"THIS CHILD WILL LEAD ME" SAID CARDINAL

Mgr. Gibbons Makes Lone Journey Afoot to Grave of Bishop Van De Vyver

Richmond, Va., Oct. 21.—(Canadian Press)—Hand in hand with an 18-year-old boy, Cardinal Gibbons, forsaking his vestments for the frock coat and silk hat of private life, walked the mile from the Sacred Heart Cathedral yesterday to Mount Calvary cemetery, where Bishop Van De Vyver was buried. The aged cardinal stepped aside after celebrating the high requiem mass in the cathedral and in a side room removed his vestments. Father Bowler, the vicar general of the diocese, and Father McGri, the chancellor, saw him going quietly out of a poster door and found him just as he and the lad had agreed to go to the cemetery on foot.

They entreated him to take the carriage awaiting him. They said the thousands of people within and without the church would be distressed to see their venerable cardinal afoot. The cardinal smiled. "My heart is heavy," he said, "and I need the exercise. This child will lead me," and they walked away hand in hand, leaving the priests and by-standers in perplexity.

ST. JOHN MEN HOME, TALK OF THE WORLD BASEBALL GAMES

Blame Snodgrass for the Spiking of Baker—The Latter's Home Run—Hundreds of Hats Lost in Excitement

Tommy Reynolds, a popular Royal Hotel clerk, arrived home this morning from New York where he had been attending the championship series between the Philadelphia Athletics and the New York Giants. John Snodgrass also returned home today. Both were greatly pleased with the games they saw and praised the playing of the Athletics. They were at Tuesday's eleven inning game and saw the play in which Baker was injured by Snodgrass' spikes.

Both say that Snodgrass was entirely at fault and that the crowd roared and hissed him. He deliberately jumped at Baker, they say, and tore one of his legs quite badly. "The most exciting play of the whole game," said Mr. Reynolds, was when Baker walked the ball for a home run in the ninth inning, making the score tie. Nearly everyone in the big stands roared and cheered the third baseman as he rounded around the circuit. Hats were thrown in the air, and after the game you could see hundreds of people leaving the grounds without their hats, having thrown them away in their excitement.

"From then on to the end of the game the excitement was intense, and every goal play was loudly cheered. The Athletics seemed to be the favorites and they were given a great ovation when they won the night long the Philadelphia and New York roared merry in the metropolis. The Athletics left for home almost immediately after the game. Coombs seemed to be a great favorite with the fans, and he was loudly cheered for his good work. The police had a great time looking after ticket scalpers and there were many of them arrested. Hours before the gates were opened the streets were blocked with people waiting to secure tickets, and some of them remained in line all night long.

TORONTO PROTEST AGAINST SELECTION OF WHITE AS FINANCE MINISTER

Toronto, Oct. 21.—(Special)—Hon. Thomas Crawford speaker of the Ontario legislature, today a mild mannered protest against Premier Borden's cabinet making at a meeting of Toronto Conservatives last night. The stalwarts urged the speaker by encouragement to go further, but he was waxy. He had in mind the selection of Hon. W. T. White former Toronto Liberal, to be minister of finance.

"If I had it to do," quoth Hon. Thomas, "it would not have been as it is, but Mr. Borden has surrounded himself with some, at least, very good men. I can sympathize with him."

A SMOKER. Supporters of the local government will hold a smoker at Mayall's on the Loch Leonard Road on Wednesday evening next.

Constantinople, Oct. 21.—The declaration of Said Pasha on Thursday that he would devote himself to effectually guaranteeing the national honor and integrity of the Ottoman Empire, is considered in diplomatic circles to justify the idea that it is impossible to find a basis for an understanding between Turkey in her present position and Italy, whose views are diametrically opposed, and that Said Pasha will be forced to adopt a policy of resistance or resign.

Rumors continue prevalent that negotiations have begun with the Porte with a view of effecting the entrance of Turkey into the European groupings. In some quarters it is said the negotiations were initiated by Germany, who wishes Turkey to join the triple alliance, while again Great Britain is said to be the power which the Porte desires to deal.

EARL GREY CONTINUES BOOSTER FOR CANADA

Address in Liverpool Yesterday—May Want to Come Back For Winter Visit

(Canadian Press)

Liverpool, Oct. 21.—Earl Grey continues to be a booster for Canada. Arriving here yesterday, he was tendered an official reception, and told his hearers that it was impossible to be too sanguine as to the future development of Canada.

"I am glad to be back in England after seven eventful years," he said. "They have been seven happy years in the land of open sunshine, and although glad to be back among those who are carrying practically single handed, the whole burden of the British Empire. I confess I was sorry to leave the dominion. As to the Canadian climate, I can only say I thoroughly enjoyed it, whether in summer or winter, and I am not sure that before the present winter is over, I shall not wish to be in Canada again."

Earl Grey agreed that the Canadian census returns did not show, as had been too hastily assumed in some quarters, that Canada had had a set back. The increase in population was a substantial one.

GREAT GROWTH OF THE MEMBERSHIP

Y. M. C. A. Has Increased From 41 to Nearly 800 in Three Years—A Word as to The Work

The Young Men's Christian Association has increased actively upon its fourth season in the new building. From a membership of forty-one three years ago the membership has grown until it is now between 750 and 800. This season's work, open with new enthusiasm, and there is every indication that this will be the best season yet.

The association stands for the development of the whole man and the various agencies aid men in the symmetrical development along the lines of their social, physical, and mental sides. The association membership is open to any young man of good moral character, and all denominations are now represented.

Along the social side greater interest is being taken than ever before. The reception and game rooms are being very largely patronized and the cheerful open fire is very attractive on chilly evenings. The old game of ping pong has this year been under the able direction of the association and on Monday an English billiard tournament will be commenced. During the last week a social committee to men representing city industries. Social will be held during the evening of the usual Halloween social and New Year's reception.

In the religious department there will be physical training for men only on Sunday afternoon and a meeting for boys on Sunday morning. A special class for Sunday school teachers of the city is now being held by Rev. R. P. McKim on Saturday afternoon. The study of the Bible is being conducted by Rev. R. P. McKim on Saturday afternoon. The popular class for men is held on Thursday evening of each week by W. M. Kingston who is considered one of the best Bible class teachers in the city. Group Bible classes will also be held during the week for any young men who decide to enter under the able direction of Lesing Bandlow who has recently come to the city, and who has had large experience in physical training in other associations.

Mr. Bandlow's engagement has already been justified by the manner in which he has taken hold of his class work and he is fast becoming a favorite of the men and boys. Gymnasium classes are being held for business men in the afternoon, young men over eighteen, and intermediate from fourteen to eighteen in the evenings, and for school boys in three groups in the afternoon and on Saturday mornings. Special attention will be given this season to swimming instruction, and special physical and medical examination will be given free to all members.

The boys' department this year is under the supervision of A. R. Pixley who has had special training for this work and who is a graduate of the Y. M. C. A. training school in Springfield, Mass. Elaborate plans have been made for the various departments of the work for boys and every attention will be given to the boys from thirteen to eighteen. A membership contest in the boys' department is on. The prize is a trip to Digby. There are also basket ball, trolley ball and football leagues in operation.

BODY OF SCHOOL TEACHER FOUND IN RIVER; WAS A TUBERCULOSIS VICTIM

(Special to Times)

Toronto, Oct. 21.—A verdict of suicide brought in by a coroner's jury has just closed one of the most sensational cases in the north of Ontario. Violet Smith was a school teacher at Dillanport. She suddenly disappeared from her boarding house, and all sorts of rumors were circulated as to the cause. The government offered a reward of $200 and every part of the country was scoured by searching parties.

As the days passed the excitement grew intense, and then the body was taken in the Shebasheking river. The autopsy disclosed the cause of death. It was that she was a sufferer from consumption and feared the end would soon come. She was lonely too. Her mother died a year ago.

The body was buried here yesterday afternoon.

FIGHTING IN THREE PLACES IS REPORTED

Martial Law Has Been Declared In Several Cities In China

(Canadian Press)

London, Oct. 21.—Special despatches received here from Shanghai report that there is fighting at Hankow, Han Yang and Tschang. Martial law was declared in all three cities, but the rebels were able to maintain only partial order. At Hankow several looters were shot. At Han Yang both rioting and looting were indulged in. According to the despatches the last reports arriving at Shanghai say that the rebels have thrown formidable earthworks on the hill of Han Yang.

A majority of the natives of Shanghai, as well as many foreigners, sympathize with the rebels and the despatches say that when a placard announcing an imperial victory at Hankow was posted at a native newspaper office, the Chinese broke the windows in the building. A cablegram from KiuKiang sent by a correspondent who witnessed Thursday's fighting, says the casualties there were slight, but that immense fires were started by burning shells.

A despatch from Peking says that Yuan Shi Kai's preparations to put down the rebellion are almost complete. He has called many of his trusted officials to his aid, and has already mobilized all the Yang Tse provinces and is sending brigades to form cordons in Hu-Hu and Szech Chen provinces to prevent a possible scattering of the rebels.

According to these despatches, continual messages received from Tokio speak of further Japanese military and naval activity. This fact causes great anxiety to looks serious for Germany.

Peking, Oct. 21.—There is no doubt that more serious news than that of the defeat of the government troops at Hankow, Wednesday has been received at Peking but not published. There are persistent rumors that Admiral Sui Chou ling's flagship was sunk or captured. It is reported that the rebels are now holding Hangchow at the narrowest point of the Yang Tse Kiang river and that they are also in possession of Chang and the railway near Kwang Shui.

The result of Wednesday's fighting has caused a general feeling at the foreign legations that the situation is now critical. The diplomats met yesterday and considered China's foreign financial obligations. The government has requested a postponement of the payment of the Boxer indemnity instalments and is eagerly seeking a new loan.

A belated telegram from Chang Sha, capital of Hunan province under date of Wednesday, states that the fall of the city is imminent. The rebels are reported to have posted heavy artillery in a strong position in the hills north of Canton.

HIS HOME BURNED

The cosy little homestead of John Taylor at Cole's Island was burned to the ground on Thursday night and he and his family, including four children, were forced to seek shelter with neighbors. They saved but one bed. The loss is probably about $1,500.

It is not known how the fire took place but a cry of warning from one of the sleepers who awakened aroused all and they escaped without injury. The barn, and cattle were untouched.

Two north end men, Henry Wheaton, and Hartley Flewelling, were boarding with Mr. Taylor at the time, while on a hunting trip in that vicinity.

A VALUABLE SUGGESTION

IMPORTANT TO EVERYONE. It is now conceded by physicians that the kidneys should have more attention as they control the other organs to a remarkable degree and do a tremendous amount of work in removing the poisonous and waste matter from the system by filtering the blood.

During the winter months especially, when we live an indoor life, the kidneys should receive some attention when needed, as we take less of the natural water and often eat more fatty food, thereby forcing the kidneys to do more work than nature intended. Evidence of kidney trouble, such as lame back, inability to hold urine, stinging of urination, dizziness or vertigo, headache, indigestion, rheumatism, any weak or irregular heart action, warns you that your kidneys require help immediately to avoid more serious trouble.

An herbal medicine containing no minerals or quinine has the most healing influence. An ideal herbal compound that has had most remarkable success as a kidney and bladder remedy is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

STRAVORNIA-CRACKEN. At the home of the officiating clergyman on Wednesday evening the 18th, Rev. L. A. McLean united in marriage Miss May McCracken, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McCracken, of Chesley street, to William Henry Stravornia, who was an old rose princess gown with black tulle and with willow plumes. She was attended by Miss Louise South as bridesmaid. Frank McDermond supported the groom. After the ceremony a wedding supper was partaken of at the home of the bride. A large number of useful presents were received, including a willow rocker from the groom's mother. Mr. and Mrs. Stravornia will reside at the bride's home.

La MARQUISE de FONTENOY

Princess Charlotte of Schwarzburg, the eldest scion of European royalty, has just celebrated her ninety-sixth birthday, at her beautiful country seat in Switzerland, not far from Bern, on the banks of the Aar, a river which flows into the Rhine, and remote from the railroad line, where she lives so secluded from the world, that she is almost forgotten by the public. Yet more than fifty years ago the romance of her marriage created a world-wide sensation, and has furnished the inspiration of several novels.

Princess Charlotte, who belongs to the sovereign house of Schwarzburg and who is a grand-aunt of the present ruler of that principality, was in her younger days passionately fond of the life of a huntress, and in form of sport in which she was an adept. In one of her excursions, her life was saved by the most wonderful presence of mind, muscular strength and pluck of her Alpine guide, who narrowly escaped being dragged down the precipice, over the brink of which she had almost disappeared, suspended to the rope the other end of which was fastened to her, in accordance with mountaineering requirements. He managed not only to withstand the shock of her fall, but likewise to draw her back into safety, though with the utmost difficulty, and at the risk of himself slipping, owing to the insupportable weight of the rope. Indeed, so great was his danger that some men in his place would have cut the rope in order to save themselves.

The princess naturally was filled with sentiments of gratitude towards her preserver, and as he happened to be an extremely handsome man and possessed of sufficient education to qualify him for a commission in the militia of his canton, she determined to prove her gratitude by marrying him. True, she was forty years of age at the time, and some ten years his senior. But she was a very good-looking woman and rich. Of course there was a tremendous outcry on the part of her royal and imperial relatives, for she is connected by ties of blood with the monarchs of the reigning houses of Europe. All sorts of stories were circulated as to the origin of the romance, the one most generally accepted being to the effect that John Jud—for that was the name of the groom—had been once the servant of an inn, at which the princess had been staying, and had attracted her attention while engaged in the performance of some menial service.

The reigning Prince of Schwarzburg eventually gave his consent to the marriage of the princess on the condition that she should live abroad with her husband, and he thereupon conferred upon the latter, by way of a wedding present, the title of baron. The union turned out far more happily than was expected of this kind of a match. The couple bought a very pretty place in the Canton de Bern, where the baron died after ten years of an entirely peaceful marriage, deeply mourned by his widow.

From that time to this, that is to say, ever since 1800, the princess has never left her Swiss home. She lives in the most beautiful of all the houses in the world, and her life is a life of perfect happiness, and of perfect freedom. Her life is a life of perfect happiness, and of perfect freedom. Her life is a life of perfect happiness, and of perfect freedom.

GAINED 29 POUNDS. Many Years an Invalid—Untold Agony from Headaches

Dizziness, Sinking Spells and Excessive Weakness Disappear With Use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Nearly every woman will read with interest the letter of Mrs. Geo. Bradshaw, of New York, who writes that she has been suffering from Nervous Headache and other symptoms arising from weak, watery blood, and that she had been unable to get on her feet for many years. I tried many of the patent medicines, and got no relief, and I tried every new doctor that came along, but all failed to help me. Doctor Chase's Nerve Food, however, did the work for me. I had no blood, and that my heart and kidneys were diseased, and that I had so many complaints there that not much use in doctoring up one or two. Four years ago I took six boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and was glad to see I felt better, and then got six more, and they cured me of my complaints. When I began taking Nerve Food I weighed 110 pounds, and today I weigh 139, and am 45 years old.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

"THE Captain had settled down to live in old Chester; his son, who had married with him and his languid daughter-in-law—a young lady of dominant feebleness, who ruled the two men with that most powerful domestic rod—foolish weakness. This combination in a woman while kindness, justice and good sense leave it upon unshaken foundations of selfishness. Only when the secrets of all hearts shall be revealed, will it be understood why a man loves a fool, but why he obeys her is obvious enough."

There is a certain kind of selfishness, which, although it is one of the commonest and most troublesome in the world, seems to me to be seldom recognized as such,—and that is the selfishness of fear.

People who hammer and hinder and fret and tie down those whom they pretend most to love by fear, usually think they are showing love and tenderness and beautiful solicitude.

As a matter of fact, they are usually giving an evidence of simple pure selfishness.

When the fear that they have instilled in their loved ones does this or that, because there might be some vague possibility of risk connected with the pleasure, or because he objects to it, or because he loves them so very much. But, nine times out of ten, the real rock-bottom foundation for the objections is the fact that he knows he will regret, and he may regret, if he does not do it.

I know a man who was badly thrown from a horse in his youth, by the breaking of a saddle girth, and had a deep-seated fear of horses. And yet this man bought his little boy a pony.

How many people, so far from being capable of such heights, shamelessly descend to the depths of hindering those they love of pleasure and profit, by saying frankly and openly, "If you do that I know I shall worry."

"Every night," chronicles Mrs. Deland, "the captain screwed down all the windows in the house; in the morning Cyrus pulled the screws out. Cyrus had a pretty taste in horseflesh, but Gusie (the young lady of dominant feebleness) cried so when he once bought a trotter, that he had long ago resigned himself to the fact that he would never buy a horse who could not get much out of a walk, because he had strangled in both hind legs."

What one of us does not know some "Gusie" in real life, whose fears bring similar discomfort and inconvenience and deprivation into his or her home circle? And what one of us does not, to some extent, however small, have his share of the selfishness of fear?

The instinct to preserve our own peace of mind at the expense of other people's comfort and pleasure, seems to be a natural and almost universal one.

Unfortunately, it is usually regarded as a virtue, or at the worst, a weakness. It is only when we come to recognize it as an actual failing, a real vice and happiness destroyer, surely we shall have gone part ways toward curing ourselves of it.

TROUBLE WILL BE ENDED FOREVER

Indigestion, Heartburn, Gas and All Stomach Misery Goes in Five Minutes

If your meals don't fit comfortably, or you feel bloated after eating, and you believe it is the food which fills you; if what little you eat lies like a lump of lead on your stomach; if there is difficulty in breathing after eating, eructations of sour, undigested food and acid, heartburn, brash or a belching of gas, you can make up your mind to get rid of all this misery, and stop food fermentation and cure indigestion.

To make every bite of food you eat rest in the nourishment and strength of your body, you must first rid your stomach of all its contents. Eructations, which sour your entire system, and interfere with digestion and cause so many sufferers of indigestion, heartburn, gas, and all stomach troubles, are caused by the action of the stomach. Constipation, indigestion, eructations, souring your entire system, and interfering with digestion and causing so many sufferers of indigestion, heartburn, gas, and all stomach troubles, are caused by the action of the stomach.

No matter if you call your trouble Catarrh of the Stomach, Nervousness or Gastritis, or by any other name—always remember that a certain cure is waiting at your drug store the moment you decide to begin its use.

Paper's Disappian will regulate any out-of-order stomach within five minutes, and digest promptly, without any fuss or discomfort, all of any kind of food you eat.

ST. ROSE'S CHURCH

FESTIVAL; NAMES OF LADIES IN CHARGE

The annual festival of St. Rose's church, Milford, is giving promise of being a distinct success. Practically all arrangements have been completed for the opening on Monday next, and the interior of the hall presents a very pleasing and attractive appearance. The booths are prettily decorated in purple and white, green and white and pink and white, and the combination of colors is prettily effective with the aid of a host of electric lights.

The committees having charge of the arrangements are as follows: Supper tables, in charge of Mrs. Wm. Hayes, with Mesdames J. Mulloy, J. McKinnon, Fred Peterson, Louis Kerman, Thos. Lynch, and Louis Palmer, and Mesdames O'Brien, Hayes, Murphy, Hamilton, Armstrong, Callinan and Hughes. Ice-cream table, in charge of Miss O'Brien, assisted by Mesdames K. O'Brien, L. Gleason, and E. McKinnon.

Miss K. Butler has charge of the doll booth with Mesdames K. Marley, M. Butler and Alice Sullivan, as assistants.

The fancy table will be presided over by Miss M. Hennessey, aided by Miss A. McManus.

Miss Margaret Lynch, Nellie Cople and Agnes Callahan will be in charge of the "Baiting" at the fish pond, while Misses Barry and Hayes will be in attendance of the home-made candy booth.

It is probable that a programme of music will be carried out each evening, and the expectations are that the affair will be a success. The proceeds will be in aid of the church.

WANTED—A CLOSE SEASON FOR BOYS

About every other day a boy has been reported shot by some companion in the hunting field in one corner or another of New Brunswick; and it is not a particularly good year for boys at that. That is to say, the woods are not exactly full of them, an assertion that will be fortified by a glance at the census returns.

But even if we had so many boys that we could afford to use them up in target practice, it would still be shocking to look over the record of the last week or two. New Brunswickers are supposed to know about as much about a gun as any people in the world, man for man, because they come of a pioneering race which used to be accustomed to the handling of firearms as a part of the business of the day.

We argue from the casualties of the last two weeks either that the boys are less sensible than they used to be, or that the parents, uncles, big brothers, guides, philosophers and friends of the boy of this generation are not so wise as they were thirty years ago.

Nearly every boy wants to carry a gun before he can safely be entrusted with it. Nearly every boy wants to go into the woods before he has sense enough to know that he must not shoot every time something moves behind a bush, and that he must not look into the muzzle of a gun to make sure that nothing is coming out of that end in a hurry. So it falls to the lot of the average parent, or uncle, or whoever is in loco parentis, to get the boy and the gun together and go through a little preliminary target practice, and a little sensible schooling, with the idea of cheating the coroner and the undertaker of some portion of their fat harvest.

Often it is better for the parent to wear plate armor during the preliminary sessions, but, by loading with powder alone for a day or two, and gradually teaching the boy that three and one-half drams of powder is an explosive more dangerous than a fire-cracker, and that it actually pains a neighbor's boy and the whole community to fill the aforesaid boy full of a duck shot at point blank range, the parent will succeed in gradually establishing certain basic rules which tend toward safety.

There is an old saying that a gun is dangerous without lock, stock, or barrel, and there is a whole lot of truth in that. Crown men are responsible for most of the accidents, not only because they actually bring about some, but because of the gross carelessness and ignorance which they exhibit in handling firearms in the presence of others. When a man goes off into the woods alone and shoots himself up in some secluded portion of the forest, the incident is sad, but at least it is his cheerful aspect, that he did not shoot one of his neighbors or enable them to point to him ever afterwards as a man who had shot somebody else "in a moment of weakness."

If we are going to continue to be a gunning people, we must take the small boy in hand, and teach him that the butt of a gun is not the end which exhibits the funny-looking little round hole. Along with gun knowledge there must be inculcated some sense of ordinarily decent sportsmanship. Some of our methods of hunting deer, moose, and even birds, are a shame to a savage people. Let no man think these are trifling matters. A first class sportsman comes pretty near to being a good all-round man. And it is a great thing to get that into the busy head of the small boy before he gets out of the stage of receptivity.

A SIGN OF THE TIMES What the people of Canada do not know about the people of China would fill a very big book. We are to have soon in St. John a great meeting in connection with the laymen's missionary movement, and it will be well if at that time Sir Andrew Fraser and some of his colleagues succeed in bringing the people of this city into closer touch with actual conditions in the foreign lands to which our missionaries go. Also, we have some doubts.

The other day some Chinese soldiers were drawn up in line and compelled to look on while the executioners beheaded a group of revolutionists who had been taken in a skirmish the day before. As a rule the Chinese have looked upon death with remarkable stoicism, and the average Chinese has been able to regard the most cold blooded atrocity without experiencing, or, at least, displaying, any emotion. But this beheading instead of strengthening the loyalty of the troops to the Manchu dynasty, produced a very different feeling. This regiment promptly went over to the rebels.

In this incident some observers discern one more sign of the change that is coming over the scene in China. We did not understand the old China; we know even less of the new. It has often been said that in English-speaking countries, and particularly in Canada and the United States, we are accustomed to think of China as peopled by a race of men just like the Chinese laundrymen we see in our cities. With few exceptions the Chinese who come to America are drawn from one or more of the greater Chinese cities, and are of the middle class. They no more represent China than a thousand Canadians all drawn from some single walk of life here would represent Canada. China is a land of philosophers as well as of coolies. It is a thoughtful country, and it had civilizations that rose, and flourished, and tottered, and fell, before the Anglo-Saxons, or the forerunners of the Anglo-Saxon peoples, had discarded the skins of wild animals which they formerly wore on full dress occasions.

As the average Canadian knows little about China, and is, perhaps, not over-anxious to learn more, his attitude toward Canadian missionary effort in the Far East is not the conspicuously intelligent. We hear confusing reports of the results gained by missionaries there. Of the merit of the movement, of the good coming from unselfish effort to benefit the foreigner, of the general soundness of missionary endeavor, few men entertain any doubt. But doubt does enter when we come to discuss the actual net results achieved by our missionaries during the last generation. Accounts on this point are so conflicting as to mislead and confuse the anxious seeker after truth who is too far removed from the field of events to judge by the evidence of his eyes and ears.

A service of no little value would be done if Sir Andrew Fraser and those who accompany him would, when they come to St. John, present in compact and convincing form such evidence as may be available to remove, and prevent, the doubt and confusion which so many earnest men must have encountered when they began to ask themselves about foreign missions.

Speaking of sanitary slaughter-houses, when is St. John going to take the bull by the horns and establish a modern municipal abattoir? As the melancholy Mr. Carton remarked, "It is the only way."

Hon. F. D. Monk's son having been married to a Protestant in an Anglican church, Mr. Borden will be urged again to hurry up and settle this vexed question of mixed marriages. Love is a mad way, and vexes even statesmen—particularly if they are seen to the work.

The high cost of living in Europe is giving a boom to the cause of municipal trading. Berlin is buying fish in great quantities and retailing it to the people. Seventy branch markets under municipal control are to be established, and it is proposed to sell other supplies than fish. A number of smaller German cities have already set an example, and Budapest, Hungary, is going extensively into the produce business as well as planning milk depots, abattoirs and market gardens.

The parliamentary correspondent of Le Devoir, writing of the matter of naval defence, says: "Doubtless the British admiralty, indirectly, will make its propositions of which Mr. Borden spoke in his London speech. This will be done in all probability in the course of the next Imperial Conference. The admiralty will define clearly, according to his view, the best means for us to take part in the defence of the Empire if we decide to participate. After this conference it seems to us, Mr. R. L. Borden will submit the proposals of the admiralty to the Canadian people, either at a general election or by referendum. In any case the Canadian people will give a definite verdict, and the majority will rule."

As the next Imperial Conference is not due until 1915, this is a proposal to shove the whole matter for four years. The appearance of this suggestion in Le Devoir is in itself meaningless; but it is quoted, apparently with approval, by the Toronto News. The problem, of course, cannot wait that long. It must be dealt with, and at once.

NEW CROWN FOR KING AT DURBAR

Report Says One Valued at $325,000 is Being Made—Kohi-noor May Be In It

Calcutta, Oct. 20.—It is understood on high authority that orders have been given for the construction of a special crown for the king when he attends the Delhi durbar, and that the value is estimated to be about $325,000. The design was prepared by a prominent firm of London jewellers, who at present have the execution of the order in hand.

Whether or not the king will decide to wear the Kohi-Noor in his crown at Delhi remains to be seen. All India knows the legend: "He who holds the Kohi-Noor holds India." Since the annexation of the Punjab, the Kohi-Noor has been one of the chief jewels of the English crown, but Queen Victoria never visited India, and King Edward's coronation durbar was held by Lord Curzon. India has thus never yet beheld the Kohi-Noor on the head of an English emperor.

At the coronation the great Indian diamond—the chief jewel of the crown of the queen, the great Star of Africa being the central ornament of the king's crown. It has been reported that the queen would wear the Kohi-Noor at the Durbar, but nothing definite is known on this point.

HORRIBLE EXAMPLE Bilgely fell off the water wagon last night with such a bump that his head aches like sixty this morning. "Did he drink whisky?" "What induced him to do that?" "He saw a moving picture of a drop of water in which bacilli were magnified 40,000 times."

CARRY LIGHT GUNS

It is Estimated the Vessel Will Be Able to Make Forty-Five Miles an Hour—Will Be 133 Yards in Length

Berlin, Oct. 20.—A great aerial war vessel is being built for the German military authorities at the Zeppelin Airship Company's works at Friedrichshafen. Underled by the long series of catascopiums which has overtaken steerable balloons of almost every description, the German war office is continuing its strenuous endeavors to build an aerial navy which will give Germany the undisputed command of the air, and the new cruiser will be larger and more powerful than any aerial vessel yet built exclusively for military purposes. She will, in fact, be only eight yards shorter than the monster passenger airship Schwaben, recently completed by the Zeppelin Company, and will be built on the same general lines.

The main difference will be the absence of the huge passenger car, which, as regards the military vessel, will be dispensed with. The extra margin of lifting power thus acquired will be utilized to carry the weight of armament and ammunition, for the new war vessel is to be equipped with artillery in the shape of light machine guns. The vessel will have a total length of 133 yards. Three Maybach motors, two of which will be six-cylinder engines, developing 150-horse-power each, will be carried. She will be propelled by four screws, two at the stern being four-bladed and two mounted over the forward engine being two-bladed.

The vessel is estimated to attain a nominal speed of about 45 miles an hour, which would give her headway of about a mile of forty miles an hour. The preliminary trials of the new aerial cruiser will, probably, take place within the next few weeks.

A CRISIS IN POLITICS IN ANTIPODES

Two Members of Labor Government Break Away From Colleagues

LAND POLICY DID IT

New South Wales Cabinet Must Reckon With the Agrarian Interests Whose Support is Weakening—Promise to Play a Large Part

Sydney, N. S. W., Oct. 20.—Australian politics are passing through a peculiarly interesting phase. New South Wales is in the midst of a political crisis, due to the difficulties created for the labor government by the defection of two of its members. Apart from its immediate interest, the occasion is significant because it shows the dangers to which the labor solidarity party is exposed. The two members alluded to equalled the majority of the McGowan government in this parliament. From this majority of the speaker was selected, and "then there was one."

The minister for lands in the McGowan government had proposed to do away with certain tenures under which leases of crown lands had the right to convert their leaseholds into freeholds. This policy was markedly distasteful to the agrarian interests at large. Even those men on the land not directly affected by the labor policy viewed it with deep suspicion, as being a step towards the ultimate abolition of freehold tenures.

A good proportion of the labor members are drawn from country districts, and upon these the anger of the agrarian interests reacted, with the result that two of them suddenly resigned. This threw the government into confusion, and after a brief but exciting crisis, parliament adjourned to await the verdict of the two by-elections. On this result the fate of Mr. McGowan's government depends.

One lesson already emerges. If labor wishes to gain the agrarian vote, it must surrender all hopes of land nationalization, even if this is interpreted merely to mean no further alienations of the fee simple. The farmers and selectors will have none of it.

Hitherto the labor party has had large support from the agrarian interests. This support is weakening, and it is still further alienated by the attempt by Mr. Beesly, the minister for labor in New South Wales, to include rural workers in his new industrial bill, in order to give them the same privileges with regard to the settlement and of wages, conditions, and hours of employment as are enjoyed by city workers. As a consequence a distinct agrarian element has appeared in state politics—an element destined to play a large part in the affairs of New South Wales.

The more far-seeing labor members have abandoned all designs upon the freehold, and are at least now they are deeply embarrassed by the fact that the plank thus deserted is still in the platform drawn up by the annual conference of the league.

BRUTAL HAZING IN CANADIAN COLLEGE

Very Questionable Methods of Fun Making Promise to Prove Source of Trouble

London, Ont., Oct. 21.—Brutal hazing on fifteen 'freshies' by the second year students of the Western Medical College in the annual initiation exercises conducted here has aroused the ire of a number of the school faculty, and it is probable that the officials of the institution will take the matter up.

The 'freshies' were bound hand and foot at the school and driven to the Tecumseh Park in a hay rack and manled on the journey by forty sophomores. Each was then given a shampoo from a quart can of black strap molasses, and while the glue was rubbed in they were sheared head with horse clippers. Later they were covered with shoe blacking and plaster of paris.

To conclude the performance, shoes were removed and the 'freshies' rushed over a cinder track. Several lively scraps ensued, but the freshmen were outnumbered two to one by their opponents. Hazing practice has been repeatedly forbidden by the school faculty, but the practice continues in 'modified' form each year.

FATHER OF THE NEW YORK CURB IS DEAD

E. S. Mendels Was an Interesting Figure in Financial Life of Gotham

New York, Oct. 20.—Emmanuel S. Mendels, "father of the curb," is dead at his home in Newark. It was thirty-seven years ago, when curb brokers carried on their business in hallways, on the sidewalk, or wherever they chanced to meet, that Mr. Mendels became one of them. When the "curb" grew to such size that the public assigned it a fixed station on the pavement in Broad street, Mr. Mendels took the lead in organizing an association of which as "curb" agent he was the head for years.

Last year, as the result of a long fight for a home-claim, he brought about the formation of the New York Curb Market Association, which was organized with the idea of exercising supervision over the trading and preventing frauds.

Mr. Mendels had for many years held a curious position in the financial district. A curb broker, he assumed at first a sort of secretaryship, but soon he became recognized as the one through whom all routine business of the market should be transacted. From that time he became the recognized "protector" of the curb, and it was to him that the street brokers looked to care for their interests and to keep the market running smoothly.

He passed on all securities which were traded in on the street exchange, and many worthless mining stocks were weeded out in his effort to raise the standard of the market. Brokers, too, who were dishonest or whose reputations were questionable, were dropped from the membership through his influence, and while many "fake" securities were sold on the curb during the years of his protectorship, it was through no fault of his.

The New York Curb Market Association is a body of officers which passes on the securities listed and acts as a supervisor over the market. Mr. Mendels staunchly defended the curb brokers in every attempt made to dislodge them from Broad street, and testified for them before the White investigation committee.

"FAKE" FIRE INSURANCE

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 21.—That bogus fire insurance companies are operating extensively in northern Ontario, and that business men there are paying thousands of dollars in premiums on worthless policies, is the conclusion of the provincial police after an investigation into cases arising out of the recent fire in Colborne.

THEN AND NOW

Then "Mother's" code of scalp cleanliness included the energetic use of a fine tooth comb now she applies a reliable scalp prophylactic and antiseptic

Newbro's Herpicide THE ORIGINAL DANDRUFF GERM DESTROYER Unlike the comb, HERPICIDE is effective. Far away being a discomfort, it's use is a delight. The feeling of cleanliness and self-assurance following an application of this remedy commends it to all young and old, men and women. Properly applied, HERPICIDE works down around the root of the hair where it destroys the germ life that causes dandruff. This permits proper nourishment to reach and strengthen the hair which becomes vigorous and luxuriant and ceases to fall out. Itching of the scalp, which is so disagreeable, stops almost instantly. NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE contains no grease, does not stain or dye and possesses a most delicate and exquisite odor.

War Women From Divorce Trials

These women who find exhilaration in leading the trial of divorce actions in the local courts must in future find some other form of recreation. Since like courts counsel the hearing of the women in these cases on the first of the month, the attendance of women visitors has noticeably increased. In some of the parts of the court, the benches have been so crowded that little room was left for witnesses.

Of the women curiosity seekers as a rule were well dressed and had no personal acquaintance with the principals at law. Invariably the cases which promised evidence of the most present kind. Every case was a drama, and the women in attendance were those who promised evidence of the most present kind.

To all intents and purposes the principals might have been some stars in a moving drama. The witnesses in the cases were those who promised evidence of the most present kind.

Most marriages are made by God, but some are made by the devil," declared Dr. Scudder. "The worst of the divorce trials is that they are made by the devil."

"I believe there can be only one real marriage for each person, a union based on the truest, deepest, biggest love. The divorced man or woman has obviously not succeeded in attaining this marriage. If later the possibility of such happiness is made visible to these unfortunate people, I should feel a criminal in not doing all in my power to make the vision true. In short, my motto is to marry anyone, divorced or not, if I am convinced the marriage will be happy. It is the future not the past, that counts."

Mary Garden and Oscar Hammerstein

Mary Garden, grand opera song-bird, on her return the other day after her annual summer vacation abroad, expressed her misgivings concerning the forthcoming union of London by Oscar Hammerstein and his new London grand opera house, to be opened the end of this year. Some surprise was expressed here over her cautious remarks respecting music in London, since it was on the other side that she was attracted to the front and given an opportunity to evolve.

"Poor dear! I'm afraid Mr. Hammerstein has very little chance in London. It may be that his wonderful personality and his enthusiasm and genius may arouse the London public into taking some interest in him. But they can't do that until he has been in London for some time. Two months in Covent Garden every year, and that is more a society event than it is musical.

"If he should have gone anywhere he should have gone to Paris. He would have been appreciated there. In Paris artistic genius counts for something. And he is the greatest musical genius we ever had. Oh, I know, he trusted me like a dog, but I can't forgive him for that just because he is so wonderful. He has done more for opera than all the other producers in this country put together. There are a lot of stiff, pompous gentlemen, around here who have persuaded themselves and perhaps some other people that the great advance in opera in America is due to themselves. Oscar Hammerstein did more than any other man in the world to think divorce should be...

SIR ANDREW FRASER TO VISIT ST. JOHN

Arrangements for the provincial convention of the laymen's missionary movement in the city on Nov. 22-23 are being rapidly completed by the efficient executive committee, headed by Rev. Dr. Flinders, and the gathering is expected to prove a memorable one. This convention is one of a series of ten arranged by the central committee of the movement in Toronto, which are being addressed by such leaders as Sir Andrew Fraser, ex-governor of Bengal; Dr. John R. Mott, Dr. Robert E. Speer, and J. Campbell White, New York. Messrs. Mott and Speer were heard only in the central points in upper Canada, owing to being pressed for time, and

The committees in charge of the subdivisions of the work have been sitting in some real work and have the preparations for the convention well in hand. The first two days are to be devoted to inter-denominational conferences with public meetings in the evening, the third day being given up to denominational rallies in separate groups.

Sir Andrew's Career. The visit of Sir Andrew Fraser will be the big feature of the convention, and it is probable that, as in other cities, he will be asked to address the Canadian Club while in St. John.

Sir Andrew's father, Rev. A. G. Fraser, D. D., was an eminent minister of the Scottish Presbyterian church, while his mother, Mrs. Fraser, was an active and intelligent interest in church work. He was educated at the Edinburgh Academy and at the University of Edinburgh, and that of J. L. D. honorarily. In his early days he was an active and intelligent interest in church work.

His activities in the Indian service covered a wide sphere. He was a member of the historical Hemp Drugs Commission, which investigated the grave evils resulting from the general use of opium and drugs, and whose report resulted in the enactment of drastic remedial laws of the province. He was also a member of the local governing bodies in the country, and also with those holding government concessions. The government report on the opium trade during his administration, and incidentally many injustices and petty hardships imposed upon the poorer classes of natives disappeared. In recognition of these services he was created C. S. I.

At a largely attended meeting of the executive committee last evening, Mr. Tucker reported that 1,000 letters had been sent out over the province, and that great enthusiasm was being expressed as to the outcome of the movement. A resolution urging all clergymen to unite in their prayers for the success of the convention was adopted.

Rev. J. T. Tucker, pastor of the Congregational church, is acting as secretary of the convention, and is giving his whole time to arousing interest in the movement. In order to defray the necessary expenses, a registration fee of $1 is charged all delegates.

At this time my son asked me to try 'FRUIT-A-TIVES' and from the outset of taking these wonderful tablets I was better, and gradually this medicine completely cured me. I took a large number of boxes, perhaps a dozen, and now I am entirely cured and I have gained over thirty pounds in weight.

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" is sold by all dealers at $1c. per box—50c. per trial size, 25c. per box on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ontario.

PRaise FOR EARL GREY BY THE LONDON TIMES

London, Eng., Oct. 21.—The Times editorially eulogizes Earl Grey's governorship in Canada at length, adding that the Duke of Connaught shares with Earl Grey that essential machine and solidity of character that appeal to a manly and energetic people. Canada, the Times says, is increasing its relative importance in the imperial system at a rate which makes the long run produce important political results.

The paper goes on to say: "We trust the prominence now given to Canadian affairs will serve Canada by stimulating her energies and attracting to her an increasing supply of capital and industry for which she offers so vast a field."

RECENT DEATHS

Moncton, Oct. 20.—Many friends in Moncton learn with regret of the death of Mrs. Eliza Stronach, widow of Alexander Stronach, which took place in Winnipeg on Thursday morning, in the eighty-first year of her age. The deceased husband, who died about four years ago, was a well-known and successful business man in the C. P. R. and later as a master mechanic of the P. E. I. railway, Charlottetown. Deceased is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Parvill, now living in St. Paul, but who was wintered here in Winnipeg when she died.

WOMEN'S CANADIAN CLUB

The annual meeting of the Women's Canadian Club was held in Keith's Assembly room last night. Mrs. E. A. Smith, president, presided. The treasurer's report showed a credit balance of $197.08.

Mrs. E. A. Smith in her address, suggested that the United Canadian clubs should erect a memorial tablet in memory of Lady La Tour.

This was followed by the election of officers for the ensuing year, which resulted as follows: President, Mrs. E. A. Smith; 1st vice-president, Mrs. G. H. Thomson; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. G. K. McLeod; 3rd vice-president, Mrs. K. H. Thomson; 4th vice-president, Mrs. K. H. Thomson; secretary, Mrs. M. H. Thomson; assistant secretary, Mrs. M. H. Thomson; treasurer, Mrs. M. H. Thomson.

Managing committee—Mrs. Frank, Mrs. H. H. McAvity, Mrs. Robert Thomson, Mrs. Chisholm, Mrs. George E. Smith, Mrs. Allen, Mrs. McLellan, Mrs. W. W. White.

Mrs. E. A. Smith stated that she desired to retire from the executive, and at first declined to be re-nominated, but was persuaded to take the position for another year.

Notes of thanks were tendered the press, and Walter H. Golding, for his courtesy and the many favors which had been received at his hands by the club. The meeting was in every way a thoroughly successful one and the interest and enthusiasm shown gave promise of another prosperous and enjoyable year for the club.

Meerfeld, Ont., March 14, 1910. "I suffered from indigestion and dyspepsia for nearly 10 years. I could not take food with me and had to be carried to my bed. THERE'S TROUBLE AMONG DAUGHTERS OF EMPIRE

Heated Discussion at Annual Meeting in Toronto Over Proposed Radical Change in the Constitution

Toronto, Oct. 20.—After eleven years of existence, in which no harsh word has been spoken to disturb the happy harmony, the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire was turned into a battlefield at the annual general meeting here when a question of revising the sacred constitution was fought to a finish. The conclusion was a partial victory for the insurgents, led by Miss Constance Boulton, regent of the Chamberlain chapter.

There have been rumors of dissent in the order ever since last spring, when a circular letter sent out by Miss Boulton setting forth her proposal was strongly condemned in another circular emanating from the general executive. The fact that the annual meeting usually held in May was postponed until October in order that the chief officers might attend the coronation, seems to have intensified the feeling, which finally took shape in open conflict between the opposing parties.

Mrs. Albert Gooderham, who, in her inaugural address, ranged herself definitely on the reform side, becomes president by acclamation; Mrs. Fetherstonhaugh and Miss Arnold, also elected by acclamation, become honorary secretary and honorary organizer, respectively, in place of Mrs. George F. Reid and Miss McVittie, who withdrew from office in sympathy with Mrs. Nordheimer. The other chief officers remain the same. Mrs. Nordheimer was unanimously elected member of the order for life.

The proposal of Miss Boulton was that the constitution should be so revised as to give the regents of the different chapters a voice in the meetings of the general council of the order. The circular sent out by the executive, commenting on the proposal, was couched in rather warm language, describing Miss Boulton as an "agitator" and a malcontent seeking to provoke discussion.

Mrs. Colin Campbell, of Winnipeg, moved that all chapters be consulted regarding the proposed change, and that the national executive report at the next annual meeting. This carried.

THE SECRET

All true success is the outcome of real personal interest and genuine endeavor. You may be designing a battleship or you may be thinking out a bright idea for a 15-cent toy, controlling a commercial or puzzling and experimenting with fruits and spices in order to perfect a new recipe for the home table, but the real road to success is just the same in one case as in each of the others. It is not what work you are doing, but how you are doing your work that really counts. You cannot know, unless I have told you, how much personal interest is thrown into the manufacture of H. P. Sauce before its name began to be a household word. The manufacturer of the highest firm of malt vinegar brewers in the world—were determining upon producing a sauce that should touch the palate and make a name for itself and bring success to the makers.

The Midland Vinegar Company of England are proud of their H. P. Sauce, proud of the reputation it has earned of being the richest, most piquant, fruitiest sauce obtainable. Chosen Oriental fruits and spices and purest malt vinegar are the constituent parts of this sauce—but the manner of blending, the "knack" of converting so many different flavors into one delicious whole—that is the secret of H. P. You had better test it for yourself, it's easy. Grocers over here are already selling it freely.

RUDE MAN.
"The way that man looked at me was most insulting."
"Did he stare?"
"No, he looked once and then turned away as if it were not worth noticing!"

Ontario Union Reports Letter to King Asking Him to Refuse Name or Brands of Liquor

Winchester, Ont., Oct. 21.—An anti-cigarette campaign is one of the main topics of discussion at the W. C. T. U. provincial convention, being held here. The main speakers so far on this subject have been Mrs. W. Mackie, of Toronto; Mrs. G. W. Granton, of Toronto; and Mrs. Gordon Wright, of London, the Dominion president. The president referred at some length to the great harm being done to the youth of the land by the use of the cigarette, and surveyed the work done by the war against them. She said that the amount expended to fight cigarette production and sale was $10,000, and that 200,000,000 cigarettes were consumed annually in Canada. These were manufactured by Canadian producers.

Mrs. McAllister, of London, alluded to the recent press references to immorality in the schools, which the press took up until the continent was shaken and the agitation reached overseas. It was reported that a letter has been sent to King George, asking that he for bid the use of his name upon brands of liquor for advertising purposes. This letter has been acknowledged by the Secretary of State for the Colonies, who said the letter had been laid before His Majesty.

MATRIMONIAL MARKET NEWS OF THE DAY

The demand for fat ladies is strong, and is still very light. The wily old man, with the animated eye and straight nose, is, however, much sought after. The countless stream of Gipsy and Fisher Girl pictures, advertised by every magazine cover, continue to perpetuate this situation.

There is only one chance for the fat lady, if she can quickly get into the likeness of the front cover fascinator, without the hard labor of exercising, or the purgatory of dieting. It seems she ought to try. It is not impossible, may be in 1909. Let us make the elegant Marmola Prescription Tablet after meals and at bed time. It will give her a pound at day time. This suggestion is made in all serious tones. Why not reduce when it entails no trouble, causes no wrinkles, costs very little cash? One can start today, take off the fat (where most objectionable) from hips, abdomen, chin, etc., and do it uniformly and safely, too, for the tablet named, being made from the famous prescription—1/2 oz. Marmola, 3/4 oz. H. Ex. Cascara Aromatic, 4/4 oz. Peppermint Water—in, of course, noninjurious. Tendency your druggist seventy-five cents for a large case or write for same to the Marmola Co., 1179 Farmer Bldg., Detroit, Mich.

Her Postponed Grief

William Dean Howells, the novelist, is discussing a new volume of poetry. "It is ambitious," he said, "but the tragedy seems to me to be mechanical. In fact, the grief in these verses reminds a man of the grief of a Tennessee mountain man."

"She was eating pig's feet one day in the door of her cabin when a night came to tell her bad news. Her husband had got in a fight at the Three Corner Tavern, a ball had lodged in his lungs, and he had died soon after."

"The woman, a pig's foot held mid-air to her mouth, listened to this harrowing tale in profound silence. Then, falling her pig's foot vigorously, she said: 'Wait till I finish this pig's trotter, as ye'll hear some hollow!' as is hollow!"

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 21.—In an address before the American Congress of Prison Surgeons, on the influence of heredity and tendencies, Dr. Daniel Phelan, surgeon at Kingston penitentiary, said:

It is, therefore, for us to face and wrestle with this important and vital problem. We should be armed against these conditions that degenerate man, physically, mentally and morally, and it appears to me that the masses ought to be educated in the principles of hygienic living; the authorities ought to be assisted in every way in checking all sources of disease and degeneration, and governing bodies ought to be trained how to investigate and to prevent these conditions that are calculated to produce an undesirable class of citizens.

"UNDERGROUND" FREE TRADE AT BORDER IS GIVEN A CHECK

Business Conditions in St. Stephen Changed Since Election and a Large Loss is Reported

Although for many years it has been recognized that "underground" free trade has been carried on between the border towns of St. Stephen and Calais it is now said that there has been a marked difference in this condition of affairs since the last Dominion election.

In the past the trade, it is declared, has been practically unrestricted and a large volume of business was said to have been carried on across the St. Croix river. This was recognized in the fact that it was said, that there was but little interference.

Reports to the Times from St. Stephen say that this business, which formerly amounted to a large item, has now been almost entirely wiped out. Since the election, the United States customs officers stationed at the border have been sharply on the look-out for violations of the tariff laws and it is said to be almost impossible to get the smallest parcel across from St. Stephen to Calais without paying the duty. The effect has been a serious loss of business to the merchants of St. Stephen.

An illustration of this was shown in the case of a farmer who drove into the Canadian town the other day with a wagon load of produce for sale. Previously he had no difficulty in disposing of his stock at good prices but this time he was unable to sell. The merchants frankly explained that they could not buy because under the new conditions, they would be unable to dispose of the produce.

It is now said by people in Charlotte county that if the election was to be taken over again that they would be inclined to look at matters somewhat differently.

SHOPLIFTING IS CHARGE AGAINST WEST END WOMAN

Teddy Bear and Toy Dog From Department Store—Boy Falls to Court Room Floor, Ill

A particularly sad case came up in the police court this morning, when Mrs. Rebecca Reed of Charlton was charged with stealing a teddy bear and a toy dog from Arnold's department store. She went into court with her baby in her arms. When asked to plead she said that a woman in the store had given the things to her child. Miss Rogers and Miss Kilpatrick, two salesgirls in Arnold's gave evidence of seeing Mrs. Reed in the store, once on Tuesday last and once on Thursday. They did not see her buy anything but when she had gone they missed the articles named. Mr. Arnold told of accusing the woman and of his informing the police. The value of the goods is about $8.

The case was set aside until 2 o'clock this afternoon, when several witnesses will be called. The woman was sent into the guard room, and the court told the woman not to bring the baby into court again with her. William Cook, a coachman, was fined $2 for going beyond the stand allotted for coachmen at the Union depot. The fine was allowed to stand.

John Sands gave a satisfactory reason why he drove across the C. P. R. tracks in front of the I. C. R. depot when a train was approaching and he was excused.

Frank Carter, a twelve-year-old boy, was charged with assaulting Hilda Edwards. He denied the charge. The plaintiff and her sister gave evidence and the boy was sent below to await the arrival of his parents.

Margaret Sullivan and Eliza Nickerson, both charged with drunkenness, were remanded.

Some excitement was created in court by a boy named Clifford Belcher, charged with throwing stones at a Hebrew named Whitman. Just as his name was called, he fell on the floor and when he came to, before he came to. The charge was not pressed.
