EXPLANATION OF CALENDAR PAGES.

The Publisher of this Almanac, with a view to increase its circulation and usefulness, has for several years past, adapted its calculations for the whole country. His plan has been everywhere appreciated and is still continued. The Moon's changes are given for five different places, viz: Quebec, Montreal, Kingston, Toronto, and London. The rising and setting of the Sun are given for Montreal and Toronto. The rising and setting of the Moon are given with sufficient exactness for all practical purposes. The weather prognostications are again made according to the table of the celebrated Dr. Herschel; and for extraordinary accuracy, Miller's Almanac stands without any competition.

FEBRUARY.—Concerning pruning, it is not good to do too much. Don't cut away all the low branches so as to leave the tree with a tall, slender, naked stem, fully exposed to all the excesses of heat and cold, dryness and dampness. Let a tree be allowed to have its own way, and it will be surrounded in summer with a breastwork of foliage. The lower branches and spray will break the force of the winds in winter. The objection that low branches are a hindrance in ploughing is only another reason why they should be suffered to remain. Among the many enemies of fruit trees, none are more remorseless and destructive than the plough. It does incurable mischief, by breaking roots, bruising bark, and mutilating branches. A plough ought never to pass nearer to a fruit tree than the tips of its lowest branches. Let the spade be used in loosening the soil, and removing the grass close about the trunk.

MARCH.—The American Stock Journal speaks very highly of the Berkshire breed of swine. These swine are black, not a very serious fault. They mature early, fatten well on limited quantities of food, and are excellent breeders. It is claimed that they are less liable to disease than any other breed, and that their flesh is the most delicate pork, while the live animal is the most hardy. They have grown to an immense size, and are a good breed for crossing with others. In England the Suffolks are considered the most profitable breed. They have most of the good qualities of the Berkshire and are not black. If well kept and taken care of they will make the best selling pork. They were until lately the leading breed in America.

APRIL.—Some kinds of manure are more liable to be injured by what is called firefang than others. Horse manure, if allowed to lie in considerable quantities, is apt to undergo the process of fermentation under high heat, when it assumes a mouldy whitish appearance and becomes very light. It suffers an immense loss, so much so that its virtue is gone and as compared with unheated manure, it will produce scarcely any appreciable effect. The fertilizing qualities, especially ammonia, are thrown off, and the mass is left inert and useless. In the management of manures, therefore, care should be taken to prevent too great a heat by composting and forking over. Loam and muck, if mixed freely under the stables, will preserve the heap, prevent fire-fanging, and thus prove very useful. Compost the manure heap through the winter when opportunity serves.

MAY.—In a recent discussion before the Herkimer County Farmers Club, Judge Owen gave his views on the influence of various kinds of feed for cows in order to the production of butter. He did not think turnips of much value in this respect—much less than potatoes, which were regarded as beneficial for a change. The best results had been produced by feeding Indian Meal—about two quarts twice a day to each cow. A number of experiments were made in preparing the meal, but the best results followed from feeding it in a dry state. With this quantity of meal and a small allowance of hay, a Holderness cow produced fourteen pounds of butter per week. The highest point reached was forty-one pounds in fifteen days, besides thirty quarts of milk in the meantime for family use.

JUNE.—If you have not had time to clean up about the farm and house since spring set in, perhaps you may have time about now. One often sees about the barn yard of some farmers, old waggons, wheels, lumber, wood scattered about, logs lying by the road side, and many other things which tend to make the place present a very disagreeable appearance. Why not be tidy and clean about the premises; set things to rights; make the place look better than ever before. Then inside the house perhaps the kitchen or some other room wants a little white wash. Perhaps the wife or daughter wants a room or two papered. Possibly the house or windows need a little paint outside or in. It pays better in the long run to do all such things at the right time. None know better than the Farmer that a stitch in time saves nine, yes even ninety-nine, and often nine hundred and ninety-nine.

IF YOU WANT GOOD STATIONERY GO TO HAIGHT'S.

JULY.—The Strawberry seems to adapt itself to a wide range of soil and location, but there are some conditions that should be avoided. For early berries, select a warm southern exposure, and plant on such a spot the early varieties. Almost any soil that will produce a good crop of garden vegetables will do for strawberries. Always avoid a wet piece of ground, peat meadow, or other low place, for on such land, though a large growth of foliage may be obtained and possibly a fair crop of fruit, the berries will be of light colour, soft, of poor flavour. On low wet lands there will also be danger from water and ice in winter. Avoid very dry ground, as the crop may be lessened by hot dry weather, and it may be out off altogether.

AUGUST.—It is sometimes observable that fruit trees, even the varieties having well established habits of productiveness—are a long time in coming into bearing, or bear sparingly. This is an indication that the tree is receiving too high cultivation, in which case, the forces are expended in rapid growth, and in the formation of leaf-buds instead of fruit-buds. The remedy lies in whatever course tends to retard the circulation of the sap, inducing the production of flower, instead of leaf-buds. Cessation of manuring, and the neglect of cultivation will bring the tree into bearing. Other measures are sometimes resorted to, such as root pruning, pruning in midsummer, bending down the branches, etc. The two latter have been tried with good effect. Judgment should be exercised as to the causes of unfruitfulness.

SEPTEMBER.—Onions have sold at very good prices, quite remunerative. If the maggot lets them alone, a good crop can be easily raised, and made to yield bountifully. Before the maggot nuisance was known, four or five hundred bushels to the acre was not considered a remarkable crop. Old, mellow, rich land is best. Onions are an exception to the ordinary rule, and seem to do better year after year on the same land. Manure heavily with well rotted manure. Ashes are also good for this crop. Sow as early as the ground is in condition, using plenty of seed so as to allow some plants for the maggots. It is easier and better to thin them out, than to put them in later in the season. This note may be read in March.

OCTOBER.—A raw mellow apple is digested in an hour and a half, while boiled cabbages require five hours. The most healthful dessert that can be placed on the table is a baked apple. If eaten frequently at breakfast, with coarse bread and butter, without meat or flesh of any kind, it has admirable effect on the general system, often removing constipation, correcting acidities, and cooling off febrile conditions more effectually than the most approved medicines. If families could be induced to substitute apples—sound and ripe—for pies, cakes, and sweet-meats, with which children are too frequently indulged, there would be a diminution in the sum total of the Doctor's bills, in a single year, sufficient to lay in a stock of delicious apples for a whole season's use.

ST. ANDREW'S DAY.

NOVEMBER.—About barns, should they be tight or open? There are differences of opinion. Some say the hay keeps better when the barn is open and airy. These say that the air circulating freely prevents the hay from heating and spoiling. Others say the hay will be sweeter and fresher if the building is kept quite tight, and all wind excluded. As to the comfort of animals there can be no dispute. They must suffer from loosely-jointed buildings called barns. We do not believe in allowing wide cracks or open joints even where hay is to be stowed, and should prefer to have hay stored in a tight place. But we would give the proper ventilation, and we believe that no barn should be built for storing hay or keeping cattle without such an arrangement as gives good ventilation.

DECEMBER.—To raise cream in winter, keep it moderately warm and add to each milking, or once a day, a little hot milk. Heat the milk almost to a boiling point;—heat it fresh from the cow. The quantity is a pint to a pailful to each milking. The effect of this is to prevent the cream from turning bitter; the buttermilk will be as sweet and fresh as in summer, and the butter will be better than without this treatment. We have this from an old experienced dairyman, who has practiced it for many years; and others have tried it successfully. It is a point that should be known, for there is much bad butter made in winter, and the buttermilk unfit to use.

WE KEEP SAUCES AND CURRIE POWDER.

PICKING AND KEEPING APPLES.

Winter apples should be picked during the first part of October, before the high winds come on. The greatest care should be exercised in handling them, or the fruit will soon decay. It is better to pack in barrels or place them in some cool location; cooler the better if they do not freeze.
 When very cold weather comes, they will of course need to be put into a cool cellar. All fruit keeps better in a very cool, dry place. If the cellar is warm, keep the windows open during the day. In picking apples, begin with those varieties most likely to be blown off, such as Hubbardston, Nonsuch, Baldwin, R. I. Greening, and others that are riper than the Russets, should be picked last. It is well to make three sorts; the best to be carefully packed, to be sold or kept; the second best for immediate use, while the poorest may be made into vinegar. If the vinegar is intended for family use, care should be exercised in sorting the fruit so that no decayed ones shall go into the heap.
 Apples keep better if not left on the tree too long. No fruit should be over-ripe to keep well. The barrels or vessels of any kind that are used in which to keep the fruit should be clean and free from all unpleasant smell. Good clean flour-barrels are perhaps the best thing that can be obtained at moderate cost. We have known good apples very much injured by improper treatment, and we therefore strongly advise our friends to be careful. Our old maxim, that “What is worth doing at all is worth doing well,” will apply in this case.

WE HAVE A LARGE LOT OF POCKET BOOKS.

TABLE FOR FORETELLING THE WEATHER.

THROUGH ALL THE LUNATIONS OF EACH YEAR.

This table and the accompanying remarks are the result of many years' actual observation; the whole being constructed on a due consideration of the attraction of the Sun and Moon, in their several positions respecting the Earth, and will, by simple inspection, show the observer what kind of weather will most probably follow the entrance of the Moon into any of its quarters, and that so near the truth as to be seldom found to fail.

| If the new Moon, the first quarter, the full Moon, or the last quarter happens. | IN SUMMER. | IN WINTER. |

Observations.—The nearer the time of the Moon's change to noon or midnight, the more nearly will the result accord with the prediction. It is also said that less dependence is to be placed on the Table in winter than in summer.

PHYSICIANS' POCKET CASES.

UNRIPE POTATOES FOR SEED.

BY HENRY WARD BEECHER.

In reply to an enquiry in the Country Gentleman, whether unripe potatoes are as good or better for planting than perfectly matured ones, may not some light be thrown upon the subject by the parallel case of seeds?

It is well known that many kinds of seeds, if they are to be planted immediately, will come up quicker and make equally good plants if they are gathered before all the processes of maturation are perfected. In one sense a seed is ripe as soon as its embryo is perfectly formed. It is competent to perform all the functions of a seed except one, and that one is to preserve itself against the attack of wet and cold during the winter.—For this last purpose, after the seed is planting-ripe, nature goes on storing up carbon in the form of starch, or other elements, but not for the sake of adding anything to the germinant power of the seed:—it is simply for the preservation of the seed. If I were of Irish descent, I should say that nature first ripens the seed, and then puts on an internal overcoat to protect against the wet and cold to which, in a state of nature, it must be liable.

Indian corn is often cut off by premature frosts; but if the ears are well glazed, though not merchantable, farmers know that they will do for planting.

It is probable that the same law holds with bulbs, corns, and tubers. Several years ago I received a large lot of gladiolus as late as the first of July. They blossomed well, but, when gathered in autumn, the corns were less ripe than my average crop. But the ensuing season they throve best of all. Another season was so unfavorable to gladiolus that my stock seemed ruined; but the next year proved them entirely good for planting purposes.

This may throw light upon the fact that in selecting gladiolus bulbs, the small and medium-sized are reputed better than the very large ones.—They are less mature, at least in many cases.

Strawberries set in September will yield a half, not a whole, crop next year.

No farmer really owns more land than he cultivates well. Ownership is in use. Large farms are often no farms.

Fall ploughing is for heavy clays which pulverize with frost, not for soils which melt in the rain and become like mortar beds.

Tender raspberries and flowers do better at Quebec than at New-Orleans, because they have winter protection of snow.

All roots should have room. If standing thick, they should be thinned without mercy. Unless on newly cleared land they grow best in drills, for they can be cultivated.

Fine, well rotted manure, applied to the surface, gives the wheat plant strength to go well through the winter, and it fits the ground for receiving clover seed early in spring.

CARTER'S

COMBINED WRITING AND COPYING

INK.

THIS Combination Ink has been awarded the Highest Premiums over all others in New York, Boston, and Baltimore, and is pronounced by the most celebrated Chemists the best Ink ever offered to the public.

It is used by many of the largest Commercial Houses, Banks, Railroads, and other Corporations, and gives perfect satisfaction.

It possesses the following advantages over other Inks, viz:

- First.* It flows freely from the pen, and does not thicken by exposure to the air.
- Second.* It will give a perfect and instantaneous copy.
- Third.* It will not mould.
- Fourth.* Being equally as good for Copying as for Book-keeping, it entirely does away with the use of two kinds of Ink.
- Fifth.* It is more permanent than common Inks.
- Sixth.* The color, when first written, is a beautiful dark green, but in a remarkably short time it changes to a BRILLIANT JET BLACK—not a brownish black.
- Seventh.* It is admirably adapted to the most delicate writing, and ALWAYS "makes its mark."

This Ink is warranted to flow as freely as Stephens', Arnold's, or any other Writing Fluid now in use; to give as perfect a copy as any Copying Ink; and not to mould.
