Messrs. Hendrie, Stewart and Barker have completed arrangements with the minister of railways respecting the building of a railway from Gravenhurst to Callander. The matter ill be reported favorably to the government by the minister. The work will be commenced at once and will have running powers over it.

Both Messrs. Cameron (Huron) and Houde have given notice of an act to repeal the license act of last session.

Mr. McCarthy introduced a bill to facilitate transfers of lands in the territories of Canada, and Mr. Landry introduced a bil to limit the jurisdiction of the supreme court in appeal.

Sir John Maodonald, in answer to Mr Lister, said the government would in a few days submit a draft of regulations for disposal of minerals other than coal in the Northwest, and stated that no persons had so far been authorized to grant mining licenses on behalf of the government.

A little life was infused into the other wise somewhat tame session in the discu sion on a motion of Mr. Blake for paper relating to the granting of timber license on Indian lands at Fort William. It transpired that this license had recently been renewed to a Mr Marks on payment of $12,000. Marks was active in the recent election and Henry Herman Cook rose to enquire if this license was renewed to him in con sideration of his interest in the election campaign. The crafty premier turned the tables on his inquisitor by asking if it was customary to bribe men by getting money from them, as in this case. People were sometimes bribed, as the hon. gentleman wery well knew (laughter) by having money paid to them, but not usually the reverse Mr. Blake, however, pointed out that it was possible to effectually bribe a man by Selling him property at half or a quarter its value. The matter then dropped.

The agreement entered into between the government and syndicate respecting the guarantee of bonds was laid on the table this afternoon. The government agree to guarantee 3 per cent yearly on sixty-five millions bonds for ten years, and the syndicate to deposit with them in money and securities $15,942,645, which, with accruing interest, is estimated to cover the guarantee, secured by land grant bonds, and the balance in five years with interest at 4 per cent secured by land grant bonds and sums earned by the company on postal and transport services. Thirty-five million bonds will be deposited with the government, and as they are withdrawn the company deposit in proportion an amount to cover the payment of the guarantee.

The trial began at 10 o'clock in the morning before Judge Rose. Dr. Mc-Michael, Q.C., appeared for Barber and Mr. Æ. Irving conducted the case for the crown. Six jurors were challenged by Dr. McMichael as follows: Anthony Morris, Mark Watson, John B. Turner, John Kay, Geo. J. Keifer and Joseph Patterson. The following jury was then sworn in: Thomas Gray, Thomas O'Brien, Wm. Jewett, R. Young, Owen Davidson, James Lyon, Richard S Perry, David W. Thompson, Peter Savage, Frank Armstrong, Hugh McTaggart and C. H. W. Coxwell. Coxwell.

Eleven witnesses in all were examined.

Eleven witnesses in all were examined. The story of the collision, so well known to the public, was retold pretty much the same as it was at Coroner Lynd's inquest. Barber's unfortunate slip of memory stuck out at every point as the principal cause of the deplorable accident. John E. Dawson, the assistant superintendent of the Great Western division, with headquarters at London, testified that between Sept. 28 last and the day of the accident, Jan. 2, Barber had made 28 round trips between Point Edward and Toronto, ten of which had been on regular trains. This was probably sufficient to indicate that Barber was tolerablywell acquainted with the road and the various trains he should pass. either a vigorous or pointed manner. He said the province had an abiding confidence in the lieutenant-governor as the head of the government, than whom there was none more dignified and distinguished, and complimented his honor's amiable consort on the graceful manner in which she dispensed the hospitalties of government house.

The agricultural and other industries of the province had been fostered by wise and prudent legislation, although the government had to some extent been hampered by the pernicious national policy, a remark that was received with applause by the ministerialists and derisive cheers by the opposition. After expressing the wish that the house would assist the government to make the provincial health board more efficient and thus improve the sanitary condition of the country, the speaker dwelt on the boundary dispute, contending that Mr. Mowat and his colleagues had upheld the rights and honor of Ontario in the steps they had taken to bring about a settlement, while Mr. Meredith and his colleagues had succumbed to the importunities of the arch enemy of the province and turned traitor, his reward being the assistance of Sir John and his paid band of missionaries in the recent provincial of missionaries in the recent provincial

DEAR SIR,—I beg to direct your attention to a communication I addressed you on the 18th inst., which I have reason to believe you received, but to which I have received no reply. Respecting the matter referred to, I repeat that I do not now, nor did I at the time Mr. Mara obtained your consent to having me posted as a defaulter, owe him anything. For your further information, the following is an excerpt from a letter received yesterday by my solicitors from Mara's solicitors:

Carnegie v. Federal is not yet settled. The decision of the chancellor left it a matter of account, and each side accordingly have been "figgering" it out. The bank's solicitors' figuring, shews that Carnegie owes them over $200; Carnegie's lawyer says that he figures out that the bank owes his client over $1000, and accordingly the master in chancery will check the figures over and give judgment accordingly. He has not yet fixed the date of hearing.

There is one point in all these cases yet to be decided, and those who are contemplating actions therein must take chances and the same according that a second contemplating actions therein must take chances are decided as a second contemplating actions therein must take chances are decided.

Barber Acquitted

We cannot say that Barber ought to have been convicted, and therefore cannot quarrel with the verdict of acquittal. We think that both he and Jeffry were negligent in not paying more attention to orders; but evidently the jury took the view that the orders were not definite enough. If that is the case, then the company had better see to it and revise its sysem or systems of running trains.

If the claims of the sufferers are settled without a law suit, then there will be no way of ascertaining who was really blameworthy in the matter, for the verdict of the coroner's jury went too far, the Barber jury merely said it was not him, and people will be left to form their own

But if this is not ascertained, how are we to have any assurance that another such accident will not happen to-morrow or

The Archbishop and the Masons. The respected archbishop of Toronto has been denouncing the freemasons in un measured terms, or more exactly, he has been telling the faithful that they cannot both be good catholics and freemasons.

We should judge however that Dr. Lynch misses the point when he attacks freemasons by reason of their being a secret organization. Beyond a few grips and signs we have never heard tell of their terrible secrets. Certainly they have no seerets connected with religion or government. They are neither atheists nor anarchists. We do know however, by their acts and their printed ritual, that they are both charitable and fraternal, that, proand uphold morality; and that, in so far as English-tongued peoples are concerned, they have no political ends in view.

But this latter has not been the cas with them in Europe. We believe there is historical evidence of their being political in their aims, and more or less revolutionary in the means they employed to attain their ends. And furthermore, we believe, it was its political aspect that first caused the church to oppose the order. But Eng. lish-speaking masons have never been open born and bred in that happy country famto this charge, and there does not seem to be any likelihood of their ever being so. But the fenians and the dynamiters are exactly of this class. They are secret organizations with a political end in view. and to attain which end they are sworn to employ any and every means, however inhuman, to take the life of any brother who betrays their secrets or objects, and to heed neither the warnings of priest nor pope if they are held over against them.

Now we take it that it is against such organizations as these that the church and her ministers be they of whatever creed, should warn their flocks; but we must say that freemasons do not appear to us do come within the category.

Not however do we wish it to be under stood that we think catholics ought to join masonic bodies. We advocate nothing of the kind. We should rather see men take more stock in the brotherhood of man, in deserving charity common to all, and in a general morality than in any society which professes to make a specialty of these.

The Globe on Banking. Not long ago the Globe had an article which tried to show, as clearly as figures can show anything, that owing to the shrinkage in bank stocks there had been a clear loss of six millions or more. Now the only loss sustained was by the speculators, and that was on the six or so millions of stock that was on the street. The great bulk of bank stock is in better shape to-day than it ever was and earning just as much money for its holders as it did before it began to shrink in value, as the Globe puts it. Any tumble has been from a fictitious value given by the speculators down to its legitimate level. Hence there has been no real loss, and on the whole the banking institutions of the country are in a better shape now than ever before.

And now that the speculation in stock is to be regulated by the decision of the chancellor in Carnegie v. Federal, and by a change from the muddle into which recent squabbles have brought stock broking, bank stocks, ought to show a slow and legitimate advance, and such a showing will do a great deal to restore confidence which is the thing lacking at present. the avenue, and stables to suit them will Scalps at a Premium. This is emphatically an age of material progress. The telephone, the telegraph and the electric light are constantly under going improvements and modifications, while the penetrating glances of science are daily discovering men and important facts. But, while Keeley is still working at his universal motor, and certain philanthropic gentry are devoting their inventive talents to the discovery of an infernal machine that will blow all the for so long a time vexed the minds of American statesmen. For a short period the new invention worked like a charm. The Indians of Arizona, the scene of the operations in questions, were paralyzed with terror, while the adventurous whites at length conceived such a contempt for their erstwhile foes that they went about unarmed, and the foothill sides and mountain slopes teemed with gold hunters and mineral prospectors.

Some time since the legislature of Arizona passed a law offering a bounty of $200 for every Apache scalp brought in. Notwithstanding the large sum offered, scalps came in but slowly, and at length it was discovered that the retaliatory measures adopted by the Indians prevailed, and that they captured more "har" than did their indefatigable hunters. Suddenly a change came over the spirit of their dream. A syndicate, composed of five gallant hunters, set earnestly to work and accomplished surprising results. Every two or three months these enterprising gentry returned laden with scalps, while one, who generally "turned in" from ter to fifteen more than either of his comrades. soon acquired the terrible cognomen o "The Indian Slayer of the Southwest." Wherever he went he was "the observed of all observers." When he entered saloon and called for "six fingers o' the nwariable," a crowd of sincere admirers fought to determine who should pay for the drink, while several of the most enthusias tic circulated a petition to have him appointed governor of the territory.

One day this enterprising Indian killer brought in the scalp of a celebrated Apa the brave, the hero of numerous assassina tions and the bearer of an elegant and ou phonious name. The scalp was received with joy by the authorities and was greeted with applause by the populace. But, strange to say, the owner of the aforesaid scalp, who had come to town for the purpose of supplying himself with the requisite amount of ammunition for a pro jected raid against the frontier settlenents, was present at the delivery and reception of the scalp. He waited until the enthusiasm had somewhat subsided, and then came forward and said: "Me big chief, me got um scalp yet : dat scalp no scalp; white man heap big fool." Such controvertible testimony called out universal comment and a strict examination of the numerous scalps brought in by the syndicate. Notwithstanding the friends of the latter endeavored to prove to the Apache that he was dead, he stoutly maintained to the contrary, and eventually succeeded in convincing his un willing hearers. Meanwhile a close scrutiny had elicited the fact that the scalps presented by the Indian slayers made and so artistically streaked with gore that even experts were deceived, and the government swindled out of a considerable um. Thus came to an abrupt termination a most promising industry, which deserved

The Confiscation Company and Its Plan of Operations.

To the Editor of The World. SIR: My apology for again trespassing on your space to reply to Confiscator, who dubs himself "a lover of Toronto," is that I have to-day obtained some further interesting information respecting the benevolent plans of the Toronto confiscation company. But first permit me to tell Confiscator that it is no part of my design to convince him by process of reasoning of the unjust plans of his company. It would be useless to apply to him what old Dr. Johnson immortalized by Boswell (not our mayor) would say on a similar provocation; "Sir, I have furnished you with a reason, but I am not bound to furnish you with an understanding." It is useless to try toconvince a man who is paid to remain unconvinced; and Confiscator as the paid advocate of the company has a hundred reasons in the shape of every hundred dol-lars he receives for defending the scheme, while the writer has no better reason for opposing it than the petition to the legislature which he read recently, signed by one hundred and twenty of the one hundred and fifty men who own all the land and houses on University and Centre streets and reside there, humbly requesting the government to veto the scheme. Most of he remaining thirty reside elsewhere, and only two persons out of the entire lot have indorsed the confiscation business the confiscation business. A prominent business man on Centre street formed the writer that Mr. Pretty dirulged his beautiful business scher him as follows: To build sixty residences for gentlemen on University street facing

There will be a janitor-policeman in charge of each building to maintain order and conduct quarrelsome women to the police station on washing days. It will thus be seen that while the gentlemen's recidences will face the avenue, the work-recidences will face the gentlemen's charge and conduct quarrelsome women to the number of shop licenses, but has left that power altogether to the discretion of the municipal councils. There is nothing in the Crooks act to prevent every grocer cobtaining a license unless the souncils the same and the souncils charge and the same and monarche and aristocracy of Burepe healthy aroma emanating from the gentle-men's stables.

Confiscator's allegation that the residents of University and Centre streets represent the poor of Toronto is utterly false. More than three-fourths of the residents of those streets own the houses and lands that they occupy, and rank as the most independent workingmen of Toronto. While many merchants and professional men and some of the promoters of the confiscation scheme are living in rented houses, those working-men can boast of living under no landlord, button their own property. In a young city like Toronto where there are numer-ous vacant lots and plenty of room ior exous vacant lots and plenty of room for ex-tension there is no justification for expro-priating lands for such a purpose. No one has asked for the confiscation except the has asked for the confiscation except the few persons who compose the company. The workingmen of Toronto are not a class of semi-paupers like the down-trodden laborers of London. The fact that our mechanics own the premises which they occupy on the streets proposed to be confiscated, is complete proof that they are industrious and provident. The fact that they refuse to sell out, and that nothing short of an expropriation bill will expel them from their homes is proof that they are not asking for pauper tenements. they are not asking for pauper tenements. Their incontestible ownership of their premises is conclusive evidence to every premises is conclusive evidence to every citizen (except the confiscation company) that they do not need the nine story pauper structures. It is self-evident that this confiscation scheme carries on its face its own refutation. As a plan of benevo-lence it reaches the acme of absurdity and being passed to prevent landlords there from expelling tenants, that it should be proposed to pass a bill here to evict house-holders. The whole scheme bears the iniquitous stamp of monopoly. Through it, the "cloven foot" is everywhere visible. The promoters of the plan should sell it to Jay Gould. It would be admirably suited as a managed roof to the worst monopole in a mansard roof to the worst tice. It would come with a better

To the Editor of The World. SIR: In yesterday's issue of your paper appears a letter concerning the petition which is now being circulated through the city for signatures, and asking the local legislature to grant the above-named company expropriatory powers. The writer complains of this, and, no doubt, in good faith, he assures us that the promoters of it are simply speculators, nothing more or less, and considers that the medical profession are simply acting for reasons I would scarcely accuse Artizan of, and he is may opponent, while the doctors are our com-

These powers are to appropriate lands densely populated by those who are uncleanly, dis-ipated and immoral and have rendered and a nuisance and a pest to their neig ors. These lands are not to be "con cated" as one gentleman has said, but are be valued, if the buyer and seller can not come to terms, by a board of arbitrators appointed in the usual way, whos decision is to be arrived at after a prope onsideration of the facts of the case. consideration of the facts of the case. But before any such proceedings take place the council of the city is to declare whether in their minds, the locality, which must be definitely pointed out with all necessary and intelligible references, is a fit and proper place for such steps to be taken. So that in the first place the people of our city are to declare through their representatives if they feel any locality to be of this unhealthy and obnoxious nature and then the owners are to be given every chance to the owners are to be given every chance to obtain the fair value of their property.

Then as to the houses which are to be built, no one can promise or exactly fore-see what their nature will be. The medial gentlemen who have signed the petition are thinking men, and I am sure have fully persuaded themselves that they will be bet-er. In this present cold weather there is ter. In this present cold weather there is not one of us but realizes what the want of a fire can be. In return for the powers granted them the company binds itself to heat the building in the most approved manner, so that these poor people will be able to enjoy a warmth which they seldom could before. The houses are to be well lighted and vantilated. There are to be could before. The houses are to be well lighted and ventilated. There are to be water closets, laundries are to be built under each house, in fact all modern conveniences as far as practicable are to be put in. And all can see that careless plumbing, etc., will only be a dead loss to the builders and owners. In return for this the rent, it is said, will be less than for the old cottages. This is converted. cottages. This is apparent. There will be no ground rent to pay, as is now the case, taxes will not be such a burden. And it is a well vouched fact that the present cottages pay a return of from 20 to 30 per cent on the outlay. Speculators or not, surely 15 per cent will satisfy the present builders. So that rents will be less; builders. So that rents will be less; health, I am sure, better; and comforts rovided that in the present condition of ings can not be afforded.

The act will in a few days come before r legislature, it is then the duty of all true citizens to be aware of the facts of the case, and to carefully decide which is better, new and healthy tenements or the present cottages. COMMON SENSE.

In this case the issue he tries to raise, viz,: that the council would sacrifice its dignity by using the power vested in them by the government, to use his own recover, but the men and women who are words "any council . . . would deserve to be kicked all the way from Sarnia serve to be kicked all the way from Sarnia or Windsor to the Ottawa river"—is not well chosen. have very properly availed themselves of this power, if I am not mistaken the bylaw of the Toronto eity council limits the number of shop licenses that may be issued to 100. Our city council might pass a by-law limiting the number to 20 or increasing it to 500 if they so chose. Again the councils of the province have the right within certain limits, and which right they have also exercised to fix the license fees to be paid for tavern and shop silicenses: just why in view of themselves. fees to be paid for tavern and shop licenses; just why, in view of these facts, they would lose in dignity by passing this other bylaw does not quite clearly appear to

A MODERN RESURRECTION.

Miracle That Took Place in Our Midst Unknown to the Public-The Details in Full.

Detroit Free Press. One of the most remarkable occurrences ver given to the public, which took place here in our midst, has just come to our knowledge and will undoubtedly awaken as much surprise and attract as great at tention as it has already in newspaper circles. The facts are briefly as follows:

Mr. William A. Crombie, a young man formerly residing at Birmingnam, a suburb of Detroit, and now living at 287 Michigan evenue in this city, can truthfully say that he has looked into the future world and yet returned to this. A representative of this paper has interviewed him upon this mportant subject, and his experiences are given to the public for the first time. He grace from the most rapacious Irish land-lord than from the Mayor of Toronto. It "I had been having most peculiar sensais doubtful if a more outrageous eviction was ever proposed in Ireland; and it is a singular coincidence that when bills are tions for a long while. My head felt dull and heavy; my eyesight did not seem so clear as formerly; my appetite was un certain and I was unaccountably tired. It was an effort to arise in the morning and yet I could not sleep at night. My mouth tasted badly, I had a faint all-gone sensation in the pit of my stomach that food did not satisfy, while my hands and feet felt cold and clammy. I was nervous and irritable, and lost all enthusiasm. At times my head would seem to whirl and my heart palpitated terribly. I had no energy, no ambition, and I seemed indifferent of the resent and thoughtless for the future. I tried to shake the feeling off and persuade myself it was simply a cold or a little malaria. But it would not go. I was determined not to give up, and so time passed along and all the while I was reting worse. It was about this time that I noticed I had begun to bloat fearfully. My limbs were swollen so that by pressing my timbs were swollen so that by pressing my ingers upon them deep depressions would be made. My face also began to enlarge, and continued to until I could scarcely see out of my eyes. One of my friends, describing my appearance at that time, said:

"It is an animated something, but I should like to know what. In this condition I passed several weeks of the greatest agony."
"Finally, one Saturday night, the misery culminated. Nature could endure no more. I became irrational and apparently more. I became irrational and apparently insensible. Cold sweat gathered on my forehead; my eyes became glazed and my throat rattled. I seemed to be in another sphere and with other surroundings. I knew nothing of what occurred around me, although I have since learned it was considered as death by those who stood by. It was to me a quiet state, and yet one of great agony. I was helpless, hopeess and pain was my only companion. I remember trying to see what was bejone me, but the mist before my eyes was too great. I tried to reason, but I had lost all power. I felt that it was death, and ealized how terrible it was. At last the strain upon my mind gave way and all was a blank. How long this continued I do not know, but at last I realized the presence of friends and recognized my mother. I then thought it was earth, but was not certain. I gradually regained consciousness, however, and the pain lessened. I found that my friends had, during my unconsciousness, been giving me a preparation I had never taken before, and the next day, under the influence of this treatment, the bloating began to disappear and from that time on I steadily improved, until to-day I am as well as ever before in my life, have no traces of the terrible insensible Cold sweat gathered

"You have had an unusual experience "You have had an unusual experience.
Mr. Crombie," said the writer who had been breathlessly listening to the recital.
"Yes, I think I have," was the reply,
"and it has been a valuable lesson to me. I am certain, though, there are thousands of men and women at this very moment who have the same ailment which came so who have the same ailment which came so near killing me, and they do not know it. I believe kidney discase is the most deceptive trouble in the world. It comes like a thief in the night. It has no certain symptoms, but seems to attack each one differently. It is quiet, treacherous, and all the more dangerous. It is killing more people to-day than any other one complaint. If I had the power I would warn the entire world against it, and firge them to remove it from the system before it is too late."

head & Mitchel, proprietors of the Birmingham Eccentric, paid a fraternal visit to this office yesterday, and in the course of conversation, Mr. Crombie's name was at All Furs at Reduced Prices for the next 30 days. "I knew about his sickness," said the editor, "and his remarkable recovery. I had his obituary all in type and announced in the Eccentric that he could not live until its next issue. It was certainly a most wonderful case. Rev. A. R. Bartlett, formerly pastor of the M. E. church, at Birmingham, and now of Schoolcraft, Mich., in response to a elegram, replied:

"Mr. W. A. Crombie was a member of my congregation at the time of his sickness. The prayers of the church were requested for him on two different occasions I was with him the day he was reported by his physicians as dying, and cons recovery almost a miracle."

> WOODBINE WINTER MEETING. Result of the First Day's Sport-The 2.34

Race Unfinished. The weather bestowed upon Canadian sportsmen is an interesting commodity. People who live outside the dominion can not at all realize it. In the melting rays of a July or August sun our lovers of sport turn out to see a horse race, a lacrosse match, a ball game or a turn at cricket. And with the mercury hovering above the lower bulb of the thermometer, 4000 people went out to Woodbine yesterday afternoon to see our crack trotters in cold weather trim. The track was in the pink of per very Saturday to the Turf, Field and fection. There were two events on the program, a 34 trot and the local trot. Three heats were trotted in the former with a fresh winner for each, while Char lev Henderson's mare walked off easily ith the latter in three straights.

The judges were Messrs. Wells of Aurora. Ferris of Brampton and Palmer of Richmond Hill. Walter Grant and Charley Wyman acted as clerks of the course. There were six starters in the 34 class, Black Diamond, Jim Mitchell, Royal Dan, St. Patrick, George B. and Little Walter. After seven or eight scores the horses got away for the first heat, with Jim Mitchell, St. Patrick and Little Walter on equa-terms, and the others well up. Jim Mitchell went to the front at the turn and held it to the finish in 2.58. While scor-ing for the second heat Mitchell caught his shoe in the sleigh of Black Diamond and was carried 20 yards before getting loose.

He was not however seriously injured. When the horses got away Little Walter, Mitchell and Royal Dan were at the front, but it was not long before Walter showed ahead of his companions, while Mitchell was getting over a bad break. Walte held the front till the finish in 2.59½. I the third heat George B., Walter and St. Patrick called the turn on the start, and shortly afterwards the Saint from Hamilton showed the tail end of his sleigh to the whole party. When he struck the head of the stretch, Royal Dan and Mitchell were pushing him and there was a hard finish, but St. Patrick kept his feet and speed so well that he finished a winner in 2.57.

In the third heat of the 2.34 class, turning into the stretch, Little Walter showed such a burst of speed that his sleigh spread and threw the driver (Joe Martin), over two yards. He held on to the reins and succeeded in stopping the horse before anyone was hurt.

sculling at the Antipodes, says Bell, are apparently beginning to get tired of waiting for Hanlan to make up his mind as to whether he will journey there or not, and whether he will journey there or not, and we learn that just prior to the departure of the last mail a couple of offers was received from the champion. He wishes either to row the best man in the colony for a purse of £1000, the sum of £300 remarkable falling off of entries in recent years. In 1877 the Lincolnshire handicap had 122, this year it has 68, the City and Suburban had 127 against 79, the Great Metropolitan had 63 against 39, the Northampton stakes 63 against 38, the Newmarket handicap 47 against 19, and the Chester cup 92 against 47. The aggregate of these races is 514 in 1877 against 290 in 1884, a falling off of nearly 50 per cent.

The Turf Record of Lord Falmouth. Lord Falmouth, who has recently retired from the English turf, leaves with not only an honorable name, but also with a career one of the most successful in turf annals. The following is a list of his vic-annals. The following is a list of his victories in thirteen years:

Twice winner of the Derby, with Kingcraft and Silvio.

The Two Thousand Guineas three times, with Atlantic, Charibert and Galliard.

The One Thousand Guineas four times, with Hurricane, St. Cecilia, Spinaway and Wheel of Fortune.

The very marked testimonials from College Professors, respectable Physicians, and other gentlemen of intelligence and character to the value of Warner's SAFE Cure, published in the editorial columns of our best newspapers, have greatly surprised me. Many of these gentlemen I knt w, and reading their testimony I was impelled to purchase some bottles of Warner's SAFE Cure and analyze it. Besides, i took some, swallowing three times the prescribed quantity. I am satisfied the medicine is not injurious, and will frankly add that if I found myself the victim of a serious kidney roughle I should use this preparation. The truth is, the medical profession stands dazed and helpless in the presence of more than one kidney malady, while the testimony of hundreds of intelligent and very reputable gentlemen hardly leaves room to doubt that Mr. H. H. Warner has fallen upon one of those happy discoveries which occasionally bring help to suffering humanity. His Outspoken Opinion.

A Pleasant Sleighing Party.

One of the most enjoyable sleighing par ties of the season took place to Eglington on Thursday evening. The gentlemen who own the yacht Condor never do things by halves. Without ostentation, everything they undertake is well and hospitably done.

They involve the season their Saturday atternoon the contributors to it being Miss A. Scott, During the season their Saturday atternoon sails and midsummer cruises are the finest and pleasantest on water, and in the winter their stag sleighing parties cannot be excelled. Starting from the American hotel, the sleighs bowled merrily along to the tooting of the horn straight up Yonge street to Oulcott's charming hostelrie at Eglington. It was a bitter cold night, but fur coats, mits and caps were plentiful, and these, accompanied by high good feeling, sufficed to make the keenest blasts pass the jolly Condors by without nipping an ear or even whiten-ing a moustache. The crew of the yacht tables were found laid out in a manner that could not fail to tempt the bluntest appetite to gorge and be full. Mr. John Cosgrave was nominated to take the chair. On his right was Mr. E. Hughes of Kidderminster, Eng., and on his left Mr. David Róberts. Among the other guests were Messrs. C. B. Doherty, S. McMaster, Fred Worts, and Priestman. When the cloth had been removed the evening was spent, with toast, song, and Important Decision for Shippers. Judge McDougall has just given judgment in an important case which recently came up before him in the division court. came up before him in the division court.

Eby, Blain & Co. shipped a quantity of slipper uppers to a firm in Buffalo through the Merchants' Despatch company. On entering the American port the latter company as usual paid the duty and some other charges which together amounted to more than the cost of the goods without being directed by the shippers. The goods were refused by the purchaser, and Messrs.

Eby, Blain & Co. refused to re-imburse the Despatch company for the amount of duty paid. Suit to recover the amount was therefore brought. The court decided that all charges paid by an express company in forwarding goods, even without the authority of the shippers must be paid by the latter. Judgment was accordingly given for the plaintiffs for $66, as claimed, with costs.

Caledonian Concert. A packed house last night rewarded the efforts of the Toronto Caledonian society to celebrate the anniversary of Robert Burns in a worthy and patriotic manner.
The pavilion was filled with people who did credit to their Scotch origin and what is even more satisfactory the concert was of a truly national character. The was of a truly national character. The singers were Jeanie Thorburn (New York), Maggie Barr (Hamilton), Charles Kelly and Thos. Hurst, and they presented a splendid program. Miss Thorburn made a great hit. She is a master of the Scottish dialect, and throws a great deal of pative feeling and throws a great deal of native feeling and expression into her singing. Her Caller Herrin' was a perfect gem in the way of character singing and delighted the audience to the highest poslighted the audience to the highest possible degree. Miss Barri's artistic and correct singing of the Bonnie Wee Wife, Down the Burn and other songs, was received with plenty of applause. Mr. Kelly has an Irish name, but he knows how to sing March o' the Cameron Men. His other songs were also very acceptable. The comic contributions of Mr. Hurst were up to his old mark. Mrs Blight was the accompanist. Not the least pleasing feature of the entertainment was the dancing of the Thistle troupe. They were arrayed in Highland costume and went through a number of Scottish dances in fine style.

The County Council. The county council sat till 3 o'clock yes terday afternoon, when it was adjourned until next Tuesday. Dr. McConnell's mo-tion ordering that toll gate No. 2, Dundas street, be removed outside the village of Brockton, carried. The council discusse favorably the proposition to grant a sum of money to the Humber sufferers, but action was deferred till Wednesday. The only members that voted for Mr. Turner's motion for a division of the county of York, were Messrs. Frankland, Jackson, Lloyd and Vannorman. No progress was made on the part of the council towards selecting a site for a new court house, nor is it likely any will be made at this sit-
