The copy filmed here has been reproduced thanks to the generosity of:

University of British Columbia
Law Library

The images appearing here are the best quality possible considering the condition and legibility of the original copy and in keeping with the filming contract specifications.

Original copies in printed paper covers are filmed beginning with the front cover and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression, or the back cover when appropriate. All other original copies are filmed beginning on the first page with a printed or illustrated impression, and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression.

The last recorded frame on each microfiche shall contain the symbol \rightarrow (meaning "CONTINUED"), or the symbol ∇ (meaning "END"), whichever applies.

Maps, plates, charts, etc., may be filmed at different reduction ratios. Those too large to be entirely included in one exposure are filmed beginning in the upper left hand corner, left to right and top to bottom, as many frames as required. The following diagrams illustrate the method:

L'exemplaire filmé fut reproduit grâce à la générosité de:

University of British Columbia
Law Library

Les images suivantes ont été reproduites avec le plus grand soin, compte tenu de la condition et de la netteté de l'exemplaire filmé, et en conformité avec les conditions du contrat de filmage.

Les exemplaires originaux dont la couverture en papier est imprimée sont filmés en commençant par le premier plat et en terminant soit par la dernière page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration, soit par le second plat, selon le cas. Tous les autres exemplaires originaux sont filmés en commençant par la première page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration et en terminant par la dernière page qui comporte une telle empreinte.

Un des symboles suivants apparaît sur la dernière image de chaque microfiche, selon le cas: le symbole \rightarrow signifie "A SUIVRE", le symbole ∇ signifie "FIN".

Les cartes, planches, tableaux, etc., peuvent être filmés à des taux de réduction différents. Lorsque le document est trop grand pour être reproduit en un seul cliché, il est filmé à partir de l'angle supérieur gauche, de gauche à droite, et de haut en bas, en prenant le nombre d'images nécessaire. Les diagrammes suivants illustrent la méthode.

LIST OF DECIDED CASES THEREON

COMPILED AND ARRANGED FOR THE ASSISTANCE OF MAGISTRATES, JUSTICES, AND COUNSEL ENGAGED IN THE PROSECUTION OF SUCH OFFENCES.

PREFACE TO SECOND EDITION.

Sixteen years ago, owing to the fact that The Liquor License Act was the result of so much fragmentary and piecemeal legislation without any arrangement or methodical classification of sections, making it "unusually complex and difficult," I compiled a work treating exclusively of the numerous offences enacted thereunder, believing that important sections might otherwise be overlooked and in many instances the law be improperly administered in consequence thereof.

You can find time to study the provisions relating to the application for licenses, etc., and if you have not mastered the details, the consequence cannot be serious, but it is important that every Magistrate and Justice, as well as counsel engaged in the prosecution of offences, should have a thorough knowledge of the law, practice and procedure under the Act, or a means available for immediately and easily acquiring such knowledge.

The Act, as now revised in its methodical arrangement and classification of sections, is a decided improvement on the former consolidation, but, after a careful examination of the additional offences and important amendments thereto, including those of the last session, I am convinced that this edition will be found to be as necessary and useful as the former one.

The work is divided into five parts. The first deals with "Unlicensed Premises," the second with "Licensed Premises;" the third with "Prohibitory Clauses;" the fourth with the "Miscellaneous Provisions," which affect licensed houses and license holders generally; and the fifth contains the Act respecting the sale by druggists of liquor, alcohol, and other medicines, now embodied in The Liquor License Act as part three.

In arranging the sections, those relating to each other have been brought together, but where, without interfering with this object, some alphabetical order of the capitularies could be arranged, this system has been followed.

There are scattered throughout the Act several sections making certain facts or circumstances conclusive and presumptive evidence, but in this work they are arranged to follow the section describing the offences to which they are directed.

The penalties imposed in respect of many offences are enacted in other clauses of the Act, rendering it difficult to ascertain the fine, etc., which should be imposed. In this work, the penalties, if not embodied in the section creating the offence, are printed immediately below.

Many of the decided cases referred to in the first edition have become obsolete. I have eliminated these and added the later important Canadian and English ones, noting them immediately below the section to which they relate.

I have endeavoured to make a full and complete "Table of Contents" and "Index," in order to facilitate (in keeping with the whole work) the finding of any particular part or section of the statute.

As an appendix, following the schedule of forms, there is added "The Act respecting the legal meaning of expressions relative to Time, R. S. O. ch. 132," also a tariff of fees chargeable by Magistrates and Constables.

May, 1914.

Such license shall only be valid during the currency of the licensed year in which it is issued, and shall expire on the last day of the month of April then next ensuing. And it must not be issued to any other than a male person of the full age of 21 years, and of good character. But a licensee may in a case of temporary emergency employ as bar-tender any male person of the full age of 21 years for 2 days only, not necessarily consecutive in any one calendar month.

Any licensee who employs any unlicensed bar-tender or permits him to act as such in violation of this Act will incur a penalty for every day or portion of a day during which such violation continues of not less than $10, and not more than $20, or imprisonment for a period not exceeding one month. The said penalties are imposed against any person acting as a bar-tender without

To give validity to a bar-tender's license in any district other than where issued the inspector of such district must endorse the same.

A bar-tender's license and an Inspector's endorsement may be proved in Court by the production of the Inspector's book containing entries thereof, or a certificate of any such entry purporting to be signed by the proper Inspector without requiring proof of his signature.

Every licensed bar-tender must produce his license forthwith on request to any Inspector or other official appointed by the Crown, or to any constable or police officer under a penalty for neglect or refusal not exceeding $10 and costs or 10 days in gaol. (Sec. 40.)

offence.

(2) It shall not be necessary in the information, summons, warrant, conviction, distress warrant, commitment or other process or proceeding, except the finding or judgment, to set out that such patent or other medicine, preparation or mixture was put up, manufactured or sold as a colourable device for the evasion of Part I., but it shall be sufficient if the complaint and all other necessary statements of the offence allege or refer to the sale of liquor without the license required by law. 61 V. ch. 30, sec. 7.

V. ch. 65, sec. 4, part.
