National Library of Canada

The images appearing here are the best quality possible considering the condition and legibility of the original copy and in keeping with the filming contract specifications.

Original copies in printed paper covers are filmed beginning with the front cover and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression, or the back cover when appropriate. All other original copies are filmed beginning on the first page with a printed or illustrated impression, and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression.

The last recorded frame on each microfiche shall contain the symbol  $\rightarrow$  (meaning "CONTINUED"), or the symbol  $\nabla$  (meaning "END"), whichever applies.

Maps, plates, charts, etc., may be filmed at different reduction ratios. Those too large to be entirely included in one exposure are filmed beginning in the upper left hand corner, left to right and top to bottom, as many frames as required. The following diagrams illustrate the method:

L'exemplaire filmé fut reproduit grâce à la générosité de:

Bibliothèque nationale du Canada

Les images suivantes ont été reproduites avec le plus grand soin, compte tenu de la condition et de la netteté de l'exemplaire filmé, et en conformité avec les conditions du contrat de filmage.

Les exemplaires originaux dont la couverture en papier est imprimée sont filmés en commençant par le premier plat et en terminant soit par la dernière page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration, soit par le second plat, selon le cas. Tous les autres exemplaires originaux sont filmés en commençant par la première page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration et en terminant par la dernière page qui comporte une telle empreinte.

Un des symboles suivants apparaîtra sur la dernière image de chaque microfiche, selon le cas: le symbole  $\rightarrow$  signifie "A SUIVRE", le symbole  $\nabla$  signifie "FIN".

Les cartes, planches, tableaux, etc., peuvent être filmés à des taux de réduction différents. Lorsque le document est trop grand pour être reproduit en un seul cliché, il est filmé à partir de l'angle supérieur gauche, de gauche à droite, et de haut en bas, en prenant le nombre d'images nécessaire. Les diagrammes suivants illustrent la méthode.

INTRODUCTION.

The following work includes Calendars of 174 years, past and future, extending from A. D. 1752 to 1925, with chronological notes of Canadian history, biography and statistics, and sketches of a number of financial and commercial houses.

The modern Calendars will commend themselves to all who weigh evidence, examine titles, prepare briefs or regulate accounts. The earlier ones will enable students of history to reconcile or correct dates, immediately before and after adoption of the New Style, in England, and occasionally to disprove erroneous statements in modern history. The Calendars of the future will be useful to Almanac-makers, publishers and public officials, and will facilitate making bonds mature on week-days rather than on Sundays.

No other hundred and forty-one years in recent times has been equally eventful with the last, for Canada and the World in general.

At the date mentioned Canada was still a French colony, tolerant of slavery, an institution which was then protected by law, even in Puritan Connecticut; and the now peace-loving French Canadian was warlike and aggressive.

As though anticipating inventions, which seem to annihilate space, England's adoption of the prevailing mode of reckoning time was opportune. If it is startling to receive a telegram, what would it have been to find it ante or post-dated by eleven days?

Until 1752, the year began on the 25th of March, in England, and on the 1st of January, in Scotland.

In the interval between these two new year's days, England appeared to be a year behind Scotland and was eleven days behind Catholic countries. As an illustration of the consequent inconvenience, Addison's Essay No. 21, in the Spectator, bore dual date, "Saturday, March 24th, 1710-11," the "11" being complimentary to Scotch readers. The next day (25th of March) being both New Year's day and Sunday, the next Essay, No. 22 (by Steele), was dated Monday, March 26th, 1711, the year being then common to the two countries.

A bare glance at the following double dates of foreign correspondence "Paris,  $\frac{28\text{th April, O. S.}}{9\text{th May, N. S.}}$ , 1722," and "Tuesday,  $\frac{1}{12}$  May, 1722," will show how fruitful of mistakes must have been the disagreement, to avoid which Statute 24th Geo. II provided that the next natural day after the second of September, 1752, should be the 14th. Thus the saying that no one, in England, drew breath between the second and the fourteenth of September, 1752, is true. This hiatus causes the Calendar of that month to have a lean appearance, and is otherwise remarkable, for, from the 1st of January to midnight of the 24th of March, the only change was the substitution of 1752 for 1751; from midnight of the 2nd of March to midnight dividing the 2nd and 14th of September, the Calendar of 1752 was (with the exception of the hiatus) exactly as if there had been no legislation; and, beginning with the last mentioned date, continuously to the present time, the Gregorian Calendar entirely replaced the Julian.

An Act of Parliament extended the new Style to the British possessions in Asia, Africa and America, so the thirteen colonies had, from Great Britain, the style of supputation which French colonists brought to Canada.

Among numerous advantages of complete over abbreviated, or perpetual Calendars, the former prove each other, are more quickly used and do not induce mistakes. A so-called perpetual Calendar, lately in use by one of the wealthiest men in Canada, makes A.D. 1900 a leap year, contrary to the Act above cited, under which, years divisible by 100, and not by 400, are not bissextile.

Among the convenient tests of Calendars are the Journals of the House of Commons, according to which Parliament sat on Friday ("dies veneris") the 31st of January, 1752; the 31st of October, 1752, fell on Tuesday, ("dies Martis"), and the 11th of January, 1753, on Thursday ("dies Jovis").

Every Essay in the Rambler furnishes a test, e.g., essay number 207 bears date Tuesday, 10th of March, 1752. Burrows' Law Reports afford many dates, from Monday, 8th November, 1756 to 1772. Another authentic date is the U. S. Declaration of Independence, on Thursday, the 4th of July, 1776. Reckoning from any known point, since 1752, and observing that the first and last days of common years fall on the same week-day and the first and last days of leap years on succeeding week-days, that 1800 was not, and 1900 will not be, a leap year, one can speedily assure himself that these Calendars have been rightly calculated. They have been compared with partial Calendars of 54 years, from 1805 to 1859, calculated by the late Reverend Moses Lopez, of Newport, Rhode Island, with the Quebec Almanac of 1827, Armour's Montreal Almanac of 1829, Stark's Almanacs from 1842, and with Brooks' and Miller's Almanacs from later dates. To illustrate the use of Calendars in testing history : on page 132 of Sandham's "Montreal," the breaking out of the City's most devastating fire is dated Thursday, July 9th (1852), but the 9th was Friday. The inference is that the honored author of that valuable work connected the day of the month, on which the news was published, with the week-day on which the fire started.

On page 135 of the same work, the celebration of the opening of the Grand Trunk Railway to Portland is stated to have occurred on Monday, 18th June, 1853, and, as the 18th actually fell on Saturday, and the news was doubtless published in Montreal on the following Monday, the author has evidently made the opposite mistake, of joining the right day of the month and the week-day the news was published.

As Chronology has the advantage over history, that it is less offensive to state facts than to impute motives, the present notes are brought up to date and may serve to recall other links in the chain of recent affairs.

The paragraphs concerning Vermont may seem, but are not, disgressive, for No. XI of the "Articles of Confederation and Perpetual Union" invited Canada "to all the advantages of this Union," while humiliating the New Hampshire Grantees (Vermonters) by the clause, "but no other colony shall be admitted into the same, unless such admission be agreed to by nine States,"—nine out of thirteen, whereof two were inimical and one large and influential.

Threatened with invasion by New York, New Hampshire and by Congressional forces, as well as from Canada, it is not surprising that leading Vermonters, with the Governor's approval, discussed, with British officers, terms of reconciliation, nor that Vermont long deferred accepting a tardy offer of admission to the Union, nor that, in 1812, the Governor of Vermont disapproved of the War which ruined half the merchants and cost half the shipping of the United States.

Exceptional attention is given to matters of 1829, in order to preserve a record of facts contained in a semi-official almanac which preceded the Directories of Montreal, and may be the only copy extant.

The Calendars of single years generally indicate the holidays ; but, believing that approximation to the old rule, "Six days shalt thou labor and do all thy work," will lighten the general task ; and learning that the Legislature is about to abolish one or more of these burthens of the rich and poor, the author avoids the likelihood of misleading the public by attaching existing holidays to the Calendars of nearly a third of a century to come.

It is hoped that the accompanying statistics, if not of general interest, will be of value to the economist. They favor Reciprocity of Trade with the United States ; but in vain, for it was the experience of the Detroit Convention and of the favorable report of a special committee of the New York Legislature, that the only certain result of sound arguments in favor of reciprocal trade was to arouse the opposition of every adverse interest.

Short histories and advertisements of some contributors to Canada's commercial prosperity will be found arranged according to the years in which they, or those whose good-will they inherited or acquired, began business.

23rd MARCH (O. S.),—John Bushnell publishes the Halifax Gazette, the first newspaper north of the thirteen Colonies.

17th MAY (N. S.),—M. de la Jonquière, Governor of New France, dies—possessed of £40,000.

— JULY,—The new Governor, Duquesne, a soldier, being instructed to prepare for war, keeps the farmers under arms, to the neglect of tillage.

14th SEPT. (N. S.),—Under the OLD STYLE of reckoning time, every year exactly divisible by 4 had 366 days. As this had the effect of lengthening the year to such an extent that in the 16th century, New-Year's day fell ten days later than it should, Pope Gregory XIII influenced Catholic countries to drop ten days of October, 1582, by way of correcting the Calendar.

Protestant countries delayed making the correction until this century, when England, tardily following the example of Germany, Denmark, Holland and Switzerland, cancels eleven days of September, and reckons the fourteenth as the next day after the second of this month, under a statute passed last year. Hitherto the year began on the 25th of March, in England; though, on the 1st of January, in Scotland. To prevent further error, years divisible by one hundred are not to be leap years, unless also divisible by 400. Accordingly, A.D. 1900 will not, and 2000 will, be a leap year.

Ten ships, of from 40 to 100 tons burthen, are built for the Canadian trade.

France sends 3,000 regulars to Canada.

The Bonsecours Church, in Montreal, is burnt.

Fort Duquesne is built.

Benjamin Franklin says the British Colonies will have no peace while France holds Canada.

28th MAY,—Washington, with a few men, attacks Jumonville, with thirty followers, near the confluence of the Monongahela and Ohio Rivers. Jumonville and nine of his command are killed. The rest are taken prisoners.

The French allege that, before firing began, Jumonville signaled that he had a proposal to make; but Washington says that he observed no signal, though at the head of his men.

— MAY,—While acting as General Braddock's aid, Washington learns that the General scorns advice, is dilatory and boastful. For example, the General has told Franklin what he will do after taking Fort Duquesne.

16th JUNE,—Fort Beausejour, garrisoned by 400 Frenchmen, is surrendered to Col. Winslow, of Massachusetts, commanding 2,300, of whom 300 are regulars.

— JULY,—Seven British Colonial Governors form a Treaty with the Iroquois, and project a federal union for carrying on war, under a president to be named by the King.

9th JULY,—General Braddock's ignorance of Indian warfare facilitates an ambuscade near Fort Duquesne. As the British cannot see their foes, of twelve hundred brave men, but four hundred escape death. The General is mortally wounded, and Washington is the only mounted officer uninjured. Among the French loss, of forty, is their leader, de Beaujeu.

Forewarned, by Franklin, of a possible ambuscade, Braddock had replied : "The savages may be formidable to your raw American militia ; upon the King's regulars and disciplined troops it is impossible that they should make any impression."

13th JULY,—General Braddock dies at Fort Necessity.

15th JULY,—Announcement, in England, of the capture of French troops on their way to Canada.

8th SEPT.—Baron Dieskau, with 1,500 French and Indian troops, overcomes Col. Williams, with 1,400 English and Indians, near Fort George. Immediately afterwards, the French attack Col. Johnson's force, barricaded at Fort George, but are repelled, with heavy loss. The two commanders are wounded, and the two opposing Indian chiefs are killed. Baron Dieskau is captured by the English, who dress his wounds and earn his life-long gratitude by their kindness.

—For his success at Fort George, Col. Johnson is made a baronet, with a grant of £5,000.

—The Marquis de Vaudreuil is advanced from the governorship of Louisiana to that of New France.

10th SEPT.—Expatriation of Acadians begins.

—The French build Fort Ticonderoga, the English Forts William-Henry and Edward.

18th to 22nd MARCH.—In four nights 1,500 French Canadians and Indians destroy the out-works of Fort William-Henry.

— MAY.—The inhabitants of Quebec are put upon an allowance of 4 ounces of bread, per day.

Many Indians die of small-pox and starvation.

Government contractors make large fortunes by increasing the price of bread from three to thirty sous per pound, and meat from six to sixty sous. New France asks, from the Mother country, food, money and 2,000 soldiers; but is answered that the Colonial Exchequer owes the Royal Treasury 14,000,000 livres.

30th JULY.—Seven thousand men are collected to attack Fort William Henry.

9th AUG.—The Fort, garrisoned by 2,200, capitulates. Violating the terms of capitulation. Indians kill, or recapture, many of the garrison, whereupon Montcalm exclaims: "Kill me, but spare the English who are under my protection."

Of 5,000 French soldiers expected, but 1,500 reach Canada.

— DEC.—The troops, in Canada, complain of being fed on horse-flesh and too little bread.

Upon Montcalm's receiving a decoration from the King of France, the Indians say:—"We neither love nor esteem you the more for it; we love the man and not what hangs upon him."

Population of New France, 82,000, of whom only 14,000 are disposable to meet 60,000 British and Colonial troops.

As Canadian farms lie fallow, 12,000 tons of shipping are required to provision the country; and British cruisers may capture the whole.

Montcalm writes that Canada will be Britain's next year; that a soldier has made 700,000 livres, and a contractor 2,000,000; that some prefer the country should be taken to having their accounts investigated; that one high official is improving his fortune, while another intrusts important military expeditions to his inexperienced brother.

France sends 1. ships and 600 recruits to New France.

Being thanked by the House of Burgesses of Virginia, for the destruction of Fort Duquesne, Washington hesitates for a reply; seeing which, the Speaker says:—"Sit down, sir; your modesty is equal to your valor, and that surpasses any language of mine."

22nd MAY,—A British fleet approaches Quebec.

28th JUNE,—French fire-ships, intended to burn the British fleet, at Quebec, are taken ashore by British sailors.

26th JULY,—Carillon (Fort Ticonderoga) is abandoned by the French.

8th and 9th AUG.—British guns, on Point Levi, fire the lower town of Quebec.

13th SEPT.,—Wolfe lands a force at Fuller's Cove, between 1 and 2 in the morning. They climb to the Plains of Abraham. At 6 a. m., Montcalm is informed that the British have accomplished what he deemed impossible; but discredits the report. With 4,500, he fights about an equal number; but his men cannot resist bayonets. Each leader receives a mortal wound. Wolfe asks an officer to support him so that his followers may not be discouraged by his fall. An historian says of Wolfe:—"He crowded into a few hours actions that would have given lustre to length of life; and, filling his day with greatness, completed it before its noon."

Learning that he had but a few hours to live, Montcalm says:—"So much the better; I shall not live to see the surrender of Quebec." Turning to de Ramsay he says:—"To your keeping I commend the honor of France; as for me, I shall pass the night with God and prepare myself for death."

14th SEPT.,—Montcalm dies in the Castle of St. Louis.

17th SEPT.,—Capitulation of Quebec.

18th SEPT.,—The British take possession of Quebec.

14th NOV.,—De Levis and De Vaudreuil write, from Montreal, to the French Government, stating what is requisite to save Canada.

—Praised for success, in America, Pitt replies:—"The more a man is versed in business, the more he finds the hand of Providence everywhere."

20th APR.,—Seven thousand French troops start to recapture Quebec.

28th APR.,—Murray's 7,714 troops retire to the Citadel, after fighting the Canadians outside the walls of Quebec. The French prepare to besiege.

9th MAY,—The belligerents, of each nationality, expect a fleet bringing troops and supplies. An approaching frigate proves to be British.

15th MAY,—Two more British war-ships arrive. The British win a naval battle near Quebec.

17th MAY,—The French raise the siege of Quebec.

6th SEPT.,—General Amherst invests Montreal.

6th and 7th SEPT.,—A council of war, at Montreal, favors capitulation.

8th SEPT.,—Amherst's, Murray's and Haviland's commands, around Montreal, are about 17,000.

8th SEPT.,—The articles of capitulation are agreeable to the French, except that they do not concede "all the honors of war" or "perpetual neutrality of Canadians."

De Levis threatens to retire to St. Helen's Island and fight to the last; but the Governor orders him to disarm.

8th SEPT.,—The British take possession of Montreal.

The Governor, many officers and troops (in all 3,085) sail for France. France owes the Colonists £1,600,000, but will only pay by instalments. 25th Oct.,—George II dies, aged 77.

—JAN.,—Choiseul, whom Pitt esteems the greatest French minister since Richelieu, becomes minister of foreign affairs. He declares:—"Since we do not know how to make war, we must make peace."

—FEB.,—James Otis, of Massachusetts, asserts that:—"An act of Parliament against the Constitution is void." The colonists say: "There is no free highway on the sea, except to England."

29th JULY,—The British terms of peace are so hard that Choiseul declares:—"I am as indifferent to peace as Pitt can be. I freely admit the King's desire for peace, and his Majesty may sign such a treaty, but my hand shall never be set to it." Choiseul proposes that each country shall retain all its conquests; but Pitt will include the conquests of 115 vessels now at sea.

Finding war inevitable, the King of England says:—"Why were not words chosen in which all might have concurred?"

15th AUG.,—France and Spain are allied against England.

5th Oct.,—William Pitt resigns.

6th Oct.,—The King offers Pitt the governorship of Canada, with £5,000 per annum but, instead, makes his wife a peeress; and £13,000 per annum is granted to the survivor of three of his family.

17th Nov.,—Ex-Intendant Bigot is imprisoned in the Bastille, for malversation, in Canada. A score of supposed accomplices are to be imprisoned, including the ex-Governor.

Canada under Martial law.

14th FEB.,—Martinique capitulates.

11th AUG.,—Havana capitulates.

3rd Nov.,—According to preliminaries of peace, signed at Fontainebleau, England is to have, with certain West Indies, Florida, Louisiana, to the Mississippi (without New Orleans), Canada, Acadia, Cape Breton and its dependencies, and the fisheries, subject to certain French interests. Spain is to have New Orleans and Louisiana, west of the Mississippi, with an undetermined Western boundary.

9th DEC.,—The treaty being approved, the Princess-dowager exclaims: "Now my son is indeed King of England."

The Order of the Jesuits is abolished in Canada. The doctrines that "all men are born equal," that "kings are for the people," and that the people cannot be rightfully taxed without their consent, become popular in the thirteen Colonies.

— JANUARY, — A standing army, supported by the Colonists, is proposed.
10th FEB., — By the treaty of Paris, France cedes to Britain, Canada and all the Laurentian Islands, except St. Pierre and Miquelon.

11th APR., — Britain allows Canadians the free exercise of their religion.
7th DEC., — Canadians are required to swear fealty.

10th DEC., — In France, Ex-Governor du Vaudreuil and five others are declared not guilty of the charges for which they have been imprisoned. Ex-Intendant Bigot is sentenced to perpetual banishment and forfeiture of his property. Restitution, amounting to 11,400,000 francs, is exacted from various colonial officers. Commissary-General Cadet has to pay 6,000,000 francs, of which he has defrauded the Government in Canada. The prophetic say that the acquisition of Canada will cost England her colonies. "No longer requiring protection, they will be asked to support burthens, which their necessities have brought upon the mother country, and will answer by striking off all dependence."

21st JUNE,—The Quebec Gazette, the second newspaper in Canada, appears. It is destined to attain importance, under Hon. John Neilson's management, and to be one of about a dozen contemporaries, in the world, to enjoy a century's continuous existence. Its European news is seventy days old.

Canada is divided into two chief judicial districts (Quebec and Montreal). Martial law, in Canada, terminates.

The Assembly, convoked by Governor Murray, does not act, because the Roman Catholic members will not subscribe the Oath of Abjuration.

A. D. 1765.

22nd MARCH,—The Stamp Act is passed.

The King and Grenville believe that force will prevail. Pitt declares the Act unconstitutional. Burke says it will yield more discontent than revenue.

There are 136 Protestants in Montreal, and 500 in Canada.

A. D. 1766.

The Stamp Act is repealed.

Brigadier-General Carlton becomes Lieutenant-Governor.

A. D. 1766.—Continued.

French Canadians are indignant at English judges' interpretations of French laws and at their conducting proceedings in the English tongue.

—Apr.—A report, by the English Crown lawyers, Yorke and De Grey, says:—"It is a maxim of the law of nations, to allow the old laws, of a vanquished people, to subsist, at least, till their conquerors substitute new, while it is oppressive and violent to change, suddenly, the laws of any country; hence wise conquerors, after having provided for the material security of their acquisitions, will innovate slowly, and let their subjects retain all such usages as are indifferent in their nature, especially those which regard the rights of property."

"We cannot introduce among them, at one stroke, English law of property, with its forms of conveyancing, alienation, fines, its modes of shaping deeds and interpreting contracts, or our laws of succession, without committing manifest wrong, or, at least, occasioning the greatest confusion. Englishmen, who buy property in Canada, both can and should conform themselves to the laws regarding it." They recommend reinstating Gallo-Canadian civil procedure.

A. D. 1767.

Two years ago, Lord Chancellor Camden declared, respecting the right to tax America :—"Taxation and representation are inseparable ; this proposition is founded on the laws of Nature ; it is itself a law of Nature ; for whatever is a man's own is absolutely his own. No man has a right to take it from him without his consent ; whosoever attempts to do it, attempts an injury ; whosoever does it, commits a robbery." Yet, he does not oppose a duty on tea, paper, glass, etc., imported into the Colonies. Canada and Nova Scotia keep aloof from the troubles which tend to alienate other colonies.

A. D. 1768.

16th Oct.,—Lord Camden says :—"It is now manifest that the whole Continent will make common cause. After both sides are half ruined in the contest, we shall, at last, establish a right which ought never to have been exerted.

If the Americans are able to practise so much self-denial as to subsist, only for one twelve-month, without British commodities, I do very much

A. D. 1773.

16th DEC.—Destruction of tea in the Harbor of Boston.

—DEC.,—Prominent French Canadians petition the King to restore their ancient laws and accord them the rights of British subjects, reminding him that five-sixths of the seigniories belong to Frenchmen. They represent that the Labrador Coast and fisheries, now alienated to Newfoundland, should revert to Canada. They prefer a Legislative Council, nominated by the King, because less expensive than an Elective Assembly.

Lord Dartmouth promises Canadians just and considerate treatment respecting their religion.

The Fabrique of Montreal have a college for instructing youths in arithmetic, geography, English and Belles Lettres.

Highest price, per quarter, of wheat, in England, 6os.

A. D. 1774.

5th SEPT.,—Delegates from twelve colonies discuss measures for common safety, at Philadelphia. Canada and Georgia are not represented, though invited. Vermont, not being organized, is not invited.

A. D. 1774.—Continued.

The Mayor of London, many English merchants and Canadian Protestants object that a Protestant parliament cannot delegate its legislative powers to Roman Catholics, and that the Civil Law is incompatible with the liberty of British subjects. French Canadians prefer laws which divide the patrimony equally, to the favoritism of primo-geniture. Pitt calls the Quebec Act "An oppressive and odious law," which will establish "popery in a country more extensive than Britain itself."

A. D. 1775.

19th APRIL,—The Revolutionary War begins, at Lexington.

1st MAY,—A bust of George III is found, in Montreal, adorned with beads, cross and mitre, with the words "Pope of Canada: Sot of England." A reward of 500 guineas does not lead to apprehension of the culprit.

10th MAY,—Ethan Allen takes Fort Ticonderoga.

15th MAY,—The Colonies decide to issue paper money.

A. D. 1775.—Continued.

21st AUG.,—Generals Schuyler and Montgomery, with 1,000 Americans come to Canada, and invite the inhabitants to rebel.

17th SEPT.,—Montgomery besieges St. Johns.

25th SEPT.,—Attempting to take Montreal, Ethan Allen and many of his, 150 followers are captured, at Longue Pointe, and are sent to England.

18th OCT.,—The Americans capture Chambly.

3rd Nov.,—Hindered by Colonel Warner, of Vermont, Governor Carleton cannot relieve St. Johns, which surrenders to Montgomery.

3rd Nov.,—Invaders, under Arnold, reach the Chaudière, almost perishing, after 52 days in the woods, from the Kennebec.

12th Nov.,—General Montgomery tells Montrealers that, being defenceless, they cannot stipulate terms; but promises to respect personal rights. He demands the keys of public stores, and appoints 9 a. m. to-morrow for the army's entrance, by the Recollet gate.

13th Nov.,—The invaders appropriate royal stores.

A. D. 1776.

29th APRIL,—Benjamin Franklin, Samuel Chase and Rev. Charles Carroll, a Jesuit, urge Canadians to send delegates to Congress, promising toleration. Franklin brings a printer and press, for a newspaper, to mould public opinion. [vide 1778.]

Canadians regard Franklin as an enemy, and the priests remind Father Carroll, that, unlike some of the Provinces, Britain tolerates the Romish Church.

6th MAY,—As a British fleet is in sight, the Continental Army, before Quebec, being only 2,000, weakened by disease, retires from a superior enemy, who await reinforcements, behind strong walls.

7th JUNE,—The Congressional vote, upon independence, is a tie.

8th JUNE,—Attempting to surprise Three Rivers, General Thompson, with 200, of 1,800, Americans, is taken prisoner.

16th JUNE,—Arnold's force has retreated from Montreal.

A. D. 1776.—Continued.

4th JULY,—The United States declare Independence.

The eleventh Article of "Confederation and Perpetual Union" provides that: "Canada, acceding to this Confederation, and joining in the measures of the United States, shall be admitted into, and entitled to, all the advantages of this Union; but no other Colony shall be admitted to the same, unless such admission be agreed to by nine States."

23rd JUNE,—New York objects to Vermont's admission to the Union.

30th JUNE,—A committee of Congress resolves: "That the Petition of Vermont, to be recognized as an independent State and to have her delegates admitted to seats in Congress, be dismissed."

11th OCT.—The British are victorious on Lake Champlain.

13th OCT.—On the same Lake, Arnold runs part of his fleet ashore, to avoid capture.

The Jesuits' College, at Quebec, converted into barracks. Since 1759, it has not been used for primary instruction.

Highest and lowest prices of wheat, in England, 40s. and 36s. per quarter.

This business has, perhaps, been longer continued by one family than any other in Canada. It was founded by Benaiah Gibb, who was born in Northumberland, in England, on Tuesday, the 6th of May, 1755; came to Montreal in 1774, and began business in 1775.

Benaiah Gibb, jr., who succeeded his father, is well remembered for his munificent bequests to the Art Association of Montreal.

The business afterwards fell to the late James Duncan Gibb, and is now carried on by his late partners, Alexander, Edward Munro and Lachlan Gibb, descendants of the founder's brother, which brother also established a business,—still continued by the Gibb family,—at 19 Royal Exchange, London, England, well-known to the traveled Montrealer.

The British Coat-of-Arms betokens, besides the Gibbs' nationality, the liberal patronage of Royalty. The Crown emblemizes the loyalty Benaiah Gibb shared with his fellow-citizens, when, in 1775, the city was occupied by American troops and flooded with seductive proclamations.

An old customer of the Gibbs says :—

“They Never Sell Inferior Goods, nor Overcharge or Break a Promise.”

With such a record, dating from a century and eighteen years ago, they have patrons in both hemispheres.

A. D. 1778.

7th APRIL,—Lord Chatham's last appearance in the House of Lords. He says:—"My Lords, I rejoice that I am still alive, to lift up my voice against the dismemberment of this ancient and most noble monarchy." He intended proposing recall of the troops and pacification of the colonies, by concessions, not by alienation; but, rising to answer the Duke of Richmond, he falls to the floor.

11th MAY,—Death of Lord Chatham.

15th JULY,—France declares war against England.

A treaty of alliance and of trade is made between France and the United States.

Lord North induces renunciation of the right to tax the colonies and authority to negotiate with them for peace.

General Haldimand replaces Carleton as governor.

THE MONTREAL GAZETTE.

Though circumstances do not admit of a full account of this old and influential educator of the people of Canada, the chance of preserving a few facts for some future historian is not to be slighted.

The first number of the Gazette was printed in the old Chateau, on Notre Dame street, near Jacques Cartier square, where the inferior law courts are now held, and bore date 3rd June, 1778,—less than a year after the thirteen colonies made their Declaration of Independence.

It was the first newspaper in Montreal, and was started by Fleury Mesplet, former employe of Benjamin Franklin.

Though Franklin failed in his mission to Montreal, he paved the way for Mesplet's success.

The subscription price was 2½ Spanish dollars, per year; single copies, 10 sous. Day of publication, Wednesday.

The following advertisement appeared in the first issue:—

"SIX DOLLARS REWARD.

"Ran away on the 14th instant, a slave belonging to widow Dufy Desaulnier, aged about thirty-five years, dressed in striped calico of the ordinary cut, of tolerable stoutness. Whoever will bring her back will receive a reward of six dollars, and will be repaid any costs that may be proved to have been incurred in finding her."

The Gazette's jubilee year (1828) found it domiciled at the (then) number 25 Notre Dame street, near the English church, and published "by authority," as an official organ, on Mondays and Thursdays, by Robert Armour, who was increasing it to twenty-four columns, at the price of 20s. per annum, for delivery in the city, and 25s., post-paid, to the country, payable half-yearly, in advance.

It contained correspondence from all parts of the country and from abroad, editorials upon commercial and agricultural matters, European political news, debates of the Provincial Legislature, lists of promotions in the army and navy, reports of judicial decisions and announcements of sheriff's sale, etc., etc.

In 1833, Armour & Son (the son being Andrew) were established on the south side of Little St. James street, near St. Lambert hill, and behind the the English church. The paper was then tri-weekly, and edited by Andrew Armour. In the year of the Rebellion (1837) the north-west corner of St. François Xavier and St. Sacrament streets became the place of publication.

Soon afterwards, Robert Armour's retirement occasioned his son Andrew's taking Hew Ramsay as a partner; and, in 1842, Armour & Ramsay had a printing office, on St. Paul street, two doors west of St. Gabriel street, enjoying a view of the St. Lawrence.

In 1845, Robert Abraham bought out Armour & Ramsay, and made the Gazette a daily paper, published on the south side of St. Paul street, one door west of Custom House square, whence he removed, in 1848, to the south side of Hospital street, about mid-way between St. John and St. François Xavier streets.

In 1850, Mr. Abraham sold the paper to Messrs. Ferres and Milne, who continued its publication where the City & District Savings Bank now stands and where Messrs. Lowe & Chamberlin, who became proprietors of the Gazette, in 1856, so increased its circulation that, in 1860, larger premises were required and taken, on St. James street, opposite St. John street.

In 1866, John Lowe, managing director of the Montreal Printing & Publishing Company, was editor-in-chief of the Gazette, with which the Evening Telegraph, previously edited by Edmund Parsons, had been amalgamated.

Fortunately for the public, and for all concerned, in 1870, the Gazette was purchased by the brothers, T. & R. White, natives of Lower Canada, who had been prepared for the enterprise by the successful publication of a leading paper in Upper Canada, and agreed and understood each other so well that they made a most prudent division of labor.

The elder brother, Thomas (since the Honorable, but now deceased), united an economist's knowledge of statistics, a statesman's grasp of public and international affairs and a happy and vigorous style, which made the Gazette's leading articles the study of commercial men and of politicians.

Richard White, on the other hand, though probably a readier and, possibly, an equally trenchant writer, being also a thorough man of business, took the

A.D. 1781.

2nd FEB.,—Ethan Allen receives a further proposal from Col. Robinson ; but sends both to Congress, with a request for the recognition of Vermont. Premising loyalty to Congress, he maintains that Vermont may properly treat with Great Britain, to prevent being subjected to another State, by the authority of a Government which Vermonters have helped to establish.

— APRIL,—Ira Allen is sent to Canada to arrange an exchange of prisoners.

1st MAY,—Receiving proposals for Vermont's independence, Col. Ira Allen temporizes to prevent invasion and enable the farmers to sow seed for another crop.

20th AUG.,—As a condition of Vermont's admission to the Union, Congress fixes boundaries which offend both Vermont and New York.

General Washington asks Governor Chittenden whether Vermont chooses to be a Province or in the Union.

— SEPT.,—British proposals to Vermont include a Legislature of two branches.

19th OCT.,—Vermont declines Congress' terms.

14th Nov.,—Governor Chittenden answers General Washington that, notwithstanding Vermont's interest in the common cause, the people would rather join British Canadians than be subject to New York.

18th DEC.,—Troops sent from New York, to coerce New Hampshire grants, learn that they will defend their rights.

A.D. 1782.

1st JAN.,—Threatened by three hostile forces, Vermont is advised by Gen. Washington, a skilled surveyor, to limit jurisdiction to undisputed territory.

22nd FEB.,—Vermont accepts the prescribed delimitation.

1st MARCH,—It is proposed, in Congress, to treat Vermont as hostile, failing submission to the terms of 20th August, 1781, and to divide it between New York and New Hampshire, along the ridge of the Green Mountains; and that the Commander-in-chief employ the Congressional forces to further this resolution.

— MARCH,—Lord North's cabinet is dissolved, in consequence of reverses in America and of Parliament's indisposition to prosecute an unpopular war, which has gained colonial alliance with France, Spain and Holland.

In the course of this year John Molson, the future pioneer of Canadian steam navigation, arrives in Canada.

Councillor Finlay proposes to establish English schools in Canadian parishes, and to prohibit using the French language in the Law Courts after a certain time.

Highest price of wheat, in England, per quarter, 56s.

A.D. 1783.

20th JAN.,—Preliminaries of peace are signed between Great Britain and the United States.

Vermont delays entering the Union, because Congress is partial to New York, and because of the General Government's indebtedness, for which Vermont is not bound.

United Empire Loyalists settle in Canada.

The North-West Company is formed.

A lottery is started, in Montreal, to defray the cost of a new gaol.

A.D. 1784.

The Legislative Council votes to exclude citizens from the debates.

Petitions are sent to England, asking for an Elective Assembly; trial by jury, in civil cases, etc. : counter-petitions are signed by over 4,000.

The debt of the United States exceeds $40,000,000, exclusive of debts of the several States.

A. D. 1787.

14th AUG.,—Prince William Henry (future William IV) lands at Quebec.

At an investigation into judicial abuses, it is stated that one judge takes wine to excess, before taking his seat on the Bench; and that another habitually disregards the pertinent French law and applies the law of England.

A. D. 1788.

Attorney-General Monk and Solicitor-General Williams are of opinion that, as the Jesuits have no civil existence as a Canadian corporation, their estates accrue to the Crown.

Ontario is divided into five districts, under English law.

The Montreal Gazette, formerly a French journal, appears in English.

A. D. 1789.

30th APRIL,—Washington is elected President of the United States.

4th MAY,—The justices of the peace, who govern Montreal's affairs, order "the price and assize of bread, for this month" to be: "the white loaf of 4lbs. at 13d., or 30 sous," etc.; and that bakers of the city and suburbs do conform thereto, and mark their bread with their initials.

The rising young poet, Robert Burns, is favorably noticed by the Montreal Gazette.

Lord Grenville proposes that lands in Upper Canada be held in free and common soccage, and that the tenure of Lower Canadian lands be optional with the inhabitants.

7th OCT.—New York consents to Vermont's admission to the Union, with cessation of New York's jurisdiction, in the disputed territory.

Towards compensating those to whom New York has granted lands, Vermont is to pay $30,000. Thus ends a quarrel which might have changed the destiny of the Colonies.

Lower Canada is divided into three districts, instead of two.

18th FEB.—Congress admits Vermont into the Union.

Edmund Burke supports the proposed constitution for Canada, saying that:—"To attempt to amalgamate two populations, composed of races of men diverse in language, laws and habitudes, is a complete absurdity. Let the proposed constitution be founded on man's nature, the only solid basis for an enduring government."

Fox declares that England can retain Canada "through the good will of the Canadians, alone."

Lord Grenville, denying that Canadian attachment to French jurisprudence is due to prejudice, says it is founded "on the noblest sentiments of the human breast."

The Province is divided into Upper and Lower Canada.

The population of Canada, of European descent, is assumed to be between 150,000 and 160,000, of whom about 10,000 live in Upper Canada, mostly descendants of United Empire Loyalists.

The new constitution provides for a Legislative Council of 15 members, 3rd JUNE,—Reign of Terror in France.

9th JULY,—Importation of slaves, into Canada, prohibited.

The Governor declares that the Provincial expenditure exceeds the income ; and desires the Assembly to consider means of supply. The suggestion is disregarded. Judge Panet is unanimously elected to preside over the Assembly. The Executive of Lower Canada is authorized to suspend the Habeas Corpus Act, as regards seditious aliens.

Lower Canada's income is hardly one-third of its expenditure, which amounts to £25,000. The deficiency is supplied by the Home Government.

Lord Dorchester resumes the Governorship (his third term). He is instructed to name an executive council of nine, four to be French Canadians.

Merchant vessels first navigate Lake Ontario.

The first Protestant bishop of Quebec is appointed, with request that he shall sit in the Upper House. Lord Dorchester replies that this will give offence, unless the Roman Catholic bishop also has a seat. This is assented to ; but the Duke of Portland reconsiders, and neither bishop becomes a member.

Lord Dorchester recommends that public salaries be fixed, to avoid abuses.

— JUNE,—Close of a session of the Canadian Legislature, which began in November last. Only six acts have been passed. Public accounts are first published for tax-payers' information.

Lord Dorchester charges members, returning home, to bring to justice disturbers of peace and good order.

The Catholic clergy praise British rule, and exhort their flocks to loyalty.

M. Plessis, parish priest, of Quebec, in a funeral sermon over the death of Bishop Briand, confessing that the English conquerors were first regarded with aversion, as it was not believed that strangers to the language, laws and religion of the French could render an equivalent for the advantages of French connection, exclaims:—"Generous nation! which has shown us by many proofs how ill founded were our apprehensions; industrious nation! which has developed the earth's resources and explored its hidden wealth; exemplary nation! that, in critical times, taught the world wherein consists the liberty to which all aspire, but of which few know the just limits; humane nation! that has just now welcomed the most faithful, but worst treated,

LYMAN, SONS &amp; CO.

The pioneer drug house of Canada was established, as a retail business, by Messrs. Wadsworth and Lyman, in the year 1800, and, after passing through several changes in the personnel of the firm, became a wholesale business as early as the year 1829, though a retail department was continued in connection with the establishment until after Confederation. At that time the firm was Hedge & Lyman, which had been formed in 1816, and the subsequent changes of name were William Lyman & Co. in 1836, Lymans, Savage & Co. in 1855 (at which date the main building of their present commodious premises was erected), Lymans, Clare & Co. in 1860, and Lyman, Sons & Co. in 1879.

A large, perhaps the chief, part of the business of the house consists in the importation and sale of drugs, chemicals, druggists' sundries, proprietary medicines, etc., but a large and well equipped laboratory is devoted to the manufacture of pharmaceutical preparations, fluid extracts, elixirs, syrups, tinctures, chemicals, etc. There is, besides, a surgical instrument department, stocked from the best sources of supply in England, France, Germany and the United States, and, also, a very complete chemical apparatus department, for the supply of these goods to colleges, schools, mining companies and assayers,—the greater attention paid to chemistry in the public schools and the development of the mining industries of the country causing a steady and increasing demand for chemical appliances of all kinds. In addition to the extensive premises on St. Paul street, comprising three buildings, with a frontage of eighty feet, and extending back to Capital street, Lyman Sons & Co. occupy Nos. 9 and 11 DeBresoles street, which they use as a drug and spice grinding mill. The firm were formerly large manufacturers of linseed oil, oil cake, paints, etc., and obtained medals for these products at nearly all the great exhibitions, from that of Paris in 1855, to that of 1878, in the same city; but this branch of the business was discontinued in 1887. The youngest, but not the least promising, department in the house is that for the manufacture of fine perfumes, after the French process, by steam machinery. Not only has considerable success in this line been achieved in the home market, but the firm's success with its exhibit in London, at the Colonial and Indian Exhibition, has led to the establishment of an export agency there.

A. D. 1801.

1st JAN.,—Union of Great Britain and Ireland.

6th JAN.,—Sir R. S. Milnes, having complained of the emancipation of the R. C. clergy from State control, the Duke of Portland, Secretary of State for the Colonies, replies that he does not understand why the following article of the Royal Instructions has not been enforced, viz. :—“No one shall be invested with holy orders, or be charged with the cure of souls, without the sanction of the Governor." The Duke desires the laws amended to give Government greater control of the militia.

5th FEB.—To cement the Union, Pitt has introduced an Act to relieve Roman Catholics of disabilities. As the king opposes the measure, Pitt resigns the office of Prime Minister, which he has held for seventeen years, and is succeeded by Addington.

21st FEB.—The future Cardinal Newman is born.

Ship-building has become an important industry in Canada.

24th JULY.—The first tramway, in England, is opened.

An Act is passed, providing for the removal of the walls around Montreal. Joseph Frobisher and others are incorporated to supply Montreal with water.

Population of England and Wales 8,892,536. Wheat reaches its highest price in over one hundred and thirty years, viz. :—159s. 3d. Its lowest price this year is 73s. 4d., 22 shillings and 5 pence less than the minimum in 1800, though the highest price this year is 20 shillings and 2 pence greater than in 1800.

Canada, which has the honor of having the finest water-way and the longest railroad, is also distinguished as the home of, doubtless, the chief individual miller in the world.

The milling business, now carried on by William W. Ogilvie, Esq., at many points, hundreds of miles apart, was begun, in 1801, by Mr. Ogilvie's grandfather, who, in that year, erected a flour mill at Jacques Cartier, near Quebec. Subsequently, displaying the foresight and energy which have distinguished his descendants, he perceived that Montreal, which was then inferior to Quebec, would become its superior, and, as the Lachine Rapids offered unlimited water-power, he there, shortly afterwards, erected a mill, of which the foundation is still to be seen.

In 1852, A. W. Ogilvie (now the Honorable) with his brothers, the late John Ogilvie and W. W. Ogilvie, the present proprietor, erected the Glenora Mills, on the Lachine Canal, and, at subsequent dates, the Royal Mill at Montreal, and the Mills at Goderich, Seaforth and Winnipeg. To these Mr. W. W. Ogilvie, last year, added, by purchase from his only serious competitor, in Montreal, the City flouring mills of Messrs. Gould & Sons, for which he paid a quarter of a million dollars.

In 1876, the wheat-growing capacity of Manitoba was still problematical, and when the problem could only be worked out by enterprise and capital, Mr. W. W. Ogilvie gained the confidence and gratitude, of the early settlers of that Province, by going, purse in hand, to buy all the wheat they had to sell.

In that year, he could only find a few hundred bushels; but, in 1891, he purchased, in that Province, for his own mills, over four million bushels of wheat, which was temporarily stored in his thirty-nine elevators, in the West.

Mr. Ogilvie aims, always, to have the best possible machinery, and was among the first to adopt the new mode of grinding, which, though partially invented in 1866, only came into use, in Hungary, in 1868, the same year it was utilized by Mr. Ogilvie, who went, to Hungary, to ascertain whether it could be worked, and, finally, improved upon it.

The entire capacity of Mr. Ogilvie's mills being 7,500 barrels per day, it is easy to see that he can put out over a million dollars' worth of flour in a single month; but a large income implies proportionate expenditure; and he disbursed, last year, in wages alone, over a quarter million dollars and for the Gould's mill another quarter of a million.

He does more than merely pay his assistants; he takes an interest in, and makes them comfortable. Recognizing their right, equally with his own, to the Heaven-sent blessings of light and air, he, recently, erected spacious, lofty and well lighted offices, panelled and furnished with oak.

The clerks who have helped to make the fortunes of Mr. Ogilvie and his family can, when opportunity favors, enjoy the well furnished reading-room or the adjoining recreation-room. To counteract the influence of restaurants, Mr. Ogilvie has thoughtfully added the convenience of a kitchen and dining-room.

Like several of Montreal's men of business, Mr. Ogilvie makes leisure to do a great deal of public and philanthropic work. He has been president of the Corn Exchange, is always a leader in carrying Conservative candidates to the top of the Poll and, to show that his heart comports with his success, it may be mentioned that he, recently gave $1,000 to aid sufferers by the fire in Newfoundland.

In order that the Board of Trade may open their new building under the most favorable auspices they, in 1893, unanimously elect Mr. Ogilvie to be their President.

2nd AUG.,—Napoleon becomes Consul.

The King assents to the endowment of a College, at Montreal, and of another at Quebec.

The Lower Canadian Legislature declares one Bouc disqualified to sit in Parliament for having been convicted of swindling and undergone infamous punishment.

Père Cazeau, survivor of the Jesuits, in Canada, dies; whereupon, the Governor claims their estates for the Crown. A majority of the House prefer devoting them to educational purposes, and require a copy of the Titles. The Governor complies, though he reprehends the course taken as disrespectful to the King.

Canada exports 1,010,033 bushels of wheat, 28,301 brls. of flour, and 22,051 cwt. of biscuits, exceeding the exports of any previous year.

A.D. 1805.

JOSEPH FORTIER, 254 St. JAMES STREET, MONTREAL.

The business of importing and manufacturing mercantile stationery and of ruling, printing, and lithographing as well as of manufacturing account-books and relief stamping, now carried on by Mr. Joseph Fortier alone, is the legal continuance of the famous wholesale and retail stationery house, established, in 1805, by Robert Weir & Company of Glasgow.

The firm was successively Robert Weir & Co.; Weir & Dunn; Robert Weir & Co.; James Sutherland; Akerman, Sutherland, Fortier & Co., in 1879; and, in 1881, Joseph Fortier, who has since remained sole proprietor.

In speaking of this celebrated house, La Presse, of the 6th of June, 1885, said it was one of the most important stationery establishments in Canada, and probably the oldest; that it was intended, in 1805, merely as a branch of the parent house in Scotland; but the liberal support, which the excellence of its goods commanded, soon justified its separate existence.

As clerk and proprietor, Mr. Fortier has now had thirty years' experience of his customers' requirements, having entered the late James Sutherland's employ in 1863.

Owing to their excellence, Mr. Fortier's goods and manufactures are in favor with the leading Railway Companies, Banks, Insurance and Commercial offices, in the city of Montreal and throughout the country.

A.D. 1809.

16th JAN.,—Sir John Moore, with 14,500, after retreating, through Spain, before Soult's 20,000, defeats them, at Corunna, where he is wounded to death; but he will live in song.

12th MAY,—Wellesley captures Oporto; and drives Soult through the Mountains, as Soult drove Moore.

27th and 28th JULY,—At Talavera, of 50,000 French, opposed to half the number, under Wellesley, 7,000 are lost.

A.D. 1809.—Continued.

3rd Nov.—John Molson's steam-boat "Accommodation" starts for Quebec. It is 85 feet over all, has a 6 horse-power engine, makes the distance in 36 hours, but stops at night and reaches Quebec on the 6th. The "Accommodation" is the second steam-boat in America and, probably, in the world. The fare for an adult is £2. 10s. od. = $10.00.

29th DEC.,—Birth of William E. Gladstone.

The Governor, after the second expulsion of Ezekiel Hart, an English Jew, from the Assembly, dissolves Parliament, saying: "You have wasted in fruitless debates, excited by private and personal animosity, that time and those talents to which, within these walls, the public have an exclusive title. You have, thereby, been forced to neglect the consideration of matters of moment and necessity, which were before you; while you have, at the same time, virtually prevented the introduction of such others as may have been in contemplation. A general good understanding is scarcely to be looked for without a new Assembly."

The newspaper Le Canadien resentfully says:—"The King's representative has power, by law, to dissolve the House when he thinks fit to do so; but he has no right, whatever, to make abusive remarks upon the action of the Legislature, a body independent of his authority. The respect due to this branch is as sacred and as inviolable as that due to his Excellency."

The Quebec Committee of Trade is instituted, thirteen years before Montreal follows suit.

— JAN.,—The Governor declares that, in case of hostilities, a force of regulars, adequate for the defence of Canada, will co-operate with the Militia.

18th JAN.,—The mercury falls suddenly, from a little below temperate to below zero.

The Assembly protest against the Governor's censure, as violating parliamentary privilege and Canadian liberties.

— MARCH.—Le Canadien of Quebec is suppressed, for seditious utterances. Soldiers, led by a magistrate, seize the plant and apprehend the printer. Warrants to arrest Messrs. Bédard, Taschereau, Papineau, Viger and others are issued. The Governor asks:—"During the fifty years you have been under British rule, has one act of oppression, one instance of arbitrary imprisonment, of violation of property, or of the rights of conscience ever occurred?"

26th Nov.,—John Molson asks the exclusive right to construct and navigate steam-boats, on the St. Lawrence, for 15 years.

The Canadian Assembly propose defraying the whole cost of Government, so as to control placemen.

The Lower House proposes that an agent shall represent the Province in London. Governor Craig prorogues Parliament, because, by not submitting to the Legislative Council's rejection of a Bill, to prevent Judges sitting in the Legislature, they unconstitutionally disfranchise numbers of His Majesty's subjects.

ESTABLISHED A.D. 1811.

THIBEAUDEAU BROS. & CO.,

WHOLESALE DRY GOODS IMPORTERS,

332 St. Paul Street

163 Commissioners Street,

MONTREAL.

The business, of which this is the lawful sequence, originated in 1811 before the last war with the United States, and, at the outset, bore the name of Robertson & Co. Beginning with a good introduction, both to the merchants of London and to the retail dealers of Canada, a happy combination of Scotch caution and French energy made the business an immediate and permanent success, more particularly in its competition for French Canadian custom. The first change in the style of the firm was to Robertson, Masson & Co.

The house afterwards assumed the names, successively, of Robertson, Masson, Larocque & Co.; Robertson, Masson, Strang & Co.; in 1832, Robertson, Masson, Bruyère & Co.; and, in 1845, Masson, Bruyère, Thomas & Co. In 1849, the style became Thomas, Thibeau-deau & Co.; in 1867, Thibeau-deau, Généreux & Co.; and, finally, in 1879, Thibeau-deau Bros. & Co.

The parent house, at Quebec, is under the immediate direction of the Honorable Isidore Thibeau-deau, whose son and partner, Alfred Thibeau-deau, has charge of the Branch at Montreal. The house has a further Branch in London, England. Few Canadian firms have yielded so many or such ample fortunes to retiring members or an equal number of men competent for the direction of banks and other corporate bodies and to assist in the administration of Government. The Hon. Isidore Thibeau-deau, of Quebec, is a Director, and has been President, of the Banque Nationale, was a member of the Government formed by the late Hon. John Sanfield Macdonald, and has represented both Quebec East and Quebec Centre in Parliament. Alfred Thibeau-deau, though still young, is already, an active member of the Board of Trade. The Hon. Joseph Rosaire Thibeau-deau, who lately retired from the firm of Thibeau-deau Bros., upon accepting the shrievalty of Montreal, is still a Senator and holds many high offices in financial and industrial companies.

A.D. 1812.

18th JUNE,—The United States declare war against Great Britain, for impressing seamen, etc.

There are but 4,000 British troops in Canada. Sir Geo. Prevost is Governor. Four Canadian battalions are assembled, and the Citadel at Quebec is guarded by the inhabitants.

11th JULY,—U.S. troops invade Canada.

22nd JULY,—Near Salamanca, Wellington wins victory, a marquisate and £100,000.

12th AUG.—Wellington's army enters Madrid.

16th AUG.—Sir Isaac Brock, with 1,350, nearly half Indians, takes Detroit. He paroles many of Hull's 2,000.

A. D. 1813.

22nd JAN.,—General Proctor's 1,300 British and Indians capture 495 U. S. troops, under General Winchester.

7th FEB.,—Battle of Elizabethtown.

30th MAR.,—Engagement at Lacolle.

27th APR.,—The Americans, under Dearborn, take York, but the explosion of a magazine kills many of them.

5th MAY.,—Proctor captures 467 of 1200 Kentuckians, under Clay, near Fort Meigs.

1st JUNE.,—The English frigate "Shannon" takes the "Chesapeake," in 15 minutes, off Boston.

3rd JUNE.,—The "Growler" and the "Eagle," which left Plattsburg, yesterday, are taken by the British gun-boats they pursued; capture of Generals Chandler and Winder and 120 U.S. troops, at Burlington Heights, by Lieut.-Col. Harvey.

30th JULY.,—The British destroy Plattsburg's barracks, and fire at Burlington, but avoid the reply.

5th OCT.,—U.S. troops win the Battle of the Thames. Tecumseh is killed.

26th OCT.,—General Hampton, commanding 7,000 U.S. troops, ignorant of Col. de Salaberry's experience, and expecting French desertions, divides his force. Part lose their way; the rest spend their strength in a maze of obstructions. DeSalaberry gains the thanks of the commander-in-chief and of both Houses, and decoration by the Prince Regent.

19th DEC.,—Col. Murray takes Fort Niagara. Highest price, per quarter of wheat, in England, 125s. 7d.

198 vessels, of 46,514 tons, clear Quebec.

A. D. 1814.

3rd MAR.,—The Governor refuses to suspend Chief Justices Sewell and Monk, on suggestion of one branch of the Legislature. James Stuart moves, affirming the Assembly's right to inform the Governor of irregularities, without concurrence of the Council; and that the Governor has violated the Constitution.

7th MAR.,—The Assembly votes confidence in the Governor, apart from his advisers.

8th MAR.,—The council sustain their Clerk's refusal to show their minutes to a Committee of the Assembly.

9th MAR.,—The Assembly vote £2,000, for impeachment of Chief Justices Sewell and Monk. The Council will not pass the item.

A.D. 1814.—Continued.

31st MAR.,—The Allies enter Paris.

6th MAY,—The British, under Drummond, burn the fort at Oswego.

11th MAY,—Napoleon Bonaparte abdicates.

25th MAY,—Joseph Louis Papineau is unanimously elected speaker.

25th JULY,—The United States lose about 1,000 of 3,000, at Lundy's Lane.

25th JULY,—George Stephenson places the first locomotive steam-engine on the rails, at Killingworth.

— AUG.,—4,000 of Wellington's veterans have reached Canada.

11th AUG.,—Battle of Lake Champlain.

14th AUG.,—At Fort Erie, the British lose many lives, by the explosion of a magazine.

— AUG.,—General Ross takes Washington, D.C.

25th AUG.,—The sea-board of the U.S. is blockaded by ships released from European service.

At New Orleans, sharpshooters, behind cotton bales, repulse the British.

— AUG.,—Envoys consider terms of peace, at Ghent.

12th SEPT.,—An expedition of 11,000 under Governor Prevost, supplied to winter at Plattsburg, N.Y., seeing its fleet dispersed and the enemy gathering, retreats, abandoning stores.

In 1813, Wellington desired that Prevost should not abandon his policy of defence for petty advantages, to be gained by invasion, which he could not possibly maintain.

OCT.,—Martin Chittenden, Governor of Vermont, regards the war "as unnecessary, unwise and hopeless, in all its offensive operations."

22nd DEC.,—Treaty of Commerce, between the U.S. and Great Britain, signed at Ghent.

27th DEC.,—The Prince Regent ratifies both treaties. One relates to boundaries and the slave trade.

Canadian Army bills, £1,500,000.

Chief Justice Sewell, while in England, to defend himself, advises uniting the Canadas, with one Parliament.

The War has reduced American exports, in two years, from £22,000,000, stg., to £1,400,000; imports from £28,000,000 to less than £3,000,000.

Hundreds of U.S. ships have been captured and thousands of U.S. merchants ruined.

The Assembly re-proposes representation in London.

The Council objects. The Home Government declares that the Governor is the constitutional medium of communication between the Colony and the Imperial Government.

A. D. 1815.

8th FEB.,—A Bill, to give the speaker a salary, is read;—salary £1,000.

10th FEB.,—A warrant having been issued to bring the Hon. Mr. Ryland, member and clerk of the Legislative Council, before the Assembly for declining to appear without the Council's leave, the Council inform the Lower House that the warrant so encroaches upon the independence and integrity of the Council as to prevent the exercise of its functions.

11th FEB.,—A committee to search precedents reports to the Assembly that the Houses should confer; but the want of a precedent for self-interdiction of a Legislative body insuperably obstructs progress.

14th FEB.,—The Assembly addresses the Governor.

Owing to His Excellency's answer, the order is revoked.

The Governor would otherwise have prorogued the Legislature.

18th FEB.,—The United States ratify Treaties, signed in December, 1814.

28th FEB.—A committee recommends appropriating £100, to promote vaccine inoculation.

20th MAR.—The Legislative Assembly petitions the Prince Regent for a grant, recognizing Lieut. Charles de Salaberry's public services, at Chateauguay, on the 26th of October, 1813.

21st MAR.—The Assembly, by 13 to 1, vote Sir George Prevost a service of plate, worth £5,000, stg., in acknowledgment of his defense of the country. They solicit his warrant for the money.

23rd MAR.—The Governor thanks the Assembly; and will transmit their address to the Prince Regent, to decide whether he shall accept.

25th MAR.—Governor Prevost informs Parliament, that the Prince Regent has ordered him to England, to answer charges of the naval commander.

—MAR.—Parliament votes £25,000 for a canal from Montreal to Lachine.

18th JUNE.—Battle of Waterloo.

22nd JUNE.—Napoleon's second abdication.

15th JULY.—Emperor Napoleon surrenders to the English.

Vermont unconstitutionally grants a monopoly of steam-navigation, on Lake Champlain, for 23 years.

A Montreal General Hospital will result from a society formed this year. Highest price of wheat, per quarter, in England, 7s.

A. D. 1816.

5th JAN.—Sir George Prevost dies before consideration of Commodore Yeo's charges; but the Duke of Wellington says: "He must have returned, after the fleet was beaten, I am inclined to think he was right. I have told ministers, repeatedly, that naval superiority, on the Lakes, is a sine qua non of success in war on the frontiers of Canada, even if our object should be wholly defensive."

26th FEB.—The charges against Chief Justices Sewell and Monk being declared unfounded; and regret being expressed, that estimable judges' usefulness has been wrongfully interrupted, the Assembly propose justifying their course; but the Governor prorogues Parliament, to prevent discourtesy to the Prince Regent.

14th MAY.—Thomas A. Turner and Robert Armour, Esquire, are appointed Commissioners for the improvement of internal navigation between Montreal and Lachine, under the Provincial Act 48 George III, c. 19.

31st MAY.—Commissioner for the management of the Jesuits' Estates: Hon. John Stewart.

A. D. 1816.—Continued.

21st JULY,—Governor Sir John Coape Sherbrooke arrives.

Of settling the Eastern Townships with English-speaking men, Andrew Stuart says it is a "mad policy" to set up "a frontier-line of settlements, inhabited by Colonists of the same blood and religion as those of the enemy."

Governor Sherbrooke advises pensioning Judge Sewell and allowing a Colonial representative in England.

The principal objecter has been Chief Justice Sewell, who saw that an enemy would be appointed, and would prosecute the impeachment.

A steam-boat is first placed on Lake Ontario.

Population of Montreal, about 16,000.

Highest price of wheat, in England, per quarter, 106s.

A. D. 1817.

15th JAN.—The House is unanimous in electing Joseph Papineau for speaker.

20th JAN.—Depreciated copper coin is complained of, in Parliament.

THE BANK OF MONTREAL.

[Established 1817; incorporated 1821; Act sanctioned 1822.]

The inhabitants of Montreal are proud of their Mountain, River, Bridge, Railway-Stations, Churches and great Monetary Institutions—headed by the Bank of Montreal, which stands fourth in the World's List. It was first opened with £87,500 capital, on Monday, 3rd of November, 1817, as the adventure of a number of merchants, and was incorporated by Act of Parliament, passed on the 14th of December, 1820, in the first year of the reign of King George IV. The petition for His Majesty's sanction of the incorporation, setting forth the advantage that would result to commerce, to agriculture and to the Province generally, though presented on the 7th of March, 1821, appears not to have been sanctioned until the 18th of May, 1822, as declared by the Governor on the 22nd of July, 1822.

The Petitioners represented that the stock of their Association, amounting, under their articles of agreement, to £250,000 currency, divided into 5,000 shares of £50 each, had been fully subscribed, and in part paid.

Among the Associate Petitioners were many whose names will be familiar to later generations, as intimately connected with the advancement of the best interests of Montreal and of the country generally, e.g.:—Samuel Gerard, James Leslie, F. A. Larocque, Thomas Porteous, David David, Frederick Wm. Ermatinger, C. C. Ermatinger, C. G. Leslie, H. Mackenzie, John Inglis, Edward Ellice, J. B. Inglis, James Inglis, John Forsyth, David Ross, Samuel Gale, Thomas Torrance, Charles Bancroft, Horatio Gates, Cornelius Peck, Jean Bouthillier, Henry Joseph, Joseph Donegani, John Torrance, Alexander Auldjo, George Moffatt, Samuel Holt, Wm. Porteous, Thomas Busby, Joseph Henshaw, John Fry, W. D. Selby, Kenneth Dowie, Robert Gillespie, M. J. Hays, Benjamin Holmes, Wm. Yule, Jas. Buchanan, Robert Griffin, Noah Freer, George Symes, James Ross and Andrew Moir.

In 1820, the Association's place of business was destroyed by fire; and, on the site subsequently occupied by, successively, La Banque du Peuple and the Post Office, they built another costing £11,000.

The present Bank building, fronting on St. James Street, and over-looking Place d'Armes Square, is one of the most extensive, solid, ornate and commodious in America.

In 1827, Hon. John Molson, the (then) President, was also a Justice of the Peace, entitled to sit in Quarter Sessions, Captain in the Cavalry, Right Worshipful Provincial Grand Master of the Provincial Grand Lodge for the District of Montreal and Borough of William Henry, vice-president of the General Hospital, on its Committee of Management, and one of its Life-Governors, a Director of the Agricultural Society and of the District Savings Bank; and, jointly with William Lunn, Esq., Treasurer of a Society for promoting Education and Industry.

John Fleming, the Vice-President, was Justice of the Peace, Lieutenant of Militia, a Life-Governor of the General Hospital and a Promoter of religious and secular education.

The Hon. John Forsyth, a Director of the Bank, was a Harbour-Commissioner, Major in the Militia, Member of the Legislative Council and a Life-Governor of the General Hospital.

George Moffatt was a Harbour Commissioner, Captain in the Militia, Justice of the Peace and a Life-Governor of the General Hospital.

Samuel Gerrard, also a Director, was Major in the Militia, President of the Savings Bank, Director of the Montreal Library, Treasurer and Life-Governor of the Montreal General Hospital, a Justice of the Peace, Warden of the House of Industry, Very Worshipful Grand Treasurer of the Provincial Grand Lodge for the District of Montreal and Borough of William Henry, Member of a committee for the promotion of Education and Industry in Canada, President of the British and Canadian School Society, of which the Governor, the Right Hon. Earl of Dalhousie, was Patron, and President of the Bible Society.

The Hon. James Leslie, Director, was a Justice of the Peace, Captain in the Militia, Vice-President of the British and Canadian School Society, a Director of the Agricultural Society and Vice-President of the Montreal Auxiliary Bible Society.

Peter McGill, Director, was a Justice of the Peace, Captain and Adjutant in the Militia, Junior Grand Deacon in the Provincial Grand Lodge for the District of Montreal, and Senior Warden in Lodge No. 8, Vice-President of the British and Canadian School Society and Vice-President of the Auxiliary Bible Society of Montreal.

Joseph Masson, Director, was a Member of the Committee of the British and Canadian School Society.

Thomas Porteous, another Director, was a Commissioner for the Lachine Canal, a Justice of the Peace, Cornet in the Montreal Cavalry, a Director of the Montreal Agricultural Society and Vice-President of the Savings Bank.

John Torrance (afterwards President of the Bank) was Lieutenant in the Militia, Vice-President of the Eclectic Library, a Life-Governor of the Montreal General Hospital, and on Committees of the British and Canadian School Society, the Sunday School Union and the Montreal Central Auxiliary Society for promoting Education and Industry in Canada.

Frederick William Ermatinger, Director, was associated as a Commissioner for the construction of the Lachine Canal, with Stephen Sewell, Esq. (the distinguished brother of the learned, influential and historic Chief Justice Sewell).

Frederick Griffin, then, the Bank's Attorney, was Secretary to the Commissioners for the Lachine Canal, Lieutenant in the Militia, Director of Ceremonies in Lodge No. 8, a Director of the Montreal Library and Treasurer of the Advocates' Library; while Henry Griffin was a Justice of the Peace, Captain and Adjutant of Militia, Secretary of the Agricultural Society and a Director of the Montreal Savings Bank.

As the early Directors were generally patriotic, brave, religious and philanthropic, as well as sagacious and thrifty men of business, the Presidency and other offices, in later years, have naturally fallen to those who, like Sir Donald A. Smith, conjoin capacity to accumulate wealth and enlightened philanthropy, to guide its distribution.

Among the numerous positions of trust and of honor, held by members of the present Directorate, a few may be mentioned:

Sir Donald A. Smith, President of the Bank of Montreal, has for many years been Governor of the Hudson Bay Company, is Chancellor of McGill College, Director of the Canadian Pacific Railway, Member of Parliament for Montreal West, and holds as many more Presidencies and Directorships as he can be induced to accept.

The Hon. George A. Drummond, Vice-President, is Senator, President of the Canada Sugar Refining Company and President of the leading Coal Mining Company of Canada.

Sir John Abbott, K.C.M.G., a Director of the Bank, was recently Prime Minister of Canada, in succession to the late Rt. Hon. Sir John A. Macdonald, is a Senator, has been a Director of, and Attorney for, the Canadian Pacific Railway and a Director of the Merchants Bank, and for years enjoyed the largest professional income of any advocate in the Province.

Hugh McLennan, A. T. Paterson and W. H. Meredith (son of Chief Justice Sir William Meredith), are prominently connected with various branches of the Commercial activity of Montreal.

R. B. Angus, a Director of the Canadian Pacific Railway, was for some years General Manager of the Bank of which he is now a Director.

E. B. Greenshields, Esq., a Director of the Bank, and a wholesale merchant, in succession to his uncle and father, was last year President of the Merchants' Exchange and is one of the Governors of McGill College, etc., etc.

Of W. C. McDonald, Esq., another Director, the Earl of Derby has made known that his gifts to McGill College amount to nearly $1,000,000.

The share-holders of the Bank must feel great confidence in the management of their interests, supervised, as they are, by men of such distinguished ability and high character.

Among the principal Directors of the past have been the late James B. Greenshields, by whose liberal benefactions McGill College has much benefited, John G. McKenzie, Sir John Rose, subsequently of Morton, Rose & Company, Bankers, of London, England, and Dr. Geo. Campbell.

In 1851, the Board of Directors consisted of the Hon. Peter McGill, President; T. B. Anderson, Vice-President; James Logan, John Molson, John Redpath, William Molson, Harrison Stephens, John Torrance, Hugh (afterwards Sir Hugh) Allan, John Brook, John Boston (sheriff), Thos. Ryan and Henry Thomas.

Among the officers, clerks, etc., were Alexander Simpson, Cashier; James Bolton, Chief Clerk; F. Franklin, Transfer Clerk; and R. A. Lindsay, Exchange Clerk.

At that time Frederick Griffin still remained Solicitor of the Bank and John C. Griffin had become its Notary.

The Bank had, in 1851, but two discount days, viz.: Tuesdays and Fridays.

It had, even then, eighteen agencies in Canada, eleven of which are still in the list, while seven have been discontinued.

Belleville, Brantford, Brockville, Hamilton, Kingston, London, Peterboro, Picton, Quebec and Toronto are continued, and although Bownanville, Cobourg, Port Hope, Port Stanley, St. Catharines, St. Thomas and Woodstock have been dropped, the Bank has, in 1893, about forty places of business.

The Bank's total assets amount, in 1893, to nearly fifty millions of dollars.

The General Manager, E. S. Clouston, Esq., has had twenty-nine years' experience in this largest and oldest Bank in the Country.

He was educated in Montreal, and, having risen through many grades of clerkship and office-holding to the highest administrative position, is familiar with the working of every department. He has had the advantage of an acquaintance with the methods of those masters of finance, the late E. H. King, R. B. Angus, Esq., and the late C. F. Smithers.

After being for some years Assistant General Manager, upon the retirement of Wentworth J. Buchanan, Esq., Mr. Clouston became General Manager.

Having recently laid all the leading Banks of Canada under obligation, by assisting to shape the course of legislation regarding Banks and Banking, he has, in the eyes of shareholders, achieved a still greater success, by capturing from all competitors, for the Bank of Montreal, the Financial Agency of the Dominion, in England.

Among the Chief Officers of the Bank are E. S. Clouston, General Manager; H. V. Meredith, Manager; A. Macnider, Chief Inspector and Superintendent of Branches; and A. Buchanan, Assistant Superintendent of Branches.

The paid capital, which was $350,000, in 1817, became $650,000 in 1819; $850,000 in 1829; $2,000,000 in 1841; $3,000,000 in 1845; $4,000,000 in 1855; $6,000,000 in 1860 and, in 1873, $12,000,000. Its rest of $4,168, in 1819, reached $197,828, in 1837, $740,000 in 1860, $3,000,000 in 1870, $5,000,000 in 1880, and is now $6,000,000. Dividends have ranged, in general, from 8 to 16 per cent, or equal bonus, though neither bonus nor dividend was paid in 1827, or 1828.

(ESTABLISHED IN 1820).

GEORGE BRUSH, PROPRIETOR,

14 to 34 King Street; 30 to 40 Queen Street,

MONTREAL.

In 1820, John D. Ward, from Vermont, built the Eagle Foundry, on Queen street, and, with his brothers, Lebbeus and Samuel, provided engines for many steam-boats on Lake Champlain and the St. Lawrence.

In 1838, when J. D. Ward had moved to Jersey City, and George Brush, sr., had improved the firm's reputation, by importing his twenty years' experience in building and running steam-boats, the foundry was honored with instructions from the Admiralty, for an engine for the "Sydenham," built at Quebec, and she proved the swiftest steam-boat in the Navy.

In 1847, S. Ward moved to Hartford. The other brother having previously removed to New York, Mr. Brush was thus left sole proprietor, until his son and namesake, a barrister, who has been for many years Director of the Banque du Peuple, accepted a partnership, which, at his father's death, imposed upon him the whole responsibility of the business.

The Eagle Foundry is the oldest of its kind in Canada; and, having suffered few changes in nearly three-quarters of a century's management, begun by men experienced in making and running almost the first steam-boats, it has advantages over all competitors.

The Works produce Marine, Stationary and Portable Steam-Engines and Boilers; Mill and Mining Machinery; Hydraulic, Steam and Hand Elevators, Stone-Breakers, Road-Rollers, and a variety of gears and general machinery from a most extensive stock of Patterns.

ROBERT REID,

Cor. St. Catherine and St. Alexander Streets,

MONTREAL.

SCULPTOR,

Importer and Manufacturer of every description of MARBLE AND GRANITE WORK.

Encaustic Tiles for Hearths, Fire-places, Flooring, etc., always on hand.

Brass Goods, Fender and Irons, Fire Sets, Coal-Hods, etc., etc., Mantle

Pieces, in Wood, Marble and Slate, always on hand, and made to order.

Designs and Estimates furnished promptly, on application.

This old and favorably known business was established, in 1821, by Messrs. Sherman & Co., who were followed by Mr. Hyatt, Hyatt & Company, James Mavor, uncle of the present proprietor, and Robert Reid, who, for a long time, carried it on under the style of James Mavor & Co.

The business was, from the first, thrifty, but only attained continental celebrity when acquired by Mr. Robert Reid, who happily combines, with the skill and taste of the sculptor, remarkable ability as a man of business.

 Montreal's population, 18,767.

A. D. 1823.

27th AUG.—Commissioners appointed for making a road from Drummondville to Sorel:—F. G. Heriot, J. Ployart, Robert Jones and Josias Wurtele, Esquires.
 7th OCT.—A French meeting, at Montreal, protests that the proposed terms of Union of Upper and Lower Canada are unfair.
 14th OCT.—At a meeting, in Montreal, Mr. (afterwards Sir) James Stuart favors Union.
 Petitions, pro and con, are forwarded to England.
 In England, Messrs. Papineau and Neilson object that fifteen hundred miles of diverse climates and difficult communication are too much for one Government, and cite the United States' example, of seven States, in that distance. Incompatibility of laws, customs and religion, and racial prejudices are urged as further objections.
 As French-Canadians outnumber the English, but have less wealth, they desire representation by population, with a low property qualification. They would have councillors excluded from addressing the Assembly, and wish their mother-tongue to be the language of the debates.

THE ALLIANCE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

GEORGE H. MCHENRY, MANAGER,

159 St. James Street,

MONTREAL.

The Alliance is one of the best known and strongest among the British insurance institutions. Besides its subscribed capital of $25,000,000, with unlimited liability, the subscribers representing vast resources, the company has funds amounting to over $14,000,000, and, adding paid-up capital—$2,750,000—and other holdings, its assets reach a total of nearly $17,500,000. Its income for 1890 was $3,509,600, of which $1,379,760 was from the life branch and $2,124,800 from the fire branch. It will be seen that the company does a very considerable life business, though its Canadian business will be confined to fire insurance.

The Alliance was organized in 1824, and has always been under vigorous and conservative management, and has never lost the impetus given it, at its birth, by the backing of a large body of shareholders, counting among their number some of the leading monied men of the United Kingdom, among whom were the Barings and Rothschilds. Among the presidents of the youthful days of the company were successively, John Irving, M. P., a prominent London merchant; Francis Baring, of Baring Bros.; Samuel Gurney, Nathan M. Rothschild and Moses Montifiore, the latter (afterwards Sir Moses), if we mistake not, being president of the company at the time of his death. See page 102.

THE OLDEST BOOT AND SHOE MANUFACTORY IN MONTREAL.

The firm of J. & T. BELL is engaged in the manufacture of Fine Boots and Shoes; and is one of the oldest manufacturing houses in Canada.

The business originated with Alexander Bell, in 1824, and was continued by his sons, Joshua and Thomas, from the year 1845.

Their first shop was in St. Paul street, whence they moved to Notre Dame street.

In 1857, Samuel Bell joined the partnership, which, in the course of that year, removed into the premises the firm still occupies.

In 1863, Joshua Bell died; Thomas survived him until 1880. In 1881, the remaining brother, Samuel Bell, retired; and the business is now carried on by John I. Hagar, nephew of the late partners, under the old name of J. & T. Bell.

Within the long period of the firm's continuance, there have been many changes of style and mode of manufacture, but, through the whole, this house has kept pace with the requirements of fashion and good taste, and remains, as of old, so far in advance of all competitors that the name of J. & T. Bell is a recognized standard of excellence in style, workmanship and material throughout the Dominion.

Joseph Augustin LaBadie, admitted to the notarial profession on the 26th of June, 1826, was long the leading, and senior, notary in Montreal, and was finally head of a firm representing three generations, of which firm all but the deceased founder still practise under the old roof.

20th Nov.—Mr. Papineau is elected speaker, over Mr. Vallières de Saint Real.

21st Nov.—The Governor enjoins the election of a different Speaker, to be presented for approbation, on Friday.

The usual injunction is:—"It is therefore His Excellency's pleasure, that you, Gentlemen of the House of Assembly, do forthwith repair to the place where the sittings of the House of Assembly are usually held, and there proceed to the choice of a fit person to be your Speaker, and that you present the person who shall be so chosen to His Excellency, in this House, on—next, at — o'clock, for his approbation;" thus reserving the privilege of disallowance. The speaker generally says: "May it please your Excellency. The honor which the House of Assembly have conferred on me, in choosing me their Speaker, is as great as the important duties of the office are above my abilities. My zeal, however ardent, not sufficiently compensating for my incapacity, I most respectfully implore the excuse and commands of your Excellency,"—a formula used by both Papineaus, and answered as follows :—

"I am commanded by His Excellency to observe to you that, as the office to which you have been chosen calls for great experience and discretion, so he can not but augur well of the future proceedings of the House of Assembly from this early instance of their judgment in choosing a person of your knowledge and capacity for their Speaker. He does, therefore, allow and confirm you to be their Speaker."

Usage thus tacitly admits that the Governor may declare distrust of the Speaker elect.

On M. Cu villier's motion, the Assembly declare that: "The choice of a President of Assembly ought to be free."

The Governor prorogues Parliament, and so, possibly, prevents a rebellion.

Sir Harcourt Lee suggests founding Orange Lodges in Canada.

The late THOMAS MUSSEN, Esq., wholesale and retail merchant, in dry goods, at Nos. 1651 to 1655 Notre Dame street, Montreal, was born at Burton Pidsey, ten miles north of Hull, in the East Riding of Yorkshire, England, on Tuesday, 6th of March, 1804. The family sailed from Hull, for Quebec in the spring of 1818, and settled at Lacadie, in Lower Canada, where the father kept a general store, but, after two years' experience, disposed of it, and bought a farm in Odelltown. The subject of this sketch, having no taste for farming, engaged, for a year, with the late William McGinnis, storekeeper, at Lacadie, and, later, with James Douglas & Co., leading wholesale merchants in Montreal, with whom he remained until, in the beginning of 1824, he accepted a better position in the house of Wm. Smith & Co., wholesale dealers in dry goods and groceries.

In 1825, being the chief creditors of an insolvent at Cornwall, Messrs. Smith & Co. intrusted disposal of the insolvent's stock to Mr. Mussen, whose success earned him a bonus and a reputation that facilitated starting in business, respecting which he reasoned that, having succeeded for others, he might do well for himself. As his employers could not dissuade him, they supplied him with goods, for which he made prompt payment. His first store was opened in the spring of 1827, in Mrs. Ousteroute's building, on the south side of St. Paul street, facing Vaudreuil lane, on what is, in 1892, part of the Amable Prevost succession (Nos. 266 and 268 St. Paul street).

His constantly increasing business was interrupted on the 1st of April, 1830, by a fire, which started in the next building, and destroyed his store. Seeing that this was inevitable, Mr. Mussen, and his neighbors, saved most of his goods; and the small loss by this, his only fire, was promptly paid by Messrs. McKenzie & Bethune, the Alliance Assurance Company's agents. His next place of business adjoined the hardware store of Thomas Storrew Brown, notable in history, on the site of J. G. Mackenzie & Co.'s present store (Nos. 381 and 383 St. Paul street). Though prospered, he removed, in 1837, to Archibald Ferguson's premises, on the N. W. corner of Notre Dame and St. Gabriel streets (Nos. 1611 to 1615 Notre Dame street), where he had already profitably disposed of a bankrupt stock, purchased there in 1836. Many predicted that the change would alienate his custom, for trade had centred on St. Paul and Commissioners' streets, between Custom-House square and Bonsecours street, while Notre-Dame, Little and Great St. James, Craig and intersecting streets were the residential part of the city. But Mr. Mussen's example was soon followed by so many that Notre Dame became the principal retail street. In a few years his store was too small for his business and, having, in 1841, purchased the site of the present store, Mr. Mussen removed the old buildings and erected the largest retail store then in the city (Nos. 1651, 1653 and 1655 Notre Dame street and 2, 4 and 6 St. Lambert street). Being prominent in St. George's Society, he celebrated that Saint's day, (23rd April) in 1843, by opening the new store, and, excepting six months, in 1865, when the widening of Notre Dame street necessitated removal, the business has there continued ever since. The temporary removal was to Theodore Hart's premises (Nos. 514 and 516), Craig street. For the new store, Mr. Mussen imported from the English manufacturers, plate glass, 30 by 38 inches, which, being the first made of that size, attracted much attention. He was also the first merchant in Montreal who used rolling iron-shutters. Having built the mansion, "York Place," 718 Sherbrooke street, he, in the fall of 1860, removed there, from over his store, thus making more room for his increasing trade. Many leading merchants in the city, and elsewhere, were trained in Mr. Mussen's employ, and know what close attention to business led to his remarkable success. During the Rebellion, in 1837, he served in Captain Douglas' company, in the battalion commanded by Col. (the Hon.) John Molson and Major Henry Driscoll, barrister, but, though loyally first in obeying orders, to avoid the distraction of its responsibilities, he repeatedly declined a commission. In 1852 and 1853 he represented the Centre Ward in the City Council but business forbade his continuance in that exacting position.

Being disposed to bear his share of public burthens, he, for twenty-five years, held a commission as Justice of the Peace. A staunch adherent of the Church of England, he was for many years a warden of Christ Church Cathedral, and was, at the time of his death, the oldest member of the congregation. He was an active member of the committee which supervised building the Cathedral on St. Catherine street, the construction of which was necessitated by the burning of the old Cathedral on Notre Dame street, next to which stood Mr. Mussen's store. While the Cathedral was burning, part of the spire fell through the roof of his store, with, fortunately, but little damage.

Sixty-five years' store-keeping, on his own account, made Mr. Mussen the oldest merchant in Canada. Possibly he directed a large commercial business longer than any other person in America. He was twice married, successively to Eliza Sarah Frazer, daughter of the late Alexander Frazer, Esq., a merchant of Dublin, Ireland, and Maria Eleanor Kay, daughter of John Kay, Esq., a merchant of Montreal, whom he survives.

Of his eleven children, six are sons and five daughters. He always adhered to the Conservative party, deeming that its principles tend to cohesion of the Empire and, so, to the good of the country. Of one who proved honest, persevering, courageous, loyal, patriotic, generous and benevolent, what remains to be said, except that he was also successful? He died at his residence, "York Place," on the 5th of April, 1892. The City papers of the following day speak of him with great respect.

One of them says:—

"He was noted for his charity", which best entitles him to the respect of mankind.

A.D. 1828.

17th MARCH.—Commissioners for making repairs of the Craig Road, in the District of Three Rivers:—Hon. William Bowman Felton, C. F. H. Goodhue, Anthony Anderson, Peter C. Lord, Shubael Pierce and William S. Wales.

It is proposed to exclude Judges from the Legislature, to accord proportionate French representation, and to devote the Jesuit Estates to education.

In the Commons, Mr. Huskisson declares that the Lower Canadian constitution, though drafted by great Statesmen, fails through ignorance of the country's wants. He reprehends introducing British Law and Procedure. He attributes the Assembly's withholding supplies, to the Crown's pretended control of the revenues (£100,000) and assumed right of determining which officers shall be salaried.

Mr. Labouchère, a Commoner of French descent, regards "The Act of 1791 as the Magna Charta of Canadian freedom." He says: "True, the intent of Pitt was to combine a nominative Council with a representative chamber; but not to compose the former entirely of the British race, which forms but a small proportion of the population."

Sir James MacIntosh says:—

"The Assembly has 'an indisputable right to regulate the employment of all monies accorded by its votes.

"* * * In 1827, the assembly passed 31 bills; the Upper House refused to pass any one of them! Who is answerable for this? The Governor, is my reply; for the council is but an instrument in his hands; a Legislative Council, constituted like that of Canada, forms no constitutional barrier between executive and representative power. * * *

"I understand that a Council minority is virtually non-existent; for, wearied with bootless struggles against the influence of the majority of placemen at the Board, the independent members have ceased to take part in the deliberations of their paid colleagues.

"The Colonial minister has appealed to the sympathies of this House in favor of the Colonists of British descent.

“ Now, can anyone show a law, passed by the Canadian Assembly, to the detriment of our compatriots? * * * Are British Colonists to be separated from the general population? Are they to be privileged, to the disadvantage of the common population? “ Is the numerically inferior race to be exclusively protected? Are its religious sympathies to be fostered, to the point of Protestant domination?

At Quebec, navigation opens earlier than before, within human recollection. The Mechanics' Institute, of Montreal, is founded. [See 1845].

A.D. 1829.

J. G. MACKENZIE & CO.,
 WHOLESALE DRY GOODS IMPORTERS,
 381 & 383 St. Paul St.,
 MONTREAL.

A sketch of the progress of Canadian commerce, or chronicle of the City of Montreal, would be incomplete without mention of this old established firm, whose name has been identified with everything that has tended to increase the influence of the Dominion and improve the trade of the City, since the beginning of the century, and whose business ramifications extend to every corner of the provinces.

This concern, which, in the very early days of Montreal, was one of the many business adventures of the late Horatio Gates, a merchant of great renown, and one of the original corporators of the Bank of Montreal, was established, under its present style, by his son-in-law, the late John Gordon Mackenzie, in 1829, and has always kept in the foremost rank among the leading business houses of the Dominion.

The premises, centrally located, occupy a substantial warehouse, built of Montreal limestone, and comprise five flats, 100 x 50 feet, in which the business furnishes employment to 50 persons, and it has representatives in all parts of the Dominion. The establishment of a branch house in London, Eng., besides affording a depot for the firm's foreign buyers, also enables them to secure, at all times, the latest and best that the European market can produce, and to place their goods on the market at rates advantageous to the trade. Without a doubt, no finer class of goods is to be found in Montreal than is displayed in their spacious and handsome sale and sample rooms; all of which is indicative of the enterprise that has characterized this old house from the outset.

The founder of this business, the late John Gordon Mackenzie, having passed away at a ripe old age, on the 12th of May, 1881, the present members of the firm are his son, Mr. Hector Mackenzie, and Mr. J. P. Cleghorn, gentlemen whose social and business talents, have rendered them well qualified not only to carry out the ideas of their worthy predecessors, but to enlarge on them, to an extent beyond their first conception, and, by fair dealing, to preserve unsullied a reputation that is synonymous with everything that goes to make up straightforward business integrity.

The high personal esteem in which they are held in the community has called them to positions on the direction of many public companies. Mr. Mackenzie, the senior member of the firm, is a director of the Merchants' Bank, the Richelieu & Ontario Navigation Company, and the Montreal Telegraph Company. He is also president of the Philharmonic Society, and a warm supporter of whatever tends to the social, as well as commercial, welfare of the City. Mr. Cleghorn, the managing partner, is a director of the Sun Life Insurance Co., the Intercolonial Coal Co., and the Merchants' Manufacturing Co., and has filled the highest position in the gift of the merchants of Montreal, having been twice elected president of the Board of Trade, during which period many useful projects were advanced, not the least of which were the selecting of the site and laying the plans of its new building recently erected. Mr. Cleghorn is also actively interested in the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, the Montreal General Hospital and other benevolent and philanthropic objects.

This old business was established by George Fabes Prowse, who was born in Davenport, England, on Thursday, the 5th of December, 1805. At the age of 21, he entered the hardware business in Davenport; but, after learning a useful trade, sailed for Halifax, Nova Scotia (nearly a four months' voyage in those days). He stayed in Halifax long enough to get married, and came, in 1829, to Montreal, via Quebec,—from the latter place by steamer, which was drawn up St. Mary's Rapids by oxen.

With but $1,50, in his pocket, he started business on St. Lawrence Main, at the corner of Vitre, Street. In a few years he removed thence to a house, which is still standing, near the Quebec Gate barracks, on St. Mary Street.

In 1837, the Rebellion having necessitated re-enforcements, the furnishing of requisite supplies to the Government afforded Mr. Prowse a start of which he never lost the advantage.

While Dalhousie Square, three-quarters of a mile east, was still considered the centre of trade, Mr. Prowse had the foresight to buy the site on St. James Street, upon which he and his son have, successively, carried on business.

After attaining exceptional success, due to a combination of qualities and circumstances—among others, to foresight and energy, and to his conviction that only the best wares are sure of a market,—he retired, in 1860, in favor of George R. Prowse, his oldest son, who has proved an enterprising and public-spirited citizen, as well as a successful man of business. The leisure gained by retirement was utilized by the late Mr. Prowse, in seeing Europe and many parts of America, in the course of which he found, in Colorado, investments which greatly increased his already ample means.

But kind as all lands proved to him, he was attracted to his adopted country, where he died on Wednesday, the 22nd of August, 1883.

A. D. 1832.

21st MAY,—Election riots at Montreal.

Three persons being shot by the troops, Colonel Macintosh and Captain Temple are arrested.

20th JUNE,—Eighty-eight deaths, from Asiatic cholera, at Montreal.

Cholera in England.

7th DEC.,—The Richardson wing of the General Hospital, Montreal, completed.

A measure making judges independent of the Crown is not sanctioned, because their salaries have not been fixed.

The Governor refuses to disclose proposed additions to the Legislative Council.

The Assembly votes an Address favoring an elective Legislative Council; and protests against mutilation of the Province and virtual expatriation of a majority of 60,000.

Deaths from Asiatic cholera, in Quebec, in five months, 3,300.

Meetings of French Canadians attribute the cholera to British immigrants, 52,000 having arrived in the year.

French Canadians complain that they hold few offices of emolument.

Lord Aylmer visits the Eastern Townships and the Ottawa region; and writes Lord Goderich that they will absorb 600,000 immigrants, whose votes will settle all difficulties.

The Legislative Council of Lower Canada petitions against being made elective, and so a mere supplement to the Assembly, with danger to peace to the security of 150,000 British residents and to British connection.

GEO. H. BRADFORD, PUBLISHER.

EDWIN AVERY, EDITOR.

The late Joseph Soper Walton, Esq., founded the Farmers' and Mechanics' Journal at Sherbrooke, in 1833. Having suspended its publication during the Rebellion, he resumed it, in 1838, and, in 1840, named it The Sherbrooke Gazette.

In 1870, he sold to Messrs. Bradford & Morehouse, who improved the circulation, until 1875, when Mr. Morehouse parted with his interest to Hunter Bradford, brother of G. H. Bradford, Esq.

In 1884, H. Bradford withdrew, and G. H. Bradford, Esq., has since been sole proprietor.

In recent years, the paper has been edited by W. White, Q.C., the late John Calder, advocate, Mr. Boardman, now of Ottawa, H. W. Mulvena and D. C. Robertson, barristers, and Edwin Avery.

It is now of the Montreal Gazette's size, with about 40,000 subscribers.

Though Liberal-Conservative, it is independent when the public weal requires.

For Eastern Canada, it fills the place the Springfield Republican holds in the States.

If a native of the Townships moves to California, the Gazette tells him almost every important event in his county and neighborhood.

This business, which has enjoyed the patronage of royalty, nobility and the military, as well as of the Canadian people generally, was established, in 1833, by Dr. Michael McCulloch, who was succeeded by Alexander Urquhart. Mr. Urquhart continued the business, with and without associates, until about 1850, when he sold its good will to the late Dr. William McDonald, who, in turn, relinquished it to Messrs. Carter, Kerry & Co., for whom it was carried on by John Birks, brother of R. Birks, of McGill street. The next proprietor was Johnson Beers, brother of Dr. George Beers, dentist. When Mr. Beers died, about the year 1856, Kenneth Campbell, the present proprietor succeeded, and has greatly extended the business. Among his most valuable specifics is Campbell's Elixir of Life, a duplex tonic, which restores the system in cases of general debility, preserves vital energy, prolongs life, and is a beneficial alterative for the young of either sex, safe-guarding them, as it does, at critical periods of growth and development; as a nerve tonic, it counteracts the effect of over-taxing the brain, at school or college and in business.

THE BRITISH AMERICAN LAND COMPANY, SHERBROOKE, P. Q.

This important Colonization Company, which was projected by John Galt, the famous novelist, father of Sir Alexander Galt, was organized in 1834, to settle the Eastern Townships as the Canadian Company had helped to settle Upper Canada. Delegates from the Townships of the old county of Sherbrooke met at Lennoxville, in 1832, and resolved to cooperate with the promoters.

Lord Aylmer, the Governor, having visited the Townships, wrote the Secretary of State :—

"The country which goes under the name of the Townships appears to me the most eligible, for settlement, of any I have yet visited. The climate is represented as healthy in a very remarkable degree, the soil fertile, and abounding in forest trees of the finest growth, and the most useful description, with great facilities of water communication by means of rivers and lakes.

The late Samuel Brooks, father of the Hon. Judge E. T. Brooks, was delegated to England, to urge the issue of the Charter.

Among the first Directors were George Richard Robinson, Governor; Nathaniel Gould, Deputy Governor; Russell Ellice, Alexander Gillespie, jr., Edward Wheeler Mills, John Shuter, Lewis Stride and William Pemberton.

One of the original auditors was James John Cummins, a surname well known in the townships, where his nephew acted as an officer of the company.

The commissioners, in Canada, were Hon. Peter McGill and Hon. Geo. Moffatt. The villages of Robinson and Gould and Shuter street, in Montreal, were named after some of these officers.

The company purchased from the Government, 847,661 acres, and, subsequently, the balance of 1,044,272 acres, for £170,321 9s. 5d. sterling of which £60,000 might be used for improvements.

By applying part of this to making roads and bridges, the company facilitated the marketing of produce and gave employment to immigrants.

At Port St. Francis, midway between Quebec and Montreal, and nearer to Sherbrooke than either city, property was purchased, to secure a port of entry where ships could be loaded or unloaded, to further which the company made the "Port St. Francis Road."

To avail of Sherbrooke's water-power and central position, for administrative purposes, land was purchased at that place. For many immigrants from Norfolk and Suffolk, England, small clearings, log-houses and food were provided, principally in the townships of Bury and Lingwick.

Although the want of return from the soil, the ingratitude of immigrants and protracted daily expenditure made the enterprise unsatisfactory, the company continued to promote manufacturing, at Sherbrooke, by erecting buildings and making advances. The Rebellion, in 1837 and 1838, so increased existing difficulties, that, in 1841, it became impossible to pay the Government an instalment and interest; and the company surrendered part of their purchase.

In or about 1844, Mr. (now Sir) Alexander Tilloch Galt was appointed Commissioner, and, by his remarkable ability and energy, put new life into the enterprise.

Seeing that many of the Company's debtors had cattle, but no money, he sent agents through the country to take payment in kind.

The beef-cattle, so acquired, were driven to Quebec, to provision the garrison, and the store-cattle were sold to the farmers, in New England. Debtors were often allowed more than could be realized for their stock, partial payment being preferred to losing the whole debt.

The country benefited wonderfully, from the construction of the St. Lawrence & Atlantic Railway (now the Grand Trunk), of which Mr. Galt was an active promoter. As Commissioner, he took stock in the Railway to the amount of $100,000; and, to prevent collapse of the project, loaned the company $100,000, additional.

Upon Mr. Galt's retirement from the commissionership, in 1855, he was succeeded by Richard William Heneker (now D.C.L. and LL.D.), son of a British officer, from whom he took his second name.

Mr. Heneker, who was educated in the University College School, and under private tuition, in London, studied architecture, under the celebrated Sir Charles Barry, who designed the new Parliamentary Buildings, at Westminster, England.

Though his training was not wholly in the direction of the ultimate employment of his abilities, Mr. Heneker's appointment has proved very advantageous to the company and to the community in which he has so long resided.

Without knowing the company's intentions, he was sent out because Mr. Galt was about to devote his attention exclusively to the Railway, which is now the Grand Trunk; and, arriving in season to learn his predecessor's mode of administration, and perceiving its correctness, Mr. Heneker so successfully continued the same policy that, by sales of land, he has reduced the company's property to 141,864 acres.

Mr. Heneker has been, from the beginning, a director, and is now president of the Eastern Townships Bank. He was one of the promoters and a director of the International Railway (now part of the Canadian Pacific Railway); is Chancellor of Bishop's College; was a promoter of, and is a shareholder in, numerous manufacturing enterprises, including the Paton Manufacturing Company, which employs about seven hundred operatives, paying them over $150,000, per annum, in wages.

Many years ago Mr. Heneker, as Commissioner of the British American Land Company, caused pamphlets to be distributed and lectures to be delivered, throughout Great Britain and Ireland, favoring settlement in the Townships, and, with the same object, personally visited England, Sweden and Norway.

Regarding Sherbrooke as the most suitable place to keep Canadian operatives from Lowell, and other manufacturing towns in the States, he invested his own means in manufacturing, at the Capital of the Townships, and induced others to do the same; and has, consequently, seen Sherbrooke grow, from a village to a town and from a town to a rapidly increasing city of over 10,000 inhabitants.

J. A. MATHEWSON & CO.,
 Importers of Teas and General Groceries,
 202 McGill Street, MONTREAL.

This prominent wholesale business was established by the late Samuel Mathewson, on the 1st day of May, 1834, on St. Paul street.

In 1842, James Adams Mathewson was taken into partnership with his father; and the business was removed to McGill street, where it is still continued by J. A. Mathewson & Co., of which firm Mr. J. A. Mathewson is still the active head, while as prominent in public usefulness as in his private affairs.

On a cold winter's day Mr. Mathewson is recognized as the man who wears a black silk hat, and no gloves or over-coat, and buys of every news-boy a paper, until he has enough to mail to all his travelers, and so keep them from bar-room temptations.

Before a committee of the British Commons, Hon. Edward Ellice suggests remedies for troubles in Canada.

At Stanstead, Mr. Papineau addresses many inhabitants of the locality, of Vermont and New Hampshire.

Speaking in the House upon resolutions, which he frames and Mr. Bedard moves, Mr. Papineau says :—" It is certain that before long the whole of America will be republicanized.

" If a change be necessary in our present constitution, it is to be undertaken in view of such a conjuncture as I have just mentioned. Would it be a crime were I to demand that it should? The members of the House are all answerable to their constituents for whatever decisions they may come to in this regard. And even though the soldiery should slaughter them for it, they ought not to hesitate for one moment to pronounce for any change which they consider beneficial to their country."

Mr. Neilson replies :—

" The American revolutionists and the British Liberals contended for the maintenance of franchises already acquired ; we oppositionists are reaching out our hands for freedom which we never possessed. The Resolutions can not be justified, for they favor the refusal of supplies, without which there would be no means of defraying the expense of governing the Province."

The 92 resolutions are passed by the Legislative Assembly of Lower Canada. The complaints relate chiefly to nominations of Councillors, partiality in filling offices, of which 47 are alleged to have been distributed among 525,000 Frenchmen against 157 higher positions among 75,000 of British origin.

A majority of the Assembly pray for Lord Aylmer's impeachment for maladministration, and invite Daniel O'Connell and others to assist them. The Council and British Canadians counter-petition. The Assembly omit voting supplies.

Adopting revolutionary tactics, Papineau advises wearing homespun cloth and buying nothing British, in order to diminish misused revenues. Bank-stocks being of British ownership, he advises a general demand of gold for bank-notes.

La Banque du Peuple

• • (ESTABLISHED IN 1835) • •

Head Office, - - 97 St. James St., MONTREAL.

J. S. BOUSQUET, Cashier.

This important Bank, which has $1,200,000, of paid up capital, and a reserve of $550,000, started, in 1835, as a private Bank, under the style of Viger, De Witt & Cie.

In 1843, change of organization was deemed requisite to enable the Bank to further the business of the immense undeveloped country whose waterways, stretching half through, and three-fifths across, the land, promised future greatness, on the way to which the registered tonnage of Canada's shipping already (in 1892) exceeds that of France, Russia or Italy.

Accordingly, on the 9th of September, 1843, Messrs. Louis Viger, Jacob DeWitt, John Donegani, Pierre Beaubien, Augustin Tulloch, Hosea Ballou Smith, Romuald Trudeau and Pierre Jodoin, esquires, of Montreal, Alexis Sauvageau, Esq., of Laprairie, Timothée Franchère, Esq., of St. Mathias, Joseph Frédéric Allard, Esq., of Chambly, and Alexis Montmarquet, Esq., of Carillon, petition for incorporation as "La Banque du Peuple."

This petition received Her Majesty's sanction, on the 23rd of May, 1844. as proclaimed by Governor Sir Charles Metcalfe, on the 27th of June, 1844.

Their charter gave the corporators and their successors exclusive gestion, and made them jointly and severally responsible for the Bank's debts, while dormant share-holders' liability was limited to the amount of their shares, payment for which was to entirely acquit them towards the Bank and its creditors.

As incorporation enabled the Bank to utilize the people's savings, for the accommodation of the community, the Bank's name proved no misnomer. It has been the People's Bank,—affording deserved accommodation, without regard to race or creed.

The Charter differs in its provisions from those of successive general Banking Acts, but its share-holders are indisposed to exchange permanence and interested supervision for decennial fear of corporate extinction and the miseries of double liability.

Query :—Will not the cause of this tenacity deserve Legislative consideration when another general Banking Act is discussed?

The first President was the Honorable Louis Viger, whose name is perpetuated by a Public Garden.

He was followed by, successively, Jacob De Witt, the Hon. F. A. Quesnel, Hosea B. Smith, a wealthy merchant, John Pratt, and C. S. Cherrier, Esq., Q.C., partner of the late Chief Justice Sir Aimé Dorion.

In 1838, the United States and Upper Canadian banks, having suspended specie payment, the Government allowed the chartered banks of Lower Canada to discharge their obligations in money of their own issue, to prevent the Country's being drained of gold and silver.

Accordingly, an Act, 1st Victoria, Chapter 24, provided that the Chartered Banks of the Province, and the Bank of British North America, might suspend specie payment, for the term of one year, without liability to any consequent suit, penalty or disability, and, paying Viger, DeWitt & Cie. the high compliment of implying their equality with Chartered Banks, extended to them, alone, of all private Banking Houses, like exemption and immunity.

Of the Directorate, in 1851, when the Banque du Peuple and the City Bank were domiciled on either side of the Bank of Montreal, where the Post Office and the Imperial Assurance Building, respectively, now stand, Henry Starnes (now the Hon.) is the only known survivor.

His co-Directors were the Hon. Louis Viger, Jacob DeWitt, J. Allard, Hon. F. A. Quesnel, Messrs. Hosea Ballou Smith, Pierre Jodoin, Alexis Sauvageau, A. E. Montmarquet, S. B. Bonner and J. Bruneau.

The late Benjamin H. Lemoine, Esq., a gentleman of great ability and of high social standing, was then cashier.

Of the present Board, the President, Jacques Grenier, founder of the house of Jacques Grenier & Co., sat nearly thirty years in the City Council, over which he has presided as Mayor, after many years' chairmanship of the committee of Finance, and he has been the city's delegate to England, where he successfully negotiated a large civic loan.

George Brush, Esq., Vice-President, brings, to the councils of the Bank, a knowledge of Law, which he practiced before becoming proprietor of the oldest Canadian manufactory of steam-engines, through which he keeps acquainted with the country's industries and their history. He has been nearly half a lifetime a Director of the Bank.

Moise Branchaud, Esq., another Director, is a Queen's Counsel.

William Francis, Esq., is au fait of the hardware business ; Charles Lacaille, Esq., of wholesale groceries, and Alphonse Leclair and Albert Prevost, also directors, are Wholesale Dry Goods Merchants.

The public and the Press agree that J. S. Bousquet, the Cashier, discharges his arduous duties with ability and courtesy.

As the Banque du Peuple is the first of French Canadian Banks, in importance, as well as in age, its cashier has superior means of observation, which make it Mr. Bousquet's duty to his constituents, and kind to the public, to sound occasional notes of warning regarding the trade of the country.

Accordingly, at the annual meeting, in 1887, he gave timely advice of dangers ahead, to the surprise of those who attributed, to two or three English bankers, a monopoly of financial prescience ; and, although some were disposed to criticise the forecasts of a new prophet, time proved his predictions true and brought him deserved credit.

Since then, his annual utterances upon the state of trade, pronounced indifferently in either language, have shown that the warnings of this close observer merit general heed.

He has the happy faculty of being able to refuse, without aggravating denial by brusqueness and contempt, which reflect upon a Bank, and ultimately hurt the officer, if, in the whirligig of time, the borrower becomes a capitalist.

Mr. Bousquet's reputation as a financier is the more remarkable, as, at the retirement of Mr. Trottier, in 1886, youth was the objection to Mr. Bousquet's promotion from assistant to be chief cashier. But, as lack of age is a curable defect, it was deemed impolitic to supplant him by one who might be too old to learn duties of which Mr. Bousquet already had twelve years' experience in the Bank itself.

Results have justified the appointment, for, in seven years, since he took office, viz.,—from the first of March, 1886, to the 28th of February, 1893, the Reserve Fund has risen from $200,000 to $550,000, and the Bank's circulation has increased from $537,059 to $752,446. In the same time the Deposits,—which are a more satisfactory test of public confidence,—have risen from $1,809,419.67 to $5,262,766.37, about 91 per cent. more than double the amount on deposit when Mr. Bousquet took office.

In the same period, the Bank's assets have been augmented, without change of the authorized capital, from $3,957,373.87 to $7,566,679,—an instance of progress, without parallel, in Canadian Banking.

The cashier is ably assisted by William Richer, assistant cashier, and by Arthur Gagnon, inspector.

The following are the Bank's offices, agencies and representatives. Head office, 97 St. James Street, Montreal; J. S. Bousquet, cashier.

A.D. 1835.

21st FEB.,—The Governor's speech, proroguing the Assembly's last session, is expunged from the Journals.

2nd JUNE,—The first steamship from Britain to America arrives.

11th JULY,—The Banque du Peuple is opened.

The railway from Laprairie to St. Johns is opened for traffic.

Mr. Gagy, having declared his preference for a government of men born in the Province, Mr. Papineau replies :—" Now, I have no such preference ; the government I long for is one composed of friends of legality, liberty and justice,—a government which will protect, indiscriminately, every proper interest, and accord to all ranks, and to each race of the inhabitants, equal rights and privileges.

" I love, I esteem all good men, as men, not preferentially, because they are of this or that descent ; but I detest those haughty dominators, who come among us, and dispute our right to enjoy our own laws, customs and religion.

"The call is made upon us,—'Let us be all as brothers! I respond, so let us not be, if you, who thus adjure us, keep a selfish grasp of all place, power and endowment. That is unjust, and we cannot suffer such injustice. Briefly, we demand for ourselves such political institutions as are in accordance with the rest of the Empire and with the age we live in."

To Mr. Bedard, who declares that, as the address refuses all the Governor asks, he cannot support it, Mr. Papineau replies:

"The force of circumstances compels us to put aside accustomed formalities, and to express, unrestrainedly, what we deeply feel. It would be a libel on Britain to assume that she may possibly pass a coercion Bill against us, and send ten regiments over to enforce it. If such were the case, however, we ought to be prepared, all the sooner, to rid ourselves of so tyrannical a Domination."

This revolutionary speech reduces the Country Party in the House to less than two-thirds of the members.

The Governor will not sign a warrant for sessional expenses, until past payments are ratified. He prorogues the House.

In the British Parliament, Mr. Stanley says there is no evidence to justify any one of the 92 Resolutions.

Sir Robert Peel announces that a Commission will investigate Canadian affairs, and report; but that no change of Constitution will be immediately made. If complaints as to its working prove unfounded, the agitation will be suppressed.

To those threatening insurrection, he says:—"Our desire is to do justice; beware, then, lest your threats turn to your own disadvantage."

A. D. 1836.

— FEB.,—Lord Aberdeen approves of Lord Aylmer's conduct. The Governor declares that, in filling offices, he has more considered qualification than nationality; that 80, of 142, places of emolument, and 295, of 580, unsalaried offices, are filled by Frenchmen.

8th MAY,—Ice is still stationary at Quebec.

21st JULY,—Opening of the Champlain & St. Lawrence Railway.

— AUG.,—The Commission reaches Quebec, and consists of Lord Gosford, Sir Charles Grey and Sir James Gipps. A congratulatory address is presented to them at Quebec.

— OCT.,—Lord Gosford informs Parliament of the purposes of the Commission and of the intended changes. He exhorts members to be conciliatory, saying: "Consider the blessings you might enjoy, but for your dissensions. Offspring, as you are, of the two foremost nations of the earth, you hold a vast and beautiful country, having a fertile soil, with a healthful climate, while the noblest river in the world makes seaports of your remote havens."

— Nov.—Commissioner Grey embarks for England.

Montreal buys the Place d'Armes, from the Seminary.

Mr. Papineau's following is 40 to 27, of the House. Mr. Papineau declares:—"Our task is not light, indeed, for we are called on to defend the rights of all British Colonial dependencies, as well as that we inhabit.

"The same evil genius, whose workings drove provincials of the neighboring States, unwittingly into the paths of a righteous and glorious resistance, presides over our affairs also.

*** "These Commissioners' instructions imply refusal, of those who prepared them, to listen heedfully to any representation of the many grievances either Canada has to complain of."

Eastern Townships, members desert Mr. Papineau.

Lord Gosford disappointedly declares: "I will not predict all the consequences which may result from this factious opposition."

In Upper Canada the 92 resolutions are expunged from the journals.

— WOOD & EVANS —

INSURANCE AGENTS.

The firm of Wood & Evans, of which Mr. Fred. W. Evans is now the sole member, represents the Ætna Insurance Co. of Hartford, Conn., the largest Fire Insurance Company in the United States and one of the oldest, as well as the London & Lancashire Fire Insurance Co., of Liverpool, England, one of the principal British companies.

The late Robert Wood, formerly senior partner of the firm, came to Canada in 1834. Three years later, he formed a partnership with Mr. Jones, the ex-coroner of Montreal, as commission merchants and insurance agents. The firm represented the Ætna, Protection, Hartford and Connecticut Mutual Life Companies, but dissolved in 1849, the business being continued by Mr. Wood alone.

In 1853, he was appointed agent of the Home Insurance Company of New York, and remained so until that company withdrew from Canada some years later.

In 1876, Mr. Evans was taken into partnership under the present firm name of Wood & Evans.

In 1886, Mr. Wood died, since which time the business has been continued by Mr. Evans alone, under the old name.

Wood & Evans occupy commodious offices at No. 1776 Notre Dame St., Montreal, and, in addition to the general agency of the Ætna and London & Lancashire companies, carry on an Insurance Brokerage business.

— MAR.,—The Commissioners' report opposes the Assembly's views.

6th to 9th MAR.,—The debate on Lord John Russell's resolutions, regarding Canada, is participated in by the mover, Mr. Stanley, Mr. Gladstone, Lord Howick and Mr. Labouchère.

Daniel O'Connell is one of the fifty-six who favor making the Legislative Council elective.

Re-voting upon all the resolutions, the minority are about 16.

Lord John Russell declares that:—"No other North American dependency advances such pretensions as Lower Canada."

6th MAR.,—The Colonial Secretary promises Lord Gosford two regiments.

8th MAR.,—The Bank of British North America is opened, at Montreal.

16th MAR.,—The Colonial Secretary directs Governor Gosford to draw troops from Nova Scotia, but, confiding in the people, he does not call them.

16th MAY,—William IV dies, aged 71, and is succeeded by Queen Victoria.

25th JULY,—First decisive success of the electric telegraph.

18th AUG.,—Parliament will not vote supplies.

26th AUG.,—Lord Gosford prorogues Parliament by proclamation. Mr. Papineau finds a copy on his seat, on returning from the audience hall.

Lord Gosford is now convinced that it is intended to institute a republican form of government, in Canada. Justices of the Peace and officers of Militia are removed from office: Mr. Papineau among them.

The newspaper Le Populaire is started, at Montreal, to quiet the public mind; and, at Quebec, the Liberal, a seditious journal.

The Governor warns the people against rebellion.

Messrs. Papineau, Lafontaine, Girouard and Morin go through the country, exciting the inhabitants.

An effigy of the Governor is burnt.

Mr. Lafontaine says:—We have demanded reforms, without obtaining them. It is time to be up and doing.

Lord Gosford proposes adding seven Frenchmen to the Legislative Council and nine to the Executive Council.

"Sons of Liberty" secretly drill and prepare munitions; but many of the French remain loyal.

Among the malcontents are Dr. Nelson, Messrs. Papineau, Wilson, Viger, Lacoste, Brown and Girod.

Alarmed at the length excitement has carried him, Mr. Papineau now inclines to the constitutional remedy of ceasing to trade with England, but Dr. Nelson declares the time for action has come.

The Roman Catholic Bishop Lartigue, of Montreal, preaches obedience to authority, as a cardinal rule of the Church.

The R. C. Bishop Signai, of Quebec, warns his flock against revolt, and reminds them that, even in France, where sovereignty resides in the people, it rests, not with a part, but with the whole population; and "who will dare to say that the whole population of this country desire the overthrow of the Government?"

General Colborne speedily arms 600 inhabitants, and regulars are called from New Brunswick.

6th Nov.,—In Montreal, the Doric Club come to blows with "Sons of Liberty."

The military march through the streets with guns.

22nd Nov.,—At St. Denis, Col. Gore, with five companies of regulars, fails to dislodge Dr. Nelson, with 200 men, behind walls.

For safety, Mr. Papineau is induced to cross the Line.

25th Nov.,—Col. Wetherall's 400 defeat a larger number of rebels, of whom about 100 are killed, 372 wounded, and 30 surrender. At St. Eustache, over 1,200 rebels, under Dr. Chenier and Girod, a Swiss, dwindle to 250. A priest tries to dissuade Dr. Chenier, who replies, with a tear: "I will conquer, or die."

Sir John Colborne, with 2,000 and field-pieces, wins the battle. To unarmed followers Dr. Chenier has said: "Be easy; some will be killed—you can take their muskets." True, there are muskets to spare, but the men to use them are wanting. Girod shoots himself.

T. S. Brown and Dr. O'Callaghan cross the Line.

At St. Benoit, 250 men surrender to Sir John Colborne.

People return thanks for peace, and promise loyalty.

Mr. Lafontaine too tardily asks the Governor to summon Parliament. He refuses. Arrests are made on charge of High Treason.

2nd DEC.,—Troops occupy St. Denis.

6th DEC.,—Battle of Mississquoi Bay.

A. D. 1838.

13th JAN.,—Lord Eldon, Lord Chancellor under three kings, dies.

14th JAN.,—The rebels, under MacKenzie, evacuate Navy Island.

17th JAN.,—Lord John Russell introduces a bill to suspend the Constitution of Canada. Lord Brougham says:—"You propose to punish a whole Province, because it contains a few malcontent parishes; thus, by your indiscriminating prescriptions, you chastise those, even, who have helped you to stifle the insurrection."

27th MAY,—Earl Durham, Governor, arrives at Quebec.

16th AUG.,—Lord Durham's ordinance is disallowed.

3rd Nov.,—Second Rebellion in Canada.

9th Nov.,—Battle of Odelltown.

10th Nov.,—The rebels gain a victory at Beauharnois.

16th Nov.,—Invaders under Von Shoultz are defeated, at Prescott.

13th DEC.,—Sir John Colborne, Governor General, Messrs. Moffat, Stuart and Badgley go to England, to represent British Canadian views.

Lord Howick declares :—" If I thought the great mass of people were hostile to Britain, I should say that what ought to be done would be to see how a final separation between them and us could be effectuated without sacrificing British interests ; but I do not think that British Canadians are opposed to British domination, for our alliance is more necessary to them than their connection is important to us."

Of the French Canadians, he says :—" If it be only for their laws and particular usages that they are struggling, surrounded, as they are, by people of other races, they must be aware that they would be made to undergo, if they lost British protection, a much more violent change than any which they have yet had to endure ; and, certainly, greater and more general than any which we may mean to prescribe for them." He adds that:—"Unlimited executive responsibility is irreconcilable with the relations which ought to exist between a colony and the metropolitan power." Mr. Grote says:—"If the violation, in part, of the Constitution determined the Canadians to arm in defence of their rights, how will they endure the suspension of the Constitution entirely and the confiscation of popular freedom?"

23rd DEC.,—Execution, at Montreal, of the rebels Cardinal and Duquet.

The Custom House, at Montreal, is finished. The population of Canada, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Newfoundland and Prince Edward Island is 1,282,000. Insurgents are amnestied.

The governors of New York and Vermont forbid interference with Canadian difficulties. Highest price of wheat, per quarter, in England, 80s. 9d.

William Clendinneng & Son, IRON FOUNDERS, Etc.

Office and Works, - - 145 to 179 William Street.

SALEROOMS

Corner of Inspector and William Streets,
1417 St. Catherine Street,
524 Craig Street,
2495 Notre Dame Street,
3598 Notre Dame Street, St. Henry.

In 1838, when this important industry was founded by William Rodden, it could hardly have been foreseen that a lad, then of five years, away in County Cavan, Ireland, was destined to become its proprietor.

William Clendinneng who was born in Cavan, in 1833, came to Montreal in 1847, and, in 1852, was employed by William Rodden, in the business of which he is now the senior proprietor. From a clerkship, Mr. Rodden advanced him to a partnership. He was afterwards sole owner, until his son and namesake, William Clendinneng, jr., became his partner, in 1884.

Of the younger partner a recent publication says:—

"Much of the success of the firm is due to his talents and energy."

So supported, Mr. Clendinneng, sr., is at liberty to exercise his natural aptitude for engaging in public affairs, in the course of which he has been repeatedly elected a City Councillor, and has had the honor to represent the city in the Legislative Assembly.

He has also been the acting Mayor of Montreal and its delegate to negotiate a loan in England, is a Governor of the General Hospital and of several other humane and charitable institutions.

A complete list of the firm's manufactures can hardly be made, but among them may be mentioned:—Railway and Agricultural Castings, machinery of many kinds, hall, parlor and kitchen stoves (including the Leader, with its famous round fire-pot), furnaces, ranges, bed-steads, balconies and railings, brackets, crests, funnels, builders' castings, house-furnishing goods, in tin, iron, copper and various compositions.

Messrs. Clendinning & Son employ a regiment of strong, skilled men; and, more or less directly, give support to four or five thousand of the population of Montreal and its suburbs.

They have three acres of works, some of which are conducted on several flats.

William Clendinning, jr., is president of the Canada Pipe Company and is prominent in an Association which tends to promote the industrial and political interests of Canada.

.. ESTABLISHED 1840 ..

Wholesale Dry Goods Merchants.

170 McGill Street, - MONTREAL.

The late Joseph Mackay, Esq., began business alone in Montreal, in 1840.

He subsequently took into partnership with him his brother, the late Edward Mackay, and, at later dates, their three nephews, the late Hon. Hugh Mackay, the late James Mackay and Robert Mackay, the present head of the firm, entered the business.

The house has enjoyed for many years a large and profitable business, with the most reliable class of retail merchants throughout the Canadas and the more distant Provinces, and has become, consequently, one of the wealthiest in the Dominion.

Since the death of the Hon. Hugh Mackay, whose hopeless ill health compelled him to resign political honors, Robert Mackay is the sole representative of the family continuing in business, from which the management of a large estate and social and public demands upon his time, incline him to retire before his sons are of an age to replace him.

The family name is connected with only one of the numerous beneficent charities to which they have liberally contributed, viz., the Mackay Institute for deaf mutes, which was so named out of gratitude for large endowments by the late Joseph Mackay, to which his nephews and niece have since made liberal additions.

JAMES JOHNSTON & CO.,

—IMPORTERS OF—

English, French and German Dry Goods,*Dealers in Canadian and American Manufacturers.*26 ST. HELEN ST., Cor. of Recollet St., - MONTREAL.

The late James Johnston, founder of this well known House, was born at Irvine, Ayrshire, Scotland, on Tuesday, the 21st of April, 1818.

Having, in 1835, visited Canada and returned to Scotland, he was so pleased with the land he had spied out, that, in 1842, he left Scotland to reside permanently at Montreal.

After a short engagement with Mr. Cornell, then one of Montreal's leading retailers of Dry Goods, he, in the latter part of 1842, began a wholesale Dry Goods business, on his own account, on St. François Xavier Street.

About the year 1860, John Binmore became associated with him, under the style of "James Johnston & Co".

In 1869, the expanding business warranted a third partner, and James Slessor, a native of Aberdeenshire, Scotland, who had been a resident of Montreal since the Spring of 1857, was taken into the firm. The next change was Mr. Binmore's retirement in 1878.

On Saturday, the 27th day of May, 1882, the existing partnership was terminated, by the death of James Johnston, the senior partner; whereupon, his son and namesake, James Johnston, joined Mr. Slessor under the old name of James Johnston & Co.

The business is carried on in a large, well designed and massive structure, which was built by the late Mr. Johnston, in 1867 and '68, and was first occupied in May, 1869.

Doubtless the late Jefferson Davis (ex-President of the Southern Confederacy) had this, among other buildings, in mind, when he remarked, to the author, that Montreal had the appearance of having been paid for and was the most substantially built city he had seen. He had not then crossed the Ocean. On his return from Europe, he mentioned having seen one equally well built.

The firm traditionally avoid office-holding, but, as it relates to commerce, Mr. Slessor has accepted election to the Council of the Board of Trade, the Presidency of the Dry Goods Association and membership of the Committee who have helped sufferers by the recent fire in St. John's, Newfoundland, to the extent of more than $40,000.

The firm do not forget the example of its founder, of whom, it is historic, that he always adhered to principle and to his convictions of right, regardless of consequences.

➤CHARLES ALEXANDER◀

Confectioner,

Proprietor of Coffee and Lunch Room,

219 St. James Street, = MONTREAL.

Charles Alexander was born in Dundee, Scotland, on Thursday, 13th of June, 1816.

One brother, when mate of an East Indiaman, was drowned off Good Hope. Another commanded the "Dundee," on the Upper Lakes.

Charles became book-binder, rope-spinner, sailor, ship's-cook, baker, and, finally, apprentice to the principal confectioner in Dundee, who lodged and educated him.

On the 5th of April, 1840, with wife and child, he sailed from Dundee, to fill a situation in Montreal.

Whether in rebuke of the ship's name, "Atlantic," or of her weighing anchor on Sunday, she foundered, at night, on the coast of Newfoundland.

The passengers lost their effects, and one boy, his life.

Mr. Alexander, with his child in his arms, was drawn up to an overhanging rock.

The Scotchmen of Newfoundland fed and clothed his family and forwarded them to Montreal.

In return, Mr. Alexander, in 1892, assisted the people of Newfoundland, who lately suffered by another destroying element.

In June, 1840, Mr. Alexander began working for John Keiller, confectioner on Notre Dame street, and soon became his partner; but when the business prospered, Mr. Keiller persuaded him to try London, U. C., whence he went to Kingston.

Returning, thence, to Montreal, he was introduced, by the Rev. Mr. Wilkes, to a capitalist who enabled him to begin business on McGill street, where his wife's assistance<sup>1</sup> and his habit of paying for one supply before ordering another, brought him out of debt in two years.

Having, in 1843, purchased a store on Notre Dame street, then the centre of business, he was able to pay the price, £4,500, in five years.

He was a member of St. Andrew's Society, until the incorporation, in 1863, of a broader charity, the Protestant House of Industry and Refuge.

As the fourth President of this charity, for the provision of homes for the aged and of temporary shelter, he followed, in office, the late John Redpath, the late William Murray and the late Wm. Workman.

He is active in promoting out-door relief, which annually succors hundreds of families in Montreal.

His public services as Councillor, Chairman of Committee and negotiator of a Civic Loan in England procured him a seat in the Local Legislature.

He brought about the classification of prisoners, so that the young, instead of being contaminated by association with older criminals, are instructed in useful trades.

In 1872, the recollection of youthful hardships prompted Mr. Alexander to erect a Boys' Home, of which he has ever since been President.

Last year, the boys had deposits in the Savings Bank, amounting to nearly $2,000, on which, to encourage them, Mr. Hague generously paid them 10 per cent. interest.

Mr. Alexander has been President and Vice-President of the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. He has aided McGill College, but without forgetting that food and fuel are prior necessities to education.

He was President of the Institute for the Instruction of Deaf-Mutes, from the 7th of January, 1869, until the late Joseph Mackay's benefactions led to its having his name and presidency.

Mr. Alexander is probably the oldest office-holder of the General Hospital, of which he has been Treasurer and Vice-President.

Through others, he, in 1879, lost two hundred thousand dollars; and when sixty-five years of age, began again, at the lower rungs of the ladder of fortune, as bravely as if nature had promised renewal of youth, without deprivation of experience.

As his genial, kindly sons and partners, Charles and John, have proved willing and able to lighten the weight of such business as he will resign, the community may hope that further years of usefulness remain to this other

"Grand old man."

The firm's goods are praised by almost universal patronage. Their Temperance dining-room is a boon, in a city where almost every second corner bears the invitation "Licensed to sell."

Mr. Alexander's promotion of the Protestant Insane Hospital and of the "Fresh Air Fund" are beyond praise, but too recent to be historic.

344 WILLIAM STREET, - Montreal.

The late William Henderson, Esq., who established this business was born of Scotch parents, at Derannanning, Fermanagh County, Ireland, on Friday, 1st of June, 1810.

In June, 1820, his father, David Henderson, migrated to Quebec, and became a lumber merchant, having also a general store in the vicinity of his timber limits. Upon William Henderson's attainment of majority, he joined his father; but removed, in 1841, to Montreal, and, in 1842, began a lumber business which had the success due to integrity, energy and good judgment. He was a member of Trinity Church. Recognizing his duty as a citizen, he was a City Councillor, from 1867 to 1871, and a life member of the Protestant House of Industry and Refuge, until he died, on the 1st of October, 1891.

His sons, David H. and Norman B. Henderson, worthy sons of a good father, are the present proprietors of the mill, which is the largest about Montreal.

HENRY MORGAN & CO.,
COLONIAL * HOUSE
 St. Catherine St., MONTREAL.

The business of Henry Morgan & Co. was begun in 1845, by David Smith and Henry Morgan, at number 204 (now 1826) Notre Dame street.

The firm then employed nine clerks.

Of their early competitors in business, Thomas Mussen died last year, and only Francis Dolan is still active.

In 1851 Mr. Smith removed to Chicago, where he was enriched by the drug trade.

In that year, the firm advertised, in the Canada Directory, that, through connection with the first houses in London, Glasgow and Paris, they were enabled to have the latest fashions, almost as soon as they appeared in those cities.

Following the departure of David Smith, the late James Morgan, senior, who was, in 1838, junior partner in the thrifty firm of Muirhead & Morgan, in Glasgow, Scotland, desirous of joining his brother Henry, left the Glasgow business, which afterwards made the late Mr. Muirhead very wealthy, and is still continued by his former employes.

The two brothers were so prosperous that, in 1858, they added a St. Joseph street front to the premises, at 208 and 210 McGill street, which they occupied for several years, and found room and employment for one hundred clerks.

In 1866, the late Harrison Stephens built for their use a larger store, on the site of the old American Church, on St. James street, with a view of what is now Victoria Square; and they were enabled to increase their staff to 120.

In 1874, an additional storey made possible the addition of carpet and tailoring departments and the employment of two hundred assistants.

In 1888, James Morgan, the elder, retired from business, and his son James, and nephew Colin Morgan, joined Mr. Henry Morgan, without change of style.

In 1889, to the alarm of a considerable number of people, the firm resolved to move up town, and somewhat westward, about half a mile from their then place of business; and bought, for the purpose, land fronting on St. Catherine street, Union Avenue and Aylmer street, whereon to erect the largest store in Canada, plans for which were not drawn until after consulting the principal architects, and visiting the largest stores, in America.

The building which was opened on Tuesday, 21st of April, 1891, has 110,000 square feet of floor-room. The first storey is twenty feet in height, and the building cost over $400,000.

It enabled the firm to add departments for furniture, china-ware, kitchen utensils and drugs and to employ over four hundred assistants.

To give an idea of the relative extent of the Morgan's business, it may be remarked that the premises recently left for larger ones now house a combination of two large retail firms (one of which filled the old St. George's Church building) and four wholesale stores and manufactories, with room to spare.

Many leading merchants throughout Canada were schooled in this famous house; and its occasional customers comprise the élite of all Canada.

The year 1888, in which James Morgan, senior, retired, was the jubilee year of the business of Muirhead & Morgan, which he helped to establish in Scotland.

He was not permitted to see the fiftieth year of H. Morgan & Co., for on the 28th March, 1893, in the fourth year after he had left business for the seclusion of his charming residence, "Milton," a name equally suggestive of its poetic surroundings and of the misfortune which befell the merchant philosopher in common with the poet, he died respected by all who knew him.

One can hardly help speculating upon the future of a house which, in forty-eight years, has advanced from the employment of nine to over four hundred assistants, among which it recently distributed a bonus of $10,000, and which, if it continues its past rate of advancement, must, within its second fifty years, extend to four streets and require thousands of clerks to wait upon millions of customers.

Those friends of the firm, who, in 1889, doubted the wisdom of their determination to remove, have their answer, for already Morgan & Co.'s removal has influenced scores of other establishments to follow to St. Catherine street, in which vicinity the price of real estate has consequently advanced millions of dollars.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY OF CANADA.

It is said that no one should hold more land than he will improve.

Even if subjected to this test, the vast extent of the British Possessions has been justified, by earnest endeavors to so facilitate inter-communication as to consolidate the Empire and enrich its inhabitants.

On the 30th of November, 1809, nearly two years before the steamer "Comet" was placed on the Clyde, the late John Molson's "Accommodation," which was the second steamboat in the world, began running from Montreal to Quebec.

On the 25th of July, 1814, George Stephenson placed the first locomotive steam-engine on the rails at Killingworth.

In the following year, money was voted to begin the construction of a canal from Montreal to Lachine, in order that navigation might not be interrupted by the Lachine Rapids.

In 1816, Lake Ontario had its first steamboat; and, after an interval of two years, Lake Erie was navigated by steam, in the year 1818.

In 1819, a steamship crossed the Atlantic, and a steam-boat was placed on the Ottawa.

In 1822, money was provided to complete the Chambly and Lachine Canals.

In 1825, the Erie Canal was begun; and, within the next twelve months, steamers were placed on Lakes St. Francis and St. Louis.

In 1828, the Rideau Canal was begun; and steam navigation between Quebec and Halifax was subsidized in 1829.

In September, 1830, the Liverpool & Manchester Railway was opened.

In the course of the next year (1831), a Railway, to extend from La Prairie to St. Johns, was chartered.

In the same year a steamer began running regularly, from Quebec to Halifax.

The Railway from La Prairie to St. Johns was opened, in 1836; and in 1849, the Line from Longueuil to St. Hyacinthe (subsequently part of the Grand Trunk) was completed.

In 1851, the St. Lawrence & Atlantic Railway was complete to Richmond; and, on the 11th of September, 1852, its opening to Sherbrooke was celebrated.

In 1853, the Atlantic & St. Lawrence Railway was carried to Island Pond.

Also, in 1853, Messrs. Peto, Brassey, Betts and Jackson undertook to construct railways from Montreal to Toronto and from Quebec to Trois Pistoles, and, a Railway from Sarnia to Toronto was placed under contract.

It was to be a "first-class single track railway, with the foundation of all the large structures provided for a double track, up to the earth level, and to be superior to any Canadian or American railway," then "known or used, and equal to the first-class English railways," and such "as would be approved of by the railway engineers of England of the highest standing and experience."

In 1853, five roads were united as the Grand Trunk Railway of Canada.

As, without a bridge, there would have been two roads, each with rolling-stock, which the other could not use, the Victoria Bridge, designed by Robert Stephenson, was begun in July, 1854, and opened, for traffic, in 1859.

The G.T.R. Company, having taken a lease of the Atlantic & St. Lawrence Railway, to Portland, for 99 years, extended their Line, to Brockville, to which place it was opened on the 19th of November, 1855, and to Toronto on the 27th of October, 1856.

The Great Western (now part of the Grand Trunk Railway system) was completed in 1858.

In 1854, there were 471 freight cars from Montreal to Portland.

In 1892, there are over 22,000, on the whole Line, mostly of double the former capacity.

In 1882, the company had 1,418 miles of road, now it has 4,500 miles, and employs over 20,000 men.

As the Company has never disregarded the axiom that "a straight line is the shortest distance between two points," and has kept to the English standard, it enjoys general respect, confidence and patronage.

Its enterprise is shown by its passenger station, at Montreal, and by its tunnel under the St. Clair River, as well as by numerous short lines, recently constructed, for the public accommodation.

At the inception of the enterprise, which culminated in, and took the name of, the Grand Trunk Railway, Canada's population was sparse and poor. The chief outside market for cattle and grain was found in the States, which produced the same commodities in abundance, and the expense of driving the former and the carriage of the latter almost consumed the farmers' profits. At a distance from navigable streams, large quantities of lumber decayed, while waiting for a purchaser, even by way of barter.

All this was changed by the Grand Trunk Railway. Therefore, in the distribution of public favors, Canadians should never allow their Representatives to forget that, to the Grand Trunk Railway is due the credit of enhancing the value of every acre and every product in Upper and Lower Canada; and they should not forget that the majority of those who originally promoted and fostered this great enterprise, which wrought the salvation of this country, almost entirely lost the money they invested, and that, among their number, were many widows, orphans and retired officers and merchants, who could not protect themselves or make good their losses.

In particular, the people of Canada ought never to be ungrateful to that upright and able politician, Sir Alexander Tilloch Galt, who was the first person in Canada to subscribe for stock in the company, and who, besides adventuring his whole fortune, gave to the undertaking the advantage of his counsel and direction and of his great influence, until the project became an accomplished fact.

The company's general manager, Lewis James Seargeant, Esq., sees, like his most eminent predecessors, no incompatibility between the interests of the company and of the country. His experience has included the working of the South Wales Railway, The Great Western (Eng.), the South Devon, the Cornwall and West Cornwall Railways, on some of which he held the general managership. He refused the managership of a leading system of Railways in India, to come to Canada. Having arrived, in 1874, he acquired a thorough acquaintance with the road before succeeding, in 1890, to the position vacated by Sir Joseph Hickson. He has, fortunately, the assistance of William Wainwright, assistant general manager; J. Burton, general freight agent; Herbert Wallis, mechanical superintendent; Robert Wright, treasurer; and other experienced officers.

When the late Mr. Brydges retired, Canadians presented him with a large sum of money, to testify their respect; and Her Majesty, in making Joseph Hickson, Esq., Sir Joseph, for Imperial services, did not anticipate popular commendation, which has been shown by frequent invitations to accept of banquets and of a seat in Parliament, representing important constituencies, to which he always courteously replied that his time was the Company's.

While no prediction of Royal favor, which is of grace only, can be made, it is safe to say that the people of Canada are prepared to support the present administration of their old and good friend, the first great Railway of Canada, which, with its ramifications, alliances and dependencies, now reaches the older Provinces and the States of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, New York, Illinois, Indiana and Michigan. Indeed, its influence extends throughout the continent and across the ocean.

A.D. 1846.

29th JAN.,—Many persons in the Eastern Townships are arrested on charge of counterfeiting, being afterwards tried before Sir James Stuart and other Judges. Hon. L. T. Drummond and Edward Short, (afterwards judges), prosecute; H. B. Terrill (afterwards M.P.P. for Stanstead), defends. All are acquitted.

— JAN.,—Mr. Lee establishes a knitting factory at Sherbrooke, to manufacture drawers, shirts, shawls, etc.

18th APRIL,—The commission on Rebellion Losses reports.

9th JUNE,—Burning of St. John's, Newfoundland.

12th JUNE,—Theatre burned at Québec.

—,—James Ferrier and others seek a charter for a Railway from Montreal to Prescott; J. A. Macdonald, and others, from Montreal to Kingston; and John Molson and others, from St. Johns to the International Boundary.

10th AUG.,—On the Champ de Mars, 2,000 Montrealers resolve to have a Railway to the Sea.

5th SEPT.,—Lord Metcalfe, former Governor, dies.

Mines north of Lake Superior are explored.

The new canal, from Lachine, overcomes a fall of 42 ft., in  $8\frac{1}{2}$  miles, by two locks of 13 ft. and two of 8 ft. Equal fall of the whole river would yield 4,500,000 horse power.

General Produce & Freight Brokers.

Special Agents PHENIX Assurance Co. of London.

Room 2,
Corn Exchange Building.

39 St. Sacrament St., MONTREAL.

This important business was established, in 1846, by the late John and Robert Esdaile, brothers and natives of Scotland.

After accumulating ample means, John retired, leaving Robert the business, in which he continued active until he died in July, 1832.

Robert M. Esdaile, his son, having entered the office as a clerk, in 1867, and become a partner in 1878, continues the business, and was lately President of the Corn Exchange Association, an office which his father was the first to hold.

— ESTABLISHED 1847 —

IRA GOULD & SON

This business was established in 1846, when the late Ira Gould leased from Government hydraulic lots on the great Basin of the Lachine Canal and erected the largest flouring mill in Lower Canada. He soon gained, for the products of his mill, an enviable reputation in Canada and Great Britain, where he came into successful competition with other American millers. Finding the capacity of his mill—500 barrels per day—inadequate, he built a second, which increased his daily manufacture to 800 barrels of flour.

In 1860, he associated with him two of his sons, under the style of Ira Gould & Sons.

In 1872, in his seventy-third year, congestion of the brain suddenly terminated the useful life of the head of the firm, who died respected by the whole community.

The chief management then devolved upon Charles H. Gould, under whose direction the House has, for twenty years, maintained an enviable reputation.

Eight years ago, the firm converted a stone mill into a first-class roller-mill, with a daily capacity of 550 barrels. Four years later, the second mill was re-built, making the total daily output 1,200 barrels.

In these alterations, no expense was spared to utilize all known improvements.

In 1891, Mr. W. W. Ogilvie, whose extensive milling business is known throughout the trade, purchased Messrs. Gould & Sons' mills and warehouses. The general convictions that the high reputation of the "City Mills," under their founder and his sons, will be perpetuated by the new proprietor does equal honor to both firms.

In 1853, the style was changed to Benning & Barsalou, Joseph Barsalou, Esq., who had long managed the firm's financial affairs, having become a partner. Following Mr. Benning's death, Joseph Barsalou was the sole member of the firm, until his son, Arthur Barsalou joined him.

In the crisis of 1874 and 1875, the firm lost a quarter of a million dollars, beginning with a loss of $122,000 through advances on bills of lading, upon which only 10cts on the dollar was realized, but the firm soon regained, and even surpassed its former excellent financial standing.

 CANADIAN TWEEDS, COTTON, ETC.

In, or about, the year 1848, the late William Stephen, uncle of George Stephen (now Lord Mount-Stephen), established a wholesale dry goods business at 198 St. Paul street. Afterwards, George Stephen, having come from Scotland, entered the business, which was then styled William Stephen & Co. Some years after William Stephen's death, George Stephen disposed of his business to the firm of Robertson, Stephen & Co., composed of the late Andrew Robertson, Robert Linton, John A. Robertson and Francis Stephen. Eight years ago, the late Andrew Robertson retired from the firm. The business was then continued by Robert Linton and John A. Robertson. About 2 years ago, Robert Linton bought out the interest of Mr. Robertson, and continues the business, in conjunction with Mr. John Black, under the style of Robert Linton & Co.

This House represents a business, conducted successively by three members of one family.

In 1848, the late Wm. Stephen was a wholesale dry goods merchant, at 198 St. Paul street.

Some years afterwards Mr. William Stephen took his nephew, George Stephen, into partnership with him.

In 1867, George Stephen, who since became successively Sir George Stephen and Lord Mount-Stephen, having continued the business after his uncle's decease, and desiring to engage in promoting the woolen manufactures of Canada, transferred his business to the late Andrew Robertson, Esq., Francis Stephen (a younger brother of Lord Mount-Stephen) and Robert Linton, under the style of Robertson, Stephen & Co.

George and Francis Stephen afterwards represented several leading Canadian woolen mills, and, when the former abandoned commerce, to construct the Canadian Pacific Railway, Francis Stephen, who already represented the Rosamond Mills, at Almonte, was additionally charged with the disposal of the entire product of the Paton Factory, at Sherbrooke, and, since, of Willett's mills at Chambly.

A commercial publication says:—"The firm of F. Stephen & Co. is fairly entitled to the distinction of being the leading one in what is known as the Canadian Tweed trade."

It is characteristic of Lord Mount-Stephen, that, when Her Majesty honored Canada, by calling one of her adopted sons to participate in Imperial deliberations, in the House of Lords, the enterprises with which he had been connected were in such hands that not a wheel stopped, of the factories where, largely through his enterprise, thousands earn their daily bread. The honor reflected upon Stephen & Co., by Sir George's advancement to the peerage, for promoting a new highway to the East, was anticipated by a popular patent of nobility, the gratitude of beneficiaries by endowments, hardly equalled in the History of Canada, except by those of his friend and co-worker, Sir Donald A. Smith.

JACQUES GRENIER & CO., DRY GOODS, AT WHOLESALE,

292 St. Paul Street, and 133 Commissioners Street,

MONTREAL.

Jacques Grenier, who founded this house in 1850, being a skilled financier, instead of seeking, has been sought by, many public offices.

He has been almost continuously, from 1857, a City Councillor, during many years Chairman of the Civic Committee of Finance, and for a time Mayor of Montreal.

He has long held the Presidency of the Banque du Peuple, the Vice-Presidency of the Hochelaga Cotton Company, and, for a time, the Vice-Presidency of the Board of Trade, besides numerous Directorships of Assurance, Navigation and Manufacturing Companies, etc., etc. Amidst the perplexities of business, he has never been known to forget that he is a gentleman, nor lightly to assume that another is not one.

He was born at Berthier, on Monday, 20th of January, 1823, but his 70th year sits so lightly upon him, that although his son, Gustave, is interested in the business, he may not, in this century, take the helm from the hand which grasped it, with skill and vigor, in the last year of the last half century.

DUNCAN BELL, Merchant and Manufacturers' Agent,

15 Victoria Square, - MONTREAL.

The business established by Duncan Bell, in Hamilton, in 1850, in Toronto, in 1854, and in Montreal, in 1863, is now carried on by the founder's sons, among whose agencies for English and Canadian manufactures are some that have been held 30 and 40 years.

ROBERT GARDNER & SON,

40 to 54 Nazareth and of Brennan and Dalhousie Sts., MONTREAL.

—MANUFACTURERS OF—

Lathes, Machinery and Fine Tools, Shafting,

Hangers and Pulleys, Engines, Boilers,

Cracker and Biscuit Machinery, &c., &c.

The late Robert Gardner, who founded this business, was born at Loch Winnoch, Scotland, and having been thoroughly trained as a mechanical engineer at that home of machinery, Paisley, readily found employment on arriving at Montreal, in 1842. But mechanical skill and ingenuity, being then at a premium in New York City, Mr. Gardner accepted the foremanship of the New York Novelty Works, until, in 1850, he was persuaded to return to the Canadian metropolis, and established the works which still bear his name and proofs of his remarkable ability.

As his eldest son, Robert, early discovered a preference for the paternal business, his education and manual training were so directed, that, in 1868, he became his father's partner, and succeeded him in the business, at his death, which occurred on the 22nd of August, 1891.

The opinion of Robert Gardner, the present owner of the works, is so highly esteemed, that his counsel is in frequent request by manufacturers, schools of applied science, etc., etc.

Much of the machinery in the engineering building, presented by W. C. Macdonald, Esq., to McGill College, was made in Mr. Gardner's works.

Despite his youthful appearance, Mr. Gardner has had twenty years' experience in the Volunteer Force of Canada, and it is several years since he resigned command of the Regiment of Fusiliers (the non-parcils of Montreal's soldiery), which step was necessitated by the demands of a business that requires exclusive attention to the inventing, designing and perfecting of the numerous novel machines and devices required by the condition of modern life and the attainments of modern science. Mr. Gardner was an ensign at the time of the first Fenian Raid, and was on duty at St. Régis and vicinity. During the second raid, he was a captain at Pigeon Hill.

The large works facing on three streets, and covering 50,000 square feet of ground, are full of labor-saving machinery, under direction of a large force of skilled operatives.

The steam which heats the works and the electricity which illuminate them, are produced on the premises.

Praise of R. Gardner & Sons' specialties or machinery is unnecessary, for are they not known wherever commerce can bear them?

ST. LAWRENCE HALL

HENRY HOGAN,

S. MONTGOMERY,

Manager

135 and 139 to 145 ST. JAMES STREET,

MONTREAL.

People who can travel, and agree with Valentine that ; " Home-keeping youth have ever homely wits ", are always pleased to find themselves under the roof of genial Henry Hogan, who has a gentlemanly wish to see his guests well fed and comfortable.

From 1851, when Mr. Hogan opened the Hall, it has almost constantly approached its present perfection.

It has enjoyed the patronage of the Queen's children, of distinguished British Generals, of the late Dom Pedro, of foreign Princes, Presidents and Vice-Presidents, of the late Jefferson Davis, of Governors, Lieutenant-Governors, high dignitaries of Church, and the British and foreign nobility.

The spacious halls and dining room, unlike some, were not designed merely to inspire awe, and the hundreds of bedrooms are furnished with regard to the fact that a traveler is naturally fatigued.

As to the cuisine, the heads of well conducted households visit the Hall for object-lessons in cooking and serving viands, etc.

It is impossible to apportion praise for the Hall's superiority, between Mr. Hogan and his nephew S. Montgomery, who, without failing to note everything of importance, overlooks this vast hostelry with the air of a mere spectator.

B. LEDOUX

 Carriage Maker.

OFFICE, 106
FACTORY, 111

} Windsor Street, MONTREAL.

Bruno LeDoux, the founder of this important industry, was the son of a thrifty farmer, at Verchères.

Having, in 1849, attained the age of seventeen years, he turned his face to the city and his back to the paternal farm.

Even a native of London, Paris or Berlin might have despaired of so faithfully reproducing, in a new country, the graceful works of the old world as to satisfy the exacting taste and the critical eye of a Queen's sons and daughters, but that a youth reared in a country parish, where a well designed carriage was seldom seen, should have evolved the admirable combinations of strength and beauty which have made the name B. LeDoux famous on two Continents, is altogether marvelous.

It was venturesome of the lad to exchange the inherited promise, that harvest shall follow seed-time, for the uncertainties of city life; but, he was made bold, by the consciousness of genius, which is proved by scores of trophies, won at home and abroad.

The medals and diplomas, which adorn the firm's ware-rooms, show that the designs of the farmer's son have successfully competed, not only in this and its sister Provinces, but, even in London and at Philadelphia.

Had the chapeau of the young farmer covered the head of a mere artist, the name of B. Ledoux would have fallen short of its actual destiny. Happily, in him, genius accompanied a dexterous hand, quickness of perception, knowledge of men and native courtesy, so that the assistants, whom he chose with prudence, speedily became masters of their art, and so attached to their employer that a number still remain, though the master is gone.

As a complete list of the late Mr. Ledoux's trophies would be tediously long, it may suffice to add that he and his successors have enjoyed the patronage of several Governors General, of the Princess Louise and most of the Queen's sons.

Largely as the retention of the distinguished patronage of this famous factory is due to the permanent influence of the founder's master-mind, it is also, in no small degree, attributable to the son's following closely in his father's steps, thus furnishing another of the rare instances of the inheritance of exceptional talent.

As the Witness has not the reputation of exaggerating, it may be excused to quote from its obituary notice of the late Mr. Ledoux: "In social life the deceased was much beloved, and the respect paid to his memory by the carriage-makers of Montreal, at his funeral, shows that the title 'father of the carriage makers' was not misapplied. His success in life should be a beacon to his fellow-countrymen to follow in the path of honesty, integrity and industry."

The following partial list of trophies may serve to interest and inform the public: 1st Prize and Diplomas at Provincial Exhibitions of 1868 and 1870; at the Centennial Exhibition, Philadelphia, in 1876; at the Sidney, N.S.W., Exhibition, in 1877; and, in 1886, a medal from the Colonial and Indian Exhibition of South Kensington, London, England.

Perhaps the best testimonial, the firm has received, is the recent order, by the Ladies of Canada, of a wedding present, for the Duchess of York.

Caledonian Iron Works,

ST. GABRIEL LOCKS.

196 SEIGNEURS STREET,
MONTREAL.

---

The proprietors are engineers, millwrights, machinists, boiler-makers, etc.

The works were established by the late John McDougall, native of Jedboro, Scotland, who was President of the Cumberland Railway & Coal Company.

The works employ 150 skilled men.

They lately supplied the Spring Hill mines with a boiler weighing 40,000 lbs. It seemed immovable, but was carried away by mere gravitation, on the Canal, which provides motive power, from rapids capable of five millions of horse-power. The intersection of rail and river leads, to these works, the patronage of all the Provinces. Until a few days since, when a fire destroyed many of them, forty years' patterns were stored, for making duplicates. New patterns are made on the premises.

A pit 20 x 18 feet lately yielded the largest pulley yet produced in Canada. A compound engine displays the skill of many workmen, who have, separately, made the parts so accurately that the combination acts as if produced by a single hand.

There is machinery for punching through 4 inches of iron, a steam-hammer, that could crush an oaken beam, yet a hand's pressure stops the blow two hairs' breadth short of contact.

There is also the largest iron-planing machine in the Dominion.

Electric light is produced on the premises.

HON. JAMES KEWLEY WARD, M.L.C. &c.

The Hon. James Kewley Ward's names couple the surnames of his parents. John Ward, his father, after serving in the 3rd Regiment of Dragoon Guards, married Elizabeth Kewley, in the Isle of Man, of which Island she was a native.

On the ninth day, of the ninth month, in the nineteenth year, of the nineteenth century, the subject of this sketch was born, at Peel, in the Isle of Man. He can, therefore, claim the distinction of being a Manxman, although his father was a native of England.

Mr. Ward survives all his three brothers. Two of them died on the West Coast of Africa, and one at home, after tempting the perils of the sea for forty years.

In 1842, provided with a common school education and a trade, Mr. Ward sailed for New York. After a two months' voyage, he immediately found employment at his trade, but, in 1845, exchanged it for a clerkship with a lumbering company in Western New York, where he afterwards undertook lumbering on his own account. In 1853, he transferred his lumbering operations to the Maskinongé River, in Lower Canada.

In 1863, the failure of Norcross, Phillips & Co. left idle the "American Saw Mills," at Three Rivers, perhaps the largest steam-mills in the country, at that time. Mr. Ward courageously undertook to run them, and succeeded so well, that, in 1870, he was able to extend operations to the Ottawa and its tributaries, including the River Rouge, the logs from which are sawn at his mills, on the Lachine Canal.

To assist in building up the manufacturing interests of his adopted country, Mr. Ward was among the original stock-holders in the Magog, Coaticook, Valleyfield and Merchants' Cotton Mills, and has been a Director of all and President of three of them.

He has not allowed his private affairs to exclude, or obscure, attention to his duties as a citizen, and, in the past twenty years, it is probable that few Canadians have held as many offices and attended as many meetings, affecting the public weal, as he.

At such meetings, his opinions, though tendered with diffidence, always command the respect due to common-sense and large experience.

If, after the day's labors, there are still public duties to be performed, he leaves the comforts of home to begin again, as though he never felt fatigue.

Having joined in organizing Cote St. Antoine as a Municipality, he has been nine years Mayor and twice nine years a Councillor.

In the same municipality he has been Chairman of the School Commissioners, from the organization of the Board, until now, and, in concert with the late Judge Sanborn, of honored memory, gave the Cote one of the best schools in Canada.

He is on the Board of Management of St. George's Society, and has thrice been its President.

The Liberal party have paid him the compliment of choosing him as their Candidate to oppose, successively, two of the strongest Conservatives, viz., the late M. H. Gault, M.P., and Sir Donald A. Smith, M.P., &c.

In the latter case, the contest was hopeless, for, to say nothing of the prestige and patronage of the party in power, Sir Donald had made the people of Montreal, and humanity generally, his debtors, by judicious and munificent benefactions.

Of the whole Liberal party, the one who least regretted the defeat was Mr. Ward. But failure at the polls has not saved him the labor and responsibility of assisting in the Country's Legislation, for he was nominated to the Legislative Councilorship of Victoria, vacated, successively, by the Hon. Mr. Ferrier's death and by the resignation of the Hon. Hugh McKay.

The appointment was the more acceptable, because unsolicited and unexpected, and because the Victorian Division includes the Western portions of the City and Island of Montreal, with the interests of which his places of residence and of business familiarize him.

Besides contributing liberally to charities in the Isle of Man, he has given generously to the Wesleyan University, the Hospital for the Insane, the Boys' Home and other charitable institutions in, and around, Montreal.

He is President of the Protestant Hospital for the Insane, at Verdun, a Governor of the General Hospital, on the Board of Management of the Boys' Home, and Governor of the Western Hospital. He has also been, five years, President of the Protestant Infants' Home, and is actively connected with the Protestant House of Industry, in Montreal and at Longue Pointe.

Remembering that he accumulated some of his means at Three Rivers, he has assisted in securing that town a Park, and has given it a central site for a Protestant School.

Of his ten children, of whom seven are daughters, four are married, his sons-in-law being Mr. M. Davis, Charles I. Root and Charles Cantin.

One of his sons is married to a daughter of the late Mr. Reekie, who helped Messrs. Morton, Peto & Brassey to build the Grand Trunk Railroad, from Levis to Stanfold.

Mr. Ward's assistants in the lumbering business are Mr. J. H. Redfern, Charles I. Root and J. Ward; but, though in his seventy-fifth year, the senior partner does not shirk his proportion of the work.

➤ EASTERN TOWNSHIPS BANK ➤

Prior to 1859, the only banking facilities enjoyed by residents of the Eastern Townships, and, in fact, east of Montreal, were two small agencies of the old City Bank of Montreal—now defunct,—one at Sherbrooke, the other at Stanstead Plain. Business and manufacturing languished, for want of accommodation, which the Bank agencies could have supplied, but which was withheld by the Management, at headquarters, owing to their want of appreciation of the capability of the business men of the Townships.

That the field was a good one, and that a safe and profitable business could have been done, has since been demonstrated; but, this was not believed, at the time, and the business men found their only recourse was to endeavor to organize a Bank of their own. This seemed a gigantic undertaking, in view of the fact that there were few men of wealth, although there were many who were quite prosperous. It was thought, if the scattered capital of the Townships could be combined, as it would be in the establishment of a Bank, and carefully loaned out to foster manufacturing and other industries, it would not only be a boon to the country, but would, also, be found profitable. Accordingly, it was decided to apply for a charter and endeavor to raise the necessary capital.

In 1855, an application was made to the Provincial Parliament, then sitting at Quebec, and a Charter was granted, but fixing the capital at £250,000, or $1,000,000. This was a much larger amount than the promoters contemplated, and it was considered impracticable to raise so much, or, if raised, to employ it safely and profitably. The charter was, therefore, allowed to stand, but the enterprise was not given up.

In 1858, an amendment to the charter was obtained, reducing the amount to $400,000. This gave the promoters fresh courage, and they at once set about a thorough canvass for stock-subscriptions. It was decided, if possible, to get subscriptions from all sections of the Townships, with the view of having the interest in the institution as general as possible. To accomplish this, it was understood that three branch banks should be established, as soon as the Head Office should be in working order. The necessary stock was finally secured, and, in August, 1859, the Shareholders were called together, in Sherbrooke, to organize.

The following gentlemen, who had been very active in promoting the Bank, were elected the first Directors, viz. :—

Col. Benjamin Pomeroy, Compton.
 Chas. Brooks, Lennoxville.
 R. W. Heneker, Sherbrooke.
 John Henry Pope, Cookshire.
 A. A. Adams, Coaticooke.
 G. K. Foster, Richmond.
 H. R. Robinson, Waterloo.

The organization was completed by the election of Col. Benj. Pomeroy, as president; Chas. Brooks, vice-president; and W. S. Foster, assistant cashier of the People's Bank, Derby Line, as cashier.

On the 19th of September, following, the Bank opened its doors for business, with $100,000 paid capital.

It may justly be claimed, that the date of the establishment of the Bank was contemporaneous with the start of the Townships, on the up grade of prosperity. New life seemed to have been infused into all branches of business. The management were liberal, in lending assistance to all legitimate enterprises. The farmers' requirements were also supplied, and, as a result, the new Bank prospered beyond the most sanguine expectations of its promoters.

Carrying out the promises made, branches were established at the following points, viz.:

Waterloo,	G. G. Stevens, Manager.
Stanstead,	A. P. Ball, "
Stanbridge,	J. C. Baker, "

At the close of the first year, Mr. Foster retired from the Cashiership, and Mr. W. R. Doak, of Compton, was temporarily appointed to the vacancy, with William Farwell (also from People's Bank, Derby Line) as Assistant Cashier. In 1861, Mr. Doak retired, and Mr. Farwell was appointed Cashier, which position (the title, however, having since been changed to that of General Manager) he still holds, having now been in the service of the Bank over thirty-three years.

The success of the Bank is evidence that the Directors and Officers have, throughout, been men of good judgment and business ability; and it is doubtful if any Bank can show a record of steady prosperity exceeding that of the Eastern Townships Bank.

Owing to the general increase of business, it has been found necessary to increase the Capital Stock of the Bank, at various times, until it now stands at $1,500,000, with a Reserve Fund of $650,000. The deposits have also increased very largely, standing, in June last (1893), at $2,823,813, showing the rapid stride which has been made in the wealth of the Townships during the past thirty years. This, however, does not give the full extent of the increase in wealth of this prosperous section; as it must be taken into account that there are now agencies of three other Banks, competing for deposits and, in addition, the Post Office Savings Banks, which undoubtedly receive a large share of public favor.

At the date mentioned (June, 1893), the amount of Bills of the Bank in circulation, was $853,314. These several funds, in addition to large resources, immediately available to meet any sudden demands, enable the Bank to accommodate the public to the fullest extent required by them for the business of the country.

Amongst the names of those who were the original promoters of the enterprise, and who were always strong supporters of the Bank, may be mentioned: Col. B. Pomeroy, A. W. Kendrick, Charles Pennoyer and A. Stimson of Compton; Chas. Brooks, Lennoxville; John Henry Pope, J. F. Osgood and C. A. Bailey of Cookshire; Sir A. T. Galt, R. W. Heneker, J. G. Robertson, Col. John Moore, Col. G. F. Bowen, L. E. Morris, J. S. Sanborn, E. T. Brooks and R. D. Morkill, of Sherbrooke; A. A. Adams, John Thornton and Lewis Sleeper of Coaticook; T. Lee Terrill, Horace Stewart and Israel Wood of Stanstead; G. G. Stevens, A. B. Foster, L. S. Huntingdon and H. L. Robinson of Waterloo; E. O. Brigham and J. N. Galer, of Missisquoi, and many other prominent men, too numerous to include in this sketch.

Of these gentlemen, some who have passed away served on the Board of Directors of the Bank, and shared the credit of having been associated in establishing it on its present solid basis; notably, the late Hon. Messrs. Pope and Terrill, as, respectively, President and Vice-President.

The present Board is composed of the following Shareholders, viz.:—

R. W. Heneker, Sherbrooke,	President.
M. H. Cochrane, Hillhurst, Compton,	Vice-President.
Israel Wood,	Sherbrooke.
J. N. Galer,	Dunham.
D. A. Mansur,	Stanstead.
Thomas Hart,	Richmond.
N. W. Thomas,	Coaticook.
T. J. Tuck,	Sherbrooke.
Gardner Stevens,	Waterloo.

The Bank has now nine offices, at which its business is transacted, all located at central points in the Townships, and under the management of able men, trained up in the service of the Bank, viz.:—

	Entered in
Sherbrooke (Head Office), S. Edgell, Manager,	1861
S. F. Morey, Inspector,	1872
Waterloo, W. I. Briggs, Manager,	1861
Cowansville, Jas. Mackinnon,	1872
Coaticook, B. Austin,	1870
Richmond, W. L. Ball,	1871
Stanstead, S. Stevens,	1873
Granby, E. N. Robinson,	1873
Huntingdon, W. H. Robinson,	1876
Bedford, E. W. Morgan,	1883

The following comparative statement shows the growth of the business of the Bank, from its organization up to May, 1892, and is also an indication of the marvelous growth of the Eastern Townships.

According to the sworn statement for June last, the whole authorised capital, of $1,500,000, had been subscribed, and only $95 of it remained unpaid.

The customary dividend of 7 per cent had been paid. The Reserve Fund had been augmented to $650,000. The Deposits had increased to $2,735,047, and the circulation had mounted up to $853,314.

—THE MOLSONS BANK—

The Molsons Bank began business on Monday, the 1st of October, 1855, with about $300,000, paid up, of £250,000, authorized, capital.

The Corporators were William Molson, Hon. George Moffatt, John Ogilvy Moffatt, George Moffatt, Hon. Samuel Gerrard, Hon. James Ferrier, William Dow and Johnson Thompson.

The first Directors were William Molson, president ; Hon. John Molson, vice-president ; Thomas Molson, John H. R. Molson (still a Director, after 37 years), and E. Hudon.

In the first year, the dividend was eight per cent., and a Reserve was begun.

Only in 1869, 1870, 1878, 1879, 1880 and 1881 has the dividend fallen below 8, to from 6 to 7, per cent.

As there have been but two General Managers, four Presidents and four Vice-Presidents in thirty-seven years, the original idea, of a rest equal to half the capital, was constantly in view, until realized, and the policy of doing "a safe, rather than a large, business," enunciated in 1860, has made the business large, as well as safe.

F. Wolferstan Thomas has been General Manager of the Bank for about twenty-four years.

Notwithstanding his aptitude for finance, he was some time in finding his vocation.

Scholarly relatives urged the delights of literature ; his father wished him to enter the Church or the Army ; but, while awaiting a commission, he received such very practical lessons in Canadian agriculture, as prepared him to accept a position on the Grand Trunk Railway Engineering staff, which he held until, in 1852, a clerkship in the Bank of Upper Canada disclosed the profession for which he has displayed such great aptitude and ability.

A year later he entered the Bank of Montreal, and, in 1865, became its Manager at London.

Upon the recommendation of E. H. King, ex-President of the Bank of Montreal, the Hon. (now Sir) D. L. Macpherson nominated him to the general managership of this Bank, the duties of which he assumed in July, 1870.

James Elliot, who has been for fourteen years, Local Manager, has received his entire training, as a banker, in this Institution, which he entered when eighteen years of age.

A. D. Durnford, Inspector, was Manager, at Sorel, from 1872 to 1874, and has been twenty-one years in the Bank's employ.

The late William Molson, a benefactor of McGill College, of whom the late Judge Day said that he was one of the rare class "who know the value of money, yet whose hearts are ever open to the appeals which are made to their benevolence," was President nearly twenty years, until his death.

John H. R. Molson, to whom McGill College owes many debts of gratitude, has been over twenty-six years President or Vice-President.

The late Thomas Workman was about thirty years Director and fourteen years President or Vice-President.

Though started with but $300,000, the Bank, in 1891, loaned $10,429,698.81, and had $13,014,210.86 of assets. Public confidence was further manifested by deposits of $7,529,357.04 and the average holding of $1,838,378 of the Bank's notes.

For the past year the Bank has paid a bonus of 1 per cent in addition to its usual dividend of 8 per cent. In June 1893, its loans had increased to $11,567,387 and its total assets to $14,679,150.

Diminished circulation of the Bank's notes during the U. S. Civil War, necessitated branches, which, besides affording needed facilities, at neglected points, greatly increased the Bank's earnings.

The Montreal Branch started in 1855; the St. Thomas, London, Owen Sound and Sorel branches, in 1871; the Toronto and Morrisburg, in 1872; the Brockville, Exeter and Meaford, in 1873; the Smith's Falls, in 1874; the Ridgetown, in 1878; the Clinton, in 1879; the Trenton, in 1880; the Aylmer, in 1883; the Woodstock, in 1884; the Hamilton, in 1885; the St. Hyacinthe and Norwich, in 1886; the Waterloo, in 1887; the West Toronto Junction, in 1888; the Winnipeg and Calgary, in 1891.

The annual statements record a "crisis" in 1858, reduced circulation in 1861, in 1863 little prospect of improvement, while the public "receive foreign coins at more than their intrinsic value,"—an evil to which the Bank had not contributed by importing depreciated silver.

In 1861, when the U. S. war began, the public were carrying $351,261 of the Bank's notes; but, in 1867, owing to the glut of silver, the circulation fell to $88,576. Upon the abatement of the silver nuisance, it rose, in 1871, to $837,809, and, in 1891, it was $1,838,378, twenty and seven-tenths times as much as in 1867.

Though Banks, like natural entities, are prone to complain, the reports, generally, indicate prosperity. For example: in 1864, the Bank's premises were found too small, but in 1885, the anxiety was to find safe employment for accumulations.

In 1871, it had become desirable to increase the capital to $2,000,000.

In 1882, the Rest was increased from $250,000 to $425,000.

In 1883, it reached $500,000, and, in 1884, it was made $600,000.

In 1883, harvest and business were good, and the "vast sums of money disbursed for construction of the Pacific Railway" eased the money market.

In 1885, the sum of $75,000 was added to the rest.

In 1886, the earnings being 14½ per cent., the rest was made $800,000, and in 1888, $1,000,000. In 1893, it stands at $1,150,000.

In 1889, the death of the President, Thomas Workman, beclouded prosperity.

The annual report of that year recalls his probity, manliness, tenacity of purpose, quick perception and sound common-sense.

His last Will proved him a good friend of Canada's chief Institution of Learning.

It appears that the shareholders of Molsons Bank are not exceptional in their appreciation of their officers' abilities, for John H. R. Molson, Esq., President, who is head of the firm of J. H. R. Molson & Brother, is a Director of the City & District Savings Bank, a Governor of McGill College, a Governor of the Fraser Institute, Justice of the Peace, etc., etc.

R. W. Shepherd, Esq., Vice-President, is President of the Ottawa River Navigation Company, a Governor and Member of the Executive Committee of the Montreal General Hospital, Vice-President of the Mackay Institute for Deaf-Mutes, and a Trustee of the Mount Royal Cemetery, etc., etc.

S. H. Ewing, Director, lately senior partner in the firm of S. H. & A. S. Ewing, is a Director of the Sun Life Assurance Company, of the Dominion Cotton Manufacturing Company and of the Stormont Cotton Company, sole Trustee in Canada for the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, on the Board of Management of the Montreal General Hospital and a Justice of the Peace, etc., etc.

W. M. Ramsay, Esq., Director, is General Manager, for Canada, of the Standard Life Assurance Company, joint Trustee, in Canada for the Guardian Fire & Life Assurance Company, Director of the Intercolonial Coal Company, Justice of the Peace, etc.

Henry Archbald, Esq., Director, is head of the firm of Frothingham & Workman, a Director of the Montreal Telegraph Company, Trustee of Mount Royal Cemetery, etc., etc.

Samuel Finley, Esq., Director, lately a member of the firm of Gault Brothers, is a Governor and Member of the Executive Committee of the Montreal General Hospital, Treasurer of the Royal Institution (McGill College), Treasurer of the Wesleyan Theological College, Treasurer of the Montreal Auxiliary Bible Society, Member of the Council of the Natural History Society, Member of the Board of Management of the House of Industry and Refuge, Protestant Hospital for the Insane, Boys' Home, Society for the Protection of Women and Children, Montreal Dispensary, and Montreal Sailors' Institute, etc., etc.

W. M. Macpherson, Director, is joint General Manager for Canada of the Mississippi & Dominion Steamship Company, agent for the Hansa steamship line, etc., and succeeded, on the Board, his father, Sir David L. Macpherson.

Mr. Thomas, the General Manager, is another active worker for the public weal, being Vice-President of the Mackay Institute for Deaf Mutes, a Director and Treasurer of the General Hospital and of the Protestant Hospital for the Insane, etc., etc.

In fact, his knowledge and business experience are so levied upon, by the English Church, and a score of charitable Institutions, that he seldom has an hour of leisure.

The security of share-holders and depositors is the greater, because the officers and clerks are recruited from the most distinguished families in the country.

This business, established in 1855, by David Tees, was, in 1866, carried on by him and his brother Joseph, and included manufacturing for the trade. In 1872, John Tees joined them, but, in 1877, David and his son William bought the business. In 1886, at the Colonial Exhibition, in England, the firm became famous, and established a large foreign demand for their roll-top Desks. Their Funeral appointments are the best.

— JOHN PARSLOW

 and Manufacturer of Account Books.

160 St. James Street, - MONTREAL.

In Mackay's Directory of 1856-57 will be found "Parslow John, bookbinder, paper ruler and account book manufacturer, 42 St. François Xavier Street."

The following year he removed to No. 32 of the same Street. In the year 1861, we find him located at 252 St. Paul Street.

Those were the palmy days of bookbinders, before the business came to be dabbled in by the majority of printers, booksellers and stationers, albeit without the least training in this ancient and highly respectable art.

In the year 1870, Mr. Parslow returned to St. François Xavier Street, No. 47, and continued in the same place for 15 years. When trade began moving eastward, to keep abreast of the times, he secured the handsome store, No. 160 St. James Street, where he daily welcomes his old friends and makes new ones.

ROBIN & SADLER

—MANUFACTURERS OF—

LEATHER * BELTING

Fire Engine Hose and Lace Leather.

2518, 2520 & 2522 Notre Dame St., - MONTREAL.

And 129 Bay St., TORONTO.

BELL TELEPHONE 8149.

This business, which was established in 1858, was undertaken by Thomas Robin and George W. Sadler, in 1876.

Since Mr. Robin's death, in 1884, it has been owned and carried on by George W. Sadler, who has had twenty-six years experience of belt-making, in Canada and the United States.

One's first impression, on entering Robin & Sadler's spacious premises, is that he sees an over-stock of the finest oak-tanned belting, and he can hardly believe it to be of home production. Its excellence is due to the proprietor's practical and thorough acquaintance with the business, as conducted by the best makers, in two countries, to his tanning all the leather he uses (which he does at his large tannery, in Stanbridge), and to his using only the best portions of selected hides.

Formerly, the less scrupulous wholesale dealers habitually urged the firm to stamp their goods as made in England or the United States.

Had Messrs. Robin & Sadler stooped to such a fraud, it is clear that every improvement in their workmanship would have tended to strengthen the existing prejudice in favor of foreign belting.

From many leading Exhibitions the firm have silver and gold medals, and, in various ways, have become so widely known as to necessitate a branch house at Toronto.

As this business is sensitive to whatever affects manufactures generally, the firm is in position to say, that, under proper control, the National Policy tends to a healthy development of the manufacturing interests of the country.

J. E. M. WHITNEY & CO.,

—IMPORTERS OF—

- Leather and Shoe Goods -
AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS.

14 Lemoine Street, . MONTREAL.

This business originated in 1858 with the late N. S. Whitney, native of Frelighsburg.

Mr. J. E. M. Whitney, head of the present firm, entered his father's business in 1880, after  $3\frac{1}{2}$  years at the University of Cambridge.

In 1880 he entered the firm of Whitney, Wardlow & Co.

After his father's death, the business was continued, with Mrs. Whitney as special partner, in her warehouse, on St. Helen street.

The sales of the present firm, which started 10th July, 1889, have amounted to $250,000 a year.

It has buying and selling agents, in London and Paris.

The firm represents tanners of Gondolas and sheep-skins, by the new processes.

Mr. Whitney is allied to, as well as descended from, families of distinction; Mrs. Whitney, a well known composer, and sister of Lady Shea, being the daughter of the late Surveyor General Bouchette, and descended from Commodore Bouchette, who, in 1776, helped to save Canada, by taking Governor Carlton from Montreal to Quebec, when the enemy lined the banks of the river.

JAMES BAYLIS & SON,

The Carpet Warehouse,

(Established 1859)

Carpets, Oil Cloths, Curtains, etc., etc.

No. 1837 Notre Dame Street,

Montreal.

The senior partner of this House may be styled one of the Fathers of the Carpet trade of Canada.

Beginning as apprentice with the late Robert Campbell, in 1836, he continued as clerk, and finally partner, till he branched out to found the present business. He has seen the trade develop, from being the insignificant adjunct of a dry goods business, when the announcement of an auction sale of 6 bales of carpets was a noteworthy event in the town, and the purchase of the whole lot by the firm looked upon as a venturesome thing and when the sale of a Brussels carpet, to some luxurious citizen, was a rarity, up to the present time of palatial houses devoted exclusively to the sale of rich goods, undreamed of in those early days.

In 1859, Mr. James Baylis opened up an exclusively "carpet, oilcloth and curtain warehouse", in Montreal, and bought out the existing one of R. Campbell & Co., Toronto, which latter was subsequently discontinued.

In 1876, Mr. Samuel M. Baylis was admitted partner, and the firm stands to-day, probably, the oldest house in Canada, devoting themselves exclusively to their special lines.

The firm have, during their long career, sought, by fair and honorable dealing, close study of the needs of the trade and attention to their customers' interests, to secure and retain the confidence of patrons, scattered from Halifax to Vancouver.

The late Richard John Devins, Esq., Chemist.

As the late Richard John Devins, chemist, who formerly carried on business at No. 4, St. James street, Montreal, was eminently successful, it seems decorous to commemorate his estimable qualities, in a book of which he was one of the most generous patrons, and which is intended for the permanent use of commercial men.

Richard J. Devins, who was born, in Montreal, on Saturday, the 24th of June, 1837, was the son of Peter Devins, a native of Sligo, Ireland, who came to Canada about 1820, and, in 1827, married Miss Ann Maria Hollahan, from the county of Letrim, Province of Connaught, Ireland, after waiting for her the scriptural seven years.

Peter Devins combined a legal mind with a kindly nature, and was credited with settling a great number of disputes, which would otherwise have been decided in the Courts.

He joined, to great business capacity such ready wit, that upon seeing him hesitate, for a repartee, Hon. Thos. D'Arcy McGee, said: "It is the first time I ever knew you at loss for a reply."

In a different direction, Richard Devins' talents equalled his father's.

He took a course, at St. Mary's college, and studied medicine, at McGill, to become a physician; but the humane disposition, which attracted him to medicine, made the dissecting room and surgery so repulsive, that he gave his attention exclusively to chemistry and medicine, at first, with Mr. Burke, who is still in business, on McGill street. He afterwards went to Larman and Kemp's, in New York, only returning when his mother died, in 1857.

He began business, in 1862, next the Court House, in the building which his father had erected for the use of Alfred Savage, chemist.

In November, 1862, Richard Bolton (who is, in 1893, president and director of several manufacturing and financial institutions) became his partner; and the success of Devins & Bolton has probably not been surpassed in the history of the Canadian Drug Trade.

With courtesy, Mr. Devins combined energy and he was master of the art of judicious advertising.

He was a musical genius, playing many instruments, by ear, which faculty furnished him with recreation after the worry of the laboratory and office.

Messrs. Devins & Bolton were the first to introduce a number of medicines to the Canadian trade, and soon found customers in nearly every drug and general store in the country. Several years since, the firm was dissolved, but Mr. Devins still continued to work, until, on Friday, the 19th of February 1892, the active mind and the cunning hand ceased from toil.

Why he, a bachelor, continued in business, after he had secured a competency, is disclosed by his last will and testament, according to which, his sister (and yours), Sister Devins, of the Grey Nunnery, is directed to use his ample estate for missions and in good works, at her discretion.

The bachelorhood of Mr. Devins, and the widowhood of Mrs. Thomas Tiffin, had enabled the three remaining members of the family to live, for some years past, under the same roof, to the great gratification of the deceased gentleman, who died respected and regretted by all who knew him.

MUNDERLOH & CO.,

—IMPORTERS OF—

German and Belgian Goods

Commission Merchants and Forwarders.

General Agents HAMBURG AMERICAN PACKET COMPANY (Hansa Line).

61 St. Sulpice St., MONTREAL.

MARINE INSURANCE.

The late Wilhelm Christian Munderloh, founder of this well known House was born in Elsflath, Grand Duchy of Oldenberg, Germany, on the 9th of September, 1831.

In 1857, he left his native country for Canada. After three years engagement in a wholesale dry goods house. in Montreal, he revisited Germany; but shortly returned to Montreal, where, in 1861, he commenced business in the same line on his own account.

Having realized the want of direct communication between Canada and Continental Europe, one of his first acts, after his appointment as Consul for the German Empire, in 1871, was to show the German Government and certain steamship owners the advisability of establishing direct steam communication between Canada and Europe. The matter did not, immediately, receive attention in Germany; so Mr. Munderloh tried Belgium, and with better success, for he, there, found an enterprising firm, Messrs. Steinmann & Ludwig, ready to send to Montreal a few steamers and sailing vessels, during the season of navigation.

To secure a better and more regular service, Mr. Munderloh then asked the Dominion Government for a moderate subsidy, which was granted, after careful investigation, and a contract, for five years, was entered into; and a similar one was also made, by the same Government, with the Hansa Steamship Company, of Hamburg.

After the expiration of these contracts, steamship communication between Hamburg, Antwerp and Canada was continued by the Hansa Steamship Co., of Hamburg, under the management of Messrs. Munderloh & Co., who act as general agents on this side.

The managing owner of this highly esteemed Line was F. Laeisz, of Hamburg, under whose able management six new steamers, furnished with the latest improvements, were built within the last five years, for the Montreal service. These steamers are admirably adapted to carrying live stock, and actually carried 9,100 head during the season of 1891, losing only 12, which would probably have died had they been in the pasture.

Quite a large trade has, consequently, been developed, between Canada and the continent.

Most of the steamers of the Hansa Line take full cargoes of grain, phosphate and produce, to Hamburg and Antwerp.

Thus, new channels have been opened to the trade of Canada; and if, foreign trade does not rapidly increase, it will not be the fault of the Hamburg American Packet Co., Hansa Line, or their agents, who not only issue bills of lading to German and Belgian ports, but have arranged regular connection over their lines, with most of the ports in Africa and Australia, to which they can quote a moderate rate of freight, and grant through Bills of Lading.

There is nothing to prevent building up a new trade, which, if properly fostered, must attain a magnitude proportionate to the greatness of the countries which now invite the merchants of Canada to deal with them.

The late Mr. Munderloh, besides enjoying the confidence of three successive Emperors of Germany, as proved by his twenty-two years' tenure of the consular office, appears, by his repeated elections as President of the German Society and by the following resolution of the Board of Trade, to have, in equal degree, gained the respect of his fellow-citizens.

"Resolved—That the Council of the Montreal Board of Trade has learned, with much regret, of the death, in Chicago, of Mr. W. C. Munderloh, second vice-president of the Board ;

"That Mr. Munderloh, during his long residence in Montreal, earned the respect of its citizens, by an honorable record as an able and successful business man, retiring in manner, of high character, kindly and courteous to all, and that, in his death, this Board and the commercial community sustain a great loss ;

"That the Council gratefully records its appreciation of Mr. Munderloh's services to the Board, of which he became a member in 1874, and it recalls with sad pleasure his valuable work, in the Council during the many years he was elected to membership thereof, i.e., 1880 to 1888, and 1891 to 1895, and, also, on the building committee, where his indefatigable energy contributed largely to the success of the committee's work ;

"That, the Council of the Montreal Board of Trade hereby tenders to the widow and members of the family its most respectful condolences, in the sad and sudden bereavement under which they are sorrowing ;

"That, as a further mark of regard for its colleague, the Council attend the funeral, and that, the general membership of the Board is hereby requested to join it, in paying that last tribute of respect to his memory."

There is a generally expressed hope that Henry Munderloh, son of the founder of Munderloh & Co., being the natural successor to the shipping business of the house, and having a thorough knowledge of consular affairs, joined with a good share of his father's ability, urbanity and experience, and having passed some time in Germany, to improve his acquaintance with German laws, language and customs, will be appointed to the office which was vacated by his father's sudden death.

It is understood that, the late Mr. Munderloh's other able and courteous assistants, Messrs. Charles Byrd and Eugene Von Rappard, will be associated with Mr. Henry Munderloh, in the house of Munderloh & Co.

The firm are doubtless the principal suppliers of German and Belgian goods, to wholesale houses, throughout Canada.

They represent many leading manufacturers, in Europe : among others, the principal glass-makers, in Belgium, and German manufacturers of dry goods, novelties, and staples of all kinds, as well as a number of the chief manufacturers in France.

Mr. Munderloh was, for years, President of the German Society, of Montreal.

The inception of this important factor in Canadian trade was due to the sagacity and energy of the late John Shedden, who was born in Kilburnie, Ayrshire, Scotland, 1825.

Leaving his native country, after he had acquired experience in railway construction, he migrated to the land of wheat fields and long distances, in which, he assumed, that railways would be of prime necessity.

Soon afterwards, he undertook and satisfactorily completed several railway contracts, in Virginia ; and came to Canada, in 1855.

Conceiving that narrow gauge railways, besides costing less, would admit of greater speed than others, he was among the foremost promoters of that system of roads.

Consequently, he was given, and executed, several contracts, for the construction of long sections of that class of railways.

His knowledge of the resources of the country facilitated his acquisition of large areas of land for colonization purposes, on which he laid out several villages, which have all proved prosperous places.

Anticipating that, after the struggle for mere subsistence, characteristic of a new country, there would follow a demand for superior cattle, he engaged in importing and breeding high-class stock, and, for some years, held annual sales, which were attended by purchasers from distant portions of this country and the States.

As railways multiplied, he perceived the inconvenience and loss attending want of system in the delivery of freight, to, and from, the Railway store-houses, and, with great advantage to all concerned, contracted, with several railway corporations, to do the work of a common carrier.

Consequently, in the Montreal Directory of 1863-64, appears the following, viz:—

“Shedden John, general railway contractor and forwarder,

"Thomas Symington, agent, Grand Trunk Railway.

"Office for collection and delivery of freight ; off. 7 St. Helen St."

Mr. Shedden was accidentally killed, on the 14th of May, 1873, at Cannington Station, on the line of the Toronto & Nipissing R'y Co'y., of which he was, then, President.

Owing to his decease, his private business was undertaken by a joint stock company, of which Thomas Symington became managing director.

Mr. Shedden was uncle of the present managing director, Hugh Paton, Esq., who, with his lamented brother, was induced to make his home in Canada,—in the business and social life of which he takes a prominent part.

The proprietor of this business served his apprenticeship with John Hart, painter, of Toronto, some forty-two years ago, beginning at the bottom of the ladder, and working his way upward by steadfast application, stimulated by an ardent love for the higher branches of his chosen calling, which he attained, in spite of many disadvantages, until he was regarded as the first man, in his line, in Toronto. He removed to Montreal, in 1862, in consequence of the great stringency caused by the panic of 1857, which left many a well-to-do Torontonians penniless.

After some eight years residence in Montreal, not being satisfied with the amount of patronage he received as a decorator, and anxious to improve his ability, in that line, he removed to Brooklyn, N.Y.; but returned to Montreal, in 1870, after only one year's absence. Resuming his business, in Craig St., he, afterwards, removed to Bleury Street, and, finally, settled at 2301 St. Catherine st., where he now has one of the finest wall-paper stores in the Dominion, selling, also, artists' materials and pictures, and carrying on a large painting and decorating business.

1875 Notre Dame Street,

MONTREAL.

Branch, at TORONTO.

This well known firm, which was established by David Morrice, in 1863, and now includes his sons David Morrice, junior, and W. J. Morrice, represents the majority of the important Cotton Mills of the Dominion and one of the principal Houses in England.

Among the great Factories, whose entire product passes through the hands of Messrs. D. Morrice, Sons & Co., are the Dominion Cotton Mills Company (Limited) of Montreal, having mills at Hochelaga, Magog, Coaticook and Chambly, in the Province of Quebec, at Brantford and Kingston, in Ontario, at Windsor and Halifax, in Nova Scotia, and, at Moncton, in New Brunswick.

They also represent the Canadian Colored Cotton Mills Company (Limited) of Montreal, having mills at Cornwall, Hamilton, Merriton and Dundas, in Ontario, and Milltown, in New Brunswick, and controlling the products of the Hamilton Cotton Company, of Hamilton, in Ontario, and of A. Gibson & Sons, of Marysville, in New Brunswick.

Messrs. D. Morrice, Sons & Co. further represent the Coaticook Knitting Company, and the Cascade N. F. Company, of Coaticook, in the Province of Quebec; the Auburn Woolen Company, of Peterboro; the Penman Manufacturing Company, of Paris; J. B. Henderson, of Thorold; J. Ellis, of Port Dover; and the Trent Valley Woolen Manufacturing Company, of Campbellford (the last five in Ontario), and Rylands & Sons (Limited) of Manchester, England, the largest dry goods house in the World.

Messrs. D. Morrice, Sons & Co. carry a complete stock of every variety of high class dry goods, and supply the wholesale trade throughout the Dominion.

Twenty nine years' experience, as a middleman, makes Mr. Morrice, sen., an authority with regard to the wants of the Canadian market, and lends such weight to his counsel as often serves to prevent calamitous over-production. His advice is the more heeded, as he is known to be animated by philanthropic sentiments. Witness his gift of the Presbyterian Theological College Building.

David Morrice, jun., and W. J. Morrice, who were admitted as partners in 1883, have proved able lieutenants, under the mild captaincy, which they have no desire to usurp.

Many of the original tanneries have been abandoned, owing to the scarcity of bark; and the firm's works, in this Province, are now confined to three places, viz.:—Roxton Falls, Drummondville and St. Leonard; in addition to which they have tanneries at Poquiocock, N. B., and Bracebridge, Ontario.

The Merchants Bank of Canada.

Head Office, - 205 ST. JAMES STREET,

MONTREAL.

This Bank, which was incorporated in 1863, started with only $100,000 of paid up capital, about one-eightieth part of the amount of its present capital and rest.

The Provisional Directors, now all deceased, were men of note in the commercial and financial affairs of Canada, viz. :—

Hugh (afterwards Sir Hugh) Allan, Damase Masson, Edwin Atwater, Hon. Louis Renaud, Hon. John Young, H. H. Whitney and Harrison Stephens.

The Bank commenced business, with Sir Hugh Allan as President and Mr. Jackson Rae as Cashier. For some time, it was purely a local Bank, for doing the business of the City of Montreal, of which it obtained a considerable share, gradually increasing its capital, for the purpose of carrying it on. After some years, when the Commercial Bank of Canada failed, and its business was offered for public competition, its whole assets were purchased by the Merchants' Bank, and, immediately, a very large extension of its sphere of operations took place. It became, at once, a Bank with a large number of Branches, and issued new stock, and called up, a very large amount of capital, to meet the new conditions. An office was opened in New York, and also in London, England, while its Branches, in Canada, amounted to the large number of forty-two.

The Bank, however, suffered most severely during the years of depression that followed 1874, and its losses were very large. Early in 1877, the stock of the Bank fell steadily and a drain of deposits took place. Meetings of stockholders supervened, which finally resulted in the resignation of the President and Cashier, the former of whom was replaced by the Hon. John Hamilton, and the latter by Mr. Geo. Hague, formerly Cashier of the Bank of Toronto. The history of the Bank, since this time, has been so well known that it need hardly be enlarged upon.

Public confidence in a Bank so largely depends upon the character of its Manager, that a short account of one who directs the use of twenty millions, or more, and has long been in the front rank of his profession, may be of use, as well as of interest, to the reader.

George Hague, Esq., General Manager of the Merchants' Bank of Canada, was born in Rotherham, England, in 1825.

Being an apt arithmetician, upon leaving school, he was taken into the Sheffield Banking Company's employ, where he remained eleven years, until, in 1854, a firm of Railway Contractors engaged him to take charge of their finances, in Canada.

In 1856, he entered the Bank of Toronto, where he gradually rose, from the position of Accountant, in the Head Office, to be Manager, at Coburg, and, ultimately, Cashier (General Manager), at Toronto.

After fourteen years' tenancy of this responsible office, he retired, without any intention of returning to the anxieties of banking. But he was too young, and too useful, to be spared; and when, in 1877, the late Mr. Jackson Rae resigned the management of the Merchants' Bank, Mr. Hague, at the earnest request of persons of influence, consented to forego his well earned leisure, and became General Manager of this important Institution.

That he was led to accept office, by a sense of the obligation attaching to conscious ability to save the Bank from the natural effect of past mistakes, is beyond doubt. Yet he, himself, could hardly have foreseen the excellent results of his administration of affairs, which had fallen into great disorder.

Setting the example of working after hours, until the exact condition of the Bank should be known, his sagacity and long experience enabled him to suggest, and to use, the measures which have, for many years, enabled the Bank to pay a dividend of seven per cent., and to increase its rest from $475,000 to $2,900,000, thus justifying those, who, in their anxiety, looked to Toronto for one capable of meeting the emergency.

Mr. Hague has not done with work when the Bank closes, but, putting off the Bank Manager, he takes an active and very practical interest in educational, charitable and religious institutions.

He was, for many years, chairman of the Congregational College, (to the endowment of which he has generously contributed); he is a Governor of McGill University; and has been President of the Young Men's Christian Association.

Considering his known ability, it is not surprising that he was recently made Chairman of a Royal Commission to devise improvements in the organization of the Civil Service of the Dominion, nor that, on the formation of a Bankers' Association for Canada, he was chosen its first President.

MONTREAL BUSINESS COLLEGE,

Cor. of Victoria Square and Craig Street.

ESTABLISHED 1864

DAVIS & BUIE,                      =                      Proprietors.

This College was established in connection with the Bryant & Stratton International chain of Business Colleges, located in the principal cities of Canada and the United States. It commenced its career in Nordheimer's Building, in 1864, and, in the following year, moved to Place d'Armes, where it remained for the extended period of over a quarter of a century.

The accommodation in these quarters had long proved insufficient, and, on the 1st of July, 1891, the College removed to the Victoria Block, corner of Craig street and Victoria Square (late the Y. M. C. A. building).

This building is, in point of completeness, and suitability for the purpose of a business college, unsurpassed in Canada. The location is the most central, the most accessible, and has the best possible surroundings. The lighting, heating and ventilation of the building are perfect. The rooms are finished with care, the decorations are harmonious and pleasing, and the furniture and appointments of the most approved style. The arrangement of space has been made with a view of establishing the course of study upon broader lines, and with reference to better and larger results.

In 1873, the building was purchased for the college at a cost of $53,000.00, and is now the largest and best patronized commercial educational institute in Canada.

The curriculum of the Montreal Business College is of a thoroughly practical character; theory holds but a secondary position, and it is the aim of the proprietors, in each department, to make it an actual counterpart of what a young man may expect to meet, when he enters a business house. The principal subjects taught are:—book-keeping, arithmetic, penmanship, correspondence, commercial law and business forms, practical grammar, composition, spelling and punctuation, shorthand, typewriting and French; but this enumeration affords a very inadequate idea of what is done to build up a young man in the requisites of business life.

In addition to these courses is the practical department, a characteristic feature of this College, where the students have opportunities of putting into practice what has been acquired in other departments of the school. What the parade ground is to the military college, the field to the agricultural college, the dissecting-room and hospital to the medical college, and the moot court to the law school, the practical department is to the thoroughly equipped business college.

It has been the work of this institution, from its foundation, to meet the requirements of business, in a city which is, in itself, the embodiment of commercial life and progress. Nothing better, and nothing truer, can be said of its course of study than that it has been shaped by the exaction of the leading Montreal business houses. Mr. Davis has been engaged in the advancement of this College, ever since its inception, so many years ago. In fact, there has been no complete change of proprietorship since its foundation, and it enjoys that sort of respect, and confidence an institution of such established permanency deserves. It has an influence and standing, in the business community, without parallel, and is acknowledged to be the best medium, in this country, for giving a practical education.

J. G. PARKS

Photographer,

2264 ST. CATHERINE STREET,

MONTREAL.

Mr. Parks opened business, in Montreal, on Saturday, the 29th of October, 1864, and has been, successively, on St. Lawrence Main, St. James and, finally, St. Catherine street, where the absence of factory-smoke favors good and clear pictures.

He was the first artist, in Montreal, to retouch negatives, to enlarge pictures, by the solar camera, and to make dry-plates.

To suit all occasions, he has forty lenses, ranging from microscopic size to the "mammoth," which cost over $500 and a journey to New York.

At night, he turns on the electric light, and goes on photographing. He takes nervous children, before they can move, and finishes pictures with crayon, pastel, water-colors, or in oil.

For skill in grouping, his Methodist Conference is a masterpiece, which presents scores of forms and faces in perfection.

Travelers buy many of Parks' photographic views of Montreal, the clearness of which is impossible to the climate of England.

As the first fire may destroy the negatives, of pictures covering a quarter century, those interested should use diligence, in securing these pictorial histories of Montreal.

The son who wishes to recall to mind his father's home, college or store, and the landscape he admired, should ransack Mr. Parks' stock of stereoscopic, and larger, views, in the taking of which he is the first of local artists.

His work is accredited by twenty-one first prizes.

THE COMPANY'S BUILDING, MONTREAL.

The SUN "Unconditional" Life policy imposes no conditions whatever on the actions of the assured, after the policy has been issued. A person need have no fear of breaking conditions, some of which he does not even understand, for there are no restrictions of any kind on residence, travel, occupation, suicide, war, violation of railroad by-laws, etc., etc.

The SUN pays its claims honorably and immediately. It does not wait sixty or ninety days, but hands the money over at once, without discount, as soon as the proper claim papers are furnished. "He pays twice who pays promptly."

The SUN issues very attractive forms of assurance, some of which other companies do not give, whether I want an investment for my savings, or a protection for those depending on me.

NON-FORFEITABLE POLICIES.—Limited Payment Life, Endowment and Semi-Endowment Policies may be converted into Paid-up Policies for as many 10ths, 15ths, 20ths, etc., of the sum assured as there shall have been complete annual premiums paid, after they have been three years in force.

DAYS OF GRACE.—Thirty days of grace are allowed for the payment of renewal premiums. Many companies do not give this privilege.

Send a post card to Head Office asking for a prospectus.

R. MACAULAY, President.

The "SUN LIFE" is a Home Company, and Canadians should seek to build up their own Institutions rather than send their money out of the Country to enrich foreign Corporations and build up foreign cities.

The SUN is a strong and prosperous Company, with large and well invested assets.

THE PATON MANUFACTURING COMPANY, SHERBROOKE, P.Q.

This great corporation had its inception, in the year 1866 in a private adventure, under the style of A. Paton & Co., but, by the exertions of George Stephen, Esquire (now Lord Mount-Stephen), the late Hon. John Henry Pope, Richard W. Heneker, Esq., the late Benjamin Pomeroy, Esq., and the late Andrew Paton, Esq., who was long the Managing Director. it was converted, in 1868, into a joint-stock Company.

The mill soon afterwards had ten sets of machinery, which were increased, in 1872, to twenty and, subsequently, to twenty-two.

Within the past three years, a building 208 feet in length, by 57 feet in breadth, and 4 storeys in height, affording forty-seven thousand square feet of additional floor-room, has been added, and is utilized for the manufacture of worsted goods.

The motive power is water; the lighting is by electricity; and the heating by steam, furnished by six large boilers, which, also, supply the dye-house.

Notwithstanding Sherbrooke's excellent fire brigade, and the fact that, in nearly thirty years, no mill under Mr. Paton's management has caused the Assurance Companies any loss, great precautions have been taken to prevent such a calamity, the works, being provided with automatic sprinklers, from which the water is set free by a sufficient rise of temperature to fuse caps, placed every ten feet throughout the buildings. There are, also, numerous hydrants, in the mills and yards, supplied, by force-pumps, with water from the Magog River, on which there are the B.A.L. Company's dam, and storage dams, at Rock Forest and Little Magog. Moreover, the Paton Manufacturing Company, and Messrs. Adam Lomas & Son have arranged to afford mutual protection against fire.

The Company manufacture tweeds, military cloths, cloth for rubber overshoes, worsted of all kinds, rugs, shawls, dress-goods, flannels and woolen and worsted yarns, etc.

Slow as capitalists were to adventure their money in manufacturing, in Sherbrooke, in 1866, since this company has attained eminent success, they seldom miss an opportunity to acquire its stock.

The present officers of the Company are R. W. Heneker, President ; Lord Mount-Stephen, Vice-president ; and E. Hargrave, Secretary.

The following is an extract from the Annual Report of the Montreal Board of Trade.

"Mr. Andrew Paton, President of the Sherbrooke Board of Trade.

The death of this well known and highly esteemed gentleman, occurring while he held the office of President of a Sister Board, the Council record its esteem for his memory and its regret at his decease, in a resolution as follows :

"Resolved, That the Council of the Montreal Board of Trade has learned, with much regret, of the loss which the Sherbrooke Board of Trade has sustained in the death of its President, Mr. Andrew Paton. That Mr. Paton's long and honorable record, as an enterprising and successful business man, in various sections of this country, as an energetic worker in the municipal affairs of the city of Sherbrooke, and as a private citizen, won for him a general and widespread regard, especially in Montreal, where he was so well and so favorably known, and that his death in the prime of life is universally deplored.

That the Council of the Montreal Board of Trade hereby tenders to the officers and members of the Sherbrooke Board of Trade its sympathy in their loss, and, through that Board, its respectful condolences, in their bereavement, to the widow and family of the late Mr. Paton."

This firm is one of the oldest, in its line, in Canada, and, from its inception, was one of the most enterprising, extending its business to the newer provinces, as they came into Confederation, and being among the first to seize opportunities thus offered. They have recently sought foreign business, sending one of their travelers to the British West India Islands; and, so encouraging have been their efforts in this direction, that their representative made three voyages to those Islands during the year just past, competing successfully with old connections, and securing a respectable amount of business. Their make of goods has the highest reputation, throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion, and their name stands high for honorable and upright dealing.

The business was founded by the late Hollis Shorey, in 1866.

He, some twelve years since, associated with himself his sons, S. O. Shorey and Charles L. Shorey, who, being thoroughly practical, and knowing the requirements of the trade, in their line, have continued the business.

The family came to Montreal from the County of Stanstead, in the Eastern Townships.

It will encourage others to learn that, in his youth, the late Mr. Shorey overcame seemingly insuperable difficulties. Early in his business career, he was impoverished, by having to pay another's debts; but, confident that he could repeat what he had already accomplished, he ultimately passed the goal of his former hopes. Though the circumstances of his youth disfavored large acquaintance with fiscal affairs, good reasoning powers, joined with close observation and experience, made him one of the soundest political economists among the broad-minded merchants of Canada's Metropolis; and, during the many years he was a member of the Council of the Board of Trade, a delegation from that Body, to Government, was deemed incomplete, without the presence of Hollis Shorey, Esq.

Owing to his enjoyment of the late Rt. Hon. Sir John A. Macdonald's warm friendship, and to that eminent statesman's confidence in Mr. Shorey's opinions regarding the Tariff, Insolvency Legislation and other Commercial interests, his suggestions always engaged the respectful attention of the Government, at Ottawa.

CAPITAL, - $100,000.00

169 ST. JAMES STREET,
142 & 143 FORTIFICATION LANE.
643 CRAIG STREET,

- Montreal.

This flourishing business was organized by Mr. George Bishop (Managing Director of the present Company), who began business, in November, 1867, in the building then occupied by the old Herald company, on the present site of the Standard Insurance building.

The lines which then received his special attention were general engraving and the embellishment of note paper for private use, engraved invitations and card work ; but, for a man of Mr. Bishop's enterprise, these lines did not afford sufficient scope ; therefore, he branched into a broader field, catering to the needs of banks, commercial houses and larger corporations, throughout the Dominion, steadily and surely developing a sound and paying business, till the year 1887, when the present company was formed. Since then, the business has made rapid strides, embracing new ideas, and adding auxiliary departments, till, at the present time, they have one of the most complete lithographing and printing houses in the country, having upwards of one hundred and twenty-five employees on their regular pay list.

They occupy the premises extending from St. James to Craig st., connected by a bridge over Fortification Lane, comprising, in all, some 25,000 feet of floor space, equipped with the latest and best machinery, driven by electric power.

The premises are lighted, throughout, by electricity, and the whole equipment of the concern is such that the Company are enabled to compete with all comers, as regards quality of work, originality of design and reasonableness of price, in the following lines, viz :

Engraving and Lithographing, for all purposes ; Book, Job & Law Printing ; Lithography, by photo processes ; Engraving, by photo processes ; Book-binding, generally ; Relief-stamping ; Paper-ruling and Electrotyping.

General, commercial and fancy stationery, in stock.

The respective departments, being well organized, the Company are enabled to get the best results, in the shortest possible time ; and, pride themselves, on being able to turn out work quickly and, at the same time, creditably.

— Exporters of Butter and Cheese,
MONTREAL.

This business is carried on by A. A. Ayer and John McKergow, and was established in 1867, by Mr. Ayer. Frelighsburg, the centre of a dairy locality, was Mr. Ayer's birthplace. Hence, it was quite natural that, early in life, his attention should be directed to making and handling dairy products, and he has grown with the trade, from its very infancy, to its present importance.

Mr. McKergow is President of the Butter and Cheese Section of the Board of Trade, and has been associated with Mr. Ayer almost from the inception of the business.

That both buyers and sellers appreciate the way in which this firm's business is conducted, is proved by the fact that, in 1891, they handled 300,000 boxes of Cheese, of which quantity they exported over 240,000 boxes; and, in 1892, they sold 329,562 boxes, of which they exported 264,976 boxes.

This firm began in 1868, and, for a number of years, confined themselves to the manufacture of Biscuits ; but thirteen years ago erected their present premises, putting in the latest improved machinery ; and added the manufacture of Confectionery, for which they have, also, secured the latest appliances. They make about one hundred different kinds of Biscuits and a very large assortment of Candies. Their trade extends, chiefly, over both the provinces of Quebec and Ontario ; and, notwithstanding the changes that have occurred during their history, they have always been successful, in meeting and competing with their new rivals. Their progress has been marked by steadiness, rather than by spasmodical efforts. Their motto has always been strictly pure goods and upright dealings.

In addition to a large assortment of goods of their own manufacture, they keep in stock cake ornaments and other requisities for Confectioners, besides being direct importers of nuts and dried fruits.

Wholesale orders promptly attended to and quality guaranteed.

Gurd's Belfast Ginger Ale Works were established in April, 1868. Under the management of Mr. Charles Gurd, they have grown steadily, until they are now the leading works in the Dominion. The factory is a model one. The beverages are quite equal to the best imported. Only distilled and filtered water is used in the manufacture of soda, seltzer, vichy, potash, and kissinger waters, ginger ale, etc., etc.

This well and favorably known house was founded in the year 1869. Starting in a small way, the business has kept pace with the modern growth of the city, and, at the present time, it is certainly one of the leading firms. Perhaps the secret of its great success, apart from its strict adhesion to the honorable principles of commerce, lies in its early adoption of the system of buying and selling for cash. The advantages of this method are so patent, that even the ladies, who were formerly supposed to be altogether blind to economical facts, are now thoroughly alive to its advantages. From the standpoint of the moral philosopher, trade, so conducted, becomes an educational and ameliorating agency in the social and domestic sphere, and an incontestable argument in its favor is the existence of a firm occupying the enviable position of John Murphy & Co.

Their Store is situated at the corner of Notre Dame and St. Peter Streets, which, from time to time, they have been compelled to enlarge for their ever-increasing business; it has again proved too small, and looking to the future they have now, in course of construction, a fine red sandstone building, on St. Catherine Street (corner Metcalfe Street).

This elegant store will be three times as large as their present premises, and, as St. Catherine Street is fast becoming the Broadway of Montreal, we predict a much larger business for this enterprising firm.

When finished this magnificent building will be second to none in Canada, it will have every modern improvement and two of the best elevators connecting all of the six floors; in fact, everything that will add to the comfort and convenience of their customers will be done, with a lavish hand. In addition to their headquarters in Montreal they have established another store, at Ottawa, which is destined, in a few years, to rival the parent business.

17th DEC.,—Toronto Branch of G. W. Railway changed to narrow gauge.

23rd DEC.,—Last contract for the Intercolonial Ry., which costs $9,619,791.

The Frazer Institute is incorporated:—Corporators: Hon. J. J. C. Abbott, F. W. Torrance, T. Workman, P. Redpath and A. Molson, Esq.

Balance in Post Office Savings Bank, $1,995,132.99.

The "Silver nuisance" lessened by export of $4,000,000, at a cost of $140,000. It is Sir Francis Hincks' and Wm. Weir's plan, executed, largely, by the latter, afterwards President of the Ville-Marie Bank, whose great public services are recognized (though tardily) by presentation of a service of plate.

British N. America, the 4th Maritime Country:

Hon. John Young, Samuel W. Foster, of Knowlton, afterwards District Magistrate, and others are incorporated to build a ship canal from Lake St. Louis to Lake Champlain; charter to be forfeited by five years, non-user.

St. Francis & Megantic International Ry. Co. incorporated.

Canadian Pacific Ry. to be begun within 2, and finished within, 10 years.

Construction of the Railway to proceed from both ends. Parliament appropriates $250,000 for surveys.

Alfred Waddington says:—"A Railway across British North America, being the shortest, will command the majority of trade between Europe and Japan. Considering that the distance to Sidney, from Vancouver Island, as contrasted with the Panama Route, is as 7,200 to 8,200; that the distance between Liverpool and Shanghai, by this route, will not exceed 10,400 miles, being 4,000 miles less than by the Isthmus of Panama; that the time, from London to Hong-Kong, will be reduced to about 40 days; and that English trade to China, alone, amounts to £38,000,000 stg.; it is easy to foresee what an amount of traffic will soon be running over this great highway of Nations, with 700 millions of consumers, in Asia,—a traffic sufficient to employ a fleet of first-class steamers, on either ocean."

British and Irish emigrants to B. N. A., from 1815, 1,301,771.

President of the Montreal Board of Trade, Hon. John Young; of the Corn Exchange Association, M. P. Ryan.

William Workman, Mayor of Montreal.

CORN EXCHANGE ASSOCIATION,—Montreal.

Committee of Management.—Ira Gould, President; John Fairbairn, Treasurer; John M. Young, H. Labelle, H. McLennan, M. P. Ryan, R. S. Oliver, L. S. Cusack, George Coupar.

Board of Review.—Thomas Rimmer, Chairman; Andrew Allan, James Macdougall, Robert Simms, Robert Esdaile, Thomas Macduff, W. J. Patterson, Secretary; Thomas McNab, Assist. Secretary.

THE MALLEABLE IRON WORKS CO.

—MANUFACTURERS OF—

And all classes of Malleable Iron Castings.

J. R. LOWDEN, Managing Director.

19 to 29 Mill Street, - MONTREAL.

The Malleable Iron Co'y. was established in 1873, in St. George street, near Craig st., and was carried on, at that place, for over five years, after which the Company bought the premises of the late W. P. Bartley. Since then, they have been doing business there. Their principal production is the manufacture of steam, and gas-pipe fitting, also, malleable castings for machinists and other manufacturers.

This product is, from year to year, coming more and more into use, taking the place of forgings, for carriage work, as well as other classes of wares. It is also taking the place of ordinary castings, being made much lighter and, at the same time, stronger and neater.

MRS. M. WRIGHT

Fancy Goods and Millinery.

2348 & 2350 St Catherine and 61 Metcalfe Streets,

MONTREAL.

When this store was erected it was regarded as a triumph of architectural design, realized in construction.

It was still more admired when filled with China, delf and other products of old-world potteries; but it remained for MRS. WRIGHT to compel universal admiration, by presenting, in artistic harmony of colors, the finest materials and the choicest shapes, in hats, bonnets, and other feminine apparel and decorations, imported from all the centres of style and fashion.

In undertaking a heavier rental than most wholesale stores support, Mrs. Wright provoked not a few predictions of failure; but time has proved that the fashionable people of Montreal appreciate, and are delighted to patronize, one who offers tasteful combinations of the best materials, at reasonable prices.

The Journal of Commerce

The Journal of Commerce was founded in 1875, by M. S. Foley, who is still the Proprietor and Chief Editor

Decorum forbids to name the Financiers and Merchants who furnish to this Journal the results of their business experience ; but there can be no impropriety in mentioning that, among those who have contributed to its past unparalleled success, was that distinguished authority on Finance, the late Sir Francis Hincks, who, after attaining renown as Minister of Finance and as Governor of a British Dependency, was Mr. Foley's Associate-editor, from 1875, until his death, in 1885.

Some reasons why you should subscribe for, and advertise in, the Journal of Commerce.

1st. It affords early and conclusive solution of commercial, financial, political and economic problems ;

2nd. It is the medium of communication between Merchants and Manufacturers and their retail customers.

3rd. It educates your sons, and attention to its pages saves them costly experience in after-years.

Spring Beds, etc.

WATERVILLE, Province of CANADA.
Quebec,

In 1876, the late George Gale, Esq., saw a spring-bed, which suggested one that would alleviate many diseases induced by mal-constructed beds. Thenceforward, until nearly the time of his death, in 1892, Mr. Gale's philanthropy urged his ingenuity to develop his idea, which culminated in the "Dominion Wire Mattress."

To manufacture this, he abandoned the lumber business, and associated with himself his sons A. H. and F. G. Gale, which firm opened a trade with English makers of iron bedsteads, and established branches in Leeds, London and Paris.

In 1882, the factory was removed from Smith's Mills to Waterville, P.Q., which, consequently, became a large village.

The business consumes, yearly, 1,000,000 feet of lumber, employs seventy-five men, and supports several hundred people.

The mattresses are made from oil-tempered steel springs, warranted not to sag.

The firm's specialty is protected by patents throughout the civilized world.

The firm took a first prize and medal at the Paris Exposition, in 1889; but the best certificate is, that Canadian and British Public Institutions use this firm's combination Iron Bedsteads.

Cribs, hair and other mattresses are kept in stock.

Offices at Waterville, P.Q., Leeds, and London, England, and Paris, France.

This Company has acquired, by purchase, the Canadian business and good-will of the CITY OF LONDON INSURANCE CO., assuming thereby liabilities for all current risks. It also respectfully solicits the continuance of the connection thus formed.

Sanford Fleming, C.P.R. engineer, informs the Royal Colonial Institute :
 " Esquimaux, the naval station on the Pacific, and possibly the great Pacific arsenal of the future, is some four months' sailing distance from England ; but I venture to state that, by the projected Canadian line, it would be possible to carry despatches, from London to this station on the Pacific, in thirteen or fourteen days.

Montreal's imports, $28,283,316 ; exports, $22,901,825.

Flour in Montreal, $5.10 to $8.50 per barrel.

MILLS AT ST. HENRI, P. Q.

The "Merchants Manufacturing Company" was established in 1881, with a paid-up Capital of $400,000, and started with 25,000 Spindles and 600 Looms. Originally intended to manufacture bleached shirtings, only, the mill now produces, a variety of Muslin and Fancy Goods, Cheesecloths, Window Shades and the finer grades of Grey and Bleached Shirtings, employing over 500 hands, with a pay-roll approaching $125,000 per annum.

The Capital was increased, in 1883, to $500,000, and the mills capacity is now 35,000 Spindles, employing 900 Looms. The Company has been on a good dividend-paying basis for some years, and, at the close of 1891, had a surplus of nearly $100,000.

Alterations and enlargements have been constantly going on, in order to keep pace with the growing requirements of the country, and among the recent improvements may be noted the compounding of the Company's Harris Corliss Engine, by Messrs. Laurie Bros., of Montreal,—the largest operation of the kind yet successfully undertaken by a Canadian firm of Engineers.

The Directors are A. A. Ayer, President (since 1883); Gilman Cheney, Vice-President; and Messrs. Robert Mackay, J. P. Cleghorn, Jonathan Hodgson, James Crathern and R. B. Angus.

Harold Lawton, Superintendent, is manager of the works; the Secretary-Treasurer is Mr. George Creak, and Messrs. Alexander Ewan & Co., of Montreal and Toronto, are the Selling Agents.

JAMES LOWRY, Proprietor. Omnibus meets all trains.

The Grand Trunk Railway Company to the Western and Southern States.

Fast time between Montreal and Chicago—837 miles in 41 hours and 20 minutes.

TO IMPORTERS OF HORSES.

MONTREAL is the nearest point to Chicago, for the debarkation of horses from ocean steamships.

The Palace Horse Cars, owned by the Grand Trunk, are the best in existence.

The Stables of the Montreal Horse Exchange are unequalled, in capacity and excellence. Horses can be held in bond, and transferred from ships to cars. Customs regulations, loading, &c., are attended to by careful and experienced men.

Mr. DAVID DUGGAN, manager of the stables, waits personally on the arrival of the steamships, at Montreal.

The following represents, in round numbers, the deflection of Canada's tea trade, in four years:

Approximate statement of

Imports of tea, from the U.S. :	England :	China :	Japan :
1877-78.....	$5,000,000,	$4,000,000,	$5,000,000,	$1,000,000.
1881-82.....	$3,000,000,	$6,000,000,	$9,000,000,	$5,000,000.

Of the average 100 tons of freight, from Europe to Canada, Quebec receives 5.02 per cent; Point Levis, for the West, 2.81; Montreal, for the West, 25.66; Montreal for Montreal, 66.51 per cent.

Of outward bound cargoes, 91 per cent. are shipped at Montreal, and 9 per cent. at Quebec.

L'Etendard Daily & Weekly French Paper.

... LIVE AND LET LIVE ...

Our Circulation and Advertising Departments are strictly worked on sound business principles.

No Humbug !                      No Boasting !

We believe that every newspaper is a good advertising medium, and has readers of its own that cannot be reached by other papers.

NEWSPAPERS' CIRCULATION STANDING :

LA PRESSE,
"L'ETENDARD,"      LE MONDE,
LA PATRIE,
LA MINERVE.

WARNING !      WE HAVE NAMES AND PROOFS. Parties saying that "L'ETENDARD" has no circulation, is going to stop, or has stopped its publication, are warned that we will, very reluctantly, take some legal proceedings to put a stop to such libellous statements, and are advised to read the following :

OUR LAST CHALLENGE,

That has never been taken up, and is still open :

MONTREAL, 5th November, 1891.

We have much pleasure in announcing that our circulation is larger than that of "La Minerve" and "La Patrie" and equal, at least, to that of "Le Monde."

This statement is made, not to depreciate or do any harm whatever to the papers mentioned, but in order to let the public know the relative circulation of the French newspapers of Montreal.

If such statement be denied by "Le Monde," "La Patrie," or "La Minerve," we are ready to have our books examined by expert accountants, provided said papers are willing to submit theirs at the same time, and provided also that the result of such an examination, after having been sworn to, be published in all the newspapers of Montreal, and sent to the advertising Agents of Canada, United States, and Europe, at the expense of the one whose circulation proves to be, bona fide, the smallest.

Sabiston Lithographic and Publishing Company.

It may be news to many that the large brick block, at the corner of Craig and St. François Xavier streets, Montreal, is the home of a Lithographic and Publishing business that has, within the short space of four years, developed from being, perhaps the smallest, to the largest and most progressive works, of the sort, in the Dominion. The Corporation spoken of is the Sabiston Lithographic & Publishing Company.

Mr. A. Sabiston, the originator of the business, began, in a small way, as general lithographer, in 1887, and was working up an excellent business, when, seven months later, the premises of the firm were completely destroyed by fire, and a heavy financial loss was the result. Not daunted, however, he, at once, recommenced business, and, with such success, that, within two years, the firm had expanded into a joint-stock company. Since then, its growth has been phenomenal. Not only has the Lithographing Department developed to a remarkable degree, but other departments have been, from time to time, added, all of which have made a steady advance since the inception. The four upper flats of the building are completely occupied by the business of this Company, and even this large area is now felt to be insufficient. In addition to the regular issue, Christmas Numbers have been issued, as well as a number of specials, devoted to the various cities of Canada. The Magazine, at present, is advancing rapidly into public favour, and has attained a circulation never before reached by any purely literary journal, in Canada.

The large Bindery, which occupies an entire flat of the establishment, is another addition to the Company's business since its inception; it is in charge of one of the most experienced bookbinders in Canada, and the large staff is kept steadily employed. No other outfit of machinery and appliances, in the Dominion, is as modern and complete as that in the Sabiston Bindery.

Since undertaking the publication of the Dominion Illustrated, the Company has introduced a most complete photo-engraving outfit, and can now turn out line and half-tone cuts, and, in fact, engraving blocks of all kinds and of quality unexcelled in the Dominion, and in the shortest possible time.

The Lithographic department, proper (which is, of course, the main feature of the business) has shown wonderful progress.

A large staff of artists of all classes are kept constantly employed in making designs, sketches, etc., and every branch of the work is systematically carried out. Large printing presses for colour work are unremittingly busy, and the whole department is steadily progressing.

As a whole, the Sabiston Works, in their facilities for the special industries to which they are devoted, can safely claim to be unequalled in all British North America.

The Dominion Lime Company.

MANAGING DIRECTOR :

F. P. BUCK.

OFFICE . . . . .

SHERBROOKE, Q.

---

Dudswell lime was known, early in the century, to take more sand, and to yield smoother and more durable plaster, than any other obtainable. But though travelers envied residents of Dudswell their marble-like walls, there was little trade in the lime, because, until the Quebec Central Railway was constructed, the only means of transportation was by scows, down the River St. Francis.

Including the large demand, from the United States, via the Maine Central Railway, there is a market for about two thousand tons, per month ; and $400,000 capital is invested in the business.

Being, scientifically, declared pure, Dudswell lime is indispensable, in manufacturing paper and pulp, and in bleaching. Notwithstanding its superiority, in building, the lower price of inferior material, produced about Montreal and St. Hyacinthe, has excluded Dudswell lime from Montreal, until certain proprietors have insisted on its use. If their example is followed, prejudice in favour of local products will crumble like the mortar which is made from them.

"Now blessings light on him that first invented sleep," says Don Quixotte; and blessings many and great on the inventor and introducer of the BUTTERFIELD SPRING BED, which makes sleep quiet, constant and refreshing. Spring beds are generally made without any regard to principle. Supporting the head and feet, they suspend the body in cramped, unnatural positions, which, though constantly changing, afford no proper rest, and the tired sufferer rises with a regret that he had not made his bed on the floor, for, though hard, it would not have overtaxed every nerve in his body.

The firm of J. B. HUTCHINS & Co., which began the manufacture and importation of Ladies' and Children's Underwear, Bridal Trousseaux, &c., on St. Catherine Street, in 1889, found, to their cost, that trade was yet in a transitory state and could not be depended upon in that locality. Mr. Hutchins accordingly removed to another province, and the business fell into other hands.

The sea-going vessels arriving in Port, at Montreal, have increased from 211, in 1850, to 746, in 1890; their tonnage has increased, in the same time, from 46,156 to 930,332 tons. As this year's number and tonnage are, respectively, more than three, and more than twenty, fold the number and tonnage of 1850, it is worthy of note that, in spite of great public works, carried to completion, the Customs duties, collected at Montreal, have only increased nine fold, from $1,009,256, in 1850, to $9,201,426 in 1890.

Montreal's total assessments on Real Estate this year, $1,019,696.74.

JOHN * RUSSELL

. . . Ladies' Dressmaker . . .

Is now prepared with all the newest fashions and leading styles in . . .

Ladies' and Girls' Dresses, Dolmans,

Capes, Jackets, Underclothing, Etc.

LADIES' DRESSES are cut by the Curvilinear Method, lately invented.

It gives more satisfaction, makes a dress fit better, is more comfortable; the appearance is superior, and it is the most conformable arrangement of adjusting the Seams, in the bodice, to the ladies' figure, that can be adapted to fitting the human form. No other system of dress cutting can produce anything like the effect this does.

Wedding Trousseaux, Tea Gowns, Ball Dresses, Evening Dresses, Presentation Dresses,

. . . . . made in the Newest Fashion.

Ladies' and Girls' Underwear kept in stock and made to order on the premises.

Ladies living at a distance can have their dresses made without fitting on, by writing for a printed form, with instructions for taking the measures.

All orders entrusted to us will receive the greatest care. The highest style and perfect fit may be relied upon.

JAS. E. MACDOUGALL, Manager.

A. D. 1892.

- 1st FEB.,—The Hon. James McShane is re-elected Mayor of Montreal.
- 8th FEB.,—Sir John Thompson and Hon. Messrs. Bowell and Foster go to Washington, D.C., for a conference about Reciprocity.
- 13th FEB.,—Britain's oldest naval officer, Admiral Sir Provo Wallis, by birth, a British Canadian, dies in his 101st year.

17th FEB.—Death of Col. Rhodes, of Quebec, a noted agriculturist.

21st Feb.—Death of Bishop Oxenden, formerly Anglican Bishop of Montreal.

25th FEB.—Opening of Parliament, at Ottawa.

8th MAR.—The followers of Hon. H. Mercier are defeated at the Polls by large majorities. Montreal elects only Conservatives, Hon. J. S. Hall and Messrs. Martineau, Augé, Parizeau, Morris and Kennedy, with majorities of from 132 to 2,307.

14th MAR.—The Montreal Star proposes a coalition of "honest men," regardless of party, at Quebec.

16th MAR.—Conservative majority, in the Commons, at Ottawa, 63.

21st MAR.—Lord Dufferin presents his credentials, as Minister to France.

22nd MAR.—Hon. George Foster makes his budget speech.

Thirty policemen leave Montreal, to protect Canadian Pacific Railway property from strikers.

28th MAR.—Publication of the late J. W. Tenipst's will, bequeathing the Art Association of Montreal about $80,000.

29th MAR.—The Behring Sea Treaty is unanimously ratified, at Washington.

The seven largest individual holders of stock, in the Bank of Montreal, Merchants' and Molsons Bank, are Sir D. A. Smith, $243,200; J. H. R. Molson, $225,000; Robert Hamilton, $279,600; Executors Mrs. H. J. MacDonald, $300,000; Robert Anderson, $310,000; W. Molson Estate, $456,800. The Molson family hold altogether $800,000 in these three Banks.

In some instances, the above bear small proportion to the individual's total investments.

1st APR.—In three months, 5,693 settlers have reached Winnipeg—2,323 more than in the same time last year.

In the future, Montreal's passenger cars are to be propelled by electricity.

2nd APR.—Secret College Societies are condemned, at the McGill Convocation.

3rd APR.—Following three incendiary fires, to-day, Bonsecours Market, Montreal, is on fire. Loss, $20,000, without insurance. Many fireman are, with difficulty, saved from suffocation.

Value of Canada's registered shipping, $32,510,775.

8th APR.—Major-General Herbert's report, laid before Parliament, severely criticises Canadian military affairs.

9th APR.—Charles Glackmeyer, for 40 years Montreal's City Clerk, dies.

12th APR.—Navigation, at Montreal, is 5 days earlier than last year.

17th APR.—Hon. Alex. Mackenzie, ex-Premier, dies, aged 69, at Toronto.

A. D. 1892.—Continued.

20th APR.,—Bishop Williams dies, at Quebec, aged 66.

28th APR.,—Many heads of Jewish families, from Russia, leave Montreal, to colonize the North-West.

18th MAY,—On behalf of the Board of Trade of Montreal, the corner stone of their new building is laid by Sir Donald Smith, who felicitously remarks that he has come down from Ottawa as a common laborer, but that his brother member of Parliament, Mr. Curran, has come to make them a speech. By a curious coincidence, the site of the building covers the sites of the former stores both of the present President, E. B. Greenshields, and of the late Hon. Austin Cuvillier, Chairman of the Committee that obtained incorporation of the Board.

20th MAY,—Hon. John Hall's budget speech proves the late Government's extravagance and foreshadows direct taxation.

24th MAY,—Hon. J. J. C. Abbott, Prime Minister, Premier Mowat and Chief Justice Lacoste are to be knighted.

28th JUNE to 1st JULY,—The Second Congress of Chambers of Commerce of the Empire, held in London, England, at which Sir Donald A. Smith and Peter Redpath, Esq., represent the Montreal Board of Trade, while favoring closer commercial relations between the Mother Country and dependencies, regards preferential protection as impolitic and inconsistent with the principles of economy.

The Congress favors an Imperial Commercial Code, higher commercial education, decimal money, common weights and measures, and penny postage, throughout the Empire.

4th JULY,—Hon. Edward Blake reaches Ireland, of which he intends to represent a constituency in the Imperial Parliament.

5th JULY,—Sir William Dawson welcomes the Teachers' Association, at Montreal.

8th JULY,—Two-thirds of St. John's, New Foundland, burned. Loss, $20,000,000. Ten thousand homeless.

9th JULY,—The Dominion Parliament is prorogued.

— JULY,—Sir Donald Smith desires the inauguration of the Royal Hospital (costing Lord Mount-Stephen and himself $1,000,000) to be a simple taking of possession by the lame and the sick, for whom it is intended.

12th JULY,—Cyrus Field, projector of the Atlantic cable, dies.

15th JULY,—Montreal's subscriptions, to assist St. John's, Newfoundland, amount to $25,809.

23rd JULY,—Death of Rev. J. T. Dawson, of Montreal, aged 88 years. He founded the book-store known as "Dawson Bros'."

26th JULY,—The French-Canadian population, in the U. S., is estimated at 800,000.

2nd AUG.—The 400th anniversary of Columbus' setting sail to discover America.

18th AUG.—Under the Presidency of D. A. MacPherson, Members of the Corn Exchange, of Montreal, visit Vaudreuil.

29th AUG.—Sir Henry Tyler, having inspected the G. T. Railway, does not regret outlays amounting to $6,250,000 for improvements.

1st SEPT.—Ontario's apple crop is estimated at 3,384,179 barrels.

14th SEPT.—There have been, in all this year, 5 cases of Asiatic cholera, in New York City. In Hamburg, there are 689 new cases and 233 deaths, to-day.

19th SEPT.—Sherbrooke has acquired likenesses of the city's past Mayors and present Councillors, with a biographical sketch of each.

20th SEPT.—Witnesses examined by the Royal Commission on Prohibition: R. W. Heneker, President of the E. T. Bank; Gen. Neal Dow, of Portland, father of the "Maine Liquor Law;" and Robert Reford, ship agent. The last two give, apparently, sound reasons for prohibition.

The steamer "Corinthian" burns, above Lake St. Louis; the officers and men display great courage and presence of mind.

The Pan-Pre-byterian Council opens, at Toronto.

22nd SEPT.—Before the Royal Commission, James Crossley, of the Gazette, George Hague, Esq., of the Merchants' Bank, and W. C. Munderloh, German Consul, disfavor Prohibition.

Speaking, at Montreal, Hon. Neal Dow, of Portland, father of the Maine Liquor Law, estimates the United States' annual direct loss, through the liquor trade, at $1,200,000,000.

6th OCT.—Death of Alfred Tennyson, poet laureate; born in 1809.

19th OCT.—Inauguration of the Columbian Exposition, Chicago.

22nd OCT.—Dr. Thomas Neill, a Canadian, is convicted of poisoning Matilda Clover, of London, England.

25th OCT.—W. B. Jeffries, stockholder in the Grand Trunk Railway, favors re-building the Victoria Bridge.

27th OCT.—J. A. Langlois, stationer, explains transactions with Government which are alleged to have been in fraud of the public.

A. D. 1892.—Continued.

19th Nov.,—The Bank of Montreal, during the presidency of Sir Donald Smith, and early in the General Managership of E. S. Clouston, becomes the Dominion's financial agent in England.

23rd Nov.,—It is not safe for ships to remain in the St. Lawrence, after this date, owing to removal of buoys and lights.

25th Nov.,—Sir J. J. C. Abbott's ill health having compelled his resignation, Sir John Thompson is sworn in, as Prime Minister.

30th Nov.,—The Montreal Board of Trade protests against Civic Contracts without tenders.

30th Nov.,—The Board of Trade, of Montreal, deprecates a tax upon transfers of real estate, as falling mainly upon Montreal, where the land market is active, and suggests that every acre in the country should assist in bearing the public burthens.

21st DEC.,—Hon. William B. Ives, having been named President of the Privy Council, is, by acclamation, elected Member of Parliament for Sherbrooke.

30th DEC.,—The ice-bridges, to Montreal, are being made passable.

Montreal merchants represent their grievances under the new tax law.

31st DEC.,—If all the suggestions of economy received by Premier Taillon were practicable, the whole machinery of Government might be dispensed with.

31st DEC.,—Montreal's past year's expenditure on roads was $959,866.79.

31st DEC.,—There have been 1,688 insolvencies, with $13,766,191 of liabilities, in Canada, in twelve months.

C. THIBAUT,

Boot and Shoe Store

CUSTOM WORK A SPECIALTY.

2379 ST. CATHERINE STREET, (near the Windsor,) - MONTREAL.

MR. THIBAUT succeeds, in 1893, to the excellent business established by the late Alexander Douglas, in 1857, at 1793 Notre Dame Street, and continued there for 34 years until, in 1892, he removed to Mr. Thibault's present site.

The old customers of the late Mr. Douglas will remember Mr. Thibault as his very efficient and courteous foreman and general manager, who knows their wants and how to supply them.

A. D. 1893.

3rd JAN.,—Montreal gives medals to the rescuers of some of the "Minne-wa-wa's" crew.

13th JAN.,—At a meeting, in Toronto, Sir John Thompson intimates that the tariff will be modified as occasion requires. He estimates ten years' increase of operatives, in Canada, at 172,000, receiving $41,000,000 additional wages; and augmentation of investments, in the same time, at $190,000,000.

13th JAN.,—E. B. Greenshields declines re-election, as President of the Board of Trade.

It has been said that the inventor of an article which must be used in every household is certain to become wealthy; and this is justified by the experience of the late firm of E. & C. Gurney & Co., who, observing that in this climate a good stove is a necessity of every family and that many can afford the luxury of a number, devoted time, talents and money to finding the best and most economical means of producing, distributing and controlling heat, which all require; and had such success that few well regulated houses, hotels, colleges, churches or factories in Canada do without one or more of Gurney and Company's stoves or furnaces.

Of a race who are distinguished for good and thorough workmanship the brothers Gurney enjoyed the further advantage of being born in the land of inventors. It is therefore not surprising that, at Edward Gurney's death, in 1886 (see page 374), his mere personality was sworn at $456,000, and his brother, also, died a millionaire. (See below).

The business, begun fifty-two years ago (see page 150), was, in 1876, extended to Montreal, where it started on St. James Street, on such a large scale as to excite surprise; but it soon required larger premises, and became an exclusively wholesale business, on St. Paul Street.

In January last (1893) the business was taken over by the Gurney-Massey Company (Limited), presided over, and managed, by Lieutenant Colonel Frederic Massey, who, deeming himself entitled to retire, after many years' military service (in the course of which he recently took charge of the Canadian contestants in the rifle tourney in England), resigned his command to devote his attention, exclusively, to supervising the large business, of which Montreal has become one of the principal distributing points.

10th MAY,—Royal Commission starting to gather information in Kansas and other States.

15th MAY,—The Grand Trunk Railway freight men return to duty.

20th MAY,—Lord Aberdeen, future Governor of Canada, sails from New York for England, on his return from Chicago.

23rd MAY,—A tornado passes over Montreal and other parts of the Province, causing injuries and a few deaths.

— MAY,—Montrealers are gratified to learn that the new United States consul is to be their old friend, Dr. Wendell A. Anderson, who was consul under the last Democratic administration.

5th JUNE,—Annual meeting of the Bank of Montreal; declared profits of the year, $1,325,810.20.

8th JUNE,—Total destruction, by fire, of the Villa Maria Convent, one of the largest and finest structures in America. Though the fire was discovered immediately, and at mid-day, its distance from fire-engines and lack of water doomed the building to destruction.

19th JUNE,—The three caravels, intended as fac-similes of Columbus' ships, are at Montreal, on their way to the World's Exhibition, at Chicago.

20th JUNE,—Liberal convention from all the Provinces, at Ottawa.

21st JUNE,—Reception by the corporation of McGill College on Sir William Dawson's resignation as Principal. In view of the long period of his usefulness, his high character and great learning, the announcement causes general sorrow among the friends of the institution.

— JUNE,—One month's earnings of the Montreal Street Railway, $72,884.76.

29th JUNE,—Conservative convention at Weedon.

1st JULY,—Death of John Lovell, Canada's oldest and most enterprising printer, in his 83rd year. He presented a happy combination of a clear head with a kind heart. Mr. Lovell was born in the County of Cork, Ireland, on the 4th of August, 1810, and came to Canada in 1820. In 1837, he temporarily suspended business to defend the country against the rebels, and proved himself a brave soldier as well as a good and useful citizen. Fortunately, Robert Lovell, who is the "son" in the famous publishing house of John Lovell & Son, possesses the ability and experience to continue the usefulness of a business which has, for nearly sixty years, contributed largely to the education of the inhabitants of Canada.

5th JULY,—It is estimated that 15,000 Christian Endeavorers, an unsectarian body of some hundreds of thousands, throughout North America, will convene at Montreal. They begin to arrive.

6th JULY,—Marriage of the Duke of York and Princess Victoria May of Teck.

10th JULY,—Christian Endeavorers return home.

17th JULY,—Death of the R. C. Bishop Racine, of Sherbrooke.

30th JULY,—The Italian warship "Etna" in port, at Montreal.

For want of confederation in that part of the world, they there treated with seven governments for subsidies, but congratulated themselves upon having to ask the aid of only one government, in Canada. They represent that the new route will save 16 of 45 days, heretofore spent in going from Sydney to London, and that it will enable Canada to compete for over $200,000,000 of trade and for the manufacture of the wool of 125,000,000 sheep.

— AUG.,—A Canadian journalist calls attention to the superiority of Canadian banking laws, under which there has been but one failure of a bank in Canada, against 105 bank failures in the United States, while, in Australia, 14 financial institutions, with deposits aggregating $450,000,000, are said to have recently suspended.

14th AUG.,—Liberal convention, at Montreal, addressed by Sir Richard Cartwright and Hon. Wilfred Laurier.

15th AUG.,—Judgment by the Behring Sea Tribunal, at Paris.

— AUG.,—Earnings of the Montreal Street Railway this month, $76,157.53.

18th AUG.,—Hon. I. Thibaudeau, one of Canada's leading merchants, dies at Quebec.

— SEPT.,—Mrs. Elizabeth McNair, over 110 years of age, dies, at Godmanchester.

4th SEPT.,—The Provincial Exhibition, at Montreal, opens with an attendance of 11,000.

5th SEPT.,—Attendance at the Exhibition, at Montreal, 5,040.

5th SEPT.,—Exhibition at Sherbrooke opens.

6th SEPT.,—Attendance at Montreal's Exhibition, 17,570.

7th SEPT.,—Attendance at Montreal's Exhibition, 5,853.

7th SEPT.,—Lord Aberdeen sails to assume the duties of Governor General of Canada, in the affairs of which, at a critical time, another Lord Aberdeen took an interest in 1836. [See p. 136.]

8th SEPT.,—Attendance at the Exhibition, in Sherbrooke, this forenoon, 5,000.

8th SEPT.,—Attendance (including children) at the Exhibition, in Montreal, 13,237.

9th SEPT.,—Attendance (including children) at the Exhibition, in Montreal, 3,997.

12th SEPT.,—Conservatives lunch Sir John Thompson, Premier, at Montreal.

17th SEPT.,—Lord Aberdeen, the new Governor General, with Lady Aberdeen, arrives at Quebec.

18th SEPT.,—Death of Sir Alexander T. Galt, of whom frequent and respectful mention has been made, in these pages. He was one of the strongest advocates of Confederation, and enjoyed the high reputation of being an honest politician, and a clever financier, with excellent oratorical ability, the exercise of which talent may have induced the malady, which resulted in his death. Above all, he was distinguished for his kind and humane disposition, which made him a courteous gentleman and a good friend.

A. D. 1893.—Continued.

26th Oct.,—The Revd. Edmund Botterell, an aged and highly respected citizen of Montreal is killed by an electric car.

30th Oct.,—Sir John Joseph Caldwell Abbott, K.C.M.G., late Prime Minister of Canada, dies at Montreal, aged 72 years.

THE LATE SIR JOHN J. CALDWELL ABBOTT, K.C.M.G., EX-
PREMIER OF CANADA.

Theoretically the office of Prime Minister is a prize open to competition of the entire male population of Canada ; but, as it has fallen to only four persons in a quarter of a century, many must be curious to know the conditions which fitted the lately deceased statesman for the highest position in the country.

He was born on Monday, the 12th of March, 1821, at St. Andrews, of which parish his father, the late Rev. Joseph Abbott, M. A., was the first Anglican incumbent. Being a profound scholar and an author of note, the Reverend Mr. Abbott was peculiarly adapted to assist in educating his gifted son, who repaid him by taking high rank at McGill College.

Having been admitted to the Bar in 1847, he became a Queen's Counsel in 1862, and, in 1867, Doctor of Civil Law. He was for years a Professor of Law in McGill College, Dean of the Faculty of Law and one of the Governors of the Institution.

He refused a chief justiceship, possibly because the receipts of his office were from five to eight times a judge's salary, but, being of a retiring nature, he, perhaps, distrusted his fitness to sit in judgment, though he knew that few could so convincingly present one side of a case.

He once advised a partner not to allow one case to engross his attention, but daily to somewhat advance all his business. This suggestion indicated his own remarkable readiness in turning from one subject to another without losing the thread of either, a faculty which enabled him to engage in politics, railway enterprises and the command of a battalion on frontier duty, without forfeiting the confidence of his clients.

Those who consulted him will remember with what a pleasant greeting he suspended dictating to his amanuensis ; but comparatively few know how easily he resumed, at the point of interruption, and how often this occurred.

His manner, at the Bar, was no less happy. Avoiding vain flights of oratory, he, in a conversational tone, took court or jury into his confidence, which, as he did not pervert facts, was reciprocal.

To serve a client's interests, he would turn night into day, unfortunately without the compensation of rest when day returned ; so the wonder is not that he survived threescore and ten by only two years, but that, in spite of over-work, he reached the allotted term of well preserved old manhood.

No country has had a permanently satisfactory insolvent law, because of the conflicting interests of creditors, who ought to be paid in full, and of debtors who expect discharge because their estates have been taken from them; yet the late Sir John, deeming Lower Canada's saisie-arrêt to be half an Insolvent Act, so ingeniously supplemented it, through the experience of other countries, that he gave Canada an Act which had a long term of usefulness, and, if (possibly) of abuse, it is remarkable that when Government resolved upon a new Insolvency measure, they retained the Hon. Mr. Abbott's assistance.

The late Sir John could the better use his deep knowledge of Commercial Law in helping his clients, as he had mastered the principles of Book-keeping and of commercial business.

Early in his practice he had for clients the Molsons, Allans, Merchants Bank and Molsons Bank and, from its inception, the Canadian Pacific Railway, the solicitorship of which he resigned to take the rest that was soon interrupted by the death of the Rt. Hon. Sir John A. Macdonald.

It then became evident that, while a number desired to be Premier, his hand, though weakened by disease and advancing years, could best steady the helm of State, and although he reached the Prime Ministership without having manifested ambition for the position, and at a time when he was unfitted for the cares of office, such were his resources and adaptability that even his enemies do not charge him with one radical error. The purity of his official life is evident, for his last will and testament apparently disposes of a smaller sum than, in 1882, his well informed friend, the late Sir Hugh Allan, declared him possessed of.

The soundness of his opinions, his sincerity and faithfulness inspired such respect that, in 1857, his old neighbors elected him to Parliament, and they frequently repeated this, during a period of over thirty years, and when, in the time of the Trent affair, war seemed imminent, they and their sons volunteered to follow him as leader.

Beginning, like many notable Englishmen, as a Liberal, and ending as a Conservative, he was called to be a member, first, of a Liberal Government and, successively, member and head of a Conservative Government.

In 1887, his fellow-citizens expressed their opinion by a majority of 2,000, in a contest for the mayoralty, although his opponent was of the nationality of the majority. In 1888, his conduct had apparently converted the few dissentients of 1887, for he was then elected by acclamation.

Capitalists, who are sensitive to their interests, elected him to the Directorship of the most important financial institutions, notably the Citizens' Insurance Company, Merchants Bank, Bank of Montreal and Canadian Pacific Railway.

A. D. 1893.—Continued.

Among recent testimonials, in the public press, occur these expressions:—

“Intercourse with him was always pleasant.”

“Sir John will always be remembered as one of the cleverest lawyers Montreal has had.”

“In the defence of the St. Albans raiders, he proved himself of great strength, and the peroration of his address will always be looked upon as a gem.”

“He was probably the most successful lawyer of his time.”

“As Mayor of Montreal, he undoubtedly was the best presiding officer they ever had at the City Hall.”

“As an opponent, I always found him loyal to the core.”

“At a critical moment in the history of the Liberal-Conservative party and Government of Canada, he nobly and patriotically assumed their direction, and conducted the administration of our public affairs with credit and distinction.”

La Minerve says:—“He was a friend of our race.”

La Patrie:—“With him there disappears one of the great men of the Canadian Tory Party.”

The Star:—“When the great Sir John fell in the thickest of the fight, the soldiery about him could unite, for the time, under no other leader than J. J. C. Abbott.

Lord Mount-Stephen and Sir Donald Smith engaged his presidency of the Directors of the Royal Hospital, which cost them more than a million dollars.

In view of such unanimity of esteem, it is not surprising that, in 1892, Her Majesty honored him with knighthood.

He peacefully died, at his home, on Monday, the 30th day of October, 1893.

His wife, daughter of the late very Reverend Dean Bethune, and four sons and four daughters survive him.

His sons, John B. and Harry Abbott, Q.C., continue the legal business their father began. William and Arthur Abbott are leading manufacturers, and R. T. Heneker, one of Sir John's sons-in-law, is solicitor of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

That Sir John's smile and manner were no mask, is evident from his last will and testament, which proves the astute diplomatist to have possessed fine sensibilities and deep affection. Among hundreds who were present at his funeral were Sir John Thompson, his successor as Premier, Sir William Dawson, Chief Justice Sir Francis Johnson, Sir Charles Tupper, Hon. W. B. Ives, Peter Redpath, John H. R. Molson, Andrew Allan, Hon. Judges Baby, Tait, Hall, Wurtele, Mathieu, Taschereau, Gill, Jetté and Davidson the Hon. George Drummond, F. Wolferstan Thomas, R. B. Angus, Richard White and many other distinguished persons. His Excellency the Governor General, whose Aides followed in the procession, was in the Cathedral, attended by Lady Aberdeen.

31st Oct.,—Peter Redpath, Esq., gives proof of his continued interest in higher education, by presenting McGill College with a new Library building, erected on land given by John H. R. Molson, Esq., and adds largely to the library itself. In token of his gift, Mr. Redpath delivers to His Excellency, the Earl of Aberdeen, Governor-General, a suitably inscribed golden key, in the presence of a select company of distinguished citizens.

31st Oct.,—His Excellency, Lord Aberdeen, presents McGill College with a gold medal, for competition.

2nd Nov.,—Burial of Sir John Abbott, whose remains are followed by many hundreds of the leading people of Canada, including his successor as Prime Minister.

2nd Nov.,—The Antiquarian Society, presided over by Hon. Justice Baby, presents Lady Aberdeen with numerous books relative to the history of Canada, and of Montreal.

 NAVIGATION.

The average date of first arrivals from sea for twenty years, up to 1892 (inclusive), was 2nd of May.

The removal of buoys from the channel between Montreal and Quebec usually begins between 20th and 24th Nov., after which navigation is dangerous.

In 1893 the harbor of Montreal began clearing on the 21st of April, and, before the close of the same day, the channel was clear of ice; but owing to the ice at Cap Rouge, [which left at 10 p.m., 2nd of May,] vessels from the sea could not reach Montreal before the 3rd of May.

On the 5th of May, Lachine canal was open for navigation and the new Wellington bridge was swung.

The largest number of steamships in port, at Montreal, in 1893, was 40, on the 1st of August, one more than on the 12th of July, 1892.

The total number of vessels in port at Montreal, in 1893, up to 2nd Nov., was 752—57 more than in 1892 to the same date.

21st Nov.—Sir John Thompson banqueted by representatives of all parties, at Montreal. He explains Canada's advantage by the Behring Sea arbitration.

22nd Nov.—Close of navigation from Montreal.

27th Nov.—Earthquake at Montreal and elsewhere in Canada, with no loss of life and little of property.

27th Nov.—Announcement that Sir John Thompson has been made an Imperial Privy Councillor. He is therefore to be addressed as THE RIGHT HONORABLE.

27th Nov.—J. S. Archibald, Q.C., is said to have been made a Judge of the Superior Court.

27th Nov.—Robert Miller, wholesale stationer, dies, aged 74 years and 8 months. See p. 151.

30th Nov.—Sir William Dawson gives the last of his lectures as Principal of McGill College. He has been 38 years in office.

1st DEC.—His Excellency the Earl of Aberdeen and Lady Aberdeen, having attended an entertainment given by the Mackay Institute for the Deaf and Dumb, compliment Mrs. Ashcroft, the Principal, on the proficiency of her pupils.

The Royal Victoria Hospital.

2nd DEC.—His Excellency the Governor General assists at the inauguration of the Royal Victoria Hospital, which is devoted, by Lord Mount-Stephen and Sir Donald Smith, K.C.M.G., M.P., &c., to the cure of the sick, of whatever race or creed, to the training of nurses, and to the furtherance of science. The building is erected within a lot of eighteen acres, purchased by the founders for $90,000, to which other five acres, held under long lease from the city, make a convenient addition.

The style of the structure is Scottish baronial, to which the limestone of Montreal is well suited. The building, begun in 1891, has employed 600 workmen and cost nearly $800,000. To construction, furnishing and maintenance, the founders have devoted nearly $1,500,000. Designed by H. Saxon Snell, an English architect of eminence, whose specialty is hospitals, the structure combines, with peculiarities of its own, the best characteristics of Mr. Snell's previous efforts.

The Act of incorporation, passed in 1890, provides for fifteen Governors, of whom seven shall be the Mayor of Montreal, President of the Board of Trade, President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, President of the Bank of Montreal, the chief officer of the Grand Trunk Railway resident at Montreal and the Principal and Dean of the Faculty of McGill College.

The other Governors, expressly named in the Act, are Sir Donald Smith, Lord Mount-Stephen, Alexander G. Patterson, W. J. Buchanan, the late Andrew Robertson and Thomas Davidson, Esquires.

The Act provides for branch convalescent Hospitals at Banff, N. W. Territories, and at Caledonia Springs.

Associates are constituted by paying $1,000, a and $20, or more annually, or $5,000 in all.

In an address read by R. B. Angus, chairman of the Board, to His Excellency, the Governor General is informed that he is ex-officio a visitor of the Institution, and will be always welcome.

Replying, His Excellency declares that, out of consideration for Sir Donald Smith, whom he has with difficulty induced to attend*, he will substitute, for praise of the founders, congratulations of all concerned upon the happy conclusion of this magnificent act of practical philanthropy and of Christian benevolence.

He announces that R. B. Angus, Esq., successor of the late Sir John Abbott as Chairman of the Board, has promised $25,000 towards the support of the Institution, and hopes that the example will be followed in sums large and small.

Wishing the founders long life, to witness the happiness which they have prepared, the Governor General calls for and leads three cheers for the founders and three for Her Majesty.

Regardless of expense, the best surgical inventions and appliances have been collected from the chief seats of Medical science on two continents. Not only are the physicians, surgeons and nurses elegantly housed, but even the servants are to be envied their comfortable quarters.

A fine bust of Her Majesty, in prominent position, reminds visitors that the inception of this admirable institution celebrates, in the name, and with the approval, of Her Majesty, the 50th anniversary of her coming to the throne. Also, in imperishable stone, appear, with the coat-of-arms of the founders, their mottoes, "lippen" (to risk or to chance) and "diligence," as if to remind nurses and physicians upon how little life and health depend and that they must not to be distracted, by luxurious surroundings, from zealous and persevering devotion to the sick.

Sir Donald Alexander Smith, K.C.M.G., M.P., LL.D.

If it be true that the life of any man would make an interesting story, the biography of Sir Donald A. Smith, who in his boyhood turned his back upon the luxuries of home to seek fortune in the wilds of British America and, having succeeded, uses his wealth to alleviate the ills of his fellow-men, has for Canadians an especial interest. Not to wish for better acquaintance with such a public benefactor would savor of ingratitude. But widely as Sir Donald's public acts are known, his modesty precludes the giving of more than a bare outline of his busy life.

This is the more to be regretted, as, in the absence of an authentic biography, even the time and place of his birth have been variously stated. Sir Donald was the son of the late Alexander Smith, of Archieston, Scotland, and was born in the year 1820.

While still a youth, but after acquiring a good education, he entered the service of the Hudson's Bay Company, carrying impressed upon his character, the word diligence, which, with the figure of a beaver gnawing a tree, the stem of which is more than half cut through, is now engraved upon his seal.

Industry and honesty paved his way upward, until he became the last resident Governor of the Hudson's Bay Company, as a governing body, and the trusted adviser of hundreds of the Company's employees and of their families.

He was Special Commissioner, during the first rebellion fomented in the Red River Settlement, in 1869-70, by Louis Riel, and, for his valuable services, was thanked by the Governor General in Council. And it was for these services he accepted the order of Knight Commander of St. George.

He was appointed a member of the Council which governed the North-west Territory in, and after, 1870.

He represented Winnipeg and St. Johns in the Manitoban Legislature of 1871 to 1884, and was elected M.P. for Selkirk, in the Canadian House of Commons, in 1871, 1872, 1874 and 1878.

In 1887 he was elected M.P. for Montreal west, over J. K. (now the Hon. J. K.) Ward, undoubtedly the strongest Liberal in the Province. In 1891, he was re-elected, with a majority of thousands, and he still represents the constituency.

He is Governor of the Hudson's Bay Company, a Director of the St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba Railway, of the Great Northern Railway of Minnesota and of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

He is, and has been, for some years President of the Bank of Montreal and Chancellor of McGill University.

He is an Honorary LL.D. of the Universities of both Cambridge and Yale, and was, by her Majesty the Queen, created a K.C.M.G., in 1886.

His Canadian places of residence are 1157 Dorchester street, Montreal (where he has his famous gallery of paintings and his celebrated collection of Japanese curiosities); "Silver Heights," Winnipeg, Manitoba; and "Norway House," Pictou, Nova Scotia. His London, England, address is 1 Lime street, E.C., and Atheneum Club.

Unknown to Sir Donald, some of his many public benefactions have been mentioned in these pages, and, doubtless, in the hundred and forty-two years to which this Chronology relates, no other Canadian has been known to give so much as he to alleviate misery and to promote science and the fine arts.

It is to be hoped that to forestall a fictitious biography and to set a useful example, Sir Donald will soon permit the world to know how it has been possible to accomplish so much good in so little time.
