Friends Heard At Noon.

News of young Benjamin Griesoch's release by the immigration authorities at Halifax was received in London at noon today. A telegram addressed to his brother, Harry Grace of 93 Maitland street, in care of F. B. The money was immediately wired.

Passed Medical Exam.

Benjamin Greisoch passed the medical examination at Antwerp, Germany, required by the steamship corapany bringing him to Canada. At Halifax he discovered that he was short a part of the $20 required for his transportation to London. Had it not been for this he would probably have been allowed to pass the immigration authorities without the careful medical examination which showed that he was afflicted with endocarditis, an inflammation of the membrane of the

Pre-Stock Inventory Sales Create Enthusiasm!

Plans and preparations which have been quietly but energetically under way since the close of the holiday season have now reached their climax in almost every section of the store. This great semi-annual disposal of merchandise, which began so successfully last Saturday morning, will continue until the end of the month, when stock inventory will be completed.

Because the business of this institution during the past six months has set a higher mark than it has reached heretofore, and because we have carried a greater variety and a greater quantity, and finally because our operations in the market during the past two months have been more successful. Owing mostly to unusual conditions prices are the lowest at which you have been able to buy timely merchandise in any of these great events.

Tomorrow Will Be Linen Day SOILED TABLE LINEN SETS

How to Have the Best Cough Syrup and Save $2, by Making It at Home.

Cough medicines, as a rule, contain a large quantity of plain syrup. If you take two cups of granulated sugar, add one up of warm water and stir about 2 minutes, you have as good syrup as money could buy.

If you will then put 21/2 ounces of Pinex (50 cents' worth) in a 16-ounce bottle, and fill it up with the Sugar Syrup, you will have as much cough syrup as you could buy ready made for $2.50. It keeps perfectly. Any housewife can easily pre-pare it in five minutes.

And you will find it the best cough syrup you ever used—even in whooping cough. You can feel it take hold—usually stops the most severe cough in 24 hours. It is just laxative enough, has a good tonic effect, and taste is pleasant. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

It is a splendid remedy, too, for whooping cough, croup, hoarseness, asthma, chest pains, etc. Pinex is the most valuable concentra-ted compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in gualacol and all the healing pine elements. No other preparation will work in this formula. This recipe for making cough remedy with Pinex and Sugar Syrup is now used and prized in thousands of homes in the United States and Canada. The plan has often been imitated, but never success-A guaranty of absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded goes with this recipe, if the genuine Pinex is used. #### A JUDAS TO HIS MOTHER.

There are two well-known forms of cruelty to one's kind that are given wide discussion almost every day in the press of the country, the desertion of wives and the failure to provide for little children.

These are most unrespectable offences. The person guilty is usually of the illiterate type; he would never dare lay claim to refinement, and he would not attempt to become a promtnent figure in a church, nor set himself up as an example in the commun-

But there is another form of cruelty to kin of which little is heard. This sort is merely to be regarded as a slight departure from convention, of course. We refer to those who put an aged parent in an institution and tell all the neighbors and friends that it tore their hearts, but that it had to be done: it was the best for him or her and all concerned, and a score of other puerile platitudes. This sort of person is usually heavy on the moral uplift in public, yet he is often the sort that sends a mother to a life of banishment, making her comfortable with the cheapest comfort that can buy, denying her a home for life's twilight, giving her no comfort within her worn and

These same persons are of the sort that cause all the talk about hypocrisy in the churches.

There is not a more contemptible specimen of manhood than he who having come to material prosperity sends his mother to the poorhouse, and prates of his contempt at other men.

THE PREMIERSHIP.

There is considerable discussion in apers of both sides of politics as to who will succeed Sir James Whitney as premier of the province. If Sir William Meredith became premier it would be best for Ontario's interests under the circumstances. The legislation of the province has been drifting away from sound principles, and it is as necessary that legislation should proceed according to established principles as it is that our courts should do so. In order that this may be accomplished the man at the helm should know those principles, and no man has been mentioned in this respect at all comparable to Sir William Meredith. He has had a long active, legal, political and judicial life. He still has great vigor. He knows the Provincial legislation should be carwied out along non-partisan lines. The death or retirement of Sir James Whitney will be a crisis in the affairs of the province, and on the Conservative side there is no man so well qualified as Sir William to assume the premiership. He would bring a life-long experience of unusual activity which includes an intimate knowledge of every subject within the jurisdiction of the Provincial Legislature, and would give the province the benefit of his mature judgment and experience. Both sides of politics need the best men to be had in the country, and Sir William's return to the halls of legislation would be a benefit to Ontario as a whole

A HOARY ONE.

We shook hands with our old favorite, the winter underwear bromide, the other day. It came thusly:

A somewhat talkative man of middle age was just leaving a friend. The weather, of course, is all he ever talks of when there is any weather to talk about.

"Three years ago I went through the whole winter with cotton underwear on, and I never had a cold," he quavered.

His friend agreed with the wisdom of going thinly clad in winter time, and to hear the music of their mutual chatter would lead one to believe that the only genuine safety from chills bad stocks." and fevers lay in discarding even the lightweight cottons. Both of these men were liars! Everyone lies about not feeling the cold, and we are far enough west to lie pretty hard about it. One of these old duffers had on a cap with flaps, a sweater coat, a vest, and a muffler. We'll venture to say that the only witter he wore cotton-weights was the year he broke his collarbone and draped the dining-room range from September to late April. And if he cares to accept the challenge, we'll wager that at the present time he has on a chamois vest, two pairs of socks. a newspaper folded day out, he slept all day to keep from under his vest, and three-pound eating, and remained up all night to

ANOTHER FOR VILLA.

By the capture of Ojinaga, reported in Mexican dispatches, General Villa, the rebel leader, secures control of all the waiter. Northern Mexico, and takes a big step towards the supplanting of Huerta. The rout of the Federalists appears to have been complete, and one dispatch says thousands of soldiers, with a large number of guns, are being held by the United States forces just across the line. Villa now proposes to march directly south towards the capital, An' de sun he rise, an' de ribber flow taking Torreon, Jiminez, Monterey and possibly Tampico en route, all of these places being poorly garrisoned. General Carranza, under Villa, is marching an army down the coast, thus diverting Huerta's commanders from a concerted resistance to Villa. Latest dispatches deny those wholesale executions first reported at Ojinaga. This is significant. Villa, with the capital measurably near capture, is keeping one eye on Washington. Evidently he intends to profit by the experience of

To the Editor of The Advertiser: Dear Sir,-I read in your last night's issue, the reference to early closing. I think that it is most unfair for the larger stores to expect the smaller ones to close at 7 o'clock. God only knows, what these small stores sell after 7 o'clock will never hurt the larger ones. Take Smallman's, for instance. When they decided to close at 6 o'clock, they asked no one to close, and why do the grocers not do the same? It is an inconvenience to the public, and, as you say, a funeral town, and our city is dark enough now. The bars can open but not our grecery stores. This is not boosting London, but killing it. Ans. 1.-Certainly, keep on trying. Never say "quit" as long as she appears to like you and accepts your company at times. She may have had genuine excuses on the occasions her refusal. Try to get ahead of the other men, when the next concert or dance is announced, and be the first to ask for her company. I feel certain that if you persevere in your attentions, anyone so much in earnest as you seem to be must succeed, especially as she favors you sometimes now.

2. In spite of George Bernard Shraw's philosophy, this might be possible; yet I should not advise you to centre too great hopes upon it. 3. If he had been invited to come for the evening, it would be better for him to accept the entertainment offered him, and before leaving, pro-

A .- Since you evidently live in the city (judging by the postmark), why not have the vacuum cleaner man attend to the carpets? The charge is not so very great, and the results very satisfactory.

However, if you desire a method which you can apply yourself, the following has been highly recommended by an authority, who states that it will not injure colors: To one quart of warm water, add 5 ounces castile soap cut fine, let it boil, then add 2 ounces pulyerized borax. When cold, add 2 ounces aqua ammonia, ½ ounce sulphuric ether, 1/2 ounce glycerine, 1/2 ounce spirits of wine. Allow two table spoons of the mixture to 1 quart of warm water, and with a cloth or sponge, rub the carpet briskly, after you have thoroughly swept the room. It is not necessary to use the liquid very freely, a large amount of foam is developed by the rubbing; and this forms an effective cleaning agency. It is best to cover only a small square

'rinsing" with the clean water. It may be best to try this plan on a separate piece of the carpet, or in a secluded corner of the room, in order to see how it affects the colors, as it is never wise to trust too much to hearsay in these matters. Won't you let us know what success you have, if you decide to try it?

That our women readers take a keen interest in this page is surely evidenced by the following letter written by a wife and mother from a Middlesex farm home: The Nornad:

Because you are represented to be of a modes and friendly nature I im-For the pose my tale of wee upon you, and hide behind the Countryfriendly return greeting of Woman. Happy New Year. The editor has from time to time invited criticism of the Woman's Page, and in the season's greetings in the first number of the morning edition repeats the invitation, and that is why I left in the middle of the dishwashing to write to you. In reading the list of woman readers given, viz., housekeeper, suffragette, club woman, society service worker, cook, business girl, fashion butterfly, women, the country town, and women in the city, I failed to notice the woman of the farm, and I've sometimes thought that same did not enter into the minds of the clever editors of the Woman's Page; at least as a person who could be helped and advised, and an extensive reader of their paper.

I do not know the country circulation of The Advertiser, but it must amount to quite a per cent of the total, and no doubt will increase rapidsince the advent of the morning edition, so many are on rural routes, and will be glad to get their paper the day it is printed. There are a great many things on the Woman's Page which are highly appreciated by us who are country bred, such as Cynthia Grey's Answers, the clever and friendly articles by yourself, "Olive," and others, and the fashion notes, of course—and don't think, dear Nomad, that I am knocking or fault-finding when I say that some of the fashion notes, illustrations, etc., fly away over our heads, as also the cooking hints conducted on electric stoves, etc., which articles are dreamed of, but not

The plain little country woman has many conveniences she never dreamed of at one time, and more coming all the time, and she needs all she can get, for she generally combines most of the varieties of labor within her scene of action, and then performs a good deal of it on one foot, the other being occupied in "ruling the world," otherwise, rocking the cradle, and by the same token, I'm doing that now, also singing. She is usually her own cook and "general," laundry-maid gardener, seamstress, chicken-raiser, and helps prepare and put away the meat, and is complete dairy-maid, and then sometimes finds time to knit her lord's socks and mitts and darn the same. Still when evening comes, and the mail comes in she right to the Woman's Page of The Advertiser, and reads that, 1 nothing more, and gazes with awe upon the filmy and fantastic evening gowns and cloaks pictured there, and notices items mentioning articles which are the latest, and which she knows are not for sale or known of in the store to which she takes her eggs and butter. True, she may now own a velvet dress or, perhaps, a silk one, since the hen has been laying the golden egg, and the women and girls at her country church may compare favorably with those of the city gathering, both physically, mentally and in richness of dress, and she feels as if she wouldn't give up her privilege of the country to any woman in the fair city of London. Yet she is small enough to feel a little neglected in the page, half-page rather, devoted to women, and humbly makes her moan to be remembered as a fellow-woman, who though not taking much part in society or getting her name in the Woman's Institute, is doing no small part to raise up sturdy, clean-hearted boys and girls who have all outdoors for a playground, but may yet find their way to your London, and hold their own even there. I'm not bragging, am I? Yours back to the dishes, "IRISH MOLLY."

You dear "Irish Molly," I cannot tell you how much I enjoyed reading your letter. It is to the point, every word of it, and yet, I may say honestly, that you are mistaken in thinking that we do not consider the farmer's wife as a valued reader of the Woman's Page. As to her not being mentioned in the list of women readers, in the New Year's greeting, that was an oversight, pure and simple, and sights will occur, even in the "best circles" you know.

The "powers that be" around The Advertiser do indeed realize that the wife and mother and sisters of the the women of today," and even before your letter had arrived, the subject had formed the basis of several conversations as to how to make "the page' more interesting to our women have the problem solved before long. In the meantime, I am sincerely glad o have received your splendld letter. In regard to what you say about the fantastic styles that are pictured on the Woman's Page, I may state that so far as we know, for love or money one cannot obtain fashion designs of a more practicable nature. That is what comes of having man-made syndicates to supply fashion services. I am so very, very glad that you have made your "little moan," and, indeed, you are not bragging when you anticipate a bright future for your boys and girls. Being next-door-tocountry-bred, myself, I have every regard for country boys and girls, and

The score at half time was 8 to 1, and the difference in the count just about indicates London's superiority over the border town seven. Two London boys, Arthe goal when the Sarnia goalkeeper thurs and Seltzer, were with Sarnia, but they did not show anything to cause the maddening throng to go into ecstacies. Sensational Career of Scranton Miner Recalls Deeds of Meteoric Middleweight Champion

George Chip, the Scranton, Pa., boxer, who knocked out Frank Claus, twice in two months, is called the best middleweight since Stanley Ketchell.

When Klaus was knocked out the first time by Chip he was considered the middleweight champion by virtue of his defeat of Billy Papke in Paris, for upon Papke's shoulders had fallen the tile when Ketchell was killed.

Chip became a boxer as the result of violating a Pennsylvania law, which makes it a prison offence to assault a man under ground. Chip about eight working as mule driver and fled from Scranton to New Castle to escape arrest. In New Castle he fell in with the veteran Jimmy Dime, who brought him to his present fistic eminence. Since that day Chip has met every middle weight of account, and Jack Dillon, of Indianapolis is the only man who has bothered him to any extent.

Dillon and Chip have had several victories and defeats as the result of these meetings, and it is doubtful if the Hoosier boxer was within the middleweight limit in his bouts with Chip.

One thing that recommends Chip to the fans is that he isn't running around claiming the title. He says he is ready to meet any man who will make 158 pounds, and he will doubtless participate in the elimination contest to be staged by Uncle Tom McCarey at Vernon, Cal., to Obstinate coughs and colds yield to the grateful soothing action of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, containing as it does all the lung healing virtues of the Norway pine tree.

Mrs. C. J. Selig, Dartmouth, N.S., writes:—"My little boy, six years old, had a dreadful, hard cough. At night time he would cough so hard he would turn black in the face, and at times he would cough nearly an hour before he would stop. I tried different cough syrups, but they did him no good. The little fellow was wasting away, as he could not eat or sleep, the cough troubled him so. I got a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and it did him so much good I got another. Now I am only too glad to be able to write this to tell how thankful I am, and to tell every mother to use nothing else."

Price, 25 and 50 cents. Be sure you get "Dr. Wood's" when you ask for it. See the trade mark; the three pine trees.

Efforts Made to Change Attitude of Councillors on Board of Health Appointment.

W. H. Abbott, a member of last year's board, was beaten out for the position by H. M. Douglas, on a vote of 9 to 7.

Ald. F. G. Mitchell, who seconded Ald. Tancock's motion to appoint Mr. Douglas, along with Dr. F. L. Burdon and R. J. Haslett, has been approached by at least two parties requesting him to change his vote, but to The Advertiser today he declared that there was little possibility of him acceding to the request. Ald. new scientific preparation put up into tabloid or pastille form, which provides an entirely new and effective treat ment for coughs, colds and lung and throat troubles generally.

Did it never occur to you as peculiar that when you have a cough or a cold, or any chest trouble, you should apply nedicine not to your lungs, but to your stomach?

Look at it the other way round. Sup pose you suffered from some stomach complaint—indigestion or ulceration.
How strange you would think it if you were asked to take a medicine which had to be breathed in, and which went—
not to your stomach, but to your lungs and breathing passages?

There is no connection between the stomach and the lungs (see diagram below), and when for a cold or cough or any chest complaint you take some medicine, such as liquid cough mixtures, syrups, lozenges, which go-not to your lungs, but to your stomachyou are wasting time.

Peps-this newest remedy for coughs, colds, and lung troubles-go to the lungs and breat'ing-tubes direct. Peps are really pine fumes and certain highly beneficial medicinal extracts specially prepared by a new scientific process and then condensed into tabloid form. It is like making a breathable gas solid!

You put a "Pep" on your tongue and let it dissolve. As it does so the healing essences it contains turn into vapor, and you BREATHE then direct to your lungs and air passages These heal-

pass down your breathing-tubes. bathing all surfaces, which now liquid or solid matter can ever reach, in health-giving pine fumes, and carrying health LUNG

trate. These tissue-strengthening, pleasant fumes, so liberated from the dissolving Pep, are not only healing in their operation, they are antiseptic. They consumption, catarrh, and those many and varied throat and lung troubles so common to-day. Peps fumes-like the fumes from nature's Pine woods-get lirect to the lungs and chest, and give instant relief to eolds, tightness, bronchitis, etc. In short, Peps bring pine forest air to your home! You have a nasty night cough? Take a Pep before going to bed-your cough will not trouble you! Your lungs are a little weak, and going from the warm house into the cold air outside makes you cough? Just before going out put a Pep in your mouth—there will be no coughing! Your throat feels "stuffed your chest feels tight, and your breathing troublesome? Peps will put matters right for you very quickly. Peps, while gradually turning vapor as soon as put into the mouth, will retain their goodness indefinitely if kept dry. Each little Peps pastille is packed in an air-tight wrapping, which is easily removed, and they are packed in neat tin pocket boxes. They are not sticky (the minister or public speaker can carry a few loose in the vest pocket); they do not spoil the appetite and ruin the digestion, like cough syrups and mixtures do; andthey DO cure coughs, colds and lung consumption—the "breathing" treat ment-is now admitted to be the only rational treatment, so the "Peps treatment for colds and lung troubles is the only rational home treatment. Peps cure catarrh, coughs, bronchitis, sore throat, tightness or aching across the chest, difficulty in breath ing, night cough, hoarseness, asthma, laryngitis, smoker's throat, etc. Best

ADVANTAGE TO RETAILERS

AGGRESSIVE WORK ON PART OF CITIZENS WILL MEAN MUCH -LOCAL TRADE WILL GROW UNDER THE STIMULUS.

The local retail merchants who were seen yesterday in reference to the proposal to establish a western zone for parcel post are lining up with the general sentiment of London's best citizens on this live and pertinent topic. What the retailers, or at least those who could be seen, cannot understand is why the Ottawa Government should give an advantage to Toronto houses over London ones.
"Let us enjoy our own district to the fullest," they say. And there does not appear to be any good and sufficient reason in sight, they think, why they should not.

To insure the passing by Ottawa of the provision for a western zone for parcel post agitation must be or-ganized and the western district must align its wide army of citizens to demand their rights with no uncertain tone. In union there is strength, says the old saw, and the retailers along with other classes of London's voters have recognized that principle and say: "Let the board of trade lead off and we will get what is our right."

Would Help Retail Trade. James Gray, president of Gray's Limited, was in favor of the proposal He believed that it would help the retailers of the city in the development of district trade. There was no doubt, Mr. Gray thought, that the large Toronto firms who will use the parcel post extensively in their mail order business, were bringing all possible zone idea might be carried out. London-For-Her-Own. Joseph F. Hickey, manager of Grafton & Company, was right in line with the London-for-her-own movement. He believed that the special rate that would be established with the western zone, if such could be achieved, would promote local trade in the district. "Why shouldn't we have the advantage of our own market?" he asked. The best means to the end, in his opinion, was for Londoners and

WESTERN ONTARIO PARCEL ZONE WOULD SERVE 800,000 PEOPLE --

From a geographical standpoint, Western Ontario's claim for recogni tion from the postal department, in the establishment of a Western Ontario 'parcel post' zone, is well founded. On the map of the western section of O ntario, reproduced above, the geographical fairness of a secondary rate zone

Assuming that the zone could be created by the drawing of an imaginary line from Owen Sound on Georgian Bay to Port Maitland on Lake Erie one-third of the province, so far as population is concerned, would be found west of the zone border. It is, however, the most important third in the province. Ontario has a population of over 2,500,000. West of the imaginary line is found a population that is more than 800,000 in extent. While the line cuts through half of Grey County, the estimated population of which is more than 65,000, it also slices off a goodly portion of Wentworth County that would make up the deficiency in the total that the withdrawal of part of Grey County would make. In round figures 800,000 is the total population, and this is a

On the 800,000 basis it means that unless a secondary zone is created for Ontario more than three-quarters of a million of the residents of the province will be practically ignored. As has been declared before, from a geographical standpoint these 800,000 people are entitled to consideration and to

On a population basis, formed from the workings of the American parcel post system, even half a million of a population is more than sufficient for the creation of a parcel zone, yet Ontario, with five times that figure, is to have one parcel post zone and a handicap is to be created for Western Ontario and London merchants, the advantage being given to Toronto, with its big mail order houses and the glamor of big showy catalogues.

COLD SNAP CAUSES

Prices Firm and Demand is Good For Dairy Products.

The cold snap has put a damper on the local market, and trading is at a complete standstill. On Monday, a few wagons with farm produce occupied the square, and a few more aug-mented that number today.

There was brisk trading in meats on the square this morning, although no change was observed in prices. Dressed hogs are selling at $12.75, and are in good demand. Other prices are listed. Potatoes are slow, although it is expected that the supply will be better with a milder spell of weather. The demand is an ordinary one. Other vegetables are as quoted.

Butter and eggs are firm. Eggs. which have been selling at 38 to 40 cents per dozen, are hovering uncertainly and may be higher within a few days. The supply was small today, with the usual keen demand.

[Canadian Press.] New York, Jan. 13.—The inability of Sir James Whitney, premier of Ontario, recover the strength he lost in the relapse that he suffered on Sunday and the announcement from the sick room at the Manhattan Hotel this morning that he was weaker gave rise to the inference in the minds of those attending him that the premier had entered upon a phase of the heart trouble affecting him that would end fatally.

Sir James was able to sleep better last night, but his rest was of a fitful character, and did not enable him to fight off the restlessness that had attacked him for more than an hour at a time, while none of the ground he lost Sunday and vesterday was retaken. This morning, despite his weakened condition, the premier was able to take nourishment and apparently relished it The strength that would result from it, however, it was believed, would only enable him to resist for a few days the death that seemed to be approaching unless a very material improvement manifested itself.

Asked if Sir James' condition had no shown a gradual retrogression since Sunday, Dr. R. A. Pyne this morning answered in the affirmative.

In the reply to this definite question Will Sir James last a week under the resent circumstances? Dr. Pyne remarked: "He might, we

Heart Would Beat Something Awful.

Those feelings of weakness, those dizzy spells which come over people from time to time, are warnings that must not go unheeded. They indicate an extremely weakened condition of the heart and a disordered state of the nerves. One dizzy spell may pass off, but eventually they will come frequently, and at the same time more Those who are wise will start taking

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills before their case becomes hopeless, for they have no equal for restoring the heart to its usual strength, and making the nerves firm and steady.

Mrs. Len. Kinney, Moose Mountain, N.B., writes:-"I was troubled with weak and dizzy spells, and my heart would beat something awful. I got so would try one medicine, and then another, but nothing did me any good until I got Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. power could be put on the farms were mentioned, but there was much conjecture as to what it would cost the farmers for the privilege of having the juice at their disposal.

In connection with the discussion of the probable ways in which the juice could be brought into the township, it was stated by Dr. G. A. Had not this clause been inserted in the contract, it was pointed out, the people living along the line of the railway would be able to secure
