MR. BELYEA GETS HARBOR LOTS

(Continued from page 1) Mayor Hayes spoke about harbor development and Mr. Belyea in reply said that he agreed that fishing should be encouraged in harbor development.

Mayor Hayes asked Mr. Belyea to state some figure regarding his proposed expenditure, but Mr. Belyea would not do so. He said he came before the council for the purpose of purchasing the lots and they might be considered for a cannery or so.

Captain E. G. Howard was asked his opinion regarding the point raised about the extension to Lot 5 and any possible interference with sailing fish, the Mayor said he could not see how it could hurt the weir.

Mayor Hayes asked Mr. Belyea how many hogsheads of sardines he thought he would be able to can daily. Mr. Belyea answered that there was no reason why the question should be asked, and said he did not want to answer it.

The mayor said that they should seriously consider the proposition of Mr. Belyea and also that of the Booth Commission. He felt that Mr. Belyea should mention a sum which he proposed to expend.

Commissioner McLellan said that he was not satisfied that there was not an offensive odor from a cannery factory, but said that if it was possible to eliminate, it should be done. He said that he was opposed to sell any water lots in harbor. So far as Mr. Belyea's proposition was concerned, he had no objection to leasing these lots. He said the question to be decided was whether or not any injury would be done to the "Diver," and so lessen its value at public sale.

Commissioner Wigmore opposed the sale of No. 5 and spoke of the future of the harbor. Commissioner Russell opposed the sale of No. 5, but was in favor of selling 2 and 3.

Commissioner Fisher then presented the following resolutions: "That J. Fred Belyea be offered exemption from taxation (excepting for schools) for a period of five years on a sardine cannery factory of substantial size and on new shipping facilities for same, located at St. John, west, subject to the factory being so constructed and operated as to be as free as possible from offensive odors."

This resolution was seconded by Commissioner Russell.

Commissioner Wigmore did not think it had anything to do with Mr. Belyea's request and Commissioner McLellan moved in amendment that his request be taken up section by section and disposed of. This was seconded by Commissioner Wigmore and passed.

Mr. Belyea offered $200 for the two lots which the council agreed to sell; but as the city engineer had estimated their value at $400, the amount was split and they were sold for $200 each. The lease of the third lot was raised from $5 per annum to $40. Mr. Belyea signified his willingness to accept these propositions.

He said that he was seriously considering asking the commissioners for redress. At the recent public auction for

Commissioner Wigmore opposed the sale of No. 5 and spoke of the future of the harbor. Commissioner Russell opposed the sale of No. 5, but was in favor of selling 2 and 3.

Commissioner Fisher then presented the following resolutions: "That J. Fred Belyea be offered exemption from taxation (excepting for schools) for a period of five years on a sardine cannery factory of substantial size and on new shipping facilities for same, located at St. John, west, subject to the factory being so constructed and operated as to be as free as possible from offensive odors."

This resolution was seconded by Commissioner Russell.

Commissioner Wigmore did not think it had anything to do with Mr. Belyea's request and Commissioner McLellan moved in amendment that his request be taken up section by section and disposed of. This was seconded by Commissioner Wigmore and passed.

Mr. Belyea offered $200 for the two lots which the council agreed to sell; but as the city engineer had estimated their value at $400, the amount was split and they were sold for $200 each. The lease of the third lot was raised from $5 per annum to $40. Mr. Belyea signified his willingness to accept these propositions.

He said that he was seriously considering asking the commissioners for redress. At the recent public auction for

THE CHRISTMAS "LISTENING POST"

A Cheering Message to the Folks at Home

KEEP WELCOME SMILE READY

A Word From Head of Canadian Brigade—Some Humorous Military Additions Made to Webster's Dictionary

(By W. A. Willison, Staff Correspondent of the Canadian Press.)

Somewhere in France, Dec. 13— "For the third time Christmas finds the Canadians under arms in the trenches of Flanders. What they have endured during the last three years; what they have hoped for, striven for—and in their thousands died for—is not yet in sight; but the spirit that carried the original Canadian division through the second battle of Ypres is still marching with the Canadian troops today through all the mud and slime—and hell—of the modern battlefield, and will march with them to the only goal that is worth striving for—peace and a real peace that will make a recurrence of this hideous nightmare impossible. "Berlin—But" in letters only in the thoughts of those who carry on.

"And to our own folks whose dearest wish was that we should be with them at the festive board this Christmas time, just the old, old message, 'A Merry Christmas and a Glad New Year's from the bottom of our hearts; a Merry Christmas in the real true sense of the word—not the abolition of the old customs in the absence of loved ones, but the whole-hearted enjoyment of all that is worth while. Life is short and this old world too small for misery and long faceted for the brighter side of life and keep in training at smiling ready to welcome us back. And if in the midst of all you pause with sober faces and silently drink to those who have paid the utmost price, remember that they too—those happy, cherry lips cut down on the very threshold of life—would wish it so. Such is the message which constitutes the only editorial in the Christmas number of The Listening Post, that famous chronicle of the battalion of the division. Read it well, Canada, for the heart of not only a regiment but a nation's army is in it.

And here is another message from the brigadier of this famous brigade who writes "from every member of the brigade to anxious hearts at home, to assure them they have our constant love and devotion, our daily thoughts, and our wishes for a Merry and Happy Christmas. "Keep the Home Fires Burning." "Keep our places in your hearts and in our homes fresh and fragrant, for though long years and long leagues separate us, our love and loyalty know no space of time nor distance." The letter from Brigadier-General, C. M. G., D. S. O., continues with a message to the officers, non-commissioned officers and men of his brigade, a message which ends:

eight pages devoted to the honor list of the brigade. So ends the seriousness and The Listening Post is again the careless, happy journal of the firing line. Profusely illustrated with cartoons, filled with stories and jokes, it is a publication to do honor even to such a battalion as that which produces it. It is impossible in this space to give more than an indication of the rest of its Christmas contents. There are, for instance, the following additions—illustrated—Webster's Dictionary: "A Private—known as a 'Tommy.' Liven on bully and macoonie. Goes out in all weathers; does all the work and most of the grousing. Can drink a little, swear a lot, and can parlay—enough to get a cognac out of hours." "Lance-Corporal—Commonly known as 'Lance-a-Jack.' Sports a dog's leg on each arm, and is as important (in his own estimation) as a general who has just pulled off a successful attack. Swells up all over for about a week after getting his stripe, and during that time makes the 'Tommy' sit up and take notice." "Corporal—Wears two stripes on each arm. His fund of knowledge enables him to rush most of his work on to the newly-made lance-jack. Always picks out the best pieces of bacon in his section's ration for himself." "Sergeant—Three stripes. Never does anything he can get out of. His main object in life seems to lie in the direction of his platoon's rum ration. They are giving separate billets to the rest of their platoon, so that the junior sergeant is blamed for everything that goes wrong." "Lieut.-Colonel—Crown, star and three stripes. ARE THEY PREPARING A RETREAT?

Reports from Belgium are to the effect that the Germans, not satisfied with the heavy taxes laid on the inhabitants of that unhappy country and regular collection under pretense of meeting the natural expenses of any administration, are now systematically completing the process of removing to Germany portable property of every kind. The avowed purpose of the robbers is the utter ruin of Belgium in order that for many a years after the war they may not be industrial competitors of their present masters. The theory is entirely plausible, if any be needed beyond that of a characteristic desire on the part of the Germans to take from non-Germans whatever they like. It is not surprising that the stripping of Belgium may have another significance—it may mean that the German think that at no time in the future will they withdraw from that country under military compulsion and that they are determined to occupy it, to deprive their present enemies of advantages that might be derived from a chance of more or less speedy restoration to prosperity. They may be doing, that is, exactly what they did in France before withdrawing to the so-called Hindenburg line—creating a desert for the never-to-be-forgotten foe to occupy after themselves. The utter ruin of Belgium is hardly compatible with an intention to remain in it permanently, or even long.

ESTIMATES GERMANS HAVE 3,000,000 FIGHTING MEN ON ALL FRONTS

The New York World's Paris correspondent cables: German combatant forces on all fronts are estimated at 3,150,000 by the military office of 127, rue de Paris. He estimates the present total strength of the German army is 5,000,000. Non-combatant units, which he says total 2,870,000 men, are needed by Germany for guarding the frontier, occupying invaded territories and maintaining the long lines of communication. "There are now exactly 154 divisions on the Anglo-French front," he writes. "Each division has only three regiments of infantry, to each of which there are only two or three battalions. These divisions count only upon a maximum effective of 850 combatants. Thus for the infantry there are only a maximum of 4,850 rifles to a division. If special troops, artillery, engineers, general staffs and other services are added a German division possesses scarcely 12,000 men all told. The general total combatant forces on the western front, including army corps and army organizations, amount to about 2,000,000 men, a figure considerably lower than that of the Franco-British armies. The 115 divisions, of which 77 are German, opposed to the Russians and Roumanians on the eastern front have been reduced thus far only to 118, but each division has been greatly diminished by withdrawals of individual units. The Austrians have weakened their divisions in the same manner. Without counting recent levies made of the 77 German divisions, there remain on the eastern front 1,000,000 Germans. "To Italy, Germany has sent in support of 45 Austrian divisions only seven divisions of about 100,000 men each. On the Italian front, held chiefly by the Bulgars with 244 battalions, the Germans have only 80,000 fighting men, but certain indications point to reinforcements having been sent thither recently from the Russian front. "An estimate of Austria-Hungary's army strength, given in an Associated Press despatch from French army headquarters, places it at 1,200,000. The total war strength of the Dual Empire before the war was 8,600,000. The strength of the Austro-German forces in Italy, according to official despatches from Rome to Washington, is 840,000 men.

Secretary Wilson Says Workmen Plentiful, But it is Problem of Adjustment

Only Three Per Cent for Army in Year—Advisory Board to be Included in Plans—Unions' Apprentices Rule May be an Obstacle

Washington, Jan. 14.—"There is an ample supply of labor both for the army and for industry; the problem is one of proper adjustment," Secretary Wilson said in discussing plans of the Department of Labor for mobilizing workers. He estimated that in the first year of the war the army would take only about 3 per cent of the country's workers, less than the number of unemployed under normal conditions.

Establishment of a clearing house for the women labor of the nation, under the supervision of Secretary Wilson is announced. Mrs. Hilda Mulhauser Richards, named as chief of the bureau, outlined as its principal function the

Two cups white flour.
Four cups graham flour.
Mix milk, molasses and salt. When lukewarm add dissolved yeast cake and both white and graham flours. Beat well. Let rise until nearly double in bulk and bake in an oven which is a little cooler than for white bread. Allow about one and a quarter hours for loaves and thirty minutes for biscuits. FROZEN FISH FIND CHAMPION IN MRS. MULDREW OF OTTAWA

Domestic Science Expert of Food Controller's Office Makes Some Suggestions

Educational Department Food Controller's Office, Ottawa.—That there is a prejudice against frozen fish in the minds of many Canadian housewives, and that this prejudice is utterly unwarranted and unjustifiable, were statements made by Mrs. Jean Muldrew, domestic science expert of the food controller's office in an address upon food conservation to the Women's Auxiliary of Chalmers' church of this city.

Mrs. Muldrew urged her hearers to a better understanding of the proper method of defrosting fish so that the flavor would be retained.

"Frozen fish," said the speaker, "possesses the same food value exactly as fresh fish, and is handled for distribution much more cleanly. Increased demand for frozen fish will bring an increased supply. Housewives should ask their dealers for frozen fish and use it freely as a substitute for beef and bacon. The prejudice that has arisen against it is due to the improper methods frequently followed in defrosting frozen fish. There is no necessity of pouring hot water on a frozen fish. Soak it in cold water, and only long enough to draw out the frost. On no account use hot water. A few minutes immersion in a bowl of cold water is sufficient for a small fish. Larger ones take longer in proportion. But don't leave it soaking too long, and cook it immediately. If you boil it use the same water in which you defrosted it, and save all of the natural flavor thereby.

"A winter-caught fish in the northern or northwest waters of Canada is consequently an absolutely fresh fish when it reaches the consumer's kitchen. It is fresher than a fish that has merely been shipped on ice. It is as fresh as a fish cooked at a camp fire on the shore a few minutes after it is caught. All processes of decay and deterioration have been forestalled and suspended, for the winter-caught fish is frozen almost the moment it is lifted out of the water. If defrosted properly and cooked promptly, it is positively as fine in flavor and as nutritious as a food, as a fish right off the hook or straight from the net."

Mrs. Muldrew argued that fishermen would supply more frozen fish to the Canadian market if the demand warranted so doing, and if they were permitted to increase the supply by insisting that their dealers provide for their requirements.

tion of workmen voluntarily from one section to another, housing them in their new homes, and training unskilled men when the skilled supply in any particular line of work is short.

"We have established an administrative force here, headed by John B. Denmore, using employment agencies already in existence, and are working on development of a field force. Until the question is studied by the Advisory Commission, we will not know what we shall have to ask of congress."

Mr. Wilson was asked what opposition was expected from the unions to dilution of labor.

"If the apprentice rules of the unions are adhered to," he replied, "it doubtless will cause friction if we attempt to introduce unskilled workers. That is one of the questions which we will have to work out."

"I do not know of any instances where increased wages have caused a decrease in work done," Mr. Wilson said. "It also is not demoralized. Present conditions are due to the greater mobility demanded of labor in normal times, which needs a directing system to guide it where needed. We will try to supply this system."

THE CAMERA MAN
VERY POPULAR WITH "TOMMY" IN THE WAR

Behind British Lines in France, Dec. 20.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—One of the flourishing trades in the little towns and villages which are in France is the photographer's. The soldier has a universal fondness for having his picture taken.

With the British Tommy, the visit to the village camera man is a regular event of the greatest importance, and requires great preparations. He borrows the best pair of puttees in his section, or better still, a pair of field-service boots, brushes his clothes with great care, cleans his belt and bandolier, and polishes his buttons.

If he belongs to a mounted corps, his spurs and cutting whip will make a great display, for although everybody agrees that in this war the infantry is the most important branch, there is still a glamour attaching to the mounted man, even in his mount he only a cart horse or a mule. Equestrian portraits are much in demand, it is said, by the girls at home.

As often as not, Tommy gets photographed in a group with four or five men from his section. For one thing, this is cheaper. For another, it supplies a testimonial of the good company he keeps and of the few fellows that his section—always "the finest in the army"—is composed of.

Thousands of these photographs are sent every day from France to England. The officers whose business it is to censor Private Atkins' correspondence gets very tired of seeing that noble hero's countenance enclosed in every letter he sends his folks after the war, and the number of feminine admirers entitled to copies of the photographic artist's production seems to be unlimited.

The prevalence of the group photographs leads to many romantic developments. Some "girl friend" of the recipient admires "the good-looking lance corporal next to you, Tom," and a correspondence starts up under the fatherly eye of the censorship officer.

A group of soldiers were telling stories round the table of a Y. M. C. A. but the turn of a colonial came round. "I have at home," he said, "a pet rattlesnake." I heard a struggle going on in the dining room. Imagine my surprise when in the dim light from the street I saw my rattlesnake with its body tightly wound around a burglar and its ball sticking out of the window rattling for a policeman."

Don't "Jiggle" the Hook

When you take the receiver off the switchhook of your telephone, a small electric lamp is lighted on the switch-board in front of the operator.

After your connection has been made with the other person, the lights go out and do not reappear until the receivers are placed on the switch-hooks again.

If you desire to get the operator's attention, you may do so by moving the receiver hook down and up, but IT MUST BE DONE SLOWLY.

Buenos Aires, Jan. 13.—The foreign office intimates that a Mexican delegation, consisting largely of military men, aviators and newspaper correspondents which came to Argentina ostensibly to attend a proposed conference of Latin American nations, must have a secret mission, which is unknown even to the Argentine government.

London, Jan. 14.—The War Cabinet, with an eye on the shortage of beer as a cause of industrial unrest and the consequent increased demand for spirits, has decided to allow the release from bond of wine up to the full amount released in 1916.

Little is known here about the proposed Latin-American congress now postponed. Diplomatic observers, however, have attributed the project to the activities of Luxemburg in Argentina and the notorious Eckhardt, German minister at Mexico City.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 14.—Three men have been placed under arrest here as the result of an investigation by the United States army intelligence bureau into an alleged conspiracy to sell machine guns, ammunition, and clothing valued at $285,000.

It is said that arms and ammunition were offered for sale for the purpose of starting a revolution in Mexico.

PUT TO DEATH 58 BELGIANS

Rushed to Execution Apparently With Little Show of Trial

Germs Charged Them With Spying—At Least Two Women and Three Girls Among The Number—Von Bissing Outdone

London, Jan. 13.—Word has been received here at the Belgian official headquarters of fifty-eight more official executions in Belgium. This brings the number of Belgians executed since January, 1917, to 170, among whom were at least two women, three girls from fourteen to sixteen years old and several youths under twenty.

All the executed Belgians were assumed by the Germans to be guilty of spying, and in many cases arrest, condemnation and execution took place within three or four days, and, therefore, no serious inquiry could have been made.

Under the ruling of late Governor-General Von Bissing 100 executions took place in one year, according to the German official reports. Governor-General Von Falkenhayn has increased this record three-fold, and he ceased publishing the names of the victims in order that they could not be identified as martyrs by their compatriots. As a further precaution, the executed persons have been buried inside the prison walls.

ACTIVE WEEK END FOR OUR MEN AT FRONT

Unusual Infantry Engagements All Along Canadian Lines—We Get Better of Enemy in Raids

Canadian Headquarters in France, via London, Jan. 13.—(By W. A. Williams, Special Correspondent of the Canadian Press)—The week has closed with unusual infantry activity along the Canadian lines. Since Wednesday's raid, when one of our parties captured two machine guns and other materiel, there have been five raids on this front, the Canadians having entered the enemy's lines twice, while the Boches have made three attempts against our positions.

Early on Saturday morning, after we had broken into the lines and captured two prisoners, the Hun attacked in three parties of twenty men each. Two of these parties never succeeded in reaching our war—the third penetrated our trenches, but was driven out again immediately, leaving a badly wounded prisoner in our hands. The outstanding feature of the raid was the splendid sense put up by one of our sentry groups of three men, who gave the alarm and fought the attackers until only one remained unscathed. Last night, after a short, sharp artillery barrage, we raided the enemy's lines and the Boche had left his battered trenches and ran before our attack.

Night after night our patrol has been all over No Man's Land, but the engagements have been few, the enemy retreating, as a rule, at first sight of our parties. One patrolling party of one officer and three men, creeping within five yards of a much stronger enemy group, threw all their bombs into the party and retired into an empty house and sent back for more. For ten minutes the whole line woke up to all the noise of minor engagements, the nervous enemy having opened up with artillery and trench mortars, to which our artillery and Lewis guns replied. The uproar lasted for ten minutes, during which our patrol could hear the cries of enemy wounded.

While the line has been more active there has been no cessation in either entertainments or concerts for the men, or in the educational work being carried on at the University of Vimy Ridge.

NEW BRUNSWICK WHEAT IS GROUND IN FREDERICTON MILL

(Fredericton Mail).
Ald. F. H. Everett has far this season ground at his mill here, no less than 2,500 bushels of wheat grown in New Brunswick. This means an output of 800 barrels of flour and is about double last year's total up to date. He expects to handle at least another 2,000 bushels before the season closes. Ald. Everett operates an up-to-date roller process mill and turns out a high grade of flour.

Talking to The Mail, Ald. Everett said that there was a lot of seed wheat planted in this section last spring but owing to wet weather and other causes it did not turn out quite as well as expected. In some cases the yield was as low as five bushels to the acre, but in the case of Arthur Kelly of Upper Kingsclear, there was a notable exception. He was able to harvest twenty-five bushels to the acre, which was a yield not exceeded by a great many farmers in the great wheat growing belts of the west. Ald. Everett looks for a much larger acreage in wheat during the coming season.

FACE COVERED WITH PIMPLES ASHAMED TO GO OUT

Many an otherwise beautiful and attractive face is sadly marred by unsightly pimples, blotches, flesh worms and various other blood diseases.

Their presence is a source of embarrassment to those afflicted as well as pain and regret to their friends.

Many a cheek and brow cast in the mould of beauty have been sadly defaced, their attractiveness lost and their possessor rendered unhappy for years.

Why, then, consent to rest under this cloud of embarrassment?

There is an effective remedy for all these defects.

It is Burdock Blood Bitters. This remedy will drive out all the impurities from the blood and leave the complexion healthy and clear.

Mrs. Katherine Henry, Fort Sydney, Ont., writes: "Two years ago my face was so covered with pimples—I was ashamed to go out at all. I tried several remedies, but they were of no use. At last a friend advised me to try Burdock Blood Bitters. I got a bottle, and by the time it was used I could see a difference. I then got two more, and when I had used them the pimples were completely gone. I can highly recommend B. B. B."

MAYOR OF CHINATOWN, NEW YORK, IS DEAD

New York, Jan. 13.—Tom Lee, the "Mayor of Chinatown," and one of the best known Chinese in America, died yesterday afternoon in the rooms above his tiny store at No. 18 Mott street.

He died peacefully and of old age, both of which facts were opposed by the chamber of commerce of New York, the Merchants' Association and prominent members of the Hip Sing Tong and the Four Brothers, two organizations in Chinatown which for years had reason to hate and fear him.

Yesterday when the news of the old man's death spread through the twisted lanes of Chinatown the quarter mourned, and with reason. Every faction in the crowded quarter knew that the author of Chinatown's peace had gone and the Hip Sings in Pell street and the Four Brothers in Doyler joined with the On Leongs of Mott street, joined in the expression "Doh soh moen" (my heart is sad).

For fifty years the old man had been a leader in all Chinatown activities, and he was in the height of his power at a time when murders were weekly occurrences and shooting a nightly certainty in the segregated little district.

He had been in many ways early Americanized, yet until his death Tom Lee retained a certain inscrutability which had nothing to do with America. Once Chuck Connors, by way of explaining this trait, offered a simile. "Aw, Tom is a good Chinese," he said, "but when it comes to sickness, vaseline is a ton of pig iron compared to his dead end." He don't do no harm, but always scares 'em. I think what he could do if he decided not to be nice."

But as time went on Tom Lee stayed nice. He was for many years a member of Tammany Hall, was at one time deputy sheriff and a trusted friend of the police and other municipal authorities. He knew all that went on in Chinatown and he told the proper persons about enough of it to stop the wholesale murders which once characterized the section and to bring countless Chinese hatched men into the hands of the white man's law.

In 1902 an alarm clock on a turret beside Tom Lee's bed crashed with two bullets in it and in the ensuing years up to 1908 his slumbers were disturbed by bullets or knives on three occasions. Finally the police had him watched constantly for his own protection.

SHOOTING IN SYDNEY

Rainford Weatherbee is Killed and J. W. Greenwell is Under Arrest

Sydney, N. S., Jan. 14.—Rainford Weatherbee was shot and killed in the Greenwell block, in Charlotte street, about 7.30 last night. J. W. Greenwell was held by the police charged with the crime. It is charged that Weatherbee and Greenwell were drinking in Greenwell's rooms, and that an argument arose during which Greenwell drew a gun and shot Weatherbee. Walter Clair, of 38 Pleasant street, who arrived in the room just as the shooting took place, telephoned the police. They, on their arrival, found young Greenwell in the store below and had to break in the back door to secure the man. When arrested he admitted to the police that "he knew who did the shooting."

Alteration in House.
To a reporter Mrs. J. W. Greenwell said that Weatherbee came into their apartment in the Greenwell block about 6 o'clock. He and Greenwell were drinking, and about half past seven he suggested that they go out. Greenwell refused but ordered Weatherbee out. An altercation took place during which Weatherbee stripped off his coat and spoke of fighting. Greenwell made the remark that "would get his gun and put him out." He went down stairs and shortly returned with a revolver. When he appeared Weatherbee dared him to shoot, and Greenwell, it is stated, fired point blank from a short distance, the bullet entering Weatherbee's body about an inch above the heart. It is thought that it was deflected downwards and either lodged in or passed through the heart.

Greenwell immediately after ran down the stairs and entered the store, where he was found a few minutes later by the police. When the police, who were summoned by Clair, arrived Weatherbee was still alive but died before the doctor came.

Dr. John MacDonald, who was called to attend the man, found that the clothing and skin were very slightly scorched, indicating that the revolver was held only a short distance from the body, when the shot was fired.

Mrs. Greenwell, when asked if it was possible that the affair had been accidental, admitted that it was hardly possible.

Murdered Man's Record.
Rainford Weatherbee, the murdered man, was well known in police court circles here, having appeared on more than one occasion as defendant in liquor cases. He came to Sydney about seventeen years ago and for some time past conducted a restaurant on the Esplanade.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will quieten the shaking nervous system, strengthen the weak heart and build up the entire system.

Mrs. F. Bailey, 221 Earl street, Kingston, Ont., writes: "I was suffering very much with my nerves, to such an extent I could not keep myself quiet at all. I was recommended to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills so I bought a box, and I must say I have derived much benefit from them, so much so that my friends have all noticed the change in me."

FUEL AND FEED ADMINISTRATORS AND BUSINESS MEN ADVOCATE PASSAGE OF BILL

New York, Jan. 13.—Early passage by the house of representatives of the Daylight Saving bill as a war measure is advocated in New York city by the fuel and food administrators and by business men generally. A New York World dispatch from Washington stating that the bill is to be promptly considered caused widespread rejoicing. The bill, which provides for advancing the clocks of the nation one hour, from the last Sunday in April to the last Sunday in September, is now in the interstate and foreign commerce committee of the house.

The movement has been gaining strength steadily since May, 1916. It was treated at first as purely an acumen business proposition, but since America's entrance into the war it has been assuming more and more the character of a genuine war measure.

The four principal reasons for asking congress to treat the Daylight Saving bill as a war measure are: (1) That it will save fuel; (2) that it will increase the production of foodstuffs; (3) that it will make New York five instead of six hours distant from London and Liverpool in clock time during the war months and thus give one hour in which the exchanges in New York and London are open for direct trading; (4) that it will give an extra hour of daylight for loading and unloading freight.

Albert H. Wiggin, fuel administrator for New York state, and Federal Fuel Administrator Reece Schley are enthusiastic about the plan as a means of conserving coal for next winter. The plan has also been officially endorsed by the chamber of commerce of New York, the Merchants' Association and prominent members of the Hip Sing Tong and the Four Brothers, two organizations in Chinatown which for years had reason to hate and fear him.

Arthur Williams, federal food administrator, approves the plan in the belief that it will contribute to the general welfare. John Mitchell, state food administrator, has been an active promoter of the plan from its inception, being a member of the Daylight Saving committee appointed by former Governor President Marks.

The 25th anniversary of the commencement and 22nd of the dedication of the Fairville Methodist church was commemorated yesterday, Rev. H. M. Goodwin, pastor, preaching in the morning and Rev. J. C. Berrie, a former pastor, preaching in the evening.

If Cross, Feverish or Bilious Give "California Syrup of Figs"

This is a sure sign that it's little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste.
