WUSC MARITIME CONFERENCE TO BE HELD IN FREDERICTON

Fredericton (UNB) — Two delegates from each Maritime university will meet in Fredericton on January 29, 30 and 31 to attend the Atlantic Regional Conference of the World University Students of Canada.

The conference, which is to be co-chaired by professors William Smith and Frank Milligan, is being held for the purpose of discussing some of the problems which will later be considered by the National Council of WUSC. Due to the unique geographical position of the Maritime universities it is felt that it is necessary to present a united front in submitting their problems to the National Council.

The schedule of the conference is as follows: The first day will be highlighted by the opening address of Professor Smith, the regional secretary of World University Students from the North Eastern United States, Mrs. Phyllis Gierlotka, will give a talk of "The Past Achievements of World University Students".

In the evening the conference will be addressed by Mr. Louis Perinbam, executive secretary of World University Students of Canada, who will speak of "The Present and Future of WUSC". The following day will be taken up with Commission Sessions until 5 p.m. The four major topics of discussion will be Seminar, Project, Regional and National Policy organization and program, Finances.

That evening a banquet will be held in the Lord Beaverbrook Hotel, after which the delegates will attend the regular Saturday night dance in the Hotel. Invitations have been extended to Mr. Taylor, Minister of Education, to chair the banquet, and also to the High Commissioner from India to be guest speaker.

The following Sunday, religious services will be held in the Forestry Building at 9.30 a.m. The reverend J. Arthur Forbes officiating. The remainder of that day will be spent in plenary sessions and a final ending of the Conference.

"Students and Faculty are cordially invited to attend these sessions", said Joanne Corbin, campus chairman of WUSC.

CO SEC MEETS IN ISTANBUL

Istanbul — A large delegation of Canadian representatives attended the meeting of the Coordinating Secretariat (CoSec) held in Istanbul, Turkey. It was the largest delegation ever sent by Canada to an annual CoSec meeting, and its purpose was to get the voice of the university students of this country on the Supervising Committee.

The group, headed by NFCUS president, Tony Enriquez, consisted of five people. Among the five were Jean de Margerie, NFCUS overseas commissioner, Marcel Leblanc, NFCUS International activities chairman; Bill Norris, ex-student president at the University of Manitoba; Enriquez, and another private Canadian student who has been studying in Europe.

Enriquez made it clear before he left that the delegation would not cost the National Federation any money. Both Enriquez and Leblanc were financed by the Foundation for Youth and Student Welfare, an American organization of business men and political personalities.

The United States has represented North America on the Supervising Committee since the founding of CoSec in 1950. Representation on that committee is decided on a geographical basis.

Enriquez explained that the Foundation for Youth and Student Affairs was really behind the CoSec offer to finance all the transportation costs for the two NFCUS reps. A good deal of the Federation's financial troubles arose when Toronto repudiated the per capita fee increase earlier this fall.

The NFCUS president hinted that about 30 per cent of the Federation's finances would be donated by the Foundation.

CoSec was founded when the Student Unions of various "western" countries decided to combine after they had withdrawn from the Communist-dominated International Union of Students in 1949.

LEWIS PERINBAM GUEST SPEAKER

Fredericton (UNB)—Lewis Perinbam, the Executive Secretary of the Canadian Division of the World University Students will visit the University of New Brunswick January 29, 30 and 31 as part of his Maritime tour of Canadian universities.

Perinbam is from India and he received his early schooling in England. He received his engineering degree from the University of Glasgow. During his period of studies in the old country, he held the post of Secretary for the British Union of Students. WUSC extended him an offer to become National Travelling Secretary on the strength of his efforts in England and he accepted the Canadian post last May.

Mr. Perinbam is now on the eastern leg of his trans-Canada tour. He will visit Acadia, Dalhousie, St. Mary's, St. Francis Xavier, St. Dunstan's, Mt. Allison, and University of New Brunswick. As the Travelling Secretary, Lewis will represent the National Headquarters at the Maritime Regional Conference being held at UNB.

Entomology Awards Go To UNB Students

Fredericton (Special) — David Gordon Mott, of Dalhousie, and Hugh Haswell of Niagara Falls, Ontario have been awarded entomology scholarships at the University of New Brunswick, Colin B. Mackay, president has announced.

These scholarships were created by the forest insects control board and funds are provided by the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association and the Canadian Lumbermen's Association.

Mr. Mott, a fifth-year forestry student at the University has been employed for the past four summers in entomology at the Green River laboratory and expects to undertake graduate studies in entomology.

Mr. Haswell, a graduate student at UNB, is now on leave of absence from the forest biology Ont., a federal government ser-laboratory at Sault Ste. Marie, vice.

Value of the scholarships, awarded on the basis of scholastic standing and interest in entomological studies, is $200 each. Members of the committee of award are Dr. R. E. Balch, entomologist in charge of the dominion department of agriculture entomological laboratory at Fredericton; Rae Brown, professor of entomology at UNB and Dr. J. Miles Gibson, dean of forestry.

Dal. Hosts Maritime Conference

Halifax (CUP) — The Dalhousie university will sponsor the Maritime Regional Conference of the Canadian University Press this the new Arts Building on the University campus. The conference will see delegates from seven member papers in the four Maritime Provinces.

Papers at the Conference will include: The Muse, Memorial University of Newfoundland; Dalhousie University and St. Mary's University, Halifax; Acadia University, Wolfville; Mount Allison University, Sackville; St. Francis Xavier University Antigonish; and the University of New Brunswick, Fredericton.

The University of New Brunswick will be sending four delegates to the conference. They will include Neil Oakley, Editor-in-chief, Fred Drummond and Dave MacDonaid, News Editors, and Bill Good, Business Manager.

DIDN'T FINISH COURSE BUT HUSSARS' NEW O.C. GOT UNIVERSITY DEGREE

Sussex (Special) — Lt.-Col. R. S. McLeod, of Penobscis, new commanding officer of the 8th Princess Louise's (N.B.) Hussars, is one of the few New Brunswickers to obtain a university degree without completing his course.

Robert McLeod was a fourth-year student at the University of New Brunswick in April, 1941, when the 8th Hussars were re-organized and changed from a motorcycle to an armoured regiment. He was a member of the university's COTC, and was posted to the Hussars as a Lieutenant and troop commander.

The regiment then was stationed at Camp Sussex, today the regiment headquarters of this regiment which has been active in the militia of Kings County for nearly a century and a half. He never returned for his final weeks of university but the authorities there considered him sufficiently capable a student to pass out a bachelor of arts degree at the closing exercises.

His advance in the regiment was rapid, and in the fall of 1942 he found himself a captain and adjutant. Capt. McLeod was disappointed when an accident prevented him from accompanying the regiment the following year, but he caught up with it just before the Hussars helped smash the German Hitler Line, and he aided the chase of the enemy to northern Italy.

Shortly before the regiment was transferred from Italy to north-west Europe with other Canadian

REVUE LOOKS GOOD IN EARLY STAGES

Fredericton (UNB) — Activity in Memorial Hall of late signifies that once again it is time for the Annual Red and Black Revue.

"Several preliminary meetings have been held, and a general outline of the program has been drawn up" announced producer Don Pyne at a meeting of the Red and Black staff last Sunday.

The show, which will rehearse every Sunday afternoon in the Memorial Hall, is to be produced in a slightly different manner than in previous years, the first half is modeled after the old vaudeville shows, with placard announcements for the changes of acts and the second half is to be done as a variety show.

ROWZEE SPEAKS TO UNB'S CIO

Fredericton (UNB) — E. R. Rowzee, Manager of Polymer Corporation Sarnia, Ontario, addressed members of the University of New Brunswick Chapter of the Chemical Institute of Canada on Wednesday, January 20, at 8:15 p.m. in the Chemistry Hut. He spoke on the topic "Your Profession and You."

Prior to his present position, Mr. Rowzee, as director of research for his company from 1944-46, was in charge of organizing Canada's research and development program on synthetic rubber. From 1942-44, he was factory manager and general manager of Canadian Synthetic Rubber Limited.

He graduated in 1931 from Massachusetts Institute of Technology with a S.M. degree in chemical engineering, following which he joined the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, Akron, Ohio, where he worked in service engineering, the research division and the synthetic rubber unit.

Applications called for Overseas Beaverbrooks

Fredericton (UNB) — Application forms for the 1954 Beaverbrook Overseas Scholarships at the University of New Brunswick are now available at the provincial university, Colin B. Mackay, President, announced today.

The scholarships, made possible by the Right Honourable Lord Beaverbrook, enable graduates or former students of UNB to enter post-graduate work in the University of London in 1954. Applications for the scholarships must be in the secretary's hands by February 19th, 1954.

Selection of scholarship winners is made on the basis of educational attainment, character, motivation and qualities of leadership. The scholarships provide for one year's study in Great Britain and cover travelling expenses to Britain and return, University tuition fees, normal living expenses during the academic year, and travel within the United Kingdom during vacation periods.

Full details of eligibility and application forms are available from: Mr. J. C. Murray, Secretary, Selection Committee, Beaverbrook Overseas Scholarships, University of New Brunswick, Fredericton, N.B., Canada.

MUSIC BANNED

Kingston (CUP) — The American Federation of Musicians has banned all dancing to records on the campus of Queen's University. Gail Ward, president of Queen's alma mater society, said that if the ban cannot be removed it will cut into student social life by ending class parties, tea dances, and dances after sports events.

The present Revue personnel consists of producer, Don Pyne; directors, Noreen Donahue and Lou Treccarten with his Male Chorus; Master of Ceremonies, Jim MacDonald; Dance Directors, Mrs. Roberts and Mrs. Milligan; Stage Manager, John Oatway; Assistant Stage Manager, Ken Walker; Sound, Hazel Mary; Lighting, Jack Cassidy; Ken Wilson; Make-up Bill Barwick; Music, Ralph Campbell; House Committee, Jane Bennett; Business Manager, John Burch; Programmes, Frank Walton and Carl Tompkins; Stage Crew, Fred Irwin, Jacques Michaud and John Williamson.

Positions are still open for properties manager, Advertising and Publicity managers. More students are also needed to assist Jack Cassidy and Ken Wilson with the lighting. Bill Barwick would also like a hand with the make-up.

The chorus line is displaying fourteen pairs of lovely legs this year and they are well on the way towards learning their stuff. Those in the chorus will be: Jane Hickman, Peg Wetmore, Roberta Seles, Helen Howie, Pam MacCreedy, Iris Bliss, Jane Oaklie, Marjorie Milligan, Helen Fletcher, Jane Burns, Marg. McNaughton, Helen Brewer, and Lucy Connell. The troupe is ably directed by Mrs. Roberts.

"We have a good staff to start things off with" said Pyne, "but if the show is going to be a success we will need many more hands to operate efficiently, stage crews particularly."

"There are lots of students on the campus who have talents such as playing a musical instrument, singing, dancing or creative ideas about skits and short acts. These are the people whose help we need."

Producer Pyne urged that all who are interested in the Revue come to the Memorial Hall any Sunday afternoon. The show must be ready for production on the 17, 18 and 19th of March, so the sooner that things are running smoothly the better. "This is the students own show," said the producer, "so lets all get at it and make it a big success".

Athlone Committee Interview Students For Scholarships

Fredericton (UNB) — J. B. Hunt, First Secretary of the United Kingdom High Commissioner's Office in Ottawa and Dr. William Abbott, O.B.E., Her Majesty's Inspector of Engineering and a senior official of the U. K. Ministry of Education arrived in Fredericton Tuesday evening to visit the University of New Brunswick.

Mr. Hunt and Dr. Abbott are on a coast-to-coast tour interviewing applicants for the 1954 Athlone Fellowships. Five applications from UNB's Civil, Mechanical and Electrical Engineering departments were interviewed for the valuable awards.

Each year 38 of Canada's young engineering graduates are awarded Athlone Fellowships which are financed by the United Kingdom government. Winners of the awards go to Britain for a two-year stay, during which they follow post-graduate programs of advanced practical work or research. The awards cover all travel costs, living expenses and any academic fees that have to be met.

Mr. Hunt, Dr. Abbott and members of the local Athlone committee, interviewed the applicants on Wednesday. Members of the local committee were: Dr. E. O. Turner, Chairman; Prof. J. O. Dineen, secretary; Prof. E. E. Wheatley, Mechanical Engineering, and B. F. Hagerman, Assistant Chief Bridge Engineer.

While at UNB, Mr. Hunt addressed the student body from 12 to 1 p.m. on Wednesday. Lectures were cancelled for the period.

Politics Once . . .

Tony Enriquez, NFCUS National President and the Brunswick delegates met recently at the Canadian University Press Conference. After a few moments in conversation it was apparent that in spite of all the agonies NFCUS has suffered from the pens of Canadian Student Editors, Mr. Enriquez is an outstanding example of the public-minded university student. It was most evident throughout the whole talk that Enriquez is the type of person that you meet once or twice in a lifetime.

However, with such an able man at the helm, the chain of command seems to have broken down into a pitiful mess of complacent confusion. Herein lies the tale of cross purposes.

NFCUS is paddling two canoes down the stream of international good-will. The red job seems pointed to amalgamation with the communist dominated IUS while the true-blue outfit has come home to port with the union of NFCUS and the co-ordinating Secretariat of National Union of Students.

While that little 'red' canoe is being paddled about all over the face of Western Europe, and our Commie friends have a good laugh over it, NFCUS has actually achieved something big without even half trying.

NFCUS has been appointed as the representative of the North American Area on the Co-Sec five-area executive. The honour attained by such an appointment will probably be completely ignored by our intelligent campers from coast to coast, but this can well be the turning point for NFCUS.

If NFCUS would stop paddling two canoes down the stream, ignore IUS with all its red, pink and purple hot air and work with all its facilities for the betterment of Co-Sec then perhaps they will obtain the good-will of the Canadian student that they so obviously lack.

Politics Twice . . .

One of the most obvious student needs in early life is a thorough understanding of the political parties in operation in Canada.

As it is well known, there are no political clubs on this campus. We assume that the reason for such a painful absence of political opinion is that students are just a little too lazy to enter into such an interesting outlet of affairs.

Now through the grace of Acadia University and the Premier of Nova Scotia, the Maritime Universities have an opportunity to travel to Halifax and carry out the functions of a Model Parliament. It would be only fitting that the University of New Brunswick Student body be represented at such a conference as a group of political parties. Such an experience will be impossible to evaluate at first glance but the lesson learned at this conference will be of immeasurable value in future walks of life.

From Our International Correspondent

Dear Colleagues,
 Dear Friends,
 Dear Students,

Since the Coup D'Etat of August 19th, directed by the imperialists, a great wave of repression has been sweeping our country, aimed against us, the students and our people.

The last time this happened in my immediate vicinity was when papa, bless his little heart, demanded that I remove my chewing gum before, not after, going to school. He was quite right in doing this, I suspect, but I still chew it in strict defiance of the old hat.

At the same time as 94% of all secondary students have been prevented from sitting for their final examinations, when at the only existing medical faculty only 412 students out of 2392 were admitted, the military dictatorship has stated that every secondary or university student who would pursue activities in favour of his rights, or who would lead or even take part in a strike, would be expelled from the university or school and sentenced to a term of three years imprisonment.

Personally, as a member of the Anti-Anti Movement, and their spokesman, I feel that this treatment is too light for the whole medical faculty. After all, a body is an intimate thing, and when some old sawbone starts to interfere with the mechanism, then someone just has to step in.

The military dictatorship is carrying out a fierce attack against our people and against the national independence of our country. It has suppressed every freedom of thought and all democratic liberties. It has closed down more than 100 newspapers and journals and all democratic, trade union and political organizations. It ordered the burning of 150,000 books. Every day hundreds of homes are besieged and searched by the armed forces. The prisons are filled to their utmost capacity; thousands of patriots, workers, peasants, university and secondary students, teachers and professors are being thrown into the prisons and into the concentration camps.

The Brunswickan was happy to find that it had not been burned out, but then it is more than just a newspaper, it is the clarion call of everything good and right and honest and all that stuff. And the last time my home was searched they only found the usual amount of cocaine, heroin and opium.

Our academic rights are brutally suppressed and trampled upon. Our university, occupied by the military forces, is being transformed into military barracks. Many lorries armed with machine guns patrol in front of the university entrances. Hundreds of soldiers and members of the police can be seen walking through the corridors of our faculties. They drive our colleagues out of the laboratories and of their classes, even while a course is in progress and, handcuffing them, drag them off to concentration camps. They are ready to fire at any group of students who are seen in discussion or walking together. They even forbid students to talk to each other. The military dictatorship has suppressed our weekly journal the "Smellagrif Journal". It has deprived us of the possibility of meeting, of renewing our annual elections, of defending our rights and of protesting against new obstacles that are presenting themselves to our studies this year. Really girls, the COTC is just getting entirely out of hand.

Our colleagues and young people who attended the festival in Bucharest and the representatives whom we have delegated to the third World Student Congress have been arrested, tortured and imprisoned.

We used to travel by train, but this way is far more exciting.

The military dictatorship is trying with all means at its disposal to crush the national independence movement in our country. The colonialists are making use of this dictatorship in order to change our country into a colony, to loot the national wealth of our country a threat to world peace.

Wouldn't George III rub his hands in glee over this?

The students cannot remain indifferent in face of this attack against the independence of their country, against their democratic and academic freedoms. They are fighting with all their forces and side by side with their people against the military dictatorship. On Oct. 8th, the University and the schools of the city took part in the general strike. And, despite the tanks, troops and the police, they organized a great demonstration in the main streets of the city. The police arrested 40 of our colleagues and dragged them off to the concentration camp.

They arrived there for an evening of singing, drinking and romancing. It was a fabulous time and everyone said, as they staggered into bed, "Bless the dear old military — urp!"

On November 12th the dictatorship once again stained its hand with the blood of our colleagues. On that day, a general strike was declared. The armed forces attacked the demonstrators, killing two of our students and wounding many more as well as many of our compatriots. More than 300 citizens were arrested.

All agreed that the military was sharpening up a little in their target shooting.

Side by side with our people we are waging a battle against the military dictatorship, for the liberation of our colleagues, for the withdrawal of the troops from our university, for our democratic and academic rights, for the independence of our country and for peace, and this battle is gaining in momentum. We need your assistance, and that is why we are calling on you to express your solidarity with our struggle by reading this information, by sending letters of protest, by supporting our demands, by sending delegations in your country and by sending us messages.

We are certain that in this justifiable struggle victory will be ours.

Long live the international unity and solidarity among students!
 Who the hell is trying to kid whom?

MARITIME MOCK PARLIAMENT CONVENING IN HALIFAX

Wolfville (CUP)—The Acadia University has extended an invitation to the leaders of the Maritime University Student political parties to a Model Parliament being held in Halifax, N.S. this coming March 5 and 6. The Premier of Nova Scotia has given the Acadia University permission to use the Legislative Chambers in Province House in Halifax for the meetings.

Each University will be represented by five delegates, one of which should be a girl. The delegates must represent student political opinion. Campus elections should be held at those universities that have not already done so.

The Model Parliament will be organized along the Federal lines of Parliamentary system. Liberals, Conservatives and other parties from the various universities will unite at the conference to form their respective party strengths. The party with the majority will then form the government. It is hoped that prominent members of the Parliament will lead the major parties during the opening session.

The committee arranging the parliament hope to pay for all expenses with the levying of a ten dollar registration fee. This fee, it is hoped will cover such things as Parliament expenses, transportation fees, and accommodation for the two nights in Halifax.

The University of New Brunswick has no political parties on the campus at the present time but action is now being taken by various students to form parties as soon as possible.

DEBATE IN HALIFAX

Fredericton (UNB) — Pat Gundry and Warwick Gilbert have been chosen to represent the University of New Brunswick in a debate with St. Mary's College in Halifax on February 12. The debate is one of the regular fixtures in the Maritime Intercollegiate Debating League. The topic will be "Resolved that Canada should be annexed by the United States of America." Dr. Desmond Pacey of the English Department of the University is coaching the team for their debate.

Hugh Peacock and Norman Pert will form a second team that will debate against UNB Law School. The debate will take place on the Fredericton campus. Their topic will be the affirmative of the resolution "Resolved that strikes in public utilities in Canada should be declared illegal." Dr. Alec Lucas will be the coach of the UNB team.

DRAMA SOCIETY ANNOUNCES PLAY FOR FESTIVAL

Fredericton (UNB) — The president of the UNB Drama Society, T. Robert Sansom, has announced that the Society will enter in the New Brunswick Regional Drama Festival "the most ambitious production in the Society's history". The play chosen by the Society is "Darkness at Noon", a three-act dramatization by Sidney Kingsley of the novel by Arthur Koestler.

Amateur acting rights to this play are very restricted, but the UNB Society, after considerable negotiations with Samuel French of Toronto, obtained permission to produce the play. It will be the first amateur production in the province to be presented at the Regional Drama Festival in Fredericton early in March for preliminary adjudication by the New Brunswick Drama League representatives, who must select the four best plays in the province to be presented at the Regional Drama Festival in Fredericton on March 23rd, 24th and 25th.

"Darkness at Noon" constitutes a complete change of pace for the Society, which has recently presented the English comedy "Children of Darkness". "Darkness at Noon" is a spectacular, melodramatic play about the Moscow purge trials of 1937. It won the New York Drama Critics Award in 1951 with Claude Rains in the leading role of Rubashov, a Soviet commissar who is jailed at the opening of the play. The action of the play alternates between Rubashov's experiences in the Russian prison and flash-back sequences detailing his memories about his personal life and his work for the party.

The play calls for a cast of twenty, and requires a specially designed set and professional lighting technique to produce the dramatic flash-back scenes. Professor A. J. Shaw, faculty advisor-director of the Society, will direct the play. Professor Shaw has already directed "Children of Darkness", "An Inspector Calls", "Fortune My Foe", "Press Cuttings" and "Overload" for the Society.

SCM WILL AID IN CHRISTIAN WEEK

An inter-denominational youth rally is being held in Wilmot United Church on Sunday, Jan. 31, on the opening of Christian Youth Week.

Special speaker is to be Lewis Perinbam, formerly of Malaya, and now executive secretary of the World University Service of Canada. Mr. Perinbam will be in Fredericton leading a conference of the World University Service. He has had connections with the Student Christian Movement in Britain.

Miss Cecylia Crawford, president of Wilmot United Young Peoples Union, is to be in charge of arrangements for the meeting while Leigh Smith, president of the Canterbury Club, will act as chairman.

Worship is to be led by Burke Swain, president of the St. Andrews Presbyterian Young Peoples Society, and the singing is to be led by Noreen Keith of the Students Christian Movement in Teachers' College. James Kennedy, president of the SCM at UNB was appointed to look after the public relations.

Representatives from Brunswick Street Baptist, Wilmot United, Saint Paul's United, St. Anne's Anglican, St. Andrews Presbyterian, the Canterbury Club and the SCM met in Saint Paul's United Church last Sunday to plan the Youth Rally.

CUP MEMBERS MEET IN TORONTO UNB COMES OFF SECOND BEST

H. F. UNIT NOW IN CAMPUS ART CENTRE

Fredericton (UNB) — The Art Centre will open this Thursday evening for the presentation of the first programme produced on its newly completed high-fidelity record unit. The unit was constructed by Robert Cass, 3rd year electrical student from Moncton. The programme will commence at 8.15.

The students that completed the unit will be present at the opening. Besides Mr. Cass, Greg Hayter his assistant and Jack Dudemanns, builder of the unit's cabinet will be in the Art Centre.

Brunswickan Urges New Wire Service

Toronto (CUP) — Delegates from the twenty-two member newspapers of the Canadian University Press met at Hart House on the University of Toronto campus during the Christmas holidays for their annual press conference. Over eighty students were on hand during the three-day session.

One of the highlights of the conference was the introduction of a proposed amalgamation of the CUP wire services with that of the British United Press. The motion, introduced by Neil Oakley of the Brunswickan was proposed as a possible cure of the time lag that occurs in the transmittal of news stories under the present system. The conference vested the McGill University with the power to investigate more fully with the BUP the negotiations that the Brunswickan had opened prior to the conference.

Time and Life magazines also came under the criticism of the conference for their "continued distortion and misrepresentation of news and feature stories and their incessant dunning of the Canadian student with circulars persuading them into buying their publications."

One of the major dimensions of opinion was spearheaded by the Brunswickan when the Queen's Journal proposed that "the CUP pass a resolution urging Premier Dpplessis to reconsider his stand on Federal aid to universities in Quebec". The Brunswickan's argument was based on the policy that a news service consisting of many varied newspapers with conflicting editorial policies should not take a definite political stand on any subject. The Brunswickan felt that such a policy would just lead their readers to assume that the newspaper service was but a mouth-piece of the most outspoken politician.

The French-speaking papers supported the Brunswickan's stand, stating that they wished to go on record as abstaining from the voting as they did not wish to further antagonize a subject that was of considerable significance in their home province.

The Quartier Latin won the honor of being the Executive newspaper for the CUP for the coming term. They defeated the Brunswickan by one vote 11-10 in the final judging.

The Southam Trophy, awarded to the best paper with a circulation of over 3000 went to the University of Western Ontario Gazette for the fourth time in five years.

Judging was conducted in three widely-distant centres by David Hoers, editor of the Leader Post Regina; Alan Randall, news editor of the Gazette, Montreal, and A. W. J. Backland, Editor-in-Chief of the Toronto Telegram.

Le Canabin received Le Droit Trophy for the best paper among the French language university papers.

The Sheaf, of the University of Saskatchewan, was awarded the Jacques Bureau Trophy for excellence in a field of 11 papers with circulation 3,000 and under. Judges considered it good in mechanical production and overall presentation.

UNB FILM SOCIETY SHOWS FIRST PIC

Fredericton (UNB) — The UNB Film Society will produce "The Importance of Being Earnest" in Memorial Hall on Sunday evening, January 31st, at 8:15 p.m.

The film story written by Oscar Wilde, will star Michael Redgrave, Glynis Johns, Dame Edith Evans and Margaret Rutherford, and is to be the first movie sponsored by the newly-formed Society.

The UNB Film Society has been organized for the purpose of showing both English language and European films of a higher quality than is generally available to the public. Membership is open to students, faculty and the people of Fredericton. Single membership will be three dollars.

The motion picture has been called the 7th Art and the Society intends to demonstrate this by presenting a schedule of film classics, of films in which drama and photography are creatively united, and of experimental films in which the medium of the motion picture is fully exploited. From four to six programmes, each containing a feature film and several shorts, will be shown between now and May.

Over the season an attempt will be made to give a balanced programme of English, French, Italian, Danish, German and Russian films. They will range through comedy, drama and fantasy in subject matter. The short subjects will consist of such things as experimental films, art films, ballet, music, history travelogues and sports.

To be able to do this the Society needs the support of the students. At least one hundred members are needed to provide four programmes, the more members there are the more films that can be shown.

The Society is affiliated with the Canadian Film Institute in Ottawa, a non-profit organization which acts as a central booking office. The Institute insists that its member organizations be non-profit societies, that no admission charge be made at the door, and that performances be limited to members only. For this reason the membership fee must be collected at the beginning of each season.

The single membership fee of three dollars includes all costs, and four programmes are guaranteed, possibly even five. For married couples the fee is five dollars for a double ticket. Membership tickets are available at the library, or can be purchased from the Society's representatives, Dr. W. J. Taylor, Professor Burroughs, Dr. Henderson, Norval Baich, Bill Barwick and Jim Borcoman.

A Charlie Chaplin Festival is being contemplated which would include such gems as "The Count", "The Tramp", "One A.M.", and

WUS OF CANADA STATES ITS VIEWS

Fredericton (UNB) — The World University Service of Canada is one of over 30 National Committees of World University Service coordinated by an international secretariat in Geneva. The WUS is governed by a General Assembly, consisting of professors and students meeting once a year.

Its objectives are to assist students and professors in need, to improve facilities within universities and colleges and to encourage mutual service between members of universities and colleges throughout the world.

WUS has no specific members or fees, the work of the organization is financed by voluntary contributions and funds raised by the efforts of groups of students, professors and graduates.

The programme itself encourages which have enabled them to migrate to Canada and take up Canadian citizenship. The programme is now replaced by scholarships offered to students in South East Asia, Middle East and Africa for a period of one year's study in Canada.

Hospitality and advice is also offered for overseas students studying in Canada, done in co-operation with the Canadian Committee of friendly relations with Overseas Students. Individuals in need of help concerning matters of scholarships, visas, study abroad, overseas travel are aided as well by World University Service.

Every year the Swimming and Water Safety programme of the Canadian Red Cross instructs Canadians of all ages to enjoy water sports.

Sixty refugee students from camps in Europe have received scholarships or job assurances

ART CENTRE HAS DISPLAY OF FAMOUS GRADUATE'S ART

An exhibition of painting by Goodridge Roberts will be on view in the Art Centre, UNB, Jan. 18th-30th. Open to the public Monday-Friday's 9 a.m.-5 p.m.; Saturday's 6.30 p.m.-9 p.m.; Sunday's 7.30 p.m.-10.30 p.m.

Goodridge Roberts is a Canadian from many generations back, and comes from a family, distinguished for its warmth and understanding of all things beautiful, for its scholarship and for its intellectual integrity. His father, the late Theodore Goodridge Roberts, author, poet and soldier, was not least in a line of literary artists which includes such names as Dr. George Roberts, the distinguished headmaster of the Fredericton Collegiate School, the preparatory school of Kings College, New Brunswick, later to become the University of New Brunswick; Sir Charles D. Roberts the virtual founder of Canadian Literature; Bliss Carman, the most widely known of all Canadian poets, and many others, including his sister, Dorothy Roberts Laisner, whose short stories and poems are receiving increasing acclaim. All these were students at the University of New Brunswick. He himself is a graduate of the Fredericton High School. His mother is now residing in Moncton.

Goodridge, or "Goodie", as he is known to his friends in Fredericton, has always been interested in the plastic medium of paint to express his talents.

Since leaving Fredericton in 1931, Goodridge Roberts' development as an artist has been rapid. His singleness of purpose has placed him amongst the all too small group of Canadian artists who are professional in the real sense of the word. During his early struggle, he, from time to time, held remunerative routine teaching positions, but he never hesitated to return to the more challenging life of an artist when he felt that these commitments were interfering with his real work. At present, that work is greatly in demand and this is the first time that enough has been available to form a travelling exhibition for the Maritime Art Association.

Mr. Roberts has been recipient of many prizes, and for the past seventeen years, he has led exhibitions in museums and universities across Canada. He is represented in major collections and exhibitions all over the world, including the collection of Her Majesty, the Queen. He was an official artist with the R.C.A.F.

Since so many members of the Roberts family are Alumni of the University of New Brunswick, it seems fitting that this exhibition should be first shown at this University, but particularly at the Art Centre which Theodore and Mrs. Roberts contributed so much during its early days in the old Observatory. One might almost say that the pattern of that development at the University of New Brunswick has its roots in the cultural life of old Fredericton even as has the work of Goodridge Roberts.

RED DEVILS LOSE ONE . . .

Fredericton (UNB) — The University of New Brunswick Varsity Hockey squad came on too late in their first meeting of the year in Sussex last Friday and lost 5-4 to the Sussex Junior Rangers. Sussex took advantage of the slump of the visitors in the first stanza and rapped in two goals. In the second frame UNB found its legs and scored twice, but the Rangers were also on the rampage and they potted three goals in the period. In the last stanza UNB controlled the play and sank two unanswered goals but they were unable to tie up the game. Sussex's Little on defence, and forwards Morrow and Johnson were the pick of the winners. UNB's goalie, Griffiths played well and Wilson and Manson starred on the front line. A return game will probably be played here on Saturday.

The first period opened with rushes by both teams which almost proved to be a loss for UNB as Rangers' McLennaghan just missed the net on a breakaway. The first score of the game came at 6:47 of the first period during a UNB penalty by Cochrane. Griffiths held off the attack for nearly two minutes but Morrow, assisted by Little drove the puck into the nets seconds before Cochrane returned to the ice. After a prolonged attack through the UNB defence, Melanson of Sussex scored the second goal of the period at 14:03. He was assisted by Johnson and Mullin. UNB rushed the puck into the Sussex blue line but lost it to the Rangers' time and time again. The stanza ended as Griffiths made four successive saves for UNB.

The second period was hardly opened when Sussex rapped in a third goal that was cancelled by an offside. Moments later Auger of UNB was banished to the sin bin at 2:35 for tripping and Sussex were not denied on the goal that they sank at 3:16, as Johnson scored on a pass from Langell. At 5:32 the Rangers' Wallace took a 2 min. rest for tripping, but UNB attacks proved scoreless. About five minutes later Sussex's Morrow potted another one on a breakaway and a pass from McLennaghan. Fast play got under way and when Little of Sussex penalized 2 minutes for holding, UNB's Manson scored the Hillsmen's first counter on a pass from J. Wilson for the nicest play of the game. Johnson scored the next Sussex goal less than a minute later when he capitalized on a pass from teammate Morrow. UNB's Ross lamed in the final goal of the period, assisted by Mitchell, to cut down the Sussex lead to 5-2.

A fast game opened up in the third period and UNB finally began to click. J. Wilson whipped a pass to Lyons and he scored at 8:36 to make the score 5-3. Baker playing defense for UNB worked the puck from centre ice into the Sussex danger zone time after time, but the Hillsmen remained scoreless. Heavy checking was the keynote for this section of the game and UNB kept the puck in the Ranger end for the majority of the play. Sussex breakaways were profitless and Hallett, on a pass from Manson, scored at 13:24 to make the final score 5-4. During the remaining seconds of the game UNB's goalie Griffiths was pulled and an additional UNB player sent into the game in a futile attempt to get the equalizer. The game ended with a 5-4 win for the Rangers.

Cagers down Mohawks Brannon high with 20

Fredericton (UNB)—Men's Basketball was given a tremendous lift in Fredericton last Saturday evening as the double-header held at the Lady Beaverbrook gymnasium produced the best basketball seen locally this season. In the first game, the Saint John Atlantic's more experienced and smoother play gave them the needed edge to down a determined UNB Grads team by a seven point margin. The UNB Varsity squad came up with their first win of the season as they pulled away from the St. Stephen Mohawks, overcoming a slight first quarter deficit to stay in front for the remainder of the game—a close one, however, throughout.

Intramural Hockey — Sunday, Jan 10th saw the Combines team win over the Science by a 4-2 score; with Traak scoring 2 goals for the Science team, with Benson and Prime scoring 2 apiece for the Combines. The Sophomore Engineers defeated the Intermediate Engineers 6-3, Soph. Munro being the high score man for the game with two points. The third game resulted in a 4-4 tie between the Fresh Engineers and Foresters. McQueen scored 3 points, the most in the game. At 4:30 the Newcan Club blanked the Senior Foresters 12-0 as D'Amous and Gagnon got 4 and 3 points respectively for the winning team.

This Sunday, Jan. 24th, the Foresters 45's defaulted to the Residence team and withdrew from the league. The Sophomore Engineers beat the Science team by a 5-2 score and the Freshmen Combines won over the Foresters 4-2. A schedule game between the Bus. Ad. and Arts team and the Intermediate Engineers never came off and the Engineers won by default. Following are the present league standings:

Team	W	L	T	F	A	P.
Soph. Engineers	4	0	19	8	8
Fresh Combines	4	0	18	6	8
Newman Club	3	0	20	1	6
Residence	3	1	10	11	9	6
Science	2	2	10	15	4
Inter. Eng.	2	2	10	9	4
Foresters 23's	0	3	1	8	12	1
Fresh. Eng.	0	2	1	8	12	1
B. A. & Arts	0	3	0	4	14	0

Following is the playing schedule:

January 31
 1.30 Fresh. Combines vs Newman Club.
 2.30 Fresh. Eng. vs Sen. Eng.
 3.30 Foresters 45 vs Inter. Eng.
 4.30 Residence vs Seniors.

February 7
 1.30 Newman Club vs Sen. Eng.
 2.30 Fresh. Eng. vs Residence.
 3.30 Inter. Eng. vs Foresters 23.
 4.30 Science vs Bus. Ad. & Arts.

Intramural Basketball Schedule January 27th
 7.00 Engineers 45s vs Bus. Ad. & Science.
 7.00 Chemists vs Tarfu.
 8.00 Soph. Eng. vs Newman Club.
 8.00 Residence "B" vs. Freshmen "C".
 9.00 Residence "A" vs. Freshmen "D".
 9.00 Soph. For. vs Alumni.

Dick Canavan, of the Mohawks, was easily the star of the game, as he sank basket after basket with ease, racking up seventeen points for the losers. Irvine, also of the border team, was outstanding on rebound collecting. Patterson was the big gun for the UNB Varsity team, very strong on defence, as well as gaining twelve points for the collegians. Brannon was high point man, netting an even twenty. Gorman played an improved game with good under the basket work to sink thirteen points. UNB's man to man defence proved too much for the visiting Mohawks, and the youth of the Varsity squad was beginning to have its effect by the last quarter. UNB's new policy of changing the complete lineup with five-man shuffles seemed to pay-off.

The visitors were ahead 20-19 at the first quarter mark, but by the half, UNB took a commanding 33-25 lead. Brannon's dead-on long distance shooting, combined with the excellent guard duties of O'Brien and Patterson turned the trick. For the first part of the second half, Patterson sank shot after shot set up by smart passing by his team mates. The play died down drastically towards the end of the third quarter, but revived in the fourth, as the Mohawks began to edge up. With two and some minutes to go, the score stood at 52-47 in favour of the hillsmen. There was some hectic wide open play for the remaining minutes, but the tight Varsity defence held, as each club sank one more basket to bring the score to 54-49.

Intramural Basketball — In the intramural basketball league the Newman Club has retained its first place standing and the Bus. Adm. and Science team has deposed the Chemists former second place holders. The Freshman D team has moved from the 12th place spot to 5th place position, two points behind the Residence B team. The following is the league standing:

	G	W	L	T	Pts
Newman Club	6	6	0	0	12
Bus. Ad. & Sc.	6	5	1	0	10
Chemists	6	4	2	0	8

RED BLOOMERS LOSE, TOO

Fredericton (UNB) — The visiting Dalhousie University Women's Basketball team proved much too smooth and polished for the University of New Brunswick Co-eds as the black and gold trounced their hosts 48-28 last Saturday afternoon. The game, a regular tilt in the Maritime Incollegiate Basketball loop, was played in the Lady Beaverbrook Gymnasium before a large group of disappointed New Brunswick fans.

The UNB forwards appeared to be as good as the Dal forward wall, but the Red and Black defence was pitifully weak, providing plenty of scoring opportunities for the accurate Dal forwards. UNB's general lack of aggressiveness gave Dal the opening to capitalize on their strong points of passing and they utilized long passes a lot more than UNB. Their passing was also made above UNB's heads while the home team were closer to the floor and easier to intercept. The Dal girls used their long shots to distinct advantage, whereas UNB scored on lay-up shots. The famous Dal line of the Woodside twins, Eleanor and Elaine and Barbara Clancy were particularly effective, while Fair on defence was adept on rebounds. UNB's Iris Bliss stood out for the home team and Lois Lang was a close second. Lang, not in the best of health, showed occasional glimpses of her rebounding ability under the Dal net, and used her height to good advantage to sink several good close-in shots. Iris Bliss was the best all-round player, collecting seventeen points for UNB.

Dal showed a slight edge in the first quarter gaining six points over UNB to lead 17 to 11 at the bell. They moved far out in front in the second stanza, piling up a 34-15 lead by the half, mainly through their accuracy on their down-court shots. UNB took the initiative in the third quarter out-scoring Dal seven points to three but missing on many other chances to score during the stanza. Dal's experience won out in the last quarter however as they sank eleven points to UNB's six to end the game at 48-28.

Line-ups: UNB: Bliss, 17, Lang, 10, Ogilvie, 1, Hornibrook, Brown,

AS SEEN FROM THE BLEACHERS

by the Spectator

With the advent of 1954, a glance at UNB's record in intercollegiate competition in the fall of 1953 might be in order.

The Soccer team, again strengthened by players from the old country, proved its mettle once more, winning the Maritime intercollegiate championship for the fifth consecutive year. It is regrettable however, that the team played most of its home games with little advance publicity and, as a result, very little support from the students. In any case, that does not prevent us from extending our belated congratulations to the team. We would also like to extend our special thanks to goalkeeper Mike Hassel, a team member for the last five years, for a job well done.

The campus crusaders, the Canadian Football Red Bombers, once again bowed out to the powerful St Thomas Tommies in the race for the New Brunswick Canadian Rugby Football Union championship, and lost the first inter-provincial Maritime intercollegiate title of Dalhousie University of Halifax. The brand of football played in the NBRFU was probably the best since the league was formed, and the Red Bombers are to be congratulated for the part they played in this.

UNB was host to the Maritime intercollegiate Tennis tournament, but its team made a mediocre showing in the competition which was won by Dalhousie University.

But the most important event of 1953 in intercollegiate sports was the return of Dalhousie University of Halifax to the Maritime Intercollegiate Athletic Union. The Tigers had seceded from the Union because of the regulations which allowed intercollegiate players only four years of competition. The Nova Scotia college felt this unfair to their many post-graduate students. However, the MIAU held their ground and Dalhousie was forced to reconsider because of the lack of competition elsewhere.

Dalhousie's return adds great strength to the shaky MIAU, and will no doubt be a tremendous boon to intercollegiate competition. Already it has made possible a Maritime college football championship that means more than the result of a single game between UNB and St. Thomas. Hockey and Basketball will also gain as Dalhousie stands in good position to challenge the supremacy of St. Francis Xavier University in Nova Scotia intercollegiate play—a supremacy that already has lasted too long.

The Hockey and Basketball teams are working out regularly now as they prepare for their intercollegiate playoffs which begin soon. Pete Kelly's pucksters will meet St. Thomas University in the semi-final of the New Brunswick-Prince Edward Island knock-out round. Doug Rogers' ballplayers will compete in a round robin, home and home competition with Mount Allison and St. Dunstons for the NB-PEI championship.

The Hockey team has been having some difficulty in arranging suitable practice time at the York Arena. UNB has been forced into a secondary position in the past five years as the Fredericton Capitals continued to strengthen each year with the addition of professional imports. In this capacity Varsity has now been forced to practice at the unholy hour of 6:30 a.m. This has no doubt discouraged some players from working out with Varsity, but the loss of this dead weight will not prove detrimental to the team. It is high time that the UNB hockey team showed a little more of the fight that has made the Football team worthy of the name, "Red Bombers."

The Basketball team makes its first intercollegiate start of the season this Friday evening at the gym when they meet St. Dunstons University of Charlottetown. Coach Rogers will use a generally inexperienced team, including four first year men. Fight and hustle will have to compensate for general savvy.

The Ladies' Basketball team takes to the road this weekend, playing the Nova Scotia universities, Dalhousie and Acadia. Their loss to Dalhousie here last weekend was not as bad as the score, 48-28, might indicate. We look for better things from our "mighty minority."

But enough of the views of the Spectator.

This issue of the Brunswickan is a bit late because it has been waiting for the mid-year rush of tests and exams to finish. We have seen again the wisdom of the old adage: Everything comes to him who waiteth if he worketh like hell while he waiteth.

Plans are under way for the Residence Formal. It promises to be one of the splashiest events of the year as usual. Details are being kept under wraps—also as usual.

Strange sounds are being heard on radios in the residence. They are purported to emanate from a diabolical communication system connecting some of the rooms. Those buzzers have got to go.

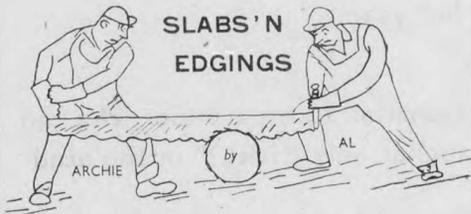

Residents are still wondering what happened to the party at the other "residence" that vanished without a trace just before Christmas. The gift we had picked out to put under their tree (a new Yogi bird) is still here. It is a quandary to be sure.

It appears that Margaret will be leaving us soon. Where will we ever get a waitress again who can make those corners at her speed?

Since 'Engineering Week' usually passes without notice to anyone we hope that it will pass over in the same fashion this year and that the engineers will be kind to us. If any dirty tricks are played on us, we will have our Dean cancel your activities for the week. Remember, 'Engineers' are to act grown up? ? ?

Foresters are more advanced than Beechwood in their engineering schedule. Designing of our dam on the woodlot will commence shortly, since the topographic survey plans of the area are on the drawing board. It is only fair and unbiased to state here that any dam building the Power Commission does will be to assist in our programme of flood control.

Not to mention the two artisans on the train at Xmas, who kept heading for the washroom. I think their names were Patrick Fitzgerald and Gerald Fitzpatrick.

One of our bravest second-story boys was caught by the matron of the Maggie Jean when he got half way down the stairs. His excuse—"I went back up to get my cigarettes."

PAUL BUNYON

Historians agree that Paul was born in the east. He was christened in the Bay of Fundy, where four horses and a logging jammer lowered him into the water. He hit with such a splash that he started a tidal wave which still has not subsided, and may be seen anywhere on the Bay.

It is said that he cut his teeth on a peavy and drove logs down the Kennebec river in his first pair of pants. There were no scholarships in those days, in fact the Governor General's assistance was requested for educating Paul, but without avail.

Writer's Workshop

Bob stopped the car. "Then I'll pick you up around 8:30. Will that be all right, Ann?" The other agreed, got out and then turned to watch the car disappear around the corner of Crescent Street.

The sun was gone now and only a faint redness was apparent on the western horizon. Ann turned and ran up the steps of her boarding house.

As she bounced into the room, Ann startled her room-mate who was seated in what the two girls called their "one real easy chair". Betty, like Ann was a student and worked during the summer months at a local hotel. Ann threw her light jacket on the bed.

The room was plainly furnished with two single beds and two dressers, all in various stages of untidiness. Ann replaced her bathing suit on the straight-backed chair where it had been hung to dry. The writing desk beside the chair was littered with several books, a school and office Dictionary and sheets of writing paper.

"Are you going out?" Betty asked as she noticed that Ann had taken a pair of white pumps from the closet and was looking at them with a critical eye. "Shouldn't talk when you have your mouth full, dear." Ann laughingly evaded the question and Betty's retort as she retreated from the room in her bath-robe.

Ann took a long time over her bath. She sighed as she thought of Bob, who had happened to be driving past the hotel when she finished work in the winter. He had offered to drive her home.

She had a sudden feeling of anxiety as she thought of the party he had invited her to. Her wide blue eyes had given no indication of the slight hesitation she felt when he asked her to go. She realized that she knew little of Bob except that he had an office on St. James St. and had a vague connection with a brokerage firm there.

Ann had first encountered Bob when he asked her to go to the hotel where she worked for the summer as a hostess. Bob ate dinner there, often stopping to chat with her. At first it was just the weather and then Ann found that she was telling him of books she had read and life as school in the winter. Ann was fascinated by his suave appearance and easy manner. She sensed that it was perhaps a girlish infatuation but when he asked her to go out this evening she couldn't imagine herself refusing.

With a pang she thought of Paul. He was overshadowed completely when she thought of Bob. Paul was the boy she had been going out with for the last two summers. He was nice, too, but in an unexciting sort of way. Paul was a little too serious at times, so unlike Bob and his gay chatter. Paul could be fun at times. They often spent long warm summer afternoons swimming in Lake St. Louis, or playing tennis at the club. But Paul wasn't fond of night clubs or parties or anything like that. Why, only last Wednesday night she had met him after he came from night school. It had been too late to go to a movie so they had gone for a walk in the park. Ann frowned. A girl did crave some excitement once in a while. To Ann parties and that I'm obnoxious when I have too much to drink." Ann was inclined to agree with him as the remainder of the drink in his hand slopped onto her dress. She stood up and brushed it off, relieved to see Bob returning from the kitchen. He gave Ann her drink and turned to Harry.

A man looking for a cigarette was caught on the second floor. He hasn't been seen since. Live and learn.

"Been bothering my girl, you wolf?" Bob shook his finger playfully at the fat man. Harry laughed heartily and winked at Bob as if to say that anything goes between friends. Harry moved over to let Ann and Bob sit down. Ann looked into Bob's intent dark eyes and he smiled. Ann somehow did not feel like smiling as she looked at him. As she watched the dark woman dance Ann suddenly felt that her blue organdie dress was plain and too simple in comparison with the strapless dress that clung to Cathy's lithe body.

The slow waltz came to an end. Cathy retrieved her half-filled glass from the low coffee table in front of the sofa. She weaved rather uncertainly as she made a mock bow to Harry. She lifted her glass.

"All of us are having fun, aren't we, Harry?" Her voice was saturated with intoxication. Her voice was several octaves higher than the brittle crash as her glass shattered on the floor. Harry pushed her away.

"Aw, go sleep it off, Cathy!" He turned to Ann and whispered that Cathy inevitably became dramatic when she drank too freely. Ann finished her drink and suppressed a shiver when her hand touched Bob's as he took her empty glass.

Ann excused herself to powder her nose and as she opened the door she saw Cathy standing unsteadily before the mirror. The girl's eyes were red and she was applying lip-stick to lips already bright red against her thin, pale face. "Hi, you're the girl Bob brought?" The question was emphasized by a metallic snap after the lip-stick had been thrown into a small black purse. "How long have you known him?"

Ann hesitated. "Quite some time." She did not feel like taking Cathy into her confidence. "Say, did you notice the kid's painting over the fireplace?"

Ann nodded, somewhat surprised by the sudden change in the conversation. She remembered the painting well now—an oil painting of a little boy with freckles and a wide grin.

"Guess who? That's Bob's son, he and his mother, your boy-friend's wife, are away on vacation right now. So everybody's having fun at the party, eh?" Cathy laughed. Ann remembered the sound of the glass as it fell from the girl's nervous fingers and shattered into a thousand pieces on the floor.

Ann's disgust was tinged with a vague wish to escape as she slipped past the weeping Cathy and

SRC SPRING BUDGETS GET APPROVAL TONITE

Fredericton (UNB)—At the meeting of the Students' Representative Council held on Wednesday night, January 20 in the Forestry Building, the financial committee headed by Bob Cass, S.R.C. Treasurer, presented the annual spring budget. The presentation was to inform the members of the requests and was considered a preliminary budget meeting as no motions concerning financial matters were made.

The meeting, chaired by Dick Ballance, SRC President, also appointed Gord McAllister, sophomore electrical student, as interim Secretary for the remainder of the SRC year, ending March 1st 1954.

In conjunction with the preliminary budget several recommendations were made by the financial committee. They read as follows:

(1) The Amateur Athletic Association shall pay for campus police at all sports events or events sponsored by the A.A.A.

(2) That the system of Honorariums be re-adjusted.

(3) That all officers having financial duties should continue their duties until the end of the school term, but the new officers should be elected as usual and assume their official capacity upon election or appointment.

(4) That members of the Corps of Commissionaires be hired to handle the money at the door at all formal dances.

(5) That the student directory be discontinued in its present form.

Mr. Cass explained that in the case of (3) the reason for the recommendation was an effort to eliminate the difficulties involved in changing officers in the middle of the term with so much work from the preceding months on the books. It would also give the new officials an opportunity to learn the ropes. With respect to item (5) Mr. Cass said that it has been found that difficulty has arisen among other publications on the campus concerning advertising in that most local merchants will advertise in the directory and then later turn down such publications as the Year Book and The Brunswickan. It was also felt that a directory of smaller size and without the SRC constitution in it would be more convenient for the students as well as cheaper to produce.

The final budget will be presented to the SRC this evening for passing and final ratification. A summary of the preliminary budget follows:

Income	$8,450.00
Budgets:
SRC	515.00
Brunswickan	1,277.58
NFCUS	182.00
Public Address	338.00
Year Book	2,500.00
AAA	3,400.00
Social Committee	650.00
Radio Club	25.00
Male Chorus	15.00
Non-Athletic Awards	45.00
Total	$8,612.94

ALUMNI SECRETARY ATTENDS CONFERENCE

Fredericton (UNB) — The University of New Brunswick's Alumni Secretary, John C. Murray, attended the annual District 1 Conference of the American Alumni Council at Smith College, Northampton, Massachusetts, on January 10-12.

About 125 persons professionally engaged in alumni work at universities and colleges in the New England States, Quebec, the Maritime Provinces and Newfoundland were in attendance. The conference included panel discussions and talks on various phases of alumni work concerned with the alumni fund, the alumni magazine, reunions, class organizations, etc.

Mr. Seward J. Marsh, National President of the American Alumni Council and Secretary of the Alumni Association of Bowdoin College, delivered his presidential address at the opening of the Conference on Sunday evening, January 10.

Other guest speakers were Francis Keppel, Dean of Graduate School of Education, Harvard University; and Miss Jeanette McPherson, Dean of Freshmen, Wellesley College.

D. Lorne Gales, General Secretary, McGill University, Montreal, is Chairman of District 1 while Mr. Peter E. Pratt, Alumni Secretary, Harvard University, was in charge of the programme.

GRAD APPOINTED

Fredericton (UNB) — A University of New Brunswick graduate, Laurence H. Solomon, has been appointed Order Librarian at Colgate University in Hamilton, N.Y. It was learned here today.

Mr. Solomon, a native of the British West Indies, received his bachelor of arts degree at UNB in 1949 and his bachelor of library science degree from the University of Toronto Library School in 1950.

After two years' work at the York Township Public Library, Toronto, Mr. Solomon became branch library head of the Peoria, Ill. Public Library, before taking up his new duties at Colgate University late in December. Mr. Solomon served in the Canadian Army from 1940 to 1946. While attending UNB, Mr. Solomon was married to Miss Marion Sharpe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Sharpe, York Street, Fredericton.

SPEAKS ON POWER: The Rotary Club of Fredericton recently heard in address which stirred considerable comment when it was delivered to the Saint John Board of Trade. The speaker was Prof. William V. Smith of the economic department of the University of New Brunswick and the subject was "New Brunswick's Opportunity: Power is the Key." Prof. Smith urged an early start on the Beechwood hydro-electric development on the Saint John river as the most suitable next step in meeting the Province's growing power demands.

CONSUMER CREDIT THEME OF ADDRESS

Fredericton (UNB)—"In an age of extreme social consciousness and unrest, consumer credit should not be overlooked," J. H. Mackey, assistant general sales manager, Industrial Acceptance Corporation, told a meeting of Fredericton business men and women here Thursday.

"Unless the hand that makes the automobile has the power to take the automobile and put it to use for himself . . . Then there is bound to be social trouble and unrest," he said. Speaking at a luncheon meeting in the Lord Beaverbrook Hotel, sponsored by the University of New Brunswick's departments of business administration and economics, Mr. Mackey declared:

"I do not think it is an exaggeration to say that this installment sales institution has been largely responsible for allowing the hands that make our automobiles . . . take them and put them to use for themselves."

He traced the development of consumer credit, "closely linked with the history of the automobile industry." He noted how modern installment selling arose in response to social needs. The desire of Americans to own motor vehicles, coupled with substantial sales price credits and the need for installment buying.

In the same way, he noted, the established institutions . . . commercial banks as they were constituted could not meet the changing needs of society. A new institution, credit buying, was created to fill the gap.

CAMPUS ENGINEERS RECEIVE ADDRESS

Fredericton (UNB)—Two prominent British engineers delivered lectures at the University of New Brunswick on Thursday, January 14th, as part of the provincial university's observance of the 100th anniversary of its Engineering Department.

C. H. W. Lackey and D. F. Amer, both of whom are with A. Reyolle & Company Limited, Hebburn, Co. Durham, England, came to Fredericton under the joint sponsorship of the University of New Brunswick and the Fredericton Branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada.

Mr. Lackey, Engineer-in-charge of Research at Reyolle, delivered the first lecture at 4 p.m. in UNB's Electrical Engineering Building. He spoke on the topic of "A Review of Protective-Gear Practice in Britain." Mr. Lackey joined his company in 1924 and received his training at Rutherford College of Technology, Newcastle upon Tyne and Armstrong College, Newcastle.

He has read professional papers in many parts of the world and is the author of a book entitled "Fault Calculations." The evening lecture by Mr. Amer dealt with "Some Technical Factors Relating to High Voltage Switching." It was delivered at 8 p.m. in the University's Memorial Hall. Mr. Amer, who is his company's Engineer-in-charge of

AUTHOR TO LECTURE NEWMAN CLUB AT MEETING ON FRIDAY

Fredericton (UNB)—Mr. Bruce Marshall, British author and lecturer, currently on a speaking tour of the Maritimes, will arrive in Fredericton on Friday, January twenty-ninth. Marshall, who is being sponsored by the UNB Newman Club, will give a public lecture on the position of Franco Spain in the Western World.

A Scotman by birth, Mr. Marshall attended public school and university in Edinburgh, interrupting his university career to serve in the first World War. After the Armistice, Mr. Marshall began his literary career. He also became a Scottish Chartered Accountant, working and traveling on the continent most of the between-wars period. Referring to his two professions, Mr. Marshall sardonically observes: "Among my accountant-friends I am a great novelist; among literary circles I am a good accountant." His critics, however, say otherwise.

Among his successful novels are: "Father Malachi's Miracle", which was even more successful as a Stage-play than as an original novel; "Yellow Tapers for Paris", culled from fourteen years spent in that city, and "The World, the Flesh, and Father Smith" which "crosses literary picket-lines and flies from humble devotion to mischievous burlesque."

On the eve of the German invasion, he returned to England to serve as an officer in the British Intelligence, and after peace was somewhat tenuously restored to Europe, became a lieutenant colonel with the Allied Civil Commission for Austria. It was from this last appointment that he gathered material for his book "Specters in Vienna", which was subsequently made into the movie "The Red Danube".

Final arrangements for Mr. Marshall's address in Fredericton will be announced within the next few days.

SCM GROUP WILL MEET SECRETARILY

Fredericton (UNB) — Good attendance and many plans for the New Year were leading features of the first meeting of the Student Christian Movement Advisory Board for 1954. Presided over by Alwyn Cameron, Chairman of the Board, the meeting was held last evening in the lounge of Teachers' College.

Those present were: Rev. H. M. Davis, Rev. Dr. T. J. Watson, Ralph Freeze, Sinclair Healy and O. F. McGowan. Student representatives included James Kennedy, President of the SCM at UNB, Joyce Anderson, President of the SCM in Teachers' College, John Smith from UNB, and Merrill Slipp from Teachers' College.

The Chairman circulated mimeographed material dealing with the functions of the Advisory Board, explaining that it had been prepared by the National Council of SCM of Canada for the guidance of local units. After members have had time to study the material, the recommendations will be discussed.

Highlight of the evening was discussion of plans for the visit of Rev. Robert Miller, Study Secretary of the SCM for Canada, to the universities of the Maritimes. It was learned that Mr. Miller, who has travelled extensively and has studied in Germany, would arrive in Fredericton on Saturday, Jan. 30 and would remain until Monday, Feb. 1, thus providing an almost unique opportunity for the group to strengthen and develop its study program, especially in the University.

To further the study program, it was decided to hold a conference of student leaders, under Mr. Miller's direction, on Saturday, with morning and afternoon sessions to deal with the problems of group leadership. In the evening, a buffet supper is to be held so that members of the Advisory Board and senior friends of the SCM in the Fredericton area may meet Mr. Miller and become more fully acquainted with the program of the local SCM.

It is expected that Mr. Miller, in addition to addressing numerous SCM groups, will also preach in several of the City churches and speak to a few service clubs.

E. H. V. Switchgear, received his technical training at Rutherford College of Technology, and is co-author of a number of papers on E. H. V. Switchgear.

DID YOU KNOW THAT

- COTC recruiting closed on January 7th?
- More UNB students applied for COTC training this year than last year?
- There is NO restriction to the number who can join, but this applies only EARLY in the academic year?
- Over 30 students will travel across Canada this summer at Army expense, receive free board, lodging, medical and dental care, and be paid $185 per month for up to 4 months for doing this?
- These students are helping to maintain YOUR freedom?
- 6 students have undertaken to serve three years in the Canadian Army Active Force?
- These students receive free University Training and $120 a month while at university in return?
- It is most likely that some of these students will fly to Germany this summer to train with Canada's NATO forces and see Europe?
- The commitment of these COTC and ROTP students ranges from nothing, to full-time service after graduation, AT THEIR DISCRETION?
- YOU COULD HAVE BEEN ONE OF THEM?
