SLAYS GIRL HE WANTED TO WED
Fifteen Year Old Crissie Near is Victim.

Gordon Didsdale, of London, Ont., After Loss of Quarrel, Shoots Her... Then Reloads and Turns Gun on Self, But is Only Slightly Wounded.

(Canadian Press) London, Ont., June 1.—Headless of his sweetheart's plea for life itself, Gordon Didsdale, 24 years of age, 884 Oxbow street, taking deliberate aim with a double barreled shotgun last night, shot and killed Crissie Near, fifteen years of age, of 88 Adelaide street, whom he had asked to be his bride but three days ago. Then reloading, he turned the gun on himself and sent the bullet whizzing into the sidewalk at the corner of St. James and Adelaide streets, slightly injured. Police say the slayer will be in condition to be removed from a cage at Victoria Hospital to a cell in the county jail today. "I did not mean what I said last night. I was mad at the time. Please don't throw me overboard, Crissie," he said to her at the hour the tragedy was enacted. Light-hearted and confident that the course of love would once again run smoothly, despite the fact that Gordon had been told that she would marry him until she attained the age of eighteen, the girl walked a block from her home to meet him—and shot.

DUET TO DEATH ABOUT WOMAN
Parisian Apache, Victor, Gets Prison Term

It was a Contest with Knives in Underworld of French Capital and Loser Fell Because He Violated Rules.

(Canadian Press Cable) Paris, June 1.—A duel to the death of a woman has brought prison sentences to the victor, Maurice Pinteaux, Parisian apache and the witness of the fight. The court rejected the defense's plea that dueling was a sport and the underworld was quite as respectable as sword or pistol affairs before top hatted society leaders. Pinteaux and the "seconds" were sentenced last night to two years imprisonment each, and the director of the combat to six months for their part in the death of Charles Lallemand, another apache. Pinteaux won Louise Rattier from Lallemand. The testimony showed that the duel was conducted to set rules. Similar knives, well sharpened at the scene by the witnesses, were given to the combatants. Lallemand, to his misfortune, disregarded the rules. When he attempted to follow up his advantage by drawing first blood by kicking vigorously at Pinteaux's abdomen, the other apache closed in on him, repeatedly stabbed him until he fell mortally wounded. The attorneys for the defence abandoned their announced plan of summoning persons prominent in the social world as experts to testify that the duel was conducted, was entirely regular.

WILL SEE GRAND FALLS. When the delegates to the annual meeting of the New Brunswick Tourist Association, who leaves St. John next week on the same train with delegates of the Weekly Newspaper Association en route to their convention arrive at Grand Falls a halt will be made and take the visitors to the falls and for a tour of the town. The people of Edmundston are preparing to give the visitors a warm welcome to that rapidly growing centre of industry.

CONDITION STILL SERIOUS. Scott Aherly, who has been seriously ill in the General Public Hospital with tetanus from a cut hand, was reported today to be slightly improved, but to be still in a serious condition.

North and South Men May Confer On Irish Question

Hope in London That Craig Will Alter Decision. Possibility of This is Keeping Collins in London—British Cabinet Goes Over Situation—Eleven Deaths in Latest Belfast Trouble.

(Canadian Press Cable) London, June 1.—Hope of a meeting between representatives of the Ulster government and the government of southern Ireland was expressed after a conference held today between Premier Sir James Craig and Lord Londonderry of the Ulster cabinet with Premier Lloyd George. The conference lasted an hour and a half and it was understood the conferees will meet again tomorrow morning. Premier Craig informed an interviewer that he was not here to meet the Irish delegates now in London but amicably to discuss the Ulster situation with the British premier. "It is understood, however, that the principal objective of the conference is to place before the Ulster leaders the British government's views on the Collins-De Valera pact, and despite Sir James Craig's reiterated declaration that he will not meet Michael Collins and Arthur Griffith, official circles express the hope that he will alter his decision. It is this possibility, it was indicated, which today was delaying the departure of Mr. Collins for Dublin, where the Cabinet in Session. London, June 1.—Today's cabinet meeting for consideration of the Irish situation was attended by General the Earl of Cavan, chief of staff of the British army, and Sir Lansing Worthington-Evans, the secretary for war. It is understood one of the chief points of the discussion was the military situation in Ulster and its possibilities. According to the Evening Post Premier Lloyd George regards the situation as so grave that he has postponed his holiday trip to Cricethel indefinitely. Eleven Killed. Belfast, June 1.—Grovegrove Road was the scene of intense fighting this morning. A boy was struck by a bullet and killed. In Falls Road, adjoining, there was considerable shooting at an early hour. Four wounded persons were taken to hospitals from this area. Spectator Rowlestone, whose shooting precipitated last night's troubles, died of his wounds, and this, together with the death today of another wounded person, brought the total of the fatalities from yesterday's shootings to eleven. A pathetic incident of last night's disorders was the shooting of a blind man and his landlady, who were standing at the door of their home at earshot. A house was afire nearby at the time, and the water from the hose flowing down the street, made the fire more intense, which were not removed for an hour and a half. In another district a mob swarmed around a butcher's shop and shot dead Mrs. McIlroy and her daughter. It was officially announced today that in the course of searches made at the Falls area of Belfast last night the police arrested two persons in responsible positions who were found in possession of documents which were being investigated. The result, it was added, might be disclosure of a startling nature. Advice from the Strabane front this morning pictured the situation at this border point as considerably easier. It was declared a truce on the Strabane-Lifford frontier agreed upon at 10 o'clock last night. Communication by road between Lifford and Strabane re-established and traffic allowed to resume from Free State territory. The Ulster special constables have evacuated Rough Island on Lough Erne, having found it untenable. London, June 1.—Premier Sir James Craig and the Marquis of Londonderry, Ulster minister of education, arrived from Belfast this morning and went in to conference soon afterwards with Premier Lloyd George and Winston Churchill, secretary for the colonies. At noon the cabinet convened, with Lloyd George in the chair. The London Papers. London, June 1.—Colonial Secretary Churchill's statement on Ireland in the House of Commons today has made a deep impression. The serious emphasis which he laid upon the extreme gravity of the situation and the suggestion of the possibility of Great Britain re-occupying Irish territory are features by which morning's newspapers are opening an ugly vista leading to incalculable trouble. The hopeful conclusion which he sounded and the editorial comment is divided between these two aspects of the position, one section of the press laying chief (Continued on page 11, third column.)

DISPUTE OVER INSURANCE
Canadian Government Railways Party to a Case in Boston Court.

Boston, June 1.—A bill in equity was filed in the federal court here today in behalf of the Canadian government railways seeking the appointment of a receiver for the Franco-Boston Navigation Co., of Boston. The bill states that the company was organized in 1919, that capital stock of $1,000,000 was issued, of which $250,000 was paid up, and that the only assets of the company consisted of the schooner Adie P. McFallen, which was wrecked near the Azores two months after the organization of the company. Insurance of $18,000 was collected and its possession now is in dispute, the money at present being in the hands of a stockholder. One half of the stock, the bill asserts, is owned by the Canadian government railways and the other half by Anatole Farvaque of St. Malo, France, who has consented to the filing of the bill. Both stockholders claim the insurance. The Brotherhood of St. Andrew is the principal plaintiff in the case. The schooner was foundered on the coast of Newfoundland in the month of August, 1919, and the insurance was paid to the Brotherhood of St. Andrew in the month of September, 1919. The Brotherhood of St. Andrew is a religious corporation organized in many of the Anglican churches throughout Canada. James A. McFallen is the president of the denomination, whose members are scattered throughout the country, ranging from Gloucester, N. S., in the east to Victoria, B. C., in the west.

WOMAN HELD FOR TRIAL IN MURDER CASE

Peterboro, Ont., June 1.—After several adjournments the preliminary hearing of Mrs. Emma Edwards, a widow, and Abe Pilon, jointly charged with the murder of the woman's son, Ernest Edwards, was opened yesterday before County Police Magistrate Langley. Mrs. Edwards was committed for trial. The prisoners are being arraigned separately. Ernest Edwards was found lying dead in a Drummer Township barnyard several weeks ago. A post mortem examination revealed the fact that death was due to strychnine poisoning. POLICE COURT. One man charged with drunkenness this morning in the police court was assessed the usual amount.

WOMAN DROWNED IN ONTARIO RIVER, SON IS MISSING

Peterboro, Ont., June 1.—So far the police have been unable to locate Roy Cherrett, who has been missing since Sunday night and whose mother was found drowned in the Otanabee River on Monday morning. Enquiries have been sent to all parts of the country in an effort to locate the missing man. Dragging operations on the river, which were started on the assumption that he might have ended his life have been abandoned for the time being. The whole case is shrouded in mystery with nothing to account for the death of the mother or the sudden disappearance of her son.

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said the Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Horbeam, "what is Surtidge Raeghehall Mhavel?" "I wouldn't like to hear it," said Hiram. "Who's got it?" "They have it in a place called Cape Breton," said the reporter. "I was thinking," said Hiram, "that what ails 'em over in Ireland." "Mon," said the reporter, "but this is Scotch—it's Gaelic." "Hiram," said Hiram, "we had a Clau-na-Gael fellow out to the Settlement one time. Her they got it?" "Bad enough," said the reporter. "The name of Surtidge Raeghehall Mhavel, one night this week, in a request next morning," queried Hiram. "Parbe xamv rj i f c mltk br-r-r-r!" said the reporter. "I don't mislead it," said Hiram. "Yes, sir—I guess that's so."

The convention will be held at the Anglican Church, at Wynter College. Belyea's Good Work Brings Him Down to 160 1-2 Lbs

Hilton Will Watch the Contest Today from Motor Boat. He and Costello Have Drawn the Centre Positions for Saturday's Big Race; Hoover and Today's Winner in West and East Water—Word from St. John Man's Quarters. (Special to Times.) Philadelphia, June 1.—Before night casts its shadowy cloak over the waters of the Schuylkill River this evening, the fate of John Durman, Jr., Toronto, in the Gold Challenge race, will be decided. The preliminary or qualification heat will be raced over a mile and a quarter course late this afternoon. The final will be rowed on Saturday. Durman has as his competitors today Tom Rooney and Garrett Gilmore, two Philadelphians whose sculling reputation is well known in this country and elsewhere. Rooney is the favorite to win and the dopests pick Gilmore to finish second with Durman bringing up the rear, but the Toronto athlete is very likely to qualify even if he finishes last. Durman has been showing good form in his practice races and today is one of the blanket variety, the judges are likely to permit Durman to row in the final on Saturday. Hilton will follow the races today in a motorboat. He has impressed Philadelphia favorably. He has been following a strict and strenuous course of training since his arrival and should be in good shape when he goes to the start in the classic on Saturday. When he first came to Philadelphia, Hilton tipped the scales at 181 pounds. He has been losing weight since his arrival and today weighs 160 1/2 pounds. This is a very good weight for a sculler of his class. He has been working hard every morning, noon and evening he has been out on the water. The result has been that he has lost 21 pounds in two weeks. He has been losing weight since his arrival and today weighs 160 1/2 pounds. This is a very good weight for a sculler of his class. THE BUILDING REGULATIONS

Further Discussion Today at City Hall. Fire Underwriters Object to Change in District No. 2—Action Deferred Till Board Considers Question Further. The main topic of conversation at the common council meeting of this morning was the proposed change of the city by-law governing the building regulations in fire district No. 2. Commissioner Frink presided in the absence of Mayor McClellan, who was called away on important business just prior to the opening of the meeting. J. W. Mitchell and R. D. Fudge appeared as a delegation on behalf of the Board of New Brunswick Fire Underwriters. The former, who is president of the Board, expressed his objection to the proposed change which would increase the height of any building from twenty-five to thirty-five feet in this area, and were not in favor of a hip or pitch roof. For this reason they were against changing the by-law. Mr. Fudge, who is secretary of the Board, in answer to a question of one of the commissioners, said that a building is rated by the floor area and that a change in construction in this area would result in a higher rating. He explained that the by-law was changed to increase the height of buildings in order to protect the city from the danger of fire. He stated that the fire underwriters were not in favor of the change because it would increase the cost of insurance. Commissioner Frink stated that since the city was graded by the engineers in 1917, the building regulations have been in force. He stated that the fire underwriters were not in favor of the change because it would increase the cost of insurance. Commissioner Thornton stated that since the city was graded by the engineers in 1917, the building regulations have been in force. He stated that the fire underwriters were not in favor of the change because it would increase the cost of insurance.

SITUATION GROWS MORE SERIOUS

Hot, Drying Winds Make the Woods Very Dry. The Hope is for a Southerly Rain and People are Urged to be Very Careful in the Woods—Two Serious Fire Reported. (Special to Times.) Fredericton, N. B., June 1.—The following statement of the forest fire situation in New Brunswick was given out at the department of lands and mines today: "A heavy spell of smoke has enveloped the province since Sunday, and the fire looks to have been out of commission much of the time because of this. Conditions are becoming serious each day, the hot, drying winds making the woods as dry as tinder and very inflammable. Reports from Maine and Quebec, where the conditions of drought set in about a week or so earlier, indicate very serious conditions, as much destruction of forest has been done by forest fires as is greatly feared that unless rain comes, serious forest fires comparable with those of last year may be the result. So far, the situation has been kept under control, about one hundred fires being extinguished by government writs and county councilors in May. Railway patrolmen on duty since the first part of May have promptly extinguished any fire occurring along the right of way. Fire permits for brush burning were closed at the 20th of May, from this has prevented serious fires on this course. On May 24 a few fires were set by farmers. Only a few fires have been reported on crown lands, being extinguished by the wardens, while county councilors have taken prompt action in looking after fires on privately owned lands. Only through the continued co-operation of the people in preventing and extinguishing forest fires will the present period of drought be bridged. Fishermen, picnic parties and others making trips through the woods, either by car or on foot, during the week-end, are especially asked to be extremely careful of fire and to promptly report any fires which they may discover, either by the department of lands and mines or to the warden. If they themselves are unable to extinguish them. Fires Yesterday. A serious fire occurred yesterday afternoon between Miramichi and Hiramton in York county, said to have originated from a bush fire on the property of a resident who, it is understood, had a permit issued by a councillor some time ago. It is said he thought the fire was out, but eventually some bushes were fanned up by the heavy wind yesterday. The fire gained great headway, as the locality is full of slash. The atmosphere has moderated since, and prospects are that the elements will check the blaze on Saturday, the day of the big event. (Special to Times.) Philadelphia, Penn., May 31.—Hilton Belyea of St. John, N. B., holder of the Canadian single sculls championship, following a long workout this morning, announced himself as being very near his best shape. Conditions having prevented him from starting training earlier than today, he is now spending the greater part of each day working out on the Schuylkill. By the time Saturday afternoon, he is expected to be in top form. He will need to be the cream of the nation's scullers will be entered in the event. Walter Hoover, present national champion, and Paul Costello of Philadelphia, defender of the cup through the retirement of Jack Kelly, are assured of participating, while there will be a fourth entry, to be decided by a trial race on Thursday among Tom Rooney, Garrett Gilmore, Philadelphia, and Eddie Durman of the Argonaut Club, Toronto. Tom Rooney, who in 1916 captured the national title, is favored to beat Durman and Gilmore in the trial on Thursday. He proved his superiority over the latter on last Saturday, when he beat the Bachelor sculler by two good lengths in the second single sculls race of the American Henley Regatta, covering the course of one and five-sixteenths of a mile in seven minutes and 22 4-8 seconds, establishing a new mark for the event, and coming within two-fifths of a second of Kelley's time for the distance. Later in the afternoon, Costello forced Belyea to take his wash with apparent ease, the latter weakening on the home stretch after having held a length advantage three-quarters of the way. Costello's time was seven minutes and 29 4-8 seconds, the difference between it and Rooney's being due to the high wind which marked the earlier races. Costello, by the way, is the best sculler of his career. He is training under Kelly, his cousin, who won the Olympic singles and with Paul the doubles title. Mile and Quarter. The Challenge Cup race will be over a course of one and one-quarter miles. (Continued on page 11, third column.)

ENTIRE CREW OF TRAIN DEAD

Asphyxiated in Tunnel Trying to Get Derails Cars Back to Rails. Bourc-En-Vresse, France, June 1.—An entire train crew of seven men running a freight train halted by two engines were found dead from asphyxiation in and alongside the engines in a tunnel near Bourc last night. The freight had been held up by the derailment of two cars. The men were found by the crew of another freight train that smashed into the rear of the stalled train, unable to stop although the crew caught in the tunnel had set the danger signal. The men were killed by the coal gas fumes from the engines. Apparently they had been working for some time trying to get the derailed cars back on the track and collapsed while at their tasks. Men on Gasoline Launch Seeing Eagle Boat with Militiamen, Think It "Dry Navy."
New York, June 1.—Seven cases of whiskey were dumped into the Hudson from the deck of a twenty-five-foot gasoline launch as the Eagle Boat 51, with sixty men of the First Battalion Naval Militia, approached the vicinity of the launch at the foot of West 130th street.
When the man at the wheel of the power boat noticed the Eagle boat looming up near him he thought he was about to fall into the hands of the rum-chaser. He became excited and shouted a warning into the cabin of the boat.
As the Eagle boat drew nearer two men rushed from the cabin of the smaller boat and began throwing bottles and cases marked "whiskey overboard," as the man at the wheel shouted: "We surrender, we surrender!"
"When the Eagle boat kept on its course the rum-runners in amazement began to berate one another for having fled hastily. Then, taking courage, they put on full speed and darted away.
It was estimated that the seven cases of whiskey and a dozen or more bottles of other liquor thus lost by the rum-runners were worth about $1,000 at booting prices.

PREVENTION IS RIGHT POLICY

Notable Addresses Delivered at Ontario Health Conference This Week.
At the eighth annual meeting of the Ontario Health Officers' Association held in the Physics Building of the University of Toronto, this week, Dr. J. A. Morgan, M. O. H., Smith, Toronto; Peterborough, in speaking on "How to Control Diphtheria in a Small Country Village" stated that this disease causes one-third of all deaths due to infectious diseases.
The trained nurse with the aid of cultures and anti-toxin, he emphasized, is the best means of attack, both financially and as to results.
In speaking of carriers of the disease, Dr. Morgan pointed out that convalescents were rid of germs in four to six weeks, but one in every 1,000 persons carry with them possible diphtheria germs. Milk is also a carrier. The removal of tonsils, adenoids, and foreign bodies in the throat were recommended.
In pointing out the age in which disease is prevalent from three to six years were the most dangerous.
State Control
In his presidential address, Dr. J. W. Shaw of Clinton stressed the fact that "State and preventive medicine represent the lofty, while sanitation and hygiene represent the profession. State control has come from the outside; it should have come from within. It should have come at the suggestion of ourselves. We are too self-centred. We should let the public know what we have accomplished. Institute a campaign of instruction so that all chief justices, judges and magistrates may be aware of the work in which we are engaged."
"I would not break down one jot of our ethical code," said the president, "but the profession should break away from the isolation in which it finds itself. The medical profession has been organized with a view to the cure of disease, rather than its prevention. The policy of prevention should be put into effect."
Following an address by Dr. Jas. Roberts of Hamilton on public health organizations a considerable discussion centred round a suggestion that full-time rural communities. A motion was carried to the effect that a committee of seven be appointed from the association to consider the question of improving the public health by the appointment of county medical officers of health as in contrast with the present system of poorly-paid local M. O. H.'s, with little or no funds to carry out necessary reforms or innovations.
School Inspection
"Take away from the Board of Education the inspection of schools, and put it back in the hands of the Department of Health," was the advice of Dr. F. J. Farley, president of the Ontario Medical Association. In this respect eliminate all cities of over 20,000. But the suggestion of the O. M. A. is that a county laboratory be established in practically every county. This would be in charge of a technician and under it a municipal nurse. Why should it be necessary to send a specimen to Toronto or Hamilton for diagnosis? We are dealing with human life.
The municipal nurse, too, would be the trusted officer, for she could find out what all the children and could expose cases of hidden contagion.
In touching on the question of morons or mental deficient, Dr. Farley stated that consolidated schools with a department, especially for these cases as the only solution.
Dr. C. J. Hastings, M. O. H., Toronto, in speaking on "More Efficient Care of Mothers," cited the case of New Zealand, which had taken active steps to reduce the mortality of mothers, due to pregnancy and labor. The British Medical Association has made a recommendation recently, he stated, and urged that immediate and similar steps be taken to reduce this form of mortality which still remains unusually high.

1919, that he had died in France. Pantola had arrived home safely a week before, and Mrs. Pantola so notified the War Department. She received one in statement of government insurance, which was returned.

the monument to the soldier dead in Prospect Park bore Pantola's name. A smaller neighborhood monument in Fletcher Square also had his name inscribed among those who lost their lives. The third monument bearing his name was unveiled in Freedom Square, Brooklyn Parkway and Myrtle avenue, Brooklyn, at ceremonies arranged by the Memorial Monument committee of the Nineteenth Assembly District.
The original error of reporting Pantola's death was the result of the destruction of an ambulance by a shell. Pantola, wounded, had been in the ambulance and his last cry over a soldier found dead where the ambulance had been. The body was identified as Pantola's and members of his company say that they have seen his name over a rescue near Cambrai.

RESCUES SAME GIRL FROM THE SEA TWICE

Life Guard Who Saved Miss Merritt in Florida Repeats Feat at Brighton Beach.
New York, June 1.—The sort of thing that couldn't be expected to happen twice, that might, indeed, be called as infrequent as the impact of a second bolt of lightning at the same spot, happened for the second time at Brighton Beach this week. Circumstances in which it might have been repeated at Brighton are not inconceivable, but to happen once at Miami and a second time at Brighton, with the very same girl—well, Captain Otto Ahrens, who is the hero of this story, is revising his tables of probability.
The girl was Miss Madge Merritt, 18 years old, of 2,068 Bedford avenue, Brooklyn. A courageous girl and something of a swimmer, though not as much so as her sister Victoria. So when they ignored that wide adage against rocking the boat and tried to change seats in a canoe three-quarters of a mile off shore from the Brighton Baths, and both were pitched into the water, it was Victoria who went to the rescue.
A crowd along the beach watched them and thought at first they were just frolicking. But when the upset canoe drifted away and a slim white arm began flashing distress signals that were becoming obviously feeble, Ahrens and his mate, Stanley Kinsney, both life-guarders, set out.
Victoria's hold on her sister loosed just as the two brawny men came breasting the surf. Kinsney grabbed Victoria. Ahrens's arms went around Madge just as the girl started bottom-ward.
Not until the two men with their burdens had reached shore and Ahrens got a good look at the wet face while the work of resuscitation was under way did he exclaim:
"Well! Same girl I pulled out at Miami last winter. Seems like a habit!"

That never-to-be-forgotten salad! Heinz Vinegar and Heinz Olive Oil joined forces to make it taste so good. That is where the surprisingly delicious flavor came from. MORE CHILDREN POORLY FED

Manitowish increases in Schools of Tenement District, Says Superintendent.
New York, June 1.—W. F. Johnson, superintendent of the school department of the Children's Aid Society, is authority for the statement that the number of children here suffering from malnutrition is on the increase, in spite of the best efforts of his organization in the eight schools and health centres maintained in the tenement districts.
Examination among these children reveals an alarming increase in the number of children who show signs of suffering from under-nourishment, insufficient or improper feeding, in other words.
"We are now furnishing," says Mr. Johnson, in Better Times, New York's welfare magazine, an average of 1,800 meals a day to children in our health centres, who are selected according to their degree of malnutrition. These children, in addition to this supplementary feeding, are given the best medical, dental and nursing supervision that we can procure. If, in spite of these efforts, they have not gained this past year, I hesitate to think of what the percentage of malnutrition must be today among the great body of under-privileged youngsters of the city."

THE BY-ELECTIONS.

Partisanship, not public interest, is behind the opposition to the Foster government in the by-elections. It is not choice between two policies. The opposition, which is continually changing its leader, has no policy. It does not vote for anything but opposition to the government. It is pledged to nothing at all. Any assurance it may give must be regarded in the light of its past performance. It would be of course, remarkable, if not unprecedented, if the Foster government had not in the course of its term disintegrated some people; at it has undoubtedly gained new support, as well as its progressive policies.

POWER AND THE FARM.

The Toronto Globe tells of a farmer in Ontario who installed an electric service and conveniences on his farm at a cost of about $2,000, with about $400 per year required for electric current, interest charge and depreciation, and who finds the investment profitable. Some results of the installation are a saving in wages in filling silos, the saving of the wages of a man and boy for milking, a reduction in domestic help and fuel cost, and less strain upon the body and mind of the farmer and his wife.

THE UNSEEN.

(By Henry S. Culver.) Beyond Bald Mountain and the hills the sun went down; The glory of it all was not the flaming heavens, Nor yet the gold fringed clouds banked softly against the sky; But in the soul of Him, who peering through the glow, Caught the eternal light that floods the universe, Unfathomed still by man's restricted mortal eye.

FEEDING HUNGRY NO SACRIFICE

Little Economizing in Canada Would Give Money Enough to Save Russian Children. If the people of the North American continent were to cut appreciably into their expenditure on unnecessary, as the Canadian Committee of the Save the Children Fund is likely to accept responsibility for. Some people may really skip themselves in making a contribution; but by far the greater part give only out of their abundance. Many have not even done that.

THEY HAVE NO POLICY.

The utter barrenness of opposition policy in provincial politics in New Brunswick is admitted by the Standard, which says: "For the present, however, the opposition party does not need to announce any policy, and will not have to do so until a general election comes round. The only policy the opposition can follow out as matters now stand, is to endeavor to prevent whenever possible a continuance of the present extravagance and waste of public money that is going on. Being in the minority it is not very much that they can do of course; but they can at least register their protest on behalf of the public against a condition of affairs which the public was promised should not be allowed to arise."

LIGHTER VEIN.

No Chance At All. "Well, you see, it was this way. The guide was wearing a fur coat, and the hunting party mistook him for a bear." "And they starved to death in the woods. You see, the rest of the party were carrying the provisions, and he never could catch up to them." The Difference. Inquiring Son—"Papa, what is reason?" Pond Parent—"Reason, my boy, is that other day by editorials from Republican newspapers criticizing the bill, had something to say about 'department store' influence, but the editorials were unanswered. Here is an interesting suggestion to the old 'ethical' politicians, and the department store has taken the place of the Cobden Club. It is highly probable that many Republican senators wish the bill had never been introduced or that, having been introduced, it could now be dropped."

"SANDWICH JURY" HAS APPEARED

Women Serving on Panel, While Deliberating on Verdict, Demand Light Lunch. San Francisco, June 1—A "sandwich jury" made its first appearance in this city. Time was when nothing less than a banquet was done for the "twelve men tried and true," who deliberated upon evidence and did their utmost to follow the court's instructions. But, women jurors, with their idea of household economies have brought about a change. Sandwiches and coffee are all that is needed to tide them over until a verdict is reached.

FOREST FIRES IN B. C.

Prince Rupert, B. C., June 1—Forest fires are still raging along a three mile strip on the Skeena River between Hazelton and Quesnel, according to reports this morning. Dry weather is continuing, and the situation is becoming serious on a mass of figures and shortly thereafter came into court with a verdict of $8,881.28 for the owners. CAPTURES BAIL JUMPER. Bondsman Who Put Up $2,500 a Year Ago Arrested the Fugitive. New York, June 1—"I want to surrender this man," said Thomas Carey of Hoboken, to the lieutenant on duty at the police station in Hoboken, when he brought in Edward McDermott, 38, a salesman of 102 Willow avenue, Hoboken. It had been looking for him about a year, and this afternoon learned that he was in Jersey City. I went there and got him and here he is now. I was his bondsman and I want to surrender him," added Carey.

5,000 IN CONEY SURF.

Twelve Lost Children Restored to Parents—Two Men Struck by Train. New York, June 1—Coney Island did a brisk business yesterday, more than 300,000 visited the resort, 5,000 of whom went bathing. Several "beeping" tourists were arrested at the foot of Thompson's Boardwalk. They were taken to Coney Island Police Station and charged with disorderly conduct. Twelve children got away from their mothers in the crowd and later claimed by their parents. A dinner was given to Peter Conkling, eighty-two years old, said to be the oldest man in the show business, in Luna Park. Tribute was paid to Conkling by the showmen on Coney Island in honor of his seventy-second year in the amusement line. Conkling is said to be the first clown engaged by the late P. T. Barnum. For the last fifteen years the honored guest has been at Luna Park, where he conducts the incubator exhibit.

THEY FITTED HIM.

Male Cinderella Made Happy by Gift of a Pair of No. 15EE's. New York, June 1—A local version of the Cinderella story was enacted recently with a hobnailed army boot, size 15EE, as the agent. Some time ago, one of the army stores received this pair of shoes in a shipment of hobnailed army shoes. They looked like the kind often heard of during the war, when numerous Southern negroes evaded the draft on account of their huge feet. The store manager, realizing that the shoes could not be sold, offered them to any one who could wear them—just like the prince did in the Cinderella story. After the notice had been running in a newspaper for several days, a local resident walked into the store, tried the shoes on and found them to fit perfectly. "They're yours," said the store manager. "Thanks," said the recipient as he proudly marched out.

SINGLE RAINY DAY CAUSES MUCH HAVOC

Occurs Rarely in Egypt, but it Does Things While it Lasts. Rain, luckily, is a rarity in Egypt, writes a "Briion in Egypt" to the London Daily Mail. In Cairo it falls, perhaps, on about ten days in the year. However, when rain does fall it is far too unpleasant a phenomenon to be compared with anything normal in European atmospheres. Twenty minutes' moderate rain will turn any Egyptian road into a Flanders quagmire, in which it is hard to find a foothold or to make a yard of progress. Vehicles slip and sink in deep ruts of black, oozy mud, and wallowing camels and mauling buffaloes churn the whole nauseous mess into the consistency of a batter pudding, in which the pedestrian will slip and slide well above his ankles. One official of my acquaintance in the provinces goes out in sea boots on the rare occasions when the sky is overcast.

Most embarrassing of minor inconveniences on such an occasion is the incapacity of the native 'tarboosh' to endure water. Its color promptly begins to 'run,' and beneath the countenance of the wearer with a mottling of vermilion. Handkerchiefs are promptly requisitioned to avert the damage, and their corners tucked between tarboosh and head, and the crowd, like a routed army in nightgowns, dashes into carriages, while the rain insistently converts muddy side streets into little imitations of the Nile.

ST. JOHN BOY BRUTALLY ASSAULTED BY POLICEMEN

Word has been received here that Louis W. Moore of this city, a Canadian subject and former member of the C. E. F., was brutally assaulted by three policemen recently in Washington, D. C. Mr. Moore, who is a student at the Bliss Electrical School in Washington, according to the story, was blackjacked and badly beaten by the three men because he expressed resentment that they refused to give a seat to a young lady in a crowded street car. A complaint has been lodged with the Washington police authorities and the District of Columbia authorities. The president of the electrical school has also brought the matter to the attention of the British embassy.

DYSPEPTIC DIET NO LONGER NECESSARY.

The old plan of prescribing strict diet for dyspeptics and stomach sufferers is no longer popular among progressive medical men partly because of its weakening effect but mostly because of the discovery that nearly all stomach trouble is due to excessive acidity. The organs of digestion are themselves all right but acids in the stomach irritate and inflame the delicate stomach lining and cause sourness and premature food fermentation. The logical treatment, therefore, is to get rid of the acid, when natural painless digestion will follow.

For this purpose a teaspoonful or four tablets of Bisulphate of Magnesia in a little water neutralizes the acid, stops the fermentation of the food, dispels the gas, thus permits the stomach to proceed its work without hindrance. Owing to its prompt and certain action Bisulphate of Magnesia, which is obtainable in any drugstore, in either tablet or liquid form, should always be used in preference to the other forms of magnesia, such as the milks, citrates, carbonates or oxides. Stomach sufferers are advised to try this plan for three weeks and note results.

CARELESS SHAMPOOING SPOILS THE HAIR.

If you want to keep your hair looking at its best, be careful what you wash it with. Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just plain Mulified coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and greasless), and is better than anything else you can use. Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulified in a cup or glass with a little warm water, is sufficient to cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulified coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. Be sure you get Mulified. Beware of imitations. Look for the name Watkins on the package.

Y. M. C. A. WORK IN PATNA, INDIA

Intensely Interesting Story of Two Calls to Service Where Need is Great.

Praser Road, Patna, India, March 22, 1922. Dear Friends,—Two weeks ago two great calls for service came to us. One morning his excellency the governor of this province came to our house and took Weber and me (Weber is our new physical director) down to Patna City in his motor. Patna City is a section of that fourteen-mile street, mentioned in my last letter, and is about seven miles from our house. The governor was an official in that part about twenty years ago and he has retained an affection for it. He showed us a public garden in which there is a large pond or tank in the centre. Near the tank there is a building which was designed to serve as a community club and library. It was handed over to a committee of citizens, and has reached a stage bordering on decay. A billiard table confronted us having only half a cloth, and that remnant completely discoloured and in rags. The table is symptomatic of the whole place, once useful, but now in ruins simply because nobody cared. On all sides we are told that there is no community life, the young men have no interest in athletics, the older ones have little interest in the community, and the whole place suffers from decay; and yet right at their very doors is a park which could be made into a beautiful recreation centre and a building designed for a club. The governor said: "If your association will take charge of this place, we will try to finance it for you."

"Our shastras (religious books) are wonderful and very beautiful, and yet our religion seems to lack any power to build character." We told him and his friend of the power of our Lord to make men pure, and promised to help through our general work. Whether Weber will find it wise to launch a sex education movement at present is questionable, but that call was for something far greater than any educational movement. It was a call from a religious man asking us to help the boys and men of his nation because the old religion of the land is powerless to save. Surely that week St. Paul's dream of the man of Macedonia was repeated to us twice. In one case the part of the man of Macedonia was taken by the English governor on behalf of fifty thousand people, and in the other he was represented by a religious teacher of the Hindus who called us to help win his people for purity. In my last letter I emphasized the need for friendship. We have now started on a campaign for friendship in earnest. Every Friday evening a group of first-year college students come to our house for games. After games, they come up to the verandah for tea. Some of the students are so orthodox that they will not eat with us. It is pathetic to see the way they try to explain that they do not intend to insult us by not eating with us. The fact is not in the food, but in their religion, and so we do not blame them. We are teaching the ladies to sing some of our western songs. They have never experienced the value of singing in a group and they rather like it, although our songs are new to them. It would do your hearts good to see the way they tinkle "Pack Up Your Troubles in Your Old Kit Bag, and 'Smile, Smile, Smile,' and they act the part as well. We can hardly estimate the effect this simple thing has on the lives of these boys. It is a simple beginning which I believe will lead to something big, but already we are touching the hearts of some of India's sons. An Indian justice heard of this group, and he said: "Do you mean to say that Behares (those of this province, Behar) can be so interested that they will come the second time?" Well, they do come back, so I suppose they are vitally interested. Our campaign for friendship is our response to India's Macedonian call. Do not forget us as we try to give India our best and try to awaken in her her own best, which only can be satisfied by friendship with our Master. Yours very sincerely, A. PERRY PARK, Canadian Student Secretary, Patna University.

other end of the city. I am not altogether keen to take on this responsibility so early in our time here, and I am not at all sure that we will be satisfied with things sufficiently to tackle the job; but nevertheless, there, within seven miles or our doors, is a community almost entirely lacking in any civic responsibility, its men without enthusiasm for anything, its boys and young men without sports, and its people generally staking into that state of decay which lack of energy and interest in things worth while ultimately brings. The religious character of the place must be terrible to admit of that. Yet a hundred years ago that section of Patna was a flourishing place, one of the brightest and best in India. That decay is a challenge and a call to us who have a message and a programme. The other call is still more important and striking. On Sunday evening, two Hindus came to see us. (Hindu is a religious term.) One of these men is a member of the provincial council or parliament and the other is a Hindu monk. Both are very orthodox, and yet they came to Weber and asked him, to lead in a sex education movement here because the boys and young men of this province are being led into impurity. The monk told us of conditions which we hardly believed to be possible and then said in a sad voice:

TUBERCULIN TESTING FOR CITIES AND TOWNS. A discussion which took place recently in the House of Commons revealed the ultimate consumer was in danger of getting contaminated food, interest was immediately aroused as to the methods employed in shipment. The farmer who finds pleasure in using his fowling piece in the killing of birds is not likely to discontinue the practice just because some persons ask him to desist for sentimental reasons. Sentiment is not to be ignored. There must be a judicious admixture of it. Sentiment will reach the child more quickly than any sanitary or economic ideas which may be advanced for being kind to animals, but the hard-headed farmer or the practical business man is more likely to listen to the latter reasoning. This, in brief, is the new line of procedure humanitarians are using in order to bring about a better condition and consideration for dumb creatures. It does not arrive at the goal in quite so altruistic a manner, but the end sought probably will sooner be reached.

fact that the cities and towns of Canada do not take advantage, to the extent they should or might do, of the opportunity offered by the Dominion Department of Agriculture, to have the herds supplying milk or cream tested for tuberculosis by officials of the Health of Animals Branch. By order-in-council passed in April, 1917, it is provided that, on application to the veterinary director-general, any city or town can secure this service on condition that the dairies supplying the milk or cream are licensed and conform to the standard. It is further understood that, two years after the first test, the sale of unpasteurized milk or cream in the applying city or town shall be prohibited unless the veterinary inspector can certify that the dairy herds contain no reactors and are free from tuberculosis. These conditions being agreed to, an inspector or inspectors will be sent to test all the cows furnishing milk and cream to the city or town concerned.

SPRIT OF UNITY AMONG CHURCHES

(Montreal Gazette.)
Five Anglican and five Presbyterian clergymen have presented a request to the Bishop of Montreal and the Montreal Presbytery which may have far-reaching effect in matters of Church Union. The personnel of the ten clergymen is noteworthy, embracing as it does divines who have charge of the largest and most influential congregations in the city of Montreal, men who have distinguished academic careers, and of whom are well known for their erudition. There is much pessimism, even sadness, in some quarters relative to the proposed amalgamation of union. The bishops themselves at the Lambeth Conference issued an appeal for unity, by which under due safeguards a mutual and reciprocal arrangement might be effected. The joint manifesto now entered into by the leading clergymen of the two communions is a further step in the general scheme for reciprocity. This document is more than a formal appeal and is in reality a cordial and honest suggestion made in a sympathetic atmosphere. The reunion of the church schemes has now been under way for some twelve months, yet practically nothing substantial has been achieved. The sad thing noticeable prior to the present noteworthy advance was a lack of willingness on the part of any church to change in any respect or even moderate, an attitude more suited to the circumstances of past centuries than to the present needs of the modern world and the responsibility of Christian churches towards that need.

The question, "How far can we advance towards reunion?" has been replaced to an extent in some quarters by, "How can we best preserve our identity?" There is the natural and some what inherent conservatism of churches by a kind of caution which sometimes comes nearer to a suspicion. The Church is suffering from a certain mental sluggishness and disinclination to hard thinking which may be one of the reasons from the way. The step taken by the ten prominent divines augurs well for future success, and is a set-off against the dead-weight of inertia which must be faced sooner or later when the definite scheme for reunion is promulgated. But doubting Thomases need not despair of the future. Churchmen and the ministers of Free Churches must think out the correct kind of unity desirable and give the necessary lead. If it is to be a mere mechanical unity, a sort of federation linking up the churches to a certain point, but leaving each practically as it is, no progress will be accomplished. If the unity aimed at is in the nature of a large family circle, as it were, linked with the past and yet capable of development so as to bring within its boundaries all the main types of Christian faith and doctrine, then it will be welcomed. Hopelessness rather than progress will be the result if sincerely and Christian charity do not at all times supervene. A spirit of unity among the churches would help better relationships between the nations. The world lacks the spirit of peace and good-will mostly, and it is desirable to inculcate these aims in so far as practicable. The spirit and the tenor of the request now emanating from the ten leading clergymen of the Anglican and Presbyterian churches may be described as a "creeping tide" which may eventually develop into something corporate. The appeal has aroused widespread attention, and it is hoped will have the effect of drawing the hearts of men together and opening their eyes to the urgent needs of the times.

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP OF ONTARIO HYDRO

(Ottawa Journal)
When the Hydro-Electric system was organized in Ontario co-operation among municipalities was a thing unknown. The Municipal Act had established each community with complete rights of self-government within its own borders, on the general understanding that the money of the taxpayers was to be expended in the municipality which they were to be taxed. At the suggestion that the municipalities might combine to secure power from Niagara Falls, two lions suddenly appeared in the way; the rivalry of neighboring communities which might make agreement difficult, and the objection of ratepayers to outside investments.

The plan of co-operative municipal legislation was a complete novelty, and as such was presented to Western Ontario, where conversation of thought had long been a rule of faith and practice. A long campaign of education was necessary, and far-seeing municipal representatives from a half-dozen of the important towns and cities of the district gave freely their time and energy and money to convince the electorate that the project was practical as well as desirable.

Twelve municipalities "took a chance." They made contracts with the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario to take power exclusively from the Commission and undertook to meet all the requirements exacted; that is to say, they agreed to contract actual distribution plants and to accept the judgment of the Commission's engineers as to their adequacy. They agreed also to accept the rate schedules established by the Commission and to surrender their accounts, and to appropriate the revenues from year to year in accordance with the requirements of the status and the regulations of the Commission. Each municipality became responsible only for the actual cost of generating, transforming and transmitting the energy it required. Thus the underlying principle of the Municipal Act was not controverted. The revenue of the local system was to be used for the welfare of that one town could not be used to extinguish the deficit of another. Each community stood on its own legs. The Commission representing all co-operating municipalities administered the gathering, transforming and transmitting of power, collected the cost in the sale of delivered power.

From the beginning these twelve municipalities had a marked success. Business increased rapidly. Surplus funds accumulated, and it was necessary from time to time to reduce the rates. Between 1912 and 1919, which included the war period, the average kilowatt-hour rate over the twelve communities was cut from 6.22 to 3.52, and still the revenues exceeded the annual outlay.

One of the twelve was St. Thomas. At the end of 1921 according to the financial figures recently published the St. Thomas System had a Surplus and Reserve Account of $300,231.69, while its balance of liability is only $111,425.48. The average kilowatt-hour rate in St. Thomas is for domestic lighting 2.22, for commercial lighting 2.19; and yet last year there was a net surplus on operation of $16,609.13.

RESULTS WITH CREOSOTE

Makes Cheaper Woods Available for Fence Posts.
It was stated this week at the Forest Products Laboratories of Canada that a series of experiments had just been successfully concluded with a view to demonstrating the possibility of using cheaper woods for fence posts instead of cedar, by a process of creosoting, similar to that used for the preservation of railway ties. For years past, it was stated, the belief had been general that the only timber that would give a reasonable life for fence posts was cedar, which was becoming both scarce and expensive.

The experiments made with creosoting had shown that by a comparatively simple process it was possible to treat fence posts of certain hardwoods in such a way that they would have a life at least twice as long as ordinary cedar posts.

In carrying out these experiments fences were erected at the Forest Products Laboratory at Indian Head in 1917, with posts of Russian poplar, both creosoted and untreated. The result of this experiment was that all the untreated posts had decayed and been removed, while the creosoted posts were all still in service and apparently as sound as the day they were put in service. Reports to this effect were sent out by the Forest Products Laboratories.

For egg production of all kinds of poultry, not including pigeons, a value of $842,20,000 is estimated for 1921; $765,000,000 for 1920 and $683,000,000 for 1919. In 1921 the average price of chicken eggs throughout the entire United States was 29.3 cents per dozen; in 1920 it was 44.4 cents, and in 1919 it was forty-one cents.

The 1921 value of all poultry raised on farms in the United States was a drop from $456,000,000 in 1920 and from $417,000,000 in 1919. The decline in value from 1920 to 1921 was due to the fall in price per fowl, and the increase in value from 1919 to 1920 was due to large production and an advance in average prices. The average value per chicken raised in 1919 was $1.6 cents; in 1920 it was 86.5 cents, and in 1921 it was seventy-one cents.

The total value of poultry raised in 1921 is made up as follows: Chickens, $371,500,000; turkeys, $12,900,000; geese, $7,000,000; ducks, $4,900,000; guinea fowls, $1,900,000; pigeons, $1,400,000. The estimated value of chicken eggs in 1921 was $339,000,000; in 1920 it was $760,000,000, and in 1919 it was $679,000,000.

HAD FINEST YEAR IN THEIR HISTORY

Swedish Cooperative Societies
Prospered While Merchants
Lost Money.

Stockholm, May 8.—(By Mail)—Swedish co-operative societies flourished last year as they have never done within the history of the Co-operative Union of Sweden, which was founded in 1890, says the annual report of that organization just issued.

In the same period Swedish business, commerce and industry suffered heavy losses or at the best showed small profits. Whether the co-operatives succeeded in spite of the worldwide depression or because of it is hard to say, but the fact remains that the dismal year of 1921 was for them a banner year.

Sweden at present has about 1,000 co-operative stores, besides many varieties of other ventures such as co-operative dwellings and building associations, purchasing societies, large number of co-operative dairies, farmers' societies, seventy egg-selling organizations, cattle breeding societies and fruit and vegetable growers co-operatives.

Last year's report shows that a net surplus of about $126,000 has been made by these non-profit making societies, while the cash on hand has increased from $1,200,000 to $1,800,000.

Deposits with different branches of co-operative unions, which conduct limit savings bank activities, increased to the equivalent of $3,000,000, representing small savings of co-operative society members.

The central union has started its own producing plants in several places. The report states that members of the co-operative societies are enabled to purchase practically all necessities at the lowest prices obtainable, as well as sell their products on most favorable terms through their own joint organizations.

The greatest number of co-operative enterprises, the report shows, are to be found in the big industrial centers, where the bulk of membership is drawn from the ranks of workmen and their families.

KILLED BY DRINK IN DARK.

Express Employee by Mistake Uses Bottle Containing Lysol.

James Gleason, thirty-five years old, of 4719 Fifth avenue, Brooklyn, an employe of the American Railway Express Company, died in the Methodist Episcopal Hospital of accidental poisoning, Gleason, accompanied by his five-year-old son, went into a stable at 790 Union street, where he had formerly been employed, and filled a bottle which contained a small quantity of Lysol, with water from a faucet in a dark closet. He drank most of the contents and then of a drink to his son, who complained that the drink burnt his mouth.

Gleason collapsed in the street immediately afterwards and, with his son, was taken to the hospital. He died four hours later. The child, who apparently swallowed only a very small quantity of the diluted poison, will recover.

ST. JOHN NATIVE IS FOUND DEAD

Upton, Mass., May 31.—William Thomas Turner, a farmer employed many years by William Knowlton & Sons, was found dead in a pasture on Monday after he had gone out to milk the cows. He was found by other farm hands. Death was due to heart disease, the medical examiner said. Turner was born in St. John (N. B.) Jan. 17, 1860, son of John and Belle (Baile) Turner. He leaves a wife and a son, Robert, both of this town.

HAULS IN GERMAN FLAG WHILE CROWD JEERS

Brooklyn Resident's Display of Emblem Beside American Flag Almost Causes a Riot.

Brooklyn, June 1.—Fritz Knorr of 611 Glasgow avenue, Brooklyn, nearly caused riot in front of his home when he hung an American flag and a German flag on the same pole extending from the roof over the street. As the pole was short, he hung them side by side, so that it appeared to be an American flag on one side and a German flag on the other.

Knorr then went for a walk. Soon a crowd gathered and yelled for the German flag to be taken down. Nobody in the house paid any attention to the crowd below until somebody telephoned to the Grand Avenue station and Knorr found a patrolman at the house when he returned from his walk. Knorr protested seriously that it was all right because he had hung the American flag on the right side. There was a peace celebration at the Thirtieth Regiment Armory by the German singing societies and he wanted to help make the occasion a notable one. But the patrolman told him that regulations forbade crowding the American flag in any such manner, and Knorr finally took the German flag from the pole and tied it to the chimney.

Rev. J. A. Corey, Holy Station, N. B., is chairman of the obituary committee of the N. B. Southern Association. He would like pastors and church clerks to send him the names and necessary information regarding members of church who have passed away during the last association year.

After a pastorate of nearly six years with the Clementsport, Smith's Cove, Deep Brook group of churches, Rev. Abner M. McIninch, has resigned to accept a call to Springhill, N. S., beginning on June 10.

Rev. Abner Perry, who retired from the pastorate of the Penobscot group of churches last autumn, spent the winter months at Havelock, where he supplied the church made vacant by the removal of Rev. W. U. Hatfield to McAdam Junction. He has now located at Pettitville, where he is making his home. Mr. Perry is one of our older ministers who has done excellent service in various pastorates.

Rev. A. Gibson of Annapolis Royal, N. S., has been granted two months' vacation by the churches which he serves, and is to leave Annapolis on June 1, to spend this time in visiting his father and friends in Scotland, the land of his birth, which he left some sixteen years ago. He expects to sail from Scotland on the return trip about July 14. During his absence, the young people's lessons will be contributed by Rev. C. A. Britten of Dorchester.

ZULUS PUNISH FLIRTS WITH DEATH PENALTY

Olaf Linck, Explorer, Tells of Native Customs—Has Spear That Killed Prince Napoleon.

Flirts are not tolerated in Zululand on the east coast of Africa, according to Olaf Linck, Danish author and explorer, who arrived in New York recently on the S. S. United States of the Scandinavian-American line. He had just returned after a year spent among the natives and expected to remain in the U. S. four months, speaking before scientific and travel societies, he said.

Mr. Linck said the Zulus usually killed men when they made advances to married women. The status of women had greatly improved, the explorer found. The high cost of living had had the effect of limiting the practice of polygamy to the extremely rich. In former years, Mr. Linck explained, a man could purchase a wife for eight oxen, but now the price had gone up to almost twice that number of animals. Parents were adopting the expedient of disposing of their marriageable daughters on the installment plan, the terms generally being two oxen down and the remaining at fixed intervals. When asked what happened to a husband who defaulted on his payments, the explorer explained that there was a law which provided for his going to work in the service of his father-in-law until the value was covered.

Linck exhibited a spear, which he affirmed was the one used in killing Prince Napoleon, son of Napoleon III, in 1879, during an outbreak between the Zulus and the French. He said the spear, a curiously inscribed weapon, had been presented to him by the natives as a token of their esteem.

PROUD OF BRITISH

Le Patrie: "Canada has every reason to be proud of the British institutions which have allowed the country to develop peacefully and orderly, to develop and prosper, and which guarantee to each nationality its rights and liberty. Under the glorious reign of Victoria the Good, whose name will live through the centuries, the Empire to which we have the happiness to belong has become one of the most powerful in the world. Thanks to the protection of the British flag of our country made marvellous advance which, after the reign of Victoria, was continued under Edward VII., and promises further extension under George V. Future prospects are bright. It is the duty of citizens, without distinction of race and religion, to march forward hand in hand united in our efforts to attain the brilliant destiny reserved for us. May a patriotism at once sincere and enlightened be our inspiration and guide!"

VISITED NEWFOUNDLAND

F. G. J. Knowlton returned home this week after a visit to St. John's, Conception Bay and other points in Newfoundland, and to Sydney, Pictou, New Glasgow and Charlottetown. Mr. Knowlton went away on May 17, and spent five days in Newfoundland. He was greatly impressed by the wonderfully picturesque scenery of the island, and its great natural resources. He found business there not greatly different from conditions on the mainland. There is a general tendency to economize and meet the situation in a sane and courageous way. While in Charlottetown Mr. Knowlton visited the legislative building and saw in the room where the delegates to consider confederation met the bronze tablet showing in relief the features of Sir John Macdonald, Sir Leonard Tilley, Sir Charles Tupper and other members of the famous conference preceding the formation of the Dominion.

RAY CHISHOLM AND OTHERS IN A BOUT TONIGHT

Halifax, N. S., June 1—George P. Field of Toronto, American 126 pound amateur champion, and Roy Chisholm of Halifax, maritime province title holder, will stage the feature event in a boxing programme here tonight.

The two were to have met in the finals of the American championships at Boston, but Chisholm had to withdraw because of injuries received in an earlier bout.

BEGINNING OF NEW RELATIONS

Halifax and St. John to March Shoulder to Shoulder—A Great Conference.

George E. Barbour, speaking for himself and his fellow Board of Trade delegates, W. F. Burditt, M. E. Agar and L. W. Simms, said to The Times this morning that words could not adequately describe the impression made upon their minds by the welcome, the sympathy and the spirit of co-operation manifested by Halifax businessmen and all citizens whom they met while in that city.

Mr. Barbour said that the fact that the St. John men had gone there to endeavor to get unity of effort and action between the two cities created an atmosphere so cordial as to make the visit a continuous pleasure as well as a great success from the standpoint of real co-operation.

Aside from business, there was much entertainment, so spontaneous and so generally shared in by Halifax people as to impress most deeply as well as delight the visitors. Lieut-Gov. Grant, Mayor Murphy and others in official position took special pains to extend every courtesy.

C. F. Pearson, whose address before the St. John Board some time ago struck the keynote of maritime co-operation, gave up his whole time to the conference, and President Stairs and members of the Halifax Board of Trade displayed a spirit of comradeship which exceeded all expectations. The thing that impressed Mr. Barbour and his colleagues more than any discussion of a given subject was the manifest desire of the Halifax people to realize the spirit of unity and make it fruitful for maritime progress. The greatest thing accomplished was the profound conviction which grew throughout the conference that this was but the beginning of a new era in which Halifax and St. John would march shoulder to shoulder to achieve objects of prime importance to the development of the maritime provinces.

TAGGERS BEING WELL RECEIVED

Generous Response in Funds for Hilton Belyea's Expenses Reported.

The tagging of the Hilton Belyea fund seems to have met with a generous response from the people of the city. Many of those in charge of districts sent in headquarter letters for extra supplies of tags. The West Side, as could be expected, turned in the most favorable reports for the morning but from all parts of the city the workers seemed to be receiving good contributions and to be optimistic and enthusiastic about the chances for raising a good sum to help defray Hilton's expenses on his Philadelphia trip and on his trip across the Atlantic, if he goes to the English Henley. The neat white and blue tag with the Olympic rings and the name of the World's Championship, 1922, took very well with the people generally who felt in reading this that the personally were interested in the success of the taggers' endeavor.

The tagging is under the auspices of the local council of women under the general sponsorship of Mrs. R. J. Hooper, assisted by Mrs. E. Young, convener of tags, and Miss Alice K. Eatey, convener of banks. The only change in the staff of taggers from the list published previously is for Main street from Douglas avenue to Indianrow which is in charge of the North End branch of the Catholic Women's League under the leadership of Miss M. H. McCloskey and Mrs. F. Fitzgerald. Mrs. G. Wilford Campbell, who was to have taken charge of this part of the city, is out of town and therefore unable to serve.

Very few of the banks had been turned in noon and the counting of the money was not commenced until three o'clock this afternoon so that no estimate of the amount received could be made but those at headquarters seemed confident that a large sum would be realized.

THESE IMMIGRANTS WERE UNDESIRABLE

Cost Uncle Sam $2,000,000 a Year — Plant Pests from Europe and Asia.

(Bangor Commercial) A better understanding of the need of safeguarding the country's major agricultural crops against possible introduction of destructive pests and diseases is among the important results of the plant quarantine conference called by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace at Washington, D. C., May 15-16.

The quarantine, it was pointed out, recognizes the fact that any importation of plants is attended with a risk of bringing in new enemies. Conservative estimates place the annual loss to American agriculture from imported pests at about $2,000,000,000, not including the destruction done by imported plant diseases. Some of the worst pests have come in with very insignificant shipments. A single trivial importation of Japanese iris brought in the Japanese beetle, it is acknowledged that this little insect can not be exterminated, that it will continue to spread over the country and that it will be the cause of much injury to our crops.

The San Jose scale was brought in some 40 years ago with some Chinese flowering peaches. It now costs America at least $10,000,000 a year for spraying orchards and in reduced output and value of fruit crops.

Citrus canker, introduced with Japanese trifoliate orange stock some 13 years ago, has cost about $2,100,000 of federal and state funds for control work. Orchards and nurseries valued at $11,000,000 were burned to the ground in Florida and other Gulf States in an effort to control the disease.

A few Japanese flowering cherry trees brought in the Oriental fruit worm in 1911. It is now firmly established in half a dozen eastern states and is expected ultimately to spread to all parts of the country, causing a continual annual charge to fruit production of millions of dollars.

From Germany came the pine blister rust in an importation of seedlings of American white pine. The disease now threatens to wipe out our white pine forests. The present stand is valued at $60,000,000 and the destruction has just begun.

One of the most spectacular scourges is the chestnut blight, brought in on a trivial shipment of Oriental chestnut trees. Half of the American stand of chestnuts has succumbed thus far and the prediction is made that by 1940 it will wipe out all trees east of the Mississippi. New York and Pennsylvania suffered total destruction. The disease is now spreading down the Appalachian Mountains as far as North Carolina and Alabama, and westward into West Virginia. The present stand of chestnuts is 19.3 billion board feet, valued at $38,000,000.

The well-known boll weevil is now here to stay. Its annual board bill is estimated at $200,000,000, with no prospect of a reduction. The other great enemy of cotton, the pink bollworm, was introduced from Mexico in 1916. Thus far congress has appropriated about $2,500,000 for control work. Fifteen years ago, the insect appeared in Egypt. From there it has spread to every cotton-producing country in the world.

Another imported pest is the potato wart, now restricted to parts of Pennsylvania, Maryland and West Virginia. Wherever it appears, though, it causes total loss. The alfalfa weevil is also a foreign lodger brought in with soil about the roots of imported plants. It is now largely reducing the output of alfalfa in half a dozen states in the middle west. A very unnecessary shipment from Holland of blue spruce, a native American tree, established the gypsy moth widely in New Jersey. The brown-tail moth came in roses probably from Holland or France.

There are a few of the many undesirable immigrants that the American farmer must border and lodge forever. What the United States wants to do now, if it can, is shut the door to their brothers and their sisters and their cousins and their aunts.

TO ENCOURAGE BRITISH GOODS

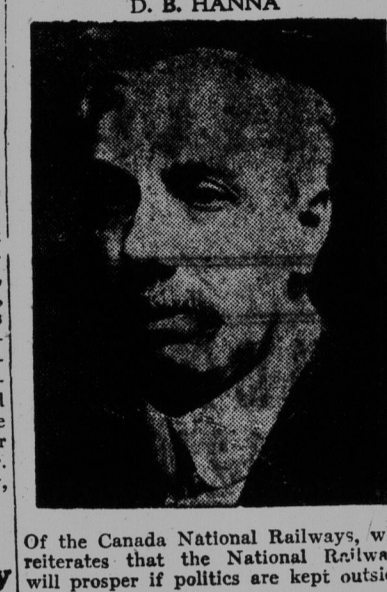

(Toronto Globe.)

Mr. Fielding is endeavoring by still further reducing the duty on imports from Britain to induce British manufacturers to produce the kind of things we in Canada want. Take tools as an example. Mr. Fielding has reduced the duty on all sorts of hand tools to 15 per cent, when imported from Britain, as compared with 30 per cent, when imported from the United States. If the British toolmaker really wants to compete, the way is wide open. He now has the advantage of entry into the Canadian market at half the rate of duty levied against the products of his American competitor.

The British preference has been materially increased on many other articles that bulk heavily in our imports. The duty on wrought or seamless iron or steel tubing not over ten inches in diameter is now 15 per cent, from Britain and 30 per cent, from the United States. In the eleven months of the fiscal year 1922 to February 28 we imported only $4,034 of this piping, largely used in plumbing, from Britain, and to the value of $392,784 from the United States. The business should be worth the consideration of British makers of tubing now that a 50 per cent preference has been given. Perhaps the most promising field for the British manufacturer is that of cotton textiles. Our imports of cotton prints during the eleven months of the fiscal year ending February 28 were valued at $1,054,047 from Britain and $1,891,400 from the United States. The tariff was 25 per cent, on goods from Britain and 32½ per cent, on goods from the United States. Now the rate from Britain is 22½, while that on goods from the United States is still 32½. In grey cottons, of which our own Canadian mills make most of our requirements, the imports from Britain and the United States totalled about $603,000 each in the eleven months under review, the duty being 15 per cent, against British grey cotton and 25 against American. Now the British manufacturer can send in grey cottons by paying 12½ per cent, duty, exactly half that levied upon similar goods from the United States. In the making of cotton blankets the British and American manufacturers have been dividing fairly equally a business of about $600,000 yearly on a duty of 25 and 35 per cent, respectively. Now the rate will be 22½ and 35. This should give the British makers the bulk of the business. In knitted goods, with dities on British goods of 20 per cent, and on American 35 per cent; rubber clothing, 20 and 35; boots and shoes, 17½ and 30; collars and cuffs, 20 and 37½; book papers, not coated, for the use of publishers, 12½ and 25; flannels, 20 and 35, and cocoa and chocolate preparations, which pay a specific duty of 1½ cents per pound and 20 and 35 per cent, respectively on British and American products, the preference is now so substantial that the British manufacturer should be able to secure the lion's share of the business, leaving for the eagle rather meagre pickings. But that, as Mr. Fielding points out in his urbane way, is the eagle's own affair.

HIT 35-FOOT SHARK.

Another Strange Tale of the Sea From South America.

New York, May 31.—The United States Shipping Board vessel American Legion, operated by the Munson Line, arrived Monday from South American ports with a strange tale of the sea.

About two o'clock on the morning of May 21, while the ship was near the Ecuador, the men on duty were startled to feel a jolt as though the ship had struck something. Nothing was visible at the bow and the ship seemed to ride easily. Later it was seen that the vessel's speed was somewhat diminished and wonderment grew. When morning dawned one of the officers looked over the rail close up to the bow and made out what seemed to be the carcass of a huge fish. The ship was stopped and it was found that the bow had struck a thirty-five-foot shark, whose mutilated carcass, half cut in two, still clung to the ship. It was only after considerable reversing and churning

The record of the Foster administration since assuming office was placed before a strongly enthusiastic and representative meeting in the Temperance hall, Fairville, last evening, when A. F. Bentley, Liberal candidate in the by-election of June 10; Hon. Dr. W. F. Roberts, minister of public health; Dr. L. M. Curran, M. P., and Councillor John T. O'Brien delivered soundly reasoned addresses, which aroused vociferous applause and again as the speakers responded to the petty criticisms brought against the government by the opposition. Hon. Clifford W. Robinson, minister of lands and mines, was to have addressed the meeting, but he sent word that he was reluctantly forced to cancel the engagement on the advice of his physician.

The comparison made by all the speakers of the disastrous results attained under the late government's handling of the provincial affairs and the beneficial effects conferred on the province by the enlightened and progressive policies introduced and carried out by the Foster government showed all present the need of strengthening the present government's hands by electing Mr. Bentley. This was attested to frequently by the large number present, who gave hearty approval of the points scored in the speeches, which lasted until a late hour.

Mr. Bentley made a fine impression and Dr. Curran's masterful exposition of the present financial standing of the province and his critical analysis of the records of the last two governments were warmly received. Hon. Dr. Roberts handled the opponents of the public health act without gloves and upbraided these critics for paying party politics with a matter affecting the life of the people of the province. The minister aroused considerable amusement when referring to the opposition candidate, Dr. J. H. Barton, he urged all who had any regard for Dr. Barton to see to it that on June 10 he be allowed to continue practicing his profession and not benchmark his fine record by mixing with the present-day leaders of the Conservative party.

Councillor O'Brien, who acted as chairman of the meeting, suggested that Mr. Bentley's election should have been made unanimous in return for the compliment paid Dr. Baxter in 1918. He said he was considerably surprised at the action of the Conservatives in nominating a candidilliance shown in increasing and collecting the provincial revenue. That was a matter for pride, he asserted. "Yes, but look what they spend," was the cry of the opposition, and they waited about the province going bankrupt. "Well, to answer this cry about bankruptcy, I would say that only a few days ago I noticed that New Brunswick bonds sold at a higher price than the bonds of any other province of this dominion, with one exception. Does that look as though we are going bankrupt? Why, the big financial corporations declare our bonds are gilt-edged," he asserted.

He, too, praised Dr. Roberts' work in connection with the health act. The Canadian Association of Public Health thought so well of Dr. Roberts' work that they elected him president last year at Toronto," he said, amid loud applause. He asserted that in years to come, men would rise up and call Dr. Roberts' name blessed for establishing this department. He declared it was time for a re-adjustment of the claims of this province from the federal government and concluded by asking their support at the polls on June 10.

Hon. Dr. Roberts:

In a fighting speech, Hon. Dr. Roberts made a slashing indictment of the critics of his department who were playing partisan politics. It was too serious a matter to be made a political football, he asserted, and his strong defence of his department was punctuated frequently by waves of loud applause. He impressed his audience deeply as he unfolded the protective measures adopted to conserve the lives of children in the province.

In beginning his speech, Dr. Roberts complimented the judges present for turning out. "The future of clean political life rests largely in their hands," he asserted.

He went on to deal with the Foster administration. "This government is a government of words—not words, (applause.) It is a government of business and progress and not one of unparadiseable investigations. We have a leader we are proud to follow. I refer to Premier Foster." (Loud applause.)

Turning to the opposition, he said they had four leaders in as many years and the last one was no leader in a legal sense. He has not yet found the key to admit him to the legislative halls at Fredericton," he said, amid laughter. "This leader, whose name I believe is Mr. Palmer, I am told is of the old school that produced the Murray-Fleming-Baxter-Baxter-Baxter school examination." (Loud applause.)

The Conservatives had a chance to select a man who had no political sins to answer for in the person of C. D. Richards, M. P., but for certain reasons he was not wanted. "And now, I read they are looking to Ottawa for a new leader in the person of George B. Jones," he said, laughing. "In the words of our barber friend, 'Next.'" (Laughter.)

He touched briefly on the various departments of the government and spoke particularly of his own department, that of public health, and was proud to say that New Brunswick was the first in the whole world to give free to the rural population public health and manual school examination. (Loud applause.)

And in doing this, he said, they were meeting with the greatest criticism. His critics talked about fat salaries and one Conservative had declared he saw a vital statistic collector going around smoking "twenty-five cent cigars." "Well, if he was doing that, all I can say is that he can buy several with the $25 a year he receives from my department. That is all," said the minister, amid laughter. Other officials doing real work were getting very sore, he added.

Hon. Dr. Roberts concluded by expressing his regret that Hon. Mr. Robinson was unavoidably absent, and when he resumed his seat, he did so amid sustained applause.

Councillor O'Brien:

Councillor O'Brien said he had been billed to speak but, as the hour was late, he would not detain them long. He expressed surprise that the same consideration had not been extended to Mr. Bentley as was accorded Dr. Baxter in 1918. He said that he was returned unopposed. He could see no valid reason for opposition at this time. Given if Dr. Barton were elected, he would be forced by party ties to oppose Dr. Curran. He asked what good Dr. Barton would do the country sitting in the shade of opposition. He answered by asserting emphatically that Dr. Barton would do no good. He discussed briefly several pieces of legislation affecting the county that had been passed at the last session and closed by expressing confidence in the ultimate result on June 10.

The meeting then closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

Mr. Advertiser:

Think for a minute about St. John and Ottawa, in connection with newspapers and advertising.

The population of Ottawa (according to Might's Directory) is 143,402.

The population of St. John according to the last census is 47,166 or, counting close suburban territory, say 55,000 to 60,000.

The Ottawa Journal, morning and evening, has a combined circulation of 27,717.

The Ottawa Citizen, morning and evening, has a combined circulation of 29,460.

The Ottawa Journal and Citizen have the A. B. C. audit, which is accepted as the standard authority on circulation by all the agencies and leading advertisers in Canada and the United States.

The Telegraph and Times (A. B. C. audit) for the six months ended March 31, 1922 had a combined net paid circulation of 30,461.

Mr. Advertiser: Does not this strike you as a significant comparison?

The Telegraph and Times cover the city of St. John and the province of New Brunswick like a blanket, from the advertising standpoint.

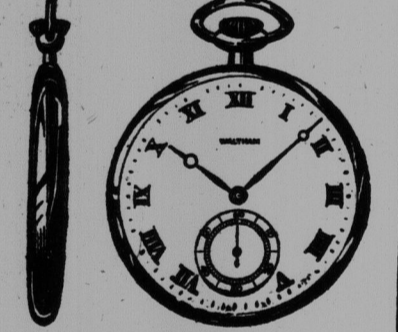

Their circle of readers exceeds 100,000 people; practically all the live buyers not only in New Brunswick, but as far east as Amherst and including the Nova Scotia counties across the Bay of Fundy.

Please note that The Telegraph and Times are the only A. B. C. papers in New Brunswick. It is suggested to you that the Ottawa and St. John figures given above are worthy of a little study and productive of a little thought.

Advertising is the life blood of business. Circulation, particularly when it is well distributed among every class of buyers, gives advertising the pulling power that keeps the cash register and selling force busy. Advertising is a productive investment. It cuts your overhead by swelling your total sales.

are growing in number each year and the cars they drive are Fords.

Simplicity of operation and the ease with which service can be obtained appeal to women—but a greater appeal lies in the fact that the car is hundreds of dollars lower in price than any other.

This saving in price placed in a bank account or a payment on a new home means more to a woman than a car with unnecessary equipment, power and size.

It is a year for common-sense buying—that means Fords.

CAPTURES 2 AFTER A 90-MILE SPURT

Motorcycle Trooper, Racing Alleged Robbers, Makes 12 Miles in 8 Minutes.

Hammon, N. J., May 31—Riding his motorcycle at ninety miles an hour down the White Horse Pike and drawing his revolver just as two alleged bandits in a fast motor car were about to enter a stream of traffic which would have made their apprehension difficult, Trooper Peggy O'Neill captured two men believed to have been among four bandits who the previous night held up and robbed Frank Graf, a garage keeper at Pomona, about fifteen miles below Hammon.

The rear of the car in which the two men were captured, after a twelve-mile run from Egg Harbor to Absecon in eight minutes, was riddled with shot. This clue led to the capture.

Just after the four men started their car away from Graf's garage, his wife, Margaret, fifty-six, fired both barrels of a shotgun from the second story of the Graf home. She feels that she not only marked the car but also hit two of the occupants.

The men arrested, both of whom Trooper O'Neill relieved of loaded revolvers, gave their names as Harry Richardson, twenty-three, of Ardmore, Pa., and Albert K. Watkins, twenty-six, who stated he was on an eight-day furlough from the Marine Barracks at Quantico, Va.

Both were committed to Mays Landing Jail without bail. The men stopped at an Egg Harbor garage. The proprietor noticed bullet holes in the rear of their car. Trooper O'Neill was notified. Then began a race for Atlantic City.

Sunday, June 11, will be Apple Blossom Sunday in the Annapolis Valley, but the warm weather has brought the little buds out so rapidly that it is expected the blossom bloom will be about at its best by the middle of next week.

Halifax Trade Conference on Closing Day Adopts Comprehensive Resolution Favored by G. E. Barbour—Demand For Distinctive Immigration Policy.

Halifax, May 31.—The joint committee of the Halifax and St. John boards of trade, which has been discussing ways and means of increasing the operation of the promotion of the economic and other interests of these provinces, concluded today its sessions in the historic legislative building, where years ago Joseph Howe raised his voice for maritime union, and adjourned with the understanding that the joint committee would hold its commission until the results of its deliberations have been created by the maritime provincial governments and the maritime boards of trade, or until some other body has been created to carry out the programme which it has envisaged.

The intensive development of the natural resources of the maritime provinces, the inauguration of a distinctive immigration policy, the encouragement of tourist travel to the provinces by the sea, a proposal to make the year 1924 an old home week year, an appeal by G. Fred Pearson for business organization to give more attention to the problems of public health and aid in the conservation of life by the eradication of preventable diseases, proposals of G. E. Barbour, St. John, and W. B. McCoy, Halifax, secretary of immigration and industries for Nova Scotia, to urge the encouragement of selected immigrants from British and the Scandinavian countries who would help in developing farming, dairying, orcharding and cattle-raising in the maritime provinces, and the suggestion of the St. John board of trade for the purpose and closer cooperation of the Dominion Immigration Department in the solution of the special immigration problems of the

CUPS PRESENTED TO ASSUMPTION MEN AT LARGE BANQUET

Trophies Emblematic of Inter-Society Debating Championship and of Pool Championship Won by One-Year-Old Men's Society of the Church of the Assumption.

The victorious teams representative of the Men's Society of the Church of the Assumption, as well as those who opposed them in the contests, were feted last evening at a banquet given in their honor by the society in St. Patrick's hall. The occasion was a thoroughly delightful one, both by reason of the excellence of the banquet itself and of the merit of the address that were made by the several speakers.

The handsome cup emblematic of the championship of the Inter-Society Debating League was presented to the Assumption debaters by W. R. Walsh, president of the league, and the cup emblematic of the pool championship of the inter-society pool tournament was presented by J. H. Colahan, general secretary of the Young Men's Catholic Institute, under whose auspices the tournament was organized.

The members of the Assumption debating team were C. O. Morris, J. Owens, E. A. Fitzgerald, James Russell and the members of the pool team were N. Donors, W. Thorne, E. Kane and J. Fitzgerald.

About eighty men sat down to the banquet, including several guests from the other societies in the debating league as well as Rev. J. J. McDonnell, pastor of St. John's, and Rev. C. T. Carleton, parish priest at Silver Falls; Rev. Simon, pastor of the Cathedral of the Holy Trinity, and the pastor of the Church of the Assumption.

In an eloquent speech J. J. McDonnell, representing St. Peter's, Y. M. A., proposed the toast to Canada, to which W. R. Walsh, president of the league, responded. He saw in the debating league an institution of great potentiality for the development of public speakers and leaders in public life from amongst the members of the constituent societies.

Mr. Walsh said, and for the first time, expressing his congratulations and those of the other societies, members of the league to the victorious debaters. He thanked all who had in any way contributed to the success of the evening.

E. A. Fitzgerald, of the Assumption Society, proposed the toast to the judges, to which J. H. Colahan, general secretary of the Orlery and C. J. Mellday made brief replies.

J. A. Barry proposed the toast to the Inter-Society Pool League and the J. H. Colahan, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., responded.

Paul Quinn proposed the toast to the Inter-Society Debating League, to which W. R. Walsh, president of the league, responded. This great decrease was due not only to a drop in the price of the metal but to the curtailment of its use in automotive industry.

CAUGHT GIRL AS SHE JUMPED FROM BURNING HOUSE

Frederick Belyes, of St. John, who was visiting his sister, Mrs. Anderson, was returning to his home at 473 Barrington street, when he saw her fall from the roof of the burning building.

Both were at a loss to understand the peculiar behavior of the dog, until Mrs. Anderson smelted the fact. She inquired of her brother that there was a fire in the building, and almost immediately afterward the screams of the woman were heard from the front floor. According to the information obtained by The Herald, the woman was directly under the fall when she slipped from the roof, and he made an effort to catch her. Her weight, however, proved too great, and he, too, was thrown to the sidewalk. His ransacking was practically torn from his back coat and covered with blood. He did not know, he is quoted as saying, whether the girl struck her head before she fell from the roof or on the pavement.

The girl was dressed only in a light nightgown, and despite the fact that it was raining heavily at the time, Mrs. Anderson took off her own coat and wrapped it around the injured girl. She then picked her up from the sidewalk and carried her to the police station, encountering Officer Power and informing him of the fire. Lower than rang in the alarm.

WILD WEST METHOD USED IN HOLD-UP

Boys in Brooklyn Swing a Lariat and Lasso Salesman.

New York, June 1.—Samuel Denton, a salesman, was strolling through York street, under the Brooklyn end of the Brooklyn Bridge, at 6 o'clock in the evening admiring the tints of nightfall in the sky and whistling cheerily. He was bound, in leisurely fashion, to his home and dinner at 66 Fourth street, Brooklyn.

As he neared the corner of Main street, something whistled through the quiet evening air and he felt a coil of rope tighten about his arm. The noise had sailed true—over his head and down to midway between his shoulders and elbows. Before he could move, a quick jerk of the lariat pulled him off his feet.

Two boys ran up and began going through his pockets. One of the rope throwers clamped a hand over the salesman's mouth.

"Good tons, partner," said one of the boys, as he fished out Denton's gold watch and chain.

"Not bad," concurred the other, as the salesman's $5 in cash was pocketed.

Then both boys took to their heels. The salesman's shouts brought only echoes in the unfrequented section under the bridge and he went to the Poplar street station, where Detective Owen Carney started out to find the lariat wielders.

After a tour of investigation, the detective arrested Ernest Feori, fifteen, at his home, 68 Main street. Feori, who is a pupil in Public School 8, Poplar and Hicks streets, denied all knowledge.

Earlier in the day, alarmed by fumes caused by the explosion of a coal oil stove shortly before eight o'clock, the little niece of Mr. and Mrs. K. Mrs. Silverthorne is now in the General Hospital suffering from severe burns about the face and hands.

To Canadians, the completion of this building has a special interest because all the furniture installed in it was made by Canadian workmen in a Canadian factory.

The portrait will be placed on exhibition in Memorial Hall, Fairmount Park.

CHILD'S PETITION NOT SENT IN VAIN

Eight-year-old Girl's Letter to Providence Prevents the Crime of Murder.

London, June 1.—A remarkable instance of a child's precocity resulting in the frustration of a murder and robbery is given in a letter from a correspondent at Przemysl, Poland, published in The Daily News. The means which the child, an eight-year-old girl, took to prevent the commission of the crime was a letter to the Almighty. It was found in a pillar-box in a small town in Southern Poland, and attracted considerable attention on account of the strangeness of the address.

On the envelope, written in crude, childish characters, was the address: "To the Honorable Mr. God in Heaven."

The letter was opened by the postmaster. In the envelope was found a small piece of paper torn from an exercise book, and written on it the following message:

"Dear Mr. God.—Keep death from the Rogala family, and see that the danger which I know about does not take them."

The postmaster handed the letter to the police, who at once began to search the envelope in which the letter was enclosed had been bought at a certain shop by a little girl eight or nine years of age, who had particularly asked for a nice envelope, and said she was writing to a very high person.

The little letter-writer was found by the police, to whom she told her story. She said that one night she was in bed, and could not sleep. In the same room was her father, a farm laborer for the Rogala family, talking with another man. The child was horrified to overhear the two men plan to rob and murder the farmer Rogala when he had received money for horses he was about to sell. The date was fixed by them for the commission of the crime.

The girl, mortally afraid of her father, could think of no other way to prevent it than by writing a letter to a Higher Power.

On the night fixed for the murder the police surrounded the house of the farmer, and the two would-be murderers were arrested. The little girl was adopted as his own daughter by the man whose life she had saved.

ADVERTISING AND THE NEWSPAPERS

Milwaukee, June 1.—Among the advance reservations for the great get-together meeting of American business men to be staged here within the next fortnight are to be found an unprecedented number of newspaper executives.

Time was when national advertisers could not see much merit in the daily press in a national consumer campaign. But that has changed.

So marked has this tendency become within the past year that advertising agencies and newspaper executives have found it expedient to add a special joint conference to their scheduled programme for the eighteenth national convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, to be held in Milwaukee, June 11-13.

The agency men will hold two special sessions, when problems of particular interest to their branch of the advertising world will be brought up for discussion.

While other mediums and methods of advertising will be discussed by the advertising agents, newspaper advertising

BUDGET GAINS STRENGTH IN HOUSE

Ottawa, May 31.—R. A. Hoey, (Progressive, Springfield), outlined the Progressive stand on both the budget and the Conservative amendment tonight when he declared that he would vote according to the dictates of his conscience, repudiating broken promises on one hand and political trickery on the other. Mr. Hoey said he made the statement to satisfy the curiosity of the official opposition and that he was speaking for every member of his party.

The debate today was brighter and more lively than any since the minister of finance brought down his budget. In the afternoon, F. N. McCrea, (Liberal, Sherbrooke), aroused interest by outlining a plan for the prevention of strikes and lockouts. In short Mr. McCrea proposed to establish a board for the settlement of disputes whose findings would be final and making it a criminal offense to institute either strikes or lockouts without reference to the board.

Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, (Conservative, St. John-Albert), declared that with all the cutting down that could be done the government had to bring a heavier burden for the average family than the burden imposed by the late government.

David H. Waterbury, resident architect and for a long time in the federal Public Works department, whose retirement was provided for several months ago, but who had remained in office until yesterday, left his office permanently yesterday afternoon. His successor has not yet been chosen. William Chalmers, of the Public Works department, Ottawa, is to remain in charge for the present. Several local applicants for the position have been examined by a board of examiners, but the result has not been made public.

REPARATIONS COMMISSION APPROVES GERMAN REPLY

Paris, May 31.—The reparations commission tonight fully approved the German reply to its ultimatum and definitely decided to grant Germany a provisional moratorium for the year 1922. The text of the commission's letter to Chancellor Wirth and also its decision were issued about midnight, after the commission had framed them at a session lasting many hours. The decision was unanimous, the French delegate joining in it, despite the report of opposition from a section of the chamber which caused deep concern in commission circles during the day.

Malcolm Beston of New Glasgow, N. S., aged about fifty-five, shot and killed himself yesterday afternoon. He was a well-known mine owner and manager. The coroner's jury brought in a verdict of suicide. He is survived by his wife and four children.

A Ticklish Point

There is a decided disadvantage to daily newspaper advertising which those who sell other forms of publicity use for all their worth, and that is the prospect of not reason too far.

That is the absence of color. They point to certain other forms of advertising and say: "Look, you can show your product big and in color so that he who runs may read."

That's good selling argument from their point of view. But stay! Is the running reader apt to gather the impression which the advertiser intends? May not the impression be too cursory? Will it be seen at all?

The fact is that the daily newspaper is the Great Intimate Human Medium.

Insofar as the woman in the Home is concerned, it is her only point of contact with what is going on in the outside world. From the birth of a neighbor's baby to the marriage of a King's daughter it is her news mentor—the loom that weaves for her the knowledge of what is going on.

This is the Time of Times for concentration upon Daily Newspaper Advertising. Daily Newspaper Advertising is the most powerful vehicle of publicity yet given to the use of man. It is the Alpha and Omega, the Beginning and the End of all successful advertising.

Advice as to the best ways and means of doing Newspaper Advertising will be given to those who inquire of us; or, consult any recognized advertising agency—a list supplied on request.

optimistic expressions of sentiment that I have heard for the past two years'— This statement of a large Kentucky bank writes: "While there is no boom in business here, at the same time there is a steady, consistent increase in volume, which induces a feeling of happy and contentment. Improve Allowances. Eloquence of Aid. WAR LACKED FRILLS IN '61, SAYS COL. SILLIMAN any real fighting with them. If we'd got a box of goodies or had a phonograph, where could we have put them? We had not trenches because we fought almost entirely in the open. Then there were no facilities for expressing goods. Chocolates? Chewing gum? Smokes? 'Us boys' never got these things. What we got from the folks at home was substantial—what they thought we needed—things like knitted clothing or home-made biscuit. Marching thirty-five miles a day, we didn't have much time for frills.

much about smokes and books for the soldiers. We never got either. Ready-made cigars were unknown in the '60s. We smoked a pipe or chewed instead. But we always had to get the tobacco ourselves. I'm sure we got more comfort out of our pipes than we would have out of cigarettes. You can sit down and be friendly with a pipe.

was over. The only honor that came to us on the field, was when we received a commission. That was all. There were no medals pinned on us, as the custom was, in the late war. "Masculine to cheer things along? We never had any. No dogs, nor goats, nor anything. We'd have had no place to put them!

BETTY COMPSON AND LON CHANEY

They Share Honors in Attractive Picture at Opera House. "For Those We Love," the new Betty Compson and Lon Chaney picture, which opened yesterday at the Opera House, gives this newest of female stars a chance to lay aside the trappings of society and appear as a simple little country girl.

Cooper, Richard Rossan, Camille Astor, Bert Woodruff and Walter Morosco, equals the cast used by George Len Tucker for the "Miracle Man."

IN WALL STREET. New York, June 1—(10.30)—Oils once more assumed leadership at the opening of today's market. Standard Oil of New Jersey added three points to its recent steady rise and Pan-American Petroleum gained one point.
