ARREST IN THE MARVIN CASE

DOVER, Del. April 24—Frank H. Butler, employed as a deck hand on the John P. Wilson, was arrested yesterday and held for a hearing tomorrow, charged with the murder of Horace N. Marvin, the 4-year son of Dr. Marvin, whose disappearance on March 4 aroused the entire country.

The theory of the detectives responsible for the arrest is that the boy was murdered or accidentally killed and that Butler knows something about it.

MAGISTRATE WAS BUSY IN POLICE COURT TODAY

Police Clerk Henderson said the man should have moved the horse ahead. His honor observed that the teamster was more to blame than Mr. Jack, and he would like to find out his name.

The adjourned case against Captain Fisher of S. S. Manchester Trader, charged with dumping rubbish into the harbor on Saturday last, was concluded and, as the evidence did not conclusively prove the charge the matter was dismissed.

It developed in the evidence that the mate had been warned by McLean that the penalty for dumping rubbish into the harbor was $80.

His honor, in summing up the case, stated that it was very important for the city if vessels visiting the port violated the section of the law relative to dumping rubbish in the harbor, as more dredging would be necessary if the regulation were not adhered to.

D. Russell Jack was again in court this morning on a complaint lodged by A. R. Campbell who held the defendant responsible for encumbering the street and conducting operations to the annoyance of pedestrians.

Mr. Campbell was placed on the stand and stated that he was passing along Union street yesterday, and coming to Mr. Jack's new building found that a cart which was being loaded with earth, was standing at right angles to the street line, with the horse on the sidewalk.

He asked the teamster to move his horse and his request was refused and he was forced to go out into the street, much to his annoyance. He did not know the teamster, but Mr. Jack was there.

Mr. Jack said he had agreed to remove the encumbrance by May first, and had teams working to that end. He added that he was standing inside the fence when Mr. Campbell put his head in and told him he would have him in the police court this morning.

"Silent Jim" Smith's Heirs to Contest

MRS. JAMES HENRY SMITH

MISS JAMES HENRY SMITH FROM A PAINTING BY HARPER PENNINGTON

NEW YORK, April 24—Mysterious in death as he was in life, James Henry Smith left a fortune of $50,000,000, or $75,000,000, for a portion of which a contest may be entered by one or more of his near relatives.

His mother, Mrs. Beatrice Smith, now eighty years old, is living at No. 1,220 Bridge avenue, Evanston, Ill., and although she feels the infirmities of age, she is still a well preserved woman, strong and sturdy, though bowed with grief because of the unexpected death of her son.

One sister, of whom the world has known, Lady Mary Cooper, of London, has left for New York with her husband, Sir George Cooper. They will meet the body of Mr. Smith when it reaches Chicago from the Orient, where Mr. Smith died while on a honeymoon trip around the world with his bride a few months ago.

James Henry Smith, known in Wall street and in New York society as "Silent Jim" Smith, inherited about $55,000,000 eight years ago from a relative who has been spoken of as his uncle, but who was his father's cousin. The first intimation that many of his closest friends will have that his mother still lives, and that he left a brother and sisters and nephews and nieces and other relatives has just been learned.

James Henry Smith, known in Wall street and in New York society as "Silent Jim" Smith, inherited about $55,000,000 eight years ago from a relative who has headquarters in Chicago, and Mrs. J. N. Mills, wife of a well known Presbyterian minister. George A. Smith, the brother, formerly lived in Chicago, but has been in Philadelphia for several years. The nephews are William S. Mason, vice-president of the City National Bank, in Evanston, and George G. Mason, of Aberdeen, S. D., superintendent of the Aberdeen division of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad. Mrs. Frederick P. Vose, wife of an attorney in Evanston, is a niece.

If a contest of Mr. Smith's will is brought about it will be because of the discontent of some of these relatives. A well known lawyer of this city, one who transacted some legal business for Mr. Smith, has expressed the opinion that the estate can hardly be settled without litigation.

To a reporter he intimated that he had been employed to guard the interests of a client, presumably one of the relatives referred to.

THE TIMES NEW REPORTER

THE CALL OF THE WILD.

The Times new reporter has been somewhat uneasy of late, and the cause was developed this morning.

The young man has been prowling about the tugboats and steamers, and seen them tugging at their lines in fierce impatience to be off upriver; has interviewed rustabouts and woodboaters, and men from Jemseg and the Washademoak; has snuffed around the steward's quarters on the boats at meal time; and as a result he wanted a holiday. He wanted to go up river with Fred. Miles and fifty men on the big wagan boat to corral the drift-wood. He would use a peevie or pipe pole, haul on a rope, eat beans and gopher-bait, and pie and molasses; leave his nights at home and bunk in his clothes; do anything he might be called upon to do, if he could but get away from the coarse jibes of the sporting editor and the vulgarity of his desk, to see the sunset over the river; to see the wild duck skimming the waters, and to hear four times a day the voice of the cooer shouting "Grib!"

The editor regretted that he could not spare the new reporter, for he himself had many a time experienced similar sensations, and he promised to let the young man go up and spend a Sunday on the big wagan boat—and eat his fill.

The mayor and Ald. Bullock are expected to go fishing together the first of the week.

A ROMANCE OF LOMBARDY.
BY MARJORIE BOWEN.

"And will that be soon?" she asked, looking up at him.

"Aye, I hope so," laughed the Duke. "Mastino della Scala grows weaker day by day—I have Bassano, and shall have Reggio. He has lost his wits as well as his fortresses, for he bids me to a single combat; all to stand or fall by our own swords. He has his answer, and I have his wife. Now look at these, Graziosa—and he took the drawings from the architect and spread them on the table.

"My new church," he said. "The plans, my well-beloved."

And he looked eagerly at Graziosa.

"Indeed, my lord, I do not understand them—it is no church, surely?" And she raised a sweet, bewildered face.

"Tis the plan of one, Messer Gambera will explain it," and he motioned eagerly to the architect. "Here, messer, this is the porch?" And he laid his finger on the drawing, absorbed in contemplation.

"Yes, my lord."

"Set on three steps?"

"Tis so, my lord."

"I do not care for that, messer, and I will have more carving—would you not, Graziosa?"

"You must not ask me; indeed I do not know," she smiled.

"Visconti's face for an instant darkened. 'You must learn,' he said. 'My duchess must know architecture. Take away the plans, messer; I will look at them alone.'"

"Perchance the lady might care for the model, my lord?" returned the architect. He spoke bad Italian, and was shaking with nervousness.

"Bring the model," replied Visconti, and the page placed the box upon the table.

"Messer Gambera tossed a spring and it flew apart, showing an exquisite little model of white marble, some twelve inches high.

"O! it is beautiful!" said Graziosa, and Visconti looked at her with sparkling eyes.

"You think so? Yes, it will be beautiful—the church of all Lombardy."

"It will be like this, of marble?" she asked, breathless.

"Every inch—from the porch to the pinnacles, and the floor shall be precious mosaic, and the altars crystal and serpentine, jasper and amethyst; men shall spend their lives in carving one pillar, and the price of cities shall pay for the gold that shall be lavished on it. Not in our time shall this be done, nor in the lives of those that reign after us—even they that follow, but finished it shall be, and one of the wonders of the world—and I shall be remembered as he who planned it—to the glory of God and the house of Visconti!"

He turned with shining eyes to the architect, who gazed on him with admiration, with a face that reflected the speaker's own fervor.

"Yes, mine will be the glory, though I shall never see the pinnacles kiss the sky, nor hear the mass beneath that marble roof—mine will be the glory—even though I am not buried there, it will be my monument to all eternity!"

Graziosa gazed at him in silence; she could not understand. Gian glanced down at her with a smile.

"Would it not be a worthy tomb, even for a king, Graziosa?"

"For an emperor—but we will not talk of tombs my lord," she answered, "but of pleasant things—and—and—of something that I have to ask you."

"What?" smiled Visconti.

The pages had gathered up the drawings, and the architect had removed his precious model and withdrawn.

"They were alone and Graziosa rose and looked at Visconti a little timidly.

A LACE WAIST THAT IS NEW

Lace waists are not new, but the disposition of the lace in many of the new models is decidedly novel. If the lace is a heavy Irish crochet it is usually disposed quite plainly over the silk slip in order that the beauty of design may be well displayed. The new long shoulder effect is another feature of these waists, and is shown to advantage in the pictured model of Irish crochet flouncings, the deep points of which slope toward the center of the front to meet a vest-like effect of fastened Val. insertions and a single large spider pattern Irish crochet motif at the bustline. In this way the top of the lace flouncing forms that Gibson girl line over the shoulder and down the side of the waist, accomplished in the tailored waists of linen or other wash fabrics by a single broad flat running from the shoulder seam to the waistline. The sleeves are medium in size, formed of baby Irish and seam to the waistline. The sleeves are medium in size, formed of baby Irish and seam to the waistline. eyes, joined her meekly, having not the spirit to refuse.

"Now, bid your ladies back a pace—at least Gian will allow that," and Valentine motioned them away.

"What do you mean?" faltered Graziosa with a pang of something like envy, as she noticed the grace and dignity of Valentine's bearing, and the superb carriage of her queenly head.

Valentine shrugged her white shoulders and laughed bitterly.

"Many things—among them this—get yourself a better tirewoman and you will keep Visconti longer—learn a little spirit and you will keep him longer still."

Graziosa glanced down at her dress, the richer of the two, but worn with no such grace.

"No question of my dress, lady," she answered, with some dignity—"nor of beauty—but of love alone."

Valentine looked at her curiously, secretly, like a whip-lash upon the cheek of rich bushes of rose and lilies, the air was heavy with scent, and from the ladies following came gentle laughter.

"You think he loves you?" asked Valentine.

"I know it," answered Graziosa, proudly.

Valentine smiled and looked away. The smile and glance stung Visconti's betrothed like a whip-lash upon the cheek of rich bushes of rose and lilies, the air was heavy with scent, and from the ladies following came gentle laughter.

"What do you mean?" she cried. "You insult me—you insult him!"

PALE, LISTLESS GIRLS

Can Only Obtain Health Through New, Rich Pure Blood Made by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Growing girls—girls in their teens—must have rich, pure blood. Healthy womanhood depends upon the vital change from girlhood to maturity. Every woman should most carefully watch her health at this critical period. If a girl at this period has headaches, if she is pale, thin and languid, it shows that her slender blood supply is being cut off. She will always be ailing and may slip into a hopeless decline or consumption if her blood is not built up at once with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The rich, red blood which these pills make brings health and strength to every organ, and makes dull, listless, languid girls, bright, rosy-cheeked, active and strong.

Miss Maggie Donahue, Erinville, Ont., says: "Before I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I was badly run down, and it seemed as though my blood had turned to water. I was very pale, suffered from headaches and palpitation of the heart, and often I would pass sleepless nights. I found nothing to help me until I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and these have fully restored me and I can truthfully say I never enjoyed better health than I am now doing."

When Dr. Williams' Pink Pills replace bad blood with good blood they strike straight at the root of all common ailments like anaemia, decline, indigestion, kidney and liver troubles, skin eruptions, erysipelas, neuritis, etc. Vitis, diphtheria, paralysis, rheumatism, and the special ailments of growing girls and women. Be sure you get the genuine pills with the full name, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," printed on the wrapper around each box. Sold by medicine dealers or sent by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

COMBINED CIRCULATION OVER 15,000

ONCE RICH; HELD FOR SHOPPING

NEW YORK, April 22—Mrs. Nellie Zebzey, fifty-four years of age, who lives at the Empire Hotel, was held in $300 bail in Jefferson Market court on a charge of shoplifting in a Sixth Avenue department store. She was richly dressed in black, and evidently well educated and refined.

Miss Rose McCormack and D. D. Kash, detectives in the store, said they saw her pick up two corset covers and a silk night-dress valued at $18.85, and the articles were in her muff when arrested.

Mrs. Zebzey entered a plea of guilty, but friends sent her a lawyer, John J. Meara, who changed the plea to not guilty, and asked for an examination.

Mrs. Zebzey said her husband had failed in Wall street ten years ago for a million dollars. Recently they had been in Boston, where her husband was promoting some enterprise. Six weeks ago Mrs. Zebzey returned to this city and had been the guest of friends, but was registered at the hotel, she said.

Asked if she would notify her husband she said:

"Oh, I'm afraid to do so; it would kill him. He has been a devoted husband to me."

She had a message sent to James Van Dyck Card, real estate, No. 309 Columbus avenue, who she thought might furnish bail for her. Mr. Card was out of town.

Mrs. Zebzey's lawyer said there was no doubt about her former social prominence, but he would not give the names of her friends who retained him.

E. W. Pond, the Post-Kent lumberman, was registered at the Victoria yesterday.

The Misses Hazel and Pearl Smith will leave by this morning's train for Fredericton to attend the wedding of their friend, Miss Alice M. Robinson.

CANADIAN CLUBS

Of Canadian Clubs the Toronto News rightly observes: "Perhaps the greatest service which the Canadian Club movement renders to the Dominion is that it helps to counteract the necessary effects of our tremendous distances. It is only natural that in Canada where our coasts lie almost four thousand miles apart that both the printed word and the spoken word should be misinterpreted and even distorted before they reach the ultimate bounds of their influence. We in Ontario for instance know too little of the actual conditions of the problems and the successes of the provinces by the sea; and they know too little of ours. Despite all the wealth of language that has been splashed over the golden west, we are too prone to imagine it only as a glorified wheat field. And of British Columbia and its Asiatic problem, its labor conditions and its vast commerce with the Orient, yet in its infancy, most of us know only by hearsay."

An exchange gives this summary of the conditions in Canada: "All the leading Canadian iron and steel, cotton, milling and coal companies report that the outlook is that they will do a larger business in 1907 than in any previous year. The principal steel companies like the Dominion Iron & Steel, Lake Superior Corporation, Hamilton Steel, Nova Scotia Steel, all state they cannot possibly turn out all the orders they have for the next twelve months. The market conditions are said to be particularly favorable to the iron and steel companies, and all of them are showing a larger output than for some years." To this it must be added that money is still tight, and the market is not likely to be easier for some time, because of the active demand.

Our journalistic neighbors up street assert that their morning issue has a circulation of 7,917, and their evening issue 6,600. They also assert that the combined circulation is 15,000. The truth of the assertion and the reliability of those who make it is a mere matter of addition. Since when have 7,917 and 6,600 totalled 15,000? A little matter of four or five hundred doesn't appear to count with some arithmetical calculators. If the public schools of St. John especially honored a day that is of particular significance to Englishmen they could not do less on days similarly observed by Irishmen or Scotchmen—or Frenchmen, if we had a large group of citizens of French extraction. If that is to be the rule, well and good; if not, the schools should content themselves with Canadian holidays. Canadian ministers negotiating with France, Italy and Austria on trade matters will be an instructive object lesson to the British government in connection with the question of mutual preference between Canada and Britain, which the latter does not now regard with favor. There was a time when the United States did not favor reciprocity with Canada.

FIGHTING CONSUMPTION

In the province of Nova Scotia much more is being done than in New Brunswick to direct public attention to the ravages of consumption and the need of preventive measures and of a campaign of education. An account of what is being done in Colchester county is set forth in a report in the Halifax Chronicle of the proceedings of the Colchester municipal council, and the Times feels that it is of sufficient importance to receive the thoughtful attention of all readers of this paper. We quote: "The Municipal Council of Colchester devoted most of its morning session yesterday to the discussion of the prevention of tuberculosis. The subject was introduced by Dr. Walker, Secretary of the Colchester Association. He made a lengthy and practical address, assuring the Councilors of the gratefulness the Association had for their tangible as well as sympathetic interest in the matter. The doctor also commended the Council for its effort to secure the establishment of a proper bureau for the collection of vital statistics. Dr. Walker presented the figures recently obtained by him at the session of the General Association at Ottawa, supplemented by the figures presented by the City of Halifax as a basis for computation, showing the very large number of persons who die from consumption in the Maritime Provinces each year. "Dr. Walker stated that about 375 cases now exist in Colchester, furnishing an annual death rate from the place of 75 per year. Counties like Cumberland and Antigonish have expended $17,000 in looking after 600 to 800 cases of smallpox, with only one death, but did not expend a dollar to provide for its 470 cases of consumption, with a death rate of 94 persons annually. Other instances were cited of the existence of tuberculosis in the public schools, which could be largely reduced by intelligent enforcement of sanitary regulations and compulsory registration and notices to the School Board, who should act in conjunction with the Board of Health, of all pupils in attendance, showing symptoms of consumption. Chapters devoted to the discussion of the effects of the disease and its prevention and cure should have a first place in the health readers, since it was found that tuberculosis in the United States destroyed each year directly more than half as many lives as are directly and indirectly traced to the use and abuse of liquor and tobacco, and the cost to the nation was three times as great as the annual cost of both whisky and nicotine."

The Moncton Times strongly urged the opposition in Westminster to oppose the return of Hon. Mr. Robinson, but a party caucus has decided to permit his re-election by acclamation. The party resources will be husbanded for the general elections. The city council wants more revenue from the country market. Somebody must pay for that sanitary inconvenience which has been jested at and unwhistled by terms by all who have seen it; and which must now be repaired at considerable expense. A steamer is being prosecuted for dumping ashes into St. John harbor. Evidently the captain of that steamer has not yet learned that ashes and salt, with a little coal added, are to be the fuel of the future. But why should the authorities of this city prosecute any man or steamer for wastefulness?

The result of the Liberal primaries does not appear altogether pleasing to the Globe. This is not the first time the Globe and the people have been at variance. Yet the Globe's avowed policy as a democratic journal would doubtless be to trust the people. The closing days of the parliamentary session at Ottawa are peaceful after the storms of weeks and months past. May it be long before the Canadian people are compelled to read reports of another such session as that now drawing to a close.

The extension of the Canadian iron and steel bounties for another four years is endorsed by the great majority of both parties in parliament, because it is necessary for the development of the great basic industries of the country. If Sir Wilfrid Laurier really mentioned Mr. Bourassa in his discourse on Canadian "firbrands" in London yesterday, he will honor it again. But probably the correspondent took something for granted, in writing his report. Today's heavy rain, if general, should start the ice, raise the water in the streams, and set the log drives in motion. We are at the beginning of an active season in the lumber trade. Seed-time is very late this spring in the west, and already fears of a light harvest are expressed, based on the experience of a similar season some fourteen years ago.

No stalls in the centre of the market will be sold. Ald. Vanwart occupied the chair and Ald. Bullock, Baxter, Tilley, Sproul, Hamm, Christie, Rowan and Holder were present with the director, Chief Kerr and the common clerk. On motion of Ald. Baxter it was decided to recommend that valuations be put on the Rhea property near the corner of Rodney street, Carleton. The lease will expire May 1. John A. Adams was nominated as the city's representative. R. Thompson was granted the lease of a lot on Germain street, Carleton, for $12 a year.

SOME VERY INTERESTING TALES OF THE YUKON

The Guggenheims Are Spending Millions in the Klondike Valley—Life in Dawson City—The Spring Rush of Tourists—A Famous Dog Team.

A Dawson letter of March 27th says:— "The spring tourists who rush over trail from Whitehorse to Dawson are beginning to arrive. The advance guard got in a few days ago, and many others are following in their footsteps. They have 300 miles of road to travel. It is out into fourteen relay stations for the White Pass stage service, but a few other roadhouses at halfway points between the White Pass stations also furnish points which may be termed the mulemen's rests. "At numerous points along the route the mulemen stop and camp beside the road. Passengers on incoming stages can sight the fellows in the grey of dawn, and scent their bacon and coffee lifting their savory exclamations on the frosty air. It's inspiring. "The men now walking over the trail are coming chiefly to seek work for the season. They know that there are many good enterprises to be undertaken in the Yukon this year by dredging people, and are coming early so as to get to work as soon as possible. Quite a number also are expected to come down the river by slip, snow and steamer early after the opening of the river. (Edmonton Journal)

With the water mains two feet in the ground, and an electric current, along the pipe, and with the hydrants enclosed in little box houses with stoves in them, the waterworks department at Dawson City are able to surmount what might at first thought prove an almost impossible barrier to the operation of a successful waterworks system in the Yukon. This was one of many similar interesting stories in connection with the municipal work in Dawson City, related to the Edmonton Journal by J. E. Girouard. Mr. Girouard came originally from Arthabasca or as it is now called Arthabasca City, in the province of Quebec. He was a member of the house of assembly for the Arthabasca constituency, the home of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, from 1885 to 1900. In 1898 he was Quebec's representative in the Yukon, where he accepted the position of registrar and member of the first Yukon council. These positions he held ever since going to that country. Mr. Girouard is one of the earliest members of the Yukon council, he and Judge Dugas being the only members of the first council still occupying the position. Mr. Girouard is fond of the country of his adoption and expects to return to his duties in the summer. He spoke freely to the Journal of the climate, natural resources, and the people inhabiting the Yukon, but when asked regarding the realities of his official position or the success of the present form of government he shrugged his shoulders and smiled inscrutably as he replied: "As an official, I have nothing to say; I am dead to the world," and dismissed the subject in a quiet yet unmistakable way. Mr. Girouard confirmed the reports already published regarding gold mining in the Yukon. The Guggenheim company have purchased most of the land in the Klondike valley. They have spent several millions of dollars in the purchase of this and are installing expensive machinery, and they expect to work their claims thoroughly. "Is anything done except mining for gold in Yukon?" asked the Journal. "Well," replied Mr. Girouard, "of course gold mining is the chief occupation, but cultivation of the land has commenced on a small scale. Vegetables can be grown easily; as to grain, some kinds can be raised successfully. Last year I saw some good oats that ripened there, but wheat or other grains have not been tried yet." "Has the slight breaking of the land for cultivation and extensive mining carried on, affected the climate in any way?" queried the Journal. "Yes," was the reply, "since '98 there have been many changes caused by the breaking of the surface of the earth and the disappearance of the timber. When I first arrived in the Yukon the snow came down like frost and there would be quite a snowstorm and yet you could not see the flakes falling. Now, however, we can see the snow flakes fall. More than that we have wind and rain storms, disturbances practically unknown several years ago." "The winters are the part I dread most," continued Mr. Girouard. "For two months we have only daylight in Dawson City from ten until two, and the cold is severe. The summers though, are very pleasant and recompense one for the winter months. Dawson City, according to Mr. Girouard, is losing ground. The claims around there are all worked out and the people are leaving. In 1898 or 1899 there were about 10,000 people living there, while now there are only about 3,000. The city is very modern however, considering its location. The citizens enjoy all the benefits of electric lights, sewerage and waterworks systems, a fire brigade and other esentials to the health and prosperity of a city. Mr. Girouard visited Edmonton two years ago, and like all others who have been absent for a similar length of time he sees a remarkable change in its appearance. "Its advancement in such a short space of time is truly remarkable," said he, "and according to the present indications you will have a great city here in a very few years. Mr. Girouard leaves for a visit to his old home in the east on Monday. His family with the exception of one son in this city are attending colleges in the east and for the past few years Mr. Girouard has been alone in Dawson. SAM IS DEAD. DAWSON CITY April 22.—Sam is dead. He snuffed softly over the high divide yesterday. With his nose snuffing the soporific vapor of ether, the old fellow did not know he was going. He went as a child to sleep. Such was the departure in Dawson the other day of the last of the most famous of all the dog teams of the North. Sam had been a landmark at the N. C. post in Dawson for years. It was he and four of his fellows—Whiskey, the leader, Teddy, Dan and Mike—who made memorable trips into Dawson from Circle and Skagway in the momentous days when Klondike was the frenzied force of the world. Sam and his companions were five of the largest, most powerful, and handsomest huskies in the Yukon. When the Klondike Camp was but a few months old these fine fellows were driven here by Casper Ellinger with a load of mail from Circle. The mail sold for $1 per single mail. The team then was bought by A. Wisell and Billy Walters, and soon after passed into the hands of the A. C. Company. The last consideration was $5,000. And they were worth every ounce of it. The old boys made one or two famous trips to Skagway and return, and then were dispatched more or less. Whiskey, the leader, Sulphur, Mike and Terry and Dan did later, two of them from acute kidney trouble, seemingly contracted in the severe cold, and one from decline. Sam outlived his fellows by years. The last several years he has been the petted and venerated veteran at the N. C. post, and has lived on the fat of the land. Gradually he grew old like an aged man, and scarcely could hobble about to his meals. It was deemed a kindness to the old chap when the boys got Dr. Reid to let him sniff the heavenly chloroform and be wafted to that heaven whither go all good dogs. A WINDSOR LADY'S APPEAL. DEATH IN ENGLAND OF SAM SLICK'S SON. Lord Arthur Haliburton Was Educated at King's College, Windsor—Served in Crimean Campaign. (Halifax Mail, April 22.) A cable from London, received yesterday, announced the death of Lord Arthur Haliburton, for a number of years secretary of state for war. Born in 1826, he was the youngest son of the late Judge Thomas Chandler Haliburton, known to fame as Sam Slick. His ancestors, who settled in America in the seventeenth century, were cadets of the ancient Scottish border family of Haliburton, taking their name, it is said, from the lands of Haliburton, near Greenlaw, which they held from the Earle of Dunbar. Lord Arthur Haliburton's mother was Louisa, daughter of Captain Neville, of the Royal Horse Guards and Nineteenth Light Dragoons. He was educated at King's college, Windsor, and was called to the bar in 1855. From 1855 to 1870 he served on the commissariat staff of the army in the Crimean campaign, in Canada and in London. In 1870 he became Assistant Director of Supplies and Transport, and Director of the same in 1878. In 1888 he was appointed assistant under secretary of state for war, and was permanent under secretary from 1895 to 1897. He was raised to the peerage in May, 1898. He married Mariana, daughter of Leo Schuster, and widow of Sir William Dickenson Clay, baronet, in 1877. He was a brother of the wife of the late Very Rev. Dean Gilpin.

By That Time Government Will Have Finished Its Programme—Fielding Introduces Bill to Extend Iron and Steel Bounties Four Years Longer.

OTTAWA, April 24.—In the house yesterday afternoon Mr. Fielding announced that in all probability parliament would prorogue on Friday The Dominion Lands Act and patent medicine act would not be proceeded with next session. At the next session a measure would be brought down to grant assistance to the ten-centenary celebration at Quebec. Hon. Mr. Fielding then introduced his resolution incorporating the new iron and steel bounties. He said that petitions had been presented to the house, largely from Ontario, objecting to the passing of the bounties. Those, principally, who signed these petitions did so because of their objection, no doubt, to the bounties on principle, but many others may have done so through misapprehension as to the burdens imposed upon the taxpayers through these bounties. It would be generally admitted that if any industry was deserving of encouragement it would be that of iron and steel, for a country that did not develop its iron and steel could not be called progressive. There were a number of reasons why the industry should be aided by bounties instead of custom duties. The principal reason was that if a duty were imposed to protect iron and steel industry owing to that product entering into so many made articles and the imported as would be the duty, the bounty system was therefore the best to pursue. In reply to Mr. Bennett, Mr. Fielding said that at Sydney it was almost entirely Newfoundland ore in use and at Sault Ste. Marie both native and American. There was an erroneous idea that iron and steel were protected heavily. The protection was not so great as that given to some lines of agricultural products. Taking pig iron at $16 a ton, the duty and bounty together came to $2.80, amounting to protection of something like 16 1/4 per cent, which was much less than many other lines of industry, and taking steel ingots and billets the duty was $1.50, bounty on pig iron $1.50, steel bounty $1.85, making a total of $4.85, which is equal to about 17 3/4 per cent under the preferential tariff. He believed that if the farmers, who had signed these petitions, had known the facts they would not have taken the position they had. The use of Newfoundland ore could not be regarded as foreign ore. The importation of ore had led to the development of the use of native fuel and so done a great deal for the creation of a new home industry. Every dollar that had been paid out of the treasury in the way of bounty had come back through increased general trade of the country. The customs collections during the nine years amounted to $7,948,118, so that in the increased revenue they had been receiving the bounty back directly to the treasury. Then the revenue was increased at other points of entry. This policy also promoted immigration and kept their own people at home instead of going to the United States.

Lord Arthur Haliburton was educated at King's College, Windsor—Served in Crimean Campaign. (Halifax Mail, April 22.) A cable from London, received yesterday, announced the death of Lord Arthur Haliburton, for a number of years secretary of state for war. Born in 1826, he was the youngest son of the late Judge Thomas Chandler Haliburton, known to fame as Sam Slick. His ancestors, who settled in America in the seventeenth century, were cadets of the ancient Scottish border family of Haliburton, taking their name, it is said, from the lands of Haliburton, near Greenlaw, which they held from the Earle of Dunbar. Lord Arthur Haliburton's mother was Louisa, daughter of Captain Neville, of the Royal Horse Guards and Nineteenth Light Dragoons. He was educated at King's college, Windsor, and was called to the bar in 1855. From 1855 to 1870 he served on the commissariat staff of the army in the Crimean campaign, in Canada and in London. In 1870 he became Assistant Director of Supplies and Transport, and Director of the same in 1878. In 1888 he was appointed assistant under secretary of state for war, and was permanent under secretary from 1895 to 1897. He was raised to the peerage in May, 1898. He married Mariana, daughter of Leo Schuster, and widow of Sir William Dickenson Clay, baronet, in 1877. He was a brother of the wife of the late Very Rev. Dean Gilpin.

THE STATEMENT that it was intended to continue the bounties for three and a half years beyond last July, at which date they should have expired and as a basis of new bounties they would have 55 per cent of the original bounties which were $3 per ton on pig iron from native ore, $2 per ton on pig iron from foreign ore and $3 on steel. Practically the new bounties would date from Jan. 1 and run for four years. This for 1907-8 would give a bounty of $1.10 on pig iron made from foreign ore and a reduction to 70 cents and 49 cents respectively in regard to pig iron manufactured from native ore in order to give such manufacture encouragement an advantage of $1 would be given in the bounty for three years and 59 cents in the fourth year. Mr. Fielding next explained the bounties for electric smelting. The amount was the same, but the period over which they ran was put forward two years. It would take at least two years to begin work. The statement that the bounties would amount from $18,000,000 to $25,000,000 was grossly exaggerated. To take last year's and add about 10 per cent each year and they would only be $7,500,000, to which would be added $500,000 for electric smelting. The government considered that at the expiration of the extended period the bounties should cease. Mr. Foster contended that in advocating an iron bounty Mr. Fielding was merely adopting the plan which the conservatives proposed years ago. Mr. Paterson ridiculed this idea, and the debate was continued by Messrs. Chisholm (Huron), Henderson (Halton), Lalor (Haldimand), Connors, Zimmerman, Lancaster, Clement and Wright (Muskoka). The bill was read a third time. A bill giving a bounty of 3-8 of one cent per pound on manila fibre used in the manufacture of binder-twine and cordage in Canada was also adopted.

Miss Bessie Cullman left last evening on the steamer Governor Cobb for Portland (Me.), and will go from there to London (Ont.), to join her brother.

Merriment by a Merry Man

SURE THING. Mike—A word to the wise is sufficient. Bill—I know; but the trouble is you don't get a chance to say a word to the wise guy.

THE ONE TO BE PLEASED. De Jaw—No, we never have roast pork at our house any more. De Paw—Why, I thought you were very fond of it. De Jaw—So I am, but my wife's pet dog won't eat any of it at all.

TAKING CHANCES OTHERWISE. Hoax—He is exceedingly ill, but he is still holding his own. Joax—He has to. There are two doctors with him all the time.

USUALLY BROKEN. Jinks—Is your watch a stop-watch? Blinks—Nearly all the time.

JUST NONSENSE. The Jester—The man next door to me must be a night watchman. The Romantic—Why? The Jester—He don't work in the daytime and he's home in bed every night before 10 o'clock.

ABOUT THE LIMIT. De Hitt—And is old Mieserly so very close in his feelings? De Witt—Close? Why, he wanted to pay less for a duck calendar for the month of February because it did not contain as many days as the other months.

Flattery for Husbands.

(Winifred Black in N. Y. American.) A Denver woman who was suing her husband for divorce the other day had a beautiful time telling the Judge how fond he was of her.

"The last woman who flatters him has him," said the Denver woman. And the Judge looked volumes of sympathy. I wonder why.

If I had a husband who was as easily managed as that I wouldn't get a divorce from him while there was a breath of life left in my body.

"The last woman who flatters him has him," said the Denver woman. And the Judge looked volumes of sympathy. I wonder why.

Al! indeed, my dear madam. Then, why didn't you see to it that you were the last woman every time?

"I'd be the first woman and the middle-time woman and the last woman, and I would think of more sweet things to say than any other human being could ever dream of, and I'd say every time I see to it that he got plenty of it, and got it right at home in his own dooryard."

A woman who is married to a man has the last word in the game in her favor all the time. The man can't get away from her, in the first place—she's got him right under her thumb to experiment on.

"The last woman who flatters him has him," said the Denver woman. And the Judge looked volumes of sympathy. I wonder why.

When the other woman who's trying to get him to stay around corners and stand in windy hallways and get opportunity to sell in a new way to get an opportunity that the man's wife has made to order for her a dozen times a day.

"The last woman who flatters him has him," said the Denver woman. And the Judge looked volumes of sympathy. I wonder why.

I knew a woman who was ill, and she went to a hospital. While she was there her husband's mother and her husband's sister did their very best to alienate the husband from his wife. When the wife first began to understand the situation she was very unhappy about it, but she was a sensible woman, so she didn't say a word.

"The last woman who flatters him has him," said the Denver woman. And the Judge looked volumes of sympathy. I wonder why.

She flattered him and made much of him until he was more in love with her than he was when he asked her to marry him, and when she went out of the hospital her mother-in-law and sister-in-law greeted her with strange, puzzled faces which were worth a dozen quatrains to her quiet little consciousness of humble triumph.

"The last woman who flatters him has him," said the Denver woman. And the Judge looked volumes of sympathy. I wonder why.

Now, if that woman had been like the woman who got the divorce in Denver because her husband was easily flattered, she would have cried and made scenes every time her husband was a minute late at the hospital, and she would have played right into the hands of the people who were trying to make trouble for her.

"The last woman who flatters him has him," said the Denver woman. And the Judge looked volumes of sympathy. I wonder why.

As it is, she is the head of a happy, contented, prosperous and friendly family, and she had no one to thank her for her own good fortune but her own good sense.

"The last woman who flatters him has him," said the Denver woman. And the Judge looked volumes of sympathy. I wonder why.

Flattery is a foolish little sugar cake, but it is sure, but there isn't a bit of harm in it, not a single bit, and the woman who

"The last woman who flatters him has him," said the Denver woman. And the Judge looked volumes of sympathy. I wonder why.

ROLLER SKATING

The Six Day Race. Nixon and Alward, at the end of the second night's racing in the six day race in the Queen's Rollway, were still in the lead with Gibson and Wilson two laps behind.

Following this race the Indian took up his abode in Toronto and went into active training under the direction of Harry Rosenthal.

On Christmas Day the Indian entered in the term-mile annual Christmas Day race in Hamilton, winning in the last time of 54.32, against twenty-two contestants, three minutes before the record.

The next effort of the Onondaga man was a three-mile matched race against Bonnah, the New York crack, at the 74th Regiment indoor games at Buffalo, Ontario.

On Good Friday the Indian entered the two and a half-mile annual race in the West End Y. M. C. A., to which club he had transferred his allegiance. The Indian once again made home first, lowering his record by twelve seconds, running in mud all the way.

On Saturday, April 13, in a five mile race against the world's record, in the Garrison athletic games, at the Armories, the Indian could only do the course in 27.22, the record being 26.01, poor pacemakers, the small track, the dust and smoke hindering him.

NEW WORLD'S RECORD! PRINCETON, N. J., April 21.—A world's record was broken by Leo Talbot, the Mercerburg academy boy, at the interscholastic games held yesterday. He hunted the 12 lb. shot 190 ft. 9 in. in setting the record established by Tom Shevlin six years ago by three feet. Talbot also won the shot put and incidentally broke John R. DeWitt's interscholastic record for the 12 lb. contest by over a foot. He put the missile 49 ft. 8 in.

SWIMMING A NEW SWIMMING RECORD. PITTSBURG, Pa., April 23.—Charles M. Daniels of the N. Y. Athletic Club tonight, in the tank of the East Liberty Baths clipped three-fifths of a second from the world's record swimming record, covering the distance in 43.23. The record was made in competition, Guy M. Daily, of Pittsburgh, and two New York swimmers participating.

Fitz. May Fight Again. Bob Fitzsimmons, looking about the same as when he was the king in the boxing game, arrived in Boston Monday with his wife and company, to fill an engagement in the Grand Opera House. Fitz, strongly objects to being classed as an old man, and also denies that he has retired from the ring.

He believes he can defeat any of the middle or heavyweights in the ring today. He says he is in the best of health. He claims he is the middleweight champion, never having been defeated for the title, and is ready to meet any one for it at 125 pounds ring-side.

After his theatrical season closes, Fitz says, he is going after the big fellows for a match.

Chicago, April 22.—Joe Gans, lightweight champion of the world, is about to give in to the demands of "Battling" Nelson and most him in the ring in 125 pounds ring-side with fighting tops on. This was made known today when Gans, who is in Baltimore, replied to a telegram asking him if he had any objection to the fight.

Richard this morning wired saying that he had accepted the fight with Nelson at 125 pounds ring-side without top forced the color of the trunks to be red and white. Nelson and Gans will fight on Friday night at the Casino in New York.

The telegram sent by Gans states that he is in the best of health. He has accepted the fight, but insists that the purse must be split seven-eighths for one fighter.

"Lanky Bob's" Bold Deed. Boston, April 23.—I will meet any man in the world for the middleweight championship race like that of yesterday is well shown in the heavy law. His action is not pretty, according to lights of the modern track athletes, but it is effective. He takes long, loose, shambling strides, and while he does not appear to be making any great efforts, appears, as a spectator put it, to be able to go on forever. Although it is claimed by people in Toronto that Longboat was found by Harry Rosenthal, his late manager, and had been exploited for the private ends of the latter in country fairs of the west, for a couple of years past, it was not until Thanksgiving Day, 1906, that he really came into prominence, when he won the road race of the Hamilton Herald, covering the nineteen miles in 1 hour and 45 minutes. His next big race was the Ward Marathon, an event of fifteen miles, held in Toronto on October 28 last. The Indian finished first out of a field of sixty, in 1:31:10.25, which gives an average of a mile in slightly more than six minutes and with the going heavy over muddy roads at that.

Following this race the Indian took up his abode in Toronto and went into active training under the direction of Harry Rosenthal.

The telegram sent by Gans states that he is in the best of health. He has accepted the fight, but insists that the purse must be split seven-eighths for one fighter.

"Lanky Bob's" Bold Deed. Boston, April 23.—I will meet any man in the world for the middleweight championship race like that of yesterday is well shown in the heavy law. His action is not pretty, according to lights of the modern track athletes, but it is effective. He takes long, loose, shambling strides, and while he does not appear to be making any great efforts, appears, as a spectator put it, to be able to go on forever. Although it is claimed by people in Toronto that Longboat was found by Harry Rosenthal, his late manager, and had been exploited for the private ends of the latter in country fairs of the west, for a couple of years past, it was not until Thanksgiving Day, 1906, that he really came into prominence, when he won the road race of the Hamilton Herald, covering the nineteen miles in 1 hour and 45 minutes. His next big race was the Ward Marathon, an event of fifteen miles, held in Toronto on October 28 last. The Indian finished first out of a field of sixty, in 1:31:10.25, which gives an average of a mile in slightly more than six minutes and with the going heavy over muddy roads at that.

Following this race the Indian took up his abode in Toronto and went into active training under the direction of Harry Rosenthal.

On Christmas Day the Indian entered in the term-mile annual Christmas Day race in Hamilton, winning in the last time of 54.32, against twenty-two contestants, three minutes before the record.

The next effort of the Onondaga man was a three-mile matched race against Bonnah, the New York crack, at the 74th Regiment indoor games at Buffalo, Ontario.

On Good Friday the Indian entered the two and a half-mile annual race in the West End Y. M. C. A., to which club he had transferred his allegiance. The Indian once again made home first, lowering his record by twelve seconds, running in mud all the way.

On Saturday, April 13, in a five mile race against the world's record, in the Garrison athletic games, at the Armories, the Indian could only do the course in 27.22, the record being 26.01, poor pacemakers, the small track, the dust and smoke hindering him.

NEW WORLD'S RECORD! PRINCETON, N. J., April 21.—A world's record was broken by Leo Talbot, the Mercerburg academy boy, at the interscholastic games held yesterday. He hunted the 12 lb. shot 190 ft. 9 in. in setting the record established by Tom Shevlin six years ago by three feet. Talbot also won the shot put and incidentally broke John R. DeWitt's interscholastic record for the 12 lb. contest by over a foot. He put the missile 49 ft. 8 in.

SWIMMING A NEW SWIMMING RECORD. PITTSBURG, Pa., April 23.—Charles M. Daniels of the N. Y. Athletic Club tonight, in the tank of the East Liberty Baths clipped three-fifths of a second from the world's record swimming record, covering the distance in 43.23. The record was made in competition, Guy M. Daily, of Pittsburgh, and two New York swimmers participating.

Fitz. May Fight Again. Bob Fitzsimmons, looking about the same as when he was the king in the boxing game, arrived in Boston Monday with his wife and company, to fill an engagement in the Grand Opera House. Fitz, strongly objects to being classed as an old man, and also denies that he has retired from the ring.

He believes he can defeat any of the middle or heavyweights in the ring today. He says he is in the best of health. He claims he is the middleweight champion, never having been defeated for the title, and is ready to meet any one for it at 125 pounds ring-side.

After his theatrical season closes, Fitz says, he is going after the big fellows for a match.

Chicago, April 22.—Joe Gans, lightweight champion of the world, is about to give in to the demands of "Battling" Nelson and most him in the ring in 125 pounds ring-side with fighting tops on. This was made known today when Gans, who is in Baltimore, replied to a telegram asking him if he had any objection to the fight.

PALE FACED GIRLS

Thousands Using Successful Care for Paleness and Anaemia.

The pallid girl always lacks appetite. What little she eats is badly digested. At night she tosses, she does not sleep.

Vital force must be increased, new blood must be supplied and a general revivification take place before she will feel like she ought.

Dr. Hamilton had invaluable experience in these cases and found nothing so prompt in building up the young women as his vegetable pills of Mandrake and Butternut.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills begin by cleansing the system and purifying the blood; they also improve digestion and render food readily for absorption. Additional nourishment is quickly supplied and the patient is fast strengthened and invigorated.

Full of spirit, ruddy and strong is the girl that assists her system by Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

The following recent letter from Miss Etta McEwen, of Hamilton, speaks for itself:

"I am using Dr. Hamilton's Pills I find my system is wonderfully built up. It is certainly the most effective remedy I ever used. I have now a good appetite, sleep more soundly and awaken in the morning feeling quite refreshed.

"Formerly I felt tired and depressed. I looked as if a severe illness was hanging over my head.

"Nothing could give quicker results than Dr. Hamilton's Pills and I strongly advise every young woman to use them.

All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c. per box or five boxes for $1, by mail from N. C. Paken & Co., Hartford Conn., U.S.A. and Kingston, Ont.

NO NEED TO BUY COAL

Simply Salt Your Ashes, Place in Stove, Light, and Keep Comfortably Warm.

The idea that ashes if properly treated with a mixture of oxalic acid, salt and water, can be burned as well as coal has apparently taken hold of St. John citizens. Yesterday it was tried in the Royal Hotel and is said to have worked successfully, and it would not be surprising if many households were today making surreptitious tests of the new plan to fool the coal man.

It may also be that the new fuel will form a bond of union between employer and employe, for how can an employer with traces of ashes on his coat tails rebuke a clerk for mauling his dress when the clerk's coat tails bear unmistakable evidence that he and the boss have been "up against the same game."

Coal dealers are consoling themselves with the thought that the discovery was not made public a few months ago. Before next winter comes they will have had time to go into the ice business or enter journalism or some similar profession where no low-browed inventor can steal their wad and their future at one fell swoop. But if this ash burning-coal saving-money saving plan had been launched last October, then the dealers in dusty diamonds would have been in a bad way.

As far as the Times can learn today there is no truth in the report that the coal dealers have joined hands with the city to corner the salt market and raise the water rates.

There is another phase of this ash-burning question and the Times learns that in one case a householder, last evening, filled his stove with prepared ashes and went out and left it. When he returned he found that his wife had been almost heated out of house and home.

If this case can be taken as a criterion it would appear that in order to obtain the full measure of success from the new plan, a man would require to quit his job and live in the stove all day to watch the draughts.

On top of this new discovery comes the astounding story of a man on Waterloo street, who for two years has kept warm on 100 pounds of coal and has the 100 pounds yet in as good condition as when first brought into his house. His method was very simple. He kept the coal in a large bag and when he felt cold he would shoulder the bag and run around the block with it. Two or three trips were generally found to be sufficient to induce profuse perspiration and he felt as comfortable as if Florida on a July day.

It is learned today that the ash burning plan has been tried by several people in the city and has worked well. It is also said to have given satisfactory results in a trial on the tug Dirigo.

The Travellers' Home on Water street has been a busy place all winter, a good crowd being taken care of most of the time. There are quite a number of inmates at the Home at the present time.

CHILDREN WITH DEFECTIVE EYESIGHT

(Montreal Witness.) The other day we were told that there are nearly a thousand children in our school suffering from defective eyesight, and whose parents are not aware of the fact. What are we going to do about it? The answer is, we are going to do everything we can to get the defective eyesight of every child where the eyesight has been tested.

Many cities the authorities not only have the means but they have the personnel to do it. In New York, Miss Draper, of the Committee on Physical Welfare of Children, estimates that a hundred and eighty thousand children in New York would be found with defective eyesight. There is a plan in New York to furnish free spectacles to children in need of them in the primary schools. It is estimated that possibly attend a "mammy ory or accept a fat sinecure or position out of the people's money. Whether or no, it is a fact that stresses will often charge a dull child into an exceptionally bright one, and where that is done it is surely public money well invested. When the unhappy can be made happy and the stupid intelligent, is good political economy, to say nothing about humanity, to do it. So far as Montreal is concerned, it might at least certify the need of glasses to parents and show the poorer parents how to get them most cheaply. We have two optical companies and a number of blocks low to the city who would no doubt gladly co-operate in such an endeavor at a minimum cost. It must not be supposed that eyesight generally today is more defective than in the past. Not at all. Only today we find out and make good defects that in the past would have caused their bearers life-long pain and inefficiency. We do not court today the toothache our forefathers would have had should eliminate as far as possible defective sight, especially in the young, now that we have the necessary theoretic knowledge and practical skill. Perhaps we will some day learn how to prevent in many cases the development, or at least the aggravation, of defective eyesight, which must surely be the result of something abnormal in our habits or our demands upon the eye.
