Deutschland Sinks American Tug; Five Are Drowned

SUBMARINE PUTS BACK TO NEW LONDON AFTER FATAL COLLISION

Capt. Koeing, "Pale and Shaken" as He Steps Ashore—Tug Said to Have Gone Across Submarine's Bow and to Have Been Almost Lifted Out of Water

New London, Conn., Nov. 17.—Five members of the crew of one of the tugs which accompanied the German submarine Deutschland from New London early today on her return trip to Bremen, were drowned when the submarine and the tug collided in the Race, about twelve miles from this port. The only person on the tug saved was Captain Fred Hinsch of the German interned liner Neckar. The tug, which belonged to the T. A. Scott Wrecking Company, went to the bottom.

The Deutschland returned to her dock here at 5.15 a. m. Officials declined to discuss the accident or to report the extent of the damage inflicted on the submarine. The tug and the submarine came together in a relatively smooth sea. When it was apparent that the tug was fatally rammed the crew jumped overboard. Captain Rinsch swam to a life preserver thrown out by the Deutschland's crew. The Deutschland drew out of her pocket at the pier of the Eastern Forwarding Company at 1.30 o'clock this morning, accompanied by the tugs T. A. Scott and the Alert, of the T. A. Scott Wrecking Company, sub-agents of the Eastern Forwarding Company. She carried on her homeward dash a cargo valued at $2,000,000 and consisting of nickel, rubber and silver bars.

The trip down the harbor was without incident and when last seen by a newspaper launch the submarine was plunging through a smooth sea at the rate of twelve knots an hour, headed for Montauk Point. The newspaper launch returned here after following the submarine for several miles. At that time the sea was smooth and the moon in its last quarter cast its rays over the water. The members of the Deutschland's crew in their oilskins were on deck. Greetings shouted at them by passing craft were not returned.

Failure of the tugs to return at an early hour led to much speculation, but it was believed that they would accompany the submarine well beyond the three-mile limit. The tug sunk by the Deutschland was the T. A. Scott, Jr. The list of dead included: Captain John Gurney, Engineer Wm. A. Cotten, Fireman Edward Stone, Cook Clarence B. Davidson, Deckhand Eugene Duzant. Capt. Koeing of the Deutschland, appeared pale and shaken as he stepped ashore from his vessel. He refused to talk about the collision and immediately sent word to Vice-President Paul G. Hilken, of the Eastern Forwarding Company, who arrived at the company's office soon afterwards and went into consultation with him.

"The accident happened all in the minute," according to a member of the Deutschland's crew, who talked briefly about it this morning. The tug, he said, got in front of the submarine and the Deutschland struck it in the stern, lifting it so far out of the water that the tug's nose went under. An explosion of the boiler of the tug followed immediately. Captain Hinsch caught hold of a guy rope and was carried down with the tug. When he reappeared on the surface he managed to seize a life preserver which had been thrown out from the Deutschland and was hauled aboard that craft.

LATER New London, Nov. 17.—It is said that the Deutschland was not seriously damaged, and would probably be ready to sail in a few days. Several of the bow plates were bent and the rivets loosened, but the interior was not damaged. The repairs will be made by members of the crew.

WILFRID'S SPEECH

(Canadian Press.) Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 17.—Vigorous criticism of the government's war policy, searching inquiries as to the source of the nickel supply now on the German submarine Deutschland and clear insistence that the Liberals would not acquiesce in an extension of term of office for the Conservatives now in power, were contained in a remarkable address made by Sir Wilfrid Laurier to between 400 and 500 Liberals gathered at a banquet last night in the Chateau Laurier, given to the provincial and federal riding associations of Eastern Ontario under the auspices of the Ottawa Reform Association.

"When war broke out," said Sir Wilfrid, "we Liberals came to the conclusion that it was our duty to facilitate the work of the government in our participation of the war. After two years we are sorry to admit that our confidence was misplaced."

ALFRED M. CRAWFORD KILLED IN ACTION

Kings county's share of the casualty list is growing apace. Every week brings its killed and wounded, the latest being Alfred M. Crawford. Private Crawford enlisted with the Strathcona Horse in the west, but went to the front as an infantryman. He was through many battles and had been in the thickest of the fighting when on October 19 he was killed in action. Although his death occurred nearly a month ago, the sad news was only received yesterday. Mr. Crawford was 38 years of age and unmarried. He was a man of upright character and well thought of by all who knew him. Besides the mother, there are left to mourn their loss five brothers, Linus S., manager of the Maritime Dairy Co., Sussex; David F., Boston; George, Prince Edward Island; Herbert, Upland, and Oscar, British Columbia; and one sister, Mrs. J. Willard Hayward, St. John.

Private Bourgeois also crossed from England on the same steamer, the Northland. He belongs to Moncton and did not come through to St. John. Private Bourgeois is suffering from wounds in his arm and one time it was thought that he would lose it, but it is hoped by physicians that they will be able to save the arm. He will arrive in the city to enter the Parks Convalescent Home in a few days.

Private Ernest Dick of Moore's Mills, Charlotte county, arrived in the city today on the Maritime Express from Quebec. He left Canada with the 118th Battalion, but upon his arrival in England his health became impaired and he was given his discharge. He is a son of Charles Dick. A brother, Private Hasen, is with the 112th Battalion, now stationed at Bramshott Camp in England.

In the clinches his weight and height over Levinsky gave him a decided advantage.

BELIEVE GERMANS LOST SIX TO NINE BIG TORPEDO BOATS

London, Nov. 17.—A Reuter dispatch from Petrograd, says that the German admiralty has issued a communication announcing that, in accordance with the latest information of the recent German naval attack in the Gulf of Finland and comparing the number of explosions heard in the fog with the reports from the Russian warships engaged, it is possible to affirm that the Germans lost between six and nine torpedo boats.

"This supposition, the communication adds, is confirmed by the examination of wrecks, which also shows that the destroyed vessels were of the most modern type and the biggest vessels in this class."

SIR MAX HEARD ON MATTER OF THE CABINET TROUBLE

Declined Post Offered Him By Sir Sam Hughes As He Believed He Was Not Qualified to Fill It. Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 16.—Sir Max Aitken has been heard from on the subject of the Borden-Hughes difference. The following cable from Sir Max arrived today: "I see that in the correspondence between the prime minister and Sir Sam Hughes, it is stated that one of the grounds of disagreement is that the appointment of the overseas minister of militia here was not given to me. It is only necessary for me to say that on October 27 last, General Hughes telegraphed asking me if I would accept such an appointment, to which I replied on October 28: 'I cannot accept, as I am not qualified to fill the post.'"

General Hughes today confirmed the statement in the cable. He said his desire was not that Sir Max should be minister, but that he should be naming the intermediary between the Canadian forces and the war office and head of the military council there. He said that while in England he had asked Sir Max to take the position mentioned but he respectfully declined.

ALLIES TO MAINTAIN NEUTRAL ZONE ALONG OLD GREEK FRONTIER

The despatch says that Premier Lambros acquiesced in principle to this step. It adds that the allies propose to use only a section of the Greek railroad for a supply service to Saloniki.

Details of demands made upon King Constantine by General Roques as proofs of the monarch's friendliness toward the Entente are given in a Reuter's despatch from Athens. It is said that the memorandum calls for the use of the Greek railroads by the Allies, the surrender of a quantity of artillery, the expulsion of a number of supposed German agents and the occupation of a specified neutral zone by Foch's troops.

The resolution, which subsequently was adopted, was framed by members of Ohio federations. It recited that the invasion of negroes in the state of Ohio had demonstrated, to the satisfaction of labor leaders in that state, that they were being better north for the purpose of filling the places of union men.

BIRKS SILVER PLATE

Hand-burnished
For general appearance, finish and wearing qualities, there can be nothing better produced than Birks Plate.

Birks Plate has a very heavy coating of pure silver on an under metal of the finest English nickel silver. It then goes through the hardening process of hand-burnishing, which gives it its well-known "Sterling Silver" appearance and a most enduring finish. These processes, while adding a little to the cost of the article, are nevertheless more than justified in the extra finish and durability thus gained.

Did Not Understand the Abstract
The witness was a huge man of the navy type, and counsel eyed him dubiously. "What we want to get at," he began, "is who was the aggressor?" "Eh?" said the witness puzzled. "Let me illustrate my meaning," said counsel. "Suppose that I should meet you in the street and strike you in the face, I should be the aggressor." "You'd be a fool," said the witness. "No, no!" said the counsel. "You don't understand. I was speaking only in the abstract. Suppose we met, and without provocation, I struck you, I should be committing an act of aggression." The navy hunched his huge shoulders. "You'd be committing suicide, mister!" he said grimly.

The Evening Times and Star

ST. JOHN, N.B., NOVEMBER 17, 1916

The St. John Evening Times is printed at 27 and 29 Canterbury Street every evening (Sunday excepted) by the St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co. Ltd., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act.

A WARNING FOR US

St. John people are often told that protection has many virtues, that it keeps a roof over the workingman's head, that but for protection of the "home market" we would have "soup kitchens," that tariff for revenue only is a hideous and distasteful device of the Liberals to ruin the country.

That 85 per cent. of the wives and mothers of workmen are forced to work to keep the wolf from the door? That $300 per year is the income of half of the wage-earning fathers?

That nearly half of the women workers earn less than $6 a week? That three or more persons occupy every sleeping room in 57 per cent. of the workers' homes?

That babies of the poor die three times as fast as those of the rich? That nearly 20 per cent. of the school children of this country (the United States) are underfed and under-nourished?

That economic pressure forces two-thirds of all children to leave grammar school before graduating at only 10 per cent. finish high school? That workers in basic industries are out of jobs one-fifth of the time?

That there are forty-four families in the United States with incomes equal to 100,000 workmen? That industrial conditions are responsible for the biggest crime problems?

That two per cent. of the people own 60 per cent. of the wealth and 68 per cent. own less than 5 per cent. of the wealth?

That an array of facts gleaned from the report of the Federal Relations Commission in its two-year investigation should shame the citizenship of the United States and cause every thoughtful man and woman in that country to tremble for the perpetuity of a nation wherein they exist?

The writer asks if these conditions established by the investigation, do not show just how "protection" has "protected" the great mass of Americans. In the presidential election the other day the Republicans—the party that shouted for a higher tariff throughout the campaign—lost the West and the Southwest in addition to the South, and carried only the group of wealthy and densely populated eastern and northern states. Even in these the majorities were greatly cut down as compared with their former figures. It was the low-tariff Democratic party which carried the country. To do so President Wilson had to overcome a normal Republican majority of 1,500,000 votes.

This country has had experience enough to know the difference between tariff for revenue and for war purposes, and tariff for the purpose of stifling competition in the home market and raising the price of articles to the Canadian consumer by the amount of the duty. Does the average citizen see either sense or justice in taxing the ordinary necessities of life? It is a demonstrated fact that a low tariff will produce more revenue than a high one. It is a self-evident truth that tariffs should be made for the benefit and the service of the people rather than for those who dwell within the circle of special privilege. Do you suppose that taxing British goods is the way to encourage trade with Great Britain? "Protection"—whom does it protect? Not those who really need help. The basis of every tariff should be justice. Think it over!

A DIRECT APPEAL

Belgium has made a direct appeal to the greatest of the neutral nations—the United States—to intervene and stay the German hand in its latest ruthless ravaging of King Albert's country, the deportation of Belgian men to Germany, there to work for their oppressors. In fine, this means that Germany is practically compelling the Belgians to fight against themselves and their allies, for the work to which Germany forces their hands is now keeping at home men who might be in the fighting zone and who now will be released for the front.

The American government has instructed an embassy official in Berlin to look into the matter and all peoples will await with interest further action by Washington. What Belgium wants is active intervention by the United States to stop this savage breaking up of families and deportation of the men to Germany, and the return of those already torn from their homes. She asks only what she has a right to ask. What will the U. S. do?

The Deutschland made an ill start on her return to Bremen early today by ramming one of two tugs scowling her out of New London harbor. Five men of the crew of the tug were drowned and the submarine returned to port. You cannot catch a leopard's spots. A German submarine must kill the unoffending ones whether by accident or design.

SCIENCE AND CARE WINNING

The White Plague is yielding to the persistent efforts of physicians, health boards and individuals to stem its ravages. It has been a long and hard fought fight and victory is not yet won, but the enemy's advance is less rapid and the success attained by those combating it redoubles the efforts to overcome this disease.

The mortality returns of the United States for 1915 have just been published and they show an encouraging decline in the rate of deaths due to tuberculosis. In ten years the rate has fallen from 200.7 per 100,000 of population to 145.8.

New Brunswick, thanks to the liberal benevolence of Mrs. Jordan and to the establishment of the St. John County Hospital, is in a far better position than ever before to combat the scourge, and better results than have been known in the experience of recent generations are being realized. Some things yet remain to be done, however, and one which quickly suggests itself is the providing of a free ward in the Sanitarium at River Glade.

This was made manifest in the latest report of the St. John Society for Prevention of Tuberculosis, in which was reported the case of a patient who was recommended by a physician to go to River Glade, but who was unable to meet even the comparatively small expense involved.

The school children of St. John and New Brunswick have done well for the suffering little ones of Belgium. Their pennies will do good work.

The British victory at the Ancre seems more important than early despatches indicated. It has been notable enough to bring to Sir Douglas Haig and his men the warm congratulations of their King.

"Uneasy lies the head that wears a crown," wrote the Bard of Avon. Sir Robert Borden does not wear the crown, but "uneasy" may well be used to describe his condition. Sir Sam's disclosures must be, to say the least, disquieting to the premier. And there is likely more to come.

The policy of conservation of the food supply in Great Britain has now received the endorsement of the British parliament. The crucial period of the war is approaching. Economy, national and domestic, is most desirable and may become imperative.

How can Premier Borden expect to shrink responsibility for the misdoings of Sir Sam when he condoned them for two years past?—Moncton Transcript.

If he "expects" to do so he is going to be disappointed lamentably. But what is worrying Sir Robert chiefly now—and Sir Robert's whole party—is the ghastly thought: Suppose Sam should tell all he knows!

The Germans continue to boast that the Allies cannot break through their lines on the western front, but the facts are that the British and French are gradually wearing Bapaume and are keeping the enemy nervously wondering when the next blow is to be struck and the next drive ahead accomplished. Boasting may help to keep up the sinking spirit at home, but what say the Germans to the fact that since the Somme push began the Allies have not lost one foot of captured territory?

RECENT DEATHS

Dr. William A. Fairweather, a native of St. John, and who, for many years, practiced the medical profession at Rotherham, died yesterday at his home, Sydney (C. B.). He was seventy-one years of age, and leaves to mourn one son, William L., of the naval service, Sydney; one daughter, Helen W., at home, and one sister, Mrs. R. S. Sheraton, this city.

Berne, Switzerland, Nov. 16, via London, 8:25 p.m.—Henri Sienkiewicz, the Polish novelist, is dead. Born of a Lithuanian family at Okreya, Podlasia, about 74 years ago, Sienkiewicz removed to Poland because of the Russian war and was educated at the University of Warsaw.

He was the author of "Quo Vadis," his best known work. The death of Mrs. Mary E. McAvity took place on Thursday at her residence, 43 Harrison street. She was the wife of the late James McAvity and a sister of James H. McRobbie of this city. She was prominent in public activities, having been president of the North End W. C. T. U. for twenty-two years, vice-president of the Women's Council, county president of the W. C. T. U. in this city, a member of the provincial W. C. T. U., and a director of the Portland Public Library.

At her residence, 175 Charlotte street, last evening, the death of Mrs. Margaret Baxter took place. She was seventy-two years of age and leaves, beside her husband, Joseph Baxter, one son, Thomas L., and two daughters, Misses Florence and Jennie Baxter. She was highly esteemed and her death will be sincerely regretted.

Mrs. James McClatchey, one of the best known and oldest California pioneer women, died at her home on November 8 at the Hotel Plaza. She was born in St. John and arrived in Sacramento the morning after the big fire of 1852. The entire community of St. Martins was shocked to hear of the sudden death of Mrs. Olive B. Love, which took place on Tuesday morning after an illness of a week's duration.

LIGHTER VEIN

Rain, rain, nothing but rain! The weary traveler put his umbrella up for about the 60th time that day. He was getting very much annoyed, for, try as he might, he could not prevent the water from penetrating through his clothes.

He stopped at length in a doorway hoping that very soon the rain would abate. He espied a man next to him and turned for a chat.

"Beastly weather!" he remarked. "Beastly!" exclaimed the man, who was a resident of the town and who was just as displeased at the weather as the traveler. "Why, that ain't the word for it."

"Been raining here long?" ventured the traveler. "I can't say, exactly," said the other. "You see, I've only lived here five years."

"Women have queer ways," remarked the traveler. "The styles call for mannish hats, so my wife bought a mannish hat for $18."

"Well," "She could have bought a man's hat for $4."

How can Premier Borden expect to shrink responsibility for the misdoings of Sir Sam when he condoned them for two years past?—Moncton Transcript.

If he "expects" to do so he is going to be disappointed lamentably. But what is worrying Sir Robert chiefly now—and Sir Robert's whole party—is the ghastly thought: Suppose Sam should tell all he knows!

Would You Pay $12.00 a Ton for Hard Coal if it could be Bought for $7.25?

KOALINE WILL MAKE THIS POSSIBLE. FIGURE IT OUT
1 ton of hard coal today costs $12.00
2 tons cost 24.00
1 tube of Koaline (enough to treat 1 ton) costs 1.25

Making your cost of $13.25 do the work of $24.00, in other words, Koaline makes one ton of coal do the work of two tons, to say nothing of more comfort, less trouble, and all the other advantages that result from a more complete combustion. HERMIT WILLS

NEPHEW $20,000

Auburn, Me., Nov. 17—The will of Charles Purinton, who died in this city in last July, was written on a torn and ragged piece of paper.

It was as follows: "Auburn, Me. May 8, 1914. The person who finds this gift is Ralph Locke. I will all my estate to him, he to pay one hundred dollars to all the other heirs, and set a stone for me in the yard. Charles Purinton. Witness J. P. Huthinson, Samuel Ashwell, L. V. McKenney."

All the witnesses to the will are dead and the will was proved by proving the handwriting of the witnesses.

When Mr. Purinton died he was supposed to be practically a pauper, but after his death bookshelves showing deposits of more than $20,000 were found in the little old house in which he had lived for thirty years as a hermit, with hardly the necessities of life. Mr. Locke, to whom he left his estate, is a nephew. He formerly lived in Lewiston, but now lives in New York. He was appointed administrator of the estate in August, the existence of the will not being then known.

Mr. Locke not long ago went to the house and found an old walled hidden among the mattresses of the bed in the wall. He found the will, and tied up with it a worn and battered copy of the New Testament.

GERMAN COUNTER ATTACKS.

Six divisions were used by the Germans in twelve successive attacks yesterday on the villages of Ablancourt and Pressoire on the Somme front over a frontage of two and a half miles in an effort to break the French lines. During the attacks some of the select regiments which formed the attacking armies lost sixty per cent of their effectiveness.

RECOMMENDATION FROM TOWN PLANNING EXPERT

That there is an almost impelling need for revision of the laws relating to street construction in St. John, is the opinion of Thomas Adams, town planning expert, who, a short time ago finished a survey of St. John for the purpose of reporting to the town planning commission. Mr. Adams further stated that if St. John were a badly administered city there would be much opportunity for abuse under the leniency of the prevailing laws.

In a memorandum regarding the layout and construction of the streets, which was considered by the town planning commission at a meeting held yesterday afternoon at city hall, he suggested many sweeping changes. The commission, after being in session over two hours, decided to make recommendations to the common council and the municipal council that these bodies consider the adoption of these suggestions of Mr. Adams, and deal with them as would best suit the individual needs of the various districts.

Standardizing street construction seemed to be the acme about which the recommendations were centered. If the memorandum is made the basis for new street ordinances, St. John is destined to have wider and better streets.

Bridge For Belgians.
The bridge held at the Manor House yesterday afternoon proved very successful. There were twenty-eight tables and the winners were Mrs. Roland Skinner, Mrs. MacRae, Mrs. Harold Rising, Mrs.

Feed MacNeil and Mrs. Rupert Turnbull.

The affair was planned by Mrs. M. Robinson, Mrs. Harry Frink, Mrs. Royden Thompson, Miss Mary Roberts and Miss Madge Robertson of Rotherham.

Had Chronic Indigestion Thought She Would Die

After Years of Suffering Attributes Cure to Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills

Eating too much or using foods that do not agree are the usual causes of indigestion. The trouble usually begins not in the stomach, but in the liver, since it devolves on this organ to filter the excess waste matter from the system.

Nothing to stop it until I tried Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I would have an attack of this trouble with my stomach every three or four weeks, and was so bad at times that my friends thought I would surely die. Thanks to these pills, I have not had an attack for six months, and believe that the cure is thorough. My husband has had very satisfactory experience with Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. He was much run down, and very pale and weak. I persuaded him to use the Nerve Food, and after having taken five boxes he looks and feels real well.

It is such experiences as these that have made a place for Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, 6 for $2.50. All dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

Anti-German Demonstration

Various stories have been passed around in Windsor, N.S., regarding several men with Teutonic names and it has been claimed some of them have been decidedly pro-German in their utterances. Some of the men from the 29th Battalion, believing some of the stories, attacked the garage of C. Multer. One auto was tumbled into the Avon river while the garage was set on fire and another car destroyed.

NEUTRALS TELL OF AIR RAIDS

Agree That British Reports Are Accurate

GERMAN CLAIMS FALSE

No Trace of Widespread Destruction Reported From Berlin—But Raids Will Cost Huns Dearly When Peace is Arranged

S. S. McClure, magazine publisher, was in Germany not long ago, and there read of the frightful damage done by a recent Zeppelin raid. When he returned to England on his way home he took the trouble to visit the places where the Germans claimed to have wrought their destruction. He checked the British official statements, and then announced that the British figures were correct, and the German claims absurd.

Sinclair testimony has been given by a correspondent of the Springfield Republican, who appears to have been sceptical of the British reports. He was provided with credentials which took him to the districts visited by the raiders, and there was permitted to interview witnesses of the raids, to count the dead and independently estimate the damage. He reports, as McClure reported, that the British figures are absolutely to be depended upon; and that the German claims are mere inventions. He asserts positively that it is impossible for the Zeppelin raiders to know anything of the damage they do; impossible for them to recognize the districts over which they are flying.

German Do Not Know

A captain of one of the Zeppelins brought down in England, when asked how he could reconcile his conscience to dropping bombs on women and children, denied that this was done, and asserted that bombs were dropped only on military works and public buildings. Asked how he could tell where a bomb dropped on a dark night when he was a couple of miles up in the air he replied, with some mystery, that the Germans have their ways of knowing. If this is true, then it is plain that the German reports of munitions works being destroyed and thousands of people killed are deliberate inventions, and not founded on the reports of the Zeppelin officers. British aviators flying at varying heights over London in order to test the efficacy of the methods employed to darken the city on the approach of a Zeppelin agree that at a much lower altitude than that usually maintained by Zeppelins it is impossible to distinguish prominent buildings, and that flying over London every day cannot tell one landmark from another, how is it possible for strangers flying much higher up to do so?

A Midland Raid

The correspondent of the Republican visited an important Midland city of several hundred thousand population the day after a notable air raid. This city should have been a shining mark. It has many square miles of munitions works, and the facilities for driving off invaders were slight compared with those of London. The city was warned of the approach of a Zeppelin, and all lights were turned out, while the citizens in obedience to orders stayed indoors, refraining from laughter or any other loud noise. For some time, perhaps half an hour, the invader hovered over the hushed and shrouded city, utterly at a loss where to strike. Then a distant railway train evidently gave the commander of the airship his first hint of his whereabouts, and the bombs began to drop, until the whole cargo had been disposed of. Then the ship flew swiftly away.

Poor People Chief Sufferers

As a result of this spectacular raid the correspondent found that between twenty and thirty people had been killed by the bombs and twenty houses destroyed. Despite the vast extent of the area occupied by munitions works, only one bomb dropped in the city destroyed a pile of railroad ties. Nearly all the bombs fell in the thickly-populated districts, upon the homes of the very poor, and it has been noted that this is the case with the great majority of the bombs dropped in England since the beginning of the war. It is supposed that this is due to the fact that the Zeppelins necessarily follow the course of railways or rivers in their flight, and it seems to be the rule in most cities that the railways pass through the most congested districts. The houses destroyed, for the most part, have been small and poor, and in view of this fact

Headless Youth

Feeling that thirty years of honest industry entitled him to a vacation, and as his son Tom was now quite able to do any work which might arise, Mr. Bilks, plumber, departed for a three months' motor tour, leaving Tom in charge of the shop. With youthful enthusiasm Tom set to work, and it was with complacent pride that he greeted his father upon his return.

"And how is business?" Bilks asked cheerfully. "Fine!" Tom responded. "There's no use in talking, dad, but I have made things hum! I've cleaned up everything - there isn't a single unfinished job on the slate."

Mr. Bilks turned pale. "You mean to say you've finished with the bathroom at Down's and the kitchen sink at Smith's?" he said slowly. "Sure! Why, those jobs had been hanging on longer than I could remember."

The purser of one of the boats plying between New York and Norfolk tells of one trip when there were on board a young couple accompanied by their little son, aged six. As is very frequently the case, father and mother were very nervous, while little Henry was the chirpiest thing on the ship. In the morning while the parents were using in their steamer chairs, hoping that they would die, little Henry was playing about.

Now Henry had done something of which his mother did not approve, so she said to her husband: "Clarence, please speak to Henry."

The husband managed to raise his head a few inches and look at his son and heir. Then, very feebly, he muttered: "How do you do, Henry?"

Mrs. Jellicoe, mother of Admiral Sir John Jellicoe, the commander of the British Grand Fleet, is dead at the age of eighty-two. The Admiral also has lost his father since the outbreak of the war, and his father-in-law, Sir Charles Cavort, died last September.

A CHURCH UNION STORY.

(Montreal Financial Times.) W. M. Birks, who is an enthusiastic advocate and worker for church union, tells a beautiful tale of the consequences of the present religious division in small Canadian towns. He was recently compelled by a train delay to spend a portion of Sunday in the town of Schreiber, Ont., where he found four Protestant churches all within a couple of blocks. He attended the Presbyterian church, and found four adult males there besides himself and the women and children; the three other churches, when their congregations came out, produced adult males to the number of three, two and one respectively. Later he came across an acquaintance in the town and asked him how the ministers of these rival churches-lets get along together. "Well," said the friend, "the other day we had a small railway accident and one of the men was fatally injured. They took him to the Y. M. C. A. and he died there. He was not a church man, though a very decent fellow. The other boys at the Y. M. C. A. pondered what to do. 'If there was only one minister here, of course, we would get him for the funeral,' they said, 'but how can we pick one out of four and not make the others jealous?' So they buried the poor chap themselves."

THE MEN'S CLOTHING SALE AT Henderson's Clothes Shop No. 3 King Street Starts Tomorrow Morning at 9 a.m., Closes Saturday Night, November 25th., at 11 p.m.

NECESSITY compels us to throw this $10,000 worth of high-grade clothing on the market at big discounts. Remember, to meet new conditions a few months from now, this stock has to be unloaded to make room for a new stock we are putting in to conform with our future business policy. There is no better clothing made than what's in this Men's Clothes Shop. A few days ago we were offered by a clothing traveller 35 cents on the dollar more than we paid for this stock. We refused, as we considered it our duty to let the men and youths of St. John and vicinity have the chance to pick up these extraordinary bargains. We say here, if you are looking for cheap junk, this is not the place to come. We have only high-grade clothing, and we are selling it off at very low prices.

Bitter Protest From Cardinal

Appeals to Civilized World Against Deportations By Belgian Primate

Tells of Germans' Ruthless Treatment of Non-combatants—Carried Off to Unknown Destinations

London, Nov. 17.—Cardinal Mercier, Primate of Belgium, has issued a protest to the civilized world against the deportation of Belgians to Germany for forced labor. The protest is dated November 7 and is signed by Cardinal Mercier, in behalf of all the Belgian bishops, except the Bishop of Bruges, with whom he was unable to get in touch.

Among the principal passages contained in Cardinal Mercier's protest are the following, according to a Reuter despatch from Amsterdam: "The military authorities are daily deporting thousands of inoffensive citizens in order to set them to forced labor. "As early as October 19 we sent a protest to the governor-general, a copy of which was also sent to the representatives in Brussels of the Holy See, Spain, the United States and the Netherlands. The governor-general in reply refused to take any steps. "At that time the ordinances only threatened unemployed men; today all able-bodied men are carried off pell-mell, penned up in trucks and deported to unknown destinations like slave gangs. "The enemy proceeds by regions. Vague reports have reached us that arrests have been made successively at Tournai, Ghent and Alost, but we are unaware of the circumstances. "1,200 Rounded Up Daily "Between October 24 and the beginning of November the enemy operated in the regions of Mons, Quenrain, St. Ghislain and Jemmapes, from 800 to 1,200 men being rounded up daily. Tomorrow and the following days he intends to fall on the Nivelles region. "The poster orders all males to present themselves at Nivelles on November 8 provided with identification cards and regular tickets. They are permitted to bring only a small handbag. Clergymen, doctors, barristers and schoolmasters are exempt. Burgomasters are held responsible for the execution of the order. There is an interval of twenty-four hours between the posting of the order and deportation. "Under the pretext of the necessity to carry out public works on Belgian soil, the occupying power had tried to obtain from the communes lists of unemployed workmen, which the majority of the communes proudly refused to give. "Three decrees of the governor-general paved the way for the blow which was struck on today. The first, issued August 15, 1915, ordered forced labor for the unemployed under pain of imprisonment and a fine, but it stated that it was only a question of work in Belgium. The second, issued May 2, gives the German authorities the right to provide work for the unemployed, any unutilized person giving work being liable to three years' imprisonment and a fine of 20,000 marks. The third decree, issued May 13, authorized the governors and military commanders to issue orders for the unemployed to be forcibly taken to places of work. "At present the total number of forced labor for Belgium. Today it is no longer a question of forced labor in Belgium, but in Germany, for Germany's benefit. "It is authoritatively stated in Rome that the Pope, Spain and the United States are preparing to take a joint action to stop the German deportation of Belgians. "Recruiting the Belgians "The situation which we denounce to the civilized world may be summed up as follows: "The total number of thousands of workmen are reduced to unemployment through no fault of their own, and largely through the German occupation. "The Belgians, however, are not ordered, how to their unhappy lot. With their most pressing needs provided for, they await with dignity the end of their period of trial. "Now, suddenly parties of soldiers begin to enter by force these peaceful homes, tearing youth from their parents, band from wife, father from children. They bar with the bayonet the door through which the mother and father pass to say farewell to those departing. They herd their captives in groups of tens and twenties and push them into cars. "As soon as the train is filled the officer in charge brusquely waves the signal for departure. A thus thousands of Belgians are being reduced to slavery. "The Germans are not only enrolling the unemployed, but they are also recruiting the able-bodied men who have been out of work. "The cardinal then gives examples of how various high German authorities have repeatedly given formal assurances that Belgian liberty will be respected. He closes with an appeal to all persons, allied and neutral, even of the enemy countries, who respect humanity, to aid him in opposing the deportations.

WEAK AND TIRED WOMAN Tells How Vinol Made Her Strong

St. John women who are weak, run-down and suffer from the consequent effects of such a condition, will be interested in Mrs. Odell's letter. She says: "I am a farmer's wife and was all run-down, weak, tired and suffered from indigestion, and sometimes it seemed as though I could not keep around and do my housework. I had taken many medicines without benefit. One day I saw Vinol advertised, and made up my mind to try it. I have taken four bottles and have gained seven pounds in weight, am much stronger and feel many years younger than before." Sarah Odell, Lockport, N.Y. "The reason Vinol builds up weak, run-down women so quickly is because it contains a delicious combination of most successful tonics, beef and cod liver peptides, iron and manganese peptonates and glycerophosphates, in a mild tonic wine. "We want to say to every weak, run-down, overworked woman in St. John that we will return your money if Vinol fails to help you as it did Mrs. Odell. Why Suffer From Migraine or Sick Headache?

Dr. J. J. Caldwell says that this exceedingly distressing disease does not shorten life, but does not appear to be curable. Sufferers from this affliction are condemned to undergo the periodical attacks every few weeks until they are forty years of age, after which the attacks are less frequent, and finally disappear entirely. Palliative measures during the attack are all that is possible to suggest, while care in the diet is the best preventive measure. An attack may often be prevented by taking two anti-kidney tablets when the first symptoms appear, and one anti-kidney tablet every two hours during the attack. In cases the pain and brings rest and quiet. Anti-kidney tablets may be obtained at all druggists. Ask for "Doan's" Tablets. They quickly relieve all pains.

WHY NOT TRY ZAM-BUK

Zam-Buk for those obstinate sores, which everything else has failed to heal! The little daughter of Mrs. P. W. Drummond, Theford Mines, Que., suffered with sores which required each fall, until Zam-Buk permanently cured them. Mrs. Drummond writes: "Every fall, as soon as the cold weather set in, my little daughter's face and hands would become covered with sore patches and the irritation and smarting were almost unbearable. For three years in succession she suffered in this way, and although I used any number of remedies, the sores remained all through the winter. Finally I started using Zam-Buk, and to my amazement the sores placed again showed signs of healing, and before long had entirely disappeared, leaving her skin perfectly smooth and clear. Since the Zam-Buk treatment, I am pleased to say, there has been no recurrence of the sores." Zam-Buk is just as good for eczema, ringworm, ulcers, old wounds, blood-poisoning, boils, pimples, piles, hemorrhoids, and all skin injuries. All druggists or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, 50c. box, 3 for $1.25.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"One year ago I was very sick and I suffered with pains in my side and back until I nearly went crazy. I went to different doctors and they all said I had female trouble and would not get any relief until I would be operated on. I had suffered for four years before this time, but I kept getting worse the more medicine I took. Every month since I was a young girl I had suffered with cramps in my sides and periods and was never regular. I saw your advertisement in the newspaper and the picture of a woman who had been saved from an operation and this picture was impressed on my mind. The doctor had given me only two more days to make up my mind so I sent my husband to the drug store at once for a bottle of Lydia E. TROUBLE WITH CREW ON SCHOONER FOR YARMOUTH The British schooner M. J. Taylor, says the Boston Globe, which put into the lower harbor early Monday morning, with her crew refusing duty, was anchored at Quonset Point, Rhode Island. Capt. Duker came up to the city. He said the trouble was caused by four sailors demanding to be put ashore when one vessel put into the lower harbor for shelter. These men, the captain said, signed at New York for a trip to Yarmouth, N. S., thence to Cuba and then signed at so much a month, and they are said to have all drawn advance money, so that they are at present indebted to the vessel. The disgruntled sailors will not be allowed to go ashore and the skipper is determined that they shall remain on board until they have worked out the amount of advance money given them. There are two Spaniards, one American and one Norwegian in the crew. The men still refused to work on Wednesday, but the skipper said that when the vessel resumes her passage and is outside the three-mile limit, the sailors will work all right. The schooner dragged her anchors during the gale on Tuesday night, and the tug Betsy Ross towed her from the channel, off Long Island head, to quarantine. The vessel is loaded with 600 tons of coal and is bound from Perth Amboy to Yarmouth, N. S.

Six Days in a German U-Boat

Captain of Torpedoed Columbian, Landed at Corunna With Crew, Tells of Experiences

Corunna, Spain, Nov. 17.—Captain Frederick Curtis, of the American steamer Columbian, who arrived here with the rescued crew of that steamship, declared to a representative of the Associated Press that he was a prisoner on board the German submarine U-40 for six days after the destruction of his vessel. Captain Curtis said the Columbian was warned before she was torpedoed and sunk by the U-40. The crew was left in life-boats and the captain was taken on board the submarine. "All of the 100 members of the Columbian's crew, he said, were saved. Captain Arthur Patterson, of the British steamer Seatonica, says that he also was a prisoner on board the U-40 for eight days, during which time he heard the guns of the submarine in action, and also heard distinctly the explosion of the torpedo which, he learned later, blew up the Norwegian ship Balto, soon after which Captain Yelguson, of the Norwegian ship Fordalen, joined him in the narrow prison on board the submarine, where they were joined on the following day by Captain Curtis. "My ship, registered at New York," said Captain Curtis to the correspondent, "carried a cargo of about 9,000 tons and a crew of 100, all of whom were saved. I stopped on board the command of the submarine, whose commander ordered me to abandon ship with the crew immediately, which we did without other baggage than two suitcases with documents and money. Taken Aboard U-Boat. "Submarine U-40 fired at once two torpedoes at the Columbian, which immediately sank. The crew was left in lifeboats, while I was taken on board the submarine, which plunged immediately after I was taken into the small quarters-master's cabin, where I found the captain of the Seatonica and Balto. After me came Captain Yelguson, of the Fordalen. The cabin was very small. It contained a little folding table, a folding chair and three bunks. Everything was permeated with the odor of benzine. There was no communication with the exterior and the cabin was absolutely dark night and day. We were fed in the morning with a few moments of black bread, cup of coffee and a small portion of bad butter; at noon with a stew of canned meat and soup and at supper at ten o'clock with coffee or tea and black bread, with butter or marmalade. The hours spent in this narrow prison were very long and disagreeable. "The captain of the submarine, said Captain Curtis, was about thirty-six years old, while his crew of forty sailors were all very young. "The submarine signaled the Swedish steamer Varing thirteen miles off the Spanish coast of Cantabria toward noon of Nov. 9. The steamer stopped and was ordered to take aboard the captain and land them. She was also ordered to take aboard the crews of the Columbian and Norwegian submarines. All were welcomed aboard the Varing. The submarine watched the Varing to make for the coast six miles from the Cantabrian. The Varing was directed to set out lifeboats and make the ship's stores ready in them. This was a long and difficult operation, and an American from the Columbian fell into the sea and narrowly escaped drowning. He was slightly injured during his rescue.

"INTERVIEW" WITH SPIRIT OF FORMER ST. JOHN SOLDIER

F. A. Thomas, "Doctor of Spiritual Science" Recounts It

SERGT. HARTLEY FRENCH

Says Latter, Who Was Killed in Action, Made "Manifestation," Declared Himself Happy and Discussed the War

The story of an interview with the shade of Sergeant Hartley French, a native of St. John, who went overseas with a New Brunswick battalion and was killed in action, is given prominently in a recent issue of the Boston Sunday Post.

The "manifestation" is said to have been made to F. A. Thomas, "doctor of spiritual science," in the presence of F. H. Williams, whose wife is a sister of the late Sergeant French, at their home in Boston.

The spirit of the soldier is credited with reporting that he is happy, that conditions in the spirit world are different from what he had expected and that he sees a prospect of the United States being drawn into the war, but that even those in the spirit world cannot tell when the war will end.

In his interview with the Post reporter, Mr. Thomas is reported as saying:

"I called at the home of F. H. Williams, 708 Tremont street, where I now live, and Mr. Williams answered the bell. I had never seen Mr. Williams, did not know any of his family or anything about the roomers in his house. While we were talking I saw a spirit standing beside Mr. Williams.

"I described the spirit so closely that Mr. Williams told me his name was Hartley French, 38 years old, who with his family had lived in Mr. Williams' house for three years. While in Boston he was employed as an automobile chauffeur, and after he went to the war his family went to live with some of their relatives in Roxbury.

"When the war broke out Mr. French went to his old home in St. John, N.B., and enlisted in the British army. He felt it was his duty to go, as he was a British subject, and wished to prove loyal to his country. But he did not believe the war would last long and planned to return to Boston just as soon as it was ended.

"He was sent to England and then to France. He was fighting in the trenches at Verdun when he and several others were literally blown to atoms by the explosion close to them of a shell. They were attempting to make a charge at the time.

"As the spirit appeared there beside Mr. Williams who had known French so well and liked him very much, he said:

"I want to send a message to my family. Tell them I am happy. Some day I will manifest directly to them. I have found things much different in the spirit world from what I was taught to believe."

"Mr. Williams suggested that I ask him when the war would end. I did so, and he replied:

"All Europe will be in it yet, and perhaps the United States, unless a change takes place. There is no one in the earth plain who is perfect and knows it all. So here in the spirit world nobody knows it all; therefore there is no spirit here who can say when the war will end.

"The men in the trenches do not know what they are fighting for. They never be known how many men are killed. The suffering in the trenches is so dreadful that the soldiers prefer death to remaining there."

"The spirit of Mr. French then ceased manifesting," said Mr. Thomas. "When the first appeared he told me he did not want to go to the war. He insisted he was happy even though he passed out under such awful conditions, his material self being literally wiped out of existence in the fraction of a second. Mr. Williams told me that if the man had been standing right there I could not have given a better description of him."

Speaking of an interview with Mrs. Samuel Mitchell of 614 Tremont street, Mr. Thomas says:

"When I was talking with Mrs. Samuel Mitchell I noticed a spirit standing beside her. I described the spirit and then gave the name. The spirit said:

Killed in Charge on Trenches

"I am Ernest Shields and am a cousin of Mrs. Mitchell. Before going to the war and coming to spirit land I lived with my father, who was chief of police of Belfast, Ireland. My brother William, worked on a lake steamer owned by E. P. Pope of Detroit, Mich.

"I was killed on the battlefield in France a little time ago. I am very weak and cannot manifest as I would like to. I longed to come and visit you while I was on earth but now that I cannot I am manifesting myself to you in spirit.

"I was in a charge on the German trenches when I was killed. We were mowed down as fast as we left the trenches. The odds were so great that we had no chance from the beginning. I thought it a great mistake for us to charge under such conditions. But army orders are orders that have to be obeyed.

death when we started out of the trenches." Continuing his message to Mrs. Mitchell, said Mr. Thomas, "she spoke of an accident in which Mrs. Mitchell's brother, David John Shields, who was severely injured. 'But he will get well,' the spirit said," declared Mr. Thomas. "Mrs. Mitchell knew her brother and her cousin were both in the war but had not heard that anything had happened to either of them. In a few days a letter came announcing that her cousin had been killed and that her brother had been very seriously injured by an explosion of gasolene, but was then recovering. The news of her cousin's death had been delayed, as some time elapsed before it reached his former home in Ireland, and then more time passed before it reached this country.

pounds. But such materialistic demonstrations are very rare. They are usually wholly spiritual. He furthermore affirms that many of the messages are lost because none of the hearers take them down in writing, and the mediums cannot recall them later because they are in a semi-trance state when they catch them.

Mr. Thomas has worked in many places in New England outside of Boston, including Providence, Pawtucket, Fall River and Brockton. He is now serving a society in Dover, N.H., in addition to his Boston work. His wife is a talented musician and furnishes the music at his meetings.

BRITAIN WAGES WAR ON JUVENILE CRIME

Its Constant Increase Results in Conference to Solve the Problem

London, Nov. 17.—Plans are being considered to combat the great increase in juvenile crime which has become more apparent since the war began. Home Secretary Samuel met fifty representatives of boys' and girls' brigade organizations to discuss what he described as a very urgent and very difficult problem. The king and queen had expressed their grave concern at the increase of juvenile offences.

Mr. Samuel thought the war had encouraged the spirit of adventure among the boys, darkened streets gave facilities for wrong-doing, and in the absence of so many millions of fathers on war service there had been a weakening of home influences. It had been found that the influence of some moving pictures encouraged the spirit of lawlessness, and he proposed to establish a central official censorship of all motion picture plays.

At the same time he thought much of the trouble arose from misdirected energy, and proposed to consider various suggestions which were put forward by the representatives of the organizations, and by Sir Edward Baden Powell, organizer of the Boy Scout movement.

Notes of Interest.

Al Badoud, welterweight champion of Europe, watched the Britton-Lewis bout at the Armory A. A. Boston, on Tuesday night and challenged both of them.

If Les Darcy is to visit the United States and there appears no doubt of it, the game will be lived up a lot. Bout A Tame One. (Boston Globe.)

Jack Britton of New York and Ted Lewis of England had their fourth fight in Boston at the Armory A. A. on last Tuesday night, and the bout was called a draw at the end of twelve rounds. It was the spottest exhibition they have put up in this city.

Britton was entitled to the award, but Referee Larry Conly, because of the way the pair worked, decided not to give either one any advantage.

Both looked to be in good shape. They boxed at catch-weights. Britton did the forcing and did most of his hitting with the left hand, stabbing Lewis' face often.

At times Britton left good openings, some of which Lewis took advantage of. Britton used his right very little. He landed it on Lewis' jaw a few times, but too high up even to stagger the Englishman.

Lewis landed some left jabs on Britton's face, but most of them had little force. Some of his blows were delivered with the open glove. In the closing rounds they engaged in some fast mixing, but neither one did any harm to the other.

BASEBALL

Cubs Sign Young Giant

Chicago, Nov. 14.—The Chicago Nationals have signed a promising first base candidate in Edward McGinnis, a young giant from Boston. McGinnis is 6 feet 2 inches tall, weighs 180 pounds and bats and throws right handed. He is nineteen years old. The recruit has been instructed to report here on Feb. 20 for the spring training trip to the coast, as it is reported that Vic Salen, the first baseman of the club, may be unable to start the season because of the poor condition of his eyes.

TURF

Gains New World's Record

Montreal, Nov. 14.—What is said to be a new world's five-mile harness record was hung up by Frankie Bogash, owned by J. M. Landry of Quebec, when the full sister of the famous Frank Bogash, Jr.'s best Montreal, a locally owned horse, in a match race in 12:26 at the harness race matinee on the Maisonneuve track yesterday afternoon.

Several thousand enthusiasts attended the races and thousands of dollars changed hands as a result of the match race, which was for a stake of $500. This race proved very close and furnished plenty of excitement. Marconi went to the front at the start and held the lead for the first three and a half miles, when Frankie Bogash forged her way to the front and held the advantage to the finish, despite several determined challenges by Marconi, who was only a few lengths behind at the wire. The winner was driven by a Quebec alderman, N. Davuin.

McNamara Bros. Pass Exams.

Toronto News.—Congratulations are in order to the McNamara boys of the 228th Battalion. They have successfully passed the examination, and are now full fledged captains. Two better qualified officers would be hard to find. They have played hockey in Toronto nearly every season since the N. H. A. invaded this city, and always acted in a clean-cut, sportsmanlike manner both on and off the ice. That showed their calibre. They are good players, good sportsmen and this is qualification enough to be leaders of men in the greatest game of the present time.

Thursday in preparation for the Yale football game on Saturday. Wednesday's hard drive in scrimmages left the men in a much improved condition, both physically and in their knowledge of the new variations in formations, to be used in the contest against the New Haven team. The cold, crisp weather Thursday helped to put the men on edge. All the injured players are rounding into condition rapidly and Coach Rush will have plenty of good men on hand to put into the game if the regulars become disabled. There is a decision in order to avoid possible injuries to the first string men and to give the substitutes who may be used against Yale experience in a hard game. The association added that "the team will start probably by no means a weak one." In this connection one of the Harvard coaches pointed to the game against Virginia recently when Harvard presented virtually three complete teams, which in results, varied little throughout the game. The announcement of the association included notice that tickets purchased with the expectation of seeing leading players start the game would be redeemed.

The Harvard Athletic Association on Wednesday night announced that few, if any of the players who started the game against the Princeton team last Saturday will be in the Crimson's initial line-up against Brown at the Stadium next Saturday. The Harvard coaching staff, it was explained, had made this decision in order to avoid possible injuries to the first string men and to give the substitutes who may be used against Yale experience in a hard game. The association added that "the team will start probably by no means a weak one." CHAMPION MOORE WILL MEET DE ORO

Three-Cushion Pocket Billiard for Silver Trophy

New York, Nov. 15.—The victory of George W. Moore in the three-cushion pocket billiard championship match with Hugh Heel probably will result in the next title match being played in this city. The veteran, Alfred De Oro is the next challenger in line and the match is scheduled to take place some time between December 9 and 10. Under the rules governing the custody of the emblem Moore will have to oppose De Oro in a public hall in New York, where Moore has a legal residence. Moore can only accept an offer to have the match played in any other place by obtaining the consent of the Brunswick-Balke-Clender Company, the donor of the trophy.

Moore is now in possession of the emblem for the second time, and must defend it continuously for a period of twelve playing months before acquiring permanent possession. Moore won the trophy for the first time in the tournament at Chicago, when it was first put up for competition in March, 1915. He retained it by defeating De Oro, the first challenger, but lost it in a contest with William B. Huey of Chicago. Huey forfeited to De Oro, who defeated two challengers, August Knechtler and Lloyd Javne, but was beaten by Charles Ellis of Pittsburgh. Ellis was successful in his first challenge match against Pierre Masponne of St. Louis, but later was forced to yield the trophy to Charles C. McCourt, of Pittsburgh. Hugh Heel of Toledo captured the title from McCourt only to pass it back to Moore in the recent match.

Since the championship trophy was put in play in March, 1915, it has been held by six individuals. It is destined to furnish considerable competition in the future, as McCourt has already issued a challenge and will be in line to meet the winner of the Moore-De Oro match.

BAN JOHNSON SAID TO FAVOR THIRD LEAGUE

New York, Nov. 14.—The suggestion for a third major league is said to have originated in the mind of President Johnson, of the American League. Johnson is a smart baseball politician, and whenever he makes a suggestion he commands attention. He has favored a third league for some time, providing it does not cut into major league territory. Johnson believes that a combination of the best cities in the International League and the American Association will hit the nail on the head. It will appeal to popular demand for better baseball in the cities he has named as members of the proposed league territory. LEXINGTON HAS FAST YEARLING PACER

A remarkable yearling pacer has shown up in the fall work at Lexington. He is called Boston Man, and is by the Northern Man (2:06 1/2), dam by the Director General. The colt first was shod and rigged for trotting, but like all natural pacers soon showed his preference for that gait and was allowed to exercise it. George Starr, who has the youngster in charge, is an old hand with pacers, and was behind Direct (2:05 1/2) when the little black horse was the sensation of the Grand Circuit in the pacing line. Starr says Boston Man can speed a 2:00 rate right now, and as other sons of Blingen than Northern Man have spread sensational early speed at the pace, Boston Man is highly regarded by the blue grass country critics. The Director General, sire of his dam, has three trotters and five pacers in the 2:10 list, his pacers including Don Fronto (2:02 1/2), William O. (2:04 1/2), and Hydrex (2:04 1/2).

A sister of Manrico (2:07 1/4), now a prominent young sire, was shipped from Kentucky to California last week and with her went a two-year-old filly by Manrico, dam Helen Stiles (2:06 1/4), Will Duffer, the California trainer who made the journey with the pair, Manrico and Helen Stiles their records, so will know how to handle the youngster. Nearly every high-class colt has notions which training brings out, family characteristics are quick to assert themselves. So when a trainer has handled a number of trotters of one strain of blood he is apt to be more successful with others of that brand than would be a stranger. John Goldsmith practically made the Gray Wilkes family famous, and Millard Sanders had a lot to do with bringing the get of Sidney Dillon to the front. Lou Dillon (1:58 1/2) being his big colt.

The yearling trotter, Dr. Elmore, which recently stepped a quarter at Lexington in 2:1 1/2, is by J. Malcolm Forbes (2:08) and from a Moko mare. The Moko blood is greatly in evidence this season through the performance of The Red Lady and others.

Captain George Keefe of the 26th Battalion, who has been invalided home as the result of serious wounds received in action after a career at the front in which he won an enviable reputation, has arrived in Halifax. He landed yesterday afternoon from the Mauretania which brought a large number of others who are suffering from the results of their participation in the world war. John Keefe of this city, father of the gallant young soldier, had a short conversation with his son over the long distance telephone wires this morning. Captain Keefe said that he was feeling quite well after the trip and his voice gave evidence that he is recovering his strength.

St. John Soldier Comes Through Exciting Experience

PTE. WILLIAM QUINN

Interesting Story of the Fighting on the Somme—His Chum, James Seymour, a New Brunswicker, Loses His Life

The following letter was received by Mrs. Patricia Quinn, 127 Erin street, from her son, Pte. William Quinn, who left Canada with the 55th Battalion, but was transferred to another regiment. Pte. Quinn was wounded in the arm at the Somme and has had a trying experience, which he interestingly and graphically describes. He is now in England in hospital. The letter follows:—

Wharfedale War Hospital, Sheffield, England, Oct. 29th, '16

Dear Mother:—

"I will now try and write you a few lines to let you know that I am well, and trusting you are the same. My wound is now nearly all healed, but the arm is still sore. I suppose when you received the telegram you thought I had been killed, well, thank goodness I had not, but I never want to be as near to it as I was then. I will tell you now a little about the whole thing.

"Our brigade arrived at the Somme on September 12. We had no huts to go into, so we had to make the best of it. My mate and I had to make stretchers out of our ground sheets. Next day I found we were near the 30th Battalion, and I went over and had a talk with some of them, especially the boys who were wounded and sick, waiting for their hurry-up cars. They would cry out to us: 'Do your duty boys.'

"At 2 p. m. I could smell the powder, see the shells bursting, the machine gun bullets hitting the ground. We were in the line and then one would drop and move up to the next line of trenches. In moving we had to go over open ground again. Some were killed and wounded in going.

"The next trench was worse than the last one, for dead—not only German dead, but also our own—were strewn all around. Later that day we got orders to take a trench that Fritz was holding. Well, I dug a hole so I could get clear of the flying shrapnel. My mate did likewise, his name, I might say, was James Seymour from New Brunswick. There were two highly explosive shells hit handy to us, throwing much dirt in the air. I said to Jim, 'we had better get out of here,' but we had not time. Then I heard voices crying out 'where is your head?' I could not see where they were, I only felt the weight of someone standing on my head and shoulders, and I yelled out 'Get off my head.' I could not see who it was, but at last, after fifteen minutes I was dug out, also poor Jim, but he was not to worry myself. When the line came to crawl over we did so in great style, but I did not get very far. I was hit by a piece of high explosive in the elbow joint which inflicted a wound and also causing a fracture of the joint.

I came back, for I was out of action. I met a lot of other boys who were wounded and we had to wait until it was dark until we could be sent to a dressing station. On the way to the dressing station we again encountered old Fritz and had to change our course. As a result we all got lost. We kept on the move, however, until we came to an old communication trench, which the Germans at one time owned. I and the others went in and had a rest. Voices were heard in the distance. Pictures came and went. Was it the enemy or a friend? It was some of our party. They put us on the right road again and we finally got to the dressing station. When I got there I had a good feed.

I was in No. 2 Canadian Hospital in France for a week and was in bed all the time. I met sister Wilcox from Paradise row. While there she was very good to me, in fact they all were. I was then sent to England to a clearing station and now I am here. I had to go under an operation. I am feeling fine and in good health, so do not, Dear Mother, worry about me. I will now close, with love to all. Your loving son, WILLIAM.

MISSING BOY FOUND

Charles Gunn, nine years of age, who was missing from his home in Blair street, off City road, since yesterday afternoon, was found early this morning by a policeman in the streets and was taken to his home, much to the relief of his anxious parents.

The mother of the boy said this morning that he had been at school yesterday afternoon, and when school was let out he, with some other boys, got on a team, and started out towards the country. It was a most unusual thing for the boy to do as he always made it a custom to come directly home after school. Having gone out the road yesterday and being late when he returned to the city, the young lad was afraid to go home, and as a result he caused much alarm and worry to his people. The police were notified. About three o'clock this morning one of the members of the North End division found the lad and brought him to his home.
