Man's Pockets.
The possession of numerous pockets is one of the things that makes a man independent. He is free. Women never will be really emancipated until she, too, has pockets.

No man knows exactly how many pockets he has. If you don't believe it ask the first man you meet. He can't come within four of it.

Each suit of clothes is equipped with so many of these repositories that the average 'cud' can't find them all. The real how many he has got.

Give a man a pocket and he will lose a single pocket and he would be lost. Just look what a man carried around in his pockets:

Half a dozen letters, a cap of tobacco or a pipe, or two or three cigars, (more often those are sops in his best pocket just over his heart), a fountain pen, a pencil or two, a photograph of a stray broiler he doesn't want to see, a knife that won't cut anything, a key ring with 14 keys in it, some stamps all stuck together, a few rubber bands, a memorandum book, a newspaper clipping or something the local paper said about him, a watch, a poker chip, a card or two admitting him to his favorite club, a pocket book with some money in it, a laundry ticket, a rabbit foot, a cigar, a silk garter, a few cigar store coupons, a deck of cards, a pistol, a slipper for cutting a cord, a piece of snuff paper, a dream-book, a lock of hair, and so on ad infinitum.

That Which Can Be Restored.
An indemnity may be paid to Belgium; she may be 'restored' in her roads and bridges and buildings; but the people of Belgium have suffered a destruction of their nervous system that will not be restored for generations. Thousands of Belgians, as Dr. C. C. Critchfield points out in 'A Mechanic's View of War, and Peace (Macmillan Company), have 'lived years in months'.

There have been many sudden deaths; many cases of insomnia; of neurasthenia; of prostration; of heart ailment and impaired efficiency; and generally a loss of hope and courage. There has been an average loss of from six to ten pounds in weight. Many Belgians have been found dead in their beds without external injuries, and many other fatal diseases. Children were prematurely born. There have been many suicides among children as well as adults; and children as well as adults have become insane.

It is to be expected that these conditions will continue and progress, and that there will be an increasing number of cases of bright's disease and apoplexy.

The posthumous children have been robbed of their birthright of healthy bodies and stable nervous systems. The little children whose action patterns had not been formed are the only ones who may bear their inheritance without loss of mental or physical efficiency. The Belgian exiles whom I have seen show a loss in morale. They are preoccupied, absent-minded, despondent, however, weak, irritable, bitter, and broken. They suffered a permanent loss which is beyond compensation and beyond redemption.

These millions of men, women, children, and unborn infants have been subjected to a vivisection of unparalleled cruelty unappreciated in the history of man or of the lower animals. It is as if upon Belgium as a whole every degree of physical, mental, and moral torture has been inflicted without anesthesia.

WOMAN WORKS 15 HOURS A DAY
Marvelous Story of Woman's Change from Weakness to Strength by Taking Druggist's Advice.

For, indeed, I suffered from a displacement with backache and dragging down pains so bad that I could not get on my feet and it did not seem as though I could stand. I tried different medicines without any benefit. My doctor told me nothing but an operation would do me any good. My druggist told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it with the result that I am now well up in the morning at four o'clock, do my housework, then go to the factory and work all day, come home and get supper and feed my children. I don't know how many of my friends I have told what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. — Mrs. ALMA KERRICK, 1000 St. Paul St., Portland, Me.

Women who suffer from any such ailments should not fail to try this famous and health-giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mixed Liniment cures Dandruff.

Good Advice.
The time is here when people who have been figuring on raising poultry for the coming season are selecting their eggs for hatching, and their choices may be in order.

There is no best breed. Quality counts in families more than in breeds. People have their distinctive physical characteristics, and so do chickens. It does not follow that because you are buying Leghorns, or Wyandottes, or Rocks, a few years ago, or that your neighbors have them, you must have to go out and buy Leghorns, or Rocks, or Wyandottes, or Rocks.

You must make sure that the eggs come from a good laying strain of family in what ever particular breed you prefer.

In figuring on the purchase of eggs, remember that every ten cents on the price of an egg will look big, but when you have the full-grown bird, five cents makes practically no difference in cost. Yet the feed cost has been the same and the trouble of raising has been as great, and by saving five cents on an egg you have perhaps lost one dollar or even more in the quality or productive power of the full-grown bird.

Money invested in good breeding stock or good eggs is the most profitable investment in connection with the poultry industry.

It takes about 90 eggs a year to pay for your hen. If she lays 100 eggs, you have only 10 eggs for profit. If she lays 150 you have 60 for profit. In other words one 150 egg hen is as good as six that lay only 90 eggs each per year, and a lot of them do no better than that.

Figure out what this means in the connection of food and how it affects you as regards accommodation.

You can't get good results unless you have good stock, and unless you take sufficient interest in your flock to properly care for it. Good stock generally means flocks that are not a mixture of several breeds, and a nice looking, sleek, active, young interest, gives you more pleasure in caring for it, and consequently brings you more profit.

If you intend to purchase eggs, learn whether the breeder from whom you buy is well known in selecting his breeding pens. Don't buy breed only; buy quality as well, and don't have anything to do with cross-breeds.

With good feed at present prices you cannot afford to raise anything but the best, and you are actually wasting the country's resources if you feed chicks or hens that will not give returns of more value than they consume.

This German Wanted to Fight.
He was in the hospital at T. when I met him. He was a captain in a Bavarian Infantry regiment, and had been captured in the fight at Festenberg. His wounds were quite slight, but what was more serious he seemed to have lost his mind.

As a rule he was quiet, his only reply to our advances being a laugh or an imbecile grin. It was not that he failed to understand, for he betrayed at times quite an adequate stock of English. Now and again, however, he would break out into acts of violence. One or twice he deliberately spat trays of soup on his bed. And periodically he would make a charge from beneath the sheets, shouting in German: 'They're coming! They're coming! Shoot!'

So they took him away as soon as possible, and the doctor told us he was sent to an insane asylum.

About twelve months later, during the early fighting at the Somme, I took part in a night attack in the neighborhood of Pommier. It was one of those surprise sallies in which we were caught by the Germans literally unprepared. This time we took practically an entire company, with most of the officers in charge.

Among my captives was a young German soldier. I recognized my old friend from T. I recognized him, and he immediately recognized me. He had won his freedom.

Knowing that in these periodical exchanges of prisoners men who fight were usually returned to their own land he had hit on the plan of feigning insanity. I leave you to imagine what force of character, as well as what native ability was needed to carry out his program successfully.

I have heard of only one other feat which, in my mind, equals his. It is that of a Frenchman, whose pretense of blindness fooled even the crack German snipers. — Told by Captain CORCORAN.

Sixty thousand people, or about 14,000 families, own about one-fourth the area of the United States. More than 25,000,000 acres of American land are owned by foreigners, an English gentleman controlling 1,200,000 acres. A German, who came to the U. S. a poor boy in 1850, has $4,500,000. In one county in Arkansas three corporations own 85 per cent. of the lands.

Loud in Praise of Rummage Sales.
In connection with the Rummage Sale which is to be held very soon under the auspices of the Daughters, the following article from the Truro Citizen will be of interest:

Probably no more practical form of patriotism has been witnessed in Truro for some time than the rummage sale which has been held during the past year.

For the benefit of the good ladies who devoted their time to this work we publish below an article on rummage sales written by a wealthy New York City resident:

Some two weeks ago the ladies of St. George's Episcopal Church in New York City decided to hold a rummage sale. The parish is a large one and includes among its membership several thousand people, both rich and poor, fashionable and anti-fashionable.

They were all asked to send the useful things that they had no use for to the sale. About $2,000 over expenses was realized and a large quantity of serviceable clothing and much household equipment and furniture that has been cast aside by the poor to do and would ultimately have gone into the junk pile was sold at very moderate prices to those who were glad to get and use it. A well known man dug up a pair of riding boots that he had sported in his youth. A mounted policeman bought them for $5.00. From out of the garret of that man's house came stuff that sold for $10.00. People eagerly bought beautiful bedspreads that were of a time long past, pictures of their father or grandmother bought, curtains of fine texture but not new in style, books dusted with age, magazines of a generation ago, hats, capers, collars, coats, regens, undershirts, shoes, slippers, dancing pumps, furs, hair ornaments, etc.

There was a crib in which some one's child had sported his tiny hands and legs. There were portable little organs for playing on the sands of the beaches in summer days. There were hats and caps, tennis outfits, golf outfits, additons, bicycle-clocks of every age, it would seem, and many other things. — We suggest that the plain utilitarian kind to the daintiest Dresden ware, lamp shades, an ancient and modern; lamps likewise Turkish pistols, muffs, new and old; basnets, object d'art, hand-painted fans. Servants' china on which in gold there was a picture of the king of Rome; fancy hat-pins, a manicure set of mother of pearl that came in from some beauty's table; skates, sport clothes, pieces of the most delicate make, and boxing gloves.

The box of gloves sold at a premium.

For these reasons and because it is a really much needed form of war economy, we advocate the holding of rummage sales throughout the country. Every church and every society that is engaged in philanthropic work of any kind ought to organize one.

The garage, cellars and closets of the nation contain many millions of dollars worth of really useful clothing and household furniture, that is so much idle capital. It is not wanted by the owners and is slowly being destroyed by age or the moth.

There are millions of people who will be glad to buy and use it instead of the newer things that must be produced by the labor of which the government is in urgent need. Such sales would release much of this labor for war work.

We suggest that every one who reads this paragraph would cut this out and hand it to some woman who has organizing ability and wants to do good.

Fighting For Life.
In all the English speaking democracies, the possession of the war has been terribly handicapped by the stubborn refusal of large elements of the population to realize the situation.

We have been literally fighting for our lives and what is better, our liberty, all these years; but the voice of warning have gone unheeded by many, who have seen in the war nothing but opportunity to be exploited in the interests of self.

The guns of the great battle in France will awaken these sluggards to the last stubborn man. We may have now, what we have never yet had, absolute national unity in the face of possible disaster, not only in Great Britain but in the United States.

Let us pray that this awakening to our duty to deem everything as done in the balance against its loss of this war may not come too late — Manila, the Free Press.

Don't Be Dyspeptic.
The dyspeptic has thought only of the stomach when the real source of trouble is in the Liver and Kidneys and Bowels. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills thoroughly cleans and purify the digestive and excretory systems and in this way put the organs of digestion into splendid working condition. A little patient urging on of these organs when a stomach will restore the habit of healthful digestion.

The average man seldom knows all the other men think he knows, but the chances are he knows a few things he isn't suspected of knowing.

Many a girl's complexion is beautiful. But, then, many a girl is a born statistic.

It is better to build a life than to make a fortune. Character is a greater thing than riches.

Continuous and monotonous Work - most trying on the Nerves

DOING the same thing, in the same way, day after day and week after week, means destruction to the nerve cells and collapse of the nervous system of the human body.

Whether in the munition factory or in the home, in the store or in the office, it is monotony that kills. And it is because woman's work is more often monotonous than men's that so many women suffer from nervous exhaustion and prostration, nervous headaches, neuralgic pains and general run-down condition of the body.

It is easy for the doctor to say you must have change and rest, but the expense of living is so great at this time that few can afford to follow such advice.

But there is restoration and health awaiting you in the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. This great reconstructive treatment cures by supplying the elements which Nature uses in the formation of new, rich blood and the creation of new nerve force.

If you are a regular reader of this paper you will find cures reported almost daily, and no matter where you live you will find people who will tell you with enthusiasm of the benefits obtained by using this great food cure.

Editorial Breveities.

Practical are the suggestions made by a special commission which studied vocational training. Recognizing both the necessity and the value of improving our educational methods along practical lines so as to hold the interest of students of maturer years, the commission has outlined plans which it is anticipated will bring about the desired results with the least possible additional expenditure and the least possible interference with existing methods. The report, a comprehensive and valuable one, presents in the briefest possible space the work of many months of careful and searching study, outlines plans of action which cannot fail to be productive of good results wherever sympathetically and intelligently inaugurated.

Kings County Organization

FOR NATIONAL MILITARY Y. M. C. A. THREE DAY FINANCIAL CAMPAIGN.

The National Council of the Military Y. M. C. A. have decided upon May 7, 8, 9, for a campaign to raise the financial budget this year. The amount asked from all Canada is $2,250,000, of Nova Scotia $150,000, and of Kings County $6,500.

The Provincial Council has asked Mr. E. B. Newcombe, of Kentville, to act as County Chairman for Kings. Through Mr. Newcombe an organization meeting for the county was called at Kentville April 15th at 1 o'clock and delegates from all sections of the county were present. The meeting was addressed by Mr. D. G. Cook, the Provincial Director of the campaign, by Capt. Kneale, Chief of the Military Y. M. C. A. staff of the Province. The former gave facts regarding the growth of the campaign organization throughout the province and the latter gave a vivid picture of the services of the 'Y' for our soldiers at the front.

The meeting confirmed Mr. E. B. Newcombe's appointment, and Mr. Geo. A. Chase of Port Williams, lately returned from the front, was appointed organizer for the campaign and Mr. Geo. C. Roy, of the Bank of Nova Scotia, secy. treasurer. These officers together with Dr. H. T. DeWolfe, of 'Acadia,' constitute the executive.

The county has been divided into wards and so much apportioned to each and chairmen have been appointed for each district as follows:

- 1 Stanley Robinson, Canning
- 2 L. F. Benkborn, Canning
- 3 W. W. Lyons, Kingsport
- 4 W. Corkum, Scotts Bay
- 5 Rev. A. J. Prosser, U. Canard
- 6 John Donaldson, Ft. Williams
- 7 C. R. Hill, Billtown
- 8 A. S. Clarke, U. Canard
- 9 Blake Clarke, Lakeville
- 10 H. Halsey, Lakeville
- 11 Ernest Bishop, Somerset
- 12 F. S. Fisher, Somerset
- 13 N. J. Brycon, Somerset
- 14 Henry Bishop, New Minas
- 15 Roy A. Judrey, Gasperon
- 16 Rev. G. Milbray, Gasperon
- 17 Miss A. Stewart, Grand Pre
- 18 E. L. Gertridge, Hantsport
- 19 Frank McMillan, Aylesford
- 20 Spurgeon Bishop, Auburn
- 21 S. S. Stevens, Kingstons
- 22 F. H. Saunders, E. Dalhousie
- 23 F. E. Harris, Aylesford
- 24 Jas. S. Smith, Kingstons
- 25 W. S. Rawding, Waterville
- 26 A. S. Banks, Berwick
- 27 Ed. Chute, Canada Creek
- 28 Benj. Macnamon, Harborsville
- 29 R. H. Lamont, Kentville
- 30 Dr. DeWolfe, Wolfville

In some instances the gentlemen chosen as representatives were not present at the meeting but in other counties already reported organized this same method has been adopted for organization. A most without exception parties selected in their absence have cheerfully consented to be the welfare of our boys at the front as any other county, and it is taken for granted these men selected in their absence will act in due time information to assist in the campaign will reach the various workers.

As every home in the Dominion is benefiting directly or indirectly by the work of the military Y. M. C. A. for our soldier boys at this time, it is expected that generous and generous response will be made to the 'Y' in this campaign.

A Notable Reader.

Whenever the arts of impersonation and interpretation of the best plays are known and appreciated, the mere announcement of the appearance of Mr. Philadelph Rice is sufficient to evoke great expectations and enthusiasm among lovers of good literature. Mr. Rice is generally considered by critics the most dominant figure in the world of Readers, his virile, truthful, masterly portrayal of the many persons in a play, leaving nothing to be desired in the way of stage-setting or accessories.

On May 13th, at College Hall, he will read, either 'Fossil Valley' by Bernard Knicker, the rural play made famous by Sol Smith Russell; or a dramatization of Dickens' 'Great Expectations.'

Everyone in Wolfville ought to hear Mr. Rice. Remember the date, Friday, May 3.

Mrs. J. W. McMathen, received a telegram on Wednesday, saying that her husband had been admitted to the North West Hospital, New Brunswick, suffering from shell wounds in the leg.

CANADA'S PRIDE

CANADIANS have good reason to be proud of the position Canada holds in the world today. This pride is justified by the activities of her people, by her unlimited natural resources, by her splendid institutions, and particularly by her Industries.

Facts about the immensity of some Canadian industries would astonish most people.

These industries, when viewed in the light of comparison with other countries, are simply tremendous.

The growth of any industry is limited to the number of people it can serve, and that is a fact not often properly appreciated when Canadian industries are compared to similar enterprises in, say, the United States.

For example: the population of the United States exceeds 100,000,000. Opportunity for industries there is almost unlimited. In comparison, Canada with its seven million population is a small country—yet in spite of this comparatively small population, Canada possesses several industries which in actual size rank among the biggest in the world.

In shoemaking, one Canadian concern has developed a volume of business and a service to the Canadian people which is not equalled by another shoe manufacturer anywhere in the world. This concern, if located in the United States, would rank as one of the twelve largest out of some two thousand shoe manufacturers there.

While the sales of the largest shoe manufacturer in the United States—selling to the American people—do not exceed twenty-five cents per capita per year, the sales of Ames Holden McCready to the Canadian people last year were approximately eighty cents per capita.

In a comparative sense, therefore, this Canadian concern is greater than the foremost American shoe manufacturer in the United States.

Thus Ames Holden McCready truly merit the distinction of their title "Shoemakers to the Canadian Nation."

Just imagine for a moment the enormous work of supplying a large portion of Canada's 7,000,000 people with its boots and shoes:

—it requires—huge up-to-date factories equipped with the most modern machinery able to turn out 8,000 pairs of shoes a day.

—it requires—a variety of nearly 200 different styles to meet the requirements of all classes of people, for different grades, shapes and kinds of shoes.

—it requires—the maintenance of six large distributing branches in principal cities from coast to coast, and in these are carried over a million dollars worth of stock, ready for quick delivery to retailers.

—it requires—sixty travelling salesmen to call on the retail trade, because out of approximately 10,000 retail dealers who sell shoes in Canada, more than 5,000 handle A.H.M. Shoes.

—it requires—many other details of organization and equipment, but this brief outline will give you some slight idea of the part that this great shoe concern is playing in the business of supplying footwear to the Canadian people.

You will be interested in these facts, because the next time you buy footwear bearing the A.H.M. Brand, you will know that they are the product of a large and efficient organization making shoes which will in every case give you the greatest value for your money.

Amending the N. S. T. A.

(Eastern Chronicle.)

The Legislature is amending the Temperance Act. A new amendment has been proposed, the effect of which if adopted, would be the privilege of appealing to a higher court from a magistrate's decision. Prominent members of the house are supporting the amendment. Others are opposing, among them Mr. H. R. Graham.

We don't know too much about the merits of the proposal but what we do know, and what we don't know, and what we can guess may happen if the amendment becomes law, leads us to support Mr. Graham. By the law of the majority of the people the traffic in intoxicating liquor is outlawed in this province. Very well let the law be obeyed. It is probable that no person absolutely innocent in this respect is in the province, and should there be one it is very unlikely that he would be convicted. Magistrates are often defamed, still they are not altogether devoid of well ordered minds. Further, the law of the land is prohibition of traffic in intoxicating liquor; so the best way for a man that does not like punishment is to keep clear of the trade. If a man risks punishment in order to make a profit by selling that which the law declares he must not sell, the indulgence of lawyers and courts is too good for him.

A Good Medicine for the Baby.

Nothing can equal Baby's Own Tablets as a medicine for little ones. They are a laxative, mild but thorough in action, and never fail to relieve constipation, colic, colds and simple fevers. Once a mother has used them she will use nothing else. Concerning them Mrs. Saluste Pellelier, St. Damas des Antilles, Quebec, writes:—'I always keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets in the house. They are the best medicine I know of for little ones and I would not be without them.' The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Mrs. Richmond will present her paper, 'Miss Marie Wilson, a song-writer,' on Wednesday evening, May 22nd, at the Wolfville Opera House.

Herbert Brenon's gigantic pictorialization of the greatest national drama in the history of the world, 'The Fall of the Romanoffs,' with blood.

The only picture that will be shown in America with himself, the real Ilidor, as one of its principals.

The Fall of the Romanoffs is a story dealing with the incidents which led up to the abdication of Nicholas, Czar of Russia. Primarily, however, it shows the power of one individual over the destiny of a nation, proving once more that genius directed toward evil will, in the end, bring forth but evil.

Raspoutine, the peasant power behind the throne, was directly responsible for his misdeeds for his own death, and the fall of Romanoff Dynasty.

Ilidor, a Priest of the Greek Catholic Church, besetted to the world his version of the intrigues of the Russian court in which Raspoutine played the principal role.

This strange young Priest set himself up against Raspoutine in an effort to overthrow him and gain for himself the high place of court which the peasant held. Raspoutine, however, was far the greater genius of the two, and Ilidor found himself entangled in a web of circumstances which ended in his being unrooked by the Greek Catholic Church and exiled to America. Ilidor will play himself in this actual reproduction of recent Russian history.

It is hard to believe that such a disgraceful condition of affairs as we are picturing could exist in any government of today, but that the incidents in 'The Fall of the Romanoffs' are true can be verified by reading the recent books of the historians, who have set down the incidents leading up to the Russian Revolution and the formation of the present Republic. Austin Strong and George Edwards Hall have dramatized this remarkable story into a pictorial, and following the example of Alexander Dumas and Sir Walter Scott, blended it with fiction.

Andrew Horne was in town this week. The serious charge which was laid against him some months ago and for which he was sentenced in Halifax, was on appeal to Ottawa, reversed, and he has been honorably acquitted.

A Warning.

TO THE BROTHERS OF THE ACADIAN: DEAR BROS.—A great deal of loose talk is going around this town regarding the war and the allies. Some of it is treacherous and punishable with heavy fine and imprisonment, as done in United States and Ontario. A certain individual, I am told, said in public the other day that 'Sir Robert Borden ought to be hung for sending young men to the front.' Language much milder than this has been punished with the utmost rigor and rightly so, unless the law is changed by statute subjects the speaker to very heavy penalties. This thing has already gone too far, and any more that come under my notice will also of others will be reported to the proper authorities to be dealt with. Yours truly, L. J. L. Y. L.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA The H. D. Press records the death of Mrs. Lyall, of the Presbyterian Church of Highland Mission, Westport, which sad event took place on Tuesday, the 29th ult., shortly after 2 p. m. Mrs. Lyall was a Canadian by birth and of good old English stock. As Miss Norwood she came to Westport many years ago to join the American Baptist Mission. After some years of service in this mission she became the wife of Dr. Lyall more than thirty years ago. She was an indefatigable worker of boundless energy with a clear head for business, and was a skilful organizer. She initiated new enterprises amongst the Chinese, teaching hundreds of the women how to help themselves. To a large number of people, and down the coast Mrs. Lyall was well known as a very kind and gracious hostess. (Mrs. Lyall was a native of Berwick.)

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA A large number of the members of the W. C. T. U. accepted the kind invitation of Mrs. Sleep and spent a very informal social evening at her home on Summer street. Mrs. Parvis Smith and Miss Egan were guests of honor as they are about to leave Wolfville for Chignecto. After a social hour with knitting in hand, Mrs. Ford favored the company with two chapters and appropriate readings. Mrs. Smith by special request played a piano solo. Mrs. T. H. Hutchings, corresponding secretary, read a letter from Miss Strothard, of the Maritime Home, Truro, acknowledging some books and papers sent them by Mrs. Smith; also a note from one of the girls in home, in whom Mrs. Smith was interested, and had personal conversation with her who was visiting Truro, telling Mrs. Smith of her decision to live a better life. Mrs. Smith at this time made some remarks to the Maritime Home, etc., and other matters of interest to the W. C. T. U. Miss Egan also spoke, leaving helpful messages with the Union. Before concluding she informed those present that she had found a leader for the Y. T. L. and had much pleasure in making the motion that Miss Cunningham, assisted by Mrs. Sleep, be leader of Y. T. L. Seconded by Miss Annie Fitch. The motion was put by vice president, Mrs. George Fitch, and carried unanimously. Mrs. Fitch read an address to Mrs. Smith and Miss Egan, voicing appreciation of such members of Union, also which all joined hands and sang 'Bless Be the Tie that Binds.' Refreshments were served and after singing 'God Be With You Till We Meet Again,' all said 'goodnight' to their hostess, reporting a most helpful and enjoyable evening.—Con.

Boy Scouts Council. A successful meeting of the Boy Scout Council was held on Wednesday evening of last week at the Scout Rooms. The president, Dr. W. L. Archibald, was in the chair, and a goodly number of the members were present. Interesting reports were presented, and plans laid for further carrying on of this most important work. During the past year a vigorous campaign by Capt. John Pratt was successful in securing the necessary funds to pay off the mortgage and the property is now clear of debt. The report of the secretary-treasurer, Mr. E. Graham, showed the finances to be in a healthy condition. Mr. E. Percy Brown, to whom must be given credit for splendid work that has been undertaken and successfully carried on, gave a most interesting report from which we call the following statistics: PATROL NO BOYS BADGES Wolfville 11 Tenderfoot 54 Cuckoo 10 1st Class 3 Lion 11 2nd Class 10 Tiger 12 Kings Scouts 3 Bear 12 Proficiency 143 Cuckoo 11 Silver-Cross 2 (attached) 12 War Service 243 Fox 7 Eagle 7 (Gr and Fr) Chickadee 6 (White Rock) Total 944 Boys 97 Boys called (not inc. in above) 4 Aet. Another Landmark Gone. Last week THE ACADIAN gave a few historical facts regarding an old building which for many years had been a familiar landmark in Wolfville. Another old building has since passed out of existence, and a few items regarding its history may be of equal interest to our readers. The old building in question has been used as a store house for coal by Burgess & Co. for a number of years. It was originally a barn belonging to the property of the late Stephen DeWolfe and occupied a site just below the Methodist church. It was purchased by a man named Cox, who probably forty-five years ago came to Wolfville and established a shipbuilding plant where the coal is now stored. The building was successfully removed to the site upon which it has since stood by the late Jacob Westcott, of Gaspereau, and fitted up as a mill in connection with the ship-yard. Two vessels were built by Cox, the 'Sophia Cook' and the 'Terre Nova.' After the shipyard was closed the old building became a hay barn again, and finally a store house for coal in which capacity it existed until torn down last week. We understand that Mr. Burgess will use the material in the erection of the buildings he is about to put up on his new property.

L. W. SLEEP.

Death of Prof. Haycock.

By the death of Professor Ernest Haycock, which took place at his home on Acadia street on Saturday morning last, Wolfville loses a highly esteemed citizen and Acadia University a valued member of its faculty. Prof. Haycock had been in failing health since last autumn when he had a very severe attack of heart trouble, and for weeks has been confined to his bed, growing gradually weaker until the end came. The deceased was born May 29th, 1867, at Westport, where his boyhood was spent. In 1891 he came to Wolfville and entered Horton Collegiate Academy, matriculating in June, 1892. The following October he entered Acadia College and graduated with the class of 1897. He spent two years at Harvard University, receiving his B.A. degree in 1897 and the degree of M.A. in 1898. He was then appointed professor of geology and chemistry at Acadia, which position he held until 1912 when the work was divided a 2 he continued as professor of geology. He did considerable work in the Canadian geological survey and was known as a learned geologist and a thorough and successful and popular teacher. He was the author of 'Records of Post-Triassic Changes in Kings County, Nova Scotia,' 'The Geological History of the Gaspereau Valley,' 'Explorations and Investigations in the Counties of Wright and Labelle, Quebec,' etc. Some years ago he became interested in agriculture and purchased the old Smith Hamle place at Lower Wolfville, then in a run-down condition. This farm under his capable and intelligent management has become a fine property. He took a lively interest in farming conditions generally and was of great assistance in the agricultural society and other organizations, where he will be much missed.

As a member of the Wolfville town Council and School Board he gave splendid service during one term. He was a member and office bearer in the Wolfville Baptist church and was ever ready to give his support and assistance to any good work. He was twice married. His first wife was Miss Prichard of Grandville, by whom he had one son, Maurice, who was a private in the 21st Battalion, and lance corporal in the 24th, and was returned home last summer. His second wife, formerly Miss Mabel Patrinquin, survives him. He is also survived by a sister, Mrs. Haines, of Freeport, who spent some weeks with him before his death.

The funeral took place on Monday afternoon, the service being held in College Hall. The faculty and members of the Board of Governors occupied the platform and the exercises were conducted by President Cullen, Dr. Chute, Rev. N. A. Harkness and Dr. Spilde also taking part. Coffin's address paid a fine tribute to the deceased, who was his classmate in college and life-long friend. Miss McKenna, of the Seminary, sang 'Crossing the Bar' in her usual effective manner. The remains were followed to the
