TOO HIGH RENTS.

The Toronto News says there are in that city not over 2,000 houses that now rent at $10 or less, while there are over 22,000 workmen who earn $12 a week or less.

That is not a good showing. No workman can afford to pay one-fourth to one-third of his gross earnings for a roof to shelter him and his family. When he is called upon to pay about one-half his earnings for rent, or to live two to four families in rooms that should not accommodate more than one family, many evils follow. Distractions on the outskirts of Toronto are dotted with miserable shacks in which homeless ones seek to shelter their families in violation of the civic ordinances. The builders are far behind the demand, and present cost of building forbids hope that the want can be supplied at figures that do not mean hardship to the toilers.

The News finds that landlords are having a harvest. It instances one case in which the landlord realizes 43 per cent. on the assessed value of the property. The increase in famine time is fixed only by landlord caprice.

In Chatham the case is not quite so bad, but rents have risen out of all proportion to increase in earnings of the workers. This city needs a large number of houses, especially of the kind that can be rented for $10 and less. Any move in the direction of the multiplication of cheap, comfortable homes for Chatham workmen, will be to the advantage of all classes of the community.

MINISTERS OUTVOTED.

The bill authorizing the Grand Trunk Pacific Branch Lines Company to build a large number of lines connecting with the proposed Transcontinental has been advanced several stages in the Dominion House. A queer and significant incident happened last week. In the standing Committee, Mr. Emerson had caused the branch to St. John, New Brunswick, to be struck out of the list. The purpose of the Minister and his colleagues was to cause the Grand Trunk Pacific Company to acquire the New Brunswick Central, a railway in which the Provincial Government and certain local politicians have an interest. In the Committee of the Whole a motion was made to restore the clause so struck out. Mr. Emerson fought the amendment long and earnestly, and when it was pressed to a division he was supported in the vote by the other five Ministers present, namely: Messrs. Fielding, Patterson, Aylesworth, Hyman and Fisher. Nevertheless the amendment was carried by a vote of 44 to 20, only fourteen private members voting with the six ministers, who did not persuade even the majority of their own party.

"He loved the Broadway life." So said Stanford White's son in a passionate defence of his father. It epitomizes a career. Here was a man with unusual gifts, the highest standard in his profession, a luxurious home, well past the allurements of youth, who nevertheless still "loved the Broadway life." And there he finished his life, falling dead among the broken glass and spilled wine that ministered to his pleasures. A man of his brain power must have foreseen whether he was tending to that he was heading for disaster of some sort; but he had made the lusts of the eye and of his palate his divinity, and the results of such a life are as sure as that night follows day.—The Globe.

FASHION HINTS

GIRLS' TUCKED DRESS.

No. 4133.

The summer wardrobe of the little folks must provide many changes, both for cleanliness and comfort, and styles are offered in great variation, a pretty mode being pictured on this page. Blue dotted gingham was chosen for the dress, which is worn with a white lawn guimp, having a yoke and cuff bands of all-over embroidery. The waist and sleeve cap are in one, while tucks give ornamentation to the front and blouse. The one-sleeve sleeve may be in full length or in shorter length and in both cases is finished with a band cuff.

The five-gored skirt is closed at the back, and the upper edge may be gathered or the front gore left plain. For mornings colored materials in plaids, pink, gray, etc., with bands of white or contrasting material will make up well. Chamoise, pongee, dimity, summer silks and pique are recommended for afternoons.

The quantity of material required for the medium size is five yards of 28-inch material, and 5.8 yard of all-over for bands, collar and facing. Pattern No. 4133 is cut in sizes 4 to 12 years. Mailed postpaid on receipt of 10 cents, name, size and address to the Fashion Department of the C. Austin & Co.

CATCHING COLD.

Suggestions That May Keep One From the Doctor.

A person in good health, with fair play, easily resists cold, but when the health flags a little and liberties are taken with the stomach or with the nervous system a chill is easily taken and, according to the weak spot of the individual, assumes the form of a cold or pneumonia, or it may be jaundice. Of all causes of cold, probably fatigue is one of the most efficient. A faded man coming home at night from a long day's work, a growing youth losing two hours' sleep over evening parties two or three times a week or a young lady heavily "doing the season," young children overtired and with short allowance of sleep, are common instances of the victims of cold.

Luxury is favorable to chill taking. Very hot rooms, feather beds, soft chairs, create a sensitiveness that leads to catarrhs. It is not after all, the cold that is so much to be feared as the antecedent conditions that give the attack a chance of doing harm. Some of the worst colds happen to those who do not leave their house or even their beds, and those who are most invulnerable are often those who are most exposed to changes of temperature and who by good sleep, cold bathing and regular habits preserve the tone of their nervous system and circulation.

Probably many chills are contracted at night or at the fog end of the day, when tired people get the equilibrium of their circulation disturbed by either overheated sitting rooms or underheated bedrooms and beds. This is especially the case with elderly people. In such cases the mischief is not always done instantaneously or in a single night. It often takes place insidiously, extending over days or even weeks.—London Lancet.

Fighting the Current.

Papua has swift streams well stocked with fish. An explorer tells of a Papua fresh water mullet which sometimes weighs as much as fifteen pounds. "These fish are wonderfully provided by nature with an appliance which helps them to combat the extraordinary currents. At one moment you will see them being swept down resistlessly, but suddenly they shoot off into the quieter water and attach themselves to the rocks by a strong sucker near the mouth. These they hang just outside the current, their tails moving gently with it, and when they have recovered their strength they make another dash through the swifter waters."

Observance of the Sabbath.

There was the minister of Tweedsmuir who on a certain Sabbath found a salmon stranded in shallow water and who, being unable conscientiously to take it out on such a day, built a hedge of stones around it and, returning on the morrow, claimed his prize. There was the old farmer who could not go to the kirk because he had neglected to shave on the Saturday night, and he would not profane the day by the use of any edged tool.

A True Fish Story.

Here is a fish story told by a British nobleman: An Irishman had caught a big pike. Noting a lump in its stomach, he cut it open. "As I cut it open there was a mighty rush and a flapping of wings, and away flew a wild duck, and when I looked inside there was a nest, with four eggs, and she had been sitting on that nest."

Ensnaring Victims

Here in Chatham, as in other cities and towns, dyspepsia or stomach troubles are ensnaring victims in a most insidious way.

Nearly every mother's son of us and daughter, too, expects the stomach to accustom itself to all manner of ill-treatment, but the times comes when we cannot abuse it with impunity. How much better it would be to take steps at once to strengthen the stomach and prevent further trouble.

Use Mi-o-na now and soothe the irritated walls of the stomach, and strengthen the gastric follicles so that they will pour out their daily supply of digestive materials with regularity. Then the headaches, sleeplessness, specks before the eyes, poor appetite, tired feelings and nervousness will disappear, and you can eat what you want at any time you like.

Mi-o-na is a combination of remedies, some of which are but little known in this country, and is a positive guaranteed cure for all diseases of the stomach excepting cancer.

Just one little tablet out of a 50 cent box before meals, for a few days, and you will soon regain perfect health and strength, and have no fear of indigestion or stomach troubles.

Mi-o-na costs but 50 cents a box. If you cannot obtain Mi-o-na of your druggist, it will be sent by mail, post paid, on receipt of price. Write us for advice on your case from a leading stomach specialist which will be sent free. The R. T. Booth Company, Ithaca, N. Y.

Removes Black Heads, drives away beauty ills. Stimulates the whole nervous system. Greatest purifier known. Not a drug. Helps fading loveliness as Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. 35 cents.

A Canadian Inventor.

Arthur Williams McCurdy, scientist and inventor, was born at Truro, N. S., April 13, 1856. He is a son of Hon. David McCurdy, member of the Legislative Council. He graduated from the Whitby, Ont., Collegiate Institute, and became a student and private secretary in the laboratories of Prof. Alexander Graham Bell at Bell's Bazaar, N. S., and at Washington. He is the inventor of a method of printing statistical maps by the use of the interchangeable "map type." From researches in photography he evolved a scientific system for automatic development of plates and films, and demonstrated that salt or sea water may be used in the processes. His researches of six years resulted in the introduction by the Eastman Kodak Co., September, 1902, of the "kodak" developing machine and its accessories. Mr. McCurdy was awarded the John Scott premium and medal by the Franklin Institute, 1903. His residence is now at Victoria, B. C.

Rope Around Neck, Jumps Bridge.
Lethbridge, Alta., July 3.—W. B. Nicholson, up till a short time ago an engineer on the C. N. R., but who recently resigned his position, committed suicide by attaching a rope round his neck and jumping from a bridge into the Vermilion River. He leaves a widow and two children. He came from Chatham, Ont., to Dauphin, about two years ago.

Find Infant's Body Dead.
Chesley, July 3.—The body of a dead female child was found on the railway track Sunday. An inquest is being held. Everything points to some person going north on the train Saturday night having poured carbolic acid in the infant's mouth and throwing it off the train. The infant was about four weeks old, and was neatly dressed in factory linen clothes, and was apparently well nourished.

For Coughs
We know a remedy over sixty years old. Thousands of people have never been without it during all these years. Once in the family, it stays; the one household remedy for coughs and colds. The more you consult your doctor about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, the better for you, and the better for us as well. Ask him all about it.

GROUP OF TOIL.
In Russian Douma Call Gen. Pavloff "Murderer" and Drive Him From the Tribune in the House.

St. Petersburg, July 3.—The afternoon sitting of the Lower House of Parliament yesterday, which was devoted to the discussion of the law providing for the abolition of the death penalty, broke up in utter disorder, when Gen. Pavloff, the military procurator, attempted to address the House in behalf of Minister Ruzhicki. His appearance in the tribune was the signal for outburst of cries of "Murderer!" "Assassin!" "Organizer of Jewish massacres!" etc., from the members of the Group of Toil, in which the entire left joined. They pounded their desks, shouted, whistled and resorted to every violent means of showing their displeasure.

Gen. Pavloff after listening to the storm for several minutes turned to President Mouroumoff, bowed and left the tribune. Mouroumoff, who appeared to be thoroughly angered at the demonstration, endeavored to quell it with his voice, and the violent ringing of his bell, but abandoned his fruitless task and left the chair, signifying that the session was adjourned.

Intoxicated Fish.
A stand at a distillery at Frankfort, Ky., broke down the other day, and 16,000 gallons of whisky were lost. It ran into Benson creek. Farmers living on the banks of the stream later saw hundreds of fish either floating lazily or else leaping playfully on the surface and altogether unafraid of the presence of the men. The farmers caught them by the bushel, and it was not till the news of the break at the distillery became known that the mystery was solved. The fish had become intoxicated.

THE DAY IN CANADA.
In Toronto the stellar attraction of Dominion Day this year was the Horse Parade, in which there were over 700 turnouts, and 30,000 spectators in Queen's Park alone. Thousands left the city by rail and boat to spend the day elsewhere. A royal salute of 21 guns was fired by the field battery at noon. In Brantford a military celebration was participated in by the 5th Regiment and band of Peterboro. At Ottawa the Fusiliers of London dropped the color in the presence of 3,000 spectators. Petrolia had a caltumpian parade and a display of fireworks. At Hespler her old boys from many places had a grand program of sports. In Old Quebec there was a parade of the 41st Regiment of Brooklyn and a salute from the Citadel of 21 guns.

DOMINION DAY EVENTS

Banquet at Hotel Cecil, London, in Honor of Canada.

Lord Strathcona, Sir Charles Tupper, Dr. Parkin and N. A. Belcourt, M.P., Among Guests—All the Evening Papers of London Have Praise For Our Development—The Thunderer Is Most Generous In Its Tribute.

London, July 3.—(C. A. P.)—Over 350 eat down at the Dominion Day banquet at the Hotel Cecil. Lord Strathcona was in the chair and among the numerous company present were the Bishop of Rupert, Earl of Derby, Sir Charles Tupper, Dr. Parkin, G. W. Cockburn and Sir Thomas Barlow.

Lord Strathcona on rising to propose the toast to the King received great applause. N. A. Belcourt, M.P., proposed the toast to the Queen and the rest of the royal family.

The Earl of Jersey proposed the Imperial Forces. He said Canada had set an example the Empire should follow. Admiral Hopkins responding to same toast said when addressing Canadians he was not addressing strangers. He referred to the C. P. R. steamers having beaten the Cunard steamers.

Of Canada's Best.
Lord Strathcona in proposing the Dominion of Canada referred to Sir Charles Tupper as one of Canada's best and greatest men. Lord Strathcona said Canadians at Bixley and Henley and the Chambers of Commerce and medical associations visit to Canada would draw the Dominion closer to the Empire.

Lord Elgin, responding, claimed the right to share the affection Canadians had for their country, as he was a Canadian born. He congratulated Sir Charles Tupper as the day was his birthday. Referring to the freedom of the British citizen, Lord Elgin said there was no better example to-day than the French-Canadian.

Colin Campbell, Attorney-General of Manitoba, proposed "Our Guests." The Bishop of Rupert and the Lord Mayor of London responded.

A very large number of those at the banquet afterwards journeyed westward to the Imperial Institute, to Lord Strathcona's at home.

Praise For Canada.
London, July 3.—(C. A. P.)—All the evening papers observe Dominion Day with editorials praising Canada's development, and noting her prosperity materially and morally. They comment on the growth of the Imperial sentiment, and predict Canada's unlimited future.

Canada's 20th Century Birthday.
London, July 3.—(C. A. P.)—Of Canada's birthday The Times says: "Never have the auspices for Canada's future been fairer than to-day; never have the patriotic faith and confident assurance of Sir John A. Macdonald and his fellow-workers found more triumphant vindication. The long, disheartening winter of neglect at last is breaking up, and to-day Canada bids fair to justify the proud boast that the twentieth century will belong to her."

Canadian Pavilion at Milan.
London, July 3.—(C. A. P.)—The Canadian pavilion at the Milan exhibition was inaugurated on Dominion Day in the presence of local authorities, Canadian delegates and invited guests. Toasts were exchanged at the luncheon.

Tupper's Birthday.
London, July 3.—Yesterday was the eighty-fifth birthday of Sir Charles Tupper. In an interview with The News, he said, as compared with the conditions in his youth, the development of Canada was enormous.

SATISFACTION!

That is the key to the success of every successful business. Without it success would be impossible. Old customers would not come back, no new ones would be obtained, and the business would fail very rapidly if every purchase was not entirely satisfactory.

We have, we think, been very successful in our search for customers, and even more so in our ability to retain their patronage.

We have always worked on that one word "Satisfaction," and we know we have succeeded, and our trade could not have increased so rapidly as it has.

Why not let us have your trade? Here is what we offer you—

Wm. G. McGeorge, whose funeral took place to-day, was born in Wales on August 19, 1838, and was ten years of age when he came with his parents to Canada. His father was a civil engineer of high standing and under him he learnt his profession. He married Miss Jane Gardiner, daughter of James Gardiner, in the year 1873, and between the marriage and Mrs. McGeorge's death, which occurred in 1901, four children, Ethel, Sybil, Flora and William were born. The late Mr. McGeorge held the position of Dominion surveyor and was civil engineer for the County of Kent. His greatest work was done in connection with the reclaiming of a large portion of Kent County, which was under water until thirty years ago, and his name is closely associated with the great drainage systems of Kent County, and the Skinner and Pike works, which, between them, drained over 8,000 acres of land, and were heralds of the development of Kent County's rich agricultural districts, known as the Plains.

Mr. McGeorge owned a large farm on the outskirts of the city, the greater portion of which had been reclaimed by drainage. He was a staunch supporter of the Liberal party and was a popular and esteemed citizen whose loss is keenly felt.

PLEASANT OUTING

About four hundred holiday-makers were aboard the City of Chatham yesterday morning when it left the Rankin Dock to take the Park St. Methodist Church S. S. excursion to Belle Isle. The rain was falling steadily and there seemed little prospect of it abating, but the crowd of children were in the highest spirits and were determined to make the best of a rather miserable day.

Belle Isle was reached in good time and, after refreshments had been partaken of, sports were indulged in by the juniors during the afternoon. Despite the unpropitious weather conditions, a pleasant time was spent, the merry crowd making light of the rain and enjoying themselves as only excursionists know how.

The return journey was, perhaps, the best time of all, being enlivened by music and singing, and under the shelter of the best deck, the party bid defiance to the rain, which had dampened everything but their spirits in its ill-natured persistence. Mr. J. W. White, as of old, was the fore in making the day "gay" and on the homeward voyage he led the singing in his customary capable manner, just as he has done on so many previous occasions. As the Thames in the starlight night it presented a vivid contrast, the bright lights and lusty voices of the singers brightening a miserable night and testifying to the happiness of its passengers. The Rankin Dock was reached shortly after dark and a pleasant but damp outing concluded as it began, in the rain.

The net profits of the excursion will most probably amount to $20, which, considering the disadvantageous circumstances, is most gratifying.

Graphic Description.

In reviewing Sunday's events, it is recalled that while all went well until the train reached Salisbury, some passengers at various points remarked on the very high rate of speed, one or two expressing some alarm, and those taking supper on the train experienced great difficulty in avoiding spilling the contents of their plates and cups.

A short distance out of Salisbury began a remarkable curve which some times has been described as the most dangerous in the world, and which certainly possesses elements of danger. Not only does the line enter and leave the station on a curve, but where it crosses Fisherton street the line takes a slight rise in order to afford sufficient headway to the dipping roadway below. It was practically at this point that the engine jumped the rails and brought about a disaster, both as regards the percentage of lives lost and the extent of the damage to rolling stock, almost without precedent in the annals of British railway accidents, and especially of boat expresses.

At the scene of the catastrophe there are five lines of rails. Two are main lines, two others are devoted to local traffic, and the fifth is a siding.

Of these five lines only two were occupied at the time of the accident. A milk train loaded with empty cans was leisurely entering the station in the opposite direction to the express, while at the entrance of the siding there is a solitary locomotive ready to furnish any service the milk train might require.

A Startling Sight.

In the meantime the express, which was due to run through with an ample line of rails on either side of her, came pounding along, swaying heavily owing to the enormous speed. The inspector on the station platform, watching in hand, followed her course with his eyes.

He was horrified to see the train leave the rails, jump to the vacant line on the right, and plunge into the rear of the milk train. A crash like the roar of artillery awakened many inhabitants of Salisbury, a mile away. Within in some 20 seconds the whole train became a chaotic mass of wreckage, the ponderous engine having smashed the guards van of the milk train to atoms and killed a guard. Instantly all the carriages broke from their couplings. The engine hurled itself against the edge of the strong iron parapet which bounds the bridge over the roadway. Almost end on and so probably was saved from carrying away the parapet and projecting the train into the street below. However, the iron work of the parapet was twisted out of all shape, and a portion of it was detached and fell with a crash to the pavement beneath.

Passenger Hurled 30 Feet.

The impact with the bridge was startling in its results. While the under parts of the railway carriages remained on the track, though off the rails, the woodwork of the carriages projected over the bridge and the street below was strewn with glass and splinters. One passenger was even hurled right through the side of a broken carriage 30 feet to the embankment and either killed and mangled by the fall or by the mass of wreckage that fell upon him.

tle, broken-backed. Carriage was piled on carriage as though by giant hands, the stationary engine tilted towards the concrete platform with the spectacle of one carriage on its top, and the engine and tender of the express almost locked into the stationary engine, everything being smashed and splintered with the exception of the guards' van of the express, which, owing to the presence of mind of the guard who quickly applied the brakes, was not overturned.

The directions to engine drivers over this portion of the line is not to exceed a speed of 20 miles an hour, but it is alleged calculations based on the times at which different signal boxes were passed show that this speed was exceeded. Unfortunately both the engine driver and the stoker are dead, and therefore it may be difficult to obtain reliable evidence as to the speed the train was running when the accident occurred.

Flames Add Terror.

The horror of the scene which now presents itself was increased by fears of the added calamity of fire. Flames shot up from the furnace of the overturned engine and set fire to debris in the vicinity and a considerable escape of gas from the reservoirs underneath the train. Officials, however, with the greatest promptitude brought hose to play, checked the flames at the outset and turned off the gas.

The few officials at the station who were soon reinforced by willing helpers from the town, with the aid of lamps began the work of rescue. The spectacle that met their gaze was heart-rending. Instead of the shrieks that might have been expected, ominous silence succeeded to the horrors of the scene. Stationmaster Lawrence says this was what most struck him on arriving at the spot. Both the injured and the survivors seemed to be too stricken or too dazed by the suddenness of the tragedy to utter even a murmur. The waiting rooms of the station were hastily prepared for use as surgeries or mortuaries. In the carriage huddled in wreckage almost under the wheels of the overturned engine death had been busiest. Here nine men and five women were taken out dead soon after the accident. The driver and fireman were quite dead in their cab.

These were all taken to the waiting room and several of the injured were taken to the hospital. The bodies of the injured were not far distant.

Bodies in a Heap.

The work of rescue proceeded slowly until the arrival of the break down gang from London and Exeter and despite the utmost despatch it was noon before the last of the dead was extricated from the ghastly prison house.

When an opening was made into the second carriage, a terrible sight was revealed. At one end of a compartment several bodies were jammed together, in an almost unrecognizable mass. It was six or eight hours before it was found possible to remove them.

The scenes around the wreck were calculated to shake the strongest nerves. The sobbing and cries of young Mrs. Cassitt wrung tears from many of the rough men among the rescuers. She herself was little hurt, but her husband was so severely injured that though still alive his case was seen to be hopeless. He died shortly after being taken to the infirmary, and the bereaved wife was taken to the residence of a local doctor, from whence she subsequently went to friends in London. Among the dead is Keeler, the "human enigma." He had telegraphed to his aged mother in London from Plymouth of his expected arrival.

The Mordid Throng.

Throughout Sunday the scene was visited by thousands of people coming by motor-car, by railroad, or on bicycles.

The cause of the accident is still in doubt. It is suggested that the wheels of the engine failed to take the switch, or that a wheel or axle broke. A careful examination may afford some evidence.

The train was regarded as having been light for high speed, but it is notorious that trains always sway and shake going at any speed over this curve. Usually at the Salisbury curve steam is shut off and the brakes applied.

No such serious accident has occurred since 1889, when the New Haven boat train and the Brighton Express collided at Wivelsfield, killing six passengers.

The Inquest.

The inquest was opened yesterday afternoon in the banquet chamber of the City Hall. Representatives of the American Line, the South-Western Railway, the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants, and the Association of Engineers and Firemen were present. The American consul at Southampton, Albert W. Swain, is looking after the interests of the Americans.

Immediately after the jury had sworn they proceeded to the railroad station to view the bodies. Reporters were not allowed to accompany them. When the jury returned the coroner announced that only evidence regarding the identification of the bodies would be taken, and that the inquest would then be adjourned for a fortnight. He expressed deep sympathy with the victims and their surviving relatives.

No further deaths have been recorded. The bodies of the dead are still in the waiting-room of the railroad station. Where no relatives are available, identification of the dead will be made by the doctor and a purser of the New York. The bodies of the American victims are being embalmed for conveyance home.

THE CANADIAN VICTIMS.

Rev. Mr. King's Death Was Particularly Touching—Mr. Barwick Desired to Keep an Engagement.

Salisbury, Eng., July 3.—(C. A. P.)—The death of Rev. Mr. King was particularly touching.

He did not lose his senses for a second, and even when he felt death creeping on him and when he was pinned in the wreck he prayed for those around him. He must have been suffering terrible agony, yet to the end his thought was for others.

When told by the surgeons that he must compose himself, he said that his duty was to pray.

Barwick Keeping Faith.

The body of the late Walter Barwick, K. C., a victim of the Salisbury wreck, was brought to London last night and how lies at an undertaker's at 82 Baker street. If the Canadian relatives so desire it will be embalmed and sent home, otherwise it will be interred by relatives here.

Col. Atkinson, brother-in-law of Mr. Barwick, who had the sad duty of identifying the remains, returned to London last night, having been at Salisbury since Sunday afternoon. He was present at the inquest yesterday afternoon. Beyond the identification of the body, nothing developed. Identification was not difficult.

It is believed the desire to keep an engagement influenced the deceased to take the fatal train.

Mr. Pison's Interment.

The remains of the late C. A. Pison are still at Salisbury, where his sisters await the wishes of the Canadian relatives. If so desired, interment will be in the family vault on Guernsey Island. Francis King, brother of the late Rev. E. L. King, went to Salisbury for the inquest and has not yet returned.

FRENCH MEMBERS FIGHT

Ottawa, July 4.—In the House of Commons yesterday morning Mr. Aylesworth introduced a bill relating to the Supreme Court of Judicature of the Province of New Brunswick. He explained that the bill was designed to give effect to the legislation of New Brunswick reorganizing the Judiciary of that province and creating a Supreme Court, with two divisions, one of appeal, the other of trial.

Ballot Stuffer Rewarded.
Mr. Laker called attention to a despatch printed in a Regina paper stating that H. J. Moberly, who had been fined $100 for making a false return of the ballot at a poll which was never held in Prince Albert in the recent provincial election in Saskatchewan, had been appointed to take the census in the far north.

Mr. Fisher replied that he had no knowledge of the matter, beyond the fact that he had received a list of names, but had not looked at the list. He promised to do so.

"Will the Minister remove Mr. Moberly's name from the list if it is there?" asked Mr. W. F. Maclean.

"That will depend upon circumstances," replied Mr. Fisher.

An Alleged Improper Payment.
Mr. W. H. Bennett again brought up the question of the alleged payment to Mr. Robert Watson, the representative for Parry Sound, of the sum of $50 for the hire of a tug in connection with the erection of a lighthouse on the Magnetawan River.

Mr. Brodeur replied that with reference to the payment to Mr. Watson, that gentleman had stated that he had received no pecuniary benefit from the payment for the tug, and the officers of the Department had assured him that Mr. Watson had given the Department every assistance in getting the lighthouse built as cheaply as possible.

Not Good Enough For Canada.
Col. Sam Hughes called attention to a statement that 10,000 Salvation Army emigrants from the east end of London were going to South America, and suggested that they should have come to Canada.

Mr. Oliver replied that he had learned, in conversation with a representative of the Salvation Army, that these emigrants who were going to South America were not regarded by the Army as of the same class as those who had hitherto brought to Canada. Therefore, they thought these people were better suited to South America.

Money Lenders' Bill Passed.
In committee on the bill respecting the money lenders, clause 3 was amended, after some discussion, to provide that the rate of interest after a negotiable instrument or contract for a loan not exceeding $500 shall be 5 per cent. The rate previous to the judgment still is limited to 12 per cent.

The bill was reported and read a third time as the House rose at 1 o'clock.

Montreal Harbor Appointments.
Some discussion ensued in the House yesterday afternoon respecting Mr. Brodeur's delay in appointing the new harbor commissioners for Montreal.

Mr. Brodeur stated that he had not had time to decide on the appointments.

In reply to a question by W. F. Maclean the Minister admitted that there were no lack of applicants.

Alliance Against Sunday Bill.
There was a family quarrel yesterday afternoon between Mr. Bourassa (Lafayette) and Messieurs Piche and Rivet of Montreal. Mr. Piche rose to question of privilege. There had been a mass meeting at Montreal last Friday. It was addressed by Mr. Bourassa, who had denounced him and other members from Montreal as traitors. He entered a sweeping denial of the statement and charges made at the Montreal meeting by Mr. Bourassa.

Mr. Rivet followed. He had been invited to attend and did attend the meeting. He felt that after hearing his address, the majority of those present were satisfied with the bill as reformed by the Piche amendment.

Mr. Bourassa replied and detailed some unwritten history of the opposition to the Sunday bill amid repeated and emphatic denials from Mr. Piche. According to Mr. Bourassa, the Amis du Dimanche, Mr. Piche, Mr. Rivet and another (probably Gervais) had formed an alliance to resist the bill at every stage unless certain amendments, including Mr. Bourassa's, were adopted.

At the mass meeting at Montreal, Mr. Rivet had appeared at the Champ de Mars, addressed the meeting and announced that the amendment offered by the member for St. Mary's (Mr. Piche) had been adopted and that now the Sunday bill was all right.

"Naturally," continued Mr. Bourassa, "I was indignant."

He went on to say that the Piche amendment had no such effect as Mr. Rivet claimed for it. It was an attempt to deceive the people of Quebec.

Convenient For G. T. R.
Mr. Fielding's bill to permit the Grand Trunk to substitute railroad stocks and bonds for the five million dollars in cash deposited with the Government was taken up, and Mr. W. F. Maclean, "vigilant" and "vigilant" against a further depletion of the value of our securities. Already the telegraph system had been withdrawn, and there had been incorporated the Grand Trunk Pacific Telephone Co.; the branch lines had been withdrawn, and Parliament had incorporated the Grand Trunk Pacific Branch Lines Co. These depletions were made for some definite end. What was behind it all?

Mr. Fielding was non-committal. The set of 1904 required a deposit of $5,000,000 in cash or Government securities. It was more convenient for the Grand Trunk to deposit railway securities, and it was immaterial to the Government so long as the security itself was ample.

C. H. GUNN & CO.

On Mr. Emerson's bill to appropriate the sums needed for the railway subsidies already approved by resolution. Mr. Haggart (South Lanark) enquired why no subsidy was voted to the Ontario Government to continue its provincial railway to James Bay. Mr. Macdonnell (South Toronto) pointed out that other provinces had received large grants to reimburse them for building railroads. Why should there be this discrimination?

Mr. Emerson asked the case of the Temiskaming Railway was unique. It was the only railway in Canada actually built, as well as financed by a province.

Mr. W. F. Maclean could see no distinction between a road built by a private corporation, and one built by a province.

Mr. Kempf (South Toronto) also urged the claims of the province.

Mr. Fielding claimed that Nova Scotia had not received more than her share, and Mr. Emerson, on the main proposition was obdurate.

Preston Won't Go.
On a motion to go into supply last night, Mr. Monk moved an amendment declaring it to be the sense of the House, in view of the testimony taken before the committee on agriculture and other facts within its knowledge, that W. T. R. Preston should not be longer continued in office. Mr. Preston had deliberately violated his express instructions and the traditional policy of this Government by clandestinely promoting the emigration of skilled artisans to Canada.

Hon. Mr. Oliver intimated that the conditions in our immigration offices in England were not satisfactory, but he would endeavor to investigate those conditions and correct them in his own time and in his own way. At any rate he would not discharge any official without hearing his defence.

Mr. Macdonnell (South Toronto) said this resolution was a prima facie case. There was universal dissatisfaction with Preston, especially among the laboring people.

Mr. R. L. Borden thought it peculiar that after sixteen months the Minister had apparently taken no steps towards an investigation. The charges against Mr. Preston rested for proof upon his own letters. These letters were admitted by Preston to be substantially correct. What is to be hoped for from this long delayed investigation? "Will the Minister remove Mr. Preston if satisfied that these letters are genuine?"

He can procure them at any time from Lord Strathcona. "Will he make that announcement now?" demanded Mr. Borden, but Mr. Oliver was silent.

Mr. Verdon of the Liberal party, from Montreal, declared himself in favor of dismissing Mr. Preston, but he regretted that it had been made a party question. He and all laboring men desired Preston's removal but he preferred to have it result from the protest of organized labor.

Mr. Bergeron (Beauharnois) believed that Mr. Oliver would like to discharge Preston, but he dared not do so. He knew enough to blow the Liberal party of Ontario to the winds.

Mr. Campbell (Centre York) said that the matter was entirely political. The Conservative of Ontario were still smarting under the defeats they had suffered from Mr. Preston.

Upon division Mr. Monk's amendment was defeated: Yeas 39, nays 89.

Worthy A Good Word.
We seldom recommend any remedy. But because a great many people tell us Bu-Ju, the Gentle Kidney Pill, gives astonishing relief from Kidney Trouble and Rheumatism, we will restore their vigor. Remember it does no good to treat the ailing organ—the irregular heart, rebellious stomach, diseased kidneys. They are not to blame. Go back to the source that control them—treat the cause—use a remedy that cures through the inside nerves.

FATALITIES AT TORONTO

Unusual Number Of Violent
Deaths Occur At The Queen City

BABY BADLY MANGLED

Toronto, July 4.—The body of a well dressed woman between 25 and 30 years of age, possibly a school teacher from Teeswater or vicinity, was found floating in the bay at the foot of Bay street at 7.30 o'clock last evening. The body had been in the water about two days, evidently, and fragmentary evidence indicates that the woman walked off an excursion boat. She was dressed in a plain black travelling suit, and wore a blue serge cap, strong black laced boots. In her waist was found a black purse containing the return ticket from Teeswater to Toronto, dated June 26, and $2.05 in money. In her belt was a small lady's open face gold watch, Waltham make, No. 5573130, attached to which was a "friendship fob" of five silver coins—five cent pieces, Bearing ladies Christian names Cora, Mabel, Lily, Lydia and one other. A small telescope hand grip was delivered to the police at the union depot on receipt of a claim check, which also called for a bandbox containing a plain black summer hat of conservative style. In the grip was discovered a letter without envelope, dated Port Locke, June 23, 1906, addressed to Miss May Burton, Gordon Lake, and signed "Ed. Smith." An acquaintance of Miss May Burton of Teeswater, who viewed the body, said it was not her. Two baggage checks were found in the grip, and the police have ordered this baggage returned from Teeswater to which point it had been checked.

Toronto, July 4.—The 18-months-old son of William Bellatz, 117 York street, toddled in front of a horse driven by George Vaughan, 55 Sumach street, yesterday, was knocked down and killed by the wheels of the rig, which passed over the baby's head. An inquest will be opened by Coroner Young tomorrow evening.

Terribly Mangled by a Train.
Toronto, July 4.—A man between 40 and 50 years of age was horribly mangled by an east-bound passenger train at Sunnyside crossing last night shortly before 9 o'clock. The man was attempting to cross the several tracks when a train struck him. On his person was found a pay envelope, possibly from the Ontario Bolt Works, and which bore the name of P. McKelroy. No address was marked on it, and no other evidence of identification could be found in his clothing. The body was crushed almost beyond recognition, and was taken to the morgue.

Drowned at Montreal.
Montreal, July 4.—The body of a man, apparently about 25 years of age, dressed in a grey suit, was taken from the river at the King Edward pier yesterday morning. No marks of violence were noticeable. Two letters were found in his coat pocket. One was from his mother, who signs her name Emily Plumridge, and gives her address 47 Trevelyan road, Tooting, S. W.

Watford, July 4.—Harry A. Ferguson, an Anson law student, was killed on the G. T. R. here Monday night. He caught on to No. 5 express on the blind side, and was evidently drawn under the cars, as the body was found early yesterday morning a short distance from the depot.
