THE CHURCH.

TORONTO, MONDAY, APRIL 25, 1842.

After the proceedings described in our last number, His Excellency the Governor General proceeded to the residence of the Hon. W. H. Draper, Attorney General for Canada West, and remained the guest of that gentleman during his stay in Toronto.

On Friday at two o'clock, His Excellency held a very crowded Levee at Government House. Some Addresses were presented, among which the following from the St. George's Society was read by William Wakefield Esq., the President, in a very distinct and impressive manner:

"We, the President, Office Bearers, and Members of We, the President, Office Bearers, and Memory of the St. George's Society of the City of Toronto and the Home District, approach Your Excellency with the greatest respect, and with warm English hearts receive Your Excellency both as the Representative of our be-loved Queen, and as a noble pattern of the English Gen-tleman.

We rejoice that Your Excellency has visited this City We rejoice that Your Excellency has visited this Ony for the purpose of laying the foundation-stone of the University of King's College, and that St. George's Day, happening to fall so near the time appointed for this in-teresting ceremony, has been selected for the occasion. May our Canadian University emulate the glories of Ox-ford and of Combident. May it strengthen loyalty, exford and of Cambridge! May it strengthen loyalty, ex-tend arts and learning, and send forth champions of our Holy Religion, not unworthy to be associated with the Venerable names of a Jeremy Taylor, a Beveridge, and a Bagot. And when on solemn anniversaries, the sons of the University record the services of their former be-nefactors, may Your Excellency be held in grateful and hopporchia remembrance. honourable remembrance.

"United for the purpose of relieving our distressed fellow-countrymen, and desiring in our social and bro-therly intercourse to preserve and extend a love of all there is a social of the social soc those associations which are inseparably connected with the name of England, we trust that Your Excellency will graciously condescend to become our Patron, and to honour us with the countenance of Your Excellency's high station and individual approval."

HIS EXCELLENCY'S REPLY. "Gentlemen,-

"The kind and complimentary expressions which you use in welcoming me into Toronto demand my sincere thanks

"I have been particularly gratified that circumstances have permitted me to select St. George's Day, for the ceremony of laying the foundation-stone of King's College. "I hope I may consider this an auspicious commence-ment of an Institution destined, I trust, to aid in extending British feelings and British sentiments through this por-numerous and pressing avocations would debar him from the gratification of attending the Service at the Cathedras Cathedral on the morning of the following (St. George's) day.

On the evening of the same day, a Grand Ball took place at the Government House, in honour of Sir Charles Bagot's visit. His Excellency made his appearance at 10 o'clock, and witnessed a scene, as it has been described to us, of astonishing splendour and attraction. The whole suite of rooms on the ground floor was thrown open. The temporary fitting up and furnishing was extremely handsome. The large Verandah was enclosed from the weather and lined with view, by pictures in handsome frames, hung as thickly as the space would permit. The windows of the ball-room were taken out so as to form entrances into this picture-gallery. The preticed by the present is a set of the picture-gallery. The national banners of the three Societies, representations of the Royal Arms and of the armorial bearings of the Bagot family, evergreen deco-rations, and the conservatory filled with beautiful Bowers,-these inanimate ornaments, united with an assemblage of between four and five hundred persons, dressed in the most varied and brilliant costumes, haval, military, and civil, formed a scene of festive magnificence, that spoke largely for the wealth of the Home District. The supper, we are informed, was a most sumptuous banquet, served up in admirable style. His Excellency partook of it, and did not retire until he had afforded the liveliest gratification to all by the affability and kindliness with which, as he moved through the rooms, he addressed himself to various individuals. It is not our province to dwell much upon a festivity like this, and we will take leave of it by saying, that, from all we have heard, it was an entertainment worthy both of guest and hosts, and reflecting the highest credit upon the taste and exertions of those who so successfully and brilliantly conducted it. The excellent Band of the 43rd regiment was in attendance. Numerous guests, mostly from Kingston, were invited on the occasion. On Saturday Morning, being the Anniversary of the Patron Saint of England, The St. George's Society, accompanied by the Sons of St. Andrew, and St. Patrick, repaired to the Cathedral at 11 o'clock, where divine service was performed by the Rev. Henry Scadding, M. A. of St. John's College Cambridge,—the Society's Chaplain. The choir lent the aid of their valuable services and sang with much animation and effect, the "Te Deum,"—"Jubilate Deo,"—and "Wake the Song of Lukite." The content of the content of the University of Toronto, as a most auspicious and memorable anniversary It is my earnest prayer to Almighty God that this Province which at once strengthens and adorts the British Empire, may long be blessed with peace, that it may flourish alike in wealth, learning, and religion. "Wake the Song of Jubilee." The reverend chaplain then preached a Sermon, (the text being Daniel vi. 10,) from which,-characterized throughout by Christian patriotism and delivered with much feeling,we can only find room for the following passage : There was a wise and beautiful practice prevailing among those who emigrated from one of the antient cities of Greece, to carry along with them to the country they were about to occupy some of the Fire that was always burning upon the altar of the common Temple of the parent city, which fire was always placed and maintained in a si-milar cituric in the angle founded colony. It would city, which fire was always placed and maintained in a si-milar situation in the newly founded colony. It would seem as if our mother-country had desired us her children to adopt, in spirit if not in act, the same usage; for from the earliest times of the history of this dependency of the Empire, it has been manifestly her earnest desire and effort that we should be put in respectively of English Institutions. These, should be put in possession of English Institutions. These, one by one, at various times have been introduced amongst one by one, at various times have been introduced amongst us; but it has remained for our eyes to see the addition of the crowning gift of all, a grand national Seminary for the training of those members of the commonwealth who are likely in after-life to be called upon to fill high and difficult offices in Church and State. The deeply-felt re-gret at the long delay in the realizing of such an essential element of every thoroughly-furnished State, is quite for-gotten in the gratification which we all experience in wit-nessing the auspicious commencement of the good work this day. It was a part of the clear-sighted and compre-hensive policy of the original organizer of the Province nensive policy of the original organizer of the Province of which this City was the Capital, that such an establish-ment, as a kind of Depositary and Citadel of universal Science, should remain the such as the Science, should rear its sacred towers amidst our woods even in his early day. He deemed himself happy in being permitted to bring in his hand for the people whom he was to govern, a transcript of the Magna Charta of Great Britain, but he well knew what a necessary accompaniment to such a Gift was a system of manly training for the minds of all those who should hold offices of influence and responsibility among their fellow-subjects. And could his sound and noble views have been carried into effect, happy would have been the results at this distant period, when the long-desired Institution would now have lifted its stately front amongst us, venerable with the antiquity of nearly half a century. But again, I would add, all the regret this day vanishes, when our eyes are actually about to behold what a wise and far-seeing SIMCOR devised, what a beloved and venerated COLBORNE gave an earnest and foretaste of, at length the act of being matured and communated by the intelli-gence and discernment of a worthy successor of both, whose deed of this day will be blessed by our children's children to the latest generation."

children to the latest generation." The whole Sermon was replete with vigorous and appropriate thought, and clothed in language of no ordinary beauty. Its effect was exhibited in a collection the sale of St. George's crosses, brings the total amount to nearly 15l.

Immediately after the conclusion of the Service, the Societies proceeded to Upper Canada College, to join the Procession, formed in honour of the ceremony of laying the foundation-stone of the University of King's College. The order and component parts of the procession have already been described in the Programme which appeared in our last number. About one o'clock His Excellency arrived at the front door of the College, and ascending a slightly-raised platform, over which was suspended a canopy of evergreen boughs, received the following Address, which was read by the reverend Principal, Dr. McCaul:

Lætantes honore, quo urbem nostram dignatus es, Præfecte Celsissime, gratias tibi agimus, quod nos quoque haud indignos, quos visere velles, judicâsses.

As many of our readers, are unacquainted with the dead languages, we have ventured upon a translation British feelings and British sentiments through this por-tion of the Province of Canada. "I accede with pleasure to your request that I should become the Patron of your Society. Highly appreciating the value of charitable institutions which, while they ex-tend relief to the indigent, are designed also to keep alive, among the more affluent, the memory of our Native Land, —I shall be happy, should it at any time be in my power to serve you." His Excellency then expressed his regret that his After these necessary observations, we subjoin a

"We commend this College to your favour and pro-tection, not doubting that you will gladly undertake the office of Patron, and that, looking benignantly upon these youthful Votaries of Religion and Learning, you will youthful Votaries and encourage their studies. We youthful Votaries of Religion and Learning, you will foster their abilities and encourage their studies. We would indulge the hope that He,—by whose prompt and energetic action the Province of Canada, earnestly desiring so great a boon, has been blessed with the princely gift of King's College,—will also deign to be our Mæcenas. "We congratulate the Province, we congratulate Your-self, O most excellent Chancellor, upon this day, the birth-day of the University.—a day which the present

His Excellency in delivering this Latin reply, did honour to his Alma Mater:

Between this amphitheatre and the place where the Chancellor stood, the procession ranged itself.

Order having been commanded and observed, the Lord Bishop of Toronto, the President of the University, read this Address :

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY:

In tendering to Your Excellency our grateful acknowledgments for the lively interest you have taken in acce-lerating the commencement of the University of King's lerating the commencement of the University of King's College, I am giving expression to the feelings, not of this assembly alone, but of all the inhabitants of the Province. The Institution had long stood in abeyance from causes which I will not mar this happy hour by calling to re-membrance. We shall be better employed in offering mutual congratulations that they are now removed and mutual congratulations that they are now removed, and that this auspicious day, long anxiously looked for, has that this auspicious day, long anxiously looked for, has at length arrived—a day never to be forgotten in the History of Canada, and which, connecting itself with the first acts of Your Excellency's administration, becomes, we trust, the harbinger of internal peace, and of happier times. To found an ordinary Seminary of learning, has ever been esteemed an object of honourable ambition; but to lay the foundation of a Royal College like this, destined to diffuse, through so vast a region asthe United Province, sound knowledge and pure religion, is a proud distinction, which is seldom attained, and which, associated in imagi-nation, as it must be, with so many coming blessings to the people over whom you preside, will become a source of delightful recollection to Your Excellency while life remains.

Not only the present, but countless generations yet unborn, will have abundant cause to rejoice in the pro-ceedings of this day—proceedings which give life to an Institution, calculated, under Divine Providence, to advance the glory of God and the best interests of man. The University of King's College is designed to be as strictly collegiate, both in discipline and character, as the circumstances of this new country will admit: and for this purpose it will keep in view, in its progress, the glo-rious models, furnished by the Parent State, to which Science, justly so called, and Christian truth are so much indebted; and it will raise, on a like basis, such a super structure as shall fully meet the wants and circumstance of this great Colony, as well as the particular destination of each of the numerous students, by whom it will be

Let us then, in accordance with so pious a custom, begin with offering up our prayers to Almighty God for a blessing on this solemn occasion, and for guidance and support to all who now are or may hereafter be in any way connected with this Royal INSTITUTION, whose actual existence this passing moment

The Rev. John McCaul, LL.D., Principal of U.C. College, then offered up the first prayer:

O Lord, without whose favour and protection the noblest designs of man are brought to naught, look down, we beseech thee, in thy infinite goodness, upon the work, which we are about to commence. Grant, O most merciful Father, that the University of King's College may ever acknowledge Thee as its great builder, our blessed Saviour himself being the chief corner-stone. On Thy holy word we lay the foundation, in full trust that so long as it is established upon this rock, it shall stand for ever, a monument of thy goodness and loving-kindness. Graciously vouchsafe to it a bountiful measure of thy rich-est grace, and grant, O Lord, grant that it may ever prove a blessing to the land, training up physicians skilful to heal,—lawyers ready to succour and defend—and priests clothed with righteousness and salvation. May our children's children, within the walls about to rise, be taught that knowledge, which can alone make them wise unto salvation,—the knowledge of Thee, whom to know is life eternal.

After taking the trowel in his hand, the Chancellor waited till the FOUNDATION-STONE .- weighing nearly two tons and brought, we believe, from Hamilton,was let down into its place. His Excellency then smoothed the mortar,---and receiving the square from Mr. Young, the architect,-the plumb-line from Mr. Ritchey the Contractor,-and the mallet from Mr. Hill, the Superintendent, applied these instruments to their proper purposes.

The Artillery fired a salute of nineteen guns, on which Non nobis Domine was finely executed by the Band of the 93rd.

The Lord Bishop then dismissed the Assembly with this Prayer and the usual Blessing:

"O God, who art the Father and Lord of all beings, "O God, who art the Father and Lord of all beings, and glorious in all perfection, we Thy children desire to offer unto Thee our most hearty and unfeigned thanks for permitting us to live and to see this day, and to commence, under Thy blessed guidance, so great a work. "Grant that it may continue, for endless generations, a fruitful memorial of Thy goodness and loving kindness to this favoured land—and that, sanctified by Thy bles-sing, it may promote for ever more Thine honour and glory, through Jesus Christ our Lord."

God save the Queen closed the ceremony, and the immense multitude testified their joy, at the consummation of this great event, by giving three cheers for Her Majesty-three for Sir Charles Bagot -three for the Lord Bishop-and three for the Chief Justice.

The procession then returned, with unbroken ranks, to Upper Canada College, and dispersed after fresh ebullitions of gratified feeling. Mr. Alderman Gurnett acted as Marshal of the procession, and deserves the best thanks of the community for the very successful manner in which he conducted the arrangements, and maintained order throughout the day.

The Chancellor, the members of the University Council, and those individuals whose official position had procured for them an invitation, repaired, after a short interval, to the Large Hall of Upper Canada College, as guests of the Principal and Masters of that Institution. Here a fresh scene of beauty and pleasure met the eye. At the upper end of the room, an elevated table was spread with an elegant and plentiful cold collation; while at the lower end, tables were temporarily constructed for holding the entertainment provided for the Boys by the Council. From the roof were suspended green festoons of hemlock branches: a bust of the Queen graced an appropriate niche : and casts from the antique were ranged along the walls. Dr. McCaul, the Principal, took the head of the table, with the Chancellor on his right, and the Bishop on his left, and the rest of the company were placed in suitable order. Several of the former pupils proffered and gave their assistance in waiting, as "Gentlemen Pages," upon their juvenile successors. Latin Graces were pronounced by Wickson, of the 5th Form, Second K. C. Exhibitioner, before the entertainment commenced, and by S. Cosens, of the 5th Form, First K. C.

Translation. It is with no ordinary feelings of pleasure, that I receive your cordial congratulations. Be assured that your College shall receive my countenance and support, and that I will gladly extend protection and fostering care to the pupils of the Institution. I can indeed undertake no duty more excellent or more congenial to my feelings than to cherish those studies to which you so zealously devote yourselves, for they inculcate the rendering of allegiance to the Queen, attachment to father-land, and profound reverence to God. This day will for ever be imprinted on my memory, and I hope that it will ever be regarded by the inhabitants of Canada, whilst enjoying the blessings of the University of Toronto, as a most auspicious and memorable anniversary

The vast procession then opened its ranks, and His Excellency the Chancellor, with the President (the Lord Bishop of Toronto) on his right, and the Senior Visitor (the Chief Justice) on his left, proceeded on foot through the College Avenue up to the University grounds. The countless array moved forward, to the sound of military music, in the most perfect order, and in strict accordance with the preconcerted arrangements. The sun shone out with cloudless meridian splendour upon perhaps the fairest scene that Canada has ever beheld; one blaze of banners flashed upon the admiring eye. The Governor's rich Lord Lieutenant's dress, the Bishop's seemly vestments, the Judicial ermine of the Chief Justice, the splendid Convocation robes of Dr. McCaul. the gorgeous uniforms of the suite, the neat accoutrements of the very numerous fire-men, the national badges worn by the office-bearers of the different Societies. and what, on such a day, must not be omitted, the red crosses on the breasts of England's congregated sons, the grave habiliments of the Clergy and the Lawyers, and the glancing lances and waving plumes of the 1st Incorporated Dragoons,—all formed one moving picture of well-ordered civic pomp,-one glorious spectacle, which can never be remembered but with satisfaction by those who had the good fortune to witness it. On marched the long and glittering line through the outline of the procession. As it drew nearer to the was then performed with admirable effect by the Bu-

read an English translation of the above: Sir Charles Bagot, Master of Arts, of Christ Church, Oxford, Knight Grand Cross of the Bath, Governor General of British North America, and Chancellor of the infant University, laid the Foundation-stone of King's College, near Toronto; -- which, through the great munificence and paternal care of George IV., King of Great Britan and Ireland, the prevailing influence and conspicuous zeal of Sir Peregrine Maitland, Knight Commander of the Bath, and Lleutenaut Governor of Upper Canada, and the seacolous foresight and unwaried severtion of John Stranda, and the seacolous foresight and unwaried of York, --had long been endowed. It was the desire of our illustrious Chancellor that the youth of Canada should, within their own borders, enjoy without delay, and transmit to posterity the benefits of a Religious, Learned and Scientific Education, framed in exact imitation of the unrivalled models of the British Universities.

April 23rd, 1842, In the Fifth year of Victoria, Queen of Great Britain.

To a work so important and useful, commenced under the most happy auspices, may that Almighty Being, who alone can bring all our efforts to a successful issue, vouchsafe His blessing, through our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

Macaulay presented the Trowel, which is a beautiful piece of workmanship executed by Mr. Stennett of this city: the handle is of ivory tipped with the acorn and oak-leaf in silver, and the blade, if we may be allowed the expression, is also of silver, joined to the handle by appropriate chased decorations: the Bagot crest, we learn, is to be added to the handle, and the costly tool will be preserved by the Chancellor and his heirs as a memorial of the solemn ceremony. The blade bore this in-

Exhibitioner, at its conclusion.

Dr. McCaul then rose and proposed the health of Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen, in language so felicitous, as to call forth cheers that made the Hall ring and re-echo with loyal music. After the outpourings of youthful exultation had subsided, the learned Principal again rose and gave the health of "His Excellency, the Chancellor of the University," very nearly in these terms:

If on any ordinary occasion the honour devolved on me of proposing the toast which I am now about to give, I should feel embarrassed by the necessity of dilating on the qualities which become the statesman and the politi-cian, and should shrink from subjects, for the due consi-deration of which I am but ill-prepared, and which dare not here to travel in become a dequate to the morits of the cian, and should shrink from subjects, for the due consi-deration of which I am but ill-prepared, and which I dare not hope to treat in language adequate to the merits of the individual. But at present, your attention is not to be directed to political sagacity, or diplomatic skill, for I give you the health of our illustrious guest, not as a tried and trusty Ambassador, nor as an able, impartial, and active Governor, but as a faithful and zealous Chan-cellor. Upper Canada is indebted, deeply indebted,— and she feels and acknowledges her obligations,—to the military rulers who have been sent to her by the parent state. Grateful Canada has not forgotten, she never can forget, what she owes to a Simcoe and a Brock. Need I add the name of our noble founder, Lord Seaton, of whom it may with truth be said he was devoted " tam Minervæ quam Marti?" But this day has shown that a fairer and brighter garland may be formed of the olive of peace than of the laurel of victory. We can now under-stand that, however bad the versification of the great Orator of antiquity may have been, the thoughts were good, the moral most true,—for with justice may we say that this occasion furnishes the best comment on "Cedant arma togæ." To enlarge on the advantages which must arise from the University, now for ever associated with the name of him who has honoured us with his presence to-day, would lead me too far,—let me then, without farther preface, give you, as our toast, Him to whom the present generation owes much, and future generations shall owe preface, give you, as our toast, Him to whom the present generation owes much, and future generations shall owe more,-Sir Charles Bagot, Chancellor of the Uni-VERSITY.

Prolonged and rapturous cheering, the clear silvery voices of youth blending with the fuller tones of manhood, succeeded this toast : and immediately after His Excellency arose, and was pleased to express himself in the following manner,-imparting additional interest to his beautiful sentiments by the mellow and dignified and feeling tones in which he spoke :

DR. MCCAUL AND GENTLEMEN:

Dr. MCCAUL AND GENTLEMEN: Allow me to offer to you my unfeigned thanks for the work flattering compliment which you have done me the honour to pay to me; and I hope that you will allow me at the same time to congratulate you, the City of Toronto, and the whole Province of Canada, upon the successful com-been this day so auspiciously engaged. Felix, Faustumque sit? Brought up myself in the University of Oxford, I feel that I am not altogether an incompetent judge of the trons similar to hers. I have ever considered the two Universities of Oxford and Cambridge as the breasts of the Mother Country. From them has been derived, through a succession of ages, that wholesome and invigor through a succession of ages, that wholesome and invigor through a succession of ages, that wholesome and invigor through a succession of ages, that wholesome and invigor the Mother Country. instruct, enlighten and adorn your children's children through ages yet unborn, as they have for so many ages past the children of our Parent State! That it will be so, I entertain no doubt. From the pure flame which burns upon the Holy Altars of those venerable establishments, we have this day brought a spark which will rapidly spread itself with equal purity and, I trust, with equal splendour over our western world.

"Nosque ubi primus equis Oriens adflavit anbelis, Illic sera rubens accendit lumina Vesper."

The subjoined Latin Ode was then recited by W. G. Draper of the 7th Form:

> Opem canenti, Pierides, mihi Et ferte vires! nam vereor puer Ut versibus dicam politis Nomina quæ peritura nunquam.

O! si mihi esset Mæonius vigor! Meæ Camenæ nunc meritis modis

Your aid, ye muses, hither bring To me a youth unskill'd to sing Great names in classic strain. O ! had I but old Homer's fire, How boldly would I strike the lyre,

And praise a noble twain ! Seaton! Rodrigo can attest The patriot fires that warm'd thy breast,

And wounds that grace thee well. Peace came—and o'er the foaming brine She brought thee here to raise this shrine Where Learning loves to dwell.

Then Bagot,-name, in days of old, By Hist'ry in her page enroll'd,-

A second Cæsar came : Came, saw, and conquer'd—wav'd his hand,— And then descended on the land A more resplendent flame.

For mindful of those golden hours Which flitted mid' the classic bowers Of Isis, far-fam'd stream,-The blessings of his earlier years He will'd for us,—and lo! appears

A rising Academe. Joy to this fair Canadian land ! Joy to her youth, an ardent band, To deeds of virtue vow'd! For them an infant Oxford springs

And Christian science radiance flings Where once the Indian bow'd

To idol-gods. This hour so bright Grey-headed eld shall oft recite With pride to youthful ears; And Bagot's fame transmitted down, Circled with amaranthine crown, Shall greener grow with years.

To this succeeded the recitation of some Greek Anacreontics by Norman Bethune, of the 7th Form:

> 'Αλαλάζετ' ὦ φίλοι νῦν 'Αλαλάζετ' ήδ' έταιροι Φαρέτρη βέλος τ' Έρωτος Τό βρέφος τε τῆς Κυθί Τάδε πάντα — χαιρέτωσαν. Διόνυσον οὐκέτ' ἄδω, 'Αμελής δε κάι ρόδοισι Κεφαλήν καταστέφεσθαι. confess that to us the brightest moments of the day were spent in the College Hall. There was robust manly British feeling chastened by refined and classic taste: there were the most promising sons of the Province stamping upon their young memories, recollections which will animate them when their limbs totter and their eyes grow dim: there was evidence, full and satisfactory, that the tendency of a sound, classical Education, of which England has furnished the unrivalled and time-tried models, is to rear up youth in principles of loyalty, in the ambition of deserving the civic crown, and in the love of those Institutions to which the mother country owes so much, and which, one by one, are being transplanted to "this mighty Province." On Sunday last, His Excellency the Governor-General attended Morning Service in the Cathedral of this City. The Rev. H. J. Grasett preached a noble Sermon on the character of Barnabas to a crowded congregation, and made some admirable allusions to the event of the preceding day. We scarcely ever heard, either in England or on this continent, so perfect a specimen of pulpit eloquence.

In the afternoon, the Rev. A. F. Atkinson, Rector of St. Catharines, preached upon the duty incumbent upon the Christian Laity to co-operate with the Christian Ministry in the great work of evangelizing the world. He took occasion, as did Mr. Grasett in the morning, to direct attention to the meeting of Thursday next, and called upon all to be zealous in the cause of Christ's Church.

The anthems, for both morning and evening, were selected with much taste, and performed with great devotional effect : indeed the services and sermons of the day, were in every respect so excellent, so fervent and so scriptural, that we felt great reason to thank God for the spiritual provision furnished to us by the Church.

His Excellency the Governor-General has presented 61. 5s. to the House of Industry in this City.

His Excellency the Governor-General left this city at 6 o'clock, P.M., in the Traveller Steamboat, for Kingston. His Excellency, we learn, was inexpressibly gratified with his whole visit.

The Provincial Lunatic Asylum, we learn, is to be erected in the neighbourhood of Toronto.

The Britannia, Halifax steamer, has arrived : but brings little addition to the news by the Great Western.

ENGLAND. Sir Robert Peel's proposition to lay on an Income Tax was taken upon it before the adjournment. The debate was to be ed on the 4th of April In the course of the discussions Sir Robert informed the House that the Queen had of her own accord given him to un-derstand that, if Parliament should think an income tax necessury, it was her wish and intention that her income should be subjected to it, as well as those of her people. On Monday, March 7, the army estimates were brought for-ward. No material difference from last year was proposed, the estimate being for 192,564 rank and file, officers and non-com

WELLAND CANAL.—This important link of connexion be-tween the two splendid lakes, Erie and Ontario, will soon be in requisition again, for the purpose of commerce. It is known to most of our readers, that the water has been drawn off the canal, during the past winter, in order to afford an opportunity of widening and deepening the feeder. The contractors for the work have been favoured with propitious weather, and have proceeded advantageously and prosperously, thus far. It is expected that, in the course of another season, this object will be fully accomplished. On Thursday, the 14th inst., the water was let in again, and the following day witnessed between twenty and thirty schooners, lying in the basins near our village, on their way to their various destinations on the upper lakes. One of them is bound for Chicago, Illinois, and others to various ports in Canada and the United States. The various ches of trade will now receive a fresh impetus. Conside rable Canada capital has been employed, during the past winter, in purchasing wheat, in Ohio, and other Western States, as well as from the upper part of this division of Canada.-St. Catharine's Journa

IMPROVEMENTS IN THE WEST, are proceeding with every possible rapidity. The main Western road from Brantford to London is being surveyed, and will be immediately under con-tract. The road leading from Woodstock to Port Burwell is being surveyed by Mr. Carroll. The Great Western road from London to Sarnia is already under contract, and a great portion of it is now being grubbed. The London and Port Stanley road is surveyed, and contracts will be advertised in a week or two. The advertisements for timber for the Port Stanley harbour are also issued, and the work will immediately progress. The road from Chatham to London is also in progress.

MILITARY MOVEMENTS IN CANADA .- The following will be the distribution of the army in Canada after the opening of the navigation in spring :--Kingston--43d regiment, and left wing of the 93d Highlanders. Toronto--83d regiment and head-quarters of the 93d Highlanders. Drummondville--67th regiment. London—The Royals and 89th regiment. Am-herstburgh—14th regiment. Montreal and St. Helens—Head quarters of the Queen's royal Canadian corps, 43d, 70th, and 7 1st regiments. Quebec—Brigade of guards. St. John's— 85th regiment. Chambly—56th regiment. Isle-aux-Noix— Left wing of the 74th regiment. Sorel—Head quarters of the 68th regiment. Portage—Left wing of the 68th regiment. We understand that all the general officers lately pror noted. who were employed on the staff at that time, are to continue in their commands until the end of the present military year, both at home and abroad. Lieut.-General Clitherow will therefore continue in command at Kingston until that period.

UNITED STATES.

Reports from Washington are more encouraging. There is a full conviction there that the great measures necessary to the relfare of the country must be acted on in good faith, and without regard to party. Letters from all parts of the country are daily received, showing the necessity of this course, and the feeling of the great mass of the citizens that this must be done; and there is now a disposition in both houses of Congress to do it. The loan bill having passed, the Government will probably issue proposals for what it immediately requires, and take measures to bring the Treasury notes to par. It is probable that two to three millions will meet the most pressing wants for three or four months to come. There will be full time to negociate the residue in this country or Europe, as may seem expedient. No doubt is entertained of the passage of a subdebated at great length from night to night, until the 23rd of March, when the opponents of the measure succeeded in throw ing it over beyond the Easter holy-days, in spite of the Pre-mier's most strenuous efforts to have the sense of the House pearances are favourable to the settlement of all questions with Great Britain. [The United States, with their great advantages, seem not to enjoy true liberty. Murders are going on in open day, and are perpetrated by senators, judges, and men in high station. Rhode Island is almost in civil war-one party wishing to destroy the old constitution, the other endeavouring to exchange it for one more democratic. A steam-boat has been blown up at Baltimore, and several lives lost. The best feature in the neighbouring country is the rapid and won-derful growth of the American Church A minister (it is not stated of what denomination), named Sylvester Judd, has been distingte being in 1/2,004 tank and the state of the royal Canadian regiment and the St. Helena corps, and an augmentation of the 3rd West India regiment. Translation.

Raise, my friends, the gladsome shout ! Let the voice of joy ring out ! Let the verse no longer flow For blind Cupid and his bow : Bacchus kindles not my Muse: Wreaths of roses I refuse To entwine around my brow,-Say, what theme inspires me now? Wisdom, whom the Gods above, Pallas and Apollo, love. Great the gifts this happy hour From its lap on us doth shower. Hence a nobler race shall spring, Ripe in deeds for bards to sing ; Henceforth Wisdom shall appear With a torch, as noon-day clear: Classic Laurel shall o'er-power Roses,—Pleasure's favourite flower. By what God, or god-like mind, Are these noble ends design'd? Stop-for BAGOT's stately mien By my timid Muse is seen ; bling, she would fain retire,-Hark !--- her quiv'ring notes expire.

Dr. McCaul then proposed the health of the Lord Bishop, in warm and happy terms, adverting particularly to his educational abilities, and expressing the conviction that Canada, before the close of his Lordship's valuable life, would have to thank him for many an additional spire gracing her scenery,-many an additional pulpit well filled by faithful preachers of Christ and His salvation. His Lordship replied in few, but touching words. He deexistence. His feelings were evidently almost too strong for him, and spoke with an eloquence far beyond that of words.
