MACEDONIAN FRONT

Allies Active Near Serev Where Some Prisoners Are Captured.

London, Oct. 15.—In Flanders no military operations on a large scale have been attempted, but the big guns are carrying out reciprocal bombardments of great violence, like those which always precede the starting of an infantry offensive on the German front.

After the lapse of two days, the heavy artillery duels have been resumed between the French and the Germans on the Verdun front, especially to the north of the famous Hill 44.

The British official communication issued this evening, says: "Later reports show that the number of prisoners we captured in yesterday's raid southeast of Monchy le Preux was 64, including two officers."

MAGRATH WILL ORDER CUT IN COAL PROFITS

Dominion Fuel Controller Meets Assistants in Important Conference.

MAY STOP HOARDING

McCue Will Secure Supply for Ontario — Off to Washington.

An important meeting was held in Ottawa yesterday in regard to the coal situation, not only in Ontario, but throughout the entire Dominion.

Among those present were Fuel Controller C. A. McGrath, Assistant Fuel Controller H. C. McCue, Assistant Fuel Controller Peterson, Alphonse Racine, fuel controller for the Province of Quebec, T. W. Kerr, fuel controller for Nova Scotia, and H. A. Harrington, assistant fuel controller for Ontario.

Mr. McGrath, president executive committee, Canadian Red Cross Society, Mayor Church, Premier Sir William Hearst, Surgeon-General Ryerson, Major-General Logie, Col. W. K. McNaught, Sir Robert Falconer, Hon. T. W. McGarry, Hon. Dr. Pyne and Archbishop Gody.

"The eyes of the whole empire are upon us and the next three days will tell," he said. He did not believe the increased cost of living this year would make any difference in the amount of Toronto's contribution.

Mayor Church received a long and loud ovation. It was his pleasure to welcome to Toronto Lord Northcliffe, he said, and then he showed that Toronto had a brilliant record in its activity for the war.

He believed the Red Cross was the best managed organization in the world, and that it should have the support of every true Britisher. "Toronto's heart," he said, "is taken of the men who fall wounded in action; when Mayor Church announced the city's gift of $125,000, when Lord Northcliffe told of the honor which the very name 'Toronto' has in England and at the front, and more than once the immense audience, overflowing with patriotism, arose as one man, waved handkerchiefs, and cheered to the echo the distinguished speakers and their remarks.

Under the leadership of Sergt. Savage the 10th Regiment band entertained the meeting by rendering patriotic airs, and other musical numbers.

ENTHUSIASM UNBOUNDED FOR BRITISH RED CROSS

Massey Hall Scene of Unparalleled Patriotic Demonstration as Third Great Drive Commences—Lord Northcliffe and Major Bishop, V.C., D.S.O., M.C., Cheered to the Echo as They Rose to Address the Enthusiastic and Representative Gathering.

If enthusiasm means dollars and cents and the great mass meeting in Massey Hall last night speaks for what Toronto will do during the next three days, not a British soldier on the battlefields in any part of the world where war is being waged now will cry in vain for medical assistance.

Not a wound but will be healed, not a shattered limb but will be given expert attention, not a lonely man in No Man's Land but will be heard and the sufferer carried by willing hands out of danger and into quiet rest and comfort.

With hundreds unable to gain admission to the immense hall was filled to capacity with 3000 people long before 8 o'clock, the hour for commencing the third drive in Toronto on behalf of the British Red Cross Society.

When Lord Northcliffe appeared on the platform, having come direct from his special train which conveyed him from Washington, the applause which greeted him was loud and long. A splendid demonstration was also accorded Major A. W. Bishop, V.C., D.S.O., M.C.

Among those who were seated on the platform were Sir Edmund Walker, chairman, British Red Cross Appeal; Col. Noel Marshall, president executive committee, Canadian Red Cross Society; Mayor Church, Premier Sir William Hearst, Surgeon-General Ryerson, Major-General Logie, Col. W. K. McNaught, Sir Robert Falconer, Hon. T. W. McGarry, Hon. Dr. Pyne and Archbishop Gody.

It was a memorable night, a meeting which will be remembered for years to come, and it proved that, as the needs of the society become greater, so does the generosity of Toronto's citizens meet up to the increased demand. Great moments were experienced when the hero exalted told of the help and sympathy and care that is taken of the men who fall wounded in action; when Mayor Church announced the city's gift of $125,000, when Lord Northcliffe told of the honor which the very name 'Toronto' has in England and at the front, and more than once the immense audience, overflowing with patriotism, arose as one man, waved handkerchiefs, and cheered to the echo the distinguished speakers and their remarks.

Prayer for Soldiers. Archbishop Gody opened the meeting with prayer, which was a supplication for all those on active service, on land, on sea or in the air; for those in hospital, administering to the wounded and for those now in training wherever they are placed.

Sir Edmund Walker, chairman, said it was the fourth year of the war and the third time that an appeal had been made by the British Red Cross. The needs of the British Red Cross, he said, were as much larger this year than last as the demand was greater. The British Red Cross was the friend of all, not only the allies but to a wounded German was help given when necessary. It was carrying on in all parts of the world and its demands were consequently enormous. "People have said that the appeal of the British Red Cross has put Toronto on the map, and it must stay on the map," he said. "Each year you have given more than was asked," he continued, "and with the province we should send this year $2,000,000. That would be a very proud thing to do. It is one of the most effective means of helping to win the war."

Sir Edmund read parts of a letter written by a wounded soldier who lauded the efficient work of the British Red Cross.

"The eyes of the whole empire are upon us and the next three days will tell," he said. He did not believe the increased cost of living this year would make any difference in the amount of Toronto's contribution.

FRENCH SHIP BLOWN UP, MANY PERSONS KILLED

Two Hundred and Fifty Lives Lost on Medie When Torpedoed.

London, Oct. 15.—Two hundred and fifty lives were lost when the steamer Medie was torpedoed September 23, in the western Mediterranean, says a Reuter's dispatch from Paris.

The explosion of the torpedo detonated the munitions in the ship's cargo. There were more than 150 passengers on board the steamer, including soldiers and prisoners of war.

The Medie was a French vessel of 4470 tons. She was built in 1912 and her home port was Marseilles.

BRITISH CRUISER SINKS; MINE SWEEPER MISSING. London, Oct. 15.—An admiralty statement issued tonight, reads: "His Majesty's mine-sweeping sloop Begonia, Lieutenant Commander Basil S. Noake, R.N., is now considerably overdue and must be considered lost with all hands."

EXPECT BIG BATTLE ON AUSTRO-ITALIAN FRONT

Heavy Artillery Fighting in Julian Sector--Austrian Attacks Fail--Italian Success in Brestovizza Valley.

London, Oct. 15.—Preparations apparently are being made along the Julian front of the Austro-Italian theatre for another big battle. In the Brestovizza Valley and on several other sectors the artillery on both sides is engaged in heavy fighting, and there also have been sharp reconnoitering encounters.

In the Brestovizza Valley a strong attack by the Austrians was broken up by the Italian machine gun fire, as likewise were attempted attacks from the west of Plodar to the head of the Adriatic Sea.

Rome, in an official statement, reports heavy fighting took place yesterday along nearly the whole Julian front, the Italians withstanding violent local attacks by the Austrians, launched after extensive artillery preparation, the war office announced today. Sharp reconnoitering encounters occurred at various points, in some of which prisoners were taken by the Italians. The text of the statement reads: "On the Trentino and Carnia fronts there was considerable activity by our reconnoitering patrols. Enemy attacks in the Lagarina, Assa and Pella Valleys failed."

"There was a lively action of a local nature by the infantry along the entire Julian front. On the southern slopes of Monte Rombon we captured prisoners in a successful surprise attack. Between Ostagnavizza and Selo a raid by arditelli on the enemy lines brought us other prisoners."

In the Brestovizza Valley large bursts of violent artillery and machine gun fire, approached our lines, but were driven back. Near Lokovec, after lavish artillery preparation, extending from west of Plodar to the sea, the enemy made an attack which was completely broken up. The enemy left prisoners in our hands."

ENEMY FLEET REFUSES BATTLE WHEN OFFERED BY RUSSIANS

Enemy Warships Are Kept Out of the Gulf of Riga, But Russian Forces on Oesel Island Are in Full Retreat.

London, Oct. 15.—The German forces which landed on the island of Oesel, at the head of the Gulf of Riga, have captured Arensburg, capital of the island, and are still pursuing the Russians at various places. Aiding the operations as far as possible are German cruisers and torpedo boats, which have shelled coast batteries and towns. Attempts by the German fleet to enter the Gulf of Riga, or to operate in the waters between Oesel and Dago Islands, however, are meeting with resistance, respectively from the Russian land batteries and Russian naval units. In the latter region the Germans declined to accept battle, and retired in the face of the Russian warships.

As yet no attempts have been made by the Germans to effect a landing on the coast of Eschonia, and harass the right flank of the Russian army, and neither has any effort been made to penetrate the Gulf of Finland, the waters of which are heavily mined, and will require heavy mine-sweeping operations before a naval demonstration can be made against the important port of Revel.

The northern group of German warships, the statement adds, despatched a torpedo boat squadron between the islands of Oesel and Dago, which pressed back the Russian patrols. Russian naval forces reinforced the patrol and accepted battle, whereupon the German ships retired.

Fighting for Oesel Island, the war office announces, continued all day yesterday.

A third group of German warships, consisting of cruisers and torpedo boats, approached the southwest coast of Oesel Island and bombarded important parts of the coast. German submarines were observed at various times and places in the Baltic.

German naval aerial forces are supporting the land forces on the northern and southern sections of Oesel Island. Further movements of the patrol and accepted battle, whereupon the German ships retired.

The landing of the Germans has been reported by the long range artillery of the Russians from Oesel Island.

Occupied Arensburg. Petrograd, Oct. 15.—German forces which landed on the Russian island of Oesel, at the head of the Gulf of Riga, on Friday, occupied Arensburg, the capital of the island, on Saturday. It was officially announced today by the Russian war office, Arensburg is on the southern shore of Oesel Island.

The northern group of German warships, the statement adds, despatched a torpedo boat squadron between the islands of Oesel and Dago, which pressed back the Russian patrols. Russian naval forces reinforced the patrol and accepted battle, whereupon the German ships retired.

MICHAELIS' DOWNFALL APPEARS INEVITABLE

German Chancellor Target for Socialist Attacks and Is Subjected to Adverse Criticism By the Junkers.

Copenhagen, Oct. 15.—It is believed that the political situation which has arisen because of discontent in some quarters with Dr. Michaelis, the imperial German chancellor, will reach a crisis before the reichstag reassembles in December. Dr. Michaelis remains in Berlin conferring with reichstag leaders and his personal advisers, endeavoring to find a solution of the situation, but according to advices received here he does not seem to realize that his own position is endangered.

The socialist newspapers continue to point out his failure to exercise any effectual leadership. On the contrary, they say, he has permitted himself to be buffeted hither and thither, now by the pan-Germans and now by the reichstag majority, which have wrested from him one grudging concession after another.

The chancellor's biggest blunder, in the eyes of the moderate press, was his rehabilitation of the independent socialists by his disclosures concerning the mutiny on German warships, thereby driving the socialists into opposition, which many persons believe will unite the two socialist wings into a powerful radical opposition. Even the pan-Germans say that unless Dr. Michaelis is able to rule the situation with a stronger hand he had better resign.

WAR SUMMARY

THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

BRITISH operations yesterday comprised heavy cannonading on the field of the fourth battle of Ypres, with the enemy nervously and copiously replying.

The enemy is slowly overrunning the island of Oesel, at the entrance to the Gulf of Riga. The Russians set fire to Arensburg, the village capital of the island, and then retreated.

The possession of Oesel Island helps the enemy in his plan to gain control of the Gulf of Riga. He has a great many important objects in view by this operation.

Reflecting Fashion in Various Charming Moods

The New Footwear Claims the Meed of Attention

For Fashion Insists That Boots and Shoes, Practical and Otherwise, Shall Share the Vogue for Long and Slender Lines, and for Wearing With the New Short, Narrow Skirts She Advocates Low Shoes Equally With High

Huge Clearance of Imported Blouses, Wednesday, Half Price, $6.25 to $30.00.

On Sale at 10 a.m. LIVES there a woman who would not delight in the chance of obtaining a French blouse at half price? And here is a really golden opportunity, for included is a most wonderful array of styles, too numerous to describe. In the collection are Georgette, lace and crepe de Chine waists, adorned with Fashion's latest mode in trimming—beads, silver braid, embroidery, satin and touches of wool. The collars are in a wide variety of styles, including, of course, both large and small effects. And then, too, there are blouses with the new round neck, and several collarless styles. The colors include navy, flesh, peach, Copen, and purple. Wednesday, half price, $6.25 to $30.00.

The Overseas Depot

Is there a "someone" overseas to whom you send a weekly or a monthly parcel, and is there a "someone" whom you wish to remember at Christmas? Why, then, what more convenient medium for sending your parcels than the Overseas Depot? There, at the top of the Albert Street stairway, on the Second Floor, you will find a most interesting array of all sorts of nice things to eat, warm things to wear, and those small necessities and appliances so very welcome in the trenches. Just give your order and the Overseas Depot will see that it is carefully packed and properly dispatched.

Coats That Show Fashion in Most Alluring Guise

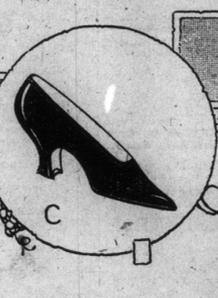

Beautiful Wraps From the Grande Couture of Paris and New York, Most Reassuringly Cosy and Warm, Despite Their Slender, Lissome Appearance

NO NEED to look at the little labels inside the collar. They proclaim their origin loudly with that extraordinary chic, that subtle cut, that indescribable distinction which are found only in the world of the foremost couturiers of Paris and New York.

And Paris, remembering the rigors of last winter—with very little coal—has planned that there shall indeed be top coats that will defy the cold. Materials, though soft and supple, are unusually heavy and warm. Fur collars and cuffs, fur bandings and panels, give an unusual degree of cosiness, and sometimes the very pockets and cuffs are lined with fur. To describe a few:

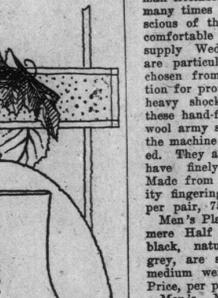

B. Smart in cut, you may see from the sketch, but the black and white drawing gives you no idea of the attractive coloring of the boot above. In the new recede shape, with high Cuban heel, it is made of black patent leather, with grey buck top, and is beautifully finished with silk-worked buttonholes and grey pearl buttons. Bench-made Armstrong quality. Sizes 2-8 to 7-AAA to D. Price, $13.00.

C. It is not only modish, but the mark of the true patriot, to wear pumps this year, and so save leather. So here is a pretty new shoe, with lines attached to imitate a wing tip, which is extremely smart. It is an Estonia model, made of gunmetal calf, sizes 2-8 to 7, and B to E, and one of its chief attractions is its moderate price—$4.50.

D. Yet another edition of the smart sports boot of mahogany calf, with fawn buck top. In English walking style, it has 1 1/2 inch heels, is bench-made in Armstrong quality. Sizes 2-8 to 8, AA to D. Price, $15.00.

E. A new and most practical walking boot that is also immensely smart, with its black calf uppers and its buff buck tops, laced with invisible eyelets. The sole, though strong, is by no means heavy, the heel a comfortable 1 1/2-inch height. Sizes 2-8 to 8, AAA to D. Price, $12.00.

Socks for the Army Man or Civilian

In the army particular attention is necessarily given to the care of the feet. And every man sooner or later learns from experience that care of the feet forms no small part in his physical fitness. A tight sock, for instance, like a tight boot, can make a man irritable and nervous—many times he being unconscious of the cause. Wear comfortable socks. Get a supply Wednesday. These are particularly good lines chosen from a large selection for prominence. Thick, heavy shock absorbers are these hand-finished grey all-wool army socks, knitted on the machine and hand finished. They are seamless, and have finely ribbed cuffs. Made from extra soft quality fingering yarns. Price, per pair, 75c. Men's Plated Plain Cashmere Half Hose, in plain black, natural or clerical grey, are seamless and in medium weight. All sizes. Price, per pair, 50c. Men's Medium Weight Cashmere Hose, in plain black or colors. Also plain black with silk colored embroidered clax patterns. Seamless and spliced at places wearing first. 2 pairs for $1.25, or, per pair, 65c. Men's Finest Quality White Weight Ribbed Black Cashmere Half Hose, are made from selected Botany, double-ply all-wool yarns, are seamless and have fine ribbed elastic-fitting cuffs. All sizes. Price, per pair, 85c. —Main Floor, Yonge St.

Lovely Fox Furs in Various Smart Shades

A charming red fox muff is made in barrel style, shirred at the ends, and adorned with head, tail and paws, wrist cord and ring. Warmly lined throughout with velvet. Price, $45.00. The stole of lustrous red fox may be had in large animal style, adorned with head and tail, and fastening in front with silk ties, lined with silk. Price, $48.50. Luella Fox Sets (two only), have muff in large ball style finished with silk wrist trills, trimmed with paws, head and tail. The stoles are in large flat animal style. Price, set, $80.00.

The Modes in New York Suits

Charmingly Youthful-looking, With Coats That Are Long and Slender of Line, Collars Rolling to the Chin, and Skirts With a True War-time Economy of Width

SVELTE is the word that best describes them, for, long and straight though they are, coats show a slight tendency to grip the figure at the back. They are essentially practical, too, with their studied simplicity, their high rolling collars and absence of fluffiness.

And not only are the styles picturesque, but the soft materials and the new colors are becoming as they can be. Take, for instance, a suit of nigger brown velours, the narrow shouldered coat, stitched with silk at the back to form panels, the outstanding collar edged with Hudson seal, seal also edging the pockets which appear from beneath the folded belt. The skirt is almost plain, and measures about 1 1/2 at the hem. Price, $65.00.

Shawl collar and cuffs of grey squirrel give distinction to a suit of navy velours. This has a basque-like arrangement of pleats at the back accentuating the svelteness of the figure, and smart stitched panels at the side. Price, $75.00.

To emphasize the smartness of the plain tailored suit is a well-cut model of Oxford grey suiting, its collar cut in two quaint little points, and its front and sleeves fastening with close-set bone buttons in orthodox manner. The skirt but for pockets is plain as a skirt well can be. Price, $65.00. —Third Floor, James St.

F. Such a splendid pump for wearing with spats, for it has nothing to prevent the smooth fit of the garter, yet rows of stitching redeem it from absolute plainness. It can be obtained in vic kid, tan calf or patent leather, and is provided with a little suede strapping inside the back of the heel to prevent slipping. Sizes 2-8 to 7, AA to E. Price, $7.00.

Satin Comes Once More Into Its Own

'Tis a Veritable Obsession in Paris, They Say, Both for the Fashioning of Smart Gowns and for Trimmings, and lo! it, Blossoms Forth Into All Sorts of Entrancing New Weaves

ALL THE SHIMMERY, pearly glint of the old-time satin is theirs, but these new satins are distinguished by the suppleness of the silks which you can draw through the proverbial ring. So no wonder they should have attracted the attention of Fashion for the slim-looking clinging gowns of present vogue. Besides this, satins are such essentially practical fabrics for times like these, when all the world must study economy in clothes.

In the Silk Department a whole counter is given over to their display, and there you may see them in all the fashionable hues—Burgundy, wine, beetroot, purple, greys, taupe, nigger, cinnamon, maduro browns, rose, balsam and hemlock greens, and, of course, navy and black. In addition to these are certain very effective colors for evening wear, flame, turquoise, maize, primrose, etc.

Satin Francaise is one of the heavier weaves, suitable for dresses, wraps, linings, for bindings, facings, the making of collars, etc. Width 36 inches. Price, $2.50 a yard.

Satin duchesse, a particularly brilliant gleaming silk, is 42 inches wide and $2.00 a yard.

Satin grenadine, soft and supple, with a rather dull finish, is 40 inches wide and $4.00 a yard.

A French satin grenadine with considerably brighter finish and an almost iridescent gleam is procurable at $3.50 a yard.

Most charming of all is a crepe satin, lustrous, and so supple that it is practically uncrushable. The shades, too, are extraordinarily beautiful. Price, $4.00 a yard.

Crepe meteor must also be mentioned in this connection. It is procurable in perfectly beautiful shades, the fashionable wine, beetroot, nigger and maduro browns, taupe, pearl and dark greys, hemlock green, rose, primrose and Belgian blue. Width 40 inches. Price, $2.50 per yard. —Second Floor, Albert St.

THE T. EATON CO. LIMITED

... came to its feet and applauded for fully a minute. Lord Northcliffe first spoke of his visit to Canada in 1908 in the capacity of an alarmist, foretelling the present war. Then he devoted his time to the telling of how Toronto's money is spent by the British Red Cross. There are, he said, in addition to 2,000 motor ambulances, thousands of motor boats in many parts of the world. The society, he said, had no politics, but many great men administer the fund at a cost of about two per cent. "The expenses," he said, "are about $30 a minute, and the reason of the present appeal is because the officials are anxious as to the future."

HON. CHARLES STEWART.

"Our Red Cross is an auxiliary to the Royal Army Medical Corps, and we pride ourselves that there is no red tape but great quickness. We began in a very small way, and when the present war broke out we were taken unawares. But you must remember that within six weeks the organization was working smoothly, and I do not know of a more economical organization. I tell you this because you have given so generously. You put it up to us to spend this money properly and every one of us is anxious that ever penny shall be spent profitably."

Treated Germans Also. The audience applauded when he said he had seen wounded German soldiers treated as kindly as "our own men." "Red Cross work," he said, "is by no means the most kind of war work, for the ambulances go right up to the trenches. There is a falling off of homes, and now there are armored cars for this front line work." He made a list of some things he saw while at the front. These included: 100,000 pairs of socks, 100,000 pairs of shoes, 100,000 pairs of trousers, 100,000 pairs of shirts, 100,000 pairs of blouses, 100,000 pairs of dresses, 100,000 pairs of coats, 100,000 pairs of hats, 100,000 pairs of gloves, 100,000 pairs of scarves, 100,000 pairs of handkerchiefs, 100,000 pairs of neckties, 100,000 pairs of pocket squares, 100,000 pairs of handkerchiefs, 100,000 pairs of neckties, 100,000 pairs of pocket squares, 100,000 pairs of handkerchiefs, 100,000 pairs of neckties, 100,000 pairs of pocket squares.

Major Bishop Speaks. Major Bishop, V.C., D.S.O., M.C., in speaking of the British Red Cross, said that it meant everything to the men to know that when they were wounded they would be cared for the best way possible. "The men," he said, "who go from Toronto, say so with pride—and nothing you can do for them is too much. Give everything you can to help this wonderful cause if you want the boys at the front from Toronto to feel more proud than ever."

Work of Women. Col. Noel Marshall, president of the executive committee of the Canadian Red Cross, said that thanks to the women of Canada the society had been able to keep its pledge that not a wounded Canadian soldier would suffer for want of medical assistance that it could supply. He told of the help the society had received from Sir John Hendrie, Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, and Sir William Hearst, premier of Ontario, who had without hesitation placed the services of Dr. A. H. Abbott and the organization of resources committee at the disposal of the society.

When Sir Edmund Walker stated that Major Bishop had accounted for 47 German airplanes, the announcement brought tremendous applause. When the modest hero came to speak the ovation broke out again, stronger than ever.

As against the hardships of the men at the front he contrasted the small part those at home can play at best. "Thank God the law is now on the statute books that will send the men on the line the help they need," he said. "But that is not all. The ministrations of the Red Cross workers are essential to our final victory."

He believed the objective—$500,000—would be reached and passed in Toronto, and said that everything pointed to even greater success than that attained last year throughout Ontario. It would be a message of cheer to the men at the front and one of discouragement to the Kaiser and his cruel Huns.

At the close of the meeting, following the singing of the National Anthem, prayer was offered for the success of the campaign.

Offensive Smells Case is Adjourned. Packing Houses in West Toronto Claim to Be Doing Their Best to Avoid Nuisance.

Judge Winchester resumed the hearing of the West Toronto packing houses' "smell case" in the general sessions yesterday morning when representatives of Harris, Gunns and Swifts submitted affidavits to show what had been done by their firms to improve conditions.

According to that subscribed to by David W. Gunn of Harris, Gunns and Swifts, the Ontario Fertilizer and Comfort Soap Co. Ltd. had all bandaged themselves together under the name of the West Toronto Sanitary Inspection Association. They had employed a sanitary engineer and two assistants, whose duty it was to patrol the district day and night in an endeavor to find means of stopping the smell nuisance.

W. D. Tefft, of the Harris company, told of improvements in their system of ventilation, and also in the sewer, by which means the catch basin was drained instead of being pumped out. When asked by Crown Attorney Greer how it was pieces of entrails had been found in the city sewers just outside their plant, the witness said it must have escaped while the workmen were cleaning the sewers.

When Charles Grant appeared for the Swift Canadian Co., asking for an adjournment as the firm is busy on war contracts, his honor told him that what he meant everything to the men to know that when they were wounded they would be cared for the best way possible.

Chaplains Attend. One Tells Incident of Prayer of Despatch Rider.

Capt. Arthur Carlyle, formerly pastor of All Saints Church in Windsor, who has just returned from a year in France as chaplain, was one of the speakers at the General Ministerial Association which met yesterday at the Central Y. M. C. A.

Captain J. W. Magwood, formerly pastor of Euclid Avenue Methodist Church, also spoke. He said there was need for a practical religion at the front.

"Have I heard real prayer at the front?" asked Capt. Magwood. "Yes, I have. I remember particularly a Canadian despatch rider who was given a message to convey to headquarters, the whole day's operations depending on his prompt delivery. The soldier, lifting his head, said: 'Oh, God, I don't give a what becomes of me personally, but carry me thru with this for England's sake.' Some people may call that blasphemous," said Capt. Magwood, "but I know it was a real prayer."

Capt. Pannell in Hospital. Former Balmy Beach Resident was Shot Down While Flying.

Capt. A. H. Pannell, who was formerly in the infantry in France, leading a platoon at the battle of Vimy Ridge, but later transferred to the air service, is in hospital in France, suffering from injuries received while flying. His machine was shot down, but fell over the British lines. He formerly lived at Balmy Beach, and enlisted with the American Legion, but went overseas with an Ottawa unit.

His Lawyer in Court. In an item published in the last issue of The Sunday World it was inferred that William McDowell had left the country following upon his connection with a charge of assault which was tried before Judge Coatsworth in the sessions Saturday morning. McDowell states this is not true. He was represented in court by his lawyer, and is now in the city. Arthur Redfern was sentenced to two months at the jail farm as a result of the trial, and Edward Bigly was fined $25.

I Hear They Want More!

More What?

More hospital trains, hospitals, ships, ambulances, rest stations, store depots, and equipment and supplies of all kinds for the saving and healing of our soldier boys across the seas. It now costs $300,000.00 a week to carry on the work of the British Red Cross, or $16,000,000.00 a year. Every minute of the day and night it costs $30 to minister to the sick and wounded and dying. We in Canada are going to help carry on this life-saving work for another year. Last year we did well, but this year we must do better, because the Need is Greater. The people of Canada have over $900,000,000 in the savings banks at 3 per cent. You can spare some of these savings for such a cause. The lives of our boys are surely worth YOUR sacrifice.

COUNCIL'S GRANT IS NEARLY DOUBLE

Aldermen Vote One Hundred and Twenty-Five Thousand Dollars.

WITHOUT DISSENT

Fifty Thousand More Than Last Year for British Red Cross Fund.

At the meeting of the board of control yesterday morning it was decided to recommend that the grant of the city to the British Red Cross Fund be $125,000.

The controllers received a deputa-tion consisting of Sir Edmund Walker, Norman Somerville, H. H. Williams and Noel Marshall and then went into private session with Finance Commissioner Bradshaw.

With a slight reluctance Mr. Bradshaw agreed to $125,000, $25,000 less than the deputa-tion had asked for. He said that this might be the last year that the grant would be so great as this year was.

In reply to a question from Controller O'Neill Norman Somerville said that it was expected that the million mark would be reached.

Controller O'Neill: "Will the response be equal to last year?" Sir Edmund: "We have to take into consideration the high cost of living. All we can say is that the campaign looks more hopeful today than a year ago."

Council Passes Recommendation. In two short minutes the city council came to order. The grant of $125,000 to the British Red Cross Fund and adjourned yesterday afternoon.

It was moved by Controller Cameron, seconded by Controller Shaw, that a grant of $125,000 be made to the British Red Cross Fund.

Without a dissenting voice the motion was carried by the thirteen members present and the meeting was adjourned.

Last Friday Mayor Church assured The World that Works Commissioner Harris would be back on duty yesterday, and one of the first things considered would be the Bloor street viaduct.

COURT OF REVISION CONFIRMS ASSESSMENT

Eagle and Globe Steel Company of England Will Pay Taxes as Manufacturing Business.

On the claim that it was only an agency and not a manufacturing business that was carried on at 26 Colborne street, J. L. Miller, representative of the Eagle and Globe Steel Company of England, appealed against an assessment of $4860 before the court of revision yesterday afternoon.

In the course of the evidence, however, it turned out that the appellant is paid a salary by the firm in England, and that he stated that the goods sent out were invoiced against him. The goods remained the property of the company until sold, when the sales were credited to the company. The assessment was confirmed.

The court reserved judgment on the first appeal of John Leckie, who has been paying taxes for five years and has never before made a complaint. He appealed against assessment of $40,000 on land and $51,084 on buildings on his property at 99 and 97 East King street.

Is a chartered accountant and a professional man within the meaning of the Assessment Act was the interesting question that faced the court of revision yesterday. John Touche, carrying on business as a chartered accountant in the Traders Bank Building, appealed against a business assessment of $7775, being 50 per cent of the real property value.

On the ground that accountants were not specified in the act it was claimed that they should be exempt, but the assessment was confirmed by the court.

APPLICATIONS FOR AID FOR PENSION SCHEMES

Mayor Says He is Opposed Until Ratepayers Vote on the Matter.

"I am thoroughly opposed to both applications unless the people vote on them," said Mayor Church yesterday afternoon in reference to two applications for aid in connection with pension schemes.

One is from the firemen's benefit fund, which will take $400,000 of the taxpayers' money to wipe out a deficit, and the other is in connection with the superannuation fund of the board of education, which will require over a million dollars from the city.

The mayor continued: "The city has no business to bargain away $1,000,000 of the taxpayers' money during war time. Both these funds are being exploited in some cases for the benefit of the few, and are in anything but a good financial condition. There are some cases in the firemen's fund where the pension paid per annum far exceeds the total amount paid in by the applicant all his life."

CORP. WELLS RETURNS.

Despite His Fifty-eight Years He Served Eighteen Months.

Corp. J. J. Wells, of 47 Jameson avenue, aged 58 years, has returned to his home here after doing his bit in the trenches. Despite his age he was able to pass the medical examination and went overseas with the 37th Battalion. He served eighteen months at the front, and was severely wounded in the abdomen at Vimy Ridge.

Corp. Wells was 21 years in the imperial army, and is a veteran of the South African war. He has three sons, one in the British navy, one of whom was wounded at the battle of Jutland.

SHOW DIFFICULTIES IN GETTING COAL

Representatives of Social Service Consider the Problem.

CONDITIONS WORSE

City to Be Asked to Provide Car for Cartage to Homes.

That the coal situation in Toronto is very acute and that it promises to become more so as the season advances unless measures are taken immediately to ensure sufficient coal for those whose circumstances prevented them from getting in a supply during the summer months, was very apparent at a meeting of representatives of social service and other workers held in the city yesterday morning.

One speaker told of a district in which there were known to be 25 families in need of coal. In this locality an instance had occurred of a soldier's home in which there was a new-born babe and no coal in the house. The mother had ordered coal some time previously, but none had arrived. Five dollars were spent in efforts to locate coal, and then there was no co-operation by which it could be taken to the house.

Another speaker stated that there was more coal in Toronto now than there was at this time last year, but that it was in the hands of institutions or of those who had ample means to get their own coal. It was pointed out by several speakers that it was not so much scarcity of coal that was the trouble, but that it was the difficulty of getting it to the homes.

Wants of Small Homes. Representing the Fred Victor Mission, Mr. Stopleford said that last year coal had been $8 a ton. This year there was absolutely no provision for any homes, and prices were higher. He proposed that an investigation be gone into to find out if it were possible for the city to meet the wants of small homes.

HARBOR COMMISSION WANTS CASE REOPENED

Asks Further Discussion of Question of Selling Four Acres in Ashbridge's Marsh.

Mayor Church stated yesterday that the harbor commission wants the case of the permit to purchase four acres of land on Ashbridge's marsh reopened.

The voting of the Board of Control on the question of the sale of the four acres is also to come before the next meeting of the board of control.

GUilty OF FORGERY.

On the charge of having forged the name of A. T. Tiley, a tenant, to a note and so obtaining the sum of $135 from Mrs. Mary Hendrie, W. J. Wilson was found guilty by Judge Winchester in the sessions court yesterday.

HON. N. W. ROWELL SETS FORTH HIS REASONS

Tells His Constituents of Steps Leading Up to Union Cabinet.

Hon. N. W. Rowell, K.C., has announced his retirement as a member of the legislature as a member of the union cabinet.

He touches upon the recent meetings in Ottawa, stating that when he was invited to enter the union cabinet he felt that the Liberals had put him to his duty to accept, feeling it to be in the best interests of the country.

His concluding words are significant. "Irrespective of party, I remain, etc."

NO NEED TO WORRY FOR COAL, SAYS MAYOR

When Navigation Closes Greater Quantities Will Come by Rail, in Opinion of Board of Control.

Mayor Church stated yesterday that he was looking after many cases of soldiers' dependents in need of fuel in the morning the board of control had a private session with several of the leading fuel dealers, who were not inclined to make any statement after the meeting.

The board thought that conditions would right themselves after the end of navigation, when rail haul coal would be shipped in greater quantities than at present.

There is no need to worry," said the mayor. "There will be plenty of coal."

FINED FOR ASSAULT.

Before Judge Winchester yesterday Benjamin Frost was found guilty on the charge of assaulting Mrs. M. S. Boun, of 259 Dundas street, and fined $75 or six months in the Ontario Reformatory. Of this amount $50 was to go to Mrs. Boun.

Railway Company Says its Experts Are Looking Into Values.

"I want to tell you that the city has lost no time in the Metropolitan Railway purchase," said Mayor Church yesterday. "We want to buy the railway at our own terms and make our own deal. If we leave it to the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board their decision only leaves us no time to appear. There is no time limit specified in the act after which we must leave it with them. We can take as much time as we want to."

Commissioner Bradshaw last week, and according to what was told there the situation is: "We are ready and have been ready for some time to go ahead with the deal, but the Mackenzie interests refuse to put a value on the franchise. They have forced the initiative on us and we are forced to take action at the urging of the ratepayers. For some time past they have had a very good excuse for being out of view and otherwise engaged on account of the C. N. R. purchase. As late as last Friday the finance commissioner wrote Sir William Mackenzie insisting that he set out his price for the road."

Statements Differ. The mayor's statement does not coincide at all points with that of Controller Shaw. Mr. Shaw said he was in the works department last week, and was told the company and the city were still haggling over the value of the franchise. He said that the value of the franchise was a big question on account of the market conditions, and as yet the city had received no statement from Mr. Moore regarding the value of the franchise and running rights of the road.

 TUESDAY MORNING, OCT. 16.

The Cry for Coal.
 Another assurance has been issued by the city hall and the coal dealers that Toronto is in no lack of coal. Sixty-eight per cent. of the coal supply for the winter is in the city, was the statement made yesterday. The citizen who is striving with other thousands to get a ton into his empty cellar is very dubious about the assertion. If there be 68 per cent. of our coal supply in the city, it must have disappeared entirely into the cellars of the wealthy or influential minority.

The World began last April, immediately after the winter coal crisis, to lay the facts of the situation before the authorities. We called on the city, on the governments, provincial and federal; on the railways, on the boards of trade, on all and sundry, to get busy and see that the suffering and inconvenience and loss of last winter would not be repeated. We have returned constantly to the subject, and but for the assertions that emanate from more or less official sources, the situation is very much worse than at a corresponding time last year.

The average citizen knows how he fares when he goes begging for a ton of coal. He is invited to buy pea coal or egg coal for his furnace. If he buys either he has a wretched time ahead. Egg coal will not suit an ordinary furnace unless it is broken up. Some citizens may buy it, and a hammer along with it, and do stone-pile practice every evening. A citizen who paid for his coal last May modestly requested delivery of two tons last week. He was too sanguine. He will call again. A prominent coal merchant said yesterday: "We are delivering coal just as rapidly as we can. That's all we can say." How ambiguous and unsatisfactory that statement is can best be judged by those who are waiting with hope deferred.

If we were in Germany the requirements of every household would be tabulated by the city authorities, and the exact amount of coal needed by the city would be known. Then, as supplies came in, delivery would be made in rotation, and that there will be plenty of coal would not rise up to face him in the storms and blizzards of January and February next. No systematized effort has been made as far as The World can learn, to get coal for the city since last spring. There has been running to and fro, there have been fuel officials appointed and investigations made, but thousands of people have no coal in their cellars and bitter weather may descend upon us any day. If we are fortunate the mild weather may continue, but the people should not be required to take such long chances.

Our one most certain remedy for the situation is the nationalization of the Grand Trunk Railway. That was the weak point last year. It does not appear to have been strengthened. With a co-ordinated railway service in Ontario the people would be a little less nervous about freezing to death.

Answer the Call to the Colors.

Young men who fall to respond to the national call for military service are not improving their position in the country or their possible chances in the army. Any idea that the operation of the act can be evaded is fallacious. Those who wish to be exempted and those who have a right to be exempted will save themselves much pain by going as quickly as possible to the medical examiner's office and reporting. Those who are eligible and know themselves to be so have a much better chance of exemption if they report early, for those who are found to be defaulting in their duty under the act will be sent to the front at once without further consideration. It should be understood that only about one man out of every five eligibles will be needed. Naturally the shirkers will first be taken.

The new draft method supersedes all volunteering, and the volunteer department is about ready to shut up shop. The divisions at the front are suffering a wastage which would wipe one or two of them out of existence in a comparatively short time, if there were no more reinforcements than the slender dribble of recruits from volunteering. The draft is therefore imperatively necessary. It is Canada's hope of preserving the national honor. All who are opposing it, who wield their influence against it, who try to evade it, or in any way tend to weaken its operation are simply traitors to the country. We are so far in Canada from understanding the gravity of the war, that this idea of treason has not sunk into our national consciousness. Yet, none the less, it is a fact that the man who belongs to the classes summoned for military service, who neglects or refuses to comply with the conditions of the act, is a traitor to Canada, an ally of the Germans, unconsciously, unintentionally, perhaps, but none the less as much a German sympathizer as any interned alien.

It is well for the men of the draft now called, to respond to once, and thus escape the stigma that no man cares to bear.

The Downfall of Authority.

"Authority has had a downfall," was the deliberate and pregnant utterance of Mr. Hamilton Fyfe at the Canadian Club yesterday towards the close of his interesting address. Mr. Fyfe has seen the war on four fronts; he has been in the discomforts as well as thru the comparative ease with which special corresponding is now carried on in France. He has been threatened with being shot at down by the British authorities, in the early weeks of the war, when Lord Kitchener was rabid on the subject, and in Italy, Russia and Rumania, the glimpses he gave us of his experiences were as fascinating as war vignettes could be. Mr. Fyfe's charming voice and accent lent an additional pleasure to his remarks.

Authority has had its downfall in this war. This was the striking statement that remained after all was said and done. Somehow the little anecdotes gave authenticity to the assertion. Nicolai Nicolaevitch, the big soldier man, trembling before the handful of correspondents; the British general threatening to shoot them, merely because they were correspondents; the Russian censor, with his "Tak!" These and other incidents lent verisimilitude, trifling, perhaps, in character, but for the time and place and tone of the address, satisfyingly suggestive of the correctness of Mr. Fyfe's generalization. There must be exceptions in all generalizations, and there have been notable exceptions amid the chaos into which the war swept the traditions of government.

Mr. Fyfe spoke movingly of the responsibility resting on the people, of whom governments were only the representatives, to see that there would be a change for better things. If Mr. Fyfe represents the spirit under Lord Northcliffe, and inspiring Lord Northcliffe's newspaper, his remarks on the downfall of authority are illuminating. No one has contributed more to reveal the weakness of those in high places than Lord Northcliffe himself. If he takes care to see that there is someone more efficient to take the place of the leaders he destroys, his role of journalistic Warwick may have happy results for the empire. There is an old proverb, however, about not throwing out dirty water before there is a supply of clean. But undoubtedly improvements must begin at the root. If the people are not sound, what is to prevent their leaders being rotten?

Mr. Fyfe's testimony to the men was that they were splendid—magnificent. The political future of the country unquestionably lies with the demobilized army. If the spirit that distinguishes these admittedly splendid men is brought back from the trenches and infused into civil life, with all its qualities of patriotic sacrifice, self-control, discipline, willing service, loyalty to able leadership, there will be no occasion to despair of the country. But, if the army virtues are allowed to lapse, once more into civilian defects, we may have to face, as Mr. Fyfe devoutly prayed God forbid, the degeneration of the nation once more, and all the horrors of another world conflict.

The Kaiser's Foreknowledge.

Evidence continues to accumulate of the guilty premeditation of the world-war by Germany. Ambassador Gerard's book appears to have given a stimulus to other confidential agents, and Henry Morgenthau, ex-minister of the United States to Turkey, has given confirmation of the expressed expectation of war by the Kaiser. When the damning evidence is all summed up its completeness and its indisputableness may even surprise the Kaiser himself.

Mr. Morgenthau states that as early as May the Emperor of Austria was expecting the war. Weeks before the Sarajevo tragedy the emperor had told his Turkish ambassador that war was inevitable. Confirmation also comes from Mr. Morgenthau, in the statement made to him by Baron Waagenheim, the German ambassador to Turkey, that the date of the war had been fixed early in July at a conference in Berlin. This is undoubtedly the notorious Potsdam gathering of July 5. Waagenheim made the same statement to the Marquis Gauron, the Italian ambassador at Constantinople. Waagenheim must have been a gossip, and this is more likely than that three reputable diplomats should have concocted the story. Besides there is much collateral confirmation.

Unless Kaiserism is destroyed, concludes Mr. Morgenthau, democracy will be destroyed. There isn't room for them both in the same world. When Canadians have thoroughly assimilated this basic fact there will be a stronger interest in ending the war in the only way a war can be ended, by defeating the foe. This means supporting the army to the limit of our resources.

Other People's Opinions

Not Satisfied With the Arbitration Board.

Editor World: Now that the strike in the street cleaning department is over and the ordinary citizen has time to think over the situation, a great many are wondering why the board of control did not propose the same solution of the trouble at the first, and not wait till they were absolutely forced to do so, and only then after the men had suffered ten days' idleness, with all that it will mean to them and also the inconvenience it has caused to the citizens at large. To the ordinary citizen it seems so. And, Mr. Editor, if the statement which emanated from the mayor's office, that an outside firm was ready to come in and operate the department with a saving to the citizens of $25,000, then as a citizen and a taxpayer the sooner (out of justice to the taxpayer) we have a searching investigation into this department the better.

Allied Foreigners and the Returned Soldiers.

Editor World: Being an eyewitness of a brush between allied foreign storekeepers and two returned soldiers (I believe they came from the famous 15th Battalion), both with a leg off and on crutches, on Saturday evening at 9 o'clock, 13th instant, at the corner of Parliament street and Wilson avenue, I should be glad if you would publish the facts of the case, as the allied foreigner is now practically doing as he likes in Canada at the present time, and God knows what they will do after all our own British-born have gone to the front. Our women-folk, even now, dare not go out without an escort, even in broad daylight, because of their ogling and insulting remarks. Even the little babies are not safe from them. In the City of Hamilton they are forming vigilance committees to deal with them. I think it is high time our government took hold and put them on government work at a soldier's pay under guard, or make them enlist either in our own army or go back to their own country and enlist there. They won't fight for their own country, and they stay here and reap big wages while our boys are fighting for them. Is this right, or fair? These are the facts: The soldiers, accompanied by their wives, wished to buy something; the price was high (albeit it was not watered bacon from the Wm. Davies Company). A remark was passed about it, and the foreigner ordered them away. (Mind you, and these men had been in France fighting for this same foreigner that he might live). They refused to be ordered around by them. The foreigners put one of the party to the ground and got his crutch and ran in the store with it. The soldier's wife ran after him and tried to get it, when another one of the same breed of foreigners picked up a chair and was going to strike down the woman. She was defenceless. Now this shows what they are. Afraid of a man on crutches and cowardly and dirty enough to raise a chair to strike a woman down for standing by her husband who left a leg in France that this foreigner might live in plenty while our boys fight for them and the dear old flag. Is the Orange order, G. W. V. Association, Sons of England, and the A.R. men and the British-born going to stand for this any longer. We have got to do something now. The foreigner will be in the majority when our boys are all gone. Cannot our mayor call a public meeting to see what is to be done? And then to think that Controller Cameron would give them the vote!

THE TORONTO WORLD

WOMEN WITH BRITISH ARMY

BY LINGCOLN LORENZO.

Only sixty years ago Florence Nightingale practically introduced women into auxiliary army work, which at that time consisted solely of nursing the sick and wounded.

Today the British Women's Auxiliary Army Corps is doing the work of printers, gardeners, grocers, clerks, librarians, motor drivers, shoemakers, wine waitresses, butlers and cooks, at the Bases and along the communication lines in France, thus freeing thousands of men for trench duty.

It was early this year when the first women were sent over the channel as an experiment. So successful was the experiment that work was at once begun on hostels and hotted camps for the women, the lack of which had proven the chief obstacle to the larger success of the experiment. Already there are accommodations for over 4000 women with the British army in France. They are amply equipped with uniforms, khaki coat-trous, stockings, shoes, leggings and brown felt hat. The higher grades are given a khaki coat and skirt. The badge of the corps, a laurel wreath surmounting the initials "W.A.A.C.," is worn on the shoulder strap with the badge designating the wearer's rank, a combination of roses and fleur-de-lis, which varies from the double rose worn by Mrs. Chairman Watson, widow of Sir Eric Geddes, first lord of the admiralty, who is the controller of the W. A. A. C., to the single rose of a Class II quarter-masters, attached under war office orders.

Women are allowed to enlist for a year or "for the duration." They are accepted for home service at a minimum age of 18, and for service in France at 20. I saw a detachment of them off recently from their camp at Aldenhot to France. At 2 o'clock, preparatory to entraining, they paraded in front of their barracks in their army uniforms of brown felt hats, khaki coat-trous, leggings and tan kid gloves. Their greatcoats and their modest kit followed them on an army transport. They consisted of Scotch, Irish and north country girls, mostly "hello" girls for the base telephone exchanges in France, and girl telegraph operators.

They marched away down the dusty road to entrain, with a military band at their head, in graceful swinging step, between lines of cheering civilians and soldiers. In charge was their forewoman, with rank equal to that of an n. c. o.; into the rear was given place to a commissioned administrator who would take the company to France.

At the station soldiers crowded against the barriers and threw them chocolates and "good lucks" as their train pulled out.

The corps is administered under the supervision of the administrative department of the war office, and has its own selection and medical boards, both composed of women. Its London headquarters are in Devonshire House, where the records are being distributed into these categories:

- 1.—Clerks, librarians, accountants, typists, shorthand typists.
- 2.—Cooks, waitresses, wine waitresses, butlers, domestic staff (housemaids, laundresses, vegetable women, pantry maids, sweepers, washers-up, charwomen), product women (Army Transport).
- 3.—Motor transport service.
- 4.—Storehouse women (other than those under No. 7), checkers, packers and unskilled labor, tailors, sewers, messengers, shoemakers, bakers.
- 5.—Telephone and postal services.
- 6.—Miscellaneous services.
- 7.—Technical women (employed with the Royal Flying Corps and Army Service Corps Motor Transport).

For three months the corps has been sending small units to France, as hostels were completed for their accommodation. Its organization is due in a measure to the Women's Legion, which had been successful in placing the women in motor drivers' positions for the Army Service Corps and the Royal Flying Corps. In April an officer was sent to France to make a thorough investigation into the feasibility of conserving man-power by the use of women for lighter jobs. He expressed the opinion that women could advantageously be employed at the bases and in certain positions along the lines of communication, but he found, too, that accommodations in France were only available for the troops, and until proper quarters were erected it was utterly out of the question to send women to France.

This report led to the formation last June of the Women's Auxiliary Army Corps, by a consolidation of all the bodies which had unofficially been carrying on war work among women previously. A chief controller was placed at the head of this corps, and under her a deputy controller and heads of the corps' various sections. Area controllers supervise the arrangements for the corps in districts at home and abroad, and each hostel, according to its size, has an administrator, or assistant administrator.

At present the principal quarters are hotted camps, and in a few bases, hostels taken over by the corps. These quarters can accommodate from 28 to 500 women. Some three months have now passed since the first party went to France, and since that time they have been going over the channel at intervals in parties of from 30 to 60.

Thus far its leaders view the W. A. A. C. as a little more than the beginnings of a vast system. It is so far, they say, merely an assured success.

Nor is France the only place where the British have used women on their army work. In July, 1914, only 156 women were employed in the war office in London. Today, including the cable and postal censorship department, 7700 women are employed.

What the W. A. A. C. roster will mount to inside a year is beyond conjecture. But depend on this, that Miss Britling also is seeing it thru.

POLITICAL NEWS

For the moment the Conservative party hereabouts has been "shot to pieces" by union government, and it will take a lot of careful work to get things straightened out, so as to accord with the new proposition. The organizations are in the air. The party had been let run down; and the ministers had neglected the party fences. Said a worker yesterday:

"I do not say I am against it—it is necessary to take it in order to save the country in war time; but owing to the bad shape the Conservative party of Ontario and Toronto was in at the time, 'we are all shot to pieces.' The Liberal ministers in the new government are at least the equal of the Conservative ones, and they are full of energy. Our ministers who are left are not in good shape. We have lost Rogers and we are to lose Cochrane; and we can't carry Sir George Foster in Toronto any longer; he is to go back to New Brunswick; Sir Edmund Oester is to drop out; those that are left have not grown in strength or activity. We have no recognized leaders who stand for public ownership and progressive ideas, and yet Toronto is the stronghold of these ideas. Not one Has Toronto Conservatism ever offered a seat to a labor party man? Now our party will have to help to find a seat for at least one Liberal and for a labor man. And we ought to have at least one progressive member to take the place of one of the worn out ministers, out to be out of the government. Everywhere you go Conservatives are dissatisfied—not so much with union government as with lack of capacity in higher places to keep the party in line with the principles it has professed. The Albany Club, as a political factor, 'is shot to pieces'; so are the Conservative associations—at least the ones that have fresh leaders who grasp the revolution that has been put over the Conservative party at the moment."

But you should hear some Liberals talk about the Tory party's condition. A prominent Liberal of Toronto, holding a high position in the council of his party, returned from the capital yesterday, where he was in conference with the old chief and his near associates. He said that quarrelling had already commenced in the Tory ranks. He also prophesied that the union will not last, and started in to figure it out this way:

 Seats in all, 234.
 Laurier in east, 100.
 Laurier in west, 53.
 Unionists, 81.
 Majority for Laurier, 72.

Certain Conservative members, he claims, say that Sir Robert Borden lost all sight of the probability of the Conservative party being obliterated by the formation of a union government. The party is at least seriously endangered, he states, and marked discount has broken out in the ranks.

What will come out of it is that after the Conservatives have talked it all over and discussed the weakness of their organization and lack of capacity in some of their leaders, they will get down to a better feeling and a sounder appreciation of the new condition of affairs. But there must be some new men come forward.

And the Liberals are having their own troubles, but they haven't started in quite so soon. They will all be in the air in a few days.

Toronto's nine new seats were represented in the late parliament as follows:
 East York: Part of city east of Greenwood, in ward one, by W. F. Maclean; Scarborough Township, by Capt. Wallace of Centre York.
 East Toronto: Largely by Sir Edward Kemp.
 South Toronto: By Claude Macdonell.
 Centre Toronto: By Edmund Bristol.
 Toronto West: By Sir Edmund Oester.
 Parkdale: By Sir Edmund Oester.
 North Toronto: Part by Sir George Foster; part by W. F. Maclean.
 West York: Ward 7, by W. F. Maclean; Etobicoke and Vaughan, by Capt. Wallace of Centre York.
 South York: By W. F. Maclean.
 Old South York gives up large sections to East York, to West York, to North York; and the balance to the new South York; all the other former ridings are reduced and a new one created in Parkdale out of West Toronto.

Amsterdam, Oct. 14.—The Berlin Lokal Anzeiger, which is a semi-official organ, definitely announces the resignation of Admiral von Capelle as minister of marine.

OBTAIN PEACE BY POWER OF SWORD

Carl Ackerman Says Allies Cannot Consider it Now.

Montreal, Oct. 15.—Carl W. Ackerman, war correspondent, who was in Germany for some time after the war started in an address before the Canadian Club of this city in the Windsor Hotel today, said: "We cannot think of peace today; our peace preparations must be the preparations for war. We must fight until we can talk peace with honor and dignity with the people who are the chosen representatives of the people of enemy countries."

This declaration was made in answer to a tentative peace movement outlined by H. G. Wells and Prof. Elliot of Harvard. Mr. Ackerman stated that if Dr. Elliot's suggestion were followed of selecting unofficial delegates from each country, the delegates from all the enemy countries would be chosen by the Kaiser as the German Government controls all the governments of the enemy countries. Mr. Ackerman admitted today that in 1915, he was pro-German, but that he changed his views after the Lusitania was sunk and he had made his first trip to the front.

ENEMY'S CROPS SMALL

Germany's Economic Outlook Bad and Austria's is Still Worse.

London, Oct. 14.—The Press Association, from a reliable source, publishes an economic review of the condition of the central powers, in the course of which it says that as a result of special investigation ordered by the chancellor of the 1917 harvest, it is estimated that the yield will be 40 per cent. lower than in normal years for wheat, and 45 per cent. lower for rye, oats and barley. The total harvest of wheat and rye amounts to 7,500,000 tons, compared with 13,000,000 tons in 1913. The shortage will be partially compensated from the Rumanian granaries. The situation in Austria-Hungary, it is declared, is worse than in Germany.

action was received this evening. "There is quiet along the front. Our artillery has directed a weak fire against the enemy to prevent him from constructing fortifications. The enemy has strongly fortified the heights ten kilometers southwest of Savasdal and the Marcell regions."

ARTILLERY VERY ACTIVE

Paris, Oct. 15.—The announcement by the war office tonight reads: "In the region of the plateau between Albes and Cronnes the artillery activity was violent during the course of the day. Several encounters occurred in the Champagne, west of Auberville. There was an intermittent cannonade on the rest of the front. Two German captive balloons were brought down today, one by our special guns and the other by one of our aviators."

ACTIVITIES IN BELGIUM

Paris, Oct. 15.—The official statement from Belgian headquarters tonight reads: "Yesterday one of our patrols carried out a reconnoitering expedition against enemy organizations, north of Dixmude. There were bombardments at various points along our front. Our artillery shelled the enemy installations and the neighborhood of Handevans Canal. Last night German aviation dropped several bombs on our positions."

Heavy Artillery Actions

New York, Oct. 15.—The Associated Press war review says: "Heavy artillery actions are again in progress on the Flanders front. In the light of previous experience this may be viewed as indicating German counter-battery work against the intensive British artillery fire in progress preparatory to another push."

The British artillery now has superior positions from which to work, as there must by this time have been ample opportunity for the heavy guns to be put in position on the dominating high ground taken in the recent advances. It thus seems probable that Field Marshal Haig will not delay his next stroke beyond the time when these guns have had an opportunity to break up such concrete obstructions as the Germans have been able to construct in what they describe as their "defensive zone," which week by week is being forced further eastward.

THE WEATHER

Meteorological Office, Toronto, Oct. 15. (3 p.m.)—Pressure is lowest tonight in the Lower St. Lawrence Valley, and nowhere very high. PLAYS, PICTURES AND MUSIC

THOUGHT OF MARRIAGE DRIVES HIM TO DRINK

Henry Miller Appears in Attractive Comedy at Princess.

There is a treat in store for the theatregoer this week, for Henry Miller, in the most delightful of whimsical comedies, is offering the quaintest entertainment of the early season at the new Princess Theatre. Henry Miller has long been conceded one of the most brilliant actor-producers on the American stage. This week in conjunction with Bronckton Hoff, one of England's foremost playwrights, Mr. Miller is establishing himself on an even higher plane in the regard of his many Toronto friends who will follow him delightedly thru two hours and a half of charming fantasy in "Anthony in Wonderland" will please, and because of the exceptional acting of Bronckton Miller's entire company this comedy will satisfy. There is novelty, too, beyond what is to be found in the average production—and there is the old story of love, romance and adventure without which even the sophisticated theatregoer of today are never quite satisfied.

YOUTH'S TEMPTATIONS AND TRIALS DEPICTED

Allegorical Drama, "Experience," Attracts Large Audience.

"Experience," which opened at the Royal Alexandra Theatre last evening, may best be described as an allegorical drama, which in a powerful manner tells the story of youth, his foibles and temptations and the many tangled paths he treads on his way to seek fame and fortune. Fresh from a four weeks' engagement at the Manhattan Opera House, New York City, last night's performance exceeded the expectations of the crowded house that thronged to see this much talked of morality drama. The story opens in the "land where dreams begin" when Love (Floy Murray), Youth (Raymond Suckle), and Ambition (John Todd), are seen. Youth is bidding Love farewell to leave for the city with Ambition and Experience (William Ingersoll), to seek his fortune. As he goes the other two peel off a farewell, and he goes to the "Street of Vagilation," where he meets with Pleasure (Hilda Dorrington), a struggle goes on between Ambition and Pleasure. "Come with me," cries out the two, and Youth hesitates. Pleasure says, "Down the 'Primrose Path.'" Here he meets with Slander, Deceit, Conscience, and the many fretters of that kind, and in his listening ear Slander pours her subtle poison, ever with the remark, "Don't I told you?" but as Experience tells him, "Wise men are deaf when Slander speaks." Passion, played by Dorothy Neville strives to lure him to her, but he is arrested by the sound of the Corridors of Chance. He meets with Temptation and seeks his fortune on the roulette wheel, but Despair takes possession, and he leaves his all at the invitation of Chance, who tells him to go on and play. He loses, but he finds the path leads him to the "Street of Disillusion." Here, one by one his former friends pass him by as they go. Work stops him and asks him to come with him, but he refuses, and appeals to Wealth, who offers him money and he goes in search of Work.

In the house of "The Last Resort," where is depicted a typical bovary reason, he meets with a waiter. Ambition forgotten, he is accused of theft by Wealth while attempting to shield "Prudly" (Gaudy) from the taunts of Poverty. In the "Street of Remorse" he wanders, stricken by the thought of his sins, and is led by Deceit to escape from his thoughts, and follows him to the "House of Lost Virtue," where he is surrounded by a space. Degradation, Crime and their associates, and seeks his fortune on the amidst sordid surroundings to obtain a few grains of the drug. "Follow Deceit," cries Poverty in derision, "and you will get along." There is not a particle of doubt that he has "cornered the market" in burlesque by selecting all the heavy type of chorus songs. They all have exceptionally good voices, and each of them would make a seal register two hundred dollars. Edric Harlowe is in a class by herself as the singing principal of the company. She is responsible for the great number of the songs in which the chorus take part with the result that a new singing standard is set for this theatre. Miss Harlowe offers a good vaudeville turn, in which she tells stories and impersonates an English and a French. Her lead in the entire chorus in a positive act in the last act.

Billy Watson tries hard to keep the show running even and brings out many a good laugh with his witty remarks.

THE BEEF TRUST HAS CORNERED THE MARKET

Billy Watson Produces Unique Comedy at the Gayety Theatre.

Farther than ever Billy Watson and a large company of burlesque celebrities entertained the big matinee crowd that thronged the Gayety Theatre last afternoon to see the opening performance. Watson's show is known as the "beef trust" for the chorus of big women, that he always brings along. There is not a particle of doubt that he has "cornered the market" in burlesque by selecting all the heavy type of chorus songs. They all have exceptionally good voices, and each of them would make a seal register two hundred dollars. Edric Harlowe is in a class by herself as the singing principal of the company. She is responsible for the great number of the songs in which the chorus take part with the result that a new singing standard is set for this theatre. Miss Harlowe offers a good vaudeville turn, in which she tells stories and impersonates an English and a French. Her lead in the entire chorus in a positive act in the last act.

THIRTY BURLESQUERS IN GOOD BILL AT STAR

Oriental Musical Extravaganza Company Presents a Beauty Chorus in Side-Splitting Comedy.

Three side-splitting burlesques, introducing a company of thirty burlesquers, are given by "The Orientals" at the Star Theatre this week. Lee Stevens and Gordon Producing Company are presenting "The Four Husbands." In this delightful musical comedy, comedy and Kitty Bryan, is told the story of a flirtatious young society girl who marries four husbands. She believes that love is a game and chooses her "husbands" accordingly. As the play progresses, she is a clever scheme to cure the captivated Phyllis. The action takes place on an island of "Fort Hercules," where the other members of the cast demonstrated burlesque life in the American army. The closing burlesque, "At the Fair," is a comedy with funny situations, and is brought to a close with a farce on the race track in which a lot of new slang sayings are uttered.

The chorus is a beauty one, and the twenty singing and dancing damsels are all attractively attired in brightly-colored costumes. One of the chorus girls is the one in which the chorus girls appear in kilt. Dolly Clifford, Daisy Gallagher and Jean Schuler are the leading feminine characters.

CORSICAN STORY RICH IN LORE OF ISLAND

Woman of Mystery Helps to Solve Difficulty of Girl.

"To the Death" is the feature picture at the Regent this week, with Olga Petrova as Bianca, playing the leading role.

It is a rich, colorful story of the southern part of Corsica, the island where Napoleon was born. Bianca Sylva, a lacemaker and sculptress, who is the sole support of her younger sister Rosa, goes to Paris to make the most of her talent in art. In her attempt to find her sister dying, and in Rosa's deathbed she swears vengeance on her betrayer. The true culprit is the head of the secret society, but he lays the blame on a man who is in love with Bianca, and thru this mistake Bianca stabs him. Thru the agency of a woman of mystery who turns out to be the villain's wife he is brought to justice, and with the recovery of the hero everything ends happily.

Two other special features this week are Richard and Mary Gray, two clever dancing children, and the noted soprano Lucille Anger with a number of songs.

The Pathé News depicting the ruthlessly methodical of the Hun, the Regent Weekly and the Universal animal show, showing the first two games of the world's series concludes an excellent program.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH.

A verdict of accidental death was returned by the jury in the inquest at the Regent Theatre last night on the body of John Munroe. Munroe was badly injured when struck by a car at the corner of Spadina avenue and Queen street on Sept. 20. He was removed to the Westmount hospital, where he died last Monday.

Q. O. R. AUXILIARY.

A very successful talent-tea, bridge and bazaar was held by the 16th Q. O. R. Auxiliary in Grand Hall, Toronto, last evening. The president, Mrs. Leveson, and an enthusiastic body of helpers.

SPECTATORS CHEERED "FALL OF ROMANOFFS"

Inner History of Russian Court Shows on Screen.

Cheer upon cheer filled the Grand Theatre on Monday afternoon at the opening performance of "The Fall of the Romanoffs" in the scene where the czar and his family are forced to abdicate showing strongly the feeling of Toronto on the Russian revolution.

"I am heart and soul for Russia!" said the czar. "And I am for Germany!" said the czar's wife. Which explains in part what caused the downfall of the ruling house of Russia.

"The film is a most wonderful one, and one which ought to be seen by everyone, as it is of great historical value. The causes leading up to the revolution and the refusal of the notables to fire on the peasant people and finally the great Kerensky in the act of exhorting the council to hold on for liberty are shown in a graphic and dramatic manner. The villain Rasputin, pretending to be a prophet, worms his way into the heart of the superstitious czar when I did not believe his prophecies which came true. The exile of the monk Ilodor for turning traitor to the emperor, the awful illness of the little carevitch and the supposed cure by Rasputin, the masked band of men who at these moments see him at a dinner—these are portrayed vividly on the screen. Religious fanaticism joined to ignorance, but moved by a cunning mind, rules the great Russia thru its ruler. The secret wireless of the empress is shown, where she communicated with her cousin, the German emperor. The weak vacillating czar, pens in hand ready to sign a secret peace with Germany, shows a spark of a better nature when he fights against it. A truly great film, that ought not to be missed, will be shown all this week, afternoon and evening, at the Grand Theatre."

IRREGULARITY IN MINING MARKET

Small Gains and Losses Recorded in Light Volume of Trading.

Dealings on the Standard Mining Exchange yesterday did not point to any increased public interest in mining stocks.

In general, the market was inclined to be conservative, but losses were small, and in a few instances, firmness was shown.

Among the stocks, McIntyre was actively traded in, nearly 7000 shares changing hands, the stock receding 1/8 of a point.

FINE SHOWING IS MADE BY KIRKLAND PORPHYRY

Number Four Vein Displays Width of 54 Feet—Free Gold Visible.

As the result of a special trip to Kirkland Lake, Hamilton B. Wills, on his return to Toronto yesterday, expressed the opinion that the outlook for the Kirkland Porphyry Gold Mines is one of great promise.

He was shown over the property by Managing Director Cecil and his fully shared the enthusiasm of the latter regarding the mine.

"I was indeed surprised on my arrival to find that the No. 4 vein in stripping showed a width of 54 feet," said Mr. Wills. "Free gold was easily to be seen with the naked eye. This vein will probably prove up equal to that of the Orr vein which is acknowledged by those I came in contact with to be one of the very best gold-bearing veins to be found anywhere in northern Ontario. A test pit has been sunk on the No. 4 vein, and the ore shows high mineralization. As this vein parallels the Orr vein about 300 feet to the south and apparently runs directly across the Wettable property, the developments of the next few months will very likely prove of the utmost importance to the Kirkland Porphyry Gold Mines. From what I saw, I am firmly convinced that this property will yet prove to be one of the very best mines and regular producers in the Kirkland Lake camp."

"Mr. Cecil is making excellent progress in the work of installing his electric plant, the power having already been harnessed on and the compressor plant is being rapidly completed. It is his intention to put this plant into operation on Monday next, after which underground progress will be made at an accelerated rate."

Mr. Wills brought back some free-zeal, showing an average mineralization of about $22 to the ton.

RUSSIAN ISSUES WEAK

Other Securities on London Market Show a Firm Under-tone.

London, Oct. 15.—The latest war news caused weakness in Russian issues on the London stock exchange today. The market was all flat at 310. The rest of the market had a good under-tone. Gil-ged securities and industrial shares were maintained by weak orders. Chinese and Peruvian bonds were the best of the other securities. Argentine rails recovered, but American securities were lifeless.

Money supplies were scarcer and discount rates were firm. It was reported that the new war bonds are selling at the rate of 224.00 today.

GOING TO EXTREMES

Steady Liquidation in New York is Reflected in Montreal Trading.

Received by Heron & Co.'s private wire: Montreal, Oct. 15.—Lower New York prices had the usual depressing influence here, and local stocks were decidedly heavy. Stocks were well taken on the declines and all offerings were easily absorbed. There is no doubt that the week-end news to cause weakness in other market, and the street is at a loss to account for the steady liquidation which is going on. No doubt this liquidation will be carried to too great an extreme, just as 1917 prices were raised beyond real values.

CORN MARKET WEAK WITH FAIR WEATHER

Excellent Drying Conditions in United States Affect Chicago Trade.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—Conditions just right for drying out the corn crop had a bearish influence today on the corn market. Prices closed nervous, 1/4 to 1/2 cent lower, with December at $1.12 to $1.12 1/2.

October finally gave way with corn after the fact seemed evident that a lull had developed in export business. Much reduced stocks in warehouses were looked upon as certain to be disclosed by the morning's statement this afternoon and the belief was later justified. Lower quotations on hogs failed to attract buyers.
