IMPORTANT CHANGES

Vigorous Trade and Commerce Policy.

FOSTER TO HAVE ASSISTANTS

Who Will Have Ministerial Rank?

More or Less New Blood To Be in the National Policy To Be Strengthened—A Broader Plan for Settling the Country—Separate Schools for Manitoba Impossible for the Present—A Strong Canadian and National Stand.

OTTAWA, Nov. 27.—There is no Ministerial crisis on the Governor-General's side in Toronto, several of the Ministers are out of town. Nevertheless there is an important Ministerial change in process of settlement.

Sir John Thompson is now the greatest center of political influence. He has accepted the task of forming an administration, and he is at the work with energy and determination. Sir John's hands are free and he has now his opportunity. So able a man as he is, and one who takes such pains to find out where he is and how the ground lies, is not likely to make any grave mistakes. Of the following things he is leaders of the World assure themselves as facts.

First, that Sir John Thompson has taken up the premiership with a firm determination to discharge its duties with no intention of abandoning a political career or using politics as a step to the chief justice'ship. He is into the game for all it is worth.

Next, he takes the premiership unpledged privately or publicly in any way on the Manitoba school question. He is free to do that.

Thirdly, Mr. Meredith is not to be of the new Cabinet.

Fourthly, that the minor Ministerial positions of Solicitor-General, Minister of Customs and Comptroller of Inland Revenue and the Cabinet and Ministerial position of first-class rank, viz., Minister of Trade and Commerce, as provided for in Sir John Macdonald's Act of several years ago, will be called into immediate existence.

This will give two additional seats in the Ministry, but reduce the Cabinet by one. Mr. Foster will be Minister of Trade and Commerce, and the other two seats will be under him with a Ministerial rank, but not of the Cabinet. With these two seats at his disposal Sir John will be able to reconstruct his Cabinet, and also introduce more or less new blood.

Now as to Sir John Thompson's policy. First and foremost it will be a policy strong in the direction of building up the Canadian Dominion. It will be pronouncedly national in the way of carrying out our international relations.

Sir John Thompson has, so it is admitted on all hands, unexcelled abilities for matching American diplomacy in the Behring Sea matter, in the fisheries disputes, and the question of the mails and he is the most competent man we have in the subject of our trade relations with our neighbors and of our still closer relations with England.

Sir John Thompson is especially able on all these questions, and he will have a strong Canadian policy on them all. This is the most important question in his character, and Sir John Thompson is the ablest man to handle it.

Next, Sir John may be expected to declare himself in no uncertain way as in favor of a progressive policy of industrial development. He has no intention of abandoning, but rather of strengthening the National Policy, of encouraging home manufactures, of keeping our own work for our own people and of making Canada self-reliant.

Part of this policy involves a vigorous plan for the settlement of our country. One of the two paramount questions then of our international relations is the settlement of our own country. Sir John will take a strong Canadian and national stand.

And now, to come to a secondary matter, but one which occupies a great deal of attention: The Manitoba school question.

As was said above, Sir John's approach to this question entirely unpledged. It is not a question that is likely to get into politics for some time to come, but on the contrary it will immediately get into the courts and be settled there. Manitoba, and the sympathizers of Manitoba in Ontario, need have no fears of that question.

The Roman Catholics have come to the Government and claimed that it should step in and grant them remedial legislation. The Government have referred them to a committee of their own members to hear their argument. That committee will arrange to have the whole question, as to whether the Government can interfere or not, submitted to the Government sitting something like an open court.

The Roman Catholics will be asked to establish a case, if they can, showing that such interference is constitutional. The Province of Manitoba will be given an equal opportunity of answering and showing that it is not. The press and the public will be admitted to the arguments. The Government will then decide on, not whether they have the powers of interference or not, but whether they will remit the question to the Supreme Court for decision or not.

The question may go no further than a decision, not even to submit the question to the court. All this will be done before Parliament meets. If the Government decide to submit the question to the court for a decision as to the powers of Parliament to interfere that will put the question for the time even be raised in Parliament in the coming session. If the court in the course of a year should decide that Parliament has the Government have the right to interfere then the question comes back to politics, and Sir John Thompson and his party must take a stand. By that time the question will be pretty well threshed out, and you will not find the Government disposed to interfere, even if they have the right. They are not going to make trouble for

MANY PASSENGERS HELD UP.

THREE MARKED MEN—ROB A WESTERN TRAIN.

Every Man in a Northern Pacific Car Held Up at the end of the Northern Pacific Railroad—The Women Unmolested—$1000 Taken and the Train Stopped the Train.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 25.—The overland westbound train on the Northern Pacific Railroad, which was held up last evening near Hot Springs by three masked men, who robbed all of the male passengers in the Pullman sleeper Wadena; six in all. The robbers entered the car, it is believed, at Hot Springs, as the train had not gone five miles when the men entered the rear first-class car. The first man they came across was E. H. Miller of Portland, Ore., who was in the smoking car and was released to the robbers in a gold watch and a pocket watch.

One of the highwaymen went to the extreme end of the car, while the other stood guard at the end they entered. All were dressed in dark clothes, overcoats, slouch hats, and were handkerchieved over their eyes. They placed revolvers at the heads of the passengers, and commanded them to hold up their hands, which order was immediately obeyed.

As the robbery was going on, S. J. Freedman of Portland, Ore., came in from an adjoining car, and he was not known to any of the robbers, which he hid.

MAY BE PRACTICAL.

Beneficial Results of the Monetary Conference Now Anticipated With a Greater Assurance of Confidence.

BURBANK, Nov. 27.—No meeting of the International Monetary Conference was held yesterday, the adjournment being until Monday.

There is considerable interest in the expected proposal of Mr. Alfred de Rothschild, one of the English delegates. The bi-metallicists are sanguine that the proposal will form the basis for a solution of the question of the conference.

Monometallicists declare that the conference is certain to fail, and it will only be a waste of time to prolong the discussion. The delegates from India are evincing great anxiety as to the issue of the conference. Among the rumors in circulation to which the delegates attach importance is that various European powers will yearly buy silver to the minimum amount of $100,000,000.

United States continues to insist on the extent of $4,000,000,000. Mr. De Rothschild refuses to give out his proposals until Monday, but the bi-metallicists insist that they contain a statement that an international syndicate should be formed to buy silver until normal value is re-established.

It is now understood that the proposal which Alfred de Rothschild of the British delegates submit to the monetary conference is a well conceived and long thought plan for an international monetary fund and not a mere project of a silver agreement and that the bi-metallicists have created among the delegates that the conference will have practical results.

A feeling of greater confidence has been created among the delegates that the conference will have practical results. The bi-metallicists have created among the delegates that the conference will have practical results.

The interest taken by the Italian Government in the monetary conference is shown by the fact that the Italian Government has sent a representative to the conference and the false impressions conveyed by certain European papers are strongly refuted by the delegates of all opinions.

Indeed it has caused the Russian delegate to make a statement of bi-metallicism, to-night to announce his intention of bringing the matter before the conference. The bi-metallicists are evincing great interest in the monetary conference.

BOISE CITY, Idaho, Nov. 27.—The Court D'Alene riots of last summer seem destined to productive of international complications.

One of the foreigners arrested in July by the military authorities for aiding and abetting rioters has prevailed on his Government to demand redress from the United States.

The man in question is Alexander R. Chisholm of Warden, a subject of Quebec, Victoria.

He alleges that on July 17 he was, by order of Colonel Carlin of the 4th Infantry, arrested and thrown into jail. There he was compelled to remain until Sept. 20, without examination or trial, his protestations of British citizenship proving unheeded.

SUPPRESSED ORATORY IN LONDON.

The Police Prevent Anarchists from Holding a Meeting in Trafalgar Square—No Arrests Were Made.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—Trafalgar Square yesterday the scene of a rather serious and very motley crowd which required police supervision, though no serious conduct occurred.

The anarchists had obtained permission to hold a meeting in the square to-day, but the anarchists abandoned their intention of holding a meeting.

Louis Michel and a number of foreigners on entering the square were informed by the police that no meeting would be allowed. The women said they had been invited to a meeting, but the police would not allow it.

A Frenchman, Guerin, surrounded by a crowd of foreigners, held his protest against the suppression of the meeting. He said that the English Government had handed France over to the police and that he had come to London to denounce the English Government.

He was shouting excitedly to another small crowd of foreigners who had gathered around him. He said that he had adopted a resolution condemning the extradition of the anarchists and that he would not be called upon to make any arrests.

Friends of France said that they had demanded higher wages, or in their opinion to reduce wages.

There is also a large influx of Russian and Polish women who are gradually drifting into the country in search of work. They are being driven out of work by the competition of the English women.

The only class that favors free immigration is the manufacturer. They hold that the operatives in the textile industries as a menace of what might happen if the operatives are too persistent in their demands for higher wages, or in their opposition to reduced wages.

As some of the newspapers are owned by capitalists in the interest of manufacturers, such newspapers are very chary of dealing with the subject. Workingmen, however, are alive to their interests and will not let their Parliamentary representatives.

MRS. DEACON TO LEAVE FRANCE. She Thinks She Will Find More Suitable Society in America.

PARIS, Nov. 27.—The Mother Superior of the Convent of the Assumption declines to take back Gladys, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Parker Deacon, and whose custody is in dispute between the parents.

The Court of Appeals ordered that Gladys be returned to this convent pending the matrimonial proceedings for divorce. The Mother Superior says that she has had enough scandal and trouble in connection with the case, and that the convent has been injured thereby.

Mr. Deacon insists that the order of the court should be obeyed by his wife, Mrs. Deacon, and not oppose his suit for divorce. He is now in America.

Mr. Deacon is indelible and has refused the proposition. Mrs. Deacon now declares that she will go to America shortly, where she thinks she will find society more tolerable than in France.

Senator Leona Eymand has lately been paying considerable attention to Mrs. Deacon, and his interest in her case is causing comment and gossip in Paris.

TORONTO FRUITERS SWINDLED.

A Cincinnati Firm of Produce Dealers Who Deceived Many Canadians—Got Away With $50,000.

McWilliam & Everett, W. Ryan and other Toronto produce men have been made the victims of a clever swindle, the members of the firm known as Bemis, Staunton & Co. having "slipped out" from Cincinnati, leaving numerous creditors. There were only two in the firm, Bemis and Staunton. It is now believed that these names are fictitious and that their proper names are Smith and Jones.

They arrived at Cincinnati about a month ago, and bought out an old-established produce commission house at dark last night, and while passing through a dark place in the street were confronted by two men, who commanded them to hold up their hands.

Cooper's friends obeyed instantly, as the strangers had them covered. Cooper, who was noted for his fearlessness, coolly asked: "What do you want?"

At that instant one of the robbers fired and Cooper fell, shot through the heart. The other robber, who was named as Cooper, was also shot through the heart. The robbers fled. Cooper lived six hours after receiving the wound, but never regained consciousness. There is no clue to the murderers.

John McVicar, an old almost helpless man residing near Venastock, was also murdered last night. He lived alone in his hut and was supposed to have considerable money. The body was found this morning near the hut, with the head cut open and a bullet hole through the body.

Both names had been ransacked. The officers are investigating the case. The people have become alarmed, and a protective association, similar to the vigilance committee, will be organized. A similar organization already exists among railroad men, but is being run out of all lawlessness is to be inaugurated.

The license of Mrs. Rosina Moore was revoked yesterday by the Excise Board. She is a Torontonian and went to Buffalo to open a saloon on Good-street, Inspector DeBary became aware of the fact that she was an alien and brought her before the board. She claimed that the application and affidavit were drawn up for her, and she did not know that they contained any such statements. She was reprimanded and warned not to again render herself liable to a charge of perjury. She was not deported because she is getting rid of her Toronto property with the intention of living on the other side.

DOMINION BANK CHANGES.

A Number of Promotions in the Head Office and Branches.

Owing to the recent death of Mr. Walter Darling, late Inspector of the Dominion Bank, several important changes have been made in the staff of the institution. Mr. Darling had been succeeded as inspector by Mr. T. G. Brough, late manager of the Toronto branch of the bank. Mr. W. W. Nation, late manager as Brampton, takes Mr. Brough's place as manager of the Toronto branch. Mr. E. H. Holden, the late efficient discount clerk at the Toronto office, has been promoted to the position of Mr. Brough's assistant. Mr. E. A. Beggs of the Toronto staff takes Mr. Holden's place as discount clerk. All the promotions are good ones and well deserved.

Many Arrests, Good Times. Twenty prisoners were sent over the Don yesterday morning, the result of the previous night's gathering. "That is the largest number for some months." The largest number of prisoners in the world. "That is evidence that times are getting better. At least that is how we look upon it. Do you know we have not sent as many over the Don this fall as usual." Of course the fact that the sergeant has now power to discharge drunken men having something to do with the falling in on the number.

"What is the proportion of the prisoners discharged in this way to the number of arrests?" "I should think two-thirds."

Lost a Hat and Moustache. John Mulcahy of 59 Canton-street and his brother Martin went out for a walk yesterday evening and met two of the Saturday boys, Brown and William Thompson. During the evening a felt hat belonging to Brown and Thompson was stolen. The boys found their way into the possession of the Mulcahy's. They were arrested by P. C. Macdonald (183) on a charge of highway robbery.
