JOHN S. MAGEE, Secy.

St. Andrews, Sept. 1, 1866.

At a late medical dinner in London, Sir Charles Lusk, who has been nearest to the Queen in some of her most trying moments, was joyously toasted as the 'earliest friend of the rising members of the Royal family.'

The widow Claqueot, famous throughout the world as the introducer of the Claqueot champagne, died recently in France.

Poetry.

The Modern Belle.

The daughter sits in the parlor,
And rocks in her easy chair;
She's clad in silks and satins,
And jewels in her hair—
She winks and giggles and simpers,
And simps and giggles and winks,
And though she talks but little,
'Tis vastly more than she thinks.

Her father goes clad in his russet,
And ragged and seedy at that—
His coats are out at the elbow,
He wears a most shocking bad hat,
He's hoarding and saving his shillings,
So carefully day by day,
While she, on her beaux and poolies,
Is throwing them all away.

She lies abed in the morning,
Till nearly the hour of noon,
Then comes down snapping and snarling,
Because she was called too soon.
Her hair is still in the water,
Her cheeks still dabbled with paint,
Remnants of last night's business,
Before she intended to faint.

She dotes upon men unslaven,
And men with the "dancing hair,"
She's eloquent over mostatches,
They give such a foreign air,
She talks of Italian music,
And falls in love with moon,
And though but a mouse should sneeze,
She sinks away in a swoon.

Her feet are so very little,
Her hands are so very small,
Her jewels so very heavy,
And her head so very high,
Her gait is made of compasses,
Though this she will never own,
Her body's made of wood and iron,
Her heart is made of willy-willy-won.

She falls in love with a fellow,
Who swells with a foreign air,
He carries his hair for her sake,
She carries her hair for his sake,
One of the very best articles,
Each are well made for the day,
She's a good deal for her money,
He's a good deal for his day.

Wm. Ward Beecher, of California.

The land of California, so unparalleled in vastness and beauty, and so pressing in its riches, is now the scene of a large and increasing population. In the early days of its settlement, the people were few and the soil was rich, and the people were content with the simple life of the pioneer.

But now, when the population has increased so rapidly, the soil is being exhausted, and the people are becoming more and more dependent upon the land for their support. It is a sad state of affairs, and it is one which should be remedied.

It is a sad state of affairs, and it is one which should be remedied. It is a sad state of affairs, and it is one which should be remedied. It is a sad state of affairs, and it is one which should be remedied.

May. A full-grown tree is thirty feet high with dense bush top, 8 or 10 yards in diameter. It requires irrigation and careful culture.

Mr. Flint's vineyard, only five years old, contained scores of varieties of delicious grapes growing in enormous clusters, several bunches weighing fully five pounds each. On Governor Low's table one morning was a six-pound bunch from the Sacramento market. Clusters weighing eight or ten pounds excite little attention, and I am assured that a bunch of seventeen pounds was exhibited at one fair.

The hundred varieties are cultivated; the most delicate Malaga grapes, indeed nearly all vines from the Atlantic slope, Europe, Asia and Africa, flourish in this kindly soil.

The fruit-growers begin to make raisins and preserve figs, and with the completion of the Pacific railroad, they expect to supply the eastern markets daily with fresh grapes. They can never fail, and is said to average to the acre double the yield of the best vineyards of Ohio, France and Germany.

The California, though smaller than some varieties, excels, I think, all others in flavor. The vineyard of the state, of which more than one-third are in Los Angeles county, cover upwards of 10,000 acres. The largest is in Sonoma county, and contains 500,000 vines. In 1864 the wine product was about 4,000,000 gallons, and it has largely increased since. [C. W. T. Tribune.]

mine but taking her up on one side and down on the other, there is not another nation that represents so much Christianity as Old England.

If you do not like to hear it, I like to say it, and the strongest power on the face of the earth to-day is that kingdom. It is the greatest kingdom, and the one that is the least likely to be shaken down. England has been destroyed every ten or fifteen years from the time of the Armada to the present day, in the precipices of man. Every few years has been about to be overthrown by sea; she had been about to be ploughed up by land, she had been about to be stripped of her resources in India and other parts of the globe; nations have formed alliances against her; the armies and fleets of the civilized world have come about her; her interests, political and pecuniary, have been repeatedly assailed; and yet she has stood as she now stands, mistress of the seas, and the strongest power on earth. She has represented the model civilization.

CONDITION OF IRELAND.—The Dublin correspondent of the Times says:—“The spirit of content reigns everywhere in Ireland at the present time. Various causes have contributed to produce the happy state of things—chiefly the prospect of a most abundant harvest, and the almost entire exemption of the country from the cattle plague. The excitement produced by Fenianism has completely subsided and crime is at the lowest ebb. In several counties during the assizes, the judges have received white gloves, having had no criminal business brought before them. There has not, I believe, been in any of the Counties a single case of agrarian outrage or combination of any kind. In a commercial point of view, the state of the country is most satisfactory. Not a single Irish bank has been seriously affected by the late monetary crisis. It is not surprising that the older banks, which have been paying off very high dividends—such as the Provincial, the Royal, the National, and the Belfast Banks should have passed without difficulty through the ordeal which has proved so fatal to large establishments in England; but the wonder is that some of the smaller and younger Irish banks have not succumbed or been shaken.”

EXTRAORDINARY INVENTIONS.—On the 3rd Mr. Gale attended the Royal Marine Barracks Portsmouth, for the purpose of displaying and explaining his new repeating firearm. The firearm was minutely examined and tested and was shown to be possible to fire the arm eighty times in a minute, and that speed could be kept up for a period only limited by the industry of the firer and the extent of his supply of steel breech cases, into which the cartridge is placed, and once within which it is almost impossible that any accidental blow can explode them. The arm is very simple in construction and the barrel remarkably easy to clean, being open at both ends, and the cart-ridge case and so forth for this completely cleared out of the pistol or gun at each discharge. The officers present warmly congratulated Mr. Gale on the invention, the great utility and marvellous character of which was fully recognized. Mr. Gale also referred to his latest invention—a grenade for us, in naval actions, causing for half an hour or more an impenetrable fog in any desired locality.

TERRIBLE RAILWAY ACCIDENT.—A terrible accident has occurred on the railway from Leadenburg to Prague. On account of the great amount of military traffic on the line which lately formed the artery of communication supplies for the three united Prussian armies, railway carriages have been brought from Saxony and even Prussia to supply the necessary transport. These carriages for the most part run on three pairs of wheels, instead of on two, as do those which in time of peace run along this line, and which for the most part the Austrians drew back with them when they retreated. The Saxon carriages, built for straighter lines and gentler curves, are very liable on such a line as that which from Braunau and winds up the valley to Prague to run off the rails. It was thus that the accident occurred. One of the six-wheeled carriages flew off the rails, turned over, and formed a barricade, against which and each other the twelve succeeding ones were shivered. Five men were killed, and eight were seriously hurt; many horses suffered and seven belonging to the King were killed.

The last Cape mail brings a long list of shipping disasters which had been caused by heavy weather along the eastern coast of South Africa. Frontier affairs in the Orange Free States remain pacific. Unsatisfactory rumors of the Basutos were being constantly received but no immediate resumption of hostilities was expected. Dr. Colenso had prohibited clergymen from preaching in Maritzburg Cathedral who had not his license to officiate in the diocese. By the same mail, intelligence has been received of the seizure by the natives of New Caledonia of a boat crew of the French war steamer Pallon, all of whom were killed, cooked and eaten. The ship's crew took summary vengeance on the savages, killing about 154 of them and destroying their villages.

The system of drill adopted in one of the schools (Rev. Mr. Home's) has had a beneficial effect upon the pupils, who when called up into classes, formed in line, dressed, and stood as erect as soldiers, and we may add performed their duties.

TEMPERANCE PICNIC.—One of those pleasant pastimes, known now-a-days as Pic Nics, was given on Wednesday last by the Sons of Temperance of St. Andrews, at the Alms House grove, and a most agreeable and pleasant meeting it was, from the accounts given by some of the guests; circumstances prevented our accepting the polite invitation extended by the committee. We learned however, that all present enjoyed themselves.

The tables were filled with an abundance of good things, gratifying to the eye and pleasant to the taste, in which ample justice was done. The young people amused themselves with a variety of games, and dancing, while their seniors enjoyed themselves in social converse. The large party did not separate until after sun down, when all returned to their homes, much pleased with the afternoon's entertainment.

HISTORY OF THE BIBLE.—Illustrated.—The Agent for this Province, Mr. Williams, is in town, and will remain for a few days for the purpose of procuring orders for this useful and interesting work, and we trust will be well patronized. The author Dr. Kitto, is favorably known.

H. M. S. S. "Cordelia" arrived here on Wednesday afternoon, and left again for Campbell, on Monday last. The officers and crew were always popular here.

Mr. Orburn, manager of the Railway, returned last week from England with his family.

FOREST RESOURCES OF CANADA.—In the annual report of the Ottawa Board of Trade, an excellent article appears by the Hon. Mr. Skead on the lumber trade of Canada. A tract of country extending through 5 degrees latitude and 11 of longitude, produces annually for export from 70 to 80 millions of cubic feet of timber, employing 10,000 men. There are 17,000 seamen employed between Quebec and Europe in the timber trade. By statistics he shows that agricultural products have, during the last seven years, exceeded the products of the forest. The timber limits are of all sizes and shapes, from 24 square miles up to the limit holder becomes a yearly tenant to the Crown at a fixed ground rent, paying a duty of a half-penny per cubic foot of squared timber going out, and five pence each standard log of 12 feet long and 21 inches diameter. About 1-36th part of the standing pine is available for squared timber, 40 per cent of the remainder available for saw-logs.

THE QUEEN'S HIGHLANDER.—Of course all the world has heard of John Brown and the high favor he held at Court. But it does not seem to be known that John has experienced the fate of other and more refined couriers, and that his fall has been even more rapid than his rise. The story goes that John was from the first partial to his native usquebaugh, and that as his favor at Court increased he indulged in longer and stronger libations. This had reached a height which could not be overlooked; and the new master of the household, Colonel Biddulph, who succeeded the late Charles Phipps, was reluctantly compelled to dismiss him from office. It is considered probable that after a period of suspension he may be again restored to favor—especially if he can restrain his voracity, but for the present it is to be noted that John Brown's star is under an eclipse. (Inverness Courier's Letter.)

NEW BRUNSWICK ENGINEERS ABROAD.—Mr. Chas. Walker, formerly an Engineer in this City, is connected with one of the contracts for the construction of the underground Railway in London, three-fourths of a mile which costs something like £300,000. H. Perley, Esq., another New Brunswicker, and a native of this Province is employed on the same work as an Engineer. We wish both gentlemen all possible success in their respective undertakings.

THE SCHOOLS.—During the past week, the Trustees visited the schools in Town, which generally speaking were in an efficient state; the ready answers of the pupils, male and female, was creditable alike to themselves and their teachers; of course some of the schools were in a more efficient state than others, but the daily attendance in all was above the average required by law; and here we feel it our duty to state that several of the school rooms are entirely too small; it is much to be regretted that parents will permit their young children to be huddled together in small, ill ventilated rooms, for several hours daily, and even find fault with the children and their teacher having every Saturday to themselves to breathe the fresh air and recruit for study. The school taught by Mr. Muligan has a special grant, and in this respect possesses an advantage over the others, but in justice to the teacher the Trustees admit that the progress made by the pupils was creditable alike to his ability and to their diligence. Some of the schools have been recently opened, but bid fair, in point of number of scholars, and progress in studies to rival the others.

THE STEAM SLOOP OF WAR Gannet, Commander Chimmo, arrived in the harbor on Saturday afternoon. She is a screw propelled of 150 horse-power, carrying 3 guns, and has been employed during the summer on surveying service in the bay of Fundy, where she was tended by the screw-gubnot Minstrel, Commander Mervyn B. Midcourt, 60 horse-power, which arrived in port at the same time. (Globe.)

ITEMS. FLOUR TRADE.—We understand that during the past month 12,000 bbls. of flour were passed over the Grand Trunk Railway to Portland en route to St. John for dealers there.

The "Scotsman," spread no little terror amongst nervous people by giving currency to a detailed account of a descent upon the Island of Unst, one of the Shetland group, by five hostile steamers. The same hoax had been attempted upon the Glasgow Herald, but not with the same success.

A substantial and well built Brigantine of 197 tons, C. M., was launched on the 11th inst., from the building yard of Messrs. A. R. McClellan & Co., Hopewell. She is called the Ottawa. (Hillsborough Advocate.)

New York papers announce that the cholera has disappeared from that city, and that the general health of the community is remarkably good for the season. It is to be inferred that if the disease has died out in New York, there is no danger in St. John.

It is rumored that the ex-King of Naples will soon take his departure from Rome for America, and that he is now treating with Napoleon III. for the sale of the Farnese Palace, the palace and feudal property at Caprarola, and the Neapolitan steamer at Civitavecchia, for the price altogether of 1,200,000 scudi.

The Commercial Bulletin reports the King of the Tonga Islands' speech at his reception in New York as follows:—"Plehn tufrum amato tudrynk, boolon furyn, bul le furyn. Pipern took be oren such catoto, boole furyn, bul le furyn."

A large number of Southern Exiles are residing in Halifax. Several of them have purchased property there. They say they prefer to spend their money there, if they must leave home, instead of putting it in the hands of their taskmasters at Saratoga, Cape May, &c.

The United States Treasurer has recently decided that coupons are as negotiable, at all times, as a bank note, and that he shall pay them when in the hands of a bona fide holder, even when it is known that they have been stolen. (Independent.)

We would advise sanguine people who talk about resuming specie payments to look at the following item: "Average condition of the state banks out of Boston for the five weeks ending Aug 4: Capital, $11,600; loans, $58,879; specie, twenty one dollars; deposits, $15,374; circulation, $15,593." (U. S. News & World.)

A poor young man named Judah Manheim, living at Natchez, Miss., has recently become possessed of a fortune of half a million. A letter from Natchez says: "He came here with a cent of money about one month ago. It appears that during the war he did a great deal for an old man from England, who was on a visit to this country, and since the man has gone home he has been taken sick and died, and in his will he leaves this young man, Manheim, a fortune of $500,000. The young man leaves here in a few days for Liverpool to get his money."

On the 1st inst., after a long illness, Mr. Douglas Pelton, aged 45, leaving a wife and family.

DEAN'S OFFICE, Manager. This return shows a large increase—largest indeed, on any public work in this Province, and speaks not only for its management but also is an index to what could be done with more rolling stock. We learn that a supply of new rails may be expected shortly from England.—Success to the Road.

Intercolonial Railway. The "Carleton Sentinel" has been doing service in working up this great and necessary project. Its editor has received one of the very few copies of Mr. Fleming's Report, which has reached this Province, and in the last issue of the "Sentinel" gives the following extract, which is decidedly favorable to the route via the N. B. & C. Railway. Owing to other calls upon our time, we cannot this week devote as much attention to the subject as we desire. Mr. Fleming says—

"The valley of the River St. John is generally well settled from the Bay of Fundy to Little Falls, where the Temiscouata Portage to River du Loup (about 75 miles in length) begins.

"The lumbering operations of New Brunswick are now carried on, chiefly on the upper waters of the River St. John; and the supplies for the laborers, which are not produced in the locality, and are now in a great measure brought from the United States, by water to the city of St. John, and thence up the river. A railway from River-du Loup through this section, would enable provisions for consumption in the lumbering districts not only of New Brunswick but also of Maine, to be brought in direct from Canada, and thus greatly tend to develop the industry and resources of these regions. At the present time Canadian flour may be seen within sixty miles of the St. Lawrence, after having been transported, in the first place, to New York or Portland, then shipped to St. John and floated up the river in steamers and flat boats.—This trade would manifestly be changed by the construction of the Intercolonial Railway, on a frontier route, to the advantage of the lumbering interests; and the traffic resulting therefrom, would form an item in the revenue of the contemplated work. It is said that as much as 80,000 barrels of flour, pork and other merchandise are annually imported to the valley of the River St. John, north of Woodstock; and that the population of this district, including the Aroostook lumbering country in the State of Maine, is estimated at 40,000.

"In much less time, it is believed, than has been occupied in settling and improving the lands which nature made accessible by the river, would the artificial means of communication result in populating the interior of the
