GRAND FALLS DEVELOPMENT IS ASSURED

New Provincial Company To Be Formed; Will Operate Without Cost To Province

Previous Agreement With International Paper Company Abrogated—Details of Arrangement Withheld Until Premier Speaks Next Week

HEALTH DEPT. TO INCLUDE LABOR

New Speaker Congratulated By Mover and Seconder of Address—Tribute of Respect Paid To Memory of Mayor Potts—Optimism For Future Expressed

By JOHN J. DUNLOP

Staff Correspondent of The Times-Star. FREDERICTON, N. B., March 11.—Another milestone in the negotiations and attempts to develop the Grand Falls power site...

The province, it is learned, will not even be called on to guarantee the bond issue for the development, which will be undertaken by a company to be formed in the province. The International Pulp and Paper Company, Limited, which had held the development rights for years at the Grand Falls site, and which entered into an agreement with the Veniot Government to sell the rights for a consideration amounting to $1,200,000, will take the leading part in the company to be formed, according to Premier Baxter this morning.

PROVINCE IS RELIEVED.

Under the new arrangement to be put before the consideration of the House next week by the Premier, the Province will be relieved of the financial burden of the development which was placed as high as between $10,000,000 and $12,000,000 last year when the entire project was under consideration by the House. Fraser's, Limited, it is learned, took a prominent part in the negotiations for the new development which were only completed late yesterday afternoon.

MEMBERS SWORN IN.

The swearing-in ceremony of the members before Chief Justice Hazen in the morning was witnessed by a large audience.

Among the Saint John people present for the ceremonies were Mrs. J. B. Baxter, wife of the premier, Mrs. L. P. D. Tilly, Mrs. W. H. Harrison, Col. W. B. Anderson and Mrs. Anderson, Lieut.-Col. George Keefe and Mrs. Keefe, Miss Mabel Lewis, W. I. Fenton, Myer Cohen, J. F. Tilton, George L. Ingram, Geo. Ellis, Lt.-Col. H. C. Sparling, Capt. H. E. Patton.

Following the House opening ceremonies and the session of J. Leonard O'Brien as Speaker, the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne was moved by A. J. Brooks, Kings, and seconded by Frank Lavole, Northumberland.

At the conclusion of their speeches, adjournment was moved by former Premier Veniot.

GRAND FALLS POWER

The paragraph dealing with the Grand Falls power site extending over a period of some 20 years has been reached and passed with the important announcement in the Speech from the Throne today that the Grand Falls would be developed without cost to the public of New Brunswick, but with the resulting promotion of industry so necessary to the future of the province.

Veniot Not To Speak Until Monday Night

Special to The Times-Star. FREDERICTON, N. B., March 11.—A change in the House programme for tomorrow was made here this morning when it was announced that former Premier Veniot would commence his speech on the debate on the reply to the Speech from the Throne on Monday evening next, and not on Friday afternoon as originally scheduled, as the House will adjourn on Friday afternoon to permit the members to spend the week-end at their homes.

DEAD REMEMBERED

Other matters dealt with in the speech concerned regret over the death of Queen Alexandra, J. M. Fiewelling, and Frank L. Potts, unveiling of the monument at Reston, N. B. to the late Bonar Law, references to agriculture and development of forest products industry, efficient enforcement of the prohibition law and other matters. The speech is one of the shortest in 25 years.

ADDRESS IS MOVED.

In opening his address, Mr. Brooks said he wished to extend his thanks for the courtesy and honor paid him in asking him to move the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne. He took the opportunity to congratulate Speaker O'Brien on his election. Although a young man, he felt he was well qualified to uphold the dignity of his office. He congratulated Premier Baxter on his sweeping victory last August and said it was as much due to the Premier's ability and integrity as to the policies he supported. He referred to the deaths of Queen Alexandra, J. M. Fiewelling and F. L. Potts.

TRIBUTE TO POTTS.

Regarding the late Mayor Potts he said his character was well exemplified in the manner in which he discharged his duties with the hand of death upon him. Mr. Brooks dealt exhaustively with the tourist traffic, agriculture, immigration and dairying, and said the province had wonderful possibilities here in these matters. He was pleased to note the Government's favorable action in this direction as outlined in the Throne speech.

REFERS TO PROHIBITION.

Concerning prohibition, he said all citizens should respect this law. Regarding the Grand Falls, he said he was glad to note the development would go on without costing the province one cent. It was a wise policy, he said, to increase the industries and when the details of this were made known to the people, they would realize the Government had done more for the province by this legislation than any single act in the last 25 years.

Concluding, he said, the dawn of a new era of prosperity was at hand and it remained for the people of New Brunswick to seize their opportunities and thereby make their province one of the greatest in confederation.

LAVOLE SPEAKS.

Mr. Lavole, in seconding the motion, spoke for a few minutes in French and then gave a short address in English. In opening, he expressed gratitude on behalf of the French-Canadian people, of which he also was representative, in asking him to second the address and he congratulated both Premier Baxter and the speaker on being elected to their respective offices. Continuing, he referred to the deaths of Queen Alexandra and the two late members, Messrs. Fiewelling and Potts and said the province had suffered a great loss thereby. The speaker said he was pleased to see the Government was making efforts toward economy in the public business.

MARITIME CASE.

He expressed the hope that the railway rate hearing in Moncton on April 6 would tend to ameliorate present conditions. The matter of increasing tourist trade also was important and should be encouraged. He congratulated the Government in its choice of personnel for the Power Commission and said that any hydro development by private capital on the Neigaiquit would be most welcome. Concluding, he congratulated the member for Kings on his able speech.

MISSIONARY ESCAPES.

HONG KONG, March 11.—(United Press)—David Thomas, a Presbyterian missionary, with his wife and three children, arrived in Howtow today, following an escape from river pirates.

Speech From the Throne

FOLLOWING is the full text of the Speech from the Throne, delivered by Lieut.-Governor Todd at the opening of the first session of the Ninth New Brunswick Legislative Assembly this afternoon.

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly: IN OPENING this, the first Session of a new Legislature, I have much pleasure in welcoming those members who have been re-elected as well as those who come to this Assembly for the first time, and trust that your labors may be devoted to the realization of the hopes which the people entertain of a forward movement on the part of this Province.

Since last we met death has removed the gracious Queen Mother Alexandra whose memory will be precious to the people whom she made her own.

With you I sincerely regret the death of Mr. John M. Fiewelling and Mr. Frank L. Potts, elected to represent the constituencies of St. Stephen-Milltown and the County of Saint John. Both gentlemen had given excellent service as members in the past and their absence today is a reminder of the temporary nature of all human endeavor.

During the year there was unveiled at Reston in the County of Kent a memorial to the late Right Honourable Andrew Bonar Law, a native of that county who was the first Prime Minister of Great Britain born in the overseas Dominions. I am pleased to extend to those who defrayed the cost of this memorial the thanks of the Government and people of this Province.

I DESIRE to impress upon you the fact that agriculture is still our chief industry. Farm crops of all kinds have been abundant and for such of our products as we have had an exportable surplus the prices have been good. Much still remains to be done in this department. Raising of live stock in our hay producing sections should be encouraged as should every effort to manufacture a finished product for consumption or export rather than to sell an article in its raw state. I invite your attention to the standardization of products and the necessity of individual effort for greater production for export. My Government will assist so far as is possible in the problem of marketing. Our geographical position gives us an advantage over central and western Canada in the matter of freight which would ensure our access to overseas markets upon a competitive basis.

A commissioner to deal with new industries, marketing, natural resources and immigration, has been appointed and it is hoped by this co-ordination to produce gratifying results.

OUR expenditure for highways has been heavy and we must realize that the cost of upkeep will not be light. Leading as they do to scenery which is unsurpassed on this continent, our roads should be kept by a greatly increased number of tourists. To that end it is proposed to give assistance to the development of this valuable traffic. In this connection our natural advantages in fish and game must be protected and generous opportunity afforded both to tourists and to our own people to make use of them. The angling possibilities of the Saint John, Miramichi and other rivers are as yet scarcely realized.

It is evident in the matter of forest resources that the lumber industry as hitherto carried on is in a state of transition towards the more highly manufactured forms of pulp and paper. A project is now well under way by which approximately $5,000,000 of private capital will be invested in the necessary power and involving the employment of about 1,200 additional hands. Such enterprises should be encouraged, as it is by building up communities founded upon labor that the best results can be obtained for the Province.

My Government, feeling that in railway transportation charges the Maritime Provinces have been at a marked disadvantage since the War, joined with the Governments of Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island in the presentation of a case which has been expertly prepared and will be heard before the Board of Railway Commissioners at Moncton on April 6th.

IT is the intention of my Government to diligently enforce the laws of this Province including the law relating to the sale of intoxicants. A new Chief Inspector has been appointed who has just completed the districting of the Province and the appointment of his staff. His work will demonstrate to what extent it is possible to overcome the indifference with relation to this law which has become widespread among the people, and to combat the efforts of those who, for personal gain, have persistently set the law at defiance.

My Government in conjunction with the N. B. Electric Power Commission has made a study of the development of power at Grand Falls. More complete surveys than heretofore existed have demonstrated that the expense of storage facilities in the State of Maine will be greater than the Commission and the International Paper Company, by which the Province was to contribute the capital required for the development, purchase the rights of the Company and give it practically an exclusive right to take such power as it pleased without obligating it to the use of such power, shall be abrogated. It is necessary that the Province should be protected against possible loss in such an enterprise while at the same time the development should be proceeded with. An arrangement by which the power will be made available for existing as well as prospective manufacturers of pulp and paper, to the extent of the capacity of the Falls, will be submitted to you for your approval. Besides this an opportunity will be provided under public control for users of power for other purposes.

IN view of the negotiations between the Government of the Dominion and the governments of the Western Provinces for the transfer to those provinces of their natural resources, my Government will press upon the Federal Administration the fairness of a readjustment of our financial relations.

My Government feels that the interests of Labor would be promoted by committing them to the care of a Minister, and for that purpose will enlarge the Department of Health to include Labor.

The Public Accounts for the past year will be laid before you, together with Estimates of Revenue and Expenditure. The latter must necessarily be based upon the upkeep of the services which the Province has already contracted for and for the provision of adequate revenue will be a matter for your serious consideration.

Measures will be submitted to you for the improvement of the law. I ask your most earnest co-operation for the best interests of the Province under the guidance of Divine Providence.

The personnel, exclusive of India, is 139,400, or a decrease of 1,200 men. The strength of the army reserve for April 1st will be 96,000. The territorial army strength on February 1st was 6,810 officers and 128,282 of other ranks, an increase of 192 officers and 4,841 men, but the total is still below the peace time level.

B. C. Fuel Oil Tax Is Declared Ultra Vires; Now Legality of Gasoline Levy Is Threatened

VICTORIA, B. C., March 11.—About $400,000 a year in government revenue was lost to the people of British Columbia yesterday, when Mr. Justice Morrison of the Supreme Court ruled that the provincial fuel oil tax is ultra vires. So far $206,000 of the tax has been collected since it went into effect in January, 1925. Government officials expressed alarm not only at the announcement that the fuel oil tax had been cancelled, but also because of the added intimation that an attack might be made upon the legality of the gasoline tax, which amounted to $438,000 last year.

U. S. EXPECTED TO INTERVENE IN LEAGUE CRISIS

REPORT DENOUNCED

PREDICTS COLLAPSE

REPLACED IN TOMBS

The Times says the first move rests with the government, and it advises the government to accept the report as a whole and get to work on its recommendations.

When the question of the government's adoption and giving effect to the report was discussed in the lobby of the House of Commons last night, there were some members who predicted that if it did so, the country soon would be involved in a general election.

One of the main clauses of the report says that depression in coal industry could not be attributed to political unrest or restriction of output by the miners or inefficiency of management.

Neither the mine owners nor the miners have as yet made an official declaration of opinion but the comments by industrialists and the newspapers make clear that the report will do nothing but harmonize the conflicting interests.

Frank Hodges, secretary of the International Miners Federation, declared the coal industry would collapse May 1, if a recommendation by the committee to withdraw the subsidy the government is paying the miners, and mine owners, is adopted.

Inspection trips were made to power generating plants, a large bakery, a newspaper plant, the garment factories, and other industrial centers.

SAINT JOHN, N. B., MARCH 11, 1926.

THE BAXTER GOVERNMENT'S PROGRAMME

The Speech from the Throne, published today, outlining the Baxter Government's legislative programme, is short, and couched in rather general terms, yet it contains some proposals of an important character, notably with respect to Grand Falls. In regard to most of the items on the bill of fare it will be much easier to judge after the Government has disclosed in the House the means by which it proposes to accomplish the purposes it sets forth.

In the opening paragraph of the Speech the hope is expressed that the labors of the members "may be devoted to the realization of the hopes which the people entertain of a forward movement to stimulate it by courageous and progressive policies, giving the people a new sense of confidence and a strong lead in the development of the resources and opportunities which are at our command."

Agriculture is properly given the foremost place in the Speech, as the chief industry of the province, and emphasis is placed upon the importance of developing a much greater export business, and on the part which the standardization of products must play in this regard.

Reference is made to the fact that the lumber industry is in a state of transition, and that the most promising development now lies in pulp and paper, and in this connection the enterprise of the Bathurst Company, which will spend some $5,000,000 in the expansion of its plant and output, is strongly commended.

With reference to the liquor question, the Government proclaims its determination to enforce the laws of the province efficiently, including the law relating to the sale of intoxicants. In regard to the appointment of a new chief inspector the Government says that "this work will demonstrate to what extent it is possible to overcome the indifference with relation to this law which has become widespread among the people and to combat the efforts of those who, for personal gain, have persistently set the law at defiance."

Coming to Grand Falls, the Government says that the contract made under the old regime with the International Paper Company is to be abrogated. It is asserted that more complete surveys have shown that the expense of storage facilities in Maine would be greater than anticipated, and the contract for which the old Government was responsible is described as one under which the province "was to contribute the capital requisite for the development, purchase the rights of the company, and give it practically an exclusive right to take such power as it pleased without obligating it to the use of such power. It is stated that a first requisite is that the province shall be protected against loss in such an enterprise. This is what is to be done: "Arrangement by which the power will be made available for existing as well as prospective manufacturers of pulp and paper, to the extent of the capacity of the Falls will be submitted to you for approval. Besides this an opportunity will be provided under public control for users of power for other purposes."

Details as to this arrangement will be awaited with little interest, and will be the subject of instructive discussion in the House. There will be, however, a strong feeling of relief that the great development is to go forward.

The Government refers to its co-operation with Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island relative to freight rates, and says that as the federal Government is negotiating with the Western Provinces for the return to them of their natural resources, New Brunswick will press for a readjustment of its financial relations with the Dominion, a proposal which the other Maritime governments have also announced.

The Government's programme is by no means revolutionary. Everything depends upon the energy and originality with which it is set about, and the task which it has outlined, and with respect to some items of which it is vague. The administration has a large majority, and a free hand. The people are looking for action. While it is true that governments cannot make the sunshine, or the rain fall, there is still really a great deal they can do if they have vision and public spirit and a driving determination to give service. We are at a time in New Brunswick when the opening of a new era of progress should be possible. Hon. Mr. Baxter and his associates are facing an opportunity so striking that it should bring out the best that is in them. They can set a new pace in this province if they are of the right calibre. The public will be quick to give them credit for work of merit, for initiative and for sound policy—and it will be quick to condemn them if they fall. New Brunswick must stride forward.

Proposed changes in the form of civic administration, now generally discussed, lend additional interest to the forthcoming civic elections, but as yet the crop of candidates is not large. There is, so to speak, a conspicuous backwardness in coming forward. We shall have Commission government for another year at least, and during that period it is highly important that there should be a forward-looking administration at City Hall.

The opening of a one-way automobile driveway through Rockwood Park this spring, upon which the directors of the Horticultural Association have decided, is a welcome improvement. Too few of our people appreciate and take advantage of the beauties of Rockwood. There is still needed an arrangement whereby the street railway could be extended to one of the park entrances, and with increasing traffic that will some day be accomplished. The public-spirited men who have been responsible for the development of the park have given this city service of high value.

Time Was—The friends of William Allen White, who fear he is beginning to feel his years, point to the following in the Emporia Gazette as foundation for their theory: "We're talking with Whit Douglas, Emporia's handsomest barber, the other day about the barber business. It ran this way: "Whit wouldn't it be grand to see an old-fashioned barber shop again with a spittoon by every chair, and a shaving brush in a thousand miles."

"Well," says Whit, "our business has sloughed off two great processes in 500 years: first, we were noted for his absent-mindedness. 'Don't you really remember me, professor?' she inquired. TO FORTUNE.

For ever, Fortune, wilt thou prove An unrelenting foe to Love, And when we meet a mutual heart Come in between, and bid us part?

Bid us sigh on from day to day, And wish and wish the soul away, Till youth and genial years are flown, And all the light of life is gone?

But busy, busy, still art thou, To bind the lovesick, joyless vow, The heart from pleasure to deude, To join the gentle to the rude.

For once, O Fortune, hear my prayer, And I absolve thy future care; All other blessings I resign, Make but the dear Amanda mine.

FLAWS IN THE HUMAN MACHINE

THAT GREAT process which we refer to simply as "evolution," appears to be impressed upon the common mind as something that is supposed to have happened in the dim past. Yet the thoughtful man needs only to look about him to see that the process is still at work, that man is still changing. Evolution, for instance, is decreasing the size of our ears. Having eliminated two of the roots of the wisdom teeth, it is working toward complete elimination of that tooth; bones in the little toe are being reduced in number. Other changes or amendments or improvements of whatever you want to call them, less noticeable, are being made all the time. They can be traced in our bodies.

AND WHY should not this be so? Is man progressing to perfection or is he standing still? For those who think Man a nearly perfect (and, of course, by Man, we mean both sexes) Dr. A. H. Schultz of Johns Hopkins medical school, makes the following observations: Not more than 20 per cent. of human beings have ears the same size. In the greater number of persons, the ears are on differing levels. Usually the opposite sides of the mouth differ in size and level. The right arm is usually longer than the left. The collar-bone is seldom symmetrical. One foot is usually larger than the other. These are only examples. You can find others if you stand before a mirror and study yourself with an observant eye.

CLOSING our ears to the passion and prejudice which rage about this subject now, we can find in the lowly origin which science assigns to Man the best advice of the splendor of his capabilities.—And discern in his long progress through the past a reasonable ground of faith in his attainment of a nobler future.

things are exactly in their right places? Because every Saturday a certain Puritan dame, Hepzibah Merwin, made a practice of baking two or three dozen apple pies which were to last her family through the week. She labeled each according to the day of the week on which it was to be used, and the pantry, thus arranged, was said to be in apple pie order.

Why is an unmarried woman called a spinster? Because women were prohibited from marrying in olden days until they spun a full set of bed furnishings, and thus, until marriage, they spent much time at the spinning wheel and were, therefore, "spinsters."

Why do clergymen habitually wear black? Because when Martin Luther, in 1524, laid aside the habit of a monk and adopted the style of dress prevailing at the time, the doctor of divinity's disciples thought because he wore black, it became them to do so, and thus it came about that the clergy generally grew to regard it as the only proper color for them to wear.

In the larger field of federal politics his abilities will probably find even greater scope for expression.

study and experiment is that of creation in the inanimate matter. To create life out of nothing, as God does in a million ways about us every day, is the greatest ambition of man in his vanity. And if mere man with his finite mind cannot measure the infinite it proves nothing but that man is not God. ROCKWOOD WILL HAVE DRIVEWAY FOR MOTOR CARS

Horticultural Association, At Annual Meeting, Decides On Change

SIR J. D. HAZEN IS AGAIN PRESIDENT

Union Ice Company Asks To Be Given 21-Year Lease

The opening of a one-way automobile driveway through Rockwood Park as early as possible in the present season was decided upon at the annual meeting of the Saint John Horticultural Association held yesterday afternoon in the Board of Trade rooms, when Sir Douglas Hazen, K. C. M. G., presided and was re-elected president, entering upon his 31st consecutive year in office.

Sir Leonard Tilley was the first president of the association, and Sir Douglas Hazen is the second, having succeeded Sir Leonard Tilley in 1896.

The entrance to the automobile driveway, it is suggested, will be at Mount Pleasant and the route be along Lily Lake to the artificial lake and out to Sandy Point Road. The arrangements for the opening of the driveway were left with the committee of management.

DIRECTORS CHOSEN

Directors were elected as follows: Sir Douglas Hazen, K. C. M. G., A. D. B. Gandy, H. W. Emerson, Hon. H. J. Ritchie, T. H. Estabrook, H. B. Schofield, G. Fred Fisher, Struan Robertson, John Jackson, R. R. Patchell, Hon. J. E. Wilson, George McAuliffe, A. I. Thorne, John Sealy, Dr. James H. Frink, H. C. Rankine, E. A. Goodwin, Frank H. Ellis, A. Gordon Leavitt, Harold M. Stetson, D. Millidge, Dr. J. Roy Campbell, T. H. Bullock, Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, Judge J. G. Forbes, Walter C. Allison, Harold Wetmore, H. F. Puddington, H. S. Keith, C. F. Sanford, J. Alphonse Gregory, E. J. Terry, R. G. Schofield, D. W. Armstrong, A. F. Blake, William Jack, D. King Hazen, G. E. C. Gandy, H. W. Rising, Frederick deForest and Thomas P. Regan.

Officers were elected at the directors' meeting as follows: President, Sir Douglas Hazen, K. C. M. G.; vice-presidents, first, R. R. Patchell; second, Chester Gandy; treasurer, Hon. J. E. Wilson; secretary, C. F. Sanford; and auditor, H. W. Emerson.

The election of committees was deferred until an adjourned meeting to be held March 24 at 8 p. m.

SECRETARY'S REPORT

The report of C. F. Sanford, secretary, was as follows:

"Ever since my connection with this association the report of the managing committee has been prepared and presented by our late treasurer, the Hon. John Russell Armstrong, whose deep regretted death has cast that duty upon me.

"With an energy which a younger man might well be proud, and with such ability did he faithfully discharge, not only his duties as treasurer, but practically the whole administration of the affairs of the association, that its most excellent condition today stands as a monument to his memory.

"Your directors feel his loss most keenly and realize that his place will be difficult to fill.

OTHER LOSSES

"During the past year the society has also suffered the loss of two other members of the board of directors, namely, Edward Sears and William S. Allison, both of whom were very prominent citizens and took a very deep interest in the association.

"The winter and summer attractions of the park have been well carried out as in the past by Joseph Tebo. During the present winter season a most successful skating meet was held on Lily Lake under an efficient committee of citizens and it is a great gratification to your directors that at that meet the title 'world champion' was so well earned by one of Saint John's native sons.

"The thanks of the association are due to Beverley R. Armstrong, son of our late treasurer, who so kindly carried on the work of the treasurer since his father's death."

FINANCIAL STATEMENT

The treasurer's statement of the late Hon. J. R. Armstrong, which had been completed for the year by his son, Beverley R. Armstrong, showed total receipts of $6,840.50, including $8,500 of city grant and $1,000 for the lease of ice cutting privileges. Expenditures totalled $6,873.28 and included about $900 spent in permanent repairs of the green house walls and $89.88 spent in the purchase of animals. The overdraft totalled $6,278.08 and showed an increase of $32.76 over last year's overdraft.

The Union Ice Company asked for a 21 year lease of the ice cutting rights at the lake at $1,000 a year. The matter was referred to the secretary and treasurer with power to act, but it was pointed out that it might be a mistake to tie up the ice privileges for so long a time as it is the intention of the association to hand over the management of the park to the city at some future date.

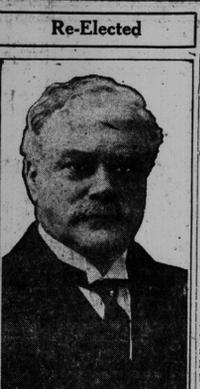

OF GREAT ADVANTAGE

Sir Douglas Hazen stated that the park area is now about 1,100 acres and with the many good roads and improvements the property has a large value and is a very great advantage to the city.

CIVIC GOVERNMENT ADDRESSES GIVEN

W. F. Burditt and A. E. Massie Speak at West End Meeting

A. E. Massie and W. F. Burditt addressed a meeting of the citizens of West Saint John in the Carleton curling rink last evening on the different forms of civic government. Col. Norman P. MacLeod presided. Many were present.

Mr. Burditt said the objects to be attained in civic government were broad representation of the community, effective service, economy, continuity of policy and progressiveness. Representation, he said, was best secured by the ward or district system. Continuity would be obtained by having only a portion of the council retire at each civic election. Effective service could be secured through small advisory bodies and trained heads of departments. Economy should be effected by close oversight and the fixing of responsibility.

Mr. Burditt illustrated his address by reference to the European systems of civic government. He said that in the United States a variety of forms were in use. In some the division of authority between the mayor and council had not been well defined and federal politics intruded. The result was inefficient service and dissatisfaction.

He also spoke of the modern boards of control and the commission system which, he remarked, was well known to Saint John.

Mr. Burditt referred to the latest innovation of city manager and pointed out the alleged advantages and disadvantages of the system. He concluded by saying that in the final analysis, good or bad civic government rested with the people and that unless they took an interest and elected good capable men any system would fail.

Colonel Massie also delivered a well reasoned address on the same subject. A vote of thanks was given the speakers on motion of Hon. R. W. Wigmore, seconded by W. E. Scully.

"Resolved, That the Imperial Council with representation from the dominions should be established with full control over the foreign policy of the British Empire."

Associated with Mr. Myles as judges will be G. G. Bridges, LL.D., of Moncton, and F. L. Milner, K.C., of Amherst.

The city doctors are also doing much similar work in the immunization of their children patients. NEW MINISTER HERE INDUCTED

Rev. W. L. Newton Assumes Charge At Knox Presbyterian Church

Reception Follows Solemn Ceremony and Minister and Wife Are Welcomed

The induction of Rev. W. L. Newton, M. A., B. D., of Windsor, Ont., as minister of Knox church took place last evening, the solemn ceremony of the Presbyterian Church being impressively carried out in the presence of a large congregation including the members of the Board of Session and several ministers.

Rev. W. M. Townsend presided and as interim-moderator stated that the pulpit had been declared vacant in October on the resignation of Rev. R. Moorhead Legate and Mr. Newton had received a unanimous call.

Mr. Townsend requested Mr. Newton, and the members of the Presbytery, to come forward and asked the minister-elect to answer the necessary questions.

After Mr. Townsend had read the customary declaration Mr. Newton made his solemn promise to fulfill the obligations of his office. The congregation then attested its allegiance. After the right hand of fellowship had been extended by the members of the session Mr. Newton was declared duly inducted.

Mr. Newton is a graduate of the University of Toronto and is a college graduate. He and Mrs. Newton will take up their residence at 218 German street within a few days.

A telegram of congratulation was received from the former minister, Rev. D. J. Fraser, who is now in Montreal. The full choir of the church led the singing and Mrs. Ernest Bisset sang a solo very effectively. A very enjoyable reception in the church hall was then held in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Newton.

The members of the reception committee were Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Newton; George Robertson, Kenneth McRae and Mrs. A. R. Melrose and Miss Grace W. Leavitt. The refreshments were Mrs. Hugh H. McCallan, Mrs. Frank Finamore, Mrs. E. J. Terry, Mrs. W. G. Cameron, Mrs. Thomson, Mrs. J. G. Clayton and Mrs. Leavitt. The young ladies of the church served. The table was centered with a silver basket filled with roses and was prettily appointed. On behalf of the congregation Mrs. J. Herbert Crockett presented a beautiful bouquet of roses to Mrs. Newton.

EXTENDS WELCOME

Rev. Dr. J. A. Morison in his address to the minister extended him a cordial welcome. Rev. J. A. Back, of Woodstock, gave the address to the congregation.

After the induction service there was a conference of the members and the members of the Board of Session, George Robertson, Robert Doig, and Robert McAfee, of the Board of Presbytery for final admonitions.

COMES FROM TORONTO.

Rev. W. L. Newton, M. A., B. D., was born in Ontario, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Newton of Toronto. His father is an elder in the Dovercourt Presbyterian church in Toronto. Mr. Newton is a graduate of Toronto University, of Knox College, Toronto, and of the Union Theological seminary in New York. He was for five years minister of Knox church, Toronto. He is now entering upon his second ministerial charge.

Will Name Candidate to Oppose Elliott in West Middlesex

STRATHROY, Ont., March 10.—The West Middlesex Conservatives have decided to contest the election of the Hon. J. C. Elliott, newly appointed minister of labor in the King cabinet, at the by-election which is to be held on March 29. The nominating convention will be held on Monday next, March 15, in Strathroy. This was the decision reached after some considerable discussion at the executive meeting of the Conservative organization this afternoon.

President Robert McKellar, Glenora, presided.

It is stated that Thomas Elliot, ex-Reeve of West Williams, who was a candidate in the last general election, will probably obtain the nomination if he desires it. There is a report that H. V. Lesueur, of Sarnia, who was defeated in the last general election in West Lambton by W. J. Goodison, Liberal, and Manning Doherty, former leader of the Progressives in the Ontario legislature, will contest the nomination.

Two City Beer Licenses Are Cancelled By Inspector

BEER SHOP licenses held by Archie Wilnot and Frank O'Brien were cancelled yesterday by Chief Inspector W. L. McFarlane. Commenting on the matter Mr. McFarlane said that several other licenses were in a fair way to have similar action taken and that other licenses would probably be cancelled within a few days. The chief inspector had a busy day. He received several delegations and individuals most of them with grievances and complaints and a few with constructive ideas for the enforcement of the Intoxicating Liquor Act. He conferred with members of the local staff and impressed upon them the necessity of getting busy and enforcing the act without fear or favor.

Mr. McFarlane left for Fredericton last evening.

Both horses were cut about the hoofs and the sled was badly damaged.

The whole company sat down to an excellent supper provided by an efficient committee and very attractively served. Miss Foster was the convener of the committee.

T. A. Ramsay, the president, gave a brief address. With hearty unanimity a very cordial vote of thanks was extended to the Y. M. C. A. for the use of the building.

After supper the company repaired to the gymnasium floor where dancing was indulged in until midnight.

The Too-Perfect Housekeeper Who Drives Her Husband Away From Home With a Broom—The Lonely Middle-Aged Who Lack Companionship—Should Wife or Mother Come First With a Man?

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am married to a beautiful and charming woman, and one who is the blue-ribbon housekeeper of the universe. But she is such a superlative housekeeper she fails to make a home, and there is no other place in the world where I feel so little at home as in my own house. I dare not leave a book open on a table or a paper where it can be seen. She keeps me hunting clothes in the basement and puts my paper clippings into the trash can. I wouldn't dare to muss a sofa cushion or lie down on a bed in the daytime. So every now and then I escape from this orderliness and go away to another city to a hotel, where I prop myself up in the middle of the bed with shoes and clothes on, light my old pipe, pull my hat over my eyes for a shade and read and write as late as I want to.

My wife broadcasts that I don't care for home. Do you wonder why? W. L. S.

ANSWER: Not at all. Many a woman sweeps her husband out of the door along with the other trash and then wonders how she happened to lose him.

DOROTHY DIX. Between the woman who is an overly neat housekeeper and the woman who is an untidy housekeeper, I am not sure but what the preference goes to the former, for one has at least greater liberty where everything is at sixth and sevens than one has in a house that is so immaculately clean and orderly that one is afraid to move for fear of putting some object out of its sacredly ordained place.

I have been in houses where you trembled to move lest you might disarrange a rug, where to take a book from a shelf was almost to commit a crime, and where a spot on the tablecloth would have been worse than a blot on your character.

I know homes in which a man is never permitted to smoke for fear of scorching up the curtains; where he is nagged about cigarette stubs and cigar ashes; where his wife goes behind him straightening up chairs and picking up the paper he has laid down for a moment, and where everything he does, and doesn't do, calls forth a certain lecture.

And I have seen such husbands flee from their homes as from a place of torture to clubs and saloons and corner drug stores, where they could do as they pleased.

I know homes in which the children are never allowed to play in the house for fear of scratching up the floors or in the yards for fear of scuffing the grass; where they are fretted at from morning to night because they scatter their caps and leave their toys about and cause things up.

And I have seen these children take to the street for freedom and join hoodlum gangs and grow up to be a disgrace and a heart-break to the mothers who cared more for their furniture and their rugs than they did for the immortal souls of their girls and boys.

Any woman who drives her husband away from his own home and to a hotel to enjoy himself in peace and comfort will have only herself to blame when she loses him entirely, as she is sure to do in time. For if a man can't take his ease in his own home he will take it elsewhere.

It seems to me that a woman has a poor sense of values who puts a hardwood floor above her husband. DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—It has been my experience lately to meet a number of middle-aged persons who are utterly miserable because they are so lonesome. They miss their children who have grown up and gone out into the world in various directions. They miss their deceased husbands and wives. Many of these persons have ample means, but they lack the companionship to which they have become accustomed. I feel sure that if there was some means by which these lonely ones could be brought together much good would result. Can nothing be done to remedy this state of affairs? GERARD.

ANSWER: You are quite right, Gerard, in thinking that loneliness is the curse of age.

But so far nobody has been able to suggest any feasible remedy for it. Companionship is the one thing that money will not buy, for the kind of people who are willing to give their society for money are those with whom we have nothing in common and whose company bores us to tears.

It is because middle-aged people, whose children are married and have gone about their own affairs, are so lonely and forlorn that I think it advisable for widows and widowers to marry, provided they marry somebody of a suitable age and disposition and character.

However, not all widows and widowers desire to remarry, and it is that most need companionship. Personally I think they are better off boarding houses and hotels, where they are thrown with other people who keep in touch with life, than they are if they sit by solitary fires in their "home."

Even an Old Man's Home or an Old Ladies' Home is better than living alone, as you can tell by seeing how alert and cheerful their inmates are. They have people of their own age, interested in the same things that they are, to talk to and they are really better off than the richer men and women who have no other company than their own thoughts. DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—Will you please answer this question: Which should come first, the wife or the mother? Which should be protected first? Which one should get the most attention? When it is a question of choosing between the wife or the mother, which should be chosen? A SUBSCRIBER.

ANSWER: Well, if I were a man and had that dilemma put up to me by my wife or by my mother, I should choose the one who didn't ask the question.

For of all the cruel situations in which a man can be placed, none is so soul rending as to have to choose between the two women he loves best in the world, the two women to whom he owes most. To call on him to decide between them is to rend the heart out of his bosom.

And it must make him feel that they are very little to him, if, for the sake of their petty quarrels, they are willing to cause him this suffering.

However, to answer your question, I think that a wife should come first with her husband to this extent, that he should give her the most of his time, the most of his attention, the most of his money, because the wife is a voluntary obligation that he took upon himself.

But this does not mean that the wife has a right to monopolize her husband. It does not mean that a man should neglect his mother for his wife, or that he should support his wife in luxury while his mother lives in penury.

Moreover, if the wife and mother cannot agree, it is not the husband's duty to side with the wife. He has a right to use his sense of justice and to put the blame where it belongs.

It is the greatest pity in the world that women have not vision enough to see that the love a man gives his mother and his wife do not conflict. They are entirely different sentiments.

Where the women are big enough and broad enough to perceive this, it makes him love them both more, whereas in their fight over his love they both often lose it altogether. DOROTHY DIX.

A Thought

Yes, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil; for Thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff comfort me.—Ps., 23:4.

Is this your BIRTHDAY?

MARCH 11—You are an ardent lover and a bitter enemy. No one will be different towards you, for you will be either well liked or thoroughly disliked. Adversity stimulates you to further and more earnest endeavor instead of crushing and disheartening you. Avoid a tendency to be jealous of others, and learn to appreciate what you have and the love given to you. Your birth-stone is a bloodstone, which means presence of mind. Your flower is a violet. Your lucky color is white.

Doug MacLean Is Man of Many Home Towns

BY RUSSELL A. BIRDWELL. The man of many "home towns," is the title which Douglas MacLean claims. The comedian was born in Philadelphia; spent his youth in Washington, D. C., and was educated in Chicago. Douglas MacLean is the son of the Rev. C. C. MacLean, D. D., who served as pastor of large congregations in these three cities. The elder MacLean's prominence in church affairs established the family name to such an extent that his son today can claim and be claimed as a "home town boy" by any one of the three municipalities. Under the direction of William Deastler, Douglas MacLean will soon start production work on his next comedy, "That's My Baby," which will be released by Paramount in the spring.

MENU MINT Breakfast Orange and Grape Fruit Sections Cooked Wheat Cereal with Top Milk Coffee Tomato Toast Luncheon Planked Eggs with Bacon and Tomatoes Parkerhouse Rolls Cake Dinner Halibut a la Boheme French Fried Potatoes Creamed Cauliflower Cabbage Salad Orange Pie Tea

TODAY'S RECIPES Tomato Toast—Take a cup or so of canned tomatoes, season to taste with salt, a little sugar and a teaspoon of butter. The tiniest bit of chili sauce or chop suey sauce if one likes the flavor. Crush the big pieces of tomatoes with a fork and cook the whole until it is quite thick. Pour over slices of plain toast. If you wish a more substantial dish fry bacon and put the strips over the toast before pouring on the tomatoes.

Planked Eggs With Bacon and Tomatoes—This is a very attractive dish. Cover a greased plank with a layer of creamy, seasoned mashed potatoes and make in the potatoes the desired number of depressions. Slip very carefully a raw egg into each of these and dust with salt and paprika. Add also a bit of butter for each egg and brush over the potato, which is shaped into an ornamental border, with a little beaten egg mixed with a couple of tablespoons of cold water. Set on the upper shelf of the oven until the eggs are set and the potatoes delicately browned and garnish with grilled bacon and fried tomatoes. Place bunches of cress at either end of the plank and pour over each egg three teaspoons of Worcestershire sauce.

Halibut a la Boheme—Place halibut steaks in French dressing and let them stand for about five minutes, then fry in either oil or butter, and serve with drawn butter sauce. This is a really delicious way to cook halibut or any other fish steak, but they should not be overcooked.

Fashion Fancies

By Marie Belmont. Back fullness in frocks has been much talked of, but up to the moment this treatment has not appeared in nearly such numbers as the front-fullness frocks. For this reason, frocks featuring fullness at the back are quite unusual, and the fact that they can be very attractive is amply demonstrated by the model above. Beige flat crepe is the material used, and the entire back of the skirt is finely pleated. Notice the inserted pleats at the back of the sleeves, carrying out the same idea. The little hat is beige felt.

IN NEW YORK SEE SAWING UP and down BROADWAY

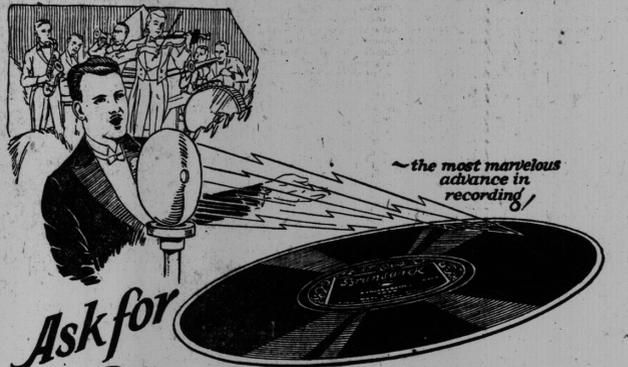

CHASOS! A strange and virulent fever spreads from man to man. Faces are flushed. Voices are dry, sharp, "strove. Laughter is even more nervous. Men pour down the sunless lanes of Wall Street like lava. They seemed pulled, like bits of metal to a magnet—the magnet is a solemn, graystone building, the disinterested eye it seems to stare, rather than attract. It is cold, haughty, inhospitable. It is the Stock Exchange. "Yah, the greatest panic since 1914—when the war broke out." Messenger boys scold by, as though grieved. Gossip starts like smoke rings, the circle expanding as it goes, breaking finally into scattered wisps. Everyone is talking: young girls who got $5 a week and young men who got $50,000 a year. "Yah know Stella—the phone girl over to the so-and-so—she was playing on margin and so was the secretary—the boss didn't know it. She got caught short and the broker yelled for more margin. What a chance." The streets fairly cry such chatter. Big fish and little fish. All caught in the same net. The know-it-alls are everywhere in convention. "Yah, it's Jesse Livermore. Here the boy that can break 'em. I told you it was coming. Anybody with half an eye could see. Just wait. You haven't heard from our little Durant yet. Notice the motors haven't broken so bad. Just wait. That Durant bird is just sitting back waiting. One of these days he'll pounce. He'll throw in everything. "He'll begin to buy and he'll catch 'em and he'll trim them bears until they won't know what twisted their tails. "So it goes. You can have anything you want to listen to. But that's outside. "On the great marble floors is reality, not chatter. Men have gone mad. There is no other word. Stark mad. The first impression is of a movie mood scene. But no! No group of actors in the world could catch such madness. These men's faces are not posed; they are carved. Terror, anxiety, determination, anger, doggedness, a thousand and one emotions are registered. "Law this ain't nothing! You shoulda seen a real panic. Back in—." Perhaps, but these holed seem to think it is something, something as important as life itself. And all it is, in the last analysis, is money. Paper crawling through a hundred machines like an endless flat snake. Paper crawling with a sound of click-click-click-click. Boys leap like puppets plastering up the latest announcement. Millions of shares tumbling and millions of hopes tumbling with them. Years of building up, frantic men. Crying, buying, selling—pandemonium. Paper fairly clogs the floor. Shoving, pushing, frantic men. Crying, buying, selling—pandemonium.

ADVENTURES of the TWINS by OLIVE ROBERTS EASTON

SOME FUNNY PEOPLE "I wonder where the elevator is," said Nancy, looking around. "Yes, I wonder," said Nick. "All I can see is the sign." The sign said: "Elevator to China." That's all there was. Jupe, the kangaroo, looked, and Hickydo, the wooden man, looked, and the Twins looked. Even Paddyfoot, the mouse, who stayed in Jupe's pocket, peered about with his little sharp eyes. But nary a thing could be seen, either. Nothing but the sign. Suddenly there was a whirling noise and Nancy cried out, "We're sinking!" And so they were. A piece of ground on which they were standing beside the road, began to go down like the front elevators you have seen on sidewalks for taking big boxes into cellars. "Help!" shouted Nancy. "Help! Help!" "Oh, hush!" said Nick. "It must be all right. It's just some more magic. And if it saves us a trip around the world what's the difference?" "That's what I say," agreed Jupe, switching his tail into a corner to get it out of the way. "I'll have to look in my index and see what it says about elevators," said Hickydo. But this time no one seemed interested. There was too much to be seen around them. The elevator had gone down about a quarter of a mile now. And as it was open on all sides, it was quite possible to see what was going on in the centre of the earth. Every little while the elevator stopped to take on more passengers who were all going to China. It seemed. "First there was a nice friendly mud-turtle. "How do you do, friends and neighbors," said he, settling his eye-glasses firmly on his nose. "The sunset was just about to begin." And out of it all will emerge two kings. The "bear king" who killed the market, and the "bull king" who turned it back and left the bears sparring over spoils. The ten thousand and one personal tragedies and comedies will be forgotten over night and a new over-night hero will rise from the tracks, even as a football player who has made a 50-yard run. Tomorrow there will be a new king and a broken king. And only the tickers will go on. Only the machine will survive in the end. Clickety-click. GILBERT SWAN.

Two of the greatest inventions of modern times, the telephone and typewriter, made their first appearance at the centennial exposition in Philadelphia, in 1876.

Weddings

Daggett-Harvey

SEAL COVE, Grand Manan, March 10.—The home of Mrs. Annie T. Harvey was the scene of a very pretty wedding, on Wednesday evening, Feb. 24 at 8 o'clock, when her young daughter, Eunice Norman, was united in marriage to James Grady Daggett. The ceremony was solemnized by Rev. J. B. Harvey, uncle of the bride in the presence of about 175 guests. The bride was attended by her niece, who acted as flower girl, each carrying a beautiful bouquet of pink and white carnations, and maiden hair fern. The bride wore a Moroccan crepe dress, trimmed with silver lace. The wedding march was played by Miss Sadie McLaughlin. After the ceremony refreshments were served, by sisters of the bride and groom.

Ceylon, The Land of Mystery, Subject of Lecture Here By Miss Elizabeth Whitney

Characteristics of Island Interestingly Described by Missionary Worker—Recalls Former Associations With Trinity Church Here

A NEW VISION of Ceylon the land of mystery was opened up for the large audience in Trinity church last night that listened with much interest to the address given by Miss Elizabeth Whitney, former resident of this city who has spent 25 years as a Church Missionary Society worker in Ceylon.

Rev. C. Gordon Lawrence, rector of Trinity, presided and recalled that Miss Whitney had been instrumental in organizing Trinity Church Guild which now has 50 members and two in active missionary service. Geoffrey Stead moved the hearty vote of thanks extended to Miss Whitney which was seconded by her former schoolmate, Mrs. Silas Alward, and spoken to by W. Shives Fisher.

ANSWERS QUESTIONS. Miss Whitney kindly answered questions asked by many of those present. She recalled the happy associations of her family with Trinity church and spoke of the constant urge towards missionary work which had influenced her throughout her life. In 1886 she had gone to England and trained at a missionary home for a year meeting many people who were afterward firm converts.

When Miss Whitney came to Ceylon as assistant for the English women's mission and similar establishments and opened a high school for the education of the daughters of the higher class of the natives of Ceylon at Colombo. In nine years at that school Miss Whitney saw the attendance grow to 240 and afterwards she went to the far north of the island to establish a similar school in that locality. She had at one time endeavored to establish a home for the orphaned missionary girls of the people of the country but had found that because of the position of women in Ceylon and it being impossible for the unmarried girls to go about the villages.

DESCRIBES CHARACTERISTICS

Miss Whitney described the characteristics of the island, the one-third section to the north being comparatively arid and peopled by the deeply religious, hard working Hindus, while the two-thirds section to the south had luxuriant vegetation and was inhabited by the more lazy Buddhist race. In the centre mountainous district, lived the Kandians, with their many lordlings and almost feudal state, whose ceremonies and picturesque costumes Miss Whitney described for her audience.

Every conceivable means of transportation has been adopted. Supplies have been taken in by airplane, dog team and horse, and yesterday snow crawlers were put into operation. U. S. ACTS IN MEXICO OUSTING OF PRIESTS. WASHINGTON, March 10.—The United States government has placed itself on record as contending that United States churches would not be made to suffer unduly from the interference of the religious clauses of the Mexican constitution of 1917 by the Calles government. Ambassador Sheffield, it was announced yesterday, presented the attitude of the state department in a note to the Mexican foreign office. While the communication was not made public, it is believed to concede Mexico's right to expel clergymen, but couples with this the suggestion that all United States citizens in that republic should be given full consideration and ample opportunity, when directed to leave.

Brokers' Opinions

NEW YORK, March 11.—All that need concern us is the trend, and, as the trend is likely to be upward for a sufficient time, we would hold stocks, especially those that were bought Monday and Tuesday, until tendency reverses itself, something that is not likely to occur before the middle of April. We would continue to advise caution.

Morning Stock Letter

NEW YORK, March 11.—There was more pep to the rally yesterday and stocks moved considerably ground. It is interesting to note that a number of stocks have already recovered all the ground lost in the reaction. We believe this rally is going to run further, and see no signs of any end to it yet, but critical time is in the near future, and consequently one must be careful in buying stocks. Despite the loss in the steel industry, the Steel Corporation, the steel business is better. Consumption of steel by auto and rail equipment industries is large all the time, and earnings for the present quarter for nearly all steel companies should be good. The steel groups look higher. MONCTON HOME IS BADLY DAMAGED

Early Morning Fire Drives Out Odell Family in Harper Street

Special to The Times-Star. MONCTON, March 11.—The fire department was called out at 2:40 o'clock this morning in answer to an alarm rung in from box 29 for a fire which had obtained a firm hold on the house situated at 23 Harper street. The flames had broken through the outside wall and for a while it looked as though the building were doomed but on arrival of the departments from No. 1 and No. 2 stations, with two streams of water being played on the blaze, the fire was quickly subdued. The house, owned by W. F. Ferguson, was badly gutted in the back, and the fire worked its way to the upstairs breaking through the roof in several places. The entire building suffered extensive water damage, although the fire did not penetrate to the front part of the dwelling. The house was occupied by Mrs. Mark Odell and family, Mr. Odell being absent in the States. Mrs. Odell and her eight children escaped and although the greater part of the furniture was carried to safety that in the back part of the house could not be reached.

LOCAL PLAYERS PRESENT COMEDY

Telephone Service Club Scores Success In "Facing The Music"

Characters Are Well Portrayed and Large Audience Greatly Enjoys Performance

The assembly room of the lower building of the New Brunswick Telephone Company was packed last night for the Service First Club's presentation of J. Henry Dunne's amusing comedy "Facing The Music."

A. W. Watson played the lead and his part was exceedingly difficult. He handled it well. His accent and gesticulations were most droll.

The executive staff of the show consisted of C. A. McKee, J. L. Holman, was played by Miss Eileen Akery and her interpretation of the role was splendid. Rev. John Smith, the innocent cause of most of the trouble, was played by G. Maynard Leggett.

Colonel Duncan Smith, uncle to John Smith (not the Rev. Smith) was played by R. T. Dakin who gave an amusing portrayal of the body-killing army officer, who offered consolation to all the pretty ladies who seemed to need it.

Miss Fotheringay, an actress whom John Smith had rescued from robbers the night before, was the part filled by Miss Movina Sadovsky.

Dick Desmond, John Smith's best friend, was played by J. Ernest Till. His part was that of the guide, counselor and friend whose advice, when taken, always proved that it would have been better left alone.

There was the usual undertheaded detective, who is always found in such comedies, and the part was assigned to Wendell Farris.

The Service First Club has put on such plays frequently for the last few years and this last one is certainly up to the high standard.

The executive staff of the show consisted of C. A. McKee, J. L. Holman,

IMPERIAL FILM IS GREATLY ENJOYED

"His Secretary" with Norma Shearer in Leading Role—Movies of Moncton

"His Secretary," a comedy with enough dramatic tension in it to give it a romantic twist, opened at the Imperial yesterday to large business and besides being particularly interesting to a large section of the female public, proved itself to be what might rightly be called a human document in the career of a business girl.

Norma Shearer, Montreal star, who is now so much in demand with the screen public, played a role which she completely transformed her in its evolution.

Miss Shearer started out in the picture as a business secretary of a perfectly groomed young business man. She herself centered her enthusiasm upon her business and did not follow the dictates of fashion creators and disdained the modiste's shops, beauty parlors and the latest fads in cosmetics.

One day when joking her employer said to his partner, "I wouldn't kiss that girl for a thousand dollars." The secretary heard the remark and then the big dogs began.

How the primly-attired, bespectacled business girl developed her natural charms gave reign to her lusty eyes and charming manners of which she was capable, is nothing short of a university extension course on the subject "Find Yourself."

The idea is deliciously amusing and with pleasurable surprise in the distant parts of our land where the New Brunswick railway centre is perhaps misunderstood in its importance. With other scenic pictures and the orchestral novelty, Imperial rounds out a very fine bill indeed.

WAR PREDICTED. TACNA-ARICA, Lima, Peru, March 11.—The possibility of another war between Chile and Peru was predicted in the Senate today by Laurito Curiletti during a speech on the Tacna-Arica plebiscite problem.

The Best Medicine I Have Ever Taken

SO SAYS MR. ARTHUR SIMMONS OF DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS. P. E. L. Man Used Them for Sore Back and Headaches.

MISCOUCHE, P. E. L., March 10.—(Special)—That Backache and Headaches are caused by weak kidneys and that the right way to treat them is to use Dodd's Kidney Pills, is again shown by the experience of Mr. A. Simmons, a well-known and highly-respected resident of this place.

"Dodd's Kidney Pills have been a great help to me. Before I started to take them I had severe pains in my back and suffered with terrible headaches. I felt well after I had taken the first box and now I am taking them all the time. They are the best pills I have ever taken."

The work of the kidneys is to strain the impurities out of the blood. It is necessary work if the body is to be kept healthy. It is a trying work, for the kidneys are constantly in contact with the seeds of disease.

CHAMBERLAIN HIT IN LOSS OF INITIATIVE

British United Press. LONDON, March 10.—While the Dominion delegates to the League of Nations including the Rt. Hon. P. C. Lorne, high commissioner for Canada in London, and Senator Dandurand, president of the League Assembly at the last meeting are doing their utmost not to embarrass Sir Austen Chamberlain, and are preserving a strict silence so that the task of the British foreign minister will not be rendered more difficult, Sir Austen still continues to be severely criticized in Conservative circles here for losing the initiative at Geneva.

QUARRY IS SIGHTED BY SEALING FLEET

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., March 10.—A message from the sealing fleet tonight states that the aeroplane carried by the Beothic sighted a patch of seals eight miles long and four miles wide within 20 miles of the greater part of the ships.

Provided bad weather does not scatter the patch, it is anticipated that by Monday, when killing is permitted, all the ships will be in striking distance and the carnage will begin in earnest.

VACATIONING IN CANADA

Those who most enjoy a holiday are those who truly earn it—earn it by attention to business detail or household cares, earn it by planning and saving for it.

Canada is the greatest vacation land on the globe—from Halifax, guardian on the East, to Victoria on the Pacific, there is scarcely a mile of country but has its own charm.

Novia Scotia and New Brunswick, "The Grey Old East," with their lakes and rivers, their modest hills and pleasant farms and comfortable homes, where life is easy, and rest and peace.

The Province of Quebec, simply another spelling of romance, with its tiny strips of farms, running back from the road in the old French fashion, its great churches with gay rooled cottages grouped round about to form a village—its great elms, noble river and unguessed possibilities for development along many lines.

A leisurely jaunt through the province will well reward the traveler.

Further on Old Ontario, where almost every lake or river means pleasure. Ottawa, Toronto, Hamilton, London, hundreds of towns familiar by name from childhood, and in the newer Ontario, Sudbury, North Bay, Port Arthur and Fort William, any and all of them worth discovering. By rail or lake, get acquainted.

On West across the spreading prairie, Winnipeg and Calgary, then on into the Mountains. Banff, with its thousand and one points of interest; lovely Lake Louise, and Lakes in the Clouds; side trips by motor to Windermere and the Okanagan and the Kootenay, visits to charming bungalow camps and magnificent hotels; Field, with the floating glaciers in the vicinity and fairy-like falls; the noble range of the Selkirk, and across the slope to the Pacific. Vancouver, the great Gate on the West, by boat to Victoria, regal in situation and dignity, Vancouver Island. The whole a journey of never-ending interest and new delights.

And from Vancouver, by splendid steamer up to Alaska, the Land of the Midnight Sun, through the sheltered seas, where sheer precipices frown down upon you, and gaily totem poles make a dash of color and romance.

Such a trip can only be realized by the taking of any Canadian Pacific Railway Agent can map it out for you, give you details, fares, train schedules, any of the many little matters which make the trip a pleasure.

Summer Tourist Fares are effective from May 15 to September 30, and by planning early, the trip will be a possibility, and then anticipating the wonders and pleasures of it all makes it doubly the best hold of some of the charming folders the Canadian Pacific publishes, see the photographs, then make your call at the office.

Wednesday IMPERIAL Thursday

Then one day she overheard her boss—the man she worshipped from afar—say of her, "I wouldn't kiss that girl for a thousand dollars!" Then she got busy with the glad rags.

Norma Shearer never presented a more charming and fascinating figure than as the secretary who learned the power of beauty's lure.

F. Maclure Sclanders Speaks of Features of Their Business

Congress of Life Underwriters is Well Opened in "Beatty" Hotel

A vigorous and inspirational address by F. Maclure Sclanders, commissioner of the Saint John Board of Trade, marked the opening session of the educational congress of the Life Underwriters Association of New Brunswick in the Georgian ballroom of the Admiral Beatty here this morning.

MR. SCLANDERS' ADDRESS

Mr. Sclanders cordially welcomed to the city the visiting life insurance men assembled at their disposal the Board of Trade facilities. He spoke of attending such congresses and trade gatherings in the United States.

THREE REASONS

Mr. Sclanders was especially pleased to address such a meeting as the present one for three reasons. First because he was an ardent advocate of insurance in every form and thought that everything that was liable to loss should be insured.

The speaker believed in insurance for protection rather than for profit. He urged that they should sell a greater amount of protection rather than speculative investments.
