Difficulties of Preserving Peace Increase, He Tells Cleveland Crowds.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Jan. 29.-Presient Wilson, in delivering a solemn arning here tonight of the need of rompt steps for national preparedness, described the difficulties encountered in maintaining the peace and upholding the honor of the United States at the same time. Two things, he said, were told him by almost every one who came to the White House. One was that the people were counting on him to keep them out of war, and in the next breath, he continued, he was told that the people counted equally upon him to maintain the honor of the United States.

"Have you reflected that a time is described the difficulties en-

The president was cheered for a min-tie and fifteen seconds when he ap-eared at the Armory tonight, and his mphatic urgings that the nation pre-ure "as effectively and promptly as assible." were enthusiastically ap-auded. The fact that only one German machine appeared leads to the belief that the Zeppelin was making a reconnoitring trip and the supposition is that the Germans have in view a similar operation on a larger scale.

the raid the theatres and cafes were open and householders had hardly yet retired. Almost immediately all the aeroplanes guarding Paris were made ready, and about thirty of them took the air. One of these machines fired 25 shots from a quick firer at the invading craft which, pursued by several of the little machines, sped at top speed westward. Apparently the bombs carried by the Zeppelin were let loose indiscriminately and without thought of where they should strike.

One of the pursuing aviators said that the searchlights were usees in the fog, he himself being hardly able to see more than 24 feet above with the aid of his light. The Paris newspapers demand that measures of retailation be taken immediately.

Series of Detonations.

Few Parisians appeared to believe the raiders were likely to come, as they had been turned back many times previously. But suddenly in one of the northeastern parts of Paris there was a great flare in the sky as the Zeppelin dropped an illuminant so that it might be seen by those on the airship whether they were over the city. Then a bomb fell into a street, crushing thru the subway and tearing a hole 15 feet in diameter, but injuring no one. Quickly a series of other detonations occurred, resounding dully thruout the city.

Then came the personal appeal. The men of the unit went out to talk to men and bring them into the battalion. There was some disturbance on the streets, and the opponents of Col. Deliberating, Cheer fully Agreed to Decision and Joined Immediately.

It took five automobiles going as fast as they could from Park Theatre to the Pearl street amories to take the tecruits that were enlisted at the rethe Pearl street armories to take the recruiting meeting last night. Sixty four recruits stood up after the intense appeals of Lieut.-Col. Wright of the 165th and Lieut Perkins of the 109th.

O stirring speech was made by Lieut. Perkins for young Canadians to volunteer, and to substantiate his remarks that Canadians were not enlisting as they should, he asked every soldier not born in Canada to stand in the aisle. Over 50 men stood up and only 10 per cent were Canadians.

"If the same ratio exists in the next 250,000 men to be raised, young Canadians will have to look out that these same men do not dominate Canada when they return from the war."

"I am ashamed of my countrymen." said the chairman, E. J. Hearn, K.C. "I am a Canadian. I have two sons in khaki, and if the war jasts long enough Lyrill beye favo more. This is Canada's khaki, and if the war lasts long enough I will have two more. This is Canada's war and you young Canadians should war and you.

war and you young Canadians should enlist now."

A novel bit of recruiting was done by Dan Lochrie, the manager of Park Theatre. A party of five chums were deliberating as to whether they would enlist or not. The recruiting sergeants had lined them up and each was waiting for the other to sign up. Mr. Lochrie came out of his office, heard the conversation, and said, "Boys, I'll settle this for you." Quick as a flash he took out a half a dollar, saying, "Tail you stay and head you go." It came down head, and all five after shaking hands, jumped into a waiting auto and were taken to the armories. The 109th band furnished the music. A good musical program was given.

We are going to stick with Col. Lochead. He is a splendid officer and a really big mm n, and we all admire him greatly. His position is most discouraging, but we are going to fight this thing turu. If we do not succeed, then the people of Ontario will know why we did not succeed.

Situation is Serious.

"Berlin should know and the people of Ontario should know that the price of iberty and rightcourness cannot be purchased with a few pieces of silver." said and nationality are now being scrutinized, started after the battalion. This organization opposed the grant of $2000 to the British Red Cross Fund, and in other ways has made itself offensive.

The situation is clearly defined. Col. Lochead and his men are being hampered in their efforts by the men higher up. The politician in that city is pronouncedly caring for the German vote, and does not scruple to do anything in order to maintain it.

The politician in that city is pronouncedly caring for the German vote, and does not scruple to do anything in order to maintain it.

There is the apathy of some business men, who are not anxious to get "in wrong" with the German population. There are the twilight chaps—the men who are afraid of bringing upon themselves the wrath of the pro-German.

Then there is the active opposition of the pro-Germans, whose numbers are more numerous than one would think.

Lieut. Dingman, son of W. S. Dingman, of the Ontario License Commission, is assistant adjutant of the battalion, and expressed his great admiration for the fight that Colonel Lochead is making.

shattering the hostile galleries. At many other points artillery successes were also scored, including the destruction of a German work north of the Aisne, with its entire garrison.

The British troops drove the enemy from their saps near Carnoy after he had occupied them all night. Three British patrols bombed German trenches near Serre and they drove off a hostile patrol.

The Russians report the bombarding of two German batteries on the middle Stripa, the drivig off of a large detachment which attacked their trenches south of Lake Babit, in the Riga region, and the capturing of a German post in Volhynia, with the defeating of an Austrian detachment sent to the rescue. Unofficial reports mention the drowning of a great number of German troops in the Pripet marshes, as a result of the flooding of the district from a thaw.

In Persia the Russians have occupied Sultanabad, defeated an enemy detachment west of Hamadan, captured Turks, guns and ammunition south of Lake Urumiah, and in the Caucasus they have taken prisoner a large band of Askaris on the road to Erzerum.

After the Germans crossed the Somme River, dislodging a French force from the Village of Frise, they were held up when they attempted to attack Dompierre by a valorous resistance. Two attacks against this position were repulsed on Saturday night by rifle firing and a curtain of shells from the artillery. From the German statement it appears that some British troops are stationed in this section of the front. It is probable that, owing to certain risks that must be run from floods on the Somme, the French had withdrawn their forces to higher ground and left a handful of men and machine guns in the front trenches along this stream for the purpose of giving warning should the Germans attempt to advance. The resistance of these troops for a few hours would enable General Foch to hurry forward reinforcements.

It is a false notion that soldiers are spread out evenly along the whole front. In reality six or seven separate armies are facing each other. These armies are partially concentrated and have outposts stationed in the trenches of the section of the front allotted to them. Machine guns are plentifully supplied to these men, who are supposed to hold out in case of attack long enough to enable preparations to be made to check an advance. This explains why front trenches can be easily taken, but when a force attempts to go beyond these it is held up by flanking and enfilade fire and suffers enormous casualties.

Twenty-four persons were killed and 27 were wounded as a result of German Zeppelin raid on Paris on Saturday night. This is the first attempt made on Paris from the air for many months, and it was probably undertaken from the knowledge obtained thru spies of the temporary absence of the French aerial protection fleet. The object, of course, was to terrorize the civil population and to force the French Government to retain many aeroplanes at Paris, instead of using them on active service, an inquest was unnecessary.

Altogether 15 recruiting sergeants busily engaged themselves from the opening of the doors till the conclusion of the rally, and were rewarded by a response of five recruits.

Ald. Ryding again occupied the chair. A comparison of the ambitious desires of Napoieon and the kalser was related with interest by Aubrey Bond, who was of the opinion that the kalser would be treated as was Napoleon. "The wonderful initiative of the Canadians, especially those from the northwest, was evidenced by their bravery at the front," said the speaker. "They have indeed shown their metal, and we must secure more men of this spirit to crush the German domination."

Pte. McIlroy of the Q.O.R., who was wounded at St. Julien, told of the Belgian depredations. He appealed to the men with effect. Pte. McIlroy is leaving for the front again this week.

An appeal was made by Captain Maynard, American Legion, of the 97th Battalion. He was followed by the following speakers.: Captain R. Price, chaplain, son of the principal of the Supreme Court of the State of Illinois; Captain T. Hook and G. Hassard.

The Guards' Band played several numbers, and, together with selections from the following artists, a replete program was rendered: Miss Aura Roeuding, Miss Gunn, Miss Wallace, Miss Wee Pattie, Miss Sutton, Mrs. Ed. Greig, Count and Countess Ruckstinat, H. N. Bickford and Master Norman Perry.

"BUSINESS AS USUAL" IS SLOGAN IN EARLSCOURT

While Some Traders Report Less Customers, They Say Money is Plentiful.

Altho over one thousand men of the Earlscourt district have enlisted for overseas since the beginning of the war, the "business as usual" motto is being thoroly carried out by the business and professional people of the section.

"I have lost 200 of my regular customers since the war started," said J. H. Walker, barber, Ascot avenue.

"Between 60 and, 70 of my best clients have enlisted," said W. H. Sugars, tailor and presser,— 1219 St. Clair avenue west, "yet still we cannot complain, as money appears to be pientiful."

Other merchants report large numbers of their customers gone from the district to the front, but notwithstanding this fact, the standard of business is being maintained.

Receipts in fares on the St. Clair avenue civic car line have slightly fallen off, owing to the large number of men

In some trades, such as grocers and butchers, better business is reported. Banking establishments report good business and amusement places maintain their capacity audiences nightly.

Two district ratepayers' associations have abandoned their regular monthly meetings owing to practically the entire membership enlisting, and over seventy per cent. of the members of the Toronto Heights Social Club, Fairbank, have joined the colors, as reported by the secretary, Thos. Maliby.

One of Canada's Pressing Questions---Credit Loans for Farmers

The World takes up the question, this morning, of a better system of loans for farmers. Great progress has been made in Europe in this respect; also in Australia and in New Zealand. A bill is now before the congress of the United States to solve the problem; and we must solve it here in Canada, either in the Australian way, or the plan now before congress, or in a modified plan. Ireland has been regenerated by a system of financial credit made her farmers under state direction.

In order to open up the subject in an intelligent way we propose to present quotations from two papers of western Canada and to follow it up by a carefully prepared summary of the bill now before congress. And speaking of western Canada, we must point out that within the past month a number of farmers' conventions have been held out there and that this was the main issue. The Governments of Saskatchewan and Alberta have the question before them and the newspapers out there are only beginning to break thru the fringe of the discussion. The question of ordinary banking is also a pressing one with our people; but we propose to keep the issue in this article to the matter of improved credit or loans, for long periods, to our farmers. Here are the two extracts, that open up the issue:

Following the motion picture part of the program, the chairman, Napier Robinson, briefly referred to the hortons of Belgium and urged upon the young women not to entertain young vince there, has been incessant disc necessity of mixed farming, but little reference to the financing of the live stock. The question still remains unswered where the producer is to get the capital for this purpose. That is to say, the problem is unsolved in this country, but it is apparently not unsolved in some other, as in the United States. In the matter of raising house, there is not much difficulty to for hog raising in a short tit with a title it is different. Editorial, Calgary Herald, Jan. 22 From the viewpoint of the ordinary western farmer who stands in need of ready credit for a livestock venture tralia settlers get funds for 35-year periods at a lower rate than obtains in this country with this interesting addendum, that at the end of the fixed time the principle is amortised.

The second thing the farmers want is comparatively short-term money, which is still a much longer term than any bank can consider. In this province there, has been incessant discussion, but not too much, of the necessity of mixed farming, but little reference to the financing of the live.

The farmer is a wholesaler in livestock will the Banking Act permit of him being allowed credit. If he is a small farmer and wants to break into the livestock game in a small way he is barred. In this respect the United States banking system is a vast improvement over the Canadian.

The Plan Before Congress

During the past two or three years a financial revolution has been accomplished in the United States. State banks of issue and rediscount have been established and the national credit has been utilized for the relief of business by a generous use of national currency. The big banks have been stripped of their power to make money scarce and dear and the small banks are no longer compelled to hoard vast cash reserve in apprehension of currency famines and long periods of restricted credits. All this has been brought about by the federal reserve bank system.

It is then up to the association to say whether the application shall be granted, and if it is granted, all the members of the association are personally liable, at least to some extent, for the repayment of the loan. If the association decides to accept the mortgage it is passed on to the land bank. The land bank rediscounts it at par, if it considers the risk a good one and finds that all the requirements at law have been complied with.

The mortgage will run for not less than five and not more than 36 years, at the option of the borrower, and will be paid on the amortisation plan. That is to say, the farmer will, in reality, be charged 5 per cent., but he will pay 6 per cent. or more and the excess payment will be so capitalized that about by the federal reserve bank system.

But while the United States has thus put itself abreast of European na

But while the United States has thus put itself abreast of European nations in providing ample credits for merchants and manufacturers, it lags belief to the farmers. Now the Wilson administration has seriously addressed itself to the problem of rural credits and a bill has been introduced in congress which endeavors to establish for the benefit of the American farmer government land banks and co-operative rural associations. Then, too, every mortgage will have behind it the National Loan Association. Then, too, every mortgage will have behind it the National Loan Association. Then, too, every mortgage will have behind it the National Loan Association. The bill recommended by a joint committee of both houses of congress of which Senator Hollis of New Hampshire is chairman, is now before the senator of the United States. It is entitled:

Ten men at Loew's Theatre last night answered the call of Pte. Clarke, and gave their names to recruiting screents, thus signifying their intention of domning the "Queen's Own" uniform today. Pte. Clarke was wounded in the foot at the front some Roomba ago and is gaing back. He told bank districts. In each land bank district there is to be a land bank whose minimum capital shall be $500,000. Any stock not subscribed for by the public within ninety, days will be subscribed for by the secretary of the treasury months ago and is going back. He told them that the khaki was the best piece for the United States Government.

Both Chairman Dr. Allan and Lt.-Col.

The land banks, as we shall see, correspond in a way to the regional banks under the federal bank system. Their principal business will be to rediscount for the "National Farm Loan Association."

What are the National Farm Loan Associations?

They are the co-operative associations thru which the farmers get mone repaying the money advanced to them upon mortgages.

Each member of the association must become a subscriber to the cap ital stock to an amount equivalent to 5 per cent. of the amount he desires to borrow. The capital obtained by the local association from its members is

"Business as Usual"

The War Time Slogan Of the British Empire

W/HEN Great Britain went to war, and Canada went to war, the best minds in the Empire immediately saw the advantage of continuing, as far as possible, all business enterprise without interruption. Mr. Lloyd George in a notable speech said: "Victory will rest with the longest purse.'

"Business as Usual" necessitated merchants, manufacturers and employers of labor using every effort to maintain full staffs. Our newspapers for months, day by day, called upon employers to keep on their men, not to reduce, and as far as possible not to cut wages, AND MOST EMPLOYERS DID THEIR BEST.

What of the Citizens' Committee of One Hundred?

They say—PROHIBITION—Let us ruin the business of the Distiller. the Brewer, the Hotel, the Liquor Store. Of course, the hours of sale have been reduced, and these businesses have seriously felt the effect of the War, but no matter, no "Business as Usual" for them. It's true they pay a license to the Government, and at present the Government Treasury isn't overflowing, but what matter, just or unjust, away they go.

What of the Employees?

What does the Committee of One Hundred say of the men who are employed in Distilleries, Breweries, Hotels, Liquor Stores? What do they say of the wives and little children? They say, in effect, that this great effort they're making cannot be balked by tender feelings for women and children. It's true it may be impossible for these men to get employment, and their wives and children may be destitute, but no "Business as Usual" here. Those connected with the Liquor Traffic must go.

The bill recommended by a joint committee of both houses of congress of which Senator Hollis of New Hampshire is chairman, is now before the senate of the United States. It is entitled:

"A bill to provide capital for agricultural development to create a standard form of investments based upon farm mortgages, to equalize rates of interest upon farm lands, to furnish a market for United States bonds, to create government depositories and financial agents for the United States and for other purposes."

The United States proper is to be divided into not less than twelve land books.

These bonds should command a ready market even the they only bear 4 per cent. interest. By the bill they are exempted from all taxation, national, state, or local. All trustees, executors, trust companies and others holding funds in a trust capacity will be authorized to invest in them. They will be purchased by the regional banks and member banks, for they can be utilized for reserve purposes, and will be practically as valuable to the banks as government bonds.

each. Not more than three of them are to be members of the same political party. One of their number shall be designated by the president as "Farm Loan Commissioner." He shall be the executive of the board.

The Federal Farm Loan Board will, in the first instance, appoint the directorates for the twelve land banks.

These land banks shall invest at least ten per cent. of their capital in United States bonds. They may, under certain restrictions, receive savings on a deposit from the public, but shall not do a general banking business. They will be fiscal agents of the United States and depositaries of public moneys.

We have not touched upon the Joint Stock Loan Banks. They are authorized by the act as private corporations, under public regulation and control, to perform many functions of the district lands. They will be for the benefit of well-to-do farmers in old settled portions of the country who will prefer to borrow from a bank direct, rather than thru the medium of a co-operative association.

Canada must have some such law as they have in Australia or in Europe, or as they propose in the States! But so far for today.

WOMEN OF TORONTO

If You Are Not Engaged in World Sox Campaign, Then Decide to Help Today.

THE DEMAND IS GREAT

Some Mother's Son Enduring Hardships at Front Will Thank You.

Toronto women should start the week well and bring a pair of sox to the knatting room, fourth floor World building, 40 West Richmond street, as a donation towards the "Sox Day" campaign, which closes Tuesday, Feb. 15. There are only two short weeks left—15 days, to be exact—and there are hundreds of sox to be collected in that short time. Have you a pair finished or nearly so, or have you failed to do your bit in helping to meet the demand made by the boys in the trenches? Remember, the boys in khaki are urgently in need of sox—they have even had to ask for them again and again, and again. One pair of sox from again, and again. It is the duty of the women to supply the needs of the mean who are doing their duty. This is not a one-sided affair—it is a struggle in which everybody is expected to take a responsible part. Now the need of sox is almost beyond comprehension.

Assumes Responsibility.

The World has organized this campaign and taken the responsibility of seeing that the men actively engaged receive the sox. All that the reader is asked to 'do is to send to The World office today, tomorrow or any day up till Feb. 15 a pair of sox or a donation of wool sufficient to make one pair or as many as you are able to give. Six ounces of wool (4-ply fingering, gray, khaki or white) will make one pair. If you cannot knit send down the wool and we will have it made up by our machines. If every woman in Toronto would send in a pair of sox there would be just as many grateful Tommies, and the giver would never regret her share in the big campaign. The response already has been splendid, and the knitters are working faster every day turning in lovely sox, but we are not 'nearly finished yet. Every effort must be made in the next two weeks to make "Sox Day" the success we have anticipated. Will you be a booster?

SCHOOLBOYS KNITTING SOX FOR THE SOLDIERS

In the patriotic campaign just closed. McCaul pupils, led by the fine enthusiasm of their teachers, turned in the magnificent total of $154.04, forty dollars of which was obtained on Friday. One senior third class alone handed in $54.55. The senior second came next with $24.65.

Fifty girls and a couple of boys are very busy knitting sox and wristlets, over 100 pairs of sox having been completed by them and sent to the front since last September. Two of the women teachers have devoted a great deal of time after hours to helping the knitters along.

The little folks, under the supervision of one of the junior second teachers, have saved their coppers and are rolling bandoges and making small pillow comforts for the soldiers.

My white fox has paid so many visits to the cleaner's that it has turned yellow and looks woolly in spots. I'll have to use it for trimming. I like shaggy fur better than close-haired geltry—it is much more youthfuland made up my mind that my new set should be gray fox.

Mother is an excellent judge of fur, so we went the rounds of the shops to see where I could get the best value for my money.

The really handsome sets—the kind that I wanted—were too-high priced for me to dream of. After having tried them on, nothing else looked smart or becoming. Mother was as much disappointed as I, and consoled me by saying that later on she could manage to make up the balance of the mauve, brocaded satin.

I wore the scarf and muff to the shops.

I had the scarf made rather broad and long enough to wrap twice about the neck with an end hanging over one shoulder. It extends well over the ears, ad my chin is buried deep in the fluffy gray fur.

For the lining I selected a soft, bro-caded satin in mauve coloring.

The little melon or barrel-shaped muffs have never won my fancy, so I told the furrier to use the balance of the skiris to make me a big, generous looking muff. I was overjoyed when I saw it, for it reminded me of the gorgeous muff in the picture: "The Girl With a Muff," It also is lifted with the mauve, brocaded satin.

To Shorten the War

One of the encouraging signs about the war for the allies is the extreme pessimism exhibited in London. The good people of Great Britain are beginning to face the facts. In any other nation this might indicate a in this respect. reign of despair and the acceptance of defeat. Happily the British temper does not turn apathetic under diffistatement of Lord Kitchener's when he said at the declaration of war that it would take three years to end it, but now the pessimists consider that Lord Kitchener was too sanguine. General Hutton, for instance, thinks that three years is an under-estimate. The more the agony is understood and the pessimism piled mountains high the nearer the British nation will be to the supreme action which is necessary to secure victory.

The worst enemies the empire has to contend with at present are the people who are quite satisfied, who think that it is not necessary for them to do anything and that others are responsible for the war.

There is no man nor woman in the empire anywhere who is not responsible to his nation, his colony, his dominion and to the world at large for the result of the war. His time and money or work must be mobilized in some fashion to achieve victory, and even were he "shut-in," he must but his will and spirit into the fight be no proper discipline in a departand aid by his determination to win-

With united strength, -ungrudging disposition of resources and unreserved interest on the part of every citizen the war could be appreciably shortened.

The Assessment Report

In the report of the assessment com missioner which has just been issued for the past year the most striking thing to many people will be the 6446 decrease in the population of the city government. That study must be ap-below the previous year. This, how-proached from the standpoint of the ever, will be fully accounted for by the accidents of war. There had been an average increase of about 30,000 for some years past, and this means that with a normal increase there has to be an artificial drain of 36,000 accounted for. The enlistments will number a good many thousands. The internment of alien enemies will also account for a number. There were a large number who went back to Great Britain to take part in warwork of various kinds. But the greatest cause of the decrease is probably the exodus of Bulgarians and other aliens last year.

At any rate the population of the city is in a healthy condition, and there is less unemployment and less social distress of any kind than there has been for a long time. Another point in this connection which is of considerable interest in face of the assertion made sout the over-expansion of the city's area, and the outery against annexation of territory, is the comparative table of population to the acre in the cities of Ontario. With one exception Toronto is the most densely populated city in the province. The exception is The Toronto World ottawa, which has 18.91 persons to the acre, while Toronto has 18.31. Next acre, while Toronto has 18.31. Next to Toronto comes Hamilton with 13.72, Windsor with 10-07, London with 9.21, Brantford with 8.47, and Kingston with 8.07. The other cities are less than this, running down to 4.20 in Owen

To put it in another way, if Toronto were only as densely populated as London, the city would have twice its present area, in spite of the wails of some people against annexation. If the standard of Hamilton were to be accepted, Toronto would be half as large again. The per capita assessment, according to the statement, is lower in all these places than in Toronto. In Hamilton it is $793 and in Toronto $1270, or half as much more. London has $680, Windsor $866, Brantford $702 and Kingston $598.

The only way to appreciate the insidence of taxation is to apply the tax rate in these places to the per capita assessment, and the result gives one a fairer conception than in any other way how the citizens of the various cities are burdened. One is not entitled to generalize as to why Toronto should stand at the head in burden bearing, but there must be some reason why the cities with larger areas for their population should have a lighter tax load.

It is plain enough, however, that vacant areas do not add to the taxes in a city. Else Toronto, with relatively the densest area, would not have the highest tax burden and Owen Sound with the scantiest population per acre would not have a tax load of a little more than half that of Toronto- Hamilton, Brantford and Owen Sound, all stand about the same at 16, London at 20. Ottawa at 23 and Toronto at 29

We believe the tax reformers are or the right track in this matter, and that land ought to be more heavily assessed and buildings relieved of their we may look for action, and action of burden, which is the opposite policy the most practical and energetic to the present report, where the assessment on buildings has been increased by 6.71 per cent, and the assessment on land only 2.8 per cent. The concentration of buildings down town has led to the evil of exemption they know better every day now that Germany cannot be conquered like a little border tribe in a frontier war.

This is a hopeful sign, for it means that stronger efforts will be put forth constantly now to overcome the foe and to end the destruction of life fact contributes to the high tax rate ance reform work has shown that it can never be really effective and perwhich is making such an impression as much as any other factor. Ceras much as any other factor. Certainly the report indicates that the restricted area of the city adds, if it does anything, to the increased tax rate.

The assessment commissioner is to be complimented on the comprehensive character of his report, and the accessible form in which the information is set out.

A Degrading Policy Aldermen who voted for the appointment of Chief Smith against advice and the plain facts of the situation, cannot ignore the results of their action. It is absurd for Toronto to spend her energies in a war against bad faith, domineering militarism, and reckless disregard of the ordinary and decent standards of public life, and are inspired by good ideals but find then tolerate the practice of all the things in civic life which we protest against in Germany.

There never was anything more un-British than the action taken by Chief Smith against District Chief Gunn, for no other reason, apparently, than to avenge a petty personal spite. Such an outrage of public standards cannot lightly be passed over. There can ment ruled not by principle, but by personal feeling. The whole civic life of Toronto would be lowered in tone

Need for a Toronto Civic Improvement League

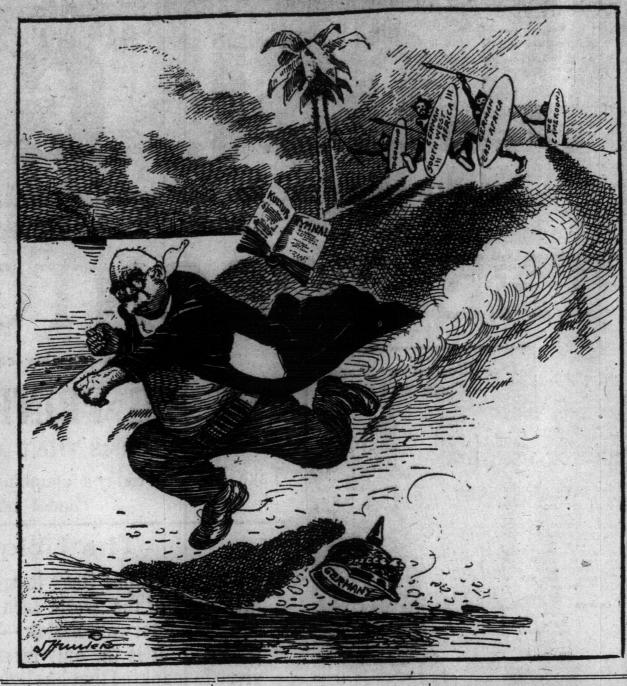

Editor World: There appears to be a desire on the part of a number of Toronto citizens to form a local branch of the Civic Improvement the objects of which are to secure a more general and effective interest on the part of the citizens of each city and town in the betterment of civic conditions. Such a branch can only be successfully formed if there is a sufficiently large group of citizens willing to take the matter up and give part of their time to its organization and to the disinterested citizen, and the ultimate aim must be to ascertain and apply velopment and government to the city as a unit in our national life. There would appear to be a special need for the formation of a league at a time like this, when we are revising some of our standards and our conception of things as a result of the war. The need for economy is pressing, but without care we may injure ourselves irreparably by pursuing a false kind of economy, namely, the false kind of economy, kind that may destroy kind that may destroy the sources from which our industrial expansion joyment of imported luxuries for purely personal use. There is a demand for temperance, but is there not also need for civic action to set up some form of counter attractions to draw people away from habits of intemperate drinking and cities, more playgrounds near to the dwellings where the children live, more beauty in our buildings and greater facilities for all kinds of healthy recreation. These things are nealthy recreation. These things are incidental to good city government, but they can only be accomplished by the will of the people.

Those who devote themselves to public service on our councils have often a thankless task to perform in trying to do what is best for the city because so many of the citizens only because so many of the citizens only pay regard to what is best for themselves as individuals or a class. Per haps a representative league with some of the best citizens of Toronto acting upon it would do much to as sist those of our representatives who cal effect owing to the lack of moral support. At any rate, it will all be to the good if we can form a voluntary association banded together with the sole desire of making Toronto a better place to live in and a good example of city government. If there is sufficient interest shown in the question of forming such a league arrangements could be made holding a meeting in Toronto at date to have the proposal Thomas Adams. an early Town Planning Adviser Ottawa, Jan. 28, 1916.

Borden's statement will be so positive and comprehensive and yet at the same time so conciliatory as to call upon Sir Wilfrid Laurier for an equally frank declaration of policy. Sentiment Divided.

There will, of course, be a debate upon the resolution, for no one pretends that there is anything like a unanimous sentiment in its favor. The Liberals feel that they are giving up something in agreeing to the resolutions. The advancing years of Sir Wilfrid Laurier present an argument against postponing too long an appeal to the people. It is recognized that if this extension is granted now public sentiment may as strong-ly demand another extension a year ly demand another extens ly demand another extension a year hence if the war is still in progress at that time. Hence they will be inclined to bargain. The government on the other hand, is willing to make all reasonable commitments to reach a speedy agreement. It will, however, resent any attempt to protract the discussion unduly. Indeed, should the government become convinced that the opposition is purposely holding up the resolution something like an ultimatum may be delivered, the just when the ultimatum. vered, the just when the ultimatum will come or what form it will take no one pretends to say. The general impression.

The general impression, however, is that the resalution will go thru, perhaps under pressure, and after a few Liberals have spoken against it, but that it will go thru.

What will happen if the Liberals demand an investigation into the shell committee as a quid pro quo for their agreeing to the extension remains to be seen. Such a demand might create a situation. might create a situation.

NEED MORE THAN MONEY

Speaker's Remarks Will Not Win War.

"People are talking about raising a nonument to Nurse Eidth Cavill. I think the best thing you young fellows could would be to offer yourselves for overseas service." This statement was made at the great recruiting meeting last night in the La Plaza Theatre, East Queen street, by Lieut.-Col. Wright of the 169th Battalion, in the course of a stirring appeal for recruits. The commander of the latest battalion to be raised in Toronto referred to the rapidity with which the 169th was being former, stating that 600 had responded in a week. He pointed out that the newspapers have said a lot lately regarding the splendid work performed by Canadians at the front, but this, he declared, was incorrect; the large majority of the men recruite claimed Great Britain for their hirthplace. He was of the oninor their birthplace. He was of the opinon, however, that Canadians were rapidly awakening to a sense of duty.

Lieut.-Col. Wright deplored the fact that many people thought large donations to patriotic funds sufficient evidence of to patriotic funds sufficient evidence of their loyalty. In making his appeal, he spoke of the atrocities perpetrated in Belgium, the murder of Nurse Cavell, and the torpedoing of liners on the high seas.

More Men Needed.

Captain J. E. Gibson, who was recently appointed chaplain of the 169th Battalion, declared that applauding and assenting to the remarks of recruiting speaksr would not win the war. Everybody admitted the justice of the cause in which theallies are fighting, he said but "Canada is not out of danger." said which theallies are fighting, he said, but men, and more men, are needed to bring the struggle to a successful end. Con-cluding, he referred to a rumor that mothers would not allow their sons to en-list on account of the moral danger of military life. He maintained that if they argued along this line, the young men should not be allowed to go down town. "If the men come back," he declared, "they will return better men, and it is certain they will be better than if the certain they will be better than if they had stayed at home."

APPEAL TO MANHOOD

Canadians Rapidly Awakening Twenty Men Offered Themselves Russian Symphony Theatre Last Night.

SITUATION IS SERIOUS

Applauding and Assenting to Speakers Called Upon Canadians to Help in Upholding Traditions of Empire.

> At one of the most successful recruiting a Sunday, twenty men signed up for enlistment last night. They had heard a new appeal in a new way, a call to ser-vice because of the seriousness of the situation, a call to manhood because of the good red blood flowing thru Canadian veins. Bulldozing methods were tabooed, and appeals to sentiment substituted. It was on this plea that such-good was accomplished.

At the very beginning, after having heard Col. Stewart, the organizer of the 109th Battalion, five men accepted the invitation to fight for Canada in Flanders. The number grew until at the close eleven had come to the platform, the remainder having signed up in their coefmainder having signed up in their seats.
Col. Stewart, 84th Battalion, stationed at Brantford and Oshawa, said it was an important thing that Canadians should realize the situation as it existed, and join the battalions now forming. It was comfortable, he said, to sit back and remain at home and let others do the fighting, but it would not be so comfortable were it not for the British fleet. "A year ago we were fighting for Beigium, but today we are fighting for Britain. It is a preponderance of men and arms that will win the war," he said. Col. Stewart told of a letter which he had read, and which had been written by Sir Dougle Haig to a brother. "I am confident the British Empire means to win," the letter read,

"with the enthusiasm of the English and Canadian soldiers."

Still in Danger.

"Canada is not out of danger," said
Col. Stewart. "The boys from Canada have done splendidly, but they are calling for more. I appeal to the men not now in khaki to join us in the greatest game in history. You are needed, and I ask you to join tonight. Is there one who will come to this platform now?

"Here's one," came a voice from the audience, and a young lad made his way forward. He was immediately followed by four others, and the audience gave them three cheers.

Lieut T. Purvis gave a rousing ad-by four others, and the audience gave them three cheers.

Lieut. T. Purvis gave a rousing address and appealed to the "blood in the man." He claimed it was a man's heritage that made him want to fight when danger was near. "Is there a man in the audience of good sound Canadian birth and blood who will vounteer?" he said. There was, and was warmly welcomed. Major Boehm of the 169th Battallon was very earnest in his appeal. He recounted the early days of the war and was very earnest in his appeal. He recounted the early days of the war and step by step showed that Germany had been far too successful to allow Canadians to rest easy. "Germany has so far conquered and made Germans 68,000,000 people," he said. "She has doubled her territory since the war began. We are in a desperate condition, and we are beaten on every front except that held by the British navy, and we'll stay beaten until every mother's son has joined the colors. Two hundred and fifty thousand more men must be got. It's Canada's war and you know the penalty if we lose. If they ever break thru the British navy, God held Canada! The situation is serious and every man in

A German flag was shown and hissed. "Do you want that flag flying from every flag pole in Canada?" he asked.

A long-drawn-out "No" and more hisses gave answer. Then a British flag was produced. "Do you want to keep this flag flying?" the audience was asked. Cheers and cries of "Yes." ""Then you can't do it by simply cheering." Major Boehm shot back. "Who will come out and say "I'll fight for it?" Four more recruits decided on this appeat.

Riversides Routed Soldiers in Farewell Hockey Fixture at Arena Gardens.

The soldiers played their farewell Saturday afternoon before about 4500 hockey fans in Arena Gardens, and they did not have a look-in against the Riversides. The score was 4 to 0. Several cogs in the combination that swamped the Argonauts 8 to 3 last Wednesday were missing. The Battery did not play like winners. Anyone who saw their three-man line pass against the Riversides please stand up. I thought so. What was the matter? Guess the Riversides smothered them and took ample revenge for the one-goal defeat the week before. It will likely all come out in the next game, Riversides v. Argonauts. If the 40th beat the scullers 8 to 3, and the east-enders downed the artiliery 4 to 0, therefore Riversides should trim the water boys about 3 to 2. Will they? No. Young Collett made very little difference. Bricker would sure have handled the easy, shots of Saturday without effort. The Battery sure did not have the range.

At the end of the first period the friends of the military had by no means abandoned hope. But they failed to shoot in the second, when Riversides made if 3 to 0. Then, in the final session, the bulldog barked, and the great throng rooted for one single score, so they could show the strangers what the sound of a shout for the soldiers was like. But the cheer that they longed for never came.

The soldiers were outplayed in combination and man for man. Only once in the entire game did their forwards get inside the defence, and then the goal net was too narrow.

Janes did great work in goal, and the four that passed him represented a very small percentage of the assaults repulsed.

Win From Torontos

MONTREAL, Jan. 30.—Wanderers went under to Ottawa in the N.H.A. game at the local Arena Saturday night by a score of 5 to 4 in a final drive which the home team could not withstand. The checking was close and unnecessarily rough at times. In a head-on collision between Ross and Odie Cleghorn, the latter received a cut over the eye, which required several stitches, and Ross was knocked out for a while. At the outset it looked like Wanderers' game, the first three goals being tallied by them, and the visitors barely got in a goal in the first period. Ottawas evened up the score in the second period, and the third period also ended in the teams being tied. Ottawa coming strong in the extra period and winning out.

Central Y.M.C.A. Athletes Had to Break Records-Goulding Won Handicap Walk.

Central Y. M. C. A. athletes handed the Crocks from Rochester quite a surprise on Saturday night when they defeated them in a dual meet by 50% points to 401/2. The Toronto boys, with the exception of Jack Tresidder, who competed with an injured leg, were in the pink of condition. Harry Riddel did exceptionally well, winning the 100 and 220-yard races, equalling the track record for the century. Big George Barber tried the come-back stunt to help his old team and did it with a vengeance, winning the broad jump and tieing M. Killen, also of Toronto, in the high jump. C. Maur broad jump and tieing M. Killen, also of Toronto, in the high jump. C. Maur set up a new Canadian record in the standing hop, step and jump, doing 29 feet, 4 inches.

The relay race was a hair-raiser from start to finish, and was won by Rochester by two yards.

The Yankees also repeated in the basket ball game, in which Bill Marshall was the star, scoring five baskets. The game ended, 23 to 21.

George Goulding appeared for a mile walk and was given a great hand. Walter Jackson and Herb Hill were given liberal handicaps, but the champion soon caught them and set up a new record for the Central track, when he did the mile in 6.39. The summary and how the points were scored:

INDOOR BASEBALL.

The second series of the West End Y.M.C.A. Indoor Baseball League, from the games played thus far, promises to the games played thus far, promises to be a much more interesting one than the first series. The teams are keeping their eyes open for faster players, for they feel that if they wish to be in the running they must do so.

The game Saturday night between the Rusholme and All Stars was sure some contest from the first play until the finish of the game, the players going at it as if it was the deciding game in a championship series. Starr, for the Rusholmes, as usual, was in the pink of condition, striking out many. The receiver Douglas, for his first time behind the bat put up a great game, while McKenzie and Cumming played gilt-edge ball, stopping many fast ones.

For the All Stars, it would be impossible to pick out any player who shone more than another, for they all played great ball, and should they keep up until the end will again be the team to play off for the champlonship. Daley and McDougal were the battery.

PANZARETA IS GOOD IN

MONDAY MORNING

By Strong Finish Beats Good Field of Sprinters-Eagle's Mile.

VEW ORLEANS, Jan. 29.-Two hanps, both for 3-year-olds and upward, provided as the features of an exing card at the Fair Grounds cellent racing card at the Fair Grounds track today. The track was much better than at any time during the week, and for the first time in the past six days fast time was the order in the several events. Eagle, Emil Herz's 4-year-old Yankee gelding, won the Cotton Exchange Handicap, a $700 affair at a mile, but he was urged to the limit to outstay Bertodano. The bush horse hung on with a vengeance in the stretch, and at the end Eagle held only a half length's dvantage. Hanovia was the selection for this race, and she appeared to have an excellent chance on the backstretch, but Jockey Meccalf rushed her up too fast and she tired in the stretch.

Pan Zareta accounted for the Tennesse Handicap, the third race on the card, and she had to be a good mare to turn the trick. This event was of $600 value and six horses fought for it. Of the ix, three were in front at various times: the turns about in making the early running. In the stretch the Texas whitwind moved up with a rush and at the finish was drawing away.

HEATS WINS THE STAKE

Pace That is Unfinished-Purse for Red Norta.

OFTAWA, Jan. 29.—Ideal weather conditions prevailed for the week-end four-vent card of the Hull Driving Club on the river track today, in which the feature event was the 2.05 pace, which rought Grand Opera and Yedna toorought Grand Opera and Yedna together.

A. B. Martin of Ticonderoga scored his second win of the meet when he brought Red Norton home in 2.17½ in the third heat of the 2.15 pace, which was carried over from Friday.

In the first heat of the classified race Brother James, who finished fourth, was set back to sixth place for interfering with Spear Alcot.

Grand Opera and Yedna furnished a great race in the opening heat of the 2.05, doing the last quarter in 32½. The second heat of the 2.05 trot was the feature of the afternoon, when the four horses raced under the wire in a blanket finish. Yedna, after leading all the way, copped her second heat of the race by half a length, in 2.14%.

Nat Ray captured the stake race with Chilicoote in straights. In the last it looked like a dead heat with Indian Hill, but the judges gave it to Chilcoote. Fleth money was divided between Robt. Alexton, Auburton and Princess Louise. Summary:

SWEDEN NOT HOSTILE

Contraband Measures Have Caused Some Excitement, However.

LONDON, Jan. 30.—A Reuter despatch from Petrograd says:

"Sergius Sazonoff, the Russian minister of foreign affairs, today received a deputation of journalists to whom he gave a general review of the Balkan situation. His most interesting remarks concerned Roumania, whose reletons with Russia, he said, remain perfectly satisfactory and amicable. He admitted that some time ago the attitude of Roumania was uncertain owing to her fear of hostile acts on the part of the central powers, but that he was now concinced Roumania would not fall into a German trap.

"I repeat that the Austro-Germans persist in their Roumanian campaign, but it is not producing the effect desired on practical Roumanians," said M. Sazonoff. He added that the whole Balkan situation would find its solution only after the war had ended.

Friendly to Sweden.

Speaking of the improved relations between Russia and Sweden/M. Sazonoff said:

"It is evident that in Sweden, as elsewhere, there has been a Chauvinistic movement. It is possible that Sweden may feel the need of taking measures for the defence of her frontiers, but we can declare categorically that she will not have to defend them against Russia, and that this side of her frontiers is perfectly secure."

While not denying that some excitement has been caused in Sweden by the British contraband measures, M. Sazonoff said:

"Great Britain is forced to defend."

Months OFFERS FROM WEST

Peace River May Raise Corps -Distribution of Machine

Guns.

Canadian troops an extra supply of machine guns will pool the rest with the imperial authorities, according to a statement of General Hughes. Sir Sam Hughes explained that the war office has asked that 20,000 more Canadian troops be sent to England. The offer of this number was made some months ago, and is only now accepted because the war office could not make provision for housing additional troops at that time. Arrangements are now under way to establish the 20,0000 additional Canadians in camps there.

BERLIN, Jan. 28.—The city is sitting up and rubbing its eyes, wondering what is going to happen next. Not in many a year has it received such a rude awakening as it did on Thursday evening, when Lt.-Col. W. M. O. Lochead of the 118th Battabion poured the vials of his wrath on the pro-German element of this city.

That such an element existed has long been known. That it was becoming bolder and making its influence felt was apparent. That anybody would stand up and publicly denounce this element, publishing Berlin's shame, and the government's incapacity to leal with a serious problem, was unthought of.

And the worst feature of the whole situation, so far as Berlin is concrened, is that Col. Lochead is not going to quit.

"I am going to see this thing thru," was his positive utterance to The Advertiser this afternoon.

Any person knowing Col. Lochead knows that he will not be bluffed, nor will he in any sense dodge the issue.

Strong Appeal Made to Students at University on Behalf of Humanity.

A challenge was issued by Raymond Robins in the opening lecture of a series of four which he is delivering at Toronto University for men large enough to tackle the problems which have arisen with a complex social system. "With the evolution of society the social conditions of today are vastly defferent from what they were thirty years ago, "he declared in making strong appeal to the students to devote their energies and best thought to the solution of the social problems which will have to be arrived at during the next three decades. "Where there is no vision the people perish." was the text with which he prefaced his forceful remarks.

The conditions prevailing in the ward in Chicago which had been described as "the worst square mile of territory in America." where he has taken up the work of bettering the conditions of the 99,000 people who eke out a bare existence, were described by the speaker. In describing the by the speaker. In describing the change which had taken place within his memory, Mr. Robins said that a new social order would come into being that was yet still unborn.

Appeal For Leaders.

In congested districts, children were growing up in conditions which sapped their strength and sent them out into the world as burdens on the rest of society. Every ratepaper was paying for the maintenance of poorhouses, in-sane asylums, and kindred insitutions which had to exist as a result of lack of a proper environment.

"Morality is the oldest problem that has faced humanity," asserted Mr. Robins, describing the changed con-ditions wherein children are forced to play on city streets where they are surrounded by an immoral atmosphere which does not give them a chance to develop into normal healthy citi-

On the surface there were no developments to connect with the selling, other than a renewal of apprehension growing out of the relations between Washington and Berlin and some possible tension with Great Britain resulting from the present controversy over mail seizures. The usual week-end reviews dealing with trade conditions reported further pressure upon producers while additional rallway statements for December were becember with recent excellent exin keeping with recent excellent exhibits. The Reading road reported an increase of $979,000 in operating profits for that month and the St. Paul gained $1,359,000 in operating income. For the first time this year local banks showed a small cash loss in actual operations, with a moderate contraction of loans and a decrease of slightly over $3,000,000 in reserve. Exchange markets were almost at a sandstill the only noteworthy change being further heaviness in marks. With some declines in remittances to Austra. The sole feature of the narrow bend market was the heavy trading in anglo-French 5s at 95 unchanged from yesterday's minimum. Total ales, par value, $2,425,000.

U. S. bonds were unchanged on call during the week.

The new purchasers of the pro-perty are said to be the Northern Syndicate, who are interested in a dicate, who are interested in the pp. Quite a large amount of de-pment work has already been on this property. Three shafts be been sunk various, depths, the from which all the rich ore has been taken is only fifty feet deep, and it is understood the new owners continue the development from

As soon as possible a small plant will be installed, sufficient for present needs, and a systematic course of development work will be carried out. The purchase price is said to be $75,000, and the first payment was made in Haileybury on Wednesday.

The long pending fight between the Oakes and Latilla interests on the one hand and the Foster and Tough on the other came to a head at the annual meeting of the Tough-Oakes Mining Company at Haileybury on Wednesday. Mr. C. A. Foster as president of the company was in th

It is claimed by Mr. Foster and his upporters that not enough stock was represented for a quorum.

Harry Oakes and his supporters did not accept this view of the situation, and held a meeting and elected the following directors: Messrs. Harry Oakes, R. J. Robins. J. W. Morrison, W. H. Wright, J. B. Holden, Albert Burr and J. Y. Murdock.—Northern Miner.

The Maidens-McDonald properties in Deloro Township are again being put in shape for examination. The shaft is being dewatered this week, and within a few days a well-known neer, representing very strong ncial interests, will arrive in camp to make preliminary examination of these properties. This group of claims is situated about one and three-quarter miles southwest of the Dome Mines, and has always been regarded favorably by local mining

There were virtually no exceptions to the lowering trend, losses being only a matter of relative degree. Corn rose to a new high price record for the 1915 crop. Bullish estimates as to the size of the Argentine exportable surplus were largely responsible, together with the unsettled weather in the domestic belt.

Oats weakened under free selling by commission houses. Seaboard demand was slow.

On the other hand, the indifference of investors and traders to these of investors and traders to these helpful happenings was in itself a cause of discouragement. The success attending the sale of the New York State $25,000,000 four per cest bond issue proved the soundness of inherent financial conditions which inherent financial conditions, which might be more obvious but for the heavy offerings of our stocks and bonds from abroad. In connection with the foreign situation, Washington's rejection of Berlin's terms regarding the Lusitania incident and growing invitation at England's attigrowing irritation at England's atti-tude regarding this country's European postal service served to renew apprehension in quarters where that feeling had been stilled. In the main, however, the reactionary ten-dency of the week was traceable to the existence of a weak technical market. The character of the trading indicated an over-bought condition, particularly in specialties, and this situation will probably have to undergo readjustment by the usual process elimination of weak accounts. LONDON STOCK EXCHANGE.

LONDON, Jan. 29.-Money and discount rates were easy today. American exchange was quiet at 4.76 % for cable transfers. Paris rates were firmer. Only a small business was transacted on the stock exchange. The trading was chiefly in foreign securities, coppers and gold mines, but the tone was fairly steady. There were a few markings in colonial stocks with the minimum of which showed declines ranging from 5 to 10 points. American securities were simply adjusted to the Wall street parity and closed dull and uninteresting.

Assertions from Minneapolis that the French Government has bought a large amount of flour at the highest quotations this season, led to one lively rally in wheat, but the effect was brief. Chickens Sold Best at St. Law-

Trade was mestly dull and draggy on the St. Lawrence. Market Saturday. Chickens sold well for a short time early in the morning, bringing 25c per lb., soon declining to 24c, 23c, 22c and closing weak at 20c per lb.; live fowl are once more in demand for the Jewich trade, and bring from 16c to 21c per lb. for choice quality. Ducks were scarce, the few brought in being quickly disposed of at 25c per lb.

Butter was again a very slow sale, a favored few receiving 38c, 37c and 36c per lb., the bulk still selling at 35c per lb., while large numbers sold out at 34c, 23c, 22c and even as low as 30c per lb.

New-kid eggs were again plentiful, and those who only asked 40c per dozen quickly sold out at that figure, but there were some who commenced at 50c per dozen, and these found trade so dull they had to go down to 45c per dozen, and later on to 40c, many closing out at 38c and a few at 35c, the bulk of the new-laids going at 40c per dozen.

Petatoes brought a high price, mine bags of choice quality Ontarios quickly selling at $2 per bag; onlons are also high; some fairly good quality selling at $1.50 to $1.75 per bag.
