very long Sweden will possess a valuable asset which may be said to have cost nothing.

The rates cover an unlimited local service-there are no additional charges for local calls-and they extend thruout the area of the town. Thus at Stockholm the radius covered by the rates is about 2 1-2 miles. The minimum charge for the use of the long distance trunk lines is 4 cents for three minutes' conversation, and the maximum charge is 26 cents. There is little wonder telephones are popular in Sweden, and are very numerous in proportion to the population. Contrary to what is commonly believed. Sweden is by no means a cheap country to telephone. Owing to the sparse character of the population the length of the wires between exchanges is proportionately great, aggregating about half the total length.

TELEPHONES IN SWEDEN.

From an authoritative statement issued by the Swedish government a clear idea can be gained regarding the telephone system in that country. Sweden is a thinly peopled country with a population of less than 5.000.000. The telephones are chiefly in the hands of the government, there being upwards of 100,000 instruments in use in 1904. The growth of the state system has been very rapid, the number of stations in 1893 being only 16,000, as against the 70,000 in existence in the former year.

in public life, but who trampled upon the sacredness of womanhood and desecrated the sanctity of home life.

Were such men nt rulers ior a country or city? To-day the lives of all public men should be an open book. The treatment by both political parties at Ottawa of the scandals alleged against men in high positi:n was not a very edifying spectacle. To endorse the idea that public men's private morals were their own affairs that did not concern citizens was to endorse pagan rather than a puritan idea, and would make those who supported it a lot of canting hypocrites. People to-day would not tolerate murderers, pirates, embezzlers, woman-beaters, or seducers in public life. Good overnment and good laws could only be enacted by those who led clean, honest, upright lives. As public men simply represented the people who elected them, it behoved them all to see to it in the interests of sound progress and higher and nobler civilization that they selected only n'en of unblemished character to control the destinies of this great country.

The Railways Co. is earning considerably more than bond interest, and completion in a few months of construction work will bring in large additional earnings and greater economy of o peration.

The franchises for electric railway, electric light and water power business are liberal and long dated and there is no opposition.

The density of po pulation in Porto Rico is nine times greater than in Old Ontario.

Porto Rico is owned by the United States, which insures political stability and gives free entry into the United States for Porto Rico exports-conditions which make the island very pros perous.

An investment in 5 per cent. 30-year gold bonds of the Porto Rico Railways Co., Limited, at 921/2 is not only safe, but is also desirable, bécause each $925 buys $1000 of interest-earning bonds and $500 of bonus stock, and it is only a matter of months before the stock should receive dividends.
