THE VENEZUELAN DISPUTE.
London, April 22.—The Times prints
a long dispatch from Mr. C. W. Smalley, its correspondent in America, which is devoted to dispelling the illusions
that the Venezuelan boundary dispute has passed a dangerous stage, that the negotiations are prospering, and that the British blue book on the subject created a favorable impression in the United States. Mr.
Smalley says the situation which the foregoing beliefs is well founded.
No agreement as to principles has been reached, and negotiations are at a standstill. Nobody seems to know when or how they will be renewed, or the deadlock removed. If the American commission draws the line, the British will be forced to Great Britain's claim, the alternative stated in President Cleveland's message will have to be faced. Mr. Smalley says that the British government Salisbury, who rejected the proposals
made by the Washington Government in February, and who does not appear to have made concessions which the Times says it cannot fully share the gloomy anticipations contained in the dispatch, although the reminder of the British government's position that Mr. Smalley elsewhere in his dispatch shows that Lord Salisbury has taken other action for opening a discussion of a scheme for general arbitration, to which the paper attaches importance. It also contends that if the general project fails, Great Britain
ought yet to be able, with prudence,
to resume the specific case with Venezuela. The paper remarks upon the good-will of the Washington Government, testified in Cleveland's mes-

West Lambton and East Elgin Licenses Granted—A Farmer Robbed of $200—The Grand Trunk's Heavy Loss.

A statement published by the county treasurer shows that Kent's assets are $80,000 in excess of liabilities.

Windsor council adjourned Monday night without striking the tax rate for 1926. The rate will probably be 20-21 mills.

Some one sent Rev. R. Hobbs of Brantford, an invitation to the Hanley Club's assembly there. Mr. Hobbs recently preached strongly against dancing. The club's secretary denies that the invitation was offered.

Justice of the Peace McIntyre, of Chatham, is dead, aged 85 years. He was one of the pioneers of that district. Chatham lost one of its early residents, Mr. J. B. Kennedy, by death Sunday. Deceased was for a time Crown Lands agent at that place.

Last week Ald. Dr. Bell published a letter in a Windsor paper on the filter of water. He made some personal allusions about the filter owned by a hardware company in Toronto, and this company has been busy against Bell and the paper for alleged libel.

A company of Chatham citizens has been organized to go into the manufacture of a patent elevator. The members are Messrs. Hugh Mathias, New York City; H. Macdonald, M. Campbell, E. B. Stevenson, G. B. Douglas, and J. A. Walker. The capital stock is $300,000, and the factory will be at once erected in Chatham.

A Stinson correspondent writes: Landlord Wines of the Revere House, who came here recently from Brantford, was arrested Saturday night, charged with forging his brother-in-law's name to two notes of $100 while in the latter place, and Detective Chapman came over yesterday and took him to Brantford.

Sonia Oberger: The many friends of Mrs. Isabella Scott will learn with regret of her demise on Tuesday, after a lingering illness of several months. Deceased was the widow of the late Rev. Robert Scott, formerly of Cambridge, late of New York, where he died in 1878. Since then Mrs. Scott resided in Sarnia with her family.

James Phillips, a Brantford builder, was arrested on Saturday by Chief Randall, charged with killing Lizzie Griffiths, who was injured by a falling wall. He was admitted to bail on giving $1,000 bonds himself and securing two sureties of $500 each for his appearance at the police court.

Philpotts naturally feels very much out over the affair, and it will be a relief to him when the prosecution is over.

One of the best if not the best freight runs on record with trains of the same number of cars, was made on the M. C. R. Monday. The train, which consisted of 30 loaded freight cars was drawn by engine 446, Engineer Beau-four, Conductor Morrison, made the run of 111 miles from Toronto to Windsor in two hours and fifty minutes. It never made a stop, the engine scooping water from the trough like passenger engines.

Charles Dudley Fuller, the St. Thomas colored chimney sweep, came up for sentence before Judge Hughes yesterday on the charge of criminality knowing an imbecile girl. He was allowed to go on suspended sentence, on condition that he left Canada within ten days.

St. Catharines for a couple of days, and then to Baltimore, where he will remain and never come back.

The St. Catharines Press says the last smash-up on the G. T. R. was one of the worst in years. Cars were smashed into kindling wood and spread along the track.

Old railroads who saw the wreck declare that in all their experience they never saw cars piled up in such inconceivable shapes before. Cars mounted each other, and in some instances were as high as the telegraph wires. The loss, it is said, will reach $100,000. In all 30 cars were destroyed.

Later particulars of the robbery of Mr. J. Cullis & Son, of Blenheim, show that Mr. Cullis had been to Chatham Saturday, and had withdrawn the $400 from the bank and intended to use it in the purchase of some live stock. He locked it in a bureau drawer, and when he awoke in the morning it was gone.

His son had the money he lost in his pants pocket, and he found the pants outside the house on the fence. It is suspected that some person who knew the house committed the theft.

The commercial traveler, Risley, who was arrested at Brantford on Saturday, on the charge of forgery, was arraigned before the police magistrate Monday, and remanded until Friday, pending evidence being secured from New York.

The Brantford police have evidently bagged a noted forger, as the prisoner is wanted in Brockville and other points, the latest being the proprietor of the Balmoral Hotel, who wired that Risley did him out of $75. On the prisoner's person were found forged checks aggregating some $400.

County Constable and Private Night-watchman Ardon Carroll, of Ingersoll, was charged with being the proprietor of a common gaming house. Wm. Gustin testified that he was in the habit of going to Carroll's room frequently, and that on the night of Saturday, April 11, he was there playing

The Presbyterians.

Meeting of the Hamilton-London Synod—Rev. Dr. Lyle Chosen Moderator.

Chatham, April 21.—The Presbyterian Synod of Hamilton and London opened here last evening, and listened to an able sermon from Rev. J. L. Murray, of Kincardine, the Moderator.

Rev. Dr. McMullen, Woodstock, moved, seconded by Rev. Dr. McDonald, Sarnia, that the Rev. Dr. Lyle, of Central Church, Hamilton, be Moderator. The election was made unanimous amid applause, and Rev. Dr. Lyle returned thanks.

Dr. Hamilton moved a vote of thanks to the retiring Moderator for his admirable sermon. The Rev. Dr. Cuthbertson, of Wyoming, seconded. The motion was cordially approved.

After the list of committees had been read the Synod adjourned till 9:30 o'clock in the morning.

The delegates present were: Presbytery of Hamilton—Ministers, John Lang, D.D., S. H. D.D., W. J. Day, M.A., elders, F. Reed, J. B. Wilson.

Presbytery of Bruce—Minister, John Johnston.

STILL THEY COME.

The X Rays Work Wonders—The Human Body Pierced.

New York, April 21.—Nicola Tesla has done what all other exploiters of the Roentgen rays has failed to do. He has succeeded in looking through the human body. He has gone farther and seen through the bodies of three of his assistants placed in a line with the rays.

Whereas other scientists were using a voltage reckoned in thousands, or even hundreds of thousands, Tesla has handled millions. His great object was to secure vast power in the vacuum tubes, and now he has succeeded.

The skeleton of one of his assistants who stood at a distance of five or six feet from the tube which was giving off the rays, was plainly seen. Every bone stood out with perfect clearness. But that was not all.

Tesla has finally perfected the X-ray tube to such an extent that he saw completely through the skeleton as well as flesh. One of his assistants, who was the object experimented on, stood with his back to the vacuum tube where the X rays were better given off. He held a brass plate in front of his chest, moving it up and down.

The X rays had penetrated the body, and through the fluorescent screen Tesla could distinctly see the brass plate as it moved up and down.

"It is true that I have succeeded in seeing through the body," said Tesla to a reporter yesterday. "Not only that, but I have seen through three men standing in a row."

In diagnosing a case, the physicians or surgeons will be enabled to see readily what is the matter with the patient. Fractures in bones can be seen instead of felt, and the bones reset with ease. In operations with the knife for the removal of foreign substances, many a grievous error in locating the object will be done away with.

Tesla's wonderful discovery means that the internal organs can be inspected with ease. It means that he has given to humanity a boon on a par with vaccination, anaesthetics and other marvelous discoveries in medicine.

DEATH-DEALING TORNADO. Fremont, Ohio, April 22.—A tornado which swept over Sandusky county Monday demolished James Greene's house. Greene's aged father, William L., was killed outright and his wife fatally injured. The baby was carried across the road in its cradle, but escaped uninjured.

John Low, who with some other men was shearing sheep, was blown against a tree and instantly killed.

Among the Millions.

Very Heavy Losses Result from the Quebec Floods.

Bridges, Buildings, Crops and Cattle Carried Away—Several Persons Drowned.

Quebec, Que., April 22.—A man who has just returned here from Beauce county tells a pitiful story of the damage done there. He had to travel from St. Francis to St. Joseph, part of the way on a handcar and the remainder in a canoe, the main road being under water. At St. Marie farmers are removing their belongings to the hills and mountains.

FIVE MEN DROWNED. At St. George people go to church in canoes. There has been a heavy loss of property, houses, barns and cattle at this place. Five men were drowned. The bridge at that place has been carried away. Telephone and telegraph poles are under water everywhere.

LOSS $1,000,000 IN FOUR COUNTIES. The loss of property in the counties of Beauce, Megantic, Compton and Dorchester will be about $1,000,000. The floods have almost ruined the maple sugar crop, which yields about $400,000 yearly.

THE YAMASKA STILL RISING. A party of men who went down the Yamaska River some miles to search of lumber which was carried away by the floods of the 15th inst., found many houses along the river front submerged and abandoned, and their late occupants in a bad fix. Barns also were destroyed by the floods. The water is still rising. The bridge at Terrebonne has been carried away.

SEEKING REFUGE IN A CHURCH. Advice from Ste. Anne's and Chenele des Moines yesterday were to the effect that the ice jammed in the Sorcel Islands, and the water is still rising. The water rose seven inches at Sorcel yesterday morning. A rise of another foot will destroy telegraphic communication, as the cable boxes now are almost touched by the high water.

St. Augusta is covered with water to the depth of two feet. The floods have greatly interfered with business.

THREE KILLED.

Montreal, April 22.—A serious accident occurred on the C. P. R. near Lowtown, while the Halifax express was passing there. She ran into a culvert. The cars were derailed. Two boys who were on the platform of the colonist car were killed, and a Norwegian was also killed. It is impossible to obtain their names.

HARD STUDY IN SCHOOL.

Brings on Nervous Prostration and St. Vitus Dance.

A Young Lady Prostrated for Five Years from This Cause—Kia to be Carried Upstairs—A Lesson Parents Should Read.

Hard study at school "brought on nervous prostration and St. Vitus dance. This is a very frequent occurrence in these days of high pressure study, and one of the many unfortunate cases who suffer from it has not happily found relief, is Miss Lizzie L. Marshall, of Central Clarence, N. S.

Despite all that was done for her, the disease grew worse as month after month passed away, and both herself and friends feared she was doomed to an invalid's life. But a marvelous and permanent cure has been wrought through the agency of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and the public will be interested in reading the young lady's statement of her illness and cure.

Miss Marshall says: "About six years ago I was taken ill. At the outset hours remained in bed, but as they did no good a doctor was called in. He pronounced my trouble nervous prostration and St. Vitus dance, and on my over-study in school, I was under his care for about a year, but did not seem to improve, and he then suggested that a change of air and scene might be beneficial. I followed his advice, and for a time seemed to get somewhat better. However, soon after I returned home I was taken worse, and for ten weeks was confined to my bed in a state of complete prostration. Our family physician was unrelenting in his attention, and under his care I was finally enabled to sit up, but beyond this there was no improvement in my condition.

My nervous system seemed to be completely shattered, and I became so weak that I could not walk about the house without assistance, and for two years I had to be carried upstairs. It is needless to say that I was quite discouraged, as nothing seemed to afford me more than temporary relief. For five years I was in this state, wretched and despairing condition, when finally I resolved to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, of which I had heard and read a great deal, a trial.

After I had used two boxes I felt somewhat better, and determined to continue the treatment, and did so until I had used five boxes. All the time gaining health and strength rapidly. I have recovered all my old time health and strength, have a splendid appetite and can walk a long distance without feeling tired. I know that had I not taken Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I would not today be the strong, healthy girl that I am, and I cannot find words strong enough to express my gratitude towards this grand medicine which has restored me to health.

I am only too glad to have my testimony published so that others afflicted as I was may be cured, and I shall always speak of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the terms of praise they deserve.

Experience has taught that in order to drive disease from the system, its root must be reached. The blood must be made rich, red and pure, and the nerves must be nourished and strengthened. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills go straight to the root of the trouble, and perform these functions. This is the secret of their great success, and the reason why their cure when other medicines fail. At no other season of the year does the blood so badly need purifying and enriching as in the spring, and to accomplish the best results Dr. Williams' Pink Pills should be taken. No other medicine can accomplish the same good results. See the "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People" are on the wrapper around every box you buy. All others are worthless imitations, no matter what the interested dealer who offers them may say. Sold everywhere at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, or sent postpaid on receipt of price by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

What It Means

London is learning it.

Proof not lacking. Everybody has it. That tired feeling. Don't know what it means. Keeps you awake at night. Destroys daily comfort. Writes the body, worries the mind. You would shake it off. You would be thankful and strong. So you can.

First learn what it means. Some say it is bad blood. Others say it is a liver liver. They're all wrong. Tired feeling means tired kidneys. Just as lame back means lame kidneys.

And backache means kidney ache. How do we know it? Because Doan's Kidney Pills cure it. And they are for kidneys only.

How can we prove it? Because London people say so. Here is a case: Perhaps you don't know Mrs. Chas. Cooper, of 33 Horton street, London, Ont., and perhaps you do. That is neither here nor there in what we have to tell. This is the story as she tells it. It is worth reading:

"For ten years I have been troubled with backache and pain in the right side. Have been growing worse, and suffered very much from dizziness and general debility. I became exceedingly nervous, completely tired out, had no appetite, and could not get rest because of pain in my back and other kidney troubles. At times I was almost doubled up with the excruciating pain and could get no relief."

"My husband got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills from Strong's drug store, and from the time I first commenced taking them the improvement in my health was rapid and constant. I am very decidedly better and stronger in every way. They have removed my back and side trouble, and my appetite is good. I sleep well and am rested. My nervousness is almost entirely gone. I must say that the change for the better is remarkable."

Drs. Maybe and Mustbe.

You choose the old doctor before the young one. Why? Because you don't want to entrust your life in inexperienced hands. True, the young doctor may be experienced. But the old doctor must be. You take no chances with Dr. Maybe, when Dr. Mustbe is in reach. Same with medicines as with medicine makers—the long-tried remedy has your confidence. You prefer experience to experiment—when you are concerned. The new remedy may be good—but let somebody else prove it. The old remedy must be good—judged on its record of cures. Just one more reason for choosing AYER'S Sarsaparilla in preference to any other. It has been the standard household Sarsaparilla for half a century. Its record inspires confidence—50 years of cures. If others may be good, Ayer's Sarsaparilla must be. You take no chances when you take AYER'S Sarsaparilla.

Still have doubts? Send for the "Curebook." It kills doubts and cures doubters. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

A BIG STRIKE EXPECTED.

Every U. S. Carpenter and Horsehoof May Go Out May 1.

St. Louis, April 22.—A general strike for an eight-hour day by the union carpenters and horsehoofers of the United States is expected by the labor organizations of St. Louis to occur on May 1.

It is reported that every union horsehoof in the United States and every union carpenter, save those in St. Louis, will walk out on that day and will remain out until all shall have secured the shorter hours.

THE WHEEL TRUST.

Doston, April 22.—Thos. W. Lawson, of Lawson, Woodfield & Co., the active representative of the $100,000,000 bicycle trust, said that the corporation was assured that the capital had been paid in and banked; and that within a week a prospectus will be issued.

The company will organize under the laws of New York. He says that the trust will out price of high grade wheels from $100 to about $85, by eliminating jobs and cutting down on expenses, and will make money at that.

The General Elections.

Voting Day on June 16; Nominations on June 9.

The Great Reception to Hon. Wilfrid Laurier at Montreal.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell Has Been Squeezed
Out, and the Nova Scotia Knight
Will Be Premier.

Mr. R. L. Drury, a leading citizen of Victoria, B.C., who is spending several months in Toronto and Western Ontario towns, in the course of a private letter to a friend in Victoria, says: "I have seen a good many men from different parts of Ontario, and it is actually astonishing to hear how so many staunch Conservatives (in the past) have turned against the Ottawa Government. Some of the prominent business men in Toronto said the Government must be turned out to save the country."

D'Alton McCarthy has been nominated for Barrard Island, B. C., and has accepted. His sponsors are hitherto Conservative leaders.

The editor of the St. Thomas Journal, who has been on a tour through Quebec, writes: "Quebec will send, if the confessions of Conservatives and the claims of Liberals be accepted, a good chairman to the next Parliamentary election. If Ontario displays equal courage, equal independence, there can be no doubt of the result of the contest
that is at hand."

A Quebec dispatch says: "As far as can be seen, Sir Hector Langevin is already squarely in the field for the center division, having forsaken Three Rivers, where he despised of being his Liberal opponent. On the other hand, the Liberals say that Hon. F.
Langelier has no intention of retiring,
and that he will have no difficulty
whatever in defeating Sir Hector."

It is now announced that Mayor Kennedy, of Owen Sound, will be the candidate of the McCarthy Conservatives in North Grey. The object of it is that the other Conservative nominee says he is also against the chief plan in the platform of his party.
All indications point to the strong return of Mr. John Clark, the Liberal candidate.

For the present the general oversight of the Patron Federal contest
in this Province is in charge of Mr.
Malloy. It is intended to open the Patron campaign headquarters in Toronto shortly. Wherever Patron campaign headquarters are opened, the Patrons are pledged to support the candidate favoring a tariff for revenue only, and against the policy of the men now in power at Ottawa.

A. W. Ross, M. P. for L'Esperance, Man., has, it is said, consented to again contest that constituency.

The Winnipeg correspondent of the Toronto World states that no high tax candidate can defeat Hon. Mr.
Martin.

The Ministerial supporters of the Government are being asked to name
the returning officers in their ridings.

The report is current today that His Excellency the Governor-General has intimated his unwillingness to sign any more orders in council making appointments until the elections are over.
Yesterday, after the Cabinet Council, Conservative members of the House,
who were hanging round the Privy Council department, were told that His Excellency refused to sign the commissions.

I hear today that Hon. L. P. Pelletier will enter the Ministry to be formally by Sir Charles Tupper, in place of Sir Adolphe Caron, who is to go to England as High Commissioner. Mr.
Pelletier was sent for, and arrived in the city last night.

Montreal, April 22.—The great Laurier demonstration, which is to be attended by many Liberal members of Parliament, Mr. Laurier will likely leave Ottawa by the 3 o'clock train on Friday. He will be accompanied by Sir Richard Cartwright, Hon. David
Mills, Hon. L. H. Davies, W. Paterson,
J. D. Edgar, James Lister, Mr.
Mulock, Hon. D. C. Fraser, Dr. Borden,
W. Gibson, in addition to all the Liberal members from Quebec and many others from Ontario and the Maritime Provinces. The demonstration promises to be one of the most successful.
The Liberal members from Quebec has ever taken place in the city of Montreal. Upon arriving in Montreal, the Ottawa contingent, along with the Liberal leaders, will drive to the St.
Lawrence Hall, where the procession will be formed between 7 and 8 o'clock in the evening. If the weather is pleasant, the meeting will take place on the Champs de Mars, and if not, it will be held at the Sohmer Park. There will be eight or ten bands of music.

FOR TIRED FEELING.

Exhaustion Is Waste—Overwork Means
Shorter Life—Dodd's Kidney Pills
Mean Rest for the Kidneys.

Overwork is what you do after common sense asks you to quit.

Overwork is what you do when you tire, it exhausts you.

Just a little more after you ought to quit
is the "too much" that uses you up.

The blood goes out to all parts faster than usual when you overwork.

If the kidneys are not in perfect filtering order, more poison is injected through them to all parts of the body than usual, and then work, to say nothing of overwork, is harmful.

As soon as your kidneys commence doing good work there is less and less poison in the blood every minute.

This explains why Dodd's Kidney Pills
cure so promptly and permanently.

Goldsmith has it: "Still they wonder and still the wonder grows," that one small 1-2 pound package of Postum Cereal will make 50 cups of delicious taste beverage, superior to coffee in every respect. And yet such is the case.

SKIN DISEASES

Spring firstly from impure blood,
and are aggravated by a morbid condition of the system, and by local causes of irritation, etc. The real cause is impure blood, and there is no skin disease which Burdock

BLOOD BITTERS

does not cure if taken internally and applied externally according to directions. It heals up the skin and drives out the disease. Salt
Rheum, Tetter, Shingles, Scurf,
Erysipelas, Scrofula, Scrofulous
Sores, Ulcers, Abscesses and all similar diseases are invariably cured
by the intelligent use of Burdock
Blood Bitters.

COUNTY COUNCILS.

Judges Appointed to Divide the Counties
so as to Reduce the Number of Councils.

Toronto, Ont., April 22.—An order
in council has been passed by the Ontario Government appointing the following County Councils Judges to divide the present counties into county council districts under section 23 of the act to reduce the number of county councillors, passed at the recent session of the Legislature:
Judge Jones, of Brant; Judge Wilkinson, of Lennox; Judge Bell, of Kent; Judge Dean, of Essex; Judge Senker, of Lanark; Judge Crescor, of Grey; Judge Benson, of Northumberland and Durham; Judge Horn, of Essex; Judge O'Brien, of Prescott and Russell, and Judge Doyle, of Huron. Judge Jones is named as chairman. The above will form commissions of two judges each—two for the west and two for the east.
Judges Jones and Crescor will divide the counties of Essex, Kent, Lambton, Huron, Bruce, Elgin and Norfolk; Judges Bell and Horn the counties of Oxford, Waterloo, Brant, Wentworth, Haldimand, Peel, Halton,
and Grey; Judges Jones and Doyle the counties of Wellington, Simcoe and Dufferin; Judges Bell and Doyle the counties of Middlesex, Perth, Lincoln and Welland; Judges Dean
and Benson the counties of York, Ontario, Peterborough, Hastings,
and Lanark; Judges Wilkinson and Senker, the counties of Northumberland, Durham, Prince Edward, Victoria, Leeds and Grenville, Frontenac, Prescott and Russell; and Judges Dean and O'Brien, the counties of Carleton, Stormont, Denis, Glengarry and Renfrew. Judge Senker, of Lincoln, and Judge Mackenzie, of Lambton, are appointed to act in the place and stead of an absent judge who from any cause may be unable to act on the commission.

The Election Outlook.

Before the end of this week Parliament will be prorogued and dissolved, and the day of election fixed. It is a most unusual thing for a Parliament to be brought to a close in this manner, but almost every act of the men now in power has been of a character entirely lacking precedent. Never before, for example, has a Government attempted to crowd six sessions into five years, or to get permission to extend the Parliamentary term beyond the legal limit. Never before has a Canadian Government proved so impotent as to leave consideration of the supplies deemed necessary for the conduct of public affairs till the end of the existence of Parliament. The men in power have proved unable to conduct the affairs of state, and have been so busy quarrelling and fighting among themselves that they have not been able to turn what brains they possess to account in the simplest of procedure. Though the parliamentary term is fixed by law at five years, and though the last general election took place on March 5, 1891, for many months past there has been the utmost repugnance on the part of the Government to make a move towards facing the electorate. They made some preparations in that direction over a year ago, but when they found the country so strongly hostile to them and their policy, they preferred to destroy tons of election literature and lose the rents of hundreds of committee rooms throughout the land to facing an indignant electorate. Over a year ago, they expressed their intention to deal with the Manitoba school question. They made a violent attack on Manitoba, but when July came they backed out, and pleaded to be allowed to postpone action till Jan. 2, when they pledged themselves to be ready to go on with their measure. When Jan. 2 came they were still quarrelling. One section of the Cabinet was on strike and denouncing the Premier as an imbecile and an incapable, and conspiring to bring about a Tupper regime. Another was siding with Mr. Bowell, and denouncing their associates as conspirators, and before a peace could be patched up—only rendered possible by the fear that Mr. Laurier would be called in to form a Government—weeks of time were squandered. The result was that neither the Manitoba Bill, nor any other Government measure was brought up for consideration until it was made evident that they could not be passed.

Now, these unfaithful stewards would like Laurier to grant them $38,000,000 or $40,000,000 for use during the twelve months ending June 30, 1897. If they got it, they would endeavor to delay the general elections still further, so that they might continue to enjoy office and the emoluments thereof for months to come. The unsettling character of such high-handed proceedings would have a most disturbing effect on trade and commerce, which has been looking forward to the coming change of administration with great satisfaction, knowing how much the public at large will be benefited by emancipation from the baneful effects of the unbusiness-like management of public affairs which has prevailed at Ottawa for a long time past. As it is, so fearful are the men in power of the results of an appeal to the people that they are likely to keep the elections back to the eleventh hour.

Come early, or come late, however, the indications from every part of this broad Dominion are that the elections will result in the defeat of the combination at Ottawa. Most substantial are the grounds for this belief. Within a few months the Administration has sustained signal defeat in a number of Conservative strongholds. In Antigonish, N. S., Hon. Mr. Isaac, a representative Liberal won the seat held by the late Sir John Thompson from his advent in public life till his death while Premier. In North Ontario, the Government candidate only managed to secure election by running a two-faced campaign, pretending in one part of the riding to favor the Administration policy, and in another refusing to be bound by it. Cardwell was lost to the Government, and an Independent took the seat. In West Huron Mr. M. C. Cameron carried the seat for the Liberals by a majority very much larger than that given to Mr. Patterson, a member of the Conservative Cabinet at last election. In Montreal Center, the majority of over 1,200 given to Hon. Mr. Curran at the general election was wiped out, and Hon. Jas. McShane carried this, the greatest commercial constituency in the Dominion, by a big majority. In Westmoreland, N. B., the Conservative majority was reduced 1,400, to be fully overcome in the coming contest, and in Jacques Cartier, another Conservative stronghold, the old-time high tax majority of 300 was overcome, and the Liberal candidate carried the seat by nearly 600.

The majority of these elections could have been held on one day, but the men in power refused to so order. They preferred to concentrate their undoubted influence as administrators of public patronage, as dispensers of favors, and of questionable "influences" in one constituency after the other. But so great is the revolt against their misrule that they had to submit to a defeat so significant as to show that in a general election contest, when the standing of the two great parties are comparatively equal, the Administration and all its works will be rejected by an overwhelming majority.

The City Milk Supply.

The serious charges made by the dairymen of London and neighborhood, and the accompanying suggestions, should be considered by the committee of the City Council to which the matter has been remitted at the earliest possible moment.

No officer of the corporations should be permitted to lie under such imputations without giving him the earliest opportunity to formulate his defense. In the public interest, there should be a searching investigation into this whole matter of milk supply and inspection, and the evidence should be taken under oath. Fair play to the consumers, as well as to the health officer and the dairymen, demands it. And if the present system does not afford ample protection to the public, as the dairymen themselves assert, a better arrangement must be devised, either on the lines suggested by the dairymen, or on some more satisfactory basis.

No question is of more vital importance to the welfare of our homes than the supply of wholesome milk obtained from healthy animals, housed in clean and well-ventilated stables. That this cannot always be guaranteed without some civic supervision the dairymen themselves admit—for unscrupulous men are apt to drift into every business unless they know that they cannot ply their nefarious practices with impunity. But it should not be difficult either to vindicate the efficiency of the present system, or to show that it is in need of radical improvement. If a change is required, then it should be brought about as speedily as possible.

By the Way.

Presenting estimates for public works in doubtful constituencies, after it is certain that they cannot be carried in the House of Commons, is one form of attempting bribery. But this trick of the political fakir will mislead no one. The public works of the country will be under the control of a Liberal Government, with enlightened and progressive views of the country's needs, before two months have elapsed.

Ring down the curtain, and let the Ottawa farce close. It has been a costly performance, thanks to the mismanagement of the blundering managers.

The man who kept cool and waited finds that the temperature today just suits his condition.

If the men in power at Ottawa could postpone appearing before the electorate till the year 1900 they would be overjoyed.

The employees of the Zoellner furniture factory, Mount Forest, some 46 in number, married men and householders, have petitioned the council of that town to take into consideration, and, if possible, adopt some means by which work at said factory may be resumed and employment offered them.

What! Asking for municipal aid to open a closed factory with the great high tax policy in operation? The eyes of the public are certainly now opened to the deception practiced upon them by the men who propounded the doctrine that the higher the taxes the better off would become the customers of the factories, and the easier it would be for workers to get steady employment.

AS WE SAID BEFORE.

Crops and candidates are sprouting. Election time is within range; Everywhere we hear 'em shouting—'The country badly needs a change.'

An Inclined Railway.

A Hamilton Man Would Build One at Springbank.

And Place a Tower on the Hill—Vacant Land Taxation Scheme Shelved for This Year.

The water commissioners last week agreed to meet hereafter at 5 p.m., instead of 4 o'clock. Mayor Little, Engineer Moore and Secretary Ellwood were present at 5 o'clock yesterday. Commissioner Cowan came in at 5:10, and Chairman Judd at 5:15.

"Now, don't apologise," said the mayor, as Mr. Judd took his seat. Mr. Judd said he did not intend to, and the meeting began.

Mr. J. Powell, Hamilton, applied for permission to build an inclined railway and tower at Springbank. Mr. Powell has been constructing engineer of the International Radial Railway Company, Hamilton, for the past year. He told the board that such a tower and railway would be a great inducement to outside picnic parties. He said he would desire a long lease at reasonable terms.

Mr. Judd told Mr. Powell to place his proposition in writing at the next meeting of the board.

The city solicitor gave the following opinion regarding Commissioner Cowan's plan of taxation of vacant land for waterworks purposes.

"I am of the opinion," said he, "that without legislation authorizing such taxation as is proposed by Mr. Cowan, the water commissioners have no power to adopt the proposed plan. I have examined the amendments to the general waterworks act, and whilst some of them are in the direction of power to adopt the proposed plan, none of them go so far as 't' is proposed by his plan to go, and in any event, I am of opinion that the amendments do not apply to the water commissioners for the city of London, whose authority is contained in the London Waterworks Act, 1873, and the amending acts. In the event of legislation being sought to enable the commissioners to impose the frontage tax, it would be well that the plan of Mr. Cowan, if approved by the water commissioners, should be considered when the amendments to the act are sought, so as to provide ample legislation for the purposes mentioned in his proposition."

In view of the impossibility of securing legislation this year, the matter was dropped for the present.

Engineer Moore reported that the tender of John M. Daly was the lowest for anthracite coal, and John Mann & Son for slack coal. He recommended that slack coal be used.

Mr. Cowan said that he did not think slack coal would prove satisfactory without a smoke consumer, but it was decided to carry out the recommendation of the engineer and give slack a trial.

The Imperial Oil Company was awarded the contract for supplying illuminating oil.

A proposition by the Fuel Economy Company, Mettewau, N. J., to place their article at Springbank was laid on the table.

The Springbank proposition of the street railway company was up again. Some progress towards a settlement has been made during the week, and the proposition will doubtless go before the council in its present shape.

Agony

The wonderful cure related below is by no means unusual with Hood's Sarsaparilla. This great medicine has given health to suffering children, even when health seemed impossible. The secret of its success is that it purifies, vitalizes and enriches the blood.

"I wish to tell of a wonderful cure effected by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Five years ago my little boy was suddenly seized with a severe lameness, apparently in his right knee, which some physicians said was rheumatism, while others said it was hip disease and that it was

Incurable

During the next winter and spring he became rapidly worse. We took him to a specialist, who said it was hip disease. At this time the affliction became so severe that we could not move him without causing screams of agony. He became reduced in weight to 30 pounds, and was but a shadow of his former self. We had about given up hope when we read of a cure by Hood's Sarsaparilla of a similar case. We resolved to try this medicine. Jimmie was decidedly improved after taking the first bottle. He was even after the second. We have since used over a dozen bottles of the medicine, and the change has exceeded our expectations. Jimmie is now able to walk without the aid of crutches and goes to school every day. He has been wonderfully cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla." J. O. RUNDELL, Oakley, Michigan.

Better

Druggist C. C. Tubbs says he knows the Rundell boy has been wonderfully by Hood's Sarsaparilla and that Mr. Rundell is thoroughly reliable. He has a good supply of Hood's Sarsaparilla and Hood's Pills, both of which are giving perfect satisfaction. He says Hood's Pills seem to be the coming family cathartic.

N. B. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to buy any other. Insist upon Hood's, because

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Four-Million Railway Deal Dropped Without Ceremony.

More Revelations About the Huron County Judgeship.

Junior Judge Doyle Was Ready to Do All the Work.

But His Application to Save the Expense of Another Judge Was Ignored.

By Telegraph from Our Own Correspondent.

Ottawa, April 22.—When the House met today, at 10:30, the resolution granting a loan of four million dollars to the Canadian Pacific for a railway from Lethbridge to Nelson was dropped by the Government without debate.

Sir Richard Cartwright before orders of the day were reached again brought up the appointment of Judge Masson. It will be remembered that Mr. Dickey, Minister of Justice, stated in the House some time ago that Judge Doyle, junior judge of the county of Huron, did not apply for the position of Judge Toms, the senior judge, when the latter died. Mr. Lister had stated then that Doyle had done so. Today Sir Richard read a letter from Judge Doyle, dated May 16, 1895, to the Minister of Justice, applying for the position, and stating that he was prepared to do the work alone. On the 20th of May following, Minister of Justice Tupper replied to that letter, stating that Judge Doyle's communication had been placed on file. Besides this, there was a petition sent from the county to the Minister of Justice, signed by all the practicing barristers in the county, recommending Judge Doyle for the office.

Mr. Lister, speaking to the matter, questioned the legality of the appointment. Mr. Dickey, in reply, said that he must have not read Judge Doyle's letter, which was on file in the department, carefully enough. He was under the impression that Doyle's letter was merely notifying the department of the death of Judge Toms. As to the petition, he had not seen it. In regard to the appointment of Mr. Masson, M.P., he thought it was legal, but he admitted that if he had known of the existence of the petition, he would not have made the appointment. At any rate, he would have hesitated before doing so. Mr. Davies said that the court would have to settle the legality of the appointment. There was carelessness somewhere when the Department of Justice did not know of the existence of this act.

Sir Herbert Tupper—It will be difficult to show who in the Justice Department would have to look after such matters.

Mr. Mulock—Someone was looking after it very closely, as was shown in the haste of Mr. Masson's appointment. It was an inconceivable state of affairs, to say that the Department of Justice was negligent of such important matters. He trusted that it would be the duty of Lord Aberdeen to watch that more appointments of a similar kind would not be made by the Government.

The bill providing for machinery used in mines being admitted free of duty on the 1st of May was read a second and third time.

On the second reading of the bill for a subsidy to a steamship line from Canada to France and Belgium, Sir Richard Cartwright objected to the clause which was inserted in it to strike off the clause in the fast Atlantic line contract, which necessitates the boats calling at French ports. He did not object to the other parts of this bill, but under this clause the Government could let the whole fast line contract for a ten or a five-knot service, just as easy as for a twenty-knot service. In his opinion, it would never do to trust the Government with such a matter within 24 hours of dissolution.

The matter was under discussion when the House rose at 1 o'clock.

There are a number of parties here today after positions as returning officers at the general elections.

POLITICAL POINTS.

Ottawa, April 22.—The nominations for candidates in the coming general elections for the Commons have been fixed for Tuesday, June 9, and the elections will take place on Tuesday, June 16.

It is said that immediately after the dissolution next Friday Sir Mackenzie Bowell will leave for England to attend the Cable Conference; that upon his advice Sir Charles Tupper will be called in as Premier, and that early next week important changes will be made in the Cabinet. The nature of these is not indicated, but it is hinted that Mr. Chapleau may be included among them, as he is expected at Ottawa from Atlantic City shortly. Mr. Northrup, of East Hastings, is now talked of for the Solicitor-Generalship, which was formerly held by Hon. J. J. Curran, but has been vacant for many months.

Montreal, April 22.—The Montreal Protestant Ministerial Association today made a strong protest against the action of Mr. Foster in attempting to force certain estimates upon the attention of Parliament on last Lord's Day. On the other hand, Mr. Laurier was commended for protesting against this.

New Tailoring Establishment.

The many friends and customers of J. H. Deeks (late Denton & Deeks), will be pleased to learn that he has opened out for himself at 415 Richmond street, with an entire new stock of fine wools, etc. He will welcome those who may call for an inspection. Mr. Deeks has a thorough knowledge of the tailoring trade and is well and favorably known as an adept cutter. The stock of goods purchased will please all who may wish to inspect them. The store is excellently located, being but a few doors north of Dundas street. The trade successfully handled by the late firm of Denton & Deeks was very large, and from the manner in which Mr. Deeks has opened for himself, it is safe to say the old patrons will enter his own new doorway at 415 Richmond, and leave with the utmost satisfaction.

Ald. Marshall Dead.

Sketch of a Busy and Useful Life.

A Self-Made Man—His Business Career—Averse to Public Life.

Alderman John Marshall died at his residence, "The Beeches," South London, about 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. It is about four weeks since Ald. Marshall, then apparently in the best of health, was seized with the complicated illness which caused his death. The best medical talent was unavailing, and he slowly sank. Yesterday, in a conscious period, he bade his family an affecting farewell, realizing that all hope of his recovery had gone. The end was very peaceful.

Ald. Marshall was born in Edinburgh, Scotland, 55 years ago. When he was 15 years of age, he came to London, and entered the wholesale establishment of Adams, Hope & Co. In the early sixties he went to Hamilton, where he was steadily advanced in the employ of the same firm. After a few years he returned to London, as head bookkeeper in the firm of John Birrell & Co. In 1872 he severed his connection with that firm, and commenced business with Messrs. Lind & Macfie, the firm styling itself Marshall, Lind & Macfie. Four years afterwards the partners were dissolved, and he continued to carry on the wholesale hat, cap and fur business with which he was connected at the time of his death. For the past sixteen years Mr. Samuel Munro has been a partner in the business.

Mr. Marshall was an ideal husband and father. In 1875 he was married to Miss Louise, second daughter of the late John Birrell. Two daughters, just budding into young womanhood, are left to mourn with their mother. They are Miss Allie and Nellie. Mr. and Mrs. Marshall lost a third daughter by death some years ago. A brother William is manager of the Hamilton Vinegar works, and a sister, Miss Grace, also resides in that city.

Mr. Marshall's retiring disposition and love of home life prevented him from becoming an ardent lodge man. He was a member of Tuscan Masonic Lodge, No. 166, G. R. O., and was drawn from active membership. He always took a keen interest in the affairs of St. Andrew's Society, of which he was a past president.

In religious matters he followed the belief of his forefathers, and was loyal to the Presbyterian Church. He was a manager of King's Street Presbyterian Church, Rev. Duncan Robertson, and the congregation culminated in a painful scene on Sunday morning last, the particulars of which have become public talk. On this occasion Mr. Robertson prefaced his sermon with some personal remarks, going so far as to mention several of the managers by name, and accusing them of unchristianlike conduct. He mentioned one gentleman particularly and told him to deny the assertions if he dare. Some of the congregation left the church, and at the conclusion of the sermon one of the managers arose and replied to the strictures. At the close of the service a number of the members applied for certificates of withdrawal.

During his remarks Mr. Robertson said that he would dispense with the sacrament that day, as he felt it would be nothing more than sacrifice to administer it.

The board of managers held a meeting on Monday night and altered their previous decision not to send a deputation to wait on the Presbyterian Synod at Glasgow. Messrs. Archibald Black and McHattie were appointed to go. The managers heard that the pastor was going to ask that his resignation, which had been accepted, be held in abeyance for six months, and the matter of pulp supply left to him. The managers opposed this proceeding and wished to have the matter of supply left to them.

The case was dealt with by the synod yesterday and a commission was appointed consisting of Tilly Gladstone, neighborhood clergymen to take evidence on the matter. The commission will meet next week.

The managers will meet this week and consider what they will do on Sunday next. The feeling among the congregation is very strained.

Messrs. Black and McHattie and Rev. Mr. Robertson returned from Chatham in different coaches of yesterday afternoon's express. Mr. Black said today that the commission of investigation included all the city Presbyterian ministers and elders, Rev. Mr. Little, Prof. Line, moderator of the London Presbytery; Rev. Mr. Kerr, Belmont, and Rev. Geo. Sutherland, Fingal, clerk of the Presbytery.

Mr. Robertson wished the synod to lay the resignation on the table for two months and have various members of the congregation cited to appear in the pulp of the Presbyterian in St. Thomas.

Messrs. Black and McHattie opposed and carried their point. The commission has Presbyterian powers.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Tooley, con. 5, Dorchester, celebrated their golden wedding on Monday evening last. A number of Londoners were present, and during the evening Capt. Robson read an address which teemed with congratulatory phrases and complimented Mr. Tooley upon his assiduous attention to his late parliamentary duties. The address was accompanied by a purse of gold. Mr. Tooley made a feeling reply, and Messrs. Beattie, Geary, Elliott and Rev. Mr. Racey afterwards spoke. About 200 people were present at the celebration. The Gladstone string band furnished a number of selections.

NOTHING SENSATIONAL

It's not our way of doing things. Sensational or empty enthusiasm has no part in our business. How to the line—our eye steadfastly fixed on this side the limit of truth. Our Millinery business doubled. We are satisfying more people than any other Millinery dealer in Western Canada. Our Glove and Hosiery Department, first counter to left on ground floor. Can't give space to these items today. Suffice it to say: You'll be the sufferer if you pay 35c for what we sell at 25c—and 20c for what we are selling at 12c—and that's what you'll be in buying away from here.

Culmination of Differences Between Pastor and Flock in the East End.

LOVE AND LORE

Sometimes, as he sat smoking beneath the stars, he tried to picture to himself the person who might be waiting and watching for him in Paris, and to try to look upon her as she must really be; for after her life in San Francisco and Paris, she could not remain the woman she had been at the oases on the coast of Peru. But, to do what he would, he could make no transformation in the picture which was imprinted on the retina of his soul. There, Mrs. Cliff was a woman still young, tall, and too thin; in a suit of blue flannel, faded and worn, with her hair bound tightly around her head, and covered by a straw hat with a faded ribbon—but it was toward this figure that he was sailing, sailing, sailing, as fast as the winds of heaven would blow his vessel onward.

CHAPTER XLIX.

When Ralph met Capt. Horn that afternoon, there rose within him a sudden, involuntary appreciation of the captain's worthiness to possess a shipload of gold and his sister Edna. Before that meeting there had been doubts in the boy's mind in regard to this worthiness. He believed that he had thoroughly weighed and judged the character and capacities of the captain of the Castor, and he had said to himself in his moments of reflection, that, although Capt. Horn was a good man, and a brave man, and an able man in many ways, there were other men in the world who were better fitted for the glorious double position into which this fortunate mariner had fallen.

But now, as Ralph sat and gazed upon his sister's lover and heard him talk, and as he turned from him to Edna's glowing eyes, he acknowledged, without knowing it, the transforming power of those two great alchemists—gold and love—and from the bottom of his heart he approved the match.

Upon Mrs. Cliff the first sight of Capt. Horn had been a little startling, and hence she had only been able to tell herself that the compact with Edna was a thing fixed and settled, she might have been possessed with the fear that perhaps this gentleman might have views for his future life very different from those upon which she had set her heart. But even if she had not known of the compact, the meeting, all danger of that fear would have passed in the moment that the captain took her by the hand.

To find his three companions of the wreck and desert in such high state and flourishing condition, so cheered and gratified the soul of Edna, that when he could talk of nothing else; and now he called for Chedita and Mok—those two good fellows whose faithful presence he should never forget; and when they entered, bending low, with eyes upturned toward the lofty presence to which they had been summoned, the captain looked inquiringly at Edna. As he came in that afternoon, he had seen both the negroes in the courtyard, and in the passing thought he had given to them, had supposed them to be attendants of some foreign potentate from Barbary or Morocco. Chedita and Mok! The ragged, half-dressed, and sublimely respectable, a liveried lackey of rainbow and gold! It required minutes to harmonize these two presentations in the mind of Capt. Horn.

When the audience of the two Africans for such it seemed to be—had lasted long enough, Edna was thinking of dismissing them, when it became plain to her that there was something which Chedita wished to say or do. She looked at him inquiringly, and he came forward.

For a long time the mind of the good African had been exercised upon the subject of the great debt he had done just before the captain had sailed away from the Peruvian coast; and in San Francisco and Paris he had asked many questions quietly, and apparently without purpose, concerning the marriage ceremonies of America and other civilized countries, and he had learned enough to enable him, upon an emergency, to personate an orthodox clergyman; but he had found out this and that little thing, perhaps, and things which made a great impression upon him—which had convinced him that, in the ceremony he had performed, there had been no real solemnity; how much, he did not clearly know; but about one thing that had been wanting he had no doubts. A traveling toward Edna, and the captain, who sat near each other, Chedita took from his pocket a large gold ring, which he had purchased with his savings. "There was a thing we didn't do," he said, glancing from one to the other. "It was the ring part—nobody thought of that. Will captain take it now, and put it on the lady?" Edna and the captain looked at each other. For a moment no one spoke. Then Edna said, "Take it." The captain rose and took the ring from the hand of Chedita, and Edna stood beside him. Then he took her hand, and reverently placed the ring upon her fourth finger. Fortunately it fitted. It had not been without avail that Chedita had so often scanned with a measuring eye the rings upon the hands of his mistress.

A light of pleasure shone in the eyes of the two. Now he had done his full duty; now all things had been made right. As he had seen the priests stand in the churches of Paris, he now stood for a moment with his hands outspread. "Very good," he said; "that will do." And then, followed by Mok, he bowed himself out of the room.

For some moments there was silence in the salon. Nobody thought of laughing, or even smiling. In the eyes of Mrs. Cliff there were a few tears. She was the first to speak. "He is a good man," said she; "and he now believes that he has done everything that ought to be done; but you will be married tomorrow, all the same, of course."

"Yes," said Edna, "but it will be with this ring." "Yes," said the captain, "with that ring; you must always wear it."

"And now," said Mrs. Cliff, when they had all reassured themselves, "you must really tell us your story, captain; you know I have heard nothing yet."

Edna had heard before, much that she had not heard. About the treasure almost everything he said was new to her. Mrs. Cliff was very eager on this point—she wanted every detail.

"How about the ownership of it?" she said. "After all, that is the great point. What do people here think? Will you right to use that gold as your own?"

"The captain smiled. 'That is not an easy question to answer, and I think we shall settle it very satisfactorily. Of course, the first thing to do is to get it safely entered and stored away in the great money vaults over here. A good portion of it, in fact, is to be shipped to Philadelphia to be coined. Of course, all that business is in the hands of my bankers. The rest that I originally sailed from California was a great help to us. To ascertain my legal rights in the case, was the main object of my visit to London. There Wrayton and I put the matter before three leading lawyers in that line of business, and although their opinions differed somewhat, and although we have not yet come to a final conclusion as to what should be done, the matter is pretty well straightened out as far as we are concerned. Of course, the affair is greatly simplified by the fact that there is no one on the other side to be dealt with. The treasure, but we consider it as if there were a claimant, or two of them, in fact. These can be no other than the present Government of Peru, and that portion of the population of the country which is native to the soil, and the latter, if our suppositions are correct, are the only ones who have a right to the treasure which I discovered. But what are the laws of Peru in regard to treasure trove, or what may be the disposition of the Government toward the native population and their rights, of course we cannot find out now. That will take time. But of one thing we are certain; I am entitled to a fair remuneration for the discovery of this treasure, just the same as if I claimed salvage for having brought it to this port; on this point the lawyers are all agreed. I have, therefore, made my claim, and shall stand by it with every legal weapon at my disposal. I am entitled to my share, and I will support me in any emergency.'"

LIFE SAVED.—Mr. James Bryson Cameron states: "I was confined to my bed with inflammation of the lungs, and was given up by physicians. A neighbor advised me to try Dr. Cameron's Eclectic Oil, stating that his wife had used it for a throat trouble with little success. Acting on this advice I procured the medicine, and less than a half-bottle cured me; I certainly believe it saved my life. It was the best medicine I ever used, and a trial, as I was reduced to such a state that I doubted the power of any remedy to do me any good."

The General's Appeal.

His Letter to His Son Ballington
Published.

The Letter's Charges Against the General—Claims He Was Snubbed.

New York, April 22.—From the national headquarters of the Salvation Army, Commandants Frederick and Emma Booth-Tucker have given out three letters. The first of these is the letter of resignation which Mr. and Mrs. Ballington Booth sent to the national headquarters on receiving the confirmation of their change of command, and contains the whole of the alleged 22 reasons for severing themselves from the Salvation Army.

The second is the full text of the reply of Mr. Bramwell Booth, chief of staff, and the third is the appeal of Gen. Booth to his son not to resign his command and leave the Salvation Army. The letter is dated Jan. 31, and he accuses his father, the general, of having cornered him and dealt a cruel blow. Among other things he says: "He (Gen. Booth) was utterly unimpaired of the toll and effort of our dear officers and soldiers who have sacrificed, lost rest and worked themselves sick to please him and to show him something worthy of the army and the nation. It became to us all a great sorrow before he had been long in the country, that he did not come to inspect the troops, or enter into our battle here, but to express his presence and prejudiced ideas, and to ride rough shod over us all. This was painfully the first staff council, where every man felt that he was going to be sucked all the juice out of this plum, and many other things which caused surprise and comment among the officers. He never talked to us, but he tried to talk to him concerning our difficulties, trials and plans in the work, or its needs, etc. I felt that he was right, but he was invariably merely that he might contradict it and prove us wrong. He utterly refused to receive our opinions upon anything, and to save constant friction and unpleasantness we had to close our mouths. It was indeed the saddest chapter of disappointment in our lives."

The character and tenor of the general's letter, which makes about 4,000 words, may be summed up in the concluding paragraph. "I know that is a beautiful story of what men call freedom. We have got a long way back toward the days of old when every man did as he pleased, and in his own eyes. But still there is after all a universal instinct that something is due from a son to his father—parental claims have still the sanction of mankind, even though mankind has largely left out God. Men who speak of the sanctity of the hour will be disposed to think that you owe something to your father, questioning whether you would ever have been the man you are now, and in his vision you are not being my son, and had the Salvation Army behind you. Oh, Ballington, Ballington, what a lot in your right reason. The whole thing is like a heavy dream. Again and again I ask myself, 'Is this a reality or an imagination?' I will make, I will make, I will make, the worst of it yet be verted; the past may be forgiven. Believe me to be still your affectionate father, giving you all the time. (Signed) William Booth."

A STRANGE STORY.

Peculiar Incident at the Deathbed of an Infidel.

Winnipeg, Man., April 21.—The town of Qu'Appelle is excited over a remarkable incident. An infidel at Qu'Appelle was dying, and his last known men of the place were watching at his bedside. Suddenly those in the adjoining room heard a piercing cry and rushing into the room they found the two watchers insensible and the infidel dead. The men have never seen, and cannot refer to the matter. One of them is not expected to live. It is believed they saw the evil one.

LEGALITY OF SUNDAY CONCERTS.—Toronto, April 22.—Sacred concerts at the Island, or in the city, or elsewhere are as lawful on the Sabbath as on a week day—at least Chief Justice Armstrong and Mr. Justice Chief Justice Armstrong and Mr. Justice Chief Justice Armstrong.

CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS BLAMED BY A JURY.—Toronto, April 22.—The inquest last night into the death of A. C. Mounter, the elocutionist, who died last week resulted in the following verdict: "That the deceased A. C. Mounter died April 15 from diphtheria, and that there was culpable negligence on the part of his attendants in not calling in qualified medical assistance. While not desiring to reflect upon any religious doctrine of Christian Science, we believe that the existence of such a religion which will afford protection to the community and restrain them from leading people to their deaths, we believe deceased was led by ignoring medical science."

FOR THE NORTHWEST.

Toronto, April 22.—The weekly settling train which left the Union Depot last evening for Manitoba and the Northwest carried about 40 settlers and their effects. Mr. W. T. Scott, who is the immigration agent here for the Manitoba Government, is in Montreal, where he met Premier Greenway, who while he was in Montreal, took occasion to look after some 300 immigrants who came out from the old country, bound for the Prairie Province. These immigrants were in charge of Mr. A. J. McMillan and were sent through via North Bay. Mr. McMillan has accompanied the party all the way out from England, and will be with them till they land safely in Winnipeg.

METHODIST MISSIONS.—Toronto, April 21.—Rev. Dr. Sutherland has given out the report of the executive committee of the Methodist Board of Missions. The committee appointed Rev. C. E. Bland, of Montreal, to the position of general secretary for the board, and Messrs. McKenzie, Elliott, Coates and MacArthur, who have been laboring in Japan, will continue, as their requests were granted, to be the general secretaries of the board. This motion was passed: "That the secretary be requested to communicate with each of the churches in this city, and to authorize efforts of irresponsible persons raising money for outside missionary work, and urging upon the churches and the people the sympathy and liberality of the people into disciplinary lines."

A Manual for Women.

A Good Maxim, Either for War or Housekeeping,

AND TRUE EVERYWHERE.

A famous marksman says the most wonderful shooting is done when your eye sees nothing but the mark. In target-shooting when you see only the bull's-eye—the gold, and everything else fades away out of sight, then expect a wonderfully good shot.

The same thing is true in all the practical affairs of life. Have just one single aim in view and the chances are you'll hit the mark. That's the way to succeed in anything; that's the way to accomplish great things; to have one purpose in mind and stick to it, and give all the thoughts and all the energies to accomplish that one object; that means success. It's the same in everything; in business, in housekeeping, in mechanics—concentrating all the powers of the mind on one point means success.

NAPOLEON'S MAXIM.—"Always concentrate your forces—never divide them," made him the conqueror of Europe. His enemies spread out his bigger armies, but he gathered his together and struck at one point, and conquered. At the last, when he neglected his own advice, and his own forces became divided, he was himself conquered.

TRUE IN BUSINESS AND HOUSEKEEPING.—In business a man gives all his mind to one line of trade and gains a snuffbox fortune; then he "spreads out" in several directions and loses everything. In housekeeping when you try to do everything at once, you make a mess of it; but by putting all the thoughts on one thing at a time, you accomplish a heap of work. There's always a heap more to do, but surely if you stick to one thing, something gets done.

TRUE IN MECHANICS; TRUE EVERYWHERE.—In mechanics, when anyone invents a machine to do several different things, the chances are it won't do any of them well. Look at some of those contrivances—knife-corkscrew-ice-pick-tack-hammer-screw-driver-stove-lifter—carpet-stretcher all in one tool. Such a tool is sure to be a failure.

The practical housewife or man about house says: "Give me a good hammer or a good jack-knife, something that does just one thing and does it well."

An invention needed to do several different things at once is likely to miss all of them; but when a man of brains does just one thing and does it well, he is likely to do that one thing thoroughly and completely.

THE SECRET OF SUCCESS.—The same rule holds in medicine. That is the secret of the wonderful success of Dr. R. Y. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for women. It heals and strengthens the organs distinctly feminine. It prevents the weakness and debility which attend the various diseases of women. It is not intended for any other purpose; it is not a panacea for all sorts of troubles; its sole object is to prevent and cure this one class of disorders and weaknesses, and it fulfills this one purpose absolutely and completely, as no other medicine has ever done.

This is a striking contrast to the results of Dr. Pierce's practice, which in a period of nearly 30 years and the treatment of more than 250,000 women, shows a record of 97 cures in every 100 cases.

For nearly 30 years Dr. Pierce has been chief consulting physician to the "Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y., and has attained an eminence second to none in his profession. He is a specialist in diseases of women. The fruits of his unequalled experience are embodied in the "Favorite Prescription," the unfailing helper and strengthener of women in every critical period of her existence.

FOR MOTHERS.—Prospective mothers and nursing mothers will find the "Prescription" a wonderful sustainer and help in their time of trial and of early motherhood.

ble and fatherly professional advice and directions for home treatment by which, without the aid of a physician, she may cure herself if her trouble is not too serious. And the records show that many thousands of cases pronounced incurable by doctors have been completely and permanently cured by Dr. Pierce's home treatment by correspondence.

Mrs. Ida Coventry, Huntsville, Logan county, O., writes: "I had female weakness very bad—in bed most of the time, dragging down pains through my back and hips; no appetite; no energy. The family physician was treating me for liver complaint. I did not get any better under that treatment so I thought I would try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I felt better before I had used one bottle of each. In three months' time I felt as well I did not think it necessary to take any medicine. I feel that what Dr. Pierce recommends it to do."

Mrs. Fred Kempton, Cambria, Hillsdale county, Mich., writes: "When I began to use your medicine I could not do any work to speak of. I was in such misery that many times, as I lay down for the night, have I prayed that I might never see the rising of another sun. It was almost instant death to me to stand on my feet."

"When I began using your medicines I weighed 103 pounds. I have taken in all ten bottles of your Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription six of Golden Medical Discovery, and some of your 'Extract of Smart-Weed.' Today I am well, and weigh 143 1/2 pounds, and I am doing the work for my family of nine."

Mrs. C. M. Miller, No. 1,633 Frederick avenue, St. Joseph, Mo., writes: "I cannot say enough in praise of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, as it has done me a world of good and undoubtedly saved my baby's life, as I came near losing him twice before the proper time."

Mrs. Anna E. Fitch, Johnstown, Cambria county, Pa., writes: "I have been taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—these bottles of it—and am getting well fast; I can do my own work, which I have not done for almost two years; do my own washing, and all of my housework; I have gained about six pounds taking your remedy. You cannot know how glad I am that I found your 'Favorite Prescription.'"

Miss Lauretta McNeese, of Box 723, Reno, Washoe county, Nev., writes: "I have discontinued taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and will not need any more. Last month I had no pain at all, and worked every day without any inconvenience whatever. It was the first time I never had any pain during the period. I cannot say too much for your medicines, especially the 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Pleasant Pellets.' I know of a lady in a family way who took one bottle of your 'Favorite Prescription' and she says she was not sick like she was with her first baby. This was her second baby. She thinks it a grand medicine, and so do I."

Mrs. S. F. Zachary, Columbia, Fluvanna county, Va., writes: "I hurt myself about seventeen years ago lifting more than my strength would allow, which caused displacement of internal organs, after which time I was a complete invalid. I could hardly get about the house, and was confined to my bed a good portion of the time. Under the treatment of the best physicians our town could afford, I took a quantity of medicine which seemed to do me no good. Some one recommended Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and before I had taken one bottle there was a change for the better. My husband then got Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and I took it in connection with the 'Favorite Prescription.' These medicines have been, through the blessing of God, the means of my recovery. I continued your medicine until I felt that there was no longer any need of it. I have been rewarded for giving your medicines a fair trial."

A WONDERFUL BOOK FREE.—All women should possess the complete information about themselves, which is contained in Dr. Pierce's free book, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser." It is a large, handsome and eight-page book; a perfect medical library in one volume with more than 500 illustrations. Several chapters are devoted to the special physiology and the diseases peculiar to women. It is written in plain, interesting language. It has had a larger sale than any other medical work ever printed; six hundred and eighty thousand copies were sold at $1.50 each. The profit on this phenomenal sale enabled Dr. Pierce to issue the present edition of half a million copies absolutely free to anyone who will send the little COUPON NUMBER in this paragraph, with 21 cents in 1-cent stamps (to defray the expense of mailing only), to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y. This free edition is precisely the same as the book which sold at $1.50, except that it is bound in strong paper covers. If you desire it in French cloth, embossed binding, send ten cents extra, (31 cents in all), to cover the extra cost of this more beautiful and substantial binding. Do not fail to inclose in your letter the little COUPON NUMBER printed above to be cut out this paper.

Thomas P. Hobbs, Emory street, South London, writes saying that years ago, when he was a member of the Seventh Battalion, that organization was in the habit of attending church parade once during the completion of their annual drill, and used to go to church on Sunday mornings, sometimes numbering between two and three hundred strong; but objection was raised to the morning parade on the ground that the volunteers occupied seats that were rented and paid for by the usual congregation, thereby depriving them of their seats, and consequently crowding them out. To get over this difficulty, when a committee of a friendly society walked upon the parade, the volunteers were their parade, it was suggested that they take the afternoon, as the church would be perfectly free and would in no way interfere with the usual service. To this the society cheerfully acquiesced, and the hour was fixed at 3 o'clock. Then the hour was changed, and because it interfered with the Sunday schools, but nothing was said against the band. Now the band is not wanted. Mr. Hobbs says that as the night service would not do, as it might interfere with socials. He strongly advocates holding to the original idea of a Sunday service, but he says he cannot see why any preacher should object.

CHURCH PARADES.

To the Editor of the "Advertiser": I have read with astonishment the address of Mr. D. Regan at the recent meeting of the license commissioners. It is the first time that these gentlemen have deigned to reply to the flood of indignant remonstrances which poured in on them from almost every quarter when they extended the hour for the sale of liquor. Mr. Regan makes the assertion that as of no other party. Another is a well-known politician, and regarding him, also, I will venture the assertion that he would cut off his right hand rather than endorse Mr. Regan's statement. The third is a gentleman who says that there can be no breach of faith where there is no compact. He says that there was no compact between the commissioners and the temperance people; therefore there could be no breach of faith. Mr. Regan, making one of his suavitest in modo speeches at the meeting of the commissioners a year ago, said that as the Government were contemplating the fixing of an hour for the whole Province, they would make no change in the hour locally. In proof of this, I quote from an open letter to the commissioners. It says: "We also had the distinct assurance of the chairman of your board that you would make no change in your bylaw regarding the hour of closing." This letter was signed by the officers of the General Ministerial Association, the Methodist Ministerial Association, and the officers of the W. C. T. U., the officers of the four councils of Royal Templars, as well as the officers of the London and Western Ontario Prohibition League. Most gentlemen are indignant if it be even hinted that their word is not as good as their bond; but here is a man who is ready to give that word officially, and publicly, and then not only repudiate it, but deny that it should be considered as binding upon him or those for whom he spoke. Any further reference to any of Mr. Regan's statements is needless. H. ARNOTT.

To the Editor of the "Advertiser": We would beg the privilege of reminding the Christian public, through the columns of your paper, that on the 1st of May the regulations for the incoming license year will be announced. As a very large section of our citizens publicly voiced their dissatisfaction over the board's action last year (May), and urged that the position then taken should be repudiated, we would ask special attention to their doings this year, as they now have the opportunity to undo the wrong then enacted in behalf of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

FAIR AND COMPARATIVELY COOL

Toronto, Ont., April 21—11 p. m.—
The depression, which was in Illinois last night, now covers New York State. The high pressure has become much reduced,
and a rapid decrease of pressure has taken place throughout the Northwest. Showers have occurred in many places in Ontario,
and tonight sleet is falling at Montreal.

Minimum and maximum temperatures:
Calgary, 22—46; Qu'Appelle, 18—40;
Winnipeg, 26—54; Port Arthur, 34—48;
Perry Sound, 46—56; Toronto, 46—66;
Ottawa, 36—42; Montreal, 34—56; Quebec,
28—40; Halifax, 36—56.

PROBABILITIES.

Toronto, April 22—1 a. m.—For the lower lakes region (including counties lying south of the Georgian Bay region, east as far as Belleville)—Fair and comparatively cool.

LOCAL TEMPERATURE.
The highest and lowest readings of the thermometer at the Observatory on Monday, April 21, 1896, were: Highest, 67°;
lowest, 43.5°.

MANITOBA WEATHER.

Secretary Wills, of the Toronto
Board of Trade, received a letter from E. Beplow, of Rapid City, yesterday, relating to the weather and crop conditions in that section of Manitoba.
The communication is dated April 16,
and states that four inches of snow had fallen the previous evening, and that the weather was very cold. There are no prospects of plowing or seeding
in the near future.

DEATH IN THE WIRES.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 22.—By coming in contact with a live electric wire yesterday, Linford C. Biles, aged 64, was instantly killed, and his son, who came to the father's rescue, was badly burned, and perhaps fatally hurt. Biles was foreman of the jury which convicted
H. H. Holmes of the Benjamin F.
Pietzel murder.

THE WINGHAM WHITECAPS.

Wingham, Ont., April 22.—A Provincial detective is here collecting further evidence in the Fields case. A great many citizens are either directly or indirectly connected with the affair. The detective stated last night that he had not decided whether he would make further arrests at present or not. Today he will visit Goderich and complete his preparations for the trial, which will take place May 11.

Common Sense Temperance.

Perhaps one of the most engrossing subjects under public consideration is that of intemperance. It is a subject which touches all classes alike, from the highest to the lowest. There are few homes which have not their skeletons of intemperance, either hidden away in the closet or openly parading themselves to their humiliation and disgrace.
How to deal with it is an all-absorbing topic. Ministers of the gospel and temperance advocates exhaust their ingenuity in trying to grapple with it; and frequently,
by the very intemperance of their language,
defeat their own cause. Some of them, unfortunately, are too bigoted to look at the matter from a common sense standpoint.
The victim of intemperance turns a deaf ear
to their exhortations and to the pleading and advice of parents, wife or friends, and why? Because, in many cases, he is a helpless victim of a disease from which,
by his unassisted efforts, he cannot free himself. One might as well tell him not to suffer from toothache or rheumatism, as not to crave for stimulant. Fortunately modern science, among other wonderful discoveries, has found a remedy by which this drink disease may be permanently cured.
The most successful curative agency known is the Double Chloride System of treatment
as administered at Lakehurst Institute, Oakville. For interesting facts bearing on the drink disease and its cure, address the cording to directions under the head of "Dyspepsia or Indigestion." One box entirely cured me. I can now eat any-

WINDOW DISPLAYS AND PRICES.

A well-arranged window without price tickets is like a well-dressed man who cannot talk. Give him a tongue, and his thoughts speak. Give a mute window the tongue of tickets and you have a salesman who never tires of talking in your interests. All that is necessary is to give him a new theme—that is, change your windows often. A more lasting impression is given by an attractive price list printed in a suitably displayed advertisement in a daily paper of wide circulation.

A FLOURISHING CONGREGATION.

A meeting of the congregation of the Talbot Street Baptist Church, for the eleven months ending March 31, was held in the school room of the church
last night, the pastor, Rev. Ira Smith, presiding; Mr. J. Beardsall acting as clerk, and a large number of members being in attendance. By a change in the constitution of the denomination,
the year was brought to a close one month sooner than was heretofore the case, thus leaving only eleven months to be reported on at the meeting last evening. The season has been very prosperous under the able pastorate of Mr. Smith. The membership roll now includes 292 names, an increase of 18 compared with the preceding year. The receipts reported for the eleven months amounted to $3,508, and the expenses
about the same, but the treasurer's statement was incomplete, and the announcement was made that the receipts would reach about $4,000. Reports were also received from the home and foreign mission circles, the mission band, the Sunday school, and the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor, showing that each had done good work. The officers elected were:
Clerk—Mr. J. Beardsall.
Treasurer—Mr. N. Mills.
Deacons—Messrs. Andrew Dale, W.
Dark, J. J. Stewart, J. Beardsall, J.
W. Westervelt, sen., S. Shoveller, G.
Jeffrey and G. Grigg.
Ushers—Messrs. R. Dart, G. W.
Stuart, George Jeffrey, jun., Peter Glen,
W. E. Mathers, and J. W. Westervelt,

BIBLICAL TEXT-BOOK WANTED.

Omaha, Neb., April 22.—The committee on text books of the Board of Education has determined to introduce a book of bible selections into the public schools. A majority of the school board is in favor of the movement. The committee will submit its report at the next regular meeting, and its adoption is regarded with a cordiality.

PRACTICAL GEOGRAPHY.

Washington, April 22.—In the Senate
yesterday Mr. Canon (Rep., Utah), made a speech supporting his resolution
for the huge ground map, covering 625 acres, to be located near Washington, showing the entire topography
and geography of the United States.
He explained that the map would give an object lesson of the extent of the country. The Mississippi River would be shown by an actual stream ten feet wide and 2,000 yards long, while Lake Michigan would have 22,000
square yards of water.

An Important Question.

Are you going to hear Watkin Mills next Monday? This is the all-important question of the hour! The Cuban trouble has had its iming; we are all weary of the Remedial Bill, and even the Roentgen rays are beginning to be a thing of the past; but Mills—Watkin Mills—well, he is like an oasis in the desert, and his name is a relief to the Cuban trouble. We want something to stir our souls, to make the blood course through our veins, to remind us that we are living human beings, something to make our pulses go at 120 to the minute—and this
"something" Watkin Mills will supply.
The doctors—those wiseacres—may shake their heads and talk of heart disease, but we shall go just the same.
To think of hearing such numbers at the Remedy Bill, and even the Roentgen rays, to say nothing of encores, augmented by George Fox and his wonderful violin and Ella Roman's round, rich contralto. These are things worth living for. The subscription list closes tonight at Bell Plano warerooms. Only subscribers will be permitted to reserve seats on Thursday. Plan open to general public on Friday.
