MANITOBA COLLEGE.

The fourth session of Manitoba College will commence on the first Tuesday of October 1874.

The College Building, while in the City of Winnipeg, is yet sufficiently remote from the business centre to ensure retirement. The College is connected with the Canada Presbyterian Church, but in its Regular and Commercial Courses is perfectly unsectarian in character. While non-sectarian the Bible will be taught, and the plan so successfully followed in Princeton College in the United States of avoiding points controverted between the different religious denominations will be followed.

The College aims at adapting its course to the wants of our new Province.

Young men able to spend only the winter months in study are carefully attended to.

A good business education will also be given.

Students going on to the Professions will be carried through the regular course, and the course is adapted to give the necessary preparation for students in Surveying and Civil Engineering.

COURSE OF STUDY.

The Curriculum of Study of the College is divided into three courses, viz :—The Regular Course, the Commercial Course, and the Special Course.

The Regular Course includes the subjects every student must take, unless exempt as being in another department. This course is divided into four Forms, each of which is considered sufficient to require a College year for passing through it.

Students in the Commercial and Special Courses are exempt from such subjects of the Regular Course as the College Senate may from time to time decide.

The standing of each student is determined by an examination, or given upon the presentation of a certificate of equal standing from any similar institution in the Province, or Canada.

The course fits for passing Matriculation and First Year Examinations in the University of Toronto, for Matriculation in Law or Medicine, as well as for entrance on the Courses of Agriculture, Civil Engineering, and for beginning Theology in any of the Canadian Colleges.

The Course in Commercial subjects, including Penmanship, Business Correspondence, Book-keeping and Banking will form a prominent feature of the College.

PREPARATORY DEPARTMENT.

On account of the imperfect facilities for education in the Province, and especially in the North-Western Territories, the authorities of the college have found it necessary to organize an Elementary Course. It is the object of the College to foster the Public School system of the Province, and this department will not be allowed to interfere with the Public Schools of the City; but to meet the lack spoken of, this department will supply instruction in subjects required.
