Arrow Escape of Chief of

From Capture—First Break in Loyalty of Irish Local Bodies to Dail Eireann.

London, Nov. 20.—Strong condemnation of the government's Irish policy and reprisals in Ireland was voiced by former Premier Asquith in a speech at the annual Liberal Club yesterday. He declared that cold blooded, deliberate murder had been traced and credited to unformed servants of the crown and asserted things were being done in Ireland by authority and in the name of the executive, which would take a big place in the blackest annals of the worst despotism of the European world.

"The plain truth is," said Mr. Asquith, "that since the adoption of this practice of reprisals, without parallel, so far as my knowledge goes, in the annals of the British administration, justice has been put into the background and vengeance has been introduced in its place. The executive with its agents and servants has allowed itself to be minister of a policy of blind, pitiless and indiscriminate revenge."

"There is an overwhelming case for inquiry, but as it was contemptuously and vigorously refused, one is obliged to draw one's own conclusions."

Allies To Confer On Serious Situation
In The Near East

Three Outstanding Matters
To Be Taken Up

Paris, Nov. 20.—Premiers Georges Leygues and David Lloyd George of France and Great Britain will probably meet in London soon for a conference which is considered necessary because of the serious situation in the Near East.

The conference will determine upon joint action relative to the defeat of Premier Venizelos in Greece, which brings into question the status of the Greek army in Asia Minor, the advance of the Russian Bolsheviks in the new states of the Caucasus region, particularly the co-operation of the Bolsheviks with the Turkish nationalists, and the consequences of the defeat of General Baron Wrangel, head of the South Russian government.

Paul Cambon, former French ambassador to Great Britain, submitted to the French foreign office yesterday a memorandum regarding the return of King Constantine to the Greek throne which was "intolerable." He said that if such a step was imminent, Greece should be warned that the Allies could not maintain friendly relations with her.

M. Cambon proposed that Premiers Lloyd George and Leygues meet soon to examine questions relative to the Near East, especially the carrying out by Turkey of the treaty she negotiated with the Allies.

VARIED PRICES
IN MONTREAL FOR
SUGAR YESTERDAY

Montreal, Nov. 20.—Several wholesalers said yesterday that though the "big four" and the Dominion Sugar Company were all quoting sugar at twelve cents, less five per cent, they had bought large supplies of granulated sugar from certain refiners at 11-1/4 cents, less five per cent, or 10.69 cents net.

On the other hand refiners deny that any of them have been selling at so low a rate, but no one of them knew much of what their competitors were doing. Some wholesalers further stated they were getting "distressed" sugar second hand at even lower prices.

In regard to retailers there was the same variety of quotations yesterday as yesterday. Many were selling at twelve cents, whilst some are getting prices running from thirteen to fifteen cents, with a few charging up to sixteen cents a pound.

When We Wound Up The Watch On The Rhine

Narrative of Canadian Participation in
The Occupation of Germany
After The Armistice

With this article, the Times begins publication of a series giving the daily progress of the Canadian troops on the march to the Rhine, after Germany had given up in the great conflict. They are written by one who was there and took part in the notable events of that period. The first article follows:—

On November 21, 1918—just two years ago tomorrow—there was commenced one of the most notable marches in the history of the Canadian overseas military forces—the march to the Rhine. This day should be of particular interest to the people of St. John and New Brunswick, for included in the Canadian troops chosen to accompany the First British Army, which was to form part of the army of occupation, were at least five of the units raised in this vicinity—the "Fighting 20th," the 2nd Canadian divisional ammunition column, the 5th and 1st step batteries and the 1st heavy battery.

The Rhine was reached on December 11 and the crossing of the river took place on December 14, the march having been carried on continuously with only brief intervals of rest. Of the twenty days spent in the movement from Bonn to the Rhine, the troops marched on thirteen days and rested on seven. The distance covered was about 140 miles, so that each day's performance averaged about eleven miles.

Prisoners Returning.
It was not long after the armistice was signed until British and allied troops who had been taken prisoner during the period of hostilities, began to trickle back through the British lines. The day that the first Belgian prisoner passed through the town of Havre is one that will not soon be forgotten by those who witnessed the scene. Hardly had he reached the outskirts of the town when his remnant of uniform was recognized by the inhabitants and he became the centre of attraction. Nothing was too good for him; he was dined and wine and sent on his way to the bank country by the window town, which cheered him on his way.

Returning among the prisoners came several who had spent the greater part of the war in the hands of the enemy and many were the tales of privation and suffering which they told. Some were only shadows of the men who had been before them. They were welcomed with delight by the British and allied troops who were passing through the town. They were welcomed with a banquet which was a banquet of their long period of bondage. Refreshed and rested, they passed along the streets of the town, which were lined with British and allied troops. They were welcomed with a banquet which was a banquet of their long period of bondage.

NINE LOSE THEIR LIVES IN FIRE IN
N. Y. TENEMENT

Fourteen Families Rescued
By Firemen—Four Children
Among Dead.

New York, Nov. 20.—Nine persons, constituting every member but one of two entire families, lost their lives here early today in a fire which destroyed a five-story apartment house at 307 West 146th street. Fourteen other families escaped or were rescued by firemen.

Originating fire authorities say, in a baby carriage on the first floor of the brick structure, the fire swept upward through open stairways, cutting off escape through the halls.

Nearly 100 men, women and children, clad in nightclothes, swarmed to the fire-escapes, some making their way to the ground while others huddled in terror on platforms in mid-air until carried to safety.

The dead were all found on the fifth and top floors after the flames had been controlled. The dead—Raphael Gebbia, his wife, Anna, and their four children, who ranged in years from seven down to one; Mrs. Adda Frank, Mrs. Bertha Reynolds, her sister, and Ruth Reynolds, a girl of sixteen. Charles Frank, overcome by smoke, fell over a window sill and was dragged to safety and revived by a man who reached out from an adjoining building and drew him across the narrow open space.

Robert Walker, a neighborhood resident, climbed a fire escape before the arrival of firemen and carried to safety an infant which had been abandoned in its crib by a family living on the second floor.

Other residents of the doomed building escaped over adjoining roofs.

Detroit, Nov. 20.—One man was killed when he jumped from the third story window of a burning building this morning, and four others, overcome by smoke are in serious condition. Two of them may die. One fireman was overcome by smoke, fell over a window sill and was dragged to safety and revived by a man who reached out from an adjoining building and drew him across the narrow open space.

WILL GIVE THE RESOURCES WHEN PROVINCES AGREE

New Conference on Terms
Likely to be Held in Near Future.

Ottawa, Nov. 20.—The Attorney-General of Alberta, according to a Calgary despatch, is preparing a legal action to recover from the Dominion Government the natural resources of the province. It is stated here that the Federal Government is ready to hand over the natural resources to the Western Provinces as soon as they and the other Provinces can agree as to the terms. The West wants its lands, minerals and waterpowers and also the subsidies now paid in lieu thereof.

The Eastern Provinces, while not opposing the Western demand, have always insisted on increased subsidies as compensation for their interest in the public domain of the West. This claim has been contested by the Prairie Provinces, and several interprovincial conferences have been abortive of agreement. The issue is once more a live one in the West, and it is intimated here recently that a new conference on the question is probable.

CROWD STARTED
AFTER PREMIER

Incidents of Meighen's Meeting in Toronto

His Auto Outdistanced Those Waiting for Him in Street in Ugly Mood—War-Bereaved Mother Interrupts Speech.

Toronto, Nov. 20.—While Hon. Arthur Meighen was speaking in Massey Hall last night on what the government had done for returned soldiers, an elderly woman appeared from somewhere on the platform, walked up to the premier, and commenced to tell, between sobs, an incoherent story about her boys at the front. She revealed on the front of her dress a line of medals which apparently were her legacy from dear ones "gone west" in the great war. It was said that her two boys were killed overseas.

The premier stopped his speech and sympathetically tried to make out her story. He told her that it would be looked into and that he would see that she was justly treated.

One of the men on the platform led the bereaved mother to an ante room to get the details and the premier went on with his speech. Near the close of the meeting a crowd gathered in the vicinity in large numbers than in the early evening and appeared to be in an ugly mood. Watch for the premier to leave the hall, the crowd stood around a cordon of fifty policemen drawn up around the premier's automobile.

Hon. Mr. Meighen remained in the hall later than the crowd had anticipated, and they mistook prominent local Conservatives for him. These they hooted by turns. When the premier appeared, the police pressed the crowd back. He was driven down a quickly outdistanced the crowd, which were running after him at first.

BUSINESS IN THE DOMINION

Dull in General, is Report—
Better in East Than in West.

Winnipeg, Nov. 20.—(Canadian Press)—With the approach of December, states the weekly report of the Canadian Credit Men's Trust Association, business conditions throughout Canada are dull and far from what might be expected or hoped for at this time of the year. It says that information from one end of Canada to the other indicates that both wholesale and retail business is very quiet and collections poor.

From eastern Canada the report are more optimistic than from the west, Montreal and the maritime provinces state that the manufacturing situation is unchanged.

The wheat trade in Montreal, with the exception of hardware, is dull, while St. John and other eastern points report it as fairly good, but slowing down as compared with last year. Conditions throughout eastern Canada are given as fair to good.

"BIG BILL" CLEAR
OF ONE CHARGE

Allegation of Attempted Extortion in Montreal Steamer
Case Falls.

New York, Nov. 20.—Edward H. (Big Bill) Furey, who attained notoriety in connection with New York's alleged $5,000,000 bond theft plot involving Jules W. (Nicky) Arstein, his punitive master mind, today was acquitted on a charge of attempted extortion concerned with the burning of the steamer Oceanic at Montreal more than a year ago.

The specific charge of which Furey was acquitted alleged that he, with James Keene, a Montreal private detective, had intimated that he would charge Charles G. A. Pritch, president of the Baltic S. S. Co. here, with participation in the burning of the Oceanic unless Pritch "came through" with $5,000.

Furey denied attempted extortion, asserting that he had visited Pritch merely to procure information as to who was interested in the boat and who had insured it.

Indictments voted against Furey, charging him with criminally receiving stolen property and with grand larceny are still pending, and he was sent back to the toms to await trial on them.

As Hiram Sees It

Well, sir," said Mr. Hiram Hornbean to the Times reporter, "I seen a little crippled boy sellin' noospapers yesterday an' it set me thinkin' 'I congratulate you," said the reporter. "The number of people who thinks is not large. You are one of a growing minority. Most of us are mere outsiders in search of a new diversion. Well—what did you think?"

"In the first place," said Hiram, "I thought it was a shame fer a little feller like that to be a cripple, an' I wondered if somebody wasn't to blame. I wondered, too, if everything had been done that doctors could do to help him—or if he'd been an' nobody else cared. I wondered, too, how a little boy could laugh an' holler like he did, when the other boys could hev so much fun that he couldn't hev. Mister—to see a smile on the face of a crippled boy is an everlastin' rebuke to every old grunch in the world. An' then I thought if the wasn't somethin' wrong with a society that hes so many little boys—some of 'em sick an' some of 'em crippled—wordin' when they orto be playin', an' so many husky fellers able to work standin' on the corners, or leanin' agin a fence, or settin' on the benches watchin' the crowd. It ain't right—an' it won't be made right till the least comes to see that the child is the biggest thing in creation, an' orto hev as much care as an otomobile or a fur coat—By Hen!"

"There is always some people who pick quarrels," said the premier in reply to a remark by the interviewer, that French public opinion was badly impressed by what France believed to be the British attitude on questions vital to this country.

"There is no quarrel, however, and you have just told me there was no interests in the world on either the French or British side, that can loosen the Franco-British brotherhood. I never thought otherwise."

The interviewer told Lloyd George that the question of reparations took precedence over all others in France and that in certain French circles there was an impression, either rightly or wrongly held, that the British premier opposed the viewpoint of the French relative to the amount Germany should pay.

"I would say that this impression is wrongly held," said Lloyd George. "You say reparations constitute an essential point for France and I would say it is also of paramount importance for us; since it is evident that the more France gets, the more England will receive."

NEW POINT IN A LIQUOR CASE

Contention That Prohibition
Really Not in Force Was Not Upheld.

Fredericton, N. B., Nov. 20.—Yesterday before Judge Crockett a Woodstock conviction under the prohibition act was up on appeal on the ground that the prohibition act was not in force in Carleton county. The conviction had been made by Magistrate Combs against Philip Isaacson, for importing liquor into Woodstock for illegal purposes, a hundred bottle importation and a $100 fine. The prosecution was conducted by Thane Jones and C. Hartley, K. C., appeared for the defence.

The ground of appeal taken was that the prohibition act passed three or four years ago had not been publicly proclaimed. It was found upon investigation that this in a technical sense was true. By reference to the statutes of Canada it did not appear that the act had really been publicly indexed from this province; but upon examination of the files of the Canada Gazette, which were cited by Mr. Jones, it was shown that the prohibition act was properly gasetted.

Judge Crockett refused to set aside the conviction.

BOY KILLED NEAR

Windsor, N. S.—What a Jury Thinks.

Windsor, N. S., Nov. 20.—Howard Leighton Parker, eight years old, son of Robert Parker of Ardouise near here, was killed yesterday while playing on the highway near the village school, by a passing automobile driven by Eric Curry. A coroner's jury held that the driver had done his best to save the child and added: "We believe children should not be allowed to play on the public highway. We also are of the opinion that the speed of the car was rather great in view of the fact that children were seen playing near the road and that they were passing a public school."

NEW ORLEANS
HAS GREAT FIRE
ON WATER FRONT

Windsor, N. S., Nov. 20.—Howard Leighton Parker, eight years old, son of Robert Parker of Ardouise near here, was killed yesterday while playing on the highway near the village school, by a passing automobile driven by Eric Curry. A coroner's jury held that the driver had done his best to save the child and added: "We believe children should not be allowed to play on the public highway. We also are of the opinion that the speed of the car was rather great in view of the fact that children were seen playing near the road and that they were passing a public school."

New Orleans, Nov. 20.—Damage estimated at approximately $2,000,000 was caused by a waterfront fire here today. The fire authorities believe it was started by sparks from a switching engine. A new banana wharf was destroyed and the fire spread until the docks for a length of four squares were aflame.

The vessels were towed to safety, but an oil tank on one of them exploded. Several million feet of lumber belonging to the government caught fire and much was destroyed.

SAYS BRITAIN AND FRANCE ARE ON GOOD TERMS

Alliance Not Prejudiced by Late Differences

Lloyd George to French
Newspaper Man on Reparation Matter—Favors Fixed
Sum for Germany to Pay.

Paris, Nov. 20.—Differences between Great Britain and France have in no way prejudiced the alliance, which held them together during the war, said Premier Lloyd George, in an interview at London yesterday with the correspondent of the Petit Parisien. He declared that, regarding reparations, England would stand "elbow to elbow" with France, but he insisted that the amount Germany will be called upon to pay should be fixed.

"There are always some people who pick quarrels," said the premier in reply to a remark by the interviewer, that French public opinion was badly impressed by what France believed to be the British attitude on questions vital to this country.

"There is no quarrel, however, and you have just told me there was no interests in the world on either the French or British side, that can loosen the Franco-British brotherhood. I never thought otherwise."

The interviewer told Lloyd George that the question of reparations took precedence over all others in France and that in certain French circles there was an impression, either rightly or wrongly held, that the British premier opposed the viewpoint of the French relative to the amount Germany should pay.

"I would say that this impression is wrongly held," said Lloyd George. "You say reparations constitute an essential point for France and I would say it is also of paramount importance for us; since it is evident that the more France gets, the more England will receive."

"I will tell you exactly what I think. It is very simple—make Germany pay all she can. Yes, but how much? Have you a figure? I say the amount should be fixed. Why do you say this? Is it to please Germany? Oh, who could think so?"

"I was a lawyer before entering politics, and when I confronted a debtor, I had two courses to choose, either to enforce strictly the rights of my client, and sell the debtor's house and furniture, at the risk of getting nothing or next to nothing, or saying to him: 'You owe so much. How much can you pay in ones?' How much in a year or in ten years? This latter method I found to be best and this I advise following in dealing with Germany."

Belgrade, Nov. 20.—On the terms of the Jugo-Slav-Italian treaty becoming known here, enormous crowds of angry demonstrators demolished the cabinet council building. Two regiments of cavalry dispersed crowds marching on the Italian legation. Numerous shots were fired and many persons injured. Prague, Nov. 20.—Three days rioting culminated on Thursday in an attempt by crowds to storm the parliament buildings despite efforts by mounted police to hold them in check. Demonstrators demanded that the premier surrender a German deputy, named Boarn, who, it has been reported, spoke in a disparaging manner of the Czech-Slovak legions. On Tuesday after a mass meeting, the German dramatic theatre was occupied by the Czechs and the statue of Joseph II was removed from the square. In retaliation the Germans demolished a Czech school. German senators and deputies walked out of parliament as a protest. Police Inspector Svobgr was dragged from his horse during the disturbance and killed. The statue of Bismarck was paraded through the streets for hours, decked with a paper cap and inscriptions—"Shame on the Germans."

New York, Nov. 20.—(Canadian Press)—The New York Times in an editorial this morning, doubts if any benefit to Anglo-Irish relations or Anglo-American relations will come from the operations of the "American commission on Ireland," now holding hearings with Washington. It asserts that the committee is anti-English and includes few names which can be regarded as representing a pro-English sentiment. It says the minority disappears altogether in the sub-committee which is conducting the hearings. The Times says the truth is hardly likely to be elicited by a committee of whose members are at the outset biased the same way, and calls it a "packed committee."

HOUSE SHORTAGE

London, Nov. 20.—(By Mail, Canadian Associated Press)—Why is there such a shortage of housing accommodation? Dr. Addison, Minister of Health in an article in a recent issue of the Sunday Times attempts to give the public some explanation of hundreds of thousands of families being without a home of their own. He admits that while many houses have been passed exceeding in number a quarter of a million, yet the houses themselves are only forthcoming in small quantities. In the first place the Minister of Health points to the decrease of skilled workers in the building trade. Between 1914 and 1918 the number of bricklayers had shrunk from 116,000 to 74,000; joiners, masons and workers in subsidiary trades had shrunk in a like proportion. Buildings in the war years practically ceased, the workers being transferred to munition making. "There are not enough men in the trade to do the work; that is the first fact," continues Dr. Addison. "There are thousands of men outside the trade who are out of employment, that is the second fact. Somehow or other these two facts must be brought into relationship; and at once we are faced with the Trade Union bar. The Minister goes on to indicate how the Government has attempted negotiation and expansion of industrial buildings, through the medium of a subsidiary, will prolong the demand for labor still further. "In the face of the national demand for houses, in the face of the widespread unemployment among ex-service men and others, can any trade union maintain its restrictions? Can one class, one trade, permanently stand in the path of the community, and in its own class interest bar the way to progress, prosperity, and settlement? The State will submit to such an action as saddling itself with a sectional tyranny."

Geneva, Nov. 20.—An international military force, with an international assembly, will be proposed to the assembly of the league of nations today by Senator Henri La Fontaine, of the Belgian delegation. He somewhat startled the world was not yet ready for disarmament. "Any fish in this river?" asked the city man. "The government stocked it with trout," replied the native. "They don't seem to come near a hook," "They do seem snarler than other fish," returned the old fellow. "I reckon maybe, they had to pass a Civil Service examination before the government could employ 'em."—Boston Transcript.

GERMANY TO IMPORT HEAVILY IN GRAIN

Declared Necessary in Order to Safeguard Bread Supply. Berlin, Nov. 20.—An official inventory of the visible supply of grain tends to show that Germany will be obliged to import 1,600,000 tons of wheat, rye, corn and barley in order to safeguard the nation's bread supply up to next midsummer. Germany, says the inventory, has been obliged to pay prices ranging from 4,000 marks to 7,000 marks a ton for foreign grain in past months, and unless the mark shows a pronounced improvement or the government is able to provide ample credit in the near future, a quota of wheat to be purchased abroad will cost 12,000,000,000 marks. An official communication says these estimates pre-suppose the retention of inland deliveries, which the National Grain Bureau has not yet definitely estimated. FATHERS HOGAN AND CONNOLLY TO ROME. Official news that Rev. William Hogan, C. S. S. R. rector of St. Peter's church, and Rev. S. L. Connolly, C. S. S. R. rector of the Redemptorist church in Regim, will be the Canadian branch of the Congregationist meeting to be held in Rome next Spring with the Superior of the Congregation has reached the city. Father Connolly was stationed at St. Peter's church about twenty years ago. The appointment was confirmed at a meeting of the -rectors of the Congregation held in Montreal this week. Rev. Augustin J. Duke, C. S. S. R. formerly rector of St. Peter's church and who was in the city to attend the Boston train enroute to Mount St. Alphonsus Seminary, at Esopus on the Hudson, where he is stationed. While in the city he was warmly welcomed by scores of friends. ENJOYED SHOWS. A number of citizens witnessed at the Unique last evening, after the regular programme, the screening of the Anglo-Canadian film, Snow in the Desert. It is a powerful story, starring Stewart Rome and Violet Hopson, whose acting is the perfection of art. The theme, the setting and the absorbing character of the story as it is developed, hold the audience under a spell from beginning to end. There will be a universal desire to see this splendid production.

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

THE GREAT LAZARO HERE ON WEDNESDAY

Eminent Spanish Tenor Replaces Anna Case, Who is Ill With Laryngitis—Louis Lelacheur Cancels Halifax Concert But Retains St. John Date at Great Cost and Risk. An ominous telegram from New York received by Louis Lelacheur yesterday morning was conclusive late last night stating that Anna Case, soprano star booked to appear at the Imperial Theatre here next Wednesday, was ill with laryngitis and probably by her physician to leave her room. The telegram was followed by long-distance phone conversations between New York and St. John in which the promoter, Louis Lelacheur, who loses in publicly, printing, etc. for both engagements approx. "only a thousand dollars. However, we can't make the change because she is booked to the St. John date with another musical notable regardless of cost, hoping thus not to disappoint the music-loving public who have supported his efforts as generously in the past. So this forenoon at 10:00 Mr. Lelacheur received a long-distance telephone message from New York that through the combined efforts of several musical bureaus and the influence of Anna Case herself, Miss Lelacheur, a famous Spanish tenor had been induced to make the journey and fill the date here on Wednesday, 24th—the original Case booking. This was a great relief to Lelacheur, as those who know of Lelacheur's career and especially welcome to many who prefer male voices and especially new voices to the original booking has been secured. Therefore the sale and reservation of seats proceeds for next Wednesday as well as for the preceding Monday. However, misadventure will desire the return of money already expended for tickets as Lelacheur is one of the musical sensations of the day. He is usually known as "The Spanish McCormack," a second Caruso and his popularity as a high-class talking picture artist is generally admitted. However, plans have not yet been abandoned because of the lateness of the date as the concert was to be held there Monday. However, the Spanish rector the Anna Case price of two bookings for the St. John concert alone, an expensive decision on Mr. Lelacheur's part for keep faith with his patrons in spite of the untoward circumstances.

BRITISH MINISTER OF HEALTH ATTEMPTS EXPLANATION—A SHORTAGE OF TRADESMEN—MATTER OF TRADE UNIONS.

London, Nov. 10.—(By Mail, Canadian Associated Press)—Why is there such a shortage of housing accommodation? Dr. Addison, Minister of Health in an article in a recent issue of the Sunday Times attempts to give the public some explanation of hundreds of thousands of families being without a home of their own. He admits that while many houses have been passed exceeding in number a quarter of a million, yet the houses themselves are only forthcoming in small quantities. In the first place the Minister of Health points to the decrease of skilled workers in the building trade. Between 1914 and 1918 the number of bricklayers had shrunk from 116,000 to 74,000; joiners, masons and workers in subsidiary trades had shrunk in a like proportion. Buildings in the war years practically ceased, the workers being transferred to munition making. "There are not enough men in the trade to do the work; that is the first fact," continues Dr. Addison. "There are thousands of men outside the trade who are out of employment, that is the second fact. Somehow or other these two facts must be brought into relationship; and at once we are faced with the Trade Union bar. The Minister goes on to indicate how the Government has attempted negotiation and expansion of industrial buildings, through the medium of a subsidiary, will prolong the demand for labor still further. "In the face of the national demand for houses, in the face of the widespread unemployment among ex-service men and others, can any trade union maintain its restrictions? Can one class, one trade, permanently stand in the path of the community, and in its own class interest bar the way to progress, prosperity, and settlement? The State will submit to such an action as saddling itself with a sectional tyranny."

NOTED SUCCESS OF A FORMER ST. JOHN RESIDENT

J. F. Collins, Started as Clerk, Now President of $7,000,000 Company in Denver. Friends in St. John will be interested in the success of J. Fred Collins, a former resident of this city, who has been for the last twenty years or more in Denver, Colorado. He is now president and general manager of The Mountain States Mixed Feed and Feed Yard Co. of Denver, a $7,000,000 company, which has been formed recently. He was in St. John on a visit to his old home about two years ago. Mr. Collins, after leaving the city, went to Denver where he entered the employ of J. D. Best & Co. as a clerk. Step by step he worked his way up to the position of president and general manager, and while in that position he was elected president of the Denver Grain Exchange in 1916. He is rated as one of the most successful business men of Denver. His friends in the city will wish him further success and will follow his future career with interest.

THE VENETIAN GARDENS

The opening of the Venetian Gardens is now an accomplished fact, and those who attended last evening and saw the before seen the transformation effected in the old Lyric Theatre must have been amazed and doubtless delighted. Just five weeks ago building operations were commenced, and that they were completed in so short a time and the different effects conceived and placed in position was something a little less than surprising. Last evening of course, brought its little mishaps owing to lack of the necessary preparations, and doubtless any possibility of these arising again will be smoothed out during the next few days. Under the magic touch of many clever artisans the one-time theatre has been transformed into a most attractive auditorium, probably not more than two or three in all Canada used for the same purpose excellent in the matter of polite surroundings, dainty atmosphere and good taste. Last evening's audience was large and fashionable, occupying in fact every seat in the auditorium, and apparently enjoyed fully the twenty-five dances played by the excellent orchestra engaged because of their ability to render dance music effectively. It was apparently difficult to keep quiet within the hearing of such entrancing strains played in perfect time and tune. The Venetian Gardens is without doubt a credit to the city, and fills apparently a long felt want, as it can be utilized for so many purposes besides dancing. While last evening's audience was formally dressed, it was only for the opening night, and in future doubtless street clothes will predominate or be seen exclusively. The appearance of last evening's party suggested Broadway, as each floor was filled with fashionably dressed men and women with a myriad of lights, artificially shaded in hue and yellow, as a background, a high old rose bell about twelve feet high and eight feet in diameter predominating. It might be thought necessary to close one's eyes to remember that it was not Broadway, but merely the rejuvenated Lyric Theatre, formerly Princess Theatre, and well remembered fourteen years ago as Berryman's Hall. Begin next week the Venetian Gardens will get down to its regular policy. Manager Lynwood will be congratulated on the opportunity to preside over such an attractive gathering place as the Venetian Gardens, but doubtless he will measure up fully to the requirements of the situation.

IF YOUR EARS RING WITH HEAD NOISES

If you have ringing, buzzing noises in your ears, are getting hard of hearing and fear Catarrhal Deafness, go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmitin (double strength), and add to it 1/4 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal trouble of the ears, is hard of hearing or has head noises, should give prescription a trial.

The Evening Times and Star

ST. JOHN, N. B., NOVEMBER 20, 1920.

The St. John Evening Times is printed at 27 and 29 Canterbury Street, every evening (Sunday excepted) by The St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co., Ltd., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act.

TO THE RHINE

Tomorrow will be the second anniversary of the beginning of the march of the British army of occupation from Mons to the Rhine. The Times-Star prints today the first of a series of articles descriptive of that advance written by a member of the staff, who with other men from this city and province took part in that memorable march on the heels of the beaten and disheartened enemy to their own country. These articles will recall to those who participated the feelings and experiences of those wonderful days and nights when the burden of war had fallen from them and they knew the victory had been won, and they would soon be free to return to their native land.

A STRIKING ADDRESS

Not often does the Canadian Club listen to so notable an address as that delivered by Dr. Honline last evening. He was billed to speak on the moral element in democracy, but really discussed the individual unit in democracy, from the text: "Let us make men." Heredity, environment and education were in turn considered in their relation to the child and its development. In speaking of heredity Dr. Honline gave some positively startling facts about the increase in mental deficiency, and this portion of his address is of particular value at a time when better care of the feeble minded is a very live question in this city and province. The fact that the children of feeble-minded parents are certain to be feeble-minded should make any people beware of poisoning the life stream of the nation by permitting these unfortunates to go at large and reproduce their kind.

Dr. Honline was equally impressive in dealing with environment and what it may do for the mentally and morally sound as well as for the deficient. If he were to speak of the large group of boys who were in the St. John police court yesterday he would undoubtedly point to a glaring disregard of environment in these cases.

As to education, the gifted speaker has no love for old forms and theories. He would make the education suit the child, and would not seek to run all pupils through the same mould. Some of the quaint stories and illustrations in this regard were highly amusing, but every one of them drove home a point to be remembered.

Touching the task of the church in developing righteousness, Dr. Honline conceives it to be the duty of the church not to bring in sinners so much as to send out men and women to live the Christian life. That is a remark worth pondering over. But it is of the child he thinks most, and of the duty of the community to raise and cultivate a human crop that will not tend to degeneracy as the generations pass. And that should be the thought in the minds of all men and women, stimulating them to see that the forces of heredity, environment and education are co-ordinated in the making of a race that shall be of a finer physical, mental and moral fibre.

MARITIME PROVINCE INTERESTS

Simultaneously with the meeting of the maritime province premiers in Halifax there comes a despatch from Ottawa to the effect that the western provinces will reiterate their demand for the transfer to them of the natural resources hitherto held by the federal authorities. These provinces have been getting a large annual subsidy in lieu of the natural resources and now demand the latter also. It is rightly held by the maritime provinces, which helped to buy and develop the western territory, but which have not been able to secure any accession of territory or resources for themselves, that in any new deal their claims should be met by an increased federal subsidy. The justice of their claim for consideration was conceded by Sir Robert Borden. One purpose of the conference in Halifax was to consider joint action to guard the interest of the maritime provinces in regard to the settlement demanded by the west.

The provincial premiers had, however, another grievance to consider, and that is in relation to transportation. The re-confirmation pledges and assurances have not been carried out. The people of these provinces are handicapped by excessive railway rates, which give Quebec, Ontario and the west a great advantage. Those provinces also get the lion's share of the benefit to industries conferred by a protective tariff. Their industries find a valuable market here, and their financial institutions also derive such advantage from maritime province connections. It is too much a case of live with and get little, so far as the extreme east is concerned.

The conference of premiers dealt with another matter of importance, and that is immigration. The three provinces should, as Mr. H. J. Logan contended in behalf of the Maritime Board of Trade, take joint action to acquaint the people of the Mother Country with the special advantages they offer to home-seekers. In the past their interests have been neglected and those of the west promoted by the immigration department and the transportation companies. Joint action by the three provinces would be infinitely better than for each province to have a separate small office and staff in London. It is a hopeful indication that the three premiers have got together for a frank discussion of common problems materially affecting the welfare of the constituency of each of them.

Germany announces that she no longer considers herself bound by the clause of the treaty relative to her colonies. The Allies will doubtless make short work of that protest. Perhaps Germany is emboldened by the hope that the attitude of the United States may favor her designs. But is not the United States still at war with Germany?

The Nova Scotia miners did not accept the Montreal agreement, after all. The convention throws it back to the unions who will take a vote on the question. Thus the uncertainty is prolonged, with the possibility of further serious trouble.

'Now that the Canadian Club has learned how much a little hearty singing adds to the enjoyment of a luncheon it has a new attraction for its members.

LOCAL NEWS

The resignation of Rev. Dr. T. Stanger Boyle, president of King's College, Windsor, has been accepted but will not take effect until the end of the present term.

The members of the Philathea Club of German street Baptist church were entertained last evening by the Y. M. C. A. of the church and a delightful programme was presented.

The Very Rev. William Hogan, C.S.S.R., rector of St. Peter's church, has been chosen as delegate to some of the convocations of the Reclinator Order in Canada. At a meeting in Montreal recently he was chosen one of two priests to go with the delegation.

Commissioner Frink and G. N. Hatfield, road engineer, made an inspection of Millville avenue yesterday afternoon to see what can be done towards straightening that thoroughfare. It is probable that sections of private land will have to be used in ironing out the curves.

A kindergarten for instruction of the twelve children in the East St. John County Hospital has been opened in that institution and Dr. Farris has engaged Miss Woodrow as teacher. The I. O. O. F. and the Y. W. E. A. have assured the institution of their support financially in connection with the expense of the new department.

The silver anniversary of the Women's Missionary Society of the Carleton Methodist church was observed last evening in the school room of the church, a pleasing programme was carried. A dainty supper was served under the co-operation of Mrs. G. J. Barrett and Mrs. A. Morrison. The work of the twenty-five years was reviewed by the various speakers which included the president, Mrs. I. O. Beattie and Mrs. C. H. Blyden were given certificates of membership by Mrs. C. F. Sanford, president of the N. B. and P. E. I. branch, who also during the evening spoke on "The Road Ahead." Those who assisted in the programme were: Mrs. H. Harvey, Miss Dawson, Miss Nita Brown, Mrs. Long and Mr. Lanyon. Miss Veazey, a returned missionary from Japan, gave a stirring address.

P. A. McPherson, a tailor of Hampton, was seriously injured on Thursday evening when he was going from his place of business at Hampton Station to his home near the village. The injuries were caused by a double team which was traveling along immediately behind a car, struck Mr. McPherson and threw him to the ground heavily. He was picked up unconscious and taken to his home, but was reported last night to be resting comfortably and it is thought no bones are broken, although he is severely cut about the face and sustained injuries to his hip and ankle.

At a conference yesterday afternoon between the great marsh commissioners, board of trade committee co-operating with them, the city engineer, B. M. Hill, provincial engineer, and G. C. Forester, C. N. B. engineer. None of it was announced that the C. N. B. would soon proceed to provide sufficient pondage and the diversion of the marsh creek along the line of railway track. It was necessary to do considerable filling in during the progress of extending yard room and to prevent overflowing of city, government and private property provisions for pondage were necessary.

At the regular meeting of the Trades and Labor Council last night it was announced that the dispute between the shipping interests and the various water front labor organizations would be amicably settled within a week. F. A. Campbell, the president, said that a branch of the Retail Clerks Union had been formed in St. Stephen. The president and J. E. Tighe were appointed delegates to the N. B. Federation of Labor. Clearance Tower was recommended for appointment to the local staff of liquor inspectors when a vacancy occurs. The Street Railway Men's Union's action with regard to the one-man car was approved.

I stand the bulky book on end, give it a glance, and let it drop—the stuff the wise men recommend to youths who yearn to reach the top. I wonder if the wise men read the dope they'd like to pass along, stale bunk from songs gone to seed, and words who croak a dreary song. I've tons of volumes in my home, on reading them I'm always bent; but I pass up the mummy tome that makes personal punishment. The mildewed sages, when they wrought, held it a crime to start a smile; I have no use for Gems of Thought couched in a dull and dismal style. The wise men like to stand on end, and say to youth, "Read useful books! Here a work we recommend—the sermons of Augustus Snooks!" But when these wise old boys were lads, they hid in their respective barns, in trembling terror of their dads, and read the Bradle bread of yarns. I say to youth read high romance, and tales of daring and of gore; the day will come, as years advance, when they won't thrill you any more. Then with the wise men you will stand, and say to striplings blithe and hale (some punk old volume in your hand), "Read anything that's flat and stale!"

CANADA—EAST AND WEST

Demijohn Happenings of Other Days

MAJOR PEAN.

One of the chief military commanders who helped rob the King of France in the early days of America and enriched himself by so doing, was Major Pean, who served the king with much distinction in the campaigns in the Ohio district in 1763. In fact he was as zealous then for the glory of His Majesty as he was later in pillaging the stores of that sovereign. He married a very handsome lady of American birth and his fortune was made when she accepted as he visited the attentions of the intended Bigot. He persuaded the intended to loan him a large quantity of the royal money with which to corner the local wheat market. When he had accomplished this Bigot issued an order commanding the spoil with the intent of using it for military purposes at a very high rate of payment. This made a fortune for the major—even after he had shared the spoil with the intended. So fast did his wealth increase that in a few years it was estimated that he had accumulated somewhere between two and four million francs in such crooked manners. His wife became a political power in the new colony and made everyone pay richly for any favor they wanted from the king and finally carried on her escapades to the extent of deserting her husband. He, in return, became involved in a love affair with a prominent Montreal lady who while a woman of great beauty, possessed none of the commercial qualities of the first Madame Pean. The pair drifted further and further apart until each established in the new colony a home of almost royal splendor where they lived in luxury. They had stolen from the king, through their intimacy with the intended and other high officials. Pean was one of the most corrupt of the military thieves that infested the colony.

A DAY DREAM

Ah, methinks I see a cottage While idly reclining here A pleasant little cottage Where two hearts may grow more dear.

Around the shaded doorway Sweet morning glories cling And o'er the side a woodbine grows, Where birds are wont to sing.

And all around the path way there That leads to that sweet cot A little red, heartsease, Mixed with sweet forget-me-nots.

And as my steps draw nearer I spy a real chair Just shaded from the sunbeams By the morning glories there.

And here I stop to rest a bit To let my fancy roam Amid this blissful peacefulness For 'tis our cottage home.

And while the twilight shadows spread Across the sky so blue I sit and dream of love, sweet love, And home sweet home with you.

Again on the breeze I faintly catch The breath of myonnettes And from my day dreams I awake With sadness like regret.

W. H. SHARPE, 93 St. James Street.

LIGHTER VEIN.

The Mystery. "The fool and his money are soon parted," observed the Old Fogey. "That is to be expected," replied the Grouch. "The mystery is how they ever happened to get together in the first place."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Sure Was Potent. "How about a bottle of goods in this town?" asked the stranger. "In what particular?" said the old inhabitant. "Is it potent?" "Potent is the word. A gentleman of my acquaintance stepped out of a theatre one night during an intermission and purchased a few drinks in a nearby alley. Then he returned to the theatre. "Well, what is so remarkable about that?" "He didn't know till the doorman kindly told him that it was the next night."

Ungainous. A jury recently met to inquire into a case of suicide. After sitting throughout the evidence the twelve men retired, and after deliberating returned with the following verdict: "The jury are all of one mind—temporarily insane."—San Francisco Chronicle.

He Got The Spirit. There's a suburban house whose owner's principal delight is in keeping it spick and span. After dinner he and a guest were smoking on the front lawn. The guest, after lighting his cigar, threw the burned match to the ground. "Oh, I wouldn't do that, George!" said the host.

"Oh, not?" asked the guest, surprised. "It spoils the appearance of a place," was the answer; "it's just those little things that make a place look bad."

The guest smoked his cigar in silence for a minute. Then, without a word, he got up from his chair, walked down to the road and disappeared. He returned in a short while and his host asked: "Why, where have you been, George?" "Oh, I just went down to spit in the river," said George.—Everybody's.

QUALIFICATIONS FOR KING'S SCOUTS

Tests for Ambulance and Cyclist Badges

Promotions in St. Andrew's Troop—St. Jude's Visited by New Assistant Provincial Commissioner.

THE BOY SCOUT.

Having received the first-class badge, the requirements for which have been given in this column, a scout may qualify for his King's Scout badge. This one of the most important badges which a scout may receive, so that the examinations are governed accordingly. The requirements for this badge are as follows:

A King's scout must be a first-class scout, and duly qualified to wear four of the following proficiency badges (of which pathfinder is compulsory): ambulance, cyclist, marksman, pathfinder, signaller, fireman, rescuer. Should he fail to pass the annual test for any of the above badges he must cease to wear the King's Scout badge.

The required tests for ambulance and cyclist follow:

To obtain the ambulance proficiency badge a scout must know: 1. The freeman's lift. 2. How to drag an insensible man with ropes. 3. How to improvise a stretcher. 4. The position of the main arteries. 5. How to stop bleeding from a vein or artery, internal or external. 6. How to deal with choking, burns, scalds, frost bites, poison, grit in the eyes, bites or scratches of dogs and other animals, snake bites and stings of insects, sprains and bruises. 7. How to diagnose and treat fits, fainting and insensibility, as the examiner may require. 8. How to throw a life line and how to deal with electrical accidents.

1. Sign a certificate that he owns a bicycle in good working order, which he is willing to use in the King's service if called upon at any time in case of emergency. 2. Demonstrate his ability to ride his bicycle satisfactorily and repair punctures, take his bicycle apart, clean it and put it together again, etc. 3. Be able to read a road map, make a written report, and repeat correctly a verbal message. 4. Have a knowledge of local by-laws governing street or road traffic. On ceasing to own a bicycle he must hand back his badge.

2nd St. Andrew's Troop. The weekly meeting of this troop was held on Monday evening with a full attendance. During the evening two new boys were brought in, Donald Campbell and Russell Stackhouse. The evening was spent in games and practice for the different scout tests, after which the first meetings of the court of honor took place. At this meeting some important changes were made, the officers of the troop, Gordon Wark, formerly a patrol leader, being made troop leader, Kenneth Steele being elected patrol leader in his place. Everett Robinson was elected secretary and Kenneth Plumpton treasurer of the troop. The by-laws were then read and accepted by all present.

5th St. Jude's. The regular weekly meeting of this troop was held on Thursday evening at troop headquarters. After the usual routine work instruction on first and second-class tests was given, followed up later on by games. A visit from V.

C. Timberley during the evening was most appreciated by all present also a short talk which he gave to the troop. A short court of honor meeting was held after the dismissal of the troop at which much important business was transacted.

7th Stone. The weekly meeting of the 7th St. John troop took place at troop headquarters on Wednesday evening at 7.30. Instruction on scout work during the evening, under the able direction of the scoutmaster, formed the greater part of the programme. Games, as usual, were played and enjoyed by all. Patrol Leader Edward Jenner of St. Jude's troop visited the troop during the evening.

11th St. Luke's. At the regular meeting held on Monday evening a large number of scouts were present. After the games had been enjoyed some of the scouts instructed the new members in tenderfoot work as one of the requirements for the first class. A large number of the scouts passed their judging for the first class during the evening and, as a result, Scouts Charles Wakeham and Edgar Adams completed their first class tests. Ernest Buckley passed the tenderfoot tests at the meeting and will be "awarded" at the next meeting.

Notes. What The Lanyard Is For. A mounted soldier when wearing a khaki uniform wears round his neck a lanyard, similar to the lanyard that is part of the scout's equipment. This cord is usually inserted through the collar, and, drooping terminates at the breast pocket. The lanyard is not worn as a distinction as some people think, but to serve a useful purpose in carrying the soldier's jackknife, which is attached to the end of the cord and rests in the pocket.

NEW FRUITS AND FLOWERS; GENIUS OF LUTHER BURBANK. Santa Rosa, Cal., Nov. 20.—Despite the fact that he has already three years to the good on man's time allotment of a three score and ten, Luther Burbank with the dawn of the new year, will announce the creation of a number of new fruits, cereals, flowers and plants. Notables among the latest creations are a tomato-pepper, which is said to be very sweet and a delicious addition to the vegetable kingdom. Another major offering will be an ever-bearing strawberry plant which will bear fruit throughout the entire summer. In the way of cereals, Burbank has created a new beardless barley which is said to be a big producer and specially nutritive, and a giant rice.

To the flower kingdom Burbank offers some new and brilliant varieties. The latter include a giant dahlia and some new varieties of gladioli. Burbank has also created a new ornamental pepper tree. Then he has a new walnut to add to his famous collection of walnuts already given to the world.

Several new species of bamboo trees are also to be introduced on Jan. 1. Poultrymen will be specially interested in the announcement that Burbank has perfected a new curly leaf kale.

NO INTENTION TO RE-OPEN MATTER OF CASH GRATUITY

Premier Meighen's Emphatic Statement re Soldiers at Meeting in Toronto.

Toronto, Nov. 20.—In a speech here last night Premier Meighen warmly defended the record of the government in the treatment of returned men. To a question as to whether the government intended to re-open, during the next session of parliament, the matter of a cash gratuity, the premier answered decisively "No." He said that a committee was appointed each session to make such adjustments of veterans' claims as considered advisable. He denied emphatically that any man with a German name had been hired at a salary of $10,000 a year, to re-organize the civil service, or in any other capacity. On the other hand, he said there were 27,000 returned men in the civil service at present.

JUMPED IN FRONT OF TRAIN AND END HIS WEARY LIFE

Port William, Nov. 20.—Tired of life, Cedar Harachum gave $150 to a friend, saying he had no further use for money and tried to hang himself, but pedestrians rescued him. Then he asked for his money back, and after spending it jumped in front of a train at Upsala, near here. This was the tragedy revealed by the coroner's inquiry. Suicide was the verdict.

When We Wound Up The Watch On The Rhine

Narrative of Canadian Participation In The Occupation of Germany After The Armistice

vigils of days and nights of warfare, had fallen into the hands of the enemy, and were there called upon to face sometimes even greater trials than they had ever experienced in the front line trenches. To them, doubtless, more than to anyone else the cessation of hostilities came as an unmeasurable blessing.

Days of Preparation.
After taking up positions just east of Mons on Armistice Day, the troops remained in this vicinity until November 21, when the march to the Rhine was commenced. For the first day or two after the close of hostilities a period of relaxation from the strenuous work of the last hundred days of the war was necessary to bring some of the men to the very point of exhaustion. It was only a matter of days until the glad news would be brought that they were to return to their homes.

During their sojourn in the Mons area, the most of the Canadian soldiers took part in the official entry into Mons, which took place a few days after the signing of the armistice, when Lieutenant-General Sir Arthur Currie, after leading his men into the city, which had been so prominent in both the beginning and the ending of the last hundred days of the war, was given the freedom of the city.

The Belgians' Thanks.
A touching mark of the gratitude of the Belgian people was a letter of thanks prepared by the burgomaster, or mayor, of the little town of Havre in which some of the second division men were billeted while preparing for the march to the Rhine. The message was printed on a card, one side of which was in French and the other in English. It was signed by the burgomaster, and was addressed to the Canadian soldiers who had assisted in driving from their midst the German tyrant from whom they were freed during the last four years of the war. The letter was most touching and expressed all the indignities that might be heaped upon the people of an invaded district. A copy of this greeting was given to each of the Canadian soldiers.

Besides giving the men and horses an opportunity to rest, the period of ten days between the signing of the armistice and the commencement of the trek to the Rhine was allowed to elapse in order to give the Germans a chance to withdraw beyond the river. Even this "head start" was not sufficient as will be noticed later, for, so entirely played out were the Hun troops that even with the short marches and frequent halts, the British troops were almost constantly in touch with the straggling remnant of the defeated foe on its last march home.

Peace is Disturbed.

The peaceful serenity of the after-war quiet preceding the advance into the enemy's country was disturbed only once and that at the dead of night. At Louviers the Germans had established a great ammunition depot and on the cessation of hostilities some hundreds of thousands of ammunition of all calibres were standing on the track. In some unknown way fire broke out amongst the cars late one night and in an incredibly short time the whole yard was a smoking mass of splintered railway equipment. The town, some four or five hundred yards away, suffered considerably, the houses being shrouded from most of the roofs and their interiors more or less disarranged. Although several of the inhabitants were slightly injured there were no fatalities.

The noise of the explosion of the shells could be heard for miles and some of the victorious Canadian troops, sleeping peacefully with the sub-conscious feeling that it was "all over" received a rather rude awakening and it was only after the official report of the occurrence

Style is Largely a Matter of The Right Corsets

Those little touches of grace and refinement that the well poised woman possesses are the result of carefully studied corseting. Your desire for a well-modeled figure can be realized too, through the selection of a well fitting corset. Careful boning, correct design, durable fabrics and excellent workmanship recommend the different kinds shown here.

You may choose from such reliable makes as D and A. Crompton, and Gosard, and whether your figure is of the stout, medium or slight type, it can be successfully fitted with one or another of these well known makes. Make an appointment and allow our corsetiere to fit you this time and give you advice on just what particular style is best suited to your figure.

GOOD VARIETY OF VAUDEVILLE AT OPERA HOUSE

High Class Singing, Excellent Musical Renditions, an Amusing Comedy Playlet, and Sensational Aerial Feats. The new week-end programme at the Opera House has a variety of high-class singing, excellent musical renditions, an amusing and well acted comedy drama and two clever acrobats and aerial artists. For a diversified bill it would be hard to excel and has something of interest for all. While some of the acts seemed to strike the fancy of the large audiences last evening, more than others, all were conceded to be highly entertaining and received hearty applause. As is customary an episode of a motion picture serial "Hidden Dangers" was first thrown on the screen, after which Kay and Elmore, two personality girls appeared in comic song hits and chatter. One interspersed considerable comedy and she was a popular favorite. They are clever performers and their efforts won appreciative applause. Frank Mansfield followed with tuneful melodies on a xylophone. He played some classic selections and a few jazz numbers, after which he sang two well known song hits in a most acceptable manner. Leigh De Lacy and Company have one of the feature attractions on the new bill. They present an original comedy entitled "Bringing Home the Bacon" and it was real good. The comedy was well handled and the predicament in which a husband of two wives finds himself is very amusing. The characters were well portrayed and the playlet made a decided hit. Cooper and Simon then entertained with a high-class vocal and piano offering. The young lady is a good dancer and singer and her partner a talented pianist. The latter won hearty laughter and applause in his comic song hit about the dream and the piece of bologna. The Russells brought the programme to a close with a thrilling and well executed aerial and acrobatic offering. Both the performers gave thrilling exhibitions which evoked prolonged applause. This bill will be presented again this evening and also on Monday afternoon and evening and will undoubtedly attract large audiences.

PLEADS FOR EARLY CARE OF THE CHILD

Dr. M. A. Honline of Dayton, O., delivered an address last evening before the Canadian Club at Bond's. He is secretary of the International Sunday School Association. He urged that care be taken in the formation of child character instead of waiting until the child has grown up and then having a detour to care for. Environment, he said, played an important part in the life of the individual. He pleaded for a greater preservation of child life and child innocence. A. M. Belding, president of the club, thanked Dr. Honline for his address and detailed some of the activities in this city of the Children's Aid Society. Under the direction of Dr. Spangler some choruses were sung and later in the evening Heber E. Collins sang with L. W. Simms accompanying.

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

R. A. Nixon of the Retail Merchants' Association of Montreal declared yesterday that a fortnight's experience with collecting the luxury tax by means of the revenue stamp has been enough to convince the merchants that this system is more or less of a failure. Many difficulties were encountered in the collection of the tax and many opportunities presented themselves to unscrupulous merchants to evade and capitalize the tax.

In the miners' convention at Truro last evening the Montreal agreement was rejected after a full day spent in discussing it. The vote stood 76 against and 20 for it. The whole matter was referred to the locals of No. 20 district. It is rumored in Ottawa that Joseph Gauthier, Liberal member for Ste. Hyacinthe, is to be taken into the government shortly. It is said that the government had long been desirous of patching up matters in Quebec and that this means will be taken to smooth over some of the difficulties.

Premier Melchen addressed a meeting of about 4,000 people last night in Massey Hall, Toronto. His remarks were punctuated with rounds of applause though he was subjected to several interruptions. Three or four thousand returned soldiers stormed the doors which were held by a cordon of 200 policemen. Sir Edward Kemp and Hon. Gideon Robertson were on the platform with the premier. His speech dealt with the protective platform of the National Liberal and Conservative party, and its policy of promoting Canadian manufactures by Canadian workmen.

Scarcely of the fourth well on the property of William B. Whitney at Langdon, N. H., yesterday failed to reveal any traces of the body of his second wife.

It was said last night that the man giving his name as Clarence White, of Sydney, who came from custody in Dorchester on Thursday, was Clovis Burke, a ticket-of-leave man from the maritime penitentiary. He is said to have been employed in a mill in the vicinity of St. John.

AMERICAN COLONEL GIVES FREE ADVICE TO RHEUMATISM

SAYS IT'S SHEER FOLLY FOR ANYONE TO SUFFER THESE DAYS. Rheumatism can't be cured so long as your system is weak and run down. You must first build up and get strength to fight off the disease. Ferrozene cures because it builds up because it renews the blood and dissolves the Uric Acid and the poisons that cause rheumatism. It is proved right here that Ferrozene does cure. Col. H. M. Russ, of Edwards, St. Lawrence Co., one of the fine old heroes of the Civil War, was completely restored by Ferrozene. Read his statement: "I couldn't get around without a cane and then only with difficulty. 'Rheumatism took complete control' of my limbs. 'Suffering was more intense than I had ever known on the battlefield. 'When my doctor had done his best he got Ferrozene. 'Then came a quick change. 'Ferrozene gave me comfort at once, eased the pain and took the stiffness of my muscles. 'I am well today. Ferrozene cures me completely. I can jump and run like I did forty years ago. 'Be sensible about your case. If you present medicine is useless give it up. Don't experiment again. Ferrozene is known on all sides to be a cure that does cure. Why not get a supply today. T. sooner you begin Ferrozene the quicker you'll get well. Price 50c. per box or $2.50, at all dealers, or direct by mail from The Catarrhose Co., Kingston, Ont.

S. S. Millars called yesterday afternoon for Liverpool, via Sydney, with 46 tons boxed meats and lard. J. T. Knig & Company are the local agents.

A Photograph from War-Stricken Europe (All are seven years old—largest child is normal)

Do this in Remembrance of Armistice Day

Millions of children in Central and Eastern Europe have been made fatherless by war. Many of them are stunted and weakened through lack of proper food.

These are the coming citizens of Central and Eastern Europe. Upon their present care and nourishment depends whether the nations to which they belong will be healthy and right-minded or hot-beds of anarchy and degeneracy.

The Ravages of Typhus While the children are suffering so much the adult populations have been reduced to the direct misery by the spread of typhus.

The British Empire War Relief Fund has been undertaken by all British peoples to help mitigate the suffering of plague-stricken Europe and to save the children.

Commissioner Jones Speaks On Matter of Turning Off Water for Infraction of By-Laws.

The refusal or inability of some householders to comply with the regulations regarding water, has been causing some inconvenience and hardship to innocent residents, so Commissioner Jones said this morning. He added the department was unable to do otherwise than shut off the water in cases where the people refused to see that the rules were carried out.

He quoted one case where six tenants in one house were forced to do without water on account of the neglect of the landlord to see that the water service pipe was in proper condition. In another case where three families were served by the same service pipe, all three were deprived of the water on account of the neglect of one of the tenants.

Mr. Jones said that the law provided that in places where there are more than one tenant, the owner or leaseholder must provide a separate supply pipe for each tenant or occupant or be liable to have the water shut off the whole premises for any breach of agreement or violation of the law, etc.

Mr. Jones said that in one or two cases where sickness existed in the homes where water had been turned off, he had ordered the service resumed, but this was not to be taken as establishing a precedent.

COMPELLED TO COMMIT CRIME

Attempt to Convince Alienist This Could Be Done Under Hypnotic Influence.

Berlin, Nov. 20.—A sensational attempt has just been made in Vienna to prove that hypnotism may be used to compel others to commit crime, according to a despatch received here from that city.

The despatch declared that a young girl giving her name as Mia Osta called at the office of Prof. Wagner Jaureck, a noted specialist in mental diseases. She handed the famous doctor a letter, and as he started to read it, she drew a pistol pointed it at the physician, and pulled the trigger. The revolver failed to go off and the girl was immediately seized.

An examination showed that the revolver was loaded with paper bullets. The girl seemed dazed when examined by the police, and gave no answers to the questions that were put to her. After the examination Prof. Jaureck pronounced her mentally deranged.

A few hours later Walter Sell, a hypnotist, appeared before the police and declared that the girl was his subject. He said Prof. Jaureck had attacked him severely for his statements that hypnotism could be used to compel crime, the specialist characterizing his theories on the subject as untrue. He told the police that on account of this attitude of the specialist, he had, in the presence of two witnesses, hypnotized the girl, giving her the pistol and ordered her to go and shoot Jaureck. He had, however, he said, rendered the pistol useless. He told the girl the girl promptly came out of the state of hypnotism at the specified hour and appeared to have no remembrance of what had occurred. The hypnotist said he simply wanted to convince the noted specialist of two things; that crime could be committed under the power of hypnotism and that persons were not necessarily insane just because judged so by Prof. Jaureck.

$5,000 FOR MONUMENT
Sir George Perley Subscribes to Argenteuil Project.

Lachute, Que., Nov. 20.—Upon a recent visit to Lachute, the Hon. Sir George H. Perley, High Commissioner for Canada, England, expressed interest in the proposal to erect a monument in honor of the men from Argenteuil County who fell in the great war, and requested that a synopsis of the origin, the development and the present position of the movement be sent to him by the secretary of the Soldiers' Memorial Commission. This was done, and the following letter has since been received from Ottawa:

"I thank you for the information regarding the monument which it is proposed to erect at Lachute in honor of the men from Argenteuil who fell in the great war. I entirely agree to this idea as we should certainly keep in mind continually the sacrifice which our valiant dead have made for us and I know of no way in which this can be done better than by putting up the monument as proposed. I, therefore, take pleasure in now enclosing herewith my check for $5,000 as a subscription for that purpose and I hope that the whole scheme will be carried forward to successful completion.

When the military entered the house, the chief of staff jumped from the window, and vaulting a ten foot wall, got away.

Dublin, Nov. 20.—The county council yesterday passed a resolution deciding in future that it would comply with the requirements of the local government board and carry on business, irrespective of certain decrees of the Dail Eireann (Irish Republican Parliament) recently issued.

This is the first breach among the Irish local bodies in loyalty to the Dail Eireann. It synchronizes with application made by the local government board in the Dublin courts against the Dublin city council and the Monaghan and Cavan county councils to enforce the right of supervision.

The case has caused a sensation in England because of Malone's position as member of the House of Commons and his notable war record.

SALADA BUILDING, BOSTON

The building, situated at Stuart and Berkeley Streets, Boston, is constructed of granite and limestone, and has eight stories and a basement. It is replete with modern conveniences for the speedy and cleanly packing of tea.

SALADA BUILDING, TORONTO

THE THREE LARGEST TEA-WAREHOUSES IN THE WORLD

These three huge warehouses owned and operated exclusively by the Salada Tea Company, are the largest in the world devoted to the blending and packing of tea. In less than 30 years "Salada" has become a household word throughout Canada and the United States and is, indeed, by far the largest selling tea in America. Large quantities are also exported to South America and to Europe.

Besides these buildings in Toronto, Montreal and Boston, other Salada offices are situated in Winnipeg, New York, Chicago, Detroit, Buffalo, Pittsburg, Philadelphia, Los Angeles, San Francisco and London, Eng. The Company trades only in tea and only in tea of Salada quality, thus assuring undivided attention to the product. Every packet of Salada wherever bought may be relied upon to be of exactly the same fine quality and to yield an unequalled cup of tea. This policy of keeping faith with the public has been responsible for Salada's extraordinary sale.

SALADA BUILDING, MONTREAL

The magnificent building shown above, situated at the corner of St. Lawrence Street and La Royer Streets, Montreal, will be occupied by the Salada Tea Company about February 1st next. The present building at St. Paul and St. Sulpice Sts. erected 11 years ago, has for some time proved inadequate for the business.

GE GOSSIP OF THE WEEK

"Mandarin" Gets Queasable Welcome on New York Boards—Shaw's Last Also Criticized.

Ben Deacon, Canadian Press Correspondent.

York, Nov. 20.—The New York critic as a rule is an outpourer of person. If he doesn't like "he is very apt to say so, and critic is apt to say so in very variable language. When a production in New York it is with reckless abandon and the loudest, instead of meeting the inmates at a theatre."

"Most of the neurologists in town were present and seemed to have a jolly time." The critics also turned a cold shoulder for the promoters of the show. Among the quartette of new productions offered in New York this week is "The Mandarin," an adaptation by Herman Bernstein of a psychological piece written by Paul Kraus of Vienna. It would appear to be merely a rather morbid presentation of the fancied adventures of a neuroticist Dun Juan and it met with strong disapproval from those whose profession is theatre-going. Here are a few of the shots that were aimed at it in the heavy barrage of newspaper criticism which bars its advance to success:

"Billed as 'a play of another world,' 'The Mandarin' seems likely to receive a better welcome there than here."

"The lights did as much performing as any of the cast."

"Brandin' Tynan played the Baron with heavy rings under his eyes and such trick as looking goggle-eyed at the footlights."

"There was a good deal of talk about a salutarium and, at about ten of the p.m., you rather wished you were resting in one comfortably, all by your self, instead of meeting the inmates at a theatre."

"Most of the neurologists in town were present and seemed to have a jolly time." The critics also turned a cold shoulder to "Heartbreak House," the George Bernard Shaw play which had its first presentation under the auspices of the Theatre Guild here this week. While not nearly so severe in their comment as in the case of "The Mandarin," the majority appear to have found the play a success, and the opinion is expressed that it is much better in book form than as spoken drama. Though it has been available throughout the country for several years and is probably familiar to all of the more fervent admirers of Shaw in Canada, if Shaw's war writings have left any mark, "Heartbreak House" was long in reaching the stage. The author prohibited performance in London on the ground that the theatre during the war was in no condition to present such a play, and the autocratic Mr. Shaw also forced the Theatre Guild which had first planned to present the play early in October, to change its plans because he did not believe his piece should be given before the United States elections. How anything under Heaven, even a play by George Bernard Shaw, could have affected the result of the United States elections is a mystery. In his preface Shaw informs those who seek the meaning of the play that "Heartbreak House" portrays the "cultured, leisured Europe before the war."

The characters represent business life and its dishegories and social life and its mendacities. By deed and implication Shaw displays them as hedonists, lazy lot of time-servers, faithless to themselves and to each other, and implies that they can be spiritually reborn only by a bolt from Heaven. To those who share the secret of Shaw's life, the play is understandable, but to those in the audience who have not the benefit of this inside information it must seem merely a conversational mystery. It is probably the "talkiest" of the Shaw plays and its verbosity, possibly not so noticeable in the reading, is amplified considerably in the stage form. The flashes of Shaw brilliance are only sporadic appearance, and are of such a nature as to seem almost meaningless talk must be listened to in order to get them. In fact, in the latter part of the second act this was so apparent that even the members of the very excellent company were affected by it and they mumbled and rushed their lines in their eagerness to pass the dull spot before the audience lost interest. Summarized briefly, "Heartbreak House" is a very large amount of talk, about 30 per cent of which is brilliant and the remainder futile, and a small amount of action, with one farcical interlude achieved by means of the serio-comic burlesque.

South America wool made the greatest decline during the past two months, dropping approximately fifty per cent. Black and gray wool from South Africa is plentiful at greatly reduced prices, while the wools from England and Ireland have declined about thirty per cent. Further declines are expected in practically every line before sample prices are reached.

We expected the recent declines and anticipate further drops, declared one authority. "During the war wool prices soared in accordance with other prices and although every one knew that the prices would drop they did not expect them to react so quickly as they did. The whole trouble is that the retailers will not take their loss. Outside of a few bargains there has not been a general cut in the price of clothing and the public are wise to this fact and are holding off. The only remedy is for the retailers to cut prices to the rock bottom and then the market will become active again."

"Afgar" the musical extravaganza which opened at the Century Theatre this week, seems likely to prove one of the season's hits. It is an Anglo-French achievement. It was imported from London, where it was a big success, it is founded on the French of Michel Carro and Andre Bardo; its staging is by English experts; its star is French-Mlle. Alice Delysia, originally of Paris, but several years past a London favorite; its chief comedian is Lupine Lane of London; and its costuming is by Poirot. And these all are deserving of the success which greeted its first presentation in New York, although to Mlle. Delysia is accorded the biggest share. In two ways does she differ from the type of French comedienne familiar to audiences in Canada and the United States—she has a really fine voice, and she is not petite. She is quite the contrary. She has grace and charm, however, and a back even more suited to the present-day style of stage costume than Kitty Gordon's. "Afgar" is Oriental of course. There is a harem densely populated with gorgeous and beautiful wives, a rich Moor, a handsome intruder, jealousy, a divorce, an elopement, and a reconciliation. It is extravagantly staged.

Hit From London.

The fourth production of the week, and by no means the least successful, is another London importation. This is "French Leave," which was presented at the Belmont Theatre with Mr. and Mrs. Coburn playing the principal roles. Although the war comedy has had a lengthy run in London and has also been presented in several Canadian cities, it was new to New York, and judging by the reception accorded it the other night, it is due to join the big list of English productions which have met with popular favor here. Reminiscent of "The Better Ole," it has that atmosphere of cheeriness and good humor and bluff British heartiness which cannot fall but spread from stage to audience and put everybody concerned in the best of spirits. It really is "The Better Ole," promoted to commissioned gaudier-General while Bert and Alf are duplicated in a Lieutenant and Captain born to trouble and disaster of the laugh-promoting kind. The wife of an officer smuggles herself into the war area to join her husband and his efforts to keep her hidden from the sight of his superiors, lead to wild complications which fill out the plot. The New York critics returned a unanimous verdict in favor of the piece.

FURTHER DECLINE IN WOOL

(Journal of Commerce)

While the majority of Canadian wool merchants are optimistic regarding the final outcome of the market, they are unanimous in their contention that the prices of Canadian fleece will see further declines during the next two months. The fact that there is a plentiful supply of all wools on the market is having a tendency to bring about a general slump. Another factor is that most American mills are closed down while one or two Canadian mills are running on short time on account of lack of orders.

During the past two weeks the Canadian mills have been expecting several large orders from Europe and bought large stock in readiness, but to date the orders have not been received and the

BRINGS HOME A CHAMPIONSHIP

Wm. McHarg Won Ring Honors in West But Had Pocket Picked on Way Here.

William McHarg of West St. John arrived home on the Montreal train at noon today from Calgary. While there he won the amateur lightweight boxing championship of Canada and was awarded a very pretty silver medal with the following inscription on it: "Amateur Boxing Tournament, Nov. 3, 1920, Calgary, lightweight championship, William McHarg."

The championship tournament was staged under the auspices of the Military Boxing and Wrestling Association on November 2 and 3. McHarg defeated Bert Johnson and Captain Sparks of Calgary on the opening night, and the following night won from Gardner in one of the hardest matches of the tournament, and then defeated Thornton, who held the championship for five years. In the semi-finals against Gardner the St. John boy was forced to extend himself and had to stand considerable punishment, but in the last round he succeeded in landing a hard right uppercut, which brought the bout to an abrupt termination. In the final bout against Thornton, McHarg showed great skill and aggressiveness, according to an account published in one of the Calgary papers.

McHarg was asked by the officials of the club to remain over and represent Calgary in the Regina championships, which are to be held in the near future, but he decided to return home. While in the west he boxed with Arthur Pelly. He also worked out with Billy Allen, ex-featherweight champion of Canada. He is a pupil of Frankie Burns of this city.

While in Calgary station waiting for a train east his pocket was picked and his wallet and every cent he had stolen. He was forced to pawn a stick to secure enough money to procure food until he reached St. John.

He was met at the station by friends who warmly congratulated him on his achieving the lightweight championship.

A COURT SUIT OVER THE D. J. PURDY

Action Against C. N. R. is Announced in Fredericton Today.

Fredericton, Nov. 20—It was announced here today that the Crystal Steamship Company will bring an action for damages against the Canadian National Railways as a result of the steamer D. J. Purdy having been stranded on a bar at the mouth of the Nashwaak.

The company blames the C. N. R. for failure to have the draw of the railway bridge opened when the steamer arrived here, making it necessary to anchor in the stream, from which position she was blown by gales on to the bar.

The river was frozen almost completely over this morning but before noon the ice started running again, although in larger quantities than during the last few days. Because of the large volume of freight offering, it is said the steamers will be operated as long as conditions permit.

The D. J. Purdy was successfully floated yesterday afternoon by the Magistrate and is due at Indiantown this afternoon. Last night she got as far as Fredericton and remained there until this morning. It is said here that she will not go to Fredericton this season as ice is starting to form in the river, but may make one trip to Cole's Island on the Washademoak. The steamer Magestic will replace the D. J. Purdy on the main river route.

"Open Shop" Drive Forcing Sharp Issue

"American Plan" of Employers Meet "Americanism" Appeal of Unions — Forces Mobilizing for Test of Strength

(Malcolm W. Davis, Industrial Editor of the New York Evening Post.) The sharp fighting developing over the issue of the "open shop" as against the "closed shop" in industry bids fair to overshadow in importance issues of wages and hours and conditions between organized workers and organized employers in the United States this winter. The "open shop" drive of employers generally against unionization of their enterprises has become nation-wide and well-ordinated and definite under the name of the "American plan" movement. Labor union factions, including the American Federation of Labor and its local councils, and also independent unions, which have been somewhat slower to take up the challenge publicly, have recently been conferring and issuing statements regarding their consideration of plans to combat the "open shop" campaign.

The test of strength over this issue will reveal clearly, for the first time since the war, the present relative positions and power of organizing workers and organizing employers. In the first place, it is necessary to understand that the "open shop" movement is a direct reaction against the rapid gain in influence made by organized labor during the war, when steady production was a vital national necessity to which industrial issues had to be subordinated. Under the national mediation system, trades unions extended their influence rapidly as agencies able to arrange a contract basis for uninterrupted labor. In the endeavor to establish their position, unions have undoubtedly abused their growing ability to compel allegiance through exerting combined pressure against rebellious individuals or groups, as is inevitable in the course of any human struggle for power.

On the other hand, there is a likewise indubitable tendency on the part of some employers, once union contract conditions are broken down, to use their power to make workers absolutely dependent upon the employers' will, without real power to resist within the factory or to resort to any outside aid, and thus to beat down wages, lengthen hours, and determine conditions arbitrarily. Such practices constitute an abuse of power which in turn calls forth an inevitable response in the renewed tendency of workers to follow union leadership. Such a tendency is already evident in moves to coordinate union activity against the co-ordinated activity of employers, and to relate to each other and unify the plans of regular American Federation of Labor unions and such strong independent workers organizations as the Amalgamated Clothing Workers and the International Ladies' Garment Workers. Spokesmen of the more conservative old-line A. F. L. unions have pointed out that the "open shop" drive accentuates among workers the appeal of the more radical "One Big Union."

However that may be, the "open shop" drive under the patriotic-sounding label of the "American plan" is in full swing and could not be stopped. The slogan "American plan" openly tends to belittle the real issue somewhat by appealing to post-war national emotions. The "open shop" idea as an answer to unionism is as old as labor organization itself, and is common to every country where modern industrial conditions and trades unions exist. Neither the "open shop" idea nor the "closed shop" idea

"SALUDA" Black for Black Tea Drinkers — Natural Green for those used to Japans

The Southern Metal Trades Association conducted an educational campaign during the past week in calling attention to the "open shop" plan in favor of the "open shop" plan for American industries. The present labor surplus, as compared with the labor shortage in 1919, and the general curtailment in industry, favor the campaign.

The executive council of the American Federation of Labor in its session during the past week has been discussing its plan of campaign against the "open shop." It has been direct financial aid to individual unions in the fight; a general intensive campaign will undoubtedly be undertaken, with endeavors to induce Congress to pass legislation protecting the union principle. The National Grange in its Council of New York has recently issued a resolution calling for a nation-wide union action against "open shop" drive. There has been talk of raising a large fund among union members for the purpose. The Philadelphia Central Labor Union has taken similar steps. In Oklahoma, a labor "council of action" has been listing "open shop" employers and union purchasers against the goods. Court action generally has supported the principle of the "open shop." There are on record decisions making an imposing series upholding "open shop" employers in contests with the unions and enjoining unions from calling attention to the "closed shop" principle or using other coercive methods to further it.

How far the general public may become aroused over the whole issue will depend largely, of course, upon the character and course of the conflict. The National Grange in its publication, has taken a position in favor of the "open shop" idea. Industry published at Washington, declares that the farmers generally oppose the union programme. It also quotes the Rev. F. Ernest Johnson of the Research Department of the Commission on the Church and Social Service of the Federal Council of the Churches in favor of the "real open shop," and opposing the union shop closed against the union men and the employers' shop closed against union men. It stated: "In the union shop the employer is shorn of autocratic power to set wages, hours, and working conditions. Here, joint bargaining is the rule. The workers have a voice. To talk of liberty where non-unionism exists is mockery. There can be no democracy where employers have personality controlled company unions and welfare systems, as did slave owners who boasted of their 'd' treatment to vassals. There are only two systems in industry—union and non-union. The union system rests on collective bargaining and the workers' right to be represented by persons of their own choosing. The non-union system rests on individual bargaining with the worker pleading his own case or by a person the employer approves."

The American Federation of Labor principle is for a straight definition of the issue in terms of union shops or non-union shops and against "mixed shops," in which non-union and union workers are supposed to be employed indiscriminately.

The executive council of the American Federation of Labor in its session during the past week has been discussing its plan of campaign against the "open shop." It has been direct financial aid to individual unions in the fight; a general intensive campaign will undoubtedly be undertaken, with endeavors to induce Congress to pass legislation protecting the union principle.

How far the general public may become aroused over the whole issue will depend largely, of course, upon the character and course of the conflict.

Mrs. Asquith's Much Talked Of Book Now Published

Some London Comment on It—Royalty and Club Life—No Official Report of Jutland Battle to Be Issued—News Topics of a Week.

London, Nov. 4.—(Our Own Correspondent)—Few books have had the cynical good luck to be so vivaciously discussed beforehand as Mrs. Asquith's. And just when everybody has been shocked, outraged and delighted by the society high explosive nature of the copious extracts made public in advance here and in America—precisely, in fact, at what it is now agreed to call "the psychological moment"—here comes the volume itself, published at 25 shillings net by Thornton Butterworth, and neatly bound in prim plain grey, with the sprightly autograph of the incomparable "Margot" in the corner, like the familiar guarantee signature in the marmalade.

Those outraged moralists who have been most scandalized by the terrible excerpts will rejoice to hear that there are "lots more like it" in the complete book, and also a wealth of most fascinating illustrations, including many interesting photographs of famous people, most of them looking across younger than we know them now, and more realistically. Early Victorian than the present generation could have imagined possible, either in nature or photography. There are also some clever little thumb nail sketches, one of them by the versatile author, and one by Alma Tadema, of Queen Victoria. The frontispiece is a photograph of "Margot" herself, looking like a beautiful, slim slyph of fashionable thirty-two, and dated 1920.

No Ordinary "Handful". Mrs. Asquith's description of her childhood, her border home, her parents, of human texture. There is something almost barren in the frankness and lack of reticence shown in some passages. But even that is a part of the charm of this contemporary publication. free from home direction as the Argentine and Chile. That fallen idol, the astute Colonel House, went about congratulating himself on having, by this Maciavellean move, contributed to the break up of the British Empire. Now, mark what follows. The six votes for the empire are still the main American objection to the League. At the highest of the American presidential campaign, when the League is the main issue, in butts (if I may use such a word of such a man) Lord Robert Cecil, an M. P. and ex-administrator, the president of the English League of Nations Union, and an ex-British peace delegate. That Lord Robert would have liked to be the third English delegate. Instead of Mr. Barnes is well known, but probably his growing association with Lord Grey in the project for providing an alternate coalition government would have made it difficult.

The malicious are now asking whether he was invited by General Smuts, or whether he offered his services. Anyhow there is going to be trouble. One of my League of Nations friends who ought to know tells me that the French are considering opposing at the assembly the dominions' right to vote. This I should doubt if they will persist in when the time comes, but it only shows what a hornet's nest the innocent action of Lord Robert has provoked.

The Jutland Mystery. Public opinion will certainly be surprised, and a little dismayed, by the Admiralty's decision not to publish the official account of the Jutland battle, which has long been in course of preparation, because it would be so expensive. This is the sort of story that the Admiralty may be advised to tell to the House of Commons. Everybody knows perfectly well that cost of publication has nothing whatever to do with the decision, which has been taken solely owing to irreconcilable and sharp differences of opinion on the Jutland battle tactics between the two famous admirals most of all concerned.

It is a pity that the full official story, with the personal notes of disagreement by Lord Jellicoe and Lord Beatty, could not be given to the world. There have been oceans of expert controversy over the Jutland and other great naval fights of historic import, and now obviously the Battle of Jutland will never be over. Naval authorities will be fighting it out broadly to broadside a century hence. The publication of the German account of the battle makes the more urgent some official British version. The popular Service talks that Jellicoe and Beatty differ most widely on the crucial point of all—the failure to renew or continue the fight either during the night or next morning. Beatty was all out for the Abbey or a Nelson monument, but Jellicoe, whose responsibility was infinitely greater, believed that the hours at stake were so colossal that caution was a supreme virtue. It was a big view to make sure of winning the war than to risk losing the war for the sake of winning Jutland as an out-and-out victory.

The Earl's Teddy Bear. There was a very pretty incident in Belgrave Square, when Prince and Princess Arthur of Connaught left their London home with their little boy, the Earl of Macduff, aged about eight years, for South Africa. Prince Arthur, as everybody knows, is going to take over the responsible duties of governor-general. He and the charming princess looked quite smiling and happy over their departure, and the little boy was obviously much elated at the prospect of the long journey and the new strange land so many miles away. After leaving the house for the waiting car outside, it suddenly occurred to the Earl of Macduff that he had forgotten his favorite teddy bear. Back he dashed into the house to get him, and re-appeared, flushed and triumphant, with the ridiculous teddy tucked away under his arm and holding up grotesque stuffed arms in exultation at its side. It might have been supposed that the prince and princess were going off merely for a short summer holiday, judging by their quiet, unexcited manner and serene smiles. They consented to be photographed for the newspapers before leaving Belgrave Square—the prince in a new lounge suit of tweeds and the princess in a plain but stylish traveling dress. Lord Rawlinson also left this week to take up his new post in India.

Whether he knows it or not, Lord Robert Cecil has thrown a bombshell, or at least a hand grenade, into what solemn people call the Chancelleries of Europe by accepting the post of South African delegate to the League of Nations assembly at Geneva. This apparently harmless piece of ceremonial pleasantness of the part of the South African Government has caused more excitement among diplomats than Poland and Ireland put together. If you ask why, you have to go back to the peace conference, when they were discussing whether or not the dominion should have separate votes in the League. Both France and America strenuously objected at first on the ground that this gave Great Britain six votes to everybody else's one. The insistence of General Botha (who believed in the League) and Mr. Hughes (who did not, but did not see why Australia should not have a vote anyway) carried the day. The French and Americans gave way, really believing what was apparently true then—that the dominions in these matters were separate states, and would vote as

Of Course, the Women Liked It

On special occasions, such as an afternoon tea, the new Red Rose Orange Pekoe Tea had its first introduction to many of the women of Canada.

And at such times its extra qualities could be discussed and enjoyed at leisure.

The women found that its aroma is delicate and delightful, that it has a bright sparkling amber color in the cup, that the flavor is of rare charm and distinction, while its strength is rich and satisfying.

TO SERVE CHURCH
ON NEW MAGAZINE

Associate Editors Are Appointed to Conduct Presbyterian Witness.

Rev. Dr. G. S. Carson and Rev. Dr. Robert Haddow have been appointed associate-editors of the new Presbyterian Church weekly, to be known as The Presbyterian Witness, which will be published by the board of Presbyterian publications, Toronto. The appointments were made this week at a meeting of the executives of the general board and the board of publications.

Rev. Dr. Carson has been editor of The Presbyterian Witness of Halifax for fourteen years, and Rev. Dr. Haddow has held the position of editor of the Presbyterian and Westminister of Toronto for twenty years.

The new official church weekly will be an amalgamation of these two journals, and the dual editorship will have the advantage of combining the best features of papers. Dr. Carson has an intimate knowledge of Eastern Canada; Dr. Haddow knows thoroughly the centre of the continent; while Dr. Solandt, the new lines manager, will bring with him a wide experience in ministerial and active life in the west.

Dr. Solandt has arrived in Toronto on Winnipeg, and will enter upon his duties immediately. Rev. Dr. Carson will be from Halifax to Toronto at the end of December, when the new Witness will be published. Meanwhile, Dr. Haddow continues in the position of acting editor of The Presbyterian and Westminister.

TO BE DYSEPTEIC
IS TO BE MISERABLE

The poor dyspeptic suffers untold agony after every meal, and any one who has dyspepsia knows what joy it would give to eat three square meals a day and not be punished for it after.

Nearly everything that enters the weak stomach acts as an irritant, and even the little that is eaten causes such torture and is digested so imperfectly that it does little good.
Before you can eat heartily, and not sick and choose your food, you must put your stomach into such a condition that it will manufacture its own digestive ferments.

For over forty years Burdock Blood Bitters has been toning up and restoring weak stomachs to a normal healthy condition so that the food no longer causes distress, but is thoroughly digested and assimilated, and enables one to partake of all the wholesome food required without fear of any unpleasant after effects.

Mrs. Alice Beckwith, Peasport, Ont., writes: "I have been a great sufferer from indigestion and dyspepsia for several years. I could not eat anything without almost dying from the pain in the pit of my stomach. Seeing Burdock Blood Bitters highly recommended, I tried a bottle, and can gladly say it relieved me. I can eat anything now, and am in perfect health."

B. B. B. is manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co. Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Curling Hair This Way
Preserves Its Beauty
That dull, dead appearance of the hair no longer troubles the woman who has adopted the shimmering method of keeping her tresses in curl. The result is very different from that produced by the drying, devitalizing waving iron. The hair appears more naturally wavy and curly, and the application is really beneficial to the life and growth of the hair.

Any druggist, of course, can supply the liquid almirine. A small quantity should be put on just before doing up the hair, using for the purpose a clean tooth brush, drawing this down the full length of the hair from root to tip. The effect is delightfully surprising, and there is no discoloration, no stickiness, greasiness, nor any other unpleasant accompaniment, no matter how it is fastened.

Doctors Declare Allies' Move Means Death to Thousands of Babies.

Berlin, Nov. 20.—Following the demand for 800,000 milk cows, the allies have now presented a demand upon Germany for 250,000 horses, according to the evening papers. Of these France wants 200,000 and Serbia 50,000.

Medical associations are adopting resolutions of protest, declaring that taking away that many cows means the death sentence for thousands of German babies. Minister of Public Welfare Stegerwald has issued a memorial giving details to show that the loss of that number of cattle would mean decreasing the daily supply for German children and invalids at a time when milk is already so scarce that American quarters have distributed tens of thousands of cans of condensed milk from America.

THE SINGLE TAX
ISSUE AT SOO

Sault Ste. Marie, Nov. 20.—Labor will again assert itself at the polls in the municipal elections in January. The newly-formed independent labor party is now asking the City Council to take a vote of the ratepayers on the question of the introduction of the single tax system in the Sault Ste. Marie, and according to present indications, the issue will be a hotly-contested one. The leaders of the independent labor party say they will force the Council to submit the question by securing a petition of at least one-tenth of the ratepayers. Mayor Parquette is championing the measure in the Council as the labor party's spokesman, and the probability is he will again run for the Mayorship of 1921, but is certain to have hot opposition.

IRON TRADE SLOWS UP;
NO FORWARD BUYING
New York, Nov. 20.—The only pleasant feature in the iron trade, according to the Matthew Addy Company, is the general feeling that the present state of affairs cannot last long. It is asserted that there is no buying whatever for forward delivery, purchases consisting of small lots that are wanted in a hurry.

Suspension of shipments is being asked in many cases, together with demands for cancellation of orders. Furnaces are said to be resisting cancellations, demanding that contracts be considered as firm obligations. The Addy Company sums up the situation by saying that the iron masters, unable to substantially reduce costs, and unable to sell iron, are meeting the situation by going out of blast.

How to Keep Fit in All Weathers
INACTIVE KIDNEYS
THE CAUSE OF PAIN AND DISEASE
MANY and varied are the consequences of careless treatment of kidney troubles. The symptoms—backache, headache, gravel, dizziness, sleeplessness, painful urination, stiff muscles and joints—are often treated as being of no importance. Yet neglect, or even delayed treatment, may result in years of suffering.

In the train of the early symptoms closely follow lumbago, sciatica, rheumatism, swollen joints and other serious maladies. Everyone should watch closely for the first indication that the kidneys are failing to remove the poisons from the blood stream. At the least sign, sickness and afflictions can be warded off by taking

Gin Pills
FOR THE KIDNEYS

The effectiveness of Gin Pills lies in the fact that they dissolve and drive uric acid from the system. They clear the blood of all impurities and thus provide sure relief. The chief ingredient of Gin Pills is derived from the Juniper Berry—in other words, Gin without the harmful alcohol. The formula of Gin Pills combines with this extract of Juniper seven other valuable diuretic and antiseptic medicinal properties scientifically compounded. The result is a Pill which restores the kidneys to full and proper activity. Gin Pills quickly strengthen weakened kidneys, soothe inflammation, and eliminate all waste and infection from the system.

During the year 1919, the people of Canada bought 613,644 boxes of Gin Pills. On the basis of the 1911 census, that is one box to every twelfth person, man, woman and child in Canada and Newfoundland. Surely these figures point significantly to Gin Pills as the one remedy for kidney and bladder trouble.

The following letter is illustrative of the wonderful effectiveness of Gin Pills:—
"For two years, I was an invalid, incapable of work of any kind. Sixteen months of this time, I was unable to move without the assistance of a crutch and a cane. During this time, I took medicines, but did not improve, and had about given up hope of ever being of any use again, when a friend advised me to try Gin Pills. This I did, and within two months was as well as a man as ever I was. This was four years ago, and I have had no return of my trouble since. I still use a box or two as a preventative, and am enabled to go fishing and shooting in the Spring and Fall, and lie out on the ground at night without any inconvenience. It is a wonderful medicine, and I take great pleasure in recommending it to all sufferers from rheumatism."—Name upon request.

Gin Pills have brought relief to thousands, and there pours into our office a continual stream of voluntary testimonials. What they do for others, they can do for you. Neglect your kidneys now, and the results may be fatal later. You cannot afford to be without Gin Pills. Start taking them to-day.

He was in the winning crew of the famous Henley when Brasenose won against Trinity Hall with Sir Charles Dilke aboard.
Without attaining any special distinction at the Bar, Mr. Woodgate, who contributed the boating article to the Badminton, and wrote a generally rambling account of his legal and sporting experiences, settled down as the beau ideal of a bachelor lawyer dwelling in the Temple. Single-handed he fought the railway companies even into the appeal court on points of public right. 16 DROWNED IN MAINE LAKE
(Canadian Press Despatch.)
Bangor, Maine, Nov. 19.—Sixteen woodsmen were drowned in Chesuncook Lake, in the heart of the lumbering district, late yesterday afternoon, when a motor boat took fire. The men were being taken across the lake from Chesuncook Dam to Cuxabess. Efforts to quench the fire failing, the party became panic stricken and many leaped overboard, according to word brought here today.
The icy water soon exhausted those who thought to escape by swimming and all of them are believed to have lost their lives.

DIAMONDS IN TEETH BADGE OF MATRIMONY San Francisco, Nov. 20.—Twin solitaire diamonds flash from the teeth of Mrs. Mabel King Hickman, of San Francisco. One is a memorial to a husband dead 14 years, the other is in honor of her present husband. Diamond studded teeth are, in Mrs. Hickman's code, as acceptable a badge of matrimony as the customary plain gold ring. The solitaire in one of her teeth was taken from Mrs. Hickman's engagement ring. Her first husband, William King, requested that she have the betrothal jewel set where it never could be lost. Her present husband, Augustin Hickman, supplied the second diamond.

When I return to England I will produce authenticated cases and will furnish English business men with an illuminating and instructive account of conditions and opportunities in Britain's finest dominion and I will in my report emphasize the necessity for British industries to have branch offices and factories on the job, so that we will not in future be beaten within our own Empire."

THE EXCHANGE RATE

VII.—What Controls It?

We have shown in former issues of this series that currencies, outside their own countries, are commodities, not money; the advantage of Bills of Exchange over gold for making settlements and the effect of the Trade Balance on the Exchange Rate. In our last article, we explained the influence of the Inflation of the Currency. We will now deal with the effect of the second of the War Finance measures, the Restriction of the Export of Gold.

Before the War, except during the greatest financial crises, paper currencies of the chief countries could be redeemed in gold on demand, and the gold could be sent to another country.

The fact that this was possible had great controlling influence on fluctuations in exchange, for when the premium on a Bill of Exchange on any country rose above the cost of shipping and insuring the gold, Gold reserves, if depleted by shipments to countries where our paper money was at a discount, usually were restored by the purchase of gold in countries where our paper money was at a premium. The range of the rise and fall in exchange was thus kept within comparatively narrow limits.

When war broke out, however, all the belligerents prohibited the export of gold in order to retain as large reserves as possible for their future financing.

The principal controlling factor in the exchange market was therefore withdrawn, and the price of Bills of Exchange depended chiefly on whether the amount offered exceeded, or was less than the demand.

In our next issue, a week from to-day, we shall touch upon some other influences on the exchange value of the dollar which, to keep the problem in its simplest form, have so far been omitted.

Trade Reviving

(Toronto Globe.)

Indications are not lacking that Toronto's buying public is heeding the best of the merchants that they do their Christmas shopping early, and in November, if possible. The approach of the holiday season, along with the drop in temperature, has brought about a material improvement in the retail trade.

Shopping is now becoming more general during the earlier hours of the day, and street cars comfortably filled with women shoppers is a common sight these mornings. In fact, it has become quite noticeable this week that the retail trade is also apparent on the part of the merchants to attract trade, and all indications go to show that, whereas the retail trade during the past few years has been more or less of a sellers' market, it is now turning into a buyers' market. Unique are some of the methods that are utilized by the city's progressive merchants to induce buying. One big store which at the present time is making a strong bid for the Christmas trade for toys has placed toy departments on every floor of the store. Back of this is apparently the idea that the children will peruse the vast array of toys in the store where there are playthings, and the long-headed managers hope thus to spread business to other departments.

Preparations have been made in an extensive way to meet the holiday trade, and the general opinion is that a gain will be shown. Even if conditions this fall have not been as good as the retail merchants expected or would like to have seen, they have now prepared with liberal stocks for an even better than usual holiday demand. No more than any other year do they anticipate that the buying will run more than usual for the useful class of gifts. To be sure, there will be the useful gifts as usual, but store managers do not foresee any drop in the quality of the purchases.

Some of the merchants are claiming that the retail trade is being injured by the luxury tax. While the arrival of cold weather has undoubtedly helped business, some merchants say that the improvement is not as great as is looked for, and they blame it on the luxury tax and the propaganda for lower prices.

COMPLAIN OF DIFFICULTY IN GETTING UNDERWEAR

An Ontario wholesale dry goods house complains about inability to get deliveries on underwear that has been on order for nine or ten months. A letter from the wholesaler to the manufacturer of underwear, and the reply there to which are self-explanatory are in part as follows:

"We beg to enclose you a little memorandum which we think you will make use of yourselves. It is really painful to us to have to write to our customers who bought goods from us last January and February, and to say that we cannot fill their orders because we have not as yet received goods from the manufacturers. Every mail brings in complaints about delay in delivery and demanding that we ship at once. We enumerate below a few of the serious numbers, and must ask you for a detailed report on each line, so that we can give our customers some intelligent information. Kindly ask Mr. [Name] to give this his immediate attention and report as requested."

The reply from the manufacturers is as follows: "We acknowledge receipt of your letter, and feel you are handing it to us pretty strong when you mention 'we ought to be ashamed of ourselves' regarding deliveries. We must feel the situation this year has been beyond human control. We did everything within our power to get operators, but it was absolutely impossible for us to do so. However, we are pleased to say we now have every machine in the mills filled and production from now on should be normal. We should feel the result of this immediately. In fact we have done so."

PLEA FOR WOMEN AS PROSECUTORS

(Toronto Globe.)
It was a story of tireless and incessant work, work against terrible odds, yet with a measure of success that makes it well worth while, that Mrs. A. Van Winkle, Lieutenant of Police of the District of Columbia, told to the Big Sister Association at a luncheon held in the King Edward Hotel yesterday, with Mrs. Sidney Small presiding. Speaking of the warm words of praise by Judge Sellers that had preceded her, Mrs. Van Winkle said:

"The probation officer finds too few hours in the day because she needs the day's hours. We don't. Our days are all so full and so long that we cannot pigeonhole anything, for tomorrow may be worse than today. You can imagine, then, that the Judge likes us."

"We've travelled far," she went on, "from the days when I was in charge of a girls' reform school in New Jersey. Only one woman came to see us in three years—and she wasn't interested in the children. She looked inside the dumb-wallahs to see if they were clean and reported some dust she found on the electric light. While, all the time, the

PRESCRIPTION FOR COLDS AND GRIPPE

Formula Which is Approved by Leading Physicians.

Physicians all over the world are agreed on the best treatment for the relief of colds in the head or the advanced stage of the trouble—la grippe, or first stages of influenza.

This formula is now offered the public under the name of Grip-Fix and is used for home treatment. It comes in capsule form and acts promptly, as it has a ten-year record of relieving a cold in a night or a case of grippe in 24 hours. Its action allays the fever, relieves the soreness in the muscles and back and keeps the system open to throw off cold-generated poisons.

Grip-Fix is just what it claims to be—a physician's prescription. The full formula is printed on every box. It contains absolutely nothing injurious to the system, but everything needed for the prompt treatment of colds or grippe. Get a box of Grip-Fix. Have it in the house. On sale at all druggists, 30 cents per box.

work done. We'll do the work, law or no law. I've been threatened with prison, and I say: 'Send me there.' Then we may be able to get some reforms in prison administration."

She had been told that London had 900 police-women and at the signing of the armistice they were dismissed. But they had to call them back. Men interpret the letter, not the spirit of the law. The only do the thing because it's written.

The London police-women get three months' training, while in the United States they are two years getting trained as they go along. The three months' concentrated work, Mrs. Van Winkle thought was better for developing the women into what she must be, "a social diagnostician."

The speaker deplored any system that passed the girl from place to place, each questioning her and deciding she was "not our case," until, instead of the blush of shame and the tears, there came a certain pleasure in telling her story.

From the Inside Out.
"You get from a girl in an interview what her mother couldn't get, all her history," Mrs. Van Winkle said, "and you must work from the inside out. You cannot impose anything on her. You've got to take her as she is, and if there is a grain of goodness in her, you've got to take hold of that."

Out of 600 investigated cases, she said, 120 were selected that the police-women could deal with and 200 that the parents could deal with. Those 200 never came back. There must be something good, or they'd have come back. The 120 were turned over to follow-up workers to do for them such things as the Big Sisters do. They helped them with their clothes, for "we're judged 50 per cent. by the kind of working clothes we wear."

They helped to make them clean, they got them jobs, and for a while they reported every day, then three times a week and finally once a week.

The little sophisticated girl of eight and twelve years, with sex experience, learns this sort of thing, Mrs. Van Winkle said, from the movies.

Sympathy for the Police.
"Don't always criticize the police," the speaker said, "look to your courts. See if the police are being backed up. I want you to like your police, to have faith in them. Your cities are not one bit better than your police department."

The police-women work night and day, and when they get more, they're going to help boys as well as girls, for they say a boy going downward loves a good woman, and she can influence him. At present, however, the police-women have their hands full with their day work and their night patrols looking after dance halls and street corners. Ninety per cent. of the girls who lead a life of shame, Mrs. Van Winkle said, are introduced to it by a taxi-cab ride. One of the greatest influences to stop this sort of thing was a reformed woman who had helped them in one year to apprehend and save 400 girls. She knew the taxi-men in the dance halls that were in the traffic, and was able to do wonderful things until she became known.

To HAL REID, The Windsor, Montreal.

Dear Mr. Reid:— It was with great interest and pleasure that I assisted at the private screening of your photo-play entitled The Confession. It is such a play as this that christianizes the stage and the screen. This a pity that more of them are not written. Would that every man, woman and child could witness The Confession.

May your photo-play bring with it all the good intended. Very sincerely yours, (Rev.) JOHN L. O'ROURKE, Priest, Chancellor.

LIGHTKEEPER
ALONE 3 DAYS
WITH HIS DEAD

Stormbound on Giant's Tomb
Rock Following Death of Wife—Tended Lamps Together 22 Years.

Midland, Nov. 20—Mrs Alfred H. Griffith, wife of the keeper of the lighthouse at the Giant's Tomb, died last Friday night. Owing to heavy weather, it was not until Monday night that her husband succeeded in reaching any person on the mainland. In the meantime, he was about 12 miles from any human being, though he saw an occasional freight boat pass in the distance.

On reaching Midland, a party was organized and returned over the storm-swept lake to the lonely rock where Mr. and Mrs. Griffith kept the light for twenty-two seasons.

The island, or rock known as the Giant's Tomb, upon which Mr. Griffith was left for three days and three nights with the body of his wife, is one of the most conspicuous in the waters of the Georgian Bay. Around it a great deal of Indian lore exists. In the early days Indians avoided camping on that island overnight for fear of disturbing a famous chieftain's rest. The impression as of a huge body in the solid rock gave the island its name and the Giant's Tomb is known to every sailor on the Great Lakes, and is visited every summer by hundreds of Canadians and tourists from the United States.

DECLARED LEGAL Y DEAD
Man Left Toronto 22 Years Ago For Montreal

Toronto, November 20—W. W. Abbott, who left Toronto twenty-two years ago after having lost not only his own but much of his mother's money in a Yonge street fruit business. He went to Montreal and from there is thought to have gone west. He has not been heard from since, though his mother repeatedly tried to get into communication with him. Before he left he said that if he was not heard from in seven years he would be dead. If he were alive now he would be fifty-one years of age. His father died in 1918, and his mother died last year. This week on the application of his sister, Mrs. Yancey of Minneapolis, Justice Rose of Osgoode Hall, declared him to be presumed dead. There is some $2,500 of his father's estate in which he would share if alive.

YPRES MEMORIAL

Cloth Hall, Cathedral and Ramparts to Be Left Until Decision is Reached.

London, Nov. 10.—(By Mail, Canadian Associated Press)—E. Wood has addressed a question to the Prime Minister in the House of Commons asking whether he is aware that considerable anxiety exists in this country as to the permanent preservation of the remains of the Cloth Hall at Ypres as a memorial to the heroic defense of the town during the late war by British and imperial troops, and whether he can state what steps, if any, have been taken by His Majesty's Government in order to secure this object.

Mr. Lloyd George, in a written reply, says: The Belgian Government have agreed temporarily to leave the Cloth Hall, the Cathedral and the ramparts of Ypres in their existing state pending formulation of a scheme by the British Government for the erection of a memorial to the troops that fought there. As announced by the Financial Secretary to the War Office on June 14, the question of the erection of national memorials has been referred by the Cabinet to a committee presided over by the Earl of Middleton. This committee has made certain recommendations which include the rebuilding of the Menin Gate at Ypres, and I hope to be able to make a fuller announcement before long.

Willie Cloakley, a four-year-old, who was found wandering about St. Patrick street yesterday afternoon by Charles Kilpatrick, of the fire department, and unable to give his home address, was taken to the central police station, where his mother, Mrs. Cloakley, of 62 Brussels street, found him several hours later.
