Maritime Claims Discussed At Closing Session of Trade Board Meet

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., Nov. 6-An animated discussion of Some phases of the industrial situation in the Maritime Provinces" featured the closing hours of the Maritime Board of Trade Conference last night.

BOOSTS COAL USE

Hon. J. F. Fraser, of Halifax, however, strongly urged that measures be taken to encourage the use of Nova Scotia coal in the Maritime Provinces, as there was already considerable competition from the American commodity. The development of the coal trade naturally meant more employment as more money in circulation.

H. S. Congdon, Dartmouth, spoke from the consumer's standpoint, and declared that the local customer paid higher for his coal than the customer in Winnipeg, after it had been carried 1,000 miles by rail.

The matter of encouraging the production of coke, was discussed. C. H. Blackney, of Moncton, contending that it would never replace anthracite coal unless it could be more cheaply produced.

After discussion was continued by J. O. Hyndman and others, the concensus of opinion, as expressed in the resolution, was that coking plants should be established in central points in Canada, so as to render unnecessary the importation of American anthracite. The need of further expanding the markets for the coal of the Maritimes, was also stressed.

It was maintained by Mr. Congdon, that there was too great a spread between the price of the dealer and of the retailer.

Hon. Mr. Fraser replied that these had been no fixed price set, between the price set, between the discontinuous price set, between the price of the dealer and of the retailer.

Dr. McLean pointed out that funda-mental in the matter of rates was the question of classification, a complicated matter, he admitted. It roughtly di-vided articles in 10 classes.

STANDARD RATES The speaker dealt with the standard rates which must be approved by the commission, and then the prevailing rates, pointing out that the necessity of preserving industry made it necessary that rates should be lowered on goods which had to be sold at low costs in the market, if they were to be sold at all. For this and other reasons, it was impossible to arbitrarily fix rigid rates, according to mileage. Another factor which had to be taken into account, was the matter of export business, since a uniform rate would work against the development of foreign trade.

No definite steps towards cabinet readjustment, it is intimated, have yet been taken nor are they expected to be extensive. Peter Heenan, Liberal member-elect for Port Arthur and Rain River, is mentioned as a possible successor to Hon. James Murdock as Minister of Labor. VESSEL IS CRIPPLED

VOLUNTARY REDUCTIONS

Dr. McLean pointed out that all changes in tariff filed by railway companies, with the board, were not for increase. In a recent batch received, he had noticed 50 per cent. were voluntary reductions. He gave some of the reasons for these voluntary reductions, chief of which was the necessity to meet competition of the foreigner.

BOSTON, Nov. 6—The Canadian schooner La Parisienne, seized as a rum runner off Peaked Hill Bar, Cape Cod, yesterday, was towed into harbor here today by the coast guard cutter Tampa. The vessel, which hails from La Have, N. S., is said to be the largest vessel captured by the coast guard service in these waters.

Federal officials early today were checking up the cargo of the schooner, which they charge, delivered great quantities of liquor along the New England coasts on previous visits.

La Parisienne, coast guardsmen said, came close inshore in Cape Cod Bay Wednesday night, and yesterday morning a dead calm held her five miles from land. A coast guard patrol boat found her there and stood guard until the Tampa arrived. An armed guard was then placed on board and the vessel brought to Boston.

This is what Thomas Towers, first officer of the Canadian Pacific liner Melita, who is charged with murdering Capt. A. H. werp on October 21.

The words attributed to Towers were spoken today at the resumption of the hearing before the magistrate here by a witness, Joseph Geerinck, inspector of the Canadian Pacific Investigation Department, at Antwerp.

Witness further said that shortly after the tragedy on the Melitz, Towers said he had spoken to Captain Clews a couple of minutes before the shooting. The captain was in his bunk. "He would not turn out, and I shot him in bed," Towers said, according to the witness, who said that Towers added that one shot was sufficient to end the captain.

Continuing, the witness said, that when Towers was asked why he had shot Gilmour, he replied: "He is my greatest enemy. I am very sorry I shot Holiday, I have nothing against him. I am sorry Allan, (a member of the crew of the Melita), did not get what Holliday got."

In opening the case yesterday, the Crown prosecutor, A. J. Rogers, stated that on the night of October 20, Towers and Captain Berry, the ship's doctor, went to an opera in Antwerp, but Towers seemed uneasy and left before the performance was finished. Berry did not see Towers again, until after the tragedy. Towers boarded the Melita at 1.55 in the morning, the Crown Prosecutor said, and asked the quartermaster and others on the ship, whether Captain Clews was aboard or not. He instructed the third officer, McLellan, to go ashore and arrange for a supply of fresh water for the ship.

The Crown Prosecutor suggested that almost immediately after McLellan had gone ashore, the prisoner shot down Captain Clews. Subsequently, it seemed, Towers had gone to Hollidays' room at 3.30 in the morning. He got matches there and then went to Gilmour's room, which was on the same deck. He asked Gilmour about ship listing. Gilmour replied that if Towers had been aboard the vessel, where he ought Scandinavian Shoots Himself Outside Justice Minister's OTTAWA, Nov. 6.—August Swanson, middle aged Scandinavian, shot and killed himself this morning in the east block of the Parliament Buildings, in the corridor outside the office of the Minister of Justice. WORLD-WIDE IMPROVEMENT.

It is satisfactory to note that there are signs of improvement which are in no way associated with the success

THE will of the majority deserved less respect, of the minority more For it is in the hope of this constant minority that the hope of progress lies.

Poems That Live

TO SIGH, YET FEEL NO PAIN.

To SIGH, YET FREE NO FA
To sigh, yet feel no pain;
To weep, yet scarce know why;
To sport an hour with beauty's chain,
Then throw it idly by
Ta kneel at many a shrine,
Yet lay the heart on none;
To think all other charms divine,
But those we just have won;
This is love, faithless love,
Such as kindleth hearts that rove.

To keep one sacred flame,
Through life unchill'd, unmoved,
To love in wintry age the same
As first in youth we loved;
To feel that we adore,
Ev'n to such fond excess,
That, though the heart would break with more,
It could not live with less;
This is love, faithful love,
Such as saints might feel above.

Subvention on Water Carriage of Coal, Duties' Revision Upon Iron and Steel Products Advocated By Board of Trade

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., Nov. 5—At this morning's session of the Maritime Board of Trade, Cape Breton Island was heard from through John Pilkington, of North Sydney, N. S., who submitted a brief on Maritime problems, prepared by the Associated Boards of Trades of that island.

A resolution was adopted asking that Maritime exporters and importers be granted a substantial reduction in railway freight rates to the nearest seaports and that the established rates be applied equally to and from Saint John, West Saint John, Halifax, Montreal and Quebec throughout the year.

Mr. Pelkington asked that the improved steamship service under the West Indies Trade Treaty should be excended to include regular calls at Sydney harbor, at least in summer. Other demands set forth were an improved train service for fish shipments from Sydney to points west, also that Sydney and North Sydney would be placed upon the same basis as Halifax and Saint John in regard to local freight through rates and export rates.

DEPUTY MINISTER ASKED.

W. S. Fisher, of Saint John, introduced the subject of transportation, stressing the national advantage of equal development of all-the-year round steamship services between the Old Country and the Maritimes, lower freight rates, more Canadian trade commissioners for the West Inides and other places and more faith and confidence in the Maritimes.

The transportation committee from Prince Edward Island in their report asked that the cost of the car ferry system be charged to the consolidated funds of Canada, that there be improved railway facilities, a separation of freight and passenger services, oil-electric cars for passengers, a second car ferry and lowering of telebraters.

LUMBER INDUSTRY NEEDS.

G. P. Ruicbie, traffic manager of the Bathurst Lumber Company, spoke of the status of the lumber industry in New Brunswick which is being affected by the increased importations of lumber from British Columbia through the Panama Canal into the United States. There should, he contended, be more reasonable rates to the Atlantic seaboard and preferential freight rates to assist the pulp and paper industry of New Brunswick as the future of that industry lies in manufacturing those commodities instead of exporting the raw material.

A resolution moved by M. C. Hanson, vice-president of the Amherst, N. 3. Further, that Canadian consumption of fish is low, and could and should be stimulated; also, that the outlet for Maritime fish in the United States might be considerably increased.

(c) That there would seem to have been an absence of business initiative, resource and enterprise on the part of the Maritimes in the development of their export fish trade.

(d) That, so far as New Brunswick is concerned, no experienced representative of the fish business has yet personally visited even the nearer export markets so as to actually ascertain their several requirements with regard to cure, size, pack, etc.

(e) That, the export fish business is apparently conducted largely through U. S. middlemen who direct the traffic through U. S. ports.

(f) That the advantage of dealing through such middlemen is relief from the financial risk of dealing directly with foreign importers—a risk stated to be considerable, particularly, in the case of South America.

(g) That, particularly with regard to Saint John, the inadequate steamship service to a number of promising export markets has seriously militated against the export fish trade, and is, doubltess, partly responsible for the seeming lack of export enterprise on the part of those concerned.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

In view of above findings, and in the respectful assumption that the same are substantially founded, the committee ventures the following recommenee ventures the following recommentations:

(1) That the Maritime fish industry should consider ways and means toward sending thoroughly experienced experts to hopeful foreign markets to study, at first hand, the individual needs of same, as well as to form direct connections with reputable, responsible importers of such markets with whom direct business may be safely established.

(2) That Maritime exporters who perhaps prefer to operate through U. S. middlemen, do personally interview such middlemen with a view to increasing Maritime export of fish, and adding to the number of foreign outlets for same, particularly in South America, Italy and elsewhere.

(3) That fuller publicity as to the undeveloped potentialities of the Maritime fish industry would seem likely to stimulate the expansion of same by attracting the greater interest of capital.

(4) That improved steamship services from Maritime ports to promis-

(a) That, contrary to the general popular but fallacious belief, the mineral wealth of the Maritimes is highly important. The references of the committee in this connection are naturally largely confined to New Brunswick; but, in all probability, may not be wholly inapplicable to the Province of Nova Scotia.

(b) That geological surveys have been made but that the extent of the mineral wealth has not been, and can not be determined from these. The surveys indicate, among other things, where valuable mineral deposits may be hopefully sought, since geological strata, and in what rock formations, the various minerals are commonly found, and determine by their surveps where these rock formations are located, and where the various strata make their appearances at the surface. But if the geologists do actually discover mineral deposits in making their surveys, it is only casual and accidental. It is interesting to note, however, that geologists have, particularly during this last summer, made important discoveries in New Brunswick.

(c) That it is the experienced prospector who, guided by the geological surveys, must be depended upon to make the actual discoveries of mineral wealth. It is he who intensively seeks and locates the deposits. The value of the geological survey is largely academic unless it is followed up by intelligent prospecting. Such intelligent prospecting is not being done in New Brunswick, and probably not in the other provinces. So far as can be ascertained not a single experienced, practical prospector has yet operated in New Brunswick.

(d) That to encourage the advent of genius, experienced prospectors appeals as of highest importance, and that it is very desirable to adopt ways and means to this end. As an example of what can be done, it might be mentioned that Ontario organizes classes for the training of Prospectors, teaching them for finds. This method is said to have yielded well.

(e) That, according to certain representations made to the committee, the Mining Laws in this section of Cana necessary.

(f) That the committee respectfully suggests that the Maritime Governments give consideration to the practicability of creating and financing an organization for the examination of mineral discoveries of individuals, and, when apparently warranted, for the development of same to

At the closing session of the Maritime Board of Trade this evening a resolution was passed, asking that the Dominion Government as a national undertaking, equip the ports of the Maritime Provinces so that they may not only meet present requirements but will take care of requirements of the future.

It was urged that immediate efforts should be made to negotiate favorable trade agreements with a larger number of foreign countries, and that Canada should establish a much larger number of competent trade commissioners.

RATES REVISION URGED

The meeting also passed a resolution to the effect that the Maritimes should be conceded a revision in frieght and express rates to modify the disabilities under which they labor in marketing their goods in other parts of Canada, detailed representations concerning which will be made to the Board of Railway Commissioners during their general freight rate investigations.

time Provinces—with particular reference to those of New Brunswick—seem capable of very material development, as do the markets for the products of such fisheries.

2. Canned fish to Haiti, San Domingo, the Argentine and a num-

a point at which they might be hopefully offered to actual operators under long and easy leases involving the payment of reasonable royalties in which latter the discoverer should moderately participate. It is further suggested that the initial payment under such lease should include all Government expanditure on preliminary development work; and, in every case, include specific obligations as to operation and employment of labor.

If, it could be arranged that mineral deposits developed to a point at which they could be hopefully offered, were two could be hopefully offered, were two private parties, the circumstance would inspire a confidence in prospective buyers calculated to facilitate business. See Sections (f) and (g).

turned to their advantage. Therefore, it seems reasonable to believe that such men would unhesitatingly repose confidence in a Government organization as suggested above. Thus, the institution of such an organization might quickly bring to light many valuable finds now hidden, even although known.

(g) That, as Prospectors are imperatively essential to the mineral development of the Mraltimes, the Provincial Governments might do well to consider the wisdom of permanently employing several of such; and, in addition to paying them wages, reward them for finds, say along the lines suggested in Section (f).

(h) That no real general interest in minerals has yet been developed in the Maritimes, and particularly in New Brunswick; and that in this respect the Maritimes differ outstandingly from other provinces of the Dominion. Therefore, the committee believes it of particular importance that well considered means be taken to awaken and stimulate such public interest in the Maritimes.

(i) That because of the above lack of public interest, the mineral possibilities of the Maritimes would seem to have been discredited or possibilities of the Maritimes would seem to have been discredited or discounted in a measure seriously prejudicial to their development; and that, contrary to the prevailing popular fallacy, the Maritimes are generously endowed with precious and commercially important minerals in considerable variety; for instance, arsenic, copper, gold, iron, lead, manganese, molybdenite, nickel, silver, tungsten, zinc, actinolite, asbestos, barytes, coal, corundum, feldspar, fluorspar, garnets, graphite, grindstones, gypsum, magnesite, mica, iron oxides, pyrites, quartz, salt, talc, soapstone, tripolite, limestone, dolomite, slate, building stone, granite, fireclay, brick clays, oil shales, crude petroleum, natural gas, etc.

All these minerals are known to exist in greater or lesser deposits. Several of them are being operated in a small way. There is little reason to believe that many of them are not worthy of active development.

LUMBERING.

Lumbering has for long been and still is a main Maritime industry—the principal one in New Brunswick. Unfortunately, however, it has suffered considerable decline during the last few years; and, it would seem of paramount importance that it be clearly established whether such decline is due to fundamental or merely artificial in fundamental or merely artificial in fundamental or merely artificial without their exhaustion, then it be clearly determined whether of the same without their exhaustion, then it is the clearly determined whether of the same without their exhaustion, then it is the clearly determined whether of the committee would respect to the committe

The Modern Girl a Worthy Descendant of Her Pioneer Grandmother-Her Unfair Brother Who Keeps Eligible Beaux Away - Supporting Clinging-Vine Husband Now Part of Woman's "Equal Rights."

DEAR MISS DIX—I, and almost all of the girls I know are self-supporting, yet people say that the modern girl is inferior to our grandmothers. Do you think that our grandmothers could have faced what the modern girl is facing?

ROMOLA.

ANSWER:

There were never any braver and more competent women in the world, Romola, than our grandmothers. There was nothing they did not face, those pioneer women who set sail for a new country, and who helped win the wilderness from the Indians. Their heroism was even greater than that of our forefathers, because in addition to all the hardships the men had to endure, they had to dare the perils of child birth, often with no help of doctors or nurses, and the certainty that if things went wrong they must die in agony.

And there was nothing our grandmothers could not do. They cooked and sewed and weaved and worked in the fields, and fought, when the necessity arose, with wild beasts and redmen, and made homes and brought up children, and established civilization in the wild places.

It is because of the splendid heritage that these women left us, because of the grit and courage and initiative and daring that they bred into us, that the women of this generation have accomplished so much.

It would be a shame for the granddaughters of these women to be shirkers, and they are not. That is why we find so many girls standing on their own feet, earning their own living instead of sitting down with idle hands letting some poor old father, or overworked brother, support her.

The granddaughters of the women who walked behind the covered wagons half across the continent simply couldn't be weaklings. They are bound to have backbones, and so we have the girls who have the strength to resist temptation, to deny themselves luxury, often to stifle the longings of their own hearts in order to do what is right and to live glean, upright lives, instead of taking what is called the easiest way.

I am not saying life isn't hard for the modern girl. It is. She has rontier. She has to walk as warily as her grandmother walked in a lockhouse. Wolves in sheep's clothing prowl around her that are just s dangerous as any that ever lay in wait for her grandmother in the forest.

But the qualities that gave her grandmother the strength to endure give her the strength to endure, and the highest compliment that can be paid her is to say that she is worthy of her grandmother.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—Some time ago my brother brought his chum, a most attractive young man, to the house. The young man seemed to take a great fancy to me; in fact, devoted so much time to me that it made my brother jealous, and he was very angry about it. Said he asked the boy to visit him, not me. And since then whenever the young man says anything about coming to see me, my brother raises some objection and stops him. Is this right?

ANSWER:
Your brother is treating you very unfairly. Moreover, he is acting like an idiot. It is a brother's duty to help his sister secure a good husband, not to stand in the way of securing one.

A young girl can have no more valuable asset than a brother who has enough sense of family obligation to help her play the game. He can take her about so that she may meet the right sort of young men, and he can bring eligible youths to the house, and thus give propinquity its opportunity to get in its work as a matchmaker.

After all, a girl has to pick and choose among the men she knows, and if she is never brought in contact with the right sort, she is forced into taking the kind she can get. So it is very emphatically brother's duty to help sister to a good husband if he can.

Every brother should also consider it his duty to be his sister's chaperon. He knows what the young people are doing far better than mother or father can and so he should keep a careful eye upon her. Likewise he knows the character of the boys, and he can warn her against the ones with whom it is dangerous for her to associate.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I have been married for the last three years to a man who is everything that is sweet and good, bút he simply cannot make a living. I have worked, trying to help him, doing all of my housework, but cannot make ends meet. Since we have been married my husband has not bought me a stitch of clothing; not that he does not want to, but he cannot afford it. I am 25 and have no children. What shall I do?

MISERABLE.

ANSWER:

That depends upon how much you love the man. If, in spite of his being so ineffectual, you are still crazy about him, go to work and learn some way of supporting him, instead of expecting him to support you.

Face the fact that you will have to make the living, and study some trade or profession and perfect yourself in it until you have skill enough to command good pay. Thousands of women are doing this. The old proverb says that there is a woman behind the door of every man's success. Believe me, you will nearly always find some failure of a man behind every woman's success. It is the man who couldn't make good himself who forced his wife into making good.

After you once accept the situation and go to work you will find it much less wearing on the nerves to support your husband than it is to try to nag him into working. The thing that gets on a woman's nerves and wears her to a frazzle is trying to put pep into the pepless, and galvanize the inert into being a hustler, and breathe ambition into the shiftless, and generally trying to substitute her own backbone for her husband's

Of course, the clinging-vine man is not an appealing type. In fact, he is harder for a thrifty, go-getter kind of woman to endure than any other sort of husband, because laziness is one of the vices for which we can have only contempt.

But we must bear in mind that there are men to whom nature gives no aptitude for business, who never see an opportunity even when it knocks them down and who are born so tired they simply can't bring themselves to make any effort. And sometimes these men have as a compensation a tenderness and understanding and a gentleness that makes a woman love them still in spite of all their

Plenty of men bear patiently with lazy, shiftless wives who never make them a decent home. Why shouldn't women stand for husbands who are no providers? We have equal rights nowadays you know, and equal wrongs.

Woman of 75 says Kellogg's ALL-BRAN cleansed system of constipation's poison

Stop constipation and enjoy good health, keynote

On my seventy-fifth birthday I take great pleasure in letting you know that it is due to Kellogg's ALL-SAAN that I am now enjoying good health. I was compelled to take an enema or cathartic every night. Since May, 1924, when a friend recommended Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, the poison in my system has been eliminated without the aid of purgatives. I heartily recommend Kelloggian and the second of the

Gorgeous Effects Are Achieved In Evening Gowns

By MME, LISBETH. The most gorgeous costumes are being turned out by couturiers for evening war. Not only are the most brilliant colors and rich materials used but the designs are most unusual and interesting. The three gowns above are typical of the more elaborate creations for formal wear.

The gown on the right, also worn by Miss Rich, is fashioned of gold metalic cloth of a basketlike weave. It is draped across the hips in the likeness of a gypsy girdle. A jabot of black chiffon velvet holds the girdle in place and then falls over the shoulders and down the back in a graceful train. Tight sleeves of black chiffon over gold cloth complete this lovely gown.

A charming dance frock (centre), an import, is created of white satin-back crepe with heavy lace and pearl trimmings. Gold lace trimmed with metallic flowers, rose and blush pink satin richly embroidered in gold, green and cerise, velvet in various shades including black and blue-green, and ivory white and gold metal moire are some of the materials used on recently designed evening gown. A fan-shaped bustle effect on the blue-green velvet was an interesting departure.

Even stockings promise to take on elaborate designs. It is said that they will be adorned with silk embroidery and ribbon flowers, in the centre of which a small mock diamond will twinkle. Embroidered silk comets tipped with brilliants will adorn other hose.

MRS. GIPSY AND THE TWINS.

"MRS. GIPSY AND THE TWINS.

"May we have our fortunes told now?" asked Nancy.

"Yes, my dear," said Mrs. Gipsy.

"Just cross my hand with a piece of silver and I will tell your fortune."

"Ill give you a silver bell," said Contrary Mary. So she handed Nancy a silver bell and Nancy handed it to Mrs. Gipsy, who put it into her big pocket.

"I'll tell your fortune by your hand," said Mrs. Gipsy. "Hold it out so I can see it."

Nancy held out her plump little hand and Mrs. Gipsy in surprise. "You aren't a little putch gin at all," "There cheers for Nancy," suggested the Chimney Sweep.

So they all gave three cheers. "Now, little boy, I'll fell your fortune," said Mrs. Gipsy to Nick. "Can you cross my hand with silver?" "Here's a silver buckle off my knee," said Bobby Shafto. "Is that all the fortune I have?" said Nancy.

"Oh, my no!" said Mrs. Gipsy.
"There is a lot more. You are fond of sugar-cookies and cake, and you like spelling, and stories, and picture-books, and you like to play house and jump rope and go to the movies, and you like ice cream, and pop-corn and flowers."

"Is that all?" asked Nancy.
"My no! There's a lot more," said Mrs. Gipsy. "Besides you like baseball and hop-scotch and skating and bicycle-riding and football and sled-riding and football and sled-riding and football and sled-riding and tree-climbing. And adventures. Especially adventures."

Mystery of The Vitamins Is Near Solution At Last

By DAVID DIETZ.

THOSE scientists who work on the borderline between biology, the science of life, and chemistry, the science of matter, stand today upon the threshold of one of the most important discoveries of the decade. The bio-chemists, as they are known in scientific parlance, are upon the verge of finding out the chemical composition and nature of vitamins.

Until the present time, bio-chemists knew only that certain vitamins existed in certain foods. They classified these as vitamins A, B, C, and so on, according to the effects which they produced upon living creatures. For example, vitamin A was known to prevent rickets because animals fed on a diet lacking substances which contained vitamin A developed rickets.

But all attempts to identify the various vitamins failed. This was because the vitamins existed in such minute quantities in foodstuffs and because any attempt to obtain the vitamins in concentrated form resulted in their destruction. The vitamins were apparently what the chemist calls highly unstable. That is, heat or chemical reactions immediately broke

New Tariff of Roads Should be Applied Evenly to and From Saint John, West Saint John, Halifax, Montreal, Quebec

Notwithstanding the somewhat scouraging outcome of its investitions, the committee still believes that the profitable production of textes and allied products in the Marimes is quite possible if adequately meaning and under capable management. It would almost seem, hower, that the industry had, in a casure, lost heart,—probably, for masons in no sense geographical.

FARM PRODUCTS

The committee felt that the matical production was a surroundered in anticipating power requirements to a reasonable extent, since experience indicates that responsible industries will not establish in anticipating the ablest minds in the Maritimes.

POWER DEVELOPMENT

The committee respectfully recommends that, with a view to attract ing hopeful industries, hydro-electric development as a source of cheap power should always be borne in mind. In the opinion of the committee, a government is warranted in anticipating power requirements to a reasonable extent, since experience indicates that responsible industries will not establish in anticipating power should always be borne in mind.

The generation of cheap power, at the pithead, from low-grade coals such as those of New Brunswick, has also been considered by the committee. It is not impossible to generate power from coal as cheaply as from water power when the coal is cheap and properly burned, using suitable equipment. Even low grade coal can be burned to advantage in powdered form. Indeed, it seems not unlikely that by the process suggested, the cost of power production would be lower and the capital plant cost less than in the case of the small hydro units mentioned above.

pation of the power development, more especially as cheap power is already available at so many points throughout Ontario and Quebec. In the opinion of the committee, Maritime power development should take the form of small units which could be added to as circumstances justify, even though small units may not produce as cheap power as larger ones. Indian Program Is Greatly Enjoyed

An Indian night program was greatly enjoyed in the Ludlow street Baptist church rooms last night when the Indian customs, legends and history were presented. Songs, cartoon drawings and an Indian dance were included. Dr. William McIntosh, curator of the Natural History Society's museum, related several of the legends of New Brunswick Indians. Miss Olive Parsons contributed a piano solo. Lantern slides, depicting the work of the Y. M. C. A. in various parts of the world, were shown. Miss Sylvia Mills gave a talented demonstration of cartoon drawing. A duet entitled "An Indian Song" was sung by Miss Saidie Burke and Ralph Rupert, while Trail Ranger Arthur Parks gave a neatly executed Indian dance. The accompanists of the evening were Miss Sylvia Mills and Miss Saidie Burke.

Rev. W. A. Robbins was the chairman of the meeting and extended hearty thanks to all who had taken part. The tickets were in charge of Donald Maher. By A. M. BELDING

Greetings from the Federated Boards of Trade of Ontario in session at Conference today as a further evidence of the interest of Canadians generally in the Maritime situation.

Equipment of our national ports, lower freight rates from points in the Maritimes to the seaboard, a revision of freight and express rates to the central province markets, substantial aid to immigration, trade agreements with more foreign countries and more trade commissioners with adequate financial resouges to promote Canadian trade, improved ferry and railway equipment to Prince Edward Island, and Medical research has definitely proved that one of the causes of a run down condition of the body is a shortage of certain mineral elements, including iron, potassium, calcium, sodium and phosphorus, and until a sufficient supply of these minerals is restored to the body, good health is impossible. Wincamis contains every one of these elements in addition to other health giving ingredients and in a form in which they are most rapidly absorbed into the blood and carried to every part of the body to be converted into vital force.

Wincarnis has been recommended by over tenthousand physicians in cases of nervousness, anaemia, sleeplessness, and the general debility that accompanies a run down body. For fifty years this strength giver and nerve restorative has brought new life and happiness to weak-

PAPER ON READING
Following Dr. Trueman's address, Miss Jessie Milligan read an excellent paper on "Reading, Grade 2," followed by a practical demonstration by several little girls. This item on the programme called forth many favorable comments from teachers present. The expression the children put into their work was a revelation to those present. Miss Ena Higgins' paper on "Literature" was greatly enjoyed, an extended discussion following it. Her subject was confined to the junior and intermediate grades. She made a strong plea that more attention be paid to the development of Canadian national spirit by having national literature in the lower grades. She felt a great opportunity was being overlooked. There were two methods of teaching literature, one school holding the child as the centre while the other made the subject matter the chief item. The first dass, she felt, was the better as it developed a being who would be able to reason clearly and express accurately while the second produced a heaped-up mass of miscellaneous facts. W. T. Denham led the discussion on this paper.

YESTERDAY AFTERNOON Mr. Alexander introduced Fletcher Peacock, director of the Saint John Vocational High School, who was the first speaker yesterday afternoon. Mr. Alexander spoke of the hope that the Vocational School would relieve overcrowding in the High School.

ASKS CO-OPERATION.

Mr. Peacock appealed for the cooperation of the teachers to secure the success of the new school. He referred to the advances in educational systems as corresponding to developments in the commercial and industrial world. Vocational education was tending towards opening equal opportunities for all people. The problem was to provide training for those who would not enter universities and secondary grade vocational, or technical, education had been evolved to give both necessary classical training and specialized training for entering fields of industry.

OTTAWA, Nov. 5—Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conserva-tive leader, in a statement issued late this afternoon, characterized the announcement of the inten-tion of Premier King that his government would continue in office and meet parliament as usurpation of power and con-tempt of the popular will.

HOPEWELL HILL, Nov. 5—After two hours' deliberation the jury in the case of Lawrence Doherty, charged with the murder of Howard R. Cairns, a few months ago, brought in a verdict of "not guilty" of murder but guilty of manslaughter with a recommendation that the prisoner be given the full pensity of the law. His Honor, Chief Justice Barry, sentenced the prisoner to 12 years in Dorochester Penitentiary, When court opened at 10 o'clock this morning, W. M. Doherty didn't want to night? It certainly showed a far from friendly spirit.

Chief Justice Barry, in his charge to the jury, instructed the jury of them, namely, to bring in a verdict of acquittal, a verdict of guilty of murder or guilty of manslaughter. He explained the different forms of homicide, murder having the element of malice. Did Doherty mean to kill Cairns or was he reckless as to whether the act he did was such as to cause death? If so he was guilty of murder.

CROWN COUNSEL.

Daniel Mullin, K. C., of Saint John, for the Crown, said he fully realized the solemnity of the duty they were all required to perform and most assuredly he did not wish to impress anything unfairly on the prisoner at the bar. It was his duty to see, so far as he could, that justice might be administered and the laws of the country maintained. It was evident Cairns met a violent death and that the deep wound near the eye could not have been committed by the piece of plank produced but by some implement never revealed.

Mr. Mullin referred to Doherty using vile language to Cairns on the occasion of their short trip out of the house and of his saying when a deame back alone "If I get one crack at him (Cairns) he won't want anather." Was that an indication that Doherty din't want to fight? It certainly showed a far from friendly spirit.

Turning The Trick" is Well Presented in St. Patrick's Hall

The amateurs of St. Patrick's Liter-

Morris, Mrs. R. J. Patton, Miss Lena Scully, Miss Maud Sweeney and Miss Gertrude McKenna, gave pleasing musical numbers throughout the evening and specialties given between the acts included dances by Miss Margaret Caithiness and vocal solos by Miss Josephine Viger, Miss Edna Driscoll and Miss Margaret M. Flood.

Those who took part in the play were J. J. O'Toole, Edity O'Toole, Louis Murphy, Miss Mary Hennessey, Miss Elizabeth Morrissey, Angús DesRoches, Miss Marion I. Farren, William J. Quigg, J. D. Richards, Miss Mildred G. Condon and E. Barry Quigg.

Refuses to Hear Petition of Three Indians Sentenced to Death

ith the refusal of the judicial comlittee of the Privy Council to allow appeal to that body against the coniction of three Indians sentenced to eath for the murder of Abdul Kadir Baule, a rich Parsee merchant of Bom-ng, in previous petitions from the do-

cases.

They stated that dealing with appeals from the dominions they would not act as a court of criminal appeal and would interfere with the course of criminal proceedings unless it was shown that there had been some disregard of the forms of legal process or a violation of the principles of natural justice, and that a substantial injustice had been done.

The judicial committee found that none of these conditions applied in the Malabaw Hill murder case.

It is at a dangerous level, yet our tess is that the upward move will minue for a time longer and that if do get a reaction, it will be only approary and will be followed by an aper upward move. We would be very a servative at this time and yet we hak money can still be made on the side. Steel common reacted sharply sterday, after its sensational move of previous day.

We believe Steel will sell at record to levels, however, before this move over and we think the important cks will have large moves. Prospects the steel industry are brighter than y have been in over a year. Condated Gas got to a record high price the present stock yesterday. We sider it one of the safest and best culations on the list. Department res, chain stores and mail-order ses, the coppers and some of the s will sell higher.

Dr. W. S. Carter, in his splendid address and good advice, was somewhat modest and remarked that he was sorry there was not an outsider to give the opening address. Why send for outsiders? Saint John can boast of having some of the best speakers in Canada. We should always try to encourage our own talent.

I think some of the people will agree with me when I say we should always give our own citizens a chance to make good before they go to other places of abode, such as musicians, singers, athletes, etc., etc.

Mount Allison Captain Scores Only Touchdown In Acadia Game

Crimson Starts Three Sophomores In Important Game

BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 6—The eve of the Princeton-Harvard battle tomorrow finds the dopesters are busy and rumors are rife that next year will see wholesale changes in the coaching personnel and the football system at Harvard. This follows the upsets of the Crimson at the hands of Holy Cross and Dartmouth and the poor showing made against William and Mary. These same stories were going the rounds last year and finally Coach Bob Fisher resigned. He reconsidered, however, and returned, despite the lack of exceptionally promising players.

Now the gossips here have it that Fisher is to be replaced by Reggie Brown, who will be assisted by Charley Crowley and Percy Wendell.

Brown is the strategist and scout at Brown. After the Harvard-Dartmouth game he declared that the offence of the Hanoverians was unsound and proved it the following Saturday. He laid out a defence for the Brown team that put the kibosh on the aerial warfare of the big Green and materially retarded the running attack of the Dartmouth team. He is considered one of the keenest students of football.

Wendell, after unusual success at Williams, went to Lehigh with the understanding that if his alma mater ever needed him he was to be released.

Crowley, now coach for Columbia, has done good work for the Blue and White. Last Saturday his men gave Cornell a stiff run at the Polo Grounds and put up one of the best battles since football has been resumed at Columbia. It was thought the acquisition of Major Charles Daly, old Harvard and Army star, would put a new kick in the Harvard play this year. The team has fought hard, if, at times, it has seemed that its fighting was ineffectual.

Harvard play this year. The team has fought hard, if, at times, it has seemed that its fighting was ineffectual.

When Yale lost four straight games to Harvard a howl went up for the removal of Tad Janes. When victory came, another song was sung. There are those here who think the case of the Crimson coach is similar to that of the Yale and that there is blue sky ahead.

of the Yale and that there is blue sky ahead.

PRINCETON FAVORED.

The starting of three sophomores, Tripp, Pratt and Crosby, probably establishes a precedent in Harvard gridiron history. Tripp won his position from Charley Bradford in last Saturday's game by his deadly tackling. He is a former teammate of Crosby at Exeter. Pratt has always been good and Crosby has proved the backfield sensation of the squad.

The outlook for the Maroons this season, is much brighter than a year ago when the club was granted a franchise in the National Hockey League. The team will comprise a number of young players who will be making their initial appearance in professional ranks, but the majority of them can boast experience in clubs affiliated with the Ontario Amateur Association.

Among the players who exercised yesterday were Hoby Kitchen, formerly of the Niagara club; Sammy Rothschild, Dutch Cain, Dinny Dinsmore and Dunc Munro. Munro has been reducing the greater part of the autumn Magnusson child, Dutch Cain; Dinny Dinsmore and Dunc Munro. Munro has been reducing the greater part of the autumn and is 15 pounds lighter than when he started last winter.

Nelson Stewart arrived last night from Toronto, while Lowry came in from Ottawa.

Manager Gerard has already decided on changing his team about. He will have for the defence Benedict in goal, Noble and Dúnc Munro as the regular defence, with others to relieve them. On the line he will have Dinsmore, Kitchen, Stewart, Seibert and Broadbent, as well as some of the players to be retained from last season's squad. Kitchen is a left wing or defence player. Dinsmore can be played on either wing, while Seibert is a right wing or defence player. Then there is Horn, who played last winter with Grimsby, and was the leading scorer on the team. Horn can play at either wing position. He is a good back checker and figured prominently in all of the games played by Grimsby.

popular and there is no reason to believe that the one scheduled for the Arena on the night of November 27 should be any exception for in addition to local talent, there will be some outsiders as well. This meet will conclude a season that has witnessed several good meets, including a splendid girls' meet, held a few weeks ago. The Maritime indoor affair has two events for girls and it is expected this section will be well-filled up with entries in view of the decided fillip given to girl athletics here this year. The last meet was held on a dirt track when several records were broken. This year, the events will be run off on a board track, the flooring having been put in last year. The boys have the records down pretty fine now, particularly in the track work but there is plenty of room to topple a few in the field events. It will be recalled that the Maritime indoor meet here two years ago set the field records as no track had been kept of former meets. We look to see "Beef" Malcolm set up a new mark in the shot put. This boy has leaped to the very forefront of Canadian athletics in a very short space of time, busting two Maritime records for the shot put in two years. He will use the 12 pound shot put at the indoor meet here and they want to make sure and turn him the long end of the rink because if he ever let it go sideways, he'd drive it through the side walls and maybe take the whole building down on top of him.

MONCTON CITY'S rugby team will try to railroad the Trojans to defeat on the Allison grounds tomorrow afternoon but the grade is not going to be easy, say the locals.

PROFESSIONAL FOOTBALL in New York between the New York Giants and the Buffalo Bisons, led by Walter Koppisch, the greatest football star New York city ever produced, drew a crowd of 20,000 people at the Polo Grounds this week but it seems that after all the ballyhoo, Walter fell down on the job because of a sprained ankle. Although the crowd shouted for him in the first half, he failed to appear and when he did start in the second half, he was easily stopped. No mention about the sprained ankle was made until after the game for had it been announced before, the crowd would have been much slimmer. That's just the difference between college and professional football. Whether the collegians announced their star player was out of it or not, it would not have made any difference—the crowd would have been there to see the college teams battle it out, It is said the Giants' management, which by the way is the same that controls the Giants' baseball team, offered $50 to every player making a touchdown, whereat Hinkey Haines, former Penn State star, made two. Not a bad day's work. Despite little drawbacks, pro. foot-

SPEAKING about "Red" Grange, Illinois University will take his muddy, torn jersey with its orange number "77" and have it framed to inspire future gridders. The number will never again be given out. 77 is the number Grange has had since 1922.

THE HOCKEY situation hereabouts is in a considerable tangle just at present through several factors. Sussex is having trouble with the rink management and says it will not enter a team. Fredericton wants to get in the northern section and has withdrawn from the western section. St. Stephen's entry depends largely on the re-instatement of several boys. Saint John is standing pat. Moncton has formed a team, called the Atlantics, and is rather enthusiastic over the season's prospects. They are not very particular about what section they enter. These different elements will have their say at a meeting to be held in Moncton when probably some realignment of the groups will be made. It has been suggested that the re-grouping be as follows: Fredericton, St. Stephen, Marysville in the western section; Moncton, Sussex and Saint John in the southern section; Campbellton, Bathurst and Chatham in the northern section. This sounds reasonable but the chief opposition will come from Fredericton. As present constituted the groups call for too many long jumps.

medal is presented annually to the best all round athlete in King's University. However, more than athletic ability is necessary to win this coveted prize. To win this medal it is also essential that a person be well up in his studies.

Mr. Coleman, this year's winner has played a prominent part in the activities of 'King's during the past three years. "Art" started his college career at the University of New Brunswick and entered King's at Windsor in his second year. Since coming to King's he has played on the hockey and football teams every year. Last season he filled the position of captain of the hockey team and this fall is football captain. He also has played hockey for Dalhousie in the Halifax City League.

From Fame To Trouble

The outstanding hero of the world series was Max Carey, veteran star of the Pittsburg club. Throughout the series, the final game in particular, Carey played brilliantly.

While Walter Johnson found Carey a tough customer in the decideding game, the Pirate star making four hits, Max's glory was short lived. Shortly after the series closed, Carey shifted from the glory of the ball field to the woes of a Pittsburg hospital. Here we have Carey pictured doing his stuff in both places.

An attack of pleurisy, brought on by a collision with Stanley Harris in the fifth game of the series, caused the star athlete to take to his bed. He is now back home and well.

WE HAD A GREAT WORK-OUT, DIDN'T WE, COACH?" When Harold Lloyd speaks that title in "The Freshman," it's a tear that makes a rainbow among the laughs that have preceded—and quickly follow! Harold makes his debut in football as a substitute for the dummy, which had given up the ghost and passed out—in pieces! The team needed tackle practice in the worst way—but it was Harold who got the worst of it. Twenty men lined up and took their turn at tackling him, and when they weren't knocking him down, the Coach was demonstrating on him the wrong and right way of tackling. Try how he would, Harold couldn't keep himself picked up. When time is called because the squad and the Coach are all worn out, Harold, battered and torn and dizzy, but still plucky and willing, gathers up the broken dummy, the water bucket, the protectors and other things littering the field and, summoning a smile with a final show of spirit, says, "We had a great work-out, didn't we, Coach?" A gulp will get you at that moment, if you don't watch out. It's a human touch coming on top of riotous hilarity that always distinguishes Harold Lloyds comedies.

In connection with the letting of the contract for the extension to the cattle sheds in West Saint John, the tenders for which closed on October 21, Mr. Foster said he expected favorable action at an early date.

Commissioner Bullock, in speaking of the extension of the cattle sheds, said that any future construction along the harbor front should be of freproof material in order to lessen the fire hazard. The linking up of sheds, as had been done in the extension of the potato shed and was proposed with the extension of the cattle shed, made fire fighting more difficult, he said.

In the latter he went overseas with a western regiment and he was all through the grim scenes of war to the finish. He suffered from gas in one of the battles. After the war he was at home for a while and about five years ago left again and located at Highland Park, where he was engaged in his occupation as a tinsmith.

Many friends in Saint John remember him and will be sorry to learn of the fatality. Mr. Cook is survived by two brothers, William of Glen Falls and Frederick J. of the North End, and two sisters, Mrs. Thomas Berry of Boston and Mrs. Charles Blair of Vancouver. He will be buried at Highland
