BLIND BOY EXPERT AS ELECTRICIAN AND WIRELESS OPERATOR

New York, Dec. 7.—On the third floor of the headquarters of the New York Association for the Blind, at No. 118 East Fifty-ninth street, is an eighteen-year-old boy, John W. Ellis, of No. 106 West Eighty-ninth street, whom the handicap of blindness has not prevented from becoming an expert amateur electrician and wireless telegraph operator. The wireless operator made by his own hands, with which he sends and receives messages to nearby stations and ships at sea is the chief attraction to visitors at the fair and sale of the association.

Young Ellis became interested in wireless telegraphy six months ago. There are works on electricity published in Braille, the raised type used by the blind in reading and he read these several times before beginning the construction of his outfit. He has a silicon cup for the resistance, and as well as the coil, key, aerial wires and sparking apparatus, was made by himself.

CHINESE GIRLS ARE BRUTALLY TREATED

Smuggled Across the Pacific For Slavery

San Francisco, Dec. 7.—Seven Chinese girls, captured on Sunday when an attempt was being made to smuggle them ashore from the steamer Manchuria, told a story yesterday that for brutally condescended nothing to the workings of the earlier African slavery. Immigration officials say there is no doubt the girls were being brought here to be sold into the white slave trade. The girls are from fourteen to sixteen years old. All but one of them declare that they were kidnapped in Hong Kong. This one had previously been in America and had been deported. Eight Chinese men were also in the room with the women. The narrative was obtained from the girls by Chief Assistant Immigration Commissioner Harry Edsall, who spoke to them in their own tongue. They said they had made the journey from China in a locker fourteen feet square, below decks, a place without ventilation. Not a ray of light, natural or artificial, did they see on the entire voyage. Their only food and drink was some dried fruit and salt tea, which had been left for them before the departure of the steamer. Edsall says a thorough investigation is to be made of the operations of the smuggling ring that is supposed to be at work.

Chief of Police Steward has granted a permit to the strikers to parade today. Representatives of the employers' association said their refusal to treat with the workers was due to the determination that the union should not be recognized in any way.

A NICE WINTER STORM What threatened to be an old-fashioned northeast on-storm developed this morning and at an early hour this afternoon the ground was pretty well covered with a white blanket. The frost of the last few days has made the ground very hard and the indications are that the snow will remain for some days at least. Gusts of wind blew it on the car tracks and at times delayed the cars and broke up the schedule. The construction car was sent out over the lines with a supply of salt to prevent the rails being coated. Incoming trains reported that the storm was general throughout the surrounding country.

DISGRACEFUL INTRIGUE IN TORY ALLIANCE WITH NATIONALISTS

Clashed, some Conservatives had repudiated such an attempt but they and the president of the Borden Club would respond to the party whip of Messrs. Bird, Foster and MacDonald.

Toronto, Ont., Dec. 7.—(Special)—H. Mowat, K.C., president of the Ontario Reform Association in addressing the annual meeting of the East Toronto Liberal Association last night charged that there was today being fabricated in Toronto a most disgraceful intrigue by self-styled conservative leaders. It being an attempt to weaken Sir Wilfrid Laurier by joining with the Nationalists of Quebec while pretending to denounce their tactics. It was an open secret, Mr. Mowat declared, that some Conservatives had repudiated such an attempt but they and the president of the Borden Club would respond to the party whip of Messrs. Bird, Foster and MacDonald. "Sir Wilfrid Laurier may bend for a time to the breeze, but he will not break because his Liberal principles are too deeply rooted to be affected by any spurious temporary band of political hatred," said Mr. Mowat, who charged that Armand Lavergne on his recent visit to Toronto had been privately made of by conservative leaders.

FAMOUS GEMS OF PROSE

CARDINAL WISEMAN From an Address on Shakespeare

WHEN the immortal Raphael for the last time laid down his palette, still moist with the brilliant colors which he had spread upon his unfinished masterpiece destined to be exposed to admiration above his hier, he left none behind him who could worthily depict and transmit his beautiful lineaments; so that posterity has had to seek in his own paintings, among the guards at a sepulchre or among the youthful disciples in an ancient school, some figure which may be considered as representing himself.

When his mighty rival, Michaelangelo, cast down that massive chisel, which no one after him was worthy or able to wield, none survived him who could venture to repeat in marble the rugged grandeur of his countenance; but we imagine that we can trace in the head of some unfinished satyr, or in the sublime countenance of Moses, the natural or the idealized type, from which he drew his stern and noble inspirations.

And, to turn to another great art, when Mozart closed his last uncompleted score, and laid him down to pass from the regions of earthly to those of heavenly music, which none had so closely approached as he, the science over which he ruled could find no strains in which worthily to mourn him except his own, and was compelled to sing for the first time his own marvelous requiem at his funeral.

No less can it be said that when the pen dropped from Shakespeare's hand, when his last mortal illness mastered the strength of his genius, the world was left powerless to describe in writing his noble and unrivaled characteristics. Hence we turn back upon himself, and endeavor to draw from his own works the only true records of his genius and his mind.

Was he silent, thoughtful, while his fertile brain was seething and heaving in the fermentation of his glorious conceptions; so that men should have said—"Hush! Shakespeare is at work with some new and mighty imaginings!" or wore he always that light and careless spirit which often belongs to the spontaneous facility of genius; so that his comrades may have wondered when, and where, and how his grave characters, his solemn scenes, his fearful catastrophes, and his sublime maxims of original wisdom were conceived, planned, matured, and finally written down, to rule forever the world of letters?

Speeches were made by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. Mr. Broder and a number of other leading members from the province. It was decided that the policy of the government on the navy bill will be unchanged. The consensus of opinion was that while there is at present some misunderstanding in Quebec as to the policy it will eventually become thoroughly acceptable to the electors of that province.

It was decided to carry on an active campaign of education in Quebec for the purpose of correcting the false impressions left on the minds of the electors by Messrs. Lavergne, Monk and others, and by the Nationalist press that the naval policy embodies conscription.

THE CITY AND THE ALDERMEN

Popular education is essential to good civic government, and it is clear from the remarks of one or two aldermen that it must begin with the city fathers. As a result of an investigation in which certain gentlemen appear, to say the least, less eager for the public interest than for some other things, the only comments they have to offer concern their relations with brethren on the board. Now the people are not interested in that matter. The accused aldermen may be very good men judged by those tests. They may be calm in such matters, but they are baserwood in civic ethics. What the people are interested in is the question whether a public trust has been used as a valuable private asset. The total failure to appreciate this public view is really pathetic, for those men may persist to the end in regarding themselves as martyrs to the unscrupulous greed of foes or false friends in the council board. But the people are simply concerned in having the market run in the best interests of the community. On the other question of individual aldermanic ethics they are wholly indifferent. They are indeed more than usual calm on that matter.

Neither is it satisfactory to be told that the same things have been done before. If any outrage is practiced with impunity it comes to be looked on as a matter of course. But even if the memory of man runs not to the contrary for the city or council now to condone wrong-doing is to become a partner in the mischief. To the aggressor the non-resisting community says: "Do it again. Example me, please." It tempts a man to fresh sinning. It is the sacred duty of all civic patriots, not lazily to condone but vigorously to castigate the inefficient and to punish if we are to preserve the guiding ideas of right and wrong. The supreme task of the hour is to get together and to build a high standard of civic righteousness and civic efficiency as a bulwark against wrong-doing, in a democratic country, whether we like it or not, the quality of government depends entirely upon the quality of the people.

MORNING LOCALS

A large congregation was present last night in the Mission Church of St. John Baptist, Paradise Row, at confirmation service, which was conducted by Bishop Richardson. Thirty-two candidates were received, two men and boys and twenty women. Father Collins assisted in the service and announced that Father Conroy would probably resume his duties about the middle of January.
A rally of the Sunday schools of the city and Parville is to be held on Friday, 2, at 10.30 a. m. in the school room of St. David's church. An executive to conduct the meeting was appointed last night with Robert Reid as chairman, and Chas. Doug secretary.

An excellent concert was given last night in the Seaman's Institute before a large audience. The programme was nicely varied and was given by members of the crews of vessels in port. J. Charlton presided.
As some of the bills in connection with the Torrey mission have not been sent in, a detailed statement of the expenditure cannot be given until Tuesday next or later.
The entertainment of the King's Daughters in the Opera House last evening in aid of the Anti-Tuberculosis movement, was well patronized. The programme in addition to moving pictures, was made up of numbers by Miss Knight, Mr. Wetmore, Mr. Hayes, and A. Fox, who were each well received.

GAME SLAUGHTERS

The New Brunswick Fish, Forest, and Game Protective Association is not in politics, but concerns itself merely with the business of protecting the natural resources of the province in the matter of big game, timber, and game fish. It has no axe to grind, its aim being simply to postpone as long as possible the time when the won-

USUALLY ONE DOSE CURES INDIGESTION OR A BAD STOMACH

Misery from Dyspepsia, Heartburn, Gas and Headache Goes After Taking a Little Diapiesin

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch Gas and Eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of Dizziness, Heartburn, Flatulency, Nausea, Bad taste in mouth and stomach headache—this is Indigestion.
A full case of Diapiesin costs only 50 cents and will thoroughly cure your out-of-order stomach, and leave sufficient about the house in case some one else in the family may suffer from stomach trouble or Indigestion.
Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula plainly printed on these 50-cent cases. There is no serious attempt made by the warden to bring the offenders to justice. Indeed, in some instances the warden has little knowledge of the woods and are unfitted for the work.
Mr. Clinch's evidence is of a convincing sort, having been collected by him during a series of excursions into the big woods in several counties. He professes his willingness and ability to make good every charge he has preferred, and the association of which he is secretary, and of which many influential citizens here and elsewhere in the province are members, should back him up in his efforts to have these abuses stopped.

THE HOMES OF OUR BOYHOOD—NEWCASTLE, N. B.

(By the Rev. W. C. Gaynor)
I've been back to our birthplace, Ned, where the river runs to the sea— Back to the dearest spot earth holds for you and me.
Where boyhood memories linger, like spirits of the air, Halloving cliff and river and every prospect there.

The old town still queens the hillside, her arm on the cliff below, While the curve of the mighty river sends ripples to our hickupole, Ned. But the old homes are gone, Ned, scarce a vestige now is seen— Only tins on the landscape, flushed with a deeper green.

Was the swimmer in the Cove? You must think I'm still a boy, To be lured out of my jacket by the true swimming joy. My limbs are growing stiff—a lonely man can't swim— Yes, I did take a header—'twas quicker than wading in.

And will you believe it, Ned, I was a boy again In the hood of the mighty river, and not a man 'mongst men? Each wave gave back a face to me—yours with the rest, But the faces were water phantoms and sank with the wavelets' crest.

The gurgling brook is still, Ned, that ran from Hamilton's Hill. Its music forest look silence at me, where a railway bill; The old trees are dying, too, which drank from its life, Shriveled, withered, decaying, its bed will be their grave.

Thus time has brought its changes, to those old play-spots of our youth, As well expect that years take no more toll than hours. As that, because the river still curves like a bended bow The town must be the old town of forty years ago.

Old spots, old homes, old playmates have changed or disappeared, (Why, strange, look silence at me, where you and I were reared.) 'Tis the luck of all things human, Ned, but the old town still stands, And her memory is a perfume to her sons in other lands.

RUDE HASTE

They were on their honeymoon. He had bought a catboat and had taken her out to show her how well he could handle a boat, putting her to tend the sheet. A puff of wind came, and he shouted to his niece: "Let go the sheet!" No response. Then again: "Let go that sheet, quick!" Still no movement. A few minutes after, when both were clinging to the bottom of the overturned boat, he said: "Why didn't you let go that sheet when I told you to, dear?"
"I would have," said the bride, "if you had not been so rough about it. You ought to speak more kindly to your wife."

POINT OF VIEW

"No newspaper in the place!" exclaimed the tourist, really horrified. "Why what a way to live! I never know what is going on in the rest of the world."
" 'Tis well," returned the old innkeeper, resuming his knitting, which she had laid aside for a moment to answer the tourist's questions, "it's about as broad as it's long, ain't it?"
"Then don't know what's going on here. Ye told me yourself as how ye hand'd it so near to Grand Bay and found that cottages had been entered, but nothing taken, except an axe. It is said that the summer houses of A. C. Smalley, John Willet, J. H. McRobbie and Mr. Hanington had also been entered."
John Kenney, jr., factory inspector, left this morning for a trip through Kings county to inspect the mills there.

CHINA EXPANDS

Edict By the Emperor Establishes Navy Department—Re-Organization Army

Peking, Dec. 7.—With a view to expanding and increasing the efficiency of the Chinese army and navy the throne has issued an edict establishing a navy department, which has consisted merely of a consultative board for conducting naval affairs.

Prince Tsai Sun, uncle of the emperor, has been appointed president of the new department and has full recommendations for the reorganization of the navy have been approved.

The general staff of the army will be reorganized along modern lines, as proposed by Gen. Yin-Tehang, who formerly was minister to Germany and now is president of the war department. The throne points out in the edicts the necessity of making the army and navy effective, and with this in view dismisses many of the old officers of the old school with pensions.

The most advanced Chinese, both private and in the newspapers, have of late been pointing out that the alliance which China so greatly desires with the United States could not be attained unless China was able to show her share of the common forces.

THE HOSPITAL.
To the Editor of the Times-Star,
Sir,—Permit me to make a few comments on the present condition of the General Public Hospital, and the way it is managed. In St. John, as in other cities, we have a closed trade union of medical men who make their own fees or wages, supported by the law. They are of equal skill, as the price of their labor is the same.

The hospital commissioners doubt this fact and pick out a number whom they consider more skilled than their fellow-craftsmen and make a further enclosed union whose members alone do the hospital work. In making their choice they keep in mind that blood is thicker than water, and the chosen few then proceed to bleed the private patients through their pockets instead of through the arteries.

As we pay the bills, one would think we should have something to say about who should do the work. What would the citizens say if labor bodies should insist citizens say if inside guards doing the fancy priced jobs. A great many people find it cheaper to go to Boston or Montreal to have an operation performed than to have it done at our hospital.

Now that the market building is cleaned up, don't you think it well to see if any person in St. John would be mean enough to trade on the misfortune of the afflicted at the General Public Hospital. Let the Public Hospital be open for all medical men alike.

Yours, etc.,
LABOR.

BLAMES THE TROUBLE ON "THE INFERNAL RUM"

Judge Ritchie's Comment in Ross Case Before Him This Morning

The case against Elijah Ross, charged with assaulting Mrs. Margaret Gallagher in her house, in Winslow street, west side, on Monday night, and also with breaking furniture there, was dealt with this morning before Judge Ritchie and a fine of $20 or two months in jail imposed on the first charge and the same on the second, but the latter was allowed to stand. G. E. Logan appeared for the defendant. In imposing the penalty, His Honor said that Ross could blame his trouble to "the infernal rum" which he had taken, as he had been sober, the affair would not have taken place.

Mrs. Gallagher said that Ross went to her home on Monday night and demanded the payment of three months' rent which she owed him, but when she told him she had not the money he struck her several times. Some of her boarders came to her assistance, when Ross called her abusive names as well as struck her, and he broke the stove and some dishes.

Four of the boarders referred to, Percy Bizzard, David Rooney, Wm. Yain and Patrick McKenna, confirmed her statements.

Ross told of having fared badly at the hands of some of the boarders and showed signs of having been struck in the face and kicked on the head. He had repeated repeatedly for the street, he said, and was exasperated at the non-payment.

LITTLE GIRL SAYS THEY GOT GRANDFATHER LIQUOR

Charge of Supplying an Interdict is Heard in the Police Court

A charge of supplying liquor to an interdict, David Ramsey, aged 60, was preferred this morning in the police court against Frank Sprague and Wm. McDevitt, of North End. After several witnesses had been examined the matter was stood over a week: Little Pearl Ramsey granddaughter of the old man, told of seeing him "get" a bottle with some money to McDevitt, and later she saw the three men in an alley off Sheriff street. Frederick Ramsey said that his father was an interdict, and he believed the two defendants knew this.

Mr. Sprague and McDevitt denied having given the old man liquor, and the latter also disclaimed all knowledge of it.

ROW ON THE FERRY

One Youth Arrested and Another is Sought By the Police

On Monday evening on the 5.30 trip of the ferry-boat a disturbance was raised by a young man, said to have been drinking, and as a consequence the matter was given an airing this morning in the police court. Walter Walsh was remanded to jail until Wallace Stevens, with whom he is charged with assaulting another man, Wallace Stillman, can be arrested. Efforts are now being made to locate Stevens. Stillman says he saw Stevens, Walsh and another named Greene, in a mix-up and when he interfered he was assaulted.

Chas. Campbell, a deckhand, gave evidence and Superintendent Waring spoke of the dangerous habit of causing a disturbance on the ferryboat, as the crew were apt to be distracted from their work and there was possibility of the boat running out of its course or into the boats.

MR. SPENCER AND MR. CROSSLY

Toronto, April 8th, 1903,
14 Maple Grove.

H. L. Spencer, Esq.,
"Records" Office, St. John, N. B.

Dear Sir:—I am very much disappointed that I did not see you before I left St. John. I had your name down as one that I certainly was to visit, but allowed pressure of engagements to occupy my time so that I missed having your hand and speaking with you face to face. I appreciate your great kindness in sending me the verses as they were originally written, and in your own handwriting. I shall always think of you as I sing the verses, and hope that in a hundred years to come in our Father's mansion, or down on the banks of the river, I may meet you, when we will have ample time to converse about "And Lang Syne."

Yours fraternally,
H. T. CROSSLEY.

Mr. Spencer's song, A Hundred Years Come, which was set to music and sung by Rev. Mr. Crossley, will be sung by a quartette of leading vocalists at the benefit concert in the Opera House, Dec. 15th.

SUGAR BOUGHT BY F. S. HEANS.

Three hundred and ten bags of sugar, 24 pounds to the bag, being a quantity in the McLeod warehouse damaged by fire, was sold this morning at public auction to Fred S. Heans, his bid being $124.

A number of wholesale grocers were at the sale but they were not over enthusiastic and the lot was knocked down to Mr. Heans by Auctioneer Potts at the figure named. The price does not represent the actual cost of the damaged shipment, the purchaser, as duty and freight have to be paid, which was said, would bring the outlay up to in the vicinity of $200. The original value of the sugar, including freight and duty was $2,111.43. Some $1,000 worth was believed to be saleable.

It was generally considered that the speculation by Mr. Heans was a good one.

If You Would Add to the Sum of a Man's Home Happiness, Why Not Give Him a HOUSE COAT or GOWN!

It isn't alone the men who smoke who appreciate the comfort of a House Coat, though the term "Smoking Jacket" rather implies that idea. Hence a House Coat is a safely acceptable gift to any man, it's a delight to think of getting into its generous comfort and sitting at ease in a big chair beside the library table, and when men's clothing store is a safe store for women to pick from.
