HALIFAX :

Printed and Sold by JOHN HOWE, at his Printing-Office, in

George-Street, near the Parade.

The following SIGNALS are made on the Citadel,

when Vessels are coming into Halifax Harbor :

One Ball	For one square rigged vessel.
One Ball, half hoisted,	For two do.
Two Balls close,	For three do.
Two Balls separated,	For four, do.
A Pendant of any colour,	For five, do.
A Pendant under one ball,	For six, do.
A Pendant over a ball half hoisted	For seven do.
A Pendant under two balls close,	For eight do.
A Pendant between two balls separated,	For nine do.
A Flag of any colour,	For ten or more.

The above are hoisted at the east or west yard arm, according to the quarter the vessel first appears in ; and as soon as the vessel can be described, one or more of the following colours are hoisted at the mast head :

- A Union, For a flag ship with or without a Squadron,
- Do. with a red pendant over it, for a two-decker,
- Do. with a blue pendant over it, for a frigate,
- Do. with a white pendant over it, for a small armed vessel.
- A red flag pierced white, for a packet,
- A blue pendant for a merchant ship,
- A red do. for a merchant brig,
- A white pendant for a topsail sloop or schooner,
- A red flag, for a neutral man of war,
- Do. with a blue pendant under it, for a neutral merchant ship,
- Do. with a red pendant under it, for a neutral merchant brig,
- Do. with a white pendant under it, for a do. sloop or schooner.

Enemy's Signals :

- A French Jack, for an enemy's fleet,
- A blue pendant under a French pendant, for an enemy's ship,
- A red pendant under a do. for an enemy's brig,
- A white pendant under a do. for a do. sloop or schooner.

N. B. No signals can be made with those for describing enemy's vessels, except they are in our possession, in which case, a Union Jack will be hoisted over the Signal.

Signal in Distress :

In cases when immediate assistance is necessary, a ball at the mast head, in addition to the descriptive colours of the vessel in distress, and guns occasionally, until the signal is attended to.

Yet, tho' the mighty master led the way,
 And op'd the portals of celestial day,
 To loftier minds alone the pow'r was giv'n
 To drink the sacred fount, and learn the lore of heav'n :
 The scene too vast, our faculties o'erstrain'd,
 Till Boyle his World in Miniature ordain'd.
 Now view, compris'd within yon narrow space,
 Each cir'ling orb, and mark its radiant race ;
 In sculptur'd beauty round the wide extreme
 The starry zodiac casts a varying gleam :

And self-revolving on his axle turns;
 Bright o'er the rest the central monarch burns,
 In meafur'd gyres th' obedient planets run,
 August attendants on their regent Sun;
 Tend with strong bias tow'rd the fount of day,
 Compell'd the bright attractor to obey;
 He rules their motions with resistless force,
 And sways, with innate pow'r, each heav'n directed course.

Else would th' untutor'd orbs, at random thrown,
 'Mid the deep void in wild confusion fly,
 Or seek remoter suns in some forbidden sky.
 Scorch'd, as he moves around the rolling blaze,
 Swift Merc'ry fift his vivid orb displays ;
 Four times he circles round the fire of day,
 Ere tardier Earth hath trac'd her annual way :
 Tho' here he shines in polish'd lustre bright,

Scarce in the heav'ns is seen his fainter light ;
 Bath'd in th' effulgence of the solar fire,
 His weaken'd beams amid the blaze expire.
 Fair Venus next, gay gleaming from afar,
 Drives round the glitt'ring frame her pearly car ;
 In even course the silver beauty moves,
 Nor from her destin'd line unduteous roves ;

Though view'd from earth, to man's untutor'd eye
 She seem in wanton dance to track the sky;
 Now in strait line to move with even pace;
 Now stopping, wearied with the lengthen'd race;
 Now, tracing back her former steps, to run,
 With speed increasing, to the central Sun;
 While, at each period of her orb serene;
 A different office marks the changing scene;
 At earliest dawn emerging, to adorn

With vivid beams the softly-rising morn,
 Or, summoning the glitt'ring hosts of night,
 O'er eve's mild hour to cast her silver light.
 Next the green Earth, in annual cirele moves,
 In pleas'd obedience to the Sun she loves;
 And, slowly travelling her destin'd way,
 Presents her changing surface to his ray;
 Obliquely plac'd her measur'd course to steer,

Now the bright Crab with added lustre glows ;
 Now Libra in her balanc'd scales contains,
 Now Capricorn his fiery orb retains.
 Thee too, fair Moon, companion of our flight,
 Queen of the months, and regent of the night,
 Taught by the bright machine, we pleas'd survey
 In thy pale course, and mark thy varying ray ;
 Watch ev'ry change, and tell with conscious pride,
 When thy opposing orb, the star of day shall hide.

Portending war, and red with rage for blood ;
 Alas ! the harmless planet rolls on high,
 Guiltless of war, nor marking destiny ;
 But slowly moving his appointed way,
 Sees Earth beneath in swifter circuit stray.
 In skies remote majestic Jupiter
 Wheels in protracted course his pond'rous sphere :
 Twelve times revolving Earth her course must run,
 Ere the vast planet journeys round the sun.

Four radiant Moons the mighty monarch guide,
 And dance in bright succession by his side;
 Eclipsing and eclips'd around him move,
 And light with changing beams the night of Jove.
 Thus round the sacred oak, with garlands gay,
 The rural virgins dance in bright array;
 These can discover to the sage's sight,
 From heav'n to earth, the rapid sun-beam's flight;

And help the daring voyager t' explore
 His measur'd way to earth's remotest shore.
 Saturn, in leaden state, with feeble gleam
 Drags his slow car around the vast extreme ;
 Full thirty pe riods mark earth's annual race,
 Ere his long year hath measur'd out its space.
 Round his huge form a wond'rous circle clings,
 And girds the frozen globe with lucid rings ;
 Whether the sloping arch, a mirror wide,
 Reflects the solar radiance on his side ;
 Or the great Pow'r that bade the system rise,
 First form'd him, globe in globe, of ampler size ;
 And lo ! by heav'n's resistless finger strook,
 Th' exterior frame some mighty ruin shook,
 And left the shatter'd orb, forbid to move,
 Horific thought ! a hanging arch above.
 While thus our feeble minds, in pleas'd survey,
 'Mid pictur'd heav'n's and iy'ry planets stray,
 Great Halley, fresh translated to the skies,
 Views each stupendous sphere with raptur'd eyes ;
 Strays, nobly daring, thro' the realms of light,
 And steers through real stars his unembarras'd flight.

WINTER'S EVENING.

WHEN the trees are bereft of their leaves,
 And bright Phœbus no warmth can bestow ;
 When rude icicles drop from the eaves,
 And the ground is all cover'd with snow ;
 Then at night, round the crackling blaze,
 All the Villagers merily sing ;
 With festivity lengthen the days,
 Nor repine at the state of a King !

ANECDOTES.

A PERSON said to a miser one day, with whom he was very intimate, " I am now going a journey, give me a ring, which I will keep about me, and whenever I see it I shall remember you." He answered, " If you want to remember me, whenever you see your finger naked, always think of me, that you wanted a ring of such a man, and he did—not give it."

THE Persians are much addicted to superstition ; consequently, their actions accord with their ideas. If a person is troubled with the tooth-ach, he touches the tooth with a nail, which he drives into a tree exactly at the height equal to that of the tooth in his head.

By the latter road you clear the Ferry and Sands at Barronsfield, which are often troublesome to strangers; but, when the tides are low, the former is the best way, the Ferry excepted.

For the information of Travellers between Windsor and Parrborough, &c.

THE Parrborough packet sails regularly between Windsor and Parrborough twice in every week, and occasionally three times; but always from Parrborough every Monday in the Summer season, wind and weather permitting, so as to be at Windsor on Tuesday, and will sail from thence the first high water that happens, at or after 8 o'clock in the forenoon of that day.—The passage money for each person is five shillings, and the freight for horses and neat cattle, is seven shillings and six-pence per head. The vessel is 42 tons burthen, and has good accommodations for passengers; and likewise for taking over horses, neat cattle, sheep, &c.

An ACCOUNT of BUOYS.

Laid down for the better guidance of vessels sailing in and out of Halifax Harbor.
