does not return home is virtually correct. The Chronicle says: "It is suffered from a good source that the Ameer has forbidden the Shazada to return until he has secured Great Britain's consent that the Ameer chall be diplomatically represented at London. He desires to directly deal with the Government instead of through the Vicersy of India. This impossible demand is supposed to explain the Shazada's long stay." A few weeks ago the Shazada visited the Queen at Windsor Castle and personally informed her Mejesty that it was the Ameer's desire to be diplomatically represented at London instead of dealing with the British Government through the Viceroy of India. The Shazada expected at immediate answer, but her Majesty replied that she could not decide without consulting her ministers.

TO BEAT THE BRITANNIA. London, Aug. 22.-The Evening News claims to have information that the Prince of Wales is likely to build a yacht which will be a better boat than the Britannia. The yacht, according to the News, is to be built in 1896, presumably because the Valkyrie III. and the Defender will both be in British waters in 1896, when the Britannia might be outclassed.

A FLOATING TOWN.

Liverpool, Aug. 22.-The White Star Liner Teutonic sailed last evening for New York, having on board nearly 1,500 passengers. Among them are Lord Dunraven, the head of the syndicate owning the yacht Valkyrie, now at New York preparing for the America's cup contests, and his party. Lord Dunraven met with a cordial reception from the passengers when he went on board the steamer.

SOLICITOR-GENERAL FOR IRE-LAND.

London, Aug. 22.-Wm. Kenny, M.P. for St. Stephen's Green, division of Dublin, has, it is officially announced, been appointed Solicitor-General for Ireland. Mr. Kenny is a Liberal-Unionist. He is a member of the Senate of Dublin University, and was formerly a bencher of the King's Inn. Dublin. His appointment to a Government office Parliament. The Parnellites intend to contest the seat.

RETROGRADE RATHER THAN PROGRESSIVE.

Constantinople, Aug. 22.-It is stated here that the Sultan has decided to issue a decree on Aug. 31, announcing general reforms throughout the empire. The tendency of his reply to the Powers, however, is more retrograde than progressive as, for instance, Christians are not admitted to be engible to hold the post of van, in span of the fact that Christian valus have existed for years past.

ON THE QUIET.

United States Consul-General Jernigan at Shanghai has informed the State Department at Washington by cable that the investigation before the Chinese authorities of the Ka cheng massacre is being conducted with close doors. It is understood that the Star Chamber inquiry is being made by officials of the province in which Ku Cheng is situated, and these are not aware of the promise of the Tsung Li Yamen, or Board of Foreign Affairs, to allow Great Britain and the United States to make the fullest and freest investigation.

"HEADING FOR A CRISIS."

London, Aug. 22.-The St. James Gazette, in a leading editorial, asks the question: "How does Great Britain stand with the United States in regard to the Nicaraguan Canal?" Pursuing the subject, the paper adds, "It would be well for Mr. George Curzon, Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs, to put the question in the House of Commons and obtain a clear answer. As far as can be seen we are heading straight for a crisis, and there will be either a diplomatic dead-lock between the two countries or an English surrender of important treaty rights." WEBB WITHDRAWS.

London, Aug. 22.-Alfred Webb, the Anti-Parnellite, who was elected to represent the west division of Waterford in the House of Commons, has accepted the stewardship of the Chiltern Hundreds, in other words has resigned his seat in Parliament. The cause of his retirement is that he is not satisfied with the action of the Anti-Parnellite party in selecting three Healyites to membership of the sessional committee, and he complains that the committee does not resent sufficiently the baseless attacks that have been made on Edward Blake, John Dillon and Justin McCarthy.

COOLNESS SAVED MANY LIVES. New Haven, England, Aug. 22.-Particulars which have been obtained regarding the collision Tuesday afternoon between the freight steamer Lyon and the passenger steamer Seaford, by which the latter, with 255 passengers and a crew of 42 on board, were sunk, shows that the Seaford, which left Dieppe at 1:50 p.m. was struck by the Lyon on the port side. The Seaford immediately began to fill, and sank in twenty minutes, after having been struck. In the meantime her captain had given orders promptly and calmly to lower the boats, and the passengers were reassured by the officers. There was not the slightest panic at any time. The Lyon had her stem stove in by the collision, but she was in no danger of sinking, and ran alongside the Seaford, whereupon the passengers and crew of the sinking vesse clambered on board the freight steam-The passengers lost all their baggage, valued at from $50,000 to $100,000.

Industrial and Financial Depression Due to a Restrictive and Palse Tariff System,

Springfield, Ohio, Aug. 22.—The Democratic State convention, in session here, is considered one of the most important. It was opened in a vigor-ous speech by Senator Calvin S. Brice, chairman, with a strenuous defense of the present Democratic Administration, both as regards its tariff and currency measures. The recent industrial and financial depression he attributed to a false tariff system, which ruined in turn manufacturer and consumer, and an unwise and fatally weak currency system. The first of these evils he said, had been remedled by the passage of the Wilson Bill, the latter by the repeal of the Sherman law. These acts of the Democratic Administration had resulted in a return of prosperity and confidence

At Virden tender plants estimate made from all returns shows less than 15 per cent of the wheat crop of Manitoba affected by frost, and that only slightly, so people don't care who knows, if they won't exaggerate it. In view of Prof. Foster's prediction of the

MIGHT HAVE BEEN WORSE. Chicago, Aug. 22.-The Coliseum building which collapsed last night is a total wreck and the loss will reach between $160,000 and $180,000. It is said that this will fall on the Probst Construction Company, which had the contract for the construction of the building. Had the accident happened an hour before, or a few hours later, the loss of life would have been fright ful. At 10 o'clock 300 workmen went off duty and at 3 a.m. 300 more were to bave gone to work, the company working three shifts in order to get the building completed in time for opening Sept. 2. While the cause of the accident is not definitely known at this time, it is believed to have resulted from the giving way of the foundation of one

PYTHIAN PIG..IC.

The Knights Have a Great Outing at How Randolph Seymour Got His Springbank.

I. O. F. and Workmen from Lambeth Also in It-Races and Sports-Baseball Match.

The annual picnic of the five local lodges of the Knights of Pythias was held at Springbank yesterday afternoon, and over 2,000 people were assembled in the beautiful park. They were not all from the city. Pythians, their wives, families and friends made up about 1,500 of the number, while the remaining 500 were Independent Foresters and United Workmen and friends from Lambeth and thereabouts. These came to the resort in buggles, and they came for a good time. City folk took various means of reaching the park. Crowds went down on the boat, and crowds took the electric line, but the latter were compelled to walk from Wonderland to Springbank as the track terminates there. However, all these things were entirely forgotten once the park was reached, and a general good time was had by all. In the afternoon an interesting pro gramme of races was run off, and nearly every event was hotly con-tested. The result was as follows: The result was as follows: Girs, under 7-1 F. McLeod, 2 Minnie Warren, 3 F. Rogers. Boys, under 6-1 B. Tarling, 2 E. Smith, 3 R. Burdick.

Girls, under 10-1 C. Tarling, 2 McLeod, 3 R. Sims. Boys, under 10-1 H. Burns, 2 W. Evans, 3 A. Lindsay. Girls, under 14-1 J. McLeod, 2 M. McLean, 3 E. Hunt. Boys, under 14-1 F. Burns, 2° F. Smith, 3 F. Linwood.

Knights' daughters-1 L Kennedy, 2 A. Smith, 3 A. Suhr.

Knights' race, handicap—1 Harry

Knights' wives—1 Mrs. Warcup, 2
Mrs. Noble, 3 Mrs. Cranston.

Committee race-1 George Burdick, 2 D. Kennedy, 3 B. Rogers. Married couples' race—1 W. Smith and wife, 2 D. Cranston and wife. Boys' and girls' race-1 Wm. Evans, 2 Edna Hunt, 3 Christina Tarling. Fat man's race—1 J. Graham, 2 F. J. Fitzgerald, 3 D. Kennedy.

A five-inning baseball match was played between nines representing the Pythians and the Military School. The soldiers managed to score a couple of runs in the early part of the game, and subsequently, with two men on bases, the ball was hit into the shrubbery and was lost, allowing three more runs to come in. The score stood 5 to 0 against the Pythians when they went in for not extensive, and a great deal of the grain their last inning. The bases were full when "Bob" Ironsides hit for three pages but only two of th one being retired at the plate. Ironsides came in a moment later on a single, making the score at the finish 5 to 3. The batteries were Gibbs and Pinel for the school and Wanless and Thompson for the Pythians.

NOTES. Throughout the day the band of the Hussars was present and played a number of lively airs, which considerably enlivened the proceedings Mr. A. Thompson, of the Teronto Globe, was one of the visitors. A number of electric lights should be put up throughout the park. When dusk set in the people could hardly see where they were going.

Secretary Farnham was one of the head pushers and was busy all day. Dancing was indulged in in the evening until the last boat was ready to pull away from the Springbank dock. Pumping Engineer Findlay was on hand all day, and did everything possible to entertain the pleasure-seekers. Quartermaster-Sergeant Kennedy, of the R. R. C. I., fell and scratched his face badly in the fat men's race. He got third prize, however.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 22.—The metropclis of New England is busily engaged in preparing for a great convention, and providing for a grand Knights Templar. Tuesday, the day of the grand parade, in which it is estimated nearly 30,000 Knights will participate, will be the great day of the week, and if the weather is fair it is believed that over 300,(16) visitors will be in the city. Excursions from all parts of New England will be run to Poston; banks, public offices and most of the large business houses will close for the day, and it is evident that the parade will be witnessed by more people than ever saw a similar turnout in this section of the country. Places of vantage along the line are being let rapidly, prices ranging from $2 to $40. The committee arranging for the parade predicts that it will be one " the grandest pageants America has ever There will be over 800 horses in the line; 100 bands will participate, and scores of unique features are promised by Knights from different parts of the country. There will be only a few business sessions of the conclave, and the week will be given up mainly to pleasure. Excursions and recreation, almost without number been arranged, and it is estimated that Boston will spend over half a million dollars in entertaining her guests.

'Doc" Hunter Didn't Do It - George Underwood Gets Six Menths for Vagrancy-Mistaken Identity.

"Doc" Hunter, an ex-livery stable proprietor and well known lover of horsefiesh, appeared in the Police Court this morning and answered to a charge of assault preferred against him by Randolph Seymour. Seymour is a young Irishman, and has a fine farm and fast horses near Byron. He lives pretty well, and has a good time generally. On Friday last Hunter and several companions went to Seymour's to see a colt, and were royally received, and had a good time. While there, however, Hunter offended Seymour, and on Saturday the latter got gloriously full and went to Stroyan's livery on Queen's avenue, and kicked the "Doc." He continued to pursue Hunter, who finally caught him by the wrist, and gave him a jerk, which caused him to fall. Seymour struck on his face, which was punctured in several places. The case was dismissed. The magistrate holding that the charge had been fully answered.

George ("Whitey") Underwood made his trentieth bow to the magistrate. He was charged with drunkenness and vagrancy, and pleaded guilty to the former charge, but denied the latter. George is only 25 years of age, and has a very bad record. He has been up for larceny, vagrancy, drunkenness, etc., has worked for Warden Massie in the Central, and has broken stone and sawed wood in the county jail-in lact, he is a frequent stopper at the latter resort. Last night Underwood got on another bust, and made a temporary bed in the C.P.R. station, until 3 o'clock in the morning, when he was ejected by the baggageman and run in by P. C. Robinson. The magistrate was inflicted with Underwood's stereotyped story about working all summer, no money, buying clothes, etc.

"And I was waiting at the station for my brother," concluded Underwood. "But I guess he did not want to see you," said Chief Williams.

The chief's recollections of the prisoner ran back many years, and were that he was a continual nuisance to his widowed sister and other relatives. and had been frequently sent out of town by them. "I let you off in July," said the police magistrate, "on condition that you would leave the city and remain away. Six months in the Central.'

Gerscham Guymer, a William street young man, was charged by Charles C. Reid with assault. Reid, who is an old man, was near the fair groun day, when two boys jumped on him and tried to destroy his hat. Guymer was passing at the time, in company with Wm. Insall and George Robinson, and Reid accused him of the wrong. The evidence was very contradictory, and as it was a case of mistaken identity the magistrate dismissed Guymer.

Dissatisfaction Among City Works men Over Importations from Buffalo.

The Trades and Labor Conneil Have Taken the Matter Up-A Committee to Wait on the Mayor.

There is great dissatisfaction in city labor circles. The Trades and Labor Council consider that the Barber Company is not living up to their contract by importing American labor, and they have named a committee to wait on Mayor Little in the matter. "Why," said a very prominent, but indignant labor man today, "the Barber people can bring over Italians and Polocks to do their cheap work and possibly nothing may be said. But let a Canadian cross the line and get an American's job and De Barry would have him by the neck and send him back in short order."

The contractors, however, deny that they have imported any laborers. 'What we have brought," soid an official, "is a few expert graders-men who have been at the business all their life. and whose duties cannot be performed by any green workman.' Then there is a kick and an allegation that the street railway company are paying some of their laborers only 85 cents a day, but this is strongly denied. The standard wage-31 25 per day-is paid to all laborers. Water boys receive 50 cents. However, matters have come to such a pitch that the Trades and Labor Council has decided to organize all classes of laborers.

Critical tests of the Brantford water show it to be absolutely pure and wholesome. Mr. A. Govenlock, near Port Stanley, has raised three crops of grapes from the same vines this year. The dwelling of John Evans, Harwich, near Chatham, was destroyed by fire Monday, Loss $1,200; insurance $600. In South Zorra Thomas Lancaster's dog killed sheep, and has now been killed in turn. Expense to owner considerable. A Windsor alderman has given notice of a resolution providing for a verbatim report of the council proceedings— speeches and all.

Louis Walper, proprietor of the Ar-lington Hotel, Woodstock, has been fined $20 and costs for selling liquor within prohibited hours.

Mr. Robert Ryerson, one of Brantford's popular business men, was mar-ried yesterday to Miss Lizzie, daughter of Mr. Thos. Dowling, 14 Ada avenue. Mr. W. N. Collver, of Townsend, pulled a pea vine from his field recently which contained 93 pods, producing 454 peas. Judging from this the prospects for the pea crop are encouraging.

The death is announced of Mr. Frank Evans, barrister, at Orillia, Mr. Evans was the second son of the late Rev. F. Evans, D.C.L., for many years rec tor at Woodhouse, Norfolk county. Woodstock is to have a new patent baby carriage factory. Ten thousand dollars of the stock has been subscribed by business men. Their patent covers the territory from Toronto to the Pacific coast. Relatives are looking for Claude Brown, aged 13, who left Mull on an M. C. R. train on Aug. 12, and has not been heard from since. The lad has black three times at her, but missed each time. He was found guilty and fined No2 No4 No6 $10 or 40 days in jail. Mrs. Angus Murray, of Ingersoll, is now nursing a broken arm as well as other slight injuries. Mrs. Murray and children had been out as far as Beachville for a drive, and on their return the cart took a sudden lurch to one side as they crossed a sidewalk, The occupants were thrown out, and all escaped without injury except Mrs. Murray. Before Mr. D. Turner, J.P., at Law-rence, tomorrow, a charge of indecent assault against Chauncey Peckham will be investigated. The complainant is Mrs. Wm. Dye. It appears that Mr. Peckham drove Mrs. Dye to Dutton to get her life insured, and it is charged that during the journey the assault took place. County Attorney Donahue will be present at the trial. The young sharper who went through Angus McBean, of North Dumfries, a few days ago, to the tune of $1,500, a lew days ago, to the tune of $1,500, first tried his game on Robert Black-wood, of the Hespeler road. In this case he told a plausible story about hunting up some land for a Stratford lady who had two sons she wished to the contract of the strategy of put on a good farm. Blackwood did not bite to suit, and the young man went in search of a more gullible victim. Dr. Hall, medical health officer at Chatham, in his report to the board of health, makes the statement that diseased meat and poultry is sold in this neighborhood regularly. He suggests, as a remedy, the establishment of a public abattoir, and an inspector to examine all animals before and after billing. He would also have butchers killing. He would also have butchers licensed. The board will hold a special meeting to take action thereon. Between 6 and 7 o'clock Tuesday evening, during the storm, lightning struck one of Mr. Robert Mulligan's large barns, Talbotville, setting it on fire. Mr. Mulligan was in the stable at the time, and at once turned out the horses. Two barns, a number of sheds, a large pile of cordwood, two wagons, and all the season's crops, were destroyed. The loss is partly covered by insurance, but will be a heavy loss to Mr. Mulligan.

The police were today informed that cigars were rather plentiful in the shed at the rear of the Wellington Street Methodist Church. A search was made and a bundle containing eighteen boxes of 50 cigars each was found secreted in the shed. The find was so extraordinary that a further search was made, revealing another pack of twenty boxes containing 1,000 cigars. The 38 boxes of cigars were immediately removed to the police station. No one connected with the church uses the weed or can afford any information regarding them, The cigars were made by Mabee, or Simcoe, Arrests are expected to follow.—Brantford Expositor.

The Lake Superior Iron Works have pulled the fires from under the boilers at its No. 7 works and the mine has commenced to fill with water. Some of the strikers at Negaunee have notified the management of the Buffalo group of mines that if they attempted to stop the pumps there would be bloodshed as the strikers did not propose to allow the company to take such decisive steps towards a close-down.

A LIFE SAVED .- Mr. James Bryson Cameron, states: "I was confined to my bed with inflammation of the lungs, and was given up by physicians. A neighbor advised me to try Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, stating that his wife had used it for a throat trouble with the best results. Acting on this advice, I procured the medicine, and less than a half-bottle cured me; I certainly believe it saved my life. It was with re-luctance that I consented to a trial, as I was reduced to such a state that I doubted the power of any remedy to do me any good."

They have queer stone-cutters down in Maine, says an exchange. Deacon Hackett lost his second wife lately, a scrawny and shrewish woman, whose loss was not an unmixed sorrow. Still the deacon dutifully decided to give her a monument. Being rather "near," he haggled with the village stone-cutter as to the size of the slab, and finally chose a very narrow one, at a bargain. The inscription was to be as follows:

SARAH HACKETT. "Lord, she was thine!"

But the stone was so narrow that there was no room for the last letter, so the stone-cutter left it out, with this

SARAH HACKETT. "Lord, she was thin!"

The late Mrs. T. De Witt Talmage was a woman of rare gifts and beauty, and much personal magnetism. Her death, at Dansville, New York, on Aug. 5, has saddened a wide circle of friends there and abroad.

It is rumored that the few persons who were not killed by Holmes contemplate organizing and holding reunions.

"Mothers will be interested in the following list of things a baby can do," says the author of "How to be Happy, Though Married," in his new book, The Five Talents of Woman," just published by the Scribners. "Doubtless every mother could add items to it: 'A baby can beat any alarm clock ever invented waking a family up in the morning.

We have reached the time when all await with bated breath what the next few weeks will bring forth. For on them depend the styles of the coming season.

At present many things are in the air, but all have a shadowy appearance, and a considerable number will melt away in mist. It requires a keen observer to decide which will take substance and remain with us, and which will disappear.

One thing is certain-we cannot wear larger skirts and sleeves. We may wear them as they are another season, or we may follow the finger of fate, which points to the bouffant skirts and tight sleeves of the Trianon.

The sleeve worn by Marie Antoinette and her ladies is not, however, acceptable to the average American. While she is very willing to accord to Marie Antoinette full measure of admiration for her beauty and gracious manners, there is no reason why an American should lend her sanction to the extravagances of the court of Louis XV. She rightly considers that by and by she might be requested to dress her hair on a mountain twenty-seven inches high, should she accept the fashion offered now, Therefore, the American woman is having her early fall gowns made in very conservative fashion.

The gown pictured gives a very fair idea of what she will wear on the first cool It is made with a double skirt. The under petticoat of silk, in cashmere colorings, is revealed through a number of slashes cut at intervals in the blue cloth upper skirt. But little mention need be made of 'the waist worn all season. The silk of the under petticoat is the material used.

Curling Eyelashes.

If wishes could only be answer a girl had but one, other things being equal. I should advise her to plead for eyelashes-beautiful, long curling ones. There is nothing in the world so serviceable as a pair of effective eyelashes. They make any kind of an eye pretty. If one's orbs are not a pleasing color all one has to do is to drop the curtains, look down not up; within not out; let the eyelashes lie along the cheek and if they are the right kind one looks charming. And the lovely part of it is, for those blessed, that they cannot be counterfeited. They are never false. If you were not born with them, sighing for them is no use. Nor can art supply the deficiency. She hides her head in shame at her utter lack of skill for they must be indigenous-you can't sew, glue nor pin them on.

Every now and then some one starts up with the idea about making short thin eyelashes grow to be the desired kind and every new scheme has its followers. But it is all hopelessly futile. A girl can-of course she doesn't-pad to help out shortcomings in her form; she may borrow other people's hair, and she may lay in a stock of complexion that will last her a year, that is, if she should want to do such things, but she can't button or hook on that desirable silky fringe to the eye which would enhance her charms immeasurably. The latest theory on this subject launched is that if the lashes are trimmed every two weeks for six weeks the result will be a very thick growth. But it is a deep-laid plot of some fortunate one to deprive her sisters of the little they have. One girl I know tried it. She took a very sharp pair of embroidery scissors and neatly trimmed the lashes of her left eye. Then she examined her work in the mirror and was very much surprised at the result. The left eye appeared much smaller than the right, and the row of little black stubs felt very queer, to say nothing of how they looked. And comments it excited, and the questions she had to answer! As bad as when a man gets his hair cut.

"What is the matter with your eye" some one would ask. "Looks as if you were going to have a sty." It took a long time before that eye matched the other, and there was not the slightest difference as regards the growth after it did come out. Clearly that is a scheme which deserves to be exposed.

It is always the way. A girl who has everything has the eyelashes thrown in and age may wither her but they are imperishable. A pretty little woman, one who can give "butterfly kisses" beautifully complains that she cannot wear a veil with any comfort because "her eyelashes get tangled in the meshes and annoy her dreadully." Poor thing! She has told the story to everyone she knows but none of the girls sympathize with her. Each one tried to make her own do the same thing.

Dressy sleeves for afternoon as well as evening wear are made quite short, reaching only to the elbow. From thence falls a very deep full frill of lace, covering the arm to the wrist. Sleeves of transparent material are lined with thinnest tarletan to keep them in position, and caught up with ribbon rosettes with pretty effect. These tarletan inner sleeves may be made separately, starched and basted in.

A man, with a painful expression of countenance, sat on a goods box.
"Are you ill?" some one asked.

"Have you lost anything?" "Never had anything to lose." "What's the matter, then." "I'm sittin' on a wasp."

"Why don't you get up?" "Well, that was my first impulse, but I got to thinkin' that I was hurtin' the fire. L. V. Lupwig, proprietor. Telewasp as badly as he was hurtin' me, and phone 631.

Inventor.-What are the fees charged for a patent in Canada and the United States, and what is the best means of gaining information as to patents? Ans.—In Canada the Government fee is $60 for fifteen years, $40 for ten years, and $20 for five years. In the United States the Government fees are $35 for seventeen years. The fees of a patent attorney or solicitor, when one is retained, vary according to the nature of the invention. An average is about $25 in ordinary cases. For further information you should consult a patent soliditor. Any llawyer in active practice can direct you properly. You could also write to the commissioner of patents for a copy of rules, etc. It is better, however to pay for and get professional assistance in making your application. Postoffice Savings Bank.—When my brother died leaving $400 in Postoffice Savings Bank the postmaster would not pay the money to me until I had taken out probate of my brother's will, which gave it to me. Now the postmaster has promised to pay $600 to a man whose wife left it to him by will and without putting him to the expense of probating the will. Which course was right, and what can be done in either case? Ans. - The money could not be legally paid without the will being proved and probate produced to the postmaster. You have no cause of complaint in your own case, and if the postmaster pays the $600 without the probate being taken out you can write to the Postmaster-General, or to the postoffice inspector, and the matter will be investigated and dealt with,

Constant Reader. - A farmer makes verbal contract with a carpenter to have his build ngs moved, raised up and refitted, the contractor to be paid a certain amount on getting buildings ready for having and the balance on finishing stables before cold weather. Contractor finishes according to agreement before July 1, and is paid accordingly, the farmer receiving no notice from men working for contractor. In case the contractor defaults or leaves the Province can his men collect their wages from the farmer? Ans.—Yes; provided they have registered their liens within 30 days after their labors have been performed or the last day of it, and take proceedings to enforce them within 90 days against the balance in his hands or against 15 per cent of the contract price in any event. What is the best course for the farmer to pursue to get his contract finished legally, and if farmer has paid 70 per cent to contractor how much can he now be held liable for? Ans.—The facts stated are not sufficient to give an opinion. You had better consult a lawyer.

NECESSITY FOR A NEW NORMAL SCHOOL

The Toronto World reports that 50 young school teachers who were desirous of entering the normal schools this term are disappointed, because there is not room for them. Nearly 280 applications were sent in, and as the normal schools at Toronto and Ottawa can only accommodate 230, those who were tardy in applying for admission will have to wait for another six months. This, it appears, is the first time that the schools have been inadequate to accommodate the applicants, and the Normal School authorities at Toronto attribute it to the fact that an extension of the term to one year, instead of five months, and the construction of a new normal school in this city have been talked of. Many of the applicants who "would probably have waited till next session got the impression that this term was to be for a year, and, in preference to waiting for that length of time before entering on the course, they applied for admission this session." Our contemporary

"The Toronto school is for the accommodation of teachers from west of the city, those from the east, with few exceptions, going to Ottawa. This session it has been found necessary by the authorities to send a number of teachers from Hamilton to the Ottawa thool, owing to the Toronto school being filled when their applications were There are always more applicants from the west than from the

The statements of the World are doubtless well founded. They once more emphasize the propriety of proceeding at an early date with the erection of a new Normal School for the west in this city. Whether or not the present crowding in the normal schools continues, it is high time that means were adopted to provide the necessary education for western teachers in the west. No teacher living west of Toronto should be called upon to go to Ottawa for his or her equipment. The Province should be divided into three normal school districts, to be served by the schools in Ottawa and Toronto, and by new school, to be erected in the center of the most populous portion of the Province that of which London is the capital.

A CLASS LAW THAT SHOULD BE REPEALED.

that the new voters' list takes in nearly if not every male in Canada, of the age of 21. There are 1,353,000 voters, whereas there are 1,349,000 men. Making allowance for duplications, there are very few men in Canada who do not enjoy the franchise."

This is a fallacious argument. In the first place there are many thousands of duplicate names on the voters' lists. The men in power discriminate against the ordinary citizen by giving to the rich man, who has property in several ridings, a vote in each. We know of rich men in London and Hamilton, who each vote in from five to eight constituencies. The man, not the lot, should vote. If the lot is the voter, the man with $10,000 worth of property in one constituency should have as many votes as the man with $10,000 worth of belongings divided up among half a dozen ridings. As that would be absurd, is it not equally absurd and unjust to discriminate in favor of the rich who have property in different constituencies? Then the antiquity of the voters' list renders it still more incomplete. On the list upon which the ensuing Dominion election will take place are the names of thousands of men who no longer live in Canada, but who can return to the Dominion, and likely will return to kill the votes of the legitimate electorate of Canada. Thousands of those whose names are on the list have died since it was made, but their names will remain on, giving opportunity for perjury and personation to an alarming extent. And while the lists are so made up, if the Dominion were polled today we would find many thousands of electors who are properly qualified to vote in point of age, property and residence, who must stand by and see the elections decided by the foreign and graveyard votes. These men cannot go to the polls, because their names are not on the lists. The names were omitted because they were not of age when, many months November.

ago. the lists were made up, or they THE NEW BRITISH PARLIAMENT. were not in the country at the time. Why say that such a foolish and unfair system is manhood suffrage?

Why fileh from a poor man his cherished rights because he has been out of a job for a few weeks in a year, and give the right to vote to a rich man's son, solely because he is a rich man's son?

The system is all wrong. Every revision under this precious act costs Michael Davitt was returned for East nearly a quarter of a million dollars, and already over a million dollars have been squandered, while all the time the provinces have on their statute books franchise laws infinitely more fair.

Barristers, in or out of practice, and Q. C.'s. 13
Brewers and distillers and wine merchants. 12
Britters and distillers and wine merchants. 12 What could be fairer or more workable, for example, than the Ontario Manhood Franchise Law?

In this matter, too, the country needs a change. The class franchise law must go also

POINTS.

The band of the Thirteenth Battalion (Hamilton) has been engaged to accompany the St. Bernard Commandery, of Chicago, to the Knights Templar demonstration in Boston. There will be 89 bands in the procession, and the Thirteenth will be in the front rank. Nothing but shortage of knowledge could have prevented the Knights Templar leaders from engaging one of our first-class bands for the week.

The popular majority in favor of Lord Salisbury's Government was only 40,000. And that, too, with plural voting, which will always tell against the

In a recent lecture, Dr. Moore, editor of the Western Christian Advocate, contended that to Horace Greeley, the noted New York editor, greater credit should be given for the emancipation of the slave than to Abraham Lincoln. This estimate, though not the popular one, may be well founded. It is a common experience for a newspaper to advocate and bring to fruition a great reform, while a politician, who only took it up at the eleventh hour, has received the praise, gratitude, and public recognition. Greeley was a persistent opponent of slavery long before Lincoln and his political associates were prepared to face the question as a political issue.

The Fredericton Herald says Hon. Mr. Foster, the high tax leader in the House of Commons, finds open rebellion against his candidature in York county, N. B., to which county he fled for a seat when he found that the Liberals were certain to defeat him in Kings county. It is even suggested by his friends that he should seek a seat in British Columbia. The misfortunes of Mr. Foster are added to by the fact that many electors who formerly supported the retiring Conservative M. P. positively refuse to vote for the makeshift candidate.

The improvement of the mail service is not greater than the improvement in the size and completeness of the weekly newspaper. The "Western cian Johnson has made, it appears Advertiser" (our weekly edition), issued today, is eight times larger than the "Western Advertiser" of 30 years ago, and it costs less money. To the many thousands of progressive residents in Wetern Ontario, and to many outside the Western Peninsula, who do not find it convenient to get a daily newspaper, the "Western Advertiser" is a weekly source of information, instruction and genuine pleasure. It is also purchased by citizens in hundreds to send to friends living in other lands.

The September number of McClure's Magazine is made attractive by a beautifully illustrated account of the work of Will H. BROWNS DEFEAT THE BAL-

MORALS.

The Balmorals required three innings of practice ball yesterday in their game with the Browns before they settled down to play baseball. It was costly practice, as it netted the Browns thir-teen runs. Bad fielding was mainly responsible for these, and they gave the

Browns a lead which the Balmorals

A base on balls, two singles, a sacriwere good for five runs for the Bal-morals in the fourth. Clean hitting and base stealing netted two more in the eighth and a double and two singles

With good support Barron, the Balmorals' pitcher, could have won the game. Only one hit was made in the first inning, but notwithstanding the visitors got four runs, two errors by Pierce being responsible for them. Two runs were earned in the second, but two more were obtained partly because of

The numerous friends of Mr. John Carrothers in Middlesex, particularly in Caradoc and Westminster townships, will be glad to hear of the success which attended the "boys" in connection with exhibits at the recent Territorial Fair held in Regina. Mr. Austin Carrothers succeeded in taking a front place with his horses, several prizes coming his way. In Cotswold and Lin-coln sheep, upwards of twenty prizes were secured by the Carrothers Bros. The Regina Standard refers in very complimentary terms to the success of the gentlemen named, and complimented them highly on their enterprise. The numerous friends of Miss M. A. Carrothers, eldest daughter of Mr. John Carrothers, late of the township of Caradoc, will be glad to learn of her marriage to Mr. T. J. Little, an energetic resident of Regina. The Regina Standard of a late date had the following pleasant paragraph in reference to Mr. and Mrs. Little: "The friends of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Little gave them a pleasant surprise party. Mr. Little was presented with an easy chair, and Mrs. Little with a rocking chair. Rev. S. R. Brown made a suit able address in behalf of the donors and expressive of the esteem in which the newly-wedded pair are held in the community." The young woman in the case is a granddaughter of Mrs. Samuel Bratt, of South London.

The Australian colonies afford many object lessons in tariff operations, Victoria believes in the encouragement of infant industries and maintains a duty on binder twine. She has two infant factories supplying the farmers of the colony and also of the neighboring island, Tasmania, the latter place having no protective tariff. During the past season the twine retailed at 8d a pound to the Victoria farmers, and the same brand of twine from the same factories sold at 6d a pound to the farmers in Tasmania.

UNDAUNTED MISSIONARIES.

Bank of New Brunswick-Mary Allison,

The Canadian Methodist Missionaries Will Remain in the East,

Despite the Recent Massacres in China.

Toronto, Aug. 22.-Several letters were received yesterday at the Methodist mission headquarters from the mission fields in China and Japan, containing information relative to the movements of the representatives of the church in those lands. Rev. Dr. Hartwell is now in Japan. His family, consisting of his wife and two children, have recently returned to Canada, and are now visiting relatives near Kings-Mr. Hartwell accompanied them from China, to the point of embarkation in Japan, but hopes now to return with little delay to the scene of his labors. A letter from Dr. Stevenson announces his departure for Canada.

He is now on his way. Rev. Dr. Hart has gone to Pekin to consult with the British Consul and press for an investigation into the late disturbances and the punishment of the Chinese officials who have sponsible for them, not only by their negligence in suppressing the mob, but by having actually stirred up and incited the people to violence. It is hoped that a full and vigorous inquiry will be instituted. A letter was also received from Dr. Kilburn, one of the medical mission-aries of the church. From it it is learned that he, together with Miss Ford and Miss Brackhill, two agents of the Women's Missionary Society, and Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Endicott, will remain in Shanghai for the present. Letters from the Japanese stations give reports of the work of the past year, and of the annual conference. Everything is going on quietly now since the excitement incident to the War quieted down. The increase in the membership of the Japanese Methodist churches during the past year has been 89, this increase being in a district stretching across the center of the main island, and including Tokio and several other cities.

Letters have been received at the Presbyterian Church offices from Honan reporting all quiet, but news from Formosa is not so encouraging. Native Christians are severely persecuted, and mission property has been destroyed, though it is not yet known to what extent.

ANOTHER HOLMES "CASTLE."

The First Was Burnt Down But Enterprising Chicagoans Soon Discovered Another.

Chicago, Aug. 22.-Another of H. H. Holmes' mysterious buildings has been discovered. The building is all boarded up, and the residents of the vicinity say nothing has been done there for a long time. Two weeks ago they saw a man, whom they identify as Pat Quinlan, cart away the last of the furniture and other stuff that was in the building. It was here that Holmes carried on his glass bending business, and it is this place for which the police have been looking for more than a. month and never found, it being discovered by an amateur detective. Inside there are now nothing but scraps of iron and sheeting, with the ruins of the furnace, which ran the entire length of the building. Pat Quinlan seems to have been the presiding genius of the place.

REPORTING IN MID.AIR.

Hard Times for a Race Observer in a Balloon.

The New York Evening World, which recently made an attempt to report a yacht race by wire from an anchored balloon, with results which demonstrated that the news system was susceptible of improvement, repeated the attempt yesterday. As a report of a boat race the bulletins still lacked grasp and perspicuity-through no fau's of the reporter, who seems to have spent his time principally in saving life-but as a record of aeronautic high jinks they were unique. At 12:15 p.m. the reporter wired: 'As the boats get further to the southwest I am turned around so that I have lose At 12:20 he sent down them." word: "The balloon is continually doing a danse du ventre, but does not interfere with accurate reporting." Two minutes later: "I am ding nothing but holding on now. The wind is getting puffy and bags me around in great shape." And at 1:05 p.m.; "I am doing nothing but hanging on. The balloon is bounding and whirling so that I can hardly get time to think or telegraph." Captive balloon reporting has been some-thing of a success in the field of war. The above dispatches suggest that such a scheme might prove equally successful in the field of aquatic sports in a time of dead calm, but latest City Chemical Fire Engine, the one not in a sufficient breeze to set the boats in

Special to C. T. Turner, broker, Masonic Temple, from Walker & Co. Chicago, Aug. 22.-Wheat continues weak, and Pardridge and others are reported to have sold quite freely. The lengs are apparently discouraged, foreign markets dull and don't bite at all, but this is always seen in a weak market. How far this thing will run no one can tell. The disease is there, and buyers are scared. We do not see any reason for their lost faith; that is, however, immaterial, as the fact is that the market has lost faith in wheat at

Early yesterday morning a Toronto policeman discovered that the window in rear of Lorenzo Forrest's Eudo Mineral Water establishment, 311 Yonge street, had been broken in. He entered and saw a pair of boots in the rear, while in the front office was a spectacled young man of good appearance in the act of emptying the till. An arrest followed and in a few hours the sliopbreaker, who gave the name of Walter Clarkson, was arraigned in the Police Court. He pleaded guilty, and said he had come from London, Ont., and had been driven by lack of money to sleep in stables. Police Magistrate Kingsford sent him to jail for $0

The small cottage on Miles street, the home of their widowed mother, was filled with sorrowing relatives and friends. The garden of the house and the street in front were also crowded. The funeral was rendered more sad owing to the nature of the sudden and untimely death by drowning in the River Thames. The Cigarmakers' Union, to which the younger brother belonged in his life, had charge of the funeral and about 70 members turned out and marched in adwance of the cortege. Representa other unions were also present. The pallbearers were Messrs. J. Gray, John Cilligan, Joseph Gilligan, J. Lilliman, W. Galpin and John Neil. The remains were interred in Brown's Cemetery, Nissouri. Rev. W. T. Hill conducted the services.

DEATH OF MARTIN BROWN.

For 40 Years Was an Engineer on

A Remarkably Long Lived Family Only Had One Accident-Never

The death is announced of Mr. Martin Brown, Dufferin avenue. Mr. Brown was one of those men who did not know what sickness was, and lived to the age of 89 years. On Saturday last he complained of not feeling as well as he generally did, and on Sunday walked to a doctor's office. The doctor who attended him thought at first that he would get better, but on Tuesday night he failed rapidly, and died on Wednesday, never losing consciousness until the end. Mr. Brown, as does also his widow, engineer on the London and Northwestern Railway of England. Twenty-four years ago, he, with his wife and family, moved to this city, and he has re-sided here ever since. One of his early firemen is living in this city, Mr. Robert Walton, and he, with a number of other old friends, often talked over old times. Mr. Brown is only known to have had one accident in his life, and that was an explosion, which al-most ruined his right eye. "In those days," he sometimes said, "we were not so well protected as the present engineers, with their cabs, but had to face the wind and dust." This also helped to spoil his remaining sight, and be-fore his death he was almost blind. Mr. Brown's widow survives him at the wonderful age of 95. His only remaining son is William, aged 65, who works at Edward Cleghorn's residence. Mrs. Wm. Barrett, a daughter, formerly of London, is now in England. Mrs. Duquett, of Rochester, N. Y., is the other daughter, and is expected to be present at the funeral. A son of the deceased lately died in Fingland, aged 67 years, and his brother-in-law died quite recently within a few days of the age of 102 years. Shortly before Mr. Brown's death four generations were present in his house, he having great-grandchildren of 18 years.

He owned four or five houses in the neighborhood of his late residence, which kept him in comfortable circumstances. The funeral takes place tomorrow at

ADVISED TO SEEK TREATY PORTS.

Views of Chinese Legation at Washington-Chinese Imperial Government Commands the Protection of Christians.

Washington, Aug. 22.—It is freely admitted at the Chinese legation that in the present state of decline in China, growing out of the ignorances and prejudices of the natives, and especially because of the recent war, all foreigners in the interior of China are in more or less danger. Hope is expressed at the legation that the missionaries will recognize this state of things, and will seek the treaty ports until the excitement subsides and normal conditions are restored. Utmost confidence is expressed at the legation of the intention of the Chinese Imperial Gov-ernment to protect the Christian missions as far as possible, and the last edict from the Emperor, issued within the past ten days, is quoted as evidence of this intention. A quite full synopsis of this document has been received by cable at the legation. It is entirely in the interest of the Christians, and directed especially to the high Chinese officials. They are asked to see that the lives and property of all Christians, both foreign and native, are protected at all time. The edict also commands the lower officials and the people generally to observe this behest, and closes by saying any violation of the order will be severely punished.

Confidence is also expressed at the legation in the thoroughness of the investigation into the recent riots, and it is believed that as soon as the imperial will can be made known the American and English consuls will be admitted to the hearings.

The Secret Out.

Seeing one or two train-men on the ground below, he asked them if they knew just where they were and if there was any hope of procuring food from some farm house near by.

The answer was far from consoling. They knew where they were well enough. They were on the dreariest part of the river, between — and No houses here, none nearer than three miles, unless you except the Harvey cottage, where you would more likely to meet rebuff than wel-

Rebuff on such a night! the doctor flid not believe it. "And how far is the Harvey cottage?" he inquired.

"O, that's only a mile."
Only a mile! a mile seemed some distance through the wilderness of snowhillocks he saw before him. "But there's no use going there. Old Harvey wouldn't open his door to a dog and he likes them. He's the darndest old hermit in these parts, and his house is the queerest mouse trap you ever see in your life. Better stay on the train, sir." All this shouted against a howling wind.

Dr. Cameron thought this last bit advice good, and for some time was disposed to follow it, but as the night settled and the cold became more and more biting and intense, he began to ask himself if these women must suffer hunger as well as cold, and whether it would not be less painful o endure the hardships of a vigorous pattle with the snow, than to sit in out his heart, as he would be sure to do if he remained inactive. Waiting is hard enough when one is in the pos-session of pleasant menories and cheerful hopes, but when the least lapse into meditation brings bitterest fears and terrible emotions, quietude becomes intolerable, and one is willing to risk all and every danger to escape it.
So having found three or four others who felt as he did, he sought out the conductor, and asked him in what direction the Harvey cottage lay, and whether its owner was really so hardhearted as to refuse bread to a band of storm-locked women and children.

Better join the party from the forward car; they are going to try and le village, three miles aw Cameron at once signified his acquiescence in this plan, and the result was that in a few minutes the two parties had joined forces and started with cheerful words and energetic promises towards the distant village. Was it a fool-hardy undertaking? There were some who were soon ready to say so, for not only was the power of the sleet and wind unprecedented in the experience of them all, but the road was itself uncertain and the man they had taken for their guide was the first to falter and require the assistance of his comrades. Then it was nearer night than any them realized, and the darkness of twilight soon added itself to the general dimness made by rushing, blinding snow, Although the first half hour of struggle was a desperate one, and had there been one there who knew the route back, they would have simultaneously returned; but the only one who could give them any guidance, was stiff and speechless and had to be drawn along by two of his hardiest companions. So they advanced, confident they were headed right, though they could see nothing, save here and there the trunk of a tree. against which they more than once precipitated themselves in their haste and indifference to all obstacles.

Dr. Cameron, who had never known hardship, suffered bitterly under this strain. But his will was indomitable, and his purpose one to uphold the faintest heart. He had started in the company of two men whose faces he had liked, and who seemed to have more vigor than the rest. But by the time the dark had really set in, he found himself ahead of these and joined to another stranger, who, seeing him stop a moment for breath, thrust out an arm and linked him to himself. This touch and the evidence of fellow-feeling which it gave, seemed to work a miracle in him. He felt a goodly portion of his strength revive, and though he could not speak his gratitude to the man beside him, he pressed his arm and showed by his uplifted head that he had received encouragement to advance.

The remaining men, who for some reason seemed to be increased in numbers, did not again come up with these two. Though they continued to struggle on ,they gradually fell further and further to the rear till they were lost to view behind the great drifts through which Dr. Cameron and his energetic companion still toiled. And the snow did not let up for an instant, and the vind was like all the demons of power and fury let loose.
"Can we do it?" gasped the doctor, with a longing look at a huge snow pile, in which it would have been such luxury to lie down and sleep. But his words were lost in the heavy coating of ice that enveloped his mouth, and he gained no response but the vigorous clasp of his comrade's arm which in itself was at once a support and

"O God," was the next cry that rose in his heart, "if she were to see me in her dreams!" And a gush of softened feeling swept for the first time in many hours through his heart, and made him tremble so that his steps arew weak and he would have fallen, had it not been for that ever ready arm within his.

The night had now settled down completely, but instead of this being an added misfortune it turned out a loon. For somewhere, in a house or in some wandering man's hand, they saw a light, and dim and distant though it was, they beheld in it a har-binger of life, and followed it, as they hoped, to warmth and refuge. And now, with this beacon before them, they fought a little longer, tearing the ice from before their nostrils at every few steps and clinging together as they bressed their way through drifts that were often up to their breasts. But the light suddenly went out, and though they called aloud for help, or tried to do so, they got no reply, nor did they ever learn whence the light had shone which had been their sole encouragement for that dreary quarter af a mile.

"It is the experience of a wilderness," thought Dr. Cameron to himself. And if we live to reach the village there will be no returning from it." And for a little while that "if" assumed portentous shape in his mind, for he felt the numbness of a deadly chill creeping over him, and was conscious that no amount of assistance on the prt of his companion would avail to save him if he once sank to the ground. But he fired his soul with the thought of Molesworth being in the same town with his wife, and crying to every fibre in his body, "You shall not succumb," he tree heavily forward, dragging after him in his new found zeal, the weightier frame of the man who, up to this minute, had always held the pace before him. But suddenly he found himself pulled up standing. Opening his eyes (he had held them shut during the last minute or so in order to ease them from the sting of the biting sleet), he looked about. They were on the brink of a rapid and turbulent stream, and he was rushing pell-mell on, and only the caution of his comrade had saved Shuddering now with something besides cold, he drew hastily back. were they at the end of their journey, Had they struggled and suffered and risked a hundred deaths for this? He felt his courage shaken to the roots, and leaned against his companion for a moment, wishing he knew his name that he might trust him with a message to that wife whose face now rose before him, sole and simple, as the most angelic thing he had seen in life.

Dr. Mackay Once More:

Another Reply to Hon, David Mills.

To the Editor of the "Advertiser": Hon. D. Mills has sent you four additional columns in answer to my letter criticising his attitude and that of his political party on the prohibition question. But in the two long communications of his which have appeared in your columns he has not yet said one word to indicate that he is a prohibitionist, and prepared to make the question an issue in the coming campaign. Yet this is the very thing he is called on to do; and until he does this, all his course villification of myself, and prohibitionists in general, will fail to prove that he is entitled to the votes of prohibitionists. In my letter to the "Advertiser" I said: "A simple declaration from Mr. Mills that he will work and vote, irrespective of party shackles, in the House and out of it, for prohibition, would be a more effective reply to me than columns of vituperation. But that simple declaration he will not make. It would alienate liquor votes and money." Now in his four columns of closely printed "reply" the reader will search in vain. even with the most powerful microscope, for such a "simple declaration" on the prohibition question. What right has he then to the votes of prohibitionists? Would the advocates of any other great public question, the tariff question for instance, vote for a candidate that failed to declare distinctly on which side of the question he stood? Is it not an insult to prohibitionists, that men like Mills, who in Parliament vote with brewers, and who out of Parliament cannot be persuaded to publicly define their position, will yet expect prohibitionists to vote for them? If Mr. Mills and his Parliamentary friends are sincere, they do not require to write columns of replies. One or two sentences will satisfy me. Let them declare their readiness to make prohibition an issue. I do not say "the supreme issue" or "the only issue," but an issue like any other great public question. Do this, Mr. Mills, and I am satisfied; refuse to do this, as you have hitherto done, and you may find when perhaps it is too late, that the temperance people of Ontario are not willing to ignore their principles, and follow a party leader, be he Grit or Tory, as so many sheep follow their bell wether. Considering the question which in my letter I so strongly pressed upon Mr. Mills to answer, and then his total silence on that question, his fourcolumn reply sounds like the raving of delirium. But Mr. Mills is no madman. There is method in his madness. The intention is clear. Professing great indignation, and making extraordinary fuss over personalities and side issues of no consequence whatever, he thinks he will escape from my question, cut-tle-fish-like, in the cloud he has thus raised. This may show the astute lawyer, but it falls entirely to prove that Mr. Mills or his party is entitled to the votes of prohibitionists. I will not be led away from the only real question before us. I respectfully decline to dis-cuss with Mr. Mills questions of a personal character or of Scriptural interpretation, such as occupy his last comwhatever with the attitude of Mr. Mills to prohibition, which is the only question before us.

Hon. Mr. Mills evidently feels very sore over my exposure of his hypocritical excuse for voting against prohibition in Parliament. He says that he knows more about the question of jurisdiction than I do. I readily grant But the more he knows about furisdiction the worse for the plea he puts forth. He knows that a considerable number of the highest legal authorities in the Dominion some time ago prepared very carefully seven questions re jurisdiction, and that not one of these seven questions implies any doubt as to the power of Parliament to prohibit. He knows further that some years ago the subject was before the Privy Council of England, and no member of that council expressed a doubt on this point. And yet knowing all this, he urges the plea that the power of Parliament is doubtful, and is now before the Privy Court! If Mr. Mills' plea was a sincere one, he can prove that sincerity by assuring the public that so soon as the jurisdiction question is settled, he will work and vote for prohibition. Let him do this, and the past will be readily forgiven. Only one other thing in Mr. Mills' long communication will I notice. He returns to the charge that I stated that he was present at the meeting of temperance M. P.s and prohibitionists at Ottawa. He says his charge is based on a report of the meeting in the Sentinel-Review. But the Sentinel-Review in its issue of Aug. 13, in an editorial paragraph, makes the following clear, distinct statement as to what took place at that meeting. It says: "Dr. Mackay did not at the gathering in Woodstock at the town hall say that Mr. Mills was present at the meeting of temperance M. P.s and prohibition-ists held at Ottawa." In view of this statement from Mr. Mills' own witness. I leave the reader to characterize the conduct of Mr. Mills in pressing a charge which is of no consequence as bearing upon the question at issue, but of diverting the mind of the reader from the real issue. The charge recoils with terrific force against the man who

If Hon. Mr. Mills or his party would show themselves entitled to the votes of prohibitionists, they have a much higher and nobler work to do than turning their guns on me because I dared to inform the public how our politicians at Ottawa, of both political parties, are fooling with this great moral issue. There are a few noble men at Ottawa, I sladly admit. Among these none stands higher in the estimation of the Christian people of this country than John Charlton. And what does he say about this question. Just what I say. Here are his words, recently published over his signature: "I welcome the evidence furnished by your resolutions that temperance organizations in Ontario intend to watch closely the actions of their representatives upon temperance questions, and to hold them to account for the same. This great issue has too long been a political stalking horse, and its importance warrants the demand that it shall be treated honestly and seriously." sneeks John Charlton, a Christian statesman, who knows well what he testifies. I could not wish for a stronger indorsation of my charge that this great moral issue of the prohibition of the liquor traffic is not "treated honestly and seriously" by our Ottawa politicians. Every church in the land has bewatted the awful fruits of our legalized liquor traffic, and has from year to year urged the people to work and vote for the overthrow of that traffic. It remains to be seen how long the Christian and temperance people will permit their representatives at Ottawa to treat the subject as a "stalking horse," following question: Will he and the party of which he is a prominent leader make the prohibition of the liquor traffic an issue in the next election and stand by that issue as they stand by their views on other public questions? An affirmative answer to this question will show that they are entitled to the votes of prohibitionists; nothing else will. I wait for the reply. Yours truly, W. A. MACKAY. Woodstock, Aug. 20, 1895.

ABUSE OF PROMINENT MEN. Rev. A. F. McGregor, in the course of an excellent sermon last night, referred to the indiscriminate abuse of pantomimists, the three Albion acrobats, and "Ajax," who dives from a those who stand in responsible places those who stand in responsible places and who rule over us, even by representatives of the church. He spoke of the church. He spoke of the church is places tower 75 feet high into a small tank of water 36 inches deep, will also be present at the big Fair. A grand pyrotechthe bandying of mean epitnets, as one nic display will be given on three evenof the cheapest and meanest things in the world. It strikes me, said he, as very strange that we should do this when we expect the rising generation to fear God, to honor the king, and to help those who rule over us and make them better and still better. I cannot believe that whole parties of men are lost to rectitude and honor and personal integrity, because they do not belong to my party. We should have confidence in the Christ light as it shines out, we should not lose faith in Christ's own presence, in the mast-erful spirit of God in the world. I believe there would be a higher and purer spirit, a broader and better mind, and a nobler life if men ceased to have so much faith in organization as organization, and if every man and every woman would just be a Christ light in his or in her own little circle, and so widen the sphere of light which will eventually encircle the whole globe .-Woodstock Sentinel-Review.

From Sept. 12 to Sept. 21 the largest and best Western Fair will be held. A look over the programme will show that this Fair will again lead in the matter of exhibits and special attractions. One of the most interesting features is the parade of prize-winning animals. This parade takes place every day. The increased number of applications for space goes to prove that every de-partment will have its full complement of exhibits. The special attractions this year include the Great Wild East Show, consisting of an entire troupe of Moorish Bedouins, Arabs, Sheikhs, Turks and Syrians, in all 50 artists, with ten horses, two camels, and donkeys. A novelty will be introduced in the balloon ascensions. "Alvini" will at an immense height be fired from a cannon suspended from the balloon, and descend to the earth by means

WHERE WAS HE FROM?

The Hamilton members of the Rebekah Degree of the I.O.O.F. are very much distressed over the fact that a man who is not a member of the order attended their convention, which was held there last week. The knowledge of the fact did not become known to the delegates until the closing session, and the matter has been kept a secret until a day or two ago, but, of course, a lady finally let it out. It it not known what lodge secrets were dropped, but it is certain the stranger is "onto" them. The delegates were not limited to ladies, many men being present as honorary members of the degree. Knights Templar Remain in London to Dine,

And Are Given a Grand Reception by Citizens-Serenaded by the Seventh Fand-Crowds Witness the Arrival and Departure of the Trains.

The G.T.R. station last evening was crowded with citizens, eager to see the noted Detroit Commandery of Knights Templar on their way to the Boston conclave. The station was decorated with Canadian and United States flags and the Tecumseh House was also tastily ornamented. The Seventh Fusiliers Band was seated in the station park, and a small committee of local knights were present to welcome the visitors. The Detroit Commandery was due in this city at 6 p.m., but owing to certain formalities in Detroit prior to their departure, they did not arrive until 8:45. Preceding their arrival, however, the specials from Grand Rapids, Mich. came in at 6:05; the Danascus, Detroit Commandery, No. 42, with the Fort Wayne, Ind., special attached, arrived about 6:30, and dined at the Tecumseh. After dining, headed by the Metropolitan Band, of Detroit, their drill corps marched around a couple of blocks.

St. Bernard Commandery, No. 16,

There were 203 in the party, and the Schremser, Fourth Regiment Band, of Detroit, consisting of 30 pieces. They were marched directly to the Tecumseh, where the two large dining rooms were completely

Speaking of bicycles calls attention to what is more specifically a triumph of advertising than almost any other instance we could cite. In the face of stubborn prejudice, the cogent, persuasive arguing of the wheel makers, year after year, has gradually enlightened public opinion and conuered opposition. Perhaps the most striking result is the complete surrender of women. The average woman reaches a conclusion as the average river seeks the sea. There are many devieus turnings, countless willful windings and innumerable exasperating delays. But the influence of advertising is like the gentle slope of the river bed. It bears on its victim slowly, yet resistlessly. It is pitiless in its relentesaness.

In the case of women the bicycle makers had certainly everything to contend with. Fashion and society for a long time remained obdurate. But the seductive pictures, the charming outdoor views presented in many of their pictures, and last, but not least, the introduction of a garment that was picturesque and practical, finally won the day. It was a long and expensive campaign of education, but the success of today far surpasses the wildest hopes of yesterday. and the result is one more victory for the press and advertising.
