Baker Terms Wright Threat "A Bluff"

DOUBTS SCHOOL TRUSTEE WOULD RESIGN OFFICE

City Clerk Sure "Honors of Board Are Too Sweet To Give Up."

WILSON DENIES CHARGE

Asserts Council Is Willing To Co-operate With Board of Education.

"Somebody ought to call his bluff," said City Clerk S. Baker to The Advertiser Thursday morning with reference to the threatened resignation of Trustee J. B. Wright, in case the city council refuses to authorize board of education debentures for approximately $130,000.

"Trustee Wright will not resign," continued the city clerk. "The honors of his office are too sweet to give up."

Mayor Cameron Wilson, who was referred to by Trustee Wright in his statement published Wednesday, denies that he is party to any plans to frustrate the efforts of the board of education. He also expressed the opinion that Trustee Wright would not resign from the board of education.

Must Show Need.

"If it is necessary for the board of education to have the money, and they can show this need to the city council, that body will be willing to give them the money," declared the mayor. "The council is willing to co-operate with the board.

"They have been striving for the past year to eliminate city officials fighting with each other. In my opinion, the useless controversies going on between members of the various boards of the city are not only doing them no good, but are harmful to the city in general, and as soon as the members of the various boards recognize that fact they will be enabled to carry on in the most efficient manner.

"I want co-operation between all officials, and it will obtain the best results for particular boards and the city as a whole," concluded Mayor Wilson. "Legitimate criticism is all right, but when every member of any board starts airing his views publicly it is bound to mar the city's progress."

ENGLISH SPEAKING UNION BANQUETS AMBASSADOR

Inviolability of Obligations of Great Britain to Debtors Stressed by British Statesman.

London, July 27.—Sir Auckland Geddes, British ambassador to the United States, and Lord Birkenhead, lord high chancellor, took occasion yesterday at the dinner of the English-speaking union, in farewell to the ambassador on his return to Washington to reiterate and underscore previous ministerial assurance of the inviolability of the obligations of Great Britain to her debtors.

The lord high chancellor's reference to Anglo-American financial affairs, which he termed "a delicate subject," was the only materialistic note intruded on what otherwise was a most felicitous exchange of expressions of amity and good-will between "the two greatest English-speaking nations."

Expresses Satisfaction On Cattle Issue

LONDON, July 27.—Hon. P. C. Larkin, Canadian high commissioner, commenting on the result of the debate in the House of Lords yesterday afternoon on the cattle embargo, said:

"I feel quite satisfied that Lord Long's amendment, carried by the House of Lords, does not mean that any obstruction in the shape of additional cost will be put in the way of marketing cattle immediately on their arrival."

RAPS REFUSAL TO HONOR BILL

Constable Fifield Resents Action of Judge Macbeth On Expense Account.

Claims Hard Work Earning Living by Present Fee System.

Long grown weary of the continued struggle to obtain what they claim as just remuneration for exercise of duty which takes them out of the city, members of the Middlesex County police force Thursday morning questioned bitterly the refusal by His Honor Judge Talbot Macbeth to approve of their expense accounts and threatened to submit the entire question to the Middlesex County Council at the next session of that body.

"On two occasions now," declared Constable William Fifield, "I have submitted by account for our recent investigations at the Muncey reservation respecting the reported theft and butchery of cattle in that district when armed with the necessary warrants we searched several dwellings of suspects.

"While we traveled a distance of approximately 105 miles, we presented a bill for but half that mileage, as is demanded by the department. There is also the use of our machine to be accounted for.

"Securing the crown's order for this investigation and further authorization of the expenditure, we presented the same for final confirmation, as is necessary by Judge Macbeth. He declined to sanction the bill, however, and referred it back for further details.

"We supplied all the information as requested and now I am informed that the account is sent back again. I am contemplating withdrawing the same and submitting it to the county councillors when they meet at their next session."

The constables unite in their contention that under the present system of payment by fees, it keeps them rather busy to earn a reasonable allowance without being "cheated" out of just dues, as they term it.

BLAMES FLIES FOR CARRYING DISEASE

Brantford, July 27. — Two more cases of infantile paralysis have been reported to the health department during the last few days and have been placed under quarantine. Dr. Hutton, M.O.H., stated that he thought the dread disease was being spread by flies, and that every effort should be taken to destroy these filthy pests. The original case of the malady occurred in a residence where there were hundreds of flies.

"Flies breed in rubbish," stated the medical health officer, "and where there is no rubbish there are no flies. Clear away the rubbish and swat the fly is good advice at any time and is especially necessary now."

DOHERTY SURE BRITAIN WILL LIFT EMBARGO

Lord Beaverbrook Cables Ontario Minister, Assuring Him of Victory.

SEES ERA OF PROSPERITY

Advertiser Staff Special.

Chatham, July 27.—While opponents may procure delays and attempt further interference, there is no doubt but that the resolution, just passed by the British House of Commons favoring the removal of the embargo on the exportation of Canadian cattle to England, foreshadows legislation, by autumn at latest, finally removing all restrictions against the entry of Dominion herds.

This is the frank opinion expressed here today by the Hon. Manning Doherty, M. L. A. for East Kent, and Ontario's minister of agriculture, who is vastly cheered by the report from overseas, heralding it as "one of the best things that has happened for Canada in many years, and calculated to wield a powerful influence for the better in Canada's live stock industry within the next two years."

The minister of agriculture in passing through this city after visiting in Blenheim during the old home week celebration there, exhibited a cablegram just received by him from Lord Beaverbrook in England, indicating further that the action by the British Commons is a popular one in the Old Country, as well as in Canada.

Victory for Stalwarts.

Kent County is known throughout Canada as producing two stalwart representatives who have consistently fought during their years in public life for better transportation conditions for Canadian cattle en route to foreign countries and the ultimate removal of the cattle embargo.

These men are the Hon. Manning Doherty and Senator "Archie" McCoig, formerly M. P. in the Laurier and Mackenzie King administrations.

Lord Beaverbrook's cable to Ontario's minister of agriculture read as follows:

"Resolution to remove cattle embargo passed in Commons by substantial majority. This means that

TRAP SHARK OF UNKNOWN VARIETY AT NOVA SCOTIA

Amherst, N. S., July 27.—A shark of unknown variety was caught by Eli James in a salmon trap at Cap d'Or Advocate on Wednesday, measuring 14 feet 9 inches from tip to tip with a remarkable tipper tail fluke, 6 inches long. Old mariners remark that they never saw the like in the seven seas.

CIRCULATION OF DOMINION PAPER MONEY INCREASES

Ottawa, July 27. — By Canadian Press.—Dominion notes in circulation at the end of June totaled $232,748,410, as compared with $221,894,062 at the end of the month previous. Gold held for redemption amounted at the end of June to $85,495,068 (36.8 per cent) in comparison with $83,269,034 (37.5 per cent) at the end of May.

In addition to the gold, there were securities on deposit against Dominion note circulation totaling $110,034,789 at the end of June, against $103,685,471 at the end of May.

105 Irish Prisoners Flee Through Hole In Jail Wall

BELFAST, July 27.—Through a hole blown in the wall by a mine, 105 prisoners escaped from Dundalk jail, County Louth, this forenoon. The shock of the explosion shook the town, shattering the windows of the county hospital and the houses of the town's best residential district.

"CHRISTIANITY NEED OF AGE"

Capt. Hartley Holmes, R. A., Plans Religious Union of Officers.

Declares Professionalism Is Killing Church of Today.

More true Christianity and less churchology is the real need of the people of all countries today, according to Captain Hartley Holmes, R.A., traveling secretary of the Officers Christian Union of Great Britain, who, after his visit in Japan and China, is touring Canada with the object of forming a similar union among the Canadian officers of the fighting services, irrespective of sect or denomination.

Just as professionalism has practically killed certain sports so it is killing the church, was the Captain's opinion, expressed just prior to his departure Wednesday night for Montreal. What has transpired throughout Russia is in progress in other countries at this moment and can only be combatted, he avers, by the spreading of true Christianity.

People have been left in ignorance for centuries in Russia, and were only aware of the superficial religion.

54 LOSE JOBS AS RESULT OF PAVING DELAY

TRACKS AT STANDSTILL

Branding the failure of the London Street Railway Company to forward specifications to his office on their track allowance on city streets to be paved this summer as "rotten," City Engineer H. A. Brazier informed The Advertiser Thursday that he has been compelled to lay off 36 city employees because paving work is held up, and that 18 more will be out of a job next week if the company does not get busy.

The streets involved are Hamilton road and Dundas street east, which the city council has instructed the engineer to pave, but until he receives the London Street Railway Company specifications for the tracks his paving program must remain at a standstill. That is unless the city council instructs the engineer to go ahead and pave these thoroughfares regardless of the street railway company's attitude.

"It is rotten," declared the city engineer, referring to the fact that 36 of his men are out of work because paving is held up. "I am annoyed about it, and it is all because of the London Street Railway Company, from whom I have received no specifications. A third gang of 18 men will have to be laid off ntxt week if tht company doesn't get busy.

"There are two or three little jobs to be done yet, including some cement curbs and gutters on the Hamilton Road. As soon as these are completed the men will be laid off," concluded Mr. Brazier.

MEMBERS OF the London Humane Society are holding their Thursday night meeting in the Y. W. C. A. instead of at the city hall as is usually the custom.

West London Man Foils Oxford Bridge Thugs

WHILE traveling west across the Oxford street bridge on a bicycle Wednesday night a resident of West London was set upon by two armed thugs who attempted to throw him off his wheel.

The cyclist was nearing the end of the bridge when his two assailants jumped from behind a stone projection. Convinced that he was the intended victim of a hold-up he kicked out as hard as he could with his foot striking one of the thugs in the stomach.

The other assailant caught his partner as he fell, which gave the plucky citizen four or five seconds to make his escape from the marauders.

SAYS INITIATIVE IS UP TO RUSSIA

Sir Phillip Lloyd-Graeme Presents Report to British Parliament.

Clynes, Labor Member, Blames Difficulties On Europe's Blockade.

London, England, July 27.—A general discussion on the policy of Britain towards Russia yesterday in the House of Commons followed the presentation of a report by Sir Philip Lloyd-Greame, head of the British delegation at The Hague conference. Sir Philip expressed the opinion that the conference had made a long step forward on the path towards Russian settlement, but the next and final step rested with the Russian government. There was no basis in the present plan of the Soviet government which would attract private investors or justify foreign governments in pledging credits. It would be useless therefore to negotiate further if Russia maintained that attitude.

John Robert Clynes, Laborite, attributed most of Russia's difficulties to Europe's blockade and the post-war attitude toward Russia. He advocated that Great Britain formally recognize the Soviet government.

Premier Lloyd George contended that this would not solve the difficulty. "You may send the most

Insane Man Fights Police From House For 13 Days

CRAVES WATER ON SURRENDER

HINTON, W. Va., July 27.—John Fredeking, the insane man who barricaded himself in his house and for thirteen days' resisted the efforts of deputy sheriffs and state police to arrest him after he had killed one man and wounded four others, this morning appeared at the front door, threw up his hands and asked for a drink of water.

The troopers, who with other officers have resorted to every known means short of firing the house to dislodge Fredeking, stpped up to the door, got him the water he craved, and then led him to the county jail. He refused to answer their questions and appeared to be dazed. Physicians were summoned from the Hinton Hospital, where they had been treating the men wounded in the firing of the last few days, and dressed a bullet wound in Fredeking's right arm and another injury to his right shoulder.

Dawn of the thirteenth day of successful resistance found John Fredeking, lunatic and slayer of one man, still firing shots at state troopers from his bullet-riddled home here. Authorities today planned a determined rush of the house, and they were confident it would end the crazed vigil of the maniac.

Amazed at the tireless energy of Fredeking, who in addition to killing one, shot four others, the men who have laid siege to the home abandoned immediate hope of starving the man into submission. His supply of ammunition also seemed endless.

Long periods of quietness led police to believe their quarry was exhausted, but each fresh attempt to batter down a door or climb through a window was met by a volley from within.

Fredeking, according to his father,

CIVIC COMMISSION CALLED AT LAST

Announcement of Mayor Causes Consternation in City Hall Circles.

After a vacation of 78 days for the civic commission, Mayor Cameron Wilson made the important announcement Thursday morning that this body will meet next week, with Tuesday as the favored day for the momentous occasion.

When the news permeated the city hall, loud cheering was heard emanating from the second floor of the public utilities building, and those officials who interpreted it as confirmation of the rumor that Secretary W. A. Tanner had received an increase in salary had their surprise corrected when informed that the mayor's announcement was the cause of the revelry.

No longer will members of the board of education be required to lay awake at night and count the days since the commission last met as a cure for their insomnia.

GUILTY OF HAVING 100-GALLON STILL

Toronto, July 27.—Arthur Munon, found guilty of keeping a still, was remanded for sentence in the local police court today. The police claim it was the largest still they have yet seized, having a capacity of 100 gallons.

Another still was found under a trapdoor in a house occupied by Pearl Kirschenbaum. It had a capacity of 25 gallons. Mrs. Kirschenbaum said the still belonged to a boarder. She was fined $500, or six months.

HUMAN VULTURES DEAL IN MISERY

Ottawa, July 27.—Ladies of gentle birth scrubbing office floors, children crippled with rickets, former state officials and eminent professional men selling papers, and starving, prostitution and degradation rampant, human vultures speculating in misery and suffering in the tawdry night life of a once great city.

Such were the chief impressions of Vienna formed by Dr. Omar Wilson, of this city, who has just returned from a nine weeks' trip to Europe and Great Britain.

NANCY ANN BOYD.

Nancy Ann Boyd, 70 years old, died in Victoria Hospital, Thursday morning. The body was forwarded to Listowel on the 4:40 o'clock Grand Trunk train by A. L. Oatman for interment. Funeral arrangements are being postponed pending the arrival of a brother from Dakota.

WORKERS REFUSE TO REMAIN AT POSTS WHILE U. S. CARS ARE REPAIRED IN DOMINION

Strike Call Imminent Will Affect 49,000 Boilermakers, Machinists, Carmen, Electricians, Blacksmiths and Sheet Metal Workers; Ottawa Hopeful No Action Will Be Taken Before Saturday.

Montreal, July 27.—An announcement that Canadian railway shopmen were being forced to declare an immediate strike because engines and cars from United States railroads, whose shopmen are on strike, were being repaired in Grand Trunk shops in the Dominion, was made this afternoon by R. J. Tallon, president of division No. 4, railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor.

Mr. Tallon said he had received a reply from the minister of railways at Ottawa in reference to his telegram of yesterday acquainting the minister with the desire of the men to put down tools because of a tentative reduction of wages imposed by the railways on the shopmen.

The reply, Mr. Tallon said, stated that the position was being discussed at Ottawa.

Mr. Tallon's announcement follows:

"A reply has been received from the department of the minister of labor, Ottawa, stating that the position of the Railway Association of Canada in respect to participating in a board of conciliation for the shopmen was the subject of present discussion.

"A protest has been forwarded by the division regarding the apparent reluctance of the railways to comply, and pointing out the attitude of the Grand Trunk Railway in particular, which system is practically forcing our men to strike over their determination to have more United States engines and cars repaired in Canadian shops.

"This glaring discrimination which is being practiced is made apparent by orders repeatedly issued by the United States Labor Board relieving other employees from doing work formerly done by shopmen. Such action is making it impossible for the committee to induce the men to remain at work."

If a strike call is issued it will affect 49,000 boilermakers, machinists, carmen, electricians, blacksmiths and sheet metal workers now employed in Canadian railway shops.

EXPECT STRIKE DELAY.

Ottawa, July 27.—The threatened strike of shopmen on the Canadian railways is receiving the close attention of the department of labor.

It is not thought likely here that in any event a strike will be declared before Saturday, but the end of the week is regarded as likely to be crucial, one way or the other.

The railways have until Saturday to select their representative on the board of investigation which has been applied for under the Lemieux act. If they do not notify the minister of labor before that time of the name of their nominee, it is understood that he will appoint a representative to act for them.

The shopmen have already selected James Simpson of Toronto as their representative. After the representative of the railway companies has been appointed he and the nominee of the shopmen will have a few days in which to select a chairman; and if they do not agree, the minister of labor has authority to appoint a chairmen.

Viewed as Protest.

The threat of the shopmen to call a strike has, it is understood, been made as a protest against the rail-

U. S. Strike Briefs.

CHICAGO, July 27.—Just as the railway strike seemed to have settled down to a long-drawn-out and determined battle, hopes for peace, which have waxed and waned as succeeding indications pointed to a continued strife or a settlement, were revived by the gathering in Washington of strike leaders and railway executives.

Restoration of seniority rights to men on strike remained the chief obstacle to peace. The stand of the railway heads on this question was stated by H. E. Bryan, president of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, as being that the railroaders were not seeking to destroy seniority rights of men on strike, but to make their seniority subordinate to that of men now at work.

LONDON, July 27.—The question whether British miners will take any action against the exportation of coal to America was expected to be discussed at a meeting today of the executive meeting of the Miners' Federation.

Meanwhile, all the latest reports from British coal fields indicate that nothing will be done by the miners, who after a lean period in their industry are appreciating the stimulus given to employment through the American demand.

WASHINGTON, July 27. — Hopes for a move toward settlement of the railroad strike were revived today, as leaders on both sides in the dispute gathered here, presumably for a conference on the situation with administration officials, although definite indication was lacking as to whether their presence here at the same time had added significance of any pre-arrangement.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—With the federal machinery for emergency control of coal distribution completed by President Harding's appointment of a central committee of departmental heads, the government today looked to the states for the necessary co-operation to put the scheme into effect.

NEW YORK, July 27.—With retail coal dealers here predicting that coal will cost $25 a ton this winter, with substitutes likely unless the strike is settled or the government steps in and regulates prices, a new angle developed after a meeting of officers of the longshoremen's union, where the question of handling coal shipments from Great Britain was discussed.

PHILADELPHIA, July 27.—Prediction that the miners will be back in the pits within 30 days was made by miners' leaders assembled here today. John Hessler, representative from Terre Haute, Indiana, declared: "The strike is won for the miners."

Washington, July 27.—The "better butter" bill of Senator Sterling, Republican, South Dakota, to define butter by law and require it to contain 80 per cent butter fat, was reported favorably yesterday by the Senate agricultural committee.

RECEIVES SPRING WHEAT.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 26.—Minneapolis today received its first carload of spring wheat from the 1922 crop of the northwest states.

It came from the Farmers' Elevator Company of Delmont, S. D., and graded No. 1 dark northern spring, 50 pounds to the bushel. It was sold for $1.59 7-8, and is the earliest arrival of wheat in several years.

WONDERS IF BOARD OF EDUCATION WOULD BE MISSED!

JUST as the more optimistic ratepayers had concluded that it was time for the school trustees to embark upon their annual fishing expedition there arises one of their number with the startling conclusion that now is the "psychological" moment for them to "toss up the sponge" and retire from the civic arena as gracefully as circumstances will allow.

Assuming that the other members of the board acted upon the suggestion of their colleague and passed the Dakin street school and other problems to Mayor Cameron Wilson and his finance committee to wrestle with until December next would the void occasioned by such action of the trustees be irreparable, a prominent London citizen asked today.

This is a pertinent query emanating from the ranks of the common "people" and a brief resume of the year's board of education performance compiled by the same citizen to date reveals the following as the more outstanding accomplishments:

1. Declined to reduce the salaries of their teachers by ten per cent, as advocated by Mayor Wilson, Alderman H. J. Childs and others.
2. Declined to place a ban upon dancing at the central collegiate institute, as desired by the members of the London Ministerial Alliance and others.
3. Declined to increase the salaries as paid Dr. George S. Weir, public school attendance officer, and W. A. Tanner, secretary of the board, as requested by the latter.
4. Declined to purchase two different building sites in East London as championed by taxpayers who favored either of the locations in question.
5. Declined to accept the central collegiate institute from the contractors upon the advice of L. E. Carrothers, school architect.
6. Declined to build branch high schools in South and East London, as demanded by the minister of education.
7. Declined to build a public school in West London, as urged by the ratepayers of that district.

Under another heading might be discovered the following:

1. Decided to build a 17-room school at Dakin and Price streets.
2. Decided later to erect an 8-room school at Dakin and Price streets.
3. Decided subsequently, after a conference with Mayor Wilson and finance committee, to build a 4-room school at Dakin and Price streets.
4. Decided to ask for $82,000 for this purpose.
5. Decided later to reduce this to $45,000.
6. Decided at the next meeting that they were wrong and raised the request again to $82,000.
7. Decided to purchase another site in lieu of Dakin street.
8. Decided to elevate the cost of the proposed school from $82,000 to $100,000.
9. Decided that teachers who go to Toronto next June must pay their substitutes.
10. Decided that several new schools must be built within the next 10 years.
11. Decided that considerable property must be secured for this purpose within the next five years.
12. Decided that a school holiday on Monday of fair week disrupts the entire week.
13. Decided that there is an echo discernible in the new Victoria public school.
14. Decided that certain schools should be painted each year, estimating that it will require at least four years to complete the task.
15. Decided that $5 shall be charged in the summer and $10 in the winter for the use of school auditoriums for teas and bazaars.
16. Decided that the city council aided and abetted by Mayor Wilson and his civic commission is hampering their program.
17. Decided to adjourn after the July meeting and meet again late in September.

FREIGHT TRAFFIC NORMAL AS U. S. OFFICIALS TAKE CONTROL OF FUEL SUPPLIES IN NATION

Governors of All States Ordered To Set Up Emergency Organizations For Equitable Distribution and Maintenance of Fair Prices Under Administration Plan To Combat Shortage Looming As Result of Mine and Rail Walkouts.

CHICAGO, July 26.—Western railway executives in a statement tonight asserted freight is being moved as offered without congestion, and passenger traffic is being operated normally, while leaders in the railway shopmen's strike still maintained the walkout was virtually 100 per cent.

The statement issued by the Western Presidents' Committee on Public Relations of the Association of Railway Executives, says car loadings exceed those of a year ago except on roads especially affected by the coal strike. All western lines with headquarters in Chicago report increases in hte number of men at work in the shops, the statement said.

E. F. Grable, head of the Maintenance of Way Union, scouted reports from Detroit that his organization was again talking of striking, and announced that he intended to submit to the board applications for wage rehearings on several roads. He said about twenty cases will be ready for the board by the end of the week.

U. S. OPENS WAR.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—President Harding tonight set in motion the Federal Emergency Fuel Committee, with the selection of a central coal distribution committee of government officials, under the chairmanship of Secretary Hoover.

The commerce secretary immediately wired the governors of the various states asking them to set up emergency state organizations for equitable distribution and maintenance of fair prices for coal under the administration's plan.

"Under this plan," Mr. Hoover said, "the distribution for railway use will be directed from Washington, but, with the possible exception of a few state public utilities, the responsibility for all other distribution will rest upon organizations set up under state control."

GIVE COAL PRICES.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 26.—(By Canadian Press.)—Welsh anthracite is available f. o. b. Swansea at 38 shillings a ton. The freight to Montreal would amount to another nine shillings a ton.

Information to this effect has been cabled to the department of mines by Dr. Charles Camsell, deputy minister of the department, who is now in the old country on official business. The cable reads:

"Advertise Welsh anthracite, chestnut size, five-eighths to one inch, available thirty-eight shillings f. o. b., Swansea, plus nine shillings freight Montreal."

The cable further gives the name and address of the Swansea Colliery proprietor offering coal on the terms indicated.

Telegram Not Received.

It was understood here tonight that the prime minister had not yet received the telegram forwarded by R. J. Tallon, Montreal, president of division No. 4 of the Railway Employees Department of the American Federation of Labor, announcing the result of the strike vote taken by the shopmen, and asking if the railways had agreed to withdraw the wage reductions.

It was believed that the telegram would probably be received and answered tomorrow morning.

The prime minister, Hon. W. C. Kennedy, minister of railways and canals, and Hon. James Murdock, minister of labor, are not in the city tonight.

SITUATION AT STANDSTILL.

MONTREAL, July 26.—Developments in the railway situation in Canada are temporarily at a standstill, there being no reply today from the minister of labor to a telegram today by officials of division No. 4, informing the minister of the strike vote, and asking whether the railways had agreed to withdraw the proposed wage cut. The strike ballots are now all counted and the final result shows a very heavy percentage in favor of a strike.

Should the strike be called, about 59,000 employees will be affected.

A conciliation board has been authorized for the Brotherhood of Railway Employees, clerks, freight handlers, station employees, etc., of the Grand Trunk Railway, and U. E. Gillen, formerly vice-president of the G. T. R., has been appointed to represent the company. The board will sit at Ottawa. The grievance of the brotherhood is the recent cut in wages, averaging about 6½ per cent of their former pay. About 3,000 men are affected.

Thirteen conciliation boards will be in session in the near future in connection with railway disputes in the Dominion.

PREDICT STRIKE BY SUNDAY.

TORONTO, July 26.—Before leaving for Montreal tonight to attend a conference of the executive of division No. 4 of the Railway Employees Department of the American Federation of Labor, a member of the executive expressed the view that a strike against wage reductions would be called before Sunday night.

The railways which would be affected in the case of trouble would be, he said, the Canadian Pacific, Grand Trunk and Canadian National, while the six shop trades that would be called out would be the boilermakers, machinists, carmen, electricians, blacksmiths and sheet metal workers.

The number of men concerned would total about 52,000, scattered throughout the Dominion in the shops located at Moncton, N. B.; St. Malo, Quebec; Montreal, Toronto, Leaside, Stratford, North Bay and Winnipeg.

About 11,000 men in Toronto and Leaside would be affected.

Coal Crisis Order

WASHINGTON, July 26.—A "national emergency," caused by the industrial conflict, has been declared to exist by the United States government for the first time, during peace, in the history of the United States.

As a result of the coal and railroad strikes, the International Commerce Commission, empowered by the Esch-Cummins law, has assumed control of the distribution of fuel, food and other necessities.

In two orders, issued after a long conference by President Harding with his cabinet, the commission proclaimed the emergency, provided priority regulations for shipment of fuel, food and like commodities, in the eastern half of the country, and orders to expedite general freight shipments in all parts of the nation.

In issuing the crisis order, effective today, the commission said:

"An emergency which requires immediate action rests on the lines of each and all the common carriers, by railroads subject to the interstate commerce act, east of the Mississippi, including the west bank crossings thereof, on account of the inability of said common carriers properly and completely to serve the public in the transportation of essential commodities."

The commission then ordered:

1. That railroads shall give priority to the movement of food, feed for livestock, perishable products, coal, coke and fuel oil.
2. That priority be given to empty cars being returned.
3. That an embargo be placed against the receipt of coal or other freight transported in open top cars suitable for coal loading which can not be unloaded within 24 hours after placement.
4. That all rules, regulations and practices of the railroads with respect to car service be suspended so far as they conflict with the new regulations.

Meighen Proves Gallant Knight "In Steerage."

QUEBEC, July 26.—Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, former premier of Canada, and now leader of the opposition in the House of Commons, who is summering at Tadousac, on the St. Lawrence, with his family, proved a gallant knight today.

He boarded the steamer Cap Diamond last evening on the way to Quebec. The boat was crowded, but reservations had been made for the distinguished passenger.

Just as he was on the eve of retiring, however, he noticed that the saloon was full of people who had no accommodation. Gallantly he offered his cabin to a lady and spent the rest of the night sleeping comfortably as a steerage passenger.

"CHRISTIANITY NEED OF AGE"

When they commenced to grasp things for themselves the inevitable reaction set in and one could hardly blame them under the circumstances.

War Changed People.

A remarkable change has come over the people of England within the past few years, the captain asserted, more particularly during the war period and since, and through the teachings of true Christianity happiness had entered many a humble home where before the church had been scorned.

It was at the war, he stated, that men found the real faith where more than often there was no church to attend. He scored those who go to church on Sundays to cover up something they may have done during the week.

The secretary's experiences, especially amongst the troops in China where over a million men are under arms, have been unique, including an affair with brigands who intercepted his train on the way to Kai Feng, the capital of Honan where he visited the Chinese Christian general with 70 per cent of his officers and men in his command, reading their bibles and living consistent Christian lives.

Capt. Holmes dwelt more particularly with recent discoveries in Palestine as going to confirm the Bible narrative. Not a single monument or stone (or papyri, in Egypt), has been found to discredit statements in the Old or New Testaments, while a flood of light has been shed on passages hitherto unexplained.

For instance, he said, the passage where David speaks of the "gutter" by which any one getting up and smiting the Jebusite garrison, which dwelt in Mount Zion, and a constant thorn in David's side, would be made chief captain, has only recently been discovered in a remarkable way.

Three officers of the Royal Engineers were bathing in a pool at the foot of this ancient fortress when one diving underneath the overhanging cliff found his head emerging in an open space under the rock. This was found to lead to a vertical shaft or gutter through the solid rock to the top of the fortress. It was in this way that water had been supplied to the garrison all that time.

Solomon's Quarries.

It was obviously this gutter to which David referred. Similarly, through what was formerly thought to be a rabbit warren an entrance was discovered into Solomon's quarries. These quarries extend under the city on an enormous scale. The striking feature is the mass of stone chippings in the quarry.

In the construction of the Temple the stones were stated as being brought into their place without the sound of a hammer or chisel—all being prepared prior to leaving the quarry—a striking picture of the formation of the true temple being formed of individual believers during these past two thousand years.

Character is being formed down here, and people who think that death changes both destiny and character are in for a rude awakening, said Capt. Holmes, if the Bible, and not Conan Doyle, is true. On the basis of this discovery other discoveries have since been made, leading to still further confirmation of Biblical accounts hitherto much doubted.

Continuing, Capt. Holmes said: "Not far from the Temple Area, off the Via Dolorosa, is a convent. Entering this you are conducted to a cellar and a passage-way leading to a floor some fifteen feet below the present roadway. Here can be seen the pavement where the Roman soldiers 2,000 years ago played their games—some of which are still marked out on the pavement; also the ruts of the Roman chariot wheels.

Pilate's Judgment Seat.

"Close to this spot is the place of Pilate's judgment seat, where Christ was tried, but where actually the Jewish nation was on its trial, and in rejecting their Messiah passed judgment upon themselves."

He pointed out the remarkable preservation and the renaissance of this people in the present day, implying that this was one of the many signs of the times that thinking men and women would do well to heed. He drew a striking parallel between events of the day, especially in the Near East, and that foretold by Christ in Luke xxi., verses 24-28. The rapid influx of Jewish colonists into Palestine and their prosperity, was another remarkable fulfillment deduced by Capt. Holmes.

Capt. Holmes had some very interesting things to say about the sight of Gordon's Calvary and Garden. The present popular site, inside the city, known as the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, was thought by Gen. Gordon to be impossible. It was at no time outside the city, nor was there anything approaching what in the Gospel narrative is called "The place of a skull."

Gordon's Excavations.

"Gordon," said Capt. Holmes, "made excavations after first finding a spot on the north side of the city, which, as a photograph showed, was obviously a place which looked exactly like a skull. Jews to this day spit at this place in passing. He found a garden covered with ten to twenty feet of debris close to this place, and in this garden a tomb, obviously a new one, as one of the receptacles for receiving the body when embalmed had not been completed.

"Probably workmen were actually constructing this tomb for Joseph of Arimathea at the time of the crucifixion," Capt. Holmes went on. "The slot for the rolling stone can be seen, and so clearly does this tally with the Gospel record that a number of people in England have subscribed to purchase the site.

"Interesting excavations are being made at the old capital of Samaria. One corner stone of the old Samaritan Temple has been unearthed, with a clear inscription of part of the Law of Moses, showing conclusively that the Law of Moses was not an after-thought on the part of unscrupulous theologian Jews of the post-captivity period, but had existed years before, and was looked upon generally in those days as the work of the great lawgiver.

"It was interesting also to discover that the earlier of the three Jerichos bore such striking likeness to that of the Jericho of Joshua's day.

"The walls had since been discovered by an Austrian excavator having fallen outward into the moat—a most unusual occurrence—and with just one bit standing, which on closer examination proved to be a small two-room house which had actually been built into the wall.

Walls Forced Down.

"The theory being that on the seventh day, when the Children of Israel marched seven times around and gave their great shout, and blew with the trumpets, the whole city rushed with one accord on to the parapet, the impact and weight forcing the walls forward and filling up the ditch, making access into the city both possible and easy. The house of Rahab alone stood."

BRITISH LORDS FAVOR REMOVAL OF CATTLE BAN

Debate Indicates Change of Sentiment On Issue Sincce July 12.

ADOPT LONG AMENDMENT

LONDON, July 26.—(By Canadian Press Cable.)—The debate in the House of Lords this afternoon indicated that the peers are inclined to regard the actual removal of the embargo against Canadian store cattle as only a matter of time, and some strong advocates of the embargo manifested a disposition to accept the situation.

Today's proceedings were a continuance of the debate started on July 12, when Lord Chaplin presented a resolution urging the maintenance of the embargo, and Lord Lincolnshire moved a resolution demanding the fulfillment of the pledge of 1917 that the embargo would be removed. The weight of the speeches of July 12 were decidedly against any change of policy, but sentiment, it was shown today, on the issue has undergone a remarkable change in the meantime.

After a considerable array of prominent peers had addressed the house the Lord Lincolnshire amendment favoring unconditional removel of the embargo was voted down by 91 to 58, but the house adopted the Lord Long amendment, accepting the conclusions of the Findlay Royal Commission that Canadian herds were free from the plague of pleuro-pneumonia and foot and mouth disease, and expressing the opinion that steers from the dominions might be admitted as store cattle subject to quarantine precautions.

Gave Up Hope.

Monday's vote in the House of Commons on the embargo issue had a material effect on the debate and Lord Ancaster, who represents the board of agriculture in the Upper Chamber, made it quite plain that he anticipated legislation lifting the embargo and that he was only anxious that the removal of the embargo should be accompanied by certain safeguards.

"I recognize," said Lord Ancaster, "that the tide is against us and that we have to expect legislation later. I can only hope that if there is a reversal of our present policy the effect may not be so serious as some suppose."

In these sentences Lord Ancaster indicated that the supporters of the embargo had lost hope of maintaining the existing system, but he urged strongly that if there was to be a change of policy there should be some means whereby Great Britain would be able to maintain the quarantine and give the ministry of agriculture some power to regulate the class of animals to be imported.

Believes in Quarantine.

He pointed out that every other country imposed some form of quarantine on British cattle, but he did not in the least wish that quarantine to be imposed by Great Britain should be of a prohibitive character.

It would be a great mistake, he said, to allow absolutely free importation of bulls and heifers of inferior quality which would have the effect of deteriorating the country's stock, and therefore the ministry should have some power of dealing with both the question of quarantine and the class of animals admitted.

Lord Ancaster suggested that if the peers could not support Lord Chaplin's motion declining to remove the embargo they should vote for Lord Long's amendment.

Lord Buckmaster spoke strongly in favor of removal of the embargo, both in view of the pledge given in 1917 and for free trade considerations.

WHEAT BOARD BILL NEARS THIRD READING AT REGINA

Substantial Reductions Made in Penalty Clauses of Measure to License Dealers.

REGINA, Sask., July 26.—(By Canadian Press).—Third reading of the wheat board bill will be given in Saskatchewan Legislature Thursday, and the proroguing of the special session will likely come at noon tomorrow.

Substantial reductions were made today in the penalty clauses in the bill to provide for the licensing of grain dealers.

The opinion was expressed on both sides of the house that a minimum of a $500 fine, and a maximum imprisonment term as an alternative of five years, was too drastic for operating without a license, particularly when the bill first goes into effect, and on the motion of the attorney-general these penalties were reduced to $50 and two years, respectively.

The resolution of W. G. Vancise (Lumsden) pledging the Legislature to an expression of opinion that the wheat board should not handle the grain of provinces which have not passed concurrent legislation was withdrawn.

The game, which ended with a score of 10 to 5, was the first of a series to be played between the three churches. The reward of the winners will be a pennant, presented at the first union social in the fall.

About 80 people attended the picnic. A committee of three: Miss Jessie Hunter from St. Paul's Presbyterian, Miss Marion Morrison from St. Mark's and Miss Elsie McLeod from Hale Street were in charge of supper and other picnic arrangements, and with capable helpers handled all details so successfully that affairs went off without a hitch, and those who attended declared themselves more than satisfied with the success of the outing.

HARDWARE MEN ENJOY OUTING

1,000, Including Relatives and Friends, Take Part in Program.

When London's retail hardware men get together to put anything over success is always the result. Their seventh annual picnic at Springbank Park Wednesday afternoon was not an exception. Almost 1,000 hardware men, their relatives and friends journeyed to the city playground for the event. And the weather man was indeed kind. The program was one of the best carried out this year by any group of picnickers.

Perhaps the feature of the outing was the softball game between the married and the single men. Although a total of 46 runs were earned during the game the playing was by no means slow. Many fast plays featured every inning.

Until the final frame the married men had the lead. The single men outwitted them before the game was called, overcoming their lead and adding two more runs to put the victory on ice.

Exhibit Curves.

The opposing pitchers, Tom Purdom and E. K. Lewis, exhibited some curves and drops never seen on a ball diamond before. W. B. Gillespie was a safe and sane umpire and was able to please both sides. Under Charlie Craig the single men walked away with the tug-of-war honors.

Feeding the monkeys was the most interesting events on the program. The men were the monkeys and their lady friends were required to throw pieces of gum into their mouths. The "monkey" having the greatest number of pieces at the end of a given time was awarded first prize. The winners were Howard Crummer, Russell Beatty, Charlie Craig.

The elopement race provided much excitement. Mr. Westman and Miss O'Dell were the winners in this event.

The Races.

The winners in other events were:

During the afternoon refreshments were supplied to everyone, candy, peanuts, ice cream cones and bananas being supplied to the children.

The First Hussars Band rendered an enjoyable musical program.

VICTORIA LODGE PICNICS.

The annual picnic of Victoria Lodge, No. 120, Ladies Auxiliary of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, at Springbank, was one of the most successful outings held at the park this year, and was attended by more than 400 members and their friends.

TOMORROW'S DOINGS.

FRIDAY—London Motor Club holds annual outing for Orphanage kiddies.

C. P. R. employees' picnic at Springbank.

BANK CLEARINGS for the past week were $2,541,300, in contrast to the clearings for the corresponding week of 1921, $2,342,209.

NO. 3, THE RECTORY STREET CORPS of the Salvation Army, held their annual picnic at Springbank, Wednesday. Ball games, with a program of races and contests, featured the event.

AMONGST OTHER large picnics which are scheduled for Port Stanley Saturday is that of the London Soap Company, Limited. Committees are preparing a program of sports and games which they believe will establish a record for enjoyment and success.

AS THE REPRESENTATIVE of the London Public Utilities Commission, A. O. Hunt, acting general manager of that body, attends the formal opening of the Galt hydro building Friday. As Jared Vining, chairman, leaves this week for a month's holidays, it is unlikely that a special session of that body will be held until the last week in August at the earliest.

DR. W. S. DOWNHAM, medical officer of health, reports that not one case of scarlet fever or diphtheria has been detected in London since last Friday, and he declares it to be an enviable record for this city. "Aside from a few cases of chickenpox, London has had no new cases of communicable diseases reported this week," said the medical officer of health, Thursday morning.

SOME LONDON motorists believe there should be a time limit each day for serving summonses. One man charged with failing to have three lighted lamps on his auto between the hours of dusk and dawn, thought the constables came to his house too late at night. "Is it the custom of constables to deliver summonses at 10:30 o'clock at night, rousing a person out of a sound sleep, with a series of rings and rappings?" he asked.

DR. GEORGE W. KERBY, president of the Mount Royal College, Calgary, is to be the speaker at Friday's Kiwanis luncheon meeting. Dr. Kerby enjoys a widespread reputation as an orator, and it is with great interest that Kiwanians look forward to his noon address. The Boys' Band from Shawbridge is to provide the musical program at the meeting. For the ten days following they will visit the Kiwanis summer camp, which is now in full swing at Sage's farm.

COUNTY POLICE CONTINUE WAR AGAINST SPEEDERS

Claim Long List of Summons Still Await Distribution.

Appearing by proxy befor Squire W. H. Chittick in county police court, Wednesday afternoon, a prominent member of the Kent County Motor Club was assessed $13.50 for speeding.

He was represented by C. E. Bernard, secretary of the London Motor Club, while the charge was preferred by one of the provincial motorcycle squad who have been operating in this district during the past two weeks.

In the meanwhile, the general campaign against speeding and reckless driving continues unabated, with both the county and provincial authorities participating. A long list of offenders still await to be tried, while the county constables Thursday morning revealed another list of similar proportions, intimating that there are dozens of motorists yet to be summoned.

The indications are that sessions in the Midlesex County police court will be a daily feature throughout the summer. The police are adhering strictly to their policy outlined early in the spring.

ACADIA SUGAR REFINING COMPANY REORGANIZES

Halifax, July 26.—A reorganization of the Acadia Sugar Refining Company, Limited, involving a reduction in capital of one million dollars and the provision of one million dollars working fund, was decided on at an extraordinary meeting of the shareholders following the annual general meeting here yesterday. The plan involves the surrender and cancellation by the shareholders of their present holdings, and the subscription by them of mortgage debentures to the extent of 20 per cent of their present holdings, the mortgage debentures not to exceed one million dollars.

AVERS SPRINGBANK FREE FROM LIQUOR

George Tustin Denies Allegations of Bootlegging at Amusement Park.

There is nothing wrong at Springbank Park, which is a credit to the city, according to George Tustin, who in company with Arthur Palmer, until Wednesday provincial officer for this district, has been more or less conversant with conditions down the river this summer.

Touching upon the recent suggestion that the civic breathing space was fast becoming a mecca for bootleggers and their associates, Mr. Tustin stated that during the several visits that he conducted there with Officer Palmer they noted nothing out of order.

"I speak of both sides of the railway tracks," he stated, "in the park proper and in the Springbank Amusement Park across from the pavilion. As far as the provincial police are concerned, I am confident that they have no cause for complaint. As a matter of fact I don't believe that we noticed any promiscuous drinking either in the amusement park or in the vicinity."

"The park in my opinion is well policed, two constables being in charge. I should say that it would be almost impossible to make a row without being interfered with. Springbank Park should be boosted. It is the finest resort of its kind in this part of the country."

SEEK ADVICE ON SALARIES FROM CITY SCHOOL BOARD

Educational Bodies Throughout the Province Follow Lead of London.

As school boards throughout the province undertake to revise their respective schedules for teachers, W. A. Tanner, secretary of the London board of education, continues to receive requests from them for a copy of the local readjusted scale and all data concerning the situation here.

It is quite evident that a favorable impression has gone abroad respecting the manner in which the teachers and trustees in this city settled their salary difficulties within the past few months, and the secretary explains that, after dispatching the material requested he has received more than one letter of congratulation for the trustees from outside points.

The secretary accedes to all requests with a copy of all data that was specially prepared by him earlier in the year, dealing with the situation in all the principal centers of Ontario. This was employed to great effect and with seeming satisfactory results by the salary committee of the board when the local salaries were adjusted.

PLAN TO CONTINUE MAIL SERVICE WITHOUT BREAK

Postal Authorities Arrange to Overcome Train Cancellation on Guelph Route.

Arrangements are being made at the district postal superintendent's office here to have mail service between London and Toronto, through Guelph, continue with its present regularity, after Sunday next, when one mail train on that route will be discontinued owing to the coal shortage.

The mail for that train will likely be carried after July 30, on the train which will leave Toronto daily at 6:30 a.m. Though no serious interference has yet been met with through train cancellations, either in effect or about to be put into effect, by the mail authorities, yet the postal superintendent's department is in receipt of information concerning what will happen if the present crisis continues, and they state from that information the outlook is bad if the coal shortage continues.

SQUIRE PROCEEDS WITH THEFT CASE

Concluding the evidence at 2:30 p.m., Squire Chittick committed Elliott for trial. He will appear, it is understood later in the afternoon before His Honor Judge Talbot Macbeth.

Commenced in the Midlesex County court Thursday morning, the case of the Crown vs. Russell Elliott, an Indian resident of the Cape Croker district, is still proceeding with Squire W. H. Chitick on the bench.

Elliott, who was attending the Mt. Elgin Institute at the Muncey reservation, Caradoc Township, is charged with theft of a wrist watch from a resident of that locality.

He was apprehended by the police of Wiarton at the request of the Middlesex authorities, and Constable Willam Fifield brought the prisoner to the city.

Denies Provincial Officers Assured Game Operators Of Non-Interference

Questioned Thursday, George Tustin, provincial humane officer, issued an unqualified statement with reference to the operation of the so-called games of chance or skill at Springbank Park, declaring positively that he did not give assurance to any of the operators in question that they were acting within the law, and "to go ahead and give away cash prizes."

While county police were investigating certain booths at the park they were informed that the operator under question had declared that "he was all right, as 'provincial officers had assured him he was not breaking the law.'"

The county authorities stated that if such conversation had taken place it was nothing but gross interference on the part of the provincial officers, said to have been in attendance on the grounds.

Officer Tustin, who has been associated with Provincial Officer Arthur Palmer in a number of recent cases throughout the district, emphatically denies on their behalf that they interested themselves in this instance reported.

Police Fail To Find Mystery Man Lurking In Shadows of Tombstones

While none of them has as yet been apprehended by the police, the district surrounding London would appear to be literally swarming with "wild men with long, flowing beards," who remain out of sight during the daytime and come out only at night to haunt convenient graveyards.

This is the case, if one desires to place any credence in every report that drifts in to the Middlesex County court house. Early in the week, Constable Alex. Shaver was requested to investigate the report of a strange individual who was supposed to be lurking nightly in the shadows of the tombstones in a cemetery not far distant from that officer's home.

The man disappeared evidently, and Wednesday night, Special Officer Arthur Reynolds of Lambeth, responding to a similar report journeyed out to Woodland Cemetery about 10 p.m., and prowled around in that vicinity until near midnight without noting anything of a strange nature.

CLAIMS ALCOHOL WAS USED FOR RUBBING SHOULDERS

James Pearce Admits Being Intoxicated, But Denies Having Beverage in Pocket.

James Pearce was found in an intoxicated condition on the West London breakwater, with a bottle of rubbing alcohol in his possession, by Constable William Snell Wednesday night.

According to the officer, Pearce pleaded that a drop be saved for the morning.

Pearce denies he made such a statement, and said he would not drink the contents of the bottle.

"It's poison, your worship," he stated in police court Thursday. "Anybody else can drink it, but I won't."

Chief Birrell declared Pearce would drink anything.

"Well, I wouldn't drink that. I use it to rub my shoulders. You can buy that stuff in a drug store without a prescription. I was intoxicated but I didn't get drunk on that stuff."

Judgment was reserved by Deputy Magistrate Bartlett until Monday, and Pearce remanded until that date.

Meanwhile, Chief Birrell is investigating Pearce's story of getting alcohol without a prescription, and is also having his men obtain Pearce's record during the past five years.

PURCHASE LARGE SITE IN WINDSOR

Dodge Brothers To Erect Plant For Canadian Trade.

Windsor, July 27.—By Canadian Press—Dodge Brothers, automobile manufacturers, Hamtramck, Detroit, have purchased a large factory site in Windsor and will erect a large plant here to care for their Canadian and possibly their export trade.

M. G. Campbell, general manager of the Kelsey Wheel Company, was the owner of the property which Dodge Brothers have secured. There is seven and a half acres in the piece which faces on Janette street, with Ellis, Tecumseh road and the C. P. R. as boundaries.

The site is particularly well adapted for manufacturing and shipping, the main line of the C. P. R. out of the city practically cutting off half an acre of what would otherwise be an eight-acre plot. Mr. Campbell purchased the property four years ago. It is vacant.

On the books of the assessment commissioner the property is assessed in two parcels, the largest being 5½ acres, and the total assessment value $7,625.

While no official announcement of the Dodge plans for the immediate future are available, owing to the absence of all but one of their high officials from the city, and he cannot be connected with, it will be welcome news to Windsor that the oft and long-neard rumors that this big concern was coming here, has now assumed definite shape.

It has been known for some time that the Dodge concern was looking for a site in Windsor, and not long ago it was said they were divided between two properties, that of Mr. Campbell and the Yawkey farm at Sandwich. However, not long ago P. J. England put the quietus on the rumor connecting the Yawkey property with these negotiations, and the consummation of the deal for the Campbell property quickly followed.

ONLY HALF SUPPLY OF COAL SECURED FOR CITY SCHOOLS

Board of Education Trusting That Strike Will End Before Fall Term Commences.

Although three local coal dealers are endeavoring to fulfil their contracts with the London Board of Education, W. A. Tanner, secretary of that body, reports that, as near as can be estimated, but half of the winter's supply of coal for the public schools is in the bins.

While one of the dealers explained a week ago that three car loads destined for the city schools was seized by the railroad before the consignment reached the Canadian border, the secretary states that several tons have since been placed by the same firm.

Board of education officials, while pointing out that no real difficulty will confront them if the coal is received before winter sets in, are trusting that the strike will soon terminate, in view of the fact that it will be much more difficult to keep the schools free from dust and dirt in the fall when they are occupied, and this delay upsets their summer clean-up program.

The executive council were commissioned to confer with the attorney-general early regarding early closing.

TWO THOUSAND EMPLOYEES OF C. P. R. AT SPRINGBANK

Railwaymen Between Toronto and Windsor Gather in London for Annual Picnic.

Two thousand employees of the C. P. R., comprising men from all points in the district between Toronto and Windsor, left London at noon Thursday by special cars for Springbank to celebrate their annual picnic.

Scores of those in attendance are visiting Springbank for the first time, and officials in charge of affair have spared no pains to make the first impression of London's popular amusement park both lasting and favorable.

Bands are in attendance, and the program of sports has been prepared with the object of interesting crowds of spectators, as well as providing an excellent brand of amusement for the participants.

CONVICTS 3 UNDER PHARMACY ACT

Hamilton, July 27.—In police court this morning three convictions were made under the Ontario pharmacy act, for the first time. Inspector Boyd charged Woolworth's, Limited, Miss Millie Taylor, a clerk in that store, and Miss Ida Lakeman, a clerk in the Metropolitan Stores, with contravention of the act. A fine of $20 was imposed in each case. The inspector testified that he purchased from Miss Taylor a bottle, said to contain peroxide, but which had carbolic acid as one of its ingredients. Robert W. McLarty, manufacturer of the article sold, contended that it was called hy-oxygen, and was a patent medicine.

RATEPAYERS MEETING TAX OBLIGATIONS PROMPTLY

Majority of Second Instalments Due Aug. 1 Coming in This Week.

Ratepayers of London are meeting their tax obligations promptly this year according to City Treasurer James Bell, who reports that the majority of the second installment of taxes due Aug. 1 is coming into his office this week.

"Those citizens who pay their second installment by Aug. 1 save a straight 5 per cent," said Mr. Bell Thursday. "That does not mean 5 per cent for the year, but 5 per cent of the installment. That accounts for the fact that they are paying up promptly.

"Checks are also coming in now because the electors have heeded the advice to date them prior to Aug. 1, and thereby save the new government stamp tax, effective on that date," concluded the city treasurer.

JOHN BLACK.

The death of John Black, a Grand Trunk Railway employee, of Maitland street, took place Wednesday night. Two daughters, May and Jennie, survive. The funeral will be held from his late residence, Friday afternoon. Services will be conducted at 2:30 o'clock by Rev. Canon C. R. Gunne of Christ Church. Interment will be made at Woodland Cemetery.

ASKS CONTRACTS OF CITY TEACHERS

Secretary Requests Agreement and Medical Certificate From Prospective Tutors.

Informing them that before the schools reopen September next, they will have to sign agreements and present medical certificates, W. A. Tanner, secretary of the board of education, has mailed notices to all teachers who have been recently transferred or have been added to the London teaching staff.

The secretary explains that as yet he is not quite sure respecting the rules supposedly laid down in former years by the board of trustees as to a medical officer.

He is under the impression, however, that an arrangement was made several years ago whereby Dr. Edwin Seaborn examined all teachers at an expense to the city. Should the teachers prefer to bring a certificate from another physician, probably their family doctor, they will have to pay for the same themselves.

Secretary Tanner states that this was the custom for many years, and he does not believe that it has been since changed. He intends to delve back in the records, he explains, and verify the report, however.

The teachers are allowed until the last week in August in which to tender their certificates and sign their applications, as a number of them are attending special courses at outside points.

Although the provincial department insists that these contracts be signed by the applicants for positions, it was revealed at the last meeting of the board, much to the evident surprise of the trustees, that the practice had been automatically abandoned in London for a considerable period past.

COAL STRIKE MAY HAVE SEQUEL HERE

The present coal strike in the United States may have a sequel in London next winter, if certain public institutions are unable to buy fuel supplies. A canvass of these institutions reveals that in most cases where they are under the direction of civic bodies coal has already been obtained; but in the case of government buildings little has been p'aced in the bins.

Western University has contracted for its supply, and some has already been placed. Customs house and postoffice are without supplies, and other government offices are in a similar plight.

Householders are for the most part lacking sufficient stock for their winter needs.

SAYS CLINKERS DUMPED ONLY ON CITY PROPERTY

Engineer Brazier Preparing Plans for Breakwater to Protect Front Street.

Denial of the charge made by Raymond Smith that city employees are disregarding the protests of Front street residents by dumping clinkers from the municipal incinerator along the north bank of the river in the rear of Victoria Hospital, thereby endangering their homes, was made by City Engineer H. A. Brazier Thursday morning.

"We are dumping clinkers absolutely on our own city property," said the city engineer in reference to the published charge. "Not one ounce of them is going into the river or likely to do so. The only dumping going on at the point to which Mr. Smith refers is to ballast up our light railway tracks over which the clinkers are carried."

Mr. Brazier stated that, in accordance with the wishes of the Front street ratepayers and following instructions issued by No. 2 committee of the city council, he is preparing plans and estimates on the cost of providing a breakwater to protect Front street property from flooding. These plans will be submitted to No. 2 committee, which meets next Tuesday night.

WILL BUILD ADDITION TO CHURCH IN EAST LONDON

St. Patrick's Congregation Plan to Expend $13,000 on Alterations.

Additions to St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church on Dundas street east are being commenced this week and the estimated cost involved is $13,000. Building Inspector A. M. Piper issued a permit for this purpose Wednesday, and the addition will be one story in height, and of frame construction.

Building permits issued in London this month now total 138, and involve a sum amounting to $249,325. They include the following: E. W. McMurray, for a two-story brick veneer dwelling, costing $5,200; H. Smith, for a 1½ story brick veneer dwelling on Tecumseh avenue, to cost $5,200; Mrs. J. B. McKillop, for a 1½ story stucco residence on Hellmuth avenue, to be erected at a cost of $4,300; and Frederick Young, for a 1½ story brick veneer house on Briscoe street, to cost $3,500.

Jailer Happy; Has Now Good Staff Of Workmen

AS there is now no lack of workmen confined at the Middlesex county jail, Governor Bryon Dawson seriously contemplates placing them at work.

While "things have been somewhat quiet" within the past two days the governor has 17 prisoners at his disposal as against a quartet of two weeks ago.

Contractors have practically completed the elevation of the prison walls and when they finally depart he will select a crew of capable men from among the inmates and set them to work removing the kitchen floor. He expects that the work will be accomplished quite satisfactorily in this manner.

"HER OWN MONEY" CHARMS AUDIENCE

Percival Vivian Players Present Brilliant Offering at Chautauqua.

Money, as it affects matrimony, was the theme upon which was based the charming play, "Her Own Money," presented by the Percival Vivian Players at the Wednesday night Chautauqua.

Brilliant wit and humor pervaded the entire performance, yet the question around which the plot revolved had depth enough to remove the play from the class of mere comedy.

After living for years independent of anything save the salary earned from her own work, it was to be expected that Mary Alden should not altogether relish the fact that she had to ask her husband for every cent of money. Generous and good-hearted though Lou Alden was, it was Mary's objection to asking him for money which cast the only shadow on her married life. Her scheme for doing away with that shadow, presented as it was by a clever cast, was particularly impressive.

Miss Content Baleoloque introduced an exceptionally vivid and delightful personality into the role of Mary Alden. J. Harry Irvine as Lewis Alden, made of himself a most fascinating sort of husband, devoted to Mary, and for her sake straining every effort to make a success of his business, yet at the same time unable to comprehend Mary's attitude toward the money question.

The Beechers, played by Roberta Bellinger and Arthur Barry, were a couple of the type into whose lives trouble about money had driven a wedge of crossness and petty vexation. Their cantankerous conduct toward each other, the continual strife and meanness in which they were engaged, provided a certain amount of the laughter of the play, and yet, at the same time, it sounded an exceedingly ominous note of warning.

Mary's sister, Mildred Carr, and her fiance, Tommy Hazelton, billed Virginia Odiorne and Buford Armitage, were two charming about-to-weds, who might be expected to gain a sound footing for their own matrimonial ventures by their experiences in connection with the Beechers' tiffs and the Alden financial difficulties.

Will Riefstahl played cleverly the role of Toby, Mary Alden's tireless man-of-all-work.

DENY LARGE SUMS STOLEN FROM MAILS IN LONDON

Postal Officials Consider Report Reflection on Honesty of Employees.

Only very, very small amounts of money, seldom going over $100 a month, and never approaching within the widest stretch of imagination $1,200 a month, as stated in a contemporary report, is stolen from unregistered mail matter in the London district.

Postal authorities are highly indignant concerning the report which alleges that this large sum was extracted from unregistered mail every month in the London district. They consider it a reflection on the honesty of the postal workers of the district, and said so Thursday morning.

The inquiry department of the postal superintendent's office recounted the true facts concerning the looting of mails in this district. Officials said that scarcely one inquiry a month comes from London's largest mail order house concerning mail matter or money gone astray. The inquiry department of the superintendent's office is the one which traces all lost matter or money. Small amounts, it is true, they state are sometimes pilfered from the mails, but these are neglible.

In many cases people make inquiries for money which was never even inclosed in their envelopes, and the tracing of the case eventually reveals it.

Adjournment In O. T. A. Case Allows Accused Time To Prepare Defense

As a result of a police raid, Nathan Goldberg and Isaac Hershore, of Clarence street, were charged in police court Thursday morning with keeping liquor for sale.

John McEvoy, counsel for the defence, stated he was unable to proceed with the case Thursday when the crown produced a search warrant, claiming it forced him to change his defence, as he would be required to prove that the liquor which was found in the house was obtained legally.

Acting Crown Attorney A. R. Douglas protested strenuously against an adjournment, declaring it only meant the introduction of new evidence.

However, Deputy Magistrate P. H. Bartlett decided in favor of the adjournment, and counsel agreed on Saturday, August 5 as the trial date.

LOATH TO QUIT AS TRUSTEES

Several of Board Oppose Resigning Over Debentures Issue.

Chairman Udy Not Taking Trustee Wright's Statement Seriously.

Admitting that he had "heard something about it," Trustee A. N. Udy, chairman of No. 1 committee of the board of education, explained Thursday that he did not regard Trustee J. B. Wright seriously in his statement that he was all ready to resign from that body in the event of the city council rejecting their recent school building proposal.

"I thought it was just talk," commented the chairman of No. 1 committee. "I noticed his remarks, but did not view them at all seriously. Personally I am not inclined that way. I do think, however, that it is up to the city council to provide the money for the schools that we have shown are needed."

"We have discharged our duty in that respect. We know what is needed if the aldermen do not. If they should reject our debenture request then the children of the ratepayers must suffer, and I do not think that the public will stand for any further delay. I believe that if the council declines to approve of this, it will force matters to a showdown."

Has Quit Worrying.

Trustee A. E. Silverwood, chairman of No. 2 committee, adopts the attitude of "not crossing any bridges until he comes to them." He is past reaching out for trouble, he explains, and has quit worrying as to what the future may bring forth, or indeed what a good deal of the present may be for that matter. He intimates, nevertheless, that he is prepared for action of some description when the time is ripe.

As chairman of the board, Trustee Edwin Smith is striving to tread with caution so as to avoid any controversies, which are quite easily precipitated, as he points out, particularly in hot weather. While he is absolutely confident that Mayor Wilson and his associates will quite readily approve of the recent building program, he is not prepared, if they choose otherwise, to head the trustees in a general walkout as advocated by Trustee Wright. He favors allowing events to pursue their natural course, and the electors can voice their opinion next election.

"I want to avoid a discussion," Chairman Smith declared. "When the time comes I will present the case squarely to the council. It is up to them. We will have then accomplished our duty. We can do no more."

Opposed To Resigning.

While expressing the belief that it would be inexpedient to quit the board of education at this time of the year, School Trustee Thomas Rowe, the dean of that body, declared Thursday morning that despite the fact that he has another year yet to serve, he would be quite willing to resign next December and go to the people for a mandate in the event that the school building program became an issue between Mayor Cameron Wilson and the trustees.

"I don't suppose that Trustee J. B. Wright gives two hoots whether he sits on the board of education or not," Trustee Rowe asserted. "As far as that goes, I don't myself, but as long as I am there I want to be honest in my convictions.

"What would the electors think if (and by the same token we would have the same right) we attended city council meetings and commenced to heckle the mayor and his aldermen as to their paving or sewer programs. We have as much right to criticize them, I think.

"I have always maintained and do yet, that we should follow the advice of our school inspector and those whose buiness it is to make a study of this situation, and not to listen to those, like the members of the city council, for instance, who make but a casual survey of the educational needs of the city.

"Where is this civic commission of the mayor's that we heard so much about?" questioned Trustee Rowe in conclusion, as he warned that if the council rejects the new building program the blame for the lack of educational facilities in Southeast London must rest upon the shoulders of Mayor Wilson and associates and not the school trustees.

POLICE HAVE in their possession a pair of side curtains for an auto, a robe and a quantity of dress goods found in various parts of the city. They are seeking the owners.

That Cattle Embargo.

THE BRITISH House of Commons voted on the taking down of the embargo against Canadian cattle. This does not mean that Canadian cattle will be immediately admitted to the British market, as it may be some months before the necessary legislation is finally passed.

The discussion in the British house took many queer turns, and the final vote of 247 to 171 showed that there is still quite a strong feeling against admitting Canadian cattle.

One plea came up that proved what many Canadians had long suspected, viz., that much of the opposition to removing the embargo came from the agricultural interests of the old country, which looked upon the embargo as about as fine a piece of protective legislation as could possibly be secured.

The debate in the House of Commons forced this section out in the open.

Canada has no objection to British agricultural interests seeking protection, but Canada does object that for so long they sought it under the guise of keeping up an embargo against a disease which did not exist.

The removal of the barrier to Canadian cattle will not have an immediate effect. Western Canada produces a large number of lean cattle. It should be possible to ship these to the old country for fattening purposes. Against such a move the freight rates stand as a barrier. Men in the business claim they are too high to make the trade profitable. Canada has in some years shipped a lot of live cattle to the United States markets, but a tariff of 2 cents a pound against them now is too great a handicap. In 1914 206,446 head went to United States; in 1915, 183,672 head. In 1919, 532,309 went across the line. That trade is now impossible, and the opening of a market in Britain is acceptable.

It should also help to bring the British meat market back to normal by giving an adequate supply of home-killed beef. In 1904 80 per cent of the beef consumed in Britain was home-killed. In 1920 only 61.52 per cent was home-killed. Canadian stores, finished in Britain, should help save the British consumer from the clutches of the frozen beef industry of other countries.

Canada will believe in the good faith and purpose of the British authorities when the embargo is finally lifted. It has unjustly placed and held against Canadian cattle since 1896.

Toronto Bombards Ottawa.

TORONTO HAS a brand-new idea, and is going to put a set of wheels on it and get it going at once. Toronto has a fine new station, in fact, has had it for some years. It's a whole block long, looks the part, and everything. The only drawback is that the railroads are apparently unaware of its existence or something, for it is a fact that not a single engine driver has ever steered his locomotive into the premises yet. No person has ever run to catch a train there, and folks in Toronto as naturally mightily disappointed.

So they are organizing a letter-writing campaign in Toronto, and HON. W. C. KENNEDY, minister of railways, is to be so bombarded with Toronto letters that he won't be able to get out of his office to see the folks in Windsor over the week-end.

The burden of these letters will be that the new place be used as a station and not as an ornament. So now for the next day or two Toronto folks will be busy wording and building soul-stirring letters, and the name of HON. W. C. KENNEDY, Ottawa, will be written more times than many of the senders ever mark of a Grit vote.

May the Toronto folks succeed. HON. CHARLES MURPHY approves of the plan, no doubt, as it will mean an increased sale of postage stamps, and this is good for his department.

London Building Homes.

DAILY REPORTS issued from the office of BUILDING INSPECTOR A. M. PIPER, show that construction work is proceeding in London with a rush this year. Last month the number of permits issued since January 1 surpassed any previous six months in the city's history, but failed to create a record for the total estimated cost by a few thousand dollars.

This month 120 building permits have been issued by INSPECTOR PIPER, which is a greater number than in July, 1921. However, the record number of building permits granted in London during July was made in 1914, when 157 were written.

With almost a week more to go the building inspector has predicted that his permit book will show that the record of 1914 has been relegated to the background by this month's contracting activity. Building figures for this month now total $217,450, and this amount brings the year's total beyond the million and a half mark.

Although these statistics may appear as so many figures to the average citizen, they should be an object of interest because they are significant of a prosperous London. Aside from the banner building year of 1914, the figures for 1922 are the best in the contracting business in this city.

They indicate the gradual recovery from the war slump in building activity, and should improve to a greater extent next year. A feature in the type of building permits issued this year is the fact that the majority are for residences, indicating that the workingman, upon whom the success of any municipality depends, is seizing the opportunity presented in London to own his own home.

This factor explains the report that although more permits have been issued this year than in any previous one here, the total cost of construction is slightly below the record. Other years saw fewer permits, but greater building undertakings, such as construction of factories.

Now comes the building of homes in the wake of these new industries, which will house the employees, who have become placed in a position to take on the responsibilities of erecting them.

London's building figures bid fair to constitute a record this year, looking at the situation from every angle, and they augur well for the business stability and general all-round prosperity of the Forest City.

Cleaning Out Rats.

A FEW WEEKS ago a resident of a town north of London found that rats were coming to his place. In a letter to this paper he states that he previously had no trouble with rats, so he took occasion to watch closely to see where they were coming from. His investigations led him to a barn of a neighbor's that backed on his property. He went to the neighbor and stated the case, suggesting that they should get together and clear out the rats. The neighbor was willing, and so they went to work one afternoon to see where the rats lived around the barn. Lifting a half dozen boards from the floor soon made it clear that there was a regular "rattery" under there, and it was a good enough breeding place to supply the whole town with rats. The boards were replaced, and traps and poison of a phosphorus kind were employed to catch and kill as many as possible. It was two days, according to the statement in the letter, before a rat was caught in a trap, and then only after a cage trap had been baited and left open. By the end of a couple of days the rats had become used to feeding in this trap—then the door was set and new bait put in, toasted cheese and fried bacon being used. The next morning there were eleven rats in the trap. This was kept up for a few days with varying success, and then it was determined to go ahead and clean up the place. The flooring was removed, and a couple of mongrel dogs brought into the barn. Many of the pests escaped, but a number were killed with clubs and by the dogs. The whole ground was dug up where their burrows had been, the outside of the barn fixed so there would be no entrance. Then the floor was relaid and cleaned thoroughly and sprinkled with chloride of lime. Since then there has not been a rat seen around the premises. The place is clean, and rats do not appreciate cleanliness.

The average householder does not appreciate the damage caused by rats. Men who study the ravages of the rat would just as leave have as many snakes around their property. Rats are among the greatest disease carriers of the world. They thrive on filth and decayed matter. One authority claims there are as many rats in the United States as there are people, and that their ravages would undo the work of 200,000 people. The monetary loss caused by rats in that country is placed at $200,000,000 per annum. If a pair of brown rats were allowed to multiply at the average rate, with the sexes equally divided, and with no death rate, they would in three years produce 3,900,000 rats. Fortunately, the death rate is high among rats, or the country would be overrun with them.

Traps and poison are among the best ways to get rid of rats, as the average house cat is useless in dealing with a rat, and very few dogs will bother with them. Above all, keep the premises clean. Take away the food from a rat, take away the dirt that he likes, keep garbage well covered, and your chances are very fair for having no rats. If they appear around your premises get after them. They are an undesirable pest, and a danger in every sense of the word.

Not Learning Trades.

ARE THERE many boys learning their trades as carpenters and bricklayers? JOHN DOGGETT, secretary of the District Building Trades Council, in Toronto, claims there is a shortage of apprentices. He gives two reasons: (1) that many contractors do not want to be bothered with apprentices, and (2) that the fathers and mothers of boys do not want them to go into these trades because there are long periods of unemployment.

It is a fact that in this country, due to seasonal conditions, we have long periods when men in the building trades have no work at their trades. It means, perhaps, that the money earned in nine months has to be sufficient to keep the family for twelve months, and for that reason wages must be higher than in trades that have a better average in the matter of days employed per year.

The danger in a father not wanting his son to learn the trade he has followed because there are drawbacks, is that the son may learn no trade at all, and go out into the world with that poor qualification known as a handy man.

The man in the metal working trades also stops to reason whether he shall put his boy at his old trade. He has seen the whole industrial field change—the automatic machine take the place of the skilled mechanic—the unskilled machine tender making more money than the trained machinist, and he wonders if it's worth while to have his son spend four years or so learning a trade under these conditions, when in after years he will have a hard time selling his knowledge for a figure in keeping with the years he has spent securing the training.

The effect of a boy learning a trade is good—gives him an idea of discipline and of routine, teaches him to think and appreciate the fact that only by production can he earn money. He is better fitted for any line of work by reason of having this training. It is a fact, though, that more care has to be exercised in the choice of a trade than in former years. The entire industrial field is changing; automatics are crowding out the old workers; mass production takes the place of the man who was skilled at turning out a single piece of work on a lathe or planer. Everything is tuned up for quantity output at the lowest cost. The young man who wants to enter this field has got to think seriously of how he is going to apply his special knowledge and just where he is going to fit in when he enters the changed and changing industrial field.

LITTLE 'TISERS

Welsh coal is like a lot of other things; when folks want it the price goes up.

One authority has just made the startling discovery that poor people work hardest. They have to.

New York says skirts are to be three inches longer this fall. Even so, they will still be a long way from hitting the sod.

United States tariff makers are a little slow at realizing that if they are not going to let Canada sell in their market, the chances are that Canada is not going to do much buying there either.

One very sober citizen, commenting on a Vancouver man discovering twin suns, states that if we had government-controlled liquor shops down here we'd be able to make similar or even more startling discoveries.

Two men got work on a farm near London, picking fruit. At the end of the second day one quit because he couldn't make enough money. The other chap picked harder, doubled his production and wages. No comment is made because none is needed.

The Chatham Planet has done a dangerous thing, viz., plunge deeply and seriously in politics in dog days, and here is part of what it hatched: "In Ontario there is to be a Progressive-Liberal party under HON. E. C. DRURY, a Liberal partisan; in Ottawa a Liberal-Progressive party under HON. W. L. MACKENZIE KING and HON. T. A. CRERAR, Liberal partisans. After the election the name 'Progressive' will be forgotten in the domination of the machine Liberals."

A few days ago THE ADVERTISER expressed the view that the HANNA order, which forbids employees of the National roads running for political office, was wrong and worked an injustice on a large number of capable men. The Ottawa Citizen, referring to the same matter, concludes: "MR. HANNA'S order is plainly in need of modification. It is no protection against political interference, but it is rather calculated to produce labor unrest where confidence between wage-earners and salaried administrators is much needed."

NO. 277—PICKING A COOK.

Ordinarily you would pick a cook either by asking questions to see how much the applicant knows about cooking, as a result of a practical demonstration, or on the basis of recommendations.

And there is no doubt that this is the most practical way of doing it.

Nevertheless, if you wish, you can get a bit of help from characterology.

There may be cooks who cook well by rule, without possessing in themselves any particularly well-developed sense of taste and appreciation of good dishes. But as a general thing the best cooks are those who themselves enjoy good eating.

And this ability to appreciate food, in short, a refined and sensitive palate, is always accompanied by a good development in a certain part of the brain, which, in turn, affects the shape of a certain part of the head, and may be seen by anybody who chooses to look for it.

This spot is immediately in front of where the upper front part of the ear joins the head. It is between the temple and the ear. You will do well to discount the claims of the applicant who has a hollow space or slight depression here.

TRAINING YOUNGSTERS.

Some folks they seem to know a lot on how the youngsters should be trained, and how they should be jawed for this and other times they should be caned.

They point out how it's easy stuff to spoil a youngster when he's small, they reckon they should whack 'em hard until they open up and bawl.

Ah, yes, I listen to these folks and harken to the things they'd do, and how they'd take those kids of mine and beat 'em till they're black and blue.

There be some times that I get mad, they make my temper bad and wild, the only scripture that they know is spare the rod and spoil the child.

Of course, some times are sure to come when we must take this risin' race and lay 'em out upon the knee and whack 'em on the proper place.

But sometimes spankin's hard to give, it kind of cuts us through and through, to lick for pranks not half as bad as what we youngsters used to do.

LEARN A WORD EVERY DAY

TODAY'S word is CULL.

It's pronounced kul, with a short u.

It means—to separate, select or pick out.

It is traceable from the Latin "colligere" to the French "cueiller," meaning to gather, pluck or pick, and to the Middle English "cullen."

It's used like this: "His mind was filled with thoughts culled from memory's garden."

25 YEARS AGO TODAY

HERE WE HAVE ITEMS OF LOCAL AND DISTRICT INTEREST AS RECORDED IN THE ADVERTISER OF 1897.

JULY 27, 1897.

A new organization has been added to the already large list of associations of the Forest City, and one, too, that rings with enthusiasm. It is the Veterans of 1885 Association.

The following officers were elected unanimously: Major A. M. Smith, president; Wm. Wanless, first vice-president; Major Beattie, second vice-president; A. G. Chisholm, secretary; J. K. H. Pope, treasurer. The executive commitee consists of the officers-elect and Capt. John Graham, Col. Gartshore and Robt. Ironside.

The Western Fair grounds are full of activity. Work started yesterday on the race track. A three-inch dressing of clay loam is being spread on it, and experts say it will be the best half-mile track in Canada when completed.

Mr. James H. Brown is superintending the construction, and to his untiring efforts much of the splendid progress is due.

A party of London citizens left today on a trip up the Mackinac: Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Elliot, Mr. and Mrs. Westervelt and daughter, Miss Gertrude Buttrey, Miss Nellie Morris and Miss McDougal.

A baseball match will be played at the grocers' picnic, Queen's Park, tomorrow, at 11 a.m., between the wholesale and retail grocers. The following are the players and their positions:

DR. BISHOP'S ADVICE

SUNBURN AND FRECKLES

BY DR. R. H. BISHOP.

LATELY I have been receiving a number of letters asking how sunburn, tan and freckles may be removed easily and inexpensively.

Personally, I like to see freckles and tan, for they are signs of outdoor activity and consequently good health.

But if you must try to remove them, do not use unknown brands of skin creams and lotions. Some of these cosmetics contain substances harmful to the skin.

Cosmetics, as ordinarily used, tend to clog the pores or irritate the skin and thus are likely to interfere with the normal healthy action of that organ.

Instead of hiding blemishes of the skin it is much better to remove these blemishes by improving the texture of the skin. A simple remedy is bathing the face in a lotion of lime water. Each application not only improves the skin but aids greatly in bringing about a permanent change.

For cleansing the skin of the face or forehead and removing dried, dead skin particles, a simple cold cream made of the following materials is recommended:

One ounce of spermaceti, one ounce of white wax, five ounces of oil of sweet almonds, one and a half ounces of rosewater and 30 grains of chlorate of potash.

As the old skin is gradually carried away by this method, unsightly blemishes such as red blotches, tan places, "liverspots" and sunburn will disappear gradually and harmlessly.

The BOOKSHELF

EDITED BY CAB

THE LAURENTIANS. By T. Morris Longstreth. New York: The Century Co., Publishers. $3.50.

A FEW hours north by train from Montreal and the traveler is conveyed into the region of Laurentian Mountains, a formation which covers geologically some 2,000,000 square miles, and with the St. Lawrence River behind it "discloses an unobstructed out-path to the Pole."

Yet so little is this region generally known that the name Laurentians on a book cover—or so it may be judged by the case of the present reviewer, who can hardly be a unique example of ignorance—may suggest to many persons who ought to know better that the book is about a family rather than about a place.

Largely an unexplored wilderness, the known parts of it keep much of the feeling and color of the time when France ruled Canada. The "habitant," speaking what has been called a patois, or degenerate form of standard speech, but is really a genuine old French which has been somewhat modified by Anglicisms and a few Indian and Canadian words, lives in the villages and on the isolated farms.

In the untouched wilderness the Indians continue many of the ways of their long ago progenitors, modified by three centuries of acquaintance with the Hudson's Bay Company. As for three centuries past, early each summer the hunters, with squaws, children and dogs, come out of the woods, and camp about the company's post, bringing furs for barter, and in the Moon When the Caribou Horns Cast Their Moss they go back again. As on pages 191 and 192 it is described by Mr. Longstreth. Here, too, as (not surprisingly) none will escape who read the jacket of this entertaining book, is the home of the original Maria Chapdelaine at Peribonka. Mr. Longstreth visited it, met and talked with Maria. But the present reviewer is as yet personally unacquainted with Maria. But the present reviewer is as yet personally unacquainted with Maria's novel, and is more interested in the quaint and touching optimism of the notice posted in the nearby forest to prevent fires:

Arretez un instant!
Jeter des allumettes enflammees
Ou laisser des feux allumes,
Est-ce prudent?

It contributes, no doubt, to the charm, and certainly determines the character of "The Laurentians," that the author followed no rigidly predetermined itinerary, took places and persons as he found them.

His original intention was for company, but his fellow-adventurer was unable to join him at the last moment. He went on by himself. His later judgment of the result may be quoted, for it characterizes the book in its entirety. "The secret of successful travel," he writes, "is not to go from place to place but from person to person. The corrugations of our planet are much alike, and it matters little whether a waterfall be fifty feet higher than the last. But to pass from man to woman, from girl to fellow, each native in his proper riche, meeting them as strangers but leaving them as friends by virtue of some news, some affinity, some hardship, or even some turn of weather shared—this is travel, and on a road where perennial freshness lies. But to travel thus the stern condition exists that one must go alone, face dark arrivals in strange villages, dare unaccompanied distances. Then only will the genius of the neighborhood be apprehended. Then strangerly kindnesses take on a deep significance and one becomes newly aware of humanity, and also learns the peculiar flavor of each environment. So, in the end, the lonely are blessed, for they see the brotherhood of man."

Mr. Longstreth's adventure, of course, did not attempt the 2,000,000 square miles in a single summer. He contented himself with travel in part of what the geological survey at Ottawa calls the Ottawa-St. Lawrence-Saguenay-Height of Land inclosure.

As the adventure, or rather the sequence of adventures, fell out, he gathered material for his travel book in various ways. He fell in with interesting persons, chummed a while here and a while there with men who knew both the life of the wilderness and of great cities; he talked with a poet beside the camp fire, canoed with Indian guides, and journeyed in the air with government airmen engaged in exploration, mapping, and fire prevention. He spent a conversational evening with the factor of the Hudson's Bay Company at Pointe Bleue, and caught ouananiche in the waters of La Grande Decharge. Habitantland welcomed him.

"Not a soul in the village," he writes of one place, "spoke a word of English; not a soul seemed troubled by avarice, or the passage of time. And everyone was bound to entertain me, that curious-minded man who liked to go somewhere instead of living (se reposer) peacefully in one spot.

The time is still to come when tourists will know and throng this part of the continent: when that time has fully arrived, the habitant by force of circumstances may have become less simply and ingenuously friendly to strangers.

CLAIMS RUSSIAN ISSUE CLEARER

Sir Philip Lloyd Greame Believes Hague Parley Brought Settlement Nearer.

Declares Soviet Delegation Made Marked Advance From First Proposals.

LONDON, England, July 26.—Sir Philip Lloyd Greame, head of the British delegation at The Hague conference, reporting on the work of that body to the House of Commons today, expressed the opinion that it had made a long step forward on the path toward a Russian settlement. The next and final step, he added, rested with the Russian government. He denied that the procedure of the conference was in any way forced upon one party by the others, and declared that the only hope of restoring Russia's industry lay in bringing back into it as many of those who built it up as possible.

In the last few days of the conference the Russian delegation had made a marked advance; its first proposals regarding compensation would have left the property in Russia of foreign owners in exactly the same position as before the conference.

It was perfectly clear, said Sir Philip, that there was no basis in the Russian government's plan which would attract private investors or justify foreign governments in pledging credits, and the conference decided that it would be impossible to negotiate further if Russia maintained that attitude. If matters had rested there the conference would still have been of value, as it would have made plain the reasons why an agreement was impossible. But happily, although the conference was unable to recommend any basis of immediate agreement, the final phase did offer real hope of final results.

GIVE DECORATION TO CANINE HERO

ST. JOHN, N.B., July 26.—A fine collar with cross attached, arrived here today for "Hero," a Newfoundland dog, owned by William Arm of this city, in recognition of his saving 92 lives in the wreck of the steamship Ethie on December 10, 1919, off the coast of Newfoundland.

The dog swam through the big waves, taking a line from shore to the ship, and by means of this a heavier line was put aboard and all saved.

The collar and cross are from the Starry Cross of Philadelphia. Mayor McLellan of this city, has added exemption of Hero from the local dog tax.

3 Men, Adrift in Small Boat For 4 Days in Lake, Foil Death

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y., July 26.—Three men who had drifted in a small boat on Lake Ontario from Saturday afternoon until this morning landed today, exhausted, twelve miles east of Fort Niagara.

The men were Captain L. S. Spooner, of Portland, Oregon, Olympic Rifle team captain and assistant instructor in military tactics at the University of Pennsylvania; Captain J. Stiff, of Toronto; and an officer named Walker, of Montreal.

The trio started early Saturday for a day's sail, carrying lunch with them. The sailboat was well out into the lake, when a storm shattered the mast. The auxiliary engine refused to work. There was a tiny dory aboard the sailboat, but no oars for it.

Finally Captain Spooner fashioned a pair of oars from the remains of the broken mast. With these the men took turns rowing the dory and towing the sailboat. After many hours they came to shore.

Except for the exhaustion the men suffered no ill-effects from their experiences. The lunch they carried, rationed carefully, served them as food for three days.

REPORTS SCHOOL GRANTS ABNORMAL

Department of Education Hard Pressed To Meet Demands From Ontario Schools.

TORONTO, July 26.—Confronted with an expansion of the province's educational system, which during the past year has gone on at an unprecedented rate, the Ontario department of education is literally at its wits' end to know how to meet the demands now being made for payment of the routine government grants to the public, separate and high schools.

Apportioned on the basis of reports received from school inspectors in various parts of the province at the close of the school year, these grants are sent out annually during the month of August.

The returns from inspectors for the year just ended calls for grants exceeding the amounts of other years by an embarrassing amount. The abnormal demand which first made a showing in the accounts of the public schools last year has spread to the high schools and normal schools.

As a result the department is faced with an unlooked-for and peculiar situation. To meet the very large increase all round for government assistance a way must be found to replenish the treasury.

MAY CONSTRUCT $2,000,000 DAM ON LAKE KENOGAMI

Quebec Provincial Cabinet Will Decide Matter in Next Few Weeks.

QUEBEC, July 26.—The provincial cabinet will be called upon the course of the next few weeks to decide upon the construction of a $2,000,000 barrage on Lake Kenogami in Chicoutimi County.

The parish of St. Cyriac, situated on the lake, will have to be wiped out, and this will cost in expropriations about $600,000.

It will assure, however, permanent work to 1,000 men in Chicoutimi, and another thousand in the same district, who for three months of the year are left unemployed on account of the closing down of some of the mills due to lack of power. It is estimated that 30,000 tons more of pulp will be produced, which will be added to the 108,000 tons output of today. The dam will give a permanent supply of 70,000 additional horse-power.

LONDON WOMAN IS FINED $1,000 AT NIAGARA FALLS

Will Appeal Conviction on Charge of Selling Bottle of Whiskey to Detective.

BUFFALO, N.Y., July 26. — Mrs. Sadie Siskind of London, Ontario, was fined $1,000 in police court at Niagara Falls, Ontario, on Tuesday for having sold a bottle of whiskey to a government detective. She said she was attending a party with a number of other people at the time of the alleged transaction and was not at the place named by the detective.

Witnesses supported Mrs. Siskind's alibi, but the magistrate refused to credit the evidence.

She has appealed the case and will carry it to a higher court.

STATES BRITISH LOANS MOSTLY WITHIN EMPIRE

LONDON, England, July 26.—(By Canadian Press Cable.)—Replying to a question in the House of Commons today, Sir P. Lloyd Greame, assistant under-secretary of state for foreign affairs, said it had been computed that during the first six months of 1922, foreign governments had borrowed from Great Britain only £13,000,000 compared with £41,000,000 by governments within the empire.

BELIEVES SHIP IMMUNE.

LONDON, July 26.—Replying to a question in the House of Commons, Lieut.-Col. Charles Amery, parliamentary secretary for the admiralty, said that as far as the admiralty knew there was no aeroplane in any navy capable of sinking a British ship by bomb or torpedo.

REPORTS WINDSOR CLEAR OF "BOOKIES"

Chief Thompson States Campaign of Police Has Been Successful.

WINDSOR, July 26.—Chief of Police Daniel Thompson, of Windsor, said today that practically every bookmaker's office in Windsor has been closed because of the campaign carried on by his men since racing was begun at Windsor tracks.

With the raid on Percy Stokes' cigar store by Windsor police, where betting slips and racing forms were found, following the summons served on Selack & Cohen, another Ouellette avenue cigar store, where police say a handbook has been operated, Mr. Thompson said the handbook evil has practically disappeared from the city.

"It was only with the greatest difficulty that the men were able to place a bet yesterday," Mr. Thompson said. "They bought tickets at Selack & Cohen's, and although strangers in the city, they were refused at other places where bets have been known to have been taken formerly."

Selack & Cohen and Stokes were charged in Windsor police court today with "running common gambling houses." Their counsel was granted permission by Magistrate W. E. Gundy to prepare their cases, which will be heard Saturday.

MAGISTRATE CONVICTS LOVER ON FRAUD CHARGE

John D. Mahoney Obtains $400 From Girl To "Secure" His Claim of $55,000

TORONTO, July 26.—Willing to marry a man much older than herself because she believed his story that he was worth $55,000, Miss Roselle Patterson of this city gave such strong evidence against her professed lover, John D. Mahoney, in connection with a charge against him in the police court here today of fraudulently obtaining $400 from her, that he was convicted. Sentence was deferred until next week.

The complainant admitted that she had thought of marrying Mahoney on a short acquaintance, the supposed $55,000 being the chief attraction, and it was on this account that she had given him $400 to "secure" his claim in $55,000.

FINES INDIAN WHO BURIES HORSE IN BRANTFORD $10

Special to London Advertiser.

BRANTFORD, July 26.—George Maracle, an Indian, was fined $10 and costs when he appeared on a charge of breaking the public health act. Maracle buried the carcass of a horse inside the city limits.

A young lad, charged with a breach of the dog bylaw, was cleared of the charge. The boy claimed that his pup, which is without a license, is only two months old, and a license is not necessary.

Devise Divorce Ring To Warn Paris Flirts.

PARIS, July 25. — Jewelers have just designed a special ring for divorced people. It has not yet been decided whether to call it the "divorce ring" or the "ring of disunion."

The design consists of a cupid's arrow broken in half. It can be executed in various ways with various stones.

Jewelers predict that the new fashion will quickly become popular, divorce having become so frequent that it is considered there is need for a distinctive emblem. It has been suggested that there be a special ceremony of exchange of "divorce rings" after a court issues a final decree in such cases.

Autoist, 111, Sure His Bones Don't Rattle, So Wins Prize in 1908 Car

OPELOUSAS, La., July 26.—Rattling up to the judges' stand in a 1908 model flivver, Auguste Jeansonne, 111 years old, was greeted with cheers by the crowds which witnessed the Ford day celebration in Opelousas.

The old man, hale and hearty, and wearing a wide straw hat and his Sunday best attire, made a neat turn near the grandstand and exclaimed:

"I may be old, but, by heck, my bones don't rattle as bad as this car."

His daughter, Mrs. Jean Baptiste Frugea, mere flapper of 90, was with him. Father and daughter were in high spirits over winning the prizes offered for the oldest car carrying the oldest people arriving in town for the parade. They had motored over from their farm near Prudhomme City, La., where Auguste Jeansonne was born in 1811.

His one regret was that all his sixteen living children were not present to witness his triumph, for Jeansonne has been married five times, and has had 30 children and so many grandchildren that he cannot remember them all.

The old man is still in excellent health, and attributes his well being to the fact that he has smoked and imbibed Creole coffee all his life, and he will continue to do so until the final trumpet. He says he does not believe in prohibition, nor does his daughter.

When asked for the ages of his children he replied that the jolly little flock varied in ages from 92 to 27. His youngest son was born when the old man was in his 80's.

HONOH'S INQUIRY STILL DELAYED

Lloyd George Having Difficulty in Finding Chairman For Commission.

Nobody Commanding Respect of Dominions Willing To Take Post.

LONDON, July 26.—Premier Lloyd George evidently is having difficulty in finding a chairman for the royal commission which is to investigate the method of conferring honors.

Lord Ullswater, formerly Sir James Lowther, ex-speaker of the House of Commons, would have been acceptable to all interested, but his time is fully occupied in the House of Lords.

Lords Milner, Crewe and Southborough have each been spoken of as a possible chairman of the commission, but the fact seems to be that nobody who commands entire respect, not merely in England, but in the dominions, seems keen on taking the position.

The premier hopes to announce the composition of the royal commission next week.

Meanwhile he is taking the opinions of representatives of various sections of the House of Commons, amongst others the well-known labor leaders J. R. Clynes and Arthur Henderson, the labor party having been allocated two places on the commission.

DENY MACHINE GUNS TO BE USED ALONG BORDER

Washington Customs Officials, However, Intimate Patrols Will Have Armored Cars.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Use of machine guns in the war on rum-smugglers along the Canadian border was denied today by customs officials here. Preparations are being made for the installation of a border patrol operating on both sides of Buffalo to check liquor-running across the border.

Officials here understood that automobiles, possibly armored, would be used on the patrol, but they said it was improbable that machine guns would be a part of their armament, not only because of the treaty with Canada covering armed forces along the border, but also because it was believed machine guns would be impracticable weapons for hunting liquor-runners.

Refuses To Quit Asylum When Freed by Court.

MONTREAL, July 26.—When relatives of Mrs. Yvonne Lamontagne called at the St. Jean de Dieu Asylum today armed with a certified copy of Judge Martineau's decision ordering her release, Mrs. Lamontagne refused to leave the asylum, declaring that she was fully satisfied to remain there. She was accordingly allowed to stay at the institution with her full consent.

This information was confirmed here by her lawyer, Gustave Monette.

The case was recently in the courts, when a writ of habeas corpus was asked for, on the ground that Mrs. Lamontagne was being detained at the asylum against her will and had declared that she had been kidnapped there by three men in broad daylight.

CYCLIST IN CHATHAM KNOCKED DOWN BY AUTO

William McDonald Victim of Collision With Dover Township Woman's Car.

Special to London Advertiser.

CHATHAM, July 26.—Cycling to his home just before the noon hour time, William McDonald, a local electrician, had a narrow escape from death when he was knocked down and dragged a considerable distance by a car which was driven by Mrs. Ernest Willesmore of Dover township.

The injured man was treated by Doctors McKeough and McRitchie and was afterwards removed to his home. Before he could be released from his precarious position underneath the car, it had to be lifted up. McDonald's body was covered with bruises and his face and head were badly cut.

Dividends Plus

PERHAPS you have never looked on the purchase of a Burroughs Adding Machine in the light of an investment that pays you dividends plus—dividends in the saving of time and prevention of errors in figure work, plus a high resale value.

Just stop and think of the amount of time you usually spend in figuring—adding sales, balancing accounts, checking invoices. With a Burroughs you can list the figures and add them as quickly as you can write them down with a pencil.

Furthermore, when you figure mentally, you can never be absolutely sure that the totals are correct. And, when a mistake is made, you are always the loser. If against you, you lose actual cash; if against the customer, you may lose his confidence and perhaps his trade—especially if such mistakes become too common.

It is by saving so much time and preventing these mistakes in figuring that the machine not only pays for itself in a few years, but in addition to this, so little has it depreciated that it can be sold in the open market for fifty per cent or more of what you paid for it.

It will be worth your while to look into the matter more fully. Call or write us.

WITH THE BRIDES

STONER—MISKEN.

Throngs of guests and other interested spectators were attracted to the Latter Day Saints' Church, Maitland street, Wednesday afternoon, for a pretty wedding which took place at 2 o'clock, Elder James Weingarden, pastor of the church, officiating, when a popular young member of the church, Miss Doris Misken, and Warren Stoner of Niagara Falls, were united in marriage. The evening before, the attractive church auditorium had been further beautified with a profusion of summer flowers by girls of the Sunday school. Marguerites and brown-eyed susans banked the windows, tall cat-tails forming an effective background for the sheaves of vari-colored blossoms which surrounded the choir gallery. The bridal party stood, during the ceremony, beneath a great white wedding bell. Pews for invited guests were marked by clusters of marguerites, tied with tulle bows. Miss Dorothy Timbrell presided at the organ, playing the nuptial music, and Mrs. Frank Gray sang an appropriate number during the signing of the register.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Percy Misken of this city, was charming in a wedding gown of white satin, with pearl garniture, and wedding veil held in place with a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried Bridal roses, showered with sweet peas. Miss Marjory Alford was a winsome bridesmaid, in a gown of apricot crepe de chine, with which she wore an apricot hat with silver grapes, and silver slippers, and carried sweet peas in harmonizing shades. The duties of best man were performed by the groom's brother, Samuel A. Stoner.

Following the service the wedding party and guests drove to the home of Mrs. Alda Lott, Empress avenue, where a reception was held, the rooms throughout being beautifully adorned with flowers.

The young couple left to spend a honeymoon in Toronto, Lowbanks and Kirkland, Ohio, after which they will take up their residence in Niagara Falls. For traveling the bride donned a becoming costume of peacock blue, and taupe felt hat.

ST. JOSEPH'S UNIT PLAYS HOSTESS

A successful business venture and social event combined was the garden party held Wednesday afternoon and evening by St. Joseph's Mothers' Unit, of which Mrs. J. Moir is president, in the spacious grounds of the home of Mrs. W. Wilson, 116 Mount Pleasant avenue.

The summer charms of green lawns, beautiful shade trees, and flowers in gorgeous bloom were enhanced by the addition of decorations of flags, bunting, Japanese lanterns and many colored electric lights, giving in the evening a most picturesque effect.

Mrs. T. J. Carney was assisted on the general committee by Mrs. J. Moir, Mrs. A. E. Pocock, Mrs. J. Comiskey and Mrs. R. C. Best.

Mrs. Carney took charge of the country store; Mrs. George Morkin, ice cream booth, Mrs. Wilkinson, the home-cooking; Mr. T. J. Carney, soft drinks, cigars, etc., which attracted a large patronage from the men who attended, and Mrs. S. N. Best, the fancy work.

Mrs. W. Wilson and Mrs. Greening were "tea room" conveners, and either the daintiest of light refreshments or a substantial meal might be obtained, served at inviting small tables decked with flowers, which were scattered about the lawns.

Amongst the young girls assisting in serving were Misses Theresa Hemsworth, Pocock and Madeline Moir. An enjoyable program was provided by the G. W. V. A. Band, and several impromptu numbers, vocal and piano, added to the pleasure of those who attended.

The proceeds will be applied to unit funds for work that is being carried on in connection with the school.

NO CAUSE FOR WORRY WHEN CHILDREN HAVE SUMMER COMPLAINTS

There is not a summer passes but that thousands of men, women and children are attacked by summer coomplaints such as diarrhoea, dysentery, colic, cramps and pains in the stomach, cholera morbus, cholera infanium, etc.

In looking for relief you should not delay in getting a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, a remedy that has been on the market for the past 77 years, and has stood the test of time.

Mrs. Geo. Chapman, Sudbury, Ont., writes: "I am the mother of five children, and I must say they are seldom sick or in need of medicine. They are, however, sometimes troubled with summer complaint, diarrhoea, and such like, but I always find there is no cause for worry, as I just give them two or three doses, no more, of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and the trouble soon disappears. It is a remedy that all mothers should keep in the home for the children."

PUT YOURSELF IN H' PLACE.

Dear Miss Grey,—Some time ago I wrote you for a little help, which I have not yet received. Since then we have a new baby girl, which takes all my strength away. I am not yet strong. I wanted help in old clothes for two girls (twins), 2 years old, and a boy of 5 years I am anxious to send to school. Thank you for the past. I have no money to send you, but I will. Yours very truly,

YOUNG MOTHER NO 2.

Poor, tired, anxious little Mother No. 2, I am sorry indeed that the assistance you asked has failed to reach you. So many appeals have come in recently that Boxites have been kept busy trying to meet the needs of others. Their hearts are in the right places, and I feel sure you will not ask in vain this time, particularly when readers realize the strain you are under with the new baby girl to add to your responsibilities. Hardships always seem so much harder to bear when weak physically. We must get that small boy outfitted so he can go to school when the fall term opens.

ADMIRES THEIR SPIRIT.

Dear Miss Grey,—If Real Lancashire Lass will send me her address I will send the flags to her and will pay the postage on them, and she can send a mite for the fund, or just as she likes.

I feel sorry for those who are in need, and perhaps will be able to help some of them some time. Thirty-seven certainly keeps cheerful under her trouble, and I hope she will soon leave trouble behind.

Inclosed is a small mite for the fund. SPOOKENDYKE.

Am forwarding you address of Real Lancashire Lass, so there will be no delay in getting the flags to her. The mite for the hospital, as always, is welcome. When are we going to have a real nice long letter from you again?

WHAT ABOUT PICTURE CARDS?

Dear Miss Grey and All Mail-Box Friends,—It is a long time since I have written, but, like others, I read the Mail-Box letters and enjoy them very much.

I am pleased to see by your columns that our fund for the cot is still climbing—only $250 more and then there will be enough to make the $1,000.

Miss Grey, would it not be a good way to raise the fund by having photos taken of the War Memorial Hospital on postcards, and sell them for 10 cents to all we Boxites who are not fortunate enough to see the hospital, or anyone else who wishes to buy one? This idea, I think, would gather in a few dimes.

Here is a cure for erysipelas: Make a wash of salt and wet a cloth in it. Lay on affected parts until cured. Keep cloth wet all the time.

For gas in the stomach: Put 20 drops of aromatic ammonia in hot water, add a little sugar. If not relieved, repeat the dose in half an hour.

For mosquito bites: Use oil of pennyroyal. About the best remedy I know for all kinds of stings is a wash of ammonia. Put about one teaspoonful of the ammonia powder in a pint of warm water and bathe the affected parts. If ammonia is not at hand, baking powder is the next best. Blue clay is also good. Moisten clay.

For old sores that will not heal, use mutton suet and red precipitate. Melt suet and strain, then add red precipitate. A druggist could tell you how much precipitate to use.

I am sorry to tell you, Miss Grey, that my health has been very poor for some time. The doctors tell me I have dropsy in my arm, owing to poor circulation resulting from an operation. Now, if any of the Boxites have had anything like this, could they tell me what would help me? I would be very grateful for any advice along this line, as my arm has lost all its strength and is badly swollen.

I owe several Mail-Box friends a letter. You will know why I have not answered, as I have been feeling so poorly. Wishing you all the best of health, ELGORA.

Dear Elgora, what a bright idea, to have postcards printed bearing the picture of the children's hospital and sell them to make our fund reach its objective more quickly. We will have to see what we can do.

Thank you also for your valuable "home remedies." A druggist tells me red precipitate is the best thing he knows for suring old sores, when made into an ointment.

Am so sorry about your own ill-health and sincerely hope some of the Boxites have suggestions for you. Am sending you a little personal letter. Hope you will get relief for your arm very soon.

MAYFLOWER ARRIVES.

Dear Miss Grey,—I have not been in your Corner very long. It is very interesting. I wish that you would please give me Asphuttel's address. I am of her age. I wish you many happy wishes. Yours truly.

MISS MAYFLOWER.

What a nice name you have chosen for yourself, Miss Mayflower. Do you think any flowers in all the year are so sweet as the dainty ones that peep out in May to whisper summer is coming? A dreadful thing almost happened. I nearly missed turning over your letter and finding your address on the back. Then I would not have been able to send you Asphuttel's address, and very sad indeed, your name would not be written right away in our family list. You must send another letter soon, and tell us about the things you like and the things you are doing. Here's hoping you and Asphuttel enjoy writing to one another.

LAUGHED TILL SHE CRIED.

Dear Miss Cynthia Grey,—I have just had such a laugh, even until tears rolled down my cheeks, after reading Lonesome for Blighty's letter. Oh, say it made me think I was right there. Many's the time I have said, "How about a trip round town and through Lewis' big departmental." Even if you don't spend any money you can enjoy looking around. Gee, I know all those places mentioned. Whoever Lonesome for Blighty is she knows my home town pretty well. I wonder how many real Lancashire lassies and lads have seen that letter in the Boxites' column? I did not see my last letter in print. Thanks for Mrs. H's address. I also sent my address in case it should be asked for. I was glad to see the report in the paper how the Boxites' fund was getting so high. I am inclosing mite for hospital fund.

MY LANCASHIRE LASSIE.

Was sure you would enjoy that letter from Lonesome for Blighty. Mrs. H. wants to write to her too, so the circle of Lancashire lasses is drawing closely together. Received your last letter, answered it, and delay in appearing has been due to shortage of space, not the intentions of Cynthia. Your address is duly enrolled in our family book. As always, your mite is a welcome addition to the S. C. H. fund, which is climbing beautifully.

CATHOLIC WOMEN PLAN AUGUST GARDEN FETE

Proceeds of Event in St. Peter's Grounds to Improve Sunshine Park.

Holding a meeting this week, the Catholic Women's League of London, presided over by Mrs. Joseph Leech, arranged for a grand midsummer garden fete, to be held in the grounds of St. Peter's Cathedral on the evening of Aug. 10, the proceeds to go for improvement and equipment at Sunshine Park, the athletic grounds for Catholic children and young people in the north end of the city.

A good representation was present from the various parishes, and Mrs. R. H. Diguan was named general convenor of the entertainment. A band will be in attendance and other entertainment features will be provided.

Sunshine Park, for which land was donated by Bishop Fallon, who takes a very keen interest in athletics, has been affording much enjoyment to the Catholic young people of the city this summer. Children throng daily there to play and a baseball match is always assured each evening when weather permits. The tennis courts are especially appreciated by the girls.

"MISSION THIMBLE CIRCLE."

The Mission Thimble Circle of Cook's Church, Caradoc, met at the home of Miss Dorothy McRobert last week. Miss Mamie Mills, vice-president, conducted the meeting. The topic was given by Miss F. Sutherland on "Formosa," showing some of the progress that has been made there in the past few years. Japan has made many improvements for the building up of the country, but it is the work of the missionaries to bring the gospel story, said the speaker. Miss Mamie Mills gave a very interesting report of the summer school in St. Thomas, giving an idea of the many phases of the church work being carried on. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess.

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain—How To Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach, trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestents are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.—Advt.

"Wells is an old fool!" Andrew continued. "I say, there is nothing any of us can do for Roger; he'll sleep like a baby tonight and be all right in the morning. I'm going out and I shan't be back until late, but I'll take my key and I won't disturb you if you'll tell Carter not to put the chain on the door."

He strode heavily from the room and in another moment Miss Drake and Hobart followed.

"It's work for nothing to set the table for them; they don't hardly touch a thing!" Carter mourned, as he and Miles cleared away the final debris of the meal. "I'm sure I don't know what's come to this house, nor where it's going to end?"

"What's there to be scared of?" Miles asked stoutly. "I've seen nothing barring that fainting spell of Mr. Roger's today. Is he often took like that?"

Carter shook his head.

"Only once before and that was just a day or two after—after the constable brought Mr. Hobart home when he'd been walking in his sleep. —That's what you heard, ain't it, William?" He asked the question with almost pathetic eagerness.

"No," William replied bluntly. "If you want the truth I heard he was either drunk or crazy."

"Not a thing had he touched that night, for I had the only set of keys to the wine cellar!" Carter asserted solemnly. "I've yet to see Mr. Hobart in liquor but I can't say as much for Mr. Andrew! Mr. Andrew was a trial to the rest of the family when he came back, though he's toned down considerable, especially in his language. It was shocking to hear, William?"

"I shouldn't be surprised," Miles observed. "Did he bring those fits back with him, too, from Australia?"

"You mean what happened last Monday?" Carter lowered his voice. "If you want to know my opinion from what I could get out of Edward I think Mr. Andrew was shamming."

Miles glanced sharply at the old man, but his tone was casual as he remarked:

"He was playing a trick on Edward, maybe, but there was no fake about Mr. Roger's faint today."

"No, and as for Mr. Hobart, I'm glad he's given up the stock market before—before he lost everything, though sometimes I've wished that the money never came in the first place! It was that made all three of them act queer long ago, and though I almost forgot about it in the years between, perhaps they've been wrong in the head ever since."

"How do you mean they acted queer when they came into their money?" asked Miles.

"I remember when the news came and though they were excited it struck me then that not one of them seemed really happy about it or even surprised. Mr. Hobart seemed to think only of getting back at other folks for all the years of hardship they'd been through; getting rich by making other folks poor! It gave me the shivers to hear him. You would have thought that there was a death in the house!" continued Carter. "They didn't talk to each other any more'n they had to, didn't scarcely look at each other and it seemed as though there was almost hatred between them! Mr. Andrew had ugly fits of temper that he'd never showed before and other times Mr. Roger would break down and go all to pieces right out of a clear sky; only Mr. Hobart kept a level head on his shoulders and all at once I noticed that the hair at each side of his forehead was turning gray—and him only 23! But quiet years came after, and comfortable ones, and I forgot until this trouble now brought it all back to me."

CHAPTER XIV

LIKE two housebreakers, Sergeant Miles and Scottie stole up the back stairs that night and halted before the door at the end of the hall.

As he drew the skeleton keys from his pocket Miles indicated the traces of wax which still adhered to the lock, then whispered: "Andrew! He wanted to get in here mighty bad, didn't he?"

Scottie nodded, not trusting himself to speak, and his companion oiled the lock and keyhole carefully before setting to work. He made no noise but the minutes dragged by interminably while the other watched and listened tensely for a possible interruption. The key clicked faintly in the lock and the door swung slowly inward.

"Wait till I close the door," Miles commanded; then as a tiny light gleamed out: "Good! There's a bolt on the inside and we can't be surprised. Andrew may come home at any time and I have a hunch that he'll try to finish then what he started this afternoon."

"It looks as though he'd made a pretty thorough job of it if destruction was his object," Scottie commented dryly as the rapier-like thrust of light played about the dense blackness of the room. "May the de'il take us if we're not in a museum!"

They were in a huge, low-ceilinged room which had evidently been long disused for human occupancy. On the left trunks and packing cases of all shapes and sizes were heaped pell-mell with broken lamps. From their depths a heterogeneous mass of relics and manuscripts had been scattered in all directions.

Haughty, though fragmentary, idols and humble cooking pots, fearsome weapons, bits of crumbled carving, and among them all roll after roll of ancient parchment together with notebooks of a more modern day.

Scottie approached a long, metal-lined box and after one glance within promptly retreated.

"It's a mummy." Miles gazed briefly down at the small, tightly swathed form and then turned indifferently away. "If Andrew found what he was looking for this afternoon, we are wasting our time, but I don't think he was successful. Those notebooks must contain the result of years of study and classification and see how the pages are torn out and scattered about!"

"Then it was writing that Andrew was after, and modern writing at that, for he's only thrown the parchments aside!" Scottie gathered up a handful of the loose sheets and examined them critically.

"But what was he looking for? That's what we've got to find out. What would Roger have written and carted all around the world with him that his brother would want badly enough to steal? Mr. Wells told me that the three brothers were devotedly attached to each other, but I have seen small evidence of affection on Andrew's part for any of them."

"Do you see all these odd caskets of metal and carved bone?" Scottie was playing his torch over the ancient relics which littered the floor. "Perhaps we can find one or two that haven't been broken open."

It was long past midnight when they desisted at last and Miles remarked with a shrug:

"I guess we'd better give it up, old man. If there was anything here bearing on our problem Andrew must have made off with it, after all."

Scottie suppressed a sneeze heroically as the dust which still floated in the air assailed his nostrils, and replied in a strangled voice:

"The mound of the ages is eating

"IT'S THE ONE PLACE WE NEVER THOUGHT OF, SCOTTIE!"

into my lungs and there's a musty, spicy reek from that mummy—"

"The mummy!" Miles struck his hands together softly. "It's the one place we never thought of, Scottie! We're not beaten yet!"

He darted over to the long, coffin-like case and his companion followed somewhat reluctantly.

"The—the person doesn't appear to have been disturbed since the pyramids were built," he ventured. "What are you about, lad? You're never going to undress it."

"It's Peruvian, not Egyptian; don't you see the inscription?" responded Miles in a quick, excited whisper. "Moreover, the wrappings about the head and breast have been unwound within a very few years at most and then replaced!"

Miles inserted his hand with infinite care beneath the displaced fabric which covered the shrunken, flint-like breast and drew forth a slender roll of parchment. Scottie hastily returned his unwelcome burden to its original position and strode around the case to stare over his friend's shoulder at the discovery

"It's in figure writing!" he exclaimed disgustedly as the roll unwound. "You'd never be able to read it and it would do you no good if you did! I've no doubt it's a prayer. Put it back, Owen, it's defying Providence—"

"Defying your grandmother!" Miles interrupted. "This message is in Egyptian hieroglyphics, Scottie, I know that much!—Egyptian picture writing in the wrappings of a Peruvian mummy!—Get me a piece of that parchment from the floor, will you?"

Scottie complied and held both his torch and that of his companion while the latter compared the texture of the scrolls. At length he drew a quick breath and faced the older man with shining eyes.

"I can't read a word of it as you say, but by the Lord Harry I think we've got it! There are professors in town who can decipher it for us and be depended upon to hold their tongues afterward, and we'll see that it reaches one of them tomorrow!

"But it can't be what Andrew was looking for!" Scottie expostulated. "He certainly cannot translate heiro —what you said!"

"Nor would we have known that it was what he wanted if he had found it!" retorted Miles. "Can't you see, old man? That was the intention of the person who placed it there. It is something that had to be preserved and yet must be undecipherable to anyone not a student of Egyptology."

Miles stowed papyrus and parchment carefully in his pocket.

Switching off their torches they stole from the room, but as Miles relocked the door behind them his companion seized his arm.

"Do you hear that" Scottie's husky whisper breathed in his ear. "Someone's up, and there's a wee streak of light coming from that room at the front. Whose is it?"

"Hobart's," whispered Miles in reply. "Flatten yourself against the wall and walk as lightly as you can; we're going to look into this!"

Foot by foot they crept along the hall until they neared Hobart's door, and then halted as though transfixed, for the voice of Miss Drake, trembling and charged with long pent-up emotion, came to the listeners' ears.

"It is no use! If we were the only ones concerned I would have kept this from you, but it shall not be visited upon the next generation! I knew the truth, Hobart! I have always known!"

Stuffed Baked Tomatoes.

6 large tomatoes.
3 tablespoons fat (bacon or butter.)
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion.
1 cup cold cooked chopped meat
1 cup soft stale bread crumbs.
1 teaspoon salt.
1 teaspoon paprika.
1 teaspoon sugar.

CUT THE TOPS from the tomatoes and scoop out the inside pulp, leaving a wall one-fourth inch thick. Sprinkle the inside with salt.

Fry the onion in fat until slightly yellow. Then add meat, bread crumbs and seasonings and cook all together five minutes. Add pulp taken from tomatoes and cook a minute.

Fill tomatoes with the mixture—replace the tops, cut a gash on each side of the tomato, and place closely together in a baking dish. Bake until tomatoes are soft.

This stuffing may be varied in the following ways:

Raw chopped beef, lamb, veal or pork may be used. Cook in the fat ten minutes instead of five.

Cooked rice may be used in place of bread crumbs.

Chopped red and green peppers or parsley may be added.

The same stuffing may be used for peppers, cucumbers, summer squash, vegetable marrow or egg plant.

Vegetables stuffed and baked may be used as the main dish for luncheon, supper or simple dinner.

Radio Radiations

BY THE RADIO EDITOR

"END loss" in radio coils is something which all amateurs who construct their own sets will need to guard against.

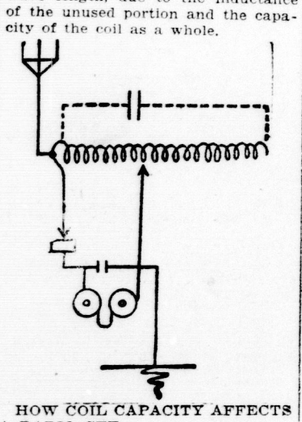
It is a loss which may be so great as to completely prevent reception of signals on a certain wave length.

A watch should be kept for these effects, not only in the apparatus which is built at home, but also in that which is purchased, for even manufacturers do not always properly guard against it.

In addition to having inductance, all inductance coils possess capacity. The capacity of coil depends upon its diameter, the kind of insulation on the wire, the nature of the impregnating varnish and the nature of the supporting form. It is far greater on coils having more than one layer of wire than on coils which have only a single layer.

Waste Energy.

If only a portion of a coil of wire is used, the remainder will have a certain fundamental frequency or wave length, due to the inductance of the unused portion and the capacity of the coil as a whole.



HOW COIL CAPACITY AFFECTS A RADIO SET.

If these values happen to give to the unused part of the coil a wave length equal approximately to the wave at which reception is desired a great part of the received currents will be absorbed by the unused circuit. Cases have been known where 70 per cent of the total energy was wasted in this way.

These same effects are encountered when coils are near, or in, the magnetic field of coils actually being used in circuit. The effect may be demonstrated by placing a coil near your receiver circuit.

Connect a small variable condenser across the terminals of the coil. Vary the condenser and note that at a certain point—if the values of the coil and the condenser are the proper ones—the signals will disappear.

If the coupling between the test coil and the receiver is very weak, these effects will not be marked. If it is very close, which is the condition when only a part of the windings of a coil are in use, the effects will be more marked.

Connections.

The connection of switch contacts and wiring leads to a coil will greatly increase its capacity. For this reason considerable care in design is required in all radio sets.

Those receivers which cover the smallest band of wave lengths are usually more efficient. This is not necessarily true, however, for means have been found of offsetting these effects even where great ranges are to be covered.

In the diagram a coil is shown, tuned for reception of 200-meter waves. The coil capacity, represented by the condenser set across the terminals, together with the coil inductance, is also tuned to 200 meters. The greater portion of the coil's energy is absorbed by the unused section.

Some Life

by Jackie Coogan, Jr.

I HAVE a girl!

Her name is Patsy, and she lives next door to us in Hollywood.

We'll marry some day and be like daddy and ma. It'll be fun.

Sometimes we play store, sometimes house. I pretend that I've been out late and she scolds me like anything. I say I'm sorry. I'll never do it again. But I do.

"WE'LL MARRY SOME DAY AND BE LIKE DADDY AND MA."

It's the game.

I was thinking about Patsy when they took me to the circus in New York. She sure would have enjoyed it.

I had peanuts to eat and lemonade to drink and a balloon. The lemonade was pink. Daddy said that all circus lemonade was pink ever since there's been a circus. He didn't think it would kill me.

It didn't.

I fed an elephant and met the giant and the midgets and the lady with the pictures on her skin.

Mr. Flo Ziegfeld, who runs a big show in New York, came over with his wife, Miss Billie Burke. I said to him:

"Are you with the circus too?"

He said: "No, Jackie. Why?"

I laughed and told him: "Well, you're dressed up like a circus."

He was all dolled up in an evening suit with a white vest and a tall, shiny hat. He laughed. But daddy give me a dirty look—full of meaning.

One day Mr. Vanderbilt invited me to lunch at a swell hotel. My daddy dressed me up and told me to be careful of my manners.

Everything was going along fine—when one of the guests looked at me and started to laugh.

I had bitten into a hard biscuit and left my tooth behind!

In the last picture I made I lost two more teeth. I had to wear a brace with false teeth while I was working.

Patsy has lost some of her teeth, too. She's a sweet girl, all right.

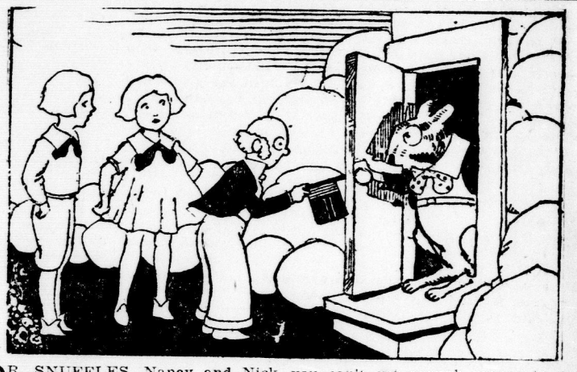
DR. SNUFFLES CALLS TO CURE CHIPMUNK

[By Olive Roberts Barton.]



DR. SNUFFLES, Nancy and Nick knocked at Chirk Chipmunk's door in the stone-pile.

Chirk hadn't paid his rent to Mr. Tingaling, the fairy landlord, and Dr. Snuffles had promised to see what was the matter.

Chirk himself opened the door without suspecting who it was.

"How do you do, Mr. Chipmunk," said Dr. Snuffles politely. "I believe you know my young friends here."

Chirk looked suspicious.

"Bless my soul, yes," he replied. "Aren't you the ones who came with Mr. Tingaling to get my rent" he added sharply.

"It's about the rent now, too, Chirk," said Dr. Snuffles. "Mr. Tingaling tells me you're so rheumatic you can't get enough money to pay it."

Now Chirk had been sitting up as straight as a poker on his hind legs, waving his tail saucily, but at Dr. Snuffles' words he began to droop and put on a miserable look.

"Yes, that's right!" he said in a suffering sort of voice. "I'm very sick. I can't do anything at all, so how can I pay my rent?"

"Not at all—not at all," said Dr Snuffles briskly, tapping his bag "And that's why I'm here. I came to cure you. May we step inside?"

Chirk looked a bit chagrined, but what could he do?

"Yes, indeed, come right in," he said sourly, leading the way.

Tells How To Improve Facial Lines

(This is the third of a series of articles on beauty, written for The London Advertiser).

BY MARJORIE RAMBEAU,

Famed for Beauty of Facial Contour.

PLASTIC surgery is becoming so common that in time every woman may become the architect of her own face and have any sort of a profile she can pay for.

But the average woman would never be obliged to have recourse to the knife if she would remember the contour of her face is a reflection of her thoughts and character.

A psychologist once told me it is possible entirely to change the expression and shape of one's mouth in two weeks by changing the current of thoughts.

IF you have overdeveloped your critical faculty and are continually pouting you will destroy the beauty of your lips.

Small lines indicate you have allowed small worries to absorb your attention. Sagging downward lines show you haven't looked on the happy side of things.

A double chin reveals you have not held your head proudly erect, but have allowed it to slump.

The greatest beautifier known is relaxation. Ten minutes of relaxation a day will do more to prevent wrinkles than any other measure.

THE benefits of massage are differently rated by different schools of beauty. Undoubtedly heavy facial massage is not desirable, but the simple massage every woman may give herself nightly after cleansing her face does much to keep the muscles firm and the face unlined.

Always use a pure cream and use the first three fingers of each hand. Rub upward and outward, using a firm, gentle touch and a rotary motion. Massage the cheeks, temples, throat and forehead, particularly the region between the eyes where wrinkles are prone to assemble.

When massaging about the eyes be gentle as the tissues are delicate.

To retain the firm contour of the throat massage the muscles in a slanting direction from under the chin toward the shoulders and from the middle of the throat upward toward the ears.

Correct breathing exercises, swimming and exercises which give play to the muscles of the neck will do much to develop it symmetrically.

New Soccer Club Secures Affiliation After Struggle

NOTICE SERVED TRANSFERS WILL BE FOUGHT TO END

Amendment To Acceptance Motion On Grounds of "Poor Sportsmanship" Is Lost— Accusations and Denials Fly Fast.

The application of the Maple Leaf Soccer Club for affiliation with the London and District F. A. was accepted last night at a meeting held in the Y.

As predicted in these columns Wednesday, a hot battle was precipitated when the application was tabled, a warmer affair really than predicted, owing to the fact that over 30 soccerites were crowded into one room where the members at a normal meeting feel lonesome.

Capt. Phillips of R. C. R.'s, who moved the granting of the application to which motion there was an amendment opposing the application on the grounds of poor sportsmanship, added an unofficial rider afterwards to the effect that if it meant the new club would ask for the transfers of players now playing in the L. and D. F. A., he would fight against any being granted. He said, however, there was no constitutional right to deny the application of any club for affiliation.

The motion of acceptance, which was seconded by Tommy Hodkinson, had the same effect as an absent-minded keeper forgetting to lock the den cages in a large, well stocked menagerie, and the meeting was in a wild uproar; accusation followed accusation and President Hollins finally resigned when an attack was made on the council or certain of its members. He was later induced to return and presided the rest of the evening.

Wanted To Know.

Watkins and Friend of the W. O. R. wanted to know if players of the new club could be permitted to apprcach players of other teams asking that they transfer, and on rceiving the reply that only the club could ask in the regular way, as club to club, stated that four of their players had been approached. St. Andrews said their players also had been approached. President Rolly Munro of St. Andrews asked if it were true that the Maple Leaf club had held a secret meeting and if St. Andrews players were present at the meeting.

Hodkinson asd Friend parried over the question as to whether it was the executive or the players who had approached players of other clubs, and Friend wanted the names of the executive of the new club. This was withheld. Afterwards it was found out that the new club had elected neither officials or a manager, but only a secretary so far was named.

The St. Andrews secretary claimed that the new club was nothing but a camouflaged public utilities team and that the players now employees of the public utilities would lose their jobs if they did not put in for transfers to the Maple Leafs, which brought forth the denial from Mr. Hodkinson that he had anything to do with the new club.

Denies Any Connection.

Mr. Morgan rose to remark that he was in football to raise it to a higher level, and that he had nothing to do with the new club, though he felt that an article published in The Advertiser (apparently forgetting that the story only reflected the feeling of the majority of the clubs in the L. and D. F. A., the opinions of the officials of these clubs, and stated nothing that hasn't been talked about by practically every fan in the city) meant to single him out as one of the members of the council interested in the new Maple Leafs, which article, he further opined, only served to create ill-feeling in the council.

President Hollins opened his second session in the chair with a defense of the new club, as a result of a question regarding the sportsmanship of allowing a team to break in at this time of the year and take the best players from other clubs. He said that there was no question of the ill-feeling, Messrs. Hodkinson and Morgan were the objects of the suspicion of all the other councillors. He personally had found them working for the best interest of football. In President Hollins' opinion, the new club was needed, because at present the only real competition in the district lay between two teams, W. O. R.'s and St. Andrews. Taking players from these two teams and a few here and there from the other clubs would, in his opinion, make all the teams more evenly matched.

The president was frequently interrupted in his speech, and a telling query was put when someone asked how competition was going to be made more equal when the new club were after all the best players of the other clubs.

Buffalo Fans See Dempsey in Bout For Title, But Don't Know It.

NEW YORK, July 26.—News of a new honest-to-goodness encounter for the world's heavyweight boxing title, in which Jack Dempsey successfully defended his crown in a four-round tilt against Jimmy Darcy of Portland, Oregon, last night, in Buffalo, leaked out here yesterday.

The boxing commission of the state verifies the fact. "Yes," said Secretary Harry Burchell, "it was a championship bout, although it was not to have been. But we see to it that the boxing laws are upheld in this state."

Just before the exhibitions were to start, Dempsey's managers were handed a telegram from the boxing commission, advising that under the law Dempsey would be permitted to meet but one opponent, and the bout should, also, in accordance with the law, be to a decision.

Darcy, a light heavyweight, was selected, and Dempsey performed a little livelier, perhaps, than he had intended. The champion received the decision.

As a result, Darcy enjoys the distinction of being the only pugilist to stay the "limit" with Jack Dempsey since he won the title, and of having lasted longer against the champion than Georges Carpentier, Fred Fulton, Jess Willard, Gunboat Smith or Carl Morris.

And Dempsey had a good workout.

PATRICK TODD PAYS $459 FOR ONE HEAT

McGregor the Great Takes 2:08 in Extra Heat.

COLUMBUS, Ohio., July 26. — The 2:08 class trotting event shared a front stage position this afternoon with the feature of the third day's Grand Circuit program, which was the Deshler Hotel pacing stake for 2:11 eligibles. An accident in the first heat of the 2:08 trot forced the event into another extra-heat contest and brought about some of the season's largest long-shots.

McGregor the Great and King Watts were equal favorites in the race at $200 each for pools calling for $600. Clyde the Great, the half-mile track sensation, stumbled on the back stretch in the opening heat, and, as a result, King Watts and Linara Watts both trailed home with broken sulkies. McGregor the Great finished fourth to Patrick Todd. But three $2 mutuel tickets were out on Patrick Todd to win the heat, and each paid $459.20. Aileen Dillon, who finished second, paid $87 to place in the mutuels. The Valentine trotter broke in the third at the first turn, and just got under the flag. McGregor the Great taking the heat from The Triumph. In the fourth mile, with heat winners only appearing, Cox's stallion beat Just David by a nose.

Neutral Referee Will Handle Big Soccer Cup Final At Tecumseh Park

Nothing is being overlooked that will make Saturday's Cup final at Tecumseh Park between St. Andrews and W. O. R.s with the kick-off at 3:45 a well-managed game from both the spectators' standpoint and players'.

It was announced by the committee in charge last night at the meeting of the L. and D. Council that the president of the W. F. A. had been communicated with, and had agreed to supply a referee for the game. This is a move that will commend itself to the soccer fans, as the game would be extremely difficult for any local referee to handle.

At first it was announced that police protection had been secured, and that the crowds would be kept from the sidelines and would occupy the stands, but later it was agreed to provide ropes well clear of the touchlines, as the field had been marked out a considerable distance from the stands.

The tilt has the soccerites of the city sharply divided, and each of the teams has a big personal following. St. Thomas can be counted on to send up a large contingent as well, and records for soccer attendance in London are in danger of being badly bent.

OTTAWA ARENA IS STILL HANGING IN BALANCE

OTTAWA, July 26.—(By Canadian Press.)—A new home for Ottawa's premier hockey club still hangs in the balance.

Nothing definite was accomplished by the meeting of the board of directors of the Stadium of Ottawa, Limited, yesterday. The Ottawa Gas Company, owners of the plot on which the proposed stadium is to be built, offered to extend the option for another three months, providing that they immediately received $5,000 in cash and the balance of $50,000 in three months. The present option expires Friday. No decision was arrived at, and it was decided to meet Friday, when the entire matter will be threshed out.

WOLVES WIN 5--4 IN 12-FRAME AFFRAY

Reis Derricked in Tenth in Favor of Coogan.

BAY CITY, July 26. — Bay City Wolves swept the two-game series with the Tecumsehs by winning out Wednesday by 5 to 4 in a hard-fought twelve-inning battle that kept the fans on edge from start to finish. Both teams had chances to score time and again, Bay City having men on bases in all but one inning and London only going through two frames without getting a man on, but both Collins for Bay City and Reis for London, backed up by some good fielding, prevented the base-runners from registering.

London showed a changed line-up, Buck Boyle being benched and Malmquest playing first, while Casey Mills, former Saginaw third sacker, who was released Tuesday, was at second in place of Malmquest. He looked weak at bat, striking out three times, but in the field he performed well. An indication of the brand of ball that the hurlers dished up can be seen from the fact that Bay City had seventeen men stranded on the paths and London eleven. The Wolves twice filled the bases, and on numerous occasions had two men on, but couldn't score.

Reis Also Wild.

"Red" Collins pitched his first game for the Wolves this season, and turned in a much better game than Reis, although he walked seven men and hit another, his wildness getting him into trouble frequently. He was found for only nine hits, including doubles by Malmquest and Blake, scattered over five innings, while Reis, who was also wild, walked four, hit the same number and was nicked for thirteen blows in the nine innings he worked. In the tenth, after Hegedorn had singled with none out, Wetzel sent Coogan to the mound, and he did not allow a hit until the fatal twelfth, when Collins singled, took second on a sacrifice and counted on Harris' drive to right to win the game.

London jumped into the lead right at the offset on a walk to Stimpson, a hit batsman, Butler being the victim, Boelzle's wild heave to center field to catch Stimpson off second, and singles by Malmquest and Mackey. The Wolves tied it in the second on two triples and a single by Collins, and then went into the lead in the fifth, when three singles counted a run.

Came Back in Seventh.

The Tecs came back in the seventh with two to take the lead again. A base on balls to Reis, Stimpson's single, Butler's sacrifice and Malmquest's double turned the trick. In the ninth Bay City tied the count when Blake dropped Boelzle's easy fly after Simon had singled and the next two batters had drawn passes to fill the sacks.

Catcher Mackey was chased from the game while batting in the tenth, two strikes having been called on him when he started to argue with Umpire Powell over the second one. Churry finished his turn at bat, and struck out, and thereafter Collins was never in serious trouble, except in the twelfth, when Blake doubled with one out. Churry whiffed, however, and Carmen flied out to end the inning.

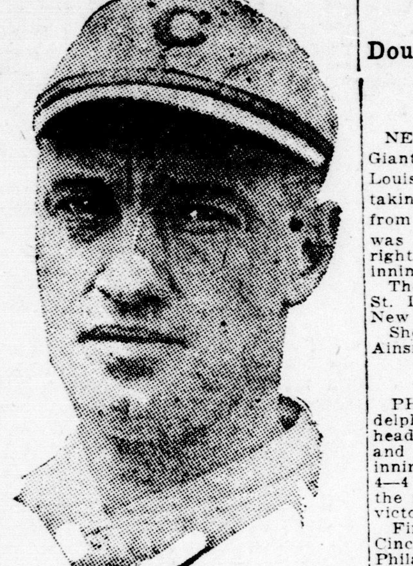
Defies Father Time



JOHN COUCH.

A MAJOR league hero in his first season and at the age of 30!

There you have the case of John Daniel Couch of the Cincinnati Reds who completely upsets the theory that "youth must be served."

Couch blew out 30 candles on his birthday cake March 31, and today he is one of the leading pitchers in the National League.

When the major leagues were buying almost all available material from the Pacific Coast League last winter, the Reds decided to close their eyes and dip a hand into the bag.

And this same Couch, with a second-division team, won 11 of his first 14 games. Nehf, Barnes, Toney, Douglas and Ryan, supported by a world championship cast, have not pitched as effectively as Couch.

250 ENTERED AT CANADIAN HENLEY

Some of Preliminary Heats Must Be Raced Friday Morning.

ST. CATHARINES, July 26.—Oarsmen from various parts of Canada and the United States are arriving on every train to compete in the Canadian Association of Amateur Oarsmen regatta to be held on Friday and Saturday over the Royal Canadian Henley course. Over 250 contestants are entered for the various events. Morning racing for some of the preliminary heats will be necessary on Friday, and at the annual meeting of the association, which will take place on Saturday, the question of extending the meet to three days will be discussed, so great has been the growth of the regatta since its post-war revival.

The Henley Aquatic Association, a local organization which has sprung into existence as an auxiliary to the C. A. A. O. since an effort was made to remove the annual meet from this course, has arranged a series of aquatic stunts wich will be sandwiched between the finishes to relieve the waiting of the spectators while the contestants are up course.

BILL MORRISSETTE IN SECOND NO-HIT TILT

Morissette fanned twelve of the opposing batters, and himself got a two-bagger.

B. LEONARD SAYS TENDLER IS DUB

Interest in Tonight's Bout Runs High.

NEW YORK, July 26.—Not since the Dempsey-Carpentier fight, a year ago, has the public been so worked up over a boxing match as it appears to be over the encounter tomorrow, in Jersey City between Champion Benny Leonard, New York, and Challenger Lew Tendler, Philadelphia, for the world's lightweight title.

Hardly since Leonard took the title from the Englishman, Freddy Welsh, at the old Manhattan Casino here, five years ago, has there been so much pre-fight discussion over a lightweight contest, though in the intervening time Benny has met every contender when asked for a chance. Tendler has fought an uphill battle for recognition all this time.

By almost everyone except the champion himself, Tendler is acknowledged the most dangerous opponent Leonard has hazarded his crown with since ascending the throne. To newspapermen at his training camp at Budd Lake, N.J., Leonard has belittled Tendler, christened him a "dub" and classed him a "second rater."

Usually Leonard is less garrulous. He has trained hard and confidently, which Tendler cites as ample refutation of the champion's utterances. Leonard says he is at the peak of his manhood, that he never will be a better boxer.

Tendler, too, has trained diligently at his quarters at Delanio, N.J., on the Delaware River. The challenger has declined to make a prediction, and only says, "I'm going to do my best."

Edgren was wild and issued ten bases on balls, while Glasier was tight in the pinches, the side being retired five times when there were two or more men on bases. Horne tripled twice and singled.

ACES GET BIG LEAD.

SAGINAW, July 26. — Saginaw got away to an eight-run lead on Kitchener today, but an eight-run rally in the fifth inning tied for the Beavers, and then Kitchener went out and won, 12 to 11.

Angstman, a Bay City youth, starting for Kitchener, was chased in the third, and Shurlow was hit hard in the fourth, but after that he tightened and pitched good ball. Wayneberg was taken for seven hits, including a double and a triple, and gave a pass and hit a batter in the fifth.

Saginaw wasted many scoring chances, having three men thrown out at the plate. Roseberry and Regan hit home runs, each with a man on base. The score:

FLINT KEEPS LEAD.

FLINT, July 31. — Flint defeated Hamilton 11 to 10 today, to half the series and retain the Mint League leadership.

Errors afield gave the invaders six of their tallies, although Shelberg and Ulrigg were unable to stop their batting. Feigert did, however, while his mates proceeded to pound Hughes off the rubber and then beat Tomlin in the seventh and eighth. Luce's return to his great batting form, his average being over .700, featured the Vehics' offensive. He turned in two triples and a double to keep his club in the running, his last triple in the eighth scoring Stricker with the winning run. Hamilton played under protest on misinterpretation of ground rules. The score:

OLD MAN COBB.

DETROIT, July 26. — Tyrus Cobb today was back in his old place at the head of the American League batters, leading George Sisler by one point. The Tiger manager took the lead yesterday, when in five times up he made four safeties, while his rival was getting one out of three.

The figures show that in 81 games Cobb was at bat 319 times, making 131 hits, for an average of .411, while Sisler in 92 games batted 378 times and hit safely 155, making an average of .410.

LONDON DEFEATS INGERSOLL 8 TO 4

Blue and White Show Vast Improvement in Form.

London defeated Ingersoll, 8—4, in a close lacrosse game at Tecumseh Park yesterday. Ingersoll showed vast improvement over their form here last time.

Each quarter was keenly contested with the London team always in the lead, 1—0, 3—1, 2—2, 2—1.

The game was practically won by the stellar defense of the Londoners, Dr. Gordon and Glover being nearly impregnable. Chief Antone in the net was good, and a big improvement over anyone who has yet played there.

Bill Donahue and Deacon in defense field were both good, and at all times dangerous many times, rushing down on the Ingersoll defense and making the odd man attack. Arriss at centre was good, and his experience in many cases stood him in good stead.

On the home Gertley was the outstanding figure, and his attacks through the centre field were many and dangerous, resulting in four goals. He was ably assisted by Russell and Bailey.

Tommie Veach was pressed into service, and played until relieved by "Skid" Scheiding at half time. Scheiding turned in a nice game and scored the nicest goal of the day on a pass from Bill Bailey.

For Ingersoll Charlie Ferguson in the nets was the shining star. He turned in a stellar game. Time after time, when the London home were right on top he turned away shots that no goalkeeper could be expected to get. Rankin at inside home suffered mostly from his wonderful work, only beating him once when he came from behind the nets and scored on a back hand shot.

The rest of the Ingersoll team were all good and evenly balanced, but their defence made the fatal mistake of opening up and allowing the London home fielders to run loose through the centre.

The game was comparatively clean and well handled by Referee Gibson of Ingersoll. He imposed only a few minor penalties. Sid. Rankin drew three minutes for accidentally hitting an Ingersoll player, this being the first penalty Sid ever received on a lacrosse field since he has been playing the game.

The teams lined up as follows:

London.		Ingersoll.
Antone	Goal	Ferguson
Dr. Gordon	Point	Grieves
Glover	Cover	Neal
W. Donahue	1st Def.	Murphy
Deacon	2nd Def.	Moffatt
Arriss	Centre	Miller

Special to London Advertiser.

KITCHENER, July 26. — R. Goech of Bloomingdale had a narrow escape from death at the level crossing of the Elmira branch of the Grand Trunk Railway at Wellington street here when the rear of his car was struck by the engine of the Elmira train as it was pulling into the city.

The rear wheels of the car were torn off, but fortunately the automobile was not overturned. Mr. Goech was severely shaken up and received several lacerations of the hands from flying glass.

MAY ASK ORLANDO TO FORM CABINET

ROME, July 26.—The failure of former Premier Bonomi to form a cabinet further complicates the Italian crisis. The king has taken no new decision.

In view of the reluctance of Signor de Nicola and Signor de Meda to form a cabinet, it is suggested that the king should invite former Premier Orlando to make another attempt, or ask Signor de Facta to reconstruct his old cabinet.

SIGHT BLAZING OIL BARGE.

MARBLEHEAD, Mass., July 26.—Observers at Tinker's Island reported this afternoon that blazing vessel, sighted at several places off the coast, was an oil barge in tow of a tug. The vessels were bound toward Boston, and were about five miles out.

WILL USE STRAP ON UNRULY ONES

Stratford Board of Education Favors Corporal Punishment in Schools.

Cruel and Degrading Treatment of Pupils Strictly Prohibited.

Special to London Advertiser.

STRATFORD, July 26.—To strap or not to strap. This was the question which agitated the members of the board of education meeting as a committee of the whole.

The members were considering new consolidated regulations and rules of order when the following clause was announced:

"To administer punishment when necessary with the strap, on the hands only, except in case of opposition by the pupil, when punishment may be applied elsewhere, avoiding the head and other vital parts, as the circumstances of the case may warrant. Such method of punishment as shaking, pulling the ear, slapping with the hand, striking with a book, stick or ruler, hitting suddenly, or without warning, requiring the pupil to stand an unreasonable length of time, sending pupils into unheated halls or lobbies in cold weather, and all other cruel and degrading punishments are strictly prohibited."

Two of the six present opposed corporal punishment in any form. The others, however, believed a taste of the strap would be helpful, and the clause was approved.

Because Stratford girls are so proficient in their sewing lessons as to produce articles of apparel that are being worn, and because school boys are, to a large extent, on holidays, the local committee is having difficulty in securing an exhibit of the school children's work for the "Made-in-Stratford" show at Toronto Exhibition.

Woman, Horses and Hay Thrown Into Saugeen River As Bridge Gives Way

Special to London Advertiser.

HANOVER, July 26.—While riding atop a load of hay, crossing the Saugeen River two and one-half miles from here today, Mrs. John Metzer, wife of a local farmer, was suddenly thrown 20 feet into the air to fall into a pool of water 18 feet deep, when the bridge over the river collapsed, and with the hay sank into the stream.

Mrs. Metzer was seated high up on the load driving the team when the accident occurred. Her husband was walking behind the wagon. Hearing the timbers crack Mr. Metzer darted back to terra firma only to see his helpmate thrown into the water as the bridge fell apart like a house of cards. The team also was dragged into the stream.

Mrs. Metzer on falling into the water grasped a piece of the debris and clung to it until Metzer rescued her.

The horses were later extricated with considerable difficulty from their predicament of being both in the water and harnessed to the wagon. The animals were slightly injured.

Scarcely anything is left of the bridge, which was an old one, made entirely of wood.

Neither Metzer nor his wife suffered any ill effects from their experience.

CHATHAM HONORS LONDON ROTARIAN

Special to London Advertiser.

CHATHAM, July 26.—Rotarian James Gray of the London Rotary Club, was the guest of honor at the Chatham Rotary Club today, and in recognition of his work in organizing the local club he was presented with a gold "service key."

The subsequent success of his work in forming the club and making it an important factor in the life of the city has earned for him the title of the "Daddy of the club." The presentation followed an interesting account of the international convention in a speech by Rotarian Gray.

DIES OF WOUND FROM HAY FORK

KINGSTON, July 26.—A distressing accident occurred on the farm of T. M. Asselstine, North Fredericksburg, in which William Wood, a lad about sixteen, lost his life.

He, in some way, jumped on a hay fork, one prong of which penetrated his jugular vein. He started for the house, and before reaching it collapsed and was found dead.

800 EXPECTED TO RETIRE FROM NEW DEPARTMENT

Merging of Three National Defense Branches Permits Big Cut in Salary List.

OTTAWA, July 26.—By the time the present reorganization in the new department of defense is completed there will be involved nearly 800 retirements from the three departments concrned.

This includes the air board and the naval service department, as well as the department of militia and defence, which are to be merged in the new department of national defense.

Out of these 800 employees, 40 retired at the end of the last fiscal year, on March 31 last. Some 30 men have been discharged since that time, and it is probable that about 100 more will be dispensed with before the reconstruction is finished.

The total reductions made last session in the votes for these three departments was nearly three millions, and it is said that there has been a saving of $650,000 in addition growing out of the abolition of positions formerly paid out of war and demobilization appropriations.

RECEIVES BOND TENDERS.

HALIFAX, N. S., July 26.—Tenders for a two million dollar issue of Nova Scotia government 25-year bonds, bearing 5 per cent interest were opened here today. They will be considered tomorrow.

Life and Character Reading.

JULY 27.

In this position are found the elements of water and fire, very wet water and very hot fire. These natures are often intellectual geniuses and usually ambitious and desirous of occupying the best places. A few of them are willing to work for such a distinction, but the majority rely on their wits to carry them through.

Women born on this cusp are generally very intense, and if treated unkindly or indifferently are likely to conceive a disgust for their marital companions. When this is the case it is final. As mothers, they are most affectionate and self-denying, and as housekeepers are sometimes too neat.

The governing sign of this date is the mixed sign of Cancer-Leo, and the governing planet is the moon.

Watch the Want Ads carefully for better positions as clerks, stenographers, accountants and bookkeepers.

TO SHOW FOREIGN PRESS ADVANTAGES OF CANADA

Percy Bullen Plans Tour of Dominion for Representatives.

Ottawa, July 27.—Percy Bullen, representing the Daily Telegraph, of London, visited Ottawa today on his way from Winnipeg to Montreal. He came from New York, where he is stationed, to make preliminary arrangements for a Canadian tour of the Association of Foreign Press Representatives in the United States, of which body he was the organizer in 1917. The association has 65 members representing the leading papers of Europe, South America, Japan and British dominions overseas, all of whom are stationed either in New York or Washington.

"The trip will be chiefly educational," Mr. Bullen said, "and will help to make the dominion better known abroad at a time when more people are required to settle in Canada and help pay the growing burden of taxation. At the present time Australia is making efforts to secure new population and is offering exceptional attractions. Canada also must relax on effort to make known her great advantages for the right sort of emigrants, and these we hope to see very soon."

REFUSES TO TALK OVER CAR STRIKE

Buffalo, July 27.—President Tulley of the International Railway Company, today refused to participate in Mayor Schwab's proposed investigation of the strike of carmen now in its fourth week.

Commissioner Graves, named by the mayor as chairman of the investigating committee, said contempt proceedings against the officials of the international were under consideration.

Cars were moved on all city and inter-urban lines of the company today with little public patronage.

JOHN BULL PROVES GOOD CUSTOMER TO DOMINION

Ottawa, July 27.—(By Canadian Press).—In the twelve months closing with the end of June, John Bull was Canada's best customer. During that period Canada exported goods to the United Kingdom valued at $301,838,559, while the United States came second, taking Canadian goods to the value of $295,398,203.

During the twelve months ending June 30, 1911, the United States was far ahead as a market for Canadian products. In that year Canadian exports to the United States were $501,934,266; to the United Kingdom $306,775,630.

REPUBLIC TO CURB GERMAN PRESS

Berlin, July 27.—Provincial newspapers throughout Prussia, which heretofore have been serving as official organs for local governments, will have to conform in their editorial attitude to the demands of the German republic or forego their revenues from official advertising. A decree to this effect issued today by the Prussian minister of the interior, affects numerous local newspapers which have been out of sympathy with the Republican government.

MAY SEAL PACKAGES FOR PARCEL POST IN CANADA

Ottawa, July 27.—Notice is contained in the postoffice weekly bulletin issued here by the postoffice department, informing postmasters that sealed parcels of merchandise may be accepted for transmission throughout Canada at parcel post rates of postage. Such merchandise may be accepted, provided the sender has placed thereon a printed label stating in a general way the nature of the contents.

A label is recommended by the postoffice department which contains the name and address of the sender, and also the name and address to whom the parcel is sent.

SURE GREAT BRITAIN WILL LIFT EMBARGO

will of people of Britain is proclaimed and that embargo will go through. Opponents may yet procure delays and evasions. Principal credit for this decision lies with yourself, who first came to England as organizer of movement and returned again to explain Canadian standpoint to British public opinion.

"Your advocacy was greatest instrument in removing this unjust and impolitic bar to sound inter-imperial relations.

"You have been criticized by opponents of removal of embargo, but attacks are a tribute to the efficiency with which you pleaded your cause. Public opinion here appreciates your action and that of other eminent Canadian statesmen who urged removal of embargo from British platforms."—Beaverbrook.

"As a result of the removal of the embargo, the minister predicted a big growth in the live stock industry of the country within the next two years. He stated that the removal of the embargo will have a tremendous stabilizing effect throughout the country.

"My own opinion is that if the Dominion government, and I am going to press my point, will take some decided action to bring ocean freight rates down to a reasonable basis there will be a very large export business from Canada within the next year or two years at the most," he declared.

"Even if the government has to operate the merchant marine service at a loss, it will make money for the country, in the opinion of the minister, who further stated that adequate shipping facilities for cattle exporters will eventually put money back into the pockets of the farmers.

"With the farmers who operate the basic industry of the country prosperous, this will prove a wonderful stimulus to other industries and trade generally," Mr. Doherty concluded.

eminent ambassador to Moscow," he said, "but he will not be followed by a single trader or banker until Russia fulfills the necessary conditions. To profess otherwise would only mislead Russia, and induce her to adopt a waiting policy, in the hope of getting what she wants without fulfilling these conditions."

Arguing that not two, perhaps not a dozen, conferences would suffice to solve the problem, the prime minister declared that the greatest advantage from the Genoa and The Hague conferences had been education of Russia to a proper understanding of realities.

Mr. Lloyd George generally indorsed the position adopted by Sir Philip Lloyd-Greame; he insisted that the initiative lay with Russia, not with the allies, and that unless something was done soon Russia would be reduced to primeval conditions. She had suffered so much from wars, revolutions and famine that restoration was impossible unless she invoked the aid of western brain, skill and trade. He did not accept the view that things were becoming worse in Europe, but at the same time the world's trade was interdependent, and the fact that Russian resources had been for four or five years inaccessible was a loss to civilization.

India was unable to buy from England, continued the premier, because she was unable to sell to Russia, and the world trade generally had suffered for similar reasons. He was convinced that the only salvation for Russia lay in engaging the interest of those who had traded with Russia before the war.

way companies in giving notice of a reduction before a board of investigation had reported on the dispute. They claim that, while they have complied with the law by applying for a board, the companies have violated the law by giving notice of reduction.

If the companies should announce their intention of withdrawing the cut, pending the report of the board which is now being constituted, it is believed here that there would be no strike.

No payments under the reduced rates of which the railway companies have given notice, will become necessary, it is understood, until the middle of August. There is a pay-day on the railways at the end of this month, but it is stated that this covers the first two weeks in July, during which the reduced rates had not come into effect.

No information is yet available here in regard to the telegram sent to the prime minister by R. J. Tallon, president of division No. 4, railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor. The premier is up at his summer home at Kingsmere, and if he has received it he has not made public any reply to it.

School Trustee Thomas Rowe terms the civic mission, will no longer wander in far off fields, while his colleagues clamor for it to be brought into the fold. Members of the commission are diligently preparing for the solemn opening of the debate after 78 days of inactivity, and laundries of the city report an overwhelming number of linen collars coming in to be rejuvenated for next Tuesday.

Little thinking of the shock to be provided by his announcement, Mayor Wilson drew an Advertiser reporter into a corner of his office Thursday at 11:46 a.m. and whispered in his ear, "The civic commission will meet next week."

Stunned by the blow, the dazed scribe reached for one of the mayor's cigarettes, but in his agitation picked up one of the cigars held in reserve for visitors whom City Clerk Baker cannot induce to leave the sanctum sanctonum, and when he was revived by the office boy, his worship had fled. The civic commission will meet next week, and verily, as the office boy opines, "wonders will never stop ceasing."

LAUDS AMITY OF BRITAIN AND U. S.

New York, July 27.—The Anglo-Saxon world, as represented by Great Britain and the United States, is the guardian of the world's peace, and between the two countries always will be friendship and amity, the guests at the Pilgrims' Society dinner were told last night by Lord Shaw, of Dunfermline, Scotland, in whose honor the affair was given.

The Scottish nobleman is here to represent Great Britain's judiciary at the annual meeting of the American Bar Association next month at San Francisco.

HOPE CONSULTATION WILL END ENGINEERS' DISPUTE

London, July 27.—Canadian Press Cable.—The critical position of the engineering industry created by the result of the ballot of the Amalgamated Engineering Union, announced yesterday, was discussed at conferences in London today. Representatives of the unions assembled to discuss their policy prior to meeting the employers.

The union leaders realize that a difficult situation has arisen, but they express the hope that in consultation with the employers a means will be found for averting a further dislocation of the industry, which has not yet recovered from the long stoppage of work over the "managerial rights" dispute.

VEGETABLE PRICES DROP ON MARKET

Apples Offered in Large Quantities at $1.25 Bushel.

Tomatoes were offered in large quantities on the local market on Thursday morning, and the price dropped to $1 25 a basket.

All vegetables were plentiful, with a drop in the price of some lines. The market gardens are especially good this year, and vegetables are a little earlier than usual.

Carrots, onions, beets and lettuce were plentiful, with prices practically unchanged.

Raspberries were in good demand at 18@20c a box, but the quality of the fruit is not as good as that offered last week. The berry crop will be practically over this week, the growers say.

Very few cherries were seen on the local square, as the season is just about over. What little were offered sold at $1 10@1 25 per basket.

Black currants sold well at 22@25c a box.

Apples are becoming more plentiful each day, and were offered in large quantities at $1 25 per bushel.

Corn—Spot American mixed, new, 6s 9d; do, old, 6s 11d.

Winnipeg, July 27.—Futures opened: Wheat—July, ¼c to ⅞c higher at $1 32⅛@1 32¾; Oct., ⅜c to ⅝c higher at $1 14@1 14¼; Dec., ¼c higher at $1 10.

Oats—July, ¼c higher at 49⅞c; Oct., ⅛c higher at 45c; Dec., ¼c higher at 42¾c.

Barley—July unchanged at 65½c; Oct. unchanged at 58⅞c.

Rye—Oct., ⅜c lower at 76¼c.

Chicago, July 27.—Hedging sales, together with absence of speculative buying, led to early downturns in the price of wheat today, notwithstanding a little firmness at the start. The transient initial gains were ascribed to higher quotations at Liverpool. This was later offset, however, by lack of any signs of important new export business. The opening, which varied from ⅛c to ½c higher, was followed by a slight further rise and then by a setback to well below yesterday's finish.

Corn and oats were easier with wheat. Demand for corn was confined chiefly to shorts. After opening ⅜c off to a like advance, the corn market declined a trifle all around.

Oats started ⅛c to ¼c lower to ⅛c advance, and later receded somewhat.

Futures opened:

Wheat—July, $1 10; Sept., $1 07½.

Corn—July, 61⅜c; Sept., 62c.

Oats—July, 31⅞c; Sept., 33⅞c.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

New York, July 27—Wall Street, noon.—The market became more irregular during the first hour because of the increased heaviness of Mexican Seaboard and theshrdluon.shrdlumfynunp board common and the certificates. The support set in, however, at the lower levels, bot hissues making substantial recoveries. Motors strengthened under the lead of Studebaker and Chandler, and stels came forward on buying of Crucible and Gulf States. Mexican Oils were firm to strong, notably Mexican and Pan-Americans, and several of the Pacific group. Stronger features among rails embraced several of the coalers, Southern Pacific, Atchison and Great Northern preferred. SEEK TO IMPORT U. S. HAY INTO BRITISH COLUMBIA

Merritt, B.C., July 27.—A request that the federal government make special provisions for the importation of hay from the United States to supply the cattle of this district in the interior, will be laid before Hon. W. R. Motherwell, minister of agriculture, during his stay on this coast. Owing to the drought, there is no feed for cattle, and stock raisers of the Nikola and Kamloops districts are said to be facing bankruptcy as a consequence.

The general drought throughout the province has aggravated the situation.

CANADA TO FIGHT FOR ANZAC TRADE

Massey-Harris Official Denies Manufacturers Are At Disadvantage With U. S.

TORONTO, July 26.—"Utilizing the commonly-held dread of the 'Yellow Peril' to their own ends, Australian manufacturers have succeeded in forcing their government to greatly increase its tariff wall," declared Mr. J. N. Shenstone, first vice-president of the Massey-Harris Company, who has just returned from a six months' tour through all parts of the great southern commonwealth.

During the war, Australia found herself entirely helpless in many essential respects, as world transportation facilities were upset and imports ceased. Manufacturers then began upon a campaign designed to make Australia self-supporting. The erection of a high protective barrier was the immediate result, with a preferential duty extended to England, but not to the other colonies of the empire.

"Negotiations are now under way," declared Mr. Shenstone, "between the Canadian and Australian governments, which, if successful, will result in a reciprocal preferential tariff being drawn up." But even should such negotiations succeed, he does not expect that it will apply to anything but raw materials. Some import duties have been placed upon manufactured goods at a rate of 45 per cent, which, until a few years ago, were upon the free list.

With a town and city population of more than 65 per cent of its five million inhabitants and possessing almost unlimited supplies of coal and iron, Australia is now determined to be a self-contained country.

When questioned today as to the likelihood of Canadian manufacturers of farm implements being obliged to forego the Australian market in the event of the failure to secure a preferential tariff in that country, Mr. Shenstone replied: "Canadian manufacturers will not in any way be at a greater disadvantage than American firms selling in Australia. It will simply resolve itself into a struggle by Canadians to prevent being undersold by the United States."

WAIL OF FAMILY WINS CLEMENCY

CHICAGO, July 26.—Engene Saltzman listened to the court's verdict. The evidence had shown that he stole four sacks of potatoes and he had denied it.

"Twenty-five dollars and costs," decreed Judge Prindiville.

A wail of great volume arose behind Saltzman. It came from his wife and 15 children.

"I haven't a dime," said Saltzman.

"Then you'll have to go to jail."

The wailing, augmented by piercing shrieks from the smallest Saltzman, drowned out the court.

"I said"—began Judge Prindiville.

There was a sustained roar. The judge waved his hands and bailiffs banged gavels on the table.

"Probation," pleaded 17 Saltzmans.

"Probation it is," ruled the court.

TRUCK WRECKS "SPEED COP'S" CAR

Special to London Advertiser.

BRANTFORD, July 26.—"Speed Cop" Harry Ransome has been forced to give the speeders the right-of-way for the past few days.

Monday afternoon the officer parked his car in front of a large street roller. He had just left the machine when a seven-ton truck backed into it and jammed it against the roller. Damage to the extent of $400 was caused. Ransome is taking an enforced vacation until the machine is repaired.

DRURY DENIES ELECTION TO BE HELD THIS YEAR

Declares Government Will Go To Country When Term Expires.

STRONGLY DEFENDS O.T.A.

Claims Credit For Refusing Press Demand For Hydro Radials.

BARRIE, Ont., July 26.—Premier Drury disposed of the rumors prevailing regarding the provincial election in his address at the first U. F. O. meeting in his native township, held at the town hall, Oro, this afternoon. At the close of his address he declared that the government was stronger than when it took office, and had won to its support hundreds of thousands who are not farmers.

"Some newspapers are guessing as to the date of the next provincial election. It will not be this year, and the government will not hold any snap verdicts. We will go to the people when our term has expired."

Touching upon the question of the cattle embargo and the influences brought to bear for its removal, the premier said: "There is only one conclusion, that the efforts of the Hon. Manning Doherty have succeeded in clearing Canada's cattle of the charge of disease, and will ultimately remove the embargo against the entry of our cattle into Britain."

Mr. Drury made a vigorous defense of the O. T. A. "The government," he said, "stands behind the O. T. A., and will see that it is enforced fairly and fearlessly. I will not stand for tampering with it in one way or the other."

Discussing hydro radials, he declared that the claim made for the radials could not be substantiated. "In the face of the loud clamor of the city press the government has the courage to refuse to guarantee the radial bonds, thus saving the people of Ontario millions of dollars."

GARMENT WORKERS' STRIKE AT MONTREAL CONCLUDED

Contracts Under New Agreement Will Be Sent to Union Shops Only.

MONTREAL, July 26. — Several thousand clothing workers gathered in the Monument National here this afternoon and were informed by Sydney Hillman, president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, and other union officials, that a definite agreement had been arrived at between them and the principal clothing manufacturers in Montreal.

The general strike of the clothing workers was, therefore, virtually concluded after lasting barely two days.

The strike was called as a protest against what the workers called unfair methods by certain manufacturers through contracting work to non-union shops where the union workers had to compete against cheap labor. Henceforth, under the terms of the agreement reached today, contracts will be sent to union shops only.

ORANGE CRUSH—CROWN COLLECTIONS

The Orange Crush Bottlers, Limited, endeavored to have the prize-winners announced today, but the response in this contest was so great it has been found impossible to complete the count.

Mr. Widner, manager of the local branch, is using every endeavor to make the announcement at the earliest possible moment. He states: "The replies simply delayed the office and demonstrated most forcibly the popularity of Orange, Lemon and Lime Crush as a beverage."

The winners will be announced in The London Advertiser as soon as available. b

PEKIN, China, July 26.—Sun Yat Sen, deposed president of South China, virtually interned aboard his puny cruiser in Wingfung in Canton harbor, nevertheless holds the balance of power in the old Republican parliament of all China, which is expected to meet in the first session of its revival here next Tuesday.

HOLD POLE AS SUSPECT OF MONTREAL ROBBERY

TORONTO, July 26.—Arrested in Thorold, Ont., on Monday and lodged in the lockup at Welland, John Vachoff, alias Valett, a Russian Pole, was brought to Toronto tonight by Detective-Sergeants J. McConnell and Mulholland of the local headquarters' staff and detective Nassau of the Montreal police department, and lodged in Court street station.

There is no definite charge placed against him here, but he is suspected of being one of the men implicated in the robbery of the Dominion Textile Company's paymaster at Montreal on July 7, when $29,000 in cash was stolen by armed bandits.

Vachoff is suspected of being implicated in a number of recent holdups and robberies around Toronto, Hamilton and Brantford.
