AUXILIARY WATER SUPPLY NOW

Electrically Driven Pump Installed at Walker Brook to Prevent Shortage.

Because of the rapid growth of Campbellton and the fact that the present summer has been an unusually dry one, the Water and Sewerage Committee, of which Coun. Geo. St. Onge is chairman, about a month ago decided to build a dam at Walker Brook, and install the pump and motor purchased about two years ago as an auxiliary to our present water system, which, except during the dry fall and winter of 1921-22, when a temporary pump had to be placed, has been sufficient for the town.

The auxiliary plant is now completed and was tested out this giving an output of 100 g.p.m.

With the erection of this substantial concrete dam on the Walker Brook a short distance west of the trotting park entrance and the installation of a 75 H. P. electric motor, and a centrifugal pump with a capacity of five hundred gallons per minute, the town has made what appears to be ample provision for an adequate auxiliary water supply.

The dam which is 50 feet in length is a first class concrete structure of its kind and rising about seven feet above the brook surface, is of sufficient height to back up a supply of water that should meet any emergency. The motor and pump house which is built on a solid concrete structure is situated just above the dam and houses the electric motor and pump which has a pumping capacity of 500 imperial gallons per minute.

During the past few weeks, varied opinions have been expressed as to the advisability of the above arrangements. A few people have declared the project not feasible, advising against the dam and the pump house.

Another argument advanced was that the spring freshets or in time of very heavy rains the dam built where it will cause the brook to overflow its bank and do damage to the Trotting Road. This, however, does not seem likely. The spillway opening about four feet below the level of the road will provide for the rapid escape of surplus water except in the event of an extraordinary flood. In such a case, even should the hindered water rise to the top of the dam itself, it will find outlet over the top of the structure before reaching the level of the road as the bank on the road side is higher than the top of the dam.

Admitting, however, that the above objection is a logical one, a crib work can be erected along the bank to protect the road way and the dam equipped with an emergency flood-gate.

SAYS BLUENOSE CREW SPORTSMEN

New York Newspaper Pays Tribute to Owners, Skipper and Crew.

New York, Oct. 26.—A staff correspondent of the Tribune in a dispatch from Gloucester pays tribute to the sportsmanship shown by the Bluenose owners and her skipper and crew.

"In the chatter of controversy which deafened Gloucester during the first day or so," he says, "there arose an occasional tendency on the part of the more rabid partisans to impute unfair motives to the Canadian sailors and their representatives. Some unwise remarks have been made, and some of them have found their way into print.

"The record on this matter is clear. Angus Walters has given ground on every issue. The races have three times been postponed at the start to accommodate the Ford and technicalities which might have been claimed in the Lumburgers' favor have been waived. The responsible Gloucester citizens are unanimous in their praise of the Nova Scotian attitude throughout, and nobody is louder in praise of the Bluenose and her crew than Clayton Morrissey, the Ford's loan skipper."

BIG ROBBERY IN QUEBEC

Theft From Freight Cars in Quebec Charged Against Six Men.

Quebec, Oct. 22.—A rough, tumble-down little house near Charney, containing thousands of dollars worth of stolen goods was discovered lately by detectives of the Continental railway, and the aftermath of the find was the appearance in the Court of Sessions this morning of six young men, who are charged with systematically stealing large quantities of merchandise from the freight cars near Charney.

The men were Robert Laliberte, aged 19, who was freed on a two-thousand dollar bond; Emilio Bernier, aged 24; Rosario Paquet, aged 18; Alexandre Palechoud, aged 21, who was to have been married tomorrow; Joseph E. Bouché, aged 20, and P. A. Samson, aged 38, a married man. They pleaded not guilty and were remanded by Judge Choquette.

The offence with which they are charged has lately been committed with great frequency near Lewis and Charney, according to railway officials. All kinds of merchandise had been disappearing—boots and shoes, clothes and house-hold utensils, in short everything likely to come in handy for the ordinary citizen.

The railway officials decided that it had to stop as they were losing thousands of dollars a year. Inspector Joseph Townner was detailed with a few men to get to the bottom of the affair. The detectives investigated and for some time the mystery of the case continued.

Finally their suspicions were aroused by the frequency with which a little band of men came to have gone in and out of a small house, not far from Charney and the tracks. They did not move with convincing frankness. So the railway men got into the house and there they found huge quantities of goods, unmistakably the property of merchants who received their stock by rail. From that step to the arrest of the six men who are said to have operated the house there was but a little interval.

The merchandise is being removed from the present abode in the house near Charney.

COMMANDER OF RALEIGH DISMISSED

Tried By Court Martial and Found Guilty of Neglect of Duty.

London, Oct. 27.—Commander Bolt of the British cruiser Raleigh, which was lost off Labrador, on August 8, last, who was found guilty by a court martial at Portsmouth yesterday of negligence or default leading to the stranding and loss of the Raleigh and was reprimanded and dismissed from his ship, testified in his own behalf.

He submitted that there was no reason, before altering his course to the port thick weather and that when the fog was encountered, its extent and density were not immediately appreciated by the captain and the officer of the watch or himself. With regard to the suggestion that he should have begun to take soundings sooner than he had done, he said these started soon after the ship was steered on her course on which she was to approach land. Until that time he was satisfied that the safe navigation of the ship did not require the sounding party to be called up, and the officer of the watch shared that opinion with him.

As to the suggestion that he should have reduced the ship's speed on his own initiative when the ship ran into thick weather, the commander said that while at the sounding machine he learned that the captain had gone to the bridge, and it seemed to him obvious that the captain would reduce the speed.

RAISING MONEY ORDERS COMMON

Public Warned That Orders Should Not Be Cashed For Strangers.

Ottawa, Oct. 28.—Crooks have been raising money orders on such a scale as to necessitate a general warning by the federal postal department.

"The public are warned that money orders should not be cashed for unidentified strangers, particularly orders made payable at other places," the Department advises.

In a majority of cases the frauds have been perpetrated through the crooks purchasing money orders for small sums, such as 25 cents, afterwards raising the amounts and obtaining payment through business firms cashing the orders.

Post office department officials are conducting investigations to ascertain the exact extent of the frauds.

Counsel—"I'm sorry I couldn't do more for you."

WILL PREVENT LIQUOR CARGOES

Liquor Commission Alive to Danger of Port Losing Legal Traffic.

Quebec, Oct. 23.—Reference having been made in certain quarters to the fact that consignments of liquor destined for the Quebec Liquor Commission stores located in the city, were being forwarded directly to Montreal instead of being disembarked in this port, Mr. Napoleon Drouin, of the Quebec Liquor Commission, on being asked by the Telegram, admitted this morning that such was the case in many instances. "It is impossible to prevent this," he said. "It is due to the fact that shippers on the other side consign their stock directly to Montreal when it is only a small quantity. However, you may be assured that the local Commissioners are taking all means to prevent this side consignment of its legitimate trade in this respect."

It is understood that the construction of the new $300,000 buildings, to be occupied by the Liquor Commission has been delayed until next spring. The building will comprise accommodation for the offices of the members of the Commission, the staff of inspectors, and also warehouses for the storing of liquor. Though the location has not been decided upon it is understood that the building will be erected somewhere in the Palace ward, which is said to be a suitable centre for such building. Mr. Drouin stated that the two wine stores, which had been projected, would not be opened for the present as they had not been found necessary. He stated, however, that the Liquor Commission members would wait on the Government at the beginning of the session to submit a series of important suggestions regarding the administration of the liquor law.

NOVEMBER ROD AND GUN.

Sportmen and lovers of the outdoors ought to find a lot of solid pleasure in their perusal of the November issue of ROD AND GUN IN CANADA. The usual collection of stories, articles and features is not only extensive and generous, as usual, but it is of particularly high quality as well. Raymond Thompson is the author of a thrilling tale, entitled, "The Scourge of God," while "Madagascar" is a charmingly illustrated article that is full of interest. The departments are all instructive and well-balanced. A feature is a complete table of the trapping laws of the provinces of the Dominion, while the Trap Line Department, edited by M. U. Bates, offers a wealth of valuable information which the trapper will not want to miss.

ROD AND GUN IN CANADA is published monthly at Woodcock, Ontario by W. J. Taylor, Limited.

BRINGING NATIVES BACK TO CANADA

Nearly 2,500 Induced to Return From U. S. by Que. Colonization Dept.

Montreal, Oct. 24.—An insight into what the province of Quebec is doing in the way of colonization is gained from the annual report of Hon. J. E. Ferrault, minister of colonization, mines and fisheries, in the legislature this afternoon. An interesting feature of the report is the statement that during the year ended June 30, last, 628 families, numbering 2,471 individuals have been brought back from the United States and repatriated in their native province, Quebec.

This work of repatriation of the French has been carried on extensively during the last year, an officer of the colonization department being especially delegated to give him time to this phase of the department's activities. By private interviews, public lectures and participation in regional exhibitions throughout the New England states, as well as by liberal propaganda by means of pamphlets, the advantages of their native province is constantly being placed before the sons and daughters of old Quebec who hearkened to the lure of the American city.

The results achieved in repatriating these former citizens of Quebec have been very satisfactory and there have been found among those who emigrated to the neighboring republic an eagerness to come back to the land.

$2,000,000 Expended.

The minister's report shows that during the year the sum of $2,000,000 was expended for colonization work. Of this amount $1,000,000 was a special loan of $5,000,000 voted in 1920 for the special purpose of encouraging colonization. The department used the money to open up 552 miles of winter roads, while 712 miles of passable roads were completed, 597 miles repaired and fifty-seven made with ditches and bridges. The department also aided in the construction of twenty schools.

Revenues.

In the same report the mining industry is touched upon, and hope is expressed for a healthy revival. The revenue to the province was $206,707. From the fish and game service the sum of $345,441 was received, an increase of $36,000. From furs the amount collected was $126,519.

Road Construction.

What is being done in the matter of road construction is outlined in a report by the minister of roads. The situation of regional and municipal roads totalling 111 miles, while main repairs to the same two classes of roads totalling 111 miles, while maintenance work was done on 2,530 miles.

BRINGING NATIVES BACK TO CANADA

Nearly 2,500 Induced to Return
From U. S. by Que. Colonization Dept.

Montreal, Oct. 24.—An insight into what the province of Quebec is doing in the way of colonization is gathered from the annual report of Hon. J. E.
Ferland, minister of colonization,
mines and fisheries, in the legislature
this afternoon. An interesting feature of the report is the statement that during the year ended June 30, last, 626 families, numbering 2,471 individuals have been brought back from the United States and repatriated in their native province, Quebec.

This work of repatriation of the French has been carried on extensively during the last year, an officer of the colonization department being especially delegated to give his time to this phase of the department's activities.
By private interviews, public lectures and participation in regional exhibitions throughout the New England states, as well as by liberal propaganda by means of pamphlets, the advantages of their native province are constantly being placed before the sons and daughters of old Quebec who have been lured to the lure of the American city.

The results achieved in repatriating
these former citizens of Quebec have been very satisfactory and there has been found among those who emigrated to the neighboring republic an eagerness to come back to the land.

$2,000,000 Expended.

The minister's report shows that during the year the sum of $2,000,000
was expended for colonization work.
Of this amount $1,500,000 was from a special loan of $5,000,000 voted in 1920 for the special purpose of encouraging colonization. The department used the money to open up 652
miles of winter roads, while 712 miles of passable roads were completed, 697 miles repaired and fifty-seven miles with ditches and bridges. The department also aided in the construction of twenty schools.

Revenues.
In the same report the mining industry is touched upon, and hope is expressed for a healthy revival. The revenue to the province was $205,707.
From the fish and game service the sum of $345,441 was received, an increase of $35,000. From fur the amount collected was $125,519.

A BAY OF FUNDY TREASURE STORY

Curious Stories of Vessel With a Cargo of Gold Told by Sailors.

Curious stories are told among the sailors and fishermen of the Bay of Fundy shore concerning "wrecks and the loss of precious treasure carried in their cargo. A favorite tale told by the fishermen of Digby Neck, Nova Scotia, is one relating to the brig
Hiram, which was wrecked at Trout Cove, January 12, 1833, sailing from Bermuda to New York. A portion of the cargo carried by the brig Hiram consisted of English and Spanish gold coin—the profit from several years' trading in the West Indies. When the vessel struck, the captain and the crew
saw their opportunity to swim ashore.
The sailors sprang into the water and with little difficulty made shore and safety; but the captain, filled with the lust for gold, tied a heavy sack containing the gold coins to his waist.
The weight of the coin dragged him down into the depths of the sea as he made his attempt to reach shore, and he perished.

The little cove at this time boasted one humble fisherman's home, which hospitably opened its doors to the wrecked sailors. In the days that followed the fishermen's family diligently searched the waters and the rocks
of the shore and were generously rewarded in their salvaging of gold coin.
Tradition tells that the salvagers,
hoarding their plunder, secretly moved away from the isolated cove, and with their treasure invested in a fertile farm. Fishermen of Centreville, Digby Neck, tell today how a treasure of English and Spanish gold coin still lies below low tide at Trout Cove, and within a few years one of the oldest living inhabitants luckily discovered
among the rocks two gold pieces,
which he treasures as rare souvenirs.

DUCK FLIES FROM
MAIN TO AFRICA

A blue teal duck, banded near its breeding ground in Maine, was located later near the mouth of the Niger River in Africa. Many North American birds have been traced to their winter home in South America, while it has been discovered that others of the common birds will fly year after year to the same state, county, farm, field, and into the same trap where the little markers were placed upon their legs. Scientists are planning to use slow motion pictures to analyze the action of the feathered fliers and throw light upon some of the hitherto hidden secrets of their lives.

WET POLITICIANS THWART VOTERS OF NEW BRUNSWICK BY GUARDING RUM RUNNERS

Order in Council Protects Illicit Traffic After Court Dissolves Order Curbing Dry Agents—Liquor Permits Sold Wholesale—Exporters Talk of Moving to St. Pierre.

The following is the ninth of a series of articles revealing source and method of supplying illicit liquor to United States drinkers. The facts presented were collected by investigators for The Christian Science Monitor, and published Thursday, Oct. 26th.

Thorough and practical protection has been given the New Brunswick
liquor importing and exporting companies which were driven out of Quebec to St. John when the Quebec Liquor Commission began to function.
For about a year and a half interfering politicians have effectively thwarted the will of the people of New Brunswick to prevent the sale of intoxicating liquors or beverage purposes. When the court finally dissolved the temporary injunction that prevented prohibition enforcement officers from interfering with the transported Montreal wholesalers, the Lieutenant-Governor of the province was quick to promulgate an order-in-council which has continued the life and activity of the invading liquor concerns and the defiance of the law.
This capped the climax of political interference.

Indeed the order from the Lieutenant-Governor which has saved the St.
John liquor exporting concerns from the clutches of the law was issued just before the court dissolved the injunction which had protected them from molestation. Overlapping the action of the court, the Lieutenant-Governor regulation was put into effect on June 1 of this year.

Advice of Chief Law Officer

This official edict was entitled, "Regulations Relating to the Liquor Exporters' Taxation Act." It was decreed, it is stated, upon recommendation of the Attorney-General, who has the power of approval over warehouses or other buildings where liquor is stored "unless otherwise provided by law."

This "regulation" of the Lieutenant-Governor is, in effect, a permit
given to the liquor exporters to transport liquor from their warehouses to the United States line or to the coast where it is loaded upon craft which smuggle it into this country under cover of darkness at some isolated spot on a deserted beach, where automobiles which it away to the cliffs
to be disposed of by bootleggers and
their agents.

Under this regulation an export
liquor tax officer—in this case, J.
Thomas Finigan, said to be a former liquor dealer of the province—has charge of the issuing of all permits for the transfer of liquor from warehouse to destination, either on the United States border or to the schooners which hover along the coast till a motor truck or railway freight car delivers their cargo of wet goods. Mr.
Finigan's office is at 167 Prince William Street, St. John. There he issues the New Brunswick liquor export tax officer's permits through the exporters to their rum runners.

It is a splendidly devised system,
for the exporters, for their rum runners, for the smugglers, for the bootleggers. Whether conceived by the politicians or not, this plan and that of the tax on warehouses for export and on liquor leaving the country were made possible through political power and influence.

Backed by Political Power.

The New Brunswick Temperance
Alliance realizes that the drive against prohibition is backed by all the power and influence that interfering Lieutenant-Governor and Council stop politicians can wield. When all possible legal delays are exhausted, the

in-toxicating advocates say.
Well thought out is the regulation devised by the Attorney-General of the Province, for it gives to the exporter a monopoly of the rum-running business out of St. John, St. Stephen, or Woodstock. This is not the fact,
for the export tax officer will issue
permits for the transport of liquors
only through these former Montreal
wholesalers who are doing business today in St. John without legal interference, except the flimsy protection afforded by the warehouse and liquor export tax law passed by the House of Assembly in April.

The method of issuing provincial rum-running permits is simple, and shows how carefully developed is the whole method of prohibitory law evasion, as aided and abetted by the politicians. The permits to remove liquor from the Province, which are issued to protect the "goods" in transit through a supposedly dry territory,
are bound together, 25 in a "book," each permit being in triplicate. The exporter gets one copy which allows him to ship such and such a number of cases of whiskey, or so many puncheons of wine, out of the province.
The rum runner himself gets a second copy of the order and Mr. Finigan keeps the third. The permit to export the liquor does not state what it goes, nor does the exporter or his rum runner account to Export Tax Officer Finigan for the destination of the goods, nor to whom nor where they were transhipped.

Further Revenue Assured.

The politicians and other powers that be in New Brunswick have arranged that the Province derives another revenue from this liquor exporting business done from a prohibitory country by the charge of $5 each for three liquor removal permits.

When a St. John or St. Stephen exporter gets an order from a United States bootlegger for liquor he simply pays $5 to Mr. Finigan, the export tax officer, gets his copy and one for his truckman, of rum runner, while fact which it away to the cliffs
to be disposed of by bootleggers and
their agents.

To the Christian Science Monitor representative, Mr. Finigan admitted that he has issued "thousands" of these permits to run liquor out of the Province. He said that business was so brisk with the exporters who replenish their stocks from time to time when occasional arrivals ask the export tax officer to fill out the permits for which payment has already been made. So soon as one book of permits to run has been exhausted a check for $125 procures another.

Mr. Finigan showed to The Christian Science Monitor representative
one of these rum removal order books sold to William McIntyre & Son, one of the St. John liquor exporting houses, which bore the serial number 88 on permit number 1023. This book showed that the New Brunswick

exporter had been doing a very ex

WOMEN AND PHILOSOPHY

Not long ago a man said "I don't know anything about the philosophy of life women have—if they have any. Most of them haven't. In fact most of them never think, they only feel and talk. Highly developed mentality does not seem to fit a woman. Life has no permanent place for a woman of great mental capacity." It is safe to say that the world does not owe that man much for the brief lines above. He may have felt that he was uttering words of wisdom. He may think he is possessed of an extensive knowledge of the insoluble mystery we call life and also of the tantalizing mystery we call woman, and that his exalted intellectual status enabled him to philosophize on the traits and propensities of woman-kind and to classify her justly according to her intrinsic characteristics. Nevertheless, went astray—on some points at least.

Our theory is that women have a philosophy of life. That is, women as a class. Of course, when we speak of women we do not mean to include flappers and the host of sweet, silly young things who are too busy having a good time to think of such a serious matter. Occasionally you may find a flapper with a definite philosophy of life but usually they have only a creed. And it is a wonderfully workable creed too. If you don't believe it, ask the young men. They are not at all slow to explain it but they will vouch for its marvelous efficiency. It is the only creed known that can readily command anything from a 20c ice-cream sundae to a $20,000 car and still keep the poor fish who is paying the price thinking he is having a wonderful time for a nominal fee. Of course there is a time when the frivolous flapper's volatile creed develops into the staid philosophy of a rational woman. That particular time varies according to the individual. It is the same with young men. There are few youthful philosophers. From the time a boy struts forth with his first suit of long trousers until he has acquired a few wrinkles in his forehead and the habit of talking less and thinking more, his life is too full of silly little love affairs and impossible aspirations to permit his delving into the mysteries of human existence. But when the age of reckless experiment has passed he unconsciously begins to form some idea of life and living. Often a disastrous love affair supplies the climax to his adolescence and when his mind to more serious thoughts. The fact that he may lie awake at night and wonder why Mary jilted him should not be taken seriously. In all probability he will eventually conclude that all women are fickle and deceitful. This, of course, is one of man's most common conjectures, but nevertheless, it shows that the boy has taken his first plunge at philosophy. He may revise his conclusions in the morning but, notwithstanding, he has begun to think for himself.

No doubt there are some women who have little thought for anything save cosmetics, theatres, automobiles, jazz and a meal ticket when their youthful beauty begins to fade, but there are also many men of this type. Men whose only worries are ample means for comfort, orderly households, to keep life from becoming unbearable and a woman to keep their clothes clean and their stomachs full.

Now, having made these distinctions, we repeat—women as a class have a philosophy of life. The chief trouble with a woman's philosophy is that she seldom makes it known. She will chatter endlessly on every subject from the latest styles in suits and hats to the latest marriages and scandals, but she will never venture her opinion on the great mystery of life unless she is inexorably entreated. Probably this is why men are of the opinion that women seldom think in the full sense of the word. But this is a misconception. Women as a class do think. The reason they seldom voice their philosophy is because it is most often rather nebulous and vague. This in turn is partly due to the fact that they have yielded to an instinctive reticence from discussing a perplexing subject and partly to the fact that a woman's philosophy is better than a man's. Preliminary, one's philosophy of life is based on one's ideals or else on the very fact that one has no ideals. Women lead the world in ideals. It is because their ideals are so fine and so high that they are backward about divulging the philosophy which these ideals have given birth to.

Again to quote the man who has provided our subject matter: "Life has no permanent place for a woman of great mental capacity." In this he is very much astray. In years gone by women were content to marry, cook the meals and rock the baby but of recent years they have entered various fields of commercial and industrial activity. Today we have women lawyers, women politicians and women officials of various kinds; we have saleswomen in many kinds of business and women executives who are achieving prodigious accomplishments in the business world. And the fact that they are making good in these chosen vocations does not necessarily mean that they have refused or are unfit to follow the course which appears the duty of every woman—that of being a life-partner to man. The mere fact that they possess the ability and intelligence to succeed in business should contrive to make them the better fitted to become capable partners in life's greatest business—the sacred business of marriage. Life indeed has a place for women with brains. They are welcomed in business and they are needed in the home. One class of people at least can appreciate women of high mental calibre and that is men of the same calibre.

The kind of woman a man turns to in his early maturity are seldom a sample of the woman he will ultimately marry. His first ventures are mere adventure and amusement. But as he grows older and becomes more settled his nature demands something more than the gratification of sensual desires. Dead hopes and a loss of youthful illusions have created a spiritual hunger within his being that only a love which permits of intellectual companionship can satisfy. What he wants now is a soul-mate who can come into the innermost recesses of his life. What we call love may be the proppier of human mating and the foundation upon which marriage is based but without spiritual and intellectual companionship congenial felicity would be merely a myth. In order to be a real companion and an efficient partner to her husband a woman must have more than mere material qualifications. She must be able to establish and maintain a satisfying mental and spiritual relationship. She must have a certain philosophy of life. Then there is another condition which applies the acid test to a woman's spiritual and intellectual worth. That condition is motherhood. All that the sacred ideals she has salvaged from the wreck of shattered hopes and aspirations and all the practical knowledge she has been able to glean from bitter experience are none too great to meet the supreme duty of her life. Her duty to her children—the colossal task of wisely tutoring her offspring. And in this she would fail did she not have the ability to formulate a definite theory of life and to implant its best principles in the young lives under her care. Yes, women must have a definite philosophy of life. If they did not they could not adequately fulfill the divine purpose for which they were created.

Sporting News Of The Week

HECTOR DECARIE
World's Strongest Man.

WORLD'S STRONGEST MAN HERE

An event of more than usual interest took place on Monday evening when Hector Decarie, the world's champion strong man, gave an exhibition of his marvelous strength at the Opera House here. When Mr. Decarie appeared wearing the famous Gold Belt which he won at the international tournament at Sumner Park Montreal, where twelve different nationalities were represented, a thrill passed through the great audience assembled to witness the famous strong man in action. And interest grew steadily as Mr. Decarie went from one stunt to another each feat being more difficult than the one preceding it.

Mr. Decarie began with a 115 pound dumb-bell which he handled almost as a baby handles a rattle. Next came the 140 pound bell which was perceptibly a heavier instrument but Decarie went through his manoeuvres with fine grace and ease. Another interesting feature of the performance was the lifting of a 300 bar-bell and a straight press overhead without touching the chest. Decarie executed this feat with surprising ease.

The last event on the program was an interesting stunt. With surprising ease and quickness Decarie lifted on his back fifteen men who, in turn stood upon a table which alone weighed 175 pounds.

In an interview with Mr. Decarie, our reporter learned a few interesting facts about the world's strongest man. He is a native of France. From boyhood he has been a strong man. He was an ardent admirer of strong men and took naturally to weight lifting, practicing with all sorts of heavy objects such as a straight bar, lifting the bell from floor to shoulder with both hands. In various contests Decarie has met and defeated all the world's most famous strong men including Otto Romalo, Rousseau, Hockenski and Orsborn.

in time, re-embrace us for part of our expenditure in the past or at least become self-supporting. Obviously the latter course is the wiser one. And with our acceptance of it several things must be considered. Instead of patronizing other roads when travelling should we not ride on the one we own and thus contribute to its maintenance instead of helping to support a rival concern. And when shipping goods should we not be careful to contribute the business to the railroad in which we are a shareholder rather than to a concern in which we have no interest. We grumble and whine about exorbitant taxes and dilute upon the fact that 70 million dollars were lost last year as a result of Federal Government operation of the railways in Canada, and yet it never seems to occur to many of us that every time we contribute business to a rival railway when we might send it to the institution of which we are a part, we are doing our share to increase the deficit and incidentally adding to our burden of taxation.

The Canadian Government railway system belongs to the people of Canada and it should be our duty to increase its business and thus turn its deficits into surpluses. Every man, woman and child in Canada is or should be vitally interested in the success or failure of the operation of the big railway system and as part owners of that system it follows that each and every citizen should do all he can to promote its best interests and make it something that Canada can be proud of.

Although his contest with the famous Cyr in Chicago, resulted in a draw it is interesting to note that Cyr was much the bigger man weighing 325 pounds, while Decarie in training never passes the 192 pound mark.

Advocates Cold Baths.

Upon being asked his opinion, Mr. Decarie emphatically declared that cold baths taken daily were of indisputable value in building up a healthy physique. Although he is an inveterate smoker Mr. Decarie declares that smoking is assuredly injurious to the average person. He never smokes cigarettes, however, and stops smoking when in training for a arduous contest. He draws the line at strong drink however, declaring himself a total abstainer.

LOCAL BOWLING.

Singled Men Win Series.
Monday night saw the finish of the bowling series between two local teams of married and single men. The Singles won by forty-six pins. The three matches of the series were characterized by good snappy rolling. A. H. Alexander led the Singles with a total pin fall of 318 in the concluding match and an average of 106. Perce Shannon and Alex. Robinson headed the married men each with a fall of 282 in the last match and an average of 49. Pete McLean came next on the bachelor quintette with Wallace Henry next in line and Horace Jardine and Reg. Henry following.

Stanley Fraser came third on the bachelors' line-up with an average of 92 while C. Fairley and C. Comeau followed about 10 nine behind. The series was a closely contested one and the fact that the married men led for a time by points made the matches extremely interesting.

COURT MARTIAL OF COMMANDER

Allegations in Reference to Loss of British Cruiser Off Coast of Labrador.

London, Oct. 26.—The loss of the British light cruiser Raleigh off the coast of Labrador on August 8, had its sequel at Portsmouth yesterday when a court martial was opened on Commander Leslie Charles Bott, who was charged with having negligently or by default stranded and lost the cruiser. A plea of not guilty was entered.

The prosecution held that Bott was blameworthy for failing to point to the captain the extreme risks being run in not commencing the taking of sounding machines, in not reducing speed on his own initiative and in immediately informing the captain when the density of the fog increased, and in not pointing out to the captain that the visibility in New proximity to Fortune Bay could be obtained from the wireless telegraph station at Point Amour as the ship reached Fortune Bay.

Captain Arthur Bromley, commanding the Raleigh but a telegram arrived did not hear the fog horn at Point Amour before the ship grounded, but heard it afterwards. A conference was held on the advisability of saving the Raleigh but a telegram arrived from the admiralty that they would not proceed with salvage work.

The court investigated a report prepared from the logs and registers of the Raleigh and the opinion was expressed that soundings were not commenced in time to ensure the safe conduct of the ship.

The Top of New York

Mary McAvoy has one of those roles that all adore. She is sweet, yearning, soulful. Little Pat Moore remarkably fine as the lame brother. This lad displayed emotional ability that few adult stars ever manage to offer. Mary Jane Irving, another kiddie, was equally good. In fact these two children are as neat examples of what can be taught to youthful actors as one could possibly find. Many soft hearts will feel the stress of poor little Mickey's plight—New York American.

NOTED MANAGER OF FIGHTERS IS DEAD

New York, Oct. 31.—Sam Fitzpatrick, noted for many years as a boxing promoter and manager of ring champions, died Saturday in a hospital here.

He was known as "Honest Sam" and himself a lightweight boxer of considerable ability, piloted Jack Johnson to the heavyweight championship of the world, the negro whipping Tommy Burns to capture the title. He also guided the fortunes of Peter Jackson, another famous negro pugilist, and George (Kid) Levine, who was lightweight title holder.

OLD COUNTRY LUMBERMEN HERE

Spent This Morning Visiting Large Lumber Mills in This Vicinity.

Three prominent Old Country lumbermen arrived in town last night on a combined business and pleasure trip through eastern Canada. The party consist of J. Forest, managing director of Brownlee and Company Ltd., Glasgow; J. Robinson, of Harrison, Robinson and Co. Ltd., of Liverpool; R. L. Roberts, of Lunenburg; and C. A. Govan of the Cox Lumber Co. Ltd., of London, England.

Mr. Forest is reputed to be one of the biggest timber merchants in Great Britain. In an interview with the Graphic representative Mr. Govan said that they had decided to take their vacation this year in Canada and visit many of the places that were familiar to them through trade channels. He explained that they usually spent their holidays in the Lake district in England, but that this year they had varied the procedure and so far, were enjoying the lumber trade in slowly improving and the merchants have been looking over some of the great natural timber resources of the province.

This morning the party, escorted by the local lumbermen looked over the mills in and about town and left after dinner for Bathurst, which visit completes their tour of New Brunswick, as they will entrain then for Montreal. This is their first visit to Canada, except in the case of Mr. Govan who is well known throughout the province.

THE LAST OF THE BIG FOUR

Lloyd George Has Outlasted All
the Statesmen of Allied Countries.

Lloyd-George outlasted all the statesmen who guided the great nations through the world war. In the turmoil of readjustment that followed that conflict he kept his seat at the steering wheel when all around him were losing theirs.

Three men with whom he sat at Paris as the "Big Four" of 1919, was the first to go. His cabinet resigned in June 1919. The following January Clemenceau, the French Tiger, was cast aside. Two months later the Senate of the United States refused for a second time to ratify the peace treaty Woodrow Wilson had brought home from Versailles and not long afterwards his party was beaten at the polls.

After all the other three had been put aside in their countries, Lloyd-George became probably the most outstanding figure among all the men of the world who were engaged in public affairs.

The rise of Lloyd-George was an adventure in politics filled with much romance. He was born in Manchester, England, January 17, 1863. His father, a Unitarian schoolmaster, died when David was an infant, and the child was adopted by an uncle, Richard Lloyd, a Welsh shoemaker and lay preacher. With only a limited education David went into a law office in the little town in North Wales where he lived with his uncle.

Then he married and soon dived into politics. For 18 years he was a Liberal member of parliament, representing Carnarvon. Then came a rapid rise to fame. His ascent to a place among the mighty began in 1903, when Asquith became Prime Minister. The little Welshman, with the sparkling eyes, entered the cabinet as chancellor of the Exchequer.

The next year in the great "budget battle" he routed the once powerful House of Lords. His achievements in this fight were called "The first victory against the privileged citadel of wealth in the modern world." With the coming on of the war Lloyd-George convulsed the country by introducing drastic reforms in taxation which put new burdens on the wealthy classes and confiscated part of the unearned increment of land.

In the dark hours of 1916, when Great Britain was threatened with invasion, Lloyd-George left the Chancellery of the Exchequer to become Minister of Munitions, and "with no other equipment than a private secretary and an office table, staked his reputation and his future on mobilizing the industrial resources of the nation before it was too late."

In this tremendous task he succeeded and so when "Kitchener of Khartoum" was lost at sea, the Welshman took his place as Secretary of State for War. With Sir Eric Geddes he pitched into the work of re-organizing the railway system, supporting the British armies in France. Then, on December 6, 1916, he was called to the Premiership.

Almost immediately he substituted a small compact war cabinet for the larger and more unwieldy ministry that had gone.

During the war he turned the industries of Great Britain into vast munitions factories, raised an army of 5,000,000 men and organized 5,000,000 "war workers."

He provided for construction of 4,000,000 tons of shipping, transferred the big estates into truck gardens and hospitals for recuperation and brought about conscription. He followed the collapse of Russia and the Italian debacle at Caporetto by rushing British troops to Siberia and Italy. "He helped make it possible for 2,000,000 soldiers to the western front and he was a big factor in the appointment of Marshal Foch as Generalissimo of all the Allied forces."

His nationalization of shipping greatly mitigated the submarine menace.

London, Oct. 19.—The resignation of Prime Minister Lloyd-George was officially announced this evening. The resignation of Viscount Peel, the Secretary of State for India, also was announced.

Multum in Parvo.
"All that woman thinks of is clothes."

Head Like a Hen
Teacher—Your expression is absurd
Girl—Why?
"How can a man hatch out a scheme?"

The Turning Point.
Kant—This place certainly turns out fine men.
Decartes—When did you graduate?
"Didn't graduate; they turned me out."

DEPARTMENT HAS GOOD YEAR

Lands and Mines Revenue Exceeds Estimates While Expenditures Less.

Fredericton, Oct. 31.—The fiscal year of the province of New Brunswick closed today. Hon. C. W. Robinson, minister of lands and mines, is in the city today on departmental business. He said that he expected that a good financial showing would be made by his department. Expenditures took place in the province estimates and the deputy minister had announced that receipts would exceed estimates. Another source of revenue which is meeting expectation is motor vehicle taxation. Hon. P. J. Vanier, minister of public works, estimated $300,000 from that source. That amount will be reached, it is believed.

LEBUFF—POWER

A quiet wedding was solemnized at Val D'Amour on October 25th, when Rev. Father Levesque united in marriage Bridget Grace Power and William Lebuff, of that place. The ceremony took place in the presence of a few relatives and friends Miss Mary and Thomas Power, niece and nephew of the bride acting as matron of honor and best man respectively. The bride who received many pretty and useful gifts wore a becoming suit of navy blue cloth with scarf and hat to match.

Mr. and Mrs. Lebuff will reside at Val D'Amour.

Rev. B. M. Bridges Gives Facts in His Case

It is doubtful if there has ever been a medicine endorsed by so many ministers of the Gospel as has Tanlac. Indeed, there is scarcely a faith, creed or denomination in all the land in which one, or more, of the clergymen has not publicly expressed their indebtedness to the Premier Preparation for the benefits they have derived from its use.

One of the latest to speak out in this connection is Rev. B. M. Bridges, a widely known and beloved Baptist preacher, residing at Mooreboro, N.C., whose statement follows:

"Tanlac has given me a good appetite, toned up my system and renewed my strength in such a gratifying way that I am glad to recommend it to anyone who is in a rundown condition. For ten years past I have had such a severe case of indigestion that I could not find anything to eat that agreed with me. Finally I became very nervous and could get but very little sleep or rest."

"It seems that I took nearly everything trying to get myself right, but nothing helped me until I ran across Tanlac. My nerves are so much better now that my sleep is sound and refreshing. I enjoy my meals and have also gained weight. I can say from experience that Tanlac is a splendid medicine and tonic, for it has built me up wonderfully. Tanlac is sold by all good druggists."

A VAST IMPROVEMENT.

The Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal starts its fall and winter campaign for subscriptions a vastly improved paper over what previously looked like perfection. To those who have read that great weekly for years it would seem impossible to make improvements. Nevertheless the publishers seem determined regardless of cost to make the Family Herald better value than ever before. Every Department is being strengthened and new features added. In fact the Family Herald and Weekly Star during 1923 will be of such value that no Canadian home can afford to be without it.

Catarhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one remedy, HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE, a constitutional remedy.

Catarhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When the tube is inflamed you have a running sound or buzzing in the ears, and when the tube is closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be removed, your hearing will be destroyed forever.

HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the blood on the mucous surface of the system, thus reducing the inflammation and restoring normal conditions. Circulars free. All Druggists.

Do Away With Measures When Root Vegetable Act Comes in Force.

Ottawa, Oct. 27.—That it was the intention of the Department of Agriculture to do away altogether with the gallon and other measures when the new "Root Vegetables Act" came into force, Capt. L. F. Burrows, of the Department of Agriculture, told the Retail Grocers' Association at a meeting here last night.

The Act could only be successfully operated when the system of measures hitherto in force was forgotten and got used to ordering vegetables by the pound, he said.

In answer to questions, he said that farmers, hucksters and peddlers could not be compelled to carry scale, but that the consumers could demand that the goods they purchased be weighed.

The Department of Agriculture was trying to educate the wholesalers to quote prices on all produce by weight.

A motion was passed requesting the Department of Agriculture to issue cards which grocers could display in their stores which would inform customers that vegetables must be sold by weight.
