BERLIN CLAIMS THAT THE OCCUPATION OF BELGRADE BY AUSTRIANS IS IMMINENT

"The mobilization of the troops in Toronto on Monday was a lot of nonsense."—General Sam Hughes

MOBILIZATION OF REGIMENTS WAS NONSENSE

—General Sam Hughes

Minister of Militia, at Crowded Demonstration, Censures Lessor's Action.

SPREAD FEAR THRU CITY

Home Guards Praised—Canada Could Send Million Men, Says General.

The mobilization of the troops in Toronto on Monday was a lot of nonsense. It only tended to fill the hearts of women and children with unnecessary fear.

Continuing the general said: "Thirty thousand soldiers have gone from Canada, but we could send one million more if necessary."

"This war is the worst in the history of the world. The allies are playing the game. They are shooting like men, boyoming like men, don't that is what they want."

The hall was packed to the doors with men from every walk of life, and the speakers received a lot of protest, especially the minister of militia.

"Let the Germans Come. A Britisher is a good man, but a good, clean Britisher is just a little better than a man of any other nation."

"On Sunday I found myself in a panic over the threatened German invasion, but I would like to see the spirit of 'let them come' more prevalent and I wager that they would be the most surprised body of Uhlans that ever set foot upon the British soil."

"I commend your home guard as a splendid way of training for self defence. Keep your physical drill. It will stand you in good stead."

BELGIANS ARE AWAITING OPPORTUNITY TO RISE

Mood of People is of Sullen Determination to Overthrow Conqueror.

Canadian Press Despatch. PARIS, Nov. 17, 5:10 p.m.—The Belgian people are waiting passively, I might say sullenly, for an opportunity to rise upon the Germans, said Edward A. Filene, of Boston, today, on completing a tour of twenty days in Belgium.

"The Belgians are overpowered but not conquered," he continued. "One of their foremost scholars, who ordinarily is a mild and benevolent man, I will not mention his name, to avoid embarrassing him—said: 'History may give the Germans the victory in Belgium, but never honor.'"

U. C. C. GRADUATE KILLED IN ACTION, CABLES SAY

H. G. Mackenzie Learns of Death of His Son, Lieutenant in Scottish Regiment.

H. Gordon Mackenzie, 31 Walmer road, has received two cables from England announcing the death of his son, Lieut. C. Gordon Mackenzie, in action. Lieut. Mackenzie was attached to the Royal Scots Fusiliers, and a graduate of the Royal Military College, before leaving Toronto he studied at Upper Canada College. He was 35 years of age.

A brother, A. Gordon Mackenzie, is with the Kootenay Regiment, which will go with the second contingent. The cables announcing Lieut. Mackenzie's death are from the secretary of the war office and the private secretary to the King.

OVER SUPPLY OF FOOD FOR BELGIANS AT MONTREAL

Owing to Nearness to Close of Navigation No More Can Be Handled.

By a Staff Reporter. OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 17.—Contributions of perishable food products from Canadian counties and townships for Great Britain will still be shipped to Montreal. There is an immense quantity already there and waiting shipment. It was understood that the Montreal office of the Admiralty had advised the various railway companies to stop the shipment of food products to Montreal by November 1, owing to the nearness of the close of navigation. The Admiralty of the Admiralty is notifying the wardens of each county that no further contributions of perishable food products can be accepted.

VESSEL CHARTERED TO CARRY CANADA'S WHEAT

Cost of Transporting Supplies to Belgians is Heavy.

Canadian Press Despatch. MONTREAL, Nov. 17.—The committee of the Belgian relief fund today decided to charter the steamship Nordland, owned by Thompson and Company, St. John N.B., for $14,500 to transport to the Belgian warfront the provisions on hand, as it seemed impossible to get another free steamer from the British Admiralty for this purpose. There are forty-nine of supplies unloaded in the yards of the various railway companies in Montreal, besides a dozen more cars loaded in the several warehouses used by the committee.

Unfortunately the cost of engaging the ship in question will reduce the amount of money available for the purchase of wheat for the Belgians.

AGRICULTURAL CREDIT BANK IS ADVOCATED

Conservative Convention at Regina Urges That Legislation Be Asked.

Canadian Press Despatch. REGINA, Nov. 17.—Three hundred delegates from all parts of the province attended the Conservative convention here in Regina today. Nothing in the nature of a platform was adopted, but many resolutions were drafted and adopted unanimously.

One resolution urged that the necessary legislation be asked for the establishment of an agricultural credit bank operated on a co-operative basis and empowered to lend money on farm lands by mortgage, or on land directly or indirectly secured by mortgage, real or personal.

The convention denounced the use of the extraordinary powers vested by the legislature at the last session for the relief of debtors on several grounds by the Scott administration.

Germans Using "Dum-Dums" British War Office Charges

Soft Nose Bullets Fired Both in Togoland and France—British Projectiles Described as Probably Most Humane Yet Devised.

(BRITISH OFFICIAL) Canadian Press Despatch. LONDON, Nov. 17, 7:40 p.m.—The war office tonight issued a statement denying German allegations that the British troops have used dum-dum or soft nosed bullets, but maintaining that these kinds of missiles have been used by the Germans.

The statement describes the British and German service ammunition as very similar, the bullets being pointed with steel and the envelope coated with cupro-nickel, covering the core, except at the base, and conforming with the provisions of "The Hague" conference.

In the opinion of Sir Victor Horsley, a well-known surgeon, this bullet is "probably the most humane projectile yet devised" for the reason that "the long, solid point, consisting almost entirely of a hard nickel sheath, precludes as far as possible any tendency toward deformation of shape, while the strength of the sheath prevents the bullet breaking up into fragments, except in very exceptional circumstances."

The statement concludes: "There is, however, clear evidence that Germany has not confined herself solely to the use of this objectionable ammunition. Her troops in both Togoland and France prove to have used bullets with soft cores and envelope not entirely covering the core, which type of bullet is expanding and is expressly prohibited by 'The Hague.'"

SERVED ON NILE BEFORE Soldiers of Dominion Acquired Themselves Well on Previous Expedition.

By a Staff Reporter. OTTAWA, Nov. 17.—Col. A. T. Shillington, Ottawa, who recently left Salisbury Plain to take charge of a field hospital in France, has written from the war office to a friend here as follows: "The war office is considering the question of sending the Canadian contingent to Egypt since the Turks have been driven in their retreat with the Nile expedition in 1898 and they acquired themselves most creditably. The climate also agreed well with them. Col. John Currie, M.P., of Toronto, has been called to the war office for consultation and Col. Victor Williams and Col. Harry McLeod, M.P. of New Brunswick, are also being asked for their views and are in London today."

Expert Opinion Confident. "The Asquith ministry and the military experts, as far as I could judge as chief and official headquarters, are well pleased with the way things are going. Everyone is quite sanguine as to the outcome. I got a glimpse of the inside plans and you can assure your friends that a really big army is being rounded into shape quietly, but effectively for the final stroke. Great confidence is reposed in the silent Kitchener."

HENRI'S LITTLE TALK WILL BE HARMLESS

Canadian Press Despatch. OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 17.—At a meeting of the Peoples' Forum Committee tonight it was decided, despite the protest of Court. Mount Sherwood, I. O. F., to hear Mr. Henri Bourassa on Sunday evening next. Mr. Bourassa will arrive in Ottawa tomorrow.

"The subject of the address shall be 'Canada's National Duty at the Present Hour' and I assure you I will deal with it in such a manner as will not offend the most sensitive of your audience."

GERMANS CLAIM SUCCESS. Despatches from Berlin state the Russian armies, defeated in the eastern theatre of war, have been forced back across the Vistula River. In case of further defeats the Vistula will prove a great barrier to the Russians. The despatches point out that the latest German victories in the east have greatly increased the difficulties of the enemy, altho it cannot yet be foretold whether the Russian advance has been definitely stopped. The Russians, near Soldau, were driven thru Lipno to Plock. The army defeated by General Von Hindenburg was driven southward to Kutno instead of back upon their line of advance. This movement placed the Vistula between the two forces, and gave the Germans excellent strategic positions.

It is further reported that the Russian losses, including prisoners, probably will exceed 40,000 men, but the extent of the victories is taken with caution until it is definitely learned whether the enemy has been forced to retreat or merely brought to a standstill, as the Russians are operating in great force.

GERMAN PRESTIGE DAMAGED. The news that the kaiser has decorated Meyer Waldeck, late governor of Tsingtau, with the Iron Cross and praised the conduct of the defenders of the fort, is received here with amusement. It is being pointed out that more than 5000 able-bodied men surrendered while they still had plenty of ammunition and supplies. Some critics declare that the surrender of Tsingtau was a worse case of "lying down" than General Stoesse's surrender of Port Arthur in the Russo-Japanese war.

The Chinese express surprise that the Germans did not put up a better fight while defending the fort. It looks as though much damage had been done by this surrender, to the prestige of Germany in the far east.

TURKS WERE DISPERSED. A despatch from Petrograd states that the Arabian Mussulman leader Abdul Kazar Bederkani rebelled and dispersed the Turks in the region of Maku.

The Kurdish chief Simko sustained an engagement against the Turks on the Persian frontier several days, and ultimately, with the assistance of the Russians, dispersed the enemy, the despatch adds.

It is alleged that the populace of Valjevo began throwing flowers and then, when suspicion had been allayed by the act, dropped a hail of bombs in similar manner on the troops. The report says: "Every house forthwith became a fortress, women, children and old men all taking part in throwing bombs."

The commander of the Tennessee informed the Yall that he had orders from his government to enter the harbor of Smyrna and had decided to do so.

The authorities of Smyrna, fearing a bombardment by the cruiser, have left the interior. The garrison of Smyrna at present consists of 85,000 Turkish troops."

ARTILLERY DUELS END IN CLEARING MEUSE OF ENEMY

French Troops Near St. Mihiel Took Possession of Chauvancour, Last Place Held by Germans on the Meuse.

RUSSIANS FORCED BACK ACROSS VISTULA WHERE GERMANS HAVE GOOD POSITIONS

Turks Sustained Serious Losses Near Liman, When Attacked by Russian Land Troops and the Black Sea Fleet.

Direct Copyrighted Cable to The Toronto World. LONDON, Nov. 17.—The feature of the bulletin issued this afternoon by the French war office, is the report that the Germans have been driven from strongholds long held by them along the River Meuse, which stream they crossed shortly after the failure of their dash to Paris. The French troops near St. Mihiel have taken possession of the outskirts of the Village Chauvancour, the only point remaining in German hands on the left bank of the Meuse. The successes of the French forces, as given in the bulletin, indicate renewed activity by this section of the French line.

The country between Bixchoote and Armentieres and the heights of the Meuse appear to be the centres of activity, but elsewhere the combat is confined to artillery duels. Severe losses were inflicted on the invaders in western Belgium and north of the River Aisne and in the Argonne forest district in France. Along the centre of the battle line on the Aisne, near Soissons, there have been some sharp infantry engagements resulting in slight gains for the allies. In the Argonne the French have succeeded in mining and blowing up some of the German trenches.

TRENCHES BLOWN UP. A detachment of Germans was killed when French mines blew up their trenches. Entire detachments, which tried to capture French fortifications near Vailly, were destroyed by artillery fire. The Germans have been washed out of their trenches at many points in the flooded section about Dixmude. Many have been drowned. Commanded, separated by the waters, have been wiped out by the allied artillery fire. The kaiser's soldiers made desperate efforts to gain control of the canal dykes, but each assault was repulsed.

An extended movement of troops or guns is now virtually impossible in eastern Belgium. The trenches occupied by the Germans are half filled with water and in many places the Franco-British are in water up to their knees, but bravely hold their positions in the face of heavy German artillery fire. On account of the danger of electrocution to their own men, both the Germans and the allies have shut off the electric current with which the wire entanglements before the trenches were charged. Numerous fatalities have resulted from the water rising above the entanglements, greatly increasing the deadly power in the charged wires.

EVERY article of men's wear to be sold out regardless of cost--a tremendous stock of high-class tailored Suits and Overcoats, Shirts, Underwear, Neckwear and Collars is being thrown on the market for speedy dissolution, owing to the decision of the directors to retire absolutely from the retail trade.

The sale does not in any way interfere with the guarantee of Semi-ready tailored garments, as the company have to protect their customers throughout Canada. The "label in the pocket" is the guarantee, and for a few thousand dollars the makers could not jeopardize a yearly business of over a million and a half dollars.

NEWTONBROOK MAN WINS DAMAGE SUIT

Ex-Reeve Humberstone is Awarded Thousands Dollars' Damages.

HIT BY RADIAL CAR CONFIDENCE NEEDED

Company Found Guilty of Negligence - Running Cars Too Fast.

In the jury assize court yesterday J. T. Humberstone of Newtonbrook was awarded $1000 damages before Judge Meredith for injuries received by being struck by a Toronto and York Radial Railway car on Sept. 25, 1914.

Speaking about his injuries he said: "I was a sturdy veteran who has just passed his 60th year. He feels that, despite the accident, he is good for a good many years yet, and he told the court that when a man who has been struck by a car, his injuries suddenly start to take it easy, that man's soul is required of him to come from a long-lived family."

He said that he had been driving a car at the time of the accident, and that he was running at a speed of 25 miles an hour. He said that he was confident of his ability to drive the car, and that he was not negligent.

The plaintiff asked to be relieved of that portion of the county, and his snow tires were good, looking upon spelling health and vigorous old age in every line. He estimates $1000 damages. He was the walking beside his wife, when on Sept. 25 when a radial car swooped down on the plaintiff, striking him on the head, inflicting him severely. A boy was driving the rig. The jury returned a verdict against the Radial Railway Co. and found them guilty of negligence, of driving at an excessive rate of speed, of not giving sufficient warning, and of not keeping the car under proper control.

The jury also found that the defendant was negligent in not having a competent driver at the wheel of the car at the time of the accident. The jury awarded damages of $1000 to the plaintiff.

BIGGER TAX ON TEA AND BEER

Income Tax Will Be Doubled - Huge Loan is Necessary.

Time of Sacrifice. Mr. Lloyd George went on to dwell upon the advantages which British manufacturers enjoy in neutral markets during the war, but emphasized the serious situation which should arise at the end of that period. Consequently, he said, the nation must raise as much money as possible upon taxation during the war period. It was a time of sacrifice. People who could not give their lives were anxious to assist, and he did not believe that any man would grudge a fair share of his possessions. Russia was taxing herself heavily in that wonderful spirit of abnegation which was the marvel of the world. Great Britain should strengthen her credit by following her best financial traditions and leaving her hands free. The government would make proposals for raising substantial sums by taxation.

The only chance of getting at the source of the problem was by taxing tea and beer. We drink more tea than they do anywhere else, and it seems to have an excellent effect on our fighting qualities. There has been a rise in the price of tea, but prices had been coming down lately. He said he regretted having to do without a glass of beer, but if he could find any other way of levying a contribution upon every class of the community, he would not propose this tax.

This war would fall in one of its chief purposes if it did not lead to an all-round reduction of the inflated cost of armament. The government proposed to levy no taxes that interfered with any productive industry. The issue of the war would take the form of an increased output of goods. The yield of the loan to the investor, allowing for redemption, would be exactly 4 per cent. The Bank of England had patriotically advanced the government the most important facilities in connection with the new loan. The bank, for three years, would be prepared to make advances against deposit or war stock, taken at the issue price, without collateral security, and at one per cent, below the market rate of interest.

In conclusion, he appealed for support for the loan. He said it was a loan to help this country to fight this battle for her existence. Victory meant value and defeat meant depreciation. It was an excellent investment because the credit of Great Britain was still the best in the world. Mr. Lloyd George was loudly cheered upon resuming his seat, and all the resolutions were passed. The war loan prospectus was issued tonight.

HEARING IS RESTORED TO DEAF. Without Mechanical or Artificial Hearing Devices, Deaf Hear With Their Own Ears. A wonderful English Discovery.

Thousands of people suffer from catarrhal deafness or poor hearing, who have tried specialists, advertised treatments, artificial ear drums, ear phones, electric vibrators, and various mechanical appliances without success have at last resigned themselves to a "world of silence," thinking that nothing can ever restore to them their normal hearing. Yet their case is not hopeless. A remarkable scientific treatment discovered a little more than a year ago in England is making people hear after years of deafness, and is also unequalled for quickly stopping the distressing head noises that are so often the companions of defective hearing. This discovery is called Parmitin, and has attracted widespread notice throughout Europe, where reports of the remarkable results it has given to deaf people have come in by the hundred.

Parmitin is now being sold by many leading druggists in Toronto and vicinity. A speedy trial is urged upon all who suffer from catarrhal deafness or hearing in any degree. Ask the druggist to take it home and mix with 1/2 pint of hot water and 4 oz. of granulated sugar until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day and you should soon find remarkable improvement in your hearing.

Important - In ordering Parmitin always specify that you want Double Strength. Your druggist has it or he can get it for you; if not, send 75c to the International Laboratories, 14 St. Antoine St., Montreal, P.Q., who make a specialty of it.

ROBERTS

Diary of a Well Dressed Girl

By Sylvia Gerard

MAKING A WAIST AT HOME FROM OLD MATERIALS.

It has poured rain all day. I had planned to go out for a game of golf with Amy, but we had to give it up. I had no other engagements, and no one has phoned to propose anything pleasant.

A Mrs. Jonberry from the west had invited Alice and four other girls to a matinee, but I wasn't included, as I don't know the hostess. Not that I mind being left out of an affair, but if Mrs. Jonberry hadn't decided to include my best friends in her party I could have one of them over to spend the day with me.

"What are you doing?" asked Aunt Kathryn when she dropped in before luncheon. I was standing before the piece of trunk in the sewing room with a heap of silks and other materials piled all about me.

"I'm trying to find enough goods for a waist," I answered. "There isn't a thing to do today, and I'm going to see if I can't make one garment all by myself."

"And you haven't thought out an idea for the style, or color, or kind of goods," she laughed.

"Not one," I answered. "But you know the silks and yokes and boxes of the waists all seem made of different materials this year, and the trimming goes so another step further. Out of all these remnants I ought to be able to find enough matching material to make a waist."

Just then I came across a yard of narrow brown beaver fur and put it aside. "You're trimming that I suppose," laughed Aunt Kathryn again. She says fabulous prices for gowns and hats and puts up with my wardrobe plans until she sees the final results. Then, I will say, she is rather annoyed with herself to think that sometimes she has been wrong.

"White chiffon is always useful somewhere on a waist," I murmured as I fastened a tiny roll of this material and put it back in the box.

"She would make a good good man's wife, wouldn't she?" asked mamma, as she entered and saw what I was doing.

"I think she could design a charming waist from a four sack if necessary," answered Aunt Kathryn.

"Twenty of material for waists here," I said. "Now I have found enough dark blue velvet to make a jumper waist. There are two pieces 12 inches by 20. These may be used together, the ends of the arms with silk cord."

"White," said my wife tragically, "if you do a single thing wrong—I'll go home to mother. I'll have to. We simply can't be disagreed." And Mary and I went on dancing.

The music stopped. The professional couple drifted off to a nearby table and favored us with a somewhat hostile stare. We had been at the upper end of the floor when the music stopped. Therefore our arrival in the dining room came after they were seated. And the minute Mary, holding her head very high and unconcerned, stepped into the dining room there was an absolute roar of applause. And Mary—trust to the theatrical instinct of women—smiled and bowed. Then, still retaining her self-possession, she led the way from the room.

A Dance Error.

"Mary," I whispered desperately, "do you know what we've done? This is an exhibition dance and we've deliberately butted in, thanks to your mistake, to be first on the floor. Those people are paid to entertain the guests, and here we are giving an exhibition dance along with them. It's a wonder the management hasn't invited us off the floor!"

Mary turned white. "Peter," she faltered, "I'm afraid you're right. Oh, isn't it terrible! What shall we do?"

"Do!" I said. "We'll simply have to go on with it. Better to face the thing brazenly and pretend to have known that it was an exhibition, than to stumble out in embarrassment now. But the next time, my lady, that you get me up first to dance you'll know it."

"I decidedly objected to being the first on the floor, but Mary was already on her feet beside the table, and a man cannot very well permit a woman to stand expectantly while he goes on eating. I sighed and rose. The rest of the crowd seemed rather backward. There was but one couple making their way toward the floor—a girl exquisitely gowned in chiffon, and a man whom nature had certainly built for dancing. "Don't you see," exclaimed Mary, "these people simply don't know how to do the maxie! That's why they're all holding back." And I knew by Mary's tone that she was in a glow of self-satisfaction. I knew, too, that our somewhat conspicuous progress toward the dancing floor was, for her, punctuated with delightful thrills.

I don't know when the terrible realization broke on me, but it came just as I was conscious that the only other girl on the floor besides my wife was exquisitely and daintily dressed, more of a stage costume than an evening gown.

I sighed and rose. The rest of the crowd seemed rather backward. There was but one couple making their way toward the floor—a girl exquisitely gowned in chiffon, and a man whom nature had certainly built for dancing. "Don't you see," exclaimed Mary, "these people simply don't know how to do the maxie! That's why they're all holding back." And I knew by Mary's tone that she was in a glow of self-satisfaction. I knew, too, that our somewhat conspicuous progress toward the dancing floor was, for her, punctuated with delightful thrills.

I don't know when the terrible realization broke on me, but it came just as I was conscious that the only other girl on the floor besides my wife was exquisitely and daintily dressed, more of a stage costume than an evening gown.

"Peter," I whispered desperately, "do you know what we've done? This is an exhibition dance and we've deliberately butted in, thanks to your mistake, to be first on the floor. Those people are paid to entertain the guests, and here we are giving an exhibition dance along with them. It's a wonder the management hasn't invited us off the floor!"

Mary turned white. "Peter," she faltered, "I'm afraid you're right. Oh, isn't it terrible! What shall we do?"

"Do!" I said. "We'll simply have to go on with it. Better to face the thing brazenly and pretend to have known that it was an exhibition, than to stumble out in embarrassment now. But the next time, my lady, that you get me up first to dance you'll know it."

"I decidedly objected to being the first on the floor, but Mary was already on her feet beside the table, and a man cannot very well permit a woman to stand expectantly while he goes on eating. I sighed and rose. The rest of the crowd seemed rather backward. There was but one couple making their way toward the floor—a girl exquisitely gowned in chiffon, and a man whom nature had certainly built for dancing. "Don't you see," exclaimed Mary, "these people simply don't know how to do the maxie! That's why they're all holding back." And I knew by Mary's tone that she was in a glow of self-satisfaction. A BRIDE'S OWN STORY —BY— ISOBEL BRANDS. WHAT MAKES THE EFFICIENT HOME LAUNDRY?

AUNT JULIETTE has all her laundry, practically done at home, and by studying improved devices and methods within the last few years she has finally developed a home laundry that in a miniature way is as good as many commercial laundries, and better than most of them. In the laundry the equipment is arranged according to processes, just like the kitchen, so that there are no waste steps. There are just four chapters to the week in her history.

1—Sort and soak clothes overnight, table linen and towels in one tub, bed and body linen in another tub, in each of which soap and borax have been dissolved. Flannels and colored clothes are washed separately.

2—Washing and starching. 3—Drying. 4—Ironing. The first two processes have one side of the room to themselves, and the second two are grouped together on the opposite side. At the right-hand corner of the laundry is the big basket under the chute, and soiled clothes are sent scolding downstairs for the week's laundering. Here they are sorted and placed to soak in the metal tubs called in French cuivres. It does seem funny that the people who manufacture tubs make them too low for a grown woman, and too high for a child, doesn't it?

Diagonally to the tub is placed the washing machine. On the metal strip between the tub and the machine is the wringer, and it is clamped so that it never wiggles in the middle of a wringing like some wringers I've seen. At the left of the tub is the laundry table on which starch is prepared, starch removed and other odds and ends of laundry work done. Over the table are the five narrow, open shelves which stand soap, borax, beeswax, wringing, bluing, ammonia, and other laundry helps for washing, ironing and removing stains. On a shelf underneath is the wash boiler.

The opposite side of the room is devoted to the drying and ironing process. There is a fine revolving dryer out on the lawn where clothes dry very quickly in good weather. But as Aunt Juliette has a very weather-independent terrace with her schedule, she keeps an indoor dryer which is quite ingenious. It's a large wooden rack suspended from the ceiling by a pulley. When not in use it's hoisted up beyond reach so that it never in the way. Next to the dryer are the ironing board and sleeve boards.

Aunt Juliette has the best equipped laundry in the neighborhood, and "wash day" isn't a "blue Monday" upsetting to the household a bit. In fact, it isn't Monday at all, but Tuesday that is consecrated to washing. I asked Aunt Juliette what on earth had induced her to upset time-honored tradition in that way.

"I think it was silly of anybody ever to wash on Monday. In the first place, it means sorting and soaking clothes Sunday night, and as Sunday is a day of rest or amusement, and we're likely to be out late, it must be somewhat unpleasant, to say the least, to stay up late Sunday night soaking clothes. Besides, the house always needs a little extra picking up after Sunday when everybody's at home, and we often do a little entertaining, and that is what must be done Monday morning.

"Monday evening clothes are soaked, nobody's day is interfered with, and we're always found Tuesday morning convenient all the way around for our laundry."

WEDNESDAY MORNING, NOV. 18.

German Professors at the University.

President Falconer has gone away west, and we would be glad to leave, until he returns, the consideration of questions raised in his letter...

Dr. Falconer bases his reply on the scholarly worth of the German gentlemen who are employed by the state university of Ontario.

It has been openly charged and never denied that the three periodicals above named are acting as agents for the German cause...

The late Mr. Wilkie was another Canadian who has left a monument in the Imperial Bank of which he was the ruling spirit from inception.

With respect to Prof. Mueller, everybody is familiar with his views on the superiority of all things German over all things British.

In the third instance Dr. Falconer goes outside our case altogether, and defends Mr. Tapper, the man we specially exempted from our strictures.

The third German professor we alluded to was Mr. Touss, who is understood now to be on the sick list.

Free Speech in War Time. Our remote but by no means un-friended contemporaries, the Port Arthur Chronicle, The Winnipeg Post, The Saskatchewan Phoenix and The Edmonton Bulletin...

That British free speech must not be interfered with and that newspapers published in the United States have a right to say what they please about the war.

The Winnipeg Post sees no difference between a Canadian reading a pro-German publication and a Liberal reading a Conservative newspaper.

Since the outbreak of the war, sundry units of the Canadian press seem to have lost their balance and apparently think that the way to prove the inferiority of German politics is to copy them in Canada.

Let us therefore state our position not only as to The Literary Digest, The Saturday Evening Post and The American Review of Reviews, but as to all similar publications.

We also admit that in times of peace free speech and free writing should be the rule. At such a time we can afford to laugh at the man who denounces Canada or keeps people in Germany advised as to what is going on in Canada.

Varsity and Argos Will Have Strongest Line-Up Saturday

ALL IN READINESS FOR THE PLAY-OFF

Varsity Work Out Against St. Michaels-McGill's Usual Kick

Gardner, the Varsity line man, remained a tendon at last night's practice. He may keep him out of Saturday's game with McGill.

The Intercollegiate play-off will take place at Varsity stadium, despite McGill's claim that the Montreal College came thru with the usual objection yesterday.

The public will be given a good show at the Varsity game Saturday. Only some 600 odd season ticketholders are to be looked after, and the public will get the balance, something over three thousand tickets.

St. Michaels turned out in force at the Varsity last night to give the Varsity squad a practice game, and Hugh Gall was thereby able to work a line-up.

Ottawa Journal: A sample of poor sportsmanship on the part of a Toronto team was witnessed at the Windsor Hotel on Saturday night.

The club's annual banquet will be held on Thursday, Nov. 19, at 8.30 p.m., at the Toronto Rowing Club.

Varsity's debaters against McGill in the first round of the inter-university series will be John Line, B.A., of Victoria College, and W. McL. Clarke, U.C.

ARGOS' STRONGEST TEAM FOR HAMILTON

Only One Regular Will Be Missing—Two More Practices—Gossip

The Argonauts will only be shy one of their regulars when they take the Argos to Hamilton on Saturday in Hamilton. Babe Burkhardt had a bad shoulder and will hardly start. He will be replaced by Allen. Foster is ready to take his place at inside, and Allen will be moved over to middle to replace Burkhardt.

EASIER MONEY IN NEW YORK CIRCLES

Most Noteworthy Feature in Financial Development—Call Rates Lower.

SHIPPING RAW COTTON

Copper Advances—Steel Trade Receives Orders for Plate—Discounts Harder

Canadian Press Despatch. NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Further easing of money for virtually all periods was the most noteworthy financial development today.

For the longer dates, two to six months, while rates were reduced to five per cent, while some fairly-day loans were made at a shade lower.

Call money ranged from 4 1/2 to 5 per cent, the lowest rate prevailing where choice collateral was offered.

Financial institutions were free lenders in this market, and sentiment, so far as it dealt with the monetary situation, was materially heartened by the smoothness with which the new banking system of the country was put into operation.

Declines in unlisted bonds and stocks were again in liberal volume, but no advances from the previous day were recorded.

On the curb, additional gains were scored by the Standard Oil subsidiary and in the unofficial market for active listed stocks, a greater disparity between the bid and asked prices was observed.

Another advance in high-grade copper to 12 cents denoted a better quality for the metal by consumers, but conditions in that industry, as a whole, continued unsatisfactory, mainly because of the insignificant development of the export situation.

It was reported by the report that a large quantity of raw cotton was being shipped to Germany in American vessels.

Foreign Exchange. Re-adjustment in the exchange situation was being automatically effected by the heavier exports.

The merchantable surplus of the year was $6,000,000 greater than in the preceding year, and almost $7,000,000 more in the one-week last week.

The better feeling noted in steel trade circles was enhanced by the announcement that some of the larger manufacturers have received large orders from foreign sources for steel plate.

As a whole, there was no improvement in domestic exchange, but it was inclined to harden in London because of the final payment to morrow of a large amount of half-year treasury bills, which will temporarily deplete the money market of its free supply.

WHEAT RALLIED IN LAST HOUR

Bears in Control Most of the Time—Corn Followed—Shorts Frightened.

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—Active buying, supposed to be largely for eastern export, supported the wheat market today in the last hour, notwithstanding that previously the bears had had control of the market most of the time owing to the piling up of stock.

The close was 3/4c to 1/2c higher than the previous day's closing, and was 1/2c to 3/4c higher than the previous day's closing.

The cash demand was much quieter today, No. 3 northern and lower grades were quiet, but there were few inquiries for No. 1 and 2. Oats, barley and beans were also quiet and dull, six prices were higher, however, from high points of the day.

Styles are a matter of environment, like taste in books, plays or food. The models exhibited in New York or abroad, striking and bizarre as they frequently are, are more than curiosities; they are beginnings, inspirations, ideas.
