NEW ENGLAND SAW MILL UNITS ARE IN SCOTLAND

Interesting Letter From D. P. Brown, General Manager, Concerning Work to be Done

(Special Correspondence of Bangor Commercial.)

Augusta, July 30.—Hon. Forrest H. Colby, of Bangor, state forest commissioner, on Monday, received a letter from D. P. Brown, of Boston, general manager of the saw mill units, which New England donated to the British government and in which are several men from Maine.

Mr. Brown's letter, which tells of the trip and many interesting things, is as follows:—

"We are at last located near the picturesque town of Ardgay, county of Ross-Shire, Scotland, many miles from anywhere and very much out of the world. We came here immediately upon landing at Liverpool, rushing through on a special.

"We have been here a few days and are getting a bit acquainted with the country, and are looking over the road, making preliminary preparations for the course of the units. Mr. Lewis and Mr. Forth of the British timber supply department, met us here, and escorted us to our temporary camp-ground, a mile and a half from the village, where we are located in our equipment arrives. We have just received word that the boat has arrived and our horses already on the road, so we can get started, as a long wait has told on all our nerves and dispositions.

"The proposition put up to us presents no ultimate difficulties. The timber here is excellent, in fact, the main body where the majority of the mills will be located, is as pretty a piece of logging as I have ever seen. There is a strip of timber about three and one-half miles long by one-half mile wide on the side of a hill. The timber is sixty years old, standing from 12,000 to 15,000 feet high. The chances are fair for mill sites, and I hope before very long we will be able to accomplish something in the present our greatest difficulty is in getting the organization started, because we are quite out of the world and there is no telephone in this country and the railroads are very slow in making deliveries. We are quite a way from any large centre for supply distribution and it is, indeed, fortunate that we have our own equipment, otherwise I know it would have taken a long time to get going. However, every one seems to be most cordial and anxious to do all possible to assist us, so that before long we should be organized on a good basis. In regard to the timber, we have had no difficulty as yet in getting such provisions as we require. We cannot always procure the particular kind of food which we need, but there is always something else that will do just as well.

"We have evidently no need of advertising because every one seems to expect that we will do wonders. I hope that we can make good, but I realize that we are up against a new proposition in many ways, and that our friends, the Canadian foresters have been at the same game for over a year, and I understand have had some very excellent organizations. They are using only large mills, run night and day, and it will be interesting to see how our small mills compare in net results.

"I think, on the whole, that we have a very satisfactory crew of men, and I am rather pleased at the prospect. They are all extremely anxious to get to work, and most enthusiastic for the proposition, so I feel that we are going to start with the right spirit anyway."

GERMANY SAID TO HAVE ONLY 200 OF THE SUBMARINES

Average Loss One a Week and She Builds Three or Four—Bernstorff's Boast That Failed

Washington, July 31.—In a well-informed official quarter it is stated that the best available information in the possession of the government, indicates that Germany now has in operation against Entente and American shipping not more than 200 submarines. This estimate is below that given by Bernstorff's prediction that Germany would have on the fring line of the submarine zone. He asserted that within a month after the beginning of submarine warfare on an unrestricted scale the German Admiralty would send 300 U-boats to the waters around the British Isles, and that that would be sufficient to starve England within a month.

The source of the official statement as to the number of German submarines cannot be disclosed, but is highly reliable. From the same source comes a statement that Germany is turning out three or four new submarines a week, and that the number of submarines of six months ago has been increased by the Entente Allies is about one a week. Every effort is being made to co-ordinate the plans of the British, French and American navies for checking this increase in the number of U-boats, while plans are being made for coping with the entire menace.

The general opinion among naval officers is that the destroyer is the most effective weapon that has yet been used against the submarine and that it is the most effective that can be used until some better method of coping with U-boats is discovered.

SUFFERED TERRIBLY For Days and Nights From DIARRHOEA

Diarrhoea arises from many causes such as a change of diet, change of weather, change of climate, catarrh of the bowels, use of unripe fruits or anything that will cause an excess of bile.

There are so many spurious "strawberry" preparations sold that you should be careful to get a bottle of Dr. Fowler's. It is a wonderful remedy, as it is so quick to act. I will recommend it to all my friends.

Miss Florence Hawfield, 235 Lauder avenue, Toronto, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with a violent attack of diarrhoea. I suffered terribly with it for four days and nights, and finally I became so weak I did not think I could stand it any longer. My sister advised me to try a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. I did so, and after I had taken three doses I felt a great deal better. I kept on taking it, and by the time I had taken six doses, the diarrhoea had completely stopped. It is a wonderful remedy, as it is so quick to act. I will recommend it to all my friends."

To Withdraw All Silver Florins

Germany, in Preparation for the Worst, Adopts Cuning Device; Meaning of the New Order

London, July 26.—A despatch to the Times from Amsterdam says:—The Telegraph's Zeevaarts correspondent says all the gold and precious stones in private possession have to be requisitioned at Westphalia this week, and must be delivered to the bank.

No other construction can well be placed on the latest currency development in Germany than that preparations are being made for the fall of the mark by the federal council that on January 1 next the silver two-mark pieces, which have popular circulation in Germany, must be withdrawn from circulation in exchange for them if paid into the imperial state banks. This withdrawal has only one meaning. The German government obviously intends to market them abroad owing to the high price of silver which the metal has risen, whereas the exchange value in English currencies of the paper two-mark abroad today is 18-00 pence. The value of the two-mark piece melted down in silver at the present price of silver in the London market is 13-8 pence. We can only come to the conclusion that the German authorities anticipate a further drop in the price of silver.

The market in Holland, where the two-mark piece would be sent for sale, gives about 6 pence for the silver which is obtainable in London. This might fetch an equivalent to 14-00 pence, but it is pointed out to us that a profit, if so, the device is a cunning one for taking profit on the depreciation of the mark.

A GREAT MEDICINE

That most successful of all remedies for woman's ailments, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, owes its origin to a botanic recipe which came into the possession of Lydia E. Pinkham about thirty years ago.

This recipe had proved so effective in the practice of a skilled physician that Mrs. Pinkham prepared the herbs and steeped and prepared them in true old-time fashion on her kitchen stove for her friends and neighbors who suffered from woman's ailments.

MARGUERITE CLARK IN "THE VALENTINE GIRL"

More Charming Than Ever in Excellent Picture at Lyric

If ever an motion picture could be styled a sure cure for the blues, or as a medium to make one forget troubles, surely that picture is "The Valentine Girl" with dainty picture Marguerite Clark as the star.

More than made up for it, however, as those who saw it yesterday were simply delighted, and it could hardly be otherwise. This feature has a plot that is pretty near being technically perfect and a leading role that fits Marguerite Clark as well as if better than any other actress.

HELD FOR MURDER OF WOMAN IN HOTEL

"You can't go now. I will call physician after we investigate," said the clerk. He summoned Howard Dow, the assistant manager, and together they ascended to the room occupied by "Martin" and his wife. Dow opened the door and saw the room in great disorder. The table was overturned, the bedclothes scattered about the room, and beside the bed lay, fully dressed, the body of the woman. Blood was flowing from wounds on her head, her eyes were discolored, and her nose broken.

The detectives would not face the ordeal of telling him that his son was arrested charged with murder, and that Inspector Gray wanted to see him at police headquarters. When young Winslow heard that his father was being asked to be taken direct to the coroner's office. He was arraigned before Coroner Healy charged with homicide and held without bail. He told how he had tried to enlist in the National Guard in New Jersey and in New York and had been rejected on account of defective eyesight. He is said to have an older brother in the Seventh Regiment and another brother in the American ambulance.

As soon as Winslow was locked up in the Tombs the detectives started to fix the identity of the victim whose body was sent to the morgue. The police have possession of her trunk, and they believe that through articles contained in it they will be able to find her mother. They are confident that she lived in New England and the police of Boston and other places have been asked to locate her relatives.

Detective Miceall visited the morgue with Mrs. Helen Williams of 120 West Forty-ninth street, who recognized the body as that of Mrs. Fannie King of 142 West Eighty-third street. She was not certain King was the wife of her mother. They are confident that she lived in New England and the police of Boston and other places have been asked to locate her relatives.

"That was not necessary," he said. "Why did he have to know anything about her?"

He said that he had known Frances Bradley for several months and had accompanied her to hotels before. He met her on Friday night and she told him she would meet him at 1 o'clock in front of the Hotel Astor. He met her there and together they went to the Remington. On a previous meeting they had a quarrel, and shortly after they entered the room this was renewed.

He was dosing off when, he said, he saw his companion, fully dressed, take his watch from his pocket. He jumped from the bed and struck her a blow in the face, knocking her down. She screamed and they struggled about the room. He picked up a glass inkstand from the table and struck her a blow on the head that stunned her. He kept her feet together and her hands, and then started to dress. He was doing this when she became conscious and started to struggle. Fearing that she would scream again he struck her repeatedly with the inkstand, he said. Then he gagged her.

"I did it all on the impulse of the moment," he told Inspector Gray. "I saw her take my watch. What I did was not premeditated."

Doctor Says Nuxated Iron Will Increase Strength of Delicate People 100% in Ten Days

In many instances—Persons have suffered untold agony for years doctoring for nervous weakness, stomach, liver or kidney disease or some other ailment when their real trouble was lack of iron in the blood—How to tell.

New York, N. Y.—In a recent discourse Dr. E. Sauer, a Boston physician who has studied widely both in this country and in great European medical institutions, said: "If you were to make an actual blood test on all people who are ill you would probably be greatly astonished at the exceedingly large number who lack iron and who are ill for no other reason than the lack of iron. The moment iron is supplied all their multitude of dangerous symptoms disappear. Without iron the blood at once loses the power to change food into living tissue and therefore nothing you eat does you any good; you don't get the strength out of it. Your food merely passes through your system like corn through a mill with the rollers so wide apart that the mill can't grind. As a result of this continuous blood and nerve starvation, people become generally weakened, nervous and all run down and frequently develop all sorts of conditions. One is too thin; another is burdened with unhealthy fat; some are so weak they can hardly walk; some think they have dyspepsia, kidney or liver trouble; some can't sleep at night; others are sleepy and tired all day; some are fussy and irritable; some are skiny and bloodless, but all lack physical power and endurance. In such cases, it is worse than foolishness to take stimulating medicines or narcotic drugs, which only whip up your flagging vital powers for the moment, maybe at the expense of your life later on. No matter what any one tells you, if you are not strong and well you owe it to yourself to make the following test. See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary nuxated iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. I have seen dozens of nervous run down people who were ailing all the time double, and even triple their strength and endurance and entirely get rid of their symptoms by new remedies, but when you come down to hard facts here is nothing like good old iron to put color in your cheeks and good sound, healthy flesh on your bones. It is also a great nerve and stomach strengthener and the best blood builder in the world. The only trouble was that the old forms of inorganic iron like tincture of iron, iron acetate, etc., often ruined people's teeth, upset their stomachs and were not assimilated and for these reasons they frequently did more harm than good. But with the discovery of the newer forms of organic iron all this has been overcome. Nuxated iron for example, is pleasant to take, does not injure the teeth and is almost immediately beneficial.

NOTE—The manufacturers of Nuxated Iron have such unbounded confidence in its potency that they authorize the announcement that they will forfeit $100,000 to any Charitable Institution if they cannot take any man or woman under sixty who lacks iron and increase their strength 100 per cent. or over in four weeks' time, provided they have no serious organic trouble. Also they will refund your money in any case in which Nuxated Iron does not at least double your strength in ten days' time. It is dispensed in this city by Wasson's Drug Store and all good druggists.

THE WAR SITUATION

The Berlin Tagblatt directs attention to the Belgian, French, Russian, Roumanian, Serbian, Montenegrin and Albanian territory still held by the Central Powers, and intimates that if the Entente Allies are wise they will consider Germany's peace terms, for the military strength of the Central Powers has increased.

We may dispute the latter claim, but the first statement of the Berlin paper is unfortunately true. The Central Powers hold all that territory, and in Russia they are getting more instead of less. When will they be driven out of any of this territory, on the western, eastern or southern front? We may talk as we choose about Germany's lost colonies, the bottling up of her fleet, the hardships her people are suffering and all that, but when are we going to smash the western or the eastern or southern front, and release the territory now held?

We may as well face the facts and resign ourselves to a long struggle. Given the submarine situation as it came to a point where government insurance rates on vessels and cargoes from American ports have been increased from 5 to 6 1/2 per cent. In American official circles it is estimated that Germany has 200 submarines in active service, and is building three or four for every one that is destroyed.

A minor success on the British, French, Roumanian or Italian front, or the announcement that the Russians are now trying to make a stand on their own soil, is of little account compared with the amazing strength of Germany as falsified all estimates and predictions concerning the duration of the war.

We have also to bear in mind that another year will elapse before the United States will be in the field, as the intervening time will be required to train and equip and transport troops, perfect arrangements for supplying them and keeping the armies up to strength.

If there are any persons in Canada who hug the delusion that the war may soon end, and that little or nothing more will be required of this country, they ought to be enlightened by a study of the map, a recollection of the utter failure of the predictions we have all been disposed to make in the past, and a consideration of the present situation on all fronts and in the submarine area.

We are as confident as ever of final victory, but the road is long. The Central Powers will not easily yield to such terms as are indicated in the speech of Mr. Balfour yesterday. And yet, he is perfectly right when he asserts that if the war ended with a German peace that would only be a prelude to a new European war. Like Mr. Balfour, therefore, we must needs "see it through."

MAKING THEM WORK The state of Maryland has adopted a Compulsory Work Law. In other words, it does not propose to let one portion of the community do its work and another its loafing. That ought to be a very good law. Its provisions are summarized by the following exchange:

"The state of Maryland has determined to have no idlers within its borders. All able bodied males between the ages of 18 and 30, inclusive, will have to engage in useful and productive employment. To secure this the legislature, one of its provisions being the registering of all idle labor. Governor Harrington has just issued a proclamation setting August 20 as the date for registration, this to affect all men not then regularly or continuously employed or engaged in any lawful or useful business occupation, trade or profession of any kind."

Compulsory Work Law provides that after the registration the idlers shall be put to work in occupations carried on by private persons, firms or corporations, whether such occupations be agricultural, industrial or otherwise. Certain exemptions are granted from the law, such as students and those temporarily out of work, but persons who do not wish to register will be subject to a fine of $50 and compulsory registration. If the registrant refuses to do the work assigned there is a nice little fine up to $500 waiting to be assessed, or imprisonment up to six months, with assignment to the hated work afterward. It surely does look as though the way of the idler is going to be hard in Maryland for some time. This law should go a long way toward solving the labor shortage, or at least, if properly administered, should greatly help those industries that are of vital importance to the conduct of the war and greatly need additional employes. No longer will the community have to pay for the upkeep of idlers, the idlers shall work for their keep and provide something more in the shape of fruit of their labors for the United States."

Since the present war broke out those who were interested in recruiting had their attention frequently directed to men of military age who would not enlist and who were not at work. In the words from time to time men are charged with non-support, and others would be so charged if their wives were not content to go out to work themselves and shield the lazy hulks who are their husbands. The Maryland law would be very useful in New Brunswick. As Col. Roosevelt says, every man should be made to pull his weight in the boat.

CONCERNING PLAYGROUNDS

On the subject of playgrounds a Montreal paper recently said: "The contention of organizations in the city interested in child welfare that more attention should be given by civic authorities to the question of providing additional playgrounds, is fully justified. Compared with other cities, Montreal has a lamentably small number of these desirable breathing places, although conditions today are better than they were a few years ago. In the densely populated quarters, there are, however, few plots set aside for the use of children. Mr. Justice Choquette, who presides over the juvenile court, recently spoke as follows of the custom of children playing in the streets: 'Slave I have been judge of this court, I have been struck with the number of children who have been brought before me charged with playing in the roads. Children would get into far less mischief if proper recreation places were provided for them.' No large city has more playgrounds than Chicago, and they have all been acquired of recent years. The taxpayers in nearly all of the wards demanded them. Where slums were torn down for the installation of playgrounds, living conditions improved, and there was a decided advance in property values. One of the most pleasing features of the establishment of playgrounds in Chicago was the marked reduction in the infant death rate, while the moral uplift has been a subject of frequent comment."

Occasionally one hears a protest against supervised playgrounds as quite unnecessary. Such protests are not made by those who are interested in child-welfare, or who are familiar with the playgrounds and with the conditions of life under which many children exist. Take, for example, a family of ten, eight of them children, living in three rooms, with nothing but the street for a playground. We need more and larger and better equipped playgrounds in St. John, and after the war the city should provide them.

THE FARMING INDUSTRY. Hon. J. F. Tweeddale, minister of agriculture, will deserve great credit if his department can stimulate cattle and sheep raising in this province. Too little of the product of the farm is fed on the farm, and with the prices that will prevail for years to come the raising of live stock should be an attractive proposition to any man having a farm in a fair state of cultivation. There is also room for development of the dairy industry, and Deputy Minister Reek should meet with hearty co-operation in his efforts to extend the scope of scientific methods of dairying and improvement of dairy stock.

Mr. Tweeddale intimates that his department is doing and will do what it can to prevent wastage of surplus in this year's production of crops, especially of potatoes. That is certainly essential for the campaign of increased production would otherwise fall in its purpose. We want reasonably cheap potatoes for the local consumer, but a market also for the farmer's surplus, on such terms as will give him a reasonable return for his toil.

The general outlook for the farmers is excellent. The hay crop is large, and all crops promise well. After this season's harvest has been gathered, preparations should be made for another season of increased production in 1918, for the need may be greater than than now.

An exchange observes:—"The chairman of the latest commission appointed by the Borden government, namely, the one authorized to investigate the O'Connor report, is said to have had considerable experience as a drainage referee. In that case he ought to know how to dig, and there appears to be much need for that operation."

Prohibition is being mocked by a few individuals who in some way get liquor. That is to be expected, but the police magistrate is to be commended for making the penalty as severe as the law permits. The man who has nothing better to do than to get drunk in these serious times deserves the limit for every offence.

The Rt. Hon. Winston Spencer Churchill has been re-elected with an almost four to one majority. He has another opportunity to make good. The British press is doubtful of the experiment, but perhaps the doubt will be removed. Col. Churchill may have learned discipline while at the front.

It is a shame if strawberries or any other edible berries are going to waste this year. The canning and preserving campaign should result in having more fruit put away by individual families for next winter's use than ever before in the history of the province.

It afterwards attacked my heart, and I had pains all over my body, so that I could hardly move around. I tried all kinds of medicine but none of them did me any good. The title of rear admiral always seems odd to the layman, says the Springfield Union, but never more so than when it is worn by a naval commander who is at the front and, so far as one may gather from the vague hints the cables carry, putting in good work against the enemy. Commenting on this the Boston Transcript suggests promoting such officers to the title of "front admiral."

What Should He Have Said? "I don't seem to be able to say the right thing to women," a bashful young man confided to us the other day, "and that's why I don't shine in society. I'll tell you an instance of it. Not long ago I met a woman I hadn't seen for years, and I could see that she was trying to keep young. So I thought I'd say a graceful thing to her."

"You carry your age remarkably well," said I. "Well the moment I said it I could see that I was in the wrong. She was looking chilly and getting red, so I said: 'Don't mind my little jokes—I never mean what I say. As a matter of fact you don't carry your age a bit well.'"

"And then she killed me with a haughty look and sailed away without saying good-by. Seems to me I should have said it rather differently, don't you think?"—Seattle Times.

Catarhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured. by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

Hon. Mr. Pugsley's Query May Lead To Militia Shake-Up

In the course of debate in the commons on the recent report of Colonel (Dr.) Herbert A. Bruce, of Toronto, Hon. Dr. Pugsley referred to the strong resolution passed by the War Veterans' Association of St. John, objecting to the employment by the militia department of men and officers, at high salaries, who had not been in the front, in positions which should go to men and officers who had served at the front. Sir Edward Knapp said that there was a good deal to be said for the position taken by Dr. Pugsley. He admitted there were surplus officers in Canada, and this state of affairs would be investigated and many of these officers would revert to private life. Dr. Pugsley, in asking the question, said that this had had a great effect on voluntary recruiting.

Health and Beauty Parlor

MAE MARTYN.

Dolly: I made my faded "strings" hair take on its natural color again and become soft, fluffy and brilliant by shampooing with canthox, a teaspoonful of which I dissolved in a cup of hot water. It gently, yet thoroughly, dissolved dirt, dirt and excess oil, and, when I rinsed it out, left the scalp healthy and pliant. Since my first trial I have used nothing but this.

Iphigenia: Yes, you can be sure of hair beauty if you give it proper care. Rid your hair of itching dandruff by use of this economical, home-made tonic, which will make your scalp so healthy that the hair naturally grows long and heavy. Get an ounce of quinine at your druggist's, dissolve it in one-half pint of alcohol, add one-half pint cold water, and rub into hair roots daily.

Antoinette: Instead of making over your gowns because you have outgrown them, why not try this harmless flesh reducer? Get four ounces of paraffin from your druggist. Dissolve it in one and one-half pints hot water. Take a tablespoonful before each meal and you will see a gradual decrease in weight without loss of strength or sagging skin. It is simple, harmless, and effective. Requires no dieting or exercise.

Miss O.: The "face cream without grease" which you ask about is easily prepared at home by this recipe. Get from your druggist one ounce of almond oil, dissolve it in one-half pint cold water. Add two teaspoonfuls glycerine, stir well and let stand over night. Apply frequently, and prevent wrinkles and all skin-dabbiness. It is cleansing, soothing and healing, and there is nothing better to relieve enlarged pores, roughness and all roughness or redness of skin.

Christine: For your sallow, pimply skin, which indicates a liver upset, you should make up and use the old-time karende blood, kidney and liver tonic. This is prepared by pouring one ounce karende into one-half pint alcohol (do not use whiskey) and then adding one-half cupful sugar and hot water to make a quart. Take a tablespoonful before meals and your skin will soon be clear and beautiful. The karende tonic is good for most bodily pains and aches, because it eliminates from the system the poisons causing them, and its timely use frequently prevents serious sickness.

Celia: You say, "I am a slave to my powder rag." Why not try this fine liquid beautifier? It is lasting in effect and economical, besides being fine to whiten and tone the skin and rid it of sallowness or blemishes. Get 4 ounces of spermaceti, add two teaspoonfuls glycerine and one-half pint hot water or witch hazel. This makes a big quantity and is far better than the ordinary face powders. It will be very becoming and will seem like a part of your skin.

Millicent: Don't be frightened into buying eyeglasses before you really need them. It is better to strengthen the eyes than to aid their weakness. For some years I have used this simple home-made tonic, which has both beautified and strengthened mine. Dissolve an ounce of erythro in one-half pint of water. Two drops daily, or several times daily will give relief to tired or aching eyes, and soon make them clear and sparkling.

PLAIN TALK AT MEETING

"We Are Starving" Some Told Chairman—$1,000 a Year Minimum Suggested—Vigorous Proceedings at Toronto Session

(Toronto Globe)

Three hundred members of the Civil Service Federation, or employees of the federal government in Toronto, decided last night after a stormy meeting in St. George's hall, Elm street, to send a deputation to the federal cabinet to press upon the government a resolution passed unanimously by the meeting, calling for a provisional bonus of $25 a month, retroactive from January 1.

Order was with difficulty preserved by the chairman, T. G. Mathieson of the public works department. As he opened the meeting he told the gathering that it must be candid, and that the men must speak as plainly as they did among themselves, but that they should refrain from an attack upon the government. They had nothing to fear, he said.

Some Plain Facts

Mr. Mathieson was interrupted literally. From every part of the hall speakers were interrupted, or were followed by respectfully-dressed clerks and workers who told of the pressing conditions in their homes. One said that his wife was working, while her sick sister took care of four children, that the home might be kept together. Another married man declared that he was attempting to make ends meet on $370 a year. The audience was composed principally of men earning less than $1,000 a year. A third refused to hold to the hard and fast lines drawn by Chairman Mathieson and declared that Sir Thomas White had broken his promise when he said that all federal employees would be given increases, and had failed to provide for them.

Mr. Crothers' Living Wage

"Hon. Mr. Crothers said when the street railway men went on strike in Toronto that a living wage was $20 a week. Let us keep him to his word," said one man, who was greeted with cheers.

G. B. Sweetman of the postoffice inspector's department was given a hearing by the gathering. He advised an increase, but suggested that the amount sought should be reasonable. Fifteen dollars a month was proposed, but would be granted by the government.

"How much is fifteen dollars a month?"

to a man earning less than $600 a year?" he was asked.

A. E. Crate of the Postoffice Clerks' Association agreed with Mr. Sweetman.

"Starving," Said Some

R. Cox, a past president of the Trades and Labor Council, followed Mr. Sweetman. Turning to Mr. Sweetman, who had told the gathering that he was a member of the oldest postoffice family in Canada, Mr. Cox went over the early history of the Letter Carriers' Association of the Trades and Labor Council when it obtained a scant hearing from any official.

"Why is it that there is more sickness among the poor?" he asked.

"We are starving," several answered from the audience.

"Is there any wonder that the red flag of socialism is raised in our streets?" he asked.

"Millions in bacon," interrupted another.

Minimum Wage $1,000

"If we are organized properly we will bring that class to terms. But you must organize thoroughly. I suggest $1,000 as a minimum wage for federal employees," he concluded.

His address won the gathering from the $15 war bonus to the higher rate. Do It Now

When he opened the meeting, Mr. Mathieson told the men that if they went away without doing anything they could say "farewell" to an increase for the year to come. He did not think that they would go on strike, but expressed the fear from what he had heard that the federal services would soon be in a state of disorganization through resignations. He recalled to the men that concentration was all that the heads of the various departments and the members from local constituencies had promised in reply to requests for increases.

A member of the Great War Veterans' Association told me tonight that the executive board of the association was calling upon the government to fix the minimum wage for the civil service at $1,000," he said.

"Returned soldiers have refused government jobs," shouted a postal employe.

No Fear of a Strike

A. E. Crate of the postoffice clerks association said that the members of the federation must impress upon the government the need for more money immediately. It was for the meeting to determine the means to be taken to reach this end. The relations with the government had always been friendly and cordial and for this reason, said Mr. Crate, there was no need to fear a strike.

Clerk Stringer of the public works department spoke against the war bonus portion of the resolution. The word "war" was too vague. A bonus of this description was too uncertain and might be taken away with the cessation of hostilities, but while the present high prices existed. He referred to the war bonus of the British service which had been granted on four occasions until the addition to salary rolls amounted to $7,000,000.

Nothing But Promises

Twelve months ago he had written to the Hon. Robert Rogers on behalf of his fellow-workers for a salary increase. He replied that we would receive consideration. Since he has left the acting minister has returned the same reply and the premier said that he would bring the matter to the attention of the head of the department of public works," said Mr. Stringer.

A Temperance Tafe

A keen temperance advocate was addressing a meeting on his pet subject. "I should like," he said, "to take every bottle of wine and every bottle of beer and every bottle of spirits and sink them all to the bottom of the sea."

A man at the back of the hall jumped up excitedly, shouting: Hear, hear! Hear, hear!"

The lecturer paused in his remarks to beam delighted approval on the interrupter. Ah, my friend," he said, "I see you are a good teetotaler, a man made of the right stuff."

"Oh, no," said the man, "I'm a divot—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph."

An important ruling was made by Chief Justice McKewen at the afternoon session of the arson case yesterday. His Honor ruled that the confessions secured by the police from prisoners was only evidence if the accused had been warned that they had nothing to hope or fear, and that anything that they said would be used against them at their trial. His Honor ruled out the confessions of Joseph O'Brien and John Hughes when Mr. Mullin objected to their being produced as evidence by Detective Duncan. Mrs. Thomas Lyon said last night that a mistake had been made in one witness's evidence in this case, when he said that the road leading to her house had been re-gravelled since the visit of the defendants on the night of June 14. This is the city property and a visit would show that the road had been un- disturbed this summer.

A Suggestion. "Why did the umpire put that man out of the game?" "He struck the umpire." "That is foolish. In such a slow game as this a fellow with that much fight left in him ought to be left in."

Has Easy Time Defeating Ellen Brown, the Stranger, in Straight Heats—Dan O. Wins Class A Event

Fully 800 racing enthusiasts assembled at Mossepath Park yesterday afternoon to witness the much heralded match race between Troas and Ellen Brown, better known as "The Stranger."

The track was soft and heavy and could stand a lot of repairs. The great strength of Troas seemed to overcome this handicap and he stepped along in a manner which indicated his condition and confidence.

Ellen Brown apparently was overrated, or else the going was a bit too hard for her. At the end of the third heat she was winded and was blowing hard as she was led back to the stable.

Orangeade!

The next time you are down near our fountain and feel thirsty, step inside and say "Orangeade" to the Soda Dispenser, then watch him. First he selects a fresh, ripe orange, cuts it in two and squeezes the golden juice into a polished glass, then some cracked ice and sugar (just enough to suit your taste), a dash of lime-juice and some pure, bubbling carbonated water. Then you have a drink and we have a satisfied customer.

It has become one of the most popular drinks at our fountain, so popular that at times we are pressed to supply the demand. Its popularity is due entirely to its own merits.

DOG DAY

Already 179 summonses have been made out by Day Deskan Hopkins and have been distributed among the policemen on the various beats throughout the city for delivery. The person receiving a summons will have to appear before the magistrate on Friday bids to be an exceptionally busy day in police court circles.

WAS FINED $10

In the case of J. Edson Wilson, reported yesterday in the police court, one witness was called by the defence today. Policeman Corner corroborated his statement of yesterday and the court imposed a $10 fine on one of the charges and the other was let go. The charges were for not sounding his horn at two different points in the city.

THE TAX PAYMENTS

The steady stream of tax-payers continues at the office of the city chamberlain in city hall. A policeman has been detailed to see that each person takes his or her proper turn and to prevent any disorder. ### IN HONOR OF SOLDIER

Last evening friends and relatives of Arthur Totten met at the home of his sister, Mrs. George Wallace, Acadia street, to do honor to the young soldier who has just returned from France after doing his bit. Games and music were enjoyed and the party broke up about midnight. Mr. Totten has two brothers at the front, Percy and Joseph, also a brother-in-law, Bruce Mitton. Mr. Totten left here with the 54th.

BRIDGE REPAIRS

The bridge on the Sandy Point road near Crescent Lake will be closed this evening from five to eleven o'clock while repairs are being made. The civic department of public works will also undertake, at an early date, repairs to the dock of bridge across the Marsh creek, on the boundary between city and county, in the Ashburn lake. Commissioner Fisher is corresponding with the provincial department of public works in an effort to arrange for co-operation between the city and province for the reconstruction of this bridge.

AT HALF STAFF

The flag on the Soldiers' Club building is flying at half mast, as a tribute to Major F. Caverhill Jones, whose death occurred in Baltimore, where he went for treatment for his wounds at the front. This tribute is especially appropriate not only because of the fact that Major Jones was a veteran of two wars and had always taken a deep interest in everything relating to the welfare of the veterans, but also because the soldiers' club building is his former home. Caverhill Hall was built by his father, Simon Jones. The building was one of the finest residences in the city and, at the time of the visit of the present king and queen, then the Duke and Duchess of York, Caverhill Hall was their headquarters during their stay in the city.

SOME IMPRESSIONS ALONG THE RIVER

An Almost Human Dog—The Beautiful River—Also the Bordeaux Mixture—A Vegetable and Fruit Diet—The Nerepis Fill

Two little birds were hopping about in the grass stubble, picking berries or bugs or some other delicacy, for their supper. Pickles, the dog, saw them and raced at them with ferocious barks. That dog was almost mean enough to be human. At some beaches along the river signs which warn boating parties against making any footprints on the sands of time in that particular neighborhood. The hospitality for you.

Looking through and over the orchard trees from the verandah of the house on the Parker hill at Public Landing on Saturday evening, the picture was very beautiful. The rose-glow of sunset was on the eastern sky, the wooded heights were dark below it, and the river surface, calm in the cover of evening, rippled by vagrant airs. The sails of a wood-boat gleamed white in mid-stream, a tug with scow moved slowly, and men were spreading up and down above the horizon, soon to dominate with her silver brightness the whole peaceful scene. Still later the northern lights were out, to rival moon and stars and make the night more glorious.

The talk on the verandah was not all about the scenery. It drifted to Bordeaux mixture, for the amateur farmer had encountered the potato bug, and though Paris green had been applied it had not been altogether successful, and there was also the blight to be thought of, as it has already appeared in Ontario and may come this way. The Bordeaux mixture will be applied this week. Meanwhile the potatoes are all in blossom, the peas are forming on the peas and beans, tiny cucumbers are in evidence, the carrots, beets and parsnips have been thinned out, the corn is coming, a few turnips and tomatoes are thriving, and lettuce, radishes also prosper. A whole vegetable diet is at hand, and ripe wild raspberries are to be had for the picking. Charles Parker will be picking cultivated raspberries within a week, and he will have quite a large crop of them. The boys clear some ripe blueberries in a meadow. The wealth of wild flowers by the roadside and along the fences and in the fields is a constant delight.

When the Ocoene was crossing Grand Bay on Saturday afternoon the pulse of former yachting enthusiasts beat faster as the steamer passed a trim sailing yacht, tacking in a wind that sent her bearing through the water, rail under, and in sudden gusts bringing her sails very close to the waves. It reminded me of the time when I was usually got with such a vessel. The river always presents some new and interesting feature, and when its broad bosom gleams in the moonlight one turns indoors with reluctance.

An excited hen, ralling at the world in general, is never an alluring bird, and when she wakes up on soon after daylight, when you are enjoying a delightful nap after a warm night, you are not quite compensated, even by the crimson herald of the sunrise flaring in the eastern sky. You mutter things and try to go back to the realm of dreams. Perhaps then you also too long, and just miss the Ocoene, and have to ride to Langley and catch a train. If so you are interested in the great railway bill at Nerepis, where the whole embankment tries to find bottom, and the rails on its top have to be raised from time to time as it settles down toward the bowels of the earth. That is a big contract, and there is a great deal of work yet to be done.

From Grateful Soldiers

The work of the Red Cross among soldiers at the front and in hospitals is too well known and appreciated to require comment, but now and again they devise some new means of comfort that are just to it into the requirements of the soldier boys.

The junior branch of the Lancaster Red Cross last April sent some personal property bags fitted with pockets containing many useful articles. Sometimes soldiers arrive in hospital with very little in the way of personal belongings and no doubt these men who can only possess of a Lancaster Red Cross bag with its many comforts would realize that the folks in Canada were remembering them in a practical manner. Among the articles was a writing tablet on the first page of which members wrote a short note to the man into whose hands it would come.

Thus far six young ladies are known to have received replies from the kitchen thanking the donors and showing that the bags were delivered safely. Here is one of the letters to a Fairville young lady and it is typical of the others:

St. John's Hospital,
The Grange,
Southport, England.

Dear Friend:

I just received my parcel tonight and of course I had to look at every article separately, they were all so useful and just what I needed. I also read your letter on the tablet and wish to express my very best thanks for your thoughtful-ness.

I have received several parcels from the Red Cross at London. I am a Canadian and come from the province of Saskatchewan. The best trip I ever had in my life was my trip through the eastern provinces, as they were all new to me, and the people, too, were most kind.

I have been in hospital now three months and I do not know how much longer they mean to keep me here.

With very best wishes and again thanking you for the bag which I can assure you has proved a perfect God-send, I remain,

Yours most gratefully,
MARGARET A. KIRKPATRICK,
No. 925, 438.

Our good Furniture Lasts.

Dear Mary:— I believe in just kicking out old, worn, out-of-date furniture and getting in new and stylish. And of course one had better get strong furniture so it can be USED. I hate to go to visit someone and be afraid to sit on her chairs.

The furniture I bought from Everett's has been USED; and it is just as good as new. That's what I gained by going to the right store and buying good, substantial things.

When we are going to have another chat? Yours always—HELEN. P. S.—You know they stand back of every piece of furniture they sell at
