QUESTION OF NATURAL GAS IS A MOST IMPORTANT ONE.

The City Council Will Have A Difficult Proposition Before Them To-night In Deciding What Company Shall Have Franchise To Supply City.

The special meeting of the City Council which will be held to-night will be a very important one. Possibly one of the most important questions which the present Council has had to deal with will come up—that of a natural gas supply for Chatham.

"The Council have many things to consider in granting a franchise to any company," said J. G. Kerr this morning. "They should look into the matter carefully, as one mistake might completely destroy the city's chances of ever securing benefits from the opportunities which are at present offered."

"The men who are operating in the Tilbury field are doing so largely in the hope of getting a gas supply for Chatham, and from present appearances they will be highly successful. They look upon the offer from the Leamington people as being antagonistic to the local interests. The Leamington people do not ask for an exclusive franchise, as they have not enough gas, and if they are allowed to come in here with the gas they have, and are not able to supply the whole city, they will get part of the trade and ruin the chances for someone else. It will be a case of the local men being in the hands of a middle man who has the franchise and no gas.

"The men operating in the Tilbury field have come together on the gas question, and the combined interests represent 48,000 acres of land leased, and at present being worked for gas. They have twelve wells in, and twenty-seven in the course of construction, and several 'wildcat' wells which are being put down solely with the hope of securing nothing but gas. They are branching out of the field and have already let the contract for a number of wells in the Township of Dover.

"These men, too, are what you might call local men, and as such they should receive the preference if anything. They spend their own money here, and they also spend the most of their money with the farmers of this district who all come to Chatham to make their purchases, so that the city will make no mistake by keeping this money circulating in this district. If the franchise were granted to a Leamington concern, this would not be done.

"It is indeed a difficult proposition for the Council to handle, but the thing they should be very careful to do is to grant the franchise to the company which will be in the best position to provide enough gas to supply the whole city with fuel, light and power.

NO DAMAGE HAS RESULTED

So Says J. C. Pritchard in Reference to Queen St. Sewer Matter.

HOW HE GOT THE PERMIT

Mr. J. C. Pritchard, Depot Agent for the Grand Trunk Railway, had something to say this morning about the statements made at Monday's Council meeting regarding the tapping of the Queen Street sewer by the Railway Co.

"I was considerably surprised," said Mr. Pritchard to the Planet representative, "to see in the papers last evening that Engineer Jones believes I got the permit for the sewer by an imposition. In his letter to the Council the City Engineer makes some wild and startling assertions, some of which are entirely devoid of truth. He says that I did not obtain the permit until after the work was begun, and that I obtained it through connecting it with the alterations to the standpipes at the depot, which were then taking place. All this I deny. I went to Mr. Jones on July 13th for the permit and explained my business to him, telling him that we did not wish to tear up the pavement to lay the sewer, but only to connect it with the Queen St. sewer between our own tracks."

"Mr. Jones referred me to Mr. Weir, who, he said, kept the permits, because he, Mr. Jones, was so often absent from the building. I went to Mr. Weir and explained my business to him, telling him, exactly as I had told Mr. Jones, of the Company's intention to tap the Queen St. sewer. I was told to pay $5 to the Treasurer and to get his receipt for it, and when I had done this the permit was handed to me. Here it is."

Mr. Pritchard took the permit out of his pocket and showed it to the Planet man.

"The statements that have been made about the increased tax on the Queen St. sewer which will be caused by the new sewer is quite unreasonable. The sewer will really be receiving less than it has formerly done, for the pens have always been emptied into the Queen St. sewer, and in days gone by, when the hog-shipping business was at its height, the latter sewer had to accommodate twice as much as it is ever called upon to do now. The Company have put in adequate drains in place of their old tiling, which was admitted too small for the purpose. The sewer is not taxed any more than it has ever been by the refuse being emptied into it by a new, instead of an old, drain, and I cannot see any reason why the Council should make the mistake of passing such absurd resolutions as the one of Monday night, which asks us to repair damage that has not been done."

ALL THREE.

You've read his new novel. It is a love story?

Yes, it's intended to be. There's a young naval officer in it, and a cad, and an idiotic chump—

But what's the hero like?

I'm just telling you. The hero is all three of them.

It is so easy to find fault with the good things possessed by others.

CARPENTERS ON STRIKE.

1,500 Toronto Working-men Quit Their Work Last Night.

MORE STRIKES COMING.

Toronto, Aug. 9.—With the exhibition buildings not finished, the roofs of many of the schools, several churches in the course of erection, the work on the Trades Bank, the Continental Life, the Labor Temple, the new West King theatre, and hundreds of private residences not completed, fifteen hundred carpenters quit work last night, to remain on strike until such time as an agreement would be consummated with the Builders' Exchange. That the matter has gone farther this time than was expected is evidenced by the fact that not a single permit will be granted to any of the strikers, not even to complete the press building at the exhibition or any of the civic work now going on, until the strikers feel like going back to work. To-day will tell just how seriously the building trades of the city will be affected.

Mayor Coatsworth has offered his services as arbitrator. The matter is it means an Exodus.

At midnight Business Agent Saunders of the Amalgamated Association said that over 1,500 of the cream of the carpenters in Toronto were on strike.

"Within the next couple of days fully two hundred clearances will be issued to men who will leave Toronto for American cities, where the pay is better. The men would be only too glad to accept the kind offer of Mayor Coatsworth as arbitrator. The matter is in the hands of the builders."

No permits for the men to go to work are to be given to anyone during the strike. All the men belonging to both unions are called off until a permanent and satisfactory agreement is made. "Not a man goes to work for a contractor in this city until the agreement is sealed, signed and delivered," said Mr. Saunders.

Went Recognize Union. Secretary Philip of the Builders' Exchange said emphatically yesterday that the Exchange would never recognize the union. The bosses had got along up to date without paying any attention to the demands of the unions, and they would continue to do so. There were plenty of good men outside the union. In fact, there were a lot of poor men in the union, and that was just the trouble.

Going to the States. It was stated by an authority of one of the local branches that two hundred carpenters would leave this morning for Buffalo, Cleveland and points on the border. And further if the strike lasts more than a week hundreds of union men will leave the city as American contractors are offering big inducements to joiners.

Trouble Never Comes Singly. Next Saturday the builders' laborers will hold a mass meeting to decide whether or not they, too, will strike. The wages paid them average 26 cents an hour, but they want 30c.

THE REMEDY.

What was the matter with that woman? demanded the editor.

We called her a 'strong-minded' person in our paper and she objects. Very well, then, you just call her 'weak-minded' hereafter.

IS SMUGGLING GOING ON IN VICINITY OF STONEY POINT?

A Few Facts Gathered By A Planet Representative During A Recent Trip Tend Towards This Belief—How It Is Done.

How The Planet man found himself on the southern shores of Lake St. Clair, the guest of a jovial Irish fisherman, with only a pad and pencil between him and a real holiday, does not much matter. Let it be sufficient that he was there, armed with the above tools of trade, and waiting for some sign of certain law-evaders that rumor had spoken of.

Smugglers! There was a romance about the word, though it was rather a rough shake a few feet from the water's edge, the suspended nets and the small boats bobbing up and down by the little jetty which so daintily poked its nose into the shallow but choppy waters of the lake. It was smugglers that The Planet man was after; bold, bad smugglers, who cheated the benevolent Canadian Government out of its rightful revenue dues and also cheated the Customs' officials out of their chances for promotion. How they did it was not quite clear from report, and it was with the intention of finding out just the way they carried on their little business that the Chatham scribbler walked the yielding sand with alcohol-like tread and gazed at the horizon for many a disappointing hour.

Of course there were a number of other things he did, such as lending a hand to cook dinner, swimming, sailing, and, on one occasion, upsetting the little dory, and smoking a twenty-five cent pipe. But these were only amusements, and when two weary days slipped by without any smugglers it looked considerably like as if the G. H. J. man was going to take the first morning train from the nearest station back to the City of Maples and Chinese Laundries. And he would undoubtedly have done so had it not been for a chance remark he heard about the "boys" being due that night. The boys were surely the smugglers. He had a clue. He would wait. He thus missed the scribbler, and while he missed he waited. Visions of fights with the revenue men, bloodshed, barrels of wet stuff being rolled ashore by men with sun-burned brawny arms and other strenuous and exciting incidents grew more and more realistic with the repeated re-filling of the quarter pipe, and it was with expectations of a great front page thriller that he sat in the moonlight on the pebbled beach, with the purring wavelets lapping his bare feet and the sizzle of the hungry "skeeters" in his ears and waited patiently for the coming of the smugglers.

They came all right, but there wasn't very much adventure about it, and there certainly wasn't any romance. In the first place, they came puffing up in the darkness in an up-to-date and speedy gasoline launch, which killed the romance and in the second place, they didn't bring anything in barrels with them, which spoiled the whole business. There were two men in the launch and when it ran ashore one of them landed with a jump beside The Planet representative and asked him for a chew of tobacco, which, seeing that the former doesn't chew, was rather foolish. Then the two men landed a few parcels and packages and went out again in the launch, while the goods were taken away in a rig.

That was all there was to it, and it wasn't very much at that; but The Planet man had the satisfaction of knowing that his suspicions were correct, and that smuggling, whether of a large or small nature, is regularly being carried on between Detroit and somewhere near Stoney Point by means of launches.

GALBRAITH PICNIC IN A FALSE LIGHT

The Big Event Will Be Held On August 23—Notes From McKays' Corners

McKay's Corners, Aug. 9.—Master Harold Taylor met with quite a serious mishap in the loss of one finger through getting entangled in a lawn mower while under motion.

Quite a number of the farmers about here are complaining much owing to the havoc wrought with the oat crop by grasshoppers, though the majority have little to complain of.

Contractor Cameron, of Ridgeway, who is building our new school, has it well under way and expects to have it ready for occupancy when the school term opens. The building has a fine outside appearance.

Mrs. (Dr.) McRitchie and daughter Gladys, with the Misses McMillans, of Botany, and Winnie Anderson, of 10th, and Mrs. E. A. Taylor, of Ridgeway, are spending a few weeks at Eaglescliffe Lodge, Government Park. Great preparations are being made for a gala day on the 23rd, when Clan Galbraith will hold their annual picnic; two good games of ball and other sports, besides first class music for dancing and the Highland Band.

Miss Beattie Cameron, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Parsons, returned to her home in Chatham.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel (Capt.) Burke, of Harwich, visited friends in the village the past week. They are probably the oldest couple in Harwich, being 82 and 86 years of age respectively, and both active and hearty, and do enjoy life to its fullest.

Mrs. Edna Stenton, of St. Thomas, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Wm. Steen.

WRECK AT BLENHEIM

Quite a serious wreck occurred on the Pere Marquette near Blenheim yesterday. While cutting off the rear coach, the coach next the mail train became uncoupled, and later when the engine stopped the coaches behind crashed into the mail car, almost demolishing it or fruit which was in one of the cars was destroyed, and some of the men on the coach had narrow escapes. One man was thrown bodily from the car, but fortunately he escaped with a few slight bruises. All of the men on board the car were more or less bruised, though none were seriously hurt.

WHERE LIES THE BLAME?
 We are becoming almost accustomed of late to hear from all sides of the wonderful improvements which are being made in the Public school system of the Province. It has been repeatedly pointed out that the standard of teachers is being raised, more importance is being attached to the duties of the profession, and the course which prepares young men and women to assume the responsibilities of a teacher, is being made more difficult and thorough. The natural outcome, it was hoped, would be a scarcity of inferior teachers, and increased salaries for those who were able to conform with the new regulations. It is therefore a surprise to find in a recent issue of the Toronto Globe, one of the leading newspapers of the Province, fully four columns of advertisements under the heading "Teachers Wanted." The number of advertisements would seem to bear out the fact that teachers are scarce, but the surprise comes in the amounts of the salaries offered in connection with the vacant positions. Fully half of the teachers applied for were offered salaries of $350 a year, some as low as $300. There is not much improvement noted in this. Some of the salaries offered were as high as $400, but very few were above this amount. These positions were in both country and city schools.

There is no doubt that many of these positions will be filled when the fall term opens, at no more than the salaries offered, and the result will be obvious—the day for a general increase in teachers' salaries will be put off until some future time. If this turns out to be the case, it will be generally conceded that there are a few poor teachers still left in the country, for no first class teacher would accept a position with such a small stipend attached.

In view of the extra expense which is saddled on our young men and women, in preparing themselves for the teaching profession, it is indeed time that the trustees of the various schools throughout the Province should realize that it is up to them to give full value for the services which they expect from their teachers, otherwise they will soon find a dearth of teachers. It is a general lament that there are so few young men in this most important profession. Under present conditions this is to be expected, for no young man is going to enter a profession which nets him the princely sum of $350 a year—not if he has the least suggestion of push in his make-up, and young men without push are positively no good as teachers. The fault possibly does not lie entirely with the trustees. The teachers themselves could do much towards increasing the wage-earning powers of the members of their profession, if they would positively refuse to accept positions at the ridiculously low salaries which, evidently, are at present being offered.

MR. OLIVER'S TROUBLES.
 Mr. Oliver, Minister of the Interior in the Laurier Cabinet, while on his present visit in England, will hear some unpleasant remarks about his cancellation of licenses and concessions held by British capitalists operating in the Yukon. One Klondike Company, which claims to have invested a good deal of money in that district, and to have carried out all the conditions of the contract, has been ordered out. The concessionaires claim that the action has been due to a rival concern, which has a long pull and a strong pull with the Department of the Interior. Much attention is given to this charge in British financial circles.

Speaking of the Yukon, Rain-maker Hatfield appears to be a failure so far as the Yukon miners are concerned. He is all right on his own account because the Government pays him for his time and expenses. That is to say he is paid by the Yukon Council, a majority of which is appointed by the Government at Ottawa, which receives its supplies from the Federal Treasury, and whose action is subject to approval or veto from Ottawa. Mr. Hatfield was to have $10-

IN BAD REPAIR
 "If the local deputation who are to entertain the English bowlers during their stay in this city, wish to give the Old Country gentlemen a corduroy road in like, they might take them for a jaunt over the creek bridge on William street," said Mr. D. A. Hutchison to a Planet report this morning.

Mr. Hutchison is not the only citizen who has drawn attention to the bad state of repair in which this bridge has been for a long time. The floor of the bridge has been patched so many times that to drive over it is to realize what the Rocky Road to Dublin must have been.

JUST BLEW HIS NOSE

Berlin, Aug. 7.—The unhappy citizen who was recently punished for the crime of sneezing in the street, has a companion in misfortune, whose doom has befallen him through his nose. The new victim is a lawyer of the name of Schmidt, who, as a military reservist, was under periodical inspection with his regiment at Mudgeburg, when he committed the grave offence of blowing his nose while standing in line before the reviewing officer. The latter was incensed by this breach of military discipline. He ordered Schmidt out of the line and had him placed under arrest. The following day, Schmidt was arraigned before a court martial, when he pleaded that he suffered from catarrh in the head. The inspecting officer, however, swore that Schmidt blew his nose in a manner betraying either scorn or disregard of a military command, and the court martial was so shocked and that it ordered the offender to be placed under light arrest for ten days.

Fifty thousand people are expected in Toronto, Sept. 15 to 22, to attend the International I. O. F. convention.

Not suiting the friends of the family, Mrs. Mitchell, of Chatham, engaged to keep house for the Spindelman children, has resigned, and a neighbor has undertaken the temporary charge.—Windsor Record.

The Walkerville baseball team will play the Chatham Seniors on Tecumseh Park Saturday afternoon, the game commencing at four o'clock. A fast game is expected, as both teams are in good trim.

At the inquiry, held at St. Thomas, into the death of the firemen killed in Saturday's L. & P. S. wreck, Superintendent Pycat, of the Pere Marquette, said: "The failure of the conductor of train No. 40, to notice in train No. 13 (M. C. R.) was not in, was the main and direct cause of the accident."

Several days ago cinders were laid in the hollow track beside the concrete walk over Tecumseh Park, in order to assist the cricketers in fielding during their match with the D. A. C's. The cinders are now being coming scattered on the walk and walk, and the crunch of them under the feet makes walking anything but pleasant. A citizen suggests that they should be covered with tar and rolled or taken away altogether.

TWO RUNAWAYS

A serious runaway occurred shortly before two o'clock yesterday afternoon on King St. East.

A team attached to a Democrat wagon and driven by its owner, Mr. Black, of Halesigh, took fright near Snook's grocery store on King St., and dashed away at top speed in the direction of the C. P. R. depot. Mr. Black was thrown out, but beyond a few bruises he sustained no injury. The frightened horses reached the corner of Adelaide St., and finding their path blocked by a telegraph pole in front of Moore's elevator, both tried to pass it on opposite sides, with disastrous results.

The democrat was smashed up a little and the left hand horse, a very valuable animal, for which Mr. Black had refused $200 a short time ago, was badly injured. The other horse got away and ran up the C. P. R. track at a fast pace. It safely negotiated the bridge over the creek, to the wonderment of the excited spectators, and evaded all efforts to catch it until it had got about two miles east of the depot, when it was caught by a man named Taylor.

In the evening a horse attached to a buggy, driven by Fred Peel, ran away on Adelaide street and damaged the rig.

CZAR STILL IS THE BOSS.

Declines To Permit Ministers to Dictate Terms. THE MILITIA IS TO RULE.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 9.—Premier Stolypin has gone to Peterhof to secure the Emperor's approval of his appointments to the Cabinet.

Notwithstanding the improvement in the situation produced by the collapse of the strike, The Novoe Vremya announces that it is still the intention of the Emperor to place Grand Duke Nicholas Nicholavitch in immediate command of the whole army, concentrating the direct authority over the troops composing each separate corps and division in his hands.

Czar Still Autocrat.

The Russia, Premier Stolypin's organ, explaining the failure of Count Heyden and others to enter the Cabinet, says that the Emperor does not recognize the principle of the responsibility of the Ministry and, therefore, declines to permit candidates for portfolios to dictate terms. At the same time he admits the desirability of the co-operation of the non-bureaucratic elements in the inauguration of a policy which will have due regard for national economic and ethical interests of the whole people.

Czar to Abdicate?

New York, Aug. 9.—A cable despatch to a morning paper from Vienna says "It is rumored that it is the Czar's intention to abdicate. The recirculation of this report is ascribed to the reactionary councillors violently opposing Premier Stolypin's reform scheme, which the Czar supports. The story adds that the Czar will appoint Grand Dukes Vladimir and Nicholas Nicholavitch as co-regents."

Sees "The American Peril."

St. Petersburg, Aug. 9.—The Novoe Vremya pretends to see in the International American Conference, now being held at Rio de Janeiro, a scheme of the United States, aiming at establishing a hegemony in America, raises the cry of "The American peril," and predicts that "the time is not distant when Europe will be compelled to unite for self-protection against the combination of Greater America, Greater Britain and Greater Japan."

Terrorists Active.

Warsaw, Aug. 9.—The terrorists are continually attacking and robbing post-offices, Government spirit shops, treasuries and the mails.

A despatch from Pottava describes the destruction of an estate owned by Prince Kotechub yesterday, where a breeding stud of 250 horses and more than 500 sheep were locked in burning buildings, and wantonly left to perish.

Bomb Thrown into Crowd.

Sosnowice, Russian Poland, Aug. 9.—A bomb was thrown yesterday into a crowded waiting-room at the railway station. One man was killed and many were wounded. A panic ensued, resulting in injury to many other persons. Women fainted and children were trampled upon. The thrower of the bomb escaped.

Beat Douma Member.

Kiev, Russia, Aug. 9.—The peasants of the Village of Gravoff have beaten almost to death M. Stefanuk, who was a member of the outlawed Parliament and who could not explain to their satisfaction why he returned home without obtaining the land and liberty he had promised them.

AWARDED THE CONTRACT

The Government contract for the work on the breakwater at Tecumseh Park has been awarded to Robt. Riddell & Sons, of this city.

The work on the breakwater was commenced by Messrs. Riddell & Sons' workmen to-day.

This is the matter which H. S. Clements brought to the attention of the Government some time ago, when he made a strong appeal for this work.

Mr. John Liddy has been appointed as superintendent of the work.

IMMORAL BOOKS

Toronto, Aug. 8.—The attorney-general's department has been requested to assist in the running down of two men who are disposing off obscene publications, under the title of medical works, and using the name of the University Medical Association to assist the business.

A few years ago two agents were prosecuted in London and several thousands of their books burned. A little later two students were heavily fined at Woodstock for selling similar books, which were being printed in Toronto.

NEIGHBORS ROW

Mrs. Boyes, Jeffrey St., called at the Police Station this morning on a very important errand. According to the story she told Judge Houston, she has been troubled beyond measure with her neighbor, Mrs. Cheff, claims that her wife lives in peace beside her. She did not wish to prosecute, because she did not wish to appear in court, but she wanted a policeman to go to Mrs. Cheff's house and talk to her. The Judge could do nothing if Mrs. Boyes would not enter proceedings in the regular way.

BOY BURNED TO DEATH

Whitby, Aug. 9.—The 4-year-old son of Arthur Hatrick, third concession of East Whitby, was burned to death Tuesday. The child got some matches, climbed into a hay loft and started a fire. The first warning of the trouble to the parents was when they saw flames, and four hours later the charred remains of the child were found in the ashes of the burned building.

A careful Bible student in this discourse, shows exactly what the Bible teaches and what it does not teach on this subject.
He declares: "If the Bible does teach that Eternal Torment is the fate of all except the saints, it should be preached, thundered, weekly, daily, hourly. If it does not so teach, the fact should be made known and the foul stain, dishonoring to the Holy Name, removed."

WHEN MYRA FORGAVE
By ROSE RAWSON
Copyright, 1906, by Homer Sprague

The ice was in splendid condition, and carefully avoiding the people she knew in the crowd about the boat landing Myra struck out with long, powerful strokes for up the river.
She was in no mood for company. She wanted to be alone and think things over. It is a serious thing when a girl gives back her first engagement ring and informs the donor that she never wants to see him again. That experience had come to Myra that afternoon.
It had all been ridiculously foolish. Tom had scoffed at her for having joined the Browning club, declaring Browning to be a prize puzzle and not a poet. She had taken offense, and they had had their first quarrel. She had given back his ring and he had gone off in dudding, leaving her with the afternoon on her hands. They had planned to skate to Riverdale, five miles up the river; have supper there and skate back by moonlight. Now it was all spoiled and she must skate alone.

She was fond of the ice, and the swift motion and the bracing air soon put her in a more pleasant frame of mind. Perhaps she had been hasty in giving back the ring, but then it is not every day that one is elected the president of the literary club, and he might at least have congratulated her upon her victory over Nettie Doran.
She had been so engrossed with her thoughts that it was with surprise that she found she had entered the "cut," more than two miles from the landing. Here the river ran between steep bluffs for three-quarters of a mile, and she shuddered a little as she glanced at the cliffs on either side. She never had noticed it before, but now they seemed so black and forbidding.
She was still gazing up as her skate struck a bit of wood frozen into the ice, and with a cry she sank to the glassy surface. She struggled to her feet, but with another little moan she sank to one knee; she had sprained her left ankle.

Several times she essayed to rise, but each time her ankle hurt her more, and finally she desisted and crept on hands and knees to the bank. Perhaps some of the others would take it into their heads to skate up and they would give her help. If no one came she would try to creep back after she had rested.
But after an hour she gave up hope of help coming. She was so numb she could scarcely move. She began to cry softly. If she could not get to the lower end of the cut, where she might attract attention of some one on shore, she might freeze to death.
With infinite labor she crawled a few feet, but she had to give up and sit down again. Perhaps they might miss her at the landing and remember that she had gone up the river. They would send out a searching party for her. It might be an hour or more before she could hope for help, but the idea brought her some comfort, though it did not check the flow of tears.
Then her quick ear caught the welcome sound of the ring of steel on the hard ice and she tried to struggle to her feet.
Around the bend above Tom Runyon came with powerful strokes. He was looking straight ahead, and in the dusk he passed her. Before she could gain the courage to call to him he stopped suddenly and turned. In a flash he was at her side, kneeling before her.
"What's the matter, dear?" he asked.
"Are you hurt?"
"I've sprained my ankle," she sobbed, "and I'm tired and cold and hungry, and it hurts an awful lot. I'm so miserable."
"How long have you been here?" he asked.
"Hours," she moaned. "It seems like days, and it's so black and lonesome."
"Poor little girl!" he said tenderly. "I'll soon have you out of it. I'll skate down to the landing and borrow a sled."
She grasped his coat in terror. "Don't leave me!" she pleaded. "I think I would go crazy!"
"It would take only ten minutes or so," he argued, but she kept a convul-sive hold upon his coat. Presently an idea struck him.

"Can you stand on your other foot?" he asked. "Will it bear your weight?"
For answer she put out her hands, and he helped her to rise. She winced as the lame foot struck the ice, but she smiled bravely.
"I think I can," she said.
Tom dropped on one knee and started to unfasten the skate on the injured foot. The ankle was so swollen that he had to cut the strap through, but presently he rose and grasped her hands.
"Now keep the foot up," he commanded, "and let me tow you."
It was a little awkward at first. They skated together nicely, but now she could not take a stroke, merely sliding along upon the single runner and leaning heavily against him for support. Under his coaching she soon caught the idea, and presently they were swinging along at a good pace.

The injured foot ached with the motion and weight of the boot, but it was comforting to feel Tom's strong hand clasp and to lean against his shoulder as they sped along.
Somehow she had never realized what a strong man he was until she felt herself being carried along almost without an effort. It was less than ten minutes before they came in sight of the town as they turned the last curve.
"Looks kind of good, doesn't it?" he laughed as she gave a cry of delight.
"I thought I never should see it again," she confessed. "I had almost given up hope."
"Lucky thing I had to go to Riverdale," he commented. "I had given up the idea, but Johnson took me up in his rig to look at a horse he wants to sell me, and I took my skates along."
"I'm glad it was you," she murmured. "Are you?" he asked in surprise. "I thought you would have had almost any one else rescue you."
"I did feel that way for a moment," she confessed, "when I first saw it was you. I wonder why you turned around."
"Something seemed to stop me," he explained. "It was a funny sort of feeling. I just seemed to see you behind me, and I had to turn around to make certain. It seemed almost as if a great hand made me stop."
"I think it was fate," she said softly. "Maybe I sort of half saw you and was not conscious of it until I had passed you," he suggested.
"I would rather believe it was fate," she persisted.
"So would I," he said soberly. "Here's the landing."
The crowd had left the ice and had gone home to supper. There were no sleds around, so he slipped off his skates and caught her up in his arms.
"It's only a couple of blocks," he said. "We'll get home more quickly this way."
She did not make any comment until he had carried her into the house and had bestowed her comfortably upon the sofa. As he turned to go she spoke his name softly. He turned back.
"Will you be over after tea?" she asked.
"Surely," he answered. "I shall want to know how you are getting along."
"Will you bring the ring," she whispered.
"I have it right here!" he cried out eagerly.
For answer she stretched out her hand, and he slipped it on.
"This makes me think of the only Browning I know," he laughed. "Remember:
"There's a time in the lives of most women and men
When all would go smooth and even
She was still gazing up as her skate struck a bit of wood frozen into the ice, and with a cry she sank to the glassy surface. She struggled to her feet, but with another little moan she sank to one knee; she had sprained her left ankle.

Appealing Conscience.
"In my morning walks," remarked a Brooklyn clergyman in referring to his vacation, "I had as a companion an elderly gentleman, whose acquaintance I prized highly. After a cross country ramble of five miles one hot afternoon we stopped at a farmhouse for a drink of milk. I drained my glass, and how refreshing it was! But the old gentleman drank lightly and set his glass down with a goodly portion of the rich milk untouched.
"Very fine drink," he said as we resumed our jaunt.
"Then why didn't you drink all of it?" I asked.
"That's the way I make my contribution to the conscience fund," he explained seriously. "When I was a boy I worked on a farm and was taught all ways, after rinsing, to leave a little water in the milk cans."—New York Times.

Men With Women's Voices.
Generally speaking, races living at high altitudes have weaker and more highly pitched voices than those living in regions where the supply of oxygen is more plentiful. Thus among the Indians living on the plateau between the ranges of the Andes, at an elevation of from ten to fourteen thousand feet, the men have voices like women and the women like children, and their singing is a shrill monotone. The Australian native has a weak voice, but a knack of sending it a long distance, and the lowest tribes of African bushmen also possess weak voices. Of all human beings it would seem that the dwarf race discovered by Stanley in central Africa have, in point of oxygen and compass, the weakest of human voices, and this is only what one would expect from the feebleness of their physique generally.

REASON FOR GOOD HEALTH.

To what do you attribute your good health and remarkably robust condition? To regular habits and early retiring. Then you have been so situated that you could carry out those excellent rules for the preservation of health? Oh, yes. I was in the Illinois Penitentiary for 23 years.

ONE ON HIM.

Your Honor, said the arrested chauffeur, I tried to warn the man, but the horn would not work. Then why did you not slacken speed rather than run him down? A light then seemed to dawn upon the prisoner. Geel he said, that's one on me. I never thought of that. Don't talk if you don't want to be talked about.

S. O. E. EXCURSION

For some years the local order of the Sons of England in this city have made popular an excursion to Niagara Falls, and they have been made highly attractive because they have been splendidly managed. There is no more delightful place to spend a holiday in than the beautiful resorts at the Falls, and as Monday will be our Civic Holiday a large number of tickets have already been sold, and the probability is that a great many of our citizens will take advantage of the cheap trip. The excursionists will travel by Wabash, which will have reclining chairs, and the train will leave the G. T. R. station at 7.30 a. m. Tickets for adults $2.45, and for children $1.25.

SUMMER SCHOOL.

Kingsville, Aug. 8.—Very successful promises to be this year's summer school of the Windsor and Chatham Districts. It will be held here August 14-19 inclusive, and splendid accommodations for a great number of visitors have been arranged. This school has always proved a great success and maintained a high standard of excellence. The coming meeting will eclipse all previous years in the diversity and excellence of the program which the management have provided. Each speaker is a specialist in his particular class, and among the prominent features will be afforded the rare privilege of hearing Rev. D. Gorman, of Japan, who was one of the chaplains with the Japanese army in the recent war with Russia. Special reduced rates on all railroads will prevail, and a decided treat is being expectantly awaited.

PLEADED GUILTY

Ernest Fortin, a printer in the employ of the Banner, was the only victim in the Police dock this morning. He was charged with stealing a watch from Paul Fobnar, an employe at the Austin Store. Fortin pleaded guilty, and stated that he was "willing to pay for his downfall. It is claimed that the young man was intoxicated at the time, and stole the watch, and sold it in order to buy more liquor. He was allowed to go on suspended sentence, with the understanding that he would pay the costs of the court, $8.50. This amount was handed in by his employer, and the young man was allowed to go. He is about 20 years old. Jealousy is a tree that is capable of bearing fruit with very little nutriment.

SPORT

BASEBALL

CHATHAM SR. 4, TAMMY HEELERS 3.

The Chatham Seniors and the Tammy Heelers played a fast game of ball on Tecumseh Park last evening, which resulted in a victory for the Seniors by a score of 4 to 3. The game was called for 6.30, but did not start till 7 o'clock, as some of the players were unable to get on the field earlier. The Tammy boys seemed to get the worst of the decisions given by the umpire. The teams lined up as follows:—

A GOOD GAME.

A very good game of baseball was played on Victoria Park last night between the Victoria Park nine and the Waterworks team, resulting in favor of the former by a score of 12-3. Park battery, Sammers and Somerville.

LYNCHED BY THE MOB

Charlotte, N. C., Aug. 9.—A mob of 3,000 men forcibly entered Rowan county jail at Salisbury and removed three Negroes charged with the murder of the Lyerly family at Barber Junction, July 13, and lynched them. Nease and John Gillespie and Jack Dillingham, thought to be the principals in the crime, were the victims of mob vengeance. Three Negroes, Henry Lee, George Ervin and Bella Dillingham, suspected of the same crime, were not molested.

The Salisbury militia offered resistance to the mob, but could not restrain them. Two members of the lynching party were shot. The victims were strung up to a tree after being questioned as to the crime. One of the mopedest his innocence and begged for his life; the other two were non-committal. The lynching party riddled their victims' bodies and left them swinging to one branch of a tree in the city hall grounds.

The crime for which the three men were lynched was committed about 40 miles from Greensboro. Isaac Lyerly, a well known farmer, his wife and two children were killed while asleep. A third child was fatally wounded and the house set on fire. The discovery of the crime was made by two elder daughters, who slept upstairs, and were awakened by the smoke and flames from below.

The trial of the three men was to start yesterday.

THE THAW PROSECUTION

New York, Aug. 9.—The prosecution in the case against Harry Kendall Thaw may, it was said last night, try to prove that Evelyn Nesbit Thaw had met and been in the company of Stanford White since her marriage to Thaw. The witness by whom it is hoped to prove this is Joseph V. Jordan, at present the manager of the Hotel Indian River at Rockledge, Fla. Mr. Jordan was the treasurer of the "Wild Rose" company, in which Evelyn Nesbit had a part.

Some weeks ago he appeared before District Attorney Garvan, having been subpoenaed in company with James Lederer, who was the manager of the "Wild Rose" company. Mr. Jordan refused to say anything to Mr. Garvan, telling him that he would only testify when forced to do so by a grand jury subpoena. The writ of prohibition secured by the defense, however, prevented this action, and Mr. Jordan's evidence was not secured.

Mr. Jordan, it is said, could swear that he has seen White and Mrs. Thaw together within about a week of the shooting.

A PERSISTENT MARINER

Archie Park has the only steam launch at the Eau, and from the way it has been acting lately there are not many regrets from the other residents at the resort that it is the only one. H. C. E. J. Buzzard has held the record for fancy racing and vaudeville exhibitions in his gasoline launch, but he now has a rival in Mr. Park.

This wonderful steam affair is known as the Ripple, thus named on account of the ripple of laughter which goes the rounds every time the boat is mentioned in racing circles. Mr. Park is one of the most expert sailors at Erieau and having mastered the art of sailing he is ripe for new fields to conquer. His friends say he will in time be master of his steam launch if he lives long enough and the gasoline in Manson Campbell's launch holds out. The other day he was pulled off a bar by Mr. Campbell and last night something went wrong with the steering gear. Conductor McGarvey says that a catfish got in the wheel. Just at present the laugh seems to be on Mr. Park, but he is determined to succeed, and he says he can notice a little improvement every day.

TIME TO SLEEP.

Wake up, pal! Here comes the collection man. Shut up, you little fool! That's why I'm asleep. The strength of a lost love is hard to estimate by the sorrow that is over it.
