Bridgetown, De Bridgetown, Dec. 1885. National Cradle Songs.

Poetru.

THE MOTHERS OF VARIOUS LAN HUSH THEIR BABIES TO SLEEP. (From an Exchange.) Every land has mothers and babies, a every land therefore has its cradle songs.

Here are some of them :---The Norwegian lullaby runs Row, row to Baltharock, How many fish are caught in the net? One for father and one for mother, One for sister and one for brother.' The Arabic mother sings:

'Sleep, my baby, sleep, Sleep a slumber hale, Sweetly rest till morning light, My little farmer boy so bright. Then the Dutch mother says:

'Oh, hush thee, my child, Thy mother bends o'er thee, And clasps her dear son, For she is forsaken and alone. The Chinese mother has this: Snail, snail, come out and be fed, Put out your horns and then your head For thou art doubly dear to me.'

What is prettier than a Scotch mother Ba-loo, ba-loo, my wee thing, Oh, softly close thy blinkin e'e; Thy daddy now is far awa, A sailor laddie o'er the sea.'

Lullaby, sweet baby mine ! Mother spins the thread so fine ; Father o'er the bridge has gone, Shoes he'll buy for little John.' The Hungarian mother;

The Danish mother delights her

'Hush, my darling; hush, my darling Hark, thy mother sings a lay. She who bore thee, her only joy, That takes her mamma's grief away. The Swedish mother murmurs this ;

'Hush, hush, baby mine!'
Pussy climbs the big green pine,
Mother turns the mill-stone, Father to kill the pig has gone.' And an Irish lullaby runs : 'Hush, baby dear, weep not awhile

In the green land of Conn and Owen. Here's the way another Chinese lullaby 'The mouse ran up the candle-stick, When he got up he could not get down But squeaked to waken all the town,

The Languedoc mother coos 'If my boy sleeps quietly. He shall see the busy bee When it has made its honey fine Dancing in the bright sunshine. The Italian mother sings :

'Sleep, my baby, sleep my darling, While I hush thee with my song; Sleep until the new sun rises; Sleep in peace the whole night long. The Zulu mother has it : Thy mother's o'er the mountain gone ; here she will dig the little garde

And water she'll fetch from the river.' The Breton cradle song is: 'Go to sleep, you little darling; Go to sleep, dear little Pierrot.

I'll sing sweet and low, And rock to and fro, The crib of Pierrot. Whom we all love. The English mother sings her child

Thy father's gone a-hunting Gone to get a rabbit skin, To wrap his baby Bunting in. The American mother warbles: Rock a-bye, baby, on the tree top;

She'll come and slap you if you cr The Cuban mother puts it in this way : 'Hush, my darling, sleep quickly, For there comes the little black man, Who will eat all little children who The Spanish mother sings thus:

The moon shines bright, And the snake darts swift and light. I sec five baby bullocks And a calf young and white. The Japanese mother sings : BRIDGETOWN & HORTON

'Sleep, sleep on the floor, Oh! be good and slumber, For when thou art asleep, Just hear what I will do, dear. The French mother has this: 'Hush, my baby, sleep,
Soon my little child will slumber.
Hush! don't even peep,
But go to sleep, my dear.'

The Hottentot mother croons: 'Why dost thou weep, my child? Wherefore dost thou weep? Hush, darling, calm thee, And sleep, my child, and sleep.

In North Germany they sing: 'Sleep, baby, sleep!
Thy father guards the sheep,
Thy mother shakes the dreamland tree, And from it falls sweet dreams for thee, Sleep, baby, sleep!'

EVENING SESSION.

The Association was called to order at 7.45 p. m., by Vice President J. W. Armstrong. An excellent paper was read by Miss Belle Wiswell on "The Moral Influence of the Teacher" showing that this is second only to the moral influence of the mother in the home circle, and that the teacher should, therefore, possess such a moral character as will command the respect of all. After touching upon the influence the teacher should exert with regard to such matters as incorrect speech, the use of slang, readings of trashy literature, intemperance, etc., the paper summed all up in a strong appeal to teachers, urging them to a faithful performance of duty, and to a true appreciation of their high privileges in moulding the characters of their pupils.

The paper was discussed by Rev. S. B. Dunn, Messrs. Boyd Parker, J. A. Smith,

This was a paper on industrial drawing, accomplished in the property of the school course.

In discussing this lesson, Mr. A. D. Brown made some remarks upon the importance of giving instruction in relation to the natural features of our own country. Mr. J. H. Balcom also urged the importance of such instruction, and claimed that time of such instruction, and claimed that time of such instruction, and claimed that time of the rope was thrown over the shaft which was making 125 revolutions.

Owing to the absence of Dr. Allison, no arrangements had been made for a public meeting, but it was now decided by a unanimous vote to hold an ordinary private session of the Association in the evening. Also, resolved that instead of the old plan of a forenoon and an afternoon session, one long session should be held on the second day, beginning at 9 a. m. and closing at 1 p. m.
