It is an inforesting and entertaining work, as the following extract from the preface will show:

"When the Auther of the following little work states, that it is not only "founded on facts," but, is indeed almost devoid of any feititions admixture whatever, he would not be anderstood to ansert, that the events of the narrative occurred exactly in the order and councilon. Had the been the case, the production would have been merely a biographical treaties, with the real parties thinly veiled under feititions names. Such is not its nature; and yet there is not a character, attempted to be drawn, nor an event of any importance marrated, which is not at exact transcript of some character or event that occurred within the range of the Author's own knowledge. At the same time, it is hoped that the work contains nothing which, even were it divulged, could in the slightest degree prove offensive or painful to day person to whom it may be conjustered to refer.

But, while both facts and feelings are, in a very strict some, true, the names of persons and plates are intentionally and entirely festitions in every instance but one. The name here referred to is that of her Royal Highness the Frincess Augustas, in the lacidous related in the lost part of chapter is. That incident cocurred precisely as there related, and the Author thought it due to the Illustrious Lady, to record this specimen of that frankness, benevolence, and kindly considerate attention to all around her, by which her Royal Highness is distinguished. Having in this one instance withdrawn the veil, he avour it, and success the new countries of the structure of the writer would necessarily unavave the texture of that crustine which he has closen to draw over his truthful tale, or involve such an application of it to individuals as might injure the feelings of the midstructure.

Charlottetown Mutual Insurance DEATH OF "OLD HUMPHREY." THE WRITER FOR THE YOUNG.

THE WRITER FOR THE YOUNG.

The pleasant writer for the young, who has long been known to the literary world by the quaint cognomen of "Old Homphrey" is now no more. His arduces mental labors, that hardly had an interruption for many years, had last commer nearly worn away his physical attength. A gentleman from America, who then made a visit to his house, found him scarcely able to converse, and so reduced, as to be unable to make exertion without distressing pains. His last tillness was protrected during ten months: and he died calmly, being in his sixty-seventh year. He aufflered greatly in his advanced age, not only from the general weakness to which we have alluded, but continual severe affliction; yet his double infirmity was borne with a sevene fortitude, that was the admiration of every Christian who watched his decline. His picty furnished to those around him a golden example of patience and gentlesses; and his faith sustained his own heart, and made him joyful, in the midst of corrowing friends.

His approaching dissolution he contemplated with beautiful screnity of mind, and he frequently expressed a desire to depart before cickness should finally waste away his life. Among his last words were—"I never think of death, but I think also of heaven; they are no connected in my view." Thus, to the leugh of piety which he sought to inculcate in others during his life, he added the Christian example of his own happy death.

The real name of "Old Humphrey" was songht to inculcate in others during his life, he added the Christian example of his own happy death.

The real name of "Old Humphrey" was George Mogridge. He was a native of England, and born at Ashted, near Birmingham, in the year 1787. In his youth, he was trained to earn his livelihood by manual labor, but he early betrayed an activity of mind, and an originality of thought, which gave promising indications of a genius too restless and genuine to be confined within the space of a mere craftsman. It was noticed by his employeer that while he was performing the ordinary duties of his daily avocation, his mind would for hours be absent from the work of his hands.

His education was not then inconsiderable, and he began to write for a small newspaper, published in his native town. Encouraged by his success he was led to devote much of his youthfulenergy to the pen; and he diligently applied himself to perfect his etyle, and discipline his thought.

ther and numerous volumes of a similar character were prepared, in which, however, the author did not in every instance retain the name of "Old Humphray." He never entirely abandened the nom de plame by which he rose into conslainty, but he became known also as "The Old Sea Captain," "Old Anthony," "Grandfather Gregory," "Ephraim Holding," and "Old Ailan Gray," "In fact, whenever he thought, that his lessons would be rendered more affective by altering the name and age of the teacher, he accordanted to do ac; and in some instances he even adopted a funale character, and became "Annt Upton," and "Grandmamma Githert. He wisely judged, that many young people prefer their grandmothers to their grandmaths, and their sunts to their uncles.

Of the series of volumes for the young, put forth by "Pater Parloy," Mr. Mogridge was the author of nine yolumas.

The most of his blooks have been published in this country by the Carters, and many have been gathured into the libraries of Sauday Schools, where they are failfilling a great mission of declaimess, and where "Old Humphrey" has long been regarded as one of the most interesting and instructive of Sauday Shool teachers. These which are, perhaps, most valued, comprise the earlier centiled successivelys—"I Learning to Foel," "Learning to Converse." But all his Sunday Schools relating to Converse." The Committee for North London, under Mr. Bowyer, employs twenty boys, with a dark blue uniform. "The East London tooiety, originated by the Rev W. W. Champneys, employs eighteen boys, in light blue uniform, with red badges beautifully worked; and the "Southwark Society," under the supervision of the Rev. W. Calman, sent forth twelve boys on Tuesday last, clad in yellow uniform. Besides the boys employed in these several todies, there are about 200 others who ply the trade each on his own separate account.

DEATH OF DR. KITTO.

We regret to have to announce the death of the Rev. Dr. Kitto, which took place at Canstadt, near Stuttgard, on the 25th ult. It appears that the reverend dector, owing to protracted ill health, had repaired to that place with his wife and family—with the exception of one son, who remained in London—in compliance with the recommendation of his medical advisers. At first the change appeared beneficial; but, soon after his arrival there, his infant boy died of the then prevailing epidemic, diarrhoa; and a few weeks subsequent, his eldest child, Miss Kitto, who was not quite twenty years of age, was attacked with the same malady; and a few weeks subsequent, his eldest child, Miss Kitto, who was not quite twenty years of age, was attacked with the same malady; and having been some time previously afficied with dropsy, she also speedily died. The effect of these severe visitations on a man so isolated from the ordinary resources of human companionship as was Dr. Kitto, may easily be anticipated. He was exhausted by a series of severe attacks, the last of which deprived him of the power of speech. He was speechless, although sensible, to the last; and he expired, in the fifty-first year of his age, calmly, relying, in the moment of death, upon the atonement of the Saviouc. Much sympathy was excited throughout the Christian public on the announcement of Dr. Kitto's distress, and exertions were made in Edinburgh, as well as in London, Glasgow, and other places, to raise contributions for his relief. Something will still require to be done, as the pension of $500, granted him by the liberality of the Queen, terminates with his life. We understand that his friends contemplate a petition to Government to continue the annuity to his family; and we feel assured, that their efforts will be supported by the approval of the public; for the claims of so useful a writer as Dr. Kitto cannot be easily forgotten. gotten.

The Crown of Exceans.—The crown of England is a costly "bauble," bedazing the special notice was an account of a tract he published, entitled "The Sabbath Breaker Rediamed." It was fayorably regarded by the miliar character—all of which were marked with vigorous originality, and were happily adapted to the working classes, for which they were directly designed. He was the author of one hundred and fifty of the publications of that Society.

But his greatest popularity was acquired from his productions signed "Old Humphrey." These were articles in various periodicals, and for the most part were of a moral and religious character. The aim of the writer was to awaken carriest thoughts of life, and to afferd such a solace for the leisure hour, as would not merely gratify the life, transient fancies of the reader, but kindle in his beart a love for nature and for God, and lead him to each his happiness in truth and virtue.

These genial effictions were subsequently collected late volumes, and being extensively directly designed. The Crown of England is a costly "bauble," bedazzieled with value enough to found three or four public charities, or a half-dozen moderate colleges. The Indian Prince, Maharajah Marrenge Sing Mahinder Baradon of Puttialah, has landed at Bordeaux, with the intention of visiting England, sending before him, as is said, the trifle of 400,000f, in credits on hankers at London and elsewhere, to make his journey agreeable. At Bordeaux, in place of going to the hotel, he bought a house, and turnished it in the Indian style. The day after his arrival, this occentric personage drove to a maker of caps and bought a whole batch of them, which he pitched one by one out of the window, to an expectant populace, by way it is supposed of distributing largesse on his arrival in France.

Rads.—A writer in the London News says, that hundreds of tons of rags and similar material, are being sent from Liverpool to the United States. He adds that "a large quantity of this consists of jute, to make a paper used for envelopes and similar purposes in America, but which hither to the public taste has been too fastidious to use here. They have there acquired great skill in working it up with other materials that will not whiten or bleach, and thus produce a handsome and strong paper." il which covers the face of butterfoad

PINANCES OF EUROPE. From the N. Y. Observer.

From the N. Y. Observer.

The following statement of the financial condition of the powers engaged in the present war will be studied with careful interest.

Some inquries have been instituted as to the existing public debt of Great Britain. It is an interesting inquiry, because any sudden increase of that debt affects unfavourably our own market. The debt affects unfavourably our own market. The debt at the peace of 1815 was £864,800,000, and had decreased in January, 1854, to £770,923,000. The total debt at 5 per cent. was £508,000,000; at 3 1-4 per cent. £218,000,000; and the debt of freland £39,000,000; with an annual charge of about £27,000,000.

France is burdened with a smaller public debt, but it may be well questioned whether har financial resources are comparable with those of the former.

The public debt of France consists in Rester.

France is burdened with a smaller public debt, but it may be well questioned whether her financial resources are comparable with those of the former.

The public debt of France consists in Rentes at 3, 4 and 4 1-2 per cent., amounting in January, 1853, to 5,576,952,000 france or £223,075,000 sterking.

The deficit in French revenues has been very extraordinary since the year 1840, amounting in the year 1847 to the enormous sum of £37 millions of frances.

Turkey is in a poor condition to withstand the heavy drafts for the current war. The war against Russia, which led to the treaty of Adrianople in 1823; left the Ottoman Empire greatly embarrassed. By that treaty, Russia not only stipulated to be paid an indemnity of 10,000,000 ducats for the expenses of the way, but brought in a bill of indemnity to Russian subjects and merchants to the extent of 1,500,000 ducats. The provinces of Moldavia and Wallachia were to be kept as security by Russia until these sums were reimbursed. By the treaty of 1834, Russia consented to a reduction of 2,000,000 of this debt.

The revenue of Turkey arises mainly from an oppressive income tax; by which the Dime, or tithe, of all productions of the land, including fruit, grain, eattle, &c., was appropriated to the Government. This annual revenue at a late date was 731 millions of plastres, or £6, 645,450 sterling.

The pisatre is estimated at 110 per pound sterling. The growth of wheat and other grains in Egypt has seriously declined of late years; while that of Turkey has increased from 78,000 quarters to 1,400,000 in 1853.

Austria is in a worse condition than either of the three Governments before-named. The deficit of revenue for some years past has been great, and the budget for the current year, 1854, shows a deficit of 75,000,000 florins, or about 70,000,000 dollars.

Thuse tabular and official exhibits serve to show an increasing drain upon each, for some years. England is a borrower; so also are France, Turkey and Austria. Each is in the market for heavy loans, as the mere b in the extraordinary expenses of the year, and these vast expenses will require years to liquidate.

While the public dobt of Russia is specifically known, we are not so well informed as to the internal resources and wealth of that great Empire. It is known, that the gold regions under the control of Russia yield very largely, and are a large source of revenue to the government. We have reason to believe, that the financial affairs of the Empire are better managed than those of nearly all the European governments. The first Russian loan of any extent taken in England was contracted for by the Messrs. Rothschild in the yeas 1822, at five per cent. per annum.

Another loan of £5,500,000 was taken by Baring Brothers in 1830, being at 5 1-2 per cent. loan, taken at 93 per cent. and reimbursable by a sinking fund of 2 per cent. The interest on this loan is payable at their banking house, and the first set of bonds were repayable in January 1852. The public dobt in the aggregate is relatively small, and has but alightly increased since 1849.

In addition to this, the government has a increased since 1849.

In addition to this, the government has a large sum of credit notes in circulation, guaranteed by the reserve of precious metals. This issue amounted in January 1853 to 311 millions of roubles.

The total imports and exports of Russia for 1848, 1851, seen as follows:

The total imports and exports of Russia for 1848—1851, were as follows:

Imports: Equivalent to 1848 $134,335,000
1849 144,250,000
1850 144,272,000
1851 150,850,000 roubles, equivalent to about seventy-three millions of dollars: The Custom House revenues were in 1849,31,210,000 roubles; in 1840,31,960,000 roubles; and in 1850, 30,529,000 roubles.

The Punytres.—An advertisement has appeared in the London journals for "funds in aid of the defence of the doctrine of the real presence." LAY MOVEMENT IN THE ENGLISH

CHURCH.—A movement amongst the laity of the Church of England, headed by the churchwardens of several metropolitan parishes, has been commenced, with the avowed object of arresting the progress of High Church principles.

Spanish Humanity —Several ladies of high rank in Madrid, are endeavouring to get up a Society for preventing cruelty to animals; and even, it is said, to preach a crusade against bull-lights.

POSTPONEMENT OF FESTIVE PARTIES .-POSTPONEMENT OF PESTIVE PARTIES.—
All feative parties (says the Globe;) are postponed, in consequence of the universal sympathy felt for the misery of many, and the anxiety for news which so entirely absorbs all other subjects, and engresses the public mind.

The control of the co

talk most peaceasy in the seven the says, that the demolition of Sebastopol or the reduction of the Russian fleet in the Euxine are insulting demands, entirely out of the question; but that "Turkey may build a port in the Black Scansstrong as Sebastopol, and that the alliesmay keep any fleet they may consider necessary as a counterpoise to the Russian power in that sea." He is also reported to have said, with reference to the "overtures," now being made: "Within three weeks we shall have peace, or I shall have quitted Vionns."

quitted Vienna."

A DAUGHTER OF THE REGIMENT.—A letter from the French camp before Sebastopol says:—

"Recently in a house to which some Cossacks had set fire, we found in a room, and on the point of being sufficiented with the smoke, a child about 18 months old, elegantly dressed, and having a gold cross suspended from its neck. The poor infant smiled upon our Grenadiers, who removed it, and have adopted it, until the family to whom it belongs shall be discovered. It is curious to see the Grenadiers fondling the baby, and treating it with as much tenderness as it could receive from its mother."

REGLECT OF THE TURKISH ARMY.

A letter has been addressed to the Ministers of the Porte by Omer Pacha, complaining of the manner in which his troops are neglected. It appears that the army in the provinces, which has done so much for Turkey, which defended the line of the Danube for half a year against the whole power of Russia, and which has been brought to a great state of efficiency by the ganius of its commander, is now destitute of the commonest necessaries. That the soldiers have not received their pay is comparatively a small matter, for to that they are accustomed, and no soldiers will more easily forego the little luxuries which are requisite to keep soldiers in good humour. The Turkish force in Thessaly, during the past apring, was for weeks fed on biscuit alone. Water was their only drink; softes and tobacco they never saw, and yet they did well, and went through the campaign without complaint. But the army in the provinces is not only deprived of the comforts which ought to be provided for troops which have borne such hardships, or for the purchase of which their pay should be regularly given, but they are destitute of necessaries which are required to support existence during the present winter. Their clothes and shoes are worn out, and no pains have been taken to supply them with others. The provisions are bad in quality and the supply is small. No small mortality appears to be taking place. The letter of Omer Pachais said to be a circular addressed to all the Ministers, and it is to be hoped, that immediate attention will be paid to it. NEGLECT OF THE TURKISH ARMY.

The efficers of the Commissariat Department are estisting in Ireland, through the agency of the constabulary, a corps of drivers to be employed with the army under Lord Raglan,—to consist of 350 men, who are to receive a daily pay of 2s. 6d, free rations, and clothing. The candidates must not be under 18, nor over 30 years of age. Upwarde of 60 eligible men have already offered their services. Commissary General Hewetson is apecially employed on this service.

STEAM VS. GUNPOWDER-Mr. Perkins, the STEAM vs. Gunbowden—Mr. Perkins, the con of a gentleman who some years ago invented and exhibited in the metropolis a steam-gun, has, through a contemporary, made the following offer: He says, "I am prepared to undertake to supply the government with a steam-gua, capable of throwing a ball of a ton weight a distance of five miles. If such a gun were fixed in Brunel's large ship of 10,000 tons, I venture to say, that Sebastopel would be destroyed, without losing a man."

MEDIATION BETWEEN THE ALLIES AND RUS SIA.—The following Memorial has receive the signatures of a large number of most respect able citizens of New York.

To the Honourable the Senate and House of Repr sentatives in Congress assembled.

To the Honourable the Senate and House of Representatives in Congress assembled.

The undersigned citizens of New York respectfully represent to your Honourable bodies: That they view with deep concern the bloody war now raging in the Crimea, between Russia on the one hard, and Turkey, France and England on the other:—a war that has already been attended with a fearful wante of life and treasure, and which, unless speedily ended, threatens to involve the whole of Europe and to retard the civilization and commerce of the world.

It has occurred to your memorialists, in view of the friendly relations existing between the United States and each of the contending Powers: of the mutual interest of all parts of Christendom in the commen welfare: and of the high position of this country among the Nations of the Earth,—that while adhering to our established policy of avoiding all impertinent intervention in foreign affairs, and all entangling alliances.—this Country might, with great propriety, impartially tender its friendly mediation to the four belligerents, in the hope of staying the slaughter of their gallant atmics, and restoring, if possible, the blessings of pages.

California Ice Marker,—Ice sells at three cents per pound in San Francisco, and three companies have been competing for supplying the city. The first was the Boston company, which brings its ice from Boston by way of Cape Horn; but this long voyage renders it difficult for the company to sell ice cheap, and consequently its depot at Sacramento has been converted into a grist mill, and the company itself is said to be about used up. The second is the Sitka Ice Company, which obtains its supplies from the Russian possessions. The third is the North-west Company, which also gets its ice somewhere up the northern coast. These two sell much cheaper than the Bostonians, and are gradually getting possession of the market.

A Hard Casz.—It may not be generally known, that immediately a Russian officer is taken prisoner, his pay ceases, upon the principle that a man who could not die for his country rather than he taken, must be settled.

The Turkish troops began to arrive from Varna on the 18th.

Twenty-two ships have been equipped and are now ready for sea.

It is probable the Russian garrison have mined the places in Sebastobol which they pretend to have left.

We have further particulars as to the naval sortie at Sebastopol. Two Russian steamers, towing six gun-boats, went out of the harbour on the 6th Dec. After firing at the French, they were compelled to retire.

The passage left between the sunken ships is only wide enough for one vessel to pass at a time. The Allied fleet has moved outside the double bay Cheromesus.

Poland.—Orders had been received at Warsaw to complete the additional works of the citadel within the two first weeks of January.

The Baltic.—France and England have notified the Swedish Government, that all intercourse between Pinland and the Russian harbors in the White Saa is to be stopped.

Osten Sacken is removed from the 3d to the 4th corps, vice Dannienberg, who is disgraced. The chief engineer officer who conducts the dalance of Schastopol is Gen. Destrim, a Frenchman.

with the workshop of the person of the perso of the law; and if the act is so defective, as we fear it is, that it may be thus interpreted with impunity, it will become the duty of the Legislature, on their re-assembling next February, so to amend the law, that no irresponsible Grand Jury—no matter how respectable and influential they may be—shall have any pretext for setting aside the intentions of Parliament. Indeed, we doubted from the first the propristy of conferring upon that body the power of granting or withholding licences." We have heard of men sitting and voting in Parliament without knowing either the provisions of the law they were aiding to enact, or even the spirit in which its provisions were framed. So far from the assertion quoted above being correct, the very reverse is the fact. Prior to the passing of the amended law, any person, no matter and tender the amount of the duty, and a tilicate, which the officer had no mean accortaining whether it were obtained by or not, and although there might be had dosen licensed bouses in the neighbourhoo that of the applicant, the officer was obliggrant the required licence. The consequence that persons who had catenably means of sheltering and accommodating the least of the applicant, and the loan of a stable the required number of stalls, from some natured neighbours, to impose upon two or indolent Justices of Pence, to grant the tifficate required by law, and the houses thus licensed, turned out as might be expless of vice of every description. In ord prevent improper persons from obtaining ees, and to limit the number, the Grand were entrusted with the power of relicenses, unless they were satisfied that a of the description contemplated by law actually wanted in the situation where party resides. So that instead of tray out of the path of their duty in refusing ces, they but carry out the stringent proof the Act, in exercising a great degreaution, first as to whether they will in the number of licensed tavern-keepers secondly, prevent improper persons fro taining licences.

Our readers will perceive, that all this against two unoffending members of the S Temperance, is as unjust as it was uncall It is highly amusing, however, to be told time of day, that "Grend Juries have no cal or moral responsibility." Our an thought otherwise, and we rather think the descendants are of the same opinion tha father's were, at the institution of a body political responsibility bears the same pion to the individual County they rep that the House of Representatives bear to Counties in the aggregate, and whose responsibility is guarded and enforced most solemn cath that could well be devi

The Value of what is common.—
Through the vulgar error of undervaluing what is common, we are apt, indeed, to pass these by as of but little worth. But as in the outward creation, so in the soul, the common is the most precious. Science and art may invent splendid modes of illuminating the apartments of the opulent; but these are all poor and worthless, compared with the light which the sun sends into our windows, which he pours freely, impartially, over the hill and valley, which kindles daily the eastern and wettern sky; and so the common lights of reason, and conscience, and love, are of more worth and dignity than the rare endowments which give the castle and the common lights of reason, and conscience, and love, are of more worth and dignity than the rare endowments which give the castle and love after.

This is a new way of expressing the sentiment, "A bird in the hand is better than one in a bush."

Napoleon used to say, "Strange as it may appear, when I want any good headwork done, I choose a man, provided his education has been suitable, with a long nose. His breathing is bold and free, and his brain, as well as his fungs and heart, cool and clear. In my observation of men, I have almost invariably found a long nose and a long head go together.

COMPLIMENT TO OUR GENERALS.—The Turks will have it, that the soldiers' wives in our camps belong to the harems of our generals, and affirm we are going to retain possession of the country, as our households have come along with us. Our washer women, who may be found in every shady nook and alley of the valleys round the camp, with extempore beilers fixed into the green banks, are always the feet of graha drivers, who seem to think them witches engaged in some unboly mystery.

A. Insuman Appropriating Boots.—
Our poor tattered fellows were glad to obtain some of the more substantial clothing of the conquered, who had now no farther need of it. Some hodies, a sight unknown at the Alma, were completely stripped. Their stout boots seemed to find especial favour in the soldiers' eyes. "Shure," observed an Irishman, whose shoes were in a very bad state, apostrophising the body of a poor fellow who had died with the medallion worn by so many of them pressed convulsively in his hands, "Shure, I belave you were a better Christian than those hastes we're fighting for; but your hoots can't do you no more good now, and they'll do me a dale."

No. 2.—RADWAY'S REHOVATING RESOLVENT.

—For the effectual cure of all Chronic and Scrofulous Diseases that have been lingering in the System, corrupting the Human Body, for Five, Ten, Twenty, or Forty Years.

No. 2.—RADWAY'S REGULATORS.—For restor-ing and regulating to a healthy and harmonious action all the Organs in the System. A mild and effectual carthartic.

A PIXTURE IN THE FAMILY.—Every family should keep a supply of RADWAY'S READY RELEEF in their houses—it is useful in so many almonts—it is always beneficial; he gurantees it is a user to be a sure cure for Cholora, if taken in its first symptoms. If used when violent spidemics provail, it will save ife.

If used when violent epidemics prevail, it will mave ife.

R. R. R. No. 2.—RADWAY'S REMOVATING RESOLVENT.—We have said that for all chronic complaints, we recommend our RESOLVENT.—The RESOLVENT resolves away all diseased deposits that have been linguring in the system for TEN, TWENTY, or FORTY YEARS.

Every person who has been troubled with any complaint for years, will require the RESOLVENT to ensure a perfect curs. The action of the RESOLVENT is directed first to the absorbents, stimulating them into action; and, second to the blood, which it ensure a perfect cure. The action of the RESOL-VENT is directed first to the absorbents, stimulating them into action; and, escond to the blood, which it depurates by its alterative action over the glands the liver, pancroas, kidneys, &c., (which are the sewes that nature has established for purifying the blood). You will, after this description, we hope, appreciate the name we have given to the second of the R. R. R. REMEDIES OF RENOVATING RESOLVENT. It resolves away diseased deposits; it purifies the blood, and rehovates the system. Tamors are removed and discussed by its operation; Chironic Swellings are dissipated; Nodes are softened and melted away. The most leatheome Side diseases disappear under its action; Scrofulous constitutions are soon amended, and the disease checked wherever it has attacked the system. Syphilis, with all its horrible train of consomitants, here find a certain and infallible care; and Consumption; too, effect finds its master. For Chronic Dyspepsis, RADWAY'S RENOVATING RESOLVENT is not only an effectual, but quick cure.

BRONGENTIAS. We know of no remedy, nor of any treatment that will so quickly and effectually cute Bronchitis as the RESOLVENT. It is in all old Chronic cause where RADWAY'S RENOVATING RESOLVENT will be most appreciated.
