Plenty Money In Maritime Provinces

St. John Investment Broker Says Business Was Never Better in Spite of Payments on Victory Loan Subscriptions—Maritime Industries Making Money, and Outlook Bright for Future.

St. John, N. B.—"Although many people are still paying instalments on their subscriptions to the Victory Loan, the amount of money invested during the first quarter of the year in the Maritime Provinces was surprising," says a local investment broker.

Keen interest in Bonds. "But now Maritime people are showing a keen interest in the bond market. And the interest is widespread—not only in the larger cities, but in all parts of the provinces.

WEST INDIES SUGAR CROP FOR 1919-20

Exports of Sugar and Molasses Last Year Were 24,000 Tons Below Estimate.

The quantity of sugar and molasses exported from the West Indies last year, fell below the estimate by nearly 24,000 tons. Slight increases over their estimates were made in Jamaica, Barbados, St. Kitts and St. Vincent, but a shortage of 30,000 tons occurring in Trinidad and British Guiana, left the net total shortage as stated above.

Smoke Too Much? Let Nicotol Help You Quit

Do you smoke too much? Thousands of men do and know it. They want to smoke less or quit altogether but will not punish themselves to endure the craving that follows leaving off.

Next year when the Victory Loan subscriptions are paid up we are certain that there will be a lot of money seeking investment in these provinces. At present there is no sign of a let-up in the prosperity the people are enjoying and there will have to be a very pronounced depression elsewhere before it is felt here.

Alarming Civic Situation. A city paper stated on Saturday: SIX THOUSAND SEVEN HUNDRED AND FIVE electors of St. John have NOT paid last year's taxes.

If over ONE-THIRD of the electors CAN'T, or WON'T, pay their taxes now, WHAT WILL HAPPEN when improved streets are wholly charged up to General Assessment and the load of taxation doubled?

Is not the conclusion reasonable that WE WON'T GET IMPROVED STREETS? The road to General Assessment, paved as it has been with dangerous arguments and silly rhymes, can only lead to Poverty, Chaos and Disaster.

It is to avoid this dreaded result that level-headed citizens are being asked to vote for the Abutters' Act. BEFORE CASTING HIS VOTE TODAY every public-spirited elector should ask himself this question: "Will my vote help to build up the city or pull it down?" That point decided, let him go ahead and VOTE LIKE A MAN.

St. John Y. M. C. A.
Won In Moncton

Saturday Night the Local Seniors Journeyed to Railway Town and Won First Match of Series for Championship.

Victory was with the St. John Y. M. C. A. Seniors in Moncton last Saturday, when they won the first of a series of home games to be played for the Y. M. C. A. Provincial Championship with majority of nineteen points. The Red Triangle boys from the Railway city started the game in their characteristic manner, a full head of steam and the throttle wide open. At the St. John boys were playing a new man in the place of the old reliable Marquette, who is still suffering from an ankle sprained in a recent game. The whirl-wind pace had their new line up guessing for a while, but after Moncton had scored for five baskets in the first eight minutes of play, Willet scoring on a foul, started a few alterations on the score board, the rest of the team got the habit and Malcolm came right back with two goals for St. John. Fast combination from centre enabled Willet and Nixon to tie the score. The two teams then settled down and close checking held the score unchanged for practically the rest of the period, Malcolm beating the whistle to one more addition, the half ending 13 to 10 in favor of St. John.

Moncton was forced to change its lineup just before the end of the first half when Triton left the floor and was replaced by Grant.

Neither team was able to score in the first five minutes of the second period. Then Morton banged in one more for St. John; McWilliams duplicated and brought the crowd to their feet with a very pretty shot for Moncton; Malcolm and Morton shot in a few more for St. John, and from then to the end of the game the Moncton net was rained with shots, but the strangers seemed lost on the new floor and failed to increase their already large lead. The game ending 23 to 14, with St. John leading nineteen points.

Marshall and Nixon, the St. John defence, played good ball, holding their checks close. Triton for Moncton, and Malcolm and Morton for St. John, were the high point getters of the evening.

The lineup of the two teams was as follows:

Moncton	centwyp shdrlu m	St. John
Moncton	Forward	St. John
McWilliams	Willet
Steeves	Malcolm
	Centre
Triton	Morton
	Defence
Hutton	Nixon
Taylor	Marshall

The substitutes were Grant for Moncton and Swetka for St. John. George Sinclair, of Moncton, proved a satisfactory referee.

The Sixth Sermon In The New Series

Rev. Dr. Morison introduces Some Famous Seventeenth Century English Preachers, and Speaks of the Crown for the Man Who Falls.

Before a large congregation in the First Presbyterian Church, West St. John, yesterday, Rev. Dr. J. A. Marston preached the sixth sermon in the new series, in which he introduces some famous seventeenth century English preachers, and speaks of the crown for the man who falls.

Dr. Marston said, in part: "In a curious old volume printed in the city of London in the year of our Lord 1683, containing sermons by the great preachers of seventeenth century England, there are a number of 'Mr. Lye's Summary Discourses' at the conclusion of the last Morning Exercises at All-hallows, Lombard Street." To the antiquarian, this volume has an interest and value all its own. To the present-day preacher, this queer old book is also appealing, though for an entirely different reason. Containing, as it does, discourses by such men as Mr. Calamy and Dr. Manton and Mr. Baxter, and Mr. Beerman and Mr. Vennung, and other notable theologians of that day, this volume provides a fine example of the type of sermons of that age. Added from the light cast by them upon such civil and ecclesiastical and national conditions as prevailed at that time, merely regarded from the standpoint of plain pulpit speaking they are unsurpassed.

Thus, for example, Mr. Lye's sermon on the text (Rev. 2: 17): "To him that overcometh, will I give to eat of the hidden manna, and will give unto him a white stone, and he shall have his name written, etc.," he says: "Believers are all a generation of conquerors; all conquerors; they are like the sons of the kings; but some believers are more conquerors than others, some that lay their hands on the devil as he is about the devil in his own bow, that stand out against Satan's greatest batteries, that turn his cannon on himself, and out of the hand of that Goliath with his own sword; these are something more than conquerors." "But how," he asks, "come believers to be thus conquerors?" And among other ways to attain this end, he declares they must "study well the Book of Books, to discover the saint's duty and privilege and God's care and providence over the church. . . . familiarize the Cross of Christ, by daily expectation of it, and do not say 'I sit as a queen and shall see no sorrow.' Let your love abound by opposition, that becomes a martyr's spirit indeed. . . . Let the wind blow it in thy face, let that blow up more of the blood into thy face; let it warm thee more. . . . Esteem duty above safety. . . . Let the least sin, else they will never be a conqueror; that man that will not lay down his lust for Christ will never lay down his sin for Christ. Sin is heaped like the devil—let him get in but one paw, let him get in his head, he will quickly get in the whole body. If you would avoid the paw, avoid as much as you can the very parings of his hoof."

These were the days of plain and pointed speech in the pulpit, and for this the preacher sometimes paid with his neck.

The accusation brought against the minister of the church at Pergamum, as we read in Revelation II, 14, 15, that he had a few people in his church who held to false doctrine and had been led into sin owing to the fact, as implied, that he had not quite done his whole duty in making war upon these evils, can scarcely be charged against this Mr. Lye, who preached at All-hallows, Lombard street, in the year 1655. Like the world's greatest playwright, who a century before, had declared: "Pill sin, gathering head, shall break into corruption," Mr. Lye believed in striking at the root of the evil and laying it low. Men change, but man changes not. The same old-time sins are with us still. Some sermons don't suit everybody, but when the preacher speaks of "temptation," he addresses his message to all his hearers, for all are subject to temptation. Temptation, like pain and death, is a universal experience. No place or state is exempt from temptation. St. Anthony, seeking to shun temptation, fled from the city, but he testified that the temptations of the desert were worse than those of the city, and the Decameron of Boccaccio brings the same tale from that villa outside the city of Florence whether the poet and his comrades betook themselves to avoid the plague. So is it here. The new name—the name of that which you desired to be—shall be written upon your breast. For He who knows your failures also is acquainted with your temptation, and great is His mercy to the children of men. us.

"All I aspired to be And was not comforts me, All men ignored in me, This I was worth to God, Whose wheel the pitcher shaped."

Next Sunday Rev. Dr. Morison will deliver the seventh sermon in the new series.

RAILWAY SHOPS IN RUSSIA MUST WORK FULL TIME

Soviet Government Gives Stay on Job or Pay Penalty. Notice to Workers — Must

London, April 8.—(The Associated Press.)—The Russian Soviet government has threatened to put the workshops of the northern railways under martial law to put an end to what it calls the "crime" of the workers in wasting time in holiday-making, according to a wireless message from Moscow. The government asserts that 1,000 working days were thus lost in one month and that the railway men are arranging to have two days of idleness each week at a time when millions of people are hungering and when it is impossible to transport bread, owing to lack of railway engines. It notifies the idlers that they will either have to make good for the time "or which the republic has been robbed" or receive full penalty under martial law.

The message issued by the government is headed "Shame comrades," and declares that Russia cannot await salvation from foreigners but must fight her own internal blockade in order to "end the ruinous condition of things, conquer hunger and save the Soviet Republic."

OBITUARY.

Miss Annie L. Foshay, Lower Juniper, April 10.—The death of Miss Annie Lawrence Foshay, who died at an early hour this morning has thrown the entire community into mourning, the deceased lady having been one of the most highly respected and devoted residents of this place. Miss Foshay had reached the advanced age of eighty-four years and up until about a year ago had been in the enjoyment of good health and took an active part in the life of the village.

She was a member of the Anglican church here and could always be depended on to do her share of the work of the parish.

She is survived by a nephew, John W. Foshay, with whom she made her home, and two grand-nephews, William of this place and Sylvester S. of St. John.

The funeral will be held this (Monday) afternoon. Interment will be made in the Church of England burying ground.

ALBERT McWha.

St. Stephen, April 11.—Albert M. McWha, entered into rest Saturday evening at the home of his sister, Mrs. Robert Nixon, on Prince William street, after a protracted illness. He was twenty-five years of age, the son of the late George R. McWha, and had a wide circle of friends and acquaintances. Though not among the most robust of our young citizens, he was among the first to respond to the call of King and Country, and was the third man to enlist in St. Stephen in the 12th Battalion on August 12th, 1914. He went overseas with the now famous First Contingent, and with his comrades was transferred to the 10th Battalion, with which he saw active service in France. He was wounded in the leg and arm at Festubert, May 22nd, 1916, and was invalided to England and then to Canada. After some time in hospital, he served two seasons as fish warden on the Lepreau River, but failing health compelled retirement from labor some months ago. "Bill," as he was familiarly known, made many friends and had won the esteem of all; his death being much regretted. Three sisters, Mrs. Raymond Wilson, Mr. Robt. Nixon and Miss Margaret McWha, survive, and ministered to his wants in his final illness. They have the sympathy of all in their bereavement. The funeral services will be held at the home of Mr. Nixon, Monday afternoon, at 2 o'clock. Ven. Archdeacon Newham officiating. At the request of the deceased, the funeral will not be of a military character. A wife and child also survive.

Ribbons Distinguish Adaptations of 1830 Styles

The 1830 styles as adapted to the 1920 maid have retained one very distinguishing feature—Ribbons.

The large dashing bows of the Louis Philippe period of French fashion are ingratiating themselves into the good graces of the women in this year of peace and happiness, in a way that makes the demand for Ribbons very great.

Undoubtedly the greatest growth in the use of ribbons will be found in the lingerie field. Bows, Rosettes, Bands and Streamers of plain and two-toned satins in all the boudoir shades of Orchid, Rose, Pink, Blue, Maize, Grey and White trim every garment of intimate wear for women who are followers of fashion.

Our complete stock enables you to keep up with fashion in pretty ribbons of all kinds.

Memorial Tablet Unveiled At Knox

A Children's service of a very fine character and one which will be long remembered by those who attended was held at Knox Church yesterday morning. Instead of a Sunday School session, the children assembled at church at eleven and occupied the body of the church. The Company of Cadets with Pipe Major Hayter were present. Sergeant Vall in charge. A collection was taken in aid of the Armenian relief fund and a large sum being contributed. During the service a Memorial Tablet in honor of the pupils of the Sunday School who had given their lives in the war was unveiled. The tablet was dedicated by the Minister of the Church, Rev. Moorhead Legate in the following words: "To the Glory of God and in the undying memory of those brave boys who in the great struggle for God and native land, we dedicate this memorial tablet, praying that it may always remind us of duty bravely done and sacrifice made for the cause of righteousness. Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends."

Prominent Citizen Died Yesterday

James V. Russell, Prominent in Business and Public Life, Passed Away Yesterday Morning at His Home, King Street East. James V. Russell, prominent in the business and public life of the city, a man of exceptional energy and ability, died on Sunday morning at three o'clock at his home in King Street east, after an illness of two years. He was struck with paralysis in the summer of 1917, and for the past year he had been unable to get out of bed. He was born in St. John on August 2, 1862, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Russell. He was educated in the city schools and went early into business life with Vincent & McFate, who were prominent boot and shoe dealers of that time. After a short time with them he went to Mrs. T. A. Good's store in the North End and there rose to the position of manager, which he successfully filled for some sixteen years, then buying out the store and carrying it on for himself. He always took a deep interest in public affairs, was a prominent Liberal; was for a long time a member of the Executive of school trustees; had been an alderman before commission government was adopted and under commission government served for four years as councillor of harbor. He was prominent in the Independent Order of Foresters, and had held high office in the High Court of that fraternal order. Mr. Russell was of most genial, kindly nature, a likable man in all that the term implies. He was loved in great number and there were many expressions of regret heard yesterday when it became known that he was dead, while many kindly words were recalled as a word of sympathy for those bereaved by his death was spoken.

League Fights On A Broad Principle

The General Paving League, takes this opportunity to state that the ballot published in two afternoon papers on Saturday, headed "A Good Way to Vote," was not inserted by the league. Although some of the candidates have decided to withdraw in opposition to the abatement tax, the General Paving League has not adopted any candidates but has confined its activity to the abatement of rates, which is obviously unfair to a large majority of the taxpayers. The stand taken by the league, however, is not affected in any way by the individual support which any member of the league may wish to give to any candidate. Signed, R. P. Hamm, Chairman General Paving League.
