

Leaves Missing From Gamey's Cash Book

Startling Developments in the Investigation Over Crossin's Evidence Bank Teller Says Deposit Slip Changed

Confidence Expressed That Chief Figure in the Prosecution Can Explain, and Suspicion is Directed Toward Man Who Handled Book as Mutillator.

Into the solid phalanx of sworn facts marshalled by the prosecution in the Stratton investigation the defence yesterday afternoon projected one or two "looking-shells." There was more display than actual execution, but the adjournment of the Commission at 4 o'clock found the defence more jubilant than it has been at any time since the enquiry opened, and the prosecution realized that it was face to face with the first real reverse of the enquiry.

What Counsel Thought. His counsel seemed to think that he was absent from the city. Mr. Stratton's counsel by their knowing smiles apparently thought it probable that he was absent from the country.

Point That Caused Trouble. The transactions in question covered the deposit of $900 in the Ontario Bank by Mr. Gamey on the same day he deposited in the Traders' Bank the $1500 which he alleges was half of the $3000 which he claims to have received from Crossin.

SOME STARTLING EVIDENCE. The most exciting event of the day related to the discovery of the mutilated bank book and lost deposit slip.

MILITARY STUDY OF DOMINION FOR GEN. BADEN-POWELL LATER

Ottawa, April 20.—(Special.)—Ottawa has been very much agog to-day since the advent of the hero of Mafeking, arrived from Toronto. Gen. Baden-Powell arrived in the city this morning, and is a guest at Government House.

COMBINE MAY PAY DIVIDENDS ON NORTHERN SECURITIES CO.

St. Paul, Minn., April 20.—Circuit Court Judge Sanborn handed down today a decision, granting the request of the attorneys for the Northern Securities Company to be permitted to pay Great Northern and Northern Pacific dividends to the Northern Securities Company.

Text of the Decision. "To enable the courts to prevent unnecessary loss or injury to the parties to litigation in such cases the Supreme Court provided by rule 43 that when an appeal is allowed from a final decree granting an injunction a judge who took part in the decision may make an order suspending the injunction during the pendency of the appeal upon such terms as to bond or otherwise as he may consider proper for the security of the opposite party."

MEMBER FOR MANITOULIN IS MISSING.

At midnight Mrs. R. R. Gamey was interviewed by a World man at 274 Palmerston Ave. "I do not know where my husband is," she said: "he left Saturday afternoon to see a man, saying he would return Tuesday evening. I do not know what man he went to see or where."

The absence of R. R. Gamey is provoking the widest excitement all over Ontario. He has not been seen in Toronto since 4:30 Saturday afternoon, when he left the Walker House with a grip saying he was going out to town to spend Sunday.

The Gamey counsel admit their annoyance over his absence. They say they cannot understand it, but express confidence that he will be present when the case opens to-day. They say they do not know where he is, tho the developments in the case yesterday make his presence imperative.

ISSUE IN THE STRATTON CHARGES.

The yesterday's developments in the Stratton investigation were sensational and spectacular, they do not affect in the slightest degree the telling evidence that has been brought out by the prosecution.

Mr. Gamey is not on trial. The man before the bar is the Provincial Secretary. No matter how circumstances may picture the member for Manitoulin, the public will demand satisfactory contradiction of the testimony which strongly suggests corrupt influences in the Ross government.

It is too early to pronounce upon the motives of R. R. Gamey. It would be still more rash to conclude that any revelations affecting the character of Mr. Gamey should weaken the indictment that has been laid against Hon. J. R. Stratton and other members of the government.

Mr. Gamey may be able to put an altogether different complexion on the suspicious circumstances which the cross-examination of Mr. Crossin developed. Whether he can or cannot is an affair of Mr. Gamey's personal honor—nothing to be vindicated in his personal honor, the charges against Hon. J. R. Stratton will not be weakened, and if he clears his personal honor of suspicion the charges against Hon. J. R. Stratton will not be strengthened.

6. T. TRACKMEN TALK STRIKE UNLESS ADVANCE COMES TO-DAY

There are serious reasons to believe the Grand Trunk trackmen through Canada are going on a strike. News of this step reached Toronto from Montreal yesterday. The local officials told "The World" they did not expect an increase of 10c a day April 1.

OLD SONGS SUNG WITH VIGOR BY SIR RICHARD AT OTTAWA

Defends the Government Policy on the Tariff and Derides Mr. Borden's Observations.

Ottawa, April 20.—From a World staff writer.—Sir Richard Cartwright and Hon. Israel Tarte held the boards in the House to-day. Both were once Conservatives. Sir Richard seems destined to die in the Liberal fold, tho Mr. Tarte has come out from among Liberals and stands for the present alone. He cannot be counted on a Liberal. His leaning is toward the Conservatives. Protection is his politics.

Not in Old Form. His followers gave him every encouragement, but he lacked security. His falling off from the standard set by the former Liberal leader is a matter of himself is not pronounced. He may be ready to go to the Senate or to be appointed Governor-General.

Mr. Tarte was apparently under considerable restraint in his utterances. He was particularly so in the matter of his late colleagues, and especially of the Finance Minister. He left no doubt of his position. He demanded a complete revision of the tariff, and believes that the retaliation on Germany, if a good thing, would be a good thing to apply to the United States. He exposed the government for its tariff pretensions, declaring that its definite statement regarding the tariff would be useful to quiet free traders and protectionists alike, that they are merely diplomatic and give expression to no policy.

Repudiated the Old Song. None of these conditions were present, because Sir Richard had repudiated the old song. He accused someone of putting Mr. Borden's brief motto, "When you have finished the job, the plaintiff's attorney." That in a nutshell was a criticism of Mr. Borden's policy.

At the Head of Nations. Sir Richard lives on figures. He declared Mr. Borden had juggled with those relating to the progress of Canada's trade as compared with that of other nations. Mr. Borden dealt in millions, Sir Richard in percentages. Mr. Borden declared Canada's trade had increased in 1902 as compared with 1898 40 per cent, while the trade of the United States had increased only 48 per cent.

Method of Chariton. Mr. Borden replied that he had used the method of John Chariton, after a pause, Sir Richard replied that for his part he did not agree with the member for North Norfolk.

REPRISALS AGAINST CANADA SAY THE GERMAN NEWSPAPERS

Berlin, April 20.—The Tagliche Rundschau says it became authoritatively that Germany will enact reprisals against Canada on account of the action of the Dominion government in imposing a surtax on German goods. The paper adds that all the political parties condemn the step taken by Canada. The German newspapers comment at considerable length on the action of the Canadian government towards German imports.

SEWERS AND MARKETS COMMITTEES

Interesting Evidence in Police Case

Is Charlie Luppini, Cook, Married to Ancestor Girl?

Hamilton, April 20.—The Sewers Committee met to-night and gave the contract for laying a sewer on Bloor street to J. Armstrong of 26 cents a foot. In regard to the disposal of a man from the West-ward street disposal works, the action of the engineer was sustained, but, as the works have not yet been started, the hope to increase that by at least $300. The committee have an idea that the local heads want to charge too much for machinery at the celebration and they are going to look after the matter.

St. Thomas' Vestry.

The congregation of St. Thomas' Church held their vestry meeting to-night. The pastor, Rev. E. J. Robertson, presided. What looked like a small storm cloud gathered over the meeting. The pastor asked the members to withdraw if they were not working in harmony. Thomas Luppini was appointed secretary and Thomas Burns was chosen by the pastor.

Under Arrest.

Odey Wyrzyk, who is accused of taking a leading part in a Coketown row Sunday night at the city. The police officers and policeman had hold of his collar, was arrested to-night by P. James Clark. Jim Gallagher has been summoned on the same charge.

Happenings.

The civic festival, which was run during the cool weather, was conducted at the Victoria park. The object was to make money, but to put a check on the local business. The festival was very much successful.

Water and Daniel Crow

The local authorities of the G. T. R. were around to-day hunting up all the men they could find to be sworn in as constables and patrol their tracks. It is believed that they are preparing for another election. The water and Daniel Crow were very much successful.

Performance of his agreement.

And then when the joint stock company was formed, did you receive a number of shares of stock in the company?—Yes, sir.

Share of the business.

You said you were in the Ontario Bank on Saturday last?—Yes, sir.

And that the object of your visit was to get some change?—Yes, and also to have the bank book made up to Saturday.

Compliance with Mr. McEvoy's wish.

And you have produced your bank book and all the cheques?—Yes, with the exception of one, and they have intimated that a small amount of $20, and something else is withheld from you, which means outstanding.

Conversation with Mr. Gamey.

You say you did not hear what the conversation was that passed between the messenger from the bank and Mr. Gamey?—No, I did not. I was in the room, and I walked out of the room.

Expected to be treasurer of the company.

Mr. Howard, teller of the Ontario Bank, was called several times during the afternoon but was not present. It was announced that he had been in the room, but was told that he was not required and left.

DETAILS OF THE DAY.

Miss O'Grady the First Witness in the Gamey-Stratton Case.

Miss Cecilia O'Grady, clerk of files of the Public Works Department, the first witness, was examined by Mr. McEvoy. She said Frank Sullivan was assistant accountant in the department. She was frequently detained in the office after 4.30. No people that she knew of came there after office hours to do business with Mr. Sullivan. She operated a laundry of her own. No person had a practice of writing letters to her, they were delivered to her by the post. She said she saw Frank Sullivan write a letter to himself on his typewriter. She was summoned on Friday, and on Saturday

COULDN'T DO IT.

Didn't Know the Food She Had Locked Building Material.

Proper food brought a woman and her child out of sickness into health. A lady living in Madison, Wis., relates her experience, which certainly is interesting.

Says: "For about fifteen months I was an invalid and I was part of that time caring for a little baby girl. Different physicians said I had heart trouble, but I did not believe them. I had a good old physician. He said the difficulty all came from my not being able to handle food. I had run down from 130 pounds to 85 and had made up my mind I would never get well. He put me on a diet of Grape-Nuts with good cream and granular crackers, little salt bread when I wanted it, and butter, but no meat and no medicine.

Two months I got so I could sleep sound before I used to walk the floor all night. My sick feelings left me and I began to get well. I weaned the baby, but she was very sickly and puny. The doctor said it would be a wonder if we ever raised her. Grape-Nuts had done so much for me I concluded to put her on the food, and got a coffee mill to grind it in, and gave it to her with good cream. She picked up very quickly and began to gain weight and strength. Now she has a round, ruddy face, is perfectly healthy, out doors all day and hungry all the time. I am grateful to the makers of Grape-Nuts that has saved my life and given strength and health to my little girl."

Canada could best give aid to the British empire by making it the part of every man to know military drill and how to handle a rifle. About 200,000 could be made ready to aid the empire in time of need. This would result in the inculcation of habits of sobriety and temperance, for no marksmanship could be made without the aid of the latter. This would self-respect and self-reliance be instilled into the minds of Canadians. (Applause.) As a parting word he told the House to go on as it had been going on.

Balance Against Canada.

Mr. Tarte had the floor at 8 o'clock p.m., thanks to the courtesy of James Clancy, M. P. He briefly reviewed the best case for the British Empire in not revising the tariff. Then he gave figures to show that the balance of trade has been continually against Canada.

He made his first hit when he took issue with the statement that agricultural products imported into Canada from the United States did not interfere with Canadian farmers. Why, then, did the Western members complain of the importation of horses? Why, then, did the Western members raise the tariff on farming products as high as the United States tariff? This would deprive Canadian farmers of their market. Where farmers were afraid to go to present. (Opposition applause.)

He said British Columbia was the only Province that had one in its favor in trade with the United States. The fruits were Canada was made a dumping ground for the farmers of the United States.

One-Sided Trade.

"In Canada's intercourse with the United States, the United States has the best of the trade," he said. "We export little to them. They need our lumber, but they do not need our goods. Would it not be in the interest of Canada to put an immediate end to this state of affairs?"

He said the government intended to do so. "Would it lower the tariff?" he asked. "Would it be possible, Canada could not do so. The tariff on the manufacturing world. Shall Canada get reciprocity from the United States?"

Mr. Tarte said he would not think you could get it, answered Mr. Tarte. "Protection is the watchword of the farmers and the watchword of the manufacturers is reciprocity. Canada should adopt a policy that would mean protection for our farmers."

Reciprocity No Good.

Further reciprocity in natural products with the United States could export nothing that the United States could not produce. It would mean a market for our farmers, and a market for our manufacturers. He stamped the reasons given by the government for not revising the tariff. "Perhaps the letters by reciprocity were very timely, but were only excuses for delay. No one would be hurt out of the British Empire by giving a preference. Britain's action on the cattle embargo and the tariff on the wool is sufficient. Mr. Tarte was surprised to know that at the colonial conference the British government had given a further preference."

Give Too Few With Britain.

"We have already gone too far with the British preference. Perhaps the first preference was justifiable, but the Canadian people are not prepared to stand for any further preference." Mr. Tarte declared the government was a protectionist government. Most of the reasons given for a low tariff were the reasons given against reciprocity. The reasons given against reciprocity were diplomatic and the reasons given for a high tariff were the reasons for a Canada cheap living country. The west could not be organized. Mr. Tarte then gave figures showing the enormous increase in population in the United States in the past ten years, the increase in immigration and the increase in homestead entry. He said the tariff on the wool and the tariff on the cattle were the tariff of 1870. It had worked well, but not as well as a higher tariff would have worked. He smiled when he recalled that Sir Richard had said the tariff of 1870 had filled the pockets of the manufacturers. What then must be doing today? he asked. Mr. Tarte promised Mr. Fielding of the latter's promise last year to revise the tariff in this session. The manufacturers had believed him. Mr. Fielding had said the manufacturers were not so badly off as their chief drawback was that they had not sufficient factory space.

Called It "Hot."

"Why, what?" was Mr. Tarte's comment on that argument. That was the gentleman's argument for a delay in the revision he had ever heard. Were the manufacturers holding their own? Mr. Tarte did not think so. The iron industry in Nova Scotia had caused a loss of $25,000,000 within six months. Canada, because it was not properly protected. Unless tariff revision were made soon many financial difficulties would arise among industries that Mr. Tarte had known well. He called on the government to carry out its policy as

Canada could best give aid to the British empire by making it the part of every man to know military drill and how to handle a rifle. About 200,000 could be made ready to aid the empire in time of need. To Mr. Biddell, the witness said he had been called as a witness for Frank Sullivan in at least one matter, and for his father in a number of matters. When the Walker House there was no mention of a stock transaction. He never heard of the witness in the Walker House. He explained that he did not act as a solicitor for the government.

LETTER NOT A FACTOR

The letter signed in the presence of Mr. Aylesworth had nothing to do with the withdrawal of the petition at issue. In some cases the parties putting in the petition put up their own deposit, but in cases where the parties were not able to put up the money, it was raised by subscription. There were seventeen petitions in which the money came from the witness. He kept no account of that money, all he had was his bank book. He put $17,000 in his own private account in the bank. He kept no memorandum showing where the money came from. He had a pretty good idea of a book of any kind.

STANTON'S HUNT FOR EVIDENCE

Mr. Grant said he gave Stanton a cheque for $100 on July 19 to go to Montreal to look for evidence. He mentioned a letter on Aug. 5, giving details of Stanton's investigations. Witness said Mr. Grant was wrong in one or two respects in regard to his statement as to what was said at the interview in the Walker House.

Mr. Grant said he had not mentioned the subject of the interview to anyone except the counsel in the case. He had known Frank Sullivan thru his father quite a number of years. He did not know of any employment in election matters either of the Sullivans had. He had run across Capt. Sullivan on election cases where he (Sullivan) had been involved a little bit. This remark was accompanied by a smile.

It will not do impossible things, but it often does wonderful things.

It always restores color, stops falling, cures dandruff, and prevents splitting at the ends.

My hair was three parts gray before I used Ayer's Hair Vigor. Now there isn't a gray hair to be seen. I have many friends who have had the same experience with it.—Henry Coleman, New York City, N. Y.

He said British Columbia was the only Province that had one in its favor in trade with the United States. The fruits were Canada was made a dumping ground for the farmers of the United States.

One-Sided Trade.

"In Canada's intercourse with the United States, the United States has the best of the trade," he said. "We export little to them. They need our lumber, but they do not need our goods. Would it not be in the interest of Canada to put an immediate end to this state of affairs?"

He said the government intended to do so. "Would it lower the tariff?" he asked. "Would it be possible, Canada could not do so. The tariff on the manufacturing world. Shall Canada get reciprocity from the United States?"

Mr. Tarte said he would not think you could get it, answered Mr. Tarte. "Protection is the watchword of the farmers and the watchword of the manufacturers is reciprocity. Canada should adopt a policy that would mean protection for our farmers."

Reciprocity No Good.

Further reciprocity in natural products with the United States could export nothing that the United States could not produce. It would mean a market for our farmers, and a market for our manufacturers. He stamped the reasons given by the government for not revising the tariff. "Perhaps the letters by reciprocity were very timely, but were only excuses for delay. No one would be hurt out of the British Empire by giving a preference. Britain's action on the cattle embargo and the tariff on the wool is sufficient. Mr. Tarte was surprised to know that at the colonial conference the British government had given a further preference."

Give Too Few With Britain.

"We have already gone too far with the British preference. Perhaps the first preference was justifiable, but the Canadian people are not prepared to stand for any further preference." Mr. Tarte declared the government was a protectionist government. Most of the reasons given for a low tariff were the reasons given against reciprocity. The reasons given against reciprocity were diplomatic and the reasons given for a high tariff were the reasons for a Canada cheap living country. The west could not be organized. Mr. Tarte then gave figures showing the enormous increase in population in the United States in the past ten years, the increase in immigration and the increase in homestead entry. He said the tariff on the Adjourns Until Thursday and Expressions of Sorrow Announced.

Ottawa, April 20.—(Special.)—The House showed and voted its respect for the late Sir Oliver Mowat this afternoon, when it adopted a resolution, moved by Sir Wilfrid and seconded by R. L. Borden.

Great Interest Aroused. The interest shown by local labor leaders, and the importance of the matters to be discussed at these meetings seem to warrant the prophecy that this will prove the best series of executive meetings in the history of the American Federation of Labor.

Those Who Were Present. The following members were present at the first session of the Council: President Samuel Gompers of the C. I. O. of America, New York, N. Y.; First Vice-President James Duncan of the Granite Cutters' National Union, Washington, D. C.; Fourth Vice-President Max Morris of the Hatters' International Protective Association, Denver, Colo.; Fifth Vice-President Thomas J. Kidd of the Amalgamated Wood Workers International Union, Chicago, Ill.

St. Regrets. A telegram was received from Vice-President John Mitchell regretting his enforced absence from the meeting, the reason being that it was necessary for him to go into the athletic coal region of Pennsylvania to attend to the business of the Pennsylvania State Athletic Union.

Mayor Will Welcome Them. It was announced by President Cox and Secretary Kennedy of the District Trades and Labor Council that His Worship Mayor Urdahart would make an address of welcome to the Executive Council at 11 o'clock this morning.

City Will Banquet Delegates. The Mayor and City Council are tendering a banquet to the delegates Wednesday evening at McConkey's. The guests of honor are to be the Executive Council of the Federation of Labor, Samuel Gompers, Frank Morrison, John B. Lennon, James Duncan, John Mitchell, and O'Connell.

Resolution of Committee. Inasmuch as it is the fundamental principle of the American Federation of Labor to have control over the affairs of its constituent unions, and to which is entitled the full privilege of making laws governing their respective trades and carrying them into effect, the American Federation of Labor declares in the strongest terms that all work in North America, graded under the heading of sheet metal work, etc., properly comes under the jurisdiction of the Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers' International Association.

Terms of the Decision. That the Chicago Sheet Metal Workers' International Association be instructed to send a committee of five to the Milwaukee convention of the Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers' International Association, to meet in conference with that convention for the purpose of the unification of the Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers' International Association and the National Alliance, both of Chicago, into one body under the jurisdiction of the Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers' International Association.

Lord Strathcona's Regret. London, April 20.—Lord Strathcona has expressed his regret over the death of Sir Oliver Mowat, and has ordered his flag on the Canadian office buildings to be half-masted until after the Lieutenant-Governor's funeral.

members of both organizations and their employers. If They Fail to Comply. In the event of the Chicago local of the National Alliance failing to comply with this decision, the president of the American Federation of Labor shall issue a statement that the Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers' International Association is the only body of that craft entitled to the support of other national unions, and central bodies affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

Coming Program. The council adjourned at 5:45 o'clock p.m., and will meet again this morning at 9 o'clock. Among the matters expected to be discussed today is the jurisdiction difficulty between the International Association of Piano and Organ Workers and the General Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers' International Association.

Many Delegates Arrive. The labor men who arrived in the city yesterday, and are registered at the Arlington Hotel, are: Henry J. New York, 1st vice-president of the Stationary Engineers; George C. Perrin, Worcester, Mass., general organizer of the Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers; Hugh Frayne, Scranton, Pa., 2nd vice-president of the Sheet Metal Workers; Martin Lavelle, Bethel, Conn., fraternal delegate from the A. F. of L. to the British Trades Congress; Max Morris, Denver, Colo., general secretary-treasurer of the Retail Clerks; John R. O'Brien, Buffalo, N. Y., president of the Retail Clerks; C. L. J., general president Amalgamated Machine Blacksmiths, and W. McFarlane, Buffalo, N. Y.

President Gompers visited the local Chicago last night, and for a few minutes, before attending a theatre party of the labor leaders at Shea's, Westwood, Chicago, last night. President D. Mulachy of the International Woodworkers' Association addressed the local union in Richmond, Ontario, last night, and will address a mass meeting of woodworkers in Victoria Hall tonight.

Rev. J. G. Shearer addressed the local Purifiers' Union in Pythian Hall last night, regarding Sabbath Day observance. The speaker, who is a regular business man, including the initiation of 18 new members, no definite action was decided on.

The striking leatherworkers announced last night that they are practically no change in the situation here. The G. A. R. of Toronto Junction has submitted a list of 40 strikers, whom they are willing to take back to work at a scale ranging from 15 cents per hour to 25 cents per hour. As this does not come up to the minimum of 15 cents per hour demanded by the strikers, they refused to accept the proposition. They are enthusiastic in their determination to maintain their demands, and only two of the strikers have deserted their comrades.

Shirley Case Closing. Quebec, April 20.—The Shirley case is now fast nearing its close. There remain but one or two more witnesses. This afternoon the eldest daughter of the accused Lavina continued her evidence. After this John Kennedy, presidential body consisting of the other members of the jury, were asked to corroborate the statement made by the daughter of the accused as to his having taken them to the jail physician, then testified that Guard Mitchell did not need any attention at the Prison, and that he showed no signs of suffering from the effects of insanity.

St. Mary's to Be Present. St. Mary's, April 20.—At a special meeting to-night of the Town Council, His Worship the Mayor and the Town Clerk were appointed a delegation to represent the town at the funeral of the late St. Mary's in Toronto on Wednesday, and all the merchants of St. Mary's are requested to close their respective places of business during the funeral hour.
