CRIPPEN NOT ON THE LUSITANIA

American Physician Being Sought by London Police Not Among Passengers on Big Liner that Arrived in New York—Will Search all Steamers

New York, July 15.—The first of the big liners which left England on Saturday when Dr. Crippen was supposed to have taken passage for this country in company with a young woman named Ethel Clare Levee, formerly the doctor's stenographer.

The Lusitania reached quarantine late last night, too late for the port officers to board her.

When communication with the Lusitania was established this morning a careful enquiry on board the vessel was made with a view of discovering whether or not such an individual has taken passage on her.

The police here, falling in the second effort at the steamer dock to discover a trace of the doctor, will keep up the search of other liners.

MR. EWART GREATLY PRAISED

For His Presentation of the British Case Before the Hague Tribunal—In Marked Contrast to the Addresses of the United States Counsel

The Hague, July 15.—Mr. Ewart, continuing in asserting that in 1898 Britain recognized that the United States had a right to fish in great bays. Secondly, the word "bays" with treaty of 1818, should be taken in a geographical sense because the word did not then possess a judicial significance, as definite rules of international law respecting bays were not in existence at that time, and Britain then claimed sovereignty and absolute jurisdiction over the fisheries of its possessions far beyond the territorial limits in treaties with France in 1713 and 1763.

Mr. Ewart said that he had a conversation with several of the leading business men of the stricken town, among them Thomas Malcolm, of the International Railroad, and they all place the actual damage sustained, in the vicinity of $7,000,000.

CAMPBELLTON

There is danger that the outside public will get a wrong impression about the extent of the need at Campbellton. Some of the earlier despatches said that four thousand people were homeless, and the loss from $1,500,000 to $2,000,000.

HOW TOWNS GROW

The following extract from a letter to the Telegraph from its correspondent on tour with Sir Wilfrid Laurier is of local interest, the reference being to Fort William and Port Arthur.

MR. EWART'S GREAT SPEECH

Mr. Ewart, Canadian orator at the Hague, has redeemed himself. Mr. Ewart has in the past been somewhat outspoken in the matter of Canadian relations to the Empire, and his views have not been the views of the people at large.

FRIENDLY RELATIONS

The governments of Canada and the United States have taken an important step in the appointment of a joint commission to confer on international railway matters.

ONE-SIDED MAN.

"What part of a railway train do you regard as the most dangerous?" inquired the nervous man. "The dining car," answered the dapper Washington Star.

TOOK IT FOR GRANTED.

He had been calling on her twice a week for six months, but had not proposed. He was a well-to-do man and therefore didn't think it necessary. "Ridiculous," he said, as they were taking a moonlight stroll one evening. "I am going to ask you an important question."

I WONDER WHY.

I wonder why the cooks we like, From us are always on the hike, I wonder why food seems sky high. When "big" is dull and money shy, Why my last summer's suit will do. But wife must have something new, I wonder why the stork makes friends With folks who cannot meet both ends. I wonder why when home I seek At one, the stairs so loudly creak. Why skaters round my mug will play When there's a "peach" two steps away. Why when an outing I have planned It always rains to beat the band. And when raining starts to pour Down, down they go—I wonder why?—Boston Transcript.

EXPORT EGG TRADE

Russian Shipments Steadily Increase, While Supplies from Canada Decrease. There is a great opportunity awaiting those who are able to export the egg trade with Great Britain. How great it is may be gathered from the figures lately issued by the British government (Board of Trade), showing the quantity and value of the eggs imported into Great Britain year by year.

THE PROTECTION OF THE FORESTS

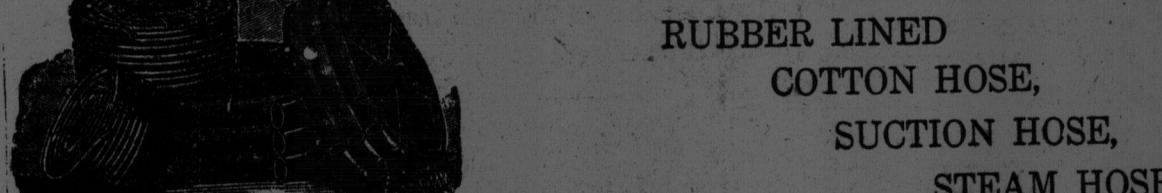

A working agreement has been arrived at between the National Transcontinental Railway Commission and the Ontario Government for the payment by the Commission of a portion of the cost of fire-ringing along the tracks of the railway in northern Ontario. The G. T. R. and C. P. R. already pay the entire cost of this service on their lines, and it is hoped before long to complete the system under which all railways will pay for the preventive work that is absolutely necessary if the forests of the north are to be protected.

There is no doubt at all that the railways are the chief cause of forest fires, and they are also the chief beneficiaries of the forests, which supply them with a large part of their freight traffic. There should be no difficulty in securing close co-operation between them and the Government for protection from fire. The most dangerous feature of the situation at present is the reprehensible practice of cutting brush from the right of way of railways under construction and leaving it piled up in heaps at intervals instead of having it burned. This material when thoroughly dried out is almost as dangerous as open barrels of gunpowder would be if it left where the sparks from passing locomotives could reach them.

There has been very great loss in New Ontario recently from forest fires, which have happily been extinguished, while in Wisconsin and Minnesota millions of dollars' worth of standing pine and hardwood has been destroyed. A single burnt-over area in Wisconsin extends forty miles in one direction. All this means that Ontario's pine reserves are being rapidly exhausted. If they can be saved from fire and judiciously cut, no effort is too great to be put forth to save them. The forests of the north should be made to furnish the people of Ontario with playgrounds and revenue and protection against drought for all time.

COMBATING TUBERCULOSIS

How to Live Out of Doors Where There Are No Sanatorium Facilities

The Metropolitan Life Insurance Company of New York, which some time ago began to pay attention to the combating of consumption, is keeping up the good work. Its latest contribution is a pamphlet of directions for living and sleeping in the open air, prepared by Thomas Speer Carrington, M. D., assistant secretary of the study and prevention of tuberculosis, in charge of its Bureau of Construction, and appointed expert on hospital construction in the New York State Department of Health. The purpose of the little work is to enable those for whom sanatorium treatment is not available to secure at home the benefit of constant outdoor life and sleeping. Dr. Carrington says it is important in the treatment of tuberculosis to breathe air that is fresh and pure, to eat an abundance of good food, to stop heavy work and worry, and to take bodily and mental rest by lying down before and after the noon and evening meals. As many hours of the day and night as possible should be spent in the open air, and in order to carry out this treatment some place must be provided which is not only protected from wind, but also from rain and snow, so nothing but the most severe cold weather should prevent the patient from living and sleeping there. The pamphlet, which is fully illustrated, shows how comfortable facilities for this outdoor treatment may be provided in most unpromising places—on a tenement house roof; by a window tent which gives the patient the surroundings of his bedroom with the out-of-door air through an ever open window; by a shack shelter; by a porch room; porch and awning, etc. Directions for preparing and keeping the patient's bed in order for clothing, etc., are added; also for the care of the patient. The pamphlet, though small, is calculated to be a valuable addition to the literature on tuberculosis and will be welcomed by those who have been led by regard for their kind to take an interest in the extermination of the plague.

 Phenomenal Catch.
 A phenomenal catch of a live drive; paving the way for a triple play, was the means chosen by the Georgia wonder for his latest claim to distinction. Three men in a row had hit hard and safely, resulting in one run and a grand slam. The second, when Tyrus batted into the line, Duffy Lewis was at bat and Duffy connected with one of Donovan's batters in so forcible a manner that the crack of the bat could be heard a mile. It ever a legitimate catch and the air, the Green field of the right fielders almost exactly bisecting the space between Cobb and Crawford.

Cobb was in motion with the ball and he seemed to travel as fast across the field as the ball traveled in the air, the present right angles to the course of the smitten sphere. It looked like a waste of effort for any fielder to try to make the catch, and for almost anyone else than the first baseman Tyrus probably it would have been, but the Peach doesn't always stop at the merely possible. He makes a specialty of performing the impossible. With one wild snap sideways and the air, the catch came. He boy got his hands on the ball and it stuck there. One out.

Second base, Gardner, who adorned the premier sack, too took look at the ball as it left Lewis' bat, rejoined in the sounds of striking leather, and dug for the plate. Jake had rounded third and Gardner was well on his way to that bag when the catch came. Cobb had an unassisted triple play in front of him, and he cared to try for it, but he took one look at the ball as it left Lewis' standing on second. Stahl of course was out for quitting that bag. Two out. Gardner, who knew that there wasn't a chance to make first, neglected the formality of touching second on his way back, and was declared gone for this omission. Three out.

St. Stephen won.

Thelting
 "Sam" Lanford, the Nova Scotia colored boxer, and his manager, are speeding on their way to New York, to make a determined effort to compel Jack Johnson to fight.

"I will post $10,000 as soon as I arrive of New York," declared Woodman in behalf of his fighter. "Johnson will fight anybody but Langford, and the public knows it by this time. Johnson is the man Langford is after. We will make Johnson fight or quit talking before many days are passed."

Corbett Explains.
 James J. Corbett offered an explanation of the defeat of Jeffries by Jack Johnson on July 4. According to Corbett a nervous collapse ended Jeffries' pugilistic career. "There are two reasons why Jeff lost the fight," said Corbett. "The first blow he had when Gov. Gillett made his decision that the fight could not be held in California. He had to pack up his things and go to Reno, with practically no training apparatus except his punching bag. The second was the fact that Billy Delaney was in Johnson's corner, instead of his own.

"I tried my best to 'kid' Jeff about it, but he would only mutter, 'To think of Delaney being with Johnson instead of with me, then every one was expecting so much of him."

"Jeff would say: 'Suppose I don't win after all, these fellows have bet their money on me.'"

"That was another thing that defeated Jeff, his confidence was not there."

"Well, the day of the fight came and Jeffries came entirely. He would not speak to anyone. His legs were trembling and he seemed to be in a trance. When he entered the ring Jeffries was in a stupor. He didn't notice Johnson or any one in our corner."

"Jeffries and I had figured out that if I could get Jack Johnson mad by kidding him Jeff could get in one of his famous left punches, so I joshed Johnson between each round and during the fight."

"You have heard a lot about Jeffries' arrogance, but there was ever a more arrogant man than Jeffries was in a fight."

"I am not sure on Jeffries, but I don't think he trained right. He lost on account of a nervous and physical collapse. I don't say Jeffries wasn't game, for I don't think there is a game man living than Jeffries. Jeffries lost the fight, but he did the best he could, and I would not be with Jeffries now than with the winner."

The Blow that Won.
 "I won," said Jack Johnson, as he paced to show the famous gold reef, while the crowd which filled the vaudeville theatre at New York, where he made his first public appearance since the fight at Reno with Jim Jeffries, cheered and sang. "I believe I was the best man. I made up my mind to fight a fair, honest fight, and I believe the pictures will show that I did."

Before Johnson went on the stage he received a delegation of newspaper men in his dressing room. They asked him why he had sold out his share in the moving picture of the fight.

"Well," said Johnson, "you see it's the well known historical tale. Babe Dickenson continues to make a big hit at every appearance."

For next week the management have Paris Chambers, said to be the world's greatest cornetist. This wonderful musician has been securing a big salary, by the time the other 25 or 30 of us had got through cheating one another. AMUSEMENTS FOR OURSELVES AND OTHERS

A GIRL OF THE MOUNTAINS
 A good sized audience saw A Girl of the Mountains at the Opera House last night. The play is by Lem B. Parker and is a society drama in four acts, full of power and interest. It was well put on. A Girl of the Mountains is not a rough western play, as the title might denote, but a peculiarly pleasing story of a young mountain girl, who is transported into the city's social life. Clever dialogue woven around a skillfully constructed plot makes it a play well worth seeing.

It is produced by a good company headed by Louise Price, with beautiful scenery, mechanical and electrical effects. That the play was thoroughly enjoyed was shown by the liberal applause bestowed.

"FRIENDS"—FOR CAMPBELLTON
 Theodore H. Bird and the company of amateurs who are to produce the opera Friends next Monday for the benefit of the Campbellton fire sufferers, met last night at 74 Germain street. They rehearsed many new specialties to be used between the acts. Those who saw Friends last week have another decided treat in store for them and every man, woman and child should make it a point to be there.

The Telegraph Publishing Company has donated 2,000 subscription tickets, and those who are willing to sell them are asked to notify Mayor Frink, or Mr. Bird at Ten Rock Hall, 121 Union street. Barnes & Co. have donated 200 programmes for the performance. The box office will be open to the public at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. Admission all over the house, 50c.

NEXT CENSUS OF CANADA IN 1911

Will Embrace Many Subjects—Schedules Expected to Show Almost Complete Life History of Inhabitants of the Dominion

The next census of Canada will be taken under date of June 1, 1911, and will embrace the subjects of population, mortality, agriculture, manufactures, minerals, fisheries and dairy products.

Population will be recorded under the heads of residence and personal description, citizenship, nationality and religion; profession, occupation and trade or means of living; wage-earnings and insurance; education and language spoken, and infirmities.

Every person living on June 1 will be entered on the schedule of population by name, as member of a family, institution or household, together with place of habitation, sex, relationship to head of the family or household, and whether single, married, widowed, divorced or legally separated. The month of birth, year of birth and age at last birthday will also be recorded.

Entries will be made for each person to show the country or place of birth, year of immigration to Canada if born overseas, year of naturalization if formerly an alien, and also racial or tribal origin, nationality and religion. Every person of alien birth who has become a naturalized citizen is a Canadian by nationality, and every British subject with residence in Canada, as well as every native of Canada, who has acquired citizenship by birth or naturalization, is also a Canadian by nationality. But there is no Canadian by racial or tribal origin, unless the Indians are so counted.

Every person having an occupation or trade will be entered for it, but if employed in the census year at some other occupation for part or whole time he will be so recorded also. If the person is working on own account, the entry will be so made. An entry is also required to be made showing where the person is employed, as on farm, in woolen mill, at country shop, in drug store, etc.

Wage-earners are entered to show the number of weeks employed in 1910 at chief occupation; and the rate per hour when employed; or any; the hours of working time per week at other than chief occupation; or at other occupation if any; the total earnings in 1910 at chief occupation; the total earnings at other than chief occupation; and the rate per hour when employed by the hour.

Entries are required to be made for each person showing the amount of insurance held at date of the census upon life, as well as against accident or sickness, together with the cost of such insurance in the census year.

Under the heading of education and language records will be taken for every person of five years of age and over, showing the number of months at school in 1910, and if the person can read and write, and the language commonly spoken by each person. The cost of schooling in 1910 for persons over sixteen years of age at college, convent or university is also called for.

The last question on the schedule of population relates to infirmities. It calls for a record of every person having an infirmity. If blind, deaf and dumb, crazy or lunatic, idiotic or silly, a record thereof will be made in the proper column, and the age at which the infirmity appeared is required to be specified.

"PALEFACE'S WOOING" AT THE SEAK
 The bright and sly little Star theatre in Union Hall, North End, will wind up this week with a programme of picture plays certainly beyond the ordinary in quality. In the first place there will be the emotional Biograph drama along the line of Hall Gaiens' "The Christian," entitled "To Save Her Soul," and in addition the Western specialty story by Rex Beach, entitled "Shyness of Shorty." Those who are familiar with the old time verses "And the birds kept on singing," and "The Indian drama "The Paleface's Wooing," will sing and on Saturday afternoon there will be a big matinee for the children.

GRAND INDIAN HISTORICAL TALE AT "UNIQUE"
 The programme that the "Unique" has in store for its patrons today and tomorrow gives promise of being one of the very best presented at this popular place of big matinee for the children.

The story, entitled "Wilson's Wife," when Miss Florence Turner, the charming stage artist, will demonstrate her ability in the line of facial expressions. Two other laugh provoking farces will follow, "The Captive," and "The Indian's Garden of Roses," will round out a most desirable bill of fare for the holiday crowd and others.

CHRISTOPHER COLUMBUS AT THE LYRIC
 The great film production illustrating the discovery of America will be shown at the Lyric today and tomorrow. This wonderful film is a photographic masterpiece and carries over every detail of the well known historical tale. Babe Dickenson continues to make a big hit at every appearance.

MORNING LOCALS
 At a meeting of the Building Trades Council in the Mason's Hall, Brussels street last evening, it was decided to send circulars to all members of the City Bank, asking them to be present at the next meeting. It is hoped to have the plumbers' form union to unite with the other unions. The question of holding a labor parade was taken up, but no action was taken. Another meeting will likely be held next week.

The annual inspection of the 3rd Regiment of the C. A. took place last night, and there was a large turnout. Major A. G. Ogilvie, R. C. A., was the inspecting officer.

The local staff of the London Life Association, with their wives, had supper last night at White's. With a good programme of songs and speeches, an enjoyable evening was spent.

A detective of the Pinkerton Agency has been quietly working in the city for some days, his presence having to do with a person wanted by the Massachusetts authorities in connection with the looting of the Cambridge (Mass.) City Bank, for which George W. Coleman, the young accountant, and "Bill" Keeler, the Boston man, are serving prison sentences. He spent one night at the Salvation Army Metropole and left last evening, after having located his man. In conversation with a reporter, when suspicions were aroused, he admitted that he was a member of the Pinkerton staff, and showed his badge pinned in the inside coat pocket, and also produced a card of the Pinkertons.

Superintendent, H. C. Creighton, of the Canadian Express Company, came in from Campbellton yesterday. The whole town, Mr. Creighton says, is on heap of ashes. There is, he says, some little pilfering and many cases of petty thievery were reported, but nobody was arrested. Several cartloads of provisions arrived, but many packages intended for the sufferers were stolen. The work of distributing the provisions was very interesting. His staff were kept busy distributing parcels, which had to be done from a box car. The company Mr. Creighton said, were delivering parcels addressed to Campbellton people, free of charge. Work has already been started on the I. C. R. station house, and the company expect to have a shed built in a few days.

Four prisoners faced Magistrate Ritchie in the police court this morning. Three on the charge of drunkenness, and one on the charge of drunkenness and using obscene language. William McAuliff, Frank Stewart and Daniel McEwen pleaded guilty to the drunkenness charge and were each fined $4. William Graham, who was charged with being intoxicated and using obscene language, in City Road, pleaded guilty to the obscenity charge, but denied the charge of drunkenness. Policeman Jones, who made the arrest, gave evidence against Graham. His Honor found Graham guilty on both the drunkenness and obscenity charges, and 88 or 90 days in jail on the obscenity charge. John Legget and Percy and Gordon Trainor, the three boys who were given in charge by Mrs. Beck and Mrs. Davis, of White street, for raising a disturbance near their residence, on the evening of July 11, were also brought before the magistrate. The boys pleaded not guilty. Mrs. Davis gave evidence against them, stating that they were members of a disorderly crowd who gave considerable trouble. One of the boys, she testified, had an air gun, which he used very freely. She told of one instance where a shot broke one of her windows. Policeman Hughes, who made the report, testified that he did so at the instance of the two women named. The boys, he said, were very independent and the father of one of them had unnecessarily reprimanded him when he meant to reason with him. He stated that a girl about sixteen years old had made the remark that the women who made the report were trouble makers. The boys were let go with a caution and a fine of $8 standing against them.

Two More Witnesses Examined This Morning and Adjournment Made to Monday Morning

The preliminary hearing of Andy Rose, accused of the murder of Diego Siracusa, was resumed in the police court this morning. The session was a very brief one, only two witnesses being examined. The evidence is predictive of nothing new or startling. Rose retains the same indifferent mood that has characterized him since he was first arrested. There were a large number of spectators in the court this morning. Detective Killen conducted the prosecution. Cornelius Sullivan, residing at 15 Drury Lane, was the first witness called. He testified that he knew both the prisoner and Siracusa. On the evening of the 25th of June he said he was in the latter's shop. Andy Rose was in there at that time. The witness said that Rose showed him a loaded revolver. He made no remark, however, in showing it to him. The witness said he saw the prisoner talking on one occasion with Mrs. Minnie Gregor, in North street. On the Saturday previous to the murder he was working with Rose in the Cold Storage warehouse and he approached him about keeping company with the Gregor woman. The witness identified the revolver in court as being similar to the one he saw Rose with. Wilfred James, brother of Mrs. Minnie Gregor, was the other witness. He testified that he was in Diego Siracusa's place of business between 9 and 10 o'clock on the Saturday evening previous to the murder. Andy Rose was in the store at the time. The prisoner, the witness said, took him into Siracusa's bedroom and presented him with a vest. The witness was also in the room on Saturday afternoon. He went in on this occasion to see if his sister was there. "Minnie," the witness said, "often went into Siracusa's store to get a glass of root beer. The witness said he saw Rose with a revolver, about two weeks before the murder. The case was further adjourned until 10:15 o'clock Monday morning. The police and Doctor White and Warrick are the other witnesses to give evidence.

BOY INJURED BY EXPLOSION

Will Lose Sight of One Eye and Possibly Both—Cut Glycerine Cap With an Axe

The explosion of a glycerine cap, used for igniting dynamite, frightfully injured eight-year-old Clifford McLeod, this morning. One of the lid's eyes was nearly blown out of his head and the other so badly injured that he may lose the sight of it. The boy lives with his grandmother, Mrs. Manford Ritchie, of 14 Acadia street, his mother, Mrs. M. Doherty, living in Boston. He went down to the wood-shed about 9:45 this morning for the purpose of cutting wood. He had just been there long enough to see a terrific explosion. He heard and Mrs. Ritchie and M. T. Cavanaugh rushed to the wood-shed. The scene horrified to find young McLeod on the ground with blood pouring from his eyes and ears. He was so moribund that he was unable to move. The force of the explosion. His right eye was terribly injured, being almost blown from his head and the other swollen and broken. Nearby was the glycerine cap, which had been cut in two by the axe. The boy was carried into the house and the ambulance summoned, when he was conveyed with all haste to the General Hospital. There it was found that he will lose the sight of one eye, for certain, and may lose the other also. Part of the cap had entered through the eye into the skull. Mrs. Doherty was expected here Monday to visit her son. It was said at the boy's home this morning that he had probably picked up the cap from some material that was purchased by some Hibernian living in the vicinity, and which is dumped in a pile.

BROWN-TAIL MOTHS HAVE BEEN CAPTURED

Three specimens of the brown-tail moth have been captured in St. John during the last day or two. One was caught by A. Gordon Leavitt, at the corner of Coburg street, and another at the corner of Hazen and Garden streets. Another was captured by a young lady at the corner of Beck and Carmichael streets. These were all male specimens. It will be remembered that a number have been captured here each year for several years. The fact proves that though none have yet been discovered in the orchards of the province, it is necessary to keep a careful watch over them.
