We feel sure that he will fill his new position in the Department of Education at Toronto with credit to himself and all concerned and congratulate him on his being appointed to a more lucrative position.

The sleet storm of Thursday and Friday last was the worst experienced in Western Ontario for the past twenty years. Hydro and telephone lines broke with the heavy coating of ice more than an inch and a half thick, poles collapsed by the score under the tugging of ice-coated wires and the result was chaos. Fruit farmers were hard hit by such a storm and the loss by broken trees and bushes is beyond estimation. In town fruit and shade trees suffered greatly; barely a tree escaped, and broken limbs strewn the walks and roadways, many branches falling on hydro and telephone wires, bringing them down to the ground. Some large trees were split from top to base and the sound of breaking and falling limbs during Thursday and Friday nights resembled skirmishing gun fire. The danger to pedestrians from falling limbs and ice was great and there were several narrow escapes from injury. Hydro power went out of commission on Thursday afternoon and it was not until late Monday afternoon that sufficient repairs were made to again supply the juice. The telephone lines were also badly crippled and in the townships it will take many days before the poles can be erected and wired. Many users in town will be without phone connection for some days although linemen are busily working to put things in shape. The stores did business under a big handicap Saturday night, lamps and candles having to take the place of electricity. All the churches except Trinity called off the evening service Sunday, this church alone holding a short service in the school room lighted with oil lamps.

WILLIAMS—ROSS

The handsome church of St. Paul's Wisbeach, made still more beautiful by flowers, streamers and evergreen, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Wednesday, March 29th, 1922, when Miss Margaret G. Shore officiated, and Mrs. Shore played the wedding march as the bride was escorted by the aisle by Mr. William A. Williams of Arkona. The bride wore a gown of white duchess satin and georgette trimmed with pearl beads, with hat to match and carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses. She was attended by Miss Donna L. Tanner who wore a gown of white canton crepe, trimmed with silk bouquet, with hat to match and carried a bouquet of roses. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Alfred C. Williams of Watford. After the ceremony the bridal party proceeded to the groom's home, where a dainty luncheon was served.

Iles and presented Miss Margaret Ross with a miscellaneous shower prior to her marriage. Part of the afternoon was spent in games after which two of the little girls carried in a basket containing the presents and gave them to Miss Ross. ### GIVE THEM THE FLOWERS NOW

Closed eyes can't see the white roses,
 Cold hands can't hold them you know,
 Breath that is still cannot gather
 The odors that sweet from them blow.
 Death, with a peace beyond dreaming
 Its children of earth doth endow;
 Life is the time we can help them,
 So give them the flowers now.
 Here are the struggles and striving,
 Here are the cares and tears;
 Now is the time to be smoothing
 The frowns and the furrows and fears.
 What to closed eyes are kind sayings?
 What to hushed heart is deep vow?
 Naught can avail after parting,
 So give them the flowers now.
 Just a kind word or a greeting;
 Just a warm grasp or a smile—
 They are the flowers that will lighten
 The burdens for many a mile.
 After the journey is over,
 What is the use of them, how
 Can they carry them who must be carried?
 Oh, give them the flowers now.
 Blooms from the happy heart's garden
 Plucked in the spirit of love;
 Blooms that are earthly reflections
 Of flowers that bloom above;
 Words cannot tell what a measure
 Of blessings such gifts will allow
 To dwell in the lives of many
 So give them the flowers now.

LORD BYNG OF VIMY

Lord Byng was born on September 11th, 1862 and was the seventh son of the 2nd Earl of Strathford.
 It was with the 10th Royal Hussars that he started his military career in 1883. In 1898, he was promoted to the rank of Major and in 1901 to Colonel, while in the South African campaign.
 While serving in the Sudan Expedition, in 1884 at El Tel and Tamai, he was awarded a medal with clasp, Khedive's Star, and in the South African campaign, he was mentioned in despatches and won the Queen's Medal with six clasps and the King's Medal.
 In 1902, Lord Byng took command of the 10th Royal Hussars and held it until 1904, when he joined the Cavalry School at Netheravon.
 He became Major General in 1909 after having commanded the 2nd Cavalry Brigade from 1905 to 1907, and the first Cavalry Brigade from 1907 to 1909.
 For the next two years, he was with the East Anglian Division and in 1912, took command of the forces in Egypt.
 He married Marie Evelyn in 1902, whose books, "Barriers" and "Anne of the Marshland," published in 1912 and 1913 respectively, have been well received, and who was the oldest child of Hon. Sir Richard Moreton, K.C.V.O.
 Lord Byng stepped into the great war in 1914 and in a short time became recognized as an expert general in modern warfare.

 His brilliant record with the Canadian Corps will never be forgotten in the annals of Canadian history.

"UNTO THE LEAST OF THESE"

Millions of children in the famine districts of Russia are dying by inches because of the apathy of many well-fed people who say: "Russia is a long way off and charity should begin at home. And anyway Russia deserves her chastisement."
 Yes, charity should begin, but not end at home.
 Why should Canadians who came through the war and its terribles after math better off, perhaps, than any of the belligerent peoples refuse to hearken to the piteous cries of women and children in whatever country they may be placed? The sufferers of the Volga contributed nothing to the causes which have made the Soviet a pariah among the nations of the earth. Then why should we be content to flourish in a land which flows with milk and honey while innocent babes, many of whom were unborn when the war began, are left to wither and die for the lack of the nourishment that a few pennies will buy?
 The Russian famine is the concern of every man, woman and child in Canada who is moved by charitable impulses, every individual numbered among the chosen on the right hand of the King to whom shall be said: "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me."
 The Canadian Save the Children Fund Committee has undertaken to raise subscriptions for relief of these children. All monies raised will be spent on food and supplies purchased in Canada. There is no doubt about these reaching the children, for distribution is made through British channels, which guarantee that the children get the food. Subscriptions may be sent to Sir George Burn, Treasurer of the Save the Children Fund Committee, Elgin Building, Ottawa, Ontario, or they may be made through your local organization.

LABOR TROUBLES ON TEA PLANTATIONS

The high wages paid to workers on the tea plantations in India and Ceylon during the war, and the present scarcity of the leaf, have led to a constantly increasing price for good tea. It is rumored that the cost of producing tea, which has advanced between 12 and 16 cents a pound during the last eighteen months, will soon make necessary a general increase in retail prices.

DEATH OF MRS. DAVID TANTON

The death of Mrs. David Tanton, occurred Monday night, March 20th, in Victoria Hospital, London, where she was taken the Friday previous for treatment. The deceased was Cora Alberta, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Wight, of London, formerly of 2nd con., Bosanquet, and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wight, Sr., Bosanquet. She had been seriously ill for nine weeks with neuritis and suffered greatly. She was born on the 2nd con. of Bosanquet, Sept. 14, 1894, and lived in Bosanquet until seven years ago, when she married David Tanton of West Williams and since then has lived in West Williams. Her husband survives her with three small children Robbie, Donna Pearl, and an infant son, aged 4 weeks. Also her mother and father and five sisters and two brothers: Mr. Lorne Brebner, Bosanquet; Mrs. Hubert Jackson, and Norman Wight, of Sarnia; Mrs. Roland Walton and Maggie, Forest, and Ethel and Orval at home in London.
 The funeral took place Thursday afternoon from Robt. Tanton's, West Williams', services were conducted by Rev. Jones, pastor of Baptist church, Arkona. The bearers were six neighbors; John Roland, John Caves, Lawrence McIntosh, Robert Fraser, Chas. Clarke and Robert Dale. A duet was sung by Miss Caves and Miss Nicholson. The friends and relatives who attended the funeral from a distance were the father and mother, sisters and brothers above mentioned with the exception of Mrs. H. Jackson who was unable to attend. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wakefield, Port Huron; Hubert Jackson, Sarnia; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hill, Stewart Wilson and Mr. Joe Morrison, of Brantford. Interment took place in Arkona cemetery.

HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE

Those who are in a "run down" condition will notice that Catarrh bothers them much more than when they are in good health. This fact proves that while Catarrh is a local disease, it is greatly influenced by constitutional conditions. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is a tonic and Blood Purifier, and acts through the blood upon the mucous surfaces of the body, thus reducing the inflammation and restoring normal conditions.

DEATH OF WM. LOOSEMORE

The death occurred at his home on Monday, March 27, of William Loosemore, in his 87th year, following a brief illness.
 Deceased was born at North Molton, Devonshire, England, September 21, 1835, and after the death of his wife came to Exeter, Ontario, with his seven children, subsequently moving to the township of Brooke where he lived for about 30 years. He afterwards resided in Inwood for a year and then moved to Glenoe. The surviving members of his family are Peter and William, of Eddy's Mills, and Mrs. John McMillan, Miss Mary Loosemore and Mrs. George Westcott of Glenoe. He also leaves eleven grandchildren and one great-grandchild.
 The funeral service was conducted at his late home, Victoria street, on Wednesday morning, by Rev. T. J. Charlton, rector of St. John's church after which interment was made in Alvinston cemetery. Six nephews of the deceased acted as pallbearers.

OF PASSING INTEREST

The French scholar Marcell is propounding the theory that the human race will eventually die of thirst. Some of them look as if they are doing that already.
 Two million tons of shipping are idle in United Kingdom ports, and the position of American shipping is even worse. At the same time shippers complain that the rates are too high.
 To avoid multiplicity of litigation, an Indiana man charged with having married eleven different women, has requested his victims to merge their claims and bring action as a syndicate.
 An interesting item in the Ontario public accounts shows that last year 1973 was refunded to purchasers of marriage licenses who apparently changed their minds on the steps of the altar.
 Figures show that the birth rate among the Indians in the United States is exceeding that of the death rate, and the tribes are advancing along various lines of health, business and education.
 The adoption of the new Adolescents Act by the city of London in September next will mean that 15 additional teachers will have to be employed, a larger truant staff will be necessary, and the total expenditure engendered will amount to about $15,000 a year.
 Talking about trusts—it is said that the country newspaper is the biggest trust on earth. It trusts everyone, gets cussed for trusting, mistrusted for cussing, and if it busts for trusting, gets cussed for busting. There is only one way to bust the trust—pay your subscription.
 The Bible Crusade Society is now preparing a giant Bible five feet high written by hand. Two thousand people have contributed to making it and twelve goat skins make up the cover. It is mounted on a motor car with pulpit and platform and sent on a tour through England, later coming to America.
 It is stated that five well-known New York financiers will establish a floating "booze palace," to be anchored outside the three-mile limit and to and from which a special ferry will be run. The promoters have been assured by lawyers that the project is within the law, and already business men have made application for ferry tickets amounting to several hundred thousand dollars.
 The civic authorities of Calgary are aiming to have 10,000 trees planted in the parks and on the streets of that city in 1922. Other cities and towns on the prairies have also planned tree-planting campaigns. This planting of trees in urban communities, along with the millions of trees now being planted annually on prairie farms, will in a few years make a great change in the aspect of the Prairie provinces.
 There is now considerable speculation about tariff changes in the coming Canadian budget. The general presumption is that they will be in a downward direction and it is rumored they will affect the duties on agricultural implements, on machinery used for productive purposes in mines and fisheries, on boots and shoes and some articles of food. The revisions are not expected to be large for the moment, but they will be brought forward as an earnest of the intention to carry out a thorough revision as soon as some investigation of the whole fiscal system by Fielding has been possible.
 If one be troubled with corns, he will find in Holloway's Corn Remover an application that will entirely relieve suffering.

WILL LEAVE PETROLEA

Mr. Neil McDougall, who has been Public School Inspector in East Lambton, for the last fifteen years, succeeding the late Inspector Barnes, has been appointed to a responsible position in the Education Department at Toronto and is expected to take up his new duties as soon as possible. An arrangement has been made with Warden Davis and the Minister of Education by which he will continue to have full charge of the work in East Lambton inspectorate until a successor is appointed at the June meeting of the County Council. Mr. McDougall will spend a portion of his time in the inspectorate and will endeavor to complete the work of the term, as far as possible before the mid-summer vacation.

Mr. McDougall's appointment means his ultimate removal from Petrolea where he has long occupied a warm spot in the hearts of his fellow citizens and while his new position will give a larger field to his admittedly unusual talents, it is with sincere regret that this announcement is made. As a public spirited citizen he will indeed be hard to replace, and nowhere has he been of more value than on the Board of Hospital Trustees of which body he is chairman. Petrolea Topic-Advertiser.

PETROLEA

Mr. Hall Woods, who recently disposed of his oil property and residence, and whose removal from town appeared possible, has decided to remain in this vicinity and has purchased Mr. Morris Duggan's residence known as the Lawyer property, Lawyers corner, consisting of twenty-seven acres.

Mr. A. W. Freer, who sold his farm on the 8th line a couple of years ago to Leonard Parmentier re-purchased the property last week and takes possession on April 5th. Mr. Freer has sold his property in Petrolea to Mr. John Metcalf, ex-councillor of Enniskillen. Mr. Parmentier is moving on to James Mann's property on the 8th line, owned by his son.

The funeral of William Pratt on Tuesday was one of the most largely attended ever held in Petrolea. The service was conducted in the Baptist church by the pastor the Rev. Wm. Rathby assisted by Rev. J. D. Richardson of the Methodist church, the Rev. J. Monds of the Presbyterian church and the Rev. Mr. Lechlitter of Adelaide Street Baptist church, London, of which Mr. Pratt was a charter member. The church was crowded.

Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed the home of Mr. James Hessey, Huggard street, on Friday morning, causing a loss of $1500, which was partially covered by insurance, $500 on the building and $500 on the contents. No person was in the house at the time. Mrs. Hessey, who had been to see her sister-in-law who was ill, was returning home when she noticed smoke issuing from the house. An alarm was given but by the time the firemen arrived the fire had gained such headway that it was impossible to save the building. The firemen directed their attention to saving the adjoining buildings, one of which is owned by Mr. W. R. Smith. The latter is very grateful to those who helped save his property.

Jack Stokes of the St. Helens Petroleum company in the Midway Sunset Oil fields, left today for San Francisco where he will remain for a few days before leaving for Trinidad, West Indies. Stokes has accepted a responsible position as general manager for the company at this far away point, the position being given him in recognition of his ability shown while superintendent of the company here. Recently Stokes sent ten drillers to Burnah, India, under a three-year contract to work for the Burmah Oil Company.—Taft, California, Driller. Mr. and Mrs. Stokes and Mrs. S. Stokes, who has been spending the winter in California, arrived in Petrolea on Saturday.

KEEP BABY WELL IN THE SPRING

Mothers who have little ones in the home find the Spring a time of great anxiety. At this season conditions make it necessary to keep the baby indoors. He is often confined to overheated and badly ventilated rooms and catches colds which rack his whole system. To guard against this a box of Baby's Own Tablets should be kept in the house and an occasional dose given the baby to keep his stomach and bowels working regularly. This will prevent colds; constipation or colic, and keep baby well. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

SHE FOUND RELIEF AFTER FIVE YEARS

An Ex-Service Man Tells How His Wife Found New Health.

"I wish to testify," says Mr. R. A. F. Hughes, of Hamilton, Ont., "as to the efficiency of your Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for the following reasons: "When I returned home in May, 1919, after nearly five years absence on army service, my wife had changed from a healthy, robust woman, to one whose life was a burden and ordinary duties almost impossible. Trough war worries, loneliness and other factors contributed through my unavoidable absence, her health had been steadily undergoing what I might describe as an undermining process, for years.

"I was fully aware from her letters that I would not find her the same woman, but, when I reached home, I was terribly shocked to find her in the condition she was in. Her healthy color had changed. She seemed bloodless and her skin was sallow. She was weak and listless, and with difficulty moved about the house. She hardly ever moved out of the house as she became so short of breath and feared she would fall during one of her dizzy spells, which she said were becoming more frequent.

"The day I arrived home I visited our doctor, who is an old friend, and later through his advice, consulted with another physician of this city. Everything was done that could be done, and many medicines were prescribed and faithfully taken. As these were of no avail I trusted that time alone would suffice to build up what had gradually been undone in the course of five years. After twelve months, conditions had become worse. Then I decided on change of air, gave up my position in the city and moved to the country. Even this did not do any good. I think it added to her depression.

"One day a friend visited us and as a result of their conversation my wife made up her mind to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

"I had not much faith in what I did, but procured three boxes. This happened nine months ago. I was surprised to hear my wife say, after about the tenth day, 'I believe these pills are doing me good.' A week or so after that I certainly believed they were, for I saw color returning to her cheeks and the sallow, unhealthy color disappearing. The pills were certainly doing what you claim they will do, and of her own free will she continued them for about three months. At the end of this time she seemed quite a different woman. Life was worth living. The listlessness had gone and she could walk up the steep hill, which is half a mile long, leading to our house, without the slightest inconvenience. At this stage she discontinued the pills and she is just as well now as ever she was.

"Now sir, I want to say I have faith in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, as I have had proof, and I believe that what this medicine did for my wife, it can do for others."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

FOREST

A Horticultural Society has been organized here.

Wallace Karr and family moved to Sarnia on Tuesday where they will make their home.

Mr. A. G. Morrison, town, has purchased Wm. Ross' 150 acre farm on the 12th of Bosanquet.

The cucumber pickling station in Forest will not be in operation the coming season, according to instructions issued by the owners, Libbey, McNeil & Libby.

Word was received in Forest of the death of Mrs. Duncan McDougall, a former resident of Forest, which occurred at her home in Highland Park, Sunday morning following a week's illness. She is survived by her husband and three daughters: Mrs. Wm. C. Cowling; Mrs. Earl Hoffman and Miss Alice McDougall of Detroit. The McDougall family moved to Detroit about ten years ago, from Port Huron, Mich., Mr. William Seaton, town is a brother of deceased. Mrs. Seaton attended the funeral.

What might have been a serious accident occurred on Monday last when A. Wilkinson and team of horses fell over the bank near his home, south of the town. Mr. Wilkinson, who is having some improvements done to his house and dumping it on the Pickering lot opposite when one horse fell down drawing the other one with him. Team and load with Mr. Wilkinson on top rolled over and over until they reached the bottom of the ravine. With the exception of broken harness no damage was done and no one hurt.

A man may be cruel to a horse but he invariably throws a rug over his radiator in freezing weather.

In the old days a man used to build up a fortune from a shoestring. Nowadays he does it from a bootleg.

We hear that fish are coming out of a California oil well. It is generally suckers that are taken in on oil well stock, but this is somewhat of a change.

It seems strange that a reduction in sugar should be advertised just at the maple syrup season. Is there any connection?

They are itching to get on the lot
To dig and rake and hoe;
The spell will surely work off

An ancient writer said "Nature clothed women in beauty," and the women of the present day do not believe much in hiding Nature's handiwork.

There are some men in our town

They honk and honk their auto horns
And give pedestrians the jumps.

We do not care much to hear a girl announce that she rolls her own; but we are strong for the wife and mother who says the same with reference to pie crust.

If Sir Walter Raleigh were on earth to-day we suppose he would be more apt to want to wrap his coat around one of our shivering "queens" than to lay it down for her to walk over.

I love to watch a rooster crow—

Who brag and bluster, ramp and shout,
And beat their manly chests without

If we have many more sleet storms like the one last week that demoralized the hydro-electric system and broke down so many wires, we will have to consider the advisability of having the power transmitted from Niagara by wireless.

If you doubt this ask the first dozen men you meet the following questions:—

When did the R34 cross the Atlantic?
Who was her pilot?
On what date was Lord Kitchener drowned?
What was the name of the ship that blew up and almost wiped out the city of Halifax?
What German submarine torpedoed the Lusitania?
It is a safe bet that you would not get one correct answer.

I wish to call your attention to the fact that Delco-Light is reduced to below pre-war prices.

Every progressive farmer today is interested in electric light and power for the farm, especially for the benefits which the women on the farm derive from its use, in regards to washing, churning, ironing, separating and pumping, not to mention the convenience and safety of the lights.

An exploding lantern in your barn would set you back the price of quite a few Delco-Light plants.

Therefore with Delco-Light and wiring reduced to its present basis electricity is within reach of every farmer.

Don't Wait Until Fall. Get it NOW and have its benefits.

If interested give me a call and let me tell you all about it. It cost nothing to find out.

TORTURED BY KIDNEY TROUBLE

Quickly Relieved By Short Treatment With "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

MADAM LALONDE

170 CHAMPLAIN ST., MONTREAL, P. Q.

"I am writing to tell you that I owe my life to 'Fruit-a-tives'. This fruit medicine relieved me when I had given up all hope of recovering my health.

"I suffered terribly from Kidney Trouble, Dyspepsia and Weakness. I had these troubles for years and all the medicine I took did not do me any good.

"I read about 'Fruit-a-tives' and I tried them. After I had taken a few boxes, I was entirely relieved of the Kidney Trouble, and Dyspepsia, and had gained in strength.

"I hope those who suffer with Kidney Trouble, Dyspepsia and Weakness will take 'Fruit-a-tives' to recover their health."

JEANNETTE LALONDE.

One of the most effective vermifuges on the market is Miller's Worm Powders. They will not only clear the stomach and bowels of worms, but will prove a very serviceable medicine for children in regulating the infantile system and maintaining it in a healthy condition. There is nothing in their composition that will injure the most delicate stomach when directions are followed, and they can be given to children in the full assurance that they will utterly destroy all worms.

Lincense Inspector W. J. Coulter of Sarnia, received word Saturday of the death of his mother, Mrs. Annie Coulter, which occurred in the City of Woodstock at six o'clock that day. The late Mrs. Coulter, who was in her ninetieth year, is survived by four sons and four daughters.

Quickest for Healing

A cut sustained in the workshop, a sore which is unattended, results in inflammation or blood-poisoning. You have to lay off for a day or two and it counts when pay-day comes round. Zam-Buk insures you against such loss!

A little antiseptic Zam-Buk promptly applied to any flesh wound or injury prevents disease infection and risk of festering and ulceration, and takes away smarting pain and promotes quick healing.

At home a box of Zam-Buk is ever so useful. The baby's nasty rashes, the older children's cuts and bruises, the inevitable burn, or scald—for all these, as well as for more serious skin troubles, such as eczema, ulcers, ringworm, etc., Zam-Buk is the unrivalled remedy.

Mr. J. W. Besnard, 589, Craig St. E., Montreal, writes:—"Two of my fingers were so severely crushed that the doctor said they would have to be amputated. I decided to try Zam-Buk first, and applied the balm daily. Within a few weeks the injury was completely healed. My fingers were saved." 50c. box, all dealers.

JOHN BROWN'S RAID.

Plot Was Hatched in the Town of Chatham.

The average traveler on the C.P.R. betwixt Toronto and Windsor, when he gazes out the car window during the brief wait at Chatham, never realizes that, within a stone's throw of the spot, stands the building in which John Brown's famous conspiracy was hatched—that conspiracy which, culminating in the raid on Harper's Ferry, did much to precipitate the American Civil War.

According to local tradition, however, John Brown's conspiracy was planned, more than 60 years ago, in a room of what is now a red-painted brick house, just east of the C. P. R. station. To-day, somewhat diminished from its original imposing proportions, the building houses the townerman who is on duty at the immediately adjacent street crossing.

Sixty years and more ago, the present structure was a four-tenement building, and one of the "show places" in the older portion of Chatham. Between 25 and 30 years ago, when the C. P. R. was run through Chatham, half of the building was torn down. Still later, the remaining two tenements were converted into a single residence; and as such the building survives to-day.

Chatham, in the two decades preceding the Civil War, was one of the northern terminals of the celebrated "underground railway" organized by American abolitionists to facilitate the escape of negro slaves to Canada. Large numbers of the escaped slaves settled in Windsor, Chatham and various points in Essex and Kent Counties; and several townships were laid out at that time as model negro communities. These townships are still shown on old maps, but the communities themselves, unlike Topsy, never "grewed," or, if they attained any proportions, have, with one or two exceptions, long since dwindled into insignificance, with the departure of the greater portion of the colored population.

In the latter '50's, however, Southwestern Ontario contained a large negro element, and many of the escaped slaves had established themselves in business, and were ambitious, well-educated and well-to-do. So when "Ossawatimie" Brown, nursing his daring scheme of freeing the slaves at a single stroke, looked about for support, he turned naturally to the negro settlements in Southwestern Ontario for funds and helpers.

The exact date of the conference at which the raid was planned is not preserved in the local tradition. It seems probable that John Brown visited Chatham on several occasions in connection with his work for the slaves. The conference probably took place late in 1858, or early in 1859.

The Chatham structure is often carelessly referred to as "the Holden house." The owner, however, was a colored man named Eli Holton. Holton was present at the meeting held by John Brown. So was Isaac Holden, another prominent colored man. Both were big men, physically, and leaders in the colored community. E. C. Cooper and a little man named Harris, with several others, took part in the conference.

To what extent Brown secured support, financial and otherwise, is not known. The details of the meeting were, naturally, kept secret at the time; and what little the public ultimately knew came out, most of it, after the raid.

It was on Oct. 17, 1859, that the Chatham conference bore fruit in the startling raid on Harper's Ferry, in Northern Virginia, where Brown, with several of his sons and a number of other white men, seized the national armory and issued a proclamation calling upon the slaves to rise in insurrection against their master. The raid in a few hours spread consternation, not merely throughout Virginia, but throughout the United States. Lt.-Col. Robert E. Lee, however, arrived with a detachment of marines, the armory was recaptured, and Brown and a few of his companions were taken prisoners. Brown was hanged at Charleston, Virginia, Dec. 2, 1859.

A few months later, Abraham Lincoln, at his Cooper Institute speech at New York, referred to Brown's raid in the following words: "John Brown's effort was peculiar. It was not a slave insurrection. It was an attempt by white men to get up a revolt among the slaves, in which the slaves refused to participate. The fact, it was so absurd that the slaves, with all their ignorance, saw plainly enough it could not succeed."

Within a little more than a year of that speech, and within two years of the raid, Lincoln was in the White House, and the Southern States were seceding. However thinking men might condemn his folly, the Northern States generally regarded Brown as a martyr, and "John Brown's body lies a-mouldering in the grave but his soul goes marching on," became the battle song of the soldiers who were destined, a few years later, to compel the surrender at Appomattox of Brown's conqueror.

The Civil War ended the work of the underground railway by eliminating the need; and ended, also, the influx of negro population in the Southwestern Ontario. Many of the escaped slaves clung to the dian homes until they died; but the larger proportion of their descendants have sought employment in Detroit, so that to-day the negro population is a comparatively small element. Whatever their critics may say to the contrary, most of them make good and useful citizens.

THE "GRAND BANKS."

Americans and French Reap Harvests There.

Con. Cregan, Lever's roving character, was disappointed on crossing the Atlantic that he could not see the Grand Banks. It had been his notion that the fishing banks of the North Atlantic consisted of mounds of sand sloping into the sea. Perhaps he was even entertaining the idea of escaping to one of these "sandy islands." A good many are possibly just as ill-posted on the subject as the irrepressible Con, but are not so willing to admit their ignorance. The fishing banks are not exposed above the surface. They are actually banks or mounds on the bed of the ocean, perceptible only by the aid of sounding devices.

The Grand Banks of Newfoundland, the largest, located south-easterly from the Ancient Colony, covers an area about 350 miles north and south and 390 miles east and west and it is generally traversed by ships crossing the North Atlantic Ocean between European points and ports in Nova Scotia, or on the Bay of Fundy. The general depth of water on the Grand Banks varies from thirty to forty-five fathoms, and the bottom is usually sand, gravel, or broken shells. The water surrounding drops off to anywhere from sixty to one hundred and forty fathoms. The only dangers to navigation on the Banks that have been verified are the Virgin Rocks and Banks and the Eastern Rocks. The area covered by the Grand Banks really includes St. Pierre and Green Bank, which are separated only by narrow channels.

The approach to the Grand Banks is generally evidenced by an increasing number of sea-fowl around the vessel. The great shearwater, well known to the fishermen as hag or hagen, is seen all across the Atlantic, but on the Banks it, as well as divers and other sea fowl, become very numerous. The shearwater, by the way, derives its name from its skimming or shearing the water when flying.

One will observe by studying a chart of the North Atlantic how closely our maritime ports are to the chief fishing banks as compared with American ports, yet it is an actual fact that our neighbors to the south take from these areas between two and three times the quantity of fish we do, and are serious competitors in our foreign trade. It seems logical from an economical and geographical standpoint that the business should be centralized in our Maritime Provinces, excluding possible supplies destined for consumption in Portland, Boston, New York and American centres conveniently at hand. Undoubtedly fish may be landed sooner in our ports and it intended for the fresh fish trade will be on the way to interior markets much sooner than when traveling circuitously via Boston. Furthermore, the proximity of the port gives the fishermen more actual time on the banks. Naturally, when the distance to port is shortened the fishermen can produce more in a stated time and consequently should be able to meet all competition profitably. With the exception of Georges Bank the Americans are at a disadvantage.

There seems to be a big opportunity for profitable investment. The fresh fish demand in Canada is developing rapidly and fish consumption generally is on the increase throughout the Dominion and the United States, as well. In addition, our foreign trade has grown tremendously in recent years. We should be able to produce cheaper than anyone else when the premium on the American dollar at the present time handicaps the United States' producer further in competing for foreign trade. Canadians have everything to help them, but our neighbors are still doing a large proportion of the business.

The North Atlantic Banks are fished by fleets from the United States, Canada, Newfoundland, France and an occasional ship from Iceland. Large French fleets operate with the French Island of St. Pierre as a base. A cold storage plant costing $1,200,000, having a freezing capacity of 200,000 pounds in twenty-four hours and storage capacity of 6,000,000 pounds boxed ready for shipment, has recently been built there by the French Government and especially equipped steamers are provided to carry the supplies to Europe. The French Government is lending great assistance to the fishing industry, looking apparently in that direction for material for her navy.

WINDOW AND VERANDAH

Brightened With Flower Boxes and Hanging Baskets.

The Boxes Must Be Strong and Durable—The Soil Should Be Kept Rich and Well Watered—Hints on Arrangement of Plants.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

Window boxes should be made strong and durable. Each box should be nine or ten inches wide at top and bottom, seven or eight inches deep inside measurements, of a suitable length to fit the window, not over four feet in length, made of one-inch dressed lumber, and when finished, painted a dull green color.

Half-inch holes should be bored about six inches apart through the bottom of the box for drainage purposes. Verandah boxes should be about the same measurements. A large iron screw eye, or iron staple, should be put at each top, outside (front) corner of the window boxes. A strong piece of wire should be attached to these long enough to attach to another screw eye or staple placed in the window frame about a foot higher up than top of box, so that the box can be fastened securely in position. Boxes and barrels may be made more artistic and rustic looking by painting moss and fungi covered bark, of native trees, on the outside. This not only adds to their attractiveness but also helps to keep the plants moist and cool at the roots in summer time.

The bark from Basswood, Elm, Cedar or Birch trees will be found suitable. By the exercise of a little taste and originality, very pretty boxes can be made at slight cost. Verandah boxes and rustic stands can be made in something the same way. One of the prettiest rustic stands I have ever seen was made from the lower half of a sugar barrel, reinforced by a thickness of half-inch board nailed on the bottom of the barrel outside to strengthen it, with three-quarter inch holes bored through for drainage purposes.

Hanging Baskets

Wire hanging baskets lined with green moss or sphagnum moss are very effective, especially for a sunny position. The clay baskets dry out very quickly and are better suited for a shady position than a sunny one.

Soil.—The soil for window boxes must be rich in fertilizers if the best results are to be obtained. It is a good plan to put an inch in depth of well rotted barnyard manure, or dry cow manure, near the bottom of each box, before filling it up with the prepared soil. About an inch in depth of soil may be placed in the bottom of the box first, and the fertilizers named spread over it, or about half a pound of bone meal may be used as a substitute for the first named fertilizers. These fertilizers will help sustain plant growth late in the season when the soil has become exhausted. One part sand, one part leaf mould (black soil from the path) and seven or eight parts of light loamy soil well mixed, with two parts of either of the fertilizers named added, will make a good soil for window boxes, rustic stands, etc.

The best time to fill window boxes is when they are to be placed in position toward the end of May or early in June. The boxes may be set in position and well secured, before they are filled with soil or plants, as they are heavy and difficult to set in position when filled.

Arrangement of Plants

All growing plants should be placed at the back of the box nearest the window. Dwarf plants and trailing plants should then be put around the front and ends of the box. Any space between these in the centre of the box should be filled with medium height plants. It is a good plan to first fill the box nearly level full with soil, then stand the plants on the surface where they are to be planted finally. By doing this the plants can be changed about and rearranged, and a good idea of the arrangement and effect desired can be obtained before finally planting them. For color effect, for instance, too much of any one color, especially the heavier colors, should not be placed in any one part of the box, whether of dwarf or tall plants, as there would not then be a proper balance of color, something that would detract from the effect considerably. By standing the plants on the surface of the soil before planting as mentioned, any change required can be easily made. Use bright colored plants mainly whether of foliage or flowers, and if possible, make use of good sized plants. Boxes filled as described at the time of setting out, will do much better than boxes filled indoors early in the season. Boxes filled very early indoors, often get shabby as soon as they are set out, and sometimes become posi-

Actively unsightly before the summer season is half over. Care of Boxes.

Window boxes, etc., require copious and frequent waterings every day, or at least every second day, especially during hot weather. The soil should be well soaked with water when watering the boxes. Toward the end of the season, in July and August, some liquid fertilizer may be given the plants.—The late Wm. Hunt, O. A. College, Guelph.

E. G. Bennett, of Missouri, says: "When you sell grain you wholesale the fertility of your soil; when you sell butter-fat your retail water, feed and sunshine."

GROWING SWEET PEAS

Getting the Very Best From This Beautiful Flower.

Location and Soil Suggested—Early Sowing Desirable—Good Support and Frequent Picking Necessary.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

Location.—An open, sunny position in the garden suits them very well. Close up to a building or near to a close board fence facing the south is not a good place for them as the intense heat of the sun induces attacks of insect pests. An east, west, or north exposure close to a fence is not so objectionable, except perhaps a direct northern exposure. Near to an open wire fence or trellis fence is not objectionable.

Soil.—A deep, fairly rich loamy soil is best. If the ground is poor or gravelly or heavy clay, dig a trench the length required from 12 to 15 inches deep and about 10 inches wide. Place about two inches in depth of well rooted barnyard manure or cow manure in the bottom of the trench, then fill the trench up with well enriched loamy soil. Deep digging is necessary for sweet peas even in good soil. Never sow sweet peas twice in succession in the same soil; a part of the soil at least should be renewed every year. Prepare trench or ground for sweet peas the previous fall if possible.

When to Sow.—Sow as early in the spring as the ground can be worked. The seed may be soaked in lukewarm water before sowing for six or eight hours to hasten germination.

How to Sow.—Make a drill about two inches in depth. Sow the seed about two inches apart. Cover with nearly two inches of fine soil. (The Spencer type of Sweet Peas is the best kind to sow.)

Thinning.—Thin the plants when about six inches in height to three or four inches apart.

Support.—Wide meshed chicken wire five feet in height, maple brushwood or coarse twine may be used for support. Netting made of coarse twine makes an ideal support, better than wire, as the plants cling to it better than to wire.

Watering.—Water thoroughly in very dry weather. Draw a drill a few inches deep and about four inches from the row on each side. Pour water into these until the ground is thoroughly soaked. Watering in this way once every week or ten days is far more beneficial than frequent light surface waterings. Sprinkle the foliage with water under pressure from a fine sprinkler every day in hot dry weather: to keep down insects, such as green aphid and red spider. Sprinkle the under side of the foliage especially. Tobacco and soap solutions are also good for insect pests.

Picking Bloom.—Keep all the sprays of bloom picked off every second day to prevent seed from forming. If seed is allowed to form, the bloom will be inferior and the flowering season of short duration.

Fertilizers.—A watering once or twice with liquid manure solution towards the end of August will help to keep the plants vigorous and productive late in the season.—The late Wm. Hunt, O. A. College, Guelph.

FINE POINTS IN ENGLISH

The man had just informed the Pullman agent that he wanted a Pullman berth.

"Upper or lower?" asked the agent. "What's the difference?" asked the man.

"A difference of fifty cents in this case," replied the agent. "The lower is higher than the upper. The higher price is for the lower. If you want it lower you'll have to go higher. We sell the upper lower than the lower. In other words, the higher the lower. Most people don't like the upper, although it is lower, on account of it being higher. When you occupy an upper, you have to get up to go to bed, and get down when you get up. You can have the lower if you pay higher. The upper is lower than the lower because it is higher. If you are willing to go higher, it will be lower."

But the poor man had fainted.

HAVE YOU A COUGH?

This is of Vital Interest to You Woodstock, Ont.—"My husband always speaks a good word for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and we both feel that he owes his present good health to this splendid medicine. Bronchial pneumonia, as a child, left him with chronic bronchial trouble and it just kept getting worse every year even though he doctored and tried every remedy recommended to him. Some nights he would cough so hard I used to be afraid he might die before morning. Last fall his mother advised him to try the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and from the first few doses he improved. It is just a year now and he seems to be entirely cured of all bronchial ailments." Mrs. S. M. Greer, 27 Sydenham St.

The death occurred suddenly at Wheatley on Tuesday night of Mrs. John Bodine, a former resident of Mosa township. Since the death of her husband a year ago Mrs. Bodine had been living with a nephew at Ridgeway. A few days ago she went to visit her sister, Mrs. Maxwell, at Wheatley. On Tuesday night, without any previous indication of illness she fell over and expired almost immediately from heart disease.

A $50 PRIZE LETTER

This district was represented last year among the prize-winners in the Willy-Overland letter-writing contest. In a booklet just published on "What my Car Means to Me," and among the letters that won $50 each, appears the following by Rev. T. DeConroy Kayser of Watford:

A car may be a luxury to some but to a rural preacher like myself an auto is absolutely indispensable.

My car is a great time saver. My churches are seven miles apart and my car does the return trip one hour and a quarter quicker than a horse. My car does not eat when not working.

My duties refuse to allow me a choice of weather for my Sunday trips; but my car eliminates the discomfort of stormy travelling by providing a cosy shelter.

My car reduces the cost of living for our family by carrying home many gifts of fruit, vegetables, chicken-feed, etc.

Stable work, with its consumption of time and its clinging odors, so distasteful to a professional man, has been entirely eliminated for me by my car.

My car has frequently saved railway expenses by enabling several delegates to attend church conventions in various places at a cost equal to railway fare for one. Further, it eliminates the inconvenience of travel.

As my parish extends over fifty square miles, my car affords me great assistance in making pastoral calls. It enables me to give pleasure to invalids and others by taking them on my trips.

It carries me to assist in Life's great scenes, as recent events prove:—A Christening, eleven miles away. A wedding, seven miles away. A funeral, to a cemetery thirteen miles distant. Sick calls, nine miles from home.

It enables me to conduct services and give lectures in places where there are no railway connections. It also means cheaper and more enjoyable holiday trips for the family.

Truly my car is a boon and a blessing to me.

An oil company of London has leased about 4,000 acres of land in the vicinity of the Sauble River West and the adjoining township of East Williams and have announced their intention of putting down a number of test wells. There are strong indications that oil underlies the limestone formation through which the river runs to Rock Glen.

A MILLION DOLLAR BABY KLENZO LIQUID ANTISEPTIC

Very efficacious for sore throats and head colds—leaves such a cool, clean feeling. Use it to prevent the Flu! Throats sprayed with Klenzo resist all disease germs. Take home a bottle today.

Naturally, those who see this heading expect to read about some "baby heir" of an American multi-millionaire, and they will be surprised to learn that such a description applies to a scientific pyorrhea preventative, tooth and mouth preparation, and they will doubtless wonder how such a product ever came to be spoken of as a "million dollar baby." So the story must be told. Over three years ago, the Research Department of the Rexall Company, in consultation with chemical specialists, began an exhaustive investigation into the disease Pyorrhea, and its proper treatment, and in their characteristic thorough way spent over two years before they perfected a compound which answered every test, according to their high standards. Such a remarkable demand has been created that they have named it "the Million Dollar Baby." Probably no preparation that is devised for use as a germ combatter was found so efficacious in preventing all contagious diseases that enter the system through the mouth and nose as Klenzo Liquid Antiseptic. Especially was it proved that users of it completely escaped all attacks of the flu when so prevalent last year. This Rexall product can be purchased in 35c. and 60c. special toilet bottles at

For white teeth and a clean mouth. Just the most delightful dental preparation you ever used. With Klenzo, children don't have to be dinged at tooth-cleaning time. Take a tube home to try.
