Weariness.

O, little feet, that such long years

Must wander on through doubts and fears,

Must ache and bleed beneath the load,

I, nearer to the way-side inn

Where toll shall cease and rest begin,

Am weary, thinking of your road.

O little hands, that weak or strong,

Have still to serve and rule so long;

Have still so long to give or ask,

I, who so much with book and pen

Have toiled among my fellow-men,

Am weary, thinking of your task.

O little hearts, that throbb and beat

With such impatient, feverish heat,

Such limitless and restless desires,

Mine, that so long has glowed and burned

With passion into ashes turned,

Now covers and conceals its fires.

O little souls, as pure and white

And crystalline as rays of light

Direct from heaven, their source divine!

Refracted through the mist of years

How red my setting sun appears!

How lurid looks the soul of mine!

—Longfellow.

The Mother's Life.

The mother's life is full of prose.

From early dawn to daylight's close;

But amid her household cares,

Some little poem unawares

Is written down within her heart,

And of her life becomes a part.

Some loving words a child may say,

A golden curl long put away,

A half-worn shoe upon the floor,

And all the things the baby wore,

A broken toy, or faded flower;

May touch the heartstrings any hour.

DODGING FOR LIFE.

BY THE REV. IRVING L. BEAMAN.

John King was sent in haste on an errand to his uncle's, a mile distant.

His way led along a well-trodden path

across a belt of woods.

It was in western Pennsylvania in the dark years of Indian wars; but the savages had not been seen in that vicinity

for some time, so that no danger

was feared for the lad on such a short trip. Indeed, he had passed over the same road almost every day since his father moved into the Presque Isle country, two years before, and had never met anything stranger than a wild turkey or a deer.

John was a brave, athletic boy of fourteen, quite noted in the settlement

for his punctuality, and as sure to arrive on time as an express. As he left the door he noticed that it was one o'clock, and said in a jolly tone

to his parents:

"Now for a race with the shadow;

I shall be back before it reaches the

two mark."

So many years ago the pioneers of the borders measured the flight of time

by a sort of sundial on the cabin floor.

A spot was selected where in clear

GRIT TACTICS.

The careful reader of Grit journals cannot but be struck with the hollow and want of independence which seem to be the alpha and omega of their utterances on public questions. In fact, to read some of these papers, one would almost believe that they were rehearsing for a pantomime, in which "Reform" is to be the leading feature, so absurd are some of the positions assumed. Immediately after the elections, and before the new Government was formed, from Dan to Beersheba of Gritism came the cry—Where is the promised change of improvement in the commercial world—where the promised prosperity? The Editor of the Free-Press, a gentleman of intelligence and ability, was also one of the number to reiterate the senseless cry. Did they expect a change for the better to take place in a month, a week, a day, or even before the Government was formed? Five years ago, the Grits went into power with a full treasury, containing from ten to fifteen millions of dollars. But now after five years of mismanagement and blundering, of playing into the hands of foreign traders through the medium of a pan-handle tariff policy—they have plunged the country into a condition of unrest, have largely added to the public debt, and hand over the government of the country to the victors at a time when the country is in the throes of commercial inactivity, and with the bottom dollar abstracted from the treasury, or nearly that. Had not Providence smiled upon the efforts of the husbandman, it is hard to say what would have been the result. It will take years to undo the injury inflicted, and there is not a man in the Dominion outside of the ranks of a horde of disappointed and howling politicians who expects that the prosperity so much desired is very near at hand. But we have faith in the able statesmen who now man the ship of state. They have taken charge when the waters are rough and the winds high; but after the storm of adversity there will come the calm and sunshine of prosperity, and they have the ability as well as the disposition, to pilot the craft into smoother waters. While their predecessors continually preached economy, it is for the new administration to put it into practice, and by so doing teach the people to renew their faith in the men who hold in their hands the destinies of the country—a principle which, though the blundering of men who unfortunately for the country obtained the reins of power for a season, was well nigh extinct. The people will not be gulled by the party cries of men who have more of the spirit of knaves than fools. They believe that better times will come, and they believe too that the men now in power will have no stone unturned to assist in bringing about the change which, though so greatly desired, must be the natural order of things come gradually, as did the change from better to worse during the last term, the result in part of Grit mismanagement.

Methodist.

The Rev. Mr. Tippet, the young and talented Methodist Minister, who has labored in Restigouche for some time past, recently left his charge temporarily to accompany a sick brother, (Mr. Seale) to his home in England. Mr. Tippet has again returned. We are pleased to learn that Mr. Seale, who labored here for a short time during the sickness of Bro. Jenkins last spring, is rapidly recovering his health in his native land.

The Rev. Mr. Atkinson (late appointed) is laboring in Alouic, in connection with the Miramichi Circuit.

The Rev. Mr. Thomas is very much esteemed by the people among whom he labors at Esquimaux and other places.

There are now five Ministers engaged in Miramichi in connection with the Methodist Conference. A few years ago the work of the Circuit devolved upon one Minister, and hard labor it certainly was, the stipend being such as would now scarcely satisfy a probationer. Among those who went in and out among the congregations at the various points, laboring with warm-hearted and unselfish zeal in the Master's cause, we may mention the names of the Revs. Messrs. Pictor, McNutt, Lockhart, Sheppard, Wood, Rice, Sleep, Johnston, DesBrisay, Pickard, Daniels, Snowball, Smith, Barrett. The great majority of these workers have passed away.

Robt. Forrester, a large proprietor of Glasgow, has failed. Liabilities estimated between two and three millions of dollars.

A meeting of the creditors of the estate of Ferguson, Rankin & Co. was held at the residence of Mr. J. B. Macdonald, Esq., on Tuesday evening, the 11th inst. Mr. Rennie was appointed Assignee, and Mr. P. R. Polph, Esq., and Thos. D. Bell, of Montreal, agent of Campbell & Co. of Glasgow, were appointed Inspectors.

He sadly missed from the floor of the House of Commons, one gifted mind and kindly heart, whose presence, to the councils of the nation, would create a vain regret, like the loss of a star. We refer to the Hon. Peter Mitchell, whose public services during the long years since Confederation placed him in the foremost ranks of Canada's ablest and most devoted statesmen, and entitled him to the thanks of an intelligent and appreciative people. His career, his sterling ability, and large business and political experience; independent in his actions, fearless in the expression of his views; the soul of good nature, yet keen as a razor in debate, though too broad-minded to descend to hair-splitting, Mr. Mitchell was exactly the last man whom the country could afford to spare at this trying juncture from active participation in the consideration of its situation and the legislative measures to be adopted for its improvement. He was the truest and most faithful servant of the people and member of the Government, and his death is a serious loss to the public and a model of efficient and popular administration of one of the most arduous and important of Canadian State departments. All who recall his able management of our Marine and Fisheries service must admit the justice of these remarks and feel that, in paying this tribute to the honorable gentleman, we are doing no more than the duty which every impartial journalist owes to the talents and merits of the public men of his country, regardless of party.

While we endorse every word of the above as regards Mr. Mitchell's personal and public qualities, we are happy to assure our contemporary that Mr. Mitchell will not long be missed from his place on the floor of the House of Commons. As soon as the case can be brought before the court and the rascalities which led to his defeat exposed, the man who now usurps his place will be unseated, and in all probability legally disqualified from attempting, for some time to come, to attain a position for which he does not possess the necessary qualifications. Notwithstanding the unfortunate position of the County at present as regards the present administration, the outlook is more hopeful, and a few weeks will see the change which will be gratifying to the many friends of our late representative and all who take a real interest in the welfare of the County.

Bathurst Notes.

TAFY PULLING is in season at Bathurst Village just now, much to the disfigurement of a certain wood pile. Some amusement was had at one of these festive meetings the other night, but more by way of spectator than participant—at least so says the able-bodied owner of the wood pile, and he recommends for the future that public places in which to sport such nothings even if told in music's sweetest strains to eyes of lustreous hue.

Times are not improving. If bottom has not been touched, God help us!—There will be a great deal of suffering among the poor this winter.

A SEVERE STORM of wind and sleet raged here all Friday and Friday night. So far as known no damage of any moment was done.
