The Snake Scotched AND Justice Done.

CHAPTER XXVI

"A knock came at the door and the butler entered.

"The carriage, my lord—I beg your lordship's pardon, but I fear your lordship will be late."

The earl passed his hand across his brow with a bewildered gaze. Talbot stood in the doorway, and the earl looked at him with a strange expression.

"I would like a glass of wine," said Mr. Saintsbury; but it was of the stricken old man he was thinking, and he poured out a glass for him.

The earl understood and, with a slight inclination of his head drank the wine.

"We must go now; I cannot wait!" he said, hoarsely. "After the examination—you must tell me all!"

Saintsbury did not know what to do, and could only stand and watch the old man as, leaning on Talbot's arm, he went out to the carriage.

The court was crammed, but the earl got in by the magistrates' entrance and took his place on the bench. As he did so he looked towards the dock, and his and the prisoner's eyes met. The old man started and gazed long and steadily at Ralph's pale but calm face. Their eyes dropped to Veronica who sat just beneath the dock. She met the glance sadly, and the tears sprang to her eyes, but she turned them to Ralph swiftly—and kept them there while Grey gave his evidence. A murmur ran round the court as he unfolded as much of the case as was necessary. Already it seemed as if the prisoner's guilt were proven. The knife, the quarrel, his unexplained flight that night they turned to Mr. Selby eagerly, but almost pityingly, for what defence had he?

He rose in a leisurely fashion and arranged his eyeglasses.

"One moment, Mr. Grey, if you please. We will have evidence of the arrest, I think."

The London detective who had arrested Ralph came into the box.

"Quite so. You found the prisoner just recovered from an illness, the result of his rescue of a little child from a burning house?"

"Yes, sir; it is the same man."

"Thanks. He offered no resistance?"

"No, sir. He behaved like a gentleman."

"Quite so. No doubt your worship has read the account of the prisoner's heroism. The father of the child is in court."

All eyes went to Mr. Saintsbury and then, with a feeling of admiration and sympathy, to Ralph, who frowned at his reference to his "heroism."

"Now, Mr. Grey, again, if you please," said Mr. Selby. "You found the knife on the body. I—the knife—will be sworn to no doubt. It does not matter. We admit that it is the prisoner's. You know him. Did he bear a good character while a Lynne Court?"

"Yes, sir; excellent. He was one of the best-liked keepers we've had."

"Ah, yes! You would not have suspected him of a cowardly murder if you had not found the knife and heard of the quarrel?"

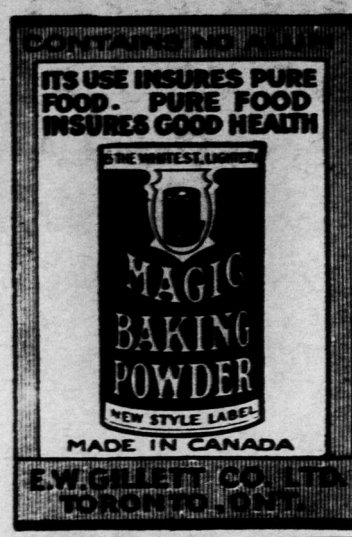

The clerk interposed. "We can scarcely accept Grey's opinion as evidence—"

"Quite so," assented Mr. Selby, blandly. "About the quarrel: do you give evidence of that this morning? Where is Fanny Mason?"

Talbot, who was sitting at the end of the magistrates' bench took out his handkerchief and blew his nose at that moment.

"No, sir. I can't put my hand on her just yet. We found the house, where she'd given her address, empty and to let. I'm trying to trace her, sir."

"Ah! Then, as a matter of fact, you are relying this morning on the knife only?"

"Ah, yes! You would not have suspected him of a cowardly murder if you had not found the knife and heard of the quarrel?"

"Ah! Then, as a matter of fact, you are relying this morning on the knife only?"

"Yes, sir."

Mr. Selby turned swiftly to the bench. "I shall have to ask your worships for a discharge," he said, coolly. "My client drops his knife—it is picked up by some enemy, some man who owes the deceased a grudge, and probably murders him. The evidence is not strong enough, my lord."

He looked hard at the earl. "Here is a young man, with an unexceptional character, a man in the pride of youth and—at that time—as strong as an athlete, accused of stabbing—stabbing, forsooth!—a man old enough to be his father, and a man weakened by drink and dissipation! Surely I am within my right in asking for a discharge. Where is the motive? The motive is the pivot on which the charge must turn! There is none, absolutely none! A quarrel! Between a gamekeeper and a suspected poacher! Well! Grant it! Why, this young man in the dock could have felled the deceased with one blow. Why use a knife? Is this the kind of man—an Englishman and a brave man, remember!—to commit a cowardly and unnecessary—unnecessary—murder?"

There was a murmur of assent, of approval, and a police man called sternly for silence. Two or three of the magistrates drew together in a whispered conference.

"We think there is sufficient evidence for a remand, at any rate," said one.

The earl seemed to wake from a dream.

"The prisoner is remanded," he said. "Has he anything to say?"

He looked at Ralph and, as if responding to the look rather than the words, he said in a clear, though low voice:

"I am innocent, my lord. We quarrelled—"

Mr. Selby sprang up as if to interrupt him, then fell back with a shrug of his shoulders.

"But I walked away. I wanted to catch the train—I was leaving Lynne Court. I dropped the knife as I was cutting the stick on which I carried my bundle—"

Every eye every ear was strained in an almost painful attention; but suddenly, in the midst of the prisoner's speech, the earl rose, his face white as leath, his hand outstretched towards the prisoner, who had stopped, arrested by the uprising of the earl's gaunt figure, the ashen face, the outstretched hand.

"Who—who are you?" came at last in hoarse, broken tones.

The spectators held their breath and looked from one to the other. Talbot rose and approached the earl, but he waived him away imperiously.

"Ralph Farrington," said Ralph in a low voice, and with surprise.

The earl passed his hand over his trembling lips and fell back. "The prisoner is remanded," said one of the other magistrates. "Clear the court! Lord Lynborough is ill!"

Talbot bent over the earl whose head was on his breast and his fellow magistrates gathered round him with expressions of sympathy and fear.

"He ought not to have been here, his age—he is not strong enough."

But the earl heard them and, rising, beckoned to Mr. Saintsbury, who was standing by the solicitor's table.

"Have—have I guessed the truth?" he demanded, struggling for breath. "Tell me—do not be afraid! The truth—the truth! I want it now—at once here! You say you have seen my—son. Is—is—it he?"

Mr. Saintsbury stepped up to the bench and laid a hand upon the old man's arm.

"Not here, Lynborough!" he pleaded, with agitation. "Come home—"

"Yes, here, here!"

With a gesture of resignation Saintsbury put the miniature in his hand. As he did so Whetstone came faltering from the group of persons that had been left in the court and, trembling in every limb, stood confronting the earl.

The earl drew his hand across his eyes, then looked at the miniature. A cry rose from his lips.

"It is Janet!"

Whetstone drew nearer.

"You know it! Then—then—it was you who betrayed her! Oh, my God!"

The earl's gaze rested on him for a moment, then he drew himself up.

"It is the portrait of my wife, gentlemen!" he said proudly. "We were married—there stands"—he pointed to Saintsbury—"one of the witnesses!"

There was a murmur, a movement of amazement, then an intense silence. It was broken by George Saintsbury.

"Yes," he said. "I was present, and—and—Lynborough, be calm! You force me to speak—the prisoner—Ralph Farrington, has recognized that portrait as that of his mother!"

The earl looked as if he was about to collapse, then he drew himself up.

"I knew it—I knew it!" he said, hoarsely. "He is my son!"

He would have fallen, but some of them caught him. He had not fainted, and presently in a weak voice he said:

"Take me home. My son! My son!"

On the Impossibility of Forgetting.

BY RUTH CAMERON.

Two good friends had quarreled. One, who is of a passionate disposition, completely lost her self-control and said many unkind things. When the thundercloud of misunderstanding finally passed over and the sunshine of reconciliation began to struggle out again, the quick-tempered woman told her friend she was sorry for her bitter words, and then added cheerfully, "And now you'll forgive me and forget all that I said, won't you?"

Whereupon the other woman answered, "Forgive you? Yes indeed, I'll do that with all my heart, but I cannot promise to forget because that is beyond my power."

The first woman called that an ungracious and relentless attitude. "Do you?"

I don't. To me it was simply a truthful answer. Perhaps it might have been kinder for the woman to say that she'd forget all about it and things would be just as they were before, but it probably wouldn't have been true. In one of his essays Stevenson says, "I hate questioners and questions; there are so few that can be spoken to without a lie. 'Do you forgive me?' Madam and sweetheart, so far as I have gone in life I have never yet been able to discover what forgiveness means. 'It is still the same between us?' Why how can it be? It is eternally different, and yet you are still the friend of my heart." It seems to me he should have added that other question, "Will you forget all that I have said or done?" for surely no other question that we foolishly and hopefully ask each other is quite so impossible to answer without a lie or a very cruel truth.

The woman called her friend relentless. That was not fair. It is not the person who cannot forget that is relentless; it is life itself and the laws of life that are inflexible.

I may no more promise my friend that I will forget anything than I may promise her that a deep cut in my flesh will heal and not leave any scar. I may promise that I will put soothing medicine in the cut and bind it up and keep it from irritation, and do all I can to make it heal without a scar, but I cannot surely promise what will be the result.

Hearts and souls are quite as sensitive as bodies. We would not easily allow ourselves in a flash of temper to scar our friend's body; why, then, be so careless with his heart.

Why? Because we think that such scars can be easily obliterated; because we think we can say, please forget" and let that end it.

But we cannot.

And the next time you lift the javelin of an unforgetful word to cast into your friend's heart, suppose you stop just one moment before you speak, and say this sentence over to yourself. "Of the unspoken word I am a master, but the spoken word is master of me."

Are You Blue and Worried?

Nervous? Some of the time really ill? Catch cold easily and frequently suffer from biliousness or headache? The reason is that your system does not rid itself of the poisons in the blood; just as impossible as it is for the grate of a stove to rid itself of cinders. The waste does us exactly what the cinders do to the stove; make the fires burn low until enough cinders have accumulated and then prevent the fires from burning at all. Your liver is sluggish—you are dull and heavy—sleep does not rest, nor is food appetizing. In this condition illness develops. Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery eradicates the poisons from the body—a glyceric alternative extract made from bloodroot, golden seal and mandrake root, stone and queen's root, without the use of alcohol. No matter how chronic the constipation the stomach is apt to be "out of kilter" at times; in consequence the blood is disordered, for the stomach is the laboratory for the constant manufacture of blood.

Mrs. Blake, of Fort Dover, Ont., writes: "I have been a great sufferer for years from chronic catarrh, indigestion, biliousness, constipation and nervousness—at times I would be unable to get up in the morning, and my doctor advised me to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and would get better for a little while, then I would go down with poison in my blood. After trying everything I got worse. I read in The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and I have taken the Golden Medical Discovery and Pleasant Pellets, and have used five bottles of Dr. Pierce's Cathartic Remedy. I am now able to do my work and walk with pleasure. I feel like a new woman. I enjoy everything and thank God for letting me live long enough to find something that makes me well again."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate liver and bowels.

Household Notes.

A dish of water in the oven will keep cakes, etc.

All housekeepers' stores should be plainly labeled.

Buttermilk is usually the best cure for sunburn.

When peeling and slicing egg-plant, use a silver knife.

Chemicals wrung out of kerosene make good dust cloth.

Poison bottles should have pins stuck in their corks point up.

Dry cut glass with soft tissue paper if you want it to be brilliant.

Sifted wood ashes and mild soap will give a fine polish to tinware.

The lighter the bread pan the lighter and whiter your bread will be.

A good, sweet sandwich filling is made of dates, stoned and powdered.

To keep a silver teapot sweet when not in use, put a lump of sugar in it.

A bouquet of lavender placed near the bed will help to drive away mosquitoes.

Wash silk handkerchiefs in tepid water with a little borax in it. Iron while damp.

Every kitchen should have its diary of books on cooking and household affairs.

Lost Control of His Temper

Once there was a man whose liver was not working right. When dressing in the morning he had trouble with his collar. Then he lost the collar button. Then he said something.

By the time he got to breakfast he was so irritated that he had no appetite and quarrelled with his wife. He went to the office with a headache, and when he had some important business to transact he bungled it.

When you find yourself easily irritated and lose control of yourself and your temper, look to the condition of the liver, and take one of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills at bedtime.

The dark-brown taste will not bother you in the mornings, the tongue will clear up, digestion will improve and you will not have the tired, worn-out feelings which accompany a sluggish condition of the liver. Mother.

What is home without a mother? Who so well a home can grace? Ah, that sacred name! No other can usurp its honored place! Mother makes the home a charming happy—when she's there, when she isn't gallivanting, doing campaign work somewhere. To uplift the land she wishes, politics she'd purify; and there's none to wash the dishes, none at home to make a pie. Willie has a broken smellier—he was fooling with the cow; Lizzie fell into the cellar and she's screaming down there now; little Myrtle calmly scratches all the furniture with wire hair's playing with the matches, and we'll set the house afire. Little sister, little brother, raise the dickens with their curvies. What is home without a mother? It's a place to jar your nerves. Mother's at some cheap convention, wearing father's shirt and tie, arguing her firm intention to secure a vote or die. She must have a hand in making laws that suit the female mind, and at home the kids are breaking all the wishes they can find. She will be no longer brooking tyranny that's known no change and at home poor dad is cooking prunlets on a smoking range. What is home without a mother? Watch the suffrage ladies hike! When they've won their fight, my brother, you will know just what it's like.

A Sour, Greasy Upset Stomach

"Pape's Diapepsin" regulates your stomach and ends indigestion in five minutes.

Wonder what upset your stomach— which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in revolt, if you're gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; your head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Diapepsin and in five minutes you truly will wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women to-day know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astounding. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.

The Lundenburg schooner Mary Dawson, arrived in port yesterday from the Grand Banks to get a squid baiting. The Mary Dawson has 700 qts. of fish on board and has landed her first catch, which was 800 qts., at Lundenburg. With a hurried baiting the crew of the tanker are in hope of doing well as at present cod are very plentiful on the Banks.

MONDAY, Sept. 16th, 1912.

"Patriot" and Magistrate Fitzgerald.

We direct the attention of Mr. Fitzgerald to the following statement, which appeared in the Chronicle on Friday in some notes from Fogo:

"Our old friend, Mr. H. F. Fitzgerald, and his good lady, paid us a visit last month and was heartily welcomed. We hear he visited several places in the district and was well received by many of those who were formerly his political opponents. Mr. Fitzgerald is a tried and true friend, and his friends think he will knock what is left of the Coakerites 'to pieces' in 1913."

Mr. Fitzgerald will appreciate the fact that the above statement is a political message meant to boom him, as the Morris Party candidate for the District of Fogo at the next General Election.

Mr. Fitzgerald is not likely to forget that he is a Magistrate, even if this political press agent of the Chronicle has forgotten. But the indiscretion of his friends should convince Magistrate Fitzgerald how circumspect his own conduct must be, and how necessary it is for him to avoid anything which will give color to the remarks of such a man as "Patriot" of the Chronicle.

Should Magistrate Fitzgerald decide to stand for Morris in Fogo at the next election, and wish to make political visits, we feel sure he will see the propriety of sending in his resignation before he commences a political canvass.

Magistrates and Judges have entered of the political field and become candidates for the suffrages of the people, but they have all found it desirable and necessary to quit the bench before they took to politics.

Magistrate Fitzgerald should put "Patriot" right in the premises; or "Patriot" may succeed in putting Magistrate Fitzgerald in the wrong light before the public.

A new wharf is now being built on the Black Diamond Line Company for discharging their ships, which will commence bringing enormous flour and beef cargoes here from Montreal next month. A gang of men are now employed building the new wharf, which when completed, will be one of the most substantial along the waterfront. A gallery over the wharf is also being erected to be used for landing salt and coal.

The Shooting Season.

DELANEY SAYS BEWARE OF THE
MAN WHO WANTS A LOAN OF YOUR DOG.

Delaney isn't a "sport" by any means, he's just a common jack who when shooting time comes round takes his dog and gun and strolls in over Petty Harbour barracks.

Now, Delaney owns a fine dog, in fact Tucker says 'tis the best setter in the country, and of course Delaney takes a great pride out of him and feeds him and looks after him right through the year.

All along through the winter when the frost is keen and the snow causes the carmen and the snow plougher to exchange courtesies, Delaney looks after his dog, but he is the only individual in the country that seems to care two straws about Carlo.

Carlo some fine days in the spring goes out in quest of the tempting jowl bone or that little round ring that you buy with a pound of beef steak, but though he tramps and sniffs all day no one pats him on the head, or in any way pays attention to him.

Carlo goes to a football match later on, chases Delaney, but he's no sooner on the field when Sergeant Grimes is after him and fires him outside the gate. A little later on in the year the sporting element begin to cast glances at Carlo and some of them become so interested in him that they open his mouth and peer into the mysteries hidden within its walls. A few weeks after they whistle to Carlo and sound his praises, so as Delaney can hear them.

Later still, about the fourteenth of September, this individual walks quick and catches up to Delaney going home to dinner. He tells Delaney that he thinks 'tis going to be a fine dry fall, enquires of Delaney "How's all your care," and ends up by asking Delaney if he wouldn't mind lending him his dog, as he was thinking about going off for a day or so.

Now so far, Delaney says, this man didn't put himself in the way of being turned down this year, and he hopes he won't, for as Delaney says, he wouldn't mind lending a man a pair of black pants to go to a funeral, or a buck saw to saw up some wood, but when it comes to lending a dog, 'tis too dangerous, for the half-baked sport that would expect another man's dog to "rise" partridge for him, might also expect that "Carlo" could thrive on fresh air and a whistle.

Killed at Halifax

James J. Hiscok, a native of Newfoundland, was killed last Thursday, as were two other persons by the breaking of a derrick used in demolishing the walls of the Woodside Sugar Refinery, Halifax.

About 9 o'clock as the men employed at the top of the building were wheeling their burden along the platform at the top of the scaffolding erected up the face of the building, the derrick which was in use as a crane, suddenly gave way while lifting a steel bar of about 800 lbs., from the interior of the building, and crashing down to the ground about 40 feet below, carried the unfortunate men with it.

This derrick was a powerful one, capable of lifting 10 tons but gave way for some unknown cause, under the strain of only 800 lbs. The mast snapped in two and the upper part together with the heavy boom smashed through the scaffolding, taking the men with it.

25,000,000 Years Old.

Edmonton, Alta., Sept. 8.—Perfectly formed fossils of the trilobite species, the highest animals of the Cambrian formation, declared by paleontologists to be more than 25,000,000 years old, were unearthed by Dr. C. D. Walcott, Secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D. C., at the base of Mount Robson, in the heart of the Rockies, west of Edmonton, while on a scientific expedition, occupying two months. He was accompanied by H. H. Hayden.

Dr. Walcott said in the course of an interview here to-day that the bed of fossils, which was found at a point 5,000 feet above sea-level, is practically inexhaustible. He reported also finding fossils of an entirely new species, which he believes will add valuable information to the geology of the world.

The finding of the trilobite is looked upon as important, it is of the group of fossil crustaceans, of which a single specimen is known from the Permian of North America. The animal, which has been extinct for ages, is scientifically described in these terms: "The dorsal surface of the body was covered with a calcareous shell, which presented three longitudinal lobes, a median and two lateral, and was divided into three parts.—A head shield, a body shield or thoracic segment, and a tail shield or pygidium. The head was approximately semi-circular, and a central protuberance, the glabella, and a flat border, formed the gense or cheeks. The animal was able to roll itself up so that the soft lower surface of its body was protected. The anterior appendages were modified to form antennae, mandibles and maxillae."

Seamen Washed Overboard

AND DROWNED.

Messrs. Job Bros., have received a wireless message from Captain Waite of the S. S. Beothic, acquainting them that Thomas Walsh was washed overboard and drowned on Saturday last. The message came via Frame Point and stated that the Beothic, which was on her way to Montreal from Sydney, encountered rough weather. On the day in question a violent northeaster prevailed while heavy seas constantly swept the ship's decks. It was at this time it is alleged Walsh, who was walking from the deck to the fore-castle, was washed overboard and never heard of afterwards. The victim was seen leave the deck by Capt. Waite who was on watch. Walsh was a trimmer on the Beothic and a good and capable seaman. He was thirty years of age and resided on Patrick Street in the West End. This morning Rev. Fr. Kelly broke the sad news of the drowning to the parents of the deceased young man who was well known in the community.

To-night the final meeting of the Regatta Committee will be held at Wood's West End Candy Store. The new President and the young and energetic Vice-President need not be ashamed of what they have done this year. They gave the public a most pleasant day to which our friends Sec. Noonan and Treasurer Crotty of course contributed.

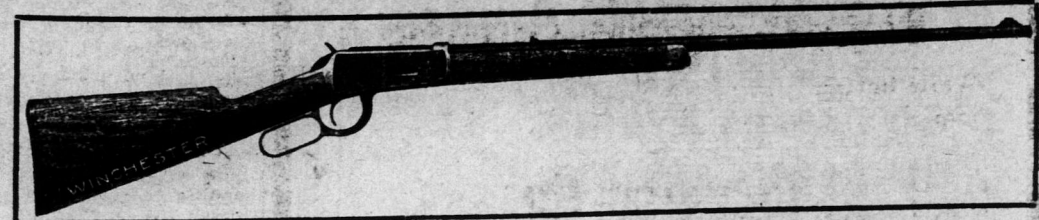

DANGEROUS REWAY.—Saturday evening a very ugly accident occurred on George's Street. The driver of Mr. P. J. Shea's express was passing by when the horse bolted and the man who held the reins went over the side. Gritty enough he held the ribbons but was hauled for 30 yards across Water Street. He, however, was not badly hurt.

Back From Baffin's Land.

Neptune Arrives from Baffin's Land with Scott and Munn Exploration Parties—No Gold Discoveries Made—Algerine Lost—Whaler Lost with 60 Lives on Board—Capt. Bernier at Arctic in Fore and After.

The S. S. Neptune, commanded by A. W. Scott with Capt. Chas. Green, as navigator, returned from Baffin's Land on Saturday evening after an unsuccessful attempt for gold discovery. The cruise occupied two months and was better known as the "Lucky Scott" expedition. The ship left St. John's on July 15th on prospecting and exploration trip. On board was Commander Scott and a party of wealthy Americans. In addition were parties of prospectors and surveyors. The ship was fitted for the voyage to the arctic regions and after leaving here had fine weather which lasted until Hudson Straits was reached. For the next few days tremendous weather prevailed and the explorers suffered a little seasickness and felt the climate somewhat different than that of New York. The next place to be reached was Davis Straits where the first of the heavy arctic ice was experienced. The ship, taking a southeast course steamed along the edge of the ice pack. The ice was rapid and presented a picturesque appearance and snap shots of the various shapes of the ice were taken. On the afternoon of July 22nd a polar bear was seen. On being approached by the steamer the bear became frightened and ran for its life. Coves of birds were next seen fluttering around the ship. The next day while the ship was in open water off the Greenland Coast, thick fog prevailed. It was also intensely cold and nothing could be seen. The following day the fog lifted and the ship took a northwesterly course. The ice pack was loose, extending over a hundred miles. The Neptune was then on the Baffin's Land Coast Line and the ice was never seen so heavy by the oldest seaman on board. On August 1st, about nine o'clock in the morning Pond Inlet was reached. The weather was then magnificent and the view from the ship's deck was beautiful, although up to this no life was visible. About noon of the same day a boat was observed to be coming from the land in which were two men. At first it was thought they were Eskimauz coming to visit the ship. Subsequently two more boats were seen when suddenly those on board discovered that the boats they had seen were Canadian canoes and ship's boats. The Scott party, however, seemed to be still mystified, as they did not know that there was any other vessel around, until they recognized in one boat two Canadian prospectors, belonging to the S. S. Algerine, which left Sydney in June last on a similar expedition to the Neptune. Two members of the Algerine's crew boarded the Neptune and reported that their ship, Algerine, was lost.

HOW SHE WAS LOST.
 The S. S. Algerine, Capt. John Bartlett with a party of Canadian prospectors aboard, left Sydney on an expedition cruise to Baffin's Land, known as the Munn Expedition. On June 26th the vessel was coaled and supplied at Sydney and sailed for the far north. On July 15th, the very same day the Neptune left St. John's, the Algerine was nipped in a heavy floe of ice and was crushed so severely that within thirty minutes afterwards the vessel sank. The ship's crew and the Munn party barely escaped with their lives. Some of the crew had to leave their clothes aboard and let them go down with the ship in order to save something to eat. A small quantity of provisions were brought ashore, consisting chiefly of biscuits, and so that the food would last longer, the twenty four persons all told were put on short rations. The survivors of the Algerine would have starved and perished but for the timely rescue of the Neptune.

The Algerine had been butting her way through the floe when the ice raked and she was nearly cut in two. At this time the ship was nearly thirty miles from Button Island and the crew had to walk all that distance through blinding snow drift, most of the party suffering greatly from exposure. They remained in that vicinity until the Neptune was sighted. The Algerine was about the oldest of our sealing fleet and a staunch vessel, being rebuilt a couple of years ago. She was 505 tons nett; 239 gross and was formerly an English man of war. She was built in Belfast in 1880.

After taking aboard the Algerine's crew, Capt. Scott decided to have his ship butt through the ice, to get to Eclipse Sound. After steaming through eight miles the ship was jammed and powder had to be used to free her. On August 4th while again jammed in the pack three Eskimauz people came aboard. They said they never saw the ice so heavy or the weather conditions so bad inland. On August 5th Commander Scott, accompanied by a prospector and a guide, left for shore and the party went to Salmon River, where a great deal of the country was done in travel and extensive prospecting. Capt. Scott and his companions indulged in salmon fishing for a day or so, while the Neptune steamed to Albert Harbor, about five miles distant from where the Commander's camp was. When the ship reached nearer the shore the prospectors were satisfied with their work, broke camp and returned on board. The next place the ship was headed for was Admiralty Inlet in Lancaster Sound. The ice conditions encountered were worse than ever. After two days steaming the ship was anchored but no way could be conceived for the party to get ashore. Arriving at Davis Inlet there was general surprise to see a small 80 ton schooner, of a prospecting and trading party, and commanded by Capt. Bernier of a certain fame. The little craft had a crew of ten on board, mostly French Canadians. The Scott party thought it a daring adventure on the part of Bernier and believed it to be an excellent piece of navigation and seamanship to get through the ice floe in such a small boat and after this craft is owned by the Canadian Government and left Quebec in July last.

After watering and ballasting the ship at Pond's Inlet where the Algerine left her boats, Commander Scott and party went hunting musk oxen. The ship was steered for Jones Sound but before reaching there the ship had to retreat, the ice being too heavy and coal was running short. Capt. Scott next decided to go to Admiralty Inlet again and camp there for the entire winter. However, the next place the Neptune called was Davis Inlet, Cumberland Gulf and Winter Hr. At the latter she anchored and watered. The Rev. Dr. Green-shield, who doing missionary work at Blackhead Islands, came aboard and informed all of the loss of the whaler Seduisante in Hudson Straits. This vessel had been on a nine months whaling cruise. She carried a crew of twenty persons and had 40 Eskimauz people aboard. The missionary reported that all without exception, were lost. The Scott party gave the clergymen stores and also entertained some of the Eskimauz people and then left for St. John's. This was on Sept. 9th. On the return passage from the arctic the wind blew strong from the N.W. with mountainous seas. Crossing Hudson Straits she received a bad drubbing. Commander Scott and his party enjoyed the trip immensely and five of them left town yesterday for their homes in New York. On Saturday evening and all day yesterday hundreds of people visited the ship to see some curios that were brought along. Particularly attractive was the Polar bear which is now in a cage on deck, and which will be sent to the Zoo-

Wild Driving.

Motorists go over LeMarchant Rd. at terrific speed, especially at night. The little children of Cabot Street, Monroe Street, Central Street and all contiguous thoroughfares go there daily to play in Buckmaster's Meadow. These little ones have a prior right to that thoroughfare. Fathers have been heard to say that they will kill the men who recklessly drive if they maim or murder their little ones by this unpardonable proceeding. G. Sullivan has his eye on these gentry and we believe will soon put an effectual check on them. However in parenthesis we may remark that there are honourable exceptions. Many staid people with wives and families coming along in their autos do not exceed the speed limit but come under the regulation pace.—Com.

 Whooping cough is more or less prevalent just now, and is very annoying and troublesome, not to say serious affection. When complicated with bronchitis or pneumonia it becomes very dangerous. A slight case of whooping cough can be relieved quickly and the danger of more serious complications greatly lessened by the use of Vapo Cresolene. Even in the worst cases of whooping cough the number of paroxysms becomes less, and their severity greatly abated by the use of this favourite remedy. Vapo Cresolene is vaporized by aid of the small lamp and outfit supplied and helps to clear the air passages and relieve the breathing of the little patient at once. It is comparatively quiet and restful night to both child and parents. And it does not interfere in any way with the regular treatment. In fact, most physicians recommend Vapo Cresolene. Price, complete outfit $1.50; bottles of liquid only, 25c., 50c. and $1.50.

Why Who's Who.

BY H. L. RANN.

WERE you aware that John D. Rockfeller celebrated his 73d birthday recently in the full possession of his faculties and a bright, new, rebuilt appetite? It is reported that on the day in question Mr. Rockfeller took off his horns and cloven hoofs and sat down to a meal that would make a section hand wince. Several years ago, Mr. Rockfeller couldn't tell his appetite from any other part of his body. He would leave it lying around the house for days at a time and never miss it. His stomach was not on speaking terms with anything except corn meal mush, and he used to try to exchange with some of the hired men. He is naturally a genial man, but when the conversation turned on corn on the cob or raspberries and cream or pineapple sherbet he went into a reverie and moved to adjourn. Recently, however, Mr. Rockfeller found his appetite just where he left it a few years ago. He recognized it the moment he saw it. It had not changed much and he put it to work at once. It is said to be a better appetite than it was before Standard Oil was dissolved into thin air. This was the only form of dissolution on record in which the corpse did not participate.

Mr. Rockfeller was a poor boy, but he soon got over it and has always had plenty of ready money. He is considered well to do, and can borrow a reasonable sum at the bank without getting a signer. He is able to keep several automobiles, as his gasoline doesn't cost him anything, and whenever he wants a clean shirt he can have it.

Mr. Rockfeller divides his time between playing golf and throwing large eloquent drafts at people who are not afraid of tainted money. There are so few who are afraid that he has to use a fountain pen. Every once in a while some church which has been left out will rise up through its minister and denounce Mr. Rockfeller and all his works, including the recent advance in lubricating oil, but up to date none of the uplift magazines has been called upon to return any of his checks in a haughty tone of voice.

Stafford's Sore Throat Cure.

Business men, book-keepers, clerks, stenographers and others whose work confines them in close rooms are subject to Sore Throats contracted by the change from the warm air indoors to the cold without. The affliction may appear unimportant, but frequent attacks or a chronic Sore Throat will in the end impair hearing. Then, too, a Sore Throat is always dangerous, for it may develop into Tonsillitis, Quinsy or Diphtheria.
 Stafford's Sore Throat Cure will relieve any case if used in time.
 Only 25 cents; postage, 5 cents extra.

Why not join our host of satisfied patrons? We will do our best for you. Phoronite is the name of this Sore Throat Cure.

Badly Burned.

On Friday last Mr. Wm. Quick, of the Consolidated Foundry, met with a very painful accident. Mr. Quick is a moulder, most experienced and efficient, and while at his work some of the molten metal went over his foot. The foot was burned off the man and his foot was badly scalded. Dr. Anderson attended him, and it will be days if not weeks before he can again go to work.

Wesley Church Jottings.

Very able sermons were preached at the above church yesterday by the pastor, Rev. F. R. Matthews, B. A. The morning discourse was on the "Duty of the proper observance of the Lord's Day," as enforced by the Divine Command. "Six days shall thou labour and do all thy work." In the evening he preached on "Keep thyself pure," in contrast with the terrible results of vicious conduct, as instanced by Ahab, the notoriously wicked King of Judah, and others, which are as so many warning beacons, he urged purity of conduct and conversation, and the great need of mothers affording every possible means to keep their daughters at home, and from the temptation and sins of large cities.

At the close of the sermon Rev. W. J. Norman of Toronto University, now on a visit here, sang "The Dawn of Redemption," by Hamilton Gray. It was a very fine effort as the reverend gentleman has a magnificent baritone voice.

Quite an Attraction.

Yesterday hundreds of people visited the S. S. Neptune at Job Bros. & Co.'s premises. On board the ship is a polar bear from the northern regions. It is very wild and to look at a huge animal which shakes the heavy iron cage in which it is confined. Venturesome boys yesterday tried to torment the animal but soon discovered the risk they ran.

A Time to Part.
Rev. Rural Dean Hollands announced at the evening service on Sunday last his early departure from the Mission of Trinity, having been appointed incumbent of Carleton Place, to succeed the Rev. Mr. Hollands has worked zealously for the church since coming here and his leaving is regretted.—Trinity Enterprise.

NO STRIKE.—A report circulated that there was a strike among the railway constructors on the Trepassey branch railway is not true. We have the assurance of Mr. Rioux that nothing of the kind has occurred.

Why Wonder?
Some people are still wondering why the Trinity Spur remains uncompleted, especially when so many Trinity Bight men are in need of employment owing to the poor fishery.

We would remind all such that the Agricultural Exhibition has been postponed "until next year," and this will recall to their minds the letter from the Colonial Secretary, who, when announcing the intention of holding an Exhibition in Trinity this Autumn, also announced that as the Spur would probably be ready for opening about the same time, the two events might be combined.

The failure to complete the Spur, then, must also be blamed to bad growing weather, and until Contractor Reid and the Agricultural Board get on good terms with the Toronto weather man both Spur and Exhibition will have to remain "in contemplation."

It is presumed that the "official notice" postponing the opening of the Spur will be published as soon as some of the members of the Executive get back from their summer vacations.—Trinity Enterprise, Sept. 14, 1912.

Dog Irons Found.
While Mr. Edward Murphy, of the West End, was out on Canon Hill, near Petty Harbor, a few days ago, he made a strange find. Under the earth he found a soldier's encampment with the ancient dog irons in it, and also found several other old things reminiscent of the days when the British and French fought for supremacy over the Bay Bulls Ridge.

Baseball Match.

In an interesting game, the Imperial Tobacco Company's Baseball Team defeated the Reid Newfoundland Co. by 11 runs to 9. The contest took place at St. John's Field, and was attended by a fairly large crowd. The many spectacular plays kept the spectators on edge throughout the game. For the Reid company, Morris pitched a very effective game for six innings, but in the seventh he weakened and the Tobacco Factory obtained 7 runs. W. Morris who succeeded him did very well. For the winners, Wiley pitched an excellent game, and grew stronger as the game progressed, only one run being made off his delivery in the last five innings. The score and line up were as follows:—

A Few Facts and Questions for Morris.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—perhaps your readers will find food for thought if they will bear in mind in considering the amounts paid to Reid for arbitrations now being published in the Chronicle that

1. Morris voted for both the 1888 and the 1901 Contracts.
2. Morris was a legal member of the Government that made the 1901 Contract on its legal effects.
3. Morris was counsel for the Colony in all the Arbitrations.
4. When Bond got a new Attorney-General—Kent promptly stopped all arbitrations in the Supreme Court. And ask themselves

1. How can Morris reconcile his vote for both Contracts?
2. Why did not Morris as legal member of the Government of 1901 advise it of the effects of the 1901 Contract?
3. Why did not Morris stop the arbitrations while he was Attorney-General?
4. How is it that Kent stopped them as soon as he became Attorney-General?

Perhaps the result of a little consideration to the above facts and questions will guide them in solving the question as to the responsibility for the Colony's large payments to the Reids for arbitration awards.

Yours truly,
OBSERVER.

Wedding Bells.

At St. Andrew's Altar in the R. C. Cathedral a very pretty wedding ceremony last evening. The bridegroom was Mr. Thos. Condy, the popular wine and spirit dealer of Water Street. The bride was a very pretty and popular young lady in the person of Miss Fannie Keefe of Riverhead, Mr. Grace, in tying the nuptial knot Very Rev. Monsignor Roche officiated. The groomsmen were the well known painter and decorator, Mr. Thos. McGrath and Miss Minnie Keefe, sister of the bride, gave the usual attentions to that young lady. A large number of the friends of both witnessed the ceremony. The presents were numerous, pretty, and many of them very valuable. After a reception held at the wedding party drove to O'Rourke's at Holyrood where the honeymoon will be spent. We wish Mr. and Mrs. Condy all success and happiness in life.

BONNE BAY VISIT Exposes Morris's Weakness.

Received a Chilly Reception, Marked Absence of Enthusiasm, Flags and Cheering—His Talk of Picnic Party Progress Received With a Snigger— Bonne Bay Branch Will be 55 Miles Long Instead of 25 Miles, as Morris Estimated— Morris and Mott Are Down and Out in St. Barbe's.

Bonne Bay does not copy the Bishops of Western Bay in throwing political opponents over the wharf. Fair play is given to all shades and classes. The folk here who do the voting believe in being gentlemen even in politics, but Bonne Bay resents having political capital made of its fair and square treatment of such representatives of the Picnic Party as come into its midst. The visitors went to Norris Point and other places round the Bay accompanied by a game warden who was dismissed this season. One flag was flying at Norris' Point, and absolutely no reception was given the political promoters. There was nothing at all displayed at Stanleyville, at Birchy Head or at Shoal Brook, the only other points touched at in the Bay. Bonne Bay was absolutely indifferent to the presence of Morris and Mott, and not a gun was fired or cheer given for the picnic pair at any of the places they visited. That's plain and explicit, also its straight. Just watch Bonne Bay when Sir Robert Bond visits it; there will be a bit of a study in comparison. Then Premier Morris will have to change to a wandering Jew and confine his travels to St. Barbe District exclusively, for the next few centuries before he gets the ghost of a show here. For the picnic party, if one may judge by the reception he got here and Bonne Bay, the impression he failed to make on the voters. The big chief was frozen out on his visit. Try again, Mott, his party representative will once more be snowed under by adverse ballots at next election. Never doubt it Bonne Bay will assist in the process and thoroughly enjoy it, too.

Dear Sir.—Things are live ancient town since Magistrate took charge of the expenditure and other public monies the spring and early summer several handy men working Coastal Wharf. These men were fiddling around at the wharf, tarring and hooking of the seams of the deck as a finishing touch the carpenter made four "Park Seats" for the resort for the young maidens of the town to lounge their idle time. Maybe if Magistrate continues to control the wharf and an up-to-date agent year he will have some other to the coastal wharf, and the one of the Agriculture Commission to have the dirt nicely trowled between the "dump heads" and some flower seeds therein, so young ladies and gents can themselves with perfume at government expense. That something worthy an oblation to an up-to-date Agriculture Department; and it goes out saying that our magistrates ways happy in the creation of things fresh.

Magistrate Scott has also "park seat" provided for the bridge, which spans Shoal. This is also a new accommodation, young and old, on our thoroughfare; and while the prove a menace to wheel traffic doesn't matter so long as it has marine money to spend.

In the course of time our wharf will have seats provided along our main streets so that old and care worn pedestrians and smoke, chew and crack fog cast admiring glances at hobnob as they waddle by. There are some who regard those seats, thoroughfare, as a public nuisance, but it may be that, in his section of the Public Nuisance King's Highway.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir.—Things are lively in this ancient town since Magistrate Scott took charge of the expenditure of Marine and other public moneys. During the spring and early summer he had several heady men working on the Coastal Wharf. These men spent weeks fiddling around at odd jobs, painting, tarring and hooking the dirt of the seams of the decking; and as a finishing touch the carpenter lately made four "Park Seats" thus turning our coastal wharf into an evening resort for the young men and maidens of the town, to lounge away their idle time. Maybe if Magistrate Scott continues to control the expenditure and an up-to-date Agricultural year he will have some earth hauled to the coastal wharf, and then invite one of the Agriculture Commissioners to have the dirt nicely troweled in between the "dump heads" and then sow some flower seeds therein, so that the young ladies and gents can supply themselves with perfumed bouquets at government expense. That will be something worthy an obliging magistrate an up-to-date Agricultural Marine Department; and it goes without saying that our magistrate is always happy in the creation of something fresh.

Magistrate Scott has also had a "park seat" provided for the long iron bridge, which spans Shoal Tickle. This is also a new accommodation, for young and old, on our public thoroughfare; and while the seat may prove a menace to wheel traffic that doesn't matter so long as a magistrate has marine money to spend.

In the course of time our Magistrate may have seats provided all along our main streets so that our tired and care worn pedestrians can sit and smoke, chew and crack jokes, and cast admiring glances at hobbie skirts as they waddle by. There may be some who regard those seats, on our thoroughfare, as a public nuisance, but it may be that, in his zeal, our Magistrate might have forgotten that section of the Public Nuisance Act which disallows obstacles on the King's Highway.

Has the Minister of Marine and Fisheries, Mr. Piccott, "gone back" on his fishermen friends? He doesn't seem to consider of sufficient importance and honesty our fishermen and penitence of marine money, so that they could get the five or ten per cent. commission, but lavishes these favors upon our well paid Magistrate. One would think that Mr. Piccott, of all others, would show some interest in the fishermen and laboring classes, and less love for magistrates, when he has some marine money to give out. However, Mr. Piccott, in ignoring the fishermen and laboring classes is preparing a cutting whip for the government, which no doubt the leader, and members of the opposition, will not fail to use when the proper time comes.

By the way, what is our local member, Mr. Roberts, and Mr. Clift doing politically these days? Are they laying in a stock of ammunition for the battle of 1913? Or are they wondering what the "Fishermen's Protective Union" will do? I hope they are laying in ammunition for the time to come. They used what they had, to good advantage, in the spring election of 1909, and for their encouragement I would like to say here that no Tory Party (not even self-baptised "People's Party") can tear the ground from under the feet of the present Liberal members in this District. Sir Robert Bond and his colleagues, have faced and beaten, hitherto, the best men their opponents could send to this District, and they can do the same again; for we electors, in Green Bay, are not like political "weather-cocks." Even the old Tories here will not again be deceived by the promises of Tory Candidates. No not even if they rebaptise themselves by another tempting name. Not even a "white-washed" limb of Justice need apply.

We see that the Editor of the News is poking fun at the editor of the "Twillingate Sun," and "Billy" is soft enough to republish the News remarks. Mr. Robinson says "Mr. Temple is an able writer." You cruel man. If Mr. Temple is an able writer the Sun doesn't show it, but rather the Sun exhibits crippled English, poor spelling, bad grammar, and is made up partly of low, slang phrases; and that all its readers know. Who ever saw an able editorial in the Sun since Temple bought it? Why the paper is the laughing stock of this community, and Mr. Temple and the Sun have no more influence politically or otherwise, in this community, than "Fit Simmons" that promanaded here in days of yore.

Mr. Temple said, in the Sun, on Saturday last, that the Liberal Government "squandered money here" in days gone by. But he did not tell us the amount that the Morris Government squandered on him, the present year for publishing the debates of the Houses for last session. Or rather I might say for not publishing the debates, for if you will look up the Sun's of 1912 you will see when those debates were commenced, the amount published, and when finished. Then ask one of our representatives to enquire the amount that "Billy" was paid out of the public treasury and you will know what squandering is now being done. It reminds me of the press that was imported here in the spring of 1909 to print the ballot papers "cheap."

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for space in the People's paper, I am,
Yours, very truly,
HARBOR ROCK.

One Dose Relieves a Cold—No Quinine

Pape's Cold Compound cures colds and grippe in a few hours.

You can surely end Grippe and break up the most severe cold either in head, chest, back, stomach or limbs, by taking a dose of Pape's Cold Compound every two hours until three consecutive doses are taken.

It promptly relieves the most miserable headache, dullness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, sore throat, mucous catarrhal discharges, running of the nose, soreness, stiffness and rheumatic twinges.

Take this wonderful Compound as directed, without interference with your usual duties and with the knowledge that there is nothing else in the world, which will cure your cold or end Grippe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects as a 25-cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which any druggist can supply—accept no substitute—contains no quinine—belongs in every home. Tastes nice.

C.L.B. Parade.

Yesterday afternoon the Church Lads Brigade, under command of Lt. Col. Rendell, paraded to Divine Service at St. Thomas's church. The battalion, headed by their brass band, which enlivened the parade by the selections discoursed, left their armoury and proceeded via Herby Road, Queen's Road, Bond Street and Church Street to the church where service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Clayton, who also preached an able sermon. After the service ranks were reformed and the church boys in front under the feet of the present Liberal members in this District. Sir Robert Bond and his colleagues, have faced and beaten, hitherto, the best men their opponents could send to this District, and they can do the same again; for we electors, in Green Bay, are not like political "weather-cocks." Even the old Tories here will not again be deceived by the promises of Tory Candidates. No not even if they rebaptise themselves by another tempting name. Not even a "white-washed" limb of Justice need apply.

Bishop's Ship Returns

FROM MISSION CRUISE.

The church ship Amazon reached port at noon yesterday after a cruise of two months on the West Coast of the island doing missionary work. The ship called at Placentia before coming to St. John's. His Lordship Bishop Jones during the mission visited the churches at places where the Amazon went and received a great number of people into the church. In the early part of the cruise while in a dense fog, in the vicinity of Port aux Basques, the yacht was nearly cut down by an unknown steamer. It was fortunate, however, the accident was averted, but had the accident occurred the result would be untold.

Serious Accident at Harbor Grace.

From parties who arrived from Harbor Grace, we learn of a serious accident which occurred at a waterfront premises in the Bay Metropolis, on Friday evening last. The victim is Michael Delaney, aged 55 and who belongs to Placentia. Delaney was employed as an engineer in the whale factory, for which the whaler Port Saunders is operating and which is owned by the Reid Mfd. Co. He was engaged arranging some pulleys and shafting for the fat machines which are used for grinding and manufacturing the fat of the whales into oil, when by some means his clothing got caught in one of the belts, with the result that his body was drawn in and brought round the shafting several times before being extricated. When the machinery was stopped Delaney was picked up in an apparently lifeless condition and did not regain consciousness for several hours afterwards. Our informant tells us that the engineer is very seriously injured and grave fears are held out for his recovery. Delaney is married and has a large family.

Special Evening Telegram.

LONDON, Sept. 15. Colonel Lupatko, head of the Russian political police was shot and killed to-day, while waiting for a street car with his wife and daughter-in-law at Pythagorak, Caucasus. The assassin escaped.

Special Evening Telegram.

SAVANNAH, Georgia, Sept. 15. With the captain and crew of the brig Sceptre, the steamer Resolution collided at sea and the loss of the brig. On September 9th, early in the morning the Resolution crashed into the Sceptre, cutting her practically in two. She sank and the crew scrambled on board the steamer and were saved. The Sceptre was bound from Lunenburg for Ponce with fish and lumber.

Special Evening Telegram.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 15. The Harbin Manchuria correspondent of the Nove Vremya says that Mongolia is being subjected to Chinese horrors resembling the atrocities perpetrated by savage hordes in the middle ages. The Chinese troops are massacring women and children to witness the natural increase of the Mongolians, while adults are being roasted alive over slow fires. Six thousand Chinese troops are preparing to continue these atrocities throughout the winter according to this correspondent.

Special Evening Telegram.

LONDON, Sept. 15. The Times understands that the British and American consuls in the Congo district are conjointly engaged in an extensive tour of the Upper Congo for the purpose of reporting to their respective governments upon the general situation of the country. Upon the nature of their report, says the Times, will largely depend the action of the two governments with regard to the formal recognition of Belgian annexation. Reforms have been in operation for two years in one part and one year in another, while in a third zone other reforms were inaugurated in July last. The problem which will engage the attention of the consuls is the legislative measures of the Belgian Government are being applied in practice. That the general condition of the Congo has vastly improved is acknowledged on all sides.

Special Evening Telegram.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15. A cable to the Tribune from London says that Jamaica's probable future as a dependency of the United States has a prominent position in the Morning Post. A gentleman, closely connected with Jamaica says, so far as the sentimental side is concerned it is unfortunately true that the younger generation of whites and the educated negroes, believe that the prosperity of the island lies in the direction of commercial union with the States, and even political union is regarded with complacency, unless Britain adopts a policy of colonial preference, and by assisting the West Indies. The increasing production of sugar, coffee, cocoa, etc., offers no alternative to the ever increasing cry for association with the States, and this is being fostered by political union, or at least closer connection with Canada. Additional impetus to the movement towards the States may arise from the completion of the Panama Canal. Old West India planters say that American sentiment is only natural, but judicious treasury would restore the allegiance of Jamaicans to Britain.

Adventure Back.

The S. S. Adventure, Capt. Couch, arrived from Hudson Bay waters early yesterday morning. Her charter with Revillon Freres lasted two months and to ask what she shall do. She should thank her lucky stars. That's what she should do. Of all the excuses for killing a man a chorus girl probably is the poorest. If the man loves the woman who makes it he will find rhabarbar pie comparatively painless. The animus often is more interesting than the thing itself. Most of the men who have tried to say the most difficult thing about marriage is keeping in step with the wedding march. In New York it is still considered comedy's top note, but in the one night stands the nightly spectacle of Lew Fields choking Joe Weber no longer is considered the joke it once was. It often is difficult for a son to maintain the standard established by his father. Jesse James died with his boots on and a play exploiting his adventures subsequently was written. But his son was recently subjected to the humiliation of being sued for divorce. Not all of the heroes wear epaulets. There, for instance, is the man who bows his back at hard labor ten hours every working day. A man enjoys being chased a little by the women, but he hates to be run down.

THANKS.—The following ladies and gentlemen whose names appear below are kindly thanked by Misses May Larkin, Essie Hickey, Maggie Fennessey and Mrs. P. Butler, of Torbay, for giving them donations towards their refreshment table held at the Torbay garden party on Sept. 4th past: St. John's—Wood's Candy Stores, P. F. Moore, M.H.A., M. J. Higgins, W. FISHERY NEWS NORTH.—According to reports received by the Prospero poor fishing is being had north. The continuous stormy weather is a hindrance to fishermen both in catching and curing the fish.

Prospero Back.

The S.S. Prospero, Capt. Keen, arrived from northern ports at nine o'clock last night, bringing the owners and the wrecked crews belonging to the schooners Maud, of Indian Islands, B. B.; Adventure, of Indian Arm, B. B. and Sweet Briar, of S. W. Arm, Notre Dame Bay, which were abandoned in the Belle Isle Straits. On the night of the 6th inst. a hurricane raged causing much destruction and in which five vessels, three of those referred and two others at Green Islands were badly battered and totally wrecked. The crews of the Maud, Adventure and Sweet Briar had a terrific experience but managed to reach an island near Belle Isle where the Prospero, which was ordered to the scene, picked them up. On the way south the Prospero landed the men at the places they belonged. The crew of the schooner Sweet Briar were landed at Quirpon and saved a good deal of their fish. The ship brought one-half cargo and over twenty passengers.

Resolutions of Sympathy

At the monthly meeting of St. Joseph's Institute, the following Resolutions were passed, and ordered to be placed upon the minutes:—
Whereas, it has pleased Almighty God, in His Divine Wisdom to remove from our midst, by death, two of our most highly esteemed members, John Martin and John Egan, and whilst bowing in humble submission to God's Holy Will, we have to regret the loss of two such zealous workers in forwarding the objects of our Institute. In both cases, though in humble walks of life, they were types of an ideal Christian manhood and good citizenship, and it is therefore

Resolved, that we tender to the widow and family of our deceased brother member, John Martin, our sincere sympathy with them in their hour of sad affliction.

Resolved, that we likewise tender to the widow and family of our deceased brother member, John Egan, an earnest assurance of our sympathy in the sad bereavement which has befallen them, and in an especial manner do we wish to convey to his aged and respected mother, our heartfelt condolence with her in the bitterness of the grief that enshrouds the evening of her life.

Resolved, that copies of these resolutions be forwarded to the families of our lately deceased brother members, and also to the daily papers for publication.
J. T. FITZPATRICK, Pres.
JOHN W. HAYES, Sec.

At Cochrane Street Church.

The pastor of Cochrane Street Church, the Rev. C. A. Whitemarsh, M.A., B.D., was "at home" to his own congregation at both services yesterday. There was a large gathering present especially at the evening service, who were very helpful and timely discourse was given on "The purpose of the Church of God: is it being realized?" The sermon was full of thought and especially suitable to the time in which we are living and was pronounced one of the best delivered by the reverend gentleman since his taking up of the pastoral duties of this church. At the close of the regular service, a twenty minutes service of song was held in which all the congregation joined heartily in the singing of a number of well known hymns. Miss Vincent sang the solo in the anthem, "I heard the voice of Jesus say," and Mr. C. Hatcher, rendered "The Angel's Song."

On Second Thought.

BY JAY E. HOUSE.

One of Laura Jean Libbey's friends writes us to say she is 45 years old and to ask what she shall do. She should thank her lucky stars. That's what she should do.

Of all the excuses for killing a man a chorus girl probably is the poorest. If the man loves the woman who makes it he will find rhabarbar pie comparatively painless.

The animus often is more interesting than the thing itself. Most of the men who have tried to say the most difficult thing about marriage is keeping in step with the wedding march.

In New York it is still considered comedy's top note, but in the one night stands the nightly spectacle of Lew Fields choking Joe Weber no longer is considered the joke it once was.

It often is difficult for a son to maintain the standard established by his father. Jesse James died with his boots on and a play exploiting his adventures subsequently was written. But his son was recently subjected to the humiliation of being sued for divorce.

Lord's Day Alliance.

In the British Hall last night an interesting meeting of the Lord's Day Alliance was held. His Lordship Bishop Jones delivered a very eloquent address in which he reviewed the work already done by the alliance. His Lordship was followed by Mr. Wigle, a Canadian clergyman who made a most fluent address. Rev. Dr. Curtis in his kindly way and very eloquently proposed a vote of thanks which was seconded by Rev. J. T. Brinton and carried by acclamation. It was interesting to note that people of all denominations attended the service.
