Kerensky Will Adopt Blood and Iron Policy

Government of National Safety Will Have Recourse if Necessary to Extreme Measures to Save Country; Blood and Iron if Argument, Reason and Honor Fail.

By Courier Leased Wire.

Petrograd, July 24.—“A blood and iron” policy will be put into effect if needed to save Russia by the government of Premier Kerensky, to which unlimited power has been granted. In an interview today the Premier said:

“Replying upon the confidence of the masses and the army, the government will save Russia and Russian unity by blood and iron, if argument and reason, honor and conscience are not sufficient.

“The situation at the front is very serious and demands heroic measures. But I am convinced the organism of the state is sufficiently vigorous to be cured without a partial amputation.”

Flood Turned

Copenhagen, July 23.—The Austro-German flood in eastern Galicia has been turned southward in endeavors to get in the rear of Russian armies between Brzezany and the Dniester, Austrian correspondents at the front report in despatches to their newspapers. The Teutons engaged in this operation, they declare, have reached Kozova—Tarnopol railroad has been crossed by them in a number of places. These despatches forecast the Russian army's stand behind the Sereth. Reports persist that Tarnopol was in flames.

Henderson Returns

London, July 24.—Arthur Henderson, member of the British War Council, and Labor member of the British mission to Russia, has returned to London.

Mr. Henderson reached Petrograd on June 2, and the work of the mission was virtually completed three weeks later. During his stay in Petrograd, Mr. Henderson had numerous conferences with the Russian officials and the representatives of labor and in a brief survey of conditions in Russia and soon after his arrival there that he was much impressed with the more hopeful spirit prevailing among the Russian people.

Visited Front

Copenhagen, July 24.—According to advices received here, Emperor Charles of Austria has visited the Galician front and spent a day with his advancing troops. The Emperor was several times under fire.

The Situation.

Signs of a halt in the Russian retreat in Eastern Galicia before the advancing Austro-German armies are largely wanting, but indications of stronger resistance in some sectors are cropping out. The Russian generals undoubtedly are doing their utmost to bring their men to a realization of the necessity of implicit obedience, and the present plight of certain sections of the Muscovite armies, because of laxness in discipline, can hardly help serving as an object lesson.

The realising powers of the Russians are admitted by Berlin to be strongly in evidence south of the Brzezany line and it is here that such fighting capacities as the Russian possess need to be exercised to the limit. The Austro-German forces are pressing southward in an effort to cut in between the Russian forces on their old line and the Dniester units in this sector.

While Premier Kerensky, armed with almost dictatorial powers, is struggling to right the situation on the Russian front, the allied armies in the west are holding the theatre of a renewed offensive over the Germans on the Franco-Belgian front. There has been notable activity of late by both the British and French artillery. The situation on the Aisne front, appears to show that the crown prince fears a renewal of the French offensive here, his countless attacks being considered in many quarters an attempt to forestall it. On the British front the intense aerial and artillery activity presage important movements.

The main infantry movement of the last 24 hours was again in the Craonne sector, where their crown prince launched another attack on the French lines without achieving any success. An attempt to advance was likewise frustrated. Frequent raids by the Germans indicate their anxiety to learn the size and disposition of the forces opposing them.

Russians in England. London, July 24.—The Russian delegates elected by the Council of Workmen and Soldiers' Delegates to confer with the labor parties of Entente countries have arrived in England. They will be the guests of the Labor party of England for a few days, and then will proceed to Paris. The delegates are M. Vennsanoff and Erlich of Moscow and Mm. Goldenberg and Smirnoff of Petrograd.

New Ministers. Petrograd, July 24.—M. Efrimov has been appointed minister of justice and a member of the provisional government. M. Baeychikov has been named minister of public aid. Both the ministers are members of the Duma, representing the progressive party.

Optimistic Views. Boston, July 24.—Optimistic views of the Russian situation are expressed in two letters just received here from Mrs. Catherine Breshkovsky, the aged revolutionist. Writing to Miss Helena S. Dudley she says:

“It goes better and better. The peasants are strong and well disposed, always ready to do their best for the army, too, for it is composed of peasants' boys. There are some ideas from Germany, but they are few and all the temptations they have awakened in the capital will disappear. Such a great revolution as we have here cannot be carried thru without some troubles. The women have all the rights we wanted, quite as much as the men. The program is good enough to make the people happy for centuries. Yet we must work as never before and the work would not be so hard if there were more persons of experience.”

In a letter to Miss Alice Stone Blackwell, Mrs. Breshkovsky writes: “I am making a tour of our large country, to see and to speak. The long years of suffering have had their results. Friendship is spread everywhere. Frenchmen and Englishmen wonder to see the solidarity of such a large country with so many different nationalities.”

MRS. MOONEY ON TRIAL.

San Francisco, July 24.—The jury in the case of Mrs. Rena Mooney on trial for murder, in connection with the preparedness day bomb explosion a year ago, to-day resumed deliberation at the court house, after spending the night at their hotel. The case was given to the jury yesterday afternoon, and after deliberating until late last night, the jury was sent to bed with orders from the court to resume this morning their attempt to agree upon a verdict.

KERENSKY CABINET IS FORMED

Coalition Ministry Comprises Five Socialists And Five Other

By Courier Leased Wire.

Petrograd, July 24.—Premier Kerensky has completed the constitution of the new provisional government. Like the ministry of his predecessor, Prince Lvoff, the cabinet is a coalition, but is limited to 10 members. Five of the ministers belong to the Socialist group and five are members of non-Socialist parties. The other offices of state will be directed not by ministers, but by unpolitical directors or departments who are not members of the cabinet.

Following is the list:

- Socialists: Alexander Kerensky, minister president and minister of war, marine.
- M. Tsereteli, minister of posts and telegraphs.
- M. Skobeleff, minister of labor.
- M. Tchermoff, minister of agriculture.
- M. Pieschouhoff, minister of supplies.
- Non-Socialists: M. V. Nekrasoff, vice-minister president without portfolio.
- M. Terestchenko, minister of foreign affairs.
- N. Efrimoff, minister of justice (M. Efrimoff is a member of the Duma's temporary committee.)
- Nicholas Lvoff, procurator of the Holy Synod.
- M. Godneff, controller of state.

The directors of departments so far named are: M. Krokovitch, progressive member of the Duma, department of trade and agriculture. A. A. Barishnikov, a member of the Duma and Moscow manufacturer, department of social tutelage.

The headquarters of the provisional government has been transferred from the Marinsky palace to the Winter palace.

Brazil Will Aid Belgians

By Courier Leased Wire.

Rio de Janeiro, July 24.—A large committee has been organized for the purpose of obtaining money and supplies for the Belgians in the invaded region. The supplies will be sent by a steamer of the Lloyd Brazilian line and debarked at Rotterdam, assurance having been given that Germany will respect the vessel.

EDUCATIONALIST DEAD.

London, July 24.—Alfred Moseley, for many years prominent in educational matters, died Sunday at his home, West Lodge, Hadleywood, Barnet.

Mr. Moseley at the time of his death was head of the National Educational Commission. He was well-known in America having visited there many times in connection with his work as an educator. He was born, October 13, 1855.

TEN ROUND DRAW.

Buffalo, July 24.—George Chaney, of Baltimore and Rocky Kansas, of Buffalo, fought ten rounds to a draw here last night. In the second round the Buffalo champion floored his opponent for the count of nine and from that on it was an uphill battle for the Maryland boy. In the closing round he got home on Kansas, who in turn went down for the count of nine. Both were on their feet fighting desperately as the final gong sounded.

COMISKY'S FOURTH

Chicago, July 24.—Charles A. Comisky, president of the Chicago Americans, made his fourth contribution to the American Red Cross today, presenting a check for $5,702.98. This makes a total of $10,763.71 he has given since the baseball season started, representing ten per cent. of the receipts.

German People Deluded By False Statistics On Sub Campaign; Socialist Party Divided Over Conference With The Kaiser

By Courier Leased Wire.

Amsterdam, July 24.—The Sunday edition of the Weser Zeitung of Bremen, under the caption “Only patience!” places the net monthly loss through the submarine operations, after deducting new construction, at 700,000 to 750,000 gross tons. From this the newspaper comes to the conclusion theoretically that in forty-five months time the last merchantman will be sunk. It adds for its readers comfort, however, that England must give in much earlier, being already obliged to withdraw tonnage from the navy for mercantile purposes.

Copenhagen, July 24.—“The Kaiser Socialists” were taken sharply to task at a meeting of Socialist voters in a big electoral district of suburban Berlin yesterday for violating Socialist tenets by associating with the emperor at Dr. Karl Helfferich's garden party conference last week. Protests also were voiced against Socialists accepting office in the cabinet of Dr. Michaelis, the imperial chancellor.

ILLEGAL SABOTAGE PRACTISED BY INVADERS OF SERBIA

Formal Charge Preferred By Latter County Against Austria and Bulgaria; To Claim Adequate Indemnity

By Courier Leased Wire.

Washington, July 24.—Serbia in a formal note made public at the State department to-day, charges Austria and Bulgaria with an illegal economic exploitation of occupied provinces and gives notice that she reserves the right of claiming, at the time of the peace negotiations an indemnity corresponding to the damage inflicted, both on the Serbian state and its subjects by these flagrant violations of public international law.

The note giving the first official glimpse behind the scenes in occupied Serbia claims that over 100,000,000 crowns have been illegally exorted as well as six million crowns in the form of forced subscriptions to Austrian war loans and the Austrian and

German Efforts Against Nivelle's Positions on the Aisne Beaten Off Last Night; Enemy Fails to Locate U.S. Troops

By Courier Leased Wire.

Paris, July 24.—Two German attacks on the Aisne front, northwest of Bray-en-Laonnois, last night were repulsed. The war office announced to-day, between Cerny and Ailles the Germans also attacked without result.

The statement follows: “The night was marked by violent bombardments. In the region northwest of Bray-en-Laonnois the enemy made two attempts to reach our lines. He was driven back each time. In the morning a detachment of shock troops, caught under our fire north of Sancy, was forced back to the trenches whence it set out, after suffering serious losses and leaving prisoners in our possession.

“Further east the enemy attacked between Cerny and Ailles without result. The artillery fighting continued violently in the sector in front of Craonne, especially on the Calonne plateau. On the remainder of the front there was intermittent cannonading. During the night German airplanes threw down several bombs on Nancy and in the region south of the town. There were no victims.”

British Official. London, July 24.—Following is to-day's official report from the Franco-Belgian front: “We captured 30 prisoners in successful raids last night west of Haincourt, east of Vermeles and west of Hollebeke.”

Americans Protected

American Training Camp in France July 24.—(By Associated Press)—German aerial squadrons apparently have persistently sought to locate the American troops since their arrival here, but without the slightest success to date. Counter squadrons have been so watchful and energetic that the Germans have been unable to approach the encampment, and have been beaten off every time they crossed the French line. One of these aerial battles took place yesterday evening and another this morning. Both were at points quite a distance apart and far removed from the American encampment. They were witnessed by American officers who were touring the country in automobiles. Some fifteen planes were engaged in the first fight and a dozen in the latter. Both the battles were conducted thousands of feet above the ground. The sky was cloudless and the fighting was plainly discernible. The German airmen were forced to turn and make for home without having spotted the camp.

LA LIBERTE SUSPENDS.

Montreal, July 24.—The temporary suspension of La Liberté, Tancred Marcil's anti-conscription paper, “in order that the staff may take a holiday for two weeks” is announced to-day. The editors promise that the paper will return with renewed vigor for the election fight. The publishers of the paper were unable to secure a supply of news print though they claim they offered cash for it.

BELITTLE U. S.

Berne, Switzerland, July 24.—(British admiralty press wireless)—The Post Zeitung of Augsburg, Bavaria, says that at the reception given recently in Berlin by Emperor William to members of the reichstag, the Emperor in conversation with Philipp Scheidemann, the Socialist leader, spoke slightly of America and expressed the conviction that the United States would not play a decisive part in the war.

ENEMY FINDS SECOND VERDON IN BATTLE OF CHEMIN-DES-DAMES

Living Bands of French Steel Check Terrific Foe Drive On Champagne; 40th Attempt a Failure With Colossal Losses For Teutons

By Courier Leased Wire. Grand Headquarters of the French Army in France, July 2.—By the Associated Press.—The watchword of the French troops at Verdun—"They shall not pass!"—has applied equally to the Champagne, and the French to-day showed the crown prince's army that the Chemin-des-Dames was a closed road to them.

On Sunday morning the Germans made in great force their fortieth attempt since the French captured Craonne on May 4 to secure possession of the famous road. This effort was one of the biggest offensive movements they had made since Verdun, so far as artillery was concerned, and proved an undoubted failure.

At 5 o'clock the German infantry started from their trenches. The greatest concentrations advanced between Hurtleise and Casemates plateau, and between Casemates and Colffonia Plateaux, where it was evidently hoped to rush Craonne.

Hurricane of Projectiles. It was known that the Prussian Guards and several other divisions faced the French positions, while other fresh troops were hurrying across the Ailette valley from the north. The French guns did not remain long mute, but answered shot for shot, and when the German reinforcements were observed approaching they poured a hurricane of projectiles directly into them.

Lair of the Tanks Behind Lines on British Front. Monster Armored Cars Well Tended By Their Pygmy Drivers. By Courier Leased Wire. British Headquarters in France, July 16.—(By mail)—Under the shelter of a green ridge of shell-pocked farm land, about 15 miles behind the present front line trenches, one may come upon the encampment of the tanks. The parade ground is like a distorted page from Gulliver-Lilliputian men at play with Broddingnagian toys.

A dozen of the monsters lying stretched out in the warm afternoon sun, but combed and oiled and scoured by their industrious attendants, who are like mere meddling pigmies by the side of the great steel steeds. Over all the edge of the parade, where the level ground breaks up into ridges and hillocks, two or three of the big iron horses are being put through their paces.

The job of a tank man is no cliché. The interior is not built for comfort. It is crowded with machinery and guns and armor and in motion the deck aways and bumps like that of a little torpedo boat in a storm. Nor is the roof high enough to prevent danger of receiving a sound thumping if one is too tall. Men for tanks are picked for small stature and slender bulk. They must be tough as nails, but occupy no unnecessary space. If you would spend a few minutes on board a tank you must have your steel helmet with you and your gas mask carefully incased in its waterproof bag, ready for emergency.

Everything is slick and span, shining with abundance of oil, but

German Line Melts. German shock units, as usual, led the way, followed by waves of ordinary infantry, who were to occupy and organize any ground captured in the sector from Hurtleise to Casemates plateau the attacking force soon melted to a thin line under the withering French fire which met them, and those still able retreated hurriedly to their own line, which, meanwhile, came under an inferno of French shell fire that must have made the German trenches almost unrecognizable.

Teutons Refused to Obey. Where their line bent momentarily the French troops organized immediate counter attacks and reconquered nearly everything temporarily taken from them. A French captain who fell wounded early in the day and was captured by the Germans, was later rescued by his own men when the Germans were forced back. He affirmed that German soldiers among whom he lay declared that several waves of German troops when ordered to go over the top refused to venture into the terrific fire, which swept away everything in the open.

Small Compensation. The gain even of a few hundred yards of a front-line trench, which is all that remains in German hands, appears small compensation for the fierce fighting in the forty attacks of the last ten weeks, during which conservative estimates place the German losses in the vicinity of the Chemin-des Dames alone at six figures.

KERENSKY SOLE HOPE OF RUSSIA

New Premier, in Role of Dictator, May Yet Restore Order

London, July 24.—Alexander F. Kerensky, the man of the hour in Russia—the man who early in July started the brilliant offensive against the Germans and Austro-Hungarians in Galicia which gave them notable gains—has been made virtual dictator in Russia and given the tremendous task of putting down the disaffection of the troops which has resulted in a retreat along the front in Galicia and otherwise to end the anomalous situation that prevails in Russia.

By an almost unanimous vote the Council of Workmen and Soldiers' Delegates and the Peasants' Congress, realizing that a man of ability of the highest order was required at the present juncture to strengthen the morale of the Russian troops, has given "unlimited powers" to M. Kerensky and his Government, and M. Kerensky already is on his way to Galicia, where he soon may be expected to use all the force at his command against the recalcitrant troops and again bring them face to face with the foe.

The situation in both East Galicia and to the north of the Pripiet marshes for the moment is proving disconcerting to the Russian Government. Added to the struggle it is having with the deserters in Galicia, who are still falling back nearly everywhere comes the news that lack of stability among the men fighting against the Germans in the region of Smorgon and Krevo south-east of Vilna, is giving the Russian Government and military command great cause for worry.

THE SITUATION

The deplorable refusal of many of the Russian troops to obey the commands of their officers still continues and the Teuton advance is becoming more and more marked. In fact the forces which made such a notable start for Lemberg may become outflanked and the men who have refused to fight find themselves in far worse plight than if they had stuck to their guns. Much seems to be hoped for from the fact that Kerensky has been practically made a dictator. The Muscovites manifestly need some strong man to lead them with just about the powers of the late Czar. At any rate, he has been given unlimited powers and it remains to be seen whether he has enough of the Cromwellian or Napoleonic spirit to rise to them. From the obscurity of a short while ago Kerensky has certainly risen to a dizzy height. It is to be sincerely hoped that he will keep his head and prove worthy of the tremendous position in which he now finds himself.

Fierce fighting continues on the Alsace front. The Germans are making desperate efforts there after the manner of their Verdun attacks, and the French in holding them back are duplicating there the heroic deeds which characterized the former world memorable defence.

The Canadians continue to do splendid work near Lens, as evidenced by the despatch in last evening's Courier, from Stewart Lyon. That men who, for the most part, had not previously taken part in attacks, should pierce the Hun lines to a depth of 500 yards on a 700 yard front, cannot be characterized as otherwise than most noteworthy.

Hon. Mr. Hanna, Food Controller, in the address which he delivered in Toronto last evening made a most powerful appeal on behalf of food saving, uttering the pledge that he and those associated with him, in his work, would keep a check on food prices.

SHOULD GET TOGETHER

As might have been expected, there are thousands of Liberals who refuse to lay down under the stigma sought to be placed upon them by the gathering of Liberal members and candidates, which recently took place in Toronto. The official report given out of that gathering was in effect that the Ontario followers of Sir Wilfrid Laurier would bow to Quebec dictation, but statements are now made that a correct report was not furnished of the proceedings. It is said that a number left before final decisions were reached, and that sentiments previously expressed by many were at variance with the announced conclusions.

Be this as it may, the fact remains that there is a steadily growing demand among other members of the party on behalf of cutting loose from the Laurier-Quebec alliance. Hon. George Graham wants it, of course, because there are a number of French-Canadian voters in his riding, but others are not so situated.

In Toronto, a meeting has been called of "Win the War" Liberals, and one of the stalwarts has contributed a thousand dollars for preliminary expenses.

The Toronto Globe, to-day in a leading editorial, makes the definite announcement:

"The Globe will oppose the election of any man who does not uphold the principle of compulsory military service, and who would vote in Parliament for the creation of an anti-conscriptionist Ministry.

Other Liberal papers in Ontario are taking a similar stand, and the cleavage is each day becoming more clearly marked. This is as it should be in a crisis which affects not only the British Empire, but human liberty into the bargain.

In Ottawa and elsewhere, the opinion is gradually but surely forming that the only solution is a Union Government. Some may ask why this was not proposed before, and the answer is that Laurier has never shown himself as anything but hostile to such an arrangement. Meanwhile members of the Conservative Government have expressed perfect willingness to abandon their portfolios to others of a different political complexion, and Sir Robert Borden still has the door left open. This is not a time for politics, but a united, and determined front on the part of all those who believe that the first great consideration, regardless of parties, is the utmost that the Dominion can do on behalf of winning the struggle.

AIRMEN SILENCE GUNS OF THE FOE

Artillery Duel on Canadian Sector of West Front Continues

(By Stewart Lyon, special correspondent of the Canadian Press.)

Canadian Army Headquarters, July 24.—The artillery duel still continues on this sector of the western front by day and by night. The amount of munitions used must be prodigious. The enemy, who for some time past has hushed all shells above six inches calibre, presumably because of his increasing scarcity of war material, began on Sunday to bombard our points fully twenty miles back from our front with a fourteen inch gun, which throws a shell weighing about three-quarters of a ton. Our airmen quickly located the monster. The gun position was raided by aeroplanes on Sunday afternoon, when a number of 250 pound bombs were dropped upon it. Several were seen to fall close to the gun, which has not been fired since.

The gallant lads of the aerial service will thus save towns and villages far behind the front from bombardment with shells, each of which is capable of grinding a house to powder. They have had more than their usual share of fighting in the air. The German airmen have been making special endeavors to destroy our artillery observation balloons, and in protecting them the aviators of our fighting squadrons are sometimes kept very busy.

A British airmen engaged five German fighting planes on Sunday and destroyed one. He got away himself without injury. The battles during the past few days at sundown in the official statement last night that "German aeroplane activity completely failed to stop our reconnaissance, photographic and artillery work, in spite of all the enemy's efforts."

Under these conditions every effort made by the enemy to repair damage done by our sustained bombardment is immediately disclosed. The raid of yesterday on German dugouts along the Avion-Mericoeur railway is now known to have been even more successful than reports indicated. The number of prisoners taken was fifty-one instead of sixty, but the enemy's casualties in killed and wounded were extremely heavy. Our losses were light. Two German attempts at raiding the north end of our line last night, failed. The raiders suffered heavily from our machine gun fire, which was promptly turned on.

Hamilton Citizen Advocates More Extensive Consumption of Goobers

George Wild, chairman of the works committee of the Hamilton parks board, who last summer demonstrated in his private garden that peanuts and sweet potatoes could both be very successfully grown in this district. Saturday stated that if more people would adopt the use of peanuts and sweet potatoes as chief articles of daily diet, they would not only find them of great food value, but much nicer in many ways than many of the present standard foods. When he decided to grow peanuts and sweet potatoes, he made it a point to give these land products his special attention and study.

"Ten cents worth of peanuts contain as much nutriment as twenty-cents worth of porterhouse steak, three quarts of milk, or two pounds of butter. So rich are these nuts, which are really not nuts at all—that a dime's worth of them contains 120 grains of protein, and have a greater food value than wheat," said Mr. Wild. "Their thirty-three to thirty-seven per cent. of protein puts them into the distinguished class of the ever-ascending egg."

"In 1908 the peanut yield in the United States was estimated to be worth $12,000,000. A conservative valuation of the 1916 crop is $56,000,000. The reason for the enormous increase in peanut acreage is that peanuts are being planted more and more on land formerly used to raise cotton."

HAMILTON WAITS UNTIL HANNA ACTS

High Cost of Living Committee There Passive On Fish Question

In Brantford they have adopted a new slogan—"Down with the high cost of fish!" And the slogan has been taken up by a special committee of the city council, which is inquiring why fish that sell for 15 cents a pound at Port Dover bring 26 cents a pound in Brantford.

John Fitch, of the Lake Ontario Fish Company, said today that the retail prices of Hamilton for salmon and white fish are: White fish, 20 cents a pound; salmon trout, 25 cents.

And C. V. Langs is chairman of the Hamilton city council's high cost of living committee. Mr. Langs was queried as to what, if anything, his committee is doing with the fish question.

"Nothing at all," was the alderman's prompt reply. "We feel that it is hopeless to do anything unless the government is willing to do something to help us. It's all up to Mr. Hanna. Unless he has instructed us as to what should be done, our committee will continue in innocuous desuetude. All the possible data as to the cost of fish things we have gathered and that mass of information has been passed on by us to the government."—Hamilton Herald.

DAYLIGHT SAVING DROPPED IN HOUSE

Members of Both Parties Line up Against Changing of Clocks

Ottawa, July 24.—There is to be no economizing of sunlight in Canada. The daylight saving bill was scotched out of parliament today, size Hon. G. E. Foster introduced the measure, proposing to take the liberty of setting forward an hour the months of May and September.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier agreed to the second reading, suggesting that the discussion had better be in the committee stage. It was in committee that the bill was defeated. The opposition put the axe to the proposal to burn less oil and more daylight. Regardless of party, all the members of the House lined up against the measure. The orange and blue parties agreed on this matter of daylight and dark.

Sir George finally accepted the inevitable and moved that the committee rise and report progress. In urging acceptance of the measure, the minister of trade and commerce gave reasons for the economic advantage and the history of the movement in the United States and Britain.

Proposal to Deceive Selves

With a smile, Sir Wilfrid characterized the bill as a proposal for a law to deceive ourselves. He sympathized with the object of using more daylight, but suggested that it best could be done by voluntary act of the individual.

DUFFERIN RIFLES DAILY TALKS

No. 2 Why Men Should Join

We are citizens of a mighty Empire, one on which the sun never sets. We enjoy privileges which no other nation enjoys. We have in our land and in our homes religious, as well as social liberty. So long as we behave ourselves, and do not interfere with the comfort and welfare of our neighbours, we can practically do what we like. But there are many less favored nations—nations which have no religious liberty, nations which are chained fast by rules and regulations of conduct, which to us seem monstrous and unjust. We are Britons! The very name Britain is significant of freedom throughout the entire world.

Remember this! Our forefathers purchased this freedom in days past with their own blood. They have a debt to pay. We must defend that liberty with our lives; we must pass it on to those who come after. That is what the members of the 33rd Dufferin Rifles of Canada are meant for. We serve the King. The King is the defender of his kingdom and people; he is pledged to uphold the liberty we enjoy. We fight under his standard; we are pledged to serve him, and his heir and successors.

When discussing loyalty and patriotism it is better to say little except to voice the hope that patriotism is not so much asleep as many people think. Some people say it would be a matter of complete indifference to them if a foreign power conquered and governed this country, as they feel sure it would not interfere with their liberty or pleasure. People with these ideas would soon change their views if they talked with the townfolk of Antwerp and Brussels in Belgium, and the recently evacuated towns and villages on the western front in France.

GERMANY BALKED AGAIN BY ENTRY OF SIAM INTO WAR

Paris, July 24.—"The decision of the Siamese Government to declare a state of war with Germany and Austria was taken upon its own initiative," says the Temps, "without suggestion from the other powers. The Germans, after the declaration of war, established in Siam centres of intrigue, sending agents into Burma to agitate against Britain, and into Indo-China, conspiring against France. The German propaganda was exercised on the Hindus, Anamese, and numerous Chinese living in Siam."

"The German activities were at times aggressive against the Siamese Government with the object of preventing intervention in the war. Germany loses one of her last points of support in the extreme east. Her nationals can now continue their activities only beyond the Malay peninsula, in the Dutch colonies, and it is known that the Netherlands government has not always been satisfied with the presence of German agents there."

"The German shipping to Siamese ports, nine vessels, with a total tonnage of 18,965, belonged chiefly to the North German Lloyd."

Intelligent economy in the kitchen can do much to prevent the threatened world famine—can counteract the effect of high prices—and can replace growing debt with systematic saving. Careful investigations show that before the war the average British family wasted 25% of their food—and we Canadians were even more extravagant. This waste is not in a few big things, but in many little ones, each, we used to think, too small to bother about—such as careless peeling of vegetables and fruit—failure to make good use of dripping and 'left-overs'—and such others as will occur to every thrifty housekeeper. For the Empire's sake as well as your own, hunt up and cut out these leaks! You'll be helping to relieve the food shortage—saving your own money—and putting yourself in a position to buy Canadian War Savings Certificates and help win the war. War Savings Certificates are issued in denominations of $25, $50 and $100, to be repaid in three years at full face value. They cost $21.50, $43 and $85 respectively, at all Money Order Post-Offices and Banks, thus yielding over 5% Interest. Should you need it, you can get your money back at any time."

TRYING TO SAVE BOY

Former Brantfordite Loses His Own Life

Sad Event Occurred When He Was Travelling In a Launch From Rupert

Mrs. M. F. Muir, "Gaywood", Ava Road, has received word of the heroic death by drowning of her brother, Jack Jarvis, of Stewart, B. C. It appears that he had been on a trip to Prince Rupert to have medical attention after doing some work with his partner on mining claims at Georgia river and was told that his heart was in weak condition and that he would have to be careful. He was travelling home again on the launch "Narcisethlong" when he met with his end.

Mrs. W. R. Tonkin one of the passengers said in the course of a statement:—

"I hereby testify that I was travelling with my two children on said launch from Prince Rupert to Stewart, B. C. Mr. Jarvis was also a passenger. When nearing Maple Bay we were sitting on the deck of the launch and my little boy started to get a pail of water while the boat was running. When setting the bucket in the water my boy fell over. Mr. Jarvis was then dozing at the time, awakened by the cries of myself and little girl I dived into the water, swam a few strokes and sank within a few feet of the launch. I attracted the attention of the Captain who turned the launch and rescued my little son, who was swimming all the time. Mr. Jarvis's body did not appear in the water until after a considerable time we proceeded to Maple Bay."

The Captain testified that the drowning took place in about 100 fathoms of water. He did not think that the body could be recovered. The deceased was the second son of the late Mr. C. Jarvis of this city and was born here. He leaves to mourn his loss two sisters, Mrs. Wynn Ellis, of Chicago and Mrs. Muir, and two brothers Clarence Jarvis of Vancouver, B. C. and Dr. Charles Jarvis of Vancouver, B. C.

CHIEF SLEMIN IS VICE PRESIDENT OF ASSOCIATION

Honored At Convention of Police Chiefs Held Last Week In Quebec

A thoroughly enjoyable and profitable trip has been the privilege of Chief Slemm who returned last evening from attending the annual convention of the Chief Constables' Association of Canada, in Quebec City. While there the Chief read an interesting paper on "Are the Police Departments of Our Country to be Kept Free from Municipal Politics?" Considerable discussion arose in regard to the paper and a resolution strongly protesting against political interference in the municipal police departments of the country was unanimously passed. An honor was conferred upon the Brantford delegate at the convention as he was elected first vice-president.

The association was also of the opinion that the police forces of Ontario should be included in the provisions of the Ontario Workmen's Compensation Act and a resolution to that effect moved by Chief Slemm and seconded by Chief Thompson of Peterboro, was unanimously passed. On Tuesday of last week, the first day of the convention, Chief Slemm, in company with the sixty-two other delegates drove seventeen miles in automobiles to Valcartier Camp, where the troops were inspected by the Lieutenant-Governor of the Province. On Thursday a visit was made to the shrine of St. Anne de Beaupre. The Chief says that a most cordial reception was given to the visiting delegates by the Mayor, officials and citizens generally of the historic

CRITICAL TIME OF WOMAN'S LIFE

From 40 to 50 Years of Age. How It May Be Passed in Safety.

So, Wellington, B.C. — "For a year during the change of life I was all run down. I was really too weak to walk and was very dependent and thought I was going to die, but after taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier my health and strength returned. I am very thankful to you and praise your medicine."

I have advised several women who suffered as I did to try your remedies. You may publish this if you wish." — Mrs. DAVID R. MORRIS, South Wellington, Vancouver Island, B.C.

No other medicine for woman's ills has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement. We know of no other medicine which has such a record of success as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For more than 30 years it has been the standard remedy for woman's ills such as inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains and nervous prostration, and we believe it is unequalled for women during the period of change of life.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

LAURIER'S POLICY NO CONSCRIPTION, NO RECRUITING, NO MORE MONEY

Issue in Canada Graphically Summed up by Sir Clifford Sifton; Either We Put Our Whole Strength into the Struggle, or We Abandon Our Men at the Front and Dishonor Our Solemn Obligation.

Ottawa, July 24.—"If Sir Wilfrid Laurier is returned to power in the approaching election two-thirds of his followers in Parliament will be pledged to the hilt against conscription and pledged to the hilt against anything but a perfunctory and ineffective participation in the war," says Sir Clifford Sifton in an open letter which he has addressed to Hon. Hewitt Bostock, Liberal leader in the Senate. Sir Clifford reviews the situation, which must be regarded as the situation, which must be regarded as the situation, which must be regarded as the situation...

Dictate Liberal Policy If that combination succeeds, he says, the anti-war party of Quebec will dictate Sir Wilfrid Laurier's policy as it is directing his policy now. There will be no conscription, no recruiting in Quebec, and under these circumstances it will be impossible to raise troops in other parts of Canada. The decision of the present issue, declares Sir Clifford, will determine whether Canada is a nation dominated and held together by a national will and a national sense of honor or a helpless aggregation of sectional communities held together only by consideration of sectional interest.

In only one way, he contends, can the situation be met, "by the formation of a union or war Government, administered on non-partisan lines, which will straightway appeal for a mandate to the people of Canada and who can consistently be supported by every element in the population that is loyal to the cause."

Sir Clifford's letter is as follows: "Ottawa, July 23. Hon. Hewitt Bostock, the Senate, Ottawa: "My Dear Bostock: Will you permit me to outline, respectfully, my own press his views on the present grave crisis in the affairs of Canada."

"As the leader of the Liberal party in the Senate you will shortly be called upon to deal with the Military Service Bill. You and your colleagues will be faced with a grave responsibility. The world is in the final stages of a death grapple, and such dire and fearful tragedy has ever before occurred in the known history of mankind. The forces of tyranny and reaction throughout the world have rallied for a last desperate struggle. The fate of liberty, human rights and free modern civilization are at stake. The issue is still altogether undecided and hangs in the balance. We have 80,000 men in the fighting line. It is not more than our share. Their numbers are being daily diminished by death and the casualties of war. They are driven to the utmost of their physical powers by lack of reserves. Our reinforcements are almost exhausted."

All That Matters. "I am confident that I voice the sentiments of many thousands of Canadians when I say that at this supreme moment we care nothing for Borden or Laurier, Conservatism or Liberalism. The overwhelming importance of the crisis absolutely obliterates all considerations of persons or parties. The only thing that matters is: "1. To put every possible ounce of force into our striking power with men, guns and munitions in order to help the allies to win the victory for liberty. "2. To stand by our men at the front and give them abundant reinforcements and reserves to admit of rest and recuperation. "3. To maintain the honor of Canada and redeem our pledge to see the war through to the limit of our capacity. "In common with many others, I had hoped that Sir Wilfrid Laurier, if he could not join a union Government, would agree to an extension of the life of Parliament so as to permit the Borden Government to go on with its war policy. To my profound regret of many thousands of his best friends, he has decided upon another course. I have no criticism except respectful sympathy for the difficulties of his position."

Issue is Conscription "The facts, however, must be squarely faced. The meaning of Sir Wilfrid's attitude, and that of his principal supporters in Quebec, is that they have determined to force an election on the single issue of conscription. Read the speeches which are daily being delivered and you will find that their policy in effect is: "1—No conscription. "2—No more men. No more money."

"If Sir Wilfrid is returned to power in the approaching election, two-thirds of his followers in Parliament will be pledged to the hilt against conscription and pledged to the hilt against anything but a perfunctory and ineffective participation in the war. Then: "1—There will be no conscription in Quebec. "2—There will be no recruiting in Quebec. "3—Under these circumstances it will be obviously impossible to raise troops in the other portions of Canada. Imagine a Laurier Government trying to raise troops in the other provinces, while Quebec scornfully refuses either to submit to conscription or to recruit."

Will Allow No Prosecution of War. "The predominating and controlling factor in Canada, as Laurier will not allow him to prosecute the war. No one who has the slightest experience of Parliamentary Government in Canada can honestly gaudily this conclusion. "It is said that a great effort is to be made to unite behind a solid Quebec all the elements in the population who are hostile or lukewarm in regard to the war, together with and disappear as an effective fighting force."

What Will be the result of this effort if it succeeds? How is the war to be carried on with vigor by a Parliamentary party which is controlled by a hostile majority? "To ask these questions is to answer them. With Sir Wilfrid in power the anti-war party of Quebec will dictate his policy. It is dictating his policy now. "It is said that the Government has made many mistakes. Probably it has. All the other war Governments made mistakes. To err is human. It is said that the skillful piloting would have avoided this crisis. Perhaps it would. It is hard to say. On the other hand, it is alleged that Sir Wilfrid Laurier, had he chosen to do as he should have done, could have found a way out of the difficulty. It may be so. It is easy to criticize."

Face to Face With Facts. "What is certain is that none of these things matters now. We have to face facts, not theories. The issue is simple: Either, "1. We put our whole strength into the war, or "2. We abandon our men at the front and dishonor our solemn obligation. "I will go further. The decision of this issue will determine, once for all, whether Canada is a nation, dominated and held together by a national will, and a national sense of honor, or is a helpless aggregation of sectional communities, held together only by time-serving considerations of sectional interest. "If anything in this troubled world

Controller Hanna Delivers Appeal To The Women of Ontario

WILL CHECK PRICES Full Enquiry To Be Made Into Cost of Bacon and Bread

Toronto, July 24.—Food Controller Hanna made his first appeal to the women of Ontario last night from the platform of Convocation Hall, and judging from the response given by a thoroughly representative audience which packed the hall to its full capacity, the Hon. W. J. Hanna may at last be assured that the ladies are with him "to the last man" in the war on waste which he is about to wage throughout the Dominion. Conservative was the keynote of all the speeches—conservation of food supplies and the co-operation of all consumers in the effort to save, by sacrifice, if necessary, the storable staples for export overseas to succor the Mother Country to sustain her allies. The speeches were mainly inspirational in character, with the notable exception of the practical preachment on thrift which was delivered, with a good Scotch accent and directness by Mrs. W. Buchanan, of Ravenna. Mrs. H. H. Loosmore, president of the Toronto Women's War-Time Thrift Committee, was "madame chairman," and she put point to the previous speakers she introduced by first remarking that in the great task that was now set before them the women of Ontario would be doers and not critics. "We all know what our soldier boys have done and are continuing to do," she said. "This campaign for 'thrift, economy and the saving of food supplies will show what those at home are capable of doing by way of sacrifice in keeping with the splendid example set by the boys whom we have spent our way to spend themselves in our service."

The Premier Speaks. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who was the first of the speakers on the program, reviewed the work which has already been accomplished as war-time effort by the women of Canada. He paid tribute especially to the Toronto Women's Thrift Committee, and declared that he had seen many proofs that the result of their labors had extended beyond the city and into the provinces, provincial boundaries. The women also given signal service, he said, in enlarging the production of munitions; the general speeding up of industrial war-time activities; and by releasing manpower from other labors, had contributed much to the cause of greater food production on the farms of the province. "But production," he continued, "is not the first thing necessary, is only one of the great essentials. Produce as you may, unless there is a corresponding effort to effect greater economy—a wholehearted determination to pile up a surplus by saving for shipment overseas there will be a very serious shortage of food supplies in Europe which will prevent our allies from winning this war."

He said that the shortage of food supplies in Britain had brought the war right into the kitchens of Ontario. It was by their own cook-stoves and dining tables that the women could marshal their particular forces to help in the winning of the war. "Don't waste time organizing and holding meetings to discuss the situation," he continued, "the time has come for active work—work in which every man, woman and child must help, and in which the housewives must lead the way." He regarded as contemptible the men who were fit and able to go overseas, but who had shirked their duty, "but," he added, "the waster is as culpable as any slacker in the land."

ILLEGAL SABOTAGE (Continued from page 1) All private houses abandoned by Austrian and German firms will take the places of the ruined Serbians and will so bring about the denationalization of Serbian commerce. "The owners including the Royal palaces are stated to have been plundered under the theory that they were 'unowned property' because the owner was absent. The national and ethnographical museums are reported to have been completely ransacked by the Austrians; the national library, the University library of Sish, and the library of the School of Theology at Prizren by the Bulgarians. Books, manuscripts and art works were stated to have been carried away as booty. "The Bulgarians," it is stated, "have plundered to such an extent with such effrontery as to be unexampled in modern warfare." Austria also has placed the assessment of a taxation in the hands of a military committee. In the provinces occupied by Bulgaria, the whole Serbian taxation system has been swept. Similarly the Austrian authorities have ordained that Serbian money shall be accepted at fifty per cent. of its normal value. Serbian money was taken by force from private persons and Austrian money given in exchange at a rate less than half its value.

LEAFS TAKE FINAL GAME FROM REBELS

Warhop's Twirling Held the Visitors Safe—Drove In Winning Run

LEAFS WIN IN TENTH RICHMOND FIRST BASEMAN TWIRLED WELL UNTIL LAST FRAME

Toronto, July 24.—The Leafs took the fourth game of the Richmond series yesterday in the tenth inning by 3 to 2, and made it three games to one on the series. It was a long and hard kind of game, and the heat of the sixth inning was the hottest of the series. Lacked the ginger of cooler days. After Toronto had scored in the first inning Richmond evened it up in the second, and from then until the sixth the teams went to bat and retired with rather monotonous regularity. In the sixth Richmond took the lead, only to have the Leafs even it up in the seventh. The eighth and ninth were identically the same as the earlier innings, but in the last of the tenth the Leafs got together and ended the struggle.

Warhop was on the mound for Toronto, and to him the credit is due for the victory. Not only did he pitch a good brand of ball throughout the game and was very steady, but he also drove in the winning run with a timely two-bagger in the tenth, virtually winning his own game. Eibel, who when he is not holding down first base is a pitcher of merit, undertook the twirling duties yesterday for Richmond, and he was also good as long as he lasted, but in the tenth the strain told, and a single and a double took the game from him. The feature of the game was Blackburn's one-handed stab of McConnell's liner in the fifth. It looked like a clean hit, but "Lena" timed it nicely and made the bound at the right moment to make the catch. Richmond took the lead in the sixth when Reynolds poled out a three-bagger and was sacrificed home while the Leafs evened it up in the next, when, with one down and a base on balls, two singles sent the run across the plate, and the game might have been won then, only Warhop hit into a double play. Warhop pitched only six balls in the tenth inning. The first two batters hit the first balls pitched and flew out, while only one ball was wasted to strike out the third man. Blackburn led off in the tenth, but skied out to centre. Lorange singled, and then tore home on Warhop's double to deep left, winning the game.

Sporting Comment

Name of Burns.
The good old family trees of the Smiths and the Joneses have been pretty well represented in baseball for a number of years. But neither the Smiths nor the Joneses have ever been able to claim the distinction of having three sprouts from their family tree in the major league spotlight at one time, such as the family Burns claims to-day.

The major league stars who are in the midst of their baseball careers represent the old Scotch family. They are George J. Burns, Giant outfielder; Eddie Burns, Philly catcher, and George Burns, first baseman of the Detroit Tigers. Every one of this trio is a star, and unless the war claims one or all of them, or injuries interfere with their baseball activities have years to come in the big show.

Two George Burns, of the Giants, has often been rated as the greatest all-around outfielder in the National League, and of the three he is perhaps the most valuable player. So far this year his fielding and throwing have been superb, and he is keeping in the race for batting honors.

Hughie Jennings recently declared that not all the stars in the Giant constellation Burns stands out as the brightest, and this, coming from the famous Tiger manager, is some tribute.

First Baseman George Burns of the Tigers, is serving his fourth full season as a member of the Detroit club. Although he is seldom ranked as an equal of Hal Chase in the art of cavorting around the initial station, he is a ball player any big league club would be glad to grab and he is only 24 years old. Each year his work with the Detroit club shows marked improvement, for his fielding has become more polished and he can hammer the ball around a 250' clip season in and season out.

Also Eddie Burns, second catcher with the Phillies, is now in his fourth full season as a member of the Quaker-town club, and although an injury early in the season kept him back he is considered one of the most valuable players on Pat Moran's team. Eddie is a glutton for work, and if it wasn't for the fact that Moran has a star in Bill Killifer, Eddie would get all and perhaps more work than he could handle. The Philly backstop isn't as heavy a striker as the other two representatives of the Burns family, but he makes up for it in every other way. You've gotta hand the Burns family a little credit. It has helped to do its bit for the gran' ole game.

DARCY ANXIOUS TO MAKE AMENDS

Australian Pugilist Saw Mistakes and Repented Before Death
(By H. C. Hamilton.)

Before he died, Les Darcy, the Australian pugilist, realized with all his heart every mistake he had made, and longed for one more chance to do the proper thing in Australia.

The Sydney Argus, representing one of the best sports circulations in the island continent, declared recently that Snowy Baker, the Australian promoter, had received a letter from Darcy, asking that steps be taken to make it comfortable for him if he should return. Darcy wanted to go back and enlist in the Australian army.

This was after things had been going so badly for Darcy in his country. His usual to meet the best middleweights of the nation, his continual demands for huge purses having held him down a t a time when he might have been blazing a path to new glory, had stopped him short. Feeling grieved over the unexpected turn in the reception given him, Darcy determined to go home.

Cast out of the minds of fight-lovers in the United States, he then discovered that Australia had no place for the man who fled just two days before a vote was taken on conscription of all its men. News of his turning now, in fact, I haven't felt as good in several years. Tanlac has done me more good than all the medicines I ever took, and I have made up my mind to take a full course of it.

More and more the efforts of Connie Mack, silent leader of the Athletics, are gaining respect among the big leaguers. The prediction made by himself when he began to whittle off the stars with whom he had won several world's championships, that he would be back in the race by 1917, has not been realized, but he has succeeded in making the name Philadelphia once more one to be feared in the American League.

Discussing Mack and his newly-made team recently, Bill Donovan said that he would rather play almost any club in the league than send his men into a contest against the Athletics.

"They don't win any pennants this year," Donovan commented, "but they're going to fight mighty hard for every game they go into. From this time on they're going to improve. I'm a mighty mistaken student of this national pastime if the Athletics are not found kicking considerable dust around before the end of the 1918 campaign gets here."

Donovan figures—and so does every other baseball manager who has had a glimpse of him—that Ray Bates is one of the finest players the minor leagues have yielded in many a day. He also believes Witt the equal of any shortstop in the American league, with the possible exception of Roger Pecknappaugh, his own short-fielder. Second base is a problem, but McInnis is fully the

LONDON MAN HAD SPENT HUNDREDS

L. & P. S. Conductor Says Tanlac Ended Troubles After Everything Else Failed

Nearly everybody, especially railroad people, in London, Port Stanley and St. Thomas, know Marshall Thomas, a popular conductor on the London and Port Stanley railroad, residing at 535 Gray Street, London. Mr. Thomas is among many well known people in the section to testify to the benefits they have derived from the use of the new medicine, Tanlac. In an interview at his residence a few days ago Mr. Thomas said:

"I suffered from stomach trouble for more than five years; for nearly four years of this time I never ate any breakfast, and the only thing I could take was a cup of tea. I always had a bad taste in my mouth and what little I managed to eat didn't taste right. I had a painful, burning sensation in the pit of my stomach like I had swallowed a coal of fire. Gas would form and make me miserable all day. I seemed to couldn't sleep much and would get up in the mornings as tired as when I lay down at night and felt tired and weary all day. I seemed to have no energy or ambition and just felt my health rapidly slipping from me. I tried all kinds of treatment and spent several hundred dollars trying to get well, but nothing seemed to reach my trouble and I continued to grow worse."

"Tanlac proved to be just what I needed and two bottles of the medicine have made me feel like a new man through and through. I can now eat a hearty breakfast every morning, my food tastes good and my stomach no longer aches. The gas has disappeared from my stomach; I'm not constipated like I was and my tired, sluggish feelings have left me. I have more energy and ambition now, in fact, I haven't felt as good in several years. Tanlac has done me more good than all the medicines I ever took, and I have made up my mind to take a full course of it. Tanlac is sold in Brantford by M. H. Robertson and Co."

More and more the efforts of Connie Mack, silent leader of the Athletics, are gaining respect among the big leaguers. Discussing Mack and his newly-made team recently, Bill Donovan said that he would rather play almost any club in the league than send his men into a contest against the Athletics.

"They don't win any pennants this year," Donovan commented, "but they're going to fight mighty hard for every game they go into. From this time on they're going to improve. I'm a mighty mistaken student of this national pastime if the Athletics are not found kicking considerable dust around before the end of the 1918 campaign gets here."

Donovan figures—and so does every other baseball manager who has had a glimpse of him—that Ray Bates is one of the finest players the minor leagues have yielded in many a day. He also believes Witt the equal of any shortstop in the American league, with the possible exception of Roger Pecknappaugh, his own short-fielder. Second base is a problem, but McInnis is fully the

BRAVES WIN IN 13TH. Maranville Made Winning Dash—Four Straight For Reds

New York, July 24.—Pittsburg nosed out the New York Nationals here yesterday 1 to 0. Cooper had the better of Schupp in a pitchers' battle. Cooper also sent in the only run of the game, with a two base hit in the eighth inning, scoring W. Wagner, who also had doubled. The score: R. H. E. Pittsburg . . . 000000010—1 7 0
New York . . . 000000000—0 6 2
Batteries, Cooper, and W. Wagner; Schupp and Gibson.

At Boston.
With two out and the bases full in the last of the thirteenth yesterday, Maranville took a chance on Kelly's fly out to Mann in short left field and scored the run that won for Boston over Chicago, 3 to 2. The score: R. H. E. Chicago . . . 0000001010000—2 8 1
Boston . . . 00110000000001—3 9 1
Batteries, Douglas, Carter and Wilson; Dillhoefer, Rudolph, Nenf and Trageser.

At Brooklyn.
Cincinnati made it four straight from Brooklyn, outplaying the National League champions at every point yesterday, and winning 5 to 2. Toney kept the Brooklyn hits well scattered except in the fourth when a pass, a steal and two singles prevented a shut-out. The score: R. H. E. Cincinnati . . . 002020100—5 11 1
Brooklyn . . . 000200000—2 9 2
Batteries, Toney and Wingo; Smith and Miller.

At Philadelphia.
Philadelphia lost second place in the pennant race when St. Louis won yesterday's game 5 to 3. Mayer, who was relieved by Lavender in the eighth, also was unable to hold his opponents in check. Score: R. H. E. St. Louis . . . 000000110—5 12 3
Philadelphia . . . 100001100—3 11 3
Batteries, Goodwin, Ames and Snyder; Gonzales; Mayer, Lavender and Killifer.

Red Sox Lose Again.
Chicago, July 24.—Chicago defeated Boston here yesterday, 5 to 3. After the locals had taken an early lead, Williams eased up and was batted freely, but fine fielding enabled him to pull through until the eighth when he gave way to Cicotte. Score: R. H. E. Chicago . . . 000200014—3 10 0
Boston . . . 01300100x—5 9 0
Batteries, Shore, Bader and Thomas; Williams, Cicotte and Schalk.

equal, perhaps the superior, of any man doing first-base duty.

"There isn't a thing wrong with that outfield of Connie Mack's," Donovan ruefully remarked. "I only wish I had a pair of those working for me. I might have a chance to win a pennant before he makes the going so rough."

Where is the manager who wouldn't like to have Bush Myers and Noyes pitching for him? And where oh, where, can you find a big leaguer who would spend several thousand dollars for Wallie Schanz?

The foundation has been built for another fine baseball team in Philadelphia. Managers and baseball men everywhere believe it is due.

SIDELIGHTS ON THE STAGE AND SCREEN

FILMLETS.

Charlie Chaplin, of such a superefficient turn of mind that he won't permit a black cat in his studio. Charlotte Burton, appearing in support of William Russell in American-Mutual Star Productions, never uses makeup in any of the pictures she appears in.

Ben Turpin, starring in Vogue-Mutual comedies, is an exceptionally good organist and frequently plays the organ in one of the big Los Angeles churches.

THE REX.

A play of unusual interest depicting factory conditions and life in the slums of a typical large city is "The Dividend" featuring Wm. H. Thompson and Charles Ray at the Rex theatre for the first three days of the week. The O. Henry story for this week is "A Service of Love" and portrays the sacrifices made by two young people who have come to New York to cultivate the success of talents. In keeping with all the O. Henry stories it is brief but full of action. A Keystone comedy some what out of the line of the usual, completes a splendid programme.

THE GRAND.

An enthusiastic audience witnessed the first performance of the powerful drama, "Human Hearts," by the Roma Read Stock company at the Grand last night, in which the company scored one of the biggest hits of their stay here. The production is one of strong human interest, abounding in clean, wholesome and spontaneous comedy, and replete with heart interlarding throughout the development of the story. The various members of the company were particularly suitably cast for their respective roles, the performance of each contributing to the success of the production. The acting of little Yvette Paul in dual roles is particularly worthy of mention, and it is evident that this talented child is fast winning a warm spot in the hearts of all local theatre-goers.

THE BRANT.

Madame Olga Petrova, of international repute, heads the program at the Brant theatre for the first of the week, in her first Paramount production, "The Undying Flame," a story of ancient Egypt, wherein the noted Russian screen star is afforded great opportunity for the exposition of her deservedly noted histrionic abilities, and a story combining romance and mystery. The production is a story with the reiteration of souls for its theme "The Undying Flame" is a truly great picture, and produced with unusually striking and beautiful scenic effects. Bushman and Bayne, stars par excellence, are again featured in the ninth episode of the Metro mystery serial "The Great Secret." Gertrude Dudley company appear in a refined singing and musical offering, giving the popular musical numbers of the season as well as old favorites, everything from Grand Opera to rattle. The Orren Craig Trio, in a comedy-acrobatic novelty, give an unusually dextrous exhibition of clever and original gymnastics.

A VERSATILE VILLAIN.

They are advertising Harry Gribbon of the Mack-Sennett-Keystone, as the greatest, most fascinating crook in the world. Not very flattering from one point of view it has to be admitted. Yet from another, it may be taken as the acme of success. "Do I mind," says Gribbon, "Not in the least. In fact I am rather proud, for if I have to play the part of a debonaire burglar, I would rather be called the greatest than an also-ran."

"I guess I feel the same way about it that Richard Mansfield did. He had always been playing villains at this stage of his career, and remarked one night that it gave him the blues if the audience didn't hiss him off the stage.

"Once, I remember," when he was being interviewed, we were kidding him because the hero got all the mash notes from the debutantes while he, the star, was ignored.

"Yes," replied Mansfield, "it's true, and it used to upset me greatly. Only once have I ever gotten a mash note from a lady, and maybe you don't think I was tickled to death."

"What did I do about it? I married her."

Gribbon, however, will probably not duplicate Mansfield's experience, for his thievary isn't at all the sort which makes an audience hiss. To the contrary, you're with him in the way, and only wish he got more money and family plate, and you're inclined to be sorry when he is jailed.

Deep suspicion centers around the recent ungentlemanly conduct of one Wallace Reid, immediately upon his transfer from the Lasky studio at Hollywood to the Morosco plant at Los Angeles. There were rumors that the champion all round amateur battler of the screen world, something what resented being removed from Hollywood's society and transplanted to Los Angeles. At any rate, in the very first scene that he played at the Morosco studio he proceeded to administer to Eugene Pallette and Henry A. Barrows one of the largest, roughest, and most thorough beatings ever perpetrated. Of course the incident had the approval of Director William H. Taylor in its inception but it is scarcely possible that even a blood-thirsty director would be guilty of sanctioning the slaughter which occurred. Everything points to the victims of this encounter having been chosen by Reid to bear the brunt of his discontent.

WAS WALLY WILD?

That the city of Valley Center, Kan., is governed entirely and exclusively by women, is due to the frankish disposition of Gene Talcott, former city clerk. The municipal election was held last April. There was only one ticket up, and very little interest in that. At noon on election day only two votes had been cast.

"I'm gonna start something," said the wagging Mr. Talcott, taking himself out of the polling place. "It's too sleepy around here."

There was mysterious conference with a few cronies, says the Kansas City Star, and a new ticket, written on cardboard, was placed by some unidentified agency outside the voting booth, a feminine ticket from top to bottom. Someone had selected the candidates without consulting them and someone started things off by writing in the women's names on the blank piece of his ballot. Little realizing what they were doing, voter after voter smiled and cast ballot after ballot for the women.

ROYAL WAITRESSES.

London, July 24.—(Associated Press)—Queen Mary, Princess Mary and Princess Christian had a busy time a few days ago serving out meat pies, soup, ham and other eatables behind the counter of a communal kitchen in one of the poorest districts of London.

They kept up a running conversation with the poorly dressed children who came along in numbers to get the cheap food which is provided in these kitchens at cost.

"What do you want my little fellow," asked the Queen of one small boy who planked down his plate on the counter.

"Two pennorth of 'am lady," was the reply.

Queen Mary handed out the ham and struck the ticket on a spike in quite a business fashion.

Owing to the recommendation of the Queen, there was a "run" on pies.

The average price of the ten articles on the menu was two pence and the royal servers disposed of a large quantity before handing the distribution over to others.

make a job of it and run the place. No One in Jail

Valley Center has a population of about 450 and, generally speaking, is not a difficult place to govern. It has a little stone jail, but there has not been a prisoner in it in 12 years.

Having elected the women, the men sat back and waited for the advanced legislation was rather limited, but the new administration speedily found an evil to correct. It was the custom of the gentlemen of Valley Centre to spend their Sunday days pitching horseshoes on Main street in front of the blacksmith shop.

"It was just terrible," said Mrs. Susie Goodrich, the marshal, "but they would gather there in great crowds—a dozen or two."

Train Crews Loaf

For years, under masculine rule, Valley Center had suffered bisection from trains. Under the new regime of women, they were warned politely, but they failed to heed. The fair little town must have appealed to the loquacious instinct of the train crews, for it was their custom to loiter sometimes as long as 20 minutes, separating the north side residents from the south side.

On the 10th day of this month Conductor M. A. McNeil pulled his string of box cars into town, but he had two of the three crossings and settled down to stay a while. Mrs. Susie Goodrich, from her home, could not see what was going on, but Miss Avie Francis, from her home office, telephone communication was established between Miss Francis, speaking as the Mayor, and Mrs. Susie Goodrich, in the official capacity of marshal.

"They're blocking traffic," the mayor said. "Hold them right there. I'm coming with the police judges."

No sooner said than done. The three women started for the train and Conductor McNeil saw them. It must have been his guilty conscience that prompted him to step up and ask if they were looking for him.

Women All Elected

When the polls closed at 6 o'clock and the score was figured up, Miss Avie Francis, spinster, had been elected mayor by the count of 22 out of 43 cast. She led her ticket, and the other women were close behind. Mrs. S. A. Ridenour went in as police judge, Mrs. S. W. Pike as city clerk, Mrs. Geo. Bright as street commissioner, Miss Della Talcott as city treasurer, while Mrs. Mary Koche, Mrs. Nan White, Mrs. J. C. Chip, Mrs. W. T. Taggart and Mrs. Gene Talcott were elected to the council. To make the job complete, Mrs. Susie Goodrich was elected as marshal.

None of the women had ever been in politics, but since the honors had sought them out they decided to

WAR DRAFT IN U.S. HITS LEAF'S HARD

Five Toronto Players Affected—Lajoie Has Fresh Cause To Worry

Toronto, July 24.—The military war draft of the United States is worrying many managers these days and the Leafs are no exception to the rule, for Manager Lajoie is now confronted with the possibility that his probable pennant winning team will be all shot to pieces by the draft. Among those who have been called up are the first base men, Blackburn, Lalonge, Jacobson, Fortys and Altenger. Nothing definite is known as to how soon they will have to report or how many of them are subject to exemption, although the more than likely that Blackburn would not be eligible, for he carries a lump on his leg which would put him in the unreserved class. Blackburn is a married man. Curiously enough he was the second to last man drawn.

Manager Lajoie announced last night that he had closed with Manager Donovan of the Buffalo team for the release of Pitcher Justin to the Toronto club. He was successful in this, who is a right-hander, and has won six out of ten games for the team since he was added to the roster. This afternoon Detroit will play an exhibition game with Toronto and among the stars which the Tigers will put in the game will be a valuable addition to the Leafs.

Stops Game

An ordinance was passed forbidding Sunday horseshoe pitching, and was published. It was not necessary to go further. The hint was sufficient. The menacing figure of Mrs. Goodrich, the marshal, was the length and breadth of all Valley Center any Sunday and there is not a ringer in sight. He who defies the law and pitches does so at the risk of a $5 fine.

Having cleansed up the horseshoe gang, the women turned their attention to the larger malefactor—the Atchison, Topeka & Sante Fe railroad. The Sante Fe freight trains had been ignoring the ordinance that provides that no crossing shall be blocked for longer than five minutes. If the train happened to be a long one, only Main street, but two other crossings would be blocked.

Co-operation between the management and labor would be necessary, capital must be prepared to re-organize and labor on securing this cooperation was to establish boards representative of capital and labor and success depended primarily on a new spirit in which each side would really try to appreciate the position and to sympathize with the problems of the other.

Chop all the white parts of a bunch of celery; when fine add a small teaspoonful of salt, 1 1/2 teaspoonful of pepper, 1 even table-spoonful dry mustard and 2 hard-boiled eggs; chop all together; add 1 can salmon, after draining off all oil from it, and pour over all a cup of good sour vinegar; stir slightly and put on a dish garnished with celery tops and 2 or more hard-boiled eggs sliced.

Celery Salad.

One good sized bunch of celery, 2 tablespoonful best salad oil, 1 of vinegar, half a teaspoonful of salt and a few grains of cayenne; wash and scrape the celery and lay in cold water an hour; cut in half-inch bits or chop coarsely if preferred and put in a salad bowl; mix the pepper and salt, add the oil slowly and then the vinegar and stir thoroughly into the celery; serve with crackers and cheese; equal parts of celery and dropped white cabbage can be used if celery is not plentiful.

Cream Dressing.

One pint of cream or milk, 12 teaspoonfuls of sugar, 2 teaspoonfuls of salt, 2 teaspoonfuls of mustard, 4 eggs, 1-2 cup of vinegar; mix salt, mustard and sugar together; then add the eggs; put in double-boiler and boil till it begins to thicken; then add vinegar slowly, then cream or milk, and cook until like cream.

Shrimp Salad

Two cans or 1 pint of fresh shrimp, 2 small heads of lettuce; cut the shrimp in small pieces; cut the lettuce in fine scraps with a pair of scissors, after it has been rinsed and dried between towels; pick out about 6 fine lettuce leaves; lay aside until the salad is mixed with the following dressing: One teaspoon dry mustard, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon powdered sugar, dash cayenne pepper, 2 egg yolks beaten light, 1 small bottle olive oil, 2 tablespoon lemon juice, 2 tablespoons vinegar, 1-4 pint cream.

SWEDISH CROPS POOR

(Associated Press.)
Stockholm, July 24.—Crop reports from all provinces of Sweden for May 21, show an average condition for the whole kingdom markedly below a medium yield for most crops. Two weeks of scorching drought since the date of this report will have materially lowered this average. Some provinces report almost a total failure of cereal crops. The figures for the most important crops follow, marked on the basis of 5 for a very good crop, four good, three medium, two decidedly below medium and one practically a failure:
Winter wheat, 2.5; spring rye, 2; spring wheat, 2.7; spring rye, 2.9; barley, 3; oats, 2.8; beans, 2.8; potatoes, 2.6 sugar beets, 2.6; hay, 2.7.

Valuable Suggestions for the Handy Home-maker—Order any Pattern Through The Courier. Be sure to State Size

LADIES' DRESS.

By Anabel Worthington.

What every woman knows is that she cannot get along this season without a smart but simple one piece dress. The model shown in No. 8336 is so astonishingly simple of construction that the home dressmaker can readily accomplish it. The dress is in one piece from shoulders to hem. The long, tight fitting sleeves are very chic for a cloth dress, but the shorter sleeves may be substituted in a wash dress. The attractive arrangement of double straps catches the dress in shallow plaits at each side of the front and back, giving a smooth effect over the hips. The extra fullness thus held in place by the double straps causes the gathered effect at the front and back. At the front invisible pockets are formed by straight slashes. The graceful shawl collar closes in surplice fashion. The dress pattern, No. 8336, is cut in sizes 36 to 46 inches bust measure. Width at the lower edge of skirt is 2 1/2 yards. The 36 inch size requires 5 1/4 yards of 38 inch material, with 3/4 yard 22 inch contrasting goods. To obtain this pattern send 10 cents to the office of this publication.

SIDE TALKS

BY RUTH YERGEN AND CAMERON

SHOULD HE MARRY HER?

Coming out on the trolley the other day I stood near a boy and girl evidently in the courting stage. She was saying complacently, "I always get a seat, some people mind push and I don't at all. I just elbowed." I looked at the boy to see how this affected him.

Won't She Use Her Elbows on Him.

The same look of fatuous admiration as before was on his face. Evidently it did not occur to him to question whether this would be the kind of person he would like to live with, whether she might not use her elbows too much in married life to make it entirely comfortable for the other party. Her nose was rather nicely tilted and her eyes, though dangerously small and close set, were bright. These were evidently the things he saw.

A "Stop, Look and Listen" Sign

Maybe the writer of the letter will think all this is irrelevant. It really isn't as irrelevant as it seems. It's meant for a suggestion. Perhaps he is too far gone to heed it. And perhaps after all his chances are about as good if he lets the little blind boy select for him as if he tries to use that very limited very fallible (especially in such matters) instrument, the human judgment.

LAUNDRY WORK FOR U. S. SEAMEN DONE BY NUNS

Sisters of Good Shepherd Aid American Sailors in British Waters

Base American Flotillas, British Waters, June 27.—(Correspondence)—Cloister nuns, in a home for Sisters of the Good Shepherd, near the base from which the American flotillas are operating against German submarines, have been doing a thriving laundry business among the blue jackets. Through the intercession of two of their devoted women friends with the American Consul and Vice-Admiral Sims, the nuns obtained permission to receive any work the American naval men were willing to turn over to them. When the jackets learned that this was virtually the only means of support the secluded women had, they at once showed an eagerness to aid. As a result, there has been a growing laundry list each week.

SELF DENIAL TO WIN WAR

"Every man and woman in Canada can help win this war by practising self-denial. It is the bounden obligation of every man, of every woman, in Canada to work harder and produce more, to cut down luxuries, unnecessary expenditures and to save money for the purposes of the war."

Such is the declaration of Canada's Minister of Finance. Are you helping to win the war? The National Service Board is urging you to practise thrift and to invest your money in War Savings Certificates? Such investment is essential to victory. The Divisions at the front must be financially supported by the men and women behind them in Canada. They can be supported best by direct investment in Government loans which will be devoted to war purposes. Your financial resources are needed to strengthen the financial resources of the nation. The men at the front are fighting for you. Save for them. Invest your dollars in Government war bonds.

Good Night to Stories

THE TWO SEED BABIES.

When Mother Milk Weed finished the little brown suits she dressed her little seed babies in them and gave each one a tiny white balloon. "Now, children, hold on tightly, and the first warm day when the breezes aren't too rough we'll open up the pod and then you can take a lovely sail," said Mother Milk Weed.

The little brown seed babies were quite proud of their nice brown suits and were very happy to think Mother Milk Weed had trusted them each with a balloon. One little seed who had grown discontented with her close quarters pushed her sisters aside.

"When Mother Milk Weed opens the pod door I shall be the first to fly," I'll sail and sail and I'm far away from this old meadow," she cried. "Perhaps some day you'll wish you were back again, for there are worse places than this meadow, I can tell you," answered the seed nearest her.

"Maybe, but I want to live in a far, far country and see the world before I settle down," replied the first seed. "You may go, but for me, well, I want to light where the wind is kind enough to carry me. Then I want to grow and grow until I have a home with little seed babies just like Mother Milk Weed," said the second seed.

Some one was crying near them, and Mother Milk Weed opened her pod door to see who it was. A tiny fairy had hurt her wing and was unable to fly back to her home in the rose garden and she was weeping. "That's too bad. Had I known it sooner I'd have ordered a little balloon for you. Just like my seed babies," said Mother Milk Weed and all the seed babies peeped over the edge of the pod.

"She can't have mine," cried the discontented seed. "For I mean to sail far away into another land and see the world." Just then a gentle breeze filled her white balloon and off she sailed over the grasses that waved lazily in the wind. But she never had a chance to see the world, for the breeze dropped her into the babbling brook and he carried her along until her balloon was all water-soaked. A big fish, thinking she was good to eat, swallowed her, and that was the end of the little brown seed who had grown tired of her meadow home.

The second seed baby looked at the little fairy, and, kissing Mother Milk Weed she swung out on the wind and floated to the fairy's feet. "You may have my balloon, for I have no desire to sail far. This meadow was good enough for Mother Milk Weed, so it will be good enough for me," said the brown seed.

She watched the fairy sail away in her little balloon, then with a happy sigh the little brown seed settled in the soft dirt at Mother Milk Weed's feet. The following year she sent up a beautiful all green plant. Her pods were the fullest for miles around, and she told the seed babies of her sister's dreadful fate.

"So, little seed babies let the wind take you where he will and then live so when the time comes you can send out little white balloons to help the flower fairies that happen to be in trouble," said the Milk Weed Mother to her seed babies.

And so it is with us all. The one who seeks for worldly pleasures alone often-times goes down in life's stream but he who lives in the little nook God has given him and makes stream but he who lives in the little brown seed will send out his little balloons of good deeds that will make this old world better for his having lived.

AFTER WAR PROBLEMS.

(Associated Press.)
London, July 24.—The Bishop of Peterborough is worried about the marriage problem after the war and has called attention to the possibility that, in view of the number of men killed in the war, women may have more difficulty in finding husbands than heretofore.

"One grave question of the future," he said "possibly the near future, is the ideas of marriage which will prevail. It is possible that the holy estate will be attacked in a way we have never known; we may be confronted by efforts of many people in view of the present unprecedented situation.

"What is to be the equivalent of munition and other work," he asked. "Where are the forces that have been generated to find their outlet? Some scope there must be for the surpassing energy the war has brought forth. To that problem the church must find the answer, and not a mere routine answer."

UNHAPPY BALKAN PEOPLE

(By Frank Fox.)

A peace following this war which failed to bring a clear hope of calm and security to the Balkan Peninsula as well as to Western Europe would leave a further prospect of blood and misery to most sorely tried little peoples. For centuries now almost since the dawn of history, the Balkan peninsula has been under a rain of blood. The fall of the Roman empire left there a number of residual scraps of nations, fragments of the Roman power, of the Byzantine empire and of the various races which had poured in to plunder southern Europe when Rome's legions lost their sway. The coming of the Turk made confusion worse confounded. Whilst in the rest of Europe the Turk was an invader, in the Balkans he kept his foothold and remained as a colonist. As to the respective degrees of responsibility for the long-drawn-out tragedy of war and massacre which has continued with hardly an intermission from the fall of Constantinople to the present year, there are a dozen views. But regarding one thing there can be no doubt or question, that for the people concerned life was made utterly miserable. The inhabitants of the Balkans have been for long exposed to imminent danger of murder and rapine but they have been victims of their rulers rather than criminals. Some have sided against their sinning. No sooner were they relieved of the miseries of Turkish rule than they were made the victim of the German dream of world empire which was to win for the land to use as a base, ancient Rome's by conquering Asia and Africa via Salonika and Constantinople. German intrigue working through German princes, German military agents, German merchant adventurers, was directed to fostering local jealousies and hatreds. At one time the Balkan league offered some hope of peace, but the lands for the Balkan peoples and leaving Serbia, Bulgaria, Greece and Montenegro as a friendly united group with Roumania as an outside bulwark. But German intrigues and using the infamous King Ferdinand of Bulgaria as her tool plunged the peninsula into a fresh series of fratricidal wars. The death of those more sinned against than sinning, before Berlin, working through Vienna

FERNAND HAD PREMONITION OF IMPENDING DOOM

Austrian Heir Apparently Felt Presentiment of Sarajevo Assassination

UNPUBLISHED FACTS

Now Made Known For First Time Shed New Light Upon Tragedy

ARCHDUKE ANXIOUS Looked For Attempts on His Life During Fatal Procession

Copenhagen, July 24.—(Correspondent)—That purpose to be hit upon by Ferdinand relating to the assassination of Archduke Franz of Austria, showing that he had a strong premonition of impending death, are attributed to the Berlin Tageblatt by its correspondent at the Austro-Italian front. Informants, according to this dispatch are persons of high standing, some of whom were eye-witnesses to the Sarajevo tragedy which has been described as having surpassed the match that set the world aflame.

Indications of the Archduke's uneasiness, it is asserted, were apparent while he was driving along the quay at Trieste to board the steamship for Sarajevo. He repeatedly glanced up at houses fronting on the water as if suspecting a bomb plot. At Cumaja Bridge, in Sarajevo, however when Gaborinovich hurled a bomb which landed on the collapsed top of the Austro-Hungarian heir's carriage, the Archduke showed remarkable presence of mind by sweeping the death-dealing missile away with his hand. Falling to the ground, the bomb exploded, damaging the third automobile in the line of the parade and the collapsed top of the heir's carriage.

After the injured officer had been removed to a hospital, the archducal party proceeded to the City Hall. At the conclusion of ceremonies there a consultation was held as to the advisability of carrying out the program which had been announced for the royal visitors. Contrary to the accepted version of the episode, which described Ferdinand as insisting that the program be carried out, despite the urgent advice of members of his party in opposition to the plan, the heir to the throne is now quoted as having asked: "What shall we do now? Shall we mull."

continue to permit ourselves to be shot dead?"

General Potiorek is said to have proposed either that the city should be punished by the cancellation of the program or that the streets be cleared and the ceremonies carried out as arranged. To the latter proposal, the Archduke, after brief reflection, is said to have replied: "To carry out the program after clearing the streets doesn't suit me. We had better drop the program entirely. I only wish to visit Meriz."

In deference to the Archduke's wishes, the party was divided, the royal pair proceeding on their way to the hospital to visit the wounded adjutant. In the prevailing confusion, according to the latest version of the tragedy, the chauffeur assigned to the Archduke's car disregarded his instructions. Count Harrach, the officer who had been detailed to the Archduke's machine appeared on the running board of another car on the opposite side of the street. When the Archduke's chauffeur started off in the wrong direction, Count Harrach is said, called to him to halt, thus affording the assassin, Princip, an unexpected opportunity to fire the fatal shots at Ferdinand and his wife from a distance of only a few feet.

The Tageblatt's correspondent asserts that, after the bomb outrage in which the adjutant was injured, General Potiorek assured the Archduke there would be no further attempt to assassinate him, as plotters all had been arrested. Ferdinand, however, is described as having looked at him somewhat sceptically and saying: "I don't believe it. We will get several bullets yet."
