MUTUAL PREFERENTIAL RATE WAS JOHN LOWES' THEME

Member of the British Empire League Speaks on This Great Imperial Question on Sir Charles' Platform at Cornwall.

What It Would Mean to the Farmers of Canada—Canada Is Ripe for Obtaining Preferences, and Now Is the Time for the Colonies to Act—How Tarte Shocked the British Public.

Corwall, Oct. 28.—(Special.)—Saturday closed the eastern route of Sir Charles Tupper's second tour of Ontario. Cornwall afforded the culminating triumph, and the opportunity for John Lowes, ex-M.P. for Hagerston division, London, Eng., a member of the British Empire League, to present the Imperial policy of mutual preferential trade. It was the first bit of British atmosphere let into the campaign on this subject, and coming from a man who has visited every part of the Empire in advocacy of this policy, his message will be read with as much interest as it was received by the electors of Stormont, with established enthusiasm.

British Opinion of Tarte.

The opinion of the British public on the far-reaching loyalty utterances of Hon. Israel Tarte, favoring the separation of Canada from the Empire, was focussed by Mr. Lowes as a recognized British publicist. Everything there was ripe for the preference in the colonies, Australia, for instance, the people were asking what in the Old Country going to give in return for the preference? That was a question that the colonies should ask and be urged Canada to join in the demand on the Motherland.

The Position of the Old Land.

What was the position of 50,000,000 living on the manufacturing industries? It could not raise enough food products to feed these. There was a question of obtaining these products than from the colonies. Canada could supply all the wheat required, Australia all the meat and South Africa could contribute its own products. It was a natural thing for the Old Land not to give a preference to the raw materials of the colonies and in exchange be given a preference in the colonial markets for her manufactured goods. [Applause.]

Canada Is Ripe for It.

Further, Canada, because of her great facilities for transportation, was ripe for the institution of such a preference. As it was now, the Canadian wheat of the west could be put on the market at a price lower than the wheat from Dakota. As to the argument that it is a duty to protect the farmer, Mr. Lowes declared that Sir Wilfrid Laurier was a mere politician who "tempered his sail to a shifting wind," but Sir Charles Tupper was a statesman who led public opinion.

Imperial Issues.

In conclusion he apologized for speaking on a political platform in Canada, and would not have done so had he only local issues to discuss. But what he was the occasion of his speech, Mr. Tarte and mutual preferential trade, he felt he was on international and Imperial grounds that gave him just reason for speaking.

At the conclusion of his speech Mr. Lowes was given an ovation that was second only to the one tendered Sir Charles himself.

On the occasion of the speaker Sir Charles Tupper, in advocating mutual preferential trade, was doing a statesmanlike service to the whole Empire, because such a policy was perfectly logical and patriotic. It was logical, because the means of self supply were found within the four corners of the Empire, that they should be brought to a focus. That was the aim of the mutual preference.

Why?

Then there was another argument, Why should Great Britain pay £20,000,000 more to the United States for what she bought from them than they paid for what they bought from her?

U.S. Merchants Do Not Keep English Goods.

He knew from experience that United States merchants kept no more English goods than possible. So long as the colonies remained as they were outside the charm of mutual preferential trade with Great Britain, they would be exposed to severe competition from foreign countries. To-day Australia grew enough sugar to supply all persons in the colony. Germany also grew vast quantities of sugar. The German system of subsidizing steamship lines enabled Germany to compete in the sale of sugar in Australia itself. Mutual preference would remedy this and stimulate Australian trade.

Now is the Opportunity Time.

Everything was now opportune for the obtaining of such a preference. The Belgian treaties were obstacles, but the obvious classes had been removed. For all these reasons the speaker urged the electors to return Sir Charles to power. British statesmen about pushing the question of mutual preference because it was "a great measure a colonial question. Englishmen waited for this policy to be suggested by the colonies, and he was glad to see the mind of Mr. Chamberlain, with whom he had often conversed concerning the preference. The Empire had to wait for the colonies to act. This was the expressed opinion of Mr. Chamberlain.

Britain Favors It.

He declared that in Great Britain, when the matter was really brought up, it would be seen that the rank and file, the brain and muscle of the electorate were in favor of this principle. Sir Charles had made it so plain that it is a duty to protect the farmer, but he was speaking of the confidence of the whole people being reposed in him. [Cheers.]

Incidentally Mr. Lowes declared that Sir Wilfrid Laurier was a mere politician who "tempered his sail to a shifting wind," but Sir Charles Tupper was a statesman who led public opinion.

CONSERVATIVES WILL CARRY TWENTY-FIVE SEATS IN QUEBEC

That is the Prediction of a Conservative Who Has Had a Good Deal to Do With the Organization in That Province—Sir Charles Tupper's Program for This Week.

Montreal, Oct. 28.—(Special.)—Sir Charles Tupper spent the day here and left in the evening for the west. The leader, with Hon. Dr. Montague, will address a meeting at London Oct. 30. The Doctor will also speak in Paris Oct. 29, Dunville Nov. 1, Guelph Nov. 2, and Simcoe Nov. 5.

Before leaving Sir Charles Tupper received a message from Hon. John Huggart, saying that the latter was sure of winning by 100 of a majority. A letter was also received here to-day stating that Hon. Dr. Borden would certainly be defeated in King's N.S.

The Conservatives of this province have been doing well, but they have had to do some valuable work, and work that will tell on election day. It may be said that Sir Wilfrid's Laurier's cabinet organization has been everything in his sight, yet when they are asked for data they concede the Conservatives 20 counties, or five additional seats to those now possessed by that party. In spite of his pessimistic view of things, it is an open secret that the party managers here have warned their Ontario friends to use every effort, as a good many weak spots have broken out in this province, and that several counties heretofore believed to be safe will be carried by the Conservative party.

Conservatives Will Carry 25 Seats.

Yesterday a Conservative gentleman who has had a good deal to do with the organization, declared that the Conservatives have more counties in the absolutely safe column than their opponents, and it looks as if Nov. 7 would confirm this claim. It looks as if the Conservatives would carry 25 seats, and it may be that this can be increased.

HON. COLIN H. CAMPBELL WINS BY AN INCREASED MAJORITY

Significant Result of the Provincial Bye-Election in Morris, Manitoba—Greenway-Sifton Faction Did Their Utmost to Win, But Could Not—Rejoicing at Conservative Meetings.

Winnipeg, Oct. 28.—(Special.)—A provincial bye-election in Quebec Province, Western Canada took place yesterday in Morris, when Mr. Lawrence, the candidate backed by the Greenway-Sifton influence, was overwhelmingly defeated by Hon. Colin H. Campbell, the new Attorney-General in the Roblin Cabinet. It is stated that Sifton insisted that an opponent should be placed in the field to Campbell, and the Minister had his answer. At first Mr. Lawrence, knowing how utterly discredited he was, did not openly avow his candidature to the ex-Frontier, but as the campaign progressed he admitted that he would support Greenway if returned.

They Worked Their Hardest.

The Greenway-Sifton combination had an exceedingly clean man personally in Morris, a resident of the riding, and they used every influence known to electorians, bringing voters from far and near, but Mr. Campbell, who is a resident of Winnipeg, and also a highly respected citizen, plied up the immense majority of 272. His majority in the same riding at the provincial election in December of last year was only 188. The normal vote in the riding is about 1400.

News Wired to Meetings.

The news of the election was telegraphed to political meetings in Brandon, Macdonald and other points, and was received with the greatest applause by the opponents of Siftonism. In the campaign the Conservatives say that Lawrence's name was linked with that of Laurier, in the minds of voters, and that the French vote was held by his own, so that the French have no use for Siftonism or Greenwayism.

Good Advice to Sifton.

Rev. S. W. Williams, a Methodist minister, and a Liberal of 40 years standing, has addressed an open letter to Sifton, advising the latter to return to the paths of rectitude. Mr. Williams is supporting Richardson.

HEAVY LOSS TO FARMER.

Happily, just as autumn's loveliest creations, in the form of Mr. Robert Duncan, Quin's French Flame wheat, this glowing femininity with a continued lease of delight during the dull days of approaching winter.

AUSTRALIA SHOWS HER UNBOUNDED LOYALTY

Premier Lyne of New South Wales Says the Australians Were Never So Affectionate to England as Now.

War in South Africa Has Produced a Patriotic Bond to Last Forever—Her Majesty Should Assume the Title "Queen of Australia."

Sydney, N.S.W., Oct. 28.—Mr. William John Lyne, Premier and Treasurer of New South Wales, during a speech at the opening of a German fete here to-day said: "The temper of the Australian people was never so affectionate toward the Mother Country as it is now. The war in South Africa has produced a patriotic bond which should last eternally. "It has been suggested locally that Her Majesty should assume the title of Queen of Australia. To me it seems a good proposal. Indeed, I think Her Majesty might well be approached with a view to her assumption of the title of Empress of the British Empire, thus embracing all the colonies and dependencies."

REGISTRATION IN TORONTO PUTS ON 16,289 NEW VOTERS

Record Figures Reached in the Four Days the Registrars Were Working—Conservatives Confidently Claim the Advantage—Figures for the Constituencies.

The registration of new voters in Toronto has moved to a triumphant close. The amount of interest that is being taken in the coming elections. Record figures have been reached, for during the four days given to new voters to get on the lists 16,289 persons have registered in five constituencies. West Toronto shows the lead with 2703 new manipulators of the franchise. Next come Toronto with 3630, and Centre Toronto with 3387. In West York the registration was 1964 not including one division of Friday's registration, and in East York the total registration was 1574.

There was a rush to register on Saturday.

In East Toronto 560 names were added to the list, in Centre Toronto 778, West Toronto 1703, East York 431, West York 373.

At some of the booths the crush was awful toward the closing hours, and at one particularly in West Toronto, it was claimed that 350 would-be voters were unable to get into and take the oath and register.

Judge McDougall was asked by the World last night what provision would be made for the citizens who were prevented from registering because the crush was so great. The justice replied that there was nothing to help them in the statute. He averred that it was not necessary for them to wait till the last day, and if they did so and were counted on it was their own fault. He could not see where such cases could be considered at the supplementary sittings, which commence on Wednesday.

The registration for the four days was full of incidents too numerous to mention, and at each booth the scrutineers of the Conservative and Liberal parties were in attendance and rounded up some applicants with funny questions.

The Conservatives confidently count on having about two-thirds the best of the registration, but the Liberals have worked very hard and have scored many of their faithful.

MILITARY SITUATION IN SOUTH AFRICA IS AS BAD AS IT CAN BE

The Boers appear to be still able to isolate Cape Colony from the North—Enormous Difficulties in the Way of Suppressing Guerilla Warfare.

London, Oct. 27.—(New York Sun Cable.)—The military situation in South Africa is nearly as bad as can be imagined, from the British point of view. The Boers have scored an unbroken series of considerable successes in every corner of the theatre of war, and gravest of all is the evidence of their ability to isolate Cape Colony from the north. An attempt to send British reinforcements from Bloemfontein to strengthen the lines of communication in the southern part of the Orange River Colony, has failed. There has been persistent sniping as far south as the Frasersburg road. The Cape Dutch practically say: "Unless you treat the Boers as honorable belligerents we will make your soldiers suffer."

In the action on Oct. 26, 12 men were killed and three officers and 20 men were wounded. The Boers lost 10 dead and 19 wounded on the field, and 20 were made prisoners. Three Boers were taken to the hospital, and one died. The remainder were sent to the hospital, and one died. The remainder were sent to the hospital, and one died."

This would have a serious effect on the interests of the Chinese Empire, which is still at the mercy of a host of other powers."

THE PEACOCK AND HIS TAIL.

A Liberal speaker lately said that in an expenditure of $20,000,000, an item of $3000 for emergency rations was not worth discussing, or words to that effect. A famous savant once remarked that if he were given one small bone he could reconstruct the whole animal. So, from this one item, we can construct the Liberal's attitude.

MEETING CALLED BY LIBERALS WAS LOADED UP THE OTHER WAY

Hon. E. J. Davis Went up to Enlighten the People in the Interests of the Government, and Caught a Tartar in Mr. F. R. Powell, Who Told About Their Iniquities.

Parry Sound, Ont., Oct. 27.—(Special)—A well attended political meeting was held here in the evening last night, the occasion being the visit of Hon. E. J. Davis, Commissioner of Crown Lands, to speak on behalf of Mr. R. J. Watson, the Liberal candidate, Mr. McCormick, the Conservative nominee, was represented by Mr. F. R. Powell, barrister, of this place. The chairman, Mr. John Purvis, welcomed the hon. commissioner on this occasion of his first visit to Parry Sound.

Mr. D. W. Ross gave an opening address, and spoke at some length on the issues of the day. Mr. Powell followed for the Conservatives, and obtained a good hearing. He claimed that George McCormick, first brought attention to the matter of export of sawlogs to the United States, and that it was owing to his advocacy of the policy to prohibit such export that The Toronto World newspaper took the matter up, and brought public attention to the question. He ridiculed the idea that present good times were brought about by the present Government, and pointed to the fact that good times prevailed in the United States, England and other countries.

Mr. Powell closed an able address, which had a decided influence on the meeting. The hon. commissioner said that he was glad to see the hon. Mr. Davis was cordially received and addressed the meeting for about an hour and a half. He spoke at length on provincial enactments, in which the hon. Mr. Davis was interested, and on the leading questions of the day, claiming that Sir Wilfrid Laurier had adopted the best policy of the Government, and upholding the preferential policy of the Government, claiming that it was necessary to the best interests of the country.

The meeting closed with cheers for the respective candidates and their party leaders, and was in evidence that the hon. Mr. Davis's address, claiming that his election is a certainty.

Mr. C. M. Hays Will Govern. The Man Who Put the Grand Trunk on Its Feet Will Be a Great Loss to That Company.

Will Run Southern Pacific. The Wonderful Progress Made by Mr. Hays, Who is Still a Young Man.

Montreal, Oct. 27.—(Special)—Mr. Charles M. Hays, General Manager of the Grand Trunk Railway, this morning confirmed the announcement that he had accepted the offer of the presidency of the Southern Pacific Railway. The salary, it is understood, is fifty thousand dollars a year. He will sever his connection with the G.T.R. Jan. 1.

Mr. F. H. McGuigan, General Superintendent, is being prominently mentioned as Mr. Hays's successor. Mr. McGuigan is a very able man and his appointment would be exceedingly popular with all classes of people.

Mr. Hays's Career. Of Mr. Hays, the Montreal Herald says: On May 19, 1856, Charles M. Hays was born in Rock Island, Ill. When only 17 years old he entered the employ of the Atlantic & Pacific Railroad Company as a brakeman. In 1875, he was promoted to getting this employment he was invested with a small amount of money, and became the general superintendent of the road.

Young Hays may have spent his spare moments in dream of a glorious career, but he certainly spent his working hours in doing real work. He applied himself with all his energy to learning what he could about the railroad business, and he has barely attained his majority he was made secretary to the general manager of the Missouri, Pacific, and North Western Railway. In 1877, he was promoted to the position of general superintendent of the Missouri, Pacific and North Western Railway. In 1880, he was promoted to the position of general superintendent of the Missouri, Pacific and North Western Railway.

On April 1, 1883, Mr. Hays was promoted to the position of general superintendent of the Missouri, Pacific and North Western Railway. In 1885, he was promoted to the position of general superintendent of the Missouri, Pacific and North Western Railway. In 1887, he was promoted to the position of general superintendent of the Missouri, Pacific and North Western Railway.

Chance for Broader Scope. In this position his ability, of course, a broader scope. The Washington, St. Louis & Pacific had been in the hands of the owners since he had been in its service. In 1888 the system was split up into three parts. The Missouri, Pacific and North Western was reorganized into the Missouri, Pacific and North Western Railway Company. Young Mr. Hays had attracted attention by the capacity shown in his management of the road, and the new place was given to him. He proved himself capable of it, and two years later, when the old system was re-united and the present Washington Railroad Company came into existence, he became its general manager.

Mr. Hays in the management of this property built up a name for himself as one of the most energetic railroad men of the country. When it was announced in the fall of 1895 that he was to become general manager of the Grand Trunk, at the salary of $40,000 a year, President Oslian D. Ashley of the latter said: "If Mr. Hays has resigned I can only say that the country has lost not only an official, but a friend. In both capacities he is admirable."

Chairman Charles H. Tweed of the Southern Pacific Express Company, who Mr. Hays would assume his new work at the beginning of the next year, with headquarters in San Francisco.

WHEN WILL THE SHOW CLOSE? Exhibitors at Paris Are Having a Disagreeable Experience Because of the Inertia of the International.

Paris, Oct. 27.—The Exposition exhibitors are experiencing unpleasantness in not knowing whether the exhibition will close on the date originally set, Monday, Nov. 5, or be prolonged until Nov. 11. At the headquarters of the American Commission, no light could be thrown on the situation. The only statement forthcoming was that they had been consulted on the subject of prolongation and Commission-General Peck had entered a protest. Since then nothing official has been received from the French authorities. The French papers last Wednesday said the announcement was official, but it has not appeared yet in the Journal Officiel. At the head of the Associated Press was told today that the prolongation was not yet absolutely certain, but it was almost so. "It will not be official, anyway," said the assistant secretary.

MISS RUTHERFORD RETURNS Toronto Lady Who Was in the Siege of Pekin Has Reached Home.

The first person to reach Toronto who went through the siege of Pekin is Miss H. E. Rutherford of East Gerrard-street, who arrived from San Francisco Saturday morning. Miss Rutherford is one of the missionaries of the Christian and Missionary Alliance in the Chinese capital. SOME TRYING EXPERIENCES. A Pitiful Story of the Wholesale Slaughter of Native Christians.

The first person to reach Toronto who went through the siege of Pekin is Miss H. E. Rutherford of East Gerrard-street, who arrived from San Francisco Saturday morning. Miss Rutherford is one of the missionaries of the Christian and Missionary Alliance in the Chinese capital. She tells an exceedingly interesting story of the trying experiences during the two months' siege of the British Legation.

"The saddest part of the whole pitiful story," said Miss Rutherford, "was the wholesale slaughter of native Christians. They had been left at their homes by the missionaries, who considered they would have a better chance of escaping unnoticed than if they came to the legation, but nearly all of them were butchered."

The Empress Dowager offered a slight remuneration to all joining the Boxer movement. Many of the missionaries were induced to join the society. They used to practice in the street with knives, but as they had no gun they did not anticipate anything serious.

"When the trouble broke out we all went to the British Legation. The Chinese troops round the city kept firing day and night and one could never get more than two or three miles from the city. At first the continued stinging of bullets and the burning of shells made the ladies very nervous. We had to take refuge in the British Legation, and also they dared not venture out to get any supplies. We had to live on what the British Legation sent us."

Speaking about the siege, Miss Rutherford said that when the siege started, but two weeks' provisions were on hand, however, the weeks lengthened out the canned goods and white rice were all used, and they had to fall back on brown bread and Chinese food, which was very unpleasant. "We had no milk, no butter, no sugar, and very few vegetables. After the fall of the T'ai Tai Empress Dowager ordered to lose con- sideration for the men in 400 watermelons and 100 pounds of flour as a peace offering."

Mr. Kemp's broad and generous spirit was one of the great features of his life. He was a man of great energy and initiative, and his work for the Conservative party in Toronto was a model of efficiency. MISS RUTHERFORD RETURNS Toronto Lady Who Was in the Siege of Pekin Has Reached Home.

The first person to reach Toronto who went through the siege of Pekin is Miss H. E. Rutherford of East Gerrard-street, who arrived from San Francisco Saturday morning. Miss Rutherford is one of the missionaries of the Christian and Missionary Alliance in the Chinese capital. She tells an exceedingly interesting story of the trying experiences during the two months' siege of the British Legation.

SOME TRYING EXPERIENCES. A Pitiful Story of the Wholesale Slaughter of Native Christians.

The first person to reach Toronto who went through the siege of Pekin is Miss H. E. Rutherford of East Gerrard-street, who arrived from San Francisco Saturday morning. Miss Rutherford is one of the missionaries of the Christian and Missionary Alliance in the Chinese capital. She tells an exceedingly interesting story of the trying experiences during the two months' siege of the British Legation.

"The saddest part of the whole pitiful story," said Miss Rutherford, "was the wholesale slaughter of native Christians. They had been left at their homes by the missionaries, who considered they would have a better chance of escaping unnoticed than if they came to the legation, but nearly all of them were butchered."

The Empress Dowager offered a slight remuneration to all joining the Boxer movement. Many of the missionaries were induced to join the society. They used to practice in the street with knives, but as they had no gun they did not anticipate anything serious.

"When the trouble broke out we all went to the British Legation. The Chinese troops round the city kept firing day and night and one could never get more than two or three miles from the city. At first the continued stinging of bullets and the burning of shells made the ladies very nervous. We had to take refuge in the British Legation, and also they dared not venture out to get any supplies. We had to live on what the British Legation sent us."

Speaking about the siege, Miss Rutherford said that when the siege started, but two weeks' provisions were on hand, however, the weeks lengthened out the canned goods and white rice were all used, and they had to fall back on brown bread and Chinese food, which was very unpleasant. "We had no milk, no butter, no sugar, and very few vegetables. After the fall of the T'ai Tai Empress Dowager ordered to lose con- sideration for the men in 400 watermelons and 100 pounds of flour as a peace offering."
