Fenderson, River Louise Lumber Co., Fred Anderson, Shives Co., O. W. Nordin, Robt. Clark of the Bank of Montreal, Chancellor Jones, Claims Agent Leighton, Champeau and W. B. Snowball.

TEMPERANCE JUBILEE

Newcastle Division Celebrates the Sixtieth Anniversary of their Foundation.

A well-attended Temperance Mass Meeting was held in Temperance Hall Wednesday night, 18th inst., to celebrate the sixtieth anniversary of Newcastle Division, No. 45, S. of T., which has through all that time been in active work. James Falconer, a Veteran of the Order for fifty years, occupied the chair, and on the platform were the G. W. P., the District Scribe and three local clergymen. The musical and literary program was exceptionally fine, and immensely enjoyed by the audience.

Mrs. W. J. Deane and Miss Williamson acted as accompanists. The program was as follows: Address of Welcome—Chairman Quartette—"Arise For Thy Light Has Come."—Messrs. A. E. Shaw, F. S. Henderson, James Calder and Dr. Estey. Address—F. S. Henderson. Solo—"I Heard A Voice Long Years Ago."—Mrs. J. W. Miller. Address—Rev. Dr. Cousins. Duet—"Abide With Me."—Mr. and Miss Calder. Readings—"Wreck of the Jule Lapiate," and "The Stove Pipe Hole"—F. S. Henderson. Address—Rev. S. J. MacArthur. Solo—"Beautiful Garden Roses."—Miss Edith MacLean. Address—Rev. W. J. Deane. Quartette—"Throw Out the Life Line"—Messrs. Shaw, Henderson, Calder and Estey. Address—H. H. Stuart. God Save the King.

JAMES FALCNER. Mr. Falconer welcomed the audience and showed how Temperance had made great progress during the Divisions sixty years of uninterrupted active existence.

S. S. HENNIGAR. G. W. P. Hennigar congratulated the Division and urged its claims upon his hearers' support. He showed that intemperance was the cause of much poverty and woe.

REV. DR. COUSINS. Dr. Cousins said, that while Newcastle might not congratulate itself upon our temperance standing we could congratulate ourselves upon progress elsewhere in Canada, mainly in Ontario. Ontario local option was much better than Scott Act. The liquor evil was still with us. An election was near. Last year just before election certain candidates made very fair promises but the present Council was worse than the preceding one. There were lots of good men in town from whom a Council might be elected. We should prepare for civic election. Total abstainers or at least those who would work an impartial course the law were wanted—Councillors who were not afraid to act. During the year the drink evil had not abated.

REV. S. J. MACARTHUR. Rev. Mr. MacArthur said that the S. of T. had done good work. He did not know what the recent Scott Act raids might mean. It might be a periodical spasm of reform which the town is said to take every once in a while. It might be an effort to make electors think that certain people are very much interested in the town's welfare. The town had got and could get just what the majority wanted. He was afraid that the majority of our citizens had lost all hope of better conditions. He trusted that a change was imminent.

REV. W. J. DEAN. Rev. Mr. Dean spoke hopefully of Temperance progress. The Scott Act was good, so was local option, but we wanted total, national prohibition.

H. H. STUART. H. H. Stuart said that when the temperance people of Canada had demanded suppression of the liquor evil the financial interests of the traffic were strong enough to prevent the Scott Act being honestly designed to put an end to drinking. The Scott Act was defective. It should not allow prescriptions for liquor to be obtainable from medical men outside the municipality; it should not allow individuals to import all they desired from outside. No one should keep liquor for sale, but the Vendors appointed by the Government, and the Vendor who sold whatever liquor was considered necessary should be merely a civic servant employed and paid by the government. The liquor business should be taken entirely out of private hands, thus destroying the baneful element of private profit. Until these charges could be effected, however, the Scott Act, which had done much good and was capable of doing much more, if properly worked, should be honestly enforced. The overthrow of alcoholism was absolutely essential to the nation's physical, mental and moral health. Much praise is due the enthusiastic and efficient committee—Miss Margaret Dunnett, Messrs. James Falconer, W. C. Day and others—who labored to make the meeting such a success.

Coun. Lewis—This year is one that will be celebrated in the history of the British Empire as the coronation year. We are sitting here in this Council as the representatives of the greatest county in the Maritime Provinces (hear, hear), while one of the founders of this Dominion sleeps in a nearby churchyard in an unmarked grave. I move that a committee of five be appointed to see what steps can be taken by this Council to have the grave of Hon. Peter Mitchell properly marked.

The resolution was adopted and the following committee appointed—Lewis, Anderson, Flett, Connors, Clarke.

Coun. Flett reported on almshouse accounts. They had been found correct, and the books are kept in a neat manner by Mr. Call. Bills appeared for large quantities of provisions and groceries at retail prices, and the Committee thought the commissioners should ask for tenders for the estimated quantity of supplies needed during the year. The county should buy at wholesale and not at retail. He moved that almshouse assessments be levied as follows—Chatham $1100 Southesk $190 Newcastle 400 Glenelg 250 Nelson 450 Hardwicke 225 Northesk 100 Alnwick 275 Derby 75 Blackville 40 Blissfield 75 Ludlow 150 Rogersville 150

Coun. Lewis for committee reported favorably on petition for new polling place in Glenelg.

The committee on the memorial from the Union of N. B. Municipalities reported as follows: "Your committee, having carefully considered the resolution of the Union of Municipalities respecting the adoption of a new system of taxation, have ascertained, after an exhaustive inquiry that no tax or taxation system, from the birth of civilization, is the gray dawn of history to the close of Warden Parker's first term, has ever pleased the taxpayers, though legislating cranks of various degrees of intelligence have been perpetually making changes in the incidence of taxation and the methods of collecting money for public purposes, has ever pleased the taxpayers or convinced them that they were not paying taxes, and we therefore beg to recommend that no change be made in our system until it has been demonstrated that some other method will extract the necessary funds from the pockets of the people in such a way as not to excite dissatisfaction or murmurings among men.

J. W. Vanderbeck, "Chairman."

This was adopted amid loud applause. Rogersville was assessed $825 for roads.

Newcastle was assessed $1100 for roads, and $135.20 for pauper lunatics.

On motion of Coun. Pond the following county accounts passed—E. P. Williston, filing school lists, $43.50; E. P. DARING BURGLARY

Late on Monday night or early Tuesday morning the premises occupied by Wm. Richards & Co., Richardsville, were entered and a large sum of money stolen. From what meagre details can be gathered it appears that the thieves entered the office by breaking a pane of glass in the window. The firm have been daily expecting their safe and in the meantime the cash was kept in the office in two strong covered iron drawers and one of these has been taken away. The police are naturally reticent in the matter but Chief Hughes is busy on the case. The till in the office was forced and the sum of $5 taken away, but in the cash drawer was a large sum. The thieves seemed to know their way about as the stolen box held the larger sum while the one that was not touched contained only $50.—this however may be accounted for by the thieves being scared away before finishing their nefarious work. Up till the present no trace of the thieves or the missing box has been found.

COUNCIL DOES

ROYAL HOUSEHOLD FLOUR

A very enjoyable party of the English boys was given at the Metapedia Valley took place on January 6th. The boys from Lake and Sayabec went up to the local express. On their arrival at Rimouski they were met by Mr. Frank Helleur. They all drove to the Helleur Boarding house. Mr. Frank Helleur as last year had the house tastily decorated, and the warm welcome that all received chased away the coldest of the weather.

It was very regrettable that our friends from Metis and Matane could not come up, but it must be hoped that at the next meeting that they shall be present. There were fewer attending the meeting than last year, but, this is accounted for, when we turn over the pages of last year's doings find that Dan Cupid has got hold of a few of those present last year, others have left this part of the country, but, on taking all this into consideration the answer to the "Call to Arms" was very satisfactory. The morning past away quickly and after lunch and the customary cigars we all went over to the skating rink and some had a fairly good skate. After this all hands went over to Mr. Edward Helleur's new home, and he and Mrs. Helleur must certainly be congratulated for their good taste, for they certainly have an ideal little home, most of the crowd being bachelors and some ripe enough to marry should take Mr. Edward Helleur's example and go to the parson and do the deed.

Mrs. Helleur gave us some music and we had some nice singing by Messrs. Frank and Philip Helleur, Blair, Valpy and Somerville. All returned to the Helleur Boarding House for dinner, and after more singing went to the Theatre-Populaire and saw some good subjects in moving pictures. After this entertainment we all returned to Mr. Edward Helleur's home, we again had some good singing and also some very good music with Mrs. Helleur on the piano and Mr. Edward Helleur on the violin. The party broke up in time to take the maritime down, and all seemed pleased with their day. Thanks are due to all who assisted, but especially so to Mr. and Mrs. Ed-Helleur and Messrs. Frank and Philip Helleur, the latter being the organizer of the meeting.

It was mentioned that in the early summer that another meeting would be organized, and we all hope that this will mature and that the meeting will be supported by all our married friends as well as the bachelors. We shall hire Cupid's services for the day. Rimouski was represented by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Helleur and Messrs. Frank Helleur and Fairlie Blair.

Sayabec was represented by Messrs. Philip Helleur, Edward Valpy, A. N. Somerville, and C. P. Starek. Salmon Lake was represented by Messrs. J. E. Acteson, F. J. Walker and P. J. DeGros.

Royal Household Flour

The best for Bread and the best for Pastry

"The Little Brother of The Rich"

NOW, this is not a talk about money. It isn't a contrast between the rich and the poor, for in some things we are all equally rich and there are no poor brothers. The poorest woman in the land can have just as good bread as the richest. The children who walk can have just as delicious pies and cakes and "goodies" as the children who ride in carriages.

All the money in the world cannot buy better flour than "ROYAL HOUSEHOLD", for there isn't any better.

And the woman who does her own baking can have just as good bread as is served to the Royal Household of England, and that is made from ROYAL HOUSEHOLD FLOUR sent to England from Canada.

And then, a barrel of "ROYAL HOUSEHOLD" produces many more loaves than a barrel of ordinary flour. The bread is better—sweeter, nicer to eat—and more wholesome—has more health and strength in it—makes more delicious pies, cakes, biscuits and doughnuts. Children whose mothers use "ROYAL HOUSEHOLD" at home, can have just as good baked things as the Princes and Princesses of England.

Although "ROYAL HOUSEHOLD" costs a little more per barrel than ordinary flour it contains so much more nourishment and makes so much more bread of superior quality it is in reality the most economical of all flours.

ST. ANDREW'S PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The annual meeting of the church was held on Wednesday evening, under the presidency of Mr. D. J. Bruce. All the accounts were well received and the balances at the command of the various branches of the church work show healthy signs of activity. Rev. Mr. Drummond in presenting the Report of Session, paid a fitting tribute to the memory of the late Dr. Carr and asked for the continued support and consideration of the congregation in his endeavor to follow in the footsteps of his illustrious predecessor. There are 238 members on the roll, being a net increase in membership of 10 for the year ending Dec. 31, 1910. The balance of cash on hand for the benefit of the poor of the congregation is $117.21.

In the Sunday School report Mr. D. C. Firth asked for volunteers for the teaching staff, which was very much undermanned. All the records had been destroyed in the fire, so that few comparisons could be made. The school opened in the Dinck Hall on Sept. 14, 1910 with an attendance of 37. Since then it has increased to 150, showing remarkable progress. The collections to Dec. 31st, amounted to $27.50. It may be mentioned that the Presbyterian Publishing Co. have given the school all necessary supplies.

Mr. W. E. Yonston reported that the Men's Union had a membership of 10 and an average attendance of 10. Balance on hand $18.52. Graphic.

ANNUAL MEETING OF DIVISION

North Shore Sons of Temperance Propose Drastic Amendments to License Laws.

The annual meeting—twenty-first quarterly session—of the Kent and Northumberland District Division of the Sons of Temperance took place at Harcourt yesterday afternoon, Rev. R. H. Stawert in the chair.

The officers and delegates present were: Harcourt Division, No. 438—District Worthy Patriarch, Rev. R. H. Stawert, Councillor David W. Clark, Rev. E. H. Creed, Principal Guy Patterson, Miss Maud Smallwood, Miss Debbie Rexton, No. 419—District Outside Sentinel, H. M. Ferguson, J. P. Newcastle, No. 45—District Scribe H. H. Stuart.

Caledonia, No. 126, Douglstown—Harold C. Stothart.

The Grand Worthy Patriarch, E. S. Houtiger, of St. John was present at the session.

Visiting members from Harcourt Division included L. J. Wathen, J. P.; Lloyd Wathen, H. W. Wylie, Misses Jessie P. Dunn, Debbie E. Lamkey, Belle Lamkey, Eva Watson and others.

Committees were appointed as follows: On State of the Order—L. J. Wathen, H. M. Ferguson, H. C. Stothart. Program—Miss Jessie P. Dunn, Miss Debbie Lamkey, Principal Patterson, Rev. E. H. Creed.

The D. W. P's report showed that during quarter just ended and during the year much progress had been made along Temperance lines in the District, as well as in the world outside. By petition the ratepayers of Wellington parish had declared almost unanimously against license, and in Richibucto the only remaining parish in Kent where liquor selling is licensed, a plebiscite had been granted for next fall.

Report was received and adopted. The District Scribe gave the following comparative statement of the membership of the different divisions.

Table with columns for Division Name and Membership Count. Includes Northumberland, Deaktown, Bay View, Caledonia, Silver Stream, Loggieville, Newcastle, Miramichi, Church, Nelson, and Millerton.

Table with columns for Division Name and Membership Count. Includes Harcourt, Rexton, Grangeville, Bass River, and Beersville.

Total for above 11 Div. 131 530 525. Richibucto, No. 42, 115. Coal Branch, 21. Beersville, 15 dormant.

Totals estimated, 733 062 037. Report was received and handed.

The Banner for highest average attendance of enrolled Membership from May 1st to Dec. 31st, 1910, was awarded to Grangeville Division, close competitors being the Divisions at Burnt Church, Douglstown and Doaktown.

It was decided on motion of H. H. Stuart and Miss Debbie Lamkey to offer the banner for 1912 on same terms as for 1911, that is to the Division whose average attendance for the 52 weeks of 1911 is the highest percentage of its average enrolled membership for the four quarters of the year.

The report of the Committee on the State of the Order was received and adopted.

"We have gone over the reports of the work done by the Divisions in the District, also the work done by the friends of temperance throughout Kent and Northumberland and find the temperance sentiment is on the increase.

"In Harcourt we find local option a grand success, although we find there are a few individuals who continue to risk the violation of the law by bringing a few bottles of liquor and disposing of them to their confidential friends.

"In the Parish of Wellington we are pleased to report that eighty-two per cent. of the ratepayers have petitioned the government for local option; and also that the Municipality of Kent, in response to a largely signed petition, have made provision for the taking a vote of the ratepayers of the Parish of Richibucto at the next Municipal Election, whether or not License shall be granted for the sale of liquor in that Parish.

"We find Northumberland is growing stronger in the Temperance work and trust the good work may continue.

"We would that the District Division pledge itself to render Richibucto to all the assistance possible in their efforts to obtain local option."

(Signed) L. J. Wathen, H. M. Ferguson, Harold C. Stothart.

The Treasurer's report showed:

Table with columns for Date and Amount. Includes Oct. 14—On hand $1.79, Oct. 14—To collection 3.50, Oct. 14—By Grand Worthy Patriarch 1.50, Jan 20—To balance on hand 3.79, Total $5.29, $5.29.

BRITAIN MAY CARE FOR ITS CONSUMPTIVES

London, Jan. 22.—In a letter to Hall Caine, who has been advocating government measures with the object of stamping out consumption, principally through the state taking charge of all consumptives, David Lloyd-George, chancellor of the exchequer, makes the interesting announcement that he has already been considering the practicability of dealing with this problem in connection with his forthcoming scheme of invalidity insurance.

The chancellor says that the chief difficulty is financial, and that it will be especially hard to estimate the maximum contribution which can be levied upon the workmen. However, he expressed himself as hoping to do something to arrest the terrible scourge, whose livid wheels are deeply marked on the face of Great Britain.

THE SHEEP INDUSTRY.

The Dominion Government Industry With a View to Foster the Industry.

The impression is evidently gaining ground amongst the Breeders of Pure Bred Sheep in Canada that the only prospect of securing for themselves a steady annual market for their surplus stock lies in the direction of the encouragement and development of sheep raising, as a business in our own country.

Notwithstanding the proximity of the United States, the safest outlet for the Canadian product is still to be found in the British and possibly at an early date, in the European markets. The English wool market is the centre of distribution for the product of the great wool producing countries of the world, including Australia, New Zealand and the Argentine. If the Sheep Industry in this country can ever be developed to reasonable proportion, it is not to be expected that any more natural or reliable market can be found for surplus Canadian wools. In addition to this, when the extent of the necessary grading and sorting of the product, such that it may be placed upon the British market in attractive condition, the prices realized may be found much more remunerative than those at present obtained.

It is clear also that the great and natural outlet for our surplus meat products, including those of mutton and lamb, is to be found across the sea. Great Britain has hitherto absorbed all the surplus of the world's meat supply, but it seems probable that she is shortly to have competitors in the market for foreign meats. There is a movement in Austria and Germany which will eventually result in the opening up of these countries to a chilled and frozen meat trade. A steady market is without doubt thus assured for all the mutton that Canada can produce.

It is fortunate that, at this time, the Federal Government is interesting itself in the Sheep Industry of the Dominion and is making a thorough investigation, with a view to the adoption later of a policy which may lead to its general encouragement and development. There is reason to believe that sheep raising in Canada may become at no distant date a decidedly profitable industry.

We wish to thank the public heartily for the most prosperous year in our history. We will begin our 44th year Tuesday, January 3rd.

S. KERR Principal.

Communication read from A. W. Campbell chairman of Board of Management, Intercolonial Railway relative to closing of Sugar Loaf street, which was laid on the table.

The mayor read letter from Premier Hazen relative to the promise of the Provincial Legislature to provide a sum of $5,000 for 10 years or an equivalent in a lump sum for the purpose of paying the bonded interest of the town.

This was handed to the Finance Committee.

On report of the Assessment Committee, the following reductions were made from the assessed value of land on W. H. Gray—$700 reduction,—D. H. Lunan $500 reduction, Chas. Audette $100 reduction. The case of Robert Connell was continued on recommendation of committee although the assessed value was found to be correct.

Councillor Miller moved, and Councillor Mowat seconded, "that the sums of money to be apportioned to the town by the government be placed in the bank of Nova Scotia to bear interest at the rate of 4 per cent per annum compounded quarterly, to be used for the payment of the present bonded indebtedness subject to legislation hereinafter to be enacted by the legislature of New Brunswick.

Carried.

After long discussion as to ways and means, Councillor Miller moved, and Councillor Alexander seconded the following motion—"whereas the town treasurer's salary for the current fiscal year only amounts to $673.76 resolved that the council make him a special grant of $495.

Carried.

In answer to questions, Solicitor MacKenzie gave it as his opinion that the I. C. R. had power themselves to close Sugarloaf street, but that the Railway Board wanted to put the onus of closing the street on the Council.

Councillor Mowat, and Solicitor MacKenzie were instructed to appear at the present session of the County Council, and oppose in toto the resolution recently voted by that body for the town of Campbellton.

The Man From Brodneys

graduated Hollingsworth Chase looked faithfully, resolutely, for the restoration of order and system among the demoralized people of Japut.

With the transfer of the company's business his work was finished. Two young men from Sir John's were now settled in Ararat as legal advisers to the islanders, Chase having declined to serve longer in that capacity.

He was now waiting for the steamer which was to take him to Cape Town on his way to England—and home.

The chateau was closed and in the hands of a small army of caretakers. The three widows of Jacob von Blitz were now married to separate and distinct husbands, all of whom retained their places as heads of departments at the chateau, proving that courtship had not been confined to the white people during the closing days of the siege.

The head of the bank was Oscar Arnheimer, Mr. Bowles having been deposed because his methods were even more obsolete than his coat of armor.

Selim disposed of his lawful interest in the corporation to Ben Ali, the new cadet, and was waiting to accompany his master to America. It may be well to add that the deal did not include the transfer of Neenah. She was now for sale, said Selim to Ben Ali.

It was of Mr. Bowles that the three persons were talking as they stood in the evening glow.

"Yes, Selim," said the tall man in flannels, "he's a sort of old dog. I'm ever faithful, but not the right dog. You don't happen to know anything about old dog Tray, do you? No? I don't know. Nor you, Neenah? Well, he was—"

"Was he the one who was poisoned at the chateau, excellency?" asked Neenah timidly.

"No, my dear," he replied soberly. "If I remember my history, he died in the seventeenth century or thereabouts. It's really of no consequence, however. Any good, faithful dog will serve my purpose. What I want to impress upon you is this—it is most difficult for a faithful old dog to survive a change of masters. It isn't human nature—or dog nature, either. I'm glad that you are convinced, Neenah. But please don't tell Sahib Bowles that he is a dog."

"Oh, no, excellency!" she cried earnestly.

"She is very close mouthed, Sahib," added Selim, with conviction.

"We'll take Bowles to England with us next week," went on Chase carelessly. "We'll leave Japut to take care of itself."

He lighted a fresh cigarette, tenderly fingering it before applying the match.

"I'll smoke one of hers tonight, Selim. See! I keep them apart from the others in this little gold case. I smoke them only when I am thinking. Now, run in, I want to be alone."

They left him, and he threw himself upon the green sod, his back to a tree, his face toward the distant chateau. Hours afterward the faithful Selim came out to tell him that it was bedtime. He found his master still sitting there, looking across the moonlit flat in the direction of a place in the hills where once he had dwelt in marble halls.

"Selim," he said, arising and laying his hand upon his servant's shoulder, his voice unsteady with finality, "I have decided, after all, to go to Paris. We will live there, Selim. Do you understand?" with strange fierceness, a great exaltation mastering him. "We are to live in Paris!"

To himself all that night he was saying: "I must see her again! I shall see her!"

A thousand times he had read and reread the letter that Lady Deppingham had written to him just before the ceremony in the cathedral at Thorberg. He knew every word that it contained. He could read it in the dark. She had said that Geneva was going into a hell that no hereafter could surpass in horror! And that was ages ago, it seemed to him. Geneva had been a wife for nearly three months—the wife of a man she loathed. She was calling in her heart for him to come to her. She was suffering in that unspeakable hell. All this he had come to feel and shudder over in his unspeakable loneliness.

He would go to her. There could be no wrong in loving her, in being near her, in standing by her in those hours of desperation.

A copy of a London newspaper stuffed away in the recesses of his trunk, dated June 29, had come to him by post. It contained the telegraphic details of the brilliant wedding in Thorberg. Every royal family in Europe was represented. The list of noble names seemed endless to him, the flower of the world's aristocracy. How he hated them!

The next morning Selim aroused him from his fitful sleep, bringing the news that a strange vessel had arrived off Ararat. Chase rushed out upon his veranda, overlooking the little harbor.

A long, white, graceful craft was lying in the harbor. He stared long and intently at the trim craft.

"Can I be dreaming?" he muttered, passing his hand over his eyes. "Don't lie to me, Selim! Is it really there?"

"Then he uttered a loud cry of joy and started off down the slope with the speed of a race horse, shouting in the frenzy of an uncontrollable glee.

It was the Marquis of B's white and blue yacht.

Chase stepped onto the deck of the yacht the next day. He was almost useless Selim. An old friend, a campaigner of many days, met him in response to a telegram.

"I'll tell you the story of Japut until tomorrow," they drove toward the yacht, the Cricket.

He did not tell his story until the Cricket had come to him and that he was in person, as it was intended—a message written before his arrival in France.

"I want you for my husband, dearest."

His fare hesitated for a moment, swayed by a momentary indecision.

"Attendre," he said finally. The driver adjusted his register and settled back to wait. Then Chase mounted the steps and lifted the knocker with trembling fingers. He was dizzy with eagerness, cold with uncertainty.

She had asked him to come to her, but conditions were not the same as when she sent the compelling message. There had come into her life a vital break, a change that altered everything. What was it to mean to him?

He stood a moment later in the salon of the old Flaubert palace, vaguely conscious that the room was darkened by the drawn blinds and that it was cool and sweet to his senses. He knew that she was coming down the broad hallway. He could hear the rustle of her gown.

Inconsequently he was wondering whether she would be dressed in black.

"I think not. Servants are all there. I dare say. Their place adjoins the Brabetz palace. The princess is his niece, you know."

"You say the Brabetz palace is next door?" demanded Chase, studying his voice with an effort.

"Yes—the old Flaubert mansion. The princess was to have been the social sensation of Paris this year. She's a wonderful beauty, you know."

"She married that rotten Brabetz last June, but of course you never heard of it out there in what's-the-name-of-the-place. You may have heard of his murder, however. His mistress shot him in Brussels."

"Great God, man!" gasped Chase, clutching his arm in a grip of iron.

"The devil, Chase!" cried the other, amazed. "What's the matter?"

"He's dead? Murdered? How—when? Tell me about it!" cried Chase, his agitation so great that James looked at him in wonder.

"Gad, you seem to be interested!"

"I am. Where is she—I mean the princess and the other woman?"

"Cool off, old man. People are staring at you. Brabetz was shot three weeks ago at a hotel in Brussels. He'd been living there for two months, more or less, with the woman. In fact, he left Paris almost immediately after he was married to the Princess Genevra. The gossip is that she wouldn't live with him. She'd found out what sort of a dog he was. They didn't have a honeymoon, and they didn't attempt a bridal tour. Somehow they kept the scandal out of the papers. Well, he hiked out of Paris at the end of a week, just before the 14th. The police had asked the woman to leave town. He followed. Dope fiend, they say. The bride went into seclusion at once. She's never to be seen anywhere. The woman shot him through the head and then took a fine dose of poison. It was a ripping news story. The prominence of the—"

"This was a month ago?" demanded Chase, trying to fix something in his mind. "Then it was after the yacht left Marselles with orders to pick me up at Ararat?"

"What are you talking about? Sure it was, if the yacht left Marselles six weeks ago. What's that got to do with it?"

"Nothing. Don't mind me, Arch. I'm a bit upset."

"There was talk of a divorce almost before the wedding bells ceased ringing. The grand duke got his eyes opened when it was too late. He repented of the marriage. The princess was obliged to live in Paris for a certain length of time before applying to

The brochure is beautifully printed and generally arranged in the artistic style of earlier days when the ornamentation of a volume was regarded as an important incident to its presentation of reading matter. It is also very well written and gives an interesting description of three of the most interesting cities in Canada, with many illustrations from photographs that have not hitherto been published. Asbridge, of 3 St. Paul St., St. Catharines, Ont., says: "For five years I have suffered unto agony with protruding piles. The pain was so great at times I would almost scream. I lost weight and had no appetite. I tried everything I ever heard of for piles, as I was willing to take any thing to get relief. It was useless, however, and I almost gave up in despair. One day a friend gave me a sample of Zam-Buk, and told me of a friend of his who had been cured. I decided to try Zam-Buk, and the relief I got was encouraging. I used three boxes, and at the end of that time I was completely cured. I wish I could have got Zam-Buk years ago; it would have saved me a great deal of misery. Zam-Buk will also be found a sure cure for cold sores, chapped hands, frost bite, ulcers, blood-poison, varicose sores, scalp sores, ringworm, inflamed patches, babies' eruptions and chapped places, cuts, burns, bruises, and skin injuries generally.
