him to return through India, Persia and southern Russia, and from there over Greece and Italy to France. He must be in Liverpool by the 1st of July, 1883.

Last year the sum of $42,500 was received unaccounted for by George Muller, of Bristol, in support of his philanthropic enterprises in which he is engaged. Since 1858, $750,000 have been remitted to Mr. Muller, and he is now engaged in the support of the institutions which he has founded.

Diphtheria at River John.—Diphtheria is still raging at River John and vicinity. A large number of cases are now under treatment of Drs. Croille and Cameron, two of which have proved fatal; a child aged five years, the daughter of Mr. Robert Sutherland, died on the 28th inst., and a daughter, aged 7 years, of John Holmes, Esq., on the following day. Several other cases are considered hopeless.

News comes from Rush county, Ind., of the death of a burglar caused by a man passed sixty, called Bowling. The robber having secured all he could down stairs, forced this gentleman to accompany him to a room where he had a revolver in his hands and a pocket watch and an axe. Upon arriving in the room which he supposed was the treasure, he laid his axe on the floor and proceeded to open a drawer. Mr. Bowling was seized by this opportunity, and seizing the axe almost cleft the robber's head from his body.

An ancient Syrian manuscript version of the New Testament has lately been discovered in the Library of the Protestant college at Beirut, and is thought by Dr. Antonio Ceriani to be as old as the ninth century. It consists now of 201 fine vellum leaves, of which a few are mutilated, and it begins with Matthew xii: 20, and ends at Titus i: 9, having several lacunae. The order of the gospels is the usual one, and is thought by Mr. Isaac H. Hall that the manuscript never contained the Apocrypha.

A WARNING TO THE PUBLIC.—A photographic forgery of $5 note of the Bank of British North America, dated Quebec, 22nd Nov. 1874, No. 44470, and signed by C. F. Smith, Manager, H. H. Price, Accountant, is in circulation, and well calculated to deceive. The paper is very inferior; the note in appearance looks as if originally it had been of a purple color, and had been washed, whereas the genuine note is of a very delicate black color, with a distinct marking in the body of the note of the words Five in green tint. In the forgery the green is very indistinct.

A BOSTON WEDDING.

The "Hub" correspondent of the St. John "Globe" writes:—The social event of the past week has been the marriage of the young millionaire John Montgomery Sears and the daughter of Mr. Choate, a Cambridge lawyer. The ceremony was performed at the Memorial Church, in the classic city, according to the forms of the Episcopal Church. The witnesses to the marriage comprised a very fashionable congregation, and among the guests was the President of Harvard College, Mr. Elliott, who is said to be engaged to a Miss Hopkinson. The matrimonial alliance has caused quite a flutter among the families of Cambridge. Mr. Sears, who attained his majority last Christmas, is the only son of the old John Sears, whose immense property is located in Boston. The old gentleman died when his son was scarcely two years of age. The property is assessed at about five million dollars, and the young man's yearly income is $100,000. His wedding gift to his wife was a $110,000 house on the Back Bay, but it is said that Mrs. Nathan Matthews, the former occupant of the mansion, is not willing to part with her interest in it. Perhaps more of Mr. Sears' cash will remove this obstacle. The wedding presents on the occasion of the marriage were numerous and expensive, but a good taste did not allow them to be regarded at the reception of the bride. Mr. Sears first met Miss Choate at Bar Harbor, Me. She is an accomplished young lady, who is plain and unassuming in her appearance, and her dress dispenses with trinkets and things so common with most young ladies. No doubt the young millionaire has got a good prospect for a wife—and a man with a fortune needs something of that kind.

EUROPE.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—The London Times has a despatch from Tlesp, as follows: It is said that the Turkish soldiers have received strict orders not to fire on any Russian general, lest they should be replaced. Bucharest, Sept. 29.—A tremendous number of wounded from Plevna have overcrowded the Russian hospitals, and much suffering is experienced by the wounded in transit to Russia, in consequence of the insufficiency of surgeons and dressers. The Times says the end of the campaign must be near, and it promises the present as something like a drawn battle. It is reported that the Turkish soldiers have no doubt attempt to avert another campaign by diplomacy.

THE RUSSIANS AND TURKS COMPARED.

The excellent reputation which Mr. Forbes, the war correspondent of the London "Daily News," has acquired in the present campaign will incline people to regard with respect any opinion he may express on the combatants, and it is interesting to read his comparison of the Russian and Turkish soldiers after witnessing their fighting in several battles. Telegraphing from Bucharest on the 17th inst., fresh from the battle field of Plevna he says:—

"The Russo-Romanian Army has abandoned now even a pretence of prosecuting the attempt against Plevna, and fallen back into the position occupied before the commencement of the bombardment. The field artillery remains still in some of the positions of the bombardment. It is announced that a third renewal is intended on the arrival of the Imperial Guard, in a fortnight. I have great doubt whether another attempt will be made, and very much stronger doubt whether, if made, it can succeed. The Turks are better soldiers individually than the Russians. Of that, after seeing not a few battles, I stand assured. The strategy of both, perhaps, is equally bad, but as regards both major and minor tactics, the Turks are simply immeasurably superior. They are better armed than the Russians, both in great and small arms. They have engineers who can design admirable defensive positions. The Russian engineers seem incapable of repairing a hole in a bridge. The Turkish army is better provided as the Russians are and flushed with success. The Russians are depressed by failure after failure. Nor is this all that impairs the Russian soldier's desire for the fight. It is becoming impaired by a reluctant personal observation of the war can testify. There is no braver man than the Russian soldier, but a brave man cannot cope with the more than the fair chances of war. The Russian is called on to face these, and dangers in addition which appeal with infinitely greater intensity of horror to his imagination. He knows that if he but receives a bullet in the ankle joint when he is in front of an unsuccessful attack, the chances are that he will die a death of torture, humiliation, and mutilation. No moral courage, no manly hardihood can stand against this horrible consciousness, and in the attack of the 11th inst., I distinctly observed his reluctance to begin the storming."

UNITED STATES.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Official dispatches confirm the news of a skirmish with Joseph and his band on the 23rd, and his probable escape to Canada on the 24th. Also that the British Commissioner at Fort Benton awaiting escort to Canada. Bulletin, Conn., Sept. 30.—A special to New Britain says the large and thriving village of Putnam, Eastern Connecticut, was nearly destroyed by fire early on Sunday morning. The business portion is all gone except the National Bank and the new hotel. The fire broke out at 1.30 o'clock this morning, and was got under control at seven o'clock. The loss is about $300,000. The insurance is largely distributed in this State and New York companies.

TOWER OF LONDON.

At the present moment the office of Works is engaged in clearing out and restoring the chapel, with the precincts of the Tower of London, known as St. Peter's and vincular. It was here that the prisoners who died in the Tower, or were buried there, were generally interred, according to the custom, in plain lead coffins, and always without plates, by which their bodies might be subsequently identified. Luckily, at this time, the secretary to the office of Works is a gentleman who, by his writings as well as by such portions of his collection as have passed into the possession of the British Museum, shows himself to be a student and an artist, and it is owing to his reverent care that, in clearing out the vaults of the Tower chapel, the dead have given up some of their secrets. The Tower records have been carefully searched, and the information has been applied to each coffin as it was brought to light. First, almost among them, lay a lying flat down the nave containing bones, which according to the opinion of the surgeon, were those of a woman of at least sixty or seventy years of age. The bones were in some such spot was interred the body of Margaret Pole, Countess of Salisbury, who Henry VIII. caused to be beheaded in 1541. Her remains, in a common elm tree chest made to put arrows in, were the remains of another woman, young and delicately made, and "brist neck," it would give a headman so little trouble to sever. There are certainly those of Annie Boleyn. Not far off, the diggers came upon the remains of what must have been a man of more than ordinary stature. The bones were in temporary chronicles with the official records, these were identified as the remains of Dudley, Duke of Northumberland. Of that, the unhappy Lady Jane Grey no trace has yet been discovered, and it is feared that in her case, as probably in that of many others, the later comes have disturbed the resting-places of the original occupants, and the bones have been thrown to the winds of heaven. It is not probable that Lady Jane Grey and her coffin may have long since been ground to powder. Among other persons buried in the chapel may be mentioned Sir John Elliot, the Duke of Monmouth, Robert Devereux, Earl of Essex, and the Lords Balmorley, Kilmarock, and Lovat, all planted in the Scottish rebellion of seventeen forty-five.

What a grand opening for enterprise there is in the line of cattle breeding. One cannot read the account of the sale of Senator Cochran's Short Horns in England without wondering why our people do not enter more largely than they do into a business which has so little risk and as good profit as any.

Mr. Cochran sent forty-three cattle to England. They were sold for $17,000 sterling—over $80,000—at auction—amidst great enthusiasm of the spectators. One heifer especially brought $3,000 guineas.

These may be called fancy prices. Never mind; if people are willing to give them that's enough. Where there's a demand there ought to be a supply.

Novo Scotia farmers ought to imitate the farmers and breeders of West Canada. Surely in sheep and cattle we could do better than we do.

It would do our farmers good if they would just take advantage of the cheap rates and run up to Western Ontario and see the vix and vigor thrown into all farming operations.

For sheep grazing Novo Scotia is well adapted, and where there is one sheep run there ought to be ten—and those animals of the best blood and most recent origin.

The Agricultural Exhibition at Truro, with all similar exhibitions, ought to operate as a stimulus to our farming population. With the farmer as with all others "Advance" ought to be the motto.—H. Reporter.

A TERRIBLE FALL.

A MAN DASHED OVER A MOUNTAIN precipice 2,000 FEET IN HEIGHT.

The details of a horrible accident, which occurred yesterday week in the little parish of St. Donat, in rear of St. Luce, Rismouski, have come to hand. It appears that on that day a farmer of that place named Melchior Froux started off with three young men to make the ascent of a mountain known in that locality as "Mont Camille. After reaching the summit of the mountain, they proceeded to return. Froux, however, appears to have changed his intention, telling his companions to go ahead and he would soon rejoin them. A few minutes afterwards, the three young men heard the report of a gun; but they gave themselves no trouble about it, and continued their way homeward. Night fell, and the next morning came, however, without Froux's return, and several of his neighbors started out in search of him, but failed to find him, and it was finally concluded that he had either been devoured by bears, which are numerous in that quarter, or that he had fallen from the over the side of the mountain, the deepest of which, according to Layfield, has a vertical descent of 2,000 feet. On Wednesday last, another search party, attracted by the howling of a dog, found among the scrub on the mountain side, the body of poor Froux, drowned in the sea. He was lying on his back, and the side by the accidental discharge of the gun which the unfortunate man carried. Death must have been instantaneous.

Electrify Thomas' Excelsior Electric Oil. Write The Times, or WHELOCK. It is the cheapest medicine ever made. One dose cures common sore throat. One bottle has cured bronchitis. Fifty cents worth has cured all standing coughs. It positively cures catarrh, asthma and croup. Fifty cents worth has cured crick in the back, and the same quantity laid back of eight years' standing. The following are extracts from a few of the many letters that have been received from different parts of Canada, which, we think, should be sufficient to satisfy the most sceptical: J. Collard, of Sparta, Ont., writes, "Send me 6 dozen Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, I have sold all I had from you and want more now; its cure is truly wonderful." Wm. McGuire, of Franklin, writes, "I have sold all the agent left, it acts like a charm—it was slow at first, but gave splendidly now." H. Cole, of Iowa, writes, "Please forward 6 dozen Thomas' Electric Oil, I am nearly out, nothing equals it. It is highly recommended by the doctor who has cured me of my rheumatism.
